

R. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
uincy, Oct. 1. lp-tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered.
Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
ffice Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and day Evenings. City Square, opposite ntain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
b, 2. 1-1y- p-6mos.

R. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
FFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5
ning 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
20 tf

FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
Franklin Street, Picel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
ce Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M. lso Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
EPHONE 175-2.
uincy, Aug. 23. 1y

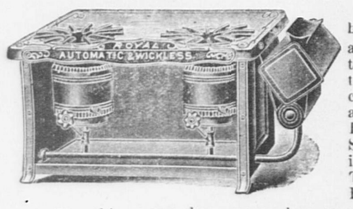

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
Employment Office
653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm
ld like ladies to call as a number of young would like employment.
uincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

SMOKE THE
COVERNESS.
UNION MADE.
5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler umatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers
Manufactured by
P. A. NELSON,
59 Granite Street.
ncy, Nov. 11. 6mos.

Dr. Emmons'
ly Regulator has brought happiness to eds of anxious women. There is positive-ther remedy known to medical science ill so quickly and safely do the work.
st and most obstinate irregularities from use relieved immediately. Success guar.
l at any stage. No pain, danger, or intere with work. Have relieved hundreds of where others have failed. The most diffiases successfully treated by mail, and ben-results guaranteed in every instance. No thatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies we never see. Write for further particund free confidential advice. Do not put off ng. All letters truthfully answered. Re-er, this remedy is absolutely safe under possible condition and positively leaves er ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, ely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be tered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tre-St., Boston, Mass.

Blue Flame
Oil Stoves.

The thrifty housekeeper has a time for everything. The time to stop burning coal and wood and to use her Blue Flame Oil Stove for cooking has arrived. The New Blue Flame Stoves we are selling this season have many improvements over last year's styles. They are so simple a child can operate them with absolute safety. It's worth your while to look them over. They cost almost nothing to run.

Prices, $4.50 to $9.00.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,
New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,
Hancock Street, Quincy.
We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

GREAT BARGAINS
--- IN ---
MEN'S BUSINESS SUITS.

Greatest Values ever Seen in the City. ! We Have Them All Sizes, 35 to 42.

WE ARE GOING TO SELL THESE SUITS AT $5.89.
DON'T be too Late. -- Get one NOW.

F. D. FELLOWS CO.,
ONE PRICE CASH CLOTHIERS, HATTERS AND FURNISHERS.
Adams Building, City Square, Quincy, Mass.
WE GIVE GREEN TRADING STAMPS.
Store open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings. April 2--l-th., fri., sat.-p-

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder.
Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.
Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.
April 25. tf

FLOWERS
AT VERY LOWEST PRICES.
MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.
63 Hevard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works,
Quincy Point.
FUNERAL DESIGNS A SPECIALTY.
P. GREEN, Proprietor.
Telephone 64-5 Quincy.

W. A. BRADFORD.
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,
Jobbing Promptly Attended To.
ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.
New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store. Old Telephone Number, 122-2.
April 21. tf

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

LONG, YAWNING CHASM

Where Once Was Solid Rock In Turtle Mountain

DETAILS OF CATASTROPHE

Which Overwhelmed Town of Frank —Resulted In Eighty-Three Fatalities—Came Without Warning and Buried Picturesque Valley

Frank, N. W. T., May 1. It is definitely known that 83 people lost their lives here by the sliding of the rocky top of Turtle mountain down upon the sleeping village of Frank.

Besides killing 83 people the slide destroyed the plant of the Canadian American Coal and Coke company, did a vast amount of damage to the mine, and completely devastated about 10 square miles of the finest and most picturesque section of Crow's Nest Pass.

Many of the bodies of the dead never will be found. Some cabins are buried under 150 feet of rock. Although organized efforts were made to search for bodies, only 19 so far have been recovered. Most of the corpses were mangled almost beyond recognition.

The disaster happened at 4:15 o'clock in the morning when the sleeping inhabitants of Frank were suddenly awakened by a tremendous crash, followed by a shaking of the buildings. It was still dark and, for a time, the greatest confusion prevailed, no one knowing just what happened. As soon as day dawned it was seen that the whole side of Turtle mountain had fallen away and the valley for a distance of two miles was entirely choked up by rocks and debris piled to an average height of 60 feet.

Simultaneously with the falling of the rocks an immense fissure of the earth opened on the northern side of Turtle mountain. The fissure extended for a distance of three quarters of a mile and was many feet in width. This yawning chasm still remains open.

In the downward rush of the debris and other material that was thrown up by the upheaval, the entire operating plant of the French Canadian Coal company was carried away. Seven houses also owned by the company were smashed into kindling, six of them being entirely obliterated and their occupants killed, while 10 other houses, which were situated in the valley east of town, were also demolished. The people living in these houses were also instantly killed as they slept.

The direct monetary damage will exceed $1,500,000. The actual loss to the mine company probably will not exceed $200,000. The Canadian Pacific Railway company loses heavily through blocking of its track.

The scene of this awful catastrophe was originally one of the most picturesque valleys in Canada. Through the centre of this valley ran the Old Man river, which has its source on the eastern slope of the Crow's Nest Pass. The total width of this valley was a little more than a mile and a sheer wall of rock rose to a height of 8500 feet above the level of the town. The Old Man river followed the side of Turtle mountain, close up against the foot of which the town of Frank was built. The mountain wall was, before this catastrophe, so tall and precipitous that even in the longest day in midsummer the sun set in the town of Frank at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and after that a twilight ensued. The material from the slide came down in almost a vertical wall of rock and crossed the valley, a distance of more than a mile, and went part way up the foot hills on the opposite side of the valley to a height far above the highest building in the town.

The land, which was once of great value and was rapidly increasing in price on account of the known presence of natural gas as well as coal deposits, is now buried many feet deep with waste matter and many valueless.

As there is no geological expert resident in the town, it is impossible to ascertain exactly the true character of the force exerted, but judging from the evidences now brought in by many who have been scouting around the outskirts of the waste of rocks and debris, many are inclined to believe that it was a huge mountain slide, caused by an earthquake or subterranean explosion of gas.

The general opinion is that the trouble was not volcanic, as at first supposed. Pieces of rock are still falling from the strangely altered top of Turtle mountain. These rocks are, in many cases, huge masses, weighing hundreds of tons, and as they fall crashing down with a noise like thunder, they start other fragments of rock in the path of the slide.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. This signature E. W. Grove on every box, 25c

BREAD AND WATER DIET

For Eighty-Two Jackies Who Refused to Obey Orders

Boston, May 1.—Because of their refusal to obey orders, 82 men from the receiving ship Wabash were placed in irons on board the prison ship Southery at the navy yard and will remain there five days under prison fare of bread and water. The arrest of the four score of offenders and their march to the Southery under the escort of a company of marines with fixed bayonets caused a decided sensation.

The trouble apparently grew out of a little excursion which half a dozen of the men took in one of the cutters. They received permission to use the cutter, but when they returned they all gave the appearance of having landed at some point in the harbor. Their conduct was such as to necessitate their being placed under arrest, and while being conducted to the brig several of the men jeered one of the officers who happened to slip on the spar deck. At the same time there was more noise than there should have been.

Captain Pigman ordered all the men lined up on the gun deck and tried to find out the men who had jeered the officer. The men not only refused, but showed insubordination. The captain was quick to act and the marine guard were ordered to conduct the crew to the Southery. They were marched over in squads of about 20, but before they were finally incarcerated they were all taken back to the Wabash to get their hammocks and other necessities. It was this continual marching back and forth that caused the sensation of the day.

Must Stand Trial

Boston, May 1.—Representative J. M. Curley, B. J. Fahy, T. F. Curley and J. J. Hughes must stand trial on the indictments charging conspiracy to defraud the United States in violation of the civil service laws. Judge Brown has overruled demurrers which the defendants had filed to the indictments. The Curleys are alleged to have impersonated the other defendants by taking their places at a written civil service examination last fall.

No Sign of Yielding

Lowell, Mass., May 1. Superintendent Bowen of the Appleton company denies the report that his company is anxious to grant an increase of wages to end the textile strike here. He says the Appleton mill is in exactly the same position today as it was when the strike began. An agent of another mill has told his friends that he does not expect to give in to the strikers and there may be snow on the ground before his gates open.

Does Not Know Where He Was

Greenwich, Conn., May 1.—Walter Baker, who had been missing from his home here two weeks, has returned to his wife and children. He says he has no recollection of his whereabouts during his absence, and it is believed that his mind was temporarily deranged by overwork and study for a civil service examination.

Alleged Firebug Held

Boston, May 1.—Warren Williams, aged 18, was arraigned in the Chelsea police court on a charge of arson. He waived examination and in default of $5000 bail went to jail. The authorities claim that Williams, through a desire for vengeance for a trifling wrong, set a fire in the house of John J. Canty, a farm laborer, at Revere.

Lineman Killed

Providence, May 1.—While at the top of a pole making a connection with the feed wire, Daniel Barrett, a lineman, came in contact with a telephone wire, thus making a circuit with the live wire upon which he was working, which resulted in his electrocution. The accident happened at Auburn.

Popular Actor Laid Up

Claremont, N. H., May 1.—Denman Thompson, the actor, was stricken with neuralgia of the heart here and is in a very serious condition. All dates for his "Old Homestead" company have been cancelled. Mr. Thompson and his company were to have presented "The Old Homestead" here last night.

Insanity Plea In Melvine Case

Houlton, Me., May 1.—Charles F. Melvine, who was charged with the murder of his wife at Mars Hill, entered a plea of not guilty and announcement was made by his counsel that the respondent's defense will be insanity. A request to have Melvine committed to the state insane hospital for examination was granted.

Lost a Leg

Dover, N. H., May 1.—Albert O. Mathes, treasurer of the Strafford Five Cents Savings bank, fell under a moving passenger coach at Milton and as the result he has lost his left leg below the knee. There are hopes for his recovery.

Town Reported Burning Up

Richmond, May 1.—A message from West Point, Va., says the town is burning up. The chief business interests at West Point are lumbering and oyster packing. The place is 38 miles west of this city and has a population of about 1500 people.

—There are probably 100 legislators whom the various Quincy citizens know personally. This is the time to use your friendship for your city's interest in the boulevard.

CLAN McGREGOR.

Twelfth Anniversary Celebrated last Evening at Music Hall, Quincy.

The Loyal Ladies of Clan McGregor No. 1, celebrated the twelfth anniversary of the order in Music Hall, last night, April 30. The chief feature of the event was a comedy drama in four acts, entitled "Down East."

The cast of characters was made up of members of the Loyal Ladies and gentlemen friends belonging to Quincy.

"Down East" is a play portraying simple country life with some stirring features by way of novelty.

The village grocery store, the farm yard and the old grist mill being the scenes where the incidents are worked out.

The opening events take place in the village store where the owner, Ezekiel Fletcher also runs the post office and does other odd jobs, besides being the district Justice of Peace. Zeke's wife, Hannah, is an important personage in the establishment, being boss of the old man. Elizabeth (Bets) a daughter attends to the customers in general, and sees that no mail is delivered until she makes herself acquainted with its probable contents, etc. Myra Bigelow, the village beauty, a decided attraction for the young men of the neighborhood, flirts with strangers should they please her eye. Her experience with a fine looking swell young man who was around as a tourist, is the leading thread in the drama.

Charles Desmond, the mail carrier, had been the lover of Myra from childhood, and it had been settled by the parents of both that Charles and Myra should be married. Charles father had died and in his will he stipulated that Charles should marry Myra within a year, or forfeit the fortune which would be his should he fulfil the provisions of the will.

Jonas Desmond, Charles uncle, and provisional beneficiary of the will seeing a chance to fill his own pockets at his nephew's expense, urged Ralph Thorne, the pretended swell tourist, to marry Myra. This Ralph Thorne agreed to do for a consideration of $20,000 which Jonas Desmond would pay him after the marriage had taken place.

In the meantime a new will had been found which gave to Charles Desmond the entire fortune of his father without condition. This upset the whole dastardly scheme of Jonas Desmond and Ralph Thorne. Much plotting, villiany and desperate work took place between the two sharpers, which was all finally thwarted and the scoundrels landed in durance vile. Myra saddened and wiser was picked up by her friends taken back to her old home, where her mother had died and left Myra enough to enjoy life in a quiet way.

Charles Desmond who became possessor of his father's wealth was captivated by the vivacious "Bets" of the grocery store; married the winsome creature and both were happy.

The acting throughout the play was remarkably good and illicited much approval from the large audience. Mr. Daniel Forde as Ezekiel Fletcher was equal to many professionals. Harry E. Doull in the role of Charles Desmond was also good; while Mr. John M. Troupe, as Ralph Thorne, the polished villian, acquitted himself with all his old-time ability. Jonas Desmond was in masterly hands in the person of Mr. Frank Pierce; and never a better Deacon, and town constable as well, was there than Mr. John D. Wedderburn. Alex. Rose, as "will wash white," of southern ancestry, carried the entire audience off their feet. The "Patrolman, on his rounds" was mistaken for the real thing and Alex Black may join the force.

Mae Rose's work as Elizabeth Fletcher (Bets) was masterly and fetching; she proved a winner in the favor of the audience. Hannah Fletcher, Zeke's boss, was Henrietta E. Marr and besides being boss of her old man she held the respect of her hearers. Miss Maggie Esson, as Myra, was up to her old time excellence and was truly lovely on the stage.

Between the acts Miss Alice Celeste Foley and Miss Isabelle McIntosh delighted the audience with some fine songs well sung.

After the play was over and the hall cleared Marnock's orchestra struck up for the grand march which is always a feature of the Loyal Ladies' times, and on this occasion Miss Mamie J. Kennedy, with Mr. Robert Kennedy as escort, leading on the right, and Miss Isabelle McIntosh and Mr. E. E. Pierce as her attendant, leading on the left, all previous events were outdone. The dancing kept up until 3 A. M. without the least delay or apparent weariness. Refreshments were served in the adjoining halls during the night.

The President, Mrs. Margaret Stronach and her committee of management which included Mary Kennedy, Susan Ritchie, Grace Raleigh, Mary Peters, Annie Mutch as treasurer, and Jennie McKay as secretary, might well feel proud of their splendid achievement in carrying out the entire arrangements in so successful a manner.

Floor directress Mamie J. Kennedy and her assistant, Isabelle McIntosh did their parts without error and with pleasure to all. The aids, Jennie O'Hara, Agnes S. Reynolds, Mary McLeod, Bessie Robbie, Christena Mavers and Annie Rose also did excellent work, with Mr. Chamberlain as prompter.

The order of Loyal Ladies has been in existence twelve years; their work is to help one another in time of sickness and distress, and at death to pay an amount which shall ensure proper burial and render the family immediate help and comfort. The order has steadily grown in numbers and wealth and is now in a position to meet any probable obligation for years to come. Such is the result of unremitting perseverence and sound business methods.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Mrs. Barber, a niece of the late President McKinley, is engaged to be married and it is said that the ceremony will occur at Nice. The identity of the prospective bridegroom is not made known.

The diocesan council of the Protestant Episcopal church of Mississippi elected Theodore Bratton, D. D., of Raleigh, N. C., bishop of Mississippi.

The czar has requested that the sentence of death passed upon Ibrahan, the Albanian sentinel who recently assassinated M. Stcherbira, the Russian consul at Mitrovitza, be commuted to penal servitude for life.

Mayor Low has vetoed the bill dividing the New York fire department into two platoons.

Joseph G. Stockbridge, aged 21, was killed by a freight train at Ellsworth, Me.

Lawrence Meaney, 12 years old, fell under a freight car on which he was trying to steal a ride at Somerville, Mass., and was killed.

Fire on the premises of the Oxford Paper company, Rumford Falls, Me., did $6000 damage.

—The lottery schemes are faring hard at the present time. For a long time they have been shut out of the mails, and now the Supreme Court says the express companies must have nothing to do with carrying their tickets. It will be a good thing for the gullible public when these schemes are all wiped out of existence so effectually that they will never again make their appearance.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

Thirty Thousand Barrels
a day are made in the mills where Pillsbury's Best Flour is milled. A good many people must think it the best.

Spring and Summer Shoes.
The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's, from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's, from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls', $1.00, $1.25.
School Boys', $1.50, $2.00.
Youths', $1.25, $1.75.
Children's, 75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.
The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.
GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.
JUST AROUND THE CORNER
YOU WILL FIND
The Co-OPERATIVE DINING ROOMS,
3 Granite Street, Quincy,
where your wants will be satisfied.
TABLE BOARD:
21-Meal..... $3.50
.....Tickets,
ROOMS:
$1.25 Per Week and Upwards.
"Right in the Heart of the City."
Call in and talk it over.
mar.16-21--2m

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5
evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Picel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. lp-tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered.
Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite
Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1-1y- p-6mos.

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

FRANK F. CRANE,
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

JAMES F. BURKE,
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5. tf

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 102. QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 1, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. Quincy, March 31, 1903.

TAKEN on execution and will be sold at public auction on SATURDAY, the sixteenth day of May, at 9 o'clock A. M., at my residence No. 163 Franklin street, in Quincy, said County, all the right, title and interest which Annie H. Betts of Quincy, said County, had (not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution) on the twenty-ninth day of October, 1901, at four o'clock and fifty minutes P. M., (being the time the same was attached on mesne process) in and to the following described real estate, to wit:

A certain parcel of land situated in Quincy and shown on a plan made by H. T. Whitman and E. W. Branch, surveyors, dated May, 1896, and recorded with the Norfolk Deeds, bounded and described as follows, viz:

Beginning at a point on the southerly side of Washington street, whence the line which divides the herein granted premises, from premises now or formerly of one French, intersects the said southerly side of Washington street, thence running in a southwesterly direction along the line of said French and also on on line of land of J. R. Graham, three hundred and twelve and 48-100 feet to a stake, thence turning and running in a northwesterly direction along the line of other land of J. R. Graham, ninety-eight and 9-10 feet to a stake, thence by a curved line fourteen and 5-10 feet to another stake, thence running in a northeasterly direction along the line of other land of John R. Graham, two hundred and fifty-seven feet to a stake, thence by a curved line twenty feet to a cut on wall, thence running in an easterly direction along the said southerly side of Washington street, one hundred and fifty-seven and 15-100 feet to the point of beginning, containing 40,410 square feet of land. Being the same land conveyed to John H. Dinegan by J. R. Graham, by deed dated May 15, 1896, and recorded with the Norfolk Deeds, lib. 761, folio 319, and conveyed to Annie H. Betts, by deed of John H. Dinegan.

Also a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon containing fifty-four hundred (5400) square feet, situate in Quincy, Mass., and being lot number thirty (30) on a plan of house lots on Cranch Hill, made by H. T. Whitman, dated January 20, 1897, and recorded with the Norfolk Plans and bounded and described as follows, viz: Northerly on Whitwell street, sixty (60) feet; southeasterly on lot thirty-one (31) on said plan, ninety (90) feet; northwesterly on lot twenty-nine (29) on said plan, ninety (90) feet; southwesterly on lot No 39 on said plan, sixty (60) feet. Being the same premises conveyed to Annie H. Betts by Selina Tunnicliff and John R. Tunnicliff by their attorney, Ransom Tunnicliff, October 24, 1899, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Lib. 856, Fol. 76.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Deputy Sheriff.

May 1. 3t--1-8-15

Chance of a Life Time.

AUCTION SALE AT

Evans' Emporium and Auction Rooms,

11 Copeland Street, Quincy,

SATURDAY, 1 o'clock, P. M., and every evening after at 5.30 until all the enormous stock is sold.

A Syndicate has bought from the Underwriters' Salvage Co., a large part of Bigelow & Dowse Co., Boston, stock after the fire which consumed their entire building. Tons of Poultry Wire, Hundreds of Axes, Thousands of Jack Knives, shovels, Picks, Saws, Sad Irons, Paints, Stone Hammers, Wagon Jacks, in fact a part of everything kept by that well known firm.

Also there will be offered at this gigantic sale, a large line of Shoes, Clothing, Iron Beds, Mattresses, Stoves and Furniture, and a thousand and one other useful articles too numerous to mention.

P. S. We invite everbody who has anything they want to dispose of at once, to send it along to this sale. 10 per cent. commission.

Sale positive, rain or shine. If pleasant will sell in the open air.

April 29. 3t

By C. H. JOHNSON, - - Auctioneer. Office, Room 3 Adams Building, Quincy.

Household Furniture

At Public Auction

Formerly belonging to E. B. WARD, Will be sold from Room 1598 Hancock Street,

Under Grand Army Hall, on SATURDAY, May 2, 1903, at 1.30 P. M.

The goods consist in part as follows: Plush Parlor Set, 2 Tables, Book Case, Umbrella Stand, 3 Rockers, Desk, Couch, 2 Lamps, Stair Carpet, 2 Woolen Carpets, 2 Brussels Carpets, Black Walnut Dining Room Set, Chamber Set, 2 White Iron Beds, Straw Matting, Ice Chest, Clock, and a variety of useful Household goods.

Sale Positive. Terms Cash.

Quincy, April 29. 3t

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Charter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D., Inspector of Milk.

April 15. 30t

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, PRES.

April 9-1m 11-1m

JOHN STREIFERD & SON, FLORISTS.

Telephone 13-7 Braintree.

Cut flowers. Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.

Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $3.00 per year.

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	73	52	55	46	64
Monday,	67	60	58	48	55
Tuesday,	—	59	71	55	53
Wednesday,	84	62	79	73	81
Thursday,	86	67	67	59	82
Friday,	58	61	63	56	77
Saturday,	—	65	62	58	71

New Advertisements Today.

Sheriff's Sale.
Co-operative Dining Room—Board and Room
D. E Wadsworth & Co —Corset Coats.
Wanted—Gentleman's Place.
Lost—Rubber Tire.
For Sale—Black Mare.
Quincy Co-operative Bank—Meeting.

Good Afternoon.

The Secretary of Agriculture has made several addresses within the past week, in different parts of the country, advocating the teaching of elementary agriculture in the primary schools. Secretary Wilson is confident this method would add materially to the popularity of agricultural pursuits and emphasize the dignity of that profession.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ The United States board of geographic names has decided that Peking was the correct form in English to indicate the northern capital of China. Peking always had been spelled with a "g" from the first treaties of 1858 and 1860 down to February 3, 1897, when the board of geographic names voted to shorten it to the Cantonese dialect sound, "Pekin." The decision attracted no comment or attention until the Boxer outbreak in 1900. A vigorous campaign against the dropping of the "g" was started by Miss F. R. Scidmore, who has spent many years in the Orient, and a mass of documentary evidence was submitted against the elimination. Miss Skidmere marshaled all the English-speaking synologues, living and dead, to prove that "Peking" was the only correct and possible transliteration of the Chinese characters standing for "northern capital." At the meeting of the International Oriental congress at Hamburg last September, Miss Scidmore passed a paper to the leading Chinese scholars, asking how the capital of North China should be spelled in English publications, and all those learned ones wrote "Peking"—New Bedford Standard.

☞ Al Adams, the famous policy king, who was convicted of the policy swindle in New York, was committed to Sing Sing prison Monday for one year. He was out on bail, boarding at the Waldorf-Astoria, and everything that money could do to prevent his serving his seutence was done, even as it is alleged, the attempt to bribe the jury. But all of no avail, and on Monday Adams was conveyed to Sing Sing, where he divested himself of his costly wearing apparel, took a bath, and had the barbor remove his moustache and whiskers and cut his hair the regular prison style; then he donned the prison garb and was placed in his cell and will be known as No. 129. He is reported to be worth four and a half millions of dollars; but this time his money did not save him. The conviction of such a notorious criminal at this will strike terror to other evil-doers who rely upon their money to save them from punishment, and is certainly a forward step for justice and decency. The game of policy is the meanest kind of gambling, filching the pennies from the very poorest class of people and rolling them up into fortunes for the promoters of such nefarious schemes. This conviction and imprisonment of Adams is a triumph for justice and morality. The expense attending this conviction has been borne by the anti-policy party of eight men, which is more than they are able to afford, and doubtless their appeal for financial help will be promptly met.—Gloucester Times.

Miss Blanche Bristol, a young woman well known in Atlantic, where she lived some years ago, was united in marriage this week to Mr. James Toas. The ceremony was solemnized in New York.

HOUGHS NECK.

Newsy Items from Quincy's Summer Resort.

Large crowds visit the beach every Sunday and the street railway have to run extra cars on every trip to accommodate people.

Tessier Bros. of Dorchester will open a drug store in the building formerly occupied by the Houghs Neck bakery.

Charles F. Atwood and family of Revere are in the Air Castle cottage on Parkhurst street.

Thomas W. Murray and family of Roxbury are in their cottage on Shenner street.

Mrs. A. L. Macomber of Braintree is in the Winthrop cottage.

Daniel Cotter and family of Roxbury are in the Mary Esther cottage on Crosby street.

J. B. Evans and family of Brockton are in the Delmonte cottage on Winthrop street.

Edward Myett is in the Hortense cottage on Winthrop street.

Mrs. Lannigan of Roxbury is in the Engleston cottage on Bell street.

George Curtis and family of Stoughton have moved into their new cottage on Bell street.

John F. Murphy and family of Roxbury are in the Shamrock cottage on Bell street.

George Reed is at his cottage on Great Hill.

There is an unusual demand for cottages and many have already been let. There is also a demand for land.

The Houghs Neck steamer will commence regular trips May 30.

Charles Shea and family of Dorchester are in a cottage on Weymouth street.

The grounds about the new fire station are being graded. Houghs Neck people hope to see a piece of fire apparatus installed there soon.

Miss Maggie Kelliher is to build a three-story brick block on the corner of Sea street and Centre road. The street floor will be fitted up for stores and the upper stories as tenements. This will be the first brick block to be built at Houghs Neck.

Benefit Whist.

At the whist party at I. O. O. F. hall, Wollaston, Thursday evening, for the benefit of Mrs. H. A. Corbett, twenty tables were in play. The affair was in every way a success and quite a little sum realized. The lucky ones to receive souvenirs were: Mrs. J. R. McDonald, silver pie knife; Mrs. Bertha M. McLeod, six silver knives; Mrs. Clara E. Maynard, picture; Mrs. McCarty, sofa pillow; Mr. F. G. Moore, glass wine set; Mr. J. A. Silver, cranberry set, six pieces; Mr. George Craig, glass set, four pieces; and Mr. Mitchell, bamboo music rack.

Agreement Signed.

Thursday night was one of rejoicing by the Carpenters' Union for practically all the master builders have signed the new bill of prices which goes into effect today. Under the new agreement the carpenters are divided into two classes. Under the new schedule the pay of first class men will be 35 cents per hour for eight hours an increase of four cents per hour. The pay of second class men will be 31 1-2 cents per hour for eight hours.

This Morning's Fire.

The alarm from Box 73 at 9.20 this morning called the department to a fire in a hen house of Charles E. Snow on Sargents lane. In the house were five brooders and 250 chickens. The fire started from one of the brooders becoming overheated. It had made considerable headway before Mrs. Snow discovered it and although the building was not damaged greatly the brooders were destroyed and the chickens roasted. The loss is estimated at $250.

Quincy Mansion School.

Tuesday, May 5th, a sale will be held in the Canterbury of Quincy Mansion School, from 4 until 10 P. M One half of the proceeds will be given to the Quincy Hospital and one-half devoted to some special gift for the School. Wednesday evening, May 6th, Mr. Carl Faelten of Boston will give a recital in Mary A. Livermore hall, at 8 o'clock Wednesday, May 13th, Dr. and Mrs. Willard give a reception to meet the senior class, from eight until eleven o'clock.

A Card.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

E. J. MURPHY,
I. G. MURRAY,
S. F. COPELAND,
G. A. LORING, Wollaston.

☞ Although the Co-operative Dining Rooms, 3 Granite street, is just around the corner, a great many people are finding it every day. They are finding it to be just as advertised and are not slow to appreciate the fact. Good food, good service. "We are here to stay." Right in the heart of the city.

MILTON.

The minstrel show at Ellsworth hall, Wednesday night, in aid of the Episcopal Mission was a grand success. It was given by the boys of the church and they were greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience. The end men were full of jokes and as they were largely local they created much laughter. The program opened with a chorus and songs were sung by George Delory, Mr. Matabooloo, George Eaton, W. Smith, Joe Johnsing Harry Ward, Ike White, W. H. Martin, John Forde and Sambo Jones. The comedians were W. H. Martin and P. J. McKnight and there was a stump speech by Uncle Jinks.

The fire department has been called out twice this week. Box 46 Thursday night was for a brush fire; and box 12, Wednesday morning, for a chimney fire. There was no loss in either case.

Rev. Theodore I. Reese, returns today from Norfolk, Va.

The corner stone of the new Episcopal mission church will be laid next Friday by Bishop Lawrence.

The remodelled depot at East Milton is about ready for occupancy.

The contest for the position as superintendent of the cemetery has been settled by the appointment of John Graham.

The watering carts came out from their winter quarters this week and everybody was glad to see them lay the dust.

There is quite a contest on at East Milton for the appointment of janitor of the Belcher school.

A lecture on "The Slums of New York," was given at the meeting of the Thursday evening club this week.

The wooden platform at the entrance to the Hose house in East Milton is to be replaced with pavers.

Peoples' Union, Ward Two.

Mr. E. H. Chandler, secretary of the Twentieth Century club of Boston, gave a talk to the Ward Two Peoples' Union on Tuesday evening. His talk was illustrated by stereopticon views, pertaining to the beautifying of habitations and their environments. He emphasized the fact that a person's mind retained the impression of the external beauty of places, and that all persons were consciously or uncounsciously influenced by their surroundings.

He complimented the people for getting together and forming a union for the interests of the community.

The committee on Law and Order gave a satisfactory report and will continue their endeavors in the various lines which they have undertaken.

The Ward Improvement committee urged the necessity of a suitable building in which to hold meetings, and gave some suggestions for consideration. At present the Union is very much hampered and prevented from accomplishing its ends, by the fact that there is no place appropriate for holding meetings. This is one of the urgent needs of the ward, and it is the purpose of this committee to take steps without delay, whereby a suitable building may be at the disposal of the of the Ward Two People's Union.

Other matters concerning the needs of the ward were discussed by various persons. A number of new members were added to the list, and altogether it proved to be a very satisfactory meeting. Many citizens have signified their willingness to give time, strength and money in order that the Union may obtain some long-needed and oft-sought-for improvements for the so-called Point section of Quincy. "In union there is strength."

TODAY'S COURT.

Charles Daly was arraigned for drunkenness at Weymouth. Case continued until Saturday.

CHANCE FOR LEDGER READERS.

Coupon Worth 25c. if Presented at Chas. C. Hearn's Store.

In order to test the Ledger's great circulation and its superior advertising value, we have made arrangements with Chas. C. Hearn, the popular druggist, to offer one of his best selling medicines at half-price to any one who wil cut out the following coupon and present it at his store.

COUPON.

This coupon entitles the holder to one 50c. package of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half-price, 25c. I will refund the money to any dissatisfied purchaser.

CHARLES C. HEARN.

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia is not an unknown remedy. It has made many remarkable cures right here in Quincy, and so positive is Druggist Chas. C. Hearn of its great superiority in curing dyspepsia, constipation sick headache and liver troubles that he will in addition to selling it at half-price, refund the money to any one whom it does not cure.

If you cannot call at his store, cut out the coupon and mail it with 25 cents, and a 50 cent box of the specific will be sent you by mail, charges paid. Do not put it off. "One today is worth two tomorrows."

21-24-28-1

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

A decided change in the weather.

Straw hats were seen yesterday and they looked comfortable.

This is the day that the assessors get busy.

The boys were keen for swimming yesterday.

Bids will be opened today for building the new hall of the A. O. H.

Lilacs will be out in a few days. The tree toads have already begun to sing.

Mrs. Charles R. Safford of Clive street entertained a few friends at luncheon Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rand entertain a party of friends at their home on Merrymount road this evening.

Mr. Charles Crane has rented his home corner Hancock and Greenleaf streets for a boarding and lodging house.

Among the visitors to the Adams shrine under the First church Thursday was a son and grandson of Samuel Adams.

The Whatsoever Circle of King's Daughters will hold a candy sale at Miss Ellen Comins', Elmwood avenue, Saturday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Barber and Miss Julia Barber of Botolph street, returned Thursday from Rhode Island, where they have been speading the past two weeks.

Forty-seven years ago Thursday Quincy Neck was celebrating its annexation to Quincy. What a change there has been in that district since then.

Many Wollaston people attended the dress rehearsal of "The Scientific King," at the Hollis street theatre last Tuesday. John Edgar Simmons, Tech '05, was one of the robbers in the show.

There will be rehearsals of the Wollaston Choral society on Monday and Thursday evenings, May 4 and May 7, in preparation for the second concert to be given in the Baptist church, May 20.

Shares in the 29th series of the Quincy Co-operative Bank are now being sold. Dividends of over 5 per cent. have been paid on all the previous series, and the bank stands one of the best in the state.

The Quincy City Hospital is again fortunate in receiving another bequest. This time the sum of $2,103.87 from the estate of Josiah Baxter to go toward establishing a free bed in memory of Joseph Baxter and his wife, Sarah Baxter.

The semi-annual business meeting of the Wollaston Congregational C. E. society was held in the vestry, Thursday evening. The treasurer, Mrs Saxe reported all bills paid and a balance on hand. Plans were discussed for the bi-monthly social to be held in the local church in June.

Schubert String Quartet.

The few people assembled at Colonial hall on Thursday evening were treated to one of the most enjoyable concerts ever heard in Quincy.

This is the first time music lovers have had the opportunity of listening to a first class chamber concert and the audience evinced its appreciation by hearty applause.

One could not help being impressed with the perfect unity which was apparent in the playing of the quartet; no part seemed to predominate, the whole effect being one of beautiful ensemble.

The quartet was assisted by Mr. L. Dowley Williams, who seldom appears publicly in Quincy.

The trio in which he took part was especially pleasing, and was an effective number. Another enjoyable one the scherzo from the Mendelssohn quartet, which was also enthusiastically received. It is to be regretted that concerts of this class are not better patronized.

The program consisted of a quartet for strings by Haydn op. 54, a trio for piano, violin and cello by Rubinstein, op. 52, and a quartet by Mendelssohn, op. 44. The following is the personel of quartet. W. E. Loud and H. F. Grover, violins, E. J. Schiller, viola, and Frederick Blair, cello.

Coming Concert.

An unusually fine program is being arranged for the concert to be given in Music hall, May 13, for the benefit of the building of the Y. M. C. A. Among the talent already secured is the Wollaston Glee club, the boy choirs of the two Episcopal churches composed of seventy voices, Mrs. Harriet Morgan, soprano; E. E. Bullock, tenor; John Findlay, the boy soprano, and Miss Mell Ames Horr, reader.

With such an array of talent the committee having the affair in charge should have no difficulty in filling Music hall.

Today is the fifth anniversary of the battle of Manila Bay and the destruction of the Spanish fleet by Admiral Dewey.

Fatherhood

Much it owes to blood that's good.

Good blood is healthy blood, blood that is free from impurities, inherited or acquired, and full of vitality and vigor. It's the kind of blood that is made by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Which cures more Blood Diseases and Functional Weaknesses than any other medicine in the world.

"I have been prescribing Hood's Sarsaparilla for the last three years and find it an excellent alterative and blood purifier. It produces the very best results where a medicine of the kind is required." R. D. JACOBS, M. D., Vinton, Ohio.

Accept no Substitutes for Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills. No substitutes act like them.

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS.

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.

April 30. 1m

CARPET WORK

Of every kind and description. Carpets taken up, Carpets thoroughly cleaned, Carpets relaid, Carpets made over to fit other rooms.

We have in our employ the best carpet men that ever worked in Quincy, and guarantee the highest class of work by careful men, at the same price charged by others for inexperienced labor.

Furniture Reupholstering and Mattress work. Estimates on any kind of work promptly given.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON

Quincy, April 23. tf

FINE SHOWING OF WASH FABRICS.

New Ginghams for Waists and Gowns, at 12 1-2 cts. per yard.

Percales in light, medium and dark.
White and Colored Piques.
White Mercerised Goods for Shirt Waists.
These goods are all new and this year's patterns.

--- AT ---

C. S. HUBBARD'S,

1363 Hancock Street,

Directly Opposite the Post Office.

MOTHALINE.

For packing away your furs and clothing during the warm weather.

I have it in three varieties: Cedar, Camphor and Lavender.

15 cts. per Package.

CHARLES C. HEARN.

PHARMACIST,

1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

FULL STOCK

—OF—

HATCHET

BRAND GOODS,

—AT—

Brooks' Market,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 25. tf

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

SATURDAY

COATS.

17

SILK LINED COVERT

Corset Coats

Made to sell for $10.00.

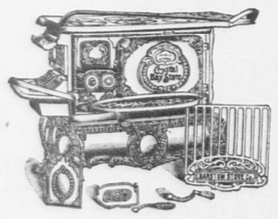

Saturday only, $5.98

Also a full line of Misses' and Children's Coats at very low prices.

O.E. Wadsworth & Co.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.

Come and See It.

BARSTOW STOVE CO.,

55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.

GUY'S COLISEUM,

W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 17. 4w

DAMAGE OF $1,000,000

Already Accomplished by Forest Fires Which Are Still Raging

Bradford, Pa., May 1.—The worst forest fires in the history of this section of Pennsylvania are raging and $1,000,000 worth of property has been destroyed. The forests have been ablaze for the past week, but the fires were kept under control by large gangs of men until a stiff southeast gale sprang up and fanned the smouldering embers into a roaring mass of flames.

Watsonville, 10 miles south of this city, is reported as being destroyed, and it is feared that a number of lives have been lost. The last word from there was that the fire was on all sides of the place and the people were fearful of being burned to death, as there was no avenue of escape.

At Simpson, where the forest is thick and a large number of oil wells are located, the fire was very fierce. The people of that town were rescued by a special train being run as far as Davis City and brought to this city. They lost all their belongings.

Mountain Fires Raging

Plattsburg, N. Y., May 1.—The forest fires in the Adirondacks have gained great headway on account of the high wind. Telephone and telegraph wires are down, but enough is known to make it certain the worst forest fire in years is raging. Proprietors of summer hotels have appealed to the railroads for assistance and the response has been prompt. There are no immediate signs of rain.

Bribery Charges Unfounded

Springfield, Ills., May 1.—The committee appointed to investigate charges of bribery in the Illinois legislature submitted a final report to the house last night. The report declares that no real attempt was made to bribe Speaker Miller, whose attempt to gavel a traction bill through the house led to a riot, and whose explanation was that he believed bribery had been resorted to in the interest of a rival bill. The report was adopted without a dissenting vote.

China Wants Agreement Kept

Pekin, May 1.—The denial from St. Petersburg of the authenticity of the Russian demands on China previous to the evacuation of Manchuria has created comment among the members of the interested legations. Grand Secretary Ching proposes to urgently request Russia to proceed with the restoration of the government of Manchuria to China, according to the agreement.

Grand Duke Weds Princess

Berlin, May 1.—The Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar and Princess Caroline of Reuss were married at Backeburg castle, principality of Schaumburg-Lippe, by Rev. Dr. Rothe. Emperor William, Queen Wilhelmina and 33 princes and princesses were present, each attended by ladies of their respective courts and adjutants and equerries in uniform.

Thieves Got $10,000

Des Moines, Ia., May 1.—Two masked men grabbed a package containing $10,000 from Agent Peterson of the United States Express company while a train was standing at Britt. They secured the money and escaped after a struggle.

Met a Horrible Death

Ogdensburg, N. Y., May 1.—A male patient at the St. Lawrence state hospital was killed by being parboiled in a vat of boiling lye. He had a hallucination that the devil was chasing him and he either plunged or fell into the vat.

Convicted of Killing Goebel

Frankfort, Ky., May 1.—The jury in the case of James Howard, on trial for the murder of William Goebel, found the defendant guilty and fixed the punishment at life imprisonment.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Saturday, May 2.
Sun rises—4:40; sets—6:44.
Moon sets—11:56 p. m.
High water—2:45 a. m.; 3:15 p. m.

The storm centre has moved from northern Illinois to the St. Lawrence valley with greatly increased intensity. There will be rain in New England, accompanied by much lower temperature.

QUINCY GIRL SPONSOR

Christens Steel Barge Shenango at Bath, Maine.

Thursday was a great day for Bath, Maine, when the large steel barge Shenango, which has been building for many months, made her formal plunge into the water of Kennebec river. A large crowd gathered to witness the launching and promptly at 3.15 she slid off the ways amid music and cheers. Miss Fay Hitchcock of this city christened her with a bottle of champagne as she slid bow first into the water.

Seventy-five guests were aboard, and after the launching enjoyed a lunch which was served in midstream. Later an elaborate banquet was served in the molding loft, which was followed by dancing. Miss. Hitchcock was the guest of honor for the day and received marked attention during the dance. Her attractive personality wins her friends wherever she goes, and at home she is a general favorite. Mr. Charles Willets of the Fore River Ship and Engine Company, and Mrs. Willets, accompanied Miss Hitchcock to Bath and chaperoned her during her brief stay; the party returning to Quincy this morning.

The Shenango was built by the Bath Iron Works for the J. M. Guffey Petroleum Company of Pittsburg, Penn., and will hail from Philadelphia. She will be ready for sea about the middle of the month and will go directly to New York.

Funeral of W. J. Webber.

The funeral of William J. Webber, son of ex-Chief Webber of the Boston Fire Department was held this morning from St. John's church. The services were very largely attended, many representatives of the fire departments of Boston, Brockton, Braintree and Quincy being present.

Solemn High Mass was celebrated with Rev. J. P. Cuff as celebrant, Rev. Julian E. Johnstone as deacon, Rev. John J. Casey sub-deacon, and Rev. Maurice Lynch of Weymouth, as Master of Ceremonies. The regular choir was assisted by Michael J. Dwyer, soloist, and a quartette composed of William Biganess, James M. Lee, Mrs. George Norris and Miss Friguglietti. Schmidt's mass was sung. At the offatory Mr. Dwyer sang "Pie Jesu" and after the absolution service "Tender Loving Shepherd."

The burial was at Mt. Calvary cemetery. The bearers were: William H. Gault, John J. Malloy, William P. Malloy, Henry DeCoste, Albert A. Murphy and James Sheridan.

There were many beautiful floral tributes.

Unity Club.

The annual banquet of the Unity club will take place in the Unitarian church, Wollaston, on Friday evening, May 8. Professor Perrin will address the club in the body of the church. Short speeches and music will follow; after which the company will assemble in the vestry to partake of the banquet. Tickets can be procured of the officers of the Unity club and must be secured at least three days before the banquet. Members and friends are cordially invited to take tickts and come.

Rockland 13—Adams 7.

Adams Academy was defeated at Merrymount park Thursday afternoon by the boys of Rockland High school. The score by innings:

Rockland	1	2	1	1	2	5	1	0	0	—13
Adams	1	0	0	0	0	4	2	0	0	— 7

☞New York is passing out of the period when it was a comfortable and safe demesne for the men who fatten on the weaknesses or the misfortunes of their fellows. Poolroom "kings," roulette "kings," policy "kings," like the native princes of India, have not stood on their own legs; their royal estate, so long as it was enjoyed, has depended on the connivance of a complaisant overlordship. That connivance has been withdrawn. Canfield has gone to Europe. Adams is to go to Sing Sing, the smaller crooks have been warned to go west.—New York Mail and Express.

Quincy Co-operative Bank.

MEETING of Shareholders WEDNESDAY, May 4, 1903, at 7.45 P. M., for Election of Officers. Sale of Shares, Receipt of Dues, etc.

Shares in 29th Series now on Sale.

Years of success. Practical Principles for Savings and Owning Homes.

R. D. CHASE, Secretary,
Savings Bank Building.

Quincy, May 1. 1-4t-p-1w

WILLIAM WILSON,

PIANOS.

New and Second Hand.

Easy Payments.

10 Lessons Free with each Piano.

Square Piano at Low Price; $5 down, $5 per month.

Solo Pianist and Prompter for Parties, Socials, etc., or any number of Musicians Furnished.

Residence, 4 President's Avenue, SOUTH QUINCY.

April 6. 1m

Bishop—MacLeod.

Palms, cherry and apple blossoms and larch, made the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson March on Irving place, Thursday evening a pretty setting for a wedding party. The bride was Miss Mary MacLeod, a popular member of the younger element of the First Presbyterian church and a resident of the city for some nine years. The groom, Mr. Joseph Bishop, is a well known and representative granite merchant of the city.

Mrs. William Elwood Bennett of New Britain, Conn., played the wedding march and Rev. James Todd, of the First Presbyterian church performed the ceremony at eight o'clock. Masters Carl and Allison Marsh were the pages. The best man was Mr. Edwin Bishop, and the maid of honor, Miss Catherine Isabelle MacLeod of Quincy.

The bride wore a white dotted Swiss muslin, en traine and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and her maid of honor wore a figured muslin over green.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Bishop will reside at 143 Federal avenue, Quincy Adams, where they will receive friends after May 15th.

—Printers and compositors are more numerously represented in the Australian parliaments than any other class. The enterprising compositor learns his trade in the office of a metropolitan journal, and then starts a paper of his own in some rising suburban or country district, where he creates public opinion, becomes the most influential resident and captures the constituency.

☞Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn. after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

—Reports of the discovery of new veins of anthracite coal near Wilkesbarre, Pa., have been current in the news of the day for several weeks past. The preliminary figuring of the geologists produces an estimate of 300,000,000 tons and a value of one billion dollars. These veins are at a higher level than any other in the district. They will, the experts say, furnish constant work for two hundred years to a force of 6,000 men. Nobody has calculated as yet the effect of the Wilkesbarre discovery on the period of durability of the American coal supply. Lord Kelvin has predicted that the world's coal will be exhausted in 400 years. The editor of the Coal Trade Journal, on the contrary, maintains that the United States can furnish coal for 1,500 years to come. In neither case would the 300,000,000 fresh tons mean a notable extension. And in either case the mines of America doubtless hold far more than enough coal to last until science has established an economical power and heat and light producing substitute.—Boston Beacon.

Dynamite Used on Bank

Salonica, European Turkey, May 1.—The Ottoman bank here was destroyed by dynamite. The Turkish postoffice and other buildings were also attacked, resulting in a panic, during which two men were killed and two persons were injured. A detachment of 2000 additional troops has since arrived here from Smyrna. Quiet is restored.

Lost Fortune and Killed Himself

New York, May 1.—Bernardo Bueno, formerly a millionaire owner of sugar and tobacco plantations in Cuba, but who lost his money in speculation, committed suicide here by shooting. He was a captain in the Cuban army during the recent war and aided General Wood and Colonel Roosevelt in various ways.

Licenses at $1200 Each

New York, May 1.—The $1200 saloon license tax went into effect last night and at the same time the saloon keepers of greater New York started to carry out their project to abolish the free lunch and to charge for the filling of the "growler" 15 cents instead of 10 cents, as formerly.

Not Long Out of Sing Sing

Osinning, N. Y., May 1.—Thomas York, who was serving a 10 years' sentence for burglary in Sing Sing prison, was building a brick wall at the bank of the Hudson river and he swam around the wall and escaped to the woods. He was later found and returned to prison.

An Official Report

Ottawa, May 1.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has received a telegram from William Pearce, inspector of surveys, who was sent to Frank, N. W. T., saying that there was no volcanic eruption or explosion at Turtle mountain, but a huge landslide from the top of the mountain, 4000 feet high, filling up the river so that the water could not be seen for one mile. The debris and rock are piled up on the side farthest from the town in a fan-shaped mass for a distance of three quarters of a mile, so that at the extreme limit the slide was about two miles in width. The water is running through the rocks and there is no danger from floods. There were 88 killed. Only two of the men in the mine died from suffocation.

AGAINST LABOR UNIONS

Vermont to Have a State Federation of Employers

A HARD STRUGGLE COMING

Declaration That Labor Combinations Have Employers Bound Hand and Foot—Socialism the Main Purpose of the American Federation of Labor

Rutland, Vt., May 1.—Employers of labor to the number of nearly 200, embracing nearly every branch of business, including manufacturing, met here to consider a call for the formation of a state federation of employers. The purpose of such a federation would be to oppose organized labor. No federation was formed at this time, due to the fact that local bodies of employers did not officially send delegates. Several interesting speeches were made on the subject of the call and many of those present formally endorsed the movement by enrolling themselves in the federation which is to be created.

This movement began several months ago by the formation of a Manufacturers' association in and around Rutland. There are other local bodies in similar lines, and the object of the meeting was to arouse interest in the movement among other manufacturers and employers of labor throughout the state, and to that end a call was issued in which it was stated that the object of the meeting was to "make it possible for employers to give employment to men, whether members of a union or not," and "for protection from unjust aggression by labor unions."

The principal address was by A. C. Marshall of Dayton, O., secretary of the Employers' association of that city. He spoke of the antagonism between employers and employes and predicted that a hard struggle was coming. He said the union had been strengthening their forces and their organizations while the employers have also begun to organize. He severely censured the employers for allowing their help to unionize, and said that the unions had them bound hand and foot. He claimed that the labor union was the kindergartan of Socialism and said that at the last annual meeting of the American Federation of Labor 48 members voted in favor of endorsing Socialism as a main purpose of the federation.

He paid his respects to the National Civic Federation and said that Gompers, Mitchell and O'Connell were the dominant forces of it, and that they had overruled conservative men like President Eliot of Harvard. One bad point of unionism, he said, was that it did not want boys as apprentices, which closed the doors of honest labor to the youth of the country. He closed by making an urgent appeal to the manufacturers and employers to get together.

Joel B. Baker of Rutland, who acted as attorney for the F. R. Patch Manufacturing company in its suit against the labor unions, said that there was no fight between capital and organized labor. He severely denounced labor unions and predicted that the new organization would be a success. E. Lyman of Burlington spoke in a similar vein.

General Tieup of Tugboats

New York, May 1.—The Association for the Protection of Commerce of the port of New York, embracing 80 towboat owners and transportation companies, unanimously voted to tie up the tugboats immediately rather than to accede to the demands of the engineers for an increase in wages and shorter hours. This association has nothing to do with the railroad tugs, the owners of which last night agreed to arbitration. Out of 250 tugboats only about 25 are in operation today and about 4000 men are temporarily thrown out of employment. The towboats in commission today are worked by non-union men and in some cases by the owners themselves.

Shipyards Strike Is On

New York, May 1.—The conference between the proprietors of the shipyards and committees of their men closed at 2:25 this morning and resulted in a failure to agree. The men demanded $3 a day and refused the $2.94 offered by the employers. The employers also refused to recognize the union. According to President Devlin of the boilermakers 12,000 men employed in shipyards will strike in this district today.

Labor Evidently Satisfied

New York, May 1.—On the opening day of May the 65,000 workmen who are affiliated with the United Board of Building Trades in the metropolis and vicinity begun work without a single new strike or one in sight. This is a new record for the first day of May.

Philippines Postmaster Goes Wrong

Manila, May 1.—O. G. Milne, postmaster of Tacloban, capital of the island of Leyte, has been convicted of misappropriating funds, but no sentence has yet been pronounced. Milne is also charged with embezzling.

On the Diamond

At Brooklyn—National—Boston, 10; Brooklyn, 2.
At Philadelphia—National—Philadelphia, 10; New York, 2.
At St. Louis—National—Pittsburg, 13; St. Louis, 4.
At Boston—American—Philadelphia, 12; Boston, 2.
At New York—American—New York, 6; Washington, 2.

It feeds the hair

Ayer's Hair Vigor is a hair food. It feeds, nourishes, invigorates the hair. That's why it makes the hair grow, stops falling hair, and keeps the scalp free from dandruff. It always restores color to gray hair, all the deep, rich color of early life. And it is an elegant dressing. $1.00 a bottle. J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped my hair from falling when it was so bad you could see my scalp, and it made new hair come in, thick and heavy."—MRS. W. G. HAUGH, Canton, Ohio.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - 50 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

LOST.

LOST—A Rubber Tire from a buggy. A Suitable reward will be paid on return to PENNIMAN & SON'S Stable, Depot avenue. Quincy, May 1. 3t

WANTED.

WANTED—A Gentlemen's Place, by a middle aged married man, with long experience and A 1 reference. For particulars, write or call. HARRY JOHNSON, 86 Granite street, Quincy. May 1-2t

WANTED—Saleslady. Quincy 5 and 10 Cent Store. April 30. tf

WANTED—Married couple want one or two nicely Furnished Rooms in Quincy centre. Address A. B. C., Ledger Office. April 29. 3t

WANTED—Young Men to prepare for Government Positions. Fine Openings in all Departments. Good Salaries. Rapid Promotions. Examinations soon. Particulars Free. Inter-State Cor. Inst., Cedar Rapids, Ia. Apr 1 27. 1p 1m

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—One Black Mare, nine years old, weight 950. Sound and kind, suitable for driver or light grocery wagon. Call W. H. LEATHERS, Workman's Cash Market, Brewers Corner. Quincy, May 1-1t

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office. April 28. tf

FOR SALE—A lot of young hardy Rose Bushes. Apply at 90 Washington street, Quincy. Quincy, April 28. 6t

FOR Sale—Garden Loam and Sods. Apply to GEORGE I. LINTON, 24 Pearl street, or THOMAS WHELAM, Wollaston. April 27. 6t

FOR SALE—The 21-foot gasoline launch Lone Star. Now in water in perfect running order. For particulars address FRANK M. COE, Atlantic. April 27—6t

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve [12] rooms with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street. Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

TO LET.

TO LET—Furnished Rooms, corner Hancock and Greenleaf streets, Quincy. Large Double Parlor, two front Communicating Rooms and several Side Rooms. Terms moderate. Rooms now ready for occupancy. Also barn to let. Apply at the residence. April 25. 6t

TO LET—Tenement of five rooms. Apply to RICHARD NEWCOMB, 49 Newcomb street. Quincy, April 25. 6t

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet. 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street. Quincy, April 21. tf

TO LET—House, 8 rooms, No. 59 Coddington street, with bath, furnace, electric lights. Apply to H. M. FAXON, Adams building. Apr. 16-tf

TO LET—In Quincy Centre, house of 6 Rooms and stable. Rent, $20 per month. Apply to FRANK FESSENDEN CRANE, 4 Chestnut Street. apr. 9-pl tf

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street. Quincy, April 9. 1p-tf

LEDGER ADVERTISEMENTS PAY BEST

TO LET.

Westerly Half of House, No 56 Coddington street, 10 rooms, city water, now occupied by E. George Sanborn.

Farm, head of Summer street, with house and out-buildings, now occupied by Anderson and Frieberg.

Easterly Half House, No. 59 Pond street, 5 rooms, now occupied by James F. Mullin.

Tenement, 4 rooms, No. 1597 Hancock street, now occupied by Charles Rose.

Stable, Woodward avenue, now occupied by Charles Fostello.

Apply, HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, April 30. 6t

TO LET.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

FOR SALE or TO LET.

HOUSE of 8 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Just completed. Apply to ASA O. A. SEWELL, 12 Charles street, Quincy Point. Reliable Houses built to order at lowest prices and sold on easy terms. April 7. 1m

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....

PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,

3 High Street, Cor. Summer,

BOSTON, MASS

Three minutes from South Station.

A. RUSSELL JONES,

ELECTRICIAN.

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK

A SPECIALTY.

Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.

Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

Address, 1262 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.

Quincy, April 10. tflp

$3 Worth of Nursery Stock for $1.

IN Order to establish our trade with you, we will send you twelve McKinley Strawberries, six Columbian Raspberries, one Campbell Early Grape Vine, four apple and four peach trees, standard varieties, all for one dollar. Do not fail to write for our wholesale catalogue. ROCHESTER & BRIGHTON NURSERIES, Rochester, N. Y. Feb. 25-10w

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE

HAS OPENED AN

Employment Office

At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm
Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.
Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.

Plumbing and Heating Co,

25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.
Telephone Connection.
April 24. 1-tf- p-1w

YOU CAN BUY AT

PRATT'S

MARKET,

VIM

7 1-2 cts. Package.

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,

Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers.

GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7. tf

PAINTING

and Glazing.

WARD L. HAYWARD,

28 Mechanic Street.

Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

LEWIS N. CURTIS,

PAINTER, GLAZIER.

LEADED STAINED GLASS.

Decorator and Paper Hanger.

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.

15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

GET STRONG

Vinol Makes Weak People Strong.

WE GUARANTEE IT WILL DO SO.

WE KNOW OF NO TONIC OR REBUILDER LIKE IT.

Vinol does create strength.

We know that and have proved it in many instances.

The reason Vinol rejuvenates and strengthens a person is that it acts directly upon the stomach, strengthening and toning up this great vital organ and enabling it to obtain for itself, from the food that is taken into it, the elements which are required to make firm healthy flesh and muscle tissue, sound bone structure and pure healthy blood.

Vinol does this in a scientific way and is enabled to do it because it contains, dissolved in a delicate mild wine, in a highly concentrated state, the active principles of cod-liver oil.

Vinol does not contain any of the grease that formerly characterized cod-liver oil, hence is free from all the objectionable features which made it impossible for patients to take or retain that vile-smelling remedy into their stomach.

Vinol in its favorable action upon the stomach and other organs of the body acts also in a beneficial way upon the nerves and brain, and will be found to be invaluable to brain workers as well as body workers.

The following letter is from a well-known authoress. It reads as follows:

"I wish to acknowledge the receipt of the Vinol and testify to its great benefits. Since taking it I am much improved in health, and during the intense heat of last August I should not have been able to continue in my literary work if it had not been for the strengthening properties of Vinol. Yours in gratitude."—ELLA STARR, 106 W. 82d St., N. Y. City.

We wish any one suffering from weakness, a demoralized condition of the nerves, or a susceptibility to wasting diseases, to call on us and hear what we have to say in regard to Vinol.

Try it on our recommendation, and if you find it does not do everything we claim for it, we will gladly refund to you the amount you have paid us.

EDWARD J. MURPHY,

DRUGGIST.

Steamship Tickets.

Cunard Line. Boston, New York, Queenstown, Liverpool.

Dominion Line. Boston, Queenstown, Liverpool, and from Boston to Azores, Gibralta, Genoa and Naples direct.

American Line. New York, Southampton, London, Paris.

White Star Line. ens town, Liverpool.

Levland Line. Boston, Liverpool, London.

Italian Royal Mail S. S. Co. New York, Naples, Genoa.

Scandinavian American Line From New York to Scandinavian direct.

For rates and reliable information apply to

C. F. CARLSON,

Faxon Building. Opposite R. R Station.

Tel. 210 51.

Quincy, April 6. 1m

W. G. CHUBBUCK

Furniture and Piano Mover,

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

tp-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

Yard off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy
Jan. 7. tf

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By EDWIN CASKODEN [CHARLES MAJOR]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

This story began in the Daily Ledger of Monday, March 16, and will be continued daily until completed.

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I and II.—Charles Brandon kills a duelist on the field of honor and is appointed captain of the king's guard at the English court. The king's sister, Mary Tudor, quickly sets her fancy upon the gallant stranger. Brandon makes a confidant of Edwin Caskoden, master of the dance. III.—Caskoden is attentive to Lady Jane Bolingbroke, companion to the princess. In a fit of petulance Mary rebuke Brandon, then craves forgiveness. IV—Brandon teaches Mary a new dance learned in France. The young princess is shocked at first, then delighted with the sensation of Brandon's arm around her waist. Brandon declares that the girl is perfect, but the game of making love to royalty is dangerous. V.—Brandon crosses swords with the Duke of Buckingham, an unwelcome admirer of the princess. VI.—Mary, Lady Jane, Brandon and Caskoden ride to Windsor with the king. Mary shows decided partiality for Brandon's company, and on the return he is sent a day ahead of the royal party. VII—Louis XII of France asks for the hand of Mary. Brandon to sail for America to avoid Mary. She takes him to task for his indifference. Overcome by her pleadings, he makes a violent demonstration of his love. VIII. — Mary and Lady Jane go in disguise to consult a fortune teller. Brandon follows unknown to Mary. Buckingham plays the spy, and in a fight with Brandon he is wounded and two of his suit killed IX.—Brandon in prison charged with murder. Mary to plead with the King. Buckingham against the prisoner. The king discovers a note sent by Mary to Brandon. Brandon condemned to death. The king learns that Brandon saved Mary from disgrace and orders his release. Brandon now madly in love with Mary. XI—Ambassadors of the French king come to England to court Mary for their aged sovereign The girl spurns them in a highly dramatic scene. The betrothal made by King Henry. Mary kept in ignorance of Brandon's long imprisonment. She supposed he had sailed for America. XII—Mary explains to Brandon her neglect when he lay in prison. Bitter words followed by betrothal. Brandon dismissed from court. XIII.—Mary flatly refuses to wed the old French king,

CHAPTER XIII—[Continued.]

As the duke was about to [illegible] away Brandon stopped him: "One moment, your grace; I am willing to admit what you have said, for I am not now prepared to contradict it, but there is yet another matter we have to settle. You attacked me on horseback and tried to murder me in order to abduct two ladies that night over in Billingsgate. That you cannot deny. I watched you follow the ladies from Bridewell to Grouche's, and saw your face when your mask fell off during the melee as plainly as I see it now. If other proof is wanting, there is that sprained knee upon which your horse fell, causing you to limp even yet. I am sure now that my lord will meet me like a man, or would he prefer that I should go to the king and tell him and the world the whole shameful story? I have concealed it heretofore thinking it my personal right and privilege to settle with you."

Buckingham turned a shade paler as he replied, "I do not meet such as you on the field of honor, and have no fear of your slander injuring me."

He felt secure in the thought that the girls did not know who had attacked them, and could not corroborate Brandon in his accusations, or Mary, surely, never would have appealed to him for help.

I was with Brandon—at a little distance, that is—when this occurred, and after Buckingham had left we went to find the girls in the forest. We knew they would be looking for us, although they would pretend surprise when they saw us. We soon met them, and the very leaves of the trees gave a soft, contented rustle in response to Mary's low, mellow laugh of joy.

After perhaps half an hour we encountered Buckingham with his lawyer-knight, Johnson. They had evidently walked out to this quiet path to consult about the situation. As they approached, Mary spoke to the duke with a vicious sparkle in her eyes.

"Kindly tell me where my friend can wait upon a friend of his grace."

"My Lord Buckingham, this shall cost you your head. Remember my words when you are on the scaffold, just when your neck fits into the hollow of the block."

He stopped, with an evident desire to explain, but Mary pointed down the path and said: "Go, or I will have Master Brandon spit you on his sword. Two to one would be easy odds compared with the four to one you put against him in Billingsgate. Go!" And the battle was over, the foe never having struck a blow. It hurt me that Mary should speak of the odds being two to one against Brandon when I was at hand. It is true I was not very large, but I could have taken care of a lawyer.

Now it was that the lawyer-knight earned his bread by his wits, for it was he, I know, who instigated the next move, a master stroke in its way and one which proved a checkmate to us. It was this: The duke went at once to the king and in a tone of injured innocence told him of the charge made by Brandon, with Mary's evident approval, and demanded redress for the slander. Thus it seemed that the strength of our position was about to be turned against us. Brandon was at once summoned and promptly appeared before the king, only too anxious to confront the duke. As to the confinement of Brandon and his secret trial, the king did not care to hear. That was a matter of no consequence to him. The important question was, Did Buckingham attack the princess?

Brandon told the whole straight story exactly as it was, which Buckingham as promptly denied and offered to prove by his almoner that he was at his devotions on the night and at the hour of the attack. So here was a conflict of evidence which called for new witnesses, and Henry asked Brandon if the girls had seen and recognized the duke. To this question of course he was compelled to answer no, and the whole accusation, after all, rested upon Brandon's word, against which, on the other hand, was the evidence of the Duke of Buckingham and his convenient almoner.

All this disclosed to the full poor Mary's anxiety to help Brandon, and, the duke having adroitly let out the fact that he had just met the princess with Brandon at a certain secluded spot in the forest, Henry's suspicion of her partiality received new force, and he began to look upon the unfortunate Brandon as a partial cause at least of Mary's aversion to the French marriage.

Henry grew angry and ordered Brandon to leave the court, with the sullen remark that it was only his services to the Princess Mary that saved him from a day with papers on the pillory.

Henry was by no means sure that his suspicions concerning Mary's heart were correct, and in all he had heard he had not one substantial fact upon which to base conviction. He had not seen her with Brandon since their avowal, or he would have had a fact in every look, the truth in every motion, a demonstration in every glance. She seemed powerless even to attempt concealment. In Brandon's handsome manliness and evident superiority the king thought he saw a very clear possibility for Mary to love, and where there is such a possibility for a girl she usually fails to fulfill expectations.

Now, all this brought Brandon into the deep shadow of the royal frown, and like many another man he sank his fortune in the fathomless depths of a woman's heart and thought himself rich in doing it.

[To be Continued.]

"GREEN SICKNESS"

The unhealthy complexion of green sickness is changed to the rosy blush of good health by Scott's Emulsion.

Green sickness is one of the forms of blood disease found in young women. The change from girlhood to womanhood often upsets the nervous system, weakens digestion and throws the blood-making organs out of gear.

Scott's Emulsion puts new heart into pale girls. It tones up the nervous and digestive system, and feeds the blood. It is a natural tonic.

Remember that 30 per cent. of these cases go on into consumption unless prevented. Scott's Emulsion prevents consumption.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

WENT OFF WITH A RUSH

Bad Weather Caused Hustling at Fair Dedication

FIERCE WIND AND COLD

Made It Uncomfortable For Speakers and Hearers—President Took a Hand In Serving Food at "Quick Lunch" Counter

St. Louis, May 1.—The buildings of the Louisiana Purchase exposition were formally dedicated to their purpose with all possible pomp and ceremony. In every way, save one, the exercises were an equivocal success, and this one circumstance was the weather. It would be difficult to imagine a more disagreeable day. The wind blew fiercely from the west, sending great clouds of dust whirling into the faces of the troops as they marched past the president.

Added to the discomfort of the wind and dust was a temperature which sought for the marrow and generally reached it. The ladies, who, on the strength of the previous warm weather, came in summer dresses to the reviewing stand, suffered keenly, and but for the thoughtfulness of officers commanding the guard thrown around the reviewing stand, who provided them with blankets, many of them would have been compelled to leave the place. Both President Roosevelt and ex-President Cleveland remained in the reviewing stand, exposed to the icy wind, until the end of the parade, although their faces were blue and their limbs stiffened by the cold.

Conditions in the Liberal Arts building, where the dedication ceremonies proper were held, were little better. There was no wind, but there were manifold draughts, which, added to the dampness inseparable from the newly erected buildings, produced a penetrating chill that was uncomfortable to a degree. The effect of this was evident in all the speeches, as the speakers, commencing their speeches in clear tones, were without exception given over to catarrhal inflections as they finished.

Despite this heavy handicap, however, the ceremonies proper were splendidly handled and the program was carried out to the letter. The police work was excellent and the patrolling of avenues and passageways by the First Missouri infantry was ably done and all possible consideration shown to the great crowd.

The doors of the Liberal Arts building were opened at 1 o'clock, and when President Roosevelt entered the building he was greeted by the cheers of 60,000 people. At 2:25 the assembly was called to order by President Francis. He introduced Cardinal Gibbons, who delivered the invocation. Following the invocation of the cardinal, former Senator Carter of the national committee, who acted as president of the day, was introduced. He made a short address. After the rendition of "The Heavens Proclaiming" by the chorus of 2000 voices, David R. Francis, president of the fair association, delivered the address presenting the buildings of the fair. At the conclusion of President Francis' address President Roosevelt delivered the dedication address. Following the president's address the chorus "Unfold, Ye Portals," was rendered. Ex-President Grover Cleveland then delivered an address and the exercises closed by benediction delivered by Bishop Potter.

The parade was somewhat longer in passing the president than had been expected. During the lunch, which the president took at the conclusion of the parade, he was shoved helter skelter by half the people who had been in the grand stand. The food was placed on a rectangular counter and the president, like everybody else, "helped himself." The crowd inside the tent was dense when the president, with secret service men and Adjutant General Corbin, acting as "interference," forced his way to the counter. He was so closely pressed that when he attempted to move his arm, his elbow disturbed a cup of coffee held by General Corbin. With some difficulty the officers forced the crowd to allow the distinguished guest elbow room, but they would allow him nothing more. Owing to his advantageous position the president soon felt called upon to help out other friends, and he was kept busy passing plates, which service he performed with alacrity and cheerfulness.

Some of the diplomatists and a number of other distinguished visitors mounted the reviewing stand to find that there were no chairs for them. It developed that the chairs had been cheerfully appropriated by unofficial guests who had arrived early on the scene. With some difficulty other chairs were secured, but they were little used, as the visitors found they could keep off the chill more effectively by standing.

The important ceremonies in the Liberal Arts building were handled with all possible dispatch. Early in the exercises word was brought to former Senator Carter, the president of the day, that some portions of the hall were becoming dangerously congested and he was asked to avoid delays as far as possible. He did so, and from succeeded each other rapidly. Of all the speakers, President Roosevelt the speakers, President Roosevelt alone was able to make his voice carry further than 50 feet from the stage. By far the largest part of the assembly could hear nothing, and thousands of people in the rear part of the hall were constantly moving about and producing a muffled roar that would have baffled a fog horn.

When the president rose to speak he was cheered to the echo. He bowed again and again, suggesting by his manner that quiet be restored. Finally he mounted the broad railing in front of the rostrum where he could be seen from every part of the hall and again motioned for silence. There was everything but silence and President Francis suggested that he proceed with his speech and quiet would follow. President Roosevelt laughed and shook his head. Taking advantage of a lull, he called: "Now you, my fellow-citizens, give me all the chance you can, for I need it." The chance was given and the president began his address.

So many people were standing on their chairs and those behind them produced so much outcry in consequence, that at one time the president was compelled to halt in his remarks to say: "Won't you sit down? If you do, the people behind you will see better," and as they granted his request, he added "thank you."

After leaving the hall the president was entertained at dinner in the Administration building, from the windows of which he watched the fireworks until 10 o'clock, when he entered his train.

Despite the thousands who were crowded into one section of the grounds, there was but one accident and that a slight one. A soldier, while running, tripped over a wire and cut his scalp. The wound was dressed and the soldier rejoined his company. The majority of the soldiers, militiamen and regulars alike, who spent the night in the big draughty buildings, caught colds, but with the exception of seven cases of tonsilitis which developed, only ordinary treatment was required. The tonsilitis patients were sent to one of the city hospitals.

Great Welcome Accorded Wright

Manila, May 1.—Vice Governor Wright of the Philippine islands has arrived here from San Francisco. A marine procession escorted him ashore. The procession included the troops of the garrison and several thousand natives. General Wright was escorted to the palace, where addresses of welcome were delivered. The city was gaily decorated.

Case of Millionaire Chase

Indianapolis, May 1.—The hearing of the petition for a writ of habeas corpus for Moses F. Chase, the demented young millionaire, began in the federal court with an array of legal talent too great to allow of the continuance of its hearing in chambers. The court refused to grant a writ. The case will go to the United States supreme court.

Strain Too Severe For Tyner

Washington, May 1.—James N. Tyner, recently dismissed from the government service while holding the position of assistant attorney general for the postoffice department, is critically ill. The strain on his system which preceded and followed his dismissal has been too much for him and he is almost completely prostrated.

Nothing Gained by England

London, May 1.—In the house of commons last night War Secretary Brodrick announced the virtual abandonment of the Somali campaign. Members of the opposition attacked the government for muddling the Somali affair and doing unnecessary police work for Italy.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Ravder, of Pittens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

PLASMON COCOA

55 Per Cent. Plasmon

Ordinary Cocoas are too heavy and indigestible. Plasmon Cocoa is pleasant to the palate, soothing to the digestive system and exceptionally nourishing.

Ask your grocer or druggist for it.
In cans, 15 cts. and 25 cts.

Plasmon is a cream-colored powdered albumen, scientifically extracted from pure, sweet milk.
"The staying power that it gives me is great," says Eugen Sandow.

Plasmon Co. of America
Centennial Building,
New York.

(Literature mailed free for the asking.)

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H BIDWELL,

Dept S, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. 1p-2mos.

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

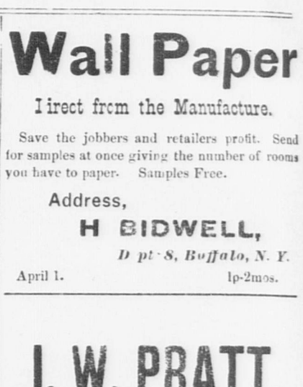

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

SMOKE THE

COVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 6mos.

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 103. QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, MAY 2, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

King Arthur Flour.

Sold in Quincy by

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pirel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST.
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5
Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. 1p-tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered.
Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1-1y- p-6mos.

FRANK F. CRANE,
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17.

JAMES F. BURKE.
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5. tf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov, 3-tf

WILLIAM WILSON,
PIANOS.
New and Second Hand.
Easy Payments.
10 Lessons Free with each Piano.
Square Piano at Low Price; $5 down, $5 per month.
Solo Pianist and Prompter for Parties, Socials, etc., or any number of Musicians Furnished.
Residence, 4 President's Avenue, SOUTH QUINCY.
April 6. 1m

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7. tf

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
Employment Office
At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.
Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

Glenwood Ranges
Make Cooking Easy.
H. L. KINCAIDE & CO., QUINCY, MASS.

"IN THE SPRINGTIME
A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of
BICYCLES.
I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:
YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;
And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the
"OLD RELIABLE."
REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.
JOHN H. GILLIS.
Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Blo k, Quincy, Mass
April 30. 1m

GREAT BARGAINS
--- IN ---
MEN'S BUSINESS SUITS.
Greatest Values ever Seen in the City. ! We Have Them At Sizes, 35 to 42.
WE ARE GOING TO SELL THESE SUITS AT $5.89.
DON'T be too Late. -- Get one NOW.
F. D. FELLOWS CO.,
ONE PRICE CASH CLOTHIERS, HATTERS AND FURNISHERS.
Adams Building, City Square, Quincy, Mass.
WE GIVE GREEN TRADING STAMPS.
Store open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings. April 2--l-th., fri., sat.-p-

Spring and Summer Shoes.
The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3 50.
Men's,	from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.
The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.
GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.
White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,
In a variety of Styles and Prices.
Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.
These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.
C. S. HUBBARD,
City Square, Quincy.

The Social Realm.

Build as thou wilt, unspoiled by praise or blame.
Build as thou wilt, and as thy light is given;
Then, if at last the airy structure fall,
Dissolve and vanish, take thyself no shame—
They fail and they alone who have not striven.
—Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

* * *

One of the June weddings will be that of Miss Edna Miller and Mr. George Follett.

* * *

Miss Edith Randall entertains the Junior Friday club at her home on Coddington street, Monday afternoon, May fourth. Mrs. Charles A. Price has charge of the afternoon's program the papers and discussions being on Thackery.

* * *

Miss Florence Nourse, daughter of Mr. Charles Nourse, for several years a resident of Spear street, but now of Worcester, will be one of the June brides. Her marriage to Mr. Edward Mason will occur about the middle of the month.

* * *

Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, hold their May meeting at the John Adams birthplace on Monday afternoon at three o'clock. The Chapter will be represented next week in New York at the annual meeting of the National society.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hill entertained a few friends at whist Tuesday evening at their home on Upland road.

* * *

The last literary meeting of the Friday club for the season is to be held on Friday afternoon, May eighth with Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney of Brook street, Wollaston. Most appropriate subjects have been selected, namely: Maytime in Britain, the Scottish lake region, and English town and country life. Miss Elizabeth Souther is chairman for the afternoon. The business meeting for the election of officers for 1903-4 will be held on the fifteenth with Miss Edith Randall.

* * *

Miss Fay Hitchcock and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Willets returned Friday morning from Bath, Maine, where they had been to the launching of the steel barge ,Shenango, and for which Miss Hitchcock was sponsor, having been invited by friends to christen the new ship. It was a perfect spring day and large crowds gathered. Miss Hitchcock was the guest of honor at the banquet and dance which followed the launching.

* * *

Miss Blanche Bristol, a young woman well known in Atlantic, where she lived some years ago, was united in marriage this week to Mr. James Toas. The ceremony was solemnized in New York.

* * *

Mrs. Barber and Miss Julia Barber of Botolph street, returned Thursday from Rhode Island, where they have been spending the past two weeks.

* * *

Mrs. Charles Coe of Billings street has gone to Rye Beach for a brief visit.

* * *

Mrs. W. T. Babcock and Mr. Thorpe Babcock were among the invited guests at an entertainment given Friday evening by the Jefferson Dramatic club of Brookline. The evening was devoted to three short plays written by three Boston authors. A Bit of Instruction by Mrs. E. G. Sutherland; Under the Beach-Tree by Professor Arlo Bates and The Princess Matilda by Mr. E. H. Clement of the Boston Transcript. The audience was brilliant in evening dress and very enthusiastic and generous with applause. The plays were beautifully set and finely acted. The Princess Matilda introduced an old time minuet with fine effect. This play through the courtsey of Mr. Clement, the author, may be given in Quincy later.

* * *

Mrs. J. Frank Faxon and Miss Patty Faxon of Adams street are visiting friends in Philadelphia and Baltimore.

* * *

Mrs. Edwin W. Baxter has been in town a few days this week. The family will spend the summer at Harpswell, Maine as usual, closing their Newton home.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. Horace M. Willard, have issued cards to a reception to the Senior class of the Quincy Mansion school, for Wednesday evening, May the thirteenth from eight until eleven o'clock.

* * *

Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Butler have been the guests this week of Ex-Gov. John D. Long at his home in Hingham.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. North of Brookline, have opened their summer cottage at North Scituate.

* * *

Mrs. John Quincy Adams has closed her city house and is at Mount Wollaston farm for the spring months.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Rice have returned to their Adams street home after spending the winter in Boston.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Madison Mott Cannon, of Spear street, have rented the Ricker cottage at Post Island for the summer.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Halloran returned from their honey-moon trip to the Mediterranean, and are stopping with her mother, Mrs. Kelley of Billings street, Atlantic.

* * *

Mrs. C. H. Sprague and daughter Ethel of South Braintree are in Washington.

* * *

Mrs. N. G. Torrey and son Thurlow, of South Braintree, returned Sunday from Hot Springs, Va. and other points South where they have been for several weeks past.

* * *

Miss Ethel Louise Brooks and Mr. William Allen of South Weymouth were united in marriage Wednesday evening, at the parsonage by Rev. C. F. Hill Crathern. The couple were attended by Mr. Harry Lake of Mayflower Park and Miss Mary Allen, sister of the groom. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Allen will reside with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Brooks, Franklin street, South Braintree.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Allen celebrated the fortieth anniversary of their marriage at their home on Monatiquot Avenue, Braintree, Thursday evening, April 30th.

* * *

Mrs. George Williams and daughter Ethel of Braintree, are on a visit to Washington.

* * *

Miss Sara Kelly of Washington street, will spend the next three weeks in New York.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Perley Barbour, nee Graham, of Braintree, are soon to move to Mt. Vernon avenue Braintree.

* * *

Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Gardner are at Glendale farm, Danvers, for a few days. Rev. J. C. Hewlett will conduct the morning and evening services at Christ church, Sunday.

* * *

Miss Jennie Bean is the guest of Mrs. John S. Alley of 10 Bromfield street, Wollaston Park.

* * *

Mr. William Young, of Attleboro, Mass., is the guest of Mrs. E. D. Atkins of Bromfield street, Wollaston Park.

* * *

Mrs. Charles W. Moore of East Pepperell is spending a few days with friends in Atlantic.

* * *

Mr. George N. McClintock of Beale street, Wollaston, has gone to Chicago to visit his daughter Mrs. Day.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Horace M. Willard have issued cards for a recital to be given by Mr. Carl Faelten, in Mary A. Livermore hall, Quincy Mansion school on Wednesday evening, May sixth at eight o'clock.

* * *

Miss Fenton of Beale street, Wollaston, has for her guests this week, Mrs. Charles Whiting and Miss Whiting of Lynn, Mrs. David Robinson and Miss Robinson of South Framingham, Mrs. John Fenton and Miss Fenton, New York city, Mrs. William Fenton, Jr., and daughter of Bridgeton, New Jersey, Mrs. Duncan, Brooklyn, N. Y., Mrs. Taylor and son, West Collingswood, New Jersey, Mrs. James H. Young of Philadelphia and Mrs. John Ball of Muskegan, Michigan.

* * *

Mrs. A. A. Dell of Pleasant street, has gone to Gloucester to open her cottage, preparatory to spending the summer there.

* * *

—Judge Emmons, the new Boston police commissioner, is not a man who will be influenced much by the wishes of the politicians, or the pressure brought to bear by liquor dealers. The chances are good that under his chairmanship the Boston police department will berun on business principals.—Somerville Journal.

ANNUAL RECEPTION.

Given Senior Class Q. H. S. by the Juniors.

One of the annual events in the social life of the High school students is the reception given the Senior class by the Juniors and on Friday evening the building was brilliant with light and happy people.

In a cosy corner made attractive with rugs, etc., were the reception committee: Headmaster Charles F. Harper and Mrs. Harper, Mr. Maurice B. Smith, Miss Madeleine Fish, Miss Elizabeth Souther and Mr. Lawrence Allen, president of Class 1904. The ushers were: Wallace Bennett, Homer C. Morrison, Ralph Odiorne, Arthur Thomas, Lorenzo Gilson, Herbert Percival and Robert Sibley all of 1904.

Music for the reception and dance was by Barker's orchestra; Mr. Henry Barker, violin, Mr. Johnson, cornet and Miss Bertha Hanson, piano.

The grand march was opened by Headmaster and Mrs. Harper and ended by President Allen and Miss Mills, vice president of 1904. Dancing was enjoyed until half past eleven. For those who did not care to dance there were tables for games arranged in the main corridor and a cosy corner on the stair landing which was pretty with rugs, cushions, lamps and chairs.

Lemonade and crackers were served from two tables, one decorated with crimson and gold, the senior class colors, the other black and orange the junior class colors. The order of dances were in blue and red the school colors.

It was a remarkably pretty party, the light gowns of the girls adding to the effectiveness.

The class or 1904 is to be congratulated upon their success, for on all sides nothing but praise and commendation was heard of their pretty dancing party.

An April Wedding.

The wedding season is upon us. We expect to chronicle with more or less frequency in coming weeks the marriages of our young people.

Miss Alice Mabel Leavitt is the first this spring. She was married on Wednesday evening to Mr. Albert Moore of Campello. The ceremony was performed at the Congregational parsonage by the Rev. Frederick Burrows. Mr. Baker of Campello and Miss Moore, a cousin of the groom, attended the bridal couple as best man and maid of honor. The bride was daintily gowned in a pearl white silk and carried white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony at the parsonage, a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Isaac Jones of Braintree, where friends from Brockton, Campello and Braintree came with their best wishes and congratulations.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Moore will be at home to their friends at the residence of Mr. Moore's parents in Campello.

Norfolk Conference.

The 77th annual meeting of the Norfolk Conference of Congregational churches, will be held at the First Congregational church, Brockton Mass., Tuesday, May 5th, 1903. Rev. Alan Hudson, pastor.

The program will be as follows:

General topic: Our Missionary Work.

9.45 Organization and Business.

10.00 Devotional service.

10.30 Address: "The Relation of the Local Church to the Kingdom of God," Rev. C. E. Stowe, Bridgewater.

11.15 Addresss: "A Missionary Campaign among the Young People of the Congregational Churches," Prof. E. C. Moore, Divinity School, Harvard University.

12.00 Intermission. Basket lunch. Coffee and rolls will be provided by the entertaining church in the banqueting hall.

1.00 Organ Recital—Overture to Stradella, Flotow

Andante, Allegro,—First Organ Sonata, Mendelssohn

Mrs. T. S. Bailey, Organist of First Church.

Adagio and Scherzo, from 5th Sonata, Guilmant

G. S. Dunham, Organist of South Church.

2.00 Address: "What Effect has giving for Benevolent Objects upon the Prosperity of the Local Church," Rev. W. W. Dornan, Holbrook.

3.00 Address: "Our Foreign Missionary Work," S. B. Capen, President of the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions.

—North Carolina has recently passed the Watts bill, which, it is said, will destroy 500 out of 530 distilleries in the State. Already the Anti-Saloon League has outlined a program for more aggressive work. Numbers of towns and several counties are voting "dry."

☞Turkey dinner at the Co-operative Dining Rooms, 3 Granite street, tomorrow. Those who have not partaken of the dinners given at this well known dining room, should not fail to take advantage of this opportunity. The dining room exclusively for ladies and their escorts is pronounced all right.

WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By EDWIN CASKODEN [CHARLES MAJOR]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

This story began in the Daily Ledger of Monday, March 16, and will be continued daily until completed.

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I and II.—Charles Brandon kills a duelist on the field of honor and is appointed captain of the king's guard at the English court. The king's sister, Mary Tudor, quickly sets her fancy upon the gallant stranger. Brandon makes a confidant of Edwin Caskoden, master of the dance. III.—Caskoden is attentive to Lady Jane Bolingbroke, companion to the princess. In a fit of petulance Mary rebuke Brandon, then craves forgiveness. IV—Brandon teaches Mary a new dance learned in France. The young princess is shocked at first, then delighted with the sensation of Brandon's arm around her waist. Brandon declares that the girl is perfect, but the game of making love to royalty is dangerous. V.—Brandon crosses swords with the Duke of Buckingham, an unwelcome admirer of the princess. VI.—Mary, Lady Jane, Brandon and Caskoden ride to Windsor with the king. Mary shows decided partiality for Brandon's company, and on the return he is sent a day ahead of the royal party. VII—Louis XII of France asks for the hand of Mary. Brandon to sail for America to avoid Mary. She takes him to task for his indifference. Overcome by her pleadings, he makes a violent demonstration of his love. VIII.—Mary and Lady Jane go in disguise to consult a fortune teller. Brandon follows unknown to Mary. Buckingham plays the spy, and in a fight with Brandon he is wounded and two of his suit killed. IX.—Brandon in prison charged with murder. Mary to plead with the king. Buckingham against the prisoner. The king discovers a note sent by Mary to Brandon. Brandon condemned to death. The king learns that Brandon saved Mary from disgrace and orders his release. Brandon now madly in love with Mary. XI—Ambassadors of the French king come to England to court Mary for their aged sovereign. The girl spurns them in a highly dramatic scene. The betrothal made by King Henry. Mary kept in ignorance of Brandon's long imprisonment. She supposed he had sailed for America. XII—Mary explains to Brandon her neglect when he lay in prison. Bitter words followed by betrothal. Brandon dismissed from court. XIII.—Mary flatly refuses to wed the old French king. Brandon accuses Buckingham of having attempted to abduct Mary. King Henry angry with Brandon.

CHAPTER XIV.

IN THE SIREN COUNTRY.

WITH the king admiration stood for affection, a mistake frequently made by people not given to self analysis, and in a day or two a reaction set in toward Brandon which inspired a desire to make some amends for his harsh treatment. This he could not do to any great extent on Buckingham's account—at least not until the London loan was in his coffers—but the fact that Brandon was going to New Spain so soon and would be out of the way both of Mary's eyes and Mary's marriage stimulated that rare flower in Henry's heart, a good resolve, and Brandon was offered his old quarters with me until such time as he should sail for New Spain.

He had never abandoned this plan, and now that matters had taken this turn with Mary and the king his resolution was stronger than ever in that the scheme held two recommendations and a possibility.

The recommendations were, first, it would take him away from Mary, with whom, when out of the inspiring influence of her buoyant hopefulness, he knew marriage to be utterly impossible, and, second, admitting and facing that impossibility, he might find at least partial relief from his heartache in the stirring events and adventures of that faraway land of monsters, dragons, savages and gold. The possibility lay in the gold, and a very faintly burning flame of hope held out the still more faintly glimmering chance that fortune, finding him there almost alone, might for lack of another lover smile upon him by way of squaring accounts. She might lead him to a cavern of gold, and gold would do anything, even perhaps purchase a priceless a treasure as a certain princess of the royal blood.

Brandon at once accepted the king's offer of lodging in the palace, for now that he felt sure of himself in the matter of New Spain and his separation from Mary he longed to see as much as possible of her before the light went out forever, even though it were playing with death itself to do so.

Poor fellow! His suffering was so acute during this period that it affected me like a contagion.

It did not make a mope of him, but came in spasms that almost drove him wild. He would at times pace the room and cry out: "Jesu, Caskoden, what shall I do? She will be the wife of the French king, and I shall sit in the wilderness and try every moment to imagine what she is doing and thinking. I shall find the bearing of Paris and look in her direction until my brain melts in my effort to see her, and then I shall wander in the woods, a suffering imbecile, feeding on roots and nuts. Would to God one of us might die! If it were not selfish, I should wish I might be the one."

I said nothing in answer to these outbursts, as I had no consolation to offer.

We had two or three of our little meetings of four, dangerous as they were, at which Mary, feeling that each time she saw Brandon might be the last, would sit and look at him with glowing eyes that in turn softened and burned as he spoke. She did not talk much, but devoted all her time and energies to looking with her whole soul. Never before or since was there a girl so much in love. A young girl thoroughly in love is the most beautiful object on earth—beautiful even in ugliness. Imagine, then, what it made of Mary!

Growing partly, perhaps, out of his unattainability—for he was as far out of her reach as she out of his—she had long since begun to worship him. She had learned to know him so well, and his valiant defense of her in Billingsgate, together with his noble self sacrifice in refusing to compromise her in order to save himself, had presented him to her in so noble a light that she had come to look up to him as her superior. Her surrender had been complete, and she found in it a joy far exceeding that of any victory or triumph she could imagine.

The trouble began in earnest with the discovery of our meetings in Lady Mary's parlor. There was nothing at all unusual in the fact that small companies of young folk frequently spent their evenings with her, but we knew well enough that the unusual element in our parties was their exceeding smallness. A company of eight or ten young persons was well enough, although it of course created jealousy on the part of those who were left out, but four—two of each sex—made a difference in kind, however much we might insist it was only in degree, and this, we soon learned, was the king's opinion.

You may be sure there was many a jealous person about the court ready to carry tales and that it was impossible long to keep our meetings secret among such a host as then lived in Greenwich palace.

One day the queen summoned Jane and put her to the question. Now, Jane thought the truth was made only to be told, a fallacy into which many good people have fallen, to their utter destruction, since the truth, like every other good thing, may be abused.

Well, Jane told it all in a moment, and Catherine was so horrified that she was like to faint. She went with her hair-lifting horror to the king and poured into his ears a tale of imprudence and debauchery well calculated to start his righteous, virtue-prompted indignation into a threatening flame.

Mary, Jane, Brandon and myself were at once summoned to the presence of both their majesties and soundly reprimanded. Three of us were ordered to leave the court before we could speak a word in self defense, and Jane had enough of her favorite truth for once. Mary, however, came to our rescue with her coaxing eloquence and potent feminine logic and soon convinced Henry that the queen, who really counted for little with him, had made a mountain out of a very small molehill. Thus the royal wrath was appeased to such an extent that the order of expulsion was modified to a command that there be no more quartet gatherings in Princess Mary's parlor. This leniency was more easy for the princess to bring about by reason of the fact that she had not spoken to her brother since the day she went to see him after Wolsey's visit and had been so roughly driven off. At first, upon her refusal to speak to him after the Wolsey visit, Henry was angry on account of what he called her insolence, but as she did not seem to care for that and as his anger did nothing toward unsealing her lips he pretended indifference. Still the same stubborn silence was maintained. This soon began to amuse the king, and of late he had been trying to be on friendly terms again with his sister through a series of elephantine antics and bearlike pleasantries, which were the most dismal failures—that is, in the way of bringing about a reconciliation. They were more successful from a comical point of view. So Henry was really glad for something that would loosen the tongue usually so lively, and for an opportunity to gratify his sister, from whom he was demanding such a sacrifice and for whom he expected to receive no less a price than the help of Louis of France, the most powerful king of Europe, to the imperial crown.

Thus our meetings were broken up, and Brandon knew his dream was over and that any effort to see the princess would probably result in disaster for them both; for him certainly.

The king upon that same day told Mary of the intercepted letter sent by her to Brandon at Newgate and accused her of what he was pleased to term an improper feeling for a lowborn fellow.

Mary at once sent a full account of the communication in a letter to Brandon, who read it with no small degree of ill comfort as the harbinger of trouble.

"I had better leave here soon or I may go without my head," he remarked. "When that thought gets to working in the king's brain, he will strike, and I—shall fall."

Letters began to come to our rooms from Mary, at first begging Brandon to come to her and then upbraiding him because of his coldness and cowardice and telling him that if he cared for her as she did for him he would see her though he had to wade through fire and blood. That was exactly where the trouble lay. It was not fire and blood through which he would have to pass; they were small matters—mere nothings that would really have added zest and interest to the achievement. But the frowning laugh of the tyrant, who could bind him hand and foot, and a vivid remembrance of the Newgate dungeon, with a dangling noose or a hollowed out block in the near background, were matters that would have taken the adventurous tendency out of even the cracked brain of chivalry itself. Brandon cared only to fight where there was a possible victory or ransom, or a prospect of some sort at least of achieving success.

Poured into his ears a tale of imprudence and debauchery.

So every phase of the question which his good sense presented told Brandon, whose passion was as ardent though not so impatient as Mary's, that it would be worse than foolhardy to try to see her. He, however, had determined to see her once more before he left; but, as it could in all probability be only once, he was reserving the meeting until the last, and had written Mary that it was their best and only chance.

She could not endure inaction, so she did the worst thing possible. She went alone one afternoon, just before dusk, to see Brandon at our rooms. I was not there when she first went in, but having seen her on the way suspected something and followed, arriving two or three minutes after her. I knew it was best that I should be present and was sure Brandon would wish it. When I entered, they were holding each other's hands in silence. They had not yet found their tongues, so full and crowded were their hearts. It was pathetic to see them, especially the girl, who had not Brandon's hopelessness to deaden the pain by partial resignation.

Upon my entrance she dropped his hands and turned quickly toward me with a frightened look, but was reassured upon seeing who it was. Brandon mechanically walked away from her and seated himself on a stool. Mary, as mechanically, moved to his side and placed her hand on his shoulder. Turning her face toward me she said, "Sir Edwin, I know you will forgive me when I tell you that we have a great deal to say and wish to be alone."

I was about to go when Brandon stopped me.

"No, no. Caskoden, please stay. It would not do. It would be bad enough, God knows, if the princess should be found here with both of us, but with me alone I should be dead before morning. There is danger enough as it is, for they will watch us."

Mary knew he was right, but she could not resist a vicious little glance toward me, who was in no way to blame.

Presently we all moved into the window-way, where Brandon and Mary, sat upon the great cloak and I on a camp stool in front of them, completely filling up the little passage.

"I can bear this no longer," exclaimed Mary. "I will go to my brother tonight and tell him all. I will tell him how I suffer and that I shall die if you are allowed to go away and leave me forever. He loves me, and I can do anything with him when I try. I know I can obtain his consent to our—our—marriage. He cannot know how I suffer, else he would not treat me so. I will let him see; I will convince him. I have in my mind everything I want to say and do. I will sit on his knee and stroke his hair and kiss him." And she laughed softly as her spirit revived in the breath of a glowing hope. "Then I will tell him how handsome he is and how I hear the ladies sighing for him, and he will come around all right by the third visit. Oh, I know how to do it. I have done it so often. Never fear. I wish I had gone at it long ago."

Her enthusiastic fever of hope was really contagious, but Brandon, whose life was at stake, had his wits quickened by the danger.

[To be Continued.]

—A Paris professor declares that the use of alcohol predisposes the system to tuberculosis, and also prevents the cure of it. Quincy's no license vote ought to be even larger next year.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Ravder, of Pittens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

CITY IN HOLIDAY ATTIRE

Parisians Extend Grand Welcome to King Edward

IMPOSING MILITARY SHOW

Half a Million People Gathered Along Route of Procession—King and President Constantly Acclaimed—Day Ends With Illuminations

Paris, May 2.—King Edward arrived here yesterday afternoon. Vast crowds filled the boulevards from the early hours, people struggling to gain the vantage points along the route to be followed by the royal procession. On the square fronting the railroad station was a surging mass of humanity. A detachment of the First Cuirassiers held back the crowds. The front of the station was elaborately draped.

President Loubet, surrounded by the cabinet ministers, the presidents of the senate and the chamber of deputies, the grand commander of the Legion of Honor, the military and naval dignitaries and the diplomatic corps, presented an imposing appearance. As the train entered the station the trumpets sounded a royal salute and the band played "God Save the King."

King Edward wore the scarlet uniform of a British field marshal. The meeting between the sovereign and the president was cordial, almost demonstrative. M. Loubet welcomed the king to France and the king responded in French, expressing his thanks for the splendid manifestation in his honor.

King Edward and the members of his party entered state carriages, with gorgeously clad postillions and outriders, and escorted by a regiment of cuirassiers, drove to the British embassy. The lowering clouds which marked the earlier part of the day had broken up and the sun came forth to add to the splendor of the spectacle.

The avenues were lined with solid ranks of dragoons, cuirassiers, horse artillery, field batteries and infantry, guns, helmets and other trappings gleaming in the sunlight. Behind these martial walls the people were banked in solid masses and all the trees, windows and balconies and house tops were crowded with spectators. It was estimated that half a million people gathered along the line.

At the Arc de Triomphe the scene was majestic. Long, shimmering lines of soldiery, a forest of waving banners, blaring bugles and rolling drums and succeeding bands taking up "God Save the King." The president and the king were continually acclaimed as they passed through the living walls of soldiery. Among the populace occasionally discordant shouts were heard, but the prevailing sentiment was strongly friendly.

When the cortege reached the Place de la Concorde a battery of great guns crashed forth and reverberated a royal salute.

King Edward alighted at the British embassy, where sumptuous apartments had been prepared for him, including a throne room, furnished from the art treasures of the Borghese palace. After a brief rest at the embassy, King Edward proceeded to the Elysee palace, where he was received by President Loubet. They remained together alone for some time. When the king was on his way to the Elysee, the crowds continued their friendly manifestations.

Paris was given up to elaborate festivities. The boulevards were ablaze with color, floral arches and artistic devices symbolical of royalty. Many American flags were displayed and the United States consulate was gay with bunting. Street amusements and dancing were proceeding everywhere and the cafes teemed with joyous customers.

Last night the city presented a fairy-like spectacle. The facade of the opera was aglow with a myriad of lights, the column Vendome was crowned with light and along the boulevard arches supported flaming crowns and other devices welcoming King Edward. The thoroughfares of the city were blocked with a good natured crowd.

President Loubet proceeded to the British embassy at 8 o'clock and escorted the king through the illuminated streets to the Theatre Francais to witness the production of "L Autre Danger." The entire theatre was occupied by invited guests of the government and the audience was made up of the foremost men and women of France. The audience rose to its feet as the king and the president entered the presidential box. King Edward wore evening dress and seemed keenly to enjoy the performance. He smilingly acknowledged the frequent demonstrations in his honor.

Old Wounds Healed

London, May 2.—King Edward's visit to Paris is chronicled in the daily papers this morning with unusual elaboration. In the editorial articles on the subject is seen a tone of the deepest gratification over the occurrence, which is characterized as a political event of the first importance and as showing that the estrangement between Great Britain and France has at last come to an end. The spontaneity of the welcome accorded to King Edward is held to prove that the bitterness engendered by the Fashoda and other incidents have given place to reciprocal good feeling and to be the best of omens for future friendly relations.

DROWNED HER BABE

Accusation to Which a Young Woman of Laconia Must Answer

Laconia, N. H., May 2.—The body of a female infant was found in the Winnipesaukee river at a fish screen. An autopsy showed that the child was about 5 weeks old and the cause of death was by drowning. The body was fully clothed.

Rose Finley, aged 19, an employe of one of the hosiery mills here, was arrested last night, charged with the murder of the child, and was taken to police headquarters, where she is being kept under surveillance. The story which the police claim to have verified in all its details is that Miss Finley went to Boston on March 28, and in wandering about the city approached a woman to whom she confessed her delicate condition. The woman took Miss Finley to the Rescue home and later she was sent to the Boston lying-in hospital, where, on March 29, her child was born. Miss Finley returned here and secured employment in H. B. Clough's hosiery, where she was found at the time of her arrest last evening.

According to the police Miss Finley left her boarding house on April 30 about 7 p. m. and took the child, which slept all the way, in her arms to Lakeport. Arriving there the mother wrapped the babe in its blanket, tying it up with a bundle strap, went to the Gold street bridge over the Winnipesaukee river and threw it into the water.

Foreigners Were Suspicious

Boston, May 2.—The first day's experiences of Boston's police force under the new enrollment bill whereby the listing of voters is hereafter to be done by the police instead of the assessors, was both amusing and trying. Especially in divisions where the larger portion of the foreign element resides was the work most trying and tedious, as the services of interpreters were required and many of the more ignorant foreigners were suspicious of their blue-coated visitors' errand. Despite all drawbacks the officials in charge report that good progress has been made.

Attempt to Wreck Train

Webster, Mass., May 2.—An attempt to wreck a passenger train from Worcester to Southbridge was made at Quinnebaug, Conn., at the curve known as "letter S." Engineer Sparks saw a mass of rocks on the track. He reversed his engine and applied the brakes, but the train hit the obstruction. The engine pilot was broken and some of the running gear was disabled. There were 25 passengers aboard and they were quite badly shaken up, but no one was injured. This was the second attempt to wreck a train on this curve.

Headed Off In California

Woburn, Mass., May 2.—Ernest Whelpley, who has been local superintendent of the Prudential Life Insurance company here, is arrested in Los Angeles, charged with larceny from the company, according to a dispatch received last night. Requisition papers are being prepared and Chief of Police McDermott will leave for Los Angeles to bring Whelpley back to this state to stand trial on the charge. Whelpley went to St. John and then west and was intercepted by a telegraph order for his arrest at Los Angeles.

No Religious Service For Robson

Cohasset, Mass., May 2.—Stuart Robson, the comedian, who died at New York last Tuesday, was buried here yesterday afternoon. His immediate relatives and a few of his most intimate friends of former years gathered about the open grave. It was Mr. Robson's wish that there be no religious service, and not even a prayer was offered. Augustus Thomas, the playwright, spoke a few words of eulogy.

Cape Cod Loses an Honored Citizen

Yarmouthport, Mass., May 2.—Charles Francis Swift, editor of the Yarmouth Register, is dead. He was born at Falmouth in 1825 and lived his whole life in this vicinity. He became associate editor of The Register in 1847 and had been its editor for 53 years. He held many public offices. In 1860 he was a member of the executive council and was the oldest living ex-councillor.

Teachers' School at Harvard

Cambridge, Mass., May 2.—A school of education, to be the outgrowth of the present department of education in Harvard college, is to be founded with an endowment fund of $2,000,000 and an additional $500,000 for an administration building. The object is the theoretical training and practical education of college men who wish to adopt teaching as a profession.

Ended Pain by Shooting

Cambridge, Mass., May 2.—Randolph O. Bock ended his life at his home here by shooting in the right temple. The man had been in poor health for some time and had been troubled with nervous headaches. He was 62 years old, and had been employed at the Clark telescope factory, being one of the few experts in this work.

Druggists' Licenses Shut Out

Malden, Mass., May 2.—The board of aldermen last night, after a long session, decided by a vote of 4 to 3 not to grant liquor licenses to druggists. There were 22 applicants for such licenses and the committee on licenses reported that all be given leave to withdraw, which report was adopted.

Will Keep Quiet For a While

Providence, May 2.—Mrs. Jennie James, a colored resident of Dexter street, has been sentenced to six months at the Cranston institution as a common scold. She was prosecuted under a law which was enacted in 1786, and also under a more recent statute relating to railers and brawlers.

AT BED TIME I TAKE A PLEASANT HERB DRINK

THE NEXT MORNING I FEEL BRIGHT AND NEW AND MY COMPLEXION IS BETTER.

My doctor says it acts gently on the stomach, liver and kidneys and is a pleasant laxative. This drink is made from herbs, and is prepared for use as easily as tea. It is called "Lane's Tea" or

LANE'S FAMILY MEDICINE

All druggists or by mail 25 cts. and 50 cts. Buy it today. Lane's Family Medicine moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Address, Box 295, Le Roy, N. Y.

W. G. CHUBBUCK

Furniture and Piano Mover,

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

Address, QUINCY, MASS.

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

Yard off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy

Jan. 7.

Steamship Tickets.

Cunard Line. Boston, New York, Queenstown, Liverpool.

Dominion Line. Boston, Queenstown, Liverpool, and from Boston to Azores, Gibralta, Genoa and Naples direct.

American Line. New York, Southampton, London, Paris.

White Star Line. town, Liverpool.

Levland Line. Boston, Liverpool, London.

Italian Royal Mail S. S. Co. New York, Naples, Genoa.

Scandinavian American Li From New York to Scandinavian direct.

For rates and reliable information apply to

C. F. CARLSON,

Faxon Building. Opposite R. R. Station.

Tel. 210-51.

Quincy, April 6. 1m

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9tf

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co. Madison Square, PHILA., Pa.

Mention this paper

AT BED TIME I TAKE A PLEASANT HERB DRINK

XT MORNING I FEEL BRIGHT AND NEW D MY COMPLEXION IS BETTER.
ctor says it acts gently on the stomach, liver ys and is a pleasant laxative. This drink is m herbs, and is prepared for use as easily as s called "Lane's Tea" or

E'S FAMILY MEDICINE
ggists or by mail 25 cts. and 50 cts. Buy it to ne's Family Medicine moves the s each day. In order to be healthy this is
y. Address, Box 295, Le Roy, N. Y.

. G. CHUBBUCK
ure and Piano Mover, N AND OUT OF TOWN.
re Packed and Stored.
s Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.
JOBBING.
left at Page's Pool Room, or Nicker-dy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at rnold's Revere Road.
Address, QUINCY, MASS.

OD! WOOD! WOOD!
OF ALL KINDS.
RY AND GREEN
At Lowest Possible Prices.
HOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.
f Miller and West Streets, West Quincy
7. tf

eamship
Tickets.
ard Line. Boston, New York, stown, Liverpool.
minion Line. Boston, Queenstown, pool, and from Boston to Azores, Gibralta, and Naples direct.
erican Line. New York, South-n, London, Paris.
ite Star Line.
Liverpool.
yland Line. Boston, Liverpool, Lonlian Royal Mail S. S. Co. New Naples, Genoa.
ndinavian American Li
New York to Scandinavian direct. rates and reliable information apply to

C. F. CARLSON,
n Building. Opposite R. R. Station.
Tel. 210-51.
ncy, April 6. 1m

If you are thinking of
BUYING A HOUSE
OR A
LOT OF LAND,
at 1361 Hancock street, where you have your choice of over 100 ses and Lots, in all parts of the city.
WALTER E. BURKE.
ncy, Feb. 14. tf

. W. PRATT,
BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES
AT LOWEST PRICES.
USES and Lots for sale Terms t suit.
RTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.
an save you 50 per cent. on your architect's , or will furnish plans free with any lo ht of me.
timates given on new work ennington St., Quincy Adams
d. 83-2. March 9-tf

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS
Original and Only Genuine.
SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co.
Madison Square, PHILA., Pa.
tion this paper

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder.

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

Mr. Waterhouse's Economy

[Original.]

"Lionel," said young Mrs. Waterhouse six months after their marriage and when her trousseau was beginning to show the first signs of giving out, "I need a pair of shoes."

"Certainly, my love." And he handed her $5.

"Lionel," said the wife a few days later, "I find my hat for the coming season is old fashioned. I fear that I shall have to get another."

"Of course you will. How much do you want?"

"A hat may cost anything you please to give, even $2, but I'll need a few spring waists. Then there's the trimming for my blue dress that I'm going to have made over, and"—

"How much, dear?"

"Well, I think I'll need about $13."

A frown came to the husband's face, but he said nothing, handing his wife $15. She saw the frown and knew that one of the hardships of marriage had come, the asking for money for other than household expenses.

"Lionel," said the poor woman a year later, "I'm tired asking you for money with which to buy my clothes. For a time I tried to economize in dress, but when you saw that my hats were out of fashion and my jackets and dresses were shabby you didn't like it, so I find myself between two fires. Isn't there some fund from which I could draw a stated amount?"

"To tell the truth, my dear, we need to economize more than ever this year, as my business is not so flourishing, but I won't ask you to do it. I'll do it myself. I'll figure up just what we'll draw monthly and turn it all over to you. As I have clothes enough to last a year you'll have the use of all the income."

The wife gladly accepted the terms, and on the beginning of the next month her husband turned over to her the amount agreed upon.

"Don't you want any of it, dear?" she asked meekly.

"I have a 'quarter' in my pocket. That 'll do for car fare."

"But your luncheon?"

"Oh, yes; well, you might let me have a 'quarter' for that."

The money was paid over, and Mr. Waterhouse, after giving his wife the marital kiss, started down town.

Five cents of his money went for car fare, 10 cents for apples which he proposed to eat for the benefit of his liver, while 10 cents more was considered necessary for a cigar. At noon he went round to his down town lunch club.

"Hello, old man!" said Owen Carter, one of his clients. "Let's lunch together."

"Oh, I'm not going to eat much today. I'm not hungry."

Nevertheless they sat down together.

"What do you say to dividing a pint of claret?" asked Carter.

"Why, I've made it a rule not to drink anything before dinner."

"Since when?" asked Carter, looking up, surprised.

Now, Carter was an important factor in Waterhouse's business, and the latter saw at once that any stinginess on his part might lead to bad results, so he said:

"But that needn't stand in the way. Waiter, a pint of Pontet-Canet."

By good luck Waterhouse got through the luncheon with only 20 cents over and above the amount given him by his wife for the purpose and returned to his office. In the afternoon he received a note requiring a telephone reply. This cost him 10 cents, which he agreed to pay the next day. He had scarcely returned to his office when a young girl with a wan face entered and begged him to help her by buying a five cent package of court plaster. He ground his teeth when he remembered that his money was gone—more than gone.

Then he found it necessary to see a man whose office was at the other end of the city. Not having money for car fare and no one being near from whom to borrow, he walked there and back, a distance of three miles. When 5 o'clock came, he locked his desk and dragged himself over another two miles to his home. He had at times been disappointed to see a dissatisfied look on his wife's face when he reached home. Today it was transferred to his own. His wife was serene.

The next day he got on famously, spending only 10 cents for car fare and 10 cents for tobacco, for he gave up cigars. He went home radiant. The third day he received a notice that each member of his class in college was invited to pay a dollar toward the building of a new dormitory. It was simply impossible for him to refuse. Then came a lady acquaintance and sold him a ticket for 50 cents to a church fair. As soon as she had gone he looked in his drawer for paper on which to reply to the college matter and found none. The stamp box also was empty. Seventy cents was expended for the two articles. He economized by buying 20 cents' worth of stamps instead of a dollar's worth, as usual, and was obliged to send again in two days. At luncheon he tried to dodge Carter, but Carter, who suspected that he was getting stingy, got hold of him and forced him to divide a three dollar lunch. But the most absurd infraction of his economical effort was the purchase of a razor offered to him by a peddler for $5 for which he satirically offered $1.50. On going home he became demoralized, figuring that his expenditures for the day amounted to $5.10, and to drown remorse stopped for a cocktail and a cigar. His wife smelled his breath and when he mentioned his expenditures called him wasteful. This led to their first quarrel.

The next day the husband reassumed the exchequer, and the wife has since been wearing her old clothes.

FRUIT AND FLOWERS

A NEW STRAWBERRY.

The Climax Is Claimed to Be an Improvement on Bubach.

The Climax is a new strawberry, originating in Maryland, of which a report has been made to Rural New Yorker. It appears that the original plant was from seed of Bubach fertilized by Hoffman. The berry is hardly as large as the best specimens of Bubach, but averages larger than the average specimens. There is not a single imperfect berry. Every one looks as if it came out of a mold. There is one big berry on the stem, then one a size smaller and so on down. The stalks are very heavy. Every blossom makes a berry. The blossom is perfect. The plants are very strong, the foliage rougher than Bubach and not so deep a green. Climax begins to ripen nearly a week ahead of Bubach and other leading kinds, and one can readily see what that means to growers. The berry is firmer than Bubach, with better flavor, and never misshapen.

CLIMAX STRAWBERRY.

When and How to Prune.

The time of pruning fruit trees is not so important as the method. It has been said, "Prune whenever your tools are sharp," but I would not advise severe pruning when the trees are growing or are in full foliage, as cutting off much foliage has a tendency to weaken the tree somewhat. Where the work can be done in a short time March and April are preferable, but where there is much to be done any time from the falling of the leaf until it starts again in spring. I do not advise cutting off large branches in the fall and winter, but where it is absolutely necessary to cut such they should be cut several inches from the trunk or large branch and then cut closely any time during June, when they will heal readily, or they may be cut close and the wound covered with a thick paint. This will in a measure prevent decay.—Charles Black, New Jersey.

When to Take Begonia Cuttings.

One of the most important points in regard to the culture of begonias of the Gloire de Lorraine type is, according to Gardening, to remember that it is of no use to be in a great hurry in taking the cuttings. Keep the plants in a healthy condition and allow them to finish their flowering period as nearly as possible. If allowed to go their own way, they will break naturally from the base about April, and the short jointed cuttings taken when the shoots are not more than one and a half inches long will make fine plants for the following autumn—in fact, much better than any that may have been rooted in the autumn or even old plants that may have been kept over.

Propagating Coleus.

Coleus cuttings are made during January, February, March and April. The earliest are made by florists with the idea of again taking cuttings from the young plants. If this is not desired, there is no need to begin operations so early. Coleus are among the easiest of all plants to root, and they grow so rapidly that for an amateur March is usually early enough to begin propagating. Coleus seed sown in February and March gives plants for bedding out the same season. It is hardly worth while to winter over any coleus except the few needed for stock. They are not very satisfactory and are extremely likely to be infested with mealy bugs.—Rural New Yorker.

Grape Cuttings.

Grape cuttings should be planted as soon as the soil can be worked in spring. Set in rows about a foot apart in a slanting position, leaving but one bud above ground. It is best to mulch the soil along the row to prevent drying out.

Stray Petals.

Bonemeal is a good fertilizer for the sweet pea.

The more closely you keep the flowers of your sweet peas cut the more blooms you will get. Tests at the Wisconsin station show that plants in subirrigated flower beds grew almost twice as tall as those watered on the surface.

If you have never grown salpiglossis, try it this season, and you will congratulate yourself on another valuable acquisition to the flower garden.

The new single peonies are attracting much admiration with their monstrous flowers, from twelve to fifteen inches in diameter, with massive center of golden yellow anthers.

Spiræa Anthony Waterer is very valuable in the garden, flowering during the whole season.

Plant shrub as early as possible in the spring.

A QUICK REVERSE

[Original.]

"Corporal," said the general, "there's a Confederate loose somewhere in our rear that I want you to take. He met an artillery sergeant on the Lebanon pike this morning and got the drop on him, taking his horse and his uniform. That means a tour of inspection either of our camps, our rear or a burned railroad bridge, cutting our supplies. It's no use sending a lot of men after him. Try him alone. The sergeant says that the last he saw of him he was winding along up the road over Cedar hill."

I had been the general's private scout for months and knew the country well. I struck the road over Cedar hill five miles in our rear and questioned all I met if they had noticed a mounted artillery sergeant. The people were all Confederate and would give me no satisfaction. I was feeling somewhat discouraged, for night was coming on, when I noticed a horse tied in front of a tavern. I dismounted and entered the tavern. There sat a sergeant of artillery with the landlord at a table eating a supper that had been set out for him.

"Got any whisky, landlord?" I said. "If so, trot it out. How are you, sergeant?"

"Well enough. Sit down and drink your liquor here. I'll join you."

His accent was a pure southern and was a dead giveaway. From the moment of his speaking I knew I had struck my man. His nerve was perfect. His manner was that of one pleased at having a comrade to drink with. Nevertheless I noticed that under pretense of removing his revolver to a position more comfortable for him he slipped the holster around on his belt toward his front.

"Out here on duty?" I asked.

"Yes. Are you?"

"Looking for forage. The commissary says he's running short, and I've got to find some."

"That's my job. Our battery is down to a barrel of oats."

"We might hunt together."

"So we might, only we'd have half the chance together we'd have separate. Suppose we meet here, say, tomorrow noon and report and find that's more than either needs."

I had hoped that he would think it best to fall in with my plan for awhile in order to gain my confidence, in which case I might run him into a trap, but his argument was too sound to refute, and I gave up that plan. The landlord brought some bad whisky, and the sergeant and I drank together. Then I proposed that we remain where we were all night and make a search the next day.

"All right," said the sergeant. "Uncle Sam doesn't pay me enough to hunt for forage at night. Got rooms for us, landlord?"

"Reckon."

"Well, I'll go out and stable my horse," said the spy.

By this time certain scrutinizing looks I had given the man, an occasional trace of incredulity in my face or something of the kind, had caused him to know his critical position. It's a singular task and a singular feeling to be chatting familiarly with an armed man whom you are planning to catch off his guard. At any moment one or the other may have a bullet hole in him, and it is very uncertain which will be the man. In this case, over one dangled a halter.

"Take my horse in, too." I said, stretching myself lazily in my chair and lighting my pipe.

"I'll do it."

He went out into the hall. I jumped up the moment he reached it and followed him, expecting to take him from the rear with his back turned to me. The moment he was out of my sight he must have gone like lightning, for when I saw him he was half way to his horse.

"Hands up!" I yelled.

With two leaps he was at his horse's side and with another on him and away. I firing three shots, then mounting myself and following him. It was a clear race over Cedar hill, and our horses kept a gallop on the way up. Then came a breakneck pace down the other side. Suddenly the man's horse stumbled and hurled him a dozen yards ahead. When I reached him, he was unconscious, and I took his pistol, then went to a rivulet beside the road, filled my canteen and dashed water in his face. That brought him to himself.

"Say, Johnny Reb," I said, "you're the coolest chap I ever met and the bravest. I'd give $100 if you weren't a spy carrying information, for you'll hang, and it prevents my letting you go back to Dixie."

He pretended to be badly hurt, and I was very lenient with him, permitting him to sit beside the road till better able to mount. He took out a white handkerchief and made a great display of it, wiping the blood from his face. It was not long after this that, following his glance down the road, I saw a troop of Confederate cavalry coming like the wind. In a second I was on my horse and away, but he was winded. I was caught and taken back.

"Yank," said my sergeant, "I can't go back on the uniform. I'm so delighted at escaping the gallows and so grateful for your kindly sympathy that I'm going to let you go back to camp. Give my regards to your general and tell him that if it hadn't been for you Captain Beverly of the —th Confederate cavalry would have burned the big bridge in your rear tonight, and he'd have been a month rebuilding it."

He grasped my hand warmly; then his men helped him on his horse, and they rode away. They had been on the watch for him, and his handkerchief had been a signal for them.

MONTGOMERY MOORE.

CONSUL OFFENDED COURT

Fine and One Day's Arrest Imposed, but Subsequently Suspended

Solingen, Prussia, May 2.—United States Consul Landger was fined $7.50 by the judge of a local court for disorderly conduct in the court room, where he was present as a witness. Landger protested that he was a United States official and could not be fined in that manner; thereupon the judge sentenced him to one day's arrest for continued disorderly behaviour.

It seems that Landger was invited to appear before a minor court as a witness against Herr Dittmann, editor of a Socialist newspaper, who published the following paragraph in his paper:

"Mr. Landger has exhibited in his show window a broken chair with the inscription: 'Such goods can be bought at ——' (naming a local firm.) This firm answered by exhibiting in its window some of Mr. Landger's notes with the inscription: 'For sale cheap.'"

During the hearing of the case against Dittmann the presiding judge questioned Landger with the view of clearing up the matter between him and the chair dealer. Landger answered excitedly: "What's the meaning of this; you are questioning me here about my private affairs; I am not the accused."

In this remark the court saw a gross misdemeanor and fined Landger $7.50. After several evasive answers Landger refused to give any further testimony, whereupon the court sentenced him to one day's arrest. Landger protested against this, asserting that as an American citizen he could not be sentenced by a German court.

Before steps were taken to arrest Landger he left the court room and saw the president of the district court, who at once notified the Solingen court not to molest the consul further, and to order an investigation. Subsequently the Solingen judge suspended the sentence, but did not cancel it.

Princely Bequests

White Plains, N. Y., May 2.—The will of Warren B. Smith, the carpet manufacturer, bequeaths $1,000,000 each to five of his nieces and nephews. To the former treasurer of the Smith Carpet company, Harold Brown, the testator gives $200,000, and to the former president, Francis Holder, $100,000. A sixth nephew, not mentioned among the five who are to receive $1,080,000 each, is the residuary legatee. The sum of $5000 is left to his valet and $250,000 to his stepmother. Many former employes are remembered.

Door to Remain Open

London, May 2.—Foreign Secretary Lansdowne announced in the house of lords that he had received verbal assurances from the Russian ambassador that Russia was not desirious of excluding foreign consuls from Manchuria, of obstructing foreign commerce or of monopolizing the use of the ports, as she considers the development of foreign commerce to be one of the main objects for which she constructed railroads in that part of the world.

Havana Druggists Receive Warning

Havana, May 2.—Civil Governor Nunez has notified the druggists of the city who closed their stores because of an unpopular tax on certain of their wares that unless they reopen within 24 hours their stores will be considered definitely closed and new licenses will be required before they can resume business.

Were Lost In a Fog

Canso, N. S., May 2.—Schooner Madeira has arrived from the banks with two of the crew of the American schooner Vera, Reuben Rafuse and Steven Williams, who went astray from the vessel in the fog on Wednesday. After drifting about for 20 hours they were picked up by the Madeira.

Fruits Destroyed by Frosts

Cincinnati, May 2.—Telegrams from all parts of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia report that frosts have killed all kinds of fruits.

NEWS IN BRIEF

J. Wells Champney, the artist, was killed at New York by falling down an elevator shaft from the fourth floor.

Rev. Randolph S. Foster, one of the oldest bishops of the Methodist church in Massachusetts, died at his home at Newton, aged 83. Death was due to a breaking up of the system, following a stroke of apoplexy sustained last December.

The successor of Winston Churchill on the staff of Governor Bachelder of New Hampshire is Lucian Thompson of Durham, his commission as aide-de-camp, with the rank of colonel, having been issued by Adjutant General Ayling.

Rear Admiral Sigsbee has been installed as commandant of the League Island navy yard. He succeeds Rear Admiral Sands, who has been transferred to the north Atlantic coast defense fleet.

General Nelson Viall, who for 36 years was warden of the Rhode Island state prison, died at Howard, R. I., of a kidney affection, at the age of 70. He had a national reputation in matters relating to prison discipline. He served in the Mexican and Civil wars.

The meeting of the board for the examination of plans, devices and inventions designed for use at the United States life saving stations will occur on May 14 at Boston.

Katie Durkee, 3 years old, was fatally burned while playing around a bonfire at Chittendon, Vt.

The Thayer straw shop at Franklin, Mass., occupied in part by the Franklin Hat company, was burned. The loss is $13,000. No insurance was carried.

The stables of Anson P. Stokes at Lenox, Mass., were burned, resulting in a loss of $75,000. The origin of the fire is not known.

BELATED "BREAKFAST"

Delayed International Day Ceremonies at St Louis

A TOAST TO FOREIGNERS

The Only Formality of the Occasion—Diplomats Had to Skirmish For Their Hats—Small Audience Heard Speeches In a Chilly Building

St. Louis, May 2.—Like a calm after a storm was "International Day" at the exposition compared to "Dedication Day" which preceded it. The day's program was carried out as originally planned, but there were numerous delays that brought the conclusion of the exercises about three hours later than was originally intended. The chief procrastinator was the committee which had the welfare of foreign representatives under its immediate control. The fact that representatives of eastern nations cannot move about as energetically as can the present active President of the United States aided a little in retarding the exercises.

The breakfast to the diplomats, for such it was called despite the hour at which it was served, was apparently greatly enjoyed by the 300 people who participated. From the large table where were seated the diplomatic corps, ex-President Cleveland, Mr. Francis and others of note, came frequent sounds of laughter, bearing evidence of the wit that was being enjoyed. At the conclusion of the meal President Francis arose and proposed a toast to the foreign representatives "whose presence indicates the friendliness of their governments and their good wishes towards the Louisiana Purchase exposition." A volley of hand-clapping greeted the toast and ceased suddenly only because it was necessary to use one of the noise-making members to raise glasses.

This was the only bit of formality of the occasion. A few moments later the diplomats were helping each other into their coats and helping to look for each others' hats. The Chinese minister laughed heartily at his colleagues who had their own troubles in distinguishing one silk hat from another. "I had no trouble in finding mine," he said to a South American man near him, and pointed with a smile to the little black bowl-shaped headpiece which he wore.

The weather out of doors was ideal. Within the Liberal Arts building it was uncomfortably chilly and damp, and but for the fact that the Marine band played constantly during the two-hour wait that preceded the commencement of the program the audience that heard the addresses of the foreign representatives would have been far smaller than it was. It was not large at best, there being only about 1200 people in the hall.

The speeches were heard by everybody in the hall and it so happened that nearly all of the speakers had stronger voices than the men who were compelled to talk against the noise created by the crowd that filled the building on Thursday.

The French ambassador, M. Jusserand, made a distinct hit with his audience and was frequently interrupted by applause. Mr. Ojedo, the Spanish minister, was cheered to the echo as he advanced to make his speech. Former Senator Thurston, who as president of the day, alluded in a pleasant manner as he introduced the minister, to the late trouble with Spain, declaring that all ill feeling against that country had passed away, and the warm greeting that met the Spanish minister went far to prove his words.

Rios In Americans' Hands

Manila, May 2.—Governor Cailles of Laguna province and a party of volunteers captured Rios, the fanatical Filipino leader, in that part of the island of Luzon. Governor Cailles captured Rios in the disguise the latter had worn when appearing as a "prophet." He is said to be guilty of many crimes, and probably will be tried for murder.

Two Speeches by President

Topeka, May 2.—President Roosevelt made two addresses here last night; one at the laying of the cornerstone of the new railroad Y. M. C. A. building and the other at the Auditorium before the international convention of the Y. M. C. A. Both addresses were received with the greatest enthusiasm. The city was beautifully decorated.

Crow Nest Mountain Ablaze

Highland Falls, N. Y., May 2.—The most extensive fire known in this section is raging in the woods on the east side of Crow Nest mountain. It has already burned over territory two miles long and one mile wide and is moving northward toward Cornwall.

Socialists Out In Force

Berlin, May 2.—The Socialists celebrated May day throughout Germany by public meetings and speeches. No disorder is reported. In all 50 meetings of Socialists were held in this city.

A Trolley Car Disaster

New York, May 2.—A trolley car left the track near Hastings and plunged over a steep embankment. All the passengers received injuries and one man, Philip Dwyer, aged 60, was killed.

Ten Victims of Explosion

Hollidaysburg, Pa., May 2.—Another body was found near the ruins of the Cresson Powder company's plant. This makes 10 dead as a result of Thursday's explosion.

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $4.00 per year.

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	53	52	55	46	64
Monday,	67	60	58	48	55
Tuesday,	—	59	71	55	53
Wednesday,	84	62	79	73	81
Thursday,	86	67	67	59	82
Friday,	58	61	63	56	77
Saturday,	47	65	62	58	71

New Advertisements Today.

Probate Notice.
L. M. Pratt & Son—King Arthur Flour.
Co-operative Dining Room—Turkey Dinner.
Reupholstering—C. H. Tower.
To let—Rooms.
Swithin Bros.—Bigelow Park House Lots.
Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

Good Afternoon.

Mother Earth has been lavish with floral offerings this spring, bringing them forth much in advance of their reputed flowering season. The sun's soft brooding in March accomplished wonders for the wild flowers or "God's flowers" as they are sometimes called to distinguish them from the forced productions of hot-houses. Very early in April the hillsides were purpled with modest violets and hairy-coated hepaticas, while anemonies blushed as they peeped from their coverts. Later the wooly headed early everlasting appeared in groups on every sterile lawn, and blood-root and gold thread starred the places of their habitation with blossoms white as snow notwithstanding the hint of color gathered from their common names. But these names apply only to root characteristics, the root of the blood-root exuding a blood-like fluid when bruised. Sanguinaria, the scientific name of this plant, also means bloody. The roots of the gold thread resemble long, golden threads and prove an easy means of identification.

While we cannot forget the crimson flowers of the swamp maple, the purple of violets and hepaticas, the white of blood-root and many others we are still forced to believe that yellow is Nature's favorite spring color. The timorous flowers of the spice-bush, clinging in small, close clusters to the branches, as if undetermined about their right to appear before the leaves, marsh-marigold, cinquefoil, yellow violets, crowfoot, coltsfoot, dandelions, to be followed later by ubiquitous buttercup are all yellow as are also the early mustards. It may not be amiss to state that Nature's flowering pageant ends in yellow, the various golded-rods giving place to October's and November's child, witch-hazel.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Our national drink bill amounts to a billion dollars, a figure that staggers humanity, but the important fact remains that we are becoming more and more a sober nation. We may spend more for drink, but we drink better, more understandingly. Modern business conditions demand employes with clear heads, the railroads demand men who can remain sober all the time, whether on duty or not. The man who drinks to excess is not wanted at all, and the man who doesn't drink at all is wanted most of all.—Springfield Union.

☞ A significant illustration of the value of expert testimony is furnished by the discrepancy of something like $24,000,000 between the exhibit made by the accountant employed by those who are proceeding against the officials of the Metropolitan Traction company of New York and that made by the experts employed by the company to go over the figures covered by the experts for the prosecution. This difference in footings appears to be a rather eloquent exemplification of the resources and complications of expert bookkeeping.—South Framingham News

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

Missing Since April 23.

It was reported to the police last night that Nels Johnson had been missing from his boarding house at 4 Carlmark street since April 23. Jacob Jacobson, with whom Johnson boarded, states that on the above date the missing man left home, presumably to go to Boston. He did not come back that night, and inquiry fails to find any trace of him. His friends believe something has happened to him.

The missing man is reported to be twenty-three years of age and unmarried. He is 5 feet, 10 inches tall and weighs about 165 pounds.

When last seen, he was in a suit of dark clothing. That his departure was not premeditated is believed from the fact that he left his trunk open in his room.

Cochato Club Theatricals.

The theatricals at the Cochato club last evening were delightful and quite out of the ordinary. The new scenery, the work of Mr. Alfred H. Smith added much to the effect. The following program was presented:

PROGRAM.

The littlest girl, by Richard Harding Davis
Dramatized by Robert Hillard.
Mr. Carruthers, Mr. H. Sands Burgess
Davenport, Servant to Mr. Carruthers, Mr. F. Edgar Norris
Littlest Girl of Lester's Opera Company, Helen Kellar
Van Bibber, Mr. Alfred H. Smith
The Bicyclers, by John Kendrick Bangs
[Called forth many a good laugh].
Mr. Robert Yardsley, Mr. Oscar Gallagher
Mr Jack Barlow, Mr. Leonard W. Newell
Mr. Thaddeus Perkins, Mr. David G. Doane
Mr. Edward Bradley, Mr. F. Edgar Norris
Mrs. Thaddeus Perkins, Mrs. Geo. O. Wales
Mrs. Edward Bradley, Miss Louise W. Pray
Jennie, Mrs. F. Edgar Norris

—Without debate this week the house passed to be engrossed the bill to require street railway companies to provide suitable waiting rooms.

C. C. HEARN'S UNUSUAL OFFER

Sell Dr. Howard's Specific at Half-Price and Guarantee a Cure.

"It isn't often that we have faith enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said Chas. C. Hearn to a Ledger man who dropped into his store, "but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that basis.

"The Dr. Howard Company, in order to get a quick introductory sale, authorizes me to sell their regular fifty cent bottles at half-price, 25 cents, and, all though I have sold a lot of it, and have guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory. "I am still selling the specific at half-price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so, and anyone who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played-out condition ought to take advantage of this chance. You can tell your readers that if they are not satisfied with the specific they can come right back to my store and I will cheerfully refund their money."

Chas. C. Hearn has the sole agency for this remedy in Quincy, and has sold a great many bottles since he advertised to let customers have a 50c. package for 25c. Many people are buying several bottles at a time so as to always have the specific in the house and at the same time profit by the special price.

22-25-29-2

WATCH US GROW.

"We are Here to Stay"
"Right in the Heart of the City."

TURKEY DINNER

AT

THE CO-OPERATIVE DINING ROOMS

No. 3 Granite Street, Quincy,

SUNDAY, MAY 3d, 1903.

We give a 50-cent Dinner for 25 cents.

2½-Meal Tickets, $3.50.

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21--2m

Reupholstering

OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE

HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED

And Made Over.

Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.

Call and get Prices.

C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St. Tel. 64-4.

Quincy, May 2. 1m

Quincy Co-operative Bank.

MEETING of Shareholders WEDNESDAY, May 4, 1903, at 7.45 P. M., for Election of Officers. Sale of Shares, Receipt of Dues, etc.

Shares in 29th Series now on Sale.

Years of success. Practical Principles for Savings and Owning Homes.

R. D. CHASE, Secretary,
Savings Bank Building.

Quincy, May 1. 1-4t--p-1w

Rally Day Program.

Rally Day is to be observed by Bethany Church Brotherhood on Sunday evening, May 3, at 7.30 o'clock with the following services:

Organ Voluntary, "Pastorial," Gustav Merkel
Congregational hymn, No. 132.
Prayer.
Anthem, "Remember thy Creator," Reissmann
Arranged especially for the Apollo Quartet.
Scripture lesson.
Anthem, "Sunset" Van de Water
Apollo Quartet.
Prayer.
Response.
Offertory, Auf Flugen des Gesanges" Mendelssohn
Congregational hymn No. 615.
Address,
Dr. William Byron Forbush, Ph. D., of Winthrop church, Charlestown.
Anthem, "Go forth at Morning's Birth," Cutler
Arranged especially for the Apollo Quartet.
Benediction.
Postlude, "Triumphal March" Heintze

Day Nursery Conference.

The Boston Conference of Day Nurseries was held in Trinity chapel, Boston, Wednesday morning. The president, Mrs. Hayes, presided. There were ten minute talks and discussions by Miss Higginson, representing the Associated Charities; Dr. Newman on the relations of College Settlement work with that of the Day Nursery, Dr. Newman being a college settlement worker. Members from Providence told of the work and good done in that city through nursery work. Miss Walsh told of the success following the teaching of cooking in many homes in Boston; these homes being reached and the need understood through the work in the Day Nurseries.

The meeting closed with a pleasant social hour and a delicious lunch. The Day Nursery of Quincy was represented by Miss Emily C. Wild and Miss Etta M. Prescott.

Contagious Hospital.

The new contagious hospital of the city on Sea street is now ready for occupancy if necessary. The building has been thoroughly overhauled, repaired and painted and is now quite an attractive building. It is hoped however that it will be a long time before it everhas to be used.

Burial of Miss Leavitt.

The funeral of Miss H. Augusta Leavitt was held Friday afternoon from the residence of Mr. Howard Gannett on Warren avenue. The services were conducted by Rev. Edmund D. Webber. The burial was at Beverly.

Quincy Real Estate Sales.

The following is a list of the recent real estate sales in Quincy:

Lizzie F. Corthell to Gardner J. Hazelton.
Charles F. Adams et al. trs. to William C. Cunniff.
William H. Baxter et al, trs. to O. C. R. Co.
Herbert T. Whitman et al trs. to Asa O. A. Sewell, (2).
Fred W. Morey, Jr., et al Herbert T. Whitman, $1800.
Mattie E. Kilpatrick to Sally A. Weinschenk
Frederick E. Tupper to Peter T. Fallen et al.
Fannie E. Torrey to Bertha G. Barri.
City of Quincy to James Thompson.
Walter W. Bates to John H. Dinegan $15.
Ellen F. Cotter to John H. Dinegan, $18.
William Cook to John H. Dinegan, $15.
Lydia J. Doyle to John H. Dinegan, $8
Peter L. Doyle to John H. Dinegan, $8.
William F. Garron to John H. Dinegan, $8.
Hattie Hillstrum to John H. Dinegan, $26.
Edwin B. Holmes to John H Dinegan, $11.
George A. Litchfield to John H. Dinegan, $58.
Timo J. Mahoney to John H. Dinegan, $31.
William H. Miller to John H. Dinegan, $12.
Thomas J. Phinney to John H. Dinegan, $11.
Richard J. Powers to John H. Dinegan, $8.
James H. Riley to John H. Dinegan, $13.
Clara L Whipple to John H. Dinegan, $48.
William Cook to C. S. Drake, $16.
Jane M. Emery to C. S. Drake, $10.
Harriet H. Hallett to C. S. Drake, $13.
George A. Litchfield to C. S. Drake, $61.
Eizabehth C. Murphy to C. S. Drake, $57.
Nora Ryan to C. S. Drake, $11.
Eben C. Stanwood to C. S. Drake, $38.
James E. Tisdale C. S. Drake, $12.
Julius Johnson to Carl Dalblom.
Julius Johnson to Mathilda Johnson.
Annie L. Swanson to Andrew G. Weeden.
Anna M. Abele to Commonwealth of Massachusetts, $1800.
Frank E. Barr to Annie M. Kelley, $16.
George F. Daggett to Annie M. Kelley, $13.
Jane M. Emery to Annie M. Kelley, $14.
Minnie M. McAndrews to Annie M. Kelley, $8.
Thomas J. Tucker to Annie M. Kelley, $11.
Anson B. Tuttle to Annie M. Kelley.
Hiram L Simpson to Annie M. Kelley, $19.
John W. McLean to Annie M. Kelley, $13.
Magnus Munn to Herbert S. Barker.
Harlow H. Rogers to Samuel Sawyer estate.
Harlow H. Rogers to Patrick J. Ryan.

—The offer of Charles Fanning Ayer of Lowell, who was at one time a student here at Adams academy, to erect a monument on the Common at Salem, to commemorate the life and death of his ancestors, Lawrence and Cassendra Southwick, Quakers who were persecuted in the days of Puritanism has stirred the Witch City not a little. The design is that of a tiger rampant, with one paw on the neck of the woman, while the man holds another paw in his left hand and with the right clutches the throat of the beast. Naturally the descendants of the Puritans object to having their ancestors represented by a tiger, as one of them said, "If there were injuries they were of those times not these, and what is the use of putting them in a statue or monument.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

The young people were out in force last evening hanging May baskets.

Rev. F. A. Frigugliettl and Dr. Padula returned from Virginia, Friday.

The Merrymounts and Herard '04, play ball at Merrymount park this afternoon.

Good progress is being made on the two brick buildings being erected in City Spuare.

The lawn on the west side of City Hall looks very fine since it was regraded and sodded.

The cold snap Friday made the open cars disappear about as quickly as they made their appearence.

The new house of J. W. Pratt on Hancock street has been completed and the family has moved in.

The Rockport Granite Co. has signed the Cutters' new scale which advances wages two cents per hour.

Quite a few participated Friday in the Universalist excursion to Plymouth. It was a little cool but they had a good time.

It is understood that the case of Constant Crobac for the murder of Fred Peterson, will be tried at Dedham next week.

The price of coal in Quincy has gone up twenty-five cents a ton. People who purchased their winter supply early in the month were wise.

Mr. William T. Isaac of Linden place, has an automobile, which arrived this week and now he is seen pleasant days passing all his friends on the road.

A lecture on Ben Hur, illustrated by the stereopticon, will be given Sunday evening at 7 o'clock by Mr. Charles H. Johnson, in the chapel of First church.

Friday was one of the most disagreeable days of the year. The wind was strong from the north-west and in spite of all, the watering carts could not keep the streets wet and the dust blew about in great clouds.

Sabbath, May 10th, Rev. Mr. Barr will begin a series of four sermons to the toilers of Quincy. The first will be on "The Dignity of Labor." These sermons it is hoped will interest the laboring classes.

Evidently Mr. Edward H. Angier enjoys automobiles for he has appeared out in a brand new one this week. His run-about is one of the cutest in town, being light, easy to handle, and noiseless. The new machine is larger and heavier.

A lecture illustrated by the stereopticon on Ben Hur, or the tale of the Christ, will be given in the chapel of the Unitarian church tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock. All are cordially invited. Fifty colored views will be shown in this lecture.

The "to let" and "for sale" signs which have occupied conspicuous places in many houses in the city during the winter have disappeared with the coming of spring and now it is hard to find a really desirable house vacant. Real estate men report business to be unusually active. Quincy is forging ahead.

The annual social and supper of the Sunday school of First church is to be held next Thursday afternoon in the chapel. The children are to gather at four o'clock and enjoy games and an entertainment until supper time. After supper there will be dancing until eight at Colonial hall for the little ones and from eight until ten for the older children.

The annual meeting of the Alliance, for the election of officers, will be held in the vestry of the Wollaston Unitarian church on Wednesday, May 6 at 3 P. M. Members are earnestly requested to be present.

Pale Women Your blood is turning to water—becoming thin and weak. You are easily tired, unequal to the duties or pleasures of life. You need iron, the greatest blood tonic and nutrient, itself a natural constituent of healthy, ruddy blood; and you can derive the most good from it as combined in the new iron tonic, Pept-iron, which is readily assimilated, Must Have Iron does not injure the teeth, nor cause constipation however long taken. It is agreeable to the taste, leaving no inky or metallic flavor in the mouth.

Peptiron gives strength, animation and a good healthy color; cures anemia from whatever cause, weakness and nervousness.

Peptiron is made in two forms: In a liquid—an aromatic cordial elixir—at $1 per bottle, also in chocolate-coated pills at 50c. or $1 per box. By C. I. HOOD CO., proprietors Hood's Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

Selling Agent in Quincy:

E. J. Murphy, 1657 Hancock St.

To know all there is to know about a Sarsaparilla, take Ayer's. Your doctor will say so, too. He knows.

J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Are You Looking for a Home?
Would You Like to Make Some Money?

Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at

BIGELOW PARK.

The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.

SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.

May 2. tf

CARPET WORK

Of every kind and description. Carpets taken up, Carpets thoroughly cleaned, Carpets relaid, Carpets made over to fit other rooms.

We have in our employ the best carpet men that ever worked in Quincy, and guarantee the highest class of work by careful men, at the same price charged by others for inexperienced labor.

Furniture Reupholstering and Mattress work. Estimates on any kind of work promptly given.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

—Pierpont Morgan offers $500 to any one who will smash a camera aimed at him. With an investment of $2.50 and a small supply of nerve two enterprising young men ought to make a good thing out of this offer.—New Bedford Standard.

TODAY'S COURT.

John P. Keating was arraigned for drunkenness at Braintree. Case continued until May 9.

The continued case of Wallace B. Rose for non-support at Weymouth was called and again continued until June 6.

The continued case of Walter A. Blanding for violation of the liquor law at Quincy. Case continued until next Saturday.

Mrs. John Casey was arranged for trespass at Milton Complaint dismissed on account of technicality.

By CHAS. H. JOHNSON, - - Auctioneer

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

BY Virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Sidney L. Brackett to the Quincy Savings Bank, dated December 27, 1900, and recorded in Norfolk Deeds, in libro 887, folio 208 will be sold at public auction for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, the Twenty-fifth day of May, 1903, at two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular, the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described substantially as follows:

A certain lot of land containing 6,600 square feet, with all the buildings thereon, situated in Quincy, aforesaid, and being a part of lot No. 41 on a plan made by H. T. Whitman, Surveyor, dated December, 1896, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds at the end of Book 784, and bounded as follows, viz: Northerly by a part of lot No. 100 and a part of lot No. 98 on said plan, fifty-five feet; easterly by land of Francis Batcheldor, one hundred and twenty feet, southerly by a private way called Butler Road, fifty-five feet; westerly by lot No. 40 on said plan, one hundred and twenty feet.

This property will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles and assessments.

Terms: $200 cash at sale, balance cash in ten days from said sale on delivery of deed.

Quincy Savings Bank, Mortgagee.
By CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.
Quincy, May 2, 1903. 3t--2-9 16

By C. H. JOHNSON, Auctioneer.
Office, Room 3, Adams Building, Quincy.

Mortgagee's Sale.

BY Virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Carrie E. Davis et al., of Boston, Massachusetts, to Emma J. Bradford, dated October 1, 1896, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 778, page 112, for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgage deed, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on TUESDAY, May 12, 1903, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage, and therein described as follows:

The following parcel of land situated in that part of the City of Quincy in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth aforesaid, called Atlantic, being lot number one hundred sixty-eight (168) on plan of "Norfolk Downs" by Charles D. Elliot, dated April, 1892, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book of Plans No. 14, plan numbered 640, and bounded and described as follows, viz.: Northeasterly by Tyler street, forty-four (44) feet; southeasterly by lot No. 167 on said plan, one hundred (100) feet; southwesterly by lot No. 165 on said plan, forty-four (44) feet; northwesterly by lot No. 169 on said plan, one hundred (100) feet; containing according to said plan, forty-four hundred (4400) square feet of land.

Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes and assessments. $100 of the purchase money to be paid at the time and place of sale, balance within ten days upon the delivery of the deed at the office of my attorney.

EMMA J. BRADFORD,
Mortgagee.
W. W. JENNESS, Attorney,
87 Milk street, Boston, Mass.
April 17, 1903. 3t 18 25 2

ASSESSORS' NOTICE.

To the inhabitants of the City of Quincy, and all other persons liable to pay taxes therein:

You are hereby notified to bring in to the Assessors of said City,

On or before JUNE 1st, 1903,

True and Perfect Lists of all the Polls, and Schedules and Estimates of all the Personal Estates and Real Estate for which you are liable to pay taxes.

Persons holding estates in trust, whether for minors or otherwise, are particularly requested to furnish the Assessors with Statements in relation to such estates.

When the estates of persons deceased have been divided, or have changed hands from other causes during the past year, the Executors, Administrators, or other persons interested, are required to give notice of such changes, and in default of such notice will be held to pay the taxes assessed.

Blank forms for "Return of Property for Taxation" can be procured of the Assessors.

The following may serve as a guide to assist in making up Schedules and Statements:

Number of Polls 20 years and upwards; Money at interest; Amount of Money on hand, including deposits in Banks, etc., other than Savings Banks incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth; Railroad, Town, City, State and other Bonds (except those of the United States); Shares and Stocks of Insurance, Manufacturing and other incorporated companies chartered or organized under the laws of any State other than Massachusetts; Goods, Wares Merchandise and other stock in trade, within or without the State; Household Furniture, exceeding $1,000 in value; Horses, Mules, Carriages, Oxen, Cows, other neat Cattle not less than one year old, and Swine and Sheep not less than six months old; Income from Profession, Trade, or Employment exceeding $2,000; Personal Property held in trust or by wife or minor children.

Attention is hereby called to Section 32 of Chapter 12 of the Revised Laws.

"Whoever, with intent to defeat or evade the provisions of law in relation to assessment or payment of taxes, delivers or discloses to an assessor or an assistant assessor a false or fraudulent list, return, or schedule of property as and for a true list of his estates, not exempted from taxation, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in jail not exceeding one year."

MORTGAGED PROPERTY.

A mortgagor or mortgagee of real estate may bring in to the assessors of the city or town in which it lies, within the time prescribed by the notice under Sect. 41, a statement under oath of the amount secured thereon or on each separate parcel thereof, with the name and residence of every holder of an interest therein as mortgagor or mortgagee. If such property is situated in two or more places, or if a recorded mortgage includes two or more estates or parts of an estate as security for one sum, such statement shall include an estimate of the interest of the mortgagee in each estate or part of an estate. The assessors shall, from such statement or otherwise, ascertain the proportionate interests of the mortgagor or mortgagee respectively in said estates, and shall assess the same accordingly. If, in any year, such statement is not brought in, the tax for that year on such real estate shall not be invalid merely for the reason that the interest of the mortgagee therein has not been assessed to him.—Sect. 45, Chap. 12, Revised Laws.

When a statement in conformity to the law above quoted is brought in, the real estate therein returned will be assessed under Sects. 16, 17 and 18 of Chap. 12 of the Revised Laws. But in cases where the mortgagor of the real estate has agreed in writing to pay all taxes assessed thereon, no statement or return is required from either the mortgagee or mortgagor unless requested by the assessors in writing.

The Assessors will be in session at their office every MONDAY and THURSDAY morning from 9 to 11 o'clock. Blanks will be furnished to all applicants.

JAMES THOMPSON, Chairman,
CHARLES H. JOHNSON,
WILLIAM B. GLOVER,
Assessors of Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, May 2, 1903. p-4w--1-8t--2t a w

AT RED TIP

o know about a 's. Your doctor
iows. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

lome?
e Some Money?
se Beautiful Lots at

PARK.

ccessible Tract of Land
istrict.
Merrill Block,
ger Building, QUINCY.
tf iption. Carpets taken ined, Carpets relaid, er rooms.

the best carpet men y, and guarantee the eful men, at the same inexperienced labor.
and Mattress work.
ork promptly given.
DE & CO.,
Furniture Store,
Quincy, Mass.
turday Evenings.

SESSORS'
NOTICE.

bitants of the City of Quincy, and persons liable to pay taxes therein:
hereby notified to bring in to the said City,
before JUNE 1st, 1903, erfect Lists of all the Polls, and nd Estimates of all the Personal Real Estate for which you are taxes.
olding estates in trust, whether for herwise, are particularly requested e Assessors with Statements in relaestates.
estates of persons deceased have d, or have changed hands from during the past year, the Execuistrators, or other persons inter-required to give notice of such in default of such notice will be he taxes assessed.
ns for "Return of Property for n be procured of the Assessors.
ing may serve as a guide to assist Schedules and Statements:
Polls 20 years and upwards;
erest; Amount of Money on hand;
posits in Banks, etc., other than s incorporated under the laws of wealth; Railroad, Town, City, er Bonds (except those of the ); Shares and Stocks of Insurance, f and other incorporated compa-or organized under the laws of er than Massachusetts; Goods, andise and other stock in trade, out the State; Household Furnie $1,000 in value; Horses, Mules, en, Cows, other neat Cattle not year old, and Swine and Sheep six months old; Income from ade, or Employment exceeding al Property held in trust or by children.
hereby called to Section 32 of he Revised Laws. with intent to defeat or evade the w in relation to assessment or es, delivers or discloses to an assistant assessor a false or return, or schedule of property e list of his estates, not exempted shall be punished by fine not housand dollars or by imprisonexceeding one year."

AGED PROPERTY.

or mortgagee of real estate may assessors of the city or town in hin the time prescribed by the
t. 41, a statement under oath of red thereon or on each separate with the name and residence of n interest therein as mortgagor
If such property is situated in ces, or if a recorded mortgage more estates or parts of an for one sum, such statement estimate of the interest of the ch estate or part of an estate.
hall, from such statement or in the proportionate interests r or mortgagee respectively in d shall assess the same accord-y year, such statement is not ax for that year on such real e invalid merely for the reason of the mortgagee therein has d to him.—Sect. 45, Chap. 12, ent in conformity to the law brought in, the real estate will be assessed under Sects.

hap. 12 of the Revised Laws.
re the mortgagor of the real d in writing to pay all taxes no statement or return is her the mortgagee or mort-quested by the assessors in will be in session at their office and THURSDAY morn-o'clock. Blanks will be fur-cants.

THOMPSON, Chairman,
S H. JOHNSON,
M B. GLOVER,
Assessors of Quincy, Mass.
1903. p-4w--l-8t--2t a w

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. 8, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. 1p-2mos.

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

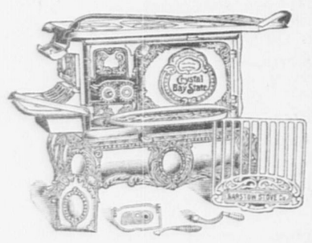

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, PRES.

April 9-1m 11-1m

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.

Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.

Come and See It.

BARSTOW STOVE CO.,
55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.

GUY'S COLISEUM,
W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 17. 4w

King Arthur Flour
MAKES THE
BEST BREAD.
SOLD BY
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.
Plumbing and Heating Co,
25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.
Telephone Connection.
April 24. 1-tf--p-1w

SPILLER'S GOLDEN COUGH BALSAM
THE KIND THAT CURES

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Inflammation of the Lungs, Lagrippe and Whooping Cough. It soothes the Cough of Consumption, and is excellent for all Lung Troubles. Try it. For sale by Weeks & Hill, Quincy, Mass. Price 25 cents.
If goods fail to give satisfaction, money refunded.

Grammar School Ball Schedule.

The teams in the league play as follows:

Willard, at Gridley Bryant, May 2.
Lincoln, at Adams, May 2.
Hancock, at Coddington, May 2.
Gridley Bryant, at Lincoln, May 6.
Coddington, at Willard, May 6.
Adams, at Hancock, May 6.
Adams, at Gridley Bryant, May 9.
Hancock, at Willard, May 9.
Coddington, at Lincoln, May 9.
Gridley Bryant, at Hancock, May 13.
Willard, at Lincoln, May 13.
Adams, at Coddington, May 13.
Coddington, at Gridley Bryant, May 16.
Willard, at Adams, May 16.
Lincoln, at Hancock, May 16.
Gridley Bryant, at Willard, May 20.
Adams, at Lincoln, May 20.
Coddington, at Hancock, May 20.
Lincoln, at Gridley Bryant, May 23.
Willard, at Coddington, May 23.
Hancock, at Adams, May 23.
Gridley Bryant, at Adams, May 27.
Hancock, at Willard, May 27.
Lincoln, at Coddington, May 27.
Hancock, at Gridley Bryant, May 30.
Lincoln, at Willard, May 30.
Coddington, at Adams, May 30.
Gridley Bryant, at Coddington, June 3.
Adams, at Willard, June 3.
Hancock, at Lincoln, June 3.

To look well

your blood must be pure to give your complexion that peculiar freshness which can only be obtained when your system is in good working order. Beecham's Pills will put you in condition.

To feel well

you must be well. Your digestive organs must be doing their work properly. Beecham's Pills act like oil on machinery, and will give you the snap and vigor that only comes with perfect health.

To keep well

every organ must be doing its duty—stomach, liver and kidneys must each be in thorough working order. If you are not as well as you ought to be

Take a small dose of

BEECHAM'S PILLS

They will set you right.

Sold Everywhere
10 Cents and 25 Cents

King Arthur Flour.
THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

SATURDAY
COATS.
17
SILK LINED COVERT
Corset Coats
Made to sell for $10.00.
Saturday only, $5.98

Also a full line of Misses' and Children's Coats at very low prices.

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK
A SPECIALTY.
Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.
Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.
Address, 1362 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
Quincy, April 10. tflp

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

Cleveland's
BAKING POWDER

MAKES HOME BAKING EASY, AND HOME BAKED FOOD SUPERIOR TO THE BAKER'S.

"Cakes, muffins, etc., in which Cleveland's Baking Powder is used will keep better." MARION HARLAND.

BRAINTREE.

Miss Clara Connell has closed her school in Aiken, N. C., and is home for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cummings have returned from Atlantic City. Mr. Cummings is much improved in health.

Miss Gertrude Berry and Miss Helen A. Cuff attended the banquet of the Knights of Columbus in Rockland, Thursday evening.

The Brunswick house looks imposing with its large two and one half story addition containing twelve rooms on the Pearl street side of the building.

The alarm from box 42, Thursday evening, at about 11 o'clock, was caused by a fire upon the roof of a repair shop in the freight yard. The flames were quickly subdued by extinguishers. Damage, slight, not exceeding fifteen dollars.

Mrs. Dunkerly of Taylor street leaves today for Utica, New York.

Mrs. Belle E. Woodward of Newport, N. H., formerly of this place, has been visiting Mrs. W. N. McKean during the past week.

Mrs. Mayo, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Maurice Colbert, for the past five weeks, returned to her home in Provincetown Thursday morning.

The Flower of the Family, the drama which was so admirably presented in Cochato hall, some weeks ago, will by request, be given by the same cast by the Jonas Perkins association Friday evening, May 15th.

Mrs. T. H. Dearing, Miss S. Emma Keith, Miss Elizabeth Kingsbury, Miss Helen Keith and Miss Charlotte Thomas were among those who attended the twenty-six annual meeting of the Norfolk and Pilgrim branch Woman's Board of Missions held at East Weymouth on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have returned from Washington.

Mrs. O. W. Hollis entertained this week Miss Maud Andrews of Milton and Mr. Ernest Andrews of Harvard '03.

All Souls' church social has been postponed as the Cochato club theatricals had first claim on the hall for May first.

Mrs. Herbert Pratt and son of Gloucester are visiting Mr. S. F. Pratt.

Mr. and Mrs. Cushing Faxon of River street, welcomed a little daughter on Tuesday last.

John P. Robery has the contract for watering the streets this year and the sprinkler was out Tuesday for the first time.

About twenty Philergians met with Mrs. Clayton Freeman, Tuesday afternoon, and listened to an instructive expose of sweat shop evils and the remedy. The statement that even some home-workers in Boston are obliged to make children's dresses for the pitiful sum of twenty-five cents a dozen seems incredible, yet the charge was substantiated to the satisfaction of the Philergians.

Bids for suppling the schools of the town with coal were opened at a special meeting of the School Committee Monday Evening. The contract for ninety tons of soft coal for Jonas Perkins School was awarded to J. F. Sheppard & Sons while the Woodsum Coal Company were the lowest bidders for hard coal and received the contract for one hundred and eighty-six tons for the other schools.

Amana Rebekah lodge observed the eighty-fourth anniversary of Odd Fellowship in America by an entertainment for the children of the members and their friends on Thursday evening at Odd Fellows hall. Phonograph selections, songs by Master Eastman, Mrs. Horace French and Master Merchant and piano solos by Master Abell, made a pleasing musical entertainment. A peanut hunt was enjoyed by the children. Ernest Woodsum secured the prize by finding one hundred and twenty six. The children were formed in line, the smallest first, and marched to the banquet hall where the tables were filled with May baskets. When the bright colored baskets were surrounded by the bright faces of the children it made a pretty picture. A social dance closed the evening's entertainment.

Engineer Cottrell was called out by the ringing of the engine bell, Monday afternoon, at 3.45 o'clock, to assist James Cutting, forest fire warden to extinguish a fire in the woods, adjoining Grove street, caused by sparks from an engine on the Plymouth track Assistance was called in the hope of saving corded wood that was cut last winter. The fire raged for about three hours and burned one half cord of wood and two acres of underbrush.

Rev. Peter McQueen, in the course of a sermon delivered in the South Congregational church, Palm Sunday, stated that the vegetable kingdom far surpassed the animal and mineral kingdom in strength. By word pictures Mr. McQueen proved that even a city like Boston, if deprived of human life, would in one hundred years become a forest, with all trace of man's work obliterated. An exemplification of this idea is the already strong growth of willows in the cellar at the corner of Pearl and Hancock streets.

CITY BREVITIES.

Miss Ethel McGee of Copeland street is ill with diphtheria.

There will be a dance at the Wollaston yacht club tonight.

The summer cottage at Point Allerton owed by Mr. Benjamin F. Curtis has been sold.

Mr. Harold Winslow of East Elm avenue has sold his boat, Sappho, to Mr. Arthur Sadlier of Elm avenue, Wollaston Park.

The cruising knockabout Dixie built by the Hanley Construction Company, for John M. Bird of New York is nearly completed and will go into commission in a few weeks.

The Poverty party, which was postponed some time ago by the North Quincy club, will take place on Tuesday evening, May 5, in the Norfolk Downs hall.

Mr. John Dunham, a favorite of Quincy, who has been in poor health for the past three months, has gone to White Hall, New York, for a few months; if his health does not improve he will go to Colorado.

Put Out the Fire.

Officer Boutin found a gang of boys on Liberty street last night carrying an outbilding through the street. The building was on fire and the evident intention of the boys was to dump it into the brook. When they saw the officer the boys dropped their burden and ran. The officer extinguished the blaze with buckets of water. The outbuilding had been taken from one of the stone sheds in that vicinity.

Civil Trial List.

The following cases are marked for trial at the Civil session of the district court next Tuesday:

122. Ford vs. Swithin Bros. Granite Co. and National Granite Bank, tr.
130. Bates vs. N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R.

—Andrew Carnegie does not intend to be outdone by the Czar of Russia, who has recently completed the longest railroad in the world, for he completes nothing less than connecting the railroad systems of North and South America, so that one can ride from New York to Cape Horn without changing cars. It will cost something like $200,000,000. As a guarantee of good faith and to show that he is in earnest, Mr. Carnegie has begun by offering to defray the expenses of a Pan-American commissioner who is to visit the heads of the various South American governments to secure their co-operation. Should the South Americans prove as enthusiastic as are their representatives at Washington, Mr. Carnegie promises to finance the scheme of a Pan-American railway and raise the $200,000,000 necessary to construct the missing links between New York and Buenos Ayres. The total distance between the two cities is something over 10,000 miles, of which fully 5,000 miles still remain to be constructed—a distance in itself as great as the entire length of the Trans-Siberian railway. — Alexander Hume Ford in Collier's Weekly.

A Card.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Grecne's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.
E. J. MURPHY,
L. G. MURRAY,
A. F. COPELAND,
G. A. LORING Wollaston.

Stitchers Wanted.

EXPERIENCED on Ladies' Wrappers. Wheeler & Wilson power machines of the latest improved style. Steady work the year round, and good pay. Also, help wanted to take work home. Apply to MRS. A. L. WILBUR, Tirrell Building, 1467 Hancock street, over Old Colony Laundry, Quincy.
May 2. 1po-tf

STEEL TRUST'S HEAD.

Why Charles M. Schwab Will Be Re-elected as President.

DEEMED AN EXPERT IN HIS LINE.

Holland Says His Vast Ability In Every Branch of Work Necessary Is Recognized by Stockholders of U. S. Steel Corporation—Carnegie's Tribute to His Knowledge.

In the little German-American principality of Hoboken, N. J., the greatest of any of the world's corporations held the other day one of the littlest of annual meetings, so far as numbers were concerned, says Holland, the New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Press. It was a stockholders' meeting of the United States Steel corporation, and any stockholder had a right—and, in fact, every stockholder was asked—to be present and to vote upon the propositions, some of which involved the expenditure of $36,000,000, and some of which needed the stockholders' approval for certain formalities precedent to the issuing of $250,000,000 of bonds.

The attendance of stockholders seems to have been in inverse ratio to the magnitude of the propositions that were to be approved or rejected. And yet there were represented at this meeting about 4,000,000 shares of stock, a majority of the owners of which had delegated their right to vote to two or three men. They might have put all their proxies into one hat and committed the power of attorney over them so far as voting was concerned to Mr. Perkins or to some other stockholder, since the stockholders seem to have been of one mind, to have had a common understanding, and that one of approval for everything the directors recommended.

The directors will re-elect Charles M. Schwab as president of this corporation.

Mr. Schwab will owe his re-election partly to the conviction that as a master workman in the industry of iron and steel production, an expert along all the lines of production from the mining of the ore to the marketing of the finished product, there is none other who is his superior, and it would be almost safe to say not any other who is in every respect his equal. He will also owe his re-election to the unwavering confidence Andrew Carnegie has in Mr. Schwab's ability to direct that corporation without error or at least with less error so far as manufacturing and marketing are concerned than any other would be able to do it.

Furthermore, he will owe his re-election to the fact that some of those who were disposed last fall and winter to look about for a successor to Mr. Schwab discovered that it was far easier to want a successor than to find one, for, although they had in mind one or two men of distinguished ability, of great tact and masterly business diplomacy, a suave and yet a disciplinarian's manner in that great field that is partly political, partly financial, partly statesmanlike, which is a part of the outlook of the United States Steel corporation, nevertheless these men lack some one of the qualities which brought Mr. Schwab from an apprentice place to that of president of the Carnegie corporation within twenty years and through no other influence than his own merit.

Mr. Schwab was also in possession, sometimes nine points of advantage in a corporation as it is said to be in law. There is no doubt that Mr. Carnegie, whose individual interests are probably greater than those of any other one of the rich men a part of whose possessions are in this corporation, would not listen to any suggestion that another than Mr. Schwab be chosen president of this corporation unless some one could be named whose practical experience and ability in the production of everything that issues from an iron and steel manufacturer could match the experience and ability of Mr. Schwab.

There is a saying in New York that Mr. Carnegie said last winter: "You can find financiers, and you can find politicians and high grade business men, but where will you find another who has the expert knowledge of the manufacture of iron and steel which Charlie Schwab possesses."

ALFONSO NOT A WEAKLING.

Dr. Lorenz Tells of the Spanish King's Strength.

Dr. Adolf Lorenz, famous bloodless surgeon, who operated on Lolita Armour, recently said to a reporter of the New York World while in Chicago:

"I want to tell you about the young king of Spain. I have just come from Madrid. Maria Christina is an Austrian. She sent for me when she heard I was in Madrid. She met me in a great room in the palace and was very gracious.

"The king entered, and judge of my surprise to see that he was not a puny weakling, as I had heard he was. Why, the king is six feet tall if he is an inch. His shoulders are broad. He has a strong chest.

"You are not weak, your majesty," I said.

"In answer to me he seized his mother, the dowager queen, about the waist and carried her around the room. She struggled and laughed, and he said he would put her on his shoulder if she did not cease."

Kaiser's Liking For Tall Soldiers.

The German emperor appears to share the admiration of Frederick the Great for gigantic soldiers. He has picked out the half dozen tallest officers and men of his army to accompany him on his trip to Rome.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING.

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - - 60 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

LOST.

LOST—A Rubber Tire from a buggy. Suitable reward will be paid on return to PENNIMAN & SON'S Stable, Depot avenue. Quincy, May 1. 3t

WANTED.

WANTED—A Gentlemen's Place, by a middle aged married man, with long experience and A 1 reference. For particulars, write or call. HARRY JOHNSON, 86 Granite street, Quincy. May 1-2t

WANTED—Money on first mortgages. Address Box 185 Quincy Post Office.
April 16. eod tf

MEN, not under 25 years, to call on old and new customers. No delivering. Position permanent to the right party. Pay weekly. GLEN BROTHERS, Rochester, N. Y.
April 23. 6w--thurs. sat. tues.

WANTED—Saleslady. Quincy 5 and 10 Cent Store.
April 30. tf

WANTED.

WANTED—Young Men to prepare for Government Positions. Fine Openings in all Departments. Good Salaries. Rapid Promotions. Examinations soon. Particulars Free. Inter-State Cor. Inst., Cedar Rapids, Ia.
April 27. 1p-1m

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE. Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office.
April 28. tf

FOR SALE—A lot of young hardy Rose Bushes. Apply at 90 Washington street, Quincy.
Quincy, April 28. 6t

FOR Sale—Garden Loam and Sods. Apply to GEORGE I. LINTON, 24 Pearl street, or THOMAS WHELAM, Wollaston.
April 27. 6t

FOR SALE—The 21-foot gasolene launch Lone Star. Now in water in perfect running order. For particulars address FRANK M. COE, Atlantic. April 27—6t

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve [12] rooms with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street.
Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

TO LET.

TO LET—Rooms at 48 Revere road, furnished or unfurnished. One large front room furnished, several smaller rooms. House newly renovated also new bath room. Terms reasonable. May 2-3t

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy.
April 8. w. th. s. m.--tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet. 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street.
Quincy, April 21. tf

TO LET—House, 8 rooms, No. 59 Coddington street, with bath, furnace, electric lights. Apply to H. M. FAXON, Adams building. Apr. 16-tf

TO LET—In Quincy Centre, house of 6 Rooms and Stable. Rent, $20 per month. Apply to FRANK FESSENDEN CRANE, 4 Chestnut Street. apr. 9-pl tf

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.
Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

TO LET.

Westerly Half of House, No 56 Coddington street, 10 rooms, city water, now occupied by E. George Sanborn.

Farm, head of Summer street, with house and out-buildings, now occupied by Anderson and Frieberg.

Easterly Half House, No. 59 Pond street, 5 rooms, now occupied by James F. Mullin.

Tenement, 4 rooms, No. 1597 Hancock street, now occupied by Charles Rose.

Stable, Woodward avenue, now occupied by Charles Fostello.

Apply, HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, April 30. 6t

TO LET.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

FOR SALE or TO LET.

HOUSE of 8 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Just completed. Apply to ASA O. A. SEWELL, 12 Charles street, Quincy Point. Reliable Houses built to order at lowest prices and sold on easy terms.
April 7. 1m

CHINA IN BAD PLIGHT

Experiencing a Mixture of Peace and Conflict

HER TROOPS ARE DESERTING

Going Over to Rebels and Taking Rifles and Munitions of War With Them—Boxer Camps In Open Practice—Move to Expel Foreigners

New York, May 2.—The American Bible society has made public a group of reports concerning the internal troubles of China. Its superintendent for North China, Charles F. Gammon of Portland, Me., writes from Tien Tsin, North China, March 21, as follows:

"A rebellion is in progress in Kuang Hsi and the government has been totally unable to suppress it, while at the same time endeavoring to reassure the foreign ministers. Meanwhile the rebellion has grown, the governor has been removed, but with no better result, and we hardly know what may come of this evident determination on the part of the people there to fight to the end. The troops sent against the rebels have gone over to the enemy in large numbers, taking their rifles and munitions of war with them, and the movement has gained daily in favor.

"In this province I have been surprised to see something of regeneration among the old-time Boxers. Indeed, some camps have been in open practice, and a few days ago the district official was directly attacked and barely escaped with his life. They were led by a woman in the position of a goddess, and she and eight others were captured and at once decapitated. Both parties suffered some loss of life in and during the attack on the magistrate.

"China at present is a strange mixture of peace and conflict, but the officials are doing all in their power to protect foreigners, and there has been no sign of anti-foreign plans as yet except in the gossip one hears constantly."

Under date of March 27, Superintendent Gammon writes: "I want soon, if possible, to write you fully of the conditions in the north. There are many little camps of Boxers springing up, with the motto, 'Kill the (Manchu) dynasty and expel the foreigners,' and it looks as if matters were about to get bad again. The winter has been absolutely dry, ruining the spring crops—a thing that always means a multitude of suffering and discontented people ready for any mischief, and the collection of taxes for indemnity is another thorn in the flesh of the masses, as it is made the excuse for exorbitant demands that the officials may enrich themselves. So far, however, our relations with the people are all pleasant."

From Shanghai, April 4, Superintendent Hykes writes that "there are some ugly rumors current in the northern part of Hu Peh, as well as in the more northern provinces, and some facts which have recently reached me seem to lend color to them. On March 12 a large number of Chinese troops from the Hunan province passed through Fancheng for Shensi. It is very unusual to send troops from Hunan to Shensi in time of peace, and this incident strengthens the rumor that Prince Tuan and Tung Fu Hsiang have sent an ultimatum to the empress dowager that she must depose the emperor and put the ex-heir apparent, Pu Chun, son of Prince Tuan, on the throne, or they will take the two provinces of Kansu and Shensi and make them a separate kingdom with its capital at Hsian.

City Hall Offices Ransacked

Lowell, Mass., May 2.—Some persons entered two of the offices at city hall last evening while the hall was closed or during the holding of a meeting in another part of the building. Desks and drawers were opened and papers and books were ransacked and scattered on the floor in search, it is supposed, for money. The object of the breaks is not known.

Graveyard Insurance Conviction

New York, May 2.—The jury in the case of Joseph Trepani, charged with grand larceny, brought in a verdict of guilty. Trepani was charged with being the leader of the conspiracy to defraud a number of life insurance companies by foisting bogus deaths upon the companies for persons who had been insured. He was remanded until Monday for sentence.

Commander Hooker Dead

New York, May 2.—Commander Edward Hooker, retired, died at his home in Brooklyn after a long illness. He was born at Farmington, Conn., in 1822. He retired at the age of 62. He took an active part in the naval operations for the union in the Civil war.

On the Diamond

At Brooklyn—National—Brooklyn, 9; Boston, 5.
At Cincinnati—National—Cincinnati, 6; Chicago, 0.
At Philadelphia—National—New York, 11; Philadelphia, 3.
At Boston—American—Boston, 4; Philadelphia, 2.
At New York—American—New York, 8; Washington, 3.
At Chicago—American—Chicago, 5; Detroit, 1.
At Cleveland—American—St. Louis, 9; Cleveland, 8.
At Lowell—Lowell, 7; Lawrence, 5.
At Manchester—Haverhill, 21; Manchester, 13.
At Nashua—Nashua, 4; Brockton, 8.
At Concord—Concord, 20; Fall River, 12.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

May Starts Off With Bright Outlook In the Industrial World

New York, May 2.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Industrial progress did not suffer any severe check on May 1. Many threatened labor controversies were averted and, by adjustment of differences, resumption of work occurred at numerous idle plants. While organized labor in the United States has been contending for higher wages and shorter hours, with such success as to secure better terms than ever before, strikes in other nations have been against lower wages and not always successful. Consequently, it is only natural that immigration should eclipse all previous records.

At the leading cities high temperature has stimulated the distribution of seasonable merchandise at retail, but dry goods, jobbers and commission houses report only a fair trade. Leading manufacturing lines are active, except for some hesitancy at textile mills. In iron and steel, footwear, furniture, harness and clothing there is little idle machinery. Structural work is vigorously prosecuted.

Textile mills have not yet felt any stimulus from better conditions, although improvement in retail trade will ultimately accelerate jobbing sales, which in turn will increase purchases from the manufacturers.

Exceptionally favorable conditions exist in the footwear industry, New England producers shipping more heavily than ever before and jobbers are still purchasing freely of heavy shoes.

Heavy Revenue From Liquor Licenses

New York, May 2.—High license has gone into effect in this city and as a result 718 hotels and saloon keepers in Manhattan and the Bronx will go out of business. Notwithstanding the decrease in the number of certificates issued the receipts for license fees amounted to $10,135,787, an increase of $2,945,037 over last year. This amount does not come up to the expectation of those who favored the new excise bill. Under the new law licenses were advanced from $600 to $900 in Brooklyn, and from $800 to $1200 in Manhattan and the Bronx.

Rhode Island's Forest Fires

Providence, May 2.—Forest fires in the southern section of the state near Washington have caused a damage of between $25,000 and $30,000 in the last few days, and a brush blaze in the western part, near Bridgton, has caused considerable damage. The woodland in the vicinity of Hope is ablaze and that in the town of Richmond is threatened. The farmers are making a determined effort to extinguish the flames, but they are handicapped by the high wind.

Notable Victories For Labor

Boston, May 2.—More than 15,000 members of various trades unions in this city were granted their May day demands for increased wages or shorter hours, or both, and there are now barely 1000 trade unionists who have not yet succeeded in obtaining the signatures of their employers to new scales. Negotiations are progressing most favorably, however, and there is good prospect that all their differences will soon be satisfactorily adjusted.

Aldermen's Powers Curtailed

New York, May 2.—Mayor Low has approved the bill depriving the board of aldermen of authority in the future to change the map or plan of the city or to change grades. The measure was bitterly fought by the aldermen, who contended that it was one of the many measures introduced by Albany legislatures from time to time tending to eventually deprive the city fathers of all but minor powers.

Witness Tells of "Protection" Money

Minneapolis, May 2.—The trial of former Mayor Ames has begun after three days consumed in getting a jury. The indictment charges Dr. Ames with receiving a bribe of $600 from a number of abandoned women as a protection fee. The first witness called by the prosecution was Irving A. Gardner, who testified that he turned over to Dr. Ames the money collected from the women.

Official Opinion on Frank Disaster

Ottawa, May 2.—W. W. Leach of the geological survey telegraphs from Frank: The Frank disaster is simply a great rock slide, from the top of Turtle mountain. The mass of rocks displaced varies in depth from 10 to 100 feet. Turtle mountain is a compressed fold or anti-clinal axis of carboniferous limestone, dipping at a very high angle to the west.

Keeping Children Out of Mills

Charleston, May 2.—The child labor law has gone into effect throughout South Carolina. Under its provisions no child under 10 can legally work in any cotton mill. An exception is made by the law where the labor of children under the prescribed age is absolutely necessary to the support of a widowed mother or helpless father.

Sensational Story Exploded

Port of Spain, May 2.—There is no truth in the report that 15 of the crew of the British cruiser Pallas had been killed and a number wounded in rioting here. There have been no disorders here recently.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Sunday, May 3.
Sun rises 4:38; sets—6:45.
Moon sets—12:16 a. m.
High water—4:45 a. m.; 5:15 p. m.

The summer conditions in the northeastern part of the country have been succeeded by much colder, fair weather. The temperature in some places fell as much as 40 degrees in 24 hours and continues much below the seasonal average. Fair weather is indicated for New England.

A FLOATING BATTERY.

Anson Phelps Stokes Explains His Latest Invention.

GOT IDEA FROM A FIGHTING ISLAND

Diamond Rock, In the Caribbean Sea, Which Served as a Novel Stone Sloop of War For the British Navy In 1804, Led Him to Invent His Fighting Machine—Some of Its Economic Features.

Anson Phelps Stokes, who returned to New York recently from a cruise in the yacht Sea Fox in the West Indies, told a representative of the New York Tribune something about his invention, the floating globular battery. He said:

"While cruising in the Caribbean sea I sailed close to Diamond rock, a very remarkable little island about one mile south of Martinique. It is almost square, 574 feet high and with precipitous sides. This rock was formerly rated as a sloop of war on the books of the British admiralty.

"In January, 1804, Sir Samuel Hood laid his seventy-four gun ship Centaur close alongside this rock, to the top of which he made fast a hawser on which was a traveler. He then hauled three long 24 pounders and two 18 pounders to the top and left them in charge of Lieutenant Maurice with 120 men and boys with ammunition, provisions and water. The crew built a cistern, and for fifteen months this novel sloop of war did great injury to the French shipping going to and from the neighboring harbor, now called Fort of France, until June 1, 1805, when she surrendered for want of powder to a French squadron of two seventy-four gun ships, a corvet, a schooner and eleven gunboats. In this engagement the novel stone sloop of war Diamond Rock killed and wounded seventy men and destroyed three gunboats, with a loss to herself of two killed and one wounded.

"Reading this story as quoted by Kingsley from 'Naval Chronicles,' volume 12, page 206, and passing Diamond rock in 1898 and last year, led me to invent an armored globular battery, for which the United States and foreign governments have granted me patents.

"My rough preliminary sketches show a globular battery seventy feet in diameter and carrying two 15 inch guns fifty feet in length, having a range of about twenty miles, besides smaller guns.

"The great guns are rigidly fixed, and the elevation is effected by tilting the whole globular battery. This is done by weighted cars moving on sectional tracks. The azimuths are regulated by four screw propellers, which revolve the battery horizontally and have also the faculty of moving it from place to place."

Mr. Stokes' patent application supplies these other particulars:

"It will be seen that by reason of the spherical shape of my battery or vessel considerable weight is saved in construction, and from this, and especially by allowing the guns to extend across most of the vessel, much heavier guns can be carried. Considerable economy in the cost of construction results from the spherical shape of the battery, for the reason that a large number of the parts are mere duplicates of each other and for other reasons obvious to a naval constructor. Another item of economy results from the fact that no gun carriage is used to hold the large guns. These carriages must necessarily be very expensive, and their omission not only saves a considerable expense, but produces a safer and more secure mount for the heaviest guns. The heavy armor covering for doors, windows and portholes can be more easily supported and more safely moved on the upper part of a spherical surface than on the vertical or nearly vertical sides of an ordinary ship. The spherical form of most of the vessel, combined with the bulging or frustoconical bottom and its conical openings, and the placing of the center of gravity of the guns at or near that of the vessel give additional stability which is not found in vessels of the ordinary type. The launch and cutter are carried within the protection of the heavy armor and may be easily launched by depressing the port by means of the counterpoises.

"Thus all the features of my invention combine to produce a floating battery that is economical in construction and maintenance, of great power in offensive operations and practically impregnable."

Health Resort For Horses.

It will surprise many persons in the United States to learn that Uncle Sam is using his good offices to furnish baths for horses, but a lease just granted by the interior department discloses this fact, says the Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune. The lease grants to a man in Hot Springs, Ark., where there is a government reservation, the privilege of furnishing hot water for a pool bath for the treatment of horses that are, so to speak, under the weather. Horses that have had too high living and, like the blue blood of the human race, suffer from rheumatism, sciatica, gout, etc., can hereafter find the balm of Gilead at Hot Springs, and, what is more, without price if need be. Veterinary surgeons believe that the waters there are so beneficial in human cases that they must of necessity be equally productive of good to the equines. The springs are popular with the blue blooded animal stock of the country, and many race horses with records and pedigrees of high and low degree make regular pilgrimages to the resort.

COLOR IGNORANCE.

It Is a Matter Wholly Apart From Color Blindness.

Color blindness was the topic under discussion. "They tell me I'm color blind," said the lawyer, "but I don't believe it. Often, I admit, I make mistakes in colors. I say that pink is red, I say that green is blue. But it is only the names of the colors I am off in. I am not, I insist, color blind." The oculist who was in the party nodded approval.

"Exactly," he said. "These diagnosticians of yours mistake your case. They take color ignorance for color blindness. Here they are as wrong as though they should say music ignorance was music blindness—as though, I mean, because you could not tell that a certain struck note was 'E flat,' you were dead to all musical gradations. Some years ago, when the examination in colors of railroad men was inaugurated, a howl went up over the amazing amount of color blindness in America, and many a good man lost his job unjustly. These men had been off in the names of colors, not in the colors themselves. They could in a day or two have been taught what they lacked. Many of them, it is likely, were not color blind. I say this because recently I heard of an examination of 800 railroad men that was conducted in the proper way on an English line. About seventy of these men were a little off regarding color nomenclature, but not a single one of them was color blind."—Philadelphia Record.

Oriental Squatters.

Most artists depicting the east show men sitting crosslegged, tailor fashion. Easterners don't sit like that. Usually they stick their calves beneath them, sit on their heels and with the soles of the feet pointed upward, a painful posture for an occidental. The Hindoo usually rests on his haunches, with his knees pyramid style and his chin on their level. Try that attitude ten minutes and see how you like it.

Traveling eastward, as soon as you touch Turkey you reach a district where sitting on the floor is the custom. You may then journey on for thousands of miles, also north and south, and the millions in that region are all floor squatters. When you arrive in China, however, then you are among other millions who sit on chairs. Go over to Japan, and then you get among squatters again. The question is, Why should the Chinese, among all the nations of the east, use chairs?

How Romans Took Their Food.

The Romans reclined at their banquets on couches, all supporting themselves on one elbow and eating with their fingers from dishes placed in the center of the table. Each was supplied with a napkin, and knives were used, though it does not appear that every one was supplied with one. Nothing, it would seem, could be more fatiguing than to partake of a repast in such an awkward posture or less conducive to neatness, it being almost impossible to keep the hands clean even with water supplied by the slaves or to prevent the food and wine from falling on the clothing and the draperies of the couch. This manner of eating disappeared during the dark ages so far as the couch was concerned, but the peculiarity of taking the food with fingers from a common dish continued afterward for more than 1,000 years.

The Mind During Sleep.

"During sleep," says an authority on mental subjects, "the workings of the mind are under no control, and yet it seems to have a wonderful faculty of building up and arranging scenes and incidents. I remember once having a vivid dream of going into a house the furniture and inmates of which belonged to the middle ages. So clear was the dream that I had no difficulty in recalling it, and then as I went over each detail of dress, armor, jewelry, ornaments and other objects seen in my vision I realized that everything I had beheld was historically accurate—that is to say, that probably in a fraction of a second my mind had conjured up a scene to construct which, with the same faithfulness to detail, while awake would have taken me several hours."

Marvelous Memories.

Among men noted for wonderful memories were Milton, who was said to be able to repeat Homer; Professor Lawson, who boasted that he could repeat the whole of the Bible, except a few verses; Lord Macaulay, who made the same boast about "Pilgrim's Progress" and "Paradise Lost;" Dr. Lerden, a friend of Sir Walter Scott, who could repeat an act of parliament on hearing it read but once, and a London reporter, who took no notes, but could write out an unexpected debate verbatim. Henry Clay could not memorize a single stanza of a poem, but never forgot a name, a face or an argument.

A Training Table.

"Friend of mine today," said Mr. Kidder, "was talking of coming here to board."

"I hope," remarked Mrs. Starvem, "you were pleased to recommend our table and"—

"Sure! Told him it was just the thing for him. He's a pugilist and wants to increase his reach."—Catholic Standard and Times.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

A PICTURE GAME.

One That Will Result In Plenty of Fun and Laughter.

Here is a splendid game to introduce when you have a party of girls and boys with you at your house for an evening's good time. It is called the picture game. Those engaged in it sit around a table, and each player is supplied with a piece of writing paper folded into three parts and a lead pencil. Each one sketches a head and neck of a person or animal, taking care that his neighbor does not see his work. Then each refolds the paper so as to hide his or her sketch, but leaves indications of where the body is to be joined to the neck. The papers then change hands all around, and each proceeds to sketch a body for the head he has not seen. This accomplished, the papers are folded as before. Another change takes place, and all proceed to supply the nether limbs to the unseen bodies just as previously when supplying bodies for the invisible heads. When all this is done, another change of papers takes place, and each writes a name of the supposed animal or person above it. When the papers are unfolded, shouts of laughter at the absurd combinations in the pictures or the addresses given them are usually heard.

This game may be varied in a poetical way thus: The first one to write a line, fold the paper and give the last word of the line to his neighbor as the paper is passed. The next one writes a line, the last word to rhyme with the one before it, and so on till the paper has passed around the table. An easy word to rhyme, like sea, makes it more interesting.

A Game With Figures.

An interesting game by which a boy or girl may while away many a pleasant hour is the following: It is played with an antagonist, each in turn placing a number on paper from one to six, adding them up mentally as they proceed. The person who succeeds in placing the last figure which shall make the column add up 30 wins the game.

The player unacquainted with the secret always loses. The explanation involves the number 9. Your friend has written, say, 6. You put down, say, 3, which will add up 9. Your friend puts down, say, 1. You put down 6, for the second addition must equal 7. Again he puts down, say, 5. You make it 7 by adding 2. He puts down, say, 3. You again make it 7 by putting 4. The addition foots 30, and as you have put down the last figure you have won. Be careful to make the first addition 9 and the following three 7 each, and victory will never desert you.

The Wily Giraffe.

Perhaps the most difficult of all wild animals to capture is the giraffe. In addition to being very rare, giraffes are exceedingly timid and are very swift footed. There is no special way to capture a giraffe, as almost every way has been tried, and all have been almost equally unsuccessful. The method which has occasionally resulted in a capture is by using a long cord, at each end of which is a round weight. This cord is thrown by the hunter in such a manner as to wind round the animal's legs, either bringing it to ground or rendering it incapable of escaping before it is made a prisoner. Most of the giraffes in captivity have been caught by chance when young.

Be on Time.

Boys, learn to always be on time. A conductor's watch is behind time, and a frightful railway accident occurs. A leading firm with enormous assets becomes bankrupt because an agent is tardy in transmitting available funds, as ordered. An innocent man is hanged because the messenger bearing a reprieve should have arrived five minutes earlier. A man is stopped five minutes to hear a trivial story and misses a train or steamer by one minute.—"Pushing to the Front."

Poor Puss.

Poor puss is a fine game if played correctly. The girls all remain seated, and the boys go around the room with a saucer of milk and a spoon, and after giving the girls a sip each says, "Take that, my pretty puss," to which "puss" must gravely answer, "Mew!" Laughter must be severely punished by a forfeit.

Polly and Her Dollies.

Polly is reading aloud to her dollies
An interesting tale from her favorite book,
But her dollies soon found it too deep
And have quietly fallen asleep,
As Polly would see
If she were not too busy to look!
—M. O. Kobbe in St. Nicholas.

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER,
LEADED STAINED GLASS,
Decorator and Paper Hanger,
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

$3 Worth of Nursery Stock for $1.
IN Order to establish our trade with you, we will send you twelve McKinley Strawberries, six Columbian Raspberries, one Campbell Early Grape Vine, four apple and four peach trees, standard varieties, all for one dollar. Do not fail to write for our wholesale catalogue.
ROCHESTER & BRIGHTON NURSERIES,
Rochester, N. Y. Feb. 25-10w

FULL STOCK
—OF—
HATCHET
BRAND GOODS,
—AT—
Brooks' Market,
Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 25. tf

SMOKE THE GOVERNESS.
UNION MADE.
Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers
Manufactured by
P. A. NELSON,
59 Granite Street.
Quincy, Nov. 11. 6mos.

Dr. Emmons'
Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

s and Outs of Overcoats.

OF THE WINTER COAT INTO SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction. . . . . PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

L. MORTON, Tailor,

High Street, Cor. Summer,

BOSTON, MASS

minutes from South Station.

EWIS N. CURTIS,

NTER, GLAZIER,

EADED STAINED GLASS.

rator and Paper Hanger.

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.

hard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

Worth of Nursery Stock for $1.

rder to establish our trade with you, we ll send you twelve McKinley Straw- six Columbian Raspberries, one Camp- rly Grape Vine, four apple and four rees, standard varieties, all for one dollar. Mail to write for our wholesale catalogue. ESTER & BRIGHTON NURSERIES, ter, N. Y. Feb. 25-10w

FULL STOCK

—OF—

HATCHET

AND GOODS,

—AT—

ooks' Market,

er Seville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

tf

SMOKE THE

OVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

t Cigar in the Market, Long Filler Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

A. NELSON,

9 Granite Street.

ov. 11. 6mos.

. Emmons'

gulator has brought happiness to anxious women. There is positive. emedy known to medical science quickly and safely do the work. most obstinate irregularities from lieved immediately. Success guar- stage. No pain, danger, or inter- work. Have relieved hundreds of others have failed. The most diffi- cessfully treated by mail, and ben- guaranteed in every instance. No er. We treat hundreds of ladies ver see. Write for further particu- confidential advice. Do not put off letters truthfully answered. Re- remedy is absolutely safe under e condition and positively leaves fect upon the health. Sent by mail, ed, $2.00. Money letters should be DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tre- ston, Mass.

Pure as the Pines,

antiseptic and hygienic,

PACKER'S Tar Soap

is a luxurious cleanser and purifier. Unrivalled for the hair and skin. 30 years the standard.

Sold everywhere.

THE PACKER MFG. CO., 81 Fulton St., N. Y.

RICHARDS & MACOMBER,

PAINTERS and DECORATORS.

Whitewashing a Specialty. Sign Painting, Grain- ing. Kalsomining, Glazing.

Interior and Exterior House Painting. WE EMPLOY SKILLED WORKMEN ON

Drop us a postal and we will call at your residence and estimate your work.

Office and Shop, 31 SAVILLE ST.,

Bates' Block, Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, April 11. Sat., Tues. Thur. 6w

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

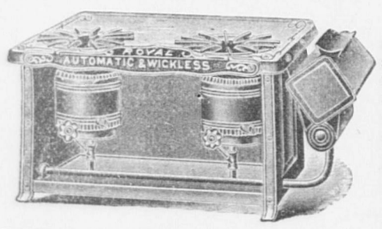

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store. Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

Blue Flame Oil Stoves.

The thrifty housskeeper has a time for everything. The time to stop burning coal and wood and to use her Blue Flame Oil Stove for cooking has arrived. The New Blue Flame Stoves we are selling this season have many improvements over last year's styles. They are so simple a child can operate them with absolute safety. It's worth your while to look them over. They cost almost nothing to run.

Prices, $4.50 to $9.00.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street. Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

FLOWERS

AT VERY LOWEST PRICES.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES,

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works, Quincy Point.

FUNERAL DESIGNS A SPECIALTY.

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy.

If You Have a House to Let,

Advertise It in the Ledger.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 3—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—What does the parable of the prodigal son teach us?—Luke xv, 11-32.

It is strange that no playwright has ever dramatized this pearl of parables. It contains a "plot" of surpassing interest, which would be always true in every age and exceedingly realistic. It has four scenes—the departure from the old home, the fast life in a far country, the sudden fall and poverty and the joyous return to the father's house.

The Saviour, I believe, had three lessons to teach from this parable. These are embodied in the three prominent characters—the elder brother, the prodigal son and the father.

First Lesson.—The story was told that Christians who are in the Father's house might take warning from the selfishness and jealousy and anger of the elder brother. There is danger that, like the elder brother, we are in the Father's house simply for what we can get out of it. He showed himself to be unkind, devoid of sympathy and charity and intensely selfish. It is possible that we may act in such a manner to the wayward men and women who are out in the world, far from our Heavenly Father's house. There is too much of the elder brother's spirit in the church of today. We should eradicate it.

Second Lesson.—The prodigal himself teaches the evil of sin, but the possibility of forgiveness and pardon. This is shown in six steps.

First Step, Alienation.—The father with his two sons was living pleasantly in the home. This is a picture of the ideal relation between God and his human children—protection on one side and obedience on the other. Some evil spirit crept into this younger son's heart and alienated his affection and obedience. How frequently it happens that we begin to get cold and indifferent to God and the church, and this feeling grows until we are alienated from our Heavenly Father. We should nip these feelings in the bud.

Second Step, Degeneration.—Evil thoughts cannot remain in the heart without producing evil deeds. "He went into a far country." We think we can get away from God and then be free to do evil. "He spent his substance in riotous living." He gambled, drank, drove fine horses, attended theaters and card parties, played billiards, treated his friends and got to the bottom of his pocket in a short time.

Third Step, Degradation.—"He began to be in want." Sin is the most expensive thing possible. Everything goes—virtue, honor, character, even his gay friends. "There arose a mighty famine in the land." Of course! Did you ever know it to fail? So long as you had plenty of money everybody else had plenty. Wake up some morning without a dollar and try to borrow, and you will find a money famine.

Fourth Step, Reflection.—Poverty, want and hunger lead a man to reflect. Sin is insanity. Reflection restores sanity. He came back to his former self. Reflection is the first step to repentance.

Fifth Step, Resolution.—"I will arise and go to my father." The "I will" was the taproot of his resolution. His will had taken him away from home; now it must bring him back.

Sixth Step, Reconciliation.—The boy acknowledged his sin and took the blame on himself. His father gladly received him and forgave him, and a complete reconciliation was made. In this story hope is held up for all.

Third Lesson.—This parable was told that we might fasten our eyes upon the Father and in Him get a glimpse of a loving, tender and compassionate God. The sweetest, grandest character of the parable is the father, and he is a picture of our Heavenly Father.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. cxix, 59, 60; Ps. li, 4; Ps. ciii, 2, 3; Eph. ii, 1; Ps. ciii, 13; Eph. v, 14; Acts ii, 39; Eph. ii, 13.

A Christian Endeavor Creed.

The late Rev. Dr. John Henry Barrows at one time stated the following, characterizing it as his "Christian Endeavor creed:"

That the ironclad pledge is the sheet anchor of success and the essential element of continued prosperity. It is a great pleasure to go to a prayer meeting and find the people there.

I believe that the society changes what is many a pastor's chief burden and anxiety—the Christian training of the young—into his chiefest joy.

I believe that it augments his knowledge and love of his young people and their knowldge and love of him beyond any other known means of securing such results.

I believe that under its happy workings I can hear my young people grow in grace as you can hear the corn grow on the Illinois prairies.

Christian Endeavorers In India.

Rev. F. S. Hatch, secretary for the United Society of Christian Endeavor for Burma, India, and Ceylon, formerly of Monson, Mass., has now completed his first year of service in that capacity, involving 15,000 miles of travel up and down the empire in every kind of conveyance and recently visiting the Telegu country. Mr. Hatch writes that in three months 10,000 have presented themselves for baptism.

Quiz Box.

[Any question may be asked that pertains to any phase of Christian Endeavor work. Address Lock Box 674, Binghamton, N. Y.]

57. H. S. Lester, N. Y.—We should regard our pastor's wishes as law.

58. K. B. L., Iron Mountain, Mich.—Try the plan as followed by the Broome County (N. Y.) union and hold a rally with every society in your county. If you are interested in the details, write again, inclosing a stamp for reply, and get the information by mail.

An HONORABLE DECEPTION

By F. A. Allmuth

Copyright, 1902, by F. A. Allmuth

"WELL, it's 12 o'clock, boys. Game's up."

The five other card players all consulted their watches and acquiesced. Cards were gathered up and chips cashed in. There was a general pushing back of chairs preparatory to rising.

"Don't go yet, boys," said the host. "Here we've been sitting for over three hours so intent on the business of poker playing that scarcely a sociable word has passed among us. Come help yourselves to cigars, draw your chairs up about the fire, and we'll act for awhile like the six good friends we are instead of like a lot of machines. I'll turn the lights low, and if any one knows a good poker story, for I suppose we won't be able to rid ourselves entirely of the atmosphere on such short notice, let's hear it."

There followed a short silence except for the crackling and sputtering of the logs. One man, the oldest of the sextet, uncrossed his legs, rested his elbows on his knees and his chin on his hands and gazed intently at the fire. He seemed to succeed in conjuring up among the glowing embers the scenes and faces he was seeking to recall, for shortly, without changing his position except to shove his feet a little nearer the blaze, he began slowly and reminiscently:

"My friends, I pride myself on being an honest man. I have earned that reputation among you and in the world at large, and I mean always to keep it. I'd rather lose every penny I possess than have the shade of a doubt cast on my name. Not one of you here tonight but would strongly resent a statement by any person to the effect that I had ever swindled a man either in business or in gambling. Am I not right in this? I feel and know that I am, and yet I once cheated at cards. Yes, and not only cheated, but defrauded my victim out of his last cent, and that while he lay dying before me."

He paused, and the others drew their chairs closer, for he spoke in a low voice, and they were by this time deeply interested. The speaker did indeed bear the honest reputation he had claimed, and the idea of his being accused of cheating at cards, even by himself, seemed almost a profanation. He never stirred from the position he had assumed and after a moment or two proceeded with his tale:

"I was but twenty-five at the time. It was just before I established myself here in New York, and I had gone to Washington to complete the sale of my Philadelphia residence to a gentleman living in the capital and there ran across an old college chum, who made me known to several other gentlemen also stopping at our hotel, with the result that we got together every evening over a friendly game of cards. The stakes were kept small, as not one among us was in the game for anything but amusement.

"The last night of my stay there a new member was introduced to our little circle. His name was unfamiliar to me, and yet I could have sworn I had seen his face somewhere, and I remember an unaccountable sense of loathing that filled me whenever I looked at him. However, as he did not seem to recognize me I forbore mentioning the matter.

"From my friend who had introduced him to us I gleaned that he was a man in good circumstances and living at the time in Washington. He had met him the year before out west. Hargrave was a good fellow, he said, and generous, but hinted that the man's private life was not above reproach. When pressed by me, he admitted that he had heard some vague rumors of a deserted wife. He begged me not to mention these matters to the others present and said apologetically that he would not have brought the man among us had it not been that Hargrave had treated him splendidly when they last met, and he felt under obligations to him.

HE BEGAN SLOWLY AND REMINISCENTLY

"The more I looked at Hargrave the more positive I grew that I had seen him before, and under circumstances not to his credit. And during the first hour's play I devoted more time to puzzling over his features than I gave to the game, with the result that I lost some money through listless playing.

"Then a jackpot was started, and I opened it on the third deal with a pair of kings. All went in, the newcomer with evident alacrity. I drew three cards, he two. I started with the limit bet of 50 cents. Unlikely as it may seem and more like a poker story than the truth, I had drawn another pair of kings, thus practically insuring me victory. However, I disliked taking the others' money on what seemed a sure thing—it was a friendly game, remember—and decided to 'call' when there was sufficient money in the pot to make up my early losses.

"Hargrave raised me the limit with ill suppressed excitement; the others 'called.' I followed, 'raising' Hargrave 50 cents. He quickly followed suit, and the others dropped out, leaving only him to contend with. This pleased me, for I had still $4 or $5 to make up, and somehow I didn't mind taking his money. So I went him fifty better. He then abruptly asked me if I were willing to take off the limit.

"I glanced at his excited face as he made the request and recognized him.

"Four years before this time a young widow of my acquaintance in Philadelphia had married. She was talented, handsome and well to do. She was liked by all who knew her, and we decried her sudden marriage to the handsome stranger who had appeared among us only a short time before. However, we hoped all would turn out well, contrary to our forebodings. He seemed to love her, and she plainly worshiped him.

I GLANCED AT HIS EXCITED FACE.

"All went well for a few months, and we were ready to acknowledge having misjudged the man when he left as suddenly as he had come, and with him disappeared practically all her wealth, which, it seems, she had turned over to him 'to carry on his business on a larger scale.' He was hunted for everywhere, but had left no trace, and after nearly a year of fruitless effort on the part of her friends and the police the search was given up. The poor little woman was prostrated with grief, and her life was despaired of. But she was brave, recovered and was at the time of my story earning a living by writing for the magazines. She endeared herself the more to her friends by her fortitude, and there were some among these that never gave up hope of finding the man who had so foully deceived her. I was especially incensed against him, for she was so close and dear a friend of my family that we almost felt her to be one of us, and whenever a clew to his whereabouts had presented itself I had followed it up relentlessly, and more than once, as I afterward found, I nearly had him, but he had always succeeded in slipping through my fingers. However, he had learned one thing—he had a determined enemy who would never let him rest till he found him.

"And here he was at last. It was a wonder to me that, after hearing my friend's account of 'Hargrave,' I did not recognize him immediately in spite of his false name and the changes he had made in his appearance. Should I denounce him then and there? There would perhaps be some difficulty in establishing his identity. I glanced at my four kings. No; I would wreak vengeance upon him in a subtler way, avoiding scandal, yet none the less surely righting the wrongs my friend had sustained at his hand. To beat the cards I held he must have either a 'straight flush' or four aces. I reasoned that since he had drawn two cards the former was out of the question, and for both four kings and four aces to appear on the same deal seemed unlikely in the extreme. Such things occur only in stories. He had probably held 'three of a kind' and had drawn a 'pair,' thus completing a 'full house.' Since I had asked for three cards he felt sure he had me beaten; hence the supreme confidence that caused his request. I had him at my mercy. I would ruin him. Would I take off the limit? Rather!

"He raised me $10. I went him $25 better. He replied with $100 more. I was by this time nearly as excited as he and was bent on ruining him. In order to accomplish this I had, of course, to get him to wager on his hand all he possessed, which should have been in the neighborhood of $10,000. It was time we had reached higher figures. I raised him $500 amid the protestations of my friends.

"He looked at me, and there was on his face the fiendish joy felt by a man when he has a hated victim by the throat. A glance of mutual recognition passed between us. It was evident that neither would give in while he had a dollar left. I had difficulty in repressing a smile as I thought of how this duel with money would end. The end came sooner than I had hoped.

"'Will the gentleman be so kind as to make out a check for the total amount wagered so far? It has grown rather large, and we'd better have things straightened out before we go on. I will do likewise.' And with trembling fingers he drew a checkbook from his pocket.

"We wrote checks for equal amounts, but he did not intend to call me.

"'You are a notary, sir,' he said, turning to my friend. 'I have, as you know, property worth $10,000 in Chicago. I wish to wager this on my hand. Will you kindly make out a paper deeding this over to our friend here?' And he cast a look of hatred in my direction.

"Nothing could have suited me better. He was evidently wagering the last cent he had. Of course to lose would have meant my ruin. But how could I lose? I watched his face while the deed was being made out and tried to pity him, but I could not. I would call him and thus regain her property for the woman he had wronged. I had just completed the sale of my Philadelphia home and so had the necessary amount in ready money at the bank. I quietly made out a check for $10,000 and waited for the notary to complete his work. The others saw that this was a private quarrel, that we were both in deadly earnest, and forbore to interfere. My excitement was almost gone. It seemed too easy.

"Not so with my adversary, however. His whole body shook with suppressed excitement, his face was fiery red, and the veins stood out like knotted cords. I have never seen a man in such a state before or since. Finally the deed was ready, properly signed and witnessed, and the notary handed it to him. His hand shook so it dropped to the floor. He got down clumsily to pick it up. Rising, he shook the paper in my face, saying in a thick voice hardly audible, 'There's my raise, and, hang you, I dare you to call me!'

"His face was purple now, and the paper in his hand was fluttering as though in the current of air from an electric fan. I rose and faced him.

"'Sir,' said I, 'we understand each other. Never have I been accused of taking another person's money on a sure thing, but this is an exceptional case, and I feel no compunction. There is my check for $10,000. I call you.'

"With a howl that sounded strangely like one of joy he staggered forward to pick up his cards. Suddenly he swayed like a drunken man and before he could be caught lurched sideways to the floor, upsetting the table, with all that it held, the blood gushing from his mouth and nose. We all gathered around him. He was unconscious. The excitement had brought on a stroke of apoplexy. The doctor that came at once in response to our summons did what he could for him, but it was soon plain that he had played his last game. However, he did regain consciousness just long enough to look wildly about him and mutter, 'Give it all to her!' He seemed to take it for granted he had won. He was rapidly sinking. 'What was your hand?' they asked him. I had already shown mine.

"He did not hear. They were convinced that I held the winning hand,

SUDDENLY HE SWAYED LIKE A DRUNKEN MAN.

yet to make it all straight they wanted his word as to his own hand, for it was impossible to pick it out from the confusion of cards on the floor. So they shouted the question at him again and again. Finally, just as he seemed about to pass off, he rallied slightly and opened his eyes.

"'What was your hand?'

"'Four eights' appeared to come to us in a faint whisper. And he closed his eyes forever.

"The papers and cards were picked up. I explained the situation, and all agreed that I had acted properly. I returned to Philadelphia, broke the news to the now doubly widowed lady and gave her money back to her, telling her he had wished it so and that his last moments were full of repentance. She sorrows over that wretch to this day."

There was a silence. The fire was low now and filled the room with a ruddy glow. The story teller rose and yawned. He picked up his coat and put it on.

"Well, four kings beat four eights. Where did the cheating come in?"

His coat was buttoned now. He placed his hat on his head and walked toward the door, turning as he reached it.

"He meant to say four aces, but his breath didn't last him. All he said was 'four ace.'"

"You speak confidently. Remember, you told us the cards were mixed together on the floor. Perhaps, after all, he really had four eights."

He looked the questioner full in the face and spoke slowly and distinctly:

"No; my hand consisted of four kings and an eight."

MOTHALINE.

For packing away your furs and clothing during the warm weather.

I have it in three varieties: Cedar, Camphor and Lavender.

15 cts. per Package.

CHARLES C. HEARN.

PHARMACIST,

1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

Quincy Daily Ledger.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS

and at the following places:

BOSTON—Terminal News Stand after 3.35
QUINCY—Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock St.
Hartwell's Periodical Store, 1 Granite St.
Henry P. Kittredge, City Square.
Rogers Bros., Hancock St.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, near Quincy depot.
A. F. Hall, 128 Washington St., near Canal.
QUINCY POINT—Miss Freeman's store.
Sprague & Hobart, Washington cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—P. L. Litchfield, Water st.
W. E. Nightingale 80 Water street.
O. D. Chick, 59 Liberty St.
WEST QUINCY—Coram's Periodical Store.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's news stand.
WOLLASTON PARK—C. E. Hosmer, cor. Hancock and Beach streets.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branscheid & Marten.
ATLANTIC—Branscheid & Marten.
HOUGHS NECK—Arthur Dunham at P. O.
EAST MILTON—William Clark.
EAST WEYMOUTH—George H. Hunt.
WEYMOUTH—J. R. Walsh.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—B. F. Thomas.

1903			MAY			1903
Su.	Mo.	Tu.	We.	Th.	Fr.	Sa.
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24 31	25	26	27	28	29	30

MOON'S PHASES.

First Quarter 4 2:26 a. m.
Full Moon 11 8:15 a. m.
Third Quarter 19 10:18 a. m.
New Moon 26 5:44 p. m.

CITY BREVITIES.

Don't forget the turkey dinner at the Co-operative Dining Rooms tomorrow.

Mr. Parlin will continue the subject of the Resurrection, in his bible class, Sunday, at the Wollaston Unitarian church.

The Guild of St. Perpetua will hold the last meeting of the year on Thursday evening with Miss Anna Whiteacre of Wollaston.

A still alarm was sounded for a brush fire near the factory of Bosson & Lane, yesterday afternoon. The fire was creeping near to the building and looked dangerous.

"Sunny Jim" in fact a dozen of them, preceded by a band of music and a lot of delivery wagons advertising Force, paraded through the city this morning.

The choir of St. Chrysostom's church bore a very creditable part in the Choir Festival service, held in All Saints' church, Ashmont, on Wednesday evening of last week. Both in its singing and in conduct the choir was an honor to the parish. The choir is indebted to the untiring work of Mr. Snyder, the choir master, for its grand result.

The meeting of the Young People's Religious Union will be held in the vestry of the Wollaston Unitarian church on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The Sunday school will also join in this meeting. A very interesting service in commemoration of Dr. Edward Everett Hale has been arranged. Mrs. Gurney, who is in charge of the meeting, will give the address. Old and young are cordially invited to be present.

Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on every box. 25c

New Books.

The following is a list of new books at the Thomas Crane Public Library:

	Shelf. No.
Black, Alexander Richard Gordon.	312 55
Carryl, G. W. Lieutenant-governor.	238 54
Carson, W. H. Tito.	232 42
Conrad, Joseph. Youth, and two other stories.	324 65
Cooke, G. E., editor. Poets of transcendentalism: an anthology.	512 70
Dix, Beulah M. Little captive lad.	j 252 39
Dixon, Thomas, jr. Leopard's spots: romance of the white man's burden, 1865-1900.	239 61
Douglas, Amanda M. Sherburne series 10. Sherburne quest.	221 95
Eggleston, G. C. Master of War. lock: a Virginia war story.	258 81
Ely, Helena R. Woman's hardy garden.	464 16
Gulick, C. B. Life of the ancient Greeks. [Twentieth century text-books.]	352 22
Higginson, T. W. American orators and oratory.	77 49
Hutten, Baroness von. Our lady of the beeches,	301 56
Keller, Helen. Story of my life.	438 53
Kennedy, Sara B. Wooing of Judith.	258 85
Kingsland, Mrs. Burton. Book of weddings: manual of good form in all matters connected with the marriage ceremony.	61 62
Laut, Agnes C. Story of the trapper. [Story of the West series.]	157 31
McChesney, Dora G. Cornet Strong of Ireton's horse.	252 59
Maclaren, Ian, pseud. Our neighbours. [Stories.]	208 64
Moore, J. T. Songs and stories from Tennessee.	315 9
Morris, Gouverneur. Aladdin O'Brien.	258 98
New England historic genealogical society. Vital records of Altord, Massachusetts, to 1850.	450 85
Vital records of Hinsdale, Massachusetts, to 1850.	450 84
Vital records of Peru, Massachusetts, to 1850.	450 86
Parker, Gilbert. Donovan Pasha, and some people of Egypt.	221 73
Petroff, Peter. Ante-mortem depositions.	414 57
Phillpotts, Eden. River.	250 48
Riis, J. A. Battle with the slum. The author calls this a sequel to How the other half lives.	63 80
Shute, H. A. Real diary of real boy.	250 46
Sidgwick, Henry. Lectures on the ethics of T. H. Green, Herbert Spencer and J. Martineau.	514 18
United States. War department. Official register of officers of volunteers in the service of the United States. Organized under act of March 2, 1899.	Ref
Van Dyke, J. C. Meaning of pictures.	475 73
Van Vorst, Mrs. John and Marie. Woman who toils: the experiences of two gentlewomen as factory girls.	69 55
Ward, Mrs. Humphry. Lady Rose's daughter,	323 47
White, S. E. Conjuror's house: romance of the free forest.	256 68
Wilkins, Mary E. Six trees: short stories.	311 58
Williams, F. Churchill. Captain.	327 61

Greatest Battles of History.

Burke in his letter on "Natural Society" says that Sylla destroyed 300,000 men in each of three battles, one being at Cheronea. The Persians are said to have lost 230,000 men at Platæa. II Chronicles xiii, 17, records 500,000 slain on one side, which, however, may not have been in a single battle. I Kings xx, 26, tells of 100,000 men being killed on one side in a single day.

Filial Repartee.

Richard Brinsley Sheridan, who was always distressed for money, was one day hacking his face with a dull razor when he turned to his eldest son and said:

"Tom, if you open any more oysters with my razor I'll cut you off with a shilling."

"Very well, father," said Tom, "but where will you get the shilling?"

A Full House.

Lady Guest—Your father is such a hospitable gentleman! He dearly loves a full house, doesn't he?

Jack—Well, yes—if it happens to be on his side of the table.—Kansas City Journal.

Throughout every part of my career I have felt pinched and hampered by my own ignorance.—Sir Walter Scott.

A MYSTERIOUS MINERAL

Marvelous Possibilities of Radium Described by a Scientist.

SOON TO BE PUT ON THE MARKET

The Societe Centrale of France Will Offer a Preparation Nearly Chemically Pure For $3,438,000 a Pound. Two Countries In Three Years Produced Only One Pound of This Newest Salt.

The marvelous possibilities of that mysterious and precious mineral, radium, were recently described at New York to the members of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the American Electrotechnical society by William J. Hammer, a scientist and engineer, says the Philadelphia Press. It will be some time, however, before the wonderful properties of radium will be of commercial value, as the mineral, chemically pure, now costs $6,000 a gram, or about $3,438,000 a pound.

"It is doubtful," said Mr. Hammer, "whether any substance has been discovered in the history of the world of such stupendous interest and importance and possessing such puzzling characteristics as radium, which, moreover, is at almost complete variance with well established scientific theories as to the constitution of matter.

"Within the past month great interest has been attracted by the statement made by Professors Curie and Laborde that radium maintains its own temperature at 1.5 centigrades above its surroundings, this being equivalent to stating that half a pound of radium salt would evolve in one hour sufficient heat to equal that caused by the burning of one-third of a cubic foot of hydrogen gas and that the heat evolved from pure radium salt is sufficient to melt more than its own weight of ice every hour. This evolution of heat, going on constantly for indefinite periods and leaving the radium at the end of months of activity as potent as it was at the beginning, furnishes the problem to the world of how radium can constantly throw off heat without combustion or without chemical change.

"The laboratory where radium is prepared is under the control of Professor Curie, and up to a recent date all radium of higher radio activity than 7,000 has been retained for the experiments of M. and Mme. Curie and their associates, but I received a letter recently from the Societe Centrale in which I was informed that they will shortly put upon the market a preparation of radium, chemically pure or nearly so, at a cost of 30,000 francs ($6,000) per gram, or about $3,438,000 per pound. Radium, while it has been spoken of as a metal, has never been secured in a metallic form, the usual form being as a chloride or bromide.

"All the work done in Germany and France in the past three years has only resulted in the securing of about one pound of radium, this including all grades or qualities."

In illustrating the X ray character of radium rays Mr. Hammer produced a photograph illustrating the penetration of the rays through black paper, a single sheet of which is entirely impervious to light. The exposure was made in twenty-four hours.

Another interesting illustration was that of a mouse which was radiographed in twenty-four hours by laying it directly on a plate, which was, as in the case of other experiments, placed in the bottom of a trunk, the trays being replaced and the trunk wrapped in three thick rugs and kept in a dark room for twenty-four hours.

Perhaps the most interesting of all was the radiograph of a mouse caught in a trap. The metal parts of the trap are shown opaque, whereas the portion of the wood nearest to the radium is shown absolutely transparent.

A VICTOR HUGO MUSEUM.

Quaint Collection of Souvenirs of the Great French Novelist.

The Victor Hugo museum, on Place des Vosges, will be opened when President Loubet returns from Algeria, says the Paris correspondent of the New York World. A French clerk who gets $36 a month returning from Hugo's funeral saw in a crockery shop a cheap plate with Hugo's photograph printed on it. He bought it, and that plate was the nucleus of the Hugo museum, which contains 500 relics of the great writer.

The collection is made up of plates, soap, perfumery, saucers, bottles, tobacco pouches, chairs, etc., all souvenirs of Victor Hugo contributed by the common people, showing how widespread is his fame and the people's love for him. "Les Miserables," "Elixir" and the "Maria Delorme" shoe are of the number.

A Monument to Cooks.

It is proposed to erect what is termed a monument commemorative of the culinary glories of France in the center of the great markets of Paris, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. A committee of city men headed by a noted restaurateur has been formed for the purpose. The memorial is to be a large fountain ornamented by medallions of the celebrated gastronomic authorities—Careme, who wrote on the culinary art; Brillat-Savarin, author of "La Physiologie du Gout," in which occurs the famous phrase, "L'homme d'esprit seul sait manger;" Grimod de la Reyniere and two other food experts of the past. Around the fountain there are to be sculptured figures of fishwives, oyster women, poultry and pig meat venders, salad sellers and champion market porters, all "forts de la halle."

SPEECHES THAT LIVE.

Oratoric Triumphs That Stand the Test of Reading.

It is often said that if a speech reads well it is not a good speech. There may be some truth in it. The reader cannot, of course, get the impression which the speaker conveys by look and tone and gesture. He lacks that marvelous influence by which in a great assembly the emotion of every individual soul is multiplied by the emotion of every other. The reader can pause and dwell upon the thought. If there be a fallacy, he is not hurried away to do something else before he can detect it. So, also, his more careful and deliberate criticism will discover offenses of style and taste which pass unheeded in a speech when uttered. But still the great oratoric triumphs of literature and history stand the test of reading in the closet as well as of hearing in the assembly. Would not Mark Antony's speech over the dead body of Cæsar, had it been uttered, have moved the Roman populace as it moves the spectator when the play is acted or the solitary reader in his closet? Does not Lord Chatham's "I rejoice that America has resisted" reads well? Do not Sheridan's and Burke's great perorations in the impeachment of Warren Hastings read well? Does not "Liberty and union, now and forever," read well? Does not "Give me liberty or give me death" read well? Do not Everett's finest passages read well?—Senator Hoar in Success.

Laughter Better Than Pills.

The cure for the bilious man is a clown, not pills. For indigestion go to a show where there are one or two first class fools who know how to make "monkeys" of themselves. The fun, however, should be clean, innocent, harmless and hearty, with no suggestion of indecency or vulgarity. In other words, the fun should be "hygienic." Fun that is foul and malodorous is unhealthful.

The best sort of fun for the dyspeptic is the fun that burlesques the follies and foibles of the odd "characters" you have met. If you can't find the show with the burlesque "artists" who can make you laugh, seek out companions who are jolly and who know the art of clowning.

Don't let any half baked idiot load your mind with his business or domestic troubles. When you get an hour or two from the desk or store, abandon yourself willingly and cheerfully to the frivolities of a jocular friend.—What to Eat.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

TREMONT THEATRE.

Henry W. Savage's "Peggy from Paris," the newest George Ade musical comedy, will begin a long engagment at the Tremont theatre Tuesday night, May 12. The new piece was first produced at the Studebaker theatre, Chicago, last January, and has played uninterruptedly at that theatre ever since. It is said to be brilliant as to libretto, which is in Mr. Ade's happiest and most satirical vein, and the music was written by Willian Loraine, whose "Salome" and "Zamona" had previously given him a wide reputation. As in Mr. Ade's first effort in playwriting, "The Sultan of Sulu," his second work, is a satire on American life and customs. Instead of being a satire on American politics. "Peggy from Paris," to to use Mr. Ade's own language, is "an effort dealing more or less indirectly with the strictly American custom of paying homage to the foreign artist." One of the necessarily strong features of the production is the admirably selected cast. The role of Peggy is intrusted Georgia Caine, who personates the Hickory Crick maiden with a dash and chic that are completely captivating.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

All preparations are about completed for "A Chinese Honeymoon", which opens its engagement at the Colonial Theatre Monday, May 4, and, from the large advance sale, its seems that the many kind words the press of New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Cleveland have bestowed upon it have preceded "A Chinese Honeymoon" to Boston. Its run of 405 performances at the Casino Theater, New York City, is something unusual in these days of over burdened musical comedies.

Another great feature connected with "A Chinese Honeymoon" is that it contains a number of Boston favorites. Among them is John E. Henshaw, who has been seen in Boston a number of time Miss Belle Harper, who was seen here on two occasions as the leading prima donna of The Bostonians, is also in the cast.

"A Chinese Honeymoon" is said to be the best musical organization in America to-day

Among the many musical numbers are "I Want To Be A Lidy," "The Official Mother-in-law," "Roly Poly," "The Leader of Frocks and Frills," "The Twining Vine," "Emperor Hang Chow," A Chinese Honeymoon" and "Nursery Rhymes."

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

For the coming week the attraction at the Castle Square Theatre will be the romantic play "No Thoroughfare" which has not been presented in this city since Charles Fechter appeared in it here. The story of the play was originally published in 1867 as the Christman supplement to "All the Year Round," a magazine conducted by Charles Dickins the elder in the latter part of his career. Dickins had the assistance of Wilkie Collins in framing the original story and the stage version, made for and controlled during his life by Charles Fechter, represents the combined efforts of Dickens, Wilkie Collins and Fechter also the stage manager of the London theatre in which Fechter was then playing. The play enjoyed immense popularity wherever Fechter presented it in England and America and its revival makes a notable event in the Castle Square record The leading characters will be assigned to Howell Hansel, Thomas McLarnie, John Sainpolis, James L. Seeley, John T. Craven, Lindsay Morrison, Edward Wade, Lillian Lawrence, Leonora Bradley, Mabel Colcord and Grace F. Olin. "No Thoroughfare" is billed for only a single week and the usual distribution of souvenir boxes of chocolate bonbons will be made at the Monday matinee.

Weigh the Child

If it is losing flesh it may indicate worms.
If it has indigestion and a variable appetite suspect worms.
Other symptoms, are offensive breath; gripings and pains about the navel; eyes dull; itching nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; starting during sleep; slow fever and often convulsions.
The certain specific for worms is

TRUE'S PIN WORM ELIXIR

It has been used since 1851, and has restored thousands of suffering children. Whenever worms are suspected, give True's Elixir. If worms are present it will expel them, if not it can do no harm but acts as a tonic and cures all the common complaints of children. Price 35 cents, at druggists. Write for free book, "Children and Their Diseases."

DR. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me.
Special Treatment for Tape Worm. Write for pamphlet.

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON

Quincy, April 23. tf

SUNDAY SERVICES.

3D SUNDAY AFTER EASTER.

FIRST UNITARIAN CHURCH—Rev. E. C. Butler, pastor. Morning service at 10.30 Preaching by the pastor. Sunday School 12 M. Stereopticon lecture on Ben Hur in chapel at 7 P. M. by Mr. Charles H. Johnson. All are invited.

CHRIST CHURCH, Quincy, corner Elm street and Quincy avenue—Rev. W. E. Gardner, rector. Holy communion and sermon 10.30. Sunday School at 12 05. Evening prayer and address at 7 o'clock.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH, Washington street—Rev. Merrill C. Ward pastor. Residence, 18 Ashmont street, Dorchester. Service of divine worship at 2.30 P. M. Subject: "A Friend of Sinners." Sunday School at 3.45 P. M.

CHRISTADELPHIAN CHURCH, at Keating's hall, Washington street near Canal street,—At 7 P. M. Subject: "Baptism and what it does for us." All are welcome. Seats free. No collection.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH, Franklin street,—Rev. William Alva Brady, pastor. Residence 25 Pleasant street. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. Bible School at 11.45 A. M. B. Y. P. U. at 6 P. M. Preaching service at 7 o'clock. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7.30.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S CHURCH—Rev. Carlton P. Mills, rector. 10.45 A. M., holy communion and sermon. 12.20 P. M. Sunday School. 4.30 P. M., evening prayer and address.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Water and Quincy streets.—Rev. J. Todd, D. D., pastor. Service at 10.30 A. M. Preaching by pastor. Subject: "A Spiritual Vision." Sunday School at 12 M. Junior C. E. at 3 P. M. Senior C. E. at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7 o'clock Subject: "A Blessed Soal." Midweek service Thursday evening. Seats free. All are cordially invited.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Fort Square—Rev. W. B. Barr, pastor. Service at 10.30 A. M., preaching by pastor. Subject: "Springtime and its lessons." Sabbath School and Bible class at 12 noon. Bible class for young ladies under the direction of Mrs. J. B. Sutherland at 2.30. Y. P. C. E. meeting at 6.30 Mrs. Williiam Ross, leader. Evening service at 7.30. Suoject: "Should Christians Dance?"

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH—Rev. Frank Wright Pratt, pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Preaching by the pastor. Sunday School at 12. Evening service at 7 o'clock. Subject: "Happiness." Seats free. All are cordially invited.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. ATLANTIC—Rev. J. H. Whitaker, pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Sermon by the pastor. Subject: "Where is God?" Soloist, Miss Alice G. Coe. Sunday School at 12 M. Evening service at 7 o'clock. Monday Evening club, Monday evening at 8 o'clock Speaker, Senator Eugene H. Sprague. You are cordially invited.

ATLANTIC METHODIST CHURCH, corner Newbury avenue and Squantum street. Rev. B. D. Beck, pastor. Morning service at 10.45 o'clock. Sermon by Prof. Thomas W. Nadal of Olivet college, Michigan. Theme: "The Supreme Test." Sunday School at 12 M. Epworth League at 6 P. M. Subject: "Confidence in God." Leader, Mr. Blake. At 7 o'clock, song service led by chorus choir assisted by Greenes' orchestra. Brief sermon by Prof. Nadal. All seats free. Every one invited.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, of Braintree, Christian Science Hall on Washington street, south of Hollis avenue.—Morning service 10.45. Subject: "Adam and Fallen Man." Golden text: "For if through the offence of one many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many." Romans 5:15. Sunday School at 10.45 A. M. Wednesday 7.45 P. M., a testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 3 to 5 and Tuesday evenings. All are welcome.

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Charter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D.,
Inspector of Milk.
April 15. 30t

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of

JOHN A. DUGGAN,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to John A. Duggan of Quincy, without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the thirteenth day of May, A. D., 1903, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-second day of April, A. D. 1903.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
3t—4-2-9

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of

JOHN J. DAY,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by James F. Sweeney of Boston, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the sixth day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court this seventeenth day of April, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
3t 18252

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of

JOSIAH QUINCY THAYER,

late of Holbrook, in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to William H. Rogers of Boston, without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the thirteenth day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-ninth day of April, A. D. 1903.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
May 2. 3t-2-4-11

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 104. QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY, MAY 4, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

"Full of Feet"

Whale Hose are so shaped that the foot fills them—no "slack," and so no wrinkles to hurt. Full of comfort and wear.

Whale Hose

do not fade or stain—made in black, russet, and all popular colors. By mail, 1 pair 20c.; 2 pairs 35c. Five cents brings patent hose supports and catalogue.

CORNELL STOCKING CORPORATION, New Bedford, Mass.

Look for the Whale.

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder.

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,

In a variety of Styles and Prices.

Fancy Stocks. Choux, White Mull Ties. Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.

These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.

C. S. HUBBARD,

City Square, Quincy.

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON

Quincy, April 23. tf

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction. .....

PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,

3 High Street, Cor. Summer,

BOSTON, MASS

Three minutes from South Station.

W. G. CHUBBUCK

Furniture and Piano Mover

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

lp-tf Address. QUINCY MASS

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

Yard off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy

Jan. 7. tf

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

King Arthur Flour.

Sold in Quincy by

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

For Latest News See Inside Pages.

CROWD LINED ROADBED

Flyer Appeared and Left Death In Its Wake

HEARD NO WARNING SIGNAL

According to Policeman on Duty at Crossing Where Fifteen Hundred Excursionists Had Assembled—At Least Seven Killed

Detroit, May 4.—A Grand Trunk Pan-American flyer from Chicago ran into a crowd of 1500 people at the corner of Dequinder and Canfield streets last evening, killing at least seven and seriously injuring about 30 more. The majority of the killed and wounded are from Toledo.

Many hundreds of Polanders from Toledo came up to Detroit on a special Lake Shore train to celebrate a holiday. They left the train at the corner of Dequinder and Canfield streets and went over to St. Joseph church, where they spent the day with that congregation.

The Lake Shore tracks run out Dequinder street and a special train was to stop for the Toledo excursionists at Canfield avenue at 8:30 last night. Accompanied by hundreds of their local friends, waiting for the train, the excursionists jammed Canfield avenue some time before the train was due, in readiness for it. When the train was sighted the crowd pushed across the track and onto the Grand Trunk tracks, which adjoin those of the Lake Shore, just as the Grand Trunk Pan-American flyer came thundering in from the west.

The people were thrown into the air and dashed to either side of the track. Many of them were ground under the wheels. The police department was notified and all the ambulances in the city rushed to the scene. The victims were scattered along the tracks for a distance of two blocks.

Lanterns were procured and the work of rescue began immediately. The scene reflected by the light of the lanterns was horrible. Gradually the mangled and crushed bodies were recovered and sent to the hospitals when there was a flicker of life left and to the morgue when there was none.

Patrolman Schultz, John Zynda and a number of others who were at the crossing assert that the flyer's whistle was not blown nor was the bell rung. No statement could be secured on this subject at the local Grand Trunk office.

The flyer was checked and stopped as quickly as possible and backed to the scene of the catastrophe, where for two blocks the track was covered with mangled and dying people. Four of the dead were killed outright by the train and the others died after being taken to the hospitals.

A cry for vengeance went up from the Poles as soon as they realized what slaughter the Grand Trunk train had done. A demonstration was started against the engineer of the flyer. Some one shouted: "Get the engineer; kill him," and a rush was made down the track for the cab of the engine. The police had forestalled them, however, and an officer guarded each door of the cab. The angry Poles stood about and uttered threats until the flyer resumed its trip into the station.

Patrolman Schultz said:: "We made every effort to keep the people off the tracks, but it was impossible. There were 1500 excursionists going back to Toledo and twice that number of local Poles who had been entertaining them were down at the crossing to see them off. Those behind pushed and shoved the foremost ones and they crawled under the gates which were down properly or jumped over them despite our best efforts. There was no warning whatever of the approaching Grand Trunk train. No whistle was blown and the bell was not ringing. I should think that 1000 was a small number for the people who were on the tracks for two blocks trying to be among the first aboard the Lake Shore train and thereby secure seats for the homeward trip. The Grand Trunk train came out of the darkness up the track like a meteor and was through the crowd almost before I realized what had happened. A terible cry went up from those who had witnessed the accident and rescuers swarmed down the track. The cries and moans of the injured guided us in the darkness and we picked them up from both sides of the track for two blocks. Some of the sights were too sickening to describe."

George Bardell is the aged gateman at the Canfield crossing and he, too, insisted that his gates were down properly.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. This signature E. W. Grove on every box, 25c

HIS NECK BROKEN

Man Killed by Being Thrown Down Stairs In a Boarding House

Beverly, Mass., May 4.—Charles Ritchie, a laborer, was killed here by being knocked down stairs by Edward McGregor, a carpenter, at a boarding house. McGregor confessed to Chief of Police Ferguson and will be held on the charge of manslaughter, while James McLoud is held as a witness.

Ritchie, McGregor, McLoud and Charles Carter, who, it is said, were somewhat under the influence of liquor, were in McLoud's room when a dispute arose and McGregor ordered Ritchie to leave the room. He refused, when McGregor knocked him down. Ritchie arose to his feet, and made a rush for McGregor, who met the attack with another blow, which knocked Ritchie backward down the stairs, breaking his neck.

The police were summoned and McGregor and McLoud were placed under arrest, but Carter made his escape, being captured later at Lynn.

McGregor is about 18 years old and unmarried, while Ritchie leaves a widow and child. It is not known here where they are now living.

A $100,000 Fire at Kennebunk

Kennebunk, Me., May 4.—The thickly settled portion of this town was threatened with destruction by a fire which raged for three hours among the mills and business blocks and which caused a loss of $100,000. The municipal lighting plant, two mills, five blocks, seven wooden buildings and two tenements were burned, and the stocks of 14 stores are a total loss. The origin of the fire is unknown. It started in the electric lighting station and consumed the adjoining buildings within a short time. Other than the loss sustained by the town the property losses as a whole are nearly covered by insurance.

Attempt at Train Wrecking

Stamford, Conn., May 4.—The police authorities are patrolling the railroad tracks and closely guarding the woods between Sound beach and Stamford in an effort to capture a party of tramps who, it is believed, attempted to wreck two trains last night. An accommodation train, as it entered a cut, crashed into a huge pile of railroad ties. The engine was not damaged, but the first two cars had the steps torn off and the sides of the cars were badly damaged. A patrol of officers was later sent back along the tracks and two logs were found stretched across the rails.

Buried In Ancient Cemetery

Deerfield, Mass., May 4.—In the historic cemetery where the ground has been unbroken for nearly a century was laid at rest the body of J. Wells Champney, the artist, who was killed by falling down an elevator shaft in New York on Friday last. Around the newly made grave are the weather-beaten headstones of the victims of the famous massacre, the forefathers of the ancient town, and its revolutionary heroes, but monuments of modern granite do not appear. Mr. Champney obtained permission some years ago to be buried in the old cemetery.

Big Boarding House Quarantined

Rumford Falls, Me., May 4.—A French Canadian who has worked in the paper mills here returned last Monday from a visit to Canada and immediately took to his bed. No physician was called until last evening, when his trouble was pronounced smallpox. The man was removed to the smallpox hospital and the boarding house, with its 60 occupants, was placed under quarantine.

Miss Finley Pleads Not Guilty

Laconia, N. H., May 4.—Miss Rosa A. Finley was arraigned before Judge Everett, charged with the murder of her 5-weeks-old baby, which, it is alleged, she threw into the Winnipesaukee river. Counsel for the defense entered a plea of not guilty. The case was continued for a hearing to May 5. As the crime with which Miss Finley is charged is not bailable, she was taken to jail.

Assistance Promised Lowell Strikers

Boston, May 4.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor has arrived here from Toronto. President Conroy of the Lowell Textile council conferred with Gompers regarding the labor situation in that city. Every assistance that the American Federation of Labor can give was promised the Lowell operatives.

Five Were Rescued

Augusta, Me., May 4.—Six employes of the Cushnoc Paper company were carried over the dam of the Edwards Manufacturing company in a boat while they were on the way to their work and Alphonse Mathieu was drowned. The others were rescued by other employe of the paper mill by means of floating logs.

Going After Alleged Embezzler

Woburn, Mass., May 4.—Chief of Police McDermott has started for Los Angeles, Cal., with requisition papers for the return of Ernest Whelpley, formerly local agent of an insurance company in this city, who is under arrest in Los Angeles, charged with larceny from the company.

Fatal Collision of Trains

South Norwalk, Conn., May 4.—Two dead and five more or less seriously injured is the result of a collision between a passenger train and a freight train here. Upon whom the blame rests for the accident is not known.

MILTON STARTLED

John Bernhard Found Dead in his Tailor Shop.

Had Been Dead for Several Days.

Medical Examiner Gives Apoplexy as the Cause.

David Bernhard, known about East Milton as "Old Tailor," was found dead in the small building in which he lived and had his shop, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Bernhard who has been in East Milton for a year or more, had a room in a building on Adams street up to a few months ago, when he moved into the small building on Willard street, formerly used by Maguire & O'Heron as an office.

He had not been seen about East Milton for several days but no one thought it strange. Saturday afternoon people who had left clothing with him to be mended, began to call for their garments, but were unable to get into the building or get any response to their knocks.

Then someone looked into the window and were horrified at seeing his dead body on a couch. The features were discolored and the rumor that there had been a murder was soon in circulation. The police were notified and burst in the door. A hasty examination showed no marks of violence and nothing had apparently been disturbed about the place.

Medical Examiner Sturtevant of Hyde Park was summoned and pronounced the man's death due to apoplexy. He further said that he had probably been dead several days. The remains were taken in charge by undertaker Crane.

The man was between fifty and sixty years of age and it is said that he has two daughters living in Brookline.

QUARANTINE MODIFIED

Ruminants and Swine May Be Shipped From Vermont Conditionally

Washington, May 4.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson has issued an order that the quarantine upon cattle, sheep and other ruminants and swine in Vermont, imposed on account of foot and mouth disease, be modified, and that "said animals and their products may be shipped or otherwise removed from the state without restrictions other than may be imposed by the authorities of the states to which said animals or products are destined; provided, however, that until further orders, said animals shall not be removed or be allowed to move from the townships of Ludlow, Cavendish, Weathersfield, Weston, Andover, Chester and Springfield, in the county of Windsor, and the townships of Londonderry, Windham, Grafton, Rockingham, Jamaica, Townshend and Athens, in the county of Windham, except after inspection by an inspector of the bureau of animal industry and only when accompanied by a written permit issued by him."

Dr. Imes, an inspector of the bureau of animal industry, will be stationed at Chester, Vt., to whom applications may be made for inspections of animals and permits for the movement out of the townships mentioned.

Policemen Killed In Saloon Row

New York, May 4.—Police Sergeant Gilhooley, who was shot Saturday night by Jefferson Saunders, a negro waiter, who at the time killed Policeman Peters and desperately wounded Policeman Russo, died last night. Russo was shot through the lungs, but he has a fair chance of recovery. Saunders is held to await the action of the coroner. He says that he was assaulted by the three policemen, who were in citizens' dress, and that he used his pistol in self-defense. A police investigation shows that the three policemen had no business in the saloon where the affray occurred.

It is no small compliment to the American schools of dentistry that practically all the crowned heads of Europe and their families will employ only American dentists.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus often before medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

MOTHALINE.

For packing away your furs and clothing during the warm weather.

I have it in three varieties: Cedar, Camphor and Lavender.

15 cts. per Package.

CHARLES C. HEARN.

PHARMACIST,

1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

PERSONAL POPULARITY

Of King Edward Enhanced by His Visit to French Capital

Paris, May 4.—The picturesque features of King Edward's visit to Paris are practically over. The incidents of Sunday were comparatively quiet, but they were still expressive of the renewal of Anglo-French good will. Last night a gala dinner was given at the British embassy to President Loubet. This was followed by a concert by the leading artists of the opera.

At a private conference between King Edward and M. Delcasse the king manifested his appreciation of the friendly attitude of the government and people, and reiterated the hope that his visit would have a salutary influence on the relations of the two governments. He advised Delcasse that he had conferred upon him the grand cross of the Order of Victoria. Premier Combes was advised that a similar decoration had been destowed upon him.

The press unites in attributing much significance to the unusual exchanges of good will and declares that lingering animosities have been eradicated. The king's complimentary references to the French army in the course of a conversation with General Negrier and his allusions at various functions to the pacific co-operation of the two countries meet with general approval and have made him personally popular.

Girls Shared President's Hymnbook

Sharon Springs, Kas., May 4.—President Roosevelt attended the Methodist church at this place yesterday and listened to a sermon by a Presbyterian minister. A number of pastors from this neighborhood also participated. Two little girls were standing in the aisle near the president's pew and he drew them into his pew. During the singing the three shared the same hymnbook. At the conclusion of the services the president shook hands with a large number of people. In the afternoon he went for a long horseback ride. The town was full of strangers who came here to see the president, some of them riding 50 miles for that purpose.

Close Sunday Indeed

Pensacola, Fla., May 4.—For the first time the Sunday laws were enforced here yesterday. Hacks were not allowed on the streets, livery stables were compelled to close, soda water and confectionery stands did no business, no newspapers were sold and only the street cars and railroad trains were permitted to run, the county solicitor announcing that for the present he would not advise interference with them, as two sections of the state law conflict.

Disfigured Body Found In River

Boston, May 4.—The dead body of a man, aged about 45, with a handkerchief tied firmly around his neck, was found in the Charles river. The man had been dead probably three or four months. The man's jaw was broken and his face generally bruised in a manner to indicate that the injuries from which he died were inflicted before the body was thrown into the water.

Assassination Rumor Scared London

London, May 4.—A rumor that King Edward had been assassinated caused great alarm in London official and court circles. Anxious inquiries concerning the truth of the report were made, and from Buckingham palace telegrams were immediately sent to Paris. The replies that there was no truth in the rumor brought intense relief to all classes of society.

Turkey an Obstacle to Peace

Boston, May 4.—Rev. Robert Thomson, a missionary of the American board at Samakov, Bulgaria, has returned to America for the first time in 11 years. He says there can never be peace in the Bulgarian country as long as Turkey holds sway. It is the centre of the disturbance, and every year the outbreaks are becoming more serious.

Reupholstering

OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE

HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED

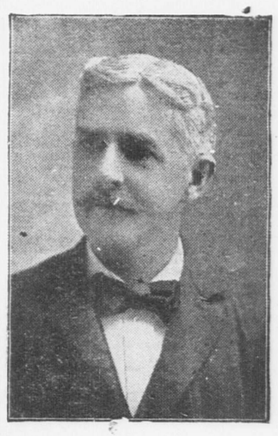

And Made Over.

Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.

Call and get Prices.

C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St. Tel. 64-4.

Quincy, May 2. 1m

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.

1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.

2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.

3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.

Plumbing and Heating Co,

25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.

Telephone Connection.

April 24. 1-tf- p-1w

JOHN STREIFERD & SON, FLORISTS.

Telephone 13-7 Braintree.

Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.

Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

SPILLER'S GOLDEN COUGH BALSAM

THE KIND THAT CURES

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Inflammation of the Lungs, Lagrippe and Whooping Cough. It soothes the Cough of Consumption, and is excellent for all Lung Troubles. Try it. For sale by Weeks & Hill, Quincy, Mass. Price 25 cents.

If goods fail to give satisfaction, money refunded.

Quincy Co-operative Bank.

MEETING of Shareholders WEDNESDAY, May 4, 1903, at 7.45 P. M., for Election of Officers. Sale of Shares, Receipt of Dues, etc.

Shares in 29th Series now on Sale.

Years of success. Practical Principles for Savings and Owning Homes.

R. D. CHASE, Secretary,
Savings Bank Building.

Quincy, May 1. l-4t--p-1w

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Chapter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D.,
Inspector of Milk.

April 15. 30t

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO all persons interested in the estate of JEREMIAH NIGHTINGALE,
late of Quincy, in said county, deceased.

Whereas, J. Warren Nightingale the administrator with the will annexed of the estate of said deceased, has presented for allowance, the second and final account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County, on the sixth day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

And said administrator is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-second day of April, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
-3t--24-30-4

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the Heirs-at-Law, Next-of-Kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of
BESSIE LOUISE HARLOW, Formerly BESSIE LOUISE PRATT,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by James F. Harlow of Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the sixth day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-third day of April, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
April 25. 3t--25-27-4

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law and all other persons interested in the estate of
WILLIAM A. CLARK,
late of Foxborough, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Harry L. Howard, administrator with the will annexed of the estate of said deceased, has presented to said Court his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offer named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, the whole of a certain parcel of the real estate of said deceased for the payment of debts, legacies and charges of administration, and for other reasons set forth in said petition.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County, on the thirteenth day of May, A. D. 1903, at nine o'clock in the forenoon to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-seventh day of April, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
3t--29-4-11

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of
JOSIAH QUINCY THAYER,
late of Holbrook, in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to William H. Rogers of Boston, without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the thirteenth day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-ninth day of April, A. D. 1903.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
May 2. 3t-2-4-11

LIPPINCOTT'S
MONTHLY MAGAZINE
A FAMILY LIBRARY
The Best in Current Literature
12 COMPLETE NOVELS YEARLY
MANY SHORT STORIES AND PAPERS ON TIMELY TOPICS
$2.50 PER YEAR; 25 CTS. A COPY
NO CONTINUED STORIES
EVERY NUMBER COMPLETE IN ITSELF

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.
THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.
Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.
A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter
A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	46	53	53	60	55
Monday,	58	67	55	60	58
Tuesday,	—	—	71	50	58
Wednesday,	—	84	60	58	59
Thursday,	—	86	65	72	55
Friday,	—	58	63	66	55
Saturday,	—	47	68	68	68

New Advertisements Today.

Yawl Brant for sale.
Co-operative Dining Room—Board.
Boys wanted.
Lady's bicycle for sale.
Horse, harness and wagon for sale.
Granite Letterer wanted.
Henry L. Kincaide & Co.—Seasonable Goods.
To Let—Furnished Rooms.
For Sale—Black Mare.

Good Afternoon.

We all have our troubles. Sometimes we think that if we had a single million dollars, we should be able to drive away all troubles. But think of Rockfeller, even with all his millions, and then with his stomach! Why, he can eat nothing but crackers and milk. It is better to have a stomach that will work, even though we have no stomach for work, than to be able to afford epicurean spreads and have a stomach that is unable to tackle a baked potato, and that rolls over at the thought of a stew.

Rev. Mr. Ward, pastor of the Universalist church in this city, before commencing his afternoon discourse yesterday, alluded to the fiftieth anniversary on Saturday last, of one of his parishoners in the newspaper business. He said the newspaper was a credit to the publisher and an honor to the community, especially in these days when so much sensational matter is issued by the daily press.

It is announced in Berlin that Count Zeppelin's airship shed on Lake Constance, together with his apparatus, will be sold at auction. The count is a poor man. He sank over one million marks in the enterprise.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ New York's health commissioner has proposed a plan to cope with tuberculosis. This follows upon much agitation, during which figures were given to show that the dread disease was on the increase. The plan in brief is to establish a number of open air hospitals constructed in a manner to insure the most perfect ventilation and sanitation. The number of persons suffering from tuberculosis is variously estimated at from 30,000 to 40,000, and many of these are undoubtedly infecting their associates and thus adding to the extent of the disease.

☞ The number of Governors who have returned from the dedicatory exercises at St. Louis in an indignant state of mind because no particular attention was paid to them there, is large and emphatic. The average Governor is a pretty small vegetable compared with the only living President and ex-President.—Boston Herald.

☞ Among the answers recently received to an advertisement in the London Globe for a nurse to attend an "invalid gentleman" was one giving the usual particulars, and concluding:—"I think I shall suit. My last patient is dead."—Lynn Item.

Fined for His Fun.

Joseph A. Cahalan, a young man from out of town, was at Houghs Neck Sunday and on his way up in an electric car showed his freshness by repeatedly pulling the bell rope. He was requested by the conductor several times to desist but paid no attention to the request. He is also alleged to have tried to prevent passengers from getting on to the car. When the car reached Quincy the conductor caused the fellow's arrest and this morning in court he was fined $5.

A handcar on the new railroad at Quincy Neck was the source of amusement for about twenty-five boys yesterday. As there is a hill there, the boys would bring the car to the top and ride back at a very dangerous place.

AT WOLLASTON LINK

Two Classes Play Against Bogy.

Except for a strong breeze the conditions Saturday, for the play against bogy on the Wollaston links were good. There were two classes in play. In class A, L. O. Crane and C. L. Bremer tied for the first place with one up and T. E. Jacobs was even. In class B, H. H. Harper was even.

The scores:

CLASS A

L. O. Crane,	1 up
C. L. Bremer,	1 up
T. E. Jacobs,	even
J. H. Mulcahy,	2 down
C. M. Hart,	2 down
J. F. Merrill,	3 down
G. R. Noyes,	5 down
R. R. Freeman,	5 down
G. A. Tyler,	5 down
T. A. Burditt,	6 down
D. E. Little,	7 down
J. F. Emery,	8 down
G. A. Wright,	9 down
C. A. Price,	11 down
A. B. Hathaway,	11 down

CLASS B.

H. H. Harper,	even
F. L. Dunn,	4 down
G. W. Cox,	4 down
F. W. Lawrence,	5 down
G. P. Richardson,	6 down
W. L. Doten,	7 down
S. B. Reed,	9 down

Dave Brown, the club professional and ex-champion, duplicated his good work of last week, when he equaled his new record for the course, going the rounds in 70.

JOHN HANCOCK WINS.

Defeats Prospect Lodge of Waltham at Bowling.

John Hancock lodge, I. O. O. F., of Wollaston, visited Prospect lodge of Waltham last Saturday evening and were royally entertained. The bowling teams of the two lodges tested their metal on the alleys and John Hancock was returned a winner by 2,250 to 2,232 pins, taking two strings out of three. The score:

JOHN HANCOCK.

McLeod	73	79	68	220
Anderson	63	63	80	206
Thomas	79	81	80	240
Loner	66	58	66	190
Atkins	86	76	86	248
Tirrell	76	89	73	238
Lamb	68	61	77	206
Wardwell	71	76	69	216
Stevens	92	82	80	254
Battison	71	79	82	232
Totals	745	744	761	2250

PROSPECT.

Jameson	66	82	72	220
Bull	75	69	60	204
Bullock	78	91	88	257
Wells	76	77	84	237
Bacon	68	70	70	208
Stevens	73	84	87	244
Thompson	73	57	69	199
Farwell	83	89	71	243
Foster	56	73	75	204
Hallett	77	76	63	216
Total	725	768	739	2232

Accident.

While driving in his buggy through North Weymouth on Sunday afternoon Mr. John Antone of Cohasset was struck by an automobile, in which were a man, two women and two children. The machine hit the buggy with such force that Mr. Antone was thrown violently to the ground and received injuries of a very severe nature. He was taken to his home.

The driver of the machine did not wait to see the result of the accident, but sped toward Quincy at a very rapid rate. The buggy was completely demolished.

As soon as the accident occurred word was sent to the police of Quincy and to station 11, Dorchester, giving a description of the machine and of the driver. The Quincy police saw the machine going through Hancock street at a furious pace, but were unable to stop it. Witnesses of the accident say the automobile was going at the rate of 40 or 50 miles an hour.

Strike Averted.

The threatened strike of the stationary engineers in the quarries about Cape Ann has been averted. It is said the men get a cent an hour advance, the agreement to be in force for two years. The wages paid range from 17 to 27 cents per hour according to the capability of the men and the engines run by them.

Raid in Weymouth.

Weymouth officers raided the premises of H. K. Cushing at East Weymouth Sunday and seized six quarts of whiskey. The whiskey was locked up in the safe which the officers smashed open.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

DISAGREEMENT.

Jury in Duane Murder Case Divided.

The jury before whom the case of James C. Duane for causing the death of his father-in-law, John Lehneman by shooting, was heard, reported a disagreement Saturday at the Dedham court. The jury were out sixteen hours and it is reported to have stood eight to four for acquittal.

Messrs. French and Worthington were in court when the jury reported but District Attorney French was absent. It is thought by those who have followed the case that owing to the vote of eight to four for acquittal that there will be no further prosecution.

Base Ball.

An interesting game was played between Copeland, Jrs., and St. Mary, Jrs., of West Quincy. The score being 7 to 4 in favor of the Copelands. The features of the game were the playing of C. Elcock at first and Cunningham for Copelands and Joyce and J. McDonald for St. Marys.

The score by innings:

Innings,	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Copelands,	2	0	1	0	2	0	0	0	2	—7
St. Marys.	1	0	0	0	2	0	1	0	0	—4

Runs made by Lemieux, R. Elcock 2, Kelly, Monahan, C. Elcock 2, White, McDonald 2. Double play, Kelley to Bent to Elcock. Time 3 hours. Umpires William McLeod and Irving Badger.

Merrymount, 10; Harvard '04, 9.

The Merrymounts put up a great game Saturday afternoon at Merrymount park. They had for their opponents Harvard '04. The game was a close one and at the end of the seventh innings the game was a tie. Merrymount scored two runs in the eighth and Harvard one. In the ninth Harvard was shut out. The score:

MERRYMOUNT.

	B.	H.	P.	O.	A.	E.
Taylor, cf.,		3	1	6	2
Osgood, ss.,		1	1	0	3
Baker, lf.,		1	1	2	1
Scharnagel, 2b.,		1	6	1	1
Saunders. 3b.,		2	0	0	0
Nash, rf.,		0	1	0	0
Oxoner, 1b.,		0	9	0	0
Chadburn, c.,		0	6	0	0
Monroe, p.,		3	2	0	0
Totals,		11	27	9	7

HARVARD, 04.

	B.	H.	P.	O.	A.	E.
Wise, cf.,		2	1	0	1
Viaux, ss.,		2	0	2	1
Dill, 2b.,		1	3	0	0
Thayler, c.,		2	10	3	0
Alexander, p.,		1	1	0	0
Hammond, 1b.,		1	6	0	0
Fitzpatrick, 3b.,		1	1	0	1
Hall, lf.,		1	1	0	1
Bourne, rf.,		1	1	0	1
Totals,		11	24	5	5

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Merrymounts,	1	0	0	3	1	0	3	2	—'	0
Harvards '04,	1	4	1	0	1	0	1	1	0—	9

Two base hits, Taylor, Monroe. Three-base hits, Chadburn, Osgood. Bases on balls, off Monroe 6, Alexander 10. Double play, Scharnagel and Oxoner. Hit by pitched balls, Alexander, Taylor. Passed balls, Thayer 2. Umpire, Howie. Time, 1 h. 15 m.

Coddington vs. Hancock.

The game in the Grammar School league played Saturday between the Coddington school nine and the John Hancock school nine, was won by the Coddingtons 27 to 14. Following is the score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Hancocks,	1	3	2	1	0	1	5	0	1	14
Coddingtons	1	0	10	0	9	3	3	1	0—	27

Association Foot-ball Game.

A splendid exhibition of foot-ball was seen at Ward 3 play ground on Saturday, when the home team played against the Lynns. Quincys won by five goals to one. The visitors put up a very fast game, and made the home team hustle, but the Quincys won out by good judgment combined with hard aggressive playing, and team play.

The home team put up a better combination game than they have at any time this season, and should be complimented for abstaining from these individual exhibitions commonly called "grand stand plays." Individual plays are very nice to look at but better results are obtained by combination plays, and it is results that count.

The features of the game were the playing of McKnight and Russell for Lynn. The home team all played so well that it would be very hard to name any player who attained a greater degree of excellence than his fellow players.

TODAY'S COURT.

Bridget Malloy and Charles Calder were fined $50 each for the illegal sale of liquor to John Boutin at Quincy.

John Hefrey and Duncan McCloud were fined $3 each for drunkenness at Quincy.

Charles Nigbig was fined $1 for violation of the City Ordinances at Quincy.

Joseph A. Cahalan was arraigned for creating a disturbance on an electric car at Quincy and was fined $5.

Catherine Walsh was arraigned for assault on Mary Ryan at Quincy. Case placed on file.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Mrs. Lydia Manter, leaves Thursday for Stonington Maine, where she is to spend the summer.

The contract for supplying coal to the public schools has been awarded J. F. Sheppard & Sons.

Dr. Fred E. Jones has gone to Kentucky on a visit. He was accompanied by John R. Graham.

Al Flowers, moterman on the Street Railway, recently found a gold lodge jewel which he has returned to its owner.

Mr. Joseph W. Stancomb left Sunday night with a Boston friend, for Maine where they are to enjoy a weeks fishing.

Charles S. Hanna of High School avenue has moved to Wollaston, into the house at the corner of Belmont and Fayette streets.

John G. Thomas and family have moved from Warren avenue extension to the new house just completed on Standish avenue, Wollaston.

Maple Lodge at its regular meeting in Wilson's hall on Wednesday evening will initiate several candidates and have a musical entertainment.

Mr. Michael Pitts and family have moved from School street to their new house recently erected on Hancock street near the new car station.

The auction sale of hardware from Bigelow and Dowse's fire at Evans' Emporium on Saturday was a perfect success. The large crowd was kept busy buying until 10.30. The sale will continue for two weeks every evening.

Mrs. Clarissa Harris of Beechwood, (Scituate,) passed away yesterday. She was nearly eighty years of age, and grandmother of Mrs. Walter M. Packard of this city. Funeral will be from the Beechwood church Wednesday afternon at 2.30.

George L. Gill Rebekah lodge will perform the work on several candidates at its meeting in I. O. O. F. hall on Thursday evening; also entertain Crescent lodge of Dorchester; the Board of Grand Officer D. D. Grace W. Mitchell and suite of East Weymouth, and Elsie L. Robinson, president of the Rebekah assembly and suite of Boston.

There will be a meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery Association Tuesday at 3 P. M., in the common council room, City hall. This is the usual monthly meeting held the first Tuesday in every month. Particulars in regard to the recent Day Nursery conference will be expected from those fortunate enough to have attended.

Death of C. L. Lee.

Charles L. Lee of the United States Leather Company died at his home in Wollaston on Sunday after a long illness. He was born in Hartford, Conn., Sept. 1, 1850, and has resided in Wollaston some years. He was a member of Wollaston lodge of Masons. He leaves a widow.

DIED.

HARRIS—In Beechwood, May 3, Mrs. Clarissa Harris, aged 79 years and 11 months.

O'BRIEN—In Quincy, May 2, Mrs. Mary wife of Mr. Timothy O'Brien of 264 Liberty street.

GOODMAN—In North Weymouth, May 2, Mrs Catherine C. wife of Mr. Martin Goodman, aged 70 years.

LEE—In Wollaston, May 3, Mr. Charles G. Lee, aged 44 years.

HARLOW—In Quincy, May 3, William, son of James F. and Bessie Pratt Harlow, aged 4 years, 3 months and 28 days. Burial private.

HOWLEY—In Quincy, May 3, Mr. William Howley of 157 Phipps street, aged 70 years.

Do You Need Iron?

The new preparation called

Peptiron

is an agreeable, effective and up-to-date combination of this wonderful curative metal, free from all the objectionable features of older iron preparations. Whether taken

In Pill or Liquid Form

Peptiron does not injure the teeth, nor leave any inky or metallic flavor in the mouth, and is the only iron preparation that does not cause constipation, however long taken.

Peptiron cures nerve pain, nerve tire, and all degrees of nerve debility; makes the cheeks rosy and the eyes bright—the young more vigorous and the old less feeble.

Invaluable to invalids and convalescents and to all neurasthenic, anemic, and dyspeptic sufferers.

Peptiron is made in two forms: In a liquid—an aromatic cordial elixir—at $1 per bottle, also in chocolate-coated pills at 50c. or $1 per box. By C. I. HOOD CO., proprietors Hood's Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

Selling Agent in Quincy:
E. J. Murphy, 1657 Hancock St.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
For colds, coughs, bronchitis. We have been saying this for 60 years. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Are You Looking for a Home?
Would You Like to Make Some Money?
Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at
BIGELOW PARK.
The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.
SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.
May 2. tf

Spring and Summer Shoes.
The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1 25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.
The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.
GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.
JUST AROUND THE CORNER YOU WILL FIND
The Co-OPERATIVE DINING ROOMS,
3 Granite Street, Quincy,
where your wants will be satisfied.
TABLE BOARD:
21-Meal..... Tickets, $3.50
ROOMS:
$1.25 Per Week and Upwards.
"Right in the Heart of the City."
Call in and talk it over.
mar.16-21--2m

FULL STOCK
—OF—
HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,
—AT—
Brooks' Market,
Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 25. tf

King Arthur Flour.
THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

FOR SALE or TO LET.
HOUSE of 8 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Just completed. Apply to ASA O. A. SEWELL, 12 Charles street, Quincy Point. Reliable Houses built to order at lowest prices and sold on easy terms.
April 7. 1m

ASSESSORS' NOTICE.

To the inhabitants of the City of Quincy, and all other persons liable to pay taxes therein:

You are hereby notified to bring in to the Assessors of said City,

On or before JUNE 1st, 1903,

True and Perfect Lists of all the Polls, and Schedules and Estimates of all the Personal Estates and Real Estate for which you are liable to pay taxes.

Persons holding estates in trust, whether for minors or otherwise, are particularly requested to furnish the Assessors with Statements in relation to such estates.

When the estates of persons deceased have been divided, or have changed hands from other causes during the past year, the Executors, Administrators, or other persons interested, are required to give notice of such changes, and in default of such notice will be held to pay the taxes assessed.

Blank forms for "Return of Property for Taxation" can be procured of the Assessors.

The following may serve as a guide to assist in making up Schedules and Statements:

Number of Polls 20 years and upwards; Money at interest; Amount of Money on hand, including deposits in Banks, etc., other than Savings Banks incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth; Railroad, Town, City, State and other Bonds (except those of the United States); Shares and Stocks of Insurance. Manufacturing and other incorporated companies chartered or organized under the laws of any State other than Massachusetts; Goods, Wares, Merchandise and other stock in trade, within or without the State; Household Furniture, exceeding $1,000 in value; Horses, Mules, Carriages, Oxen, Cows, other neat Cattle not less than one year old, and Swine and Sheep not less than six months old; Income from Profession, Trade, or Employment exceeding $2,000; Personal Property held in trust or by wife or minor children.

Attention is hereby called to Section 32 of Chapter 12 of the Revised Laws.

"Whoever, with intent to defeat or evade the provisions of law in relation to assessment or payment of taxes, delivers or discloses to an assessor or an assistant assessor a false or fraudulent list, return, or schedule of property as and for a true list of his estates, not exempted from taxation, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in jail not exceeding one year."

MORTGAGED PROPERTY.

A mortgagor or mortgagee of real estate may bring in to the assessors of the city or town in which it lies, within the time prescribed by the notice under Sect. 41, a statement under oath of the amount secured thereon or on each separate parcel thereof, with the name and residence of every holder of an interest therein as mortgagor or mortgagee. If such property is situated in two or more places, or if a recorded mortgage includes two or more estates or parts of an estate as security for one sum, such statement shall include an estimate of the interest of the mortgagee in each estate or part of an estate. The assessors shall, from such statement or otherwise, ascertain the proportionate interests of the mortgagor or mortgagee respectively in said estates, and shall assess the same accordingly. If, in any year, such statement is not brought in, the tax for that year on such real estate shall not be invalid merely for the reason that the interest of the mortgagee therein has not been assessed to him.—Sect. 45, Chap. 12, Revised Laws.

When a statement in conformity to the law above quoted is brought in, the real estate therein returned will be assessed under Sects. 16, 17 and 18 of Chap. 12 of the Revised Laws. But in cases where the mortgagor of the real estate has agreed in writing to pay all taxes assessed thereon, no statement or return is required from either the mortgagee or mortgagor unless requested by the assessors in writing.

The Assessors will be in session at their office every MONDAY and THURSDAY morning from 9 to 11 o'clock. Blanks will be furnished to all applicants.

JAMES THOMPSON, Chairman,
CHARLES H. JOHNSON,
WILLIAM B. GLOVER,
Assessors of Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, May 2, 1903. p-4w--1-8--2t a w erry Pectoral colds, coughs, bron-

. We have been say-is for 60 years. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

ome?
Some Money?
e Beautiful Lots at PARK. ccessible Tract of Land
strict.
Merrill Block,
ger Building, QUINCY.
tf er Shoes.

son will be very much in Oxford Ties in the latest ather.
.00 to $3.50.
25 to $3.50.
$1.00, $1.25.
$1.50, $2.00.
$1.25, $1.75.
., 90c., $1.00.
eaders.
for Men.
for Women.
JONES,
QUINCY.

SSESSORS' NOTICE.

nhabitants of the City of Quincy, and her persons liable to pay taxes therein: re hereby notified to bring in to the of said City,

before JUNE 1st, 1903,

Perfect Lists of all the Polls, and and Estimates of all the Personal nd Real Estate for which you are ay taxes.

s holding estates in trust, whether for otherwise, are particularly requested n the Assessors with Statements in rela- ch estates.

the estates of persons deceased have ided, or have changed hands from nses during the past year, the Execu- administrators, or other persons inter- re required to give notice of such , and in default of such notice will be ay the taxes assessed.

forms for "Return of Property for " can be procured of the Assessors.

llowing may serve as a guide to assist g up Schedules and Statements:

er of Polls 20 years and upwards; t interest; Amount of Money on hand, deposits in Banks, etc., other than Banks incorporated under the laws of monwealth; Railroad, Town, City, d other Bonds (except those of the tates); Shares and Stocks of Insurance. ring and other incorporated compa- ered or organized under the laws of other than Massachusetts; Goods, erchandise and other stock in trade, without the State; Household Furni- eding $1,000 in value; Horses, Mules, Oxen, Cows, other neat Cattle not one year old, and Swine and Sheep than six months old; Income from , Trade, or Employment exceeding ersonal Property held in trust or by nor children.

on is hereby called to Section 32 of 2 of the Revised Laws.

ever, with intent to defeat or evade the of law in relation to assessment or of taxes, delivers or discloses to an or an assistant assessor a false or list, return, or schedule of property a true list of his estates, not exempted ation, shall be punished by fine not one thousand dollars or by imprison- l not exceeding one year."

RTGAGED PROPERTY.

gagor or mortgagee of real estate may o the assessors of the city or town in es, within the time prescribed by the er Sect. 41, a statement under oath of t secured thereon or on each separate reet, with the name and residence of er of an interest therein as mortgagor gee. If such property is situated in re places, or if a recorded mortgage wo or more estates or parts of an ecurity for one sum, such statement de an estimate of the interest of the in each estate or part of an estate. sors shall, from such statement or ascertain the proportionate interests rtgagor or mortgagee respectively in tes, and shall assess the same accord- in any year, such statement is not , the tax for that year on such real l not be invalid merely for the reason terest of the mortgagee therein has assessed to him.—Sect. 45, Chap. 12, ucs.

statement in conformity to the law ed is brought in, the real estate turned will be assessed under Sects. 18 of Chap. 12 of the Revised Laws. es where the mortgagor of the real agreed in writing to pay all taxes thereon, no statement or return is rom either the mortgagee or mort- less requested by the assessors in essors will be in session at their office ONDAY and THURSDAY morn- 9 to 11 o'clock. Blanks will be fur- all applicants.

MES THOMPSON, Chairman,
HARLES H. JOHNSON,
ILLIAM B. GLOVER,
Assessors of Quincy, Mass.
May 2, 1903. p-4w--1-8t--2t a w

SEASONABLE NECESSITIES.

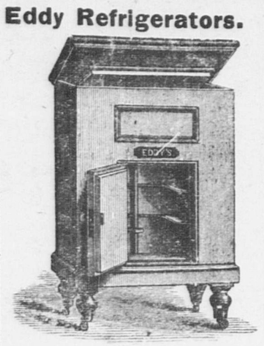

If you wish to keep up appearances in your home you must keep everlastingly at it. Now is the time to clean house, change around the furniture and add a new carpet, matting, new draperies or odd pieces of furniture where needed. We have much for your consideration. Attractive goods from the best and most reliable factories in the country. Prices lower than those of any other store in New England.

Mattings, Rugs, etc.

Straw Mattings,	10c. to 25c.
Japanese Mattings,	25c. to 40c.
Prairie Grass Mattings,	35c. to 38c.
Art Squares,	$2.98 to $10.20
Dining Room Rugs in Taspesty, Brussels, Velvet, Oriental or Smyrna,	$9.75 to $35.00
Wool Carpets,	.55 to .75
Tapestry Carpets,	.65 to 1.00
Brussels,	1.00 to 1.35

Lace Draperies, Muslin Curtains, Tapestry and Chenille Portieres.

Eddy Refrigerators.

If there was a better make of refrigerators in the market than the Eddy, it would be here for sale. The Eddy is acknowledged by experts everywhere to be the most economical ice consumer and most satisfactory ice box made. Factory prices from $5.20 up

Cottage and Porch Furniture, etc.

Piazza Chairs,	89c. to $3.25
Lawn Settees,	.98
Lawn Swings,	5.00
Cot and Iron Beds,	$1.25 to 2.98
Cottage Bureaus,	3.50
Cottage Tables,	98c. to 5.00
Cottage Couches,	$3.50 to 6.00
Cottage Washstands,	1.42
Cottage Chairs,	50c. to .75
Cottage Rockers,	79c. to 1.75

All the inexpensive fittings for cottages and temporary rooms in your own home.

Summer Necessities.

Blue Flame Oil Stoves,	$4.50 to $9.00
Common Oil Stoves,	75c. to 2.25
Lawn Mowers,	$5.25 to 7.00
Lawn Hose,	3.50 to 6.00

Bicycles, etc.

Iver Johnson, Dayton, Crawford,

Leroy, High Grade Wheels,	$25.00
Cheaper Wheels,	$18.00

Tires, Sundries, etc.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,
Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

Furniture Store and Annex, Hancock Street, Quincy.
Short Credit Accounts When Desired.

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS,

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.
April 30. 1m

Steamship Tickets.

Cuuard Line. Boston, New York, Queenstown, Liverpool.

Dominion Line. Boston, Queenstown, Liverpool, and from Boston to Azores, Gibralta, Genoa and Naples direct.

American Line. New York, Southampton, London, Paris.

White Star Line. New York, Queenstown, Liverpool.

Levland Line. Boston, Liverpool, London.

Italian Royal Mail S. S. Co. New York, Naples, Genoa.

Scandinavian American Line. From New York to Scandinavian direct.

For rates and reliable information apply to

C. F. CARLSON,

Faxon Building. Opposite R. R. Station.

Tel. 210-51.

Quincy, April 6. 1m

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

SATURDAY

COATS.

17

SILK LINED COVERT

Corset Coats

Made to sell for $10.00.

Saturday only, $5.98

Also a full line of Misses' and Children's Coats at very low prices.

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

Stitchers Wanted.

EXPERIENCED on Ladies' Wrappers. Wheeler & Wilson power machines of the latest improved style. Steady work the year round, and good pay. Also, help wanted to take work home. Apply to MRS. A. L. WILBUR, Tirrell Building, 1467 Hancock street, over Old Colony Laundry, Quincy.

May 2. 1po-tf

SUCCESSFUL RAID.

Liquor Seized in One of Faxon's Houses.

Chief of Police Hayden, with Inspector McKay and Officers Larkin, Burrell, Holloran, Golden, Boutin and Cahill raided a double tenement house on East Howard street early Sunday evening and seized two cases of beer, a small quantity of whiskey and twelve empty cases of beer bottles. The house raided is owned by Henry H. Faxon and was occupied by Mrs. Bridget Malloy and Charles Calder. Mrs. Malloy and Calder were arrested for violation of the liquor law.

Council Business.

A regular meeting of the City Council will be held tonight. Several petitions will be received for street lights, locations for telephone poles and minor licenses.

The orders granting the telephone company locations for poles will come up on this second rerding. The famous Chubbuck street nuisance will again come before the Council in the form of a substitute order which will be reported by the Committee on Sewers and Drains. Several communications will also be received from the Mayor.

The fourteenth annual report just issued by the Wollaston Cooperative bank shows it to be in a most prosperous condition. Mr. Herbert T. Whitman is president; Mr. Chandler W. Smith, vice-president; Mr. Herbert W. Pinkham, Secretary and treasurer; and on the board of directors are many well known business men of Wollaston.

☞Another success was scored at the Co-operative Dining Rooms, 3 Granite street, yesterday, when their dining rooms were taxed to their limit. Words of praise were heard on all sides, and such expressions as these were heard: "I will be a regular here very soon;" "didn't know there was a room exclusively for ladies and their escorts, etc." Only $3.50 for 21 meals. They are just around the corner, but the people find their way all right.

Pillsbury's Best Flour

is sold by grocers everywhere in sacks and barrels. While it is sold everywhere, it is not sold by every grocer. Hence, a grocer who does not keep Pillsbury's Best Flour, naturally will try to sell the flour he has in stock, declaring, either through ignorance or from a desire to dispose of what he has on hand, that his flour is as good as any other. Care should be taken to buy Pillsbury's Best Flour in original packages, so as to get the genuine article.

CITY BREVITIES.

Mrs. Alfred Jelenik of Botolph street has returned from New York where she has been spending several weeks.

If Tuesday is stormy for the sale at the Canterbury building, Quincy Mansion school, the Canterbury will be open Wednesday from four until

A number of the city officials and City Council Committee on Street were entertained with a banquet at the Great Hill house, Houghs Neck, Saturday night.

Atlantic is duly thankful for the moon these nights. Nature is more considerate than the electric light company which allows Atlantic about two nights a week to have its lights working in fair condition.

Sympathy is again extended to Mr James F. Harlow, who lost his eldest son on Sunday, after an illness of a few weeks. The death of the little fellow so soon after the death of the wife and mother is a great blow to Mr. Harlow. The funeral is to be held on Tuesday afternoon.

There is one man in Atlantic who owns a motor cycle which makes itself heard several rods away. This worthy citizen finds it convenient to be up and out of doors with the sun's first rays, whereupon those residents of Atlantic who would slumber at that hour in the morning are awakened by the puffing and clicking of the moter cycle which speeds up and down the streets with wonderful rapidity. It seems a fair example of the trite motto, "One man's meat is another's poison."

Quincy Post Office.

Letters unclaimed for week ending Monday, May 4:

F. O. Anderson, J. Bird, Carlo Boni, Elijah Brown, Charles E. Clark, Francis Coxe, Michael Curley, James C. Gillespie, Eugene Gilman Lars Hanson J. P. Hatch, John P. Hayward, Leslie O. King William J. Lester, James S, Leather, John Lennon, John McCue, Andrew A. McDonald Wm. Morrison, Dennis Murphy, John Palomoki, Douglas Paterson, Wm. H. Pfaffmann, Joseph Taylor William Waley, West Quincy Express.

Mrs. E. M. Bishop, Mrs. Emily Brown, Mrs. Mrs. Clara Clough, Mrs. Eva Hazeton. Miss Gertrude King, Mrs. J. F. Malone, Mrs. J. McDonald, Mrs. Rose Page Msss Isabelle E. Ross, Mrs. Jennie Snow, Mrs. L. E. Watson, Miss Lizzie White.

Death of Bishop Hurst

Washington, May 4.—Bishop John F. Hurst of the Methodist Episcopal church died here at 12:40 o'clock this morning. Bishop Hurst had been in failing health for nearly two years and for more than a year it had been recognized that a fatal termination of his malady was but a question of months. He was stricken with paralysis in London last September a year ago, when attending the ecumenical conference. The news of President McKinley's assassination prostrated him and the shock brought on rapidly the decline that finally ended in his decease.

Opposition to Canal Treaty

New York, May 4.—According to statements made to a Tribune reporter by Francisco Carbonell, a member of the Colombian congress, on the eve of his departure for home, the Hay-Herran Panama canal treaty will meet with strong and determined opposition when it comes up for ratification at the extraordinary session of congress. He says that the probability of the ratification of the treaty is very remote.

Seven Master Bakers Give In

Lawrence, Mass., May 4.—Seven master bakers have signed the scale presented to them by the journeymen bakers and it is considered by the journeymen that this action will be followed within a short time by the rest of the master bakers. The men demand $18 a week for foremen, $15 for second hands and benchmen, a 60-hour working week, and 30 cents an hour for overtime.

DECAPITATED.

Horrible Accident at Houghs Neck This Morning.

John McInnis was the victim of a horrible accident at Houghs Neck shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. McInnis who was employed by Charles G. Belding on the Metropolitan sewer was at work on a pile driver near what is known as the causeway. He was in the act of placing an iron cap on the top of a pile, preparatory to its being driven, when suddenly without warning the heavy hammer descended crushing his head to a jelly and cutting it off at the shoulders. Death was probably instantaneous. The unfortunate man was about 28 years of age, unmarried and resided at Houghs Neck.

World's Fair Exodus

St. Louis, May 4.—Nearly all the dedication visitors have departed from St. Louis. The monitor Arkansas will depart from St. Louis today. Whether she will return to the gulf or extend her pilgrimage to Quincy, Ills., has been left to the discretion of Commander Vreeland.

Hundred Victims of Dynamite

Salonica, May 4.—The number of Bulgarians killed during the recent dynamite riots is now estimated at 100. A complete bomb manufacturing plant has been discovered in a shoemaker's shop, communicated by an underground passage with the Ottoman bank.

Thieving Postmaster Sentenced

Manila, May 4.—O. G. Milne, postmaster at Tacloban, island of Leyte, who was recently convicted of misappropriating government funds, has been sentenced to seven years' imprisonment.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Illinois house killed the bill introduced to legalize trading in puts and calls on the Chicago board of trade.

Orders have been received to ship all of the machinery from the cotton mill at Farnumsville, Mass., to Alabama, where it is to be set up in a new mill and operated. This means that the Farnumsville plant will remain idle for an indefinite time.

The Tuscarawas Traction company has been sold to the Tucker-Athony company of Boston. The road runs from Canal Dover through New Philadelphia to Uhrichsville, O.

The workshops of the Russian locomotive and gun works at Kharkoff have been burned. The loss is $500,000.

John P. Sensenderfer, a well-known Democratic politician and famous as a baseball player a quarter of a century ago, died at Philadelphia, aged 55.

LIKE FINDING MONEY.

Chas. C. Hearn Offers Popular Medicine at Half Price.

Chas. C. Hearn, the popular druggist, is making an offer that is just like finding money, for he is selling a regular 50 cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price. In addition to this large discount he agrees to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is quite unusual to be able to buy fifty-cent pieces for a quarter, but that is what this offer really means, for it is only recently through the solicitation of Druggist Chas. C. Hearn that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents. He urged the proprietors to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a litfle while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified his good judgment, for the sale has been something remarkable.

Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure. But if by any chance it should not, Chas. C. Hearn will return your money.

The specific is very pleasant to take, coming in the form of small granules, and there are sixty doses in every package. It is especially convenient when traveling, and no one should start on a journey without a bottle of this reliable medicine.

23-27-30-4

THE KAISER IN ROME

Receives a Hearty Welcome From the Populace

PAYS VISIT TO THE VATICAN

Where He Has an Audience of Forty Minutes With the Pope—Wanted to Make Occasion Artistic and Spectacular, and He Did So

Rome, May 4.—Emperor William had a conference with the pope yesterday and then returned to the residence of the Prussian minister to the holy see.

The day was bright and as the emperor and his suite traversed the streets of Rome he was enthusiastically acclaimed. At the Vatican the emperor was received with military honors by the Palatine guard and a platoon of gendarmes, and he was welcomed by the high dignitaries of the pontifical court. The visit of Emperor William was returned by Cardinal Rampolla, papal secretary of state, at the Prussian legation.

After attending divine services the visiting ruler drove to the Odescalchi palace, the official residence of the Prussian minister to the holy see. Here he had luncheon with Cardinals Rampolla, Gotti and Agliardi. This legation lunch is quite an unusual occurrence. Cardinal Rampolla is called the vice pope, as he now conducts the entire machinery of the church, Cardinal Gotti is prefect of the church congregation of the propaganda, and Cardinal Agliardi is the most liberal and prominent member of the sacred college. Rome seldom sees cardinals driving through the streets and being received in state and the people were much interested in the arrival of Cardinals Rampolla, Fotti and Agliardi.

The trumpets of the cuirassiers announced the coming of the emperor. His escort were mounted on white horses and wore horse-hair tassels in their helmets, as did the ancient legionaries of Rome. The people welcomed the German emperor with a roar that could be heard for blocks and he acknowledged the salutation with smiling amiability.

The luncheon lasted for about an hour. Emperor William recalled his different visits to the Vatican and spoke of his pleasant recollections of the pontiff.

The sun was shining brightly when Emperor William left the legation to drive to the Vatican. Fifteen carriages were required for the use of the emperor and his suite. The horses, carriages and servants were all brought from Berlin, as the emperor was determined to give his visit to the pope especial official importance. On Saturday the imperial coachmen held a dress rehearsal of yesterday's drive to the Vatican, much to the delight of the small boys of Rome. Yesterday, when he left the legation, the balcony of the Doria palace, opposite the Odescalchi palace, was filled with members of the diplomatic corps, who had gathered to witness the spectacle. When the emperor appeared he was greeted with frantic applause. He was in full uniform and accompanied by Prince Frederick William and Prince Eitel.

Emperor William has always declared that he enjoys going to the Vatican from an artistic and spectacular point of view. The plaza of St. Peter was densely crowded. On the far side of the plaza there were assembled 1000 pilgrims from Cologne, carrying flags and bouquets of flowers. They received their emperor with tremendous applause, presented the flowers to him and made impressive demonstrations of loyalty. Picked Swiss guards assumed the duty of guarding the imperial carriage at the entrance to the Vatican. Passing the Borgia tower the emperor and his suite entered the famous court of San Damaso. Here he and his sons were received with military honors by the Palatine guards and a platoon of gendarmes, while the papal colors, yellow and white, floated in the breeze. The imperial carriage stopped at the noble staircase, where the major domo presented high dignitaries of the pontifical court.

When Pope Leo was advised of the arrival of his guests the door was thrown open and the pontiff appeared. He was dressed in white, with the exception of a small cape of red velvet, trimmed with ermine. The emperor advanced alone, making a profound bow. The pontiff inquired in French as to the emperor's health. Emperor William, after presenting his two sons, retired with the pope to the latter's private study. The audience lasted 40 minutes. At the end of this time the princes were summoned and spoke to the pontiff. The imperial party then paid a brief visit to Cardinal Rampolla.

Upon his three previous visits to the Vatican Emperor William returned direct to the quirinal. This was not liked by the Vatican, as it thought he should first return to neutral ground. King Edward followed this course. Yesterday Emperor William returned from the Vatican to the Prussian legation, accredited to the holy see, where he changed carriages, his cuirassiers remaining at the legation.

There was another new departure during this visit of the emperor. Previously Cardinal Rampolla had returned the imperial visit to the Vatican at the Prussian legation and had found only the Prussian minister. Yesterday, however, Emperor William waited at the legation, received the cardinal most cordially and had a long conference with him.

A FISH OUT OF WATER

The Unfortunate Frolic That Caused Its Untimely Death.

A German scientist—he could only have been a German—once conceived, we are told, a plan to train a fish to live out of water. He placed a thriving little carp in a small tank and with infinite patience and great exactness removed from the tank one spoonful of water every day, at the same time increasing gradually the amount of oxygen in the water. In time the water barely covered the carp, and still it thrived. The quantity of water continued to diminish, and, by slowly adapting its method of breathing to the new conditions, the fish began to breathe air and indeed became quite terrestrial in its habits before the tank was entirely dry. The scientist had grown to love the carp. He fed it from his own hand, and now that it was living in the same element with himself he took it from the tank and left it as free to follow its own devices as was the family cat. The little fish also loved its master. It followed him about from place to place, flopping along after him, stopping only occasionally to leap for a passing fly. One day the scientist was crossing a bridge. The carp, as usual, was at his heels, enjoying the pleasant air of the countryside and uttering from time to time a little sound expressive of delight and contentment. About the middle of the bridge a fat housefly was sunning itself on the rail. The carp spied the fly and jumped for it, but miscalculating the distance went over the rail into the river—and was drowned.—Great Round World.

Language.

Language is the subtlest instrument ever played on by man. Its variations are illimitable—that is, they are limited only by the powers of the human mind and soul in all possible situations. The power of words or speech exceeds that of music because language is more than music and even includes music. Language in the hands of a master is pregnant with every meaning.

A nation's language is at once an expression and a mold of its character, reflecting from century to century the development of its civilization and its advance in intellectual and moral culture, in learning and refinement. The flexible Greek tongue was the product and the instrument of the subtle Greek intellect. The distinctive qualities of the classic speech of the Roman declare the dignity and the virile energy which were inseparable from the old Roman.—Portland Oregonian.

Scattered Too Much.

"It always pays to be conservative," said the careful man. "Now, I recall the case of the man from Dyersville, Dyer county, Tenn.

"'I can lick any man in Dyersville,' he announced one day in the main street of that village.

"There was no response. 'I can lick any man in Dyer county,' he then proclaimed.

"Still there was no reply to the challenge. Emboldened by the success of his bluff, the man shouted, 'I can lick any man in Tennessee!'

"At that a long, lank mountaineer peeled off his coat and wiped up the street with the boaster.

"'Gentlemen,' said the braggart, as he brushed off his clothes, 'the trouble with me is that I scatter too durn much!'"

Exhausted Brain Cells.

Nerve specialists say that a great many suicides are the direct results of exhausted brain cells. When you find yourself becoming morose and despondent, when you are conscious that the zest of life is evaporating, that you are losing the edge of your former keen interest in things generally and that your life is becoming a bore, you may be pretty sure that you need more sleep; that you need country or outdoor exercise. If you get these, you will find that all the old enthusiasm will return. A few days of exercise in the country rambling over the hills and meadows will erase the dark pictures which haunt you and will restore buoyancy to your animal spirits.—Success.

Getting Into a Life Buoy.

The average person in danger of drowning usually attempts to lift a life buoy over his head, with the result that he is immediately plunged deeper into the water. A good swimmer can do this with a sudden upward jerk, but with the nonswimmer it is almost an impossible feat.

What he should do when he has seized the buoy is to place both hands, palms downward, on the buoy on the part nearest the body, pressing it downward and slightly away, when the farther part of the buoy will rise out of the water and actually fall over the head. The arms can then be put through easily, "and there you are."

History In Six Words.

War.
Poverty.
Peace.
Prosperity.
Pride.
Wall Street Journal.

Always In Demand.

"I think gossip is never entirely useless."

"You really think so?"

"Yes; it can always be used to satisfy other people's curiosity."—Brooklyn Life.

Hardly as She Meant It.

Monument Man—What shall I put on your husband's tombstone, madam?

Distracted Widow—Oh, say that he was my husband and that he is happy now.—Life.

Those who pursue happiness are fortunate to catch up with content.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day,	25 cents
" " three days,	50 cents
" " one week,	75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

LOST.

LOST—A Rubber Tire from a buggy. Suitable reward will be paid on return to PENNIMAN & SON'S Stable, Depot avenue. Quincy, May 1. 3t

WANTED.

WANTED—Competent Granite Letterer at once. Good pay for a good man. W. F. COOK, Springfield, Mass. 4-6t

WANTED—Six Boys to work on leather. Apply to A. H. KEITH, Braintree. May 4. 3t

WANTED.

WANTED—Young Men to prepare for Government Positions. Fine Openings in all Departments. Good Salaries. Rapid Promotions. Examinations soon. Particulars Free. Inter-State Cor. Inst., Cedar Rapids, Ia. April 27. lp-1m

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—One Black Mare, nine years old, weight 950. Sound and kind, suitable for driver or light grocery wagon. Call W. H. LEATHERS, Workman's Cash Market, Brewers Corner. Quincy, May 4-1t

FOR SALE—A lady's Springfield Bicycle for $10. In best of repair. J. DELOREY, 650 Washington street, Quincy Point. May 4. 3t

FOR SALE—One Roan Horse, 8 years old, weight 1200 pounds. One Express Wagon, and one Harness. Apply at 165 Quincy avenue, Quincy. May 4—3t

FOR SALE.—Yawl BRANT, 28.6 o. a., 9.0 beam, 3.0 draught, with centre board up; built by Leloise in 1898. This boat is well known along the coast as a safe and handy cruiser, is easily handled, and is in perfect condition, well found in everything needed for comfort and safety. Now at her moorings off the Wollaston Yacht Club house and ready for sea. J. A. FENNO, 538 Hancock street. Wollaston, May 4. tf

FOR SALE. Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office. April 28. tf

FOR SALE—A lot of young hardy Rose Bushes. Apply at 90 Washington street, Quincy. Quincy, April 28. 6t

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve [12] rooms with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street. Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

TO LET.

TO LET—Furnished Rooms, corner Hancock and Greenleaf streets, Quincy. Large Double Parlor, two front Communicating Rooms and several Side Rooms. Terms moderate. Rooms now ready for occupancy. Apply at the residence. May 4-tf

TO LET—Rooms at 48 Revere road, furnished or unfurnished. One large front room furnished, several smaller rooms. House newly renovated also new bath room. Terms reasonable. May 2-3t

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy. April 8. w. th. s. m.--tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet. 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street. Quincy, April 21. tf

TO LET—House, 8 rooms, No. 59 Coddington street, with bath, furnace, electric lights. Apply to H. M. FAXON, Adams building. Apr. 16-tf

TO LET—In Quincy Centre, house of 6 Rooms and Stable. Rent, $20 per month. Apply to FRANK FESSENDEN CRANE, 4 Chestnut Street. apr. 9-pl tf

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street. Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

TO LET.

Westerly Half of House, No 56 Coddington street, 10 rooms, city water, now occupied by E. George Sanborn.

Farm, head of Summer street, with house and out-buildings, now occupied by Anderson and Frieberg.

Easterly Half House, No. 59 Pond street, 5 rooms, now occupied by James F. Mullin.

Tenement, 4 rooms, No. 1597 Hancock street, now occupied by Charles Rose.

Stable, Woodward avenue, now occupied by Charles Fostello.

Apply, HENRY H. FAXON, Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, April 30. 6t

TO LET.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, PRES.

April 9-1m 11-1m

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.

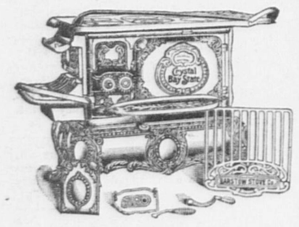

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK
A SPECIALTY.
Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.

Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

Address, 1262 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
Quincy, April 10. tf1p

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.

Come and See It.

BARSTOW STOVE CO.,
55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.

GUY'S COLISEUM,
W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 17. 4w

Wall Paper
Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,
H. BIDWELL,
Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.
April 1. 1p-2mos.

King Arthur Flour
MAKES THE
BEST BREAD.
SOLD BY
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

SMOKE THE GOVERNESS.
UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by
P. A. NELSON,
59 Granite Street.
Quincy, Nov. 11 6mos.

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and confidential results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By EDWIN CASKODEN [CHARLES MAJOR]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

This story began in the Daily Ledger of Monday, March 16, and will be continued daily until completed.

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I and II.—Charles Brandon kills a duelist on the field of honor and is appointed captain of the king's guard at the English court. The king's sister, Mary Tudor, quickly sets her fancy upon the gallant stranger. Brandon makes a confidant of Edwin Caskoden, master of the dance. III.—Caskoden is attentive to Lady Jane Bolingbroke, companion to the princess. In a fit of petulance Mary rebuke Brandon, then craves forgiveness. IV—Brandon teaches Mary a new dance learned in France. The young princess is shocked at first, then delighted with the sensation of Brandon's arm around her waist. Brandon declares that the girl is perfect, but the game of making love to royalty is dangerous. V.—Brandon crosses swords with the Duke of Buckingham, an unwelcome admirer of the princess. VI—Mary, Lady Jane, Brandon and Caskoden ride to Windsor with the king. Mary shows decided partiality for Brandon's company, and on the return he is sent a day ahead of the royal party. VII—Louis XII of France asks for the hand of Mary. Brandon to sail for America to avoid Mary. She takes him to task for his indifference. Overcome by her pleadings, he makes a violent demonstration of his love. VIII.—Mary and Lady Jane go in disguise to consult a fortune teller. Brandon follows unknown to Mary. Buckingham plays the spy, and in a fight with Brandon he is wounded and two of his suit killed. IX—Brandon in prison charged with murder. Mary to plead with the King. Buckingham against the prisoner. The king discovers a note sent by Mary to Brandon. Brandon condemned to death. The king learns that Brandon saved Mary from disgrace and orders his release. Brandon now madly in love with Mary. XI—Ambassadors of the French king come to England to court Mary for their aged sovereign. The girl spurns them in a highly dramatic scene. The betrothal made by King Henry. Mary kept in ignorance of Brandon's long imprisonment. She supposed he had sailed for America. XII—Mary explains to Brandon her neglect when he lay in prison. Bitter words followed by betrothal. Brandon dismissed from court. XIII.—Mary flatly refuses to wed the old French king. Braudon accuses Buckingham of having attempted to abduct Mary. King Henry angry with Brandon.

CHAPTER XIV—[Continued.]

"Mary, would you like to see me a corpse before tomorrow noon?" he asked.

"Why, of course not! Why do you ask such a dreadful question?"

"Because, if you wish to make sure of it, do what you have just said—go to the king and tell him all. I doubt if he could wait till morning. I believe he would awaken me at midnight to put me to sleep forever—at the end of a rope or on a block pillow."

"Oh, no; you are all wrong. I know what I can do with Henry."

"If that is the case, I say goodby now, for I shall be out of England, if possible, by midnight. You must promise me that you will not only not go to the king at all about this matter, but that you will guard your tongue, jealous of its slightest word, and remember with every breath that on your prudence hangs my life, which, I know, is dear to you. Do you promise? If you do not, I must fly. So you will lose me one way or the other if you tell the king—either by my flight or by my death."

"I promise," said Mary, with drooping head, the embodiment of despair, all life and hope having left her again.

After a few minutes her face brightened, and she asked Brandon what ship he would sail in for New Spain, and whence.

"We sail in the Royal Hind from Bristol," he replied.

"How many go out in her, and are there any women?"

"No, no!" he returned. "No woman could make the trip, and, besides, on ships of that sort, half pirate, half merchant, they do not take women. The sailors are superstitious about it and will not sail with them. They say they bring bad luck—adverse winds, calms, storms, blackness, monsters from the deep and victorious foes."

"The ignorant creatures!" cried Mary.

Brandon continued, "There will be a hundred men if the captain can induce so many to enlist."

"How does one procure passage?" inquired Mary.

"By enlisting with the captain, a man named Bradhurst, at Bristol, where the ship is now lying. There is where I enlisted by letter. But why do you ask?"

"Oh, I only wanted to know."

We talked awhile on various topics, but Mary always brought the conversation back to the same subject, the Royal Hind and New Spain. After asking many questions she sat in silence for a time and then abruptly broke into one of my sentences. She was always interrupting me as if I were a parrot.

"I have been thinking and have made up my mind what I will do, and you shall not dissuade me. I will go to New Spain with you. That will be glorious—far better than the humdrum life of sitting at home—and will solve the whole question."

"But that would be impossible, Mary," said Brandon, into whose face this new evidence of her regard had brought a brightening look; "utterly impossible. To begin with, no woman could stand the voyage, not even you, strong and vigorous as you are."

"Oh, yes I can, and I will not allow you to stop me for that reason. I could bear any hardship better than the torture of the last few weeks. In truth, I cannot bear this at all. It is killing me; so what would it be when you are gone and I am the wife of Louis? Think of that, Charles Brandon; think of that, when I am the wife of Louis. Even if the voyage kills me, I might as well die one way as another, and then I would be with you, where it were sweet to die." And I had to sit there and listen to all this foolish talk!

Brandon insisted: "But no women are going. As I told you, they would not take one. Besides, how could you escape? I will answer the first question you ever asked me. You are of 'sufficient consideration about the court' for all your movements to attract notice. It is impossible. We must not think of it. It cannot be done. Why build up hopes only to be cast down?"

"Oh, but it can be done. Never doubt it. I will go, not as a woman, but as a man. I have planned all the details while sitting here. Tomorrow I will send to Bristol a sum of money asking a separate room in the ship for a young nobleman who wishes to go to New Spain incognito, and will go aboard just before they sail. I will buy a man's complete outfit and will practice being a man before you and Sir Edwin." Here she blushed so that I could see the scarlet even in the gathering gloom. She continued: "As to my escape, I can go to Windsor, and then perhaps on to Berkeley castle, over by Reading, where there will be no one to watch me. You can leave at once, and there will be no cause for them to spy upon me when you are gone, so it can be done easily enough. That is it. I will go to my sister, who is now at Berkeley castle, the other side of Reading, you know, and that will make a shorter ride to Bristol when we start."

The thought, of course, could not but please Brandon, to whom, in the warmth of Mary's ardor, it had almost begun to offer hope, and he said musingly: "I wonder if it could be done? If it could—if we could reach New Spain, we might build ourselves a home in the beautiful green mountains and hide ourselves safely away from all the world, in the lap of some cozy valley, rich with nature's bounteous gift of fruit and flowers, shaded from the hot sun and sheltered from the blasts, and live in a little paradise all our own. What a glorious dream, but it is only a dream, and we had better awake from it!"

Brandon must have been insane.

"No, no! It is not a dream," interrupted downright determined Mary.

I had to sit there and listen to all this foolish talk!

"It is not a dream. It shall be a reality. How glorious it will be! I can see our little house now nestling among the hills, shaded by great spreading trees, with flowers and vines and golden fruit all about it, rich plumaged birds and gorgeous butterflies. Oh, I can hardly wait! Who would live in a musty palace when one has within reach such a home, and that, too, with you?"

Here it was again. I thought that interview would be the death of me.

Brandon held his face in his hands and then, looking up, said: "It is only a question of your happiness, and, hard as the voyage and your life over there would be, yet I believe it would be better than life with Louis of France. Nothing could be so terrible as that to both of us. If you wish to go, I will try to take you, though I die in the attempt. There will be ample time to reconsider, so that you can turn back if you wish."

Her reply was inarticulate, though satisfactory, and she took his hand in hers as the tears ran gently down her cheeks, this time tears of joy, the first she had shed for many a day.

In the Siren country again without wax! Overboard and lost!

Yes, Brandon's resolution not to see Mary was well taken, if it could only have been as well kept. Observe as we progress into what the breaking of it led him.

He had known that if he should but see her once more his already toppling will would lose its equipoise, and he would be led to attempt the impossible and invite destruction. At first this scheme appeared to me in its true light, but Mary's subtle feminine logic made it seem such plain and easy sailing that I soon began to draw enthusiasm from her exhaustless store, and our combined attack upon Brandon eventually routed every vestige of caution and common sense that even he had left.

Siren logic has always been irresistible and will continue so no doubt despite experience.

I cannot define what it was about Mary that made her little speeches, half argumentative, all pleading, so wonderfully persuasive. Her facts were mere fancies, and her logic was not even good sophistry. As to real argument and reasoning, there was nothing of either in them. It must have been her native strength of character and intensely vigorous personality—some unknown force of nature operating through her occultly—that turned the channels of other persons' thoughts and filled them with her own will. There was magic in her power, I am certain, but unconscious magic to Mary, I am equally sure. She never would have used it knowingly.

There was still another obstacle to which Mary administered her favorite remedy, the Gordian knot treatment. Brandon said: "It cannot be. You are not my wife, and we dare not trust a priest here to unite us."

"No," replied Mary, with hanging head, "but we can—can find one over there."

"I do not know how that will be. We shall probably not find one—at least I fear. I do not know."

After a little hesitation she answered: "I will go with you anyway and—and risk it. I hope we may find a priest." And she flushed scarlet from her throat to her hair.

Brandon kissed her and said: "You shall go, my brave girl. You make me blush for my faint heartedness and prudence. I will make you my wife in some way as sure as there is a God."

Soon after this Brandon forced himself to insist on her departure, and I went with her, full of hope and completely blinded to the dangers of our cherished scheme. I think Brandon never really lost sight of the danger and almost infinite proportion of chance against this wild, reckless venture, but was daring enough to attempt it even in the face of such clearly seen and deadly consequences.

[To be Continued.]

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it." says C. P. Ravder, of Plattsburg Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

Quiet Period In San Domingo

San Domingo, May 4.—The German gunboat Panther has left here, under instructions to visit Dominican and Haytien ports. The American cruiser San Francisco has arrived here. Quiet now prevails throughout Santo Domingo and political prisoners have been released.

Cup Yacht Took a Spin

New Rochelle, N. Y., May 4.—Although there was a stiff east wind on the sound the Reliance had her daily sail yesterday. She carried her sail well and took the long seas in easy fashion and without apparent effect upon her speed.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Tuesday, May 5.
Sun rises—4:36; sets—6:47.
Moon sets—1:17 a. m.
High water—5:45 a. m.; 6:15 p. m.

The area of high pressure central Saturday evening in eastern Colorado has advanced to the Ohio valley. The northeastern high has moved off to sea. Fair weather is indicated for New England.

BOTTLED SUNSHINE

Scott's Emulsion brings sunshine to the entire system of the consumptive.

All life is sunshine. The sun pouring its rays into the plant combines earth, water and air into new plant tissue. Sunshine stored up in the plant is its life.

The animal changes plant tissue into animal tissue, changes the stored up sunshine of plant life into animal life.

Fat contains more stored up sunshine than any other form of animal tissue. This is why Scott's Emulsion of pure cod liver oil is literally bottled sunshine, full of rich nourishment and new life for the consumptive.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

AUTHORITIES SCORED

For Arrest of a Priest on Charge of Murder

BROTHER OF THE VICTIM

Is Also a Priest, and He Declares From Altar Steps That "Atrocious Public Opinion" Is Responsible For the "Bloodhound Story."

Lorain, O., May 4.—Rev. Charles Reichlin, pastor of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church in this city, and brother of Agatha Reichlin, who was murdered last Thursday night, has made a sensational denunciation of the authorities for the arrest of Rev. Ferdinand Walser on the charge of murdering his sister. The occasion was at the services in that church yesterday and the place was from the altar steps.

Father Reichlin was greatly affected over the happenings of the week and could hardly speak. Several times his voice was husky from emotion and he paused frequently to overcome his feelings. Father Reichlin said:

"Various events have happened during the past week. No doubt they are a lesson to us. The lesson is that we should always be ready for death, for we know not when it will please the Lord to call us to Himself. Avoid sin and do good. The lesson also is how little we can trust the world.

"Brutality is not a thing that is or was confined to the so-called dark ages; it is not exclusively confined to noncivilized countries; it is right here at our home, in this 20th century. I am sorry to see that Father Walser is connected with the murder of my sister. I am sorry because I know, I am convinced before God, that he is absolutely innocent, and that no matter how strong public opinion is, how spiteful, how atrocious that public opinion may be, it cannot make him out a murderer, the murderer of my sister. The time will come when I will give my version of the bloodhound story upon which the character of public opinion seems to be based. I believe Father Walser innocent until he is proven guilty. Personally, I must say that I do not know which assault is most brutal, the assault of the murderer upon my sister or the assault upon the reputation of Father Walser, the assault made by public opinion upon that good priest.

"In your prayers pray for my good sister; pray also for Father Walser. Let us help him carry his cross and, heavy though it be, let us act with fortitude and as becomes Christians."

The scene of the murder was the point of interest for thousands of callers at the Reichlin home yesterday, where the body was in view. At 3 o'clock it was taken into St. Joseph's church, where vespers for the dead were sung by Father Reichlin and two assistants. The funeral services were held this morning.

Father Walser, who is confined in the county jail at Elyria, has seen no one since Saturday. He is treated as any other prisoner except that he has the freedom of the corridor. There is no excitement at Elyria and no sign of any unlawful action.

Father Walser offered bail in any sum that might be decided, but this the officers refused to consider. He declared that he was very tired and was calmly sleeping within half an hour after being placed in a cell. Before being locked up the accused priest repeatedly declared his innocence.

Support of the belief that a burglar committed the crime was given impetus by the statements of several neighbors who had seen a stranger hanging around the Reichlin home for several hours on the night of the crime.

Hitch on Recognition of Union

Montreal, May 4.—In an attempt to settle the longshoremen's strike an arrangement was quickly effected as far as wages, hours, etc., went, but when it came to recognition of the union, defined in this case that none but union men should be employed upon the wharves, the shipping men flatly refused to make the concession. On the other hand the union officials stated that they considered this the only point of importance in the fight. The militia are still doing duty on the wharves.

Government Forces Fare Badly

Willemstad, May 4.—General Matos, the leader of the Venezuelan revolution, has left this island and landed on the Venezuelan coast. He has assumed command of a large revolutionary force and will march inland and commence operations against Caracas. The recent defeat of the government generals, Gomez and Ferrer, at the hands of revolutionists, has been fully confirmed. The government forces are said to have been completely annihilated.

Family of Three Wiped Out

Ennis, Tex., May 4.—Mrs. Lineburger, aged 60, and her son, Vestus, 22, were found dead, both having been chopped to pieces with an axe. The husband and father, W. C. Lineburger, aged 70, subsequently was found on his farm with his brains blown out. No cause for the tragedy is known.

Firemen Meet With Accident

Torrington, Conn., May 4.—Four firemen were injured while fighting the flames in a charcoal house. The firemen were on a "run" with a line of hose when it suddenly gave away, throwing the firemen to the ground. 20 feet below. The loss on the building was only $500.

PLASMON COCOA

55 Per Cent. Plasmon

Is a fine preparation of selected Cocoa beans. It contains no alkalies, and the addition of Plasmon makes it a nutrient which will build up body tissues, nerve, muscle and bone.

Ask your grocer or druggist for it. In cans, 15 cts. and 25 cts.

Plasmon Co. of America
Centennial Building,
New York.

Plasmon is a cream-colored powdered albumen, scientifically extracted from pure, sweet milk.
"The staying power that it gives me is great," says Eugen Sandow.

(Literature mailed free for the asking.)

Plasmon, 15c. and 50c.; Plasmon Biscuits, 20c. and 35c. per tin; Plasmon Chocolate, 5c. and 10c. per cake.

W. A. BRADFORD.
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store O'd Telephone Number, 122-2.
April 21. tf

FLOWERS

AT VERY LOWEST PRICES.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.

63[illegible]ard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works, Quincy Point.

FUNERAL DESIGNS A SPECIALTY.

P. GREEN, Proprietor

Telephone 64-5 Quincy.

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.

At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.

FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1-1y- p-6mos.

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.

67 Franklin Street, Pinel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN
DENTIST.
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. 1p-tf

JAMES F. BURKE.
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5. tf

FRANK F. CRANE
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17.

$3 Worth of Nursery Stock for $1.

IN Order to establish our trade with you, we will send you twelve McKinley Strawberries, six Columbian Raspberries, one Campbell Early Grape Vine four apple and four peach trees, standard varieties, all for one dollar. Do not fail to write for our wholesale catalogue. ROCHESTER & BRIGHTON NURSERIES, Rochester, N. Y. Feb. 25-10w

CHICHESTER'S ENG.
PENNYROYAL PILLS
Original and Only Genuine.
SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co.
Mention this paper. Madison Square, PHILA., PA.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

WILLIAM WILSON,
PIANOS.
New and Second Hand.
Easy Payments.
10 Lessons Free with each Piano.
Square Piano at Low Price; $5 down, $5 per month.
Solo Pianist and Prompter for Parties, Socials, etc., or any number of Musicians Furnished.
Residence. 4 President's Avenue, SOUTH QUINCY.
April 6 1m

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.

Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Merchants Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7. tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
Employment Office
At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm
Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.
Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

Vol. 15.

COCOA

nt. Plasmon

paration of selec=
ns. It contains no
the addition of kes it a nutrient ild up body tis= huscle and bone.

on Co. of America
entennial Building,
New York.

ture mailed free for the asking.) uits, 20c and 35c. per
10c. per cake.

FORD.

Gas Fitting,

tended To.

GIVEN.

hestnut Street. F. F
e Number, 122-2.
tf

ERS

RICES.

NHOUSES.

ore River Works,
.

SPECIALTY.

REEN, Proprietor

BERT A. HAYDEN

iano Tuner.

C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock
ncy.
e, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, e 35-5 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

LLIAM WILSON,

PIANOS.

w and Second Hand.
Easy Payments.
sons Free with each Piano.
Piano at Low Price; $5 down, $5 per ianist and Prompter for Parties, ls, etc., or any number of Musicians Furnished.

nce. 4 President's Avenue,
SOUTH QUINCY.
Im

H. PRESCOTT,

EXPERIENCED

Tuner and Repairer.

ttention and thorough work. Con-Telephone. Address 373 Silver
th, Boston. Dec. 11-6m

AINTING

and Glazing.

RD L. HAYWARD,

28 Mechanic Street.

Sept. 3. 1y

LLIE & TAYLOR,

ers, Decoraters and Paperhangers.

S, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
ion guaranteed. All orders promptly
. No. 50 Gay street.
April 7. tf

WIS N. CURTIS,

TER, GLAZIER.

DED STAINED GLASS.

tor and Paper Hanger.

D FURNITURE REFINISHED.

d Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

S. C. J. GOODHUE

HAS OPENED AN

mployment Office

ancock Street, corner School and Elm e ladies to call as a number of young d like employment.
Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 105. QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY, MAY 5, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. 1p-tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1-1y- p-6mos.

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pixel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5
Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

FRANK F. CRANE
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17.

JAMES F. BURKE.
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5. tf

WILLIAM WILSON,
PIANOS.
New and Second Hand.
Easy Payments.
10 Lessons Free with each Piano.
Square Piano at Low Price; $5 down, $5 per month.
Solo Pianist and Prompter for Parties, Socials, etc., or any number of Musicians Furnished.
Residence. 4 President's Avenue, SOUTH QUINCY.
April 6 1m

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7. tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.
BELL and TELEPHONE WORK A SPECIALTY.
Guaranteed Work at Right Price.
Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.
Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.
Address, 1362 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
Quincy, April 10. tflp

ALL GOODS WILL BE DELIVERED FREE AT RESIDENCES IN QUINCY.

STRAW MATTINGS
FOR SUMMER HOUSES
Our new importation includes all grades from China and Japan, many patterns of which are exclusive. Always cool, cleanly, and sanitary.

RUGS
Royal Wilton, Saxony Axminster, Seamless, and other Axminster and Brussels rugs, in sizes 9 x 12, 8.3 x 10.6, and 6 x 9.
Hundreds of small rugs—Smyrnas, Wiltons, Axminsters, Japanese, etc., etc., at exceptionally low prices.

RUGS
Heavy Brussels Art Squares, many of them in Oriental designs and all reversible, sizes 7.6 x 9, 9 x 9, 9 x 10.6, and 9 x 12; price about $1.00 per square yard.

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS COMPANY
Pray Building 658 Washington St. Opp. Boylston St.
BOSTON
Represented in Quincy by Mr. Otho A. Hayward; in Wollaston by Mr. J. W. Wellington.

REAL ESTATE.
Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder.
Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.
Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.
April 25. tf

"IN THE SPRINGTIME
A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of
BICYCLES.
I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:
YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;
And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the
"OLD RELIABLE."
REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.
JOHN H. GILLIS,
Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Blo k, Quincy, Mass.
April 30. 1m

Spring and Summer Shoes.
The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1 25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.
The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.
GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.
White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,
In a variety of Styles and Prices.
Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.
These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.
C. S. HUBBARD,
City Square, Quincy.

If You Have a House to Let, Advertise It in the Ledger.

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

For Latest News See Inside Pages.

HIGH PRICES FOR COAL

Not Wholly Due to Shortage on Account of Strike

REPORT OF INVESTIGATORS

Severely Criticises Coal Clubs—Institution of Prosecutions Recommended If Attorney General Finds That Law Has Been Violated

Boston, May 5.—While recognizing that the primary cause of the high price of coal last winter was the strike, and the secondary cause the seizure of the eastern markets by the independent operators, the legislative coal investigating committee, which has just filed its report, finds that in many cases local dealers took advantage of this situation to exact from the public the highest prices obtainable, without reference to the question of whether or not they were obtaining a fair profit. The committee also finds that the opportunity for this action by the local dealers was greatly facilitated by the general existence throughout the commonwealth of coal clubs, so-called.

The supply of coal arriving at Boston from domestic sources for 1902 was 1,034,476 tons short of the supply in 1901. This shortage was, however, partially made up by an increase in receipts of foreign coal of 505,255 tons. It appears, therefore, that though the net shortage was not inconsiderable, it was much less than the well-nigh prohibitive prices prevailing during the past winter would seem to have indicated.

Numerous complaints came to the committee of short weight in coal. It says that while the statutes at present provide that all coal shall be weighed by sworn weighers and that a certificate of the weight shall be issued duly signed by the sworn weigher, there is no provision by which any public officers are authorized to cause coal sold by dealers and which is complained of as being of short weight to be weighed at the public scales. The committee recommends a bill upon this subect.

As to the transportation question, the committee finds that so far as the railroads of the state were concerned, there was no substantial delay, while the high shipping rates were due to inability of shippers to get cargoes.

The bulk of the report, however, deals with the coal clubs, which are severely criticised, especially the Boston Coal club and the New England Retail Coal Dealers' association, the committee stating its belief that the operations of such organizations tend to create an absolute monopoly of a necessity of life without any attendant public supervision of control, and are, to say the least, against good public policy and destructive of that competition which is the only assurance to the consumer of a reasonable price.

The committee recommends a bill preventing such monopolies, as well as a bill providing for the public weighing of coal, and in conclusion recommends that the testimony be referred to the attorney general, and if he finds that there is sufficient evidence of violation of existing law, to institute prosecutions.

In its report the committee states that it has held 41 public hearings and examined 808 witnesses. The coal situation in Boston and vicinity, being more or less typical of the situation within the commonwealth, has been examined with particular care.

Change of Venue For Bucklin

New York, May 5.—David W. Bucklin, the alleged manager of the premises said by the prosecution to be run as a gambling house in the interest of Richard Canfield, has been granted a change of venue for his trial on charges of managing such a house and being a gambler by Justice McCall, who said if the parties interested could not decide on a place for the trial he would name the county himself.

Mining Promoter Practiced Fraud

Kansas City, May 5.—Theodore Stagner, a mining promoter, pleaded guilty here to the charge of using the mails to defraud in promoting the Pittsburg Copper Mining and Production company which, it was alleged, he did not own. Sentence was withheld. Stagner was indicted for having obtained money on false representations.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Ryder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

SUIT AGAINST HOSPITAL

By Man Who Says He Swallowed False Teeth While Under Ether

Salem, Mass., May 5.—Andrew A. Johnson of Beverly has sued the Essex county homeopathic hospital of Salem for $10,000 because he was allowed to swallow his false teeth. His declaration contains several counts, in which he sets forth that on June 20, 1902, he went to the hospital and agreed to pay his board, desiring to be operated upon for appendicitis; that the defendants did not administer the ether in a skillful or proper manner, but carelessly and unskillfully; that they negligently failed to cause his false teeth to be removed before administering the ether; that while under its influence he swallowed the teeth and they lodged in his throat, remaining there until July 9, causing him great pain; that although be repeatedly told the doctors that the teeth were in his throat and asked for relief, they did not do anything to find them or relieve him until July 9, when the teeth were removed.

A Legislative Sensation

Boston, May 5.—The state senate has ordered an investigation by its committee on rules on a statement by a Boston mercantile house that it had been approached by a senator who demanded money to kill the bill relative to sales of merchandise in bulk in fraud of creditors. The story that money had been offered to kill the Conway water bill was called up in the house by Representative McInery of Boston, a member of the committee on water supply, who was one of the dissenters to the bill. Mr. McInery denied knowledge of any bribery.

New Bondsmen For Curley

Boston, May 5.—New bondsmen have been secured by Thomas F. Curley, charged with others in defrauding under the civil service laws. James A. Plunkett, recently petitioned by his creditors into bankruptcy, and who is said to have left the city, was on Curley's bond, but now the court has demanded new bondsmen. As a result, James F. Conboy and Margaret A. Conboy have gone on Curley's bond, each in the sum of $1500. Plunkett was on the bonds formerly for $2500.

Domestic Discord In High Life

Newport, R. I., May 5.—Among the petitions for divorce to be heard before the supreme court here is that of Mrs. Belle N. Kemp, sister of Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt, against her husband, Arthur T. Kemp of New York. The Kemps have been prominent in the summer colony here for several years and their marriage here by Archbishop Corrigan six years ago was one of the fashionable events of the season.

Contractors Sued For $150,000

Providence, May 5.—The Montgomery Water and Power company of Montgomery, Ala., has attached the property of W. A. Chapman & Co., contractors of this city, to the amount of $150,000. The attachment is the result of litigation arising out of the construction of a dam and is based upon an alleged breach of contract, in that the defendant company failed to construct the dam according to agreement.

Yale Defeats Princeton In Debate

New Haven, May 5.—Yale won the annual debate with Princeton in an interesting and well-fought discussion involving the proposed cloture rule in the United States senate. Especially in the rebuttal speeches were the young men well matched, the Yale speakers clinching their arguments more specifically than their opponents, however. Yale supported the affirmative of the question.

Will Contest Extradition

Boston, May 5.—Pasquale Parisi, who was arrested in Brockton last week on a charge of murder in Montreal, was brought before Commissioner Fiske and when it was found that he would oppose extradition the case was continued until May 12. Montreal officers have identified Parisi, and it was expected that there would be no trouble in extraditing the prisoner.

Doctors Say Clark Was Insane

Fall River, Mass., May 5.—Drs. Jelly and Stedman of Boston have submitted to District Attorney Swift a report on the mental condition of Philip H. Clark, under indictment on the charge of poisoning a well on the farm of Frank Barrows in Assonet, and they find that he was insane at the time of the alleged commission of the act. Sugar of lead was used in the well.

Held For Further Hearing

Salem, Mass., May 5.—Edward W. McGregor, James McLoud and Charles E. Carter were arraigned before Judge Safford on the charge of manslaughter in causing the death of Charles Ritchie in Beverly. They all pleaded not guilty and were held for a further hearing. Ritchie was found dead of a broken neck. It is alleged that the fatality followed a debauch.

Steamer Destroyed by Fire

Laconia, N. H., May 5.—Steamer Eagle was burned to the water's edge while moored at her dock at Long island wharf, Lake Winnipesaukee. The steamer was built in 1889 at a cost of $10,000. She was rated to carry 200 passengers and had been chartered as a mail and excursion boat for several years past. The origin of the fire is unknown.

—The Brooklyn Eagle has started the fourth boom of Grover Cleveland for the presidency.

CITY COUNCIL.

The Chubbuck Street Nuisance Disposed Of.

Money Appropriated to Abate It.

Large Number of Petitions for Minor Licenses Received.

Three-quarters of an hour was sufficient to transact the business that came before the meeting of the City Council Monday evening. The most important matter was the famous Chubbuck street nuisance. This has been before the Council for a year, having come over from last year's Council. The original order called for $1500, and since the order has been before the Council there has been any amount of oratory wasted upon it. The matter has at last been disposed of by the appropriation of $500.

Councilman Johnson and Meyer were absent.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Mayor forwarded the following appointments which were confirmed: Weigher of coal, William Cashman; Sealer of Weights and Measures, George Weston; Constable, John Evans.

CITY CLERK'S BOND.

The Mayor forwarded the bond of City Clerk Keith, which was approved.

LATE POINT CARS.

The Mayor forwarded a letter from the street railway stating that on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evening a car would leave for Quincy Point only on the arrival of the 11.28 train from Boston and on Wednesdays, Saturdays and holidays the cars would run through to East Weymouth. Placed on file.

PETITIONS.

A large number of petitions for minor licenses were received and referred to the Committee on Licenses.

The New England Telephone Company petitioned for the location of one pole on Copeland street and for permission to attach wires to poles of other companies on Glover avenue. To Committee on Streets.

A petition was received for an incandescent light on Chubbuck street. To Committee on Streets.

REPORT OF COMMITTEES.

The Committee on Licenses and State

Continued on page 3.

"TWISTING" OF NAMES

Made Man Who Had Been Robbed Appear to Be the Guilty Party

Newport, R. I., May 5.—In a news item sent out from this city on March 26, it was stated that John Whitcomb, who wore a United States uniform, had been arrested and sentenced to six months in state prison, for robbing Charles Bickleman of the Seventy-Fifth coast artillery of Fort Preble, Me., on the Fall River steamer Priscilla. It developes that Whitcomb, who was recently discharged from the navy, where he has a good record, was not the man arrested, but that Bickleman robbed Whitcomb, and was tried and sentenced for the crime.

Whitcomb boarded the Fall River boat en route for Boston and finding aboard a soldier in United States uniform who was unable to get accommodations for the night offered to share his stateroom with him. The soldier, who proved to be Bickleman, accepted the hospitality. Whitcomb was awakened in the morning when the boat was making her landing here to find that his companion had disappeared and that a sum of money which Whitcomb had placed under his pillow was gone. He gave the alarm, and Bickleman was arrested on the steamboat wharf. His trial and conviction followed. In the transmission of the dispatch from this city to Boston the names of the two men were confused and the news item as printed made Whitcomb responsible for a crime of which he was innocent.

Insurance Money For Mrs Burdick

Buffalo, May 5.—By an order handed down by Justice Kruse Attorney Wallace Thayer will get $10,000 insurance left by Arthur R. Pennell. A decision of the court some time ago gave Thayer $15,000 of insurance from another company. The $25,000, it is understood, goes to Mrs. Burdick. Mr. Thayer sued for the money as trustee of a secret charge left by Pennell. Opposition to the suit instituted by J. F. Pennell, as administrator of his brother's estate, was dropped after the document left in Thayer's hands had been examined.

SHORT AND DECISIVE

Details of Fight In Which Leader of Filipino Bandits Was Killed

Washington, May 5.—Unofficial reports received at the war department give additional details of the campaign which resulted in the death of "General" San Miguel and the utter rout of his band of outlaws by the Philippine scouts commanded by Lieutenants Nickerson and Reese. The scouts located San Miguel's band in a strongly fortified blockhouse so well concealed by jungle that it had escaped discovery.

Nickerson and Reese and their men made a gallant attack on this stronghold under a very heavy fire from the enemy through loopholes in the wall surrounding the blockhouse. The scouts charged over the wall and engaged the enemy in a hand-to-hand combat, driving them into the fort. In this assault Reese was shot through the thigh.

San Miguel, surrounded by a devoted bodyguard of about 30 men, undertook to slip through the line, but being discovered put up a plucky running fight. Nickerson, with 15 men, attacked San Miguel's party, but withheld their fire until within short range, when they put three bullets through San Miguel's body. San Miguel died gamely, shooting while lying on the ground wounded. Six of his bodyguard killed. The remainder escaped in dense jungle.

The fight lasted about an hour and a half. The Americans lost three killed and 10 wounded, including Reese. The enemy lost 40 dead that were counted, and the jungle concealed other killed and wounded. No prisoners were taken. Many valuable papers were found on the bodies of the dead and were said to contain evidence against several prominent officials in the province.

Jerome's Big Bill

New York, May 5.—For closing up anfield's gambling palace and for the expenses of Joseph Jacobs and his assistant detectives in getting after the pool rooms and gambling resorts, District Attorney Jerome has rendered a bill to the city for $2,791.43. Comptroller Grout has refused to pay this. He des not intend to make any crusade against Jerome or against the police system, but he has placed on exhibition a number of bills which show that against the "contingent fund" have been charged extravagant amounts for personal expenses. Some of the bills contain items such as shoes, hair dye and clothing, and another is for $250 lost in gambling, while drinks and cigars figure frequently.

Insanity Plea In Ames Case

Minneapolis, May 5.—The state has rested in the trial of former Mayor Ames for receiving bribes. The defense has determined to plead incipient paresis and insanity. This course was foreshadowed by the failure of the defense to put the state witnesses through a rigorous cross-examination and to make any effort to break down the state's case. The defense will claim that Ames was irresponsible.

Looking For Lynchers

Caruthersville, Mo., May 5.—A posse headed by Sheriff Franklin has started for Wardwell, where Constable Mooneyhoon and Rev. D. M. Malone, his prisoner, were killed by a mob. Mrs. Mary Frill, for whom Malone, it is charged, deserted his wife, and with whom he travelled about the country holding meetings, is in jail here.

Newfoundland Pulp Lands Sold

St. Johns, May 5.—American and Canadian capitalists, headed by Henry M. Whitney of Boston, have purchased 2,000,000 acres of timber pulp lands in Newfoundland and intend to undertake development on a large scale. The syndicate paid over $1,000,000 for its properties.

Landger's Sentences Cancelled

Berlin, May 5.—Inquiries made direct at Solingen, Rhenish Prussia, show that the sentences of the local court imposed on United States Consul Landger (a fine of $7.50 and one day's arrest) for disorderly conduct in the court room of that place, have been cancelled.

A Buffalo Tragedy

Buffalo, May 5.—John H. Costello, capitalist, mine owner and lumber merchant,, was shot in the back and seriously wounded by his divorced wife in a corridor of the Prudential building. Immediately after the shooting Mrs. Costello surrendered to the police. No charge will be lodged against her pending the outcome of Costello's wound. The shooting was the outcome of years of infelicity and open warfare in the courts between the couple.

Four-Year Mystery Partly Solved

Middleton, N. Y., May 5.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of 5-year-old Lucy Conkling of this place condition, as the result of injuries sustained in connection with a fire which destroyed the Jones residence. The children were burned to death. Mrs. Jones was injured by falling down stairs. The premises burned stood at the foot of the Franconia mountains, and was half a mile from neighbors.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

"Handy" people—pianists typewriters, telegraphers, artists, architects —need soft, supple hands. They should use

PACKER'S Tar Soap

It makes the skin soft, smooth and elastic.

At all druggists.

THE PACKER MFG. CO. 81 Fulton St., N. Y.

Reupholstering

OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE • •

HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED

And Made Over.

Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.

Call and get Prices.

C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.

Quincy, May 2. 1m

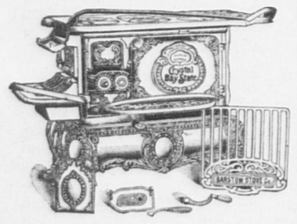

King Arthur Flour.

Sold in Quincy by

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.

Come and See It.

BARSTOW STOVE CO.,

55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.

GUY'S COLISEUM,

W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 17. 4w

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Chapter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D., Inspector of Milk.

April 15. 30t

Quincy Co-operative Bank.

MEETING of Shareholders WEDNESDAY, May 4, 1903, at 7.45 P. M., for Election of Officers. Sale of Shares, Receipt of Dues, etc.

Shares in 29th Series now on Sale.

Years of success. Practical Principles for Savings and Owning Homes.

R. D. CHASE, Secretary, Savings Bank Building.

Quincy, May 1. 1-4t-p-1w

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors, C. W. MORSE, PRES.

April 9-1m 11-1m

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Estab'ished in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	46	53	53	60	55
Monday,	58	67	55	60	58
Tuesday,	64	—	71	50	58
Wednesday,	—	84	60	58	59
Thursday,	—	86	65	72	55
Friday,	—	58	63	66	55
Saturday,	—	47	68	68	68

New Advertisements Today.

To Let—Houses.
Wanted—Smart Agent.
Furnished room wanted.
Bunch of keys lost.
$10 reward.
Working housekeeper wanted.
Wanted—Stone Cutter.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Quincy, the Illinois town which the President visited the other day, was named after the Massachusetts town of the Adamses, but the Suckers pronounce it with an s instead of a z. —Boston Transcript.

☞ Besides its exposition, St. Louis hopes to get both the big national political conventions, with probably as many small ones as it can beguile, next summer. The town's enterprise is commendable, but political conventions are better not run of adjuncts to the show business.—New Bedford Standard.

Annual Meeting.

On Wednesday and Thursday, May 6 and 7, the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Woman's American Baptist Home Mission society will be held in the Dudley Street Baptist church, Boston. Beginning at 2 P. M. Wednesday and closing Thursday afternoon.

The Workers' meeting will precede the first session of the annual meeting, and will be held in the same church, Wednesday at 10 A. M. Simple meals will be furnished at the church for twenty-five cents per plate.

Among the speakers are Miss Stein of Fresno, California, Mr. Golder of Alaska, Mr. Brown of Winton, North Carolina, Professor Grose and Dr. Hazlewood of Boston and Professor Hope of Atlanta, Georgia.

Home in Bed.

It was reported to the police Monday afternoon that Leo Horgan, aged 5 years, of 81 Water street, had been missing since early in the day. Later in the evening the police were notified that the boy had been found at home in bed.

During May, Rev. Edmund D. Webber and his wife are "at home" on Wednesdays during the afternoons only. Residence, 68 Winthrop avenue, Wollaston.

STATE MUST PAY.

$178,600 for Ten Acres on Deer Island Taken for Sewer in 1890.

The city of Boston was given a verdict of $178,600 against the State last Friday in its suit to recover for ten acres of upland, beach and flats taken by the Metropolitan Sewerage Commission on Deer Island on April 2, 1890. A jury in the Superior Court before Judge Wait awarded $100,000 damages, which with thirteen years and one month accrued interest brings the total award up to $178,600. The petition for assessment of damages was brought some years ago and was heard by Judge E. C. Bumpus of this city as auditor, who awarded the city $114,890, with interest from the date of the takings. The assessment of the jury is $14,890 less than that found by the auditor, on account of a court ruling that the city could not recover on account of the location of the sewer outfall within 100 feet of the city's land.

Memorial Congregational Church.

It was a delight to the friends of Miss Alice G. Coe of Atlantic to hear her sing at the Memorial Congregational church last Sunday morning. Miss Coe's voice is showing a steady progress and is gaining much sweetness of quality in addition to its strength.

The audience particularly enjoyed the unique arrangement of "I heard the voice of Jesus say," which was rendered very effectively. The church was artistically decorated in cherry blossoms. The work showed the skilled hand of Mr. W. Jay Sanborn.

The pastor announced that by a recent gift the church building fund has increased from $505.50 to $646.50. Four new members were received into the church.

Lively Row.

There was quite a lively row at Quincy Neck on Monday on the new railroad of the Fore River Company between the Italians employed building the road-bed and Thomas Cunningham a driver of one of the teams. It is said that Cunningham did not back his tip cart just as the Italians wanted and they pitched into him and hammered him with shovels and rocks, Cunningham was severely cut and bruised.

One of the Italians, who is said to be the chief aggressor, was arrested by Officer Dugan of Braintree and later admitted to bail. He has not been seen since and it is thought he has skipped his bail.

A New Scheme.

Plans are being perfected for the carrying out of a new scheme for the benefit of the Quincy City Hospital.

A local grocer has offered the use of his store for two afternoons and two evenings to the Hospital Aid Association. The association is to furnish young women to tend, the grocer and his clerks assisting and also delivering all purchases and giving a liberal percent of the profits to the hospital.

Full details will be given later and it is hoped that all friends of the hospital will keep this in mind and give as large a trade as possible on those days.

Post Office Announcement.

In order to replenish the registers of eligibles for the grade of clerk and carrier in the postoffice in this city, and that future vacancies may be filled without delay, the U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced a special examination for the Quincy post office, to be held in Boston May 20th. The required application forms and all information concerning the examination can be secured from Mr. McDougall at the postoffice.

Sewer Connections.

Following are the estates connected with the public sewer last week:

Fred A. Meier, Felton street.
Eliza M. Cain, 21 Wibird street.
Eliza M. Cain, 17 Wibird street.
Charles E. Maxwell, Berlin street.
Bernard Cullen, Newbury avenue.
Zenas S. Arnold, Coddington street.
Charles Crane, Greenleaf street.
Bertha G. Barri, Faxon road.
Bertha G. Barri, Newbury avenue.
John Fratus, Newbury avenue.
H. A. Lombard, Cottage street.
Lewis Bass, Jr., Temple street.

TODAY'S COURT.

Michael Halpin was fined $3 for drunkenness at Randolph.

George O'Connor was fined $5 for drunkenness at Quincy.

John Rush and Edward J. Spillane were arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. Cases continued until May 12.

Albert T. Ray was arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. Case continued until Wednesday.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

DIRECTORS MEETING

Encouraging Reports on the New Y. M. C. A. Building.

The Board of Director's of the Young Men's Christian Association held its regular May meeting last evening at 8 o'clock. President H. B. Bailey being ill and unable to be present, Amos D. Albee was chosen chairman of the meeting. W. T. Cummings was elected a director of the Association.

The board voted to instruct the chairman to appoint a building committee; the said committee to secure plans for the gymnasium and other buildings contemplated by the Association. The chair appointed the following committee: Dr. E. R. Johnson, N. G. Nickerson, W. F. Cummings, Geo. E. Thomas, William H. Mitchell and President H. B. Bailey. This committee is expected to report at the June meeting of the Board.

Secretary Coburn reported that over $5,000 has been subscribed toward the new buildings. This is one-fifth of the amount to be raised.

The Annual meeting of the Association will be held in June, and the following gentlemen were appointed a committee on nomination of officers and directors for the ensuing year; F. W. Crane, W. T. Isaac, W.R. Thomas, A. L. Melcher, and H. W. Pinkham.

COAL COMMITTEE

Recommends Drastic Measures for Coal Troubles.

Following is the summary of the report made by the committee of the legislature on the supply and distribution of coal, as a result of its long investigation:

Enactment of law to punish by fine or imprisonment, or both, any interference between seller of merchandise and purchaser.

Enactment of law to provide imperatively for weighing by public officials of coal and coke, to be recorded and open to inspection; any official to be empowered to stop a team and call for a certificate; fine for noncompliance.

That testimony be referred to the attorney general, he to institute prosecution if he finds existing law to have been violated.

That constitutional amendment authorizing establishment of municipal fuel yards be submitted to people for their indorsement.

Coal famine in Massachusetts due to unlawful advantage taken by independent operators; to similar action on part of coal clubs; to unfair action of railroads outside the state; short weights, and to general "arbitrary" influence with the law of supply and demand by dealers.

Monday Evening Club.

The speakers at the Atlantic Monday Evening club last evening were Hon. Eugene H. Sprague of Wollaston and Dr. Maria E. Drew of Atlantic.

Mr. Sprague's subject was "What the State of Massachusetts is doing for her unfortunates." His experience on the committee of the legislature had brought him in close contact with the work of the various institutions and his address carried with it the weight of that experience as he brought to the minds and hearts of the large audience in an impressive and interesting manner the immense benevolence our State is carrying on. He gave also a fine portrayal of the characters of Wolcott, Crane and our present Governor Bates as presented to him by his association with them in his Legislative duties.

Dr. Drew also from her experience pictured the woman physician as she is today, in an exceedingly interesting paper, full of brightness, information and dignity.

The music was a complete enjoyment, for the artists were Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Briggs and Mr. Clarence E. Briggs, all of Cambridge, who always bring with them to the club a musical atmosphere the club delights in.

Mr. Briggs and his wife each sang two solos and together two duets.

Mr. Clarence Briggs played several fine selections on the mandolin and accompanied at the piano.

Mrs. Harry Read was the music committee for the evening and Mrs. George E. Todd the committee on the social intermission.

At the next meeting, May 18 Rev. Father Julian Johnstone of Quincy is expected to address the club on "Moral Education from the Roman Catholic Point of View," and Mr. T. D. Borst of Atlantic on "Life in the Markets."

Fire Department Changes.

The new ordinance which reduces the number of call men in the fire department went into effect Monday night. This resulted in a number of the call men being dropped. It is understood that the call men attached to the apparatus at the Central Fire station will hereafter sleep in the station. This will insure a working force responding to night alarms.

Automobiles are getting to be almost as common as bicycles. They are rather more expensive however.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Herman Kellar of Walker street, is quite ill.

The fruit trees are full blossomed and look very handsome.

Caterer Remick furnished the turkey supper for Hose 3, at Weymouth, last night.

A recital is to be given this evening at the Quincy Mansion school, by Mr. Carl Faelton.

A meeting of the Board of Health will be held tonight.

A mother's meeting will be held at the Methodist Church, Wollaston, on Saturday at 3.30 o'clock.

Miss Lulu P. Ruddy of Lynn was the guest on Sunday of Miss Abbie L. Phelps of Hancock street.

The Ames house on Whitney road has changed its color having been painted recently. It looks fine.

There were quite a few Quincy people who attended the Boston Letter Carriers' ball in Boston on Monday evening.

The special committee of the City Council on reduction of railroad fares to Atlantic will report at the next meeting.

The monthly business meeting of the Epworth League will be held at the residence of Mrs. Mehaffey, 98 Safford street, Thursday, at 7.45 o'clock.

At the meeting of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery held Monday evening, Capt. Henry L. Kincaide was nominated as sergeant of artillery.

Messrs. Lewis Curtis and Ward Hayward have just completed painting the Prescott house on Spear street, and have made it look very attractive.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Memorial church Atlantic are to give an apron sale in the church annex Wednesday afternoon, followed by refreshments in the evening.

A great many houses have been improved this spring by a coat of paint. Freshly painted houses and well cared for grounds make the city look prosperous.

Mrs. K. W. Hayward of Quincy has purchased the lovely country estate in Ponkapoag, so long owned by T. B. Aldrich. Within its walls very many of the charming books which are still a delight were written by Mr. Aldrich.

The West Quincy base ball team are arranging dates for this season's games. The club is stronger this year than ever before and with a little financial support there is no reason why Quincy people can not witness some good games this summer.

Atlantic is waiting for some emergetic citizen to start a petition for 100 ride books on the train. It is a sorry pass when busy men have to get tickets by the five trip. A great deal of complaint has been heard, but as yet no one has stepped to the front to start a petition which every one would gladly sign.

Samuel Evans, Esq., the European Aluminum expert, an employe of the Buckeye Aluminum Co., formerly of the British Aluminum Co., England, and the Pittsburgh Reduction Co., Pa., inventor of the only practical method of welding Aluminum, leaves this city on Wednesday for Buffalo, en route Niagara Falls, Pittsburg and Akron to Doylestown, Ohio, where the Buckeye Aluminum Co. is now establishing their new plant.

If you really want to get the best part of these days you need to rise at five and get out of doors in the dewy morning. There is no time of year when the mornings are so refreshing, and the delights of early rising so tangible as now. Birds are singing, buds are swelling, the air is fresh and balmy and nature yields delights in the early morning that the late riser entirely misses.—Stoughton Sentinel.

Scrofula

It is commonly inherited.

Few are entirely free from it.

Pale, weak, puny children are afflicted with it in nine cases out of ten, and many adults suffer from it.

Common indications are bunches in the neck, abscesses, cutaneous eruptions, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, rickets, catarrh, wasting, and general debility.

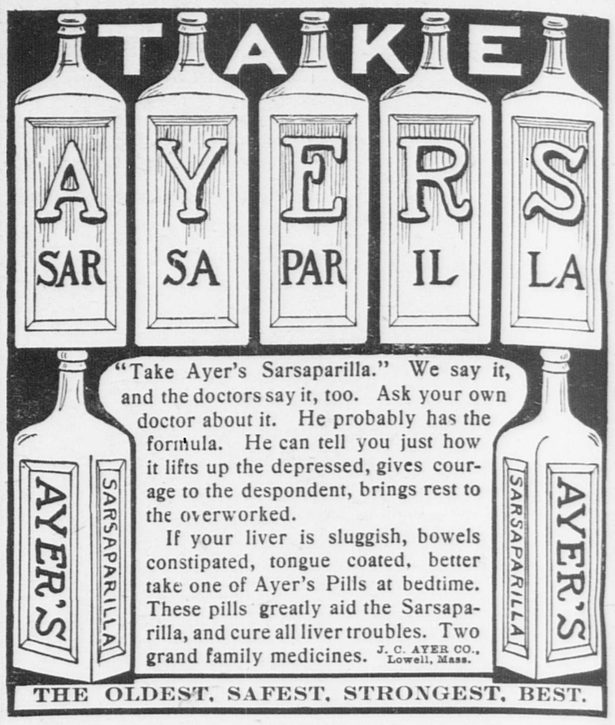

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Eradicate it, positively and absolutely. This statement is based on the thousands of permanent cures these medicines have wrought.

"My daughter had scrofula, with eleven sores on her neck and about her ears. Hood's Sarsaparilla was highly recommended and she took it and was cured. She is now in good health." MRS. J. H. JONES, Parker City, Ind.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

TAKE AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

"Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla." We say it, and the doctors say it, too. Ask your own doctor about it. He probably has the formula. He can tell you just how it lifts up the depressed, gives courage to the despondent, brings rest to the overworked.

If your liver is sluggish, bowels constipated, tongue coated, better take one of Ayer's Pills at bedtime. These pills greatly aid the Sarsaparilla, and cure all liver troubles. Two grand family medicines. J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

THE OLDEST, SAFEST, STRONGEST, BEST.

RICHARDS & MACOMBER,

PAINTERS and DECORATORS.

Whitewashing a Specialty. Sign Painting, Graining Kalsomining, Glazing.

Interior and Exterior House Painting. WE EMPLOY SKILLED WORKMEN ONLY

Drop us a postal and we will call at your residence and estimate your work.

Office and Shop, 31 SAVILLE ST., Bates' Block, Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, April 11. Sat., Tues. Thur. 6w

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON

Quincy, April 23. tf

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store. Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

Are You Looking for a Home?

Would You Like to Make Some Money?

Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at

BIGELOW PARK.

The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.

SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.

May 2. tf

SPILLER'S GOLDEN COUGH BALSAM

THE KIND THAT CURES

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Inflammation of the Lungs, Lagrippe and Whooping Cough. It soothes the Cough of Consumption, and is excellent for all Lung Troubles. Try it. For sale by Weeks & Hill, Quincy, Mass. Price 25 cents. If goods fail to give satisfaction, money refunded.

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

Yard off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy

Jan. 7. tf

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE

HAS OPENED AN

Employment Office

At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm

Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.

Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,

FLORISTS.

Telephone 13-7 Braintree.

Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.

Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

KE

RS

IL LA

We say it, sk your own bly has the just how ives courngs rest to h, bowels ed, better

t bedtime.
Sarsapables. Two
C. AYER CO.,
Lowell, Mass.

RONGEST, BEST.

SARSAPARILLA

AYER'S

IACOMBER, ORATORS. ign Painting, Grain-
Glazing.
EMPLOY SKILLED WORKMEN ONLY
dence and estimate your work.
SAVILLE ST.,
cy, Mass.
Sat., Tues. Thur. 6w

HE MINES.
OF Stove.
Egg.
Stove.
Egg. g. ut.
& SON
tf

OFORD.
, Gas Fitting,
ttended To.
Y GIVEN.
hestnut Street. F. F
e Number, 122-2.
tf

ome?
Some Money?
e Beautiful Lots at PARK. ccessible Tract of Land
strict.
Merrill Block,
ger Building, QUINCY.
tf

DD! WOOD! WOOD!
OF ALL KINDS.
Y AND GREEN
At Lowest Possible Prices.
OS. O'BRIEN & SONS.
Miller and West Streets, West Quincy
tf

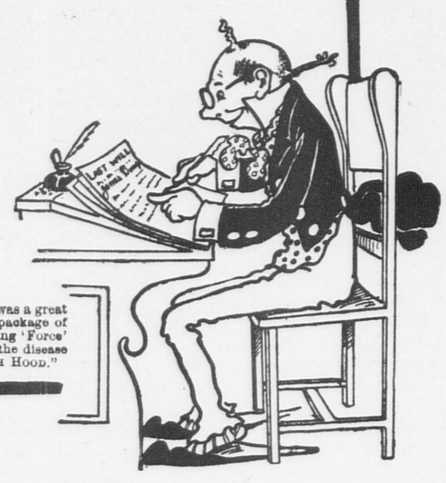

N STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
lephone 13-7 Braintree.
wers, Bedding and foliage plant, Fun-ers. Weymouth Landing cars pass se, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward st Braintree.
taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacy Square. jan26-1y

Jim Dumps provided for his heirs
That "Force" might be forever theirs.
"I can't do better with my wealth,"
He said, "than to insure them health,
Clear brain, good muscle, nerve and vim!
And 'Force' gives these," quoth "Sunny Jim."

"Force"

The Ready-to-Serve Cereal makes good health an heirloom.

Sweet, crisp flakes of wheat and malt.

A Dyspeptic No Longer.

"A gentleman living in this village, I. A. Watson, was a great sufferer from indigestion. He purchased from me a package of 'Force' two or three months ago and has continued using 'Force' ever since, and has not had the slightest symptom of the disease since. JOSEPH HOOD."

60

King Arthur Flour

MAKES THE

BEST BREAD.

SOLD BY

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

THIS WEEK

COATS.

17

SILK LINED COVERT

Corset Coats

Made to sell for $10.00.

Saturday only, $5.98

Also a full line of Misses' and Children's Coats at very low prices.

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.

Plumbing and Heating Co.,

25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.
Telephone Connection.

April 24. 1-tf-p-1w

Bates Beat Boston Law School

Lewiston, Me., May 5.—Bates college won the debate last evening from Boston University law school on the question: "Resolved, that state boards of arbitration with compulsory powers should be established to settle industrial disputes between employers and employes." Bates supported the affirmative.

On the Diamond

At Cincinnati—National—Cincinnati, 4; St. Louis, 1.
At Pittsburg—National—Pittsburg, 5; Chicago, 3.
At Philadelphia—National—Brooklyn, 5; Philadelphia, 0.
At Boston—American—Boston, 6; Washington, 4.
At New York—American—New York, 4; Philadelphia, 3.
At St. Louis—American—St. Louis, 6; Cleveland, 1.
At Chicago—American—Chicago, 6; Detroit, 5.
At Lowell—Haverhill, 5; Lowell, 1.
At Manchester—Manchester, 19; Brockton, 5.
At Concord—Lawrence, 4; Concord, 2.
At Nashua—Nashua, 8; Fall River, 1.

Worms

Hundreds of Children and adults have worms but are treated for other diseases. The symptoms are:—Indigestion, with a variable appetite; foul tongue; offensive breath; hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; starting during sleep; slow fever; and often in children, convulsions.

TRUE'S PIN WORM ELIXIR

is the best worm remedy made. It has been in use since 1851, is purely vegetable, harmless and effectual. Where no worms are present it acts as a Tonic, and corrects the condition of the mucous membrane of the stomach and bowels. A positive cure for Constipation and Biliousness, and a valuable remedy in all the common complaints of children. Price 35 cts. Ask your druggist for it.

Dr. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me.
Special treatment for Tape Worms. Free pamphlet.

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER
YOU WILL FIND

The Co-OPERATIVE DINING ROOMS,

3 Granite Street, Quincy,
where your wants will be satisfied.

TABLE BOARD:
21-Meal..... Tickets, $3.50

ROOMS:
$1.25 Per Week and Upwards.

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21--2m

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

Stitchers Wanted.

EXPERIENCED on Ladies' Wrappers. Wheeler & Wilson power machines of the latest improved style. Steady work the year round, and good pay. Also, help wanted to take work home. Apply to MRS. A. L. WILBUR, Tirrell Building, 1467 Hancock street, over Old Colony Laundry, Quincy.

May 2. lpo-tt

An Animal Story For Little Folks

The Gentleman Boar

There was once a wild boar who was dissatisfied with himself because the people so often mistook him for a pig.

"I am not a pig, though I do look like one a little bit," he said to himself, "and I do not want people to think that I am a pig. But what am I to do? I can't run around all the time crying, 'I'm no pig; I'm a boar!'

"I know just what I'll do," said he. "I'll dress myself up and be a gentleman, and then people will not only not call me a pig, but they will see that I am a fine fellow."

So away he went to a hat store and bought himself a black hat, and at the tobacco shop he bought a pipe and a bag of tobacco. He put on his hat, and he stuck the pipe in his mouth, and, just as proud as a peacock, he sat down on a corner and waited for people to come along and admire him.

But they came without admiring him.

"What on earth is that thing?" they asked as they passed. And, strange to say, nobody answered that that was a gentleman. Most of them said that he was a hog, and the others said he had no sense. So, after awhile, Mr. Wild Boar's grin turned to a pout, and finally he grew as mad as ever he could get.

HE SAT DOWN ON A CORNER.

But the worst came when the little animals gathered at a safe distance and laughed at him and threw stones over his way. The boar could endure it no longer. He slipped away into the woods, threw his tobacco in the creek and smashed his pipe into a thousand tiny pieces on a great big stone. Then he put a heavy stone in his hat and sank it to the bottom of the spring.

"I'll never try such a foolish trick as that again," he wisely said.

Moral.—Fine clothes and tobacco smoke don't make the gentleman.—Chicago Tribune.

A Stubborn Husband.

A most interesting phenomenon is the stubborn husband. He is not a bad man. He is contrary, and he has to be managed. He is usually married to a clever little woman, who is constantly devising schemes to accomplish the things which make their joint lives a success.

He has no suspicion of this. If he had, he would be so mad he could undoubtedly eat her. So all through life she goes on swinging a turnip ahead of his nose to make him go the same as though he were a balky mule. She is a cheery little body, and she grows plump with every year, and she does her smiling behind the door or she chuckles in her sleeve when he is not by. The stubborn husband is as interesting as a bug.—London Standard.

WORKING HOUSEKEEPER WANTED.

Middle-aged. Good position. Address MRS. E. E. JAMESON, 58 Beach street, Wollaston

May 5.—3t p 9-1w

$10 REWARD.

I will pay $10 for the arrest and conviction of the parties who destroyed the tulip bed at 107 Elm street last Friday night.

ALEXANDER THOMPSON.

Quincy, May 5. 3t

CITY COUNCIL.

(Continued from page 1.)

Aid reported upon a number of petitions which were adopted.

CHUBBUCK STREET NUISANCE.

The Committee on Sewers and Drains reported a substitute order for $500 for widening the culvert under Chubbuck street and digging out the ditch from Chubbuck street to Bent's creek. Substitute order adopted.

Councilman Piper asked what this was to do. Councilman Adams replied: There are two points to be considered. First the sewage matter and second the surface water that drains into the pond. The sewage will be taken care of by the sewer which will be extended to that section this summer. The proposed culvert and digging of the ditch will drain the pond so that it will be but little more than a brook and it will carry off the water that drains into it from the street. As contemplated the $500 will cover the expense.

In reply to questions by Councilman Nickerson and Piper, Commissioner Knowlton said, the $500 will do what the order calls for. The culvet ought to be put in to take care of surface water. The $1500 contemplated taking care of the sewage matter which will now be taken care of by the extension of the sewer. It was not proposed to put a covered drain through the Raycroft property but to dig out the drain, which was never as deep as it is proposed now to make it.

Councilman Whiton—The $1500 was to abate the nuisance but never could have done it under existing conditions. The Board of Health has stopped the cesspools running into the brook. The sewer will take care of all objectionable matter that now goes into the pond. The question of stagnant water will be taken care of by this drain. It is not intended to drain the pond but to take care of the surface water that comes from the street. It will be many years before any amount of money will have to be expended in draining the pond.

Councilman Nickerson asked if the amount could not be squeezed out of the appropriations for Bridges, Culvets and Drains.

Commissioner Knowlton said it could not and that this order was for a permanant improvement.

The order was then passed to be ordained, Councilman Piper voting no.

MOTIONS, ORDERS, ETC.

Councilman Loud offered an order for an incandescent light on Adams street near the Milton line. To Comlmittee on Streets.

CALENDAR.

The order granting the New England Telephone Company a relocation for poles on West street and Quincy avenue was passed to be ordained.

The order granting the New England Telephone Company permission to attach wires to poles of other companies on Brook road, Willow street, Elm avenue, Union, Taylor and Whitwel streets was passed to be ordained.

Adjourned at 8.10.

Went Insane.

John J. McGinty of Quincy, who has been employed at the Fore River Ship and Engine Company became violently insane on Monday and wandered into Weymouth where he created quite a little excitement by chasing people about the streets.

He was captured once by the keeper of the Weymouth almshouse but got away. He then continued on his way to South Weymouth where he was captured and turned over to the Weymouth police.

He was examined in court this morning and sent to the Taunton asylum. It is said that McGinty has a family in England.

Hayti's New President

Washington, May 5.—Minister Powell at Port au Prince reports that the Vasquez government has fallen and that a new provisional government has been created which has the entire territory under its control, with General Gil as president.

Caught With Marked Money

New York, May 5.—Frederick J. Kramer and Frank N. Sandford, employes of the Hoboken postoffice, are under arrest, charged with robbing the mails. Marked money which had been placed in a decoy letter was found in their possession.

King Edward's Visiting Plans

London, May 5.—The Copenhagen correspondent of The Daily Mail hears that King Edward will visit St. Petersburg in July, stopping three days in Berlin on his return. The correspondent says the king also will visit Copenhagen.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Brigantine Marconi, from New York for Halifax, with a cargo of anthracite coal, put into Shag Harbor, N. S., partly dismasted.

It has been decided that the cruiser Albany, now on the Asiatic station, shall be ordered to the Pacific coast for repairs next autumn.

The Cuban congress has authorized an issue of 7,700,000 postage stamps in commemoration of the installation of the Cuban republic.

Louis Reep of West Bay City, Mich., is dead, aged 105. He was, it is said, in the battle of Waterloo, under Blucher.

THE OLD RELIABLE

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

THE CURE FOR BOODLING.

Rev. Herbert S. Johnson Says Church is Partly at Fault.

"Circuit Attorney Folk and the St. Louis Bribers," was the caption of the evening discourse by the Rev. Herbert S. Johnson in the Warren Avenue Baptist church Sunday evening.

The Rev. gentleman, deploring the condition of affairs in St. Louis during the last five years, drew a comparison between Attorney Folk and the rich boodlers whom he has so fearlessly prosecuted, and discussed the condition of affairs brought about through the wonderful growth of the country and the haste to get rich which is in the atmosphere.

The speaker pointed out that it was only after repeated requests that Mr. Folk assumed the office, and then only with the full understanding that he would punish the wrongdoers, whoever they were. Then he showed how the gentleman was assailed and threatened when he did commence his prosecutions. "And now," he said, "Joseph W. Folk has shown himself fit to rank among the best citizens of the country."

It was not, however, in St. Louis only that such disgraceful thieving had occurred, but in almost all of the largest cities, and the Christian church, he declared, was in some measure responsible for this, because good citizens did not care to devote their time or money to the politics of the cities.

Only a few days ago, he said, he was talking with a millionaire of Boston, who said there were hundreds of good honest men in the city who would be able to carry on the business of the Police Commission, but who could not be persuaded to go through the political drudgery to get there. Just here was where the church failed in its duty.

Within a few blocks of their own church they were allowing the devil to do his work, dragging their young men and women down to the bottomless pit day by day. The lesson shown by Attorney Folk in his self-denying conduct, refusing to be enriched by the wrongdoers, but preferring to be poor and honest, ought to be recognized by all the churches in the country.

While thousands of young men have shown their readiness to give up their lives for the country in time of war, it was, he felt lamentable that so few good men went into politics, and he urged the young men and women present to enlist at once in this work and fit themselves to be able to fill public office and to purify the city. If they did this with a proper regard to their love for Jesus Christ, there could be no chance for such stealing and wrongdoing as is to be heard spoken of on every hand.—Boston Post.

Accident or Crime?

Editor Daily Ledger:

Reading the report of the Automobile running into the buggy at North Weymouth, leads me to ask the question, which heads this article.

I am strongly of the opinion that men of that stamp should be given short shift—a convenient telegraph pole or tree—there being too many of these reckless chauffeurs about.

At the beginning it may have been an accident but its culmination was a crime.

No man with a spark of manhood in him should run away from the afterpart of what was unintentional.

When doing so it makes it a crime.

W. H. D.

Adams 11; Stone, 8.

Adams Academy defeated the Stone school nine in a five inning ball game Monday afternoon, at Merrymount park. The score by innings:

Innings.	1	2	3	4	5
Adams,	1	0	6	2	2	—11
Stone's,	1	7	0	0	0	— 8

Batteries—Hoxie, Harkins and Reardon; Eveleth and Howe. Base hits—Adams, 4, Stone's 6. Errors—Adams 5, Stone's, 5.

—His excellency, Governor John L. Bates, is one of the ablest public speakers that has occupied the gubernatorial chair since John D. Long. He is as brilliant as Greenbalge, as tactful as Russell, as graceful as Wolcott, and and combines the arts and graces of all of them as no one of them did.—Somerville Journal.

AN UNEXPECTED VISIT

To Offices of "British African Finance Company"

THREE MEN GATHERED IN

By Detectives and Postoffice Inspectors, Who Say That the Concern and Members of Nobility Represented as Officers of It Are Mythical

New York, May 5.—Central office detectives and postoffice inspectors raided the handsome offices of the "British African Finance company" in Wall street and arrested John J. Prince, his son, Joseph R. Prince, and Horace Blackmur, on charges of grand larceny and the fraudulent use of the United States mails. The concern is said to have victimized many persons by the sale of bonds and stock of the Nokanna company, limited, owning extensive diamond fields in South Africa, which, with the company, are said to be purely mythical.

According to the circulars issued by the British African Finance company members of the nobility figure among the officers and directors. Sir Frederick Cammington is named as president. Sir Percy Sanderson, the British consul general, has informed the police here that no such person exists. The other officers are given as General Edmund L. Wallen, vice president; J. Cameron Rogers, secretary; Hansell Taylor, treasurer. The board of directors consists of Sir Fred Cammington, chairman; Sigmund Rothschild, J. Cameron Rogers, Thomas Kanney Brown, Baron Heinrich Von Prall, Hon. Edmund L. Waller and Sir Charles Noble.

The police say they have a letter from Sir Percy Sanderson in which he says there are no such persons in London. He has also written to the postoffice authorities that he believes the company to be a fraud. John P. Austin is named as manager of the B. A. F. Co., but the police think him a myth, as they have never been able to come upon him during their investigations.

The chief complainant against the concern is William Bush of New London, Conn., who says he corresponded with the company and was referred by them to various firms, which, the police say, were mythical. One reference was the British bank of South Africa, in Cape Town, August Knollwood, president. Bush wrote to him and got a reply, but later learned that no such bank existed.

The detectives found a list of about 300 names of customers of the company and a number of letters from people who acknowledged having received small dividends on stocks. The concern is supposed to have been running about seven months.

Jury Acted Contrary to Orders

New York, May 5.—The indictments for manslaughter against Ellen Long, Louis J. Somerville and Michael Timpani, for alleged complicity in the death of Leonard F. Roos, a wealthy art dealer, have been dismissed by Judge McMahon. When the indictments were handed in it was announced that the grand jury had acted against the wishes of the district attorney's office.

Prod From Navy Department

Washington, May 5.—The navy department has notified the Trigg Shipbuilding company of Richmond that unless the work on the Galveston is proceeded with at once the department will make other arrangements for its completion. The ship was 66 percent completed when the financial embarrassment of the Trigg company occurred.

Death List of Eight

Detroit, May 5.—The number of dead resulting from the accident at Canfield avenue and De Quindre street, when a Grand Trunk railway passenger train plowed through a large Polish excursion party from Toledo as the members were embarking for home on a train, has been increased to eight. All the other injured will recover.

Swindler Has Consumption

Albany, May 5.—Dr. Mereness, who was sent to Sing Sing to examine into the physical condition of W. F. Miller, the "520" percent swindling syndicate man, has reported that one of Miller's lungs is undoubtedly affected with tuberculosis. Miller will be removed to the consumptive hospital at Dannemora prison.

Want Union Recognized

Montreal, May 5.—The striking longshoremen have refused the offers of settlement made them by the shippers, which embraced all their demands except the unqualified recognition of the union. They also express the opinion that the men now working on the wharves should be discharged.

Fast Clip In Soft Wind

Glen Cove, L. I., May 5.—The Reliance was out for a three-hour spin in a very light east wind for a trial in typical cup defense weather. Despite the light wind she covered 30 miles. The leach of her mainsail is still loose and slats when close-hauled.

Premium on Matrimony

Washington, May 5.—The Philippine commission has made an increase of $15 (gold) per month in the salary allowances of married officers of the constabulary. The increase is for commutation of quarters. There are many bachelors on the force.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - 50 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

LOST.

LOST—A bunch of keys between the Post office and 45 Granite street. Please return to the post office.
Quincy, May 5. 1t

WANTED.

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

WANTED—A pleasant furnished room near centre of city. Address G, Ledger office.
Quincy, May 5. 3t

WANTED—A Smart Agent to represent this city for probably the best known Company in Life Insurance, the State Mutual Life Assurance Company of Worcester, Mass., E. S. BARKER, General Agent, 19 Milk street, Boston. To the right man a good future. May 5-1t

WANTED—Money on first mortgages. Address Box 185 Quincy Post Office.
April 16. eod tf

MEN, not under 25 years, to call on old and new customers. No delivering. Position permanent to the right party. Pay weekly. GLEN BROTHERS, Rochester, N. Y.
April 23. 6w-thurs. sat. tues.

WANTED—Competent Granite Letterer at once. Good pay for a good man. W. F. COOK, Springfield, Mass. 4-6t

WANTED—Six Boys to work on leather. Apply to A. H. KEITH, Braintree.
May 4. 3t

WANTED.

WANTED—Young Men to prepare for Government Positions. Fine Openings in all Departments. Good Salaries. Rapid Promotions. Examinations soon. Particulars Free. Inter-State Cor. Inst., Cedar Rapids, Ia.
April 27. 4p-1m

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—A lady's Springfield Bicycle for $10. In best of repair. J. DELOREY, 650 Washington street, Quincy Point.
May 4. 3t

FOR SALE—One Roan Horse, 8 years old, weight 1200 pounds. One Express Wagon, and one Harness. Apply at 165 Quincy avenue, Quincy. May 4—3t

FOR SALE.—Yawl BRANT, 28-6 o. a., 9-0 beam, 3-0 draught, with centre board up; built by Leloise in 1893. This boat is well known along the coast as a safe and handy cruiser, is easily handled, and is in perfect condition, well found in everything needed for comfort and safety. Now at her moorings off the Wollaston Yacht Club house and ready for sea. J. A. FENNO, 538 Hancock street.
Wollaston, May 4. tf

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office.
April 28. tf

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve [12] rooms with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street.
Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

TO LET.

TO LET—A House of eight rooms and bath, opposite Adams Academy, Johnson avenue; 16 Faxon avenue, house of 9 rooms and bath, 2 minutes from R. R. Station; also summer plastered house of 11 rooms, bath and hot water, on Great Hill, Quincy. FANNIE M. TAYLOR, 196 Federal street, Boston.
May 5. 13t-p-1w

TO LET—Furnished Rooms, corner Hancock and Greenleaf streets, Quincy. Large Double Parlor, two front Communicating Rooms and several Side Rooms. Terms moderate. Rooms now ready for occupancy. Apply at the residence. May 4-tf

TO LET—Rooms at 48 Revere road, furnished or unfurnished. One large front room furnished, several smaller rooms. House newly renovated also new bath room. Terms reasonable. May 2-3t

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet, 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street.
Quincy, April 21. tf

TO LET—House, 8 rooms, No. 59 Coddington street, with bath, furnace, electric lights. Apply to H. M. FAXON, Adams building. Apr. 16-tf

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.
Quincy, April 9. 1p-tf

TO LET.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

FOR SALE or TO LET.

HOUSE of 8 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Just completed. Apply to ASA O. A. SEWELL, 12 Charles street, Quincy Point. Reliable Houses built to order at lowest prices and sold on easy terms.
April 7. 1m

Steamship Tickets.

Cuuard Line. Boston, New York, Queenstown, Liverpool.

Dominion Line. Boston, Queenstown, Liverpool, and from Boston to Azores, Gibralta, Genoa and Naples direct.

American Line. New York, Sou th ampton, London, Paris.

White Star Line. New York, Queenstown, Liverpool.

Levland Line. Boston, Liverpool, London.

Italian Royal Mail S. S. Co. New York, Naples, Genoa.

Scandinavian American Line. From New York to Scandinavian direct.

For rates and reliable information apply to

C. F. CARLSON,

Faxon Building. Opposite R. R Station.

Tel. 210-51.

Quincy, April 6. 1m

King Arthur Flour.

THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

W. G. CHUBBUCK

Furniture and Piano Mover

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

lp-tf Address, QUINCY MASS.

$3 Worth of Nursery Stock for $1.

IN Order to establish our trade with you, we will send you twelve McKinley Strawberries, six Columbian Raspberries, one Campbell Early Grape Vine four apple and four peach trees, standard varieties, all for one dollar. Do not fail to write for our wholesale catalogue. ROCHESTER & BRIGHTON NURSERIES, Rochester, N. Y. Feb. 25-10w

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....

PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,

3 High Street, Cor. Summer,

BOSTON, MASS

Three minutes from South Station.

WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By EDWIN CASKODEN [CHARLES MAJOR]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

This story began in the Daily Ledger of Monday, March 16, and will be continued daily until completed.

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I and II.—Charles Brandon kills a duelist on the field of honor and is appointed captain of the king's guard at the English court. The king's sister, Mary Tudor, quickly sets her fancy upon the gallant stranger. Brandon makes a confidant of Edwin Caskoden, master of the dance. III.—Caskoden is attentive to Lady Jane Bolingbroke, companion to the princess. In a fit of petulance Mary rebuke Brandon, then craves forgiveness. IV—Brandon teaches Mary a new dance learned in France. The young princess is shocked at first, then delighted with the sensation of Brandon's arm around her waist. Brandon declares that the girl is perfect, but the game of making love to royalty is dangerous. V.—Brandon crosses swords with the Duke of Buckingham, an unwelcome admirer of the princess. VI.—Mary, Lady Jane, Brandon and Caskoden ride to Windsor with the king. Mary shows decided partiality for Brandon's company, and on the return he is sent a day ahead of the royal party. VII—Louis XII of France asks for the hand of Mary. Brandon to sail for America to avoid Mary. She takes him to task for his indifference. Overcome by her pleadings, he makes a violent demonstration of his love. VIII. — Mary and Lady Jane go in disguise to consult a fortune teller. Brandon follows unknown to Mary. Buckingham plays the spy, and in a fight with Brandon he is wounded and two of his suit killed. IX.—Brandon in prison charged with murder. Mary to plead with the King. Buckingham against the prisoner. The king discovers a note sent by Mary to Brandon. Brandon condemned to death. The king learns that Brandon saved Mary from disgrace and orders his release. Brandon now madly in love with Mary. XI—Ambassadors of the French king come to England to court Mary for their aged sovereign. The girl spurns them in a highly dramatic scene. The betrothal made by King Henry. Mary kept in ignorance of Brandon's long imprisonment. She supposed he had sailed for America. XII—Mary explains to Brandon her neglect when he lay in prison. Bitter words followed by betrothal. Brandon dismissed from court. XIII.—Mary flatly refuses to wed the old French king. Brandon accuses Buckingham of having attempted to abduct Mary. King Henry angry with Brandon.

CHAPTER XV.

TO MAKE A MAN OF HER.

SO it was all arranged, and I converted part of Mary's jewels into money. She said she was sorry now she had not taken De Longueville's diamonds, as they would have added to her treasure. I, however, procured quite a large sum, to which I secretly added a goodly portion out of my own store. At Mary's request I sent part to Bradhurst at Bristol and retained the rest for Brandon to take with him.

A favorable answer soon came from Bristol, giving the young nobleman a separate room in consideration of the large purse he had sent.

The next step was to procure the gentleman's wardrobe for Mary. This was a little troublesome at first, for of course she could not be measured in the regular way. We managed to overcome this difficulty by having Jane take the measurements under instructions received from the tailor, which measurements, together with the cloth, I took to the fractional little man who did my work.

He looked at the measurements with twinkling eyes and remarked: "Sir Edwin, that be the curiousest shaped man ever I see the measures of. Sure, it would make a mighty handsome woman or I know nothing of human dimensions."

"Never you mind about dimensions. Make the garments as they are ordered and keep your mouth shut, if you know what is to your interest. Do you hear?"

He delivered himself of a labored wink. "I do hear and understand, too, and my tongue is like the tongue of an obelisk."

In due time I brought the suits to Mary, and they were soon adjusted to her liking.

The days passed rapidly till it was a matter of less than a fortnight until the Royal Hind would sail, and it really looked as if the adventure might turn out to our desire.

Jane was in tribulation and thought she ought to be taken along. This, you may be sure, was touching me very closely, and I began to wish the whole infernal mess at the bottom of the sea. If Jane went, his august majesty King Henry VIII. would be without a master of the dance just as sure as the stars twinkled in the firmament. It was, however, soon decided that Brandon would have his hands more than full to get off with one woman, and that two would surely spoil the plan. So Jane was to be left behind, full of tribulation and indignation, firmly convinced that she was being treated very badly.

Mary's vanity was delighted with her elopement trousseau, for of course it was of the finest. Not that the quality was better than her usual wear, but doublet and hose were so different on her. She paraded for an hour or so before Jane, and as she became accustomed to the new garb and as the steel reflected a most beautiful image she determined to show herself to Brandon and me. She said she wanted to become accustomed to being seen in her doublet and hose and would begin with us. She thought if she could not bear our gaze she would surely make a dismal failure on shipboard among so many strange men. There was some good reasoning in this, and it, together with her vanity, overruled her modesty and prompted her to come to see us in her character of young nobleman. Jane made one of her mighty protests, so infinitely disproportionate in size to her little ladyship, but the self willed princess would not listen to her and was for coming alone if Jane would not come with her. Once having determined, as usual with her, she wasted no time about it, but, throwing a long cloak over her shoulders, started for our rooms, with angry, weeping, protesting Jane at her heels.

When I heard the knock, I was sure it was the girls, for though Mary had promised Brandon she would not under any circumstances attempt another visit I knew so well her utter inability to combat her desire and her reckless disregard of danger where there was a motive sufficient to furnish the nerve tension that I was sure she would come or try to come again.

I admitted the girls, and when the door was shut Mary unclasped the brooch at her throat, and the great cloak fell to her heels. Out she stepped, with a little laugh of delight, clothed in doublet, hose and confusion, the prettiest picture mortal eyes ever rested on. Her hat, something on the broad, flat style with a single white plume encircling the crown, was of purple velvet trimmed in gold braid and touched here and there with precious stones. Her doublet was of the same purple velvet as her hat, trimmed in lace and gold braid. Her short trunks were of heavy black silk slashed by yellow satin, with hose of lavender silk, and her little shoes were of russet French leather. Quite a rainbow, you will say, but such a rainbow!

Brandon and I were struck dumb with admiration and could not keep from showing it. This disconcerted the girl and increased her embarrassment until we could not tell which was the prettiest, the garments, the girl or the confusion, but this I know—the whole picture was as sweet and beautiful as the eyes of man could behold.

Fine feathers will not make fine birds, and Mary's masculine attire could no more make her look like a man than harness can disguise the graces of a gazelle. Nothing could conceal her intense, exquisite womanhood. With our looks of astonishment and admiration Mary's blushes deepened.

"What is the matter? Is anything wrong?" she asked.

"Nothing is wrong," answered Brandon, smiling in spite of himself. "Nothing on earth is wrong with you, you may be sure. You are perfect—that is, for a woman—and one who thinks there is anything wrong about a perfect woman is hard to please. But if you flatter yourself that you in any way resemble a man or that your dress in the faintest degree conceals your sex you are mistaken. It makes it only more apparent."

"How can that be?" asked Mary in comical tribulation. "Is not this a man's doublet and hose, and this hat—is it not a man's hat? They are all for a man. Then why do I not look like one, I ask? Tell me what is wrong. Oh, I thought I looked just like a man. I thought the disguise was perfect."

"Well," returned Brandon, "if you will permit me to say so, you are entirely too symmetrical and shapely ever to pass for a man."

The flaming color was in her cheeks as Brandon went on: "Your feet are too small, even for a boy's feet. I don't think you could be made to look like a man if you worked from now till doomsday."

Brandon spoke in a troubled tone, for he was beginning to see in Mary's perfect and irrepressible womanhood an insurmountable difficulty right across his path.

"As to your feet, you might find larger shoes, or, better still, jack boots, and, as to your hose, you might wear longer trunks, but what to do about the doublet I am sure I do not know."

Mary looked up helpless and forlorn, and the hot face went into her bended elbow as a realization of the situation seemed to dawn upon her.

"Oh, I wish I had not come! But I wanted to grow accustomed, so that I could wear them before others. I believe I could bear it more easily with any one else. I did not think of it in that way." And she snatched her cloak from where it had fallen on the floor and threw it around her.

"What way, Mary?" asked Brandon gently and receiving no answer. "But you will have to bear my looking at you all the time if you go with me."

"I don't believe I can do it."

"No, no," answered he, bravely attempting cheerfulness; "we may as well give it up. I have had no hope from the first. I knew it could not be done, and it should not. I was both insane and criminal to think of permitting you to try it."

[To be Continued.]

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

SEASONABLE NECESSITIES.

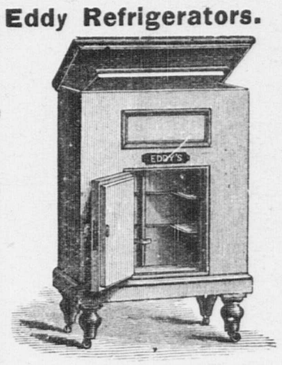

If you wish to keep up appearances in your home you must keep everlastingly at it. Now is the time to clean house, change around the furniture and add a new carpet, matting, new draperies or odd pieces of furniture where needed. We have much for your consideration. Attractive goods from the best and most reliable factories in the country. Prices lower than those of any other store in New England.

Mattings, Rugs, etc.

Straw Mattings,	10c. to 25c.
Japanese Mattings,	25c. to 40c.
Prairie Grass Mattings,	35c. to 38c.
Art Squares,	$2.98 to $10.20
Dining Room Rugs in Taspesty, Brussels, Velvet, Oriental or Smyrna,	$9.75 to $35.00
Wool Carpets,	.55 to .75
Tapestry Carpets,	.65 to 1.00
Brussels,	1.00 to 1.35

Lace Draperies, Muslin Curtains, Tapestry and Chenille Portieres.

Eddy Refrigerators.

If there was a better make of refrigerators in the market than the Eddy, it would be here for sale. The Eddy is acknowledged by experts everywhere to be the most economical ice consumer and most satisfactory ice box made. Factory prices from $5.20 up

Cottage and Porch Furniture, etc.

Piazza Chairs,	89c. to $3.25
Lawn Settees,	.98
Lawn Swings,	5.00
Cot and Iron Beds,	$1.25 to 2.98
Cottage Bureaus,	3.50
Cottage Tables,	98c. to 5.00
Cottage Couches,	$3.50 to 6.00
Cottage Washstands,	1.42
Cottage Chairs,	50c. to .75
Cottage Rockers,	79c. to 1.75

All the inexpensive fittings for cottages and temporary rooms in your own home.

Summer Necessities.

Blue Flame Oil Stoves,	$4.50 to $9.00
Common Oil Stoves,	75c. to 2.25
Lawn Mowers,	$3.25 to 7.00
Lawn Hose,	3.50 to 6.00

Bicycles, etc.

Iver Johnson, Dayton, Crawford, Leroy, High Grade Wheels, $25.00

Cheaper Wheels, $18.00

Tires, Sundries, etc.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO..

Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

Furniture Store and Annex, Hancock Street, Quincy.

Short Credit Accounts When Desired.

INDIGNATION AROUSED

Over Dismissal of Smuggling Cases In Porto Rico

A POLICY OF SUPPRESSION

Has Worked Havoc With Confidence People Had Reposed In Americans —Errors In Official Statement From Washington Regarding Frauds

San Juan, P. R., May 5.—The ugliest feeling that has prevailed in Porto Rico since the American invasion has been caused by the arbitrary measures adopted in Washington and by the insular government to secure immunity for the smugglers. This feeling has been intensified during the last few days by the resignation of John S. Hord, chief of the internal revenue bureau, who, on behalf of the insular government, ordered the prosecution of Captain Dunlap, Robert Giles and Captain Mentz, while Treasurer Willoughby was out of town, investigating municipal frauds in Mayaguez. Chief Hord said he acted by Willoughby's orders. This Willoughby has publicly denied. The treasurer is a Roosevelt appointee and naturally sides with the insular and federal governments. Hord, who has a splendid record for honest, fearless work, promptly offered his resignation, which was as promptly accepted. The people and the press are siding with Hord and against Treasurer Willoughby.

The press dispatch stating that Secretary Moody had declared that if San Juan did not cease prosecuting the accused army and navy officials its chances of getting the naval station would be very much impaired, and also that all officers may be withdrawn from San Juan, was generally accepted as a threat and caused another outburst of feeling. Even federal officials criticised the retaliatory tone of the dispatch and called the message ill-timed. The smugglers also objected because the secretary gave away the fact that they had "atoned for their indiscretion by paying double the duties they should have paid."

On the same day United States District Attorney Pettingill moved in the United States district court the dismissal of the indictments against ex-Supervisor of Elections Butler, Robert Giles, Captain Mentz, Captain Lowndes and Captain Crabbs. Judge Holt took under advisement the motion to nolle prosequi the cases, and then followed long speculation as to what he would do, thus keeping up the excitement and suspense. The policy of suppression, so rigorously enforced by the administrations at Washington and San Juan, has worked havoc with the confidence Porto Ricans had reposed in Americans.

The strongest objection made in Porto Rico to the attitude of the Washington authorities is to the official statement minimizing the extent of the frauds. It is not true that only a few bottles of liquor and a few cigars are involved. The preliminary examinations before United States Commissioner Anderson showed that hundreds of cases of liquor were smuggled on naval vessels and subsequently carted in army wagons. It was also proved that a dozen separate orders for liquors were sent to St. Thomas on a single vessel, and the bills were subsequently checked up and the piles of boxes were arranged at the naval station. It is also said that records show that 300 cases were landed one night on the sea wall and stored for a time in a convenient cellar. The smugglers openly boasted at dinners that the wines used had paid no duty. Naval station employes swore that wholesale smuggling had been going on ever since American occupation, and the reports of Collector Cruzen left no room to doubt.

The government may find it impossible to suppress the cases. A movement is already being made for an official investigation of many instances of alleged smuggling which have not yet been presented to the courts, and a long fight is apparently on. The enemies of the smugglers evidently propose to keep the administration in hot water for some time to come. Agents of the Democratic party in the United States are particularly active in this matter, and will not let the story die just yet. On Saturday last there was a new development when Hobart S. Bird, editor of the San Juan News, and Internal Revenue Agent Gibbs were tried in the San Juan district court for contempt of that court. Bird was convicted, fined $20 and sentenced to five days in jail. Gibbs was acquitted.

Public sentiment interprets the punishment of Bird as a retaliatory measure because of his activity in exposing the smuggling frauds. On the day after his conviction Bird published a two-column editorial fiercely denunciating such censorship of the press and declaring the constitution of the United States to be a mockery. He is likely to stir up more trouble, and laughs at his arrest.

Theft of $25,000 Charged

Cleveland, May 5.—Edwin C. Kelly, treasurer and general manager of the B. K. Enamel Brick company, is locked up, charged with the embezzlement of $25,000 from the concern. Kelly was arrested in Fairmount, W. Va., and brought here.

Daughter For Princess Louise

Lindau, Bavaria, May 5.—Princess Louise of Saxony has given birth to a daughter.

Noisy Send-Off For President

Pueblo, Col., May 5.—Siren whistles of steel works and smelters last evening sounded a deafening good-bye to President Roosevelt as his train sped away to the south and west, after a remarkable welcome to him by 100,000 people of the Arkansas valley. The weather was bright and delightful and excursionists had come from long distances.

A Consul's Good Offices

Washington, May 5.—United States Consul Moe, in a report to the state department, records the capitulation of the capital of Honduras and the success of his mediation between Arias and Bonilla for peace. A government decree which has been issued, he says, guarantees the rights of foreigners so long as they remain neutral.

Dearth of Clean Linen

Chicago, May 5.—The strike movement of the laundry workers has been augmented by the closing down of the five steam laundries in Evanston. All the laundries in the city are closed and restaurant proprietors have begun issuing printed apologies for the noticeable absence of napkins and for the soiled table cloths.

Differs With Booker Washington

New York, May 5.—At a meeting of the Presbyterian Ministers' association Rev. Dr. W. H. Weaver, a colored man and a member of the Presbyterian board of missions of freedmen, said he believed that general Christian education is the great need of the negro today and not "industrial" education.

Won't Have Carnegie Library

Montreal, May 5.—The city council has rescinded an adopted resolution accepting an offer of $150,000 from Andrew Carnegie for a library building. The council could not decide upon a satisfactory site and the dual language question presented a grave difficulty.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Wednesday, May 6.
Sun rises—4:34; sets—6:48.
Moon sets—1:52 a. m.
High water—6:45 a. m.; 7:15 p. m.

The weather continues unseasonably cool in the east. Pressure continues high over the northeast. The weather will be fair in New England.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus often before medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

FLOWERS

AT VERY LOWEST PRICES.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.

69 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works, Quincy Point.

FUNERAL DESIGNS A SPECIALTY.

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy.

MOTHALINE.

For packing away your furs and clothing during the warm weather.

I have it in three varieties: Cedar, Camphor and Lavender.

15 cts. per Package

CHARLES C. HEARN.

PHARMACIST,

1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

FULL STOCK

—OF—

HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,

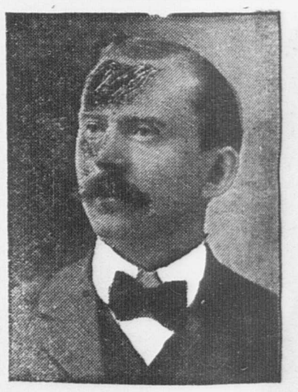

—AT—

Brooks' Market,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 25. tf

SMOKE THE

COVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. lp-2mos.

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

S. ound the furniture and ods from the best and er

ities.

Oil Stoves, $4.50 to $9 00
l Stoves, 75c. to 2.25
rs, $3.25 to 7.00
3.50 to 6.00

s, etc.

son, Dayton, Crawford, Grade Wheels, $25.00 heels, $18 00
dries, etc.
Street, Quincy.

ERS

RICES.

ENHOUSES.

ore River Works,
t.

SPECIALTY.

REEN, Proprietor.

NE.

nd clothing during

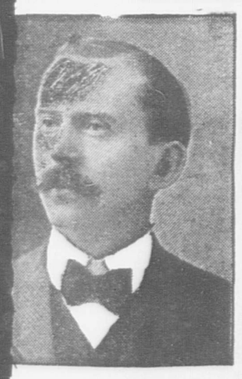

Cedar, Camphor

CKIT!

HEARN.

ST, et, Quincy.

SMOKE THE

OVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler tra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

, Nov. 11. 1y

Dr. Emmons'

Regulator has brought happiness to s of anxious women. There is positive-er remedy known to medical science
so quickly and safely do the work.
and most obstinate irregularities from e relieved immediately. Success guart any stage. No pain, danger, or inter-with work. Have relieved hundreds of here others have failed. The most diffis successfully treated by mail, and benesults guaranteed in every instance. No tsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies
e never see. Write for further particu-
free confidential advice. Do not put off
. All letters truthfully answered. Re-
, this remedy is absolutely safe under esible condition and positively leaves ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, y sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be
ed. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tre-
., Boston, Mass.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 106. QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY, MAY 6, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, Pres

April 9-1m 11-1m

King Arthur Flour

MAKES THE

BEST BREAD.

SOLD BY

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

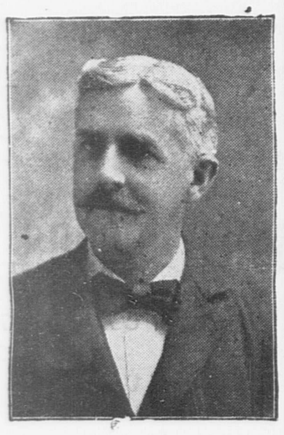

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.

1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.

2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.

3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.

Plumbing and Heating Co.,

25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot. Telephone Connection.

April 24. 1-tf--p-1w

Glenwood Ranges

Make Cooking Easy

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO., QUINCY, MASS.

Are You Looking for a Home?

Would You Like to Make Some Money?

Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at

BIGELOW PARK.

The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.

SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.

May 2. tf

Spring and Summer Shoes.

The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3 50.
Men's,	from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.

The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.

GEORGE W. JONES,

Adams Building, - QUINCY.

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

For Latest News See Inside Pages.

CRASH OF STEAMSHIPS

Results In Drowning of Twenty or More Persons

FOG OFF COAST OF VIRGINIA

When the Hamilton Struck the Saginaw and Carried Away the Entire Stern of the Vessel—Hamilton Has Been In Several Serious Collisions

Norfolk, May 6.—A collision at sea that cost the lives of 20 or more persons and the sinking of the Clyde steamship Saginaw by the Old Dominion Steamship company's liner Hamilton occurred off the Virginia coast.

The Hamilton left New York for Norfolk and the Saginaw passed out the Virginia capes bound from Richmond and Norfolk for Philadelphia. A dense fog settled along the coast and while going through this fog at reduced speed the Hamilton crashed into the Saginaw.

The scene of the collision is about 14 miles off the shore and nearly 200 miles south of New York and about 135 miles north of Norfolk.

The fog whistles of both vessels were distinctly heard by each other for several minutes before the collision occurred. According to Captain Boaz of the Hamilton, his ship was making about nine miles an hour and the Saginaw about 10. The fog was so thick that objects a ship's length away were invisible and when the two crafts hove in sight of each other, bow on, there was but a moment's interim before they met.

The Saginaw veered, as did the Hamilton, but they had not time to clear each other, and the knife-like steel prow of the Hamilton struck the Saginaw on the port quarter about 20 feet from her stern, cutting the entire rear of the ship away. The in-rushing water caused the Saginaw to settle rapidly in the stern and the impetus of the Hamilton took her out of sight of the crippled vessel. Engines, already reversed, were put full steam to the rear, and the Hamilton circled to the scene of the wreck, at the same time lowering two life boats. There was consternation among the passengers of the Hamilton and the first thought was for their safety, but so soon as it was discovered that the ship was uninjured, save that some bow plates were stove in, all efforts were directed to the rescue of those on the Saginaw.

When the Saginaw was again sighted her stern was under water and her bow was high in the air. Panic-stricken people rushed over her decks and scrambled toward the bow. Life boats were lowered and into the first 15 colored women were placed, according to Second Officer Morris, who was in command. The boat was swamped as it struck the water and its occupants were thrown into the sea. All were drowned save the second officer and the colored stewardess. The latter died before the small boat reached the Hamilton, more from injuries received by the impact of the collision than by drowning. She had been held up by First Mate Goslee, who sank himself as the small boat from the Hamilton reached them.

In the meantime the rush of waters into the bow of the Saginaw had caused the decks to burst from their fastenings with a roar like the report of big guns and tons of freight of all descriptions soon littered the sea. To floating wreckage the struggling people in the water clung with desperation and many of them were rescued by the boats from the Hamilton and Saginaw.

Before the life boats of the Hamilton had reached the Saginaw the latter had disappeared and nothing but her topmasts were visible. To these several men were clinging, one of whom was the aged captain, J. S. Tunnel. When he was taken off it was found that he had suffered severe internal injuries.

The Hamilton hovered around the scene of the wreck for more than an hour, but no sign of life could be seen among the mass of floating freight.

It was some time before any definite statement could be secured from the officials of either line regarding the real number lost and saved, and even now, after official lists have been given out, there is a great discrepancy between the statements of passengers and the companies' statements.

According to the Clyde line officials, the names of only 18 passengers are known, and it is admitted by Second Officer Morris that 15 colored women, all of whom are now dead, were in the swamped life boat. The crew of the Saginaw numbered 26 all told.

The Saginaw was in charge of First Officer Goslee when the collision occurred, and the first officer of the Old Dominion ship also was at the wheel of his vessel.

From all accounts obtainable, the denseness of the fog made high speed perilous and both ships were going at reduced rates. Their fog whistles were kept blowing regularly and were distinctly heard by each other before the crash. The passengers and most of the crew on both ships were asleep below when the disaster happened, and when the terrible shock and grinding noise awakened them a panic-stricken rush for safety took place.

The discipline of the crews was admirable. "Women first," was the initial command of Captain Tunnell after the life boats had been prepared for lowering. The frightened colored women piled into the first boat of the Saginaw and all lost their lives.

The Hamilton was in command of Captain Boaz. No one on the Old Dominion boat was hurt and the vessel was damaged only about the bow. This damage is comparatively small, when all things are considered.

The Hamilton's Record

New York, May 6.—The steamer Hamilton, which was in collision with the Saginaw, has been in several serious collisions since she was launched in 1899. On June 13, 1900, she struck and sank the steamship Macedonia, seriously damaging her own bow. Ten days later the Hamilton ran into and sank the schooner John H. Ker, and on Oct. 7 of the same year she ran into the schooner A. A. Shaw, also sending her to the bottom.

The Saginaw was built in 1883 and had but one previous serious accident. She went aground on the Jersey coast March 24, 1897, and for a time the owners despaired of floating her. The crew and the one passenger were taken off by the life savers and the vessel was ultimately floated.

Boston Retains Castle Island

Washington, May 6.—General Crozier, chief of ordnance, has taken steps for the disposal of the armament of Fort Independence on Castle island, in Boston harbor. An act of congress authorized the city of Boston, through the park commissioners, to improve and beautify Castle island. As understood at the war department, the government retains title to Castle island and transfers it to the park commissioners of Boston simply that they may improve it for the benefit of the public. The island is connected with the shore by a bridge and is easily accessible to the public.

On Verge of Statehood

Santa Fe, N. M., May 6.—President Roosevelt spent over three hours in this city, whose historic buildings and monuments seemed to have much interest for him. At the capitol he made an address, speaking to an audience of fully 10,000 persons. He said the benefits of forest preservation and irrigation to be enjoyed by this section will do most towards bringing New Mexico to statehood and making it one of the great states of the west.

Frank a Dangerous Place

Blairmore, N. W. T., May 6.—Small slides have been coming down from Turtle Mountain at intervals during the last thirty-six hours. Yesterday the largest rock slide since the first disaster occurred and caused much uneasiness among the handful of officials left in Frank. Those who had portable property began to remove it yesterday, and when the big slide came they fled precipitately. Government engineers went to the mountain yesterday.

Arson and Murder of Seven

Liverpool, May 6.—The grand jury returned a true bill against Otto Monson, Gustave Rau and William Smith, seamen of the British bark Veronica, who were indicted on the charges of murder and arson. The Veronica was burned at sea Dec. 29. The prisoners are charged with murdering Captain Shaw of that vessel and six other members of the crew.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. This signature E. W. Grove on every box, 25c

ENDURANCE TEST.

The Macdonough Expected to Take It Tomorrow.

The builders' trial of the torpedo boat destroyer Macdonough, which took place a few days ago outside Boston Light, was attended with such successful results that the Fore River Ship and Engine Company have asked the United States Navy Department for the official endurance test to be made on May 7.

The Macdonough, which is a sister ship to the Lawrence recently turned over to the Navy department, is 246 feet long, 22 feet, three inches beam, 14 feet deep, with a displacement of about 400 tons. She has four boilers and two four-cylinder engines with a horse-power of 8000 which is more than sufficient to develop the required 26-knot speed, which on the endurance test must be maintained for one hour, as during the trial of April 28 even better speed was made.

The run was straight out to sea for about 20 miles. There was a long ground swell from the continued easterly winds but the vessel rode the waves like a duck, giving a very satisfactory demonstration of her seaworthiness.

The Board of Naval Officers to test the Macdonough will probably be Capt. Charles F. Train, president; Capt. Charles R. Roelker, engineer officer; assistant naval constructor, William G. Groesbeck; Commander W. C. Cowles, recorder.

MADON A'S WATCH

Expected to Lead to Conviction of Perpetrator of the Barrel Murder

Buffalo, May 6.—Detective Sergeants McCafferty and Petrosini arrived in Buffalo in company with Salvatore Segliebe, a stepson of Benedetto Madonia, the victim of the New York "barrel" murder mystery. Segliebe has been held by the New York police as a witness. He identified a watch, the pawn ticket for which had been found on Petto, the Sicilian suspected of the murder.

The New York officers brought the watch here to make Salvatore's identification more absolute by corroboration on the part of the wife and daughter. Detective McCafferty showed the watch to Mrs. Madonia and both she and her daughter said they were positive that it was the one that had belonged to Benedetto Madonia. The watch is regarded as the most important bit of evidence in the case.

It is stated that the New York authorities also wished to question Mrs. Madonia regarding an alleged Mafia letter she is supposed to have received since the murder. Both officers deny that such is the case.

Student Missing From Harvard

Cambridge, Mass., May 6.—William Whitwell, a Harvard senior, left college hurriedly on Feb. 27 without taking any effects, due to receipt of word that his father, Dr. Whitwell of New York, was dangerously ill at home. Young Whitwell did not reach home. His father has since died. Mrs. Whitwell has employed detectives and entertains hopes that her son is all right. Whitwell was 6 feet 2 inches in height, weighed nearly 200 pounds and played in the 'varsity eleven.

Mob Routed by One Man

Laurel, Del., May 6.—John Griffith, a soldier during the Spanish-American war, was set upon by a gang of negroes at Bridgeville, but he used two pistols with such effect that one of his assailants is dead and three others are severely wounded. Griffith escaped with slight injuries. Griffith got into an altercation with the negroes and took shelter from their shots behind a dry goods box. He then opened fire on the mob with such effect that he soon drove them off.

Ballot Boxes Locked Up

Baltimore, May 6.—The result of the municipal election in this city as to the mayoralty candidates is in doubt. Of the 308 precincts in the city 303 have been counted, and they give a plurality of 382 for McLane (Dem.) over Wachter (Rep). In the other five precincts, owing to disputes between the election judges, the ballot boxes have been locked up by the police. The actual result will be in doubt until these votes are counted.

McGregor Held For Grand Jury

Salem, Mass., May 6.—Edward W. McGregor, charged with manslaughter in having caused the death of Charles Ritchie, who was found dead from a broken neck, at the foot of a flight of stairs in a Beverly boarding house, waived examination and was held for the grand jury, bail of $3000 being reduced to $1000. This amount was furnished by Congressman Gardner, for whom McGregor's father worked.

Snug Sum For Poor Inventor

Berlin, May 6.—A poor watchmaker, named Fritz, has sold a mechanical time fuse for projectiles to the Krupp company for $50,000 and a royalty of one mark (25 cents) for each device used. The mechanicism can be adjusted so as to explode in an astonishingly short time, at long distances or immediately after penetrating a resisting substance, such as a ship's armor plate or a fortification wall.

RAILROAD PROBLEM.

Too Many Drunks on the Late Train from Boston.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad should make some move toward ridding itself of the drunken and noisy crowds that patronize the late trains, especially on Saturday nights. If drunks must be transported from Boston to Quincy they should be kept in the smoking car, or put into a metallic car where they can fight it out among themselves.

As it is now there are nearly as many drunks in the passenger cars as in the smoker. Men, and often times women, in a state of intoxication, go through the cars shouting and using language that is anything but edifying.

Things have now reached a stage that it is almost impossible for a lady to come out on the late trains without being exposed to insult. When the trains reach Quincy a larger part of the crowd is dumped.

These disturbances have become a regular thing since the advent of the ship yard as that enterprise has attracted a floating crowd of workmen who have no families, but who live in boarding houses and think they cannot pass a Sunday without getting drunk.

Some few years ago the condition of affairs on the late trains was the same as now. The railroad officials then took the matter in hand and had a squad of officers at the station and any man who showed any signs of intoxication was arrested. This wholesale arrest had the desired effect, and it was not long before the weekly drunks learned that it was not safe for them to attempt to get onto the trains in Boston, and good order prevailed. This rule was enforced for some time but of late years has been rather disregarded, so that things now are worse than before.

WANTS PUBLIC HEARING

Boston Man Says He Will Then Name Senator Who Attempted to Bribe

Boston, May 6.—The senate committee on rules had before them George J. Raymond, who advertised in several papers on Sunday that he had been approached by a senator to offer to kill a bill affecting his business adversely for a certain sum of money. Raymond was accompanied by counsel, but declined to name the senator at a closed hearing. He stated that he would be willing to give the name at a public hearing. After he had retired the committee held two executive sessions, but were unable to come to any decision as to whether or not the charges should be investigated. The committee will hold another session and Raymond has again been asked to be present. The advertisement in question reads in part as follows:

"This 'act' was submitted to the senate last year and little or no attention paid to it.

"We wish to notify the senator who came into our office and first wanted $1000, and on his next visit $500, and on his fourth or fifth visit $250; who seems very much interested in this bill at the present time, and who said that it was no good and would not be considered last year because there was no 'stuff' behind it; that if he undertakes to be senator again next year we will make a sworn affidavit of this statement, using his name, and submit it to the consideration of those who have sent him there to represent, and not misrepresent, them.

"We had not heard of this 'act' again this year until we were advised that there was some 'stuff' being raised to push it through. We have heard of no hearing in the matter, but that it has been quietly worked upon, and when it came up in the senate last Wednesday was postponed for a week, because if it had been voted upon at that time it would have been killed. The postponement will be more fully explained later."

Heavy Taxpayers at Newport

Newport, R. I., May 6.—The tax assessors have finished their work upon the tax books and the total valuation of the city this year is $42,032,800, of which $34,668,200 is of real estate and $7,364,600 is personal property. The largest individual taxpayer this year is Mrs. Alice G. Vanderbilt, widow of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, who is taxed for $983,000. The next largest is the John C. Brown estate, $822,000, while the wife of O. H. P. Belmont, formerly Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, is third with $800,000. Thirty-six other estates are taxed in sums ranging from upwards of $600,000 to $100,000.

Minister's Son Wins Will Contest

Northampton, Mass., May 6.—Judge Fassett has entered a decree in probate court setting aside the will of the late Rev. Henry L. Edwards on the ground that the will had been invalidated by interlineations and erasures made after its execution. By the terms of the will Halley W. Edwards, the only son and heir of the testator, was practically disinherited, the property being held in trust for various beneficiaries. The contest was made by the son, who will now receive the bulk of the estate, amounting to about $60,000.

☞ Job Printing at Ledger office.

SEASONABLE NECESSITIES.

If you wish to keep up appearances in your home you must keep everlastingly at it. Now is the time to clean house, change around the furniture and add a new carpet, matting, new draperies or odd pieces of furniture where needed. We have much for your consideration. Attractive goods from the best and most reliable factories in the country. Prices lower than those of any other store in New England.

Mattings, Rugs, etc.

Straw Mattings,	10c. to 25c.
Japanese Mattings,	25c. to 40c.
Prairie Grass Mattings,	35c. to 38c.
Art Squares,	$2.98 to $10.20
Dining Room Rugs in Taspesty, Brussels, Velvet, Oriental or Smyrna,	$9.75 to $35.00
Wool Carpets,	.55 to .75
Tapestry Carpets,	.65 to 1.00
Brussels,	1.00 to 1.35

Lace Draperies, Muslin Curtains, Tapestry and Chenille Portieres.

Eddy Refrigerators.

If there was a better make of refrigerators in the market than the Eddy, it would be here for sale. The Eddy is acknowledged by experts everywhere to be the most economical ice consumer and most satisfactory ice box made. Factory prices from $5.20 up

Cottage and Porch Furniture, etc.

Piazza Chairs,	89c. to $3.25
Lawn Settees,	.98
Lawn Swings,	5.00
Cot and Iron Beds,	$1 25 to 2.98
Cottage Bureaus,	3 50
Cottage Tables,	98c. to 5.00
Cottage Couches,	$3.50 to 6.00
Cottage Washstands,	1.42
Cottage Chairs,	50c. to .75
Cottage Rockers,	79c. to 1.75

All the inexpensive fittings for cottages and temporary rooms in your own home.

Summer Necessities.

Blue Flame Oil Stoves,	$4.50 to $9.00
Common Oil Stoves,	75c. to 2.25
Lawn Mowers,	$3.25 to 7.00
Lawn Hose,	3.50 to 6.00

Bicycles, etc.

Iver Johnson, Dayton, Crawford,
Leroy, High Grade Wheels, $25.00
Cheaper Wheels, $18 00
Tires, Sundries, etc.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

Furniture Store and Annex, Hancock Street, Quincy.

Short Credit Accounts When Desired.

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Estab'ished in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	46	53	53	60	55
Monday,	58	67	55	60	58
Tuesday,	64	66	71	50	58
Wednesday,	54	84	60	58	59
Thursday,	—	86	65	72	55
Friday,	—	58	63	66	55
Saturday,	—	47	68	68	68

New Advertisements Today.

Help Wanted—Male.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ The $10,000 receipts from liquor license fees in New York city serve to indicate the intensity of the thirst in that metropolis and the incidental expenses of slaking it.—Boston Herald.

Home from St. Louis.

Frank F. Prescott, city editor of the Daily Ledger, returned Tuesday evening from the dedication of the World's Fair at St. Louis, and will tell of his impressions in the Saturday Ledger. Aside from the two cold, windy days, pleasant weather prevailed and they were gala days for St. Louis. The gaily decked city had visitors from all states of the Union and outside, and many notable guests. The dedication like the plans for the exposition was on a grand scale. Mr. Prescott and his brother also made stops at Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Batavia and Albany.

Day Nursery Meeting.

The monthly meeting of the ladies interested in the Day Nursery, was held Tuesday afternoon in the council chamber at City hall. In the absence of Mrs. W. T. Babcock Miss Emily C. Wild, the vice-president presided. There is now between one and two hundred dollars in the treasury besides furniture, etc., with plans for increasing the amount as several ladies have offered to give sales, lawn parties and entertainments for the cause.

It is hoped to secure a few rooms in the centre early in the fall and install a matron. The hard working mothers will appreciate the Day Nursery and do their daily work with lighter hearts if they know their little ones are in good care enstead of locked up at home and running the risk of fire and getting into mischief.

W. R. C. Exemplifications.

The annual exemplifications of the work of the Woman's Relief Corps will begin May 20 and continue until nearly July 1. Thursday, May 21, Edwin Humphrey corps 60 of Hingham will entertain D. Willard Robinson corps 13, Norwell; David Church corps 44, Marshfield; Gen. S. Thayer corps 94, South Braintree; Reynolds corps 102, Weymouth; Paul Revere corps 103, Quincy; George W. Perry corps 121, Scituate, and William Wadsworth corps 143, Duxbury. Other exemplifications will be held at Roxbury, June 16; Brockton, June 26; and elsewhere.

Morgan—Nelson.

Word has been received from Porto Rico of the marriage at that place April 21 of Miss Lulu C. Nelson of Atlantic to Mr. Percy F. Morgan. Miss Nelson is the daughter of David C. Nelson a well known resident of Atlantic. Miss Nelson left here for Porto Rico some weeks ago.

Cooperative Dining Rooms Lose.

Not in patronge, but an 8-quart can of milk. It was taken from outside their door in the early hours this morning. It is about time that milk thieving was stopped. If the person is caught at it he will get a warm reception.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

QUINCY HIGH LOST.

Defeated by Roxbury High by Score of 15 to 12.

The Quincy High school base ball team played its first game in the Highland league at Merrymount Park Tuesday afternoon and was defeated by the Roxbury High school nine by a score of 15 to 12.

Quincy started in to win, but Roxbury got a lead in the fifth inning and held it to the end of the eighth, when the game was called on account of rain. Had the ninth inning been played, Quincy would have stood a good chance to win or tie the score, as the home players showed signs of strengthening toward the end of the game. It was remarked that if the Quincy team had held together throughout the game, there would have been no doubt as to the result. This criticism might hold true for all games thus far played by the nine.

Miller started in to pitch for Quincy, but in the fifth inning he weakened and retired in favor of Rooney. Rooney was fairly steady during the remainiug three innings and kept the hits well scattered.

Cavanaugh, the Roxbury pitcher, was batted out of the box in the second inning and was replaced by Merrill, who proved more effective.

Bennett of Quincy did the best playing in the field. He accepted all of his five chances, several of them being rather difficult, owing to the high wind. Conrad, a new man in the infield, played well. Ewing, the Roxbury third basemun, perhaps put up the best game for the visitors. Amesbury behind the bat, did good work on several occasions.

Miller of Quincy High and Rosenthal of Roxbury High, did the best batting. The former got two two-base hits, while the latter succeeded in reaching third base on a deep field hit.

The summary follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Quincy,	0	7	1	0	0	1	0	3	—12
Roxbury,	1	0	0	4	8	2	0	0	—15

Struck out, by Miller, by Rooney, by Cavanaugh 2, by Merrill, 5. Base on ball, by Miller 9, by Rooney 2, by Cavanagh. 2, by Merrill 5. Stolen bases, Quincy 5, Roxbury 6. Two-base hits, Miller 2. Three-base hits, Rosenthal. Hit by pitched ball, Conrad 2, Fenno, Ewing. Double plays, Mill r, Drake, and Rooney Wild pitches, Miller, Merrill 2. Passed balls, Drake 2. Umpires, Smith and Lane. Time, 2 hours. Attendance, 200.

Charles Gehr Lee.

With the close of the Lord's day, May third, Mr. Charles Gehr Lee passed from suffering. His sickness has been eagerly watched by many anxious friends, who hoped for his recovery, while realizing the seriousness of the case. At Wollaston on Thursday evening, February nineteenth, after chatting cheerily with his wife he was seized suddenly with hemorrhage of the brain.

Dr. Johnson was summoned immediately and later a specialist was consulted, but there seemed no chance for recovery. No effort was spared on the part of physicians, nurse or faithful wife to effect a cure and at times there was great hope of success. Mr. Lee regained consciousness and was able to converse quite freely with his wife.

He was too weak to rally however and finally passed quietly and peacefully away.

Mr. Lee was for many years a Boston business man, being connected with the United States Leather Company on Essex street. In his business he was particularly valuable and his place cannot be filled readily.

He was born in Hartford, Conn., Sept. 1, 1858.

He was married Dec. 13, 1882, to Anna Kate Goodrich, of Oneida, N. Y., who through the years has been his devoted comrade and constant companion.

He was an active member of Saint Chrysostom's Episcopal church. He was interested in all matters of city or ward improvement, and a worthy member of Wollaston lodge, F. and A. M. and St. Stephen's chapter, Quincy.

Few men would be as greatly missed from the community, and few could leave so grand a legacy of good citizenship, brotherly kindness, devotion to home and a true Christian life as he whose loss many mourn.

Moved to Ohio.

The Bay State Aluminum Company which was established in Quincy some years ago on Granite street and which was recently sold to the Buckeye Aluminum Company is no more. This week all of the machinery used in the manufacture of aluminum goods was loaded aboard the cars and shipped to Doylestown, Ohio, where the company is erecting a large new plant. Mr. Leon Ward, who has been the manager of the enterprise since its establishment in Quincy will remain with the company and will leave for his new home Friday, his household effects having already been shipped. Mrs. Ward will not accompany her husband but will remain in the east until fall when she will join Mr. Ward in Doylestown.

—The school committee of Worcester has elected the principal of its South High school, Homer P. Lewis, as superintendent of schools.

RELIANCE OUTCLASSED

Columbia Shows Her Superiority In a Light Wind

TWENTY-MINUTE CONTEST

In Which the Old Cup Defender Beat the New Boat by Nearly a Quarter of a Mile—Latter Stood Up Too Stiffly to Make Fast Time

Glen Cove, L. I., May 6.—It required just 20 minutes for the peerless cup defender Columbia to demonstrate that in a light wind and beating to windward she is a better boat than the new Herreshoff cup yacht Reliance. Starting from a position to leeward and slightly astern of the Reliance the Columbia sailed through the new boat's lee, tacked across her bow and in the next leg of a mile increased her lead to nearly a quarter of a mile. Reliance then withdrew. When the Columbia went through her lee the Reliance kept off and voluntarily gave up the advantage of her windward position, but she was none the less decisively and emphatically out-sailed.

This was the first brush between the two boats. The sea was as smooth as a pond. The two boats, with the Constitution, had been out for a spin in an air that was little more than a calm. Columbia left her moorings here shortly before 3 p. m., and stood off into the sound.

A quarter of an hour later Reliance got under way at New Rochelle and still later Constitution left Glen Cove for a spin. The boats were five miles apart and moving slowly. After sailing about in that fashion a while, the Columbia headed for Glen Cove at 4.30, close hauled in a light southwest wind.

Reliance had caught a freshening breeze and, setting a big jibtopsail, went romping off down the Sound to head off the Columbia. Ten minutes' sailing carried her to a point a little ahead of and to the windward of the Columbia.

Both boats carried mainsail, staysail, working jib and small topsail. Reliance was carrying a reaching jib topsail while the Columbia wore one better fitted for windward work. Reliance held her position only a few minutes. As the breeze freshened the Columbia drew up on her rival in astonishing fashion, ran by her to leeward and in 10 minutes was leading the new boat by lengths. Columbia heeled easily, while the Reliance stood up much more stiffly, though carrying more canvas.

With the Columbia leading under her lee bow Reliance kept off and fell into her wake nearly 200 yards astearn. As they tacked, both boats took in their jibtopsails and stood across the mouth of the harbor, the Columbia to windward and leading. Though Captain Barr first gave the Reliance a hard full and then pinched her into the wind, the Columbia steadily drew away from her, seeming to go faster and sail nearer to the wind. Both boats held on this tack for about eight minutes and then Columbia came about and headed for her moorings, Reliance followed her about in about half a minute and then the Columbia's lead became apparent. She was a quarter of a mile ahead. Reliance followed in her wake, but the Columbia was easily dropping her, seeming to carry the better wind. Half way to the moorings the Reliance tacked and started for New Rochelle, meeting the Constitution, which had taken no part in their first brush.

It is clear that despite her greater sail area the Reliance is outclassed by the Columbia in a light wind, even if the sea be smooth, though her greater sail area, made possible by her powerful hull, was expected to enable her to give a good account of herself even in the sound zephyrs. She stood up too stiffly, while Columbia quickly went down to her sailing lines.

The performance raises grave doubts whether Designer Herreshoff's second attempt to build a boat to beat the Columbia is any more of a success than his first.

Old Board Bill Settled

Fall River, Mass., May 6.—Andrew J. Sweet of this city had a boarder in his family who disappeared one morning 25 years ago, and whom he had never heard from until last night. The boarder arrived in the city yesterday and, being unable to find Sweet, left the money at the police station with a request that the police should locate him and turn over the money. This was done last night.

A Hundred and Seventy Killed

Salonica, May 6.—In the engagement between Turkish troops and revolutionists at Okrina on May 2, 70 revolutionists were killed and 21 were wounded, while the Turks had 100 killed and 16 men wounded. All foreign consulates and banking establishments are guarded by troops, while the streets are patrolled constantly.

On the Diamond

At Philadelphia—National—Brooklyn, 5; Philadelphia, 2.
At Pittsburg—National—Pittsburg, 8; Chicago, 3.
At Cincinnati—National—Cincinnati, 4; St. Louis, 1.
At Chicago—American—Chicago, 8; Detroit, 1.
At New York—American—New York, 11; Philadelphia, 3.
At Concord—Concord, 5; Brockton, 3.
At Manchester—Lawrence, 5; Manchester, 4.
At Nashua—Nashua, 1; Haverhill, 0.
At Lowell—Lowell, 5; Fall River, 4.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Full moon next Monday evening.

May 6 was Thanksgiving day at Valley Forge in 1778.

Three weeks to Memorial day, which comes on Saturday this year.

Mrs. Mary Smith of Randolph is entertaining her son Martin of this city.

The City Council Committees on Fire Department and Public Buildings meet tonight.

James F. Harlow, recently city clerk, has been confined to the bed since Monday.

The Assessors are not having very pleasant weather for their annual tour of the city.

The physical training class will hold a May party in Quincy Music hall Monday evening, May 18.

It is probable that work building the main sewer to Quincy Point will be commenced next week.

A. W. Parker left Tuesday afternoon for Nova Scotia, being called home on account of the serious sickness of his father.

Shirley Nutting and family and John Hall, Jr., have moved from Revere road to the Churchill house on Hancock street.

The extremes of noon temperature during May for the last seven years were 93 and 46. Last May they were 86 and 50.

The maximum noon temperature of 86 for April was higher than during the six preceding years; the maximum of 30 was also lower.

David J. Barry, night officer at police headquarters, who has been ill, threatened with pneumonia the past two weeks, resumed his duty last night.

It was stated last week that the bonds given by Joshua Lovett on the estate of his father, Joseph Lovett of Wollaston, was $75,000. It should have read $25,000.

The civil session of the Superior court at Dedham came in Monday. Among the cases on the trial list is that of J. F. Sheppard & Sons against Mayor Bryant.

The Fore River shipyard has received the contracts to build two car-floats from the N. Y., N. H. & H. railroad. They will be the largest car-floats in this country.

The dance of Camp Boyd, L. S. W. V., will be held at Faxon hall tomorrow evening. The soldier boys are in need of a stack of arms for Memorial day and will devote the proceeds to that purpose.

Theodore Hardwick's house on Chestnut street, looks fine since it has been in the hands of the painters. It is now a rich red and dark green, and is even prettier than it was, as a new house a few years ago.

The houses of Dr. J. F. Welch on Hancock street, and Mr. Eben W. Sheppard on Greenleaf street, are in the hands of the painters. The colors are not being changed as they seem especially suited to the style of architecture.

An important meeting of the Granite City club will be held next Saturday night when action will be taken on the report of the special committee on the revision of the constitution and by-laws and the election of officers to fill vacancies.

After school tomorrow afternoon the Sunday school of First church are to gather in the chapel for their annual supper and social. Supper is to be served at half-past five. One of the pretty sights at the supper is the kindergarten class in little chairs surrounding a low table especially prepared for them. A dance will follow the supper at Colonial hall until eight for the little ones and until ten for the older ones.

Peptiron

(Pronounced Pept-iron.)

A Digestive
A Nerve Food
A Stomach Tonic

Strengthens the nerves, tones the stomach, perfects digestion, and cures nervousness, dyspepsia, anemia, and that long train of aches and pains attending an overworked and underfed brain.

It combines iron with the phosphates, pepsin, and other tonic and nutritive substances; does not cause constipation nor injure the teeth.

Peptiron is made in two forms: In a liquid—an aromatic cordial elixir—at $1 per bottle. also in chocolate-coated pills at 50c. or $1 per box. By C. I. HOOD CO., proprietors Hood's Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass.. U. S. A.

Selling Agent in Quincy:

E. J. Murphy, 1657 Hancock St.

$10 REWARD.

I will pay $10 for the arrest and conviction of the parties who destroyed the tulip bed at 107 Elm street last Friday night.

ALEXANDER THOMPSON.

Quincy, May 5. 3t

HIGH PRICED COFFEE.

Yet the Hotel Steward Thought the Charge Was Moderate.

"So you think we charge too much for coffee, do you?" asked the steward of one of New York's fashionable hotels in response to a mild complaint from a guest. "You paid 35 cents for a small pot of coffee with cream, didn't you? You admit that there was nothing the matter with the coffee, but you say you didn't use all of the cream. Maybe you didn't, but some other guest might have wanted more than you did. The coffeepot, pitchers for hot milk and cream and the sugar bowl were of silver. Your cup and saucer were of the very best china. It costs something to make that coffee, and we have to get some return on our investment in the silverware and china. There are two cups of coffee in a small pot, and we would lose money if we sold it at 10 cents a cup.

"There is another thing you must consider—when you go into a high class cafe you are given a table by yourself. No matter how badly we are crowded no one is placed at the table with you. Suppose we sold coffee at popular prices. Don't you know that hundreds of people would be dropping into the cafe just for a cup of coffee in order to see the crowd? They would monopolize all the tables. Don't say a word, but one reason why we put up the price is to keep the coffee drinkers out, so that you may have a table when you want to sit down to champagne and terrapin."—New York Press.

Making It Easy.

There is a Presbyterian family in Washington which owns or is owned by a masterful boy of seven. The boy's grandmother came to visit them recently and reproached them because the child had not yet been baptized. The mother protested lamely that she expected to defer that until the boy should unite with the church. Grandmother sniffed and said if they waited till the boy professed religion and wished to join the church they'd wait until the forty-first year of the millennium; so it was decided that he should be baptized at once. Somewhat of the discussion reached the youngster, and he marched bravely up to his mother.

"Have I got to be baptized?" he asked.

"Yes, dear," answered the mother.

"All right, then," said he cheerily. "I don't care when you have it done. I had my arm broken, and I had my shoulder dislocated, and I didn't feel it a bit when the doctor fixed them. Just have 'em give me a little chloroform, and they can baptize me all they want."—Washington Post.

Cut Both Ways.

"I want my hair cut and no talk," said a great man with an I own the earth air, as he walked into a barber's shop and sat down.

"The"— commenced the man in the apron.

"No talk, I tell you!" shouted the heavy man. "Just a plain hair cut. I've read all the papers and don't want any news. Start away now!"

The man in the apron obeyed.

When he had finished, the man who knew everything rose from his chair and surveyed himself in the glass.

"Great Scott!" he exclaimed. "It's really true, then? You barbers can't do your work properly unless you talk."

"I don't know," said the man in the apron quietly. "You must ask the barber. He'll be in presently. I'm the glazier from next door."

The Giant Spider of Ceylon.

Far up in the mountains of Ceylon there is a gigantic spider which spins a bright yellow web, each thread being almost as large and strong as "buttonhole twist" or embroidery floss. The net which this creature forms from these webs is often five to eight feet across. This net is swung on mainstays or guys which are from ten to twenty-five feet in length and strong enough to call the pedestrian to a halt as suddenly as if he had encountered a low hanging clothesline. These yellow webs are collected by the natives as well as by Dutch and English residents and woven into pretty mats, screens, etc.

The Limit.

Mr. Cribbs—Mrs. C., I have borne with resignation—nay, even cheerfulness—antique chairs that wabbled, antique clocks that were always thirteen hours behind time, antique rugs that some prehistoric Turks wove, antique china, antique bowls, pans and kettles. All this I have smiled at, but when you give me antique eggs for breakfast I draw the line, madam—I draw the line.

Troubles and Joys.

The trouble with most of us is that our joys seem to sink out of sight in some inner quagmire, and our pains seem to take root on the thinnest soil and flourish like the proverbial green bay tree. What is the matter with us that a little irritation today can wipe out in a moment all the recollection of yesterday's glory?

"Practical" Arithmetic.

A teacher who was trying to instruct her class about the mysteries of addition and subtraction explained that one could not subtract or add unless the numbers were of the same denomination when a little girl said:

"Teacher, can't you take six peaches from four trees?"—Little Chronicle.

In a Minor Key.

Hearty Friend (meeting operatic composer)—Hello, old man! How are you? Haven't seen you for an age! What's your latest composition?

Impecunious Musician (gloomily)—With my creditors.—Punch.

Usually the Way.

Mamie—She is trying to keep her marriage a secret.

Maud—How do you know?

"She told me so."—Baltimore World.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Your gray hair shows you should use it—unless you like to look old!

J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to tuoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS,

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.

April 30. 1m

MOTHALINE.

For packing away your furs and clothing during the warm weather.

I have it in three varieties: Cedar, Camphor and Lavender.

15 cts. per Package.

CHARLES C. HEARN,

PHARMACIST,

1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,

In a variety of Styles and Prices.

Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.

These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.

C. S. HUBBARD,

City Square, Quincy.

$3 Worth of Nursery Stock for $1.

IN Order to establish our trade with you, we will send you twelve McKinley Strawberries, six Columbian Raspberries, one Campbell Early Grape Vine four apple and four peach trees, standard varieties, all for one dollar. Do not fail to write for our wholesale catalogue. ROCHESTER & BRIGHTON NURSERIES, Rochester, N. Y. Feb. 25-10w

FULL STOCK

—OF—

HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,

—AT—

Brooks' Market,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 25. tf

King Arthur Flour.

Sold in Quincy by

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....

PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,

3 High Street, Cor. Summer,

BOSTON, MASS

Three minutes from South Station.

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. 8, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. 1p-2mos.

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—3 Haymarket. Sept.10-1y

Hair Vigor

ur gray hair shows you ould use it—unless you e to look old! J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of attention to my stock of nake or makes. I carry the following:

RINGTIME

LES.

ELAND, DAY AND FAY;

DO want and I will get it for you at uincy, but my place continues to be the ABLE."

GILLIS.

Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.
1m

LINE.

rs and clothing during

ifies: Cedar, Camphor

Package.

HEARN.

CIST,

reet, Quincy.

ER GOODS.

from 69c. to $1.75
$1.25

ummer Underwear, and Prices.

White Mull Ties, Wrist
shes and neckwear.

at prices that will please you.

BBARD,

Quincy.

s and Outs of Overcoats.

T OF THE WINTER COAT INTO SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

. L. MORTON, Tailor,

High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS

minutes from South Station.

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

e the jobbers and retailers profit. Send mples at once giving the number of rooms ave to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. 8, Buffalo, N. Y.

ril 1. 1p-2mos.

ALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

For Two Feet of solid comfort; for the greatest measure of style, durability and "foot-ease," buy
Whale Hose
No seams to hurt the feet; perfect fit; no fading or staining. Made in black, russet, and all popular colors. By mail, 1 pair 20c; 2 pairs 35c; Five cents brings patent hose supports and catalogue.
CORNELL STOCKING CORPORATION
New Bedford, Mass.
Look for the whale.

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER YOU WILL FIND

The Co-OPERATIVE DINING ROOMS,
3 Granite Street, Quincy,
where your wants will be satisfied.

TABLE BOARD:
21-Meal.....Tickets, $3.50

ROOMS:
$1.25 Per Week and Upwards.

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.
mar.16-21-2m

Reupholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE

HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.

Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.

Call and get Prices.

C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.
Quincy, May 2. 1m

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK
A SPECIALTY.
Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.

Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

Address, 1362 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
Quincy, April 10. tf1p

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!
OF ALL KINDS.
DRY AND GREEN
At Lowest Possible Prices.
THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.
3rd off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy
Jan. 7. tf

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

THIS WEEK
COATS.
17
SILK LINED COVERT
Corset Coats
Made to sell for $10.00.
Saturday only, $5.98
Also a full line of Misses' and Children's Coats at very low prices.

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7. tf

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.
Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

JOB PRINTING
AT THE
PATRIOT OFFICE

An Animal Story For Little Folks

The Rooster's Golf Ball

Roosters are, as a rule, very sensible fellows, but they sometimes make mistakes just as we all do. Now, John Rooster was considered a real smart young man, and all the little chickens had him pointed out to them as an excellent model for them to mold their lives by. But John was not without error.

Among other things, he was very fond of golf, a game all of you young folks have heard of, but I doubt if many of you have played.

On one certain day not long ago he was unlucky enough to lose all his golf balls by driving them into a wide swamp, from which it was impossible for him to recover them without getting stuck in the mire himself.

So John started for his home feeling rather bad that his sport had been interrupted in this manner. On the way he came to a little clump of bushes, and, peering down behind it, he saw a nice white egg.

"Isn't that a pretty egg?" John asked himself. "Why should that not make a good golf ball?"

The idea seemed to him to be a good one, so he took the egg out of the bushes and put it on a little knoll and aimed his golf stick at it. Then he brought the stick down with a crash, and of course you know what happened. The eggshell was broken into a thousand pieces and the contents were spilled all over the ground.

HE AIMED HIS GOLF STICK AT IT.

While John was gazing sorrowfully at the result of his foolishness along came a half dozen motherly old hens.

"What have you done?" they cried in amazement. "Have you dared to break one of our beautiful eggs and waste it in this manner?"

And, without waiting for an answer, they pitched into him and pecked and pecked him until he had hardly a feather left.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

DO YOU COUGH
DON'T DELAY
TAKE KEMP'S BALSAM
THE BEST COUGH CURE

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 25 cents and 50 cents.

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Chapter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D.,
Inspector of Milk.
April 15. 30t

W. G. CHUBBUCK
Furniture and Piano Mover
IN AND OUT OF TOWN.
Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.
JOBBING.
Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.
1p-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

CITY BREVITIES.

Thirty degrees cooler than a week ago today.

Motorman Blair is seriously ill at his home on Elm place.

It is said lobsters will be plenty on the south shore this season.

The Adams Academy base ball nine is scheduled to play the second nine of Harvard college this afternoon at Cambridge.

The Clan-na-Gael field day will be held this year at New Downer Landing, July 4th.

The Vokman school nine will play Quincy High at the park on Friday afternoon.

A May festival is to be given at the Washington street Congregational church, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings this week.

The work of tearing down the historic Hancock Tavern in Boston began Tuesday. It will take but a few days to complete the work.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Crane of Revere road entertained friends at their home Tuesday evening with a pianola concert. Refreshments were served.

Quincy Point Young Men's Club.

The business of the last meeting, which was suspended on account of ladies' night, was settled in the usual manner and considerable mirth was caused by Dr. Bushnell, E. P. Barrows and T. B. Pollard in their remarks for and against issues that were brought before the organization. After a very pleasant and successful meeting President Turner addressed the members and finished by saying that he had a 'Fruit Cake,' a gift from D. J. Seward McCurdy, which he desired the members to dispense with. Mr. Seller provided plenty of lemonade and this part of the meeting was well enjoyed. The meeting was then adjourned.

Old Newspaper Changes Hands

Augusta, Ga., May 6.—The Augusta Chronicle, one of the oldest newspapers in the south, was sold at public auction to Thomas W. Loyless, editorial writer on The Atlanta Constitution, for $40,000. Henry H. Cabaniss of Atlanta also is interested in the purchase and will go to Augusta to assume the actual management of the paper.

Reformatory For Young Jews

New York, May 6.—President Stern of the Hebrew orphan asylum says that a protectory for Jewish children who need the safeguards of a reformatory will be established near this city within a year and that about $1,000,000 will be spent in the work. "The money," he says, "is pledged for the undertaking."

Icebergs In Shipping's Path

St. Johns, May 6.—Incoming shipping reports immense ice floes drifting south over the Grand Banks and into the ocean steamer track. The northern coast line of Newfoundland is blocked with floes. Vast numbers of icebergs are moving south with the current and constitute a menace to steamers.

Strike Against White Girls

Chicago, May 6.—Nearly 200 colored waiters employed in down-town restaurants and lunchrooms struck at noon, causing considerable inconvenience to hundreds of "quick-lunch" people. The trouble arose over the substitution of union white girls in the place of colored men.

Freshman Crew Short of Funds

New Haven, May 6.—The following vote was passed at a meeting last night of the managers of the Yale University Athletic association: "The freshmen crew will be disbanded on June 1 unless by that date the freshmen crew management has raised an amount of money which the management of the university crew shall deem sufficient to meet the expenses of the freshman crew."

Killed by Fall Into Hold

Providence, May 6.—Captain Robert Armstrong, aged 65, in command of the coal barge Sumner R. Mead, fell a distance of about 35 feet into the hold of that vessel and was fatally injured, dying in the ambulance on the way to a hospital. He had been captain of the barge for many years.

Good Season For Lobsters

Scituate, Mass., May 6.—Captain Edson came ashore here with 142 lobsters taken from his traps, the largest catch on the south shore in 12 years. Fishermen say lobsters will be plentiful all along the coast this season.

Pillsbury's Best Flour

is sold by grocers everywhere in sacks and barrels. While it is sold everywhere, it is not sold by every grocer. Hence, a grocer who does not keep Pillsbury's Best Flour, naturally will try to sell the flour he has in stock, declaring, either through ignorance or from a desire to dispose of what he has on hand, that his flour is as good as any other. Care should be taken to buy Pillsbury's Best Flour in original packages, so as to get the genuine article.

Cleveland's
BAKING POWDER
Always perfect, never varies, gives uniform results.
"I have tested all the leaders. Cleveland's gives the best results."
Mrs. S. T. ROKER.

THE CONFERENCE.

Quincy Pastor Elected to a Prominent Position.

Rev. E. N. Hardy of Bethany church of Quincy, was elected chairman of the executive committee at the annual session of the Norfolk conference of Congregational churches held Tuesday forenoon and afternoon at the First Congregational church at Brockton. Thirty-one churches were represented by twenty-six pastors and ninety-eight delegates. The Rev. F. W. Burrows of Braintree presided, with the Rev. A. H. Fuller of Easton as scribe, and Heman Howard of South Easton as treasurer.

The reports of the churches presented by the Rev. F. E. Butler of South Weymouth, showed a total membership of 6134, a net gain of 86. In benevolences, 36 churches show a total of $21,353 against $23,441 last year, and for expenses, 35 churches report $98,015 against $112,453 last year.

At the morning session, "The Relation of the Local Church to the Kingdom of God" was the theme of an address by the Rev. C. E. Stowe of Bridgewater, son of Harriet Beecher Stowe, who was followed by E. C. Moore, professor of the divinity school at Harvard, on "A Missionary Campaign among the Young People of Congregational Churches."

These officers were elected: Moderator for next meeting, the Rev. C. A. Hilton of Randolph; treasurer for three years, Heman Howard of South Easton; executive committee, the Rev. E. N. Hardy of Quincy and W. L. Tower of Cohasset; statistical scribe, the Rev. Demont Goodyear of Abington.

Rev. W. W. Dornan of Holbrook spoke in the afternoon on "Effects of Giving for Benevolent Objects Upon the Prosperity of the Church," and President S. B. Capen of the American board on "Our Foreign Missionary Work."

Brass Foundry at Shipyard.

Ground has been broken in the rear of the pattern shop at the Fore River shipyard, for the new brass foundry which the increased growth of the work of the yard has made necessary. The building will occupy the site of the old orchard near the dining club house, and will be 75 feet by 76 feet in area.

The equipment will be sufficient to cast the large manganese bronze parts of vessels and machinery hitherto procured from outside foundries. It is expected that shapes of five-ton weight can be cast, which will include propellor blades of the largest size and the large sections of the frames of vessels.

Big Gains for K. of C.

The annual convention of the State Council, Knights of Columbus is being held in Boston. The report of the state deputy showed that the present membership at large to be 93,625, distributed among 762 councils. There has been an accretion in membership of 100 percent. since March, 1899, and the total net gain during the past year has been 10,435. In Massachusetts the total membership is about 15,000. In the past 15 months there has been a gain of 1,500.

The election resulted as follows: Joseph C. Pelletier state deputy, William J. O'Brien state secretary, Rev. James N. Supple state chaplain, Henry E. Hagan state treasurer, William J. McDermott state auditor, Timothy F. Lynes state warden, J. Edward Shea state advocate.

Took a Prize.

A dispatch from Princeton, N. J., says the 91st annual commencement exercises of the Princeton Theological Seminary were held Tuesday. The second Maitland New Testament prize of $50 was awarded to G. T. Morrill, Wollastan, Mass. Announcement was made that the Rev. Dr. William Park Armstrong, instructor in New Testament studies, had been elected a full professor in this department.

Superior Court.

The following cases are in order for trial at the Norfolk Superior court now in session at Dedham:

Bates et al., vs. City of Quincy.
Doble vs. City of Quincy.
Lamb vs. City of Quincy.
Also three or four cases vs. Old Colony street railway.

—The Melrose Methodist Episcopal church will build a $60,000 edifice of Scotch brick and stone.

BRIDGEWATER MAN.

Man Killed at Atlantic Identified as Wilbrood Tellier.

The body of the man killed by the car at Atlantic, April 21, was identified this morning as that of Wilbrood Tellier of Bridgewater, who has been missing since that date.

Word was received by the police Tuesday night that the description of the man killed answered that of a man missing from Bridgewater, and what made it more certain was that the missing man carried a knife marked the same as the one found on the dead man's clothing.

John Bissonette came to Quincy and was taken to Mt. Wollaston cemetery and positively identified the body. He said that the man was 32 years of age, a wood chopper, and that he leaves a widow.

Municipal Ownership of Railways

Springfield, Ills., May 6.—The senate has concurred in the house amendments to the municipal ownership bill. The bill itself, which is primarily an act to enable the city of Chicago to "own, operate, lease, construct," etc., street railways, will pass the senate, and the legislation so long sought for by Chicago will go on the statute books.

Almost Instantly Killed

Fall River, Mass., May 6.—While Alphonse Brodeur, 55, was seated on a pile of dirt watching workmen engaged in grade crossing work, the pile toppled over just as an electric train came around a curve and he was thrown under the wheels. Both legs were cut off and his skull crushed, death being almost instantaneous.

Responsibility Not Placed

Hollidaysburg, Pa., May 6.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the cause of the explosion of dynamite at the plant of the Cresson Powder company, whereby 10 persons were killed, reports "that the managers of the plant were watchful and careful over its operations and the cause of the explosion is unknown."

Twelve Hundred Women Strike

Philadelphia, May 6.—Twelve hundred women operatives employed in the worsted mills in the Fairmount district, this city, have gone on strike for a shorter workday without any decrease in their present wages. The strikers ask for a reduction in hours from 60 to 54 a week. They receive from $2 to $7 a week.

Negro's Career Cut Short

Newberne, N. C., May 6.—George Vann, a negro, who had shot at a young white man named Thomas Green, was resisting three officers on a train and fired at Officer Dixon, wounding him in the thigh. He then attempted to throw Officer Lupton off the train. A fusillade followed and the negro was killed instantly.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus of "so before medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

MARRIED.

MORGAN—NELSON—In Ponce Porto Rico, April 21, by the Rev. H. B. Thomas, Mr. Percy F. Morgan of Ponce, P. R., to Miss Lulu C. Nelson of Quincy, Mass.

DIED.

BODWELL—In Quincy, May 5, Mr. Ulysses G. Bodwell, of 148 East Howard street, aged 38 years, 1 month and 13 days.
Funeral Thursday May 7, from late residence at 2.30 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited. Burial private.

HAZEN—In Quincy, May 5, Mr. Albert S. Hazen of 465 Newport avenue, aged 74 years, 2 months and 12 days.

PENNIMAN—In Winthrop, Me., May 5, Mr. Henry Penniman, aged 69 years.

THAYER—In Braintree, May 4, Mr. Franklin D. Thayer, aged 63 years, 7months and 7 days.

HARRIS—In Cohasset, May 3, Mrs. Clarissa C., widow of William F. Harris, aged 80 years.

LORING—In Hingham, May 3, Mr. James L. Loring.

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.
Quincy, April 9. 1p-tf

Stitchers Wanted.

EXPERIENCED on Ladies' Wrappers. Wheeler & Wilson power machines of the latest improved style. Steady work the year round, and good pay. Also, help wanted to take work home. Apply to MRS. A. L. WILBUR, Tirrell Building, 1467 Hancock street, over Old Colony Laundry, Quincy.
May 2. 1po-tf

FORMER RESIDENT.

Henry Penniman, a Civil War Veteran, Dies in Maine.

Word has been received in Quincy of the death at Winthrop, Me., Tuesday noon of Mr. Henry Penniman, who was well known to many in Quincy. Mr. Penniman was born in Quincy, May 6, 1834, but went to Winthrop, Me., when 16 years of age and has since made that town his home. When the Civil war broke out he enlisted and became first lieutenant. He was taken prisoner at the battle of Gettysburg, escaped but was retaken. He was twice wounded, once seriously, in the leg, and was invalided home.

Since the war he had become one of the principal business men of his town, being engaged in the manufacture of men's clothing besides carrying on a large dry goods and gentlemen's furnishing store. He was also a large real estate owner in Winthrop.

He married May Bachelder of Winthrop who died a few years ago. He leaves three children, Edgar H. Penniman, Mrs. Russell M. Keene of Allston and Mrs. John Foster of Winthrop. Also a brother and two sisters who reside in Quincy, Stephen Penniman, Mrs. Thomas Magee and Mrs. John W. Moore.

TODAY'S COURT.

Francis E. Stetson was arraigned for larceny at Randolph. Case continued until May 13.

NOVEL FEAST FOR BROKERS

Bulls, Bears and Lambs Appear at a Dinner In New York.

Two bulls, two bears and an assortment of lambs were features of a dinner given the other night at Sherry's, in New York, by Jules S. Bache & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, for their out of town correspondents, who were in the city to attend the opening of the new Stock Exchange, says the New York Tribune.

The walls of the hall were draped to represent farm land and woods. In the center was a large globe in which the table was set and the dinner served. Painted on the outside of the globe were a picture of the Broad street front of the new exchange and a rolling country scene, with telegraph poles and wires leading from the exchange to all parts of the globe.

In one corner of the room was a bull pen fenced off. The posts of the pen were four pedestals on which were stock tickers and tape hanging from them. During the early part of the evening two bulls and two bears were in the pen, while lambs gamboled on the grass mats which covered the floor. The odor arising from the animals, however, was too much for the diners, and they had to be removed. Two men, one made up as a bear, the other as a bull, had a wrestling match, but at the close of the dinner it was undecided whether the bull or the bear had won. A vaudeville performance followed.

ANTIQUE BELL PUT TO USE.

Spanish-Philippine Curio Calls Workmen to Lunch.

A large copper bell with a romantic history covering nearly 200 years has been put to the plebeian purpose of calling the men to work and to lunch in the government propagating gardens, south of the Washington monument, says a special dispatch to the Philadelphia Press from Washington. The bell was found in a barrel packed with straw when the quartermaster's warehouse in New York was recently cleaned out. It had been shipped from the Philippines on a transport with some other relics and forgotten.

Colonel Bingham, superintendent of public grounds and buildings, heard of it and ordered it shipped to Washington. The bell was cast in Spain in 1708, as is shown by an inscription on it, and sent to the Philippines, where it solemnly tolled the hours of prayer in a monastery. A century or so later it was removed and was found with other government possessions and taken at Manila.

Water Department Under Fire

Gloucester, Mass., May 6.—The common council last night passed an order calling for a searching investigation of the water department. The order directs the employment of an expert accountant to examine the books and accounts of the department. Another order was passed directing the city solicitor to proceed against Sylvanus Smith to recover $1000, which, it is alleged, he was overpaid at the time he was one of the commissioners.

Man of Strong Constitution

Medford, Mass., May 6.—John H. Norton, aged 75, a carpenter and builder, fell from the top of a carload of lumber on a siding here, struck squarely upon the top of his head, broke his left shoulder and three ribs, and suffered severe facial wounds. He will recover. Two years ago he was the victim of a runaway accident, when both arms and several ribs were broken and he was unconscious for 72 hours.

And Still Another Veto

Boston, May 6.—Governor Bates has added another veto to the long list which he has sent to the legislature this year by returning without his approval the bill providing that pensioners of the city of Boston shall not be employed by any other city, county, town, or state. The governor states that if such an act was meritorious it should be made generally applicable and not localized in Boston.

To Keep Well

every organ must be doing its duty—stomach, liver and kidneys must each be in thorough working order. If you are not as well as you ought to be take a small dose of

Beecham's Pills

Sold Everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25c.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - 50 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

WANTED.

HELP WANTED—Male—Examinations for Post Office employes in Quincy will be held soon. Barely time to prepare for it. For full particulars address today, NATIONAL CORRESPONDENCE INSTITUTE, 221 Second National Bank Building, Washington, D. C. May 6-3t-6 7 9

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

WANTED—A pleasant furnished room near centre of city. Address G, Ledger office.
Quincy, May 5. 3t

WANTED—Competent Granite Letterer at once. Good pay for a good man. W. F. COOK, Springfield, Mass. 4-6t

WANTED—Six Boys to work on leather. Apply to A. H. KEITH, Braintree. May 4. 3t

WORKING HOUSEKEEPER WANTED.

Middle-aged. Good position. Address MRS. E. E. JAMESON, 58 Beach street, Wollaston
May 5.—3t p 9-1w

WANTED.

WANTED—Young Men to prepare for Government Positions. Fine Openings in all Departments. Good Salaries. Rapid Promotions. Examinations soon. Particulars Free. Inter-State Cor. Inst., Cedar Rapids, Ia. April 27. 1p-1m

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—A lady's Springfield Bicycle for $10. In best of repair. J. DELOREY, 630 Washington street, Quincy Point. May 4. 3t

FOR SALE—One Roan Horse, 8 years old, weight 1200 pounds. One Express Wagon, and one Harness. Apply at 165 Quincy avenue, Quincy. May 4—3t

FOR SALE.—Yawl BRANT, 28.6 o. a., 9-0 beam, 3-0 draught, with centre board up; built by Lelosse in 1898. This boat is well known along the coast as a safe and handy cruiser, is easily handled, and is in perfect condition, well found in everything needed for comfort and safety. Now at her moorings off the Wollaston Yacht Club house and ready for sea. J. A. FENNO, 538 Hancock street. Wollaston, May 4. tf

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office. April 28. tf

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve [12] rooms with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street.
Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

TO LET.

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy. April 8. w. th. s. m.—tf

TO LET—A House of eight rooms and bath, opposite Adams Academy, Johnson avenue; 16 Faxon avenue, house of 9 rooms and bath, 2 minutes from R. R. Station; also summer plastered house of 11 rooms, bath and hot water, on Great Hill, Quincy. FANNIE M. TAYLOR, 176 Federal street, Boston. May 5. 13t-p 1w

TO LET—Furnished Rooms, corner Hancock and Greenleaf streets, Quincy. Large Double Parlor, two front Communicating Rooms and several Side Rooms. Terms moderate. Rooms now ready for occupancy. Apply at the residence. May 4-tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet, 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street.
Quincy, April 21. tf

TO LET.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

FOR SALE or TO LET.

HOUSE of 8 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Just completed. Apply to ASA O. A. SEWELL, 12 Charles street, Quincy Point. Reliable Houses built to order at lowest prices and sold on easy terms. April 7. 1m Steamship Tickets.

Cuuard Line. Boston, New York, Queenstown, Liverpool.

Dominion Line. Boston, Queenstown, Liverpool, and from Boston to Azores, Gibralta, Genoa and Naples direct.

American Line. New York, South ampton, London, Paris.

White Star Line. New York, Queenstown, Liverpool.

Levland Line. Boston, Liverpool, London.

Italian Royal Mail S. S. Co. New York, Naples, Genoa.

Scandinavian American Line. From New York to Scandinavian direct.

For rates and reliable information apply to

C. F. CARLSON,

Faxon Building. Opposite R. R Station.

Tel. 210-51.

Quincy, April 6. 1m

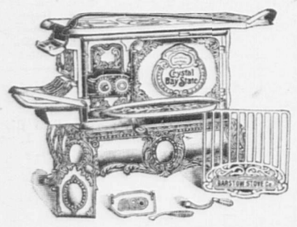

King Arthur Flour.

THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.

Come and See It.

BARSTOW STOVE CO.,

55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.

GUY'S COLISEUM,

W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 17. 4w

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE

HAS OPENED AN

Employment Office

At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.

Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

SMOKE THE

COVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured bv

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,

DENTIST.

67 Franklin Street, Pinel Block.

Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.

Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M. Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.

TELEPHONE 175-2.

Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,

DENTIST.

21 Chestnut Street.

Telephone 126-5.

Quincy, Oct. 1. 1p-tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.

FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.

At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.

Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.

FREE EXAMINATIONS.

Feb, 2. 1-1y- p-6mos.

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,

DENTIST,

Opposite Post Office,

1355 Hancock St., Quincy.

OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.

Jan. 31. tf

JAMES F. BURKE,

REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,

MORTGAGES.

Justice of the Peace. Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building,

June 5. tf

FRANK F. CRANE.

REAL ESTATE,

AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,

Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass

Aug. 17.

WILLIAM WILSON,

PIANOS.

New and Second Hand.

Easy Payments.

10 Lessons Free with each Piano.

Square Piano at Low Price; $5 down, $5 per month.

Solo Pianist and Prompter for Parties, Socials, etc., or any number of Musicians Furnished.

Residence. 4 President's Avenue, SOUTH QUINCY.

April 6. 1m

C. H. PRESCOTT,

EXPERIENCED

Piano Tuner and Repairer.

Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

Piano Tuner.

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.

Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.

Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov, 3-tf

PAINTING

and Glazing.

WARD L. HAYWARD,

28 Mechanic Street.

Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

LEWIS N. CURTIS,

PAINTER, GLAZIER.

LEADED STAINED GLASS.

Decorator and Paper Hanger.

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.

15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendezed Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By EDWIN CASKODEN [CHARLES MAJOR]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

This story began in the Daily Ledger of Monday, March 16, and will be continued daily until completed.

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I and II.—Charles Brandon kills a duelist on the field of honor and is appointed captain of the king's guard at the English court. The king's sister, Mary Tudor, quickly sets her fancy upon the gallant stranger. Brandon makes a confidant of Edwin Caskoden, master of the dance. III.—Caskoden is attentive to Lady Jane Bolingbroke, companion to the princess. In a fit of petulance Mary rebuke Brandon, then craves forgiveness. IV—Brandon teaches Mary a new dance learned in France. The young princess is shocked at first, then delighted with the sensation of Brandoff's arm around her waist. Brandon declares that the girl is perfect, but the game of making love to royalty is dangerous. V.—Brandon crosses swords with the Duke of Buckingham, an unwelcome admirer of the princess. VI.—Mary, Lady Jane, Brandon and Caskoden ride to Windsor with the king. Mary shows decided partiality for Brandon's company, and on the return he is sent a day ahead of the royal party. VII—Louis XII of France asks for the hand of Mary. Brandon to sail for America to avoid Mary. She tales him to task for his indifference. Overcome by her pleadings, he makes a violent demonstration of his love. VIII. — Mary and Lady Jane go in disguise to consult a fortune teller. Brandon follows unknown to Mary. Buckingham plays the spy, and in a fight with Brandon he is wounded and two of his suit killed. IX.—Brandon in prison charged with murder. Mary to plead with the King. Buckingham against the prisoner. The king discovers a note sent by Mary to Brandon. Brandon condemned to death. The king learns that Brandon saved Mary from disgrace and orders his release. Brandon now madly in love with Mary. XI—Ambassadors of the French king come to England to court Mary for their aged sovereign. The girl spurns them in a highly dramatic scene. The betrothal made by King Henry. Mary kept in ignorance of Brandon's long imprisonment. She supposed he had sailed for America. XII—Mary explains to Brandon her neglect when he lay in prison. Bitter words followed by betrothal. Brandon dismissed from court XIII.—Mary flatly refuses to wed the old French king. Brandon accuses Buckingham of having attempted to abduct Mary. King Henry angry with Brandon.

CHAPTER XV—[Continued.]

Brandon's forced cheerfulness died out with his words, and he sank into a chair, with his elbows on his knees and his face in his hands. Mary ran to him at once. There had been a little moment of faltering, but there was no real surrender in her.

Brandon and I were struck dumb with admiration.

Dropping on her knee beside him, she said coaxingly: "Don't give up. You are a man; you must not surrender and let me, a girl, prove the stronger. Shame upon you when I look up to you so much and expect you to help me be brave! I will go. I will arrange myself in some way. Oh, why am I not different? I wish I were as straight as the queen." And for that first time in her life she bewailed her beauty because it stood between her and Brandon.

She soon coaxed him out of his despondency, and we began again to plan the matter in detail.

The girls sat on Brandon's cloak and he and I on the camp stool and a box.

Mary's time was well occupied in vain attempts to keep herself covered with the cloak, which seemed to have a right good will toward Brandon and me, but she kept track of our plans, which, in brief, were as follows: As to her costume, we would substitute long trunks and jack boots for shoes and hose, and, as to doublet, Mary laughed and blushingly said she had a plan which she would secretly impart to Jane, but would not tell us. She whispered it to Jane, who, as serious as the lord chancellor, gave judgment and "thought it would do." We hoped so, but were full of doubts.

This is all tame enough to write and read about, but I can tell you it was sufficiently exciting at the time. Three of us at least were playing with that comical fellow, Death, and he gave the game interest and point to our hearts' content.

As to the elopement, it was determined that Brandon should leave London the following day for Bristol and make all arrangements along the line. He would carry with him two bundles, his own and Mary's clothing, and leave them to be taken up when they should go a-shipboard. Eight horses would be procured, four to be left as a relay at an inn between Berkeley castle and Bristol and four to be kept at the rendezvous some two leagues the other side of Berkeley for the use of Brandon, Mary and the two men from Bristol who were to act as an escort on the eventful night. There was one disagreeable little feature that we could not provide against nor entirely eliminate. It was the fact that Jane and I should be suspected as accomplices before the fact of Mary's elopement, and, as you know, to assist in the abduction of a princess is treason, for which there is but one remedy. I thought I had a plan to keep ourselves safe if I could only stifle for the once Jane's troublesome and vigorous tendency to preach the truth to all people upon all subjects and at all times and places. She promised to tell the story I should drill into her, but I knew the truth would seep out in a thousand ways. She could no more hold it than a sieve can hold water. We were playing for great stakes, which, if I do say it, none but the bravest hearts, bold and daring as the truest knights of chivalry, would think of trying for—nothing less than the running away with the first princess of the first blood royal of the world. Think of it! It appalls me even now. Discovery meant death to one of us surely, Brandon; possibly to two others, Jane and me, certainly if Jane's truthfulness should become unmanageable, as it was apt to do.

After we had settled everything we could think of the girls took their leave, Mary slyly kissing Brandon at the door. I tried to induce Jane to follow her lady's example, but she was as cool and distant as the new moon.

The next day Brandon paid his respects to the king and queen, made his adieus to his friends and rode off alone to Bristol. You may be sure the king showed no signs of undue grief at his departure.

[To be Continued.]

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Thursday, May 7.
Sun rises—4:33; sets—6:49.
Moon sets—2:26 a. m.
High water—7:45 a. m.; 8:15 p. m.

Pressure is still high over the northeast and a second high has advanced southeastward to the Dakotas. A slight disturbance has moved inland from the ocean and overlies southeastern New England. The precipitation has been light and scattered. The temperature will rise and it will be fair in New England.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Ravder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

☞A President who can begin speech making at 7 a. m. and not stop till 8 p. m., meanwhile crossing the state of Iowa and kissing four babies at Des Moines, may well be called strenuous; but that's what "Our Teddy" did last Tuesday. And what's more he, as usual in his speeches, talked plain, people-approving common sense every time.—Weymouth Gazette.

STARVE THEM OUT!

Why not starve the germs to death? Scott's Emulsion will do it.

The germs of consumption are an invading army numbering millions upon millions; they must all be fed or they will soon die of starvation. A lung a little below "par" in vitality is just to their liking.

Why not put new life into it? Scott's Emulsion feeds the lungs. It fills the blood with nourishing food for all the weak parts. Good food means life. Life means resistive force.

Germs cannot live on healthy tissue. Scott's Emulsion and good fresh air drive out the germs of consumption.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

THE REICHLIN INQUEST

Throws No Light on the Murder of Priest's Sister

FATHER WALSER SET FREE

Coroner Finds That Woman Came to Her Death at the Hands of Person Unknown—Witnesses Think That Crime Was Done by a Desperado

Eyria, O., May 6.—At the end of an investigation into the cause of the death of Agatha Reichlin, who was murdered last Thursday night, Coroner French last evening gave as his conclusion the verdict: "That Agatha Reichlin came to her death from wounds inflicted by a stone in the hands of a person unknown." The conclusion reached by the coroner resulted in the freeing of Father Walser from confinement later in the evening.

At the inquest George W. Jennings, a policeman, said he got to the parsonage on the night of the murder at 1:25 a. m. Walser told them that something awful had happened. When he questioned Walser about the murder he answered very shortly. The priest said he had heard the girl moaning 10 minutes. Jennings said he did not see any whiskey.

Rev. Charles Reichlin was then sworn. He said he went away Thursday morning to attend a funeral at Kelly's Island. When he left Walser and Agatha were alone at home. Walser had stopped at St. Joheph's hospital on the previous night. Walser wanted to go to the hospital Thursday night, but Agatha wished him to stay at the parsonage. Reichlin refused to answer a question as to whether or not he thought the authorities had done all they could to bring the murder to light. As to the motive he said:

"My first thought was that it might have been a jilted lover. Mr. Rospert was her last lover. I think the motive for the crime was robbery. My sister never expressed to me any love for Rospert. He called twice since November. My sister lived alone with Walser during my absence in Europe last summer. Rev. Walser put a bolt on the door between his room and Agatha's at that time."

Dr. S. S. Cox testified that he assisted in the postmortem examination of the body. The wounds on the head numbered three, but in his opinion only one blow had been struck.

Martin Reichlin, another brother of the girl, testified that Father Walser had been left alone with Agatha when he and his brother Casimir went down town Wednesday evening. He said he had drank beer at the house prior to going down town, and that beer and whiskey were usually kept in the house. Rospert had come to see Agatha last summer, but she refused to accept his attentions. The consensus of the testimony of all the witnesses was in support of the theory that a burglar or some other desperate man committed the crime.

Notwithstanding the bringing of Father Walser here from Elyria was quietly done, a large crowd gathered in the mayor's office during the progress of the hearing. Father Reichlin, brother of the murdered girl, listened attentively to the proceedings and upon adjournment of court was the first to approach Father Walser with a handshake, after which the handshaking became general, and the freed priest was the recipient of congratulations on all hands. He then left for the hospital to pass the night.

Morat o Held For Murder

Boston, May 6.—John Moratto has been held for the grand jury without bail, charged with the murder of Katie Keenan. Moratto and the Keenan woman, who had been living at a lodging house as man and wife for a week or more, quarreled, and just after midnight the woman rushed from the house bleeding from terrible cuts in the throat. She died soon afterward.

Four Thousand Return to Work

New York, May 6.—The agreement which ended the subway strike is signed by John B. McDonald, the general contractor of the subway, and John J. Pallas, chairman of the Central Federated union committee. The terms provide that the men return to work at once and the settlement of the differences be left to arbitration. There were 4000 men on strike.

Captain's Charges Not Proven

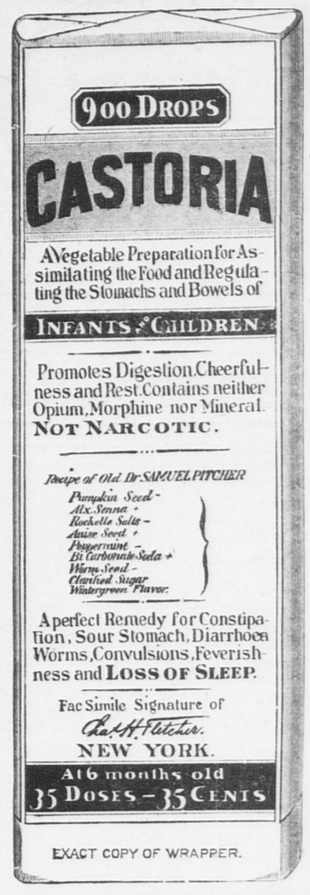

New York, May 6.—Sergeant Bourke was acquitted of the charge recently preferred against him by Captain De Russy of the Twelfth regiment. It was alleged that on Tuesday last, at the military tournament, Bourke "without provocation" struck De Russy. Sergeant Bourke was restored to duty at once on Commissioner Greene's personal staff.

Dissatisfied Miners

Shamokin, Pa., May 6.—The Royal Oak colliery, operated by the Llewellyn company, has shut down because 600 employes went on strike for a 20 per cent increase on contract work. They claim they did not receive the increase accorded by the strike commission.

Ohio Bank Safe Robbed

Ohio City, O., May 6.—A gang of a half dozen masked men drilled and blew the safe in the Farmers' bank here and secured the contents. The robbers bound and gagged a citizen who appeared on the scene while they were at work.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

PLASMON COCOA

55 Per Cent. Plasmon

Is irresistibly captivating, appreciably nutritious, perfectly digestible and fully satisfying. These facts about it are soon discovered.

Ask your grocer or druggist for it. In cans, 15cts. and 25cts.

Plasmon Co. of America

Centennial Building, New York.

Plasmon is the albumen of pure, sweet milk in the form of a cream-colored powder. "Plasmon is in itself the very essential food I have so long looked for." Eugen Sandow.

(Literature mailed free for the asking.)

Plasmon, 15c. and 50c.; Plasmon Biscuits, 20c and 35c. per tin; Plasmon Chocolate, 5c. and 10c. per cake.

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON

Quincy, April 23. tf

FLOWERS

AT VERY LOWEST PRICES.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works, Quincy Point.

FUNERAL DESIGNS A SPECIALTY.

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy.

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder,

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

STORIA

nfants and Children.

Kind You Have ways Bought rs the nature

f

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use
For Over
Thirty Years

ASTORIA

C CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

COCOA

Cent. Plasmon

y captivating, ap utritious, perfectly nd fully satisfying.
about it are soon

smon Co. of America
Centennial Building,
New York.
(Literature mailed free for the asking.)

Biscuits, 20c and 35c. per and 10c. per cake.

THE MINES.

S OF

n Stove.
n Egg.
n Stove.
n Egg.
gg.
Nut.

& SON

tf

ERS

T PRICES.

EENHOUSES.

Fore River Works,
oint.

A SPECIALTY.

GREEN, Proprietor.

STATE.

l the best part of life is gone.
t gradually, this would not be a arly ending. Consult me. I have Also House Lots for sale in all

SON, Builder,
Quincy, Mass.

d Sods for sale.
tf

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 107. QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY, MAY 7, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

ALL GOODS WILL BE DELIVERED FREE AT RESIDENCES IN QUINCY.

STRAW MATTINGS
FOR SUMMER HOUSES

Our new importation includes all grades from China and Japan, many patterns of which are exclusive. Always cool, cleanly, and sanitary.

RUGS

Royal Wilton, Saxony Axminster, Seamless, and other Axminster and Brussels rugs, in sizes 9 x 12, 8.3 x 10.6, and 6 x 9.

Hundreds of small rugs—Smyrnas, Wiltons, Axminsters, Japanese, etc., etc., at exceptionally low prices.

RUGS

Heavy Brussels Art Squares, many of them in Oriental designs and all reversible, sizes 7.6 x 9, 9 x 9, 9 x 10.6, and 9 x 12; price about $1.00 per square yard.

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS COMPANY

Pray Building 658 Washington St. Opp. Boylston St.
BOSTON

Represented in Quincy by Mr. Otho A. Hayward; in Wollaston by Mr. J. W. Wellington.

RICHARDS & MACOMBER,
PAINTERS and DECORATORS.

Whitewashing a Specialty. Sign Painting. Graining Kalsomining, Glazing.

Interior and Exterior House Painting. WE EMPLOY SKILLED WORKMEN ONL

Drop us a postal and we will call at your residence and estimate your work.

Office and Shop, 31 SAVILLE ST.,
Bates' Block, Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, April 11 Sat., Tues. Thur. 6w

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,
In a variety of Styles and Prices.

Fancy Stocks. Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear

These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.

C. S. HUBBARD,
City Square, Quincy.

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.
April 30. 1m

W. A. BRADFORD.
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store Old Telephone Number, 122-2.
April 21. tf

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder,

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

TELEGRAPHIC.
3 O'CLOCK.

For Latest News See Inside Pages.

ON ROCK-BOUND COAST

On'y Three Survived Wreck of Gloucester Fisherman

MAN AGAINST ROCKY CLIFF

Men Who Climbed to Place of Safety Saw Fifteen Comrades Battling Against Death, but Were Powerless to Render Assistance

Canso, N. S., May 7.—The American fishing schooner Gloriana, Captain George Stoddart, of Gloucester, Mass., ran ashore during thick fog on the cliffs at Whale Cove, near White Point ledges, and 15 of the crew, including the captain, were drowned out of a total of 18.

The survivors are John Bischer, Eugene Leblanc and Frank Nickerson.

The lost are Captain George Stoddart, Armsworth Thomas, Eli Melanson, Ansel Goodwin, Reuben Surrette, Harry French, Fred Doucette, Thomas Frazier, George V. Muise, Martin Goodwin, Alexander Benson, Charles Pierce, John Moulsong, Arthur Bonaghan and one unknown.

The Gloriana left the northeast bar of Sable Island Tuesday afternoon bound for Canso. There was a heavy easterly gale blowing, with drizzling rain and thick fog. The vessel was kept under short sail and everything went well until 1 o'clock in the morning when she struck on the ledges. The vessel passed over the outer ledges, but brought up on the inner reef, butted against a cliff of rocks, and then fell off with the sea again. The vessel had such headway on that it was impossible to get the sail off her in time to prevent disaster.

When the vessel struck against the cliff the three survivors, Bischer, Leblanc and Nickerson, were on deck and then ran forward, rushed out on the bowsprit and climbed up the cliff of rocks to a place of safety before a receding wave carried the vessel off again. Others of the crew who were below rushed on deck half clad and started to lower the dories As soon as each boat touched the water it was dashed by the breakers against the side of the vessel and smashed into pieces.

The high seas were breaking clean over the vessel and she swung broadside on the ledges and commenced pounding heavily. Lines were thrown ashore from the schooner several times, but they were either broken or torn from their festenings on the decks by the surging of the vessel and soon all hope of escape for those on the vessel was cut off.

The bottom pounded out on the jagged rocks and it was expected that she would go to pieces at any minute. Four of the crew jumped overboard and attempted to swim ashore, but they were caught in the breakers, dashed against the rocks and killed in the attempt. The others who were on the vessel took to the rigging and clung there while their strength lasted, but the enormous seas were more than they could battle against and one by one they were swept away and drowned. The three survivors who were on the rocks could see their comrades clinging to the rigging and heard their shouts for help above the roar of the sea, but it was impossible to do anything to save them.

The three survivors spent a terrible night on the lonely cliff and it was a relief to them when daylight dawned. They then saw one man still clinging to the rigging and made their way to the mainland for assistance. The shore folks hurried to the scene of the wreck and the man was taken from the rigging, but he was dead.

The three survivors were brought here and are being cared for by the United States consul. They say that the vessel is a total wreck. So far none of the bodies have been recovered, but the fishermen are searching along the coast in the vicinity of the wreck for them.

Frank Nickerson says: "The vessel left Gloucester two weeks ago and fished on the banks near Sable Island. We had taken about 11,000 pounds of fish, which we salted. When the bait ran out Captain Stoddart decided to go to Canso for stores and then to the Magdalen islands for bait. I think that the captain was heading for Chebbuoto bay, but was carried many miles to the westward by the strong current and far out of his course."

When the vessel first struck, Nickerson says, they did not know where they were, and they started to launch the dories, as there appeared to be no chance of saving her in the breakers, as the seas were making a clear break over her. The dories were broken as soon as they touched the water and then it was every man for himself.

After Nickerson and his two shipmates reached the rocks, the vessel wore off and thus the escape of the others was cut off.

YOUNG WOMAN MURDERED

Shot Down by Highwayman While Defending Her Father

Medford, Mass., May 7.—Miss Sturtevant, daughter of Treasurer James S. Sturtevant of the Medford Co-operative bank, was shot and killed at her home by an unknown man who attempted to rob her father as he was returning from a bank meeting last night just before midnight with a satchel filled with checks and money. The assassin then jumped upon his bicycle and escaped. An Italian who answered the description of the murderer was arrested two hours later in Boston on suspicion and is held for the Medford officers.

Mr. Sturtevant reached his home about 11:30 last night, having with him a satchel well filled with money and checks belonging to the bank of which he was treasurer. As he stepped upon the piazza of his house, his wife and daughter opened the door to greet him and a few words of greeting passed between them. At that moment a rough appearing stranger, evidently an Italian, appeared around the end of the piazza and, revolver in hand, ordered Sturtevant to throw up his hands.

The order was not immediately obeyed and Miss Sturtevant stepped in front of her father to shield him from harm, just as the intruder fired, the bullet entering her body with fatal result. The man then snatched the satchel from Sturtevant's grasp and, jumping upon a bicycle which he had conveniently near, rode off rapidly in the direction of Boston.

The alarm was quickly spread to nearby cities and towns and as good a description as possible of the murderer was sent. About 1 o'clock this morning officers of the Boston police force saw a man riding a bicycle on Commercial street who had apparently come from a long distance and who answered the description of the man wanted. They took him into custody on suspicion. The man stated that he lived on Commercial street and was on his way home, having made two calls, one on Causeway street and one on Canal street, in that city. The Medford authorities will send an officer for him.

Won't Overwork Inspectors

New York, May 7.—Immigration Commissioner Williams was compelled to refuse to allow thousands of new arrivals from Europe to leave their ships until his force of men can attend to them without working day and night. Of 9610 immigrants who arrived yesterday only 5550 were allowed to land. The steamship companies which brought in the surplus consequently will have to give the passengers three more meals than they expected to give.

Ill-Treated by Contractors

Kingston, Ja., May 7.—A number of Jamaican laborers who were taken to Ecuador by the American contractors engaged in the construction of the Guayaquil-Quito railroad are reported to be starving at Guayaquil. The governor of Jamaica has authorized the British minister to Ecuador to send the men back at the expense of the colony.

Firemen Smuggled Tobacco

New York, May 7.—Customs inspectors had completed a search of the Antwerp liner St. Andrew and were leaving the vessel last night when some firemen were noticed examining the deck. The inspectors found that a false deck had been built for cattle and beneath a loose board discovered 300 pounds of Sumatra wrapper tobacco.

Inspector Neglected Duty

New York, May 7.—Police Inspector Cross has been dismissed from the police department by Commissioner Greene for neglect of duty. At the trial one of the witnesses against Cross was former Sergeant Churchill, against whom Cross had been a witness at the trial which resulted in Churchill's dismissal.

Giving Satisfactory Service

Washington, May 7.—The four-year term of Rear Admiral Albert S. Kenney as chief of the bureau of supplies and accounts of the navy department has expired, but at the personal request of Secretary Moody he will continue to serve in that capacity until other arrangements can be made.

Bulgarians Got Worst of It

Salonica, May 7.—An engagement is reported to have occurred at Vanitza between Turkish troops and a Bulgarian band in which 60 Bulgarians were killed, while the Turks had four men killed and three wounded. Thirty houses in Vanitza were burned.

—We have lately been reading Booker T. Washington's autobiography. It was long since recognized as a wonderful story, but it grows even more wonderful in view of the remarkable tributes that have lately been paid to its subject as the foremost man of his race. It is more marvelous than fiction.—Boston Herald.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

DOES NOT WANT PERSIA

But England Will Keep Other Powers Away From Her

WILL GO TO EXTENT OF WAR

In Support of "Persian Gulf Doctrine," Acquired by a Century of Policing by British Warships—Threat Appears to Aim at Czar

London, May 7—Foreign Secretary Lansdowne has proclaimed a British Monroe Doctrine in the Persian Gulf, and has practically notified the competing powers that any attempt on their part to establish a naval base or fortified post in these waters means war with Great Britain.

Lord Lansdowne contends that so far as the navigation of the Persian gulf is concerned Great Britain held a position different from that of the other powers, both because it was owing to British enterprise and expenditure of life and money that the gulf was now open to commerce of the world, and because the protection of the sea route to India necessitated British predominance in the gulf.

Lord Lansdowne's attitude in this matter generally meets with approval, although the answers thereto of the other powers interested in the gulf are awaited with some anxiety.

The question of the control of the Persian gulf is one that has agitated England for some years. Russia touches England at two vital points—Constantinople and Teheran. It is not provinces Russia wants so much as outlets. She would like to come to the sea through Constantinople, or, failing this, through the Persian gulf, and all her diplomacy is shaped to this end.

There have been rumors, and it would seem rumors with some foundation, that Russia intended to acquire the port of Bunder Abbas, at the very entrance of the Persian gulf, and to connect it by railway with the system of strategic lines which links together the outlying provinces of the czar's empire. Firmly seated at Bunder Abbas, Russia would be in a position seriously to menace England's Indian empire.

Captain Mahan has pointed out the extreme danger to England of the appearance of the czar's flag at such a point. The British interests in the Persian gulf are very great. For a century those waters have been policed by British warships; they have been the highway of a traffic in which British shipping has had the vastly preponderant share.

Like Russia, England does not particularly want Persia, but she does not want any other power to control the country, particularly Russia. In control of Persia the Muscovite would be fastened on the flank of India. The British garrisons there would have to be doubled and the East Indian squadron augmented. The Suez canal, the route to the far east, would be menaced and the Levant and the Persian gulf would become the naval base of a possible enemy to Germany as well as to England. And if Russia were seated in Persia she would veto or control any railroad from the Mediterranean through the valley of the Mesopotamia to India.

Of course while England retains command of the sea, any development by Russia at the mouth of the Persian gulf would be another vulnerable point for her attack; but a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush; therefore England is likely to use her diplomacy, backed by newly acquired strength, to prevent any Persian outlet falling into the hands of Russia.

Burdick Was Ignorant of Law

Buffalo, May 7.—Mrs. Alice Burdick will get the custody of her three children, despite the provision Edwin L. Burdick made in his will directing that they should be under the guardianship of his executors. Mr. Burdick drew the will himself, and, not being a lawyer, he was not aware Mrs. Burdick had equal rights with him in the children, and he could not appoint guardians for them without her consent.

Republicans Do Not Concede Election

Baltimore, May 7.—Counsel has been engaged by the Republican leaders to contest the apparent election of Robert M. McLane (Dem.) as mayor of Baltimore, over Frank C. Wachter (Rep). The contest will be in the form of an injunction to restrain the election supervisors from issuing a certificate of election to McLane on the face of the returns.

Opposition to Canal Treaty

Colon, May 7.—The general opinion prevails that there will be strong opposition to the ratification of the Panama canal treaty in congress, which explains President Marroquin's hesitancy to call a special session. The treaty continues to cause much discussion throughout the country.

—Whatever the politicians may say, the people will not agree that the cleaning out of the postoffice rascals ought to be suspended because it may injure the administration. The administration cannot do better than probe the evils to the bottom.

ENDS IN SMOKE

No Further Action Toward Investigation of Bribery Charges

Boston, May 7.—An abrupt ending to the charges made by George J. Raymond against an unnamed member of the Massachusetts senate came when the senate committee on rules made its report to the senate at the regular session. The report disposes of the matter in a summary manner, severely condemns Raymond for his advertising methods and regrets the publication of the portraits of three senators, coupled with damaging allegations.

This report brings to an end what appeared likely to develop into a most sensational investigation. The charges have come to naught and now an effort will be made to repair the injustice which has been done.

An Unusual Proceeding

Boston, May 7.—An entire jury panel was discharged by Judge Schofield in the superior criminal court, following the report of a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of Charles F. Forbes, 23 years old, accused of robbery while armed—an offense involving a life sentence. The jury returned the verdict after being out a little more than an hour. The verdict was a great surprise to the prosecution. Forbes was charged with robbing A. E. Ives at Revere. It was alleged that he shot Ives and stole $300. The assailant wore a mask, but he was identified by Ives as the man who inflicted the injury that came near costing his life.

Assessments to Aid Strikers

Fall River, Mass., May 7.—More money is to be collected among union labor in this city for the striking textile operatives at Lowell. The Weavers' union has voted to levy an assessment of 5 cents a week on each member, the same to be given the Lowell strikers. This will net $150 a week. The Weavers' union at present is contributing $150 a week for the same purpose, which will make a total of $300 a week to be paid by the weavers.

A Vermont Murder Mystery

Grafton, Vt., May 7.—The autopsy performed on the body of Fred W. West, which was found floating yesterday in a small stream three miles north of Peru, disclosed the fact that West, who disappeared from his lonely home last September, had undoubtedly been murdered. The body of West's dog, which was his only company, was also found in the stream near that of his master, with his neck broken. The authorities have no clues on which to work.

Idle Operatives In Distress

Lowell, Mass., May 7.—Several cases of eviction for non-payment of rent are reported from the idle operatives here. The constables making these evictions state that the poverty of the idle is becoming pitiable and that the unions seem unable to furnish adquate aid for all cases. The union officials admit that they cannot undertake to pay benefits to eleventh-hour members of the organization.

Gift to Christian Scientists

Concord, N. H., May 7.—The gift of $100,000 for a new Christian Science church edifice, in addition to a previous gift of a site in the heart of this city, is announced by Mrs. Eddy, head of the Christian Science church. The Christian Science church here was organized in February, 1899, with 78 members. The church has met in a hall, and the congregation has increased rapidly and outgrown its quarters.

Death of Dr Smith's Widow

Newton, Mass., May 7.—Mrs. S. F. Smith, widow of Rev. Dr. Smith, author of "America," died last night from old age. She was born in Haverhill almost 90 years ago, and after marriage went to Waterville, Me., to live, when Rev. Mr. Smith was a professor in Colby college. After some years there Dr. and Mrs. Smith removed to Newton, which became their home. Dr. Smith died in 1895.

Heavy Packing Season Promised

Eastport, Me., May 7.—At all the big sardine plants here active preparations for the opening of the packing season are under way and next Monday morning for the first time in five months the factories will open. Weirmen and boatmen from down the bay where most of the fish are caught report prospects more favorable than for several years past.

To Tinker Constitution

Bristol, R. I., May 7.—The yacht Constitution arrived here last night and it is expected that during her stay here decided changes will be made in her rigging. She will have a new mast, two feet longer than the old one, and this will necessitate new standing rigging and probably changes in the cut of her mainsail.

Sawed Their Way to Liberty

Portsmouth, N. H., May 7.—Officers are here searching for George Robinson and Michael McNally, who escaped from the house of correction at the Strafford county farm Tuesday. How the men secured the tools with which they sawed their way out of the prison is a mystery.

Tracing Missing Postmaster

Madison, Me., May 7.—George A. Herrick, the missing postmaster of this village, has been traced to Montreal, where he bought a ticket for Seattle. This information is received from E. E. Ferguson of this village, who followed Herrick to Montreal.

A DIAMOND RING.

Presented to South Quincy Young Lady by Her Friends.

That Miss Delia DeLaurier of South Quincy has a host of friends was evident from the large number of ladies and gentlemen who gathered Wednesday evening in her honor at the residence of Peter Reed of 7 Intervale street.

The gathering was a complete surprise to Miss De Laurier, whose first intimation of the affair came a few minutes past 8 o'clock when she answered a knock at the door only to find 100 or more of her friends gathered about the entrance ready to assume possession of the house.

It required no second sight to make her aware of the nature of the gathering and if at first she was a little suspicious this soon cleared away when Mr. Louie McLaughlin, in a few words by way of introduction, presented her with a handsome diamond ring.

Miss De Laurier was completely overcome at the gift and could only murmur her grateful thanks. From this time on there was plenty doing to keep the party busy and all enjoyed themselves. In the parlor there was vocal and instrumental music, while an orchestra furnished music for dancing in the kitchen and dining room. Later in the evening a supper was served, after which the festivities were continued until a late hour.

Once Millionaire Dies Poor

New York, May 7.—Colonel Asa P. Stanford, 81 years old, a brother of the late Senator Leland Stanford of California, died last evening from nervous prostration and heart failure. At one time he was a millionaire, but, according to his second wife, who survives him, he died in almost absolute poverty. The widow was married to the colonel about eight years ago.

The Hague Protocol Held Up

Washington, May 7.—For the third time the signing of The Hague protocol, which was to have occurred last night, was postponed. The British ambassador is anxious that Mr. Bowen sign separate protocols with each of the three allies, and is still awaiting instructions on this point.

Brigands Sentenced to Death

Manila, May 7.—Colonel Sontos and Colonel Delaering, leaders of the recent insurrection in Rizal province, have been convicted of brigandage and conspiracy and have been sentenced to death. The date of their execution is not fixed, as the supreme court must review the case.

Light Sentence For Trepani

New York, May 7.—Joseph Trepani, the alleged head of a gang of Italians who defrauded insurance companies by bogus deaths, was sentenced by Justice Scott to not less than two years and not more than four years and eight months in state prison at hard labor.

He Pushed Smuggling Cases

San Juan, P. R., May 7.—John S. Hord, the former chief of internal revenue, has sailed for New York on the steamer Caracas. His resignation was forced because he prosecuted the smuggling cases without Treasurer Willoughby's orders.

Prince and Queen In Paris

Paris, May 7.—Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria and Queen Amelie of Portugal have arrived here, but neither visit has any political significance. The prince is here to consult a physician.

Holds to Word "Protestant"

Philadelphia, May 7.—The historic diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church in Pennsylvania, the diocese which originally adopted the present name of the denomination, placed itself on record by an overwhelming vote in convention as opposed to the proposition to change the name of the church to Catholic Episcopal.

A Sadly Afflicted Country

Washington, May 7.—The state department is advised from China that bubonic plague is increasing in Canton, Horan, Shuntak, Yeoung Kong and Yuengshau. The famine is increasing in Kwang Si and an American missionary reports that the body of a victim had been eaten.

Forest Fires Under Control

Albany, May 7.—Superintendent Fox of the state forests, who has been in charge of the fire fighters in the Adirondacks, reports that the fires are practically under control, although the danger will not be past until a heavy rain has drenched the forests.

No Exhibit From Austria

Vienna, May 7.—The foreign office here has officially notified the United States embassy that the Austrian government has definitely decided that it will not be represented at the St. Louis exposition.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Friday, May 8.
Sun rises—4:32; sets—6:50.
Moon sets—2:26 a. m.
High water—8:45 a. m.; 9:15 p. m.

The barometer has fallen in almost all parts of the country. The temperature is about normal in all parts of the country for the first time in several weeks. The weather will be fair in New England.

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.

FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.

At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.

Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.

FREE EXAMINATIONS.

Feb, 2. 1-1y- p-6mos.

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,

DENTIST.

67 Franklin Street, Pirel Block.

Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.

Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M. Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.

TELEPHONE 175-2.

Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,

DENTIST,

Opposite Post Office,

1355 Hancock St., Quincy.

OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.

Jan. 31. tf

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,

DENTIST.

21 Chestnut Street.

Telephone 126-5.

Quincy, Oct. 1. 1p-tf

JAMES F. BURKE,

REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,

MORTGAGES.

Justice of the Peace. Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building,

June 5. tf

FRANK F. CRANE.

REAL ESTATE,

AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER.

Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass

Aug. 17.

C. H. PRESCOTT,

EXPERIENCED

Piano Tuner and Repairer.

Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

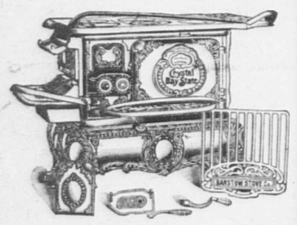

Piano Tuner.

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.

Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.

Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov, 3-tf

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.

Come and See It.

BARSTOW STOVE CO.,

55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.

GUY'S COLISEUM,

W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 17. 4w

TRUE'S

Pin Worm

ELIXIR

The only sure, safe, entirely vegetable remedy for worms in children or adults. 50c at your druggists. DR. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me.

$3 Worth of Nursery Stock for $1.

IN Order to establish our trade with you, we will send you twelve McKinley Strawberries, six Columbian Raspberries, one Campbell Early Grape Vine four apple and four peach trees, standard varieties, all for one dollar. Do not fail to write for our wholesale catalogue. ROCHESTER & BRIGHTON NURSERIES, Rochester, N. Y. Feb. 25-10w

SPILLER'S GOLDEN COUGH BALSAM

THE KIND THAT CURES

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Inflammation of the Lungs, Lagrippe and Whooping Cough. It soothes the Cough of Consumption, and is excellent for all Lung Troubles. Try it. For sale by Weeks & Hill, Quincy, Mass. Price 25 cents.

If goods fail to give satisfaction, money refunded.

King Arthur Flour.

Sold in Quincy by

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	46	53	53	60	55
Monday,	58	67	55	60	58
Tuesday,	64	66	71	50	58
Wednesday,	54	84	60	58	59
Thursday,	64	86	65	72	55
Friday,	—	58	63	66	55
Saturday,	—	47	68	68	68

New Advertisements Today.

Wanted—Boy.
To Let—Sunny Chambers.
Eric G. Bergfors—Carpenter and Builder.
F. D. Fellows & Co.—Clothing.
Quincy Real Estate Trust—Building to let.
Charles C. Hearn—Elixir Bark and Iron.
State House Notice.
Wanted—Work, housecleaning.
Frederick H. Lord—Teacher of Piano.
Wanted—Girl for housework.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ It is now reported that a Jersey City goat ate a mackintosh the other day that had $4950 in one pocket. The story started on its journey several days ago. The sum originally mentioned was $4.95 which shows the wonderful capacity of capital to increase in the United States.—Lawrence American.

☞ A scientist once put an automatic music-box on the lawn and spent many hours watching the robins, blue tits and other birds gathering about it. A looking-glass put up where the birds can see themselves in it is also very attractive, while a combination of a musical box and a looking-glass pleases the birds more than anything else one could put out for their amusement.—Boston Budget.

☞ The members of the legislature who are considering automobile law should make thorough notes of the case in North Weymouth, where a red devil driver, coming along from behind, wrecked a carriage carrying a man, two women and children. He did not stop a moment to learn what damage was done, but rushed on toward Quincy at 30-miles an hour. Even the decent automobilists who dislike the idea of putting labels on their machines admit that such thugs as this fellow make a rigidly drawn law imperative, if the public generally is to have a fair show for life or limb.—Boston Record.

☞ By the numerous changes which have been made in city charters during the past few years it appears that the single chamber is growing in popularity in this state. As a contemporary notes, since 1888, when Quincy obtained the first Massachusetts charter providing for government by a single body, nearly all the revisions made in city charters have aimed at the elimination of the supernumerary body. The following Massachusetts cities are now organized with a single chamber system: North Adams, Northampton, Holyoke, Chicopee, Quincy, Fall River, Chelsea, Lawrence, Haverhill, Gloucester, Somerville, Newton, Woburn, Melrose. Of the thirty-three incorporated cities of the state, therefore, nearly half have adopted a single body. The strange thing, however, is that a greater proportion have not. Some of the smaller cities of the state are maintaining a board of aldermen and common council side by side just as the larger cities, apparently without perceiving the great advantage that would come from a change to the more rational and less complicated method. —Brookline Chronicle.

Rebekah Assembly.

The Rebekah Assembly of Massachusetts, I. O. O. F., held its annual conference in Boston on Wednesday, and attended by Grand Master Buchell and other I. O. O. F. officials. These officers were elected: President, Julia A. Burroughs of Charlestown; vice-president, Mary A. Stebbins of Fitchbury: warden, Harriet E. Moody of Lynn; secretary, Sarah A. Barry of Charlestown.; treasurer, Mrs. Florence Hurn of Gardner.

—The selectmen of Randolph have granted a sixth class license to Porter's pharmacy.

MAY FESTIVAL.

Quincy Point Ladies Give Entertainment and Sale.

The annual May festival of the Washington street Congregational church was held Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Association in the vestry of the church.

The program for the entertainment consisted of selections by the orchestra; solo by D. J. S. McCurdy; violin solo by Frank Sautter; readings by E. P. Barrows; clarinet solo by F. H. Brooks; solo by Frank H. Newcomb with chorus by a quartette and selections by the Glee club.

The several tables were presided over as follows:

Candy,—Mrs. H. D. Adams, Miss Ethel Lapham, Mrs. George P. Eaton.

Housekeepers,—Mrs. Thomas B. Pollard, Mrs. P. H. Holman.

Flowers,—Mrs. R. A. Grant, Mrs. F. W. Eaves, Mrs. L. H. Turner, Miss Margaret Thomas.

Ice cream and punch,—Mrs. G. E. Bailey, Miss Clara F. Duffield.

Fancy,—Mrs. C. W. Newcomb, Miss Kate Starbuck, Mrs. M. E. Wight, Mrs. E. R. Stone.

Apron,—Mrs. Charles Damon, Mrs. S. P. Hayden.

Cake,—Mrs. T. B. Thomas, Mrs. William Chubbuck.

Noted Stage Mechanic.

William P. Prescott, for 38 years chief stage mechanic at the Boston theatre, died in Boston on Wednesday, aged 74 years. Mr. Prescott was thoroughly identified with the history of the Boston Theatre, with all its big melodramatic and scenic productions, and he was looked upon as being in his day one of the best stage mechanics in the country. Before going to the Boston he was connected with the Old National, the Federal Street and the Old Howard in its stock company days. One of his first successes in the handling of scenic machinery was in the presentation of the "Black Crook." Later he accomplished striking results with "The Exiles," "Michael Strogoff," Hanlon's "Superba" and with a host of other large productions. The wreck scene in "The World," a very celebrated old-time melodrama, owed much of the furor over its scenic effects to the inventive genius of Mr. Prescott. In "The Two Mothers," another famous drama of the previous generation, he personally contrived no small part of the more startling stage effects.

Wollaston Alliance.

The closing meeting of the Ladies' Alliance was held in the vestry of the Wollaston Unitarian church, Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. In the absence of Mrs. Bennett the president, Mrs. Smith, the vice president, presided. The annual report of the secretary, Mrs. Edmund Taylor was read, also of the treasurer, Mrs. Mary Brown.

The officers elected for 1903-4 are: President, Mrs. George Bennett; First Vice President, Mrs. Chandler W. Smith; Second Vice President, Mrs. Frank Pratt; Third Vice President, Mrs. Eugene H. Sprague; Secretary, Mrs. Frank E. Parlin; Treasurer, Mrs. Mary Brown.

The only changes from that of last year was the resignation of Mrs. Taylor as secretary and Mrs. Howard Barnes as third vice president. The meeting adjourned at an early hour, seventeen being present.

Pier Work at Shipyard.

The hull of the cruiser Des Moines, which since the launch last year has been tied up to the crane-pier in the fitting-out basin at the Fore River shipyard, has been dropped astern her full length, to permit the work on the pier to be carried on with greater dispatch. This work consists of filling the space between the concrete piers on which are the foot rails of the gantry crane, and when completed will give the necessary surface for railway tracks. When the tracks shall have been completed, it will be possible to move the armor plates for the battleships and other heavy weights on cars to the pier where the crane will set when on the vessels.

Grammar School League.

At the Ward Three playgrounds on Wednesday the Adams school nine defeated the John Hancocks 8 to 5.

The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6
Adams,	0	3	0	4	0	1	—8
Hancock,	4	0	0	0	1	0	—5

The scorer of the winning teams in the league will please forward to the Ledger on the day of the game the score by innings.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

The Merrymounts will play the Wason Produce team of Boston Saturday afternoon at Merrymount Park, lower field.

MANY BIG ESTATES.

Wills of Mr. Day and Mrs. Harlow Allowed—Other Accounts.

Administrations were granted on several large Quincy estates at the Norfolk county session of probate court held at Dedham on Wednesday, and accounts were allowed on other large estates. The business in full:

WILLS ALLOWED.

John J. Day of Quincy, James F. Sweeney of Boston executor; bond $200,000.

Bessie Louise (Pratt) Harlow of Quincy, James F. Harlow executor; bond $30,000.

Michael Vaughn of Stoughton, Ellen Vaughn executrix; bond $8000.

Louise M. Curtis of Sharon, Elmer R. Curtis of Pawtucket, R. I., and Charles S. Curtis of Sharon executors; bond $8000.

Annie H. Berry of Brookline, James S. English of Boston executor; bond $40,000.

John W. Shapleigh of Brookline, Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Company executor; bond $75,000.

Mary B. A. Dunn of Medfield, Henry J. Dunn executor; bond $3000.

Mary C. Sanford of Milton, Harriette L. Reed of Boston executrix; bond $5000.

George R. Chase of Medfield, Susan M. Chase executrix, bond $1000.

ADMINISTRATIONS GRANTED.

On estate of Lucy E. Miles of Quincy, Warren B. Miles administrator; bond $6,000.

Of Benjamin W. Colburn of Westwood, Howard Colburn administrator.

Of Ellen Cutler of Medway, Ellen G. Bartlett administratrix.

Of Henry E. Craig of Walpole, Sarah W. Craig administratrix.

Of Clark B Stearns of Medway, Herbert A. Stearns administrator.

Of Mary Ann Stearns of Medway, Herbert A. Stearns administrator.

Of Charles H. Hodges of McDermit, Nev., Hiram K. Pervear of Boston administrator.

Of Charles E. Seavey of Canton, Adelia T. Seavey administratrix.

Of Martha J. Lakin of Cohasset, F. Winifred Lakin administratrix.

Of Carrie C. Signall of Foxboro, Ezra C. Comey administrator.

Of Charles W. Romney of Brookline, Emily H. Romney administratrix; bond $30,000.

Of Margaretha Hoefling of Hyde Park, Clara Kunkel administratrix.

Of Elizabeth Burke of Hyde Park, Elizabeth K. Jenney administratrix.

Of Thomas Powderly of Randolph, Edward A. Powderly administrator.

Of Hattie L. Bates of Weymouth, Rufus Bates administrator.

Of John E. Cushing of Weymouth, Lizzie E. Cushing administratrix; bond $15,000.

ACCOUNTS ALLOWED.

Tenth on estate of Joseph W. Robertson late of Quincy for $75,448.97, and eleventh for $52,614.88.

On estate of Jeremiah Nightingale late of Quincy for $84,020.76.

On estate of Abner J. Tower of Brookline, for $1,331,371.68; On estate of Catherine S. Baker late of Cohasset, for $6247.13; On estate of Lewis N. Harmon, late of Needham, for $9 54; On estate of Shepard Godfrey, late of Foxboro, for $631; On estate of Sarah E. Smith, late of Dover, for $1810; On estate of Sarah E. Sawin, late of Dover, for $3242 73; On estate of Evelina Upham, late of Canton, for $9318.33; On estate of William H. Honywill late of Canton, for $558.89; On estate of Willard Hodges, late of Medway, for several thousand; On estate of Rebecca B. Slafter, late of Dedham, for $15,713.

Several guardianships and trusteeships outside of Quincy were granted.

Fallon Opposed Amendment.

Representative Fallon spoke in the House on Wednesday in opposition to the amendment of Mr. Quirk to the general metropolitan parkway and boulevard bill providing that the appropriation should be spent only in completing work already begun. Mr. Quirk said the district has already spent all it can afford to for parks, and the industries of Massachusetts are leaving because they are overtaxed. The whole matter, he charged, has always been simply a real estate scheme, and if the Legislature keeps on increasing the debt of the state, it means the election of Col. Gaston as governor. Millions of of dollars of manufacturing capital have left Boston and gone West in the past few years, because high taxes made high rents.

The amendment was rejected and the bill engrossed.

Contract for Forgings.

A contract has just been given by the American and British Manufacturing Company of Bridgeport, Conn., to the Fore River Ship and Engine Company for nickel steel forgings for 32 three-inch field pieces to be delivered at the rate of four a month after the first delivery.

Mandatory in Cities.

Senator Nye has offered an amendment to the Luce joint caucus bill which makes the act permissive in towns but mandatory in cities. It comes up again in the Legislature today.

FREDERICK H. LORD,

TEACHER OF BANJO,

Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.

TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.

118 Washington Street.

Quincy, May 7. tf

ERIC G. BERGFORS,

Carpenter and Builder.

Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice.

Jobbing promptly attended to.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

10 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass.

May 7. 1m

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Warmer.

Camp Boyd dance tonight.

Frederick H. Lord advertises to tune harps and zithers.

"Old Home Week" stamps may now be obtained for $1.50 per 1,000.

James F. Harlow, who was reported as ill, is able to be out today.

The pleasant weather today has brought out the open electric cars again.

Both the park and boulevard bills were passed to be engossed in the House on Wednesday.

George H. Field has sold the house at 193 Arlington street, Wollaston, to Myra A. Winegar.

Mr. W. R. Gay of Webster street has returned from an extended business trip in Pennsylvania.

Senator Brackett voted against an investigation on the charges of Senator Raymond, as the affair occurred in 1902.

A largely attended and enjoyable sociable was held by the King's Daughters in Bethany chapel Wednesday evening.

The handsome silver cups offered by the Granite City club for the two best season scores have been awarded W. W. Mitchell and Henry F. Tilden.

Mr. Albert S. Hazen who died at his residence at No. 465 Newport avenue, Wollaston, on Tuesday, was for many years engaged as a druggist in Boston.

Mrs. Lucy W., widow of Mr. Edward Chase, and mother of Rev. Edward A. Chase of the Wollaston Congregational church, died at her home at 20 Marian street this morning. She was 76 years of age.

Representative Fallon voted against the gypsy moth appropriation, and Representative Freeman was paired against it, but the bill was ordered to a third reading on Wednesday by a vote of 98 to 63.

The hearing before Judge Avery in the case of Bigelow F. Nay against Charles M. Bryant, which was set down for today, did not materalize as the parties had come together and settled their differences.

Johnson & Anderson have leased the quarry and works of Franklin Hardwick & Son on Quarry street. They have installed a new boiler and machinery and W. R. Lofgren is rushing the construction of a new engine house.

All the young men connected with the Daily Ledger office are sporting canes decorated with the colors of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. The canes are of coffee wood and very light in weight, and were carved by Indians of Mexico.

Miss Ethel P. Parker of Belmont street, Wollaston, was one of the lucky twenty who received a five dollar gold piece from the Castle Square theatre manager for estimating on the attendance at that theatre for the month of April.

The 13th annual festival of the Choir guild, which is composed of most of the vested choirs of Episcopal churches in the diocese of eastern Massachusetts, served to crowd Trinity church, Boston, to its capacity Wednesday evening.

Miss Margaret F. McDonnell and Miss Catherine Coughlin of this city returned last evening after a most delightful trip of twelve weeks to California. They visited Pikes Peak and many other delightful places between the Atlantic and Pacific during their absence.

Hood's Pills

Do not gripe nor irritate the alimentary canal. They act gently yet promptly, cleanse effectually and

Give Comfort

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, May 4, 1903.

THE Committee on Liquor Law will give a hearing to parties interested in the petition of Henry Barker and others (with accompanying bill, House, No. 1283) for an amendment of the law relative to the sale of cider and native wines, at room No. 240. State House. on TUESDAY, May 12, at 10 30 o'clock A. M.

PERLIE A. DYER, Chairman.
THOMAS L. DAVIS.
May 7-2t Clerk of the Committee.

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Chapter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D.,
April 15. Inspector of Milk. 30t

Don't try cheap cough medicines. Get the best, pay the price. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. 60 years of cures. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass

Are You Looking for a Home?

Would You Like to Make Some Money?

Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at

BIGELOW PARK.

The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.

SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.

May 2. tf

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.

60 cts per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN.

PHARMACIST.

1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON

Quincy, April 23. tf

Spring and Summer Shoes.

The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1 00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1 25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1 50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c, 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.

The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.

GEORGE W. JONES,

Adams Building, - QUINCY.

FLOWERS

AT VERY LOWEST PRICES.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works, Quincy Point.

FUNERAL DESIGNS A SPECIALTY.

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy.

edicines. Get Ayer's Cherry
res. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass me?

Some Money?
Beautiful Lots at PARK. essible Tract of Land
rict.
errill Block, r Building, QUINCY.
tf

that your night's ic.
ND IRON.
ottle.
HEARN.
T.
t, Quincy.
E MINES.
F Stove.
Egg.
Stove.
Egg. g. ut.
& SON
tf er Shoes.
n will be very much in Oxford Ties in the latest her.
00 to $3.50.
25 to $3.50.
$1.00, $1.25.
1 50, $2.00.
$1.25, $1.75.
90c., $1.00.
aders.
or Men.
Women.
JONES,
UINCY.
ERS
CES.
HOUSES.
re River Works,
PECIALTY.
EEN, Proprietor.

READ AND LEARN.

By reading you keep in touch with the times. By keeping in touch with the times you are ready to pick up a good thing when it comes your way. When it comes to Clothing, Hats and Furnishings, this store is the place to pick up a good thing, and at the same time keep part of your money too. We keep nothing but

RELIABLE DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE,

And will sell you at a Lower Price than you can buy the same quality for in Boston.

MEN'S SUITS, $5.89, $7.50, $8.50, $10, $12, $15, $18.

Ask for our "Special" $1.89 soft and stiff Hat.

These Hats are made to our order and are equal to any $2.50 Hat—Sold outside our Store. Call and See us.

WE GIVE GREEN TRADING STAMPS.

F. D. FELLOWS CO.,

RELIABLE ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS, HATTERS AND FURNISHERS.

Adams Building, City Square, Quincy, Mass.

Store open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings. April 2--l-th., fri., sat.-po tf

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction. . . . . PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,

3 High Street, Cor. Summer, BOSTON, MASS

Three minutes from South Station.

King Arthur Flour

MAKES THE

BEST BREAD.

SOLD BY

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

Madison Square, PHILA., PA.

WATCH US GROW. WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER YOU WILL FIND

The Co-OPERATIVE DINING ROOMS,

3 Granite Street, Quincy, where your wants will be satisfied

TABLE BOARD:

21 Meal Tickets, $3.50

ROOMS:

$1.25 Per Week and Upwards.

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21--2m

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

THIS WEEK

COATS.

17

SILK LINED COVERT

Corset Coats

Made to sell for $10.00.

Saturday only, $5.98

Also a full line of Misses' and Children's Coats at very low prices.

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

"OUR BROTHERS IN BLACK."

"An Address From the South to the North."

The negro problem, so conspicuous in both the north and south at present, has inspired a strong poem, "Our Brothers In Black; an Address From the South to the North," by Clarence Ousley, editor of the Houston Post. This poem, which, in the opinion of many southerners, expresses the south's true attitude toward the negro, is in part as follows:

We forged, too, a bond of affection
More firm than the title you gave,
The weal of the served and the serving,
The love of the master and slave.
We suckled the breasts of their mammies;
They fed from the fat of our store,
And, called to the far field of conflict,
We left them on guard at our door.

We bowed to the God of the battle—
We own he was wiser than we—
And patiently took up the burden
Of teaching the bond to be free.
For wronging, if wrong was committed,
The rod had been laid to our back,
Yet, stricken, we know it was ours
To guardian our brothers in black.

* * * * * * *

Instead you made wreckage of statehood;
You loosed us the terrors of race,
And only our God and our virgins
Know what we were called on to face.
At last, by the right of the Saxon,
By strength that was bred in the bone,
By law that is higher than statute,
We came in the end to our own.

Again we gave cheerful compliance;
We took up the burden with care;
We give them the blessings of learning:
We pay—they receive—share for share.
And full opportunity opens
To black man and white man the same
To follow the bent of his genius
To fortune and culture and fame.

By parallel lines they are treading
The highways all peoples have trod,
But socially there is a chasm
Dug deep in the wisdom of God.
To span it were death to both races;
But, drunk on your meddlesome brew,
They reel to the doom of the foolish
Or madden on wormwood and rue.

We know them; they know us. Between us
Is knowledge you never can know.
We know, for the centuries taught us;
They know, for they learned it in woe.
So, hands off! The burden is ours,
And, faithfully plodding along,
We'll move through the night to the morning
And answer to God for the wrong.

Automobile For Ice.

J. B. MacDuff of Brooklyn claims to have invented an ice automobile, which he calls pneumoslito, and he says it can be used in the arctic regions. It is twelve feet in length and four feet in width and has a two and three-quarter horse power gasoline engine and a propeller that is four feet in diameter, says the New York Times. The blades of the propeller are surrounded by a twelve inch band of steel. The four blades are about sixteen inches in width and are set diagonally. The inventor claims that the propeller will drive the boat at the rate of twenty miles an hour. He says that with such a boat it will be possible to make long trips through northern countries.

The Dog of Fashion.

The fashionable dog of the moment, says Country Life, seems to be the Aberdeen terrier, combining many excellent qualities, such as a gameness of disposition, with an affection for his owner, and a nice size and intelligence as a companion.

$10 REWARD.

I will pay $10 for the arrest and conviction of the parties who destroyed the tulip bed at 107 Elm street last Friday night.

ALEXANDER THOMPSON.

Quincy, May 5. 3t

Stitchers Wanted.

EXPERIENCED on Ladies' Wrappers. Wheeler & Wilson power machines of the latest improved style. Steady work the year round, and good pay. Also, help wanted to take work home. Apply to MRS. A. L. WILBUR, Tirrell Building, 1467 Hancock street, over Old Colony Laundry, Quincy.

May 2. 1po-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET.

HOUSE of 8 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Just completed. Apply to ASA O. A. SEWELL, 12 Charles street, Quincy Point. Reliable Houses built to order at lowest prices and sold on easy terms.

April 7. 1m

ATTRACTIVE SALE

Held by Young Ladies of Quincy Mansion School.

The "Canterbury," where the pupils of the Quincy Mansion School held their sale on Tuesday afternoon and evening, presented a very attractive appearance.

In Livermore hall was arranged the booths of art and fancy articles. The former was tastefully festooned with green and white bunting and was presided over by the Misses Dearborn, Peterson, Clem and Howard while the table of fancy article was made effective with its patriotic drapings of red, white and blue, and was in charge of the Misses Dewey, Seligman Acheson, Shearn and Sheldon. Miss Miller and Miss Curtis had charge of of the Palmist corner.

The lower hall with its array of Chinese lanterns suspended from the ceiling presented a festive appearance. Everything to tempt the palate was for sale. Coffee was served by Miss Wood with Miss Monroe at the cake table.

From a well filled well was dispensed lemonade by Miss MacKensie and Miss Sargent. Misses Cobb, Dunlap and Lawton had the candy table in charge. The domestic table was in charge of Misses Snell, Goddard and Corinne Barbour.

Artistic and dainty was the Japanese tea room enhanced by the lovely costumes of the following young ladies, Miss Batcheler, Balmore, Greene and Miss L. Laconey.

The telegraph office where Mademoiselle Roux, Miss Night, and Miss Maltby operated sent its messages through the medium of Misses Hatch, Laconey and Eppler.

A most attractive feature was the old-fashioned room, with its spinning wheel, fire-place and all other appointments belonging to an old-time kitchen. Here the guests could be served to an old-fashioned supper of bake beans and brown bread. Miss Wooten presided with Miss Marceau and Miss Cummings.

Miss Shaw and Miss Smith were cashiers and Master Theodore Marceau was in the capacity of aid.

TODAY'S COURT.

Alphonse Salisbury was arraigned for drunkenness at Weymouth. Case continued unti May 18.

Willbur W. Tirrell was fined $10 for drunkenness at Weymouth.

Peter J. Donahue, Barney Mullarky, William H. Callahan and John H. Hussey were arraigned for larceny of reality at Quincy. Cases continued until May 20.

William H. Callahan was arraigned for trespass at Quincy. Case continued until May 20.

Barney Mullarky and John H. Hussey were arraigned for assault on Patrick Fanning at Quincy. They were found not guilty and discharged.

Macdonough Test.

The endurance trial of the torpedo boat destroyer Macdonough will not take place until some day next week The trial board was unable to make arrangements for the test today as requested by the Fore River Co.

The American Shoe on the Alps.

American aggressiveness and industry have penetrated into the Alps of Switzerland, and the Swiss people are climbing their own mountains in American made shoes, says Leslie's Weekly. And this notwithstanding the fact that in Switzerland is one of the largest shoe factories in the world, a factory which turns out 5,000 pairs of shoes a day and is an important exporter to the Latin-American countries. In 1901 the value of American shoes sold to the rugged Swiss was more than $28,000. Five years ago it was not possible to buy in that country a shoe made in the United States.

Amulets Trusted by Autoists.

British automobile drivers have adopted one of the oldest superstitions of folklore in connection with their very modern craft, says a London cable dispatch to the Chicago Inter Ocean. The automobilists insure good luck by suspending from their ears a perforated stone, which is supposed to act as a protective amulet. For the stone to be an effective protection it is essential that the perforation should be formed naturally and not bored artificially, and the stone must be found without being looked for.

☞Judge Emmons the new chairman of the Police Board, took occasion recently to remark that he knows something about the newspaper business himself. As a lad, he sold papers on the street, later he rose to the dignity of office-boy and he crowned his journalistic career by learning to set type and also securing a good idea of what goes to make up a good modern newspaper. He declared that he could go to the case today and set up a stick of copy as well as the next man.

—A newspaper man, while on the witness stand in Jefferson City, Mo., the other day, confessed that he had two $5,000 bills in his pocket. Very few newspaper men carry the whole of a week's salary with them 24 hours.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE OLD RELIABLE

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

LARCENY OF REALTY

Charged Against Four Men Who Moved a Building.

West Quincy furnished considerable business for the district court this morning, the cases coming out of the moving of a building owned by Mrs. Hussey from property leased by Patrick Fanning.

The affair happened a week ago but it was not until this morning that the cases came into court.

The several cases were as follows: Barney Mullarky and John H. Hussey were arraigned for assault on Patrick Fanning. They were found not guilty and discharged.

The other cases charged Peter J. Donaher, Barney Mullarky, William H. Callahan and John H. Hussey with larceny of reality, and William H. Callahan for trespass. All of these cases were continued until May 20.

Lyman R. Prescott.

News was received this morning of the death of Lyman R. Prescott at Emigrant Gap, Cal., a brother of George W. Prescott of this city. He was twenty years of age on his trip to the gold mines on the Pacific coast. His brother William Gardner, went during the gold excitement in 1849, and was five months on his voyage around Cape Horn; and on arriving at San Francisco, he wrote home that he had had a short trip, as others who went about the same time, were six to seven months on the voyage. There were no railroads to the Pacific in those days, and his brother went in 1852 by way of the isthmus, in less than thirty days.

Lyman R. Prescott was born in October, 1832, and was seventy years old last October. He never returned to his native home, but always remained in the mining region, near Nevada City. His brother George went twice to see him, but could not induce him to return to his old home as he considered the climate in California much superior to that of New England.

Representatives of 1871-72.

Ex-Representative Henry H. Faxon was among those who attended the reunion of the members of the House of 1871 and 1872 at the United States Hotel on Wednesday, and was one of the speakers.

As to the Legislatures, Mr. Faxon said: "I believe the Legislatures have been growing worse and worse every year since we left. My secretary tells me that the one this year is the worst one we ever had."

Ex-Mayor Peter M. Neal of Lynn, blessed with 94 years, and H. S. Washburn of Boston, 89 years of age, were the oldest two members present. James S. Allen of Brockton, dean of the present House, was also there.

Piano Recital.

A large audience greeted the eminent artist, Carl Faelton, who gave his piano recital at Livermore hall, Quincy Mansion school Wednesday evening. The program was made up of selections from Beethoven, Raff, Chopin and Liszt and were rendered with a perfection of technique and a brilliancy and delicacy of expression such as only a master of the piano like Mr. Faelton is capable of demonstrating. His auditors were very enthusiastic, recalling him again and again at the ending of the different groups of pieces. Mr. Faelton is said to have no equal in this country in his interpretation of Beethoven. At the close of the recital a huge bouquet of Jack roses was presented to the artist.

MARRIED.

HOWLAND—WHITMARSH—In East Braintree, May 5, Mr. Edgar W. Howland of Rockland to Miss Grace T. Whitmarsh of of East Braintree.

DIED.

CHASE—In Wollaston, May 7, Mrs. Lucy W., window of Mr. Edward Chase of 20 Marion street, aged 76 years.

DONAHUE—In Milton, May 7, Michael Donohue, aged 76 years.

PRESCOTT—In Emigrant Gap, Cal., May 6, Mr. Lyman Reed Prescott, aged 70 years and 7 months.

BELCHER—In Holbrook, May 6, Mrs. Louisa, widow of Edward Belcher, aged 87 years.

QUARRY ACCIDENT.

Employe of Galvin Bros. Falls Headlong Into Quarry.

John F. Murling, a quarryman employed at Galvin Bros. quarry, met with a serious if not fatal accident at that quarry this noon. He was at work at the top of the quarry guiding a bucket with a tie rope. In some manner his feet became entangled in the rope and he pitched head first into the quarry, landing seventy-five feet below on the rocks.

He received injuries from which it is doubtful if he recovers. His left leg was broken, his neck and body cut and bruised, and a hole cut in his forehead. He bled profusely at the mouth and nose and it is thought he must have burst a blood vessel. The police ambulance was call and he was removed to the City Hospital. The unfortunate man has a wife.

THE RATHGEBER TRIPLETS.

Proud Father Hears the News While Borrowing Baby Clothes.

The residents of East New York, in Brooklyn, are confident that if President Roosevelt would just come around and take a peep in at the family of William Rathgeber, who lives in Drew avenue, near Atlantic, he would take a more hopeful view of the race suicide matter, says the New York Times. There is no race suicide going on in the Rathgeber household. Until a few days ago there were nine little Rathgebers. Now there are twelve, the newest three having arrived together.

Mr. Rathgeber was comfortably seated in the dining room reading his newspaper the other morning when the nurse opened the door and stuck her head in.

"It's a boy," she announced.

"Hooray!" exclaimed Mr. Rathgeber, throwing down his paper and rushing out to be congratulated by the neighbors. He was making a house to house hand shaking tour when one of his young sons overtook him.

"Hey, pop," he said breathlessly, "there's another one of 'em!"

"Another what?" asked Mr. Rathgeber.

"She said it was a girl this time."

"Wow!" yelled Mr. Rathgeber, making a bee line for home.

As clothing for only one baby had been provided the second arrival caused some embarrassment and confusion. Mr. Rathgeber was sent out hot foot to borrow baby apparel from the neighbors. He was rushing from house to house when another of his many sons ran up to him.

"They says for you to get clothes enough for another one while you're at it," announced the youngster.

"What! For another one?" gasped Mr. Rathgeber.

"Yep; there's three of 'em now," returned the boy.

Mr. Rathgeber started back over the route and gathered together enough clothing for half a dozen babies. At the rate they were coming he felt that there might be that many there when he got back to the house. But the third baby, a boy, was the last. The father rushed off for his pastor and had him at once christen the new arrivals. They were named respectively Peter, Mary and Charles. Then he had the three photographed together and finally was for hoisting the flag on the roof and setting off a bunch or two of firecrackers, but was prevailed upon to forego this demonstration of fatherly pride.

Mr. Rathgeber has mailed the following letter to the chief executive at Washington to await his home coming from the west:

Dear Mr. President—I have always been a great admirer of yours, as I think all good German-Americans are, regardless of politics, because of your healthy, honest manliness. We who have to work with our hands cannot bear a snob or one who toadies to any man or power.

It is part of this character of yours to advocate the responsibilities of family care for husbands and wives, and by laying down the law in the way you have you have increased our respect for you, which was already great. This is especially true as we see that you practice what you preach.

I know you will be glad to hear that I, a poor wheelwright, who have already had the joy of nine children, now with my dear wife welcome three more, Peter, Charles and Mary, at one time, into the world. We have none of the fancy things of life, but we have the necessary comforts, and among these our little ones are far from the least, according to our way of thinking.

I have often enjoyed the pictures of your happy looking family in the papers, and I send you mine, from a loyal American, hoping you will enjoy seeing our latest arrivals. Very respectfully yours, sir, WILLIAM RATHGEBER.

A RAILWAY'S HOODOO.

Gray White Owl's Cries Believed to Foretell Disaster.

A gray and white owl which lurks in trees in the early mornings and hoots in the twilight as trains of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad go whizzing by New Haven, Conn., has come to be regarded as a hoodoo by the trainmen, says the Philadelphia Press.

Death and catastrophe have marked the system for weeks. Hardly a day has passed but a wreck has occurred or a trainman has gone to his death. In nearly every instance engineers and firemen say the hoodoo owl appeared by night or day a few hours before.

So strong has grown the superstition concerning the hoodoo bird that attempts have been made to kill it, but though stray shots have been fired from trains in the suburbs no one has reported having hit the owl.

—Louis M. Clark has been nominated by Gov. Bates for special justice of the Dorchester district court.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - 50 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

WANTED.

HELP WANTED—Male—Examinations for Post Office employes in Quincy will be held soon. Barely time to prepare for it. For full particulars address today. NATIONAL CORRESPONDENCE INSTITUTE, 221 Second National Bank Building, Washington, D. C. May 6-3t -6 7-9

WANTED—A Boy to make himself generally useful. Apply at once at No. 3 Granite street.
Quincy, May 7. 3t

WANTED—Work, housecleaning. Will go by day or week. Apply at 5 Wibird street, Quincy.
May 7. 3t

WANTED—An Experienced Girl for housework. Apply to MRS. LEWIS N. CURTIS, No. 15 Orchard Place, off Spear street. Quincy, May 7-tf

WANTED—Money on first mortgages. Address Box 180 Quincy Post Office.
April 16. eod tf

MEN, not under 25 years, to call on old and new customers. No delivering. Position permanent to the right party. Pay weekly. GLEN BROTHERS, Rochester, N. Y.
April 23. 6w--thurs. sat. tues.

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

WANTED—A pleasant furnished room near centre of city. Address G, Ledger office.
Quincy, May 5. 3t

WANTED—Competent Granite Letterer at once. Good pay for a good man. W. F. COOK, Springfield, Mass. 4-6t

WORKING HOUSEKEEPER WANTED.

Middle-aged. Good position. Address MRS. E. E. JAMESON, 58 Beach street, Wollaston
May 5.—3t p 9-1w

WANTED.

WANTED—Young Men to prepare for Government Positions. Fine Openings in all Departments. Good Salaries. Rapid Promotions. Examinations soon. Particulars Free. Inter-State Cor. Inst., Cedar Rapids, Ia.
April 27. lp-1m

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.—Yawl BRANT, 28.6 o. a., 9.0 beam, 3-0 draught, with centre board up; built by Leloise in 1898. This boat is well known along the coast as a safe and handy cruiser, is easily handled, and is in perfect condition, well found in everything needed for comfort and safety. Now at her moorings off the Wollaston Yacht Club house and ready for sea. J. A. FENNO, 588 Hancock street.
Wollaston, May 4. tf

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once Address E., Ledger office.
April 28. tf

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve [12] rooms with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street.
Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

TO LET.

TO LET—3 or 4 Sunny Chambers in vicinity of Brewers Corner, suitable for light housekeeping. Rent reasonable to right people. Address K., care Ledger Office.
Quincy, May 7. 3t

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy.
April 8. w. th. s. m.--tf

TO LET—A House of eight rooms and bath, opposite Adams Academy, Johnson avenue; 16 Faxon avenue, house of 9 rooms and bath, 2 minutes from R. R. Station; also summer plastered house of 11 rooms, bath and hot water, on Great Hill, Quincy. FANNIE M. TAYLOR, 176 Federal street, Boston.
May 5. 13t-p-1w

TO LET—Furnished Rooms, corner Hancock and Greenleaf streets, Quincy. Large Double Parlor, two front Communicating Rooms and several Side Rooms. Terms moderate. Rooms now ready for occupancy. Apply at the residence. May 4-tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet, 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street.
Quincy, April 21. tf

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.
Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

King Arthur Flour.

THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. 1p-2mos.

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

ard off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy

Jan. 7. tf

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE

HAS OPENED AN

Employment Office

At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.

Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.

Plumbing and Heating Co.,

25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot. Telephone Connection.

April 24, [illegible] 1-tf--p-1w

WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By EDWIN CASKODEN [CHARLES MAJOR]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I and II.—Charles Brandon kills a duelist on the field of honor and is appointed captain of the king's guard at the English court. The king's sister, Mary Tudor, quickly sets her fancy upon the gallant stranger. Brandon makes a confidant of Edwin Caskoden, master of the dance. III.—Caskoden is attentive to Lady Jane Bolingbroke, companion to the princess. In a fit of petulance Mary rebuke Brandon, then craves forgiveness. IV—Brandon teaches Mary a new dance learned in France. The young princess is shocked at first, then delighted with the sensation of Brandon's arm around her waist. Brandon declares that the girl is perfect, but the game of making love to royalty is dangerous. V.—Brandon crosses swords with the Duke of Buckingham, an unwelcome admirer of the princess. VI.—Mary, Lady Jane, Brandon and Caskoden ride to Windsor with the king. Mary shows decided partiality for Brandon's company, and on the return he is sent a day ahead of the royal party. VII—Louis XII of France asks for the hand of Mary. Brandon to sail for America to avoid Mary. She takes him to task for his indifference. Overcome by her pleadings, he makes a violent demonstration of his love. VIII.—Mary and Lady Jane go in disguise to consult a fortune teller. Brandon follows unknown to Mary. Buckingham plays the spy, and in a fight with Brandon he is wounded and two of his suit killed. IX.—Brandon in prison charged with murder. Mary to plead with the King. Buckingham against the prisoner. The king discovers a note sent by Mary to Brandon. Brandon condemned to death. The king learns that Brandon saved Mary from disgrace and orders his release. Brandon now madly in love with Mary. XI—Ambassadors of the French king come to England to court Mary for their aged sovereign. The girl spurns them in a highly dramatic scene. The betrothal made by King Henry. Mary kept in ignorance of Brandon's long imprisonment. She supposed he had sailed for America. XII—Mary explains to Brandon her neglect when he lay in prison. Bitter words followed by betrothal. Brandon dismissed from court. XIII.—Mary flatly refuses to wed the old French king. Brandon accuses Buckingham of having attempted to abduct Mary. King Henry angry with Brandon. XIV and XV—The kings learns of love trysts between Mary and Brandon. Brandon's life in danger. He secures passage to America. Mary insists upon going along in man's disguise.

CHAPTER XVI.

A HAWKING PARTY.

A FEW days after Brandon's departure, Mary, with the king's consent, organized a small party to go over to Windsor for a few weeks during the warm weather.

There were ten or twelve of us, including two chaperons, the old Earl of Hertford and the dowager Duchess of Kent. Henry might as well have sent along a pair of spaniels to act as chaperons—it would have taken an army to guard Mary alone—and to tell you the truth our old chaperons needed watching more than any of us. It was scandalous. Each of them had a touch of gout, and when they made wry faces it was a standing inquiry among us whether they were leering at each other or felt a twinge—whether it was their feet or their hearts that troubled them.

Mary led them a pretty life at all times, even at home in the palace, and I know they would rather have gone off with a pack of imps than with us. The inducement was that it gave them better opportunities to be together, an arrangement connived at by the queen, I think, and they were satisfied. The earl had a wife, but he fancied the old dowager and she fancied him, and probably the wife fancied somebody else, so they were all happy. It greatly amused the young people, you may be sure, and Mary said, probably without telling the exact truth, that every night she prayed God to pity and forgive their ugliness. One day the princess said she was becoming alarmed. Their ugliness was so intense she feared it might be contagious and spread. Then, with a most comical seriousness, she added:

"Mon Dieu, Sir Edwin, what if I should catch it? Master Charles would not take me."

"No danger of that, my lady. He is too devoted to see anything but beauty in you, no matter how much you might change."

"Do you really think so? He says so little about it that sometimes I almost doubt."

Therein she spoke the secret of Brandon's success with her, at least in the beginning, for there is wonderful potency in the stimulus of a healthy little doubt.

We had a delightful canter over to Windsor, I riding with Mary most of the way. I was not averse to this arrangement, as I not only relished Mary's mirth and joyousness, which were at their height, but hoped I might give my little Lady Jane a twinge or two of jealousy, perchance to fertilize her sentiments toward me.

Mary talked and laughed and sang, for her soul was a fountain of gladness that bubbled up the instant pressure was removed. She spoke of little but our last trip over this same road, and, as we passed objects on the way, told me of what Brandon had said at this place and that. She laughed and dimpled exquisitely in relating how she had deliberately made opportunities for him to flatter her until at last he smiled in her face and told her she was the most beautiful creature living, but that, after all, "beauty was as beauty did."

"That made me angry," said she. "I pouted for awhile and two or three times was on the point of dismissing him, but thought better of it and asked him plainly wherein I did so much amiss. Then what do you think the impudent fellow said?"

"I cannot guess."

"He said, 'Oh, there is so much it would take a lifetime to tell it.'

"This made me furious, but I could not answer, and a moment later he said, 'Nevertheless I should be only too glad to undertake the task.'

"The thought never occurred to either of us then that he would be taken at his word. Bold? I should think he was! I never saw anything like it! I have not told you a tenth part of what he said to me that day. He said anything he wished, and it seemed that I could neither stop him nor retaliate. Half the time I was angry and half the time amused, but by the time we reached Windsor there never was a girl more hopelessly and desperately in love than Mary Tudor." And she laughed as if it were a huge joke on Mary.

She continued: "That day settled matters with me for all time. I don't know how he did it. Yes, I do." And she launched forth into an account of Brandon's perfections, which I found somewhat dull, and so would you.

We remained a day or two at Windsor and then, over the objections of our chaperons, moved on to Berkeley castle, where Margaret of Scotland was spending the summer.

We had another beautiful ride up the dear old Thames to Berkeley, but Mary had grown serious and saw none of it.

On the afternoon of the appointed day the princess suggested a hawking party, and we set out in the direction of the rendezvous. Our party consisted of myself, three other gentlemen and three ladies besides Mary. Jane did not go. I was afraid to trust her. She wept and with difficulty forced herself to say something about a headache, but the rest of the inmates of the castle of course had no thought that possibly they were taking their last look upon Mary Tudor.

Think who this girl was we were running away with! What reckless fools we were not to have seen the utter hopelessness, certain failure and deadly peril of our act; treason black as Plutonian midnight. But Providence seems to have an especial care for fools, while wise men are left to care for themselves, and it does look as if safety lies in folly.

We rode on and on, and although I took two occasions in the presence of others to urge Mary to return, owing to the approach of night and threatened rain, she took her own head, as everybody knew she always would, and continued the hunt.

Just before dark, as we neared the rendezvous, Mary and I managed to ride ahead of the party quite a distance. At last we saw a heron rise, and the princess uncapped her hawk.

"This is my chance," she said. "I will run away from you now and lose myself. Keep them off my track for five minutes, and I shall be safe. Goodby, Edwin. You and Jane are the only persons I regret to leave. I love you as my brother and sister. When we are settled in New Spain, we will have you both come to us. Now, Edwin, I shall tell you something: Don't let Jane put you off any longer. She loves you. She told me so. There! Goodby, my friend. Kiss her a thousand times for me." And she flew her bird and galloped after it at headlong speed.

[To be Continued.]

NEWS IN BRIEF

It is shown in the diplomatic correspondence contained in the volume of foreign relations now in press that this government sought to negotiate a naturalization treaty with Roumania, but found the latter unwilling.

At a town meeting held at Portsmouth, R. I., the proposition submitted by Reginald C. Vanderbilt to pay half the costs of macadamizing the road from the East road to his residence at Sandy Point was accepted. The total cost of the road will be $6000 and the length is about a mile.

Maurice Splaine, 67, committed suicide at North Brookfield, Mass., by hanging in his barn. He had first attempted to cut his throat.

Hudson, Mass., voted to accept the gift of Andrew Carnegie of $12,500 for a public library.

John Shannon of Rutland holds the long-distance jail record of Vermont, and is in jail for the 117th time. This offence was for drunkenness, but John has not limited himself to this, and has been up for many things.

A dispatch from Osnabrueck, Prussia, says a syndicate of American firms is erecting a factory there for the manufacture of photographic paper.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus before medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

SEASONABLE NECESSITIES.

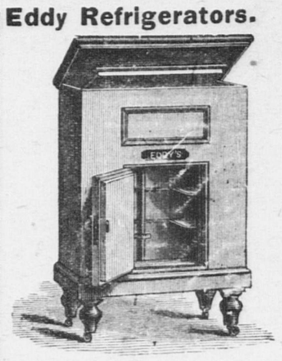

If you wish to keep up appearances in your home you must keep everlastingly at it. Now is the time to clean house, change around the furniture and add a new carpet, matting, new draperies or odd pieces of furniture where needed. We have much for your consideration. Attractive goods from the best and most reliable factories in the country. Prices lower than those of any other store in New England.

Mattings, Rugs, etc.

Straw Mattings,	10c. to 25c.
Japanese Mattings,	25c. to 40c.
Prairie Grass Mattings,	35c. to 38c.
Art Squares,	$2.98 to $16.20
Dining Room Rugs in Tapesty, Brussels, Velvet, Oriental or Smyrna,	$9.75 to $35.00
Wool Carpets,	.55 to .75
Tapestry Carpets,	.65 to 1.00
Brussels,	1.00 to 1.35

Lace Draperies, Muslin Curtains, Tapestry and Chenille Portieres.

Eddy Refrigerators.

If there was a better make of refrigerators in the market than the Eddy, it would be here for sale. The Eddy is acknowledged by experts everywhere to be the most economical ice consumer and most satisfactory ice box made. Factory prices from $5.20 up

Cottage and Porch Furniture, etc.

Piazza Chairs,	89c. to $3.25
Lawn Settees,	.98
Lawn Swings,	5.00
Cot and Iron Beds,	$1.25 to 2.98
Cottage Bureaus,	3.50
Cottage Tables,	98c. to 5.00
Cottage Couches,	$3.50 to 6.00
Cottage Washstands,	1.42
Cottage Chairs,	50c. to .75
Cottage Rockers,	79c. to 1.75

All the inexpensive fittings for cottages and temporary rooms in your own home.

Summer Necessities.

Blue Flame Oil Stoves,	$4.50 to $9.00
Common Oil Stoves,	75c. to 2.25
Lawn Mowers,	$3.25 to 7.00
Lawn Hose,	3.50 to 6.00

Bicycles, etc.

Iver Johnson, Dayton, Crawford, Leroy, High Grade Wheels, $25.00
Cheaper Wheels, $18.00
Tires, Sundries, etc.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings

Furniture Store and Annex, Hancock Street, Quincy.

Short Credit Accounts When Desired.

DELEGATES ARE NAMED

To Represent United States at Geneva Conference

MANY IMPORTANT CHANGES

To Be Made In Existing Treaty, Looking to Amelioration of Horrors of War—Plan to Prevent Consignment of Living Men to the Grave

Washington, May 7.—The delegates to represent the United States at the international conference at Geneva, for the purpose of revising and extending the Geneva treaty of 1864, under which the various Red Cross societies are recognized, have been designated by the president. They are Francis B. Loomis, the assistant secretary of state, General George B. Davis, judge advocate general of the army, and Commander Nathan Sargent, U. S. N.

General Davis is an authority on military law and the author of a text book on international law. Francis B. Loomis was minister to Venezuela during a trying and important period, and during a wide and active consular service has given careful attention to international questions. Commander Sargent is Admiral Dewey's aide, and for 10 years was naval attache of the United States in Italy and Austria during the formative period of the new navy. He is an accomplished linguist.

Many important topics will be considered by the international conference in Geneva next September, chiefly looking to the amelioration of the suffering and horrors of war. All the principal nations will take part in the conference. Many important amendments to the treaty are to be considered.

It is proposed to provide for a careful examination of bodies on the field prior to their inhumation or incineration, as it is a well known fact that hasty burials after a battle sometimes consign living men to the grave. It is also proposed to enact that every officer or soldier shall bear on his person a mark rendering it easily possible to establish his identity.

The suggestion will be made that field hospitals and other temporary establishments of that sort following troops on the field of battle to receive the sick and wounded shall be considered neutral under all circumstances, and that if they fall into the hands of the enemy it shall be the latter's duty to return them to the army when they are no longer required for the care of the sick. The adoption of this provision would mark an important and humane advance.

It is also proposed to discuss the question whether there is substantial reason for retaining as the sole distinctive sign a red cross on a white field, or whether it would be proper to allow exceptions in the case of non-Christian countries, such as Turkey, which has substituted a red crescent for the red cross.

Government Without Proof

Washington, May 7.—The abstraction of papers from the safe of the office of the assistant attorney general for the postoffice department by Mrs. James N. Tyner, wife of the then assistant attorney general, is now regarded as practically a closed incident. The matter has not been presented to the grand jury, and it is believed that the grand jury would not be likely to take action because of lack of proof that the papers taken were government property.

—The Independent remarks: "While Zionism is trying to carry the Jews back to Palestine, the St. Louis world's fair proposes to bring Jerusalem to this country. One of the most remarkable of all the plans for that Exposition is a reproduction of the city of Jerusalem in a plot of ten acres; the walls, gates, churches, mosques, all to be reproduced, with the Garden of Olives."

PLATT HEARD FROM

Objects to Handful of Men Dictating to Organized Political Parties

New York, May 7.—Senator Platt has announced his opposition to holding any fusion conference at this season of the year. He said:

"If I have any influence with the Republican county commission that organization will not be represented in the conference called by the Citizens' union for next Monday night. I hope that all other political organizations will keep away. Why should a handful of men dictate to organized political parties? I have never said that I favored the nomination of Low. It is too early to discuss candidates. The thing to do now is to stop summer agitation if possible."

Leaders of the greater New York Democracy refuse to say positively whether that organization will be represented in the conference called for next Monday night.

Higher Pay For Postmasters

Washington, May 7.—The 20th annual readjustment of salaries of presidential postmasters throughout the United States is now in progress. The readjustment involves about 5000 postmasters. Most of the changes are increases. The appropriation for salaries for next year was increased $750,000. There probably will be 80 or 90 fourth-class postoffices advanced to the presidential grade July 1, and the indications are that 100 third-class presidential postoffices will be raised to the second class and 10 or 15 second-class offices raised to first class.

Affects Labor and Employers

Albany, May 7.—Governor Odell has signed the bill designed to prevent discrimination on the part of labor unions against members of the National Guard. The bill is very drastic and refers equally to labor unions or employers, making it a misdemeanor to interfere in any way with the employment of a person who is a member of the National Guard on account of such membership or to dissuade a person from enlisting by threats of injury with reference to his employment, trade or business.

Baby Not Hurt by Great Fall

New York, May 7.—A 3-year-old child fell from its mother's arms through a window of an elevated train on the lofty structure in Second avenue. The mother's screams were heard by two men who were crossing the street below and who glanced up in time to see the child falling and catch it in their arms. The youngster was restored to its frantic mother with no more serious result of its thrilling experience than a slight bruise.

Miss Schley Was on the Hamilton

Norfolk, May 7.—It has come to light that among the passengers on the steamer Hamilton, at the time she ran into and sunk the Saginaw, was Miss Schley, daughter of Rear Admiral Schley, who, with other women passengers on the Hamilton, assisted by the steamer's stewardess, raised $95 in cash, which was distributed among the most needy of the Saginaw's survivors.

Police Scout Burglar Theory

Muncie, Ind., May 7.—The mystery of the shooting of William Patterson, a wealthy business man, has not been cleared up. The family persists in the story that he was shot by a burglar. The police cannot understand how, if a burglar did the shooting, he left the house, as all doors and windows were securely locked when they reached the house. Patterson is still alive.

Receiver For Banking Firm

Baltimore, May 7.—On a bill filed by Richard B. Sperry against his partner, Charles H. Jones, a receiver was appointed for the banking and brokerage firm of Sperry, Jones & Co. The firm says that the suspension is due to the fact that valuable assets that are tied up, and that they were unable to meet obligations on account of a tight money market.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher The Kind You Have Always Bought

Coaster Wrecked on Shoal

Nantucket, Mass., May 7.—While plunging along down the coast before a thick northeast gale, that had driven all other coastwise shipping to shelter, Schooner Agnes E. Manson suddenly brought up on the dreaded Ross and Crown shoal and, although she managed to shake herself free from its grasp, the shock proved too much and the famous coaster sank an hour later in seven fathoms of water. The crew, with Captain Babbitt and his wife, put off in a small boat and after several hours of hard pulling landed cold, wet and hungry on the beach at Siasconset.

On the Diamond

At Brooklyn—National—New York, 20; Brooklyn, 2.
At Pittsburg—National—Chicago, 11; Pittsburg, 4.
At Boston—American—Boston, 6; Washington, 3.
At New York—American—Philadelphia, 6; New York, 1.
At Chicago—American—Chicago, 10; Detroit, 9.
At Nashua—Lawrence, 8; Nashua, 4.
At Haverhill—Lowell, 5; Haverhill, 2.
At Fall River—Manchester, 3; Fall River, 0.
At Concord—Concord, 10; Brockton, 1.

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, Pres

April 9-1m 11-1m

A. RUSSELL JONES,

ELECTRICIAN.

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK
A SPECIALTY.

Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.

Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

Address, 1262 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.

Quincy, April 10. 11lp

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,

FLORISTS.

Telephone 13-7 Braintree.

Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.

Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan25-1y

SMOKE THE

GOVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,

Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers.

GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.

Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No 50 Gay street.

Quincy, April 7. tf

PAINTING

and Glazing.

WARD L. HAYWARD,

28 Mechanic Street.

Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

LEWIS N. CURTIS,

PAINTER, GLAZIER,

LEADED STAINED GLASS.

Decorator and Paper Hanger.

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.

15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

FULL STOCK

—OF—

HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,

—AT—

Brooks' Market,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 25. tf

W. G. CHUBBUCK

Furniture and Piano Mover,

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

Tel. Address, QUINCY, MASS.

Reupholstering

OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE

HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED

And Made Over.

Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.

Call and get Prices.

C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.

Quincy, May 2. 1m

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

ES.

e around the furniture and ve goods from the best and mer essities.

me Oil Stoves, $4.50 to $9.00
n Oil Stoves, 75c. to 2.25 owers, $3.25 to 7.00
ose, 3.50 to 6.00

cles, etc.

Johnson, Dayton, Crawford,
High Grade Wheels, $25.00
Wheels, $18 00
Sundries, etc.
ock Street, Quincy.

AILLIE & TAYLOR,
nters, Decorators and Paperhangers.
ERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
faction guaranteed. All orders promptly ed to. No 50 Gay street.
cy, April 7. tf

PAINTING
and Glazing.
ARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
cy, Sept. 3. ly

EWIS N. CURTIS,
NTER, GLAZIER,
ADED STAINED GLASS.
rator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
and Place, 68 Spear Street, Quincy

FULL STOCK
— OF —
HATCHET
BRAND CANNED GOODS,
— AT —
ooks' Market,
ner Saville and Hancock Streets,
QUINCY, MASS.
25. tf

V. G. CHUBBUCK
iture and Piano Mover,
IN AND OUT OF TOWN.
ture Packed and Stored.
ts Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.
JOBBING.
left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson Kitchen Music Hall Block; or at rno d's Revere Road.
Address, QUINCY, MASS.

pholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE
MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.
s taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.
Call and get Prices.
TOWER, 182 Howard St
Tel. 64-4.
, May 2. 1m

Dr. Emmons'
Regulator has brought happiness to s of anxious women. There is positive er remedy known to medical science
so quickly and safely do the work.
and most obstinate irregularities from
e relieved immediately. Success guar-
t any stage. No pain, danger, or inter-with work. Have relieved hundreds of here others have failed. The most diffi-es successfully treated by mail, and benesults guaranteed in every instance. No atsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies
e never see. Write for further particu-
free confidential advice. Do not put off
. All letters truthfully answered. Re-
, this remedy is absolutely safe under ossible condition and positively leaves ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be
ed. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tre-
, Boston, Mass.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 108. QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 8, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

SEASONABLE NECESSITIES.

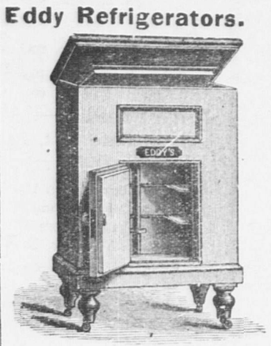

If you wish to keep up appearances in your home you must keep everlastingly at it. Now is the time to clean house, change around the furniture and add a new carpet, matting, new draperies or odd pieces of furniture where needed We have much for your consideration. Attractive goods from the best and most reliable factories in the country. Prices lower than those of any other store in New England.

Mattings, Rugs, etc.

Straw Mattings,	10c. to 25c.
Japanese Mattings,	25c to 40c.
Prairie Grass Mattings,	35c. to 38c.
Art Squares,	$2.98 to $10 20
Dining Room Rugs in Taspesty, Brussels, Velvet, Oriental or Smyrna,	$9 75 to $35.00
Wool Carpets,	.55 to .75
Tapestry Carpets,	.65 to 1 00
Brussels,	1 00 to 1.35

Lace Draperies, Muslin Curtains, p estry and Chenille Portieres.

Eddy Refrigerators.

If there was a better make of refrigerators in the market than the Eddy, it would be here for sale. The Eddy is acknowledged by experts everywhere to be the most economical ice consumer and most satisfactory ice box made. Factory prices from $5.20 up

Cottage and Porch Furniture, etc.

Piazza Chairs,	89c. to $3.25
Lawn Settees,	.98
Lawn Swings,	5.00
Cot and Iron Beds,	$1 25 to 2.98
Cottage Bureaus,	3 50
Cottage Tables,	98c. to 5.00
Cottage Couches,	$3.50 to 6.00
Cottage Washstands,	1 42
Cottage Chairs,	50c. to .75
Cottage Rockers,	79c. to 1.75

All the inexpensive fittings for cottages and temporary rooms in your own home.

Summer Necessities.

Blue Flame Oil Stoves,	$4.50 to $9 00
Common Oil Stoves,	75c. to 2.25
Lawn Mowers,	$3.25 to 7.00
Lawn Hose,	3.50 to 6.00

Bicycles, etc.

Iver Johnson, Dayton, Crawford,
Leroy, High Grade Wheels, $25.00
Cheaper Wheels, $18 00
Tires, Sundries, etc.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings

Furniture Store and Annex, Hancock Street, Quincy.
Short Credit Accounts When Desired.

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pixel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quincy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. ly

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5
Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday
Jan. 31 tf

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street
Telephone 126-5
Quincy, Oct. 1. lp-tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered.
Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb. 2. 1-1y- p-6mos.

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

FRANK F. CRANE
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17.

JAMES F. BURKE.
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5. tf

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. ly

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

READ AND LEARN.

By reading you keep in touch with the times. By keeping in touch with the times you are ready to pick up a good thing when it comes your way. When it comes to Clothing, Hats and Furnishings, this store is the place to pick up a good thing, and at the same time keep part of your money too. We keep nothing but

RELIABLE DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE,

And will sell you at a Lower Price than you can buy the same quality for in Boston.

MEN'S SUITS, $5.89, $7.50, $8.50, $10, $12, $15, $18.

Ask for our "Special" $1.89 soft and stiff Hat.

These Hats are made to our order and are equal to any $2.50 Hat—Sold outside our Store. Call and See us.

WE GIVE GREEN TRADING STAMPS.

F. D. FELLOWS CO.,

RELIABLE ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS, HATTERS AND FURNISHERS.

Adams Building, City Square, Quincy, Mass.

Store open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings. April 2--l-th., fri., sat.-po-tf

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.

60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN.
PHARMACIST,
1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

Are You Looking for a Home?
Would You Like to Make Some Money?
Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at

BICELOW PARK.

The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.

SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.
May 2. tf

If You Have a House to Let, Advertise It in the Ledger.

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

For Latest News See Inside Pages.

IS HELD WITHOUT BAIL

But Little Evidence Against Sturtevant Murder Suspect

VICTIM WAS VERY POPULAR

Acted As Assistant to Her Father In His Capacity of Bank Treasurer—Police Think Murderer Was Conversant With Her Actions

Medford, Mass., May 8.—While the energies of not only the local, but the state police, are practically concentrated in an effort to collect enough evidence to prove that it was Tomasso Lombardi, an Italian carpenter, who murdered Miss Nellie A. Sturtevant, they are forced to admit that except for the fact that Sturtevant saw his daughter's murderer flee on a bicycle, and that Lombardi, when arrested in Boston, five miles from Medford, two hours later, was riding a well mudded bicycle, they have comparatively little evidence against the Italian.

Lombardi was arraigned in court at Malden on the charge of murder and the police laid sufficient evidence before the court to warrant the Italian being held without bail, and he was subsequently removed to the county jail at East Cambridge. The police hope to discover something additional before the customary hearing in the district court, which is set down for next Tuesday, but they admit that the evidence in favor of Lombardi's innocence is almost as weighty as that of his guilt.

Miss Sturtevant was 39 years of age, and for a number of years had acted as a sort of assistant to her father in his capacity as treasurer of the Medford Co-operative bank. The monthly meeting of the bank takes place on the first Wednesday evening, and the father and daughter went to the meeting Wednesday evening. It is then that the stockholders pay their dues on their shares, and quite a lot of money is always received at that time. Mrs. Sturtevant, instead of going to the meeting, spent the evening at the residence of Charles R. Gray. At the conclusion of their work Mr. Sturtevant and his daughter called at the Gray residence for Mrs. Sturtevant. They they proceeded to their home on Chester avenue, where they arrived just before 11:20 o'clock.

When the Sturtevants left their home early in the evening they left the incandescent light over their front piazza burning and it was still lighted when they returned. As the family neared the house Mr. Sturtevant got a little ahead of his wife and daughter and he reached the front door while they were on a bit of concrete walk which divides the two flights of steps. He had taken his latchkey from his pocket and was about to put it into the lock, when a man came around the corner of the house and pointing a revolver at Miss Sturtevant told her to throw up her hands and give him the bag. According to Mr. Sturtevant, his daughter at once turned on the man and started to strike his uplifted hand with her umbrella. Instantly there was a shot and Miss Sturtevant fell on the steps.

Mr. Sturtevant then started for the man, who grabbed the handbag which the daughter carried as she sank to the ground. The man next turned his attention to Mr. Sturtevant and while the latter was chasing him fired two shots from the revolver, both missing their mark. The robber then ran up Chester avenue toward Winthrop street. Mr. Sturtevant chased him some distance, but the man jumped on a bicycle, which had been resting against a fence in front of the home of Patrick Broderick, a short distance from the scene of the shooting, and made his escape.

Mr. Sturtevant then returned to where his daughter lay and with the assistance of Mrs. Sturtevant carried her into the house. Dr. Chandler was quickly summoned. He found a bullet wound in her head about one inch over the right eye and saw that it was impossible for her to live. Miss Sturtevant died at 12:25 o'clock.

Miss Sturtevant was well known in Medford, especially in the Hillside district, and for a number of years had been a leader in social affairs. She was prominently interested in the little Universalist church at Medford Hillside, and ever since her father became treasurer of the co-operative bank she had acted as his assistant. The family moved to Medford in 1871, Miss Sturtevant having been born in Melrose on May 23, 1864. When she attended the monthly meetings of the bank Miss Sturtevant always carried a satchel with her, and it is the theory of the police that the murderer was thoroughly conversant with her actions, and doubtless thought that when she returned from the bank she carried with her all the cash which had been collected from the stockholders. As a matter of fact, the murderer was mistaken, for it has been for several years the custom of Mr. Sturtevant to lock the cash up in a big safe in the bank rooms, which are located in Small's Block, Medford Centre. Nothing was ever carried in the satchel but a few deposit books and some checks.

Dynamiter Sent to Prison

Pottsville, Pa., May 8.—Edward Wonn, a union mine worker, was sentenced to 2½ years in the county jail and to pay a fine of $100 for dynamiting the home of a non-union miner. A portion of the dwelling was wrecked, but none of the family was injured.

BRIBERY CHARGES

Reiterated by Boston Man, Who Declares That Facts Were Smothered

Boston, May 8.—Apparently unwilling to accept the decision of the state senate not to investigate his charges of corruption, George J. Raymond issued last night an open letter in which he not only reiterates his published statement that a member tried to obtain a large sum from him for suppressing a bill, but claims that the committee on rules suppressed his testimony and smothered the facts behind closed doors. After his advertisement on Sunday in which he stated that a senator had offered to kill a bill affecting adversely his business Raymond was called before the committee on rules of the senate in an executive session and asked to give the name of the senator. Raymond refused to disclose it in a secret session, but offered to give it at an open one. He also said that it was last year that the senator made the offer, but that the same bill which was finally killed last year had been again introduced and was on the senate calendar.

The committee on rules reported the result of the hearing to the senate with part of the testimony and in doing so severely criticised Raymond for what the committee claimed to be his "advertising" methods. A short debate followed the report and an effort to obtain an open investigation was defeated by a vote of 21 to 12.

In his letter Mr. Raymond goes over briefly his appearance before the committee, his statements, the history of legislation on the particular bill, which is called "a bill to prevent the sale of merchandise in bulk to defraud creditors," and says in conclusion that the man who made him an offer to kill the bill last year then said that the bill could not go through because the parties behind it would not put up the "stuff" and that the same man is a member of the present senate, and that he believed that money had been solicited this year to put the bill through.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus of 'em before medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

Mill Settling In Quicksands

Plymouth, Mass., May 8.—A heavy pecuniary loss, in addition to the closing down of its entire plant here, is threatened by the settling in the quicksands of the large dye house of the Puritan mill, a branch of the American Woolen company. For the past week the foundations have been going deeper and deeper until at the present time the foundations are four feet below their original alignment. The situation has become so serious that the mill is closed, throwing 400 operatives out of employment.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. This signature E. W. Grove on every box, 25c

CORNER STONE.

To Be Laid by Bishop Lawrence at East Milton Today.

Today is a red letter day in the history of the Mission of Our Saviour church, for this afternoon the corner stone of the new church the society is to build will be laid by Bishop Lawrence. The ceremony will take place at 5 o'clock. At that hour the children of the Sunday school will assemble at Ellsworth hall and march to the site of the new church. They will then sing several hymns, following which Bishop Lawrence will lay the corner stone and deliver a short address. At 7 o'clock the bishop and visiting clergy will be given a dinner at the Granite House by the executive committee of the church.

An hour later the rite of confirmation will be performed by the bishop upon a number of candidates. He will then deliver an address. A reception will be held at Ellsworth hall just previous to the dinner, or between 6 and 7 oclock.

The box in the corner stone will contain among other things a Bible, prayer and hymn book, constitution of the church, names of the communionists of the church, brief history of the mission, coins of 1903, journal of the last convention of the diocese of Massachusetts, and copies of the local and Boston papers.

OMINOUS CLOUDS

Prevented Reliance from Having a Looked-For Brush With Columbia

Glen Cove, L. I., May 8.—A summer shower spoiled a prospective brush between the Reliance and Columbia when all other conditions were favorable. Both lay at their moorings most of the day while a heavy haze hung over the sound and a gentle northeast wind brought occasional light showers.

Early in the afternoon the Reliance's tender Sunbeam brought C. Oliver Iselin over and Captain Lem Miller of the Columbia went on board. From the willingness for a brush subsequently manifested on the part of Columbia, which had heretofore avoided such an encounter, it looked as though Mr. Iselin and Captain Miller had reached an understanding by which the Columbia was to accept the Reliance's frequent challenges more readily hereafter.

Sail was immediately set on the Columbia. The weather was brightening, when at 3:40 p. m. the Reliance slipped out of the haze from the direction of New Rochelle and came tearing into the cove at a 12-knot clip, bringing a fresh northeast wind. She hove to near the Columbia and with Mr. Iselin on board, went out of the harbor, well heeled over to a freshening breeze.

Columbia followed, but more slowly, missing the wind that carried the Reliance off at a fast clip. It looked like a chance for the Reliance to redeem herself under heavier weather conditions than in the brush of Tuesday aand under conditions in which she is expected to make her best showing.

The boats were opening out by Red Spring Point, the Reliance a mile ahead, when there came a spit of rain, while the black clouds to windward looked ominous. Caution prevailed on the Reliance, her sails were quickly taken in and the Sunbeam took her in tow for New Rochelle. The Columbia put about for Glen Cove.

Second Indianola Case

Washington, May 8.—The postoffice department has been notified officially that John C. Allgood, a colored rural free delivery letter carrier, while making his regular trip near Gallatin, Tenn., was stopped by men armed and masked and that he and his colored substitute carrier were warned not to continue in the service under penalty of death. Service on the route is suspended pending investigation, and if the reports of the affair are confirmed summary action will follow.

Twelve Men Killed In Wreck

St. Paul, May 8.—A large number of laborers were with a work train at Dexter, where they had been loading ties. Their train was on a sidetrack when a passenger train crashed into the caboose, where the men were eating, overturning the car. The wreckage caught fire almost immediately from the engine. Of the men in the car 12 were instantly killed or burned to death. Eight others were seriously injured and still others less seriously hurt.

Fishermen's Terrible Experience

Sydney, N. S., May 8.—After having rowed 80 miles in a small dory Charles and William McLeod, two fishermen, who went astray from the Gloucester schooner Helen F. Whitney, have arrived at Louisburg. The men were hauling trawls in thick fog on the Mizzen banks and when they started to look for their vessel they could not find her. After rowing continuously for 24 hours they reached port in safety. Both men are badly used up.

—For lo, saith Solomon, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone, the flowers appear on the earth, the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in the land. —Herald.

LADIES HELPING.

They Give a Supper to the Y. M. C. A. Soliciting Committee.

The gymnasium soliciting committee of the Y. M. C. A. held its regular weekly meeting Thursday evening at the new quarters of the association, and the Auxiliary served a supper which was greatly appreciated.

Leon A. Turner presided. Remarks were made by George H. Brown and Theodore Hermanson.

The following ladies were in attendance and did all in their power to give the boys a pleasant evening: Mrs. R. S. Hewitson, Mrs. C. W. Guy, Mrs. George Hatch, Mrs. C. F. Derby and Mrs. George Macfarland.

CONCERT PROGRAM

The benefit concert in aid of the Building Fund of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium which Dr. Johnson has arranged for gives promise of being one of the best ever given in Quincy. The 50 cent tickets (the best of the house) are fast going. They are for sale by members.

Below is given the program:

Piano solo.
Miss Gertrude L. Snifkin.
a. Sunset.
b. When Allenadale went a hunting.
Combined Choirs. (Boys.)
For the Crown of Victory.
Miss Nell Ames Horr, Reader.
The Holy City.
Master John B. Findlay.
Bedouin Song.
Wollaston Glee Club.
a. The Rosary, Nevin
b. An Open Secret, Woodman
c. Hearts Delight, Gilchrist
Mrs. Harriet R. Morgan.
Knocked 'em in the Old Kent Road.
Wollaston Glee Club.
a. I Dare to Love Thee, Tosti
b. Come to Me Sweet Heart, Bartlett
Mr. E. E. Bullock.
A Study of Human Nature.
Miss Nell Ames Horr, Reader.
Sanctus, Osgood
Wollaston Glee Club.
Solo by Mr. E. E. Bullock.
Spring Song, Mackenzie
Master John B. Findlay.
Good Night, Farewell.
Combined Choirs, (Boys.)
Assisted by Mrs. Harriet R. Morgan, soprano, and Mr. Harry I. Hahn, bass.

Railroad to Shipyard.

Progress on the Fore River branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. from Braintree to the Fore River shipyard is so rapid that in two weeks it is expected the road will be complete. Rails have been laid from West Howard street to Commercial street through the quarry section, and a few days will see the work moving away from the Braintree end. The cut near Quincy avenue is almost completed, the soil removed furnishing material for the fill alongside the creek.

American Sailors Took Part

Nice, France, May 8.—The cornerstone of the Victoria Memorial hospital was laid here by the Grand Duchess Mary of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. Men from the crews of the American squadron and a detachment of the British bluejackets formed the guard of honor. Among those who attended the ceremony were officers of the American squadron and the American vice consul here.

Town Threatened With Destruction

Memphis, May 8.—A disastrous fire is raging at Collierville, 25 miles from Memphis. The town, which has a population of about 1500, is said to be threatened with total destruction. The Memphis fire department has been appealed to for aid and engines have been dispatched on a special train.

A Green Goods Case

Philadelphia, May 8.—Edward Heiser, whom the postal authorities charged with being a member of a green goods gang, who was arrested at Allentown after a desperate struggle, was given a hearing before Commissioner Craig in this city and committed to prison in default of $5000 bail.

Hungarian Election Riots

Budapest, May 8.—Serious rioting has occurred at Sepros, in connection with the election of judges. Gendarmes fired on the rioters, killing four and wounding several.

Pillsbury's Best Flour

is sold by grocers everywhere in sacks and barrels. While it is sold everywhere, it is not sold by every grocer. Hence, a grocer who does not keep Pillsbury's Best Flour, naturally will try to sell the flour he has in stock, declaring, either through ignorance or from a desire to dispose of what he has on hand, that his flour is as good as any other. Care should be taken to buy Pillsbury's Best Flour in original packages, so as to get the genuine article.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, May 4, 1903.

THE Committee on Liquor Law will give a hearing to parties interested in the petition of Henry Barker and others (with accompanying bill, House, No. 1283) for an amendment of the law relative to the sale of cider and native wines, at room No. 240, State House, on TUESDAY, May 12, at 10.30 o'clock A. M.

PERLIE A. DYER, Chairman.
THOMAS L. DAVIS.
May 7-2t Clerk of the Committee.

PIPE SEWERS—Quincy, Mass., May 4th, 1903. The City of Quincy invites proposals for building pipe sewers in Wards 1 and 2. The work will be let in two contracts. Section 11, comprising about 3720 feet of 20-inch pipe sewers, and Section 12, comprising about 2982 feet of 8, 10, 15, 18 and 20-inch pipe sewers. Copies of contracts and plans for the work can be seen and proposals to be used can be obtained at the office of the Board of Sewerage Commissioners, City Hall, Quincy, Mass. Proposals will be received until Monday, May 18, 1903, at 7.30 P. M., at which time they will be publicly opened and read. The undersigned reserve the right to reject any or all proposals, or to accept the proposals they deem best for the City. A. F. SCHENKELBERGER, WILLIAM T. ISAAC, THOMAS J. LAMB, Board of Sewerage Commissioners of the City of Quincy. May 8 2t

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK, ss. Quincy, March 31, 1903.

TAKEN on execution and will be sold at public auction on SATURDAY, the sixteenth day of May, at 9 o'clock A. M., at my residence No. 163 Franklin street, in Quincy, said County, all the right, title and interest which Annie H. Betts of Quincy, said County, had (not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution) on the twenty-ninth day of October, 1901, at four o'clock and fifty minutes P. M., (being the time the same was attached on mesne process) in and to the following described real estate, to wit:

A certain parcel of land situated in Quincy and shown on a plan made by H. T. Whitman and E. W. Branch, surveyors, dated May, 1896, and recorded with the Norfolk Deeds, bounded and described as follows, viz:

Beginning at a point on the southerly side of Washington street, whence the line which divides the herein granted premises, from premises now or formerly of one French, intersects the said southerly side of Washington street, thence running in a southwesterly direction along the line of said French and also on on line of land of J. R. Graham, three hundred and twelve and 48-100 feet to a stake, thence turning and running in a northwesterly direction along the line of other land of J. R. Graham, ninety-eight and 9-10 feet to a stake, thence by a curved line fourteen and 5-10 feet to another stake, thence running in a northeasterly direction along the line of other land of John R. Graham, two hundred and fifty-seven feet to a stake, thence by a curved line twenty feet to a cut on wall, thence running in an easterly direction along the said southerly side of Washington street, one hundred and fifty-seven and 16-100 feet to the point of beginning, containing 40,410 square feet of land. Being the same land conveyed to John H. Dinegan by J. R. Graham, by deed dated May 15, 1896, and recorded with the Norfolk Deeds, lib. 761, folio 319, and conveyed to Annie H. Betts, by deed of John H. Dinegan.

Also a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon containing fifty-four hundred (5400) square feet, situate in Quincy, Mass., and being lot number thirty (30) on a plan of house lots on Cranch Hill, made by H. T. Whitman, dated January 20, 1897, and recorded with the Norfolk Plans and bounded and described as follows, viz: Northerly on Whitwell street, sixty (60) feet; southeasterly on lot thirty-one (31) on said plan, ninety (90) feet; northwesterly on lot twenty-nine (29) on said plan, ninety (90) feet; southwesterly on lot No 39 on said plan, sixty (60) feet. Being the same premises conveyed to Annie H. Betts by Selina Tunnicliff and John R. Tunnicliff by their attorney, Ransom Tunnicliff, October 24, 1899, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Lib. 856, Fol. 76.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Deputy Sheriff.
May 1. 3t--1-8-15

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Chapter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

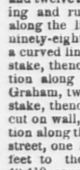

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D.,
Inspector of Milk.
April 15. 30t

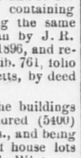

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER
YOU WILL FIND

The Co-OPERATIVE DINING ROOMS,
3 Granite Street, Quincy,
where your wants will be satisfied.

TABLE BOARD:
21-Meal..... Tickets, $3.50
ROOMS:
$1.25 Per Week and Upwards.

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.
mar.16-21--2m

King Arthur Flour.
Sold in Quincy by
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.
Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.
THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted,
At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST.,
City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.
Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.
A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF
The Quincy Patriot.
A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the
Braintree Observer and Reporter
A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	46	53	53	60	55
Monday,	58	67	55	60	58
Tuesday,	64	66	71	50	58
Wednesday,	54	84	60	58	59
Thursday,	64	86	65	72	55
Friday,	65	58	63	66	55
Saturday,	—	47	68	68	68

New Advertisements Today.

Proposals for Pipe Sewers.
Wanted—Lady acquainted in Quincy.
Worcester Salt.
To Let—Rooms for light housekeeping.
Wanted—Two Furnished Rooms.

Good Afternoon.

Another year promises to go by without an observance of "Old Home Week" in Quincy, yet the old town incorporated in 1792 has sent people to every state in the Union. It would be a pleasure to welcome many of these people "home," and they would enjoy coming. It is too late now to secure a list of former residents, but if an Old Home Week association could be formed in Quincy this year we would be prepared for a good time in 1904. The State Association makes many suggestions for the observance of Old Home Week, and we reproduce two:

The publication of illustrated souvenir booklets of special illustrated old-home week editions of the local papers, and of a map showing the residences of present and former resident will each be a valuable aid to the celebration.

There should also be appointed, in connection with the observance, a historian or committee to prepare a local history and compile statistics of aged people of the community.

The Massachusetts House by a large majority desires that the newspapers shall have justice. The attempt of Mr. Bennett of Lynn to have the libel law amended, met with a flat failure on Thursday, when the bill had but 29 supporters. There were 137 in opposition. We notice that Representative Freeman was paired with the majority against the bill, while Representative Fallon was not recorded. Editors are usually careful not to do an injustice to any one, and are criticised oftener for not showing up some people, than for what they do publish.

Senator Hanna said recently, to a company of newspapermen, that when he came to Washington he discoverd that the newspapermen were worthy of special study. He studied them, found them worthy of his friendship and cultivated them and concluding, said, "I am getting on very nicely, thank you."

That was good advice which President Roosevelt gave the children at Redlands, California, yesterday, and savors of strenuosity: "Children, I have just one word for you, and it will apply to the older people as well. It is this: When you play, play hard, and when you work don't play at all. That's common sense for all of you."

It is up to Landlord Faxon or S. Penniman & Son to fix up the grounds about the stable to correspond to those of City hall. A walk to the office and a little grass seed would do the business and assist in beautifying Depot street.

President Roosevelt has hastened to assure the public that he was not annoyed or inconvenienced by miscarriage of some of the plans of the Saint Louis Exposition authorities. Mr. Roosevelt is too good a fellow to be annoyed by little inconvenience inevitable in immense crowds.

Masonic Memorial.

There was unveiled at Evergreen cemetery, Portland, Me., on Wednesday by the Grand Lodge of Maine, the memorial monument erected to the memory of Josiah H. Drummond, who was a past grand master of the general grand chapter and general grand council of the United States and an honorary member of the supreme council of the northern jurisdiction of Masons of the United States. Subscriptions for the monument were received from many parts of the world.

THE SECOND NIGHT.

May Festival at Quincy Point Church Comes to Close.

There was a large attendance Thursday evening at the second night of the May festival at the Washington Street Congregational church. The entertainment provided was a pleasing one and consisted of soprano solos by Mrs. Emma S. Moore; contralto solos by Miss Nina B. Gage, piano solos by Mrs. Charles Sampson, and a trio by Mrs. George K. Carter, Miss Bessie Drew and Miss Nina B. Gage.

The entertainment closed with a parlor dialogue entitled "A Business Meeting." The several characters were impersonated by Mrs. Rollin H. Newcomb, Mrs. Fred Drake, Mrs. Thomas B. Pollard, Mrs. George P. Eaton, Mrs. P. Holman, Mrs. Herbert D. Adams, Mrs. E. Holman, Miss Ella M. Freeman, Mrs. T. C. Thomas, Miss Etta F. Lapham.

PRAISES VETERANS

President Also Gives Good Advice to Children In the Golden State

Redlands, Cal., May 8.—President Roosevelt was formally welcomed to the state of California before a crowd of many thousands.

On the corner opposite the balcony from which the president spoke, 1500 which the president spoke, 1500 school children were seated on a grand stand. As the president approached, each of the children waved a flag and their young voices were often raised in cheers. They also sang national airs. President Roosevelt was presented to Governor Pardee and Lieutenant Governor Anderson. Governor Pardee welcomed the president to California. Assemblyman Johnson welcomed him in behalf of the state legislature. The great throng cheered itself hoarse when the president arose to deliver his address. He said in part:

"Of all who are here to greet me, I prize most the presence of these men, who fought in the great war (turning toward the Grand Army veterans). Two years ago you welcomed here your comrade and my chief, the late President McKinley. He did his part in war as in peace, and if it had not been for the efforts that you and he put forth, we would have had neither an American country nor an American president today. In war it is necessary to have arms and accutrement, but the fundamental necessity is to have men. Children, I have just one word for you, and it will apply to the older people as well. It is this: 'When you play, play hard, and when you work don't play at all.' That's common sense for all of you.

"What strikes me most of all on this trip is that good Americans are good Americans from one end of the land to the other."

The party left here at 3 o'clock for San Bernandino, where a short stop was made. The night was spent at Riverside.

Ames Accepted Bribe

Minneapolis, May 8.—A. A. Ames, former mayor of Minneapolis, has been found guilty of accepting a bribe of $800 while chief executive of this city. After being out 24 hours, held up by a disagreement that was caused by a few jurors holding out against the majority, the jury returned their verdict of guilty. The keen interest in the case was shown by the silence in the crowded court room as the verdict was read by the clerk. The usual motions were read for a stay and an arrest of judgment, and now will come the fight for appeal.

United States Will Hold Aloof

Washington, May 8.—Save for an altruistic desire for the higher civilization and improvement of the races who inhabit the Balkan countries, the United States government, it is said by officials competent to speak for it, has little or no concern in the outcome of the present turmoil in that corner of Europe. Trade interests between the United States and the Balkans are not large comparatively and present no such direct interest as would justify our government in embroiling itself in Eastern European politics

Raphael in the Vatican.

The new exhibit at the Thomas Crane Public Library is Rome, No. 2, and comprises a list of 103 photographs of the work of Raphael, loaned by the Library Art Club. Raphael was summoned to Rome about 1508 by Pope Julius II., and commissioned to decorate four stanz or halls of the Vatican. Julius died in 1513, and was succeeded by Lewis X., under whom the work was continued, and extended to include the Loggie or galleries of the Vatican. Overwhelmed with work, Raphael often had time only to compose the cartoons, leaving to his scholars the work of tracing and painting them. This collection includes the four Stanze and the Loggie, with the great paintings by Raphael in the Picture Gallery of the Vatican.

Washington Street Sale.

The estate at No 65 and 67 Washington street known as the Sleeper house has been sold to The Atlantic Associates who buy for investment. Washington street land is in demand.

—Judge Robert O. Harris was unable to hold court at Brockton on Thursday and court was adjourned until Monday.

MANY VISITORS.

Rebekahs Entertain Newly Elected Assembly Officers and Others.

George L. Gill Rebekah lodge initiated four candidates at its meeting Thursday evening and the hall was none too large to accommodate the large number of members and visitors who gathered to witness the work. The exemplification by officers of the lodge was performed in the usual creditable manner and evoked many words of commendation from the visitors. After the work of the evening there were brief addresses by the grand officers and others. The evening closed with a supper and social hour.

The visitors included Mrs. Julia A. Burroughs the newly elected president of the Rebekah assembly and suite, viz: Mrs. Harriet Moody, warden; Mrs. Lucy Gadbold, marshal; Mrs. Helen Hutchings, conductor, and Miss Rena Chamberlin guardian.

Other visitors were Mrs. Elsie L. Robinson, past president; special deputy Miss Grace Mitchell and suite of East Weymouth, a party of seventy-five from Cresent Rebekah lodge of Dorchester, and delegations from Amana lodge of Braintree and Steadfast lodge of East Weymouth. The hall was prettily decorated with potted plants and pink and green crepe paper.

Submaster's Club.

The Submaster's club of Boston held its annual banquet at the Vendome Thursday evening, with a large attendance of members. The special guests were Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Miss Sarah L. Arnold, dean of Simmons college, and Miss Mary McSkimmon, principal of the Pierce school, Brookline. Music was furnished by Miss Sarah Belle Huff, contralto and the club quartet, consisting of Arthur A. Lincoln, A. B. Palmer, Joshua Q. Litchfield and William L. Bates. Miss Lucy Dean was the accompanist. The officers elected follow: Jason L. Curtis, president; Frank F. Courtney, vice president; William C. Crawford, secretary and treasurer. The reception committee comprised Arthur Stanley, James H. Burdett and Edgar L. Raub.

Sunday School Social.

Right after school Thursday afternoon the little ones began to gather in the chapel of First church for the Sunday school supper and social. Under the leadership of Miss Randall, superintendent of the school, the children were amused until half-past five when they formed in line for the grand march which ended in the dining room. At the tables were about one hundred and fifty, the kindergarteners being seated in little chairs at a long low table especially arranged for them. At this table were jam sandwiches in abundance, mugs of milk, cake and ice cream, while at the other tables there were hot rolls, cocoa, ham, sweet pickles, cake and ice cream.

After supper the little ones went to Colonial hall and enjoyed dancing until eight, after which there was dancing for the older ones in the school until ten. Mrs. Rideout at the piano played all the favorite pieces and responded generously to encores.

Camp Boyd Social.

A very enjoyable dancing party was held at Faxon hall Thursday evening under the auspices of John A. Boyd camp, Legion of Spanish War Veterans. The prime object of the party was not only to furnish an evening of enjoyment to their friends but to raise funds for the purchase of a stack of arms. Fifty couples participated. The floor was in charge of George A. Wardwell, who was assisted by George F. Phillips, George E. Adams, Harry Chase, John R. McGrath, John Fitzgerald and William J. Colligan.

President Hatch Reelected.

At the business meeting of the Men's Unitarian club of Wollaston held Tuesday in the vestry of the church the following committee were elected for the ensuing year:

President,—Walter M. Hatch.
Vice President,—Herbert J. Gurney.
Secretary,—Walter O. Parker.
Treasurer,—Walter E. Simmons, Jr.
Executive Committee,—The officers and Eugene H. Sprague, Frank P. Waterhouse, Frank W. Pratt.

Big Train of Worcester Salt.

Just two weeks ago last Monday a train of over one hundred cars left New York for New England loaded with Worcester Salt for the merchants in this city and other places. The train is due to arrive at Quincy today at 3.40 P. M. Full particulars in regard to the salt and the merchants who deal in it, will be found in another column.

Blaze at Barre, Vt.

The residence and barn of E. M. Lyon on Highland avenue, Barre, Vt., were burned Wednesday afternoon, and the adjoining residence of Edwin Carleton badly damaged. Lyon's lose is $2000; partially insured. Carleton's loss $1000; fully insured.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Fair and warmer Sunday.

Herman Keller of Walker street is ill with typhoid fever.

Miss Gertrude Thorn of Clive street is ill with scarlet fever.

The Assessors have nearly completed their work in Ward Two.

Probate court will be held in this city next Wednesday morning.

Quincy High vs Volkmann school at Merrymount park this afternoon.

Howard Whall of Webster street has rented his house for the summer.

The Sewerage Commissioners have asked for contracts for extending the mains to Quincy Point.

Joseph Clark of Squantum street is completing the excellent appearance of his grounds by a new fence.

C. F. Carlson, who has been in the hospital undergoing an operation, has returned home and is about his store again.

Adams Academy and Quincy High will meet on the diamond next Tuesday afternoon for the great game of the season.

A hearing relative to the sale of cider will be held at the State House next Tuesday by the Committee on Liquor Laws.

Penniman's stable is rather shut in. The railroad have built a fence on one side and now the city has built a fence on the other side.

The grounds about the Gridley Bryant school building have begun to look very attractive, and reflect great credit upon the janitor of the building.

Master Lucien H. Thayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Thayer of Willow street, Wollaston Park, who has been ill with pneumonia, is now convalescent.

The approach to City Square on Hancock street, from School street, appears to be cut off by the solid brick wall for the new building on the Briesler estate.

Letter Carrier John A. Welsh of Atlantic station will represent the Quincy carriers at the State Convention of Letter Carriers to be held in Boston, May 10.

Mrs. Lucy W. Chase, mother of Rev. Edward A. Chase, died at Wollaston May 7, aged 76 years, 9 mos. The funeral is from the Parsonage, Saturday at one o'clock, and is public.

While at work wireing a new house at Weymouth on Wednesday, Edwin S. Beckford had the misfortune to fall down a chimney hole into the cellar. He received injuries to his head and eye, but is not confined to the house.

The Ward Two People's Union will hold its next public meeting, on Tuesday evening, May 19, at 7.30 o'clock. The speaker of the evening will be Mr. F. E. Parlin, superintendent of the Quincy schools. The subject of his address will be announced later.

"Ye deestrick skule" will convene at the Park and Downs church next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, and promises to be an event of importance among the society folks of this burg. These exhibitions have lost none of their popularity as the years roll by.

Beginning with next week, the employees of the Fore River Ship and Engine Co. will have forty-five minutes for dinner and will quit work at 5.30 o'clock. They will then have Saturday afternoons off. The men have been patiently waiting for this.

Quincy Co-operative Bank.

The following officers have been elected for the ensuing year by the Quincy Cooperative bank.

President,—John F. Welch.
Vice President,—George H. Field.
Secretary and Treasurer,—Richard D. Chase.
Directors,—Andrew Milne, John H. Dinegan, Joseph W. Dennen, George W. Prescott, Henry O. Studley, Simeon Scammell, Elias A. Perkins, William S. Williams, Eben W. Sheppard, Horace E. Spear, John Harkins, Frank S. Patch, Daniel L. F. Chase, Frank W. Crane and John G. Roberts.
Auditors,—Horace B. Spear, Wilson Marsh and William T. Isaac.

TODAY'S COURT.

John Horan was fined $3 for drunkenness at Milton.

Fletcher G. Plummer of Holbrook was arraigned for rape. Case continued until May 22.

P. T. Ford was arraigned for drunkenness at Cohasset. Case continued until May 22.

MARRIED.

LOWE—MILNE—In Quincy, May 7, by Rev. Dr. James Todd, Mr. Ivers Milton Lowe of Weymouth to Miss Jessie A. Milne of Quincy.

DIED.

LEAVITT—In East Milton, May 6, Mr. William S. Leavitt of Willard street, aged 83 years.

DONAHOE—In Milton, May 7, Mr. Michael Donahoe, of Robbins street, aged 76 years.

HASTING—In South Weymouth, May 7, Mrs. Marion E., wife of Capt. C. W. Hastings.

BENNETT—In Braintree, May 7, Mrs. Emma S. Bennett, aged 47 years.

Springhood or SPRINGTIME

Is also Hoodtime, for it is the time of all times when

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is most needed,—the blood is impure, complexion bad, appetite lost, strength gone,—the whole system is upset by an accumulation of humors.

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla as a spring medicine and have found it an excellent blood purifier. It also cures disorders of the stomach." PAUL D. COOK, Springfield Center, N. Y.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine in the world for cleansing the blood. We have taken it in the spring for years. One bottle does wonders in putting new life in us when we are all run down." MRS. FRANK GROVER, Gray, Me.

"I used to be troubled with boils and carbuncles every spring, but since using a bottle or so of Hood's Sarsaparilla each spring I am relieved of these troubles. The medicine also strengthens my system." PEARSON L. TEXTER, Hagersville, Pa.

If There Is Constipation or Biliousness Hood's Pills Are Also Needed.

FLOWERS
AT VERY LOWEST PRICES.
MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.
63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works, Quincy Point.
FUNERAL DESIGNS A SPECIALTY.
P. GREEN, Proprietor
Telephone 64-5 Quincy.

REAL ESTATE.
Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.
JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder.
Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.
Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.
April 25. tf

Spring and Summer Shoes.
The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c, 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.
The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.
GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.
White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,
In a variety of Styles and Prices.
Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.
These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.
C. S. HUBBARD,
City Square, Quincy.

FREDERICK H. LORD,
TEACHER OF BANJO,
Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.
TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.
118 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 7. tf

ERIC G. BERGFORS,
Carpenter and Builder.
Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
10 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass
May7. 1m

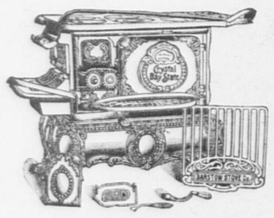

30 YEARS
In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.
15 YEARS IN QUINCY.
The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.
NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.
We attribute our success to three causes
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.
G. B BATES,
Plumbing and Heating Co.,
25 31 Saville Street, oppos te Quincy Depot.
Telephone Connection.
April 24 1-tf- p-1w

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.
THIS WEEK
COATS.
17
SILK LINED COVERT
Corset Coats
Made to sell for $10 00.
Saturday only, $5.98
Also a full line of Misses' and Children's Coats at very low prices.
D. E. Wadsworth & Co.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

King Arthur Flour.
THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.
Come and See It.
BARSTOW STOVE CO.,
55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.
GUY'S COLISEUM,
W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 17. 4w

BY A MAJORITY OF 417

Second Reading Is Given the Irish Land Bill

THE POLICY OF GLADSTONE

Is Recalled and Held to Be Justified —Compromise Likely to Be Reached in Committee on the Contested Points—Views of Wyndham

London, May 8.—The Irish land bill has passed its second reading in the house of commons by 443 votes to 26.

In winding up the debate, Mr. Wyndham made light of what he called the "bogey of home rule." In dealing with the act of 1881 he claimed it had created a strategic deadlock, and that now both parties in the struggle desired to bury the ancient feud.

He showed how baseless was the fear of a general repudiation of obligations. The best security was the unanimous desire of the whole people for a peasant proprietary, but the cash security was ample.

Mr. Wyndham said he could not go fully into the points and details which had been raised, but he intimated his intention of discussing the first clause, which lays down the zones of reduction, in counsel with members representing all interests of the house and not with any pre-determined view to pass it in its present shape.

An analysis of the division shows that all the Nationalists, the main body of the Ministerialists and almost all the Liberals voted with the majority. The minority consisted of the radical section of the Liberals, including Sir Charles Dilke and a couple of Unionists.

In the lobbies of the house Mr. Wyndham's speech was interpreted as meaning that the government is very willing to consider reasonable amendments to the bill.

That the great Irish and bill should have been introduced under a Unionist government and passed to its second reading by the huge majority of 417 is hailed by the Liberal newspapers this morning as a remarkable historical event, a "great conversion" and a momentous step in Irish emancipation. Gladstone's historic declaration in parliament: "The ebbing tide is with you and the flowing tide is with us," is recalled and his policy is held to be justified.

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's absence during the land bill discussions has been much remarked. Several Unionists abstained from voting yesterday. The attitude of the government throughout the debates has raised great hopes that a compromise will be reached in committee on the contested points, and that the bill eventually will be adopted.

A Terrible State of Affairs

Topeka, May 8.—Sensational disclosures were made here in the investigation of affairs in the Kansas insane asylum. A. M. Mason, a former attendant, appeared before the legislative committee and said that it was necessary to have all the new patients understand from the first that they must obey the attendants. For this purpose they were beaten into a condition of docility even before they had broken any rules.

Democrats Still In the Lead

Baltimore, May 8.—The board of election supervisors have recounted the ballots of six of the 24 wards. No material change was shown from the unofficial returns of Tuesday's municipal election, which gave McLane (Dem.) 500 majority for mayor over Wachter. On joint ballot the councils will stand 18 Democrats to 13 Republicans.

Low Vetoes Grab Bill

New York, May 8.—Mayor Low has vetoed the so-called "grab bill" recently passed by the legislature giving to the East River Gas company a franchise for the operation of a gas plant in Long Island City and the laying of pipes for the distribution of gas into Manhattan under the East river.

Nine Men Buried Under Rock

Roanoke, Va., May 8.—Nine men were killed and five others injured, three of them fatally, by a slide of rock in a tunnel on the Norfolk and Western railroad. There is no likelihood that the bodies can be recovered soon, as the rock will have to be dynamited and removed bit by bit.

Prince Mentally Disordered

Berlin, May 8.—Prince Prosper Von Arenberg, who was sentenced in 1900 to 15 years' imprisonment for savage cruelties while serving as an officer in German Southwest Africa, has been declared to be mentally disordered.

On the Diamond

At Brooklyn—National—Brooklyn, 12; Boston, 1.
At New York—National—New York, 8; Philadelphia, 4.
At Pittsburg—National—Cincinnati, 11; Pittsburg, 8.
At St. Louis—National—Chicago, 10; St. Louis, 1.
At Boston—American—Boston, 6; New York, 2.
At Chicago—American—Chicago, 4; St. Louis, 2.
At Cleveland—American—Cleveland, 6; Detroit, 5.
At Philadelphia—American—Philadelphia, 19; Washington, 5.
At Fall River—Fall River, 6; Manchester, 6; 12 innings.
At Nashua—Nashua, 2; Lawrence, 0.
At Haverhill—Haverhill, 8; Lawrence, 7.
At Brockton—Brockton, 5; Concord, 4.

MINISTER'S BRIDE.

Miss Louise H. Barbour and Rev. Randall T. Capen Married.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Thursday noon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Seymour Barbour, 101 Beach street, Wollaston Park, when their daughter, Miss Louise Huntley Barbour was united in marriage to Rev. Randall Thomas Capen of Wisconsin. The ceremony was performed beneath a large bell of maiden hair fern, by Rev. Dr. Thomas Barbour in the presence of relatives and friends.

The bride was becomingly gowned in white silk with point lace trimmings and tulle veil. She wore pearls and carried a bouquet of bride roses. The maid of honor, Miss Gertrude Barbour, sister of the bride, was attired in pink silk muslin and carried a bunch of apple blossoms. Mr. Edward Capen of Wollaston, brother of the groom served as best man.

The decorations consisted of apple blossoms and maiden hair ferns. At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served by Whittemore and Girard of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Capen departed on a short wedding trip and will be at home to their friends, after June the first, at 10 West Gilman street, Madison, Wisconsin.

To Be Superintendent.

The Rev. Dr. Todd announced last Sabbath to his church that he had accepted of the position of Superintendent of Presbyterian Missions in New England offered him by the Home Mission Board in New York and the Presbytery of Boston. The pulpit will be declared vacant on the last Sabbath of this month. Rev. Dr. Todd will preach on Sunday.

Broker Thayer Is Dead

Boston, May 8.—It was disclosed last night that Edward M. Thayer, a mining broker in this city, who was arrested on April 27 on the charge of forging several mortgages and mortgage notes, died very suddenly four days later at Hotel Lenox. The forgeries, it is claimed, amounted to several thousand dollars, and at the time of his death Thayer was out on bail pending an investigation. Physicians state that death was due to acute Bright's disease, coupled with congestion of the lungs.

Slugged With a Hatchet

Boston, May 8.—John Ficklin and an unknown man, both negroes, were brought to the City hospital last night from 4 Primus avenue, suffering from terrible cuts on their heads and necks, the result of a fight at the avove named house. The unknown man is in a dangerous condition and unable to give his version of the affair, while Ficklin's story is very vague. He simply says that when he went home he was met at the door by the unknown man and assaulted with a hatchet.

Lost Fisherman Rescued

Boston, May 8.—Steamer Protector brought two members of the crew of the French fishing vessel Cotes de Nord, who were picked up from an open dory on the Grand Banks on last Friday. Paul Niagen of Garone and Francois Pommelol of Guernsey are the men. A companion who was lost with them died from exposure a day before the rescue. The men strayed from their vessel in a fog. For three days and nights they were without food or water,

Madden Not to Be Freed

Greenfield, Mass., May 8.—District Attorney Malone, who was the prosecuting officer in the case, has written a letter to W. P. Wood, chairman of the Berkshire county commissioners, in which he declines to sign the application for the release of Euclid Madden, the motorman now serving a sentence for manslaughter in causing the death of William Craig, of President Roosevelt's bodyguard. He has returned the application to the commissioners.

Horse Plunged Through Gates

Worcester, Mass., May 8.—Harry McVail and C. N. Hapgood were probably fatally injured late last night when a train struck a carriage in which they were riding at the Plymouth street crossing. A woman saved her life by jumping. Eye witnesses say the horse was running away. The gates were smashed where the animal plunged through directly in front of the train.

Overhauling Constitution

Bristol, R. I., May 8.—The sloop Constitution, after having been refitted only a short time, has been stripped of a portion of her standing rigging in the harbor here, and before she enters the races which are to begin May 21 she will have a greatly changed and improved rig above decks.

☞Any one wishing a few rooms in the vicinity of Brewers corner, at very moderate rent, should read small ad in the To Let column.

Stitchers Wanted.
EXPERIENCED on Ladies' Wrappers. Wheeler & Wilson new machines of the latest improved tyle. Steady work the year round, and good pay. Also, help wanted to take work home. Apply to MRS. A. L. WILBUR, Tirrell Building, 1467 Hancock street, over Old Colony Laundry, Quincy.
May 2. 1po-tf

$3 Worth of Nursery Stock for $1.
IN Order to establish our trade with you, we will send you twelve McKinley Strawberries, six Columbian Raspberries, one Campbell Early Grape Vine four apple and four peach trees, standard varieties, all for one dollar. Do not fail to write for our wholesale catalogue. ROCHESTER & BRIGHTON NURSERIES, Rochester, N. Y. Feb. 25-10w

BOUNTY ON HEDGEHOGS

Paid by Maine Town Before New Law Became Operative

HUNTERS ASKED TO REFUND

Refused to Do So and Were Fined For Killing the Animals In Close Time—Turned Tables on Town Clerk by Having Him Fined Over $1000

Augusta, Me., May 8.—At the last session of the Maine legislature a law was passed placing a bounty of 25 cents a head on all hedgehogs killed within the several towns, the men who did the killing to present the forepaws and nose of the hedgehog to the town clerk and to certify in writing when and where the animal was shot.

No sooner had the act received the signature of the governor than the boys and men went to the woods to shoot hedgehogs and before April 24 a Maine town treasurer had honored orders for the slaying of 210 of these animals.

Then somebody discovered that the law was not operative until May 1, and that the bounties which had been paid were so much money thrown away, as the state would not pay for any hedgehogs slain before the act went into effect.

As the town clerk learned that he had blundered, he went to the men who had received bounties and asked them to refund the money, explaining how the case stood and begging for consideration.

The recipients of the bounty refused to give it back. Then the clerk looked up an old law, which inflicted a fine of $5 for killing hedgehogs between Oct. 1 and June 1, and the old law being operative until the new came into effect, he complained of the men who had killed hedgehogs in close time. A local justice fined them $5 and costs for every offense, so that for every 25 cents the hunters had received in bounties they were compelled to pay out $5 in fines and from $2 to $4 in costs.

After this the hunters began to study the old act for themselves. They found that in addition to a fine of $5 for killing hedgehogs in close time, the man who had any part of a dead hedgehog in his possession between Oct. 1 and June 1 was also liable to a fine of $5 and costs. As the town clerk had received the noses and front paws of 210 hedgehogs from the hunters and paid the bounties upon the same, there could be no doubt but that he had acted illegally by receiving evidence of guilt. So it was the clerk's turn to be arraigned before a trial justice. The justice found him guilty and fined him $1050 and added $62 as costs.

The clerk has taken an appeal and employed counsel to fight the case in the higher courts. It will be argued next October.

Others Might Have Saved Themselves

Halifax, May 8.—John Bischer, Frank Nickerson and Eugene Leblanc, the three survivors of the wrecked American fishing schooner Gloriana, arrived in Halifax last night. Bischer says that the other members of the crew who were lost had the same chance to escape as the survivors, but they took their time and put their oil clothes on and made no attempt to jump on the rocks before the vessel fell off into the sea.

Over a Hundred Moros Slain

Manila, May 8.—Captain Pershing's column has defeated the Sultan of Amparuganos' strong force of Moros in the Taraca country on the east shore of Lake Lanao, island of Mindanao. The Americans captured 10 forts. One hundred and fifteen Moros were killed, 13 were wounded and 60 were made prisoners. The Moros captured include the sultan. Two Americans were killed and seven were wounded.

Striking Italians Remain Out

New York, May 8.—Sweeping aside the pleading of Chevalier Branchi, their consul general, Port Warden March and officials of the Central Federated Union of Labor, 15,000 striking Italian laborers voted almost unanimously not to return to work in the city subway until they are assured of $2 for eight hours' work. This means that the arbitration agreement entered into is repudiated.

A Czolgosz Under Arrest

Los Angeles, Cal., May 8.—Acting under instructions from the secret service bureau at Washington the police arrested a man who is suspected of being one of four brothers of Czolgosz, the assassin of the late President McKinley. No charge has been lodged against him, the police simply detaining the man on suspicion until after the president shall have left Los Angeles.

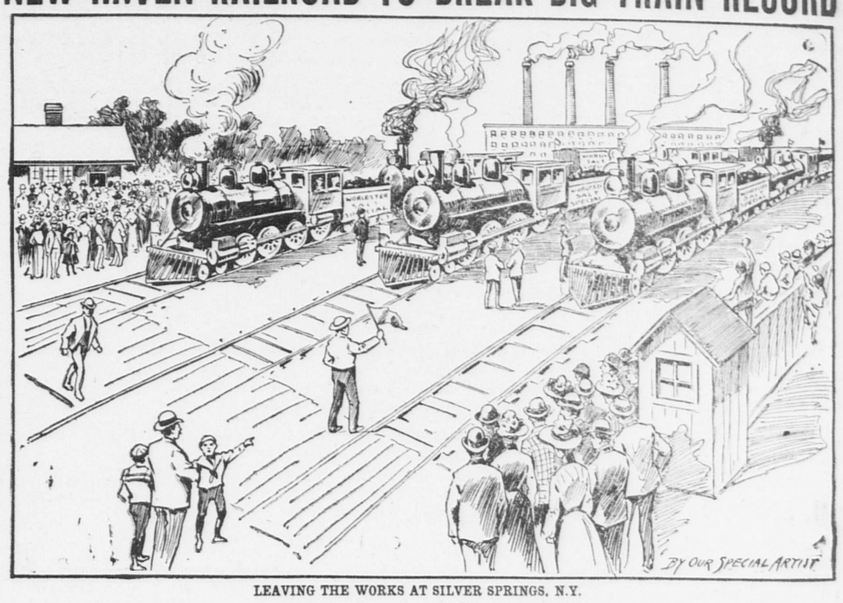

Venezuelan Negotiations Ended

Washington, May 8.—The Venezuelan protocols submitting the question of preferential treatment to The Hague tribunal and also protocols for the mixed commission at Caracas were signed at the British embassy last night by Minister Bowen, Ambassador Herbert, Minister Sternburg and Ambassador Meyer des Planches.

Warship Caught In Low Water

Washington, May 8.—Because of the rapid falling of the Mississippi river it may be necessary for the Arkansas to be relieved of some of her fittings in order to enable her to get to New Orleans in safety. The Arkansas draws 13 feet of water and is now anchored about 45 miles below St. Louis.

NEW HAVEN RAILROAD TO BREAK BIG TRAIN RECORD

LEAVING THE WORKS AT SILVER SPRINGS, N.Y.

Another Mile of Worcester Salt Leaves for New England—115 Carloads—Biggest Single Shipment Ever Made Over N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., Due at Quincy, Today, at 3.40 P. M.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE LEDGER]

The Great "Limited Express Freight" Leaves on Time — Runs over "Shore Line" on Regular Schedule—New "Erie" Cars all Decorated for the Occasion — Best Equipped and Most Unique Freight Train Ever Run in America—Souvenir Flags to be Distributed from Train en route.

SILVER SPRINGS, N. Y., May 4.—Just two weeks ago today a big train of 101 cars of Worcester Salt left for New England. The crowd that had assembled to see the start wondered how so much salt could ever be used. Some thought New England people must be pretty fresh. But this morning a still bigger train left for New England, and there was still greater amazement. Who on earth was going to eat all this salt?—two hundred and seventeen car-loads shipped within two weeks.

But the great train that left this morning was certainly a record breaker. The uninitiated thought the train might be hauled in one great section; but no coupler would hold such a load together. Soon six mammoth "Erie" locomotives were seen coming down the line from Buffalo, and under "double-headers" the train was split into three gigantic sections, each one of which was longer than the average freight train.

With the "Erie's" accustomed exactness, everything was ready for the start, scheduled at 5.30, the time most people are in bed. Not so this morning, however, for a tremendous crowd, extending from the head of the first section, at the depot, clear back to the salt works, was on hand with its cheers and good wishes to give the eighth Worcester Salt Special a proper send-off. At precisely 5.32 the signal was given, and with a puff and snort the big moguls on the first section started its s-line load towards the land of "wooden nutmegs" and "beans." Sections two and three (Old Colony Section) left at intervals of five minutes.

A brief description of the train itself is of more than ordinary interest.

The cars themselves are of the "Erie's" newest series, each of 60,000 pounds capacity, and of uniform size and color. All the cars are equipped with air brakes and automatic couplers, and can, therefore, be handled with the precision of a passenger train. Railroad officials have stated this train to be the most perfectly equipped and unique freight train ever run in this country. Each car will have fourteen banners on its sides, special flags on the top, and two signs showing the name of the consignee and destination.

The decoration of this train, which, by the way, is the most elaborate of any of the big salt trains, was no small job, requiring, as it did, a large crew of men, day and evening for over a week, and using up several kegs of nails and miles of wood—in strips—by which the banners were attached.

By far the most interesting part of the train, however, is its contents, some startling figures being shown.

In the cars are loaded 4,266,000 pounds of Worcester Salt to be used for table and cooking purposes. Most of this is packed in barrels in which small bags are packed, such as the housekeepers buy at their grocers. There are over 714,000 of these, or enough to fill a salt shaker, one time, for every man, woman, and child in the United States. The barrels it placed on top of each other would make a pile seven miles high, and the small bags if laid end to end would extend a distance of about one hundred miles. This vast quantity of salt was all manufactured and loaded into the cars in one week's time.

The salt itself is obtained by boring wells some 2,300 feet in depth until the rock salt under the earth is reached. Pure water is forced down the wells and the rock salt, after being dissolved is brought to the surface in the form of brine. This brine is boiled in specially constructed evaporating pans, which causes it to form into salt crystals, just as you see it on the table, and without any grinding or hauling whatever, which is the case with salt made by the ordinary method, and which salt, as most housekeepers know, not only gets very hard, but is not over clean. Thus has the method by which Worcester Salt is made practically revolutionized the salt business, and caused such a demand for this particular kind of salt as to necessitate its shipment in record-breaking trainloads.

The great train, which has probably reached Hornellsville, N. Y., while this article is being arranged for the wires, goes over the "Erie" to Weehawken, N. J., where it will be taken around New York harbor on big transfer steamers, each carrying 22 cars, to the Harlem River Yard of the New Haven R. R. Thursday morning at 6.30 the great trains, in two mammoth sections leave over the Shore Line Division for Providence, R. I. This run will be made in 12 hours—record time for a freight train, but, of course, the "Worcester Salt Special" is not an ordiary train.

It had been planned to ship the "Special" via Newburg, N. Y., and the old N. Y. & N. E. R. R., but Vice-President Merrill of the New Haven R. R., stated it to be impossible to handle such an enormous train over the Highland Division. It would have required at least eight engines to pull the train to Hartford, and brought all other traffic to a standstill for the day. It was therefore decided to send the "Special" over the Shore Line, although this route is not now used for this class of freight. A stop over night at Providence, and a run through Pawtucket, Attleboro and Taunton to Boston the day following, will complete the journey.

A special passenger coach will be attached to the first section for the convenience of members of the press, officials of the Worcester Salt Company and their guests, who will make the trip on the "Limited Express Freight." Harry W. Nash, New England Agent of the Company, accompanies the train from the works to Boston.

As large crowds are expected to view the train while passing through, it has been arranged to distribute souvenir flags from the train. Here is a chance the bright school boy will not be slow to avail himself of.

The contents of the train have been entirely sold to merchants in Southern New England, "Old Colony" section of Massachusetts and Boston, Mass., and cars will be dropped off for such parties en route.

The following dealers in Quincy have Worcester Salt coming in the big train:

Brown & Crowell.	Johnson Bros.,
A. F. Hayward,	J. W. Johnson,
G. G. Grant,	C. H. Brooks,
R. E. Foy & Co.,	G. F. Wilson,
J. P. Prout & Co.,	E. F. Gallagher,
F. Brewer,	Boynton & Russell,
A F. Hall,	C. H. Backus,
F. F. O'Reilly,	Rogers Bros.,

V. E. Miller.

MILTON.

The contest for the janitorship of the East Milton school has been settled by the appointment of Harry Brierly who has been employed as clerk in Christopher Graham's store for several years.

Commencing this week, East Milton stores will close Thursdays during the summer at noon.

The fire department was called out by an alarm from Box 31 at 7.59 last Saturday night for a brush fire on Pleasant street, near the Quincy line.

William S. Leavitt, one of East Milton's oldest residents passed away Wednesday. His death was due to old age. He was 84 years of age.

The comedy "Einer Muss Heiraten," and a march by thirty-two girls in costume, will be given at the Town Hall next Friday evening, to raise funds for the interior decoration of the High school building.

Boston Sunday Post.

The Boston Sunday Post is giving away trading stamps, the green kind, during the month of May, and more perhaps for the amount of the purchase than ever recorded in the history of the trading stamp era in the Bay State.

In every Sunday Post during the present month will appear a coupon which entitles the holder to 30 cents' worth of green stamps in return for an outlay of 3 cents, the price of paper.

"How does the Sunday Post do it?" is the common query, but the Post has not told the secret yet.

A big Sunday paper, with exclusive features news of the world, colored magazine supplement eight pages of fun, four in exquisite colors, Paris fashions, special articles by people of international reputation and a host of other attractions, together with 30 cents' worth of green trading stamps, all for 3 cents, marks a new and amazing departure in modern journalism.

It is safe to say that no paper besides the Sunday Post would have the courage to make and carry out such a contract with its thousands upon thousands of readers.

☞Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day,	25 cents
" " three days,	60 cents
" " one week,	75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

WANTED.

WANTED—In Quincy or vicinity, two Furnished Rooms by a married couple. Address "N.," Ledger Office.
May 8. 1t

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON.
Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Boy to make himself generally useful. Apply at once at No. 3 Granite street.
Quincy, May 7. 3t

WANTED—Work, housecleaning. Will go by day or week. Apply at 5 Wibird street, Quincy.
May 7. 3t

WANTED—An Experienced Girl for housework. Apply to MRS. LEWIS N. CURTIS, No. 15 Orchard Place, off Spear street. Quincy, May 7-tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

WANTED—Competent Granite Letterer at once. Good pay for a good man. W. F. COOK, Springfield, Mass. 4-6t

WANTED.

WANTED—Young Men to prepare for Government Positions. Fine Openings in all Departments. Good Salaries. Rapid Promotions. Examinations soon. Particulars Free. Inter-State Cor. Inst., Cedar Rapids, Ia.
April 27. lp-1m

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.—Yawl BRANT, 28-6 o. a., 9-0 beam, 3-0 draught, with centre board up; built by Leloise in 1898. This boat is well known along the coast as a safe and handy cruiser, is easily handled, and is in perfect condition, well found in everything needed for comfort and safety. Now at her moorings off the Wollaston Yacht Club house and ready for sea. J. A. FENNO, 538 Hancock street.
Wollaston, May 4. tf

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve [12] rooms with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office.
April 28. tf

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street.
Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

TO LET.

TO LET—Dining Room, Kitchen and Bed Room for light housekeeping. Also Side Rooms at moderate prices. Bara for $4 per month. Apply Greenleaf street, corner Hancock street. Quincy, May 8-tf

TO LET—3 or 4 Sunny Chambers in vicinity of Brewers Corner, suitable for light housekeeping. Rent reasonable to right people. Address K., care Ledger Office.
Quincy, May 7. 3t

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet, 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street.
Quincy, April 21. tf

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.
Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

JOB PRINTING
AT THE
PATRIOT OFFICE

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction. . . . . PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,

3 High Street, Cor. Summer,

BOSTON, MASS

Three minutes from South Station.

King Arthur Flour

MAKES THE

BEST BREAD.

SOLD BY

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. 1p-2mos.

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

ard off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy

Jan. 7. tf

SMOKE THE

COVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Fille and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, PRES

April 9-1m 11-1m

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK
A SPECIALTY.

Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.

Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

Address, 1262 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.

Quincy, April 10. tf1p

Reupholstering

OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE

HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED

And Made Over.

Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.

Call and get Prices.

C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.

Quincy, May 2. 1m

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers.

GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.

Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.

Quincy, April 7. tf

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE

HAS OPENED AN

Employment Office

At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.

Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

W. G. CHUBBUCK

Furniture and Piano Mover

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.

Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

1p-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

FULL STOCK

—OF—

HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,

—AT—

Brooks' Market,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 25. tf

LEDGER ADVERTISEMENTS PAY BEST

When Knighthood Was In Flower

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By Edwin Caskoden [Charles Major]

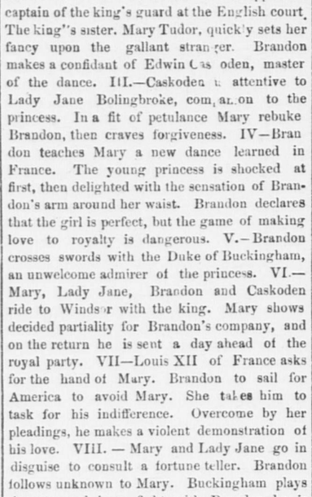

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I and II.—Charles Brandon kills a duelist on the field of honor and is appointed captain of the king's guard at the English court. The king's sister, Mary Tudor, quickly sets her fancy upon the gallant stranger. Brandon makes a confidant of Edwin Caskoden, master of the dance. III.—Caskoden is attentive to Lady Jane Bolingbroke, companion to the princess. In a fit of petulance Mary rebukes Brandon, then craves forgiveness. IV—Brandon teaches Mary a new dance learned in France. The young princess is shocked at first, then delighted with the sensation of Brandon's arm around her waist. Brandon declares that the girl is perfect, but the game of making love to royalty is dangerous. V.—Brandon crosses swords with the Duke of Buckingham, an unwelcome admirer of the princess. VI.—Mary, Lady Jane, Brandon and Caskoden ride to Windsor with the king. Mary shows decided partiality for Brandon's company, and on the return he is sent a day ahead of the royal party. VII—Louis XII of France asks for the hand of Mary. Brandon to sail for America to avoid Mary. She takes him to task for his indifference. Overcome by her pleadings, he makes a violent demonstration of his love. VIII. — Mary and Lady Jane go in disguise to consult a fortune teller. Brandon follows unknown to Mary. Buckingham plays the spy, and in a fight with Brandon he is wounded and two of his suit killed. IX.—Brandon in prison charged with murder. Mary to plead with the King. Buckingham against the prisoner. The king discovers a note sent by Mary to Brandon. Brandon condemned to death. The king learns that Brandon saved Mary from disgrace and orders his release. Brandon now madly in love with Mary. XI—Ambassadors of the French king come to England to court Mary for their aged sovereign. The girl spurns them in a highly dramatic scene. The betrothal made by King Henry. Mary kept in ignorance of Brandon's imprisonment. She supposed he had sailed for America. XII—Mary explains to Brandon her neglect when he lay in prison. Bitter words followed by betrothal. Brandon dismissed from court. XIII.—Mary flatly refuses to wed the old French king. Brandon accuses Buckingham of having attempted to abduct Mary. King Henry angry with Brandon. XIV and XV—The kings learns of love trysts between Mary and Brandon. Brandon's life in danger. He secures passage to America. Mary insists upon going along in man's disguise.

CHAPTER XVI—[Continued.]

Soon the princess was out of sight, and I waited for the others to overtake me. When they came up, I was greeted in chorus, "Where is the princess?" I said she had gone off with her hawk and had left me to bring them after her. I held them talking while I could, and when we started to follow took up the wrong scent. A short ride made this apparent, when I came in for my full share of abuse and ridicule, for I had led them against their judgment. I was credited with being a blockhead, when, in fact, they were the dupes.

She flew her bird and galloped after it.

We rode hurriedly back to the point of Mary's departure and wound our horns lustily, but my object had been accomplished, and I knew that within twenty minutes from the time I last saw her she would be with Brandon on the road to Bristol, gaining on any pursuit we could make at the rate of three miles for two. We scoured the forest far and near, but of course found no trace. After a time rain set in and one of the gentlemen escorted the ladies home, while three of us remained to prowl about the woods and roads all night in a soaking drizzle. The task was tiresome enough for me, as it lacked motive, and when we rode into Berkeley castle next day a sorrier set of bedraggled, rain stained, mud covered knights you never saw. You may know the castle was wild with excitement. There were all sorts of conjectures, but soon we unanimously concluded it had been the work of highwaymen, of whom the country was full and by whom the princess had certainly been abducted.

The chaperons forgot their gout and each other, and Jane, who was the most affected of all, had a genuine excuse for giving vent to her grief and went to bed—by far the safest place for her.

What was to be done? First, we sent a message to the king, who would probably have us all flayed alive, a fear which the chaperons shared to the fullest extent. Next, an armed party rode back to look again for Mary and, if possible, rescue her.

The fact that I had been out the entire night in which I was held for deeds of arms, excused me from taking part in this bootless errand, so again I profited by the small esteem in which I was held. I say I profited, for I stayed at the castle with Jane, hoping to find my opportunity in the absence of everybody else. All the ladies but Jane had ridden out, and the knights who had been with me scouring the forest were sleeping, since they had not my incentive to remain awake. They had no message to deliver, no duty to perform for an absent friend. A thousand! Only think of it! I wished it had been a million, and so faithful was I to my trust that I swore in my soul I would deliver them, every one.

And Jane loved me! No more walking on the hard, prosaic earth now. From this time forth I would fly; that was the only sensible method of locomotion. Mary had said, "She told me so." Could it really be true? You will at once see what an advantage this bit of information was to me.

I hoped that Jane would wish to see me to talk over Mary's escape; so I sent word to her that I was waiting, and she quickly enough recovered her health and came down. I suggested that we walk out to a secluded little summer house by the river, and Jane was willing. Ah, my opportunity was here at last!

Jane's whole attitude toward me was changed, and she seemed to cling to me in a shy, unconscious manner, that was sweet beyond the meaning, as the one solace for all her grief.

After I had answered all her questions and had told her over and over again every detail of Mary's flight and had assured her that the princess was at that hour breasting the waves with Brandon on their highroad to paradise, I thought it time to start myself in the same direction and to say a word in my own behalf. So I spoke very freely and told Jane what I felt and what I wanted.

"Oh, Sir Edwin," she responded, "let us not think of anything but my mistress. Think of the trouble she is in."

"No, no, Jane. Lady Mary is out of her trouble by now and is as happy as a lark, you may be sure. Has she not won everything her heart longed for? Then let us make our own paradise, since we have helped them make theirs. You have it, Jane, just within your lips. Speak the word, and it will change everything, if you love me, and I know you do."

Jane's head was bowed, and she remained silent.

Then I told her of Lady Mary's message and begged, if she would not speak in words what I so longed to hear, she would at least tell it by allowing me to deliver only one little thousandth part of the message Mary had sent, but she drew away and said she would return to the castle if I continued to behave in that manner. I begged hard and tried to argue the point, but logic seems to lose its force in such a situation, and all I said availed nothing. Jane was obdurate and was for going back at once. Her persistence was beginning to look like obstinacy, and I soon grew so angry that I asked no permission, but delivered Mary's message, or a good part of it at least, whether she would or no, and then sat back and asked her what she was going to do about it.

Poor little Jane thought she was undone for life. She sat there half pouting, half weeping, and said she could do nothing about it; that she was alone now, and if I, her only friend, would treat her that way she did not know where to look.

—William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., seems to have made all possible haste in going to call upon Mr. Vanderbilt, Sr., and his new wife. The flight of his automobile from Paris to Poissy was only eclipsed by the speed with which the cable has informed an anxious American public that William, Jr., is really quite pleased with the marriage. But unfortunately hardly have these tidings been digested when we learn that a London minister declares that the church doors were not open during the ceremony and are thrown into amazed conjecture as to how the bridal party got in.—Boston Budget.

THIN PEOPLE want to get fat want to get [illegible] than nature. If you are fat don't take Scott's Emulsion. It will make you gain flesh. If you are thin Scott's Emulsion is just what you need.

It is one of the greatest flesh producers known. Not temporary gains but healthy, solid flesh that will fill out the body where it is needed.

There's nothing better than Scott's Emulsion for weakness and wasting.

Scott's Emulsion is a food-medicine; not a stimulant; not a mere "extract" or so-called "wine" of cod liver oil. It contains the whole oil perfectly emulsified, which is the only way of preserving its valuable properties.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

—Where to [illegible]? I demanded. "Look here, Jane; here [illegible] You might as well understand first as last that I will not be trifled with longer, and that I intend to continue treating you that way as long as we both live. I have determined not to permit you to behave as you have for so long, for I know you love me. You have half told me so a dozen times, and even your half words are whole truths. There is not a fraction of a lie in you. Besides, Mary told me that you told her so."

"She did not tell you that?"

"Yes, upon my knightly honor." Of course there was but one answer to this—tears. I then brought the battle to close quarters at once, and, with my arm uninterrupted at my lady's waist, asked:

"Did you not tell her so? I know you will speak nothing but the truth. Did you not tell her? Answer me, Jane." The head nodded as she whispered behind the hands that covered her face.

"—I—d-did," and I—well, I delivered the rest of Mary's message, and that, too, without a protest from Jane.

Truthfulness is a pretty good thing, after all.

So Jane was conquered at last, and I heaved a sigh as the battle ended, for it had been a long, hard struggle.

I asked Jane when we should be married, but she said she could not think of that now—not until she knew that Mary was safe, but she would promise to be my wife some time.

We went back to the castle, and as we parted Jane said timidly: "I am glad I told you, Edwin. Glad it is over."

She had evidently dreaded it, but—I was glad too. Very glad. Then I went to bed.

[To be Continued.]

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it." says C. P. Ravder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

NEWS IN BRIEF

By the probating of the will of Mrs. Phoebe R. Sturtevant of Boston, who recently died, a large number of public bequests are made available. Among these is $150,000 for Hebron academy.

The state department announces the appointment of Hamilton King of Michigan as envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Siam.

William P. Prescott, for 38 years chief stage mechanic of the Boston theatre, is dead, aged 74.

A freight on the Illinois Central was derailed near Morganfield, Ky., and the engineer, fireman and flagman were killed.

Walter Duffett, Jr., of Portland, Me., has been appointed a national bank examiner in place of C. P. Hatch, resigned.

Secretary Martzell of the McKinley Memorial association has received a check for $600 from the superintendents and clerks in the Boston postoffice and branches. Over 600 persons contributed.

The body of W. J. Farrell of East Norton, Mass., was found on the railroad tracks at Ironstone Crossing. A train had passed over the body.

Alleged Evasion of Revenue

New York, May 8.—Captain Hart of the brig Accacia was arrested on board his vessel on the charge of having secretly removed from his ship 72 cases of imported gin, which had been rebonded for shipment to a foreign country, and scattered it in this city. The duty on the 72 cases amounted to $972. Hart's bail was fixed at $5000 and it was furnished by the importer.

Saginaw Menaces Navigation

Baltimore, May 8.—Captain Charles of the steamer Marna Hatta, from New York, reports that he examined the wreck of the steamer Saginaw, which was sunk in a collision with the Hamilton on Monday night, and that it is very dangerous to navigation. The wreck lies in 15 fathoms of water and is in the track of the coasting trade.

Bell to Visit Hub

[illegible], May 8.—Both branches of [illegible] council have passed a resolution permitting the taking of the Old Liberty Bell to Boston on the occasion of the 128th anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill, June 17. A special committee of the council will accompany the revolutionary relic.

Balkan Situation Clearing

Vienna, May 8.—A decidedly optimistic feeling prevails in official circles here regarding the relations between Turkey and Bulgaria, which are declared to have greatly improved within the last 24 hours. The probability of war between the two countries is now considered slight.

Motor Car Ran Into Train

Moultrie, Ga., May 8.—M. J. Pearsall, solicitor of the city court, and Dr. Frank Daniel, physician for the Georgia Northern railway, were killed by Dr. Daniel's motor car colliding with a log train. It was raining and their umbrellas hid the train from view.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Saturday, May 9.
Sun rises—4:31; sets—6:51.
Moon sets—3:30 a. m.
High water—9:45 a. m.; 10 p. m.

The western area of high pressure has advanced to the lake region and dominates the weather over the northeastern part of the country. It will be fair in New England.

The oldest, safest, strongest, Sarsaparilla you can buy

"I remember well when I first used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, nearly 60 years ago. I was thin, pale, weak, tired all the time, no appetite, could not play as the other boys did.

"Since then I have taken it many times, especially when overworked, tired out, or nervously depressed. Now, all my children and their children use it. As a medicine for the whole family it has no equal.

"I long ago learned the first great rule of health—keep the bowels regular—so I am never without Ayer's Pills." J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON

Quincy, April 23. tf

PLASMON COCOA

55 Per Cent. Plasmon

Has become a family favorite No wonder! It is so far superior in nutrition to ordinary cocoas. A short trial convinces.

Ask your grocer or druggist for it. In cans, 15cts. and 25cts.

Plasmon is the extracted nutriment of pure, sweet milk. A scientific process fits it for use with other foods. One teaspoonful of Plasmon is equivalent to an ordinary beefsteak.

Plasmon Co. of America
Centennial Building,
New York.

(Literature mailed free for the asking.)

Plasmon, 15c. and 50c.; Plasmon Biscuits, 20c and 35c. per tin; Plasmon Chocolate, 5c. and 10c. per cake.

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS,

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.

April 30. 1m

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

ember well when I first er's Sarsaparilla, nearly
ago. I was thin, pale,
d all the time, no appetite,
play as the other boys did.
then I have taken it many specially when overired out, or nervously de-Now, all my children and dren use it. As a mediequal.
e of health—keep the bower's Pills." J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

HE MINES.
OF Stove.
Egg.
Stove.
Egg. g.
Nut.
& SON
tf

COCOA Cent. Plasmon
e a family favorite
! It is so far su-trition to ordinary short trial con-

smon Co. of America
Centennial Building,
New York.
(Literature mailed free for the asking.)
Biscuits, 20c and 35c. per and 10c. per cake.

INCTIME
f Love." Yes, and to thoughts of attention to my stock of LES.
ke or makes. I carry the following:
LAND, DAY AND FAY;
00 watt and I will get it for you at ncy, but my place continues to be the BLE."

ILLIS,
all Block, Quincy, Mass.
1m

FORD.
Gas Fitting,
ttended To.
LY GIVEN.
Chestnut Street. F. F
ne Number, 122-2.
tf

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 109. QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

FREDERICK H. LORD,
TEACHER OF BANJO,
Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.
TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.
118 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 7. tf

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, PRES.
April 9-2m 11-2m

King Arthur Flour.
Sold in Quincy by
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.
THIS WEEK
COATS.
17
SILK LINED COVERT
Corset Coats
Made to sell for $10.00.
Saturday only, $5.98
Also a full line of Misses' and Children's Coats at very low prices.
D. E. Wadsworth & Co.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. lp-tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1-1y- p-6mos.

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pinel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

King Arthur Flour
MAKES THE
BEST BREAD.
SOLD BY
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

The Quincy Ledger
FOR SALE AT THE
South Terminal Station News Stand
After 3.35 P. M.

Glenwood Ranges
Make Cooking Easy.
H. L. KINCAIDE & CO., QUINCY, MASS.

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat.

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.
Quincy, May 9. 1m

Are You Looking for a Home?
Would You Like to Make Some Money?
Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at
BIGELOW PARK.
The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.
SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.
May 2. tf

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,
In a variety of Styles and Prices.
Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.
These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.
C. S. HUBBARD,
City Square, Quincy.

Spring and Summer Shoes.
The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.
The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.
GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

RICHARDS & MACOMBER,
PAINTERS and DECORATORS.
Whitewashing a Specialty. Sign Painting, Graining, Kalsomining, Glazing.
Interior and Exterior House Painting. WE EMPLOY SKILLED WORKMEN ONL
Drop us a postal and we will call at your residence and estimate your work.
Office and Shop, 31 SAVILLE ST.,
Bates' Block, Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, April 11. Sat., Tues., Thur. 6w

The Social Realm.

Budding in April to blossom in May,
Tiny pink apple buds bend o'er the way.
Drifting a sweetness, blown far by the wind,
Into my window their perfumes I find.
Everywhere blossoms so silently tell
Summer is coming far up through the dell;
Beatiful May time, with blossoms and flowers
To brighten the world and gladden the hours.
LOUISE LEWIN MATTHEWS.

* * *

Mrs. Charles M. Bryant is to give a lawn party in June at her beautiful place on Wollaston avenue, for the benefit of the Day Nursery.

* * *

Plans for the celebrating of Flag day on June 13, were discussed at the meeting of Adams Chapter at the John Adams birthplace on Monday afternoon. Recently the grounds about the house have been beautified by setting out trees and shrubbery, and now a large flag pole is to be erected on the lawn, and Flag day fittingly observed by a flag raising, with music, speeches and especially invited guests. Adams chapter is one of the most active in the society of the Daughters of the Revolution and their work in caring for the John Adams birthplace has been of great benefit to Quincy.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Burke are settled in the Durgin house on Woodward avenue, moving in last Saturday.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Francis Murphy, nee White, whose wedding was the most brilliant of the early spring weddings at West Quincy, have returned from their wedding trip and will be at home to their friends after May fifteenth at 19 Fredericka street, Ashmont.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Turner of Warren avenue have gone to Laurel Lake, N. H. for a few weeks' vacation.

* * *

The wedding of Miss Anna Goodridge and Mr. William Gardner Spear is announced to take place in a few weeks. It is said they are to make their home in Hingham.

* * *

Mr. Horace F. Bates has gone to Groton, Mass. for a few weeks.

* * *

Mrs. Francis L. Hayward who recently sold her place on Mill street to Mr. James F. Harlow has purchased the Thomas Bailey Aldrich estate at Ponkapoag, Canton; an old vine covered country place around which will linger for years to come the memory of verse and prose so delightfully written there by Mr. Aldrich.

* * *

The Smart Set whist club will meet with Miss Grace Batson of Quincy, May 16, for a final good time.

* * *

On Tuesday evening, by invitation of Miss Susie Avery about forty of her young friends and associates assembled at her home at East Braintree to celebrate her fifteenth birthday. Music, games, dancing, and a dainty lunch hastened the hours all too soon and at 11 o'clock the young people bade her goodnight leaving many little tokens of remembrance.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hicks of South Central avenue left Friday morning for Burlington, Vermont.

* * *

Rev. and Mrs. Edmund D. Webber, of the Wollaston Baptist church, are at home to their friends, Wednesday afternoons during the month of May at their home 68 Winthrop avenue, Wollaston.

* * *

Mrs. S. DeWolf Gamwell of Westfield Mass., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Rummell at Hotel Greenleaf.

* * *

Judge E. G. Pratt, Mrs. Pratt and Miss Hattie B. Pierce, leave today for New York where they are to spend a week. Mrs. Pratt and Miss Pierce representing Adams Chapter, at the annual convention of the Daughters of the Revolution.

* * *

The Philergians will hold their next meeting Tuesday, May 12 with Miss Wilde at the home of Mrs. O. W. Allen. at Braintree. The subject for the afternoon will be poetry—in charge of the history and literature committee.

* * *

Mrs. C. Morton Packard and daughter of Abington are guests of Quincy friends.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. E. Newton Thayer of Holbrook, who have a summer cottage at Great Hill, have returned from California, where they spent the winter.

Mr. James Joss will leave on Monday for Los Angeles to attend the general assembly of the Presbyterian church as one of the delegates of the Boston presbytery. He will be gone about six weeks.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Willard of the Quincy Mansion school give a reception for the senior class, next Wednesday evening from eight until eleven.

* * *

Miss Eliza Crane, who now makes her home at North Weymouth, left Wednesday for Dover Plains, N. Y., where she is to spend a few months with her brother's family.

* * *

Mrs. W. G. Robertson of Concord, N. H., was one of the passengers on the Colonial Express Saturday morning. She will visit Baltimore, Washington and her son S. B. Robertson at Pittsburgh, Pa.

* * *

Civil Engineer H. L. White, Manager A. G. Ledwith, J.J. Hammors, Ph.G., and Dr. Clayton Marstin leave Sunday for St. Johns, New Brunswick, and other places in that section for pleasure and business. They will return the latter part of the week.

* * *

E. Aubrey Hunt sailed today on tue Devonian from Boston for England, after a visit of several months with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hunt, of Weymouth.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bishop, nee MacLeod, who were married late in April, receive their friends after the fifteenth at 143 Federal avenue, Quincy Adams.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John Halleran, who have been visiting Mrs. Hallerans, mother, Mrs. Kelley of Billings street, leave Friday for Toledo, where they will make their future home.

* * *

A vaudeville entertainment is being arranged for the benefit of the Wollaston Unitarian church, and will be given in the vestry next Tuesday evening.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Spooner of Revere road are at Marion for two or three days.

* * *

Rev. Jesse Wagner and Mrs. Wagner have given up their Wollaston home. Tuesday the household effects were moved to Waltham. During their residence in Wollaston the Wagners have made many friends who are sorry to have them depart.

* * *

Mrs. J. H. Rummell, who has been out of town several weeks returned last week to The Greenleaf, her mother coming with her for a visit.

* * *

Mrs. George Pawsey and Miss Ella A. Wheble attended the seventeenth anniversary of Electa Chapter, Eastern Star, Wednesday evening, May 6, at Waltham as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gidley, nee Miss Rose Littlefield of this city.

* * *

Dr. Clayton Marstin leaves tomorrow on a few day's pleasure and business trip to St. Johns, New Brunswick.

* * *

Miss Florence Howe of Bigelow street is home to spend Sunday.

* * *

The lovely picture on the cover of The Suburban, a Boston magazine, is of Miss Grace B. Faxon, of Danvers, daughter of the late George Faxon of Quincy. Miss Faxon is one of the literary editors of the magazine. She has done good work in New York and is a promising young writer.

* * *

Mrs. Crathern of Braintree left for New York, Tuesday evening, to meet Mrs. Tarbell and Mrs, Sprague. Mrs. Crathern will remain a few days.

* * *

Twenty or more ladies attended the Mothers' meeting, held at Bethany chapel Wednesday afternoon. They were delightfully entertained by a bright, original paper on "Spring Pastimes" by Mrs. V. E. Miller, with short selections read by Mrs. Arthur Hall and Mrs. Charles Sampson. Vocal solos by Miss Ellsworth of Russell park, and the recitation of Spring Thoughts from Celia Thaxter, by Mrs. Davis added much to the pleasure of the afternoon.

* * *

Mrs. Frank Coolidge and children are guests of Randolph relatives.

BISHOP LAWRENCE.

Lays Corner Stone of New Episcopal Church at East Milton.

The corner stone of the new church home of the Episcopal Mission of Our Saviour, was laid with impressive ceremonies yesterday afternoon at East Milton in the presence of a large gathering of clergy, friends and parishioners of the church.

The ceremony took place at 5 o'clock. At that hour the children of the Sunday School formed at Ellsworth hall and headed by Bishop Lawrence, Archdeacons Babcock and Prescott, Rev. Theodore I. Reese, Rev. John McGann, and the executive committee, marched to the site of the new church, chanting a hymn as they marched.

Other clergymen present were, Rev. William E. Gardner and Rev. Carleton P. Mills of Quincy, Rev. Hutchinson of Boston, Rev. A. H. Mulnix of the East Milton Congregational church and Rev. George W. Whitehouse of the East Milton Baptist church.

The exercises were brief and were as follows: Responsive reading by the Bishop and officiating clergy; reading of the creed, Lord's Prayer and collects by the Bishop; reading of the Scriptures by Archdeacon Babcock; announcement of deposits in the corner stone by Rev. Mr. Reese; Lay of the corner stone, address and benediction by the Bishop.

The address of Bishop Lawrence was brief. He outlined the history of the mission, its growth and the loyalty of the people, and congratulated them on the work they had done. This work not only represents the work that has gone into the cellar but the life that has gone into the upbuilding of the church. You have brought to this community something the community has never had, and the spirit you are giving is to give a certain kind of push such as it never has had before. He then briefly spoke of what the corner stone meant, and in closing said the church is going to stand for people of every day life and to the whole community.

The children then marched back to Ellsworth hall where a reception was given to the Bishop until 7 o'clock, at which hour the clergy and executive committee dined at the Granite House.

In the evening at 8 o'clock Bishop Lawrence administered the rite of confirmation to twenty candidates, and delivered an address.

The new church is located on the corner of Adams and Babcock streets, with a frontage of thirty feet on Adams street and sixty feet on Babcock street, with entrance from the latter street. The building will be of granite and pebble stone. The seating capacity will be 200 and there are plans for future enlargement, which will include a stone tower and double the seating capacity.

The corner stone is of granite and is in the north-east corner on its face are the letters "A. D. MDCCCCIII."

The first service in East Milton was held Oct. 24, 1897. Land was purchased for the new church March 11, 1901; paid for on Oct. 1, 1902; ground broken for the church, April 13, 1903.

It is of interest to note that this is the second corner stone of an Episcopal church to be laid in Milton inside of four years.

MUSIC HALL CASE.

Blandin Pleads Guilty and Other Defendants are Discharged.

The three parties who, it is alleged, were selling liquor outside of Music hall on the night of the ball of the street railway employes, contributed $50 to the court this morning. This sum probably represents more than the profits of the transaction.

Walter A. Blandin was the first party arrested for the offense, and he pleaded not guilty and the case was continued until this morning for a hearing.

When the case was called it was learned Inspector McKay also had warrants against William Ellard and Edmund D. Henry, who it is alleged were in with Blendin on the night in question.

The cases were disposed of by Blandin pleading guilty and paying a fine of $50, which was contributed by the three men interested. The cases against Henry and Ellerd were then dismissed.

—The Massachusetts Senate has finally voted unanimously to investigate the charges of Senator George J. Raymond against members.

—The French residents of Burlington, Vt., will erect a monument in that city to Champlain, the explorer.

—The Historical Society of Weymouth has charge of the Old Home Week celebration in that town.

When Knighthood Was In Flower

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By Edwin Caskoden [Charles Major]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

This story began in the Daily Ledger of Monday, March 16, and will be continued daily until completed.

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I and II.—Charles Brandon kills a duelist on the field of honor and is appointed captain of the king's guard at the English court The king's sister, Mary Tudor, quickly sets her fancy upon the gallant stranger. Brandon makes a confidant of Edwin Caskoden, master of the dance. III.—Caskoden attentive to Lady Jane Bolingbroke, commands on to the princess. In a fit of petulance Mary rebukes Brandon, then craves forgiveness. IV—Brandon teaches Mary a new dance learned in France. The young princess is shocked at first, then delighted with the sensation of Brandon's arm around her waist. Brandon declares that the girl is perfect, but the game of making love to royalty is dangerous. V.—Brandon crosses swords with the Duke of Buckingham, an unwelcome admirer of the princess. VI.—Mary, Lady Jane, Brandon and Caskoden ride to Windsor with the king. Mary shows decided partiality for Brandon's company, and on the return he is sent a day ahead of the royal party. VII—Louis XII of France asks for the hand of Mary. Brandon to sail for America to avoid Mary. She takes him to task for his indifference. Overcome by her pleadings, he makes a violent demonstration of his love. VIII.—Mary and Lady Jane go in disguise to consult a fortune teller. Brandon follows unknown to Mary. Buckingham plays the spy, and in a fight with Brandon he is wounded and two of his suit killed. IX.—Brandon in prison charged with murder. Mary to plead with the King. Buckingham against the prisoner. The king discovers a note sent by Mary to Brandon. Brandon condemned to death. The king learns that Brandon saved Mary from disgrace and orders his release. Brandon now madly in love with Mary. XI—Ambassadors of the French king come to England to court Mary for their aged sovereign The girl spurns them in a highly dramatic scene. The betrothal made by King Henry. Mary kept in ignorance of Brandon's imprisonment. She supposed he had sailed for America. XII—Mary explains to Brandon her neglect when he lay in prison. Bitter words followed by betrothal. Brandon dismissed from court. XIII.—Mary lastly refuses to wed the old French king. Brandon accuses Buckingham of having attempted to abduct Mary. King Henry angry with Brandon. XIV and XV—The kings learns of love trysts between Mary and Brandon. Brandon's life in danger. He secures passage to America Mary insists upon going along in man's disguise. XVII.—Mary escapes from her chaperons during a hunt and rides to meet Brandon. Caskoden still wooing Lady Jane.

CHAPTER XVII.

THE ELOPEMENT.

WHATEVER the king might think, I knew Lord Wolsey would quickly enough guess the truth when he heard that the princess was missing, and would have a party in pursuit. The runaways, however, would have at least twenty-four hours the start, and a ship leaves no tracks. When Mary left me, she was perhaps two-thirds of a league from the rendezvous, and night was rapidly falling. As her road lay through a dense forest all the way she would have a dark, lonely ride of a few minutes, and I was somewhat uneasy for that part of the journey. It had been agreed that if everything was all right at the rendezvous Mary should turn loose her horse, which had always been stabled at Berkeley castle and would quickly trot home. To further emphasize her safety a thread would be tied in his forelock. The horse took his time in returning and did not arrive until the second morning after the flight, but when he came I found the thread and, unobserved, removed it. I quickly took it to JANE, who has it yet and cherishes it for the mute message of comfort it brought her. In case the horse should not return I was to find a token in a hollow tree near the place of meeting, but the thread in the forelock told us our friends had found each other.

When we left the castle, Mary wore under her riding habit a suit of man's attire, and as we rode along she would shrug her shoulders and laugh as if it were a huge joke and by the most comical little pantomime call my attention to her unusual bulk. So when she found Brandon the only change necessary to make a man of her was to throw off the riding habit and pull on the jack boots and slouch hat, both of which Brandon had with him.

They wasted no time, you may be sure, and were soon under way. In a few minutes they picked up the two Bristol men who were to accompany them, and when night had fairly fallen left the bypaths and took to the main road leading from London to Bath and Bristol. The road was a fair one—that is, it was well defined and there was no danger of losing it; in fact, there was more danger of losing one's self in its fathomless mudholes and quagmires. Brandon had recently passed over it twice and had made mental note of the worst places, so he hoped to avoid them.

Soon the rain began to fall in a soaking drizzle; then the lamps of twilight went out, and even the shadows of the night were lost among themselves in blinding darkness. It was one of those black nights fit for witch traveling, and no doubt every witch in England was out brewing mischief. The horse's hoofs sucked and splashed in the mud with a sound that Mary thought might be heard at Land's End, and the hoot of an owl, now and then disturbed by a witch, would strike upon her ear with a volume of sound infinitely disproportionate to the size of any owl she had ever seen or dreamed of before.

Brandon wore our cushion, the great cloak, and had provided a like one of suitable proportions for the princess. This came in good play, as her fine gentleman's attire would be but poor stuff to turn the water. The wind, which had arisen with just enough force to set up a dismal wail, gave the rain a horizontal slant and drove it in at every opening. The flaps of the comfortable great cloak blew back from Mary's knees, and she felt many a chilling drop through her fine new silk trunks that made her wish for buckram in their place. Soon the water began to trickle down her legs and find lodgment in the jack boots, and as the rain and wind came in tremulous little whirs she felt wretched enough—she who had always been so well sheltered from every blast. Now and then mud and water would fly up into her face—striking usually in the eyes or mouth—and then again her horse would stumble and almost throw her over his head as he sank, knee deep, into some unexpected hole.

All of this, with the thousand and one noises that broke the still worse silence of the inky night, soon began to work upon her nerves and make her fearful. The road was full of dangers aside from stumbling horses and broken necks, for many were the stories of murder and robbery committed along the route they were traveling. It is true they had two stout men, and all were armed, yet they might easily come upon a party too strong for them, and no one could tell what might happen, thought the princess. There was that pitchy darkness through which she could hardly see her horse's head—a thing of itself that seemed to have infinite powers for mischief and which no amount of argument ever induced any normally constituted woman to believe was the mere negative absence of light and not a terrible entity potent for all sorts of mischief. Then that wailing howl that rose and fell betimes. No wind ever made such a noise she felt sure. There were those shining white gleams which came from the little pools of water on the road, looking like dead men's faces upturned and pale. Perhaps they were water and perhaps they were not. Mary had all confidence in Brandon, but that very fact operated against her. Having that confidence and trust in him, she felt no need to waste her own energy in being brave. So she relaxed completely and had the feminine satisfaction of allowing herself to be thoroughly frightened.

Is it any wonder Mary's gallant but womanly spirit sank low in the face of all those horrors? She held out bravely, however, and an occasional clasp from Brandon's hand under cover of the darkness comforted her. When all those terrors would not suggest even a thought of turning back, you may judge of the character of this girl and her motive.

They traveled on, galloping when they could, trotting when they could not gallop, and walking when they must, and about midnight arrived at the inn where the relay of horses was awaiting them.

The inn was a rambling old thatched roof structure, half mud, half wood and all filth. There are many inns in England that are tidy enough, but this one was a little off the main road—selected for that reason—and the uncleanness was not the least of Mary's trials that hard night. She had not tasted food since noon and felt the keen hunger natural to youth and health such as hers after twelve hours of fasting and eight hours of riding. Her appetite soon overcame her repugnance, and she ate with a zest that was new to her the humblest fare that had ever passed her lips. One often misses the zest of life's joys by having too much of them. One must want a thing before it can be appreciated.

A hard ride of five hours brought our travelers to Bath, which place they rode around just as the sun began to gild the tile roofs and steeples, and another hour brought them to Bristol.

The ship was to sail at sunrise, but as the wind had died out with the night there was no danger of its sailing without them. Soon the gates opened, and the party rode to the Bow and String, where Brandon had left their chests. The men were then paid off; quick sale was made of the horses; breakfast was served, and they started for the wharf, with their chests following in the hands of four porters.

She ate with a zest the humble fare.

A boat soon took them aboard the Royal Hind, and now it looked as if their daring scheme, so full of improbability as to seem impossible, had really come to a successful issue.

From the beginning, I think, it had never occurred to Mary to doubt the result. There had never been with her even a suggestion of possible failure, unless it was that evening in our room, when, prompted by her startled modesty, she had said she could not bear for us to see her in the trunk hose. Now that fruition seemed about to crown her hopes she was happy to her heart's core, and when once to herself wept for sheer joy. It is little wonder she was happy. She was leaving behind no one whom she loved excepting Jane and perhaps me. No father nor mother; only a sister whom she barely knew and a brother whose treatment of her had turned her heart against him. She was also fleeing with the one man in all the world for her and from a marriage that was literally worse than death.

Our travelers were of course greatly in need of rest, so Mary went to her room and Brandon took a berth in the cabin set apart for the gentlemen.

They had both paid for their passage, although they had enlisted and were part of the ship's company. They were not expected to do sailor's work, but would be called upon in case of fighting to do their part at that. Mary was probably as good a fighter in her own way as one could find in a long journey, but how she was to do her part with sword and buckler Brandon did not know. That, however, was a bridge to be crossed when they should come to it.

They had gone aboard about 7 o'clock, and Brandon hoped the ship would be well down Bristol channel before he should leave his berth. But the wind that had filled Mary's jack boots with rain and had howled so dismally all night long would not stir, now that it was wanted. Noon came, yet no wind, and the sun shone as placidly as if Captain Charles Brandon were not fuming with impatience on the poop of the Royal Hind. Three o'clock and no wind. The captain said it would come with night, but sundown was almost at hand, and no wind yet. Brandon knew this meant failure if it held a little longer, for he was certain the king, with Wolsey's help, would long since have guessed the truth.

Brandon had not seen the princess since morning, and the delicacy he felt about going to her cabin made the situation somewhat difficult. After putting it off from hour to hour in hope that she would appear of her own accord, he at last knocked at her door and, of course, found the lady in trouble.

The thought of the princess going on deck caused a sinking at his heart every time it came, as he felt that it was almost impossible to conceal her identity. He had not seen her in her new male attire, for when she threw off her riding habit on meeting him the night before he had intentionally busied himself about the horses and saw her only after the great cloak covered her as a gown. He felt that however well her garments might conceal her form, no man on earth ever had such beauty in his face as her transcendent eyes, rose tinted cheeks and coral lips, with their cluster of dimples, and his heart sank at the prospect. She might hold out for awhile with a straight face, but when the smiles should come—it were just as well to hang a placard about her neck, "This is a woman." The telltale dimples would be worse than Jane for outspoken, untimely truthfulness and trouble provoking candor.

Upon entering Brandon found Mary wrestling with the problem of her complicated male attire, the most beautiful picture of puzzled distress imaginable. The port was open and showed her rosy as the morn when she looked up at him. The jack boots were in a corner, and her little feet seemed to put up a protest all their own against going into them that ought to have softened every peg. She looked up at Brandon with a half hearted smile and then threw her arms about his neck and sobbed like the child she was.

"Do you regret coming, Lady Mary?" asked Brandon, who, now that she was alone with him, felt that he must take no advantage of the fact to be familiar.

"No, no! Not for one moment. I am glad—only too glad. But why do you call me 'Lady?' You used to call me 'Mary.'"

"I don't know; perhaps because you are alone."

"Ah! that is good of you; but you need not be quite so respectful."

The matter was settled by mute but satisfactory arbitration, and Brandon continued: "You must make yourself ready to go on deck. It will be hard, but it must be done."

He helped her with the heavy jack boots and handed her the rain stained slouch hat which she put on and stood a complete man ready for the deck—that is, as complete as could be evolved from her utter femininity.

[To be Continued.]

"I can't remember where I put my glasses," said Duncombe.

"Have you looked for them?" asked Mrs. Duncombe.

"No; but I will as soon as I find them," said Duncombe. "I can't see well enough without them to look now."

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Ryder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 10—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—What does the story of Zaccheus teach us?—Luke xix, 1-10.

When Louis Kossuth visited the United States, so great was the enthusiasm for Hungary that the trees around the New York Battery were crowded with people who had climbed there to see the distinguished stranger as he passed. That Zaccheus could not get to Christ for the crowd, but had to walk out the avenue ahead of the procession and climb a tree to see him, argues greatly for the popularity of our Saviour.

This story is one of the most interesting in the life of Christ and suggests many useful lessons.

1. Some occupations hinder our coming to Christ.

He was a Roman tax gatherer, and as his business represented Roman oppression it was unspeakably hateful to the Jews. His case was aggravated because he was the chief of the publicans—because he resorted to extortion and because he was a renegade Jew, who had thus become a traitor to his country.

There are businesses now which no man can follow and be on the road to heaven. There are even legitimate lines of business in which it is hard to be a Christian. We may let a good business so fill our minds and hearts that we have no time for Christ.

2. Some personal characteristics may hinder us from coming to Christ. Zaccheus was little of stature, a mere mite of a man. When he came to the crowded street, he was unable to see. Big, burly fellows would push the hated dwarf to one side. He might have rid himself of his despised business, but he could not "by taking thought add one cubit to his stature."

Some have traits of disposition, such as pride, stubbornness, love of pleasure and fashion, evil habits and inherited passions that make it harder to enter the kingdom.

3. Some broad shouldered man hides our view of Christ.

Wherever Zaccheus went he always found a broad shouldered man between him and the object he wished to see. How many little people allow some great man of their community to obstruct their view of Christ! When you try to lead them into the kingdom some broad shouldered great man looms up between them and salvation. They say to your entreaties, "There are Dr. Blank and Professor So-and-so, who are as good as any Christians, yet they are not members of the church." The big man obstructs their view of Christ.

4. An intense desire to see Jesus will be rewarded with success.

Zaccheus conquered his difficulties. It may have been curiosity, but curiosity is a good motive when it leads to Christ. If he could not get through the crowd, he could run ahead of it. If he was small, he could piece out the shortness of his stature by adding to it the height of that sycamore tree. To see Jesus we must get above the sordid earth to a higher point of view. "Where there's a will there's a way."

5. Jesus Christ is searching for us.

Christ was searching for Zaccheus first—long before Christ entered Jericho. Christ came into Zaccheus' town and down Zaccheus' street and along to the tree on which Zaccheus sat. Looking up He saw Zaccheus, and, speaking his name, said, "Come down, for today I must abide at thy house." "The Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost." When we are searching for Christ and Christ is searching for us, salvation will come to our house.

BIBLE READINGS.

Luke v, 29-32; iii, 13, 14; Ex. xxii, 1; I Sam. xii, 3; II Sam. xii, 6; Matt. ix, 10, 11; Gal. iii, 7; Luke xiii, 16; Matt. xviii, 11; x, 6; xv, 24.

Prominent In Endeavor Work.

The Rev. Henry T. McEwen, D. D., began his ministry in Covenant chapel, New York, in 1881, remaining there until 1887, when he accepted the call of the Fourteenth Street Presbyterian church, in that city. He continued in the work there until 1898 and since then has been the pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, Amsterdam, N. Y. He has been president of the state and city unions of New York Christian Endeavor and was the chairman of the 1892 committee of the international convention of Christian Endeavor held in Madison Square Garden that year. Besides his pulpit and pastoral work, he frequently addresses Sunday school and Christian Endeavor conventions and was for several years the Christian Endeavor writer of the New York Evangelist.

REV. H. T. M'EWEN, D. D.

An Endeavor Acrostic.

A Christian Endeavorer must be

Active,	Erudite,
Consecrated,	Neat,
Hale,	Dauntless,
Resolute,	Edifying,
Infusive,	Agreeable,
Sociable,	Versatile,
True blue,	Orthodox,
Impartial,	Ready,
Animated,	Equable,
Natural,	Recommendable.

Quiz Box.

[Any question may be asked that pertains to any phase of Christian Endeavor work. Address Lock Box 674, Binghamton, N. Y.]

59. P. Q., Scranton, Pa.—Consult your local ticket agent concerning the matter of rates for the Denver convention (international) next July.

60. P. W., Bel Air, Md.—If you are interested in the details of Endeavor work among prisoners, address, with stamp, W. A. Horn, Lockport, N. Y.

AT BED TIME I TAKE A PLEASANT HERB DRINK

THE NEXT MORNING I FEEL BRIGHT AND NEW AND MY COMPLEXION IS BETTER.

My doctor says it acts gently on the stomach, liver and kidneys and is a pleasant laxative. This drink is made from herbs, and is prepared for use as easily as tea. It is called "Lane's Tea" or

LANE'S FAMILY MEDICINE

All druggists or by mail 25 cts. and 50 cts. Buy it today. Lane's Family Medicine moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Address, Box 295, Le Roy, N. Y.

PAINTING

and Glazing.

WARD L. HAYWARD,

28 Mechanic Street.

Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

ard off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy

Jan. 7. tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS,

PAINTER, GLAZIER.

LEADED STAINED GLASS.

Decorator and Paper Hanger.

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.

15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE

HAS OPENED AN

Employment Office

At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.

Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,

Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.

GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.

Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.

Quincy, April 7. tf

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

COPYRIGHT.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....

PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,

3 High Street, Cor. Summer,

BOSTON, MASS

Three minutes from South Station.

SPILLER'S GOLDEN COUGH BALSAM

THE KIND THAT CURES

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Inflammation of the Lungs, Lagrippe and Whooping Cough. It soothes the Cough of Consumption, and is excellent for all Lung Troubles. Try it. For sale by Weeks & Hill, Quincy, Mass. Price 25 cents.

If goods fail to give satisfaction, money refunded.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

Piano Tuner.

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.

Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.

Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov, 3-tf

FRANK F. CRANE,

REAL ESTATE,

AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,

Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass

Aug. 17.

C. H. PRESCOTT,

EXPERIENCED

Piano Tuner and Repairer.

Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

ERIC G. BERGFORS

Carpenter and Builder.

Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice.

Jobbing promptly attended to.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

10 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass

May7. 1m

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,

FLORISTS.

Telephone 13-7 Braintree.

Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.

Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

FULL STOCK

—OF—

HATCHET

BRAND

CANNED

GOODS,

—AT—

Brooks' Market,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 25. tf

SMOKE THE

COVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co. Madison Square, PHILA., Pa.

Mention this paper

If you are thinking of

UYING A HOUSE
OR A
LOT OF LAND,

1361 Hancock street, where you ve your choice of over 100 and Lots, in all parts of the city.

ALTER E. BURKE.
y, Feb. 14. tf

C G. BERGFORS
rpenter and Builder.
d Estimates furnished at short notice. Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
ingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass
1m

HN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
lephone 13-7 Braintree.
owers. Bedding and foliage plant, Fun- lers. Weymouth Landing cars pass use, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward ast Braintree. taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharma- ncy Square. jan26-1y

W.P RATT,
LDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES
AT LOWEST PRICES.
SES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.
RTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.
save you 50 per cent. on your architect's or will furnish plans free with any lot of me.
mates given on new work
nnington St., Quincy Adams.
53-2. March 9-tf

FULL STOCK
—OF—
HATCHET
BRAND CANNED GOODS,
—AT—
ooks' Market,
rner Saville and Hancock Streets,
QUINCY, MASS.
25. tf

SMOKE THE GOVERNESS.
UNION MADE.
5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler matra Wrapper for sale by all dealers
Manufactured by
P. A. NELSON,
59 Granite Street.
cy, Nov. 11. 1y

CHICHESTER'S EN
ENNYROYAL PILLS
Original and Only Genuine.
SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co. Madison Square, PHILA., PA.
this paper

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

FLOWERS
AT VERY LOWEST PRICES.
MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.
63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works,
Quincy Point.
FUNERAL DESIGNS A SPECIALTY.
P. GREEN, Proprietor.
Telephone 64-5 Quincy.

FRESH FROM THE MINES.
CARGOES OF
White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.
C. PATCH & SON
Quincy, April 23. tf

Book AND Job PRINTING
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION
PROMPTLY EXECUTED AT THE Quincy Daily Ledger Office.
NOTE HEADS
BILL HEADS
ENVELOPES
CARDS
CIRCULARS.
PROGRAMS
MENUS POSTERS
DODGERS
PLACARDS
FIRST-CLASS WORK
PROMPT DELIVERY
PRICES RIGHT

BUSINESS.
YOU GET IT.
BY ADVERTISING
---IN THE---
QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

POLICE ARE BAFFLED

Have Not Slightest Clue to Sturtevant Murderer

NO CASE AGAINST ITALIAN

Who Was Held on Suspicion of Having Committed the Crime—Thorough Search Reveals No Trace of Bag Stolen at Time of Murder

Medford, Mass., May 9.—After earnest, energetic work, the Medford police feel that they are truly against a wall of mystery as to the identity or even trace of the slayer of Miss Nellie A. Sturtevant. And this wall is composed mostly of the fog and darkness of the night behind which the murderer glided on his phantom bicycle after he had snatched from the aged bank treasurer an almost empty and worthless bag and at the same time robbed him of the life of his daughter. The case against Tomasso Lombardi, who was caught two hours after the tragedy, clumsily riding a machine in the streets of Boston, over five miles away, has weakened hourly, and the police admit that they have comparatively little evidence with which to hold him.

The dense fog and the absence of the street lights, which in this little city are not lighted when the moon is fairly full, both materially assisted the fleeing criminal, and although the murder and all the circumstances attending it are now known to practically every one in eastern Massachusetts, not a person has been found who saw any one hiding away from the scene of the tragedy at the time it occurred.

Strangely too, the quick reports of three pistol shots and the hoarse cry of the agonized father failed to arouse any suspicion in the minds of at least half a dozen people in the immediate vicinity who heard them.

Only the Italian fell into the net which was thrown out by the quick use of the modern telephone, within an hour after the fatal shot was fired. As one by one the clues pointing to this ignorant foreigner proved worthless, the police are more inclined to believe that the much wanted man is within the city itself and there is a persistent rumor that an arrest of such a person will occur.

It looks now as if the murdered girl will not only be laid away on Sunday with her slayer still a free man, but that the tragedy will take its place in the long list of unavenged and unsolved homicides. The police have searched for the bag which the murderer snatched away from Mr. Sturtevant, after the robber had shot down his daughter, but no trace of it can be found. Every street in the vicinity, every field between the city and Boston, has been gone over by not only the local, but the state police, but without avail.

The search for the bag and in fact for any clue was stimulated by the announcement that Mayor Baxter had offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the murderer, but this was almost unnecessary, for practically the entire city has been hard at work trying to find some solution of the crime. Little else is talked about, and every theory which seems at all reasonable is freely turned over to the police, scarcely any proving of the slightest value, and not a person coming forward with even the slightest clue.

The exact time of the murder has been fixed at 11:30 o'clock, but the man who, after the pistol shots, took out his watch and noted the time, did not seek to investigate the origin of the reports; neither did he see any flying bicycler.

The bullets which the man fired at Mr. Sturtevant, but which went wide of their mark, were dug out of the side of the house and, with the fatal one which ended the life of the unfortunate girl, may some day prove effective in apprehending the murderer.

Disaster Overtakes French Convoy

Algiers, May 9.—A French convoy has been attacked by tribesmen in the Figuig district. The attacking force was composed of 600 horsemen and 900 men on foot. They attacked the convoy near Taghit on the night of May 7. The French baggage train was composed of 500 camels loaded with provisions and clothing. The tribesmen carried off everything. Thirty men were killed and 13 were wounded. The tribesmen camped in the middle of French territory.

A Peanut Combination

Cincinnati, May 9.—The Confectioners' Review says that an underwriting company has completed a combine of the peanut industries and that the American Edible Nut company will soon be incorporated in New Jersey. It will absorb the 18 plants near Norfolk, where the general offices will be located. The yearly output within 80 miles of Norfolk is 5,000,000 bushels.

Plague Afflicts Peruvians

Lima, Peru, May 9.—The existence of bubonic plague has been discovered in the suburbs of Callao. The authorities have closed and isolated a flour mill where suspicious cases have originated. It has been decided to close the principal market of Lima and to confiscate all flour coming from the mill in question.

Miners' Strike Fever

Barton, O., May 9.—Five hundred men employed at two mines of the Youghiogheny and Ohio Coal company have struck because two of their men were discharged. Officials of the miners and owners of the mines have been called to the scene.

TO PROBE CHARGES

Bay State Senators Result Continued Talk of Corruption

Boston, May 9.—Members of the Massachusetts senate are extremely wroth at the continued charges of corruption and insinuations of bribery against members of that body and have ordered a thorough investigation. In the senate Senator Fitzgerald, a member of the senate committee on rules, offered the following order:

"Whereas, certain statements have been publicly made by one George J. Raymond and others tending to reflect upon the integrity, moral character, fitness and qualification of members of the senate in their official capacity and charging corrupt and unlawful conduct of members of the senate with relation to the discharge of their official duties,

"Therefore, it is ordered that a special committee of five members of the senate be appointed by the president to investigate and inquire into such charges and alleged conduct; and the said committee is hereby authorized to summons witnesses to testify, to send for books, papers and documents and employ a stenographer to make a report of the proceedings."

This is a result of a meeting of the committee on rules, at which Attorney General Parker was present at the committee's request.

The order was unanimously adopted and President Jones appointed a committee of five senators.

Faithful Dog's Good Service

Marlboro, Mass., May 9.—George Gallagher, a driver for hose 1 of this city, was grooming his horse while alone at the hose house last night, when the animal kicked him so severely that he was rendered almost helpless. Gallagher managed to write "help, George" in a slip of paper, and, calling his dog to his side, tucked it into his collar. "Go home" said Gallagher, and away went the dog. It is an eighth of a mile to Gallagher's house, but within a few minutes Mrs. Gallagher appeared at the hose house and the suffering fireman was removed to a hospital.

Constitution Ready For Business

Bristol, R. I., May 9.—The Constitution has been refitted and everything is in readiness so that she may proceed from here to New London in first-class condition. The topsides are resplendent in two coats of white paint, and the craft has taken on her old time appearance of loftiness in her new rig. The new topmast is two feet higher than the old one. The fact that the new ciubtopsail spars are as long in proportion as the topmast is further proof that the boat will carry an increased sail spread aloft.

Boston to Have Great Dock

Boston, May 9.—Plans are being perfected by the state authorities for the construction of one of the largest docks in the country in Boston harbor. The dock will be an extension of the Grand junction docks in East Boston and will stretch out for nearly a mile. The cost of the docks and wharves is estimated at $5,000,000. With these docks constructed and Broad souad channel deepened, it will be possible for ocean steamers to be in the open sea within 20 minutes after leaving the dock.

Crossing Tender Sacrificed His Life

Providence, May 9.—Terrance McDonald, 55 years old, a railroad crossing tender, was killed last night while attempting to rescue a woman who crawled under the gates onto the track. Three trains were approaching the crossing. McDonald shouted, and when the woman paid no heed he started in her direction. His skull was fractured and both arms and legs were broken. The woman was uninjured.

Held For Theft of Freight

West Derry, N. H., May 9.—Clayton Gates was arrested Thursday night on the charge of robbery. He broke out of the town lockup yesterday and was caught at Hampstead last night. His arrest was for alleged theft of goods at the Derry freight depot, where he was employed. Loss of goods consigned as freight from Boston led to an inquiry along the line by trackers.

Thieves Got Much Plunder

Cambridge, Mass., May 9.—One of the biggest breaks recently made in Cambridge took place in the Harvard co-operative store in Harvard square. In all $1100 worth of goods was taken and there is no trace of the thieves. From the quantity of articles taken it would indicate that more than one person must have been connected with the break.

In Need of $5000 More

Cambridge, Mass., May 9.—Additional contributions of $4800 to the fund for the Emerson building, to be built for the use of the philosophical department in Harvard, have brought the total fund to within $5000 of the $150,000 needed by May 25, on which date, if the fund is completed, the cornerstone will be laid.

Killed In Runaway Accident

Haverhill, Mass., May 9.—Thomas Monahan, for seven years coachman for John E. Gale of this city, was driving on the Merrimack road when the horse became frightened and ran away, throwing Monahan to the ground, fracturing his skull and causing death.

"Walled City" to Remain

Washington, May 9.—The proposed destruction of the walls about the city of Manila has brought out a protest from a number of patriotic societies in this country, and Secretary Root has given instructions to Governor Taft not to disturb the walls. Manila is now the only "walled city" in the Orient and it is Secretary Root's intention to have it preserved. It is quite likely that the moat outside the wall will be filled up as a sanitary measure.

HISTORIC QUINCY.

Pilgrimages Almost Daily to the City of Presidents.

Quincy will soon be as famous for pilgrimages as Plymouth and Concord, as parties come now almost daily. Surely there are many historic spots of National interest, and enterprises which are novel to many. A brief list is given below.

BIRTHPLACE JOHN ADAMS.

Franklin street, Quincy Adams, house built in 1681 and restored in 1897 by Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution. Open to public. Patriotic societies admitted free, although contributions are welcome to defray expenses of keeping house open and in repair. Small fee asked the general public.

BIRTHPLACE JOHN QUINCY ADAMS.

Junction of Franklin street, Presidents road and Independence avenue. Built 1716, restored 1896 by the Quincy Historical Society. Open to public afternoons from 2 to 5. Admission charged.

BURIAL PLACE OF PRESIDENTS ADAMS.

First Congregational Church (Unitarian) Quincy centre. In auditorium each side of high pulpit, are mural monuments, to the memory of John Adams, the second president, and John Quincy Adams, the sixth president of the United States, and their wives. In cellar is old town hearse, also box in which was brought from Washington the body of John Quincy Adams. At extreme end, under front steps are the vaults of the presidents, a massive stone door closing the entrance. Admission may be secured on application to W. E. Dewhurst, sexton, 3 Maple Place, or to the office of L. S. Anderson, treasurer, 9 Savings Bank building, whose office hours are 8 A. M. to 12 M. and 2 to 5 P. M. A fee is asked for attendance, etc.

HANCOCK CEMETERY.

Hancock street, across from First Church. Many old stones, among the oldest that of Rev. John Hancock, father of the Patriot, who died May 7, 1744. Was fifth minister of First Church.

PRESIDENTS ADAMS MANSION.

Adams street, corner Newport avenue, Quincy. Residence of President John Adams and contains many family relics. Occupied by descendants. Not open to public.

JOHN HANCOCK BIRTHPLACE.

Adams street, junction of Dimmock and Hancock streets. A bronze tablet has been placed by the City of Quincy on Adams Academy to mark the place where the house stood in which the patriot John Hancock, the bold signer of the Declaration of Independence, was born.

MYLES STANDISH CAIRN.

Squantum heights, erected in 1895 by the Daughters of the Revolution, of Massachusetts, in memory of Captain Myles Standish and his men of Plymouth Colony, who landed here Sept. 30, 1621, guided by the indian Tisquantum.

SQUAW ROCK.

Pile of rock, on which is a perfect head of a squaw, frequently mentioned in early Squantum history. Near by is also Sachem's Knoll.

ABIGAIL ADAMS CAIRN.

Penns hill, erected June 17, 1896, by Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, to the memory of Abigail Adams, who with her son, John Quincy, from the spot watched the smoke of battle at Bunker Hill. Cairn composed of many historic stones, the corner stone being part of old sleeper of first railroad in United States which ran from Quincy quarries to tide water, Neponset river.

MYLES STANDISH SPRING.

On the beach to the left and back of Squantum Inn. Spring of fresh cold water, where Standish and his party breakfasted and thence started to explore the country around Boston Bay.

DOROTHY Q. HOUSE.

Hancock street, corner Butler road, Quincy. Old Quincy homestead in which Dorothy Q was born. Has quaint old paper on parlor put on for wedding of John Hancock and Dorothy Quincy; also secret chamber and other interesting features. Private house, not open to public.

PRESIDENTS LANE.

Now Goffe street, leading from Adams street, near Mansion. Opened by John Adams to drive his cows to pasture.

Many other points of interest might be mentioned: Thomas Crane Memorial Hall which is the public library building; Merrymount, the home of Mrs. John Quincy Adams, where Morton erected his famous May pole in 1626; the soldiers' monument at Mount Wollaston cemetery with its tablets; the famous Quincy granite quarries, many of great depth; the granite yards where monuments and statuary are being cut, and the polishing mills where granite is polished; also the big ship yard now established at Quincy Point.

Nothing Easier.

"Hold on, ma. Mebbe I can prove a alibi or something."—New York Evening Journal.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

Wall Paper
Direct from the Manufacture.
Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.
Address,
H. SIDWELL,
Dept. S. Buffalo, N. Y.
April 1. 1p-2moe.

W. G. CHUBBUCK
Furniture and Piano Mover,
IN AND OUT OF TOWN.
Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.
JOBBING.
Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block, or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.
1p-tf Address, [illegible]

30 YEARS
In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.
15 YEARS IN QUINCY.
The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.
NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.
We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.
G. B. BATES.
Plumbing and Heating Co.,
25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.
Telephone Connection.
April 24. 1-tf-p-1w

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

On and after Oct. 19, 1902, trains will run as follows:

[Subject to change without notice.]

TO BOSTON. Leave Quincy.	Stops at	Arrive Boston.	FROM BOSTON. Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r *5 19	abcdefghi	5 47	*5 30	ihgfedcba	6 19 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 48 r
r 7 26	ad	7 46	8 28	cba	8 49 r
r 7 42	abc	8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 7 54	abcde	8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 8 13	a	8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
r 8 26	abd	8 45	11 28	cba	11 48 r
r 8 46	abc	9 05	12 28	cba	12 48 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	12 58	cba	1 19 r
r 9 42	abc	10 02	1 28	cba	1 49 r
r 10 12	abc	10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
r 10 42	abc	11 02	2 28	cba	2 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
r 11 42	abc	12 02	3 28	cba	3 49 r
r 12 12	abc	12 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
r 12 42	abc	1 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 1 42	abc	2 02	4 50	edcba	5 16 r
r 2 12	abc	2 32	5 15	cba	5 36 r
r 3 12	abc	3 32	5 28	a	5 45
r 3 42	abc	4 02	5 45	edcba	6 08 r
r 4 12	abc	4 32	5 58	cba	6 19 r
r 4 42	abc	5 02	6 15	da	6 36 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 5 29	abcdefghi	5 57	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	7 58	cba	8 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 7 46	abcdefghi	8 07	8 28	cba	8 49 r
r 8 05	abcdef	8 32	8 28	cba	9 19 r
r 8 42	abc	9 02	10 58	fedcba	10 32 r
r 9 54	abcdefghi	10 02	10 58	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
r 10 58	abcdef	10 32	11 28	cba	11 [illegible] r
r 11 12	abc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

r 7 42	abc	8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 8 42	abc	9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 45 r
9 33	a	9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 45 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 45 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 28	cba	5 45 r
r 6 03	abcdefghi	6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	8 43	(ex)	9 00
r 10 18	abcdef	10 42	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r

• The letters in the same line as the figure stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a. Wollaston,	f, Harrison Square.
b, Norfolk Downs,	g, Savin Hill.
c, Atlantic,	h, Crescent Avenue.
d, Neponset,	i, South Boston.
e, Pope's Hill.	r, Quincy Adams.

Dr. Emmons'
Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	46	53	53	60	55
Monday,	58	67	55	60	58
Tuesday,	64	66	71	50	58
Wednesday,	54	84	60	58	59
Thursday,	64	86	65	72	55
Friday,	65	58	63	66	55
Saturday,	64	47	68	68	68

New Advertisements Today.

Citizen's Gas Light Co —Gas stoves.
Probate Notices.
To Let—Rooms.
Wanted—Boy to help shipper.
To Let—Furnished Rooms.
Auction Sale of Real Estate.
Sheriff's Sale.

Good Afternoon

The people of the United States drank more coffee than beer last year.

The Legislature continues to uphold the vetoes of Gov. Bates, and his action is having a good effect upon other matters not reported.

We are indepted to Messrs. W. C. McCarty and F. L. Merrick of the General Press Bureau at World's Fair, St. Louis, for many courtesies during our recent visit there.

Consul General Guenther of Frankfort, Canada, says that much of the recent prosperity of the Dominion is due to an influx of American capital. Perhaps this may prove the surest road to the annexation of Canada.

It was quite evident from the remarks of Grover Cleveland at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition press banquet last Friday evening in St. Louis, that our only living ex-president would like another four years at the White House.

The Ward One branch of the People's Union should extend Mayor Bryant a vote of thanks for the good work done about City Hall. First for the up-to-date improvements in the building and now for the outside; the grading, neat fence and shrubbery, which delight the eye of every one passing to or from the station. It gives the stranger a good impression as he leaves the train to see such attractive grounds and substantial City Hall, combined with the massive stone church and elm trees across the street. Now the fountain should be moved nearer the church, under the shelter of an elm tree and away from the car tracks.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Mr. H. H. Faxon thinks the Legislature has been going to the bowwows ever since he left it, some thirty years ago. He probably thinks the same of the Quincy constabulary force, since he was put out of it and it began to raid his real estate.—Boston Transcript.

Funeral of Mr. Lee.

The funeral of Mr. Charles G. Lee were held on Friday at 2 P. M. from his late home. There were many friends chiefly from lodge and church and the near neighborhood. Rare flowers were offered in profusion, including a large cross a broken column of red and white rose buds, Masonic design, garlands, wreaths and bouquets. The simple Episcopal service was held by Rev. Mr. Mills. The Masonic quartette rendered beautifully "I heard the voice of Jesus say," "Peace perfect peace" and "Passing out of the Shadow." The body was cremated at Forest Hill.

—France grows more varieties of flowers for making perfumes than any other country. All over Southern France, in April, are to be seen miles of roses, acres of violets, pessamine and tuberoses and orchards of orange trees that are cultivated for their blossoms. Persia, Turkey and Bulgaria, however, grow most of the roses for the precious ottar.

—The Brooklyn Eagle has started the fourth boom of Grover Cleveland for the presidency.

CLOSING BANQUET.

Unity Club of Wollaston Wind-Up Successful Season.

The members of the Unity club to the number of sixty-four gathered in the body of the Unitarian church, Wollaston, last evening at its annual banquet.

To celebrate its birthday President Parlin had invited Dr. Perrin of the Boston University to address the club. President Parlin presided and said the reading of the records would be dispensed with.

The meeting opened with a vocal march by Messrs. Bullock, Moulton, Follett and Hahn which was received with great pleasure.

Dr. Perrin, the speaker, was then introduced and took for his subject, "Home and life of the Indian in the North West." He was at one time on the U. S. expedition to investigate the salmon fisheries and was thrown with the Mt. Shasta tribe of Indians. He was bitten by a tarantula and had the good fortune (as he says) of being nursed by the Indians and found them an interesting study.

He began by referring to the injustice and abuse of the Indian by the white man. The Winteon tribe, with whom he had been associated, had not been spoiled by the white man, as they had neither fire-arms, whiskey nor money. He described them as kind, thoughtful and devoted to him during his illness. In order to know the Indian, you must put yourself in congenial sympathy with them, and live among them. In his natural state the Indian is undeveloped like a child and should be treated as a child and not as an adult.

In order to understand this mode of life, it is essential to let them feel that you are a good Indian before you can convert him. An Indian can't be forced any more than a child. The best method is to watch your time and draw him out as he has the creduality of a child.

The speaker referred to the Indian's code of laws. A good Indian never gets angry, as it is considered a mortal sin. The speaker heard a famous chief giving good advice to his Indians in which he impressed upon them importance of controlling themselves if they wished to go to the Good Father.

The Mt. Shasta tribe are not superstitious and are strong believers in nature. They know the difference between a good and a bad Indian, and they have a sound belief in immortality and the Good Father.

He spoke of the Indians as sunny in temperament and fond of indulging in practical jokes. Of their method of eating and their improvident nature. They are so like children that in making a treaty they little realize what it means.

Dr. Perrin's experience with the Indians was full of humorous incidents, which kept his audience amused. The manner of his address was delightful and his pleasing personality and speaking without notes was particularly attractive to his listeners.

The quartette then delighted the audience with "Annie Laurie."

After exchanging greetings with Dr. Perrin the company responded to President Parlin's invitation to repair to the vestry, where was served an elaborate banquet. The floral decorations were pink pinks and green, and each guest was provided with a pink.

Post prandial exercises followed. President Parlin made a fine toast master. He said The Unity Club had served up about everything except religion and politics, which were debarred. He added that he would start by "Looking Backwards," and introduced ex-President Frederick Bishop.

Mr. Bishop responded in a very pleasing way. He reverted to the original plan of the founder, Rev. James Bagley, of stimulating all members to work. Mr. Bishop thought that the major part of the work should be perpetuated by the young. Not only should the present membership be maintained but the future should mean an increase.

As "Man and his Environment" had been the main thing during the year's program, Mr. Charles Harper was asked to speak on "The Abuse of Man's Environment." Mr. Harper responded interestingly on the obligations of man to the improving of natural conditions, and added that service which today means action, tomorrow means result.

Mr. W. E. Simmons, as sporting editor of "The Flash Light," was next introduced, who kept his auditors amused with a paper fairly sparkling with humor. He said the Flashlight spoke for itself, as its mission was to kill time.

Mrs. John Litchfield responded to the "Sentiment of the 20-minute limit" and her bright sparkling humor and wit were heartily enjoyed by all.

Mr. Parlin in introducing Mrs. Smith complimented her on the gratifying position as secretary, which she had held for the past year, and asked her to speak on the "Behalf of Music" Mrs. Smith responded in a most pleasing manner.

Before closing President Parlin said he must now take a "Forward Look," and Dr. Curtis the new President for the coming season accepted in conformity with the spirit of the Unity Club. He spoke in high terms of the work of the Club in the past year, and hoped the new program would be carried on in the future with as high an aim.

Mr Parlin, in closing, said, I bespeak for the new administration hearty support and thank all for their cooperation with me in the past year.

The quartette gave before the banquet "Where are you going my Pretty Maid," and for a closing selection "When Evening Twilight Gathers Around." Their singing was one of the most pleasing feature of the banquet.

Frank E Parlin, Mrs. Frank E. Parlin, J. W. Pratt, Margaret C. Pratt, Mrs. J. H. Litchfield, H. Y. Follett, H. I Hahn, A. R. Moulton, E. E. Bullock, M. H. Schumacher, Mrs. Frank Amos Page, Mrs. Edward J. Cummings, Hon. Eugene H. Sprague,, Mrs. Sprague, Walter M. Hatch, Mrs. Hatch.

Alma Faunce Smith, Chandler W. Smith, M. Agnes D. Bishop, Frederick H. Bishop, Mrs. Frances A. Dalrymple, W. E. Simmons, Mrs. W. E. Simmons, Dr. Wm. G. Curtis, Mrs. Wm. G. Curtis, Mr. Charles F. Harper, Mrs. Charles F. Harper.

Miss Lena Hatch, Miss Jeannie Hatch, Mr. Louis B. Weston, Mr. Francis H. Bishop, Miss Grace I. Bishop, Mr. Raymond W. Parlin Miss Louise Bates. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Blake, Mrs. H. Y. Follett, Mr. Charles Sampson, Clara E. G. Thayer, Elizabeth H. Thayer, Mrs. C. T. Baker, Mr. C. T. Baker, Mrs. S. F. Hull, Mrs. C. S. Adams, Percy A. Hull, Mrs. A. R. Moulton, Dr. Charles S. Adams, C. A. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Corthell, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Waterhouse, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brigham, Mr. and Mrs. B H. Barbour, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hahn, Mrs. C. L. P. Couchier, F. W. Plummer, Mrs. F. W. Plummer, A. J. Preston, Mrs. A. J. Preston, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Finch, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Washburn, Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Marsh, Mrs. C. K. Crane, Mrs. A. J. Bainbridge.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

There could not be a much more beautiful evening than last night.

Julius Johnson has commenced work on the foundation for a new house on Bigelow Park for William Laing.

The Braintree Fife and Drum corps have accepted an invitation to play for the Spanish War Vetrans at Quincy, Memorial day.

The committee appointed some time ago to consider the removal of certain buildings on French's Common will meet this afternoon.

The monthly meeting of the Old Colony Grocers' and Provision Dealers' Association will be held at The Greenleaf next Wednesday.

The Nancy Brackett estate on Haucock street, one of the most valuable sites in the city will be sold at auction by C. H. Johnson on Saturday, May 23.

Dr. W. A. Drake of Weymouth was elected president and Dr. J. F. Welch of Quincy vice president of the Norfolk South District Medical Society on Thursday.

Maurice B. Smith, submaster at the Quincy High school, has recently been elected teacher of Latin in the William Penn charter school, Philadelphia. Mr. Smith will begin his duties at that place next September.

With the approach of warm weather the housekeepers thoughts turn to finding a substitute for the hot coal stove. The Citizens' Gas Co. will solve that problem for you. Just read their advertisement in today's Ledger.

The Quincy High base ball team will play two important games at home next week. The first will be with Adams Academy on Tuesday afternoon, and the second with Milton High on Friday afternoon. The latter is a game in the Highland league.

Mrs. Kate A. Hayden who recently broke off a needle in her finger, was obliged to go to the Emergency hospital Boston when it was found to be imbeded a half inch necessitating cutting open the finger to remove it. The hand is badly swollen and is very painful.

The annual May ball of the Braintree Fife and Drum Corps will be held in Town hall Friday evenieg, May 15. The Oriental, Defender and Columbian fife and drum corps have accepted invitations to be present. About 800 invitations have been issued. There will be a concert program by Cuff's orchestra from 8 to 8.30 followed by dancing until one o'clock.

There was a good attendance at the regular meeting of Blue Hill lodge 208 A. O. U. W. at G. A. R. hall last Wednesday evening. One candidate received the degrees. Master Workman I. Wendell Gammons and Brother Charles H. H. Bailey surprised those present by providing a fried clam lunch. Whist was played after the routine business had been transacted, souvenirs being awarded to Warren B. Keith and William Pinckney.

—A newspaper man, while on the witness stand in Jefferson City, Mo., the other day, confessed that he had two $5,000 bills in his pocket. Very few newspaper men carry the whole of a week's salary with them 24 hours.

HIGH DEFEATED.

But Nine Put Up Good Game Against Volkman.

The Volkmann school baseball team defeated the Quincy High school nine at Merrymount park yesterday by a score of 12 to 8. The game was the best the home team has played this season, and but for a few misjudgments at critical points, and slow base running, the Quincy boys would have won. The spectators were quite enthusiastic, and on several occasions the High School boys gave some systematic cheering to urge on the players.

Rooney was in the box for Quincy and on the whole did very creditable work. He kept the hits well scattered and fielded his position like a professional. Miller accepted all of his chances at first base without an error. Bennett and Drake excelled at the bat, the latter getting a two and a three-base hit. Davenport was back at third base, owing to the absence of Fenno. He played well, assisting in a double play on one occasion.

McCarthy and Klous had most of the work to do for the Volkmann nine, each being credited with 12 put outs. Greene pitched well throughout the game, but was supported poorly on some occasions. Condell, McCarthy and Briggs batted well.

On the whole, the Quincy team showed marked improvement over the game with Roxbury, and with better team work it should be in good condition for the games to follow.

The summary:

VOLKMANN.

	A.	B.	R.	B.H.	P.O.	A.	E.
Condell, lf.,	4	2	4	1	0	0
Ware, rf.,	4	2	0	0	1	0
McCarthy, 1b.,	4	2	2	12	0	0
Klous, c.,	3	2	1	12	0	0
Glidden, cf.,	4	0	0	2	1	1
Briggs, ss.,	5	0	2	0	2	3
Lockwood, 3b.,	4	2	1	0	1	0
Andrews, 2b.,	4	0	0	0	1	1
Greene, p..	3	2	0	0	4	1
	35	14	10	27	10	6

QUINCY H. S.

Rooney, p.,	5	1	0	5	5	0
Bennett, cf.,	6	1	3	1	0	0
Miller, 1b.,	5	2	1	17	0	0
Conrad, 2b.,	0	2	0	2	3	1
Drake, c..	5	0	2	2	1	0
Davenport, 3b.,	4	0	1	2	3	0
Shortle, lf.,	5	0	2	0	0	0
O'Brien, 2b.,	5	1	1	0	0	0
Sanders, ss.,	4	1	1	0	4	2
Totals,	39	8	11	27	16	3

Innings,	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Volkman,	2	2	0	1	0	0	5	0	2	—12
Quincy H. S.,	0	0	1	0	3	3	0	0	1	— 8

Earned runs,—Volkman. Two-base hits,—Drake Three-base hits,—Drake. Sacrifice hits—McCarthy, Klous, Glidden. Double-plays—Davenport to Miller. Green to McCarthy to Klous. Passed balls—by Klous 3. Struck out—by Roonoy, 2; by Greene, 9. Base on balls—by Rooney, 7; by Green 9 Time—2 hours and 20 minutes. Umpire—M. B. Smith.

—One of the competing aerostats for the airship prize offered by the St. Louis Louisiana Purchase Exposition will be the Stanley airship. Although not the largest vessel of its kind ever built, the airship will, neverthless, be noteworthy for its size, The contrivance will have a total length of 228 feet and will consist of a cylinder 116 feet long, tapering at either end in a cone 56 feet long. The diameter of cylinder is likewise 56 feet. The entire machine will weigh 13,000 pounds, but the lifting capacity of the hydrogen gas with which it will be filled will be 21,000 pounds. Accommodations for thirty passengers with their baggage have been provided. Besides passengers, allowance has also been made for mail matter weighing 1,000 pounds and 1,000 pounds of ballast. The inventor hopes to attain rather fabulous speeds. His best time he thinks will be 130 miles an hour; his worst he places at 70 miles an hour. These speeds are to be obtained with propellers 10 feet in diameter moving at the rate of 800 revolutions per minute. Besides rudders, side planes are to be used for the purpose of keeping the ship in proper longitudinal trim.—Scientific American.

That Pale Face Tells you that you need iron and you can have it in the most approved and agreeable form by taking Pept-iron.

This new iron tonic ironizes the blood, and that means it gives the face, lips, cheeks, and ears a good, healthy color, and strengthens and tones the whole system.

Needs Iron

It is a specific for paleness so common to delicate women and girls, for all anemic and dyspeptic conditions in either sex at any age, for nervousness, weak, unstrung nerves, poor circulation, cold hands and feet.

It is pleasant to the taste, acceptable to the stomach, and does not injure the teeth nor cause constipation.

"I have now been taking Pept-iron six weeks," said a grateful lady the other day, "and am realizing great benefit, feel stronger, and know by what my friends say that I look better. I am glad my confidence in Hood's Sarsaparilla led me to take Pept-iron."

Peptiron

Peptiron is made in two forms: In a liquid—an aromatic cordial elixir—at $1 per bottle, also in chocolate-coated pills at 50c. or $1 per box. By C. I. HOOD CO., proprietors Hood's Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

Selling Agent in Quincy:

E. J. Murphy, 1657 Hancock St.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Keep your own hair. Get more. Have a clean scalp. Restore the color. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

READ AND LEARN.

By reading you keep in touch with the times. By keeping in touch with the times you are ready to pick up a good thing when it comes your way. When it comes to Clothing, Hats and Furnishings, this store is the place to pick up a good thing, and at the same time keep part of your money too. We keep nothing but

RELIABLE DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE,

And will sell you at a Lower Price than you can buy the same quality for in Boston.

MEN'S SUITS, $5.89, $7.50, $8.50, $10, $12, $15, $18.

Ask for our "Special" $1.89 soft and stiff Hat.

These Hats are made to our order and are equal to any $2.50 Hat—Sold outside our Store. Call and See us.

WE GIVE GREEN TRADING STAMPS.

F. D. FELLOWS CO.,

RELIABLE ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS, HATTERS AND FURNISHERS.

Adams Building, City Square, Quincy, Mass.

Store open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings. April 2--l-th., fri., sat.-po-tf

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.

60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN.

PHARMACIST,

1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

By C. H. JOHNSON, - - Auctioneer.
Office, Room 3 Adams Building, Quincy.

QUINCY

Real Estate at Public Auction.

The Valuable Real Estate

—ON—

Hancock Street, in Quincy,

—OF THE—

Late Nancy Brackett,

Will be sold at Public Auction on the premises, 1207 Hancock Street, on

May 23, 1903, at 3 o'clock P. M.

Train for Quincy leaves South Station, in Boston, at 2.28 o'clock.

The land has a frontage of 318 feet on Hancock street, a depth of 269 feet and embraces 84,935 square feet. The buildings consist of a 10-room House, built in the Old Colonial style, and a stable. The estate is one of the old estates of Quincy. It is situated on the main thoroughfare in the centre of the city within a few steps of the Railroad Station, Post Office, stores, and public buildings. It offers excellent opportunities for a private residence, or for development by the laying out of streets and erection of buildings. The present growth and prospects of the city of Quincy make this a peculiar opportunity for either investment or improvement.

$500 to be deposited and other terms to be announced at the time and place of sale.

For plan of land or any other information, inquire of

GEORGE W. MORTON,
Adams Building, Quincy.
HENRY H. SPRAGUE,
19 Milk street, Boston.

May 9—7t 9, 16, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22

PIPE SEWERS—Quincy, Mass., May 4th, 1903. The City of Quincy invites proposals for building pipe sewers in Wards 1 and 2. The work will be let in two contracts. Section 11, comprising about 3720 feet of 20-inch pipe sewers, and Section 12, comprising about 2982 feet of 8, 10, 15, 18 and 20-inch pipe sewers. Copies of contracts and plans for the work can be seen and proposals to be used can be obtained at the office of the Board of Sewerage Commissioners, City Hall, Quincy, Mass. Proposals will be received until Monday, May 18, 1903, at 7.30 P. M., at which time they will be publicly opened and read. The undersigned reserve the right to reject any or all proposals, or to accept the proposals they deem best for the City. A. F. SCHENKELBERGER, WILLIAM T. ISAAC, THOMAS J. LAMB, Board of Sewerage Commissioners of the City of Quincy. May 8-2t

Stitchers Wanted.

EXPERIENCED on Ladies' Wrappers. Wheeler & Wilson power machines of the latest improved style. Steady work the year round, and good pay. Also, help wanted to take work home. Apply to MRS. A. L. WILBUR, Tirrell Building, 1467 Hancock street, over Old Colony Laundry, Quincy.

May 2. 1po-tf

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the Heirs-at-Law, Next-of-Kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of MARY J. HAGSPIEL, late of Foxborough, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by John Henry Devine of Norwood, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the twentieth day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixth day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

May 9. 3t--9-11-18

JOB PRINTING

AT THE

PATRIOT OFFICE

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of HANNAH E. LILLICRAP, late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, intestate.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Hannah Clements of Quincy, or to some other suitable person.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the twentieth day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this seventh day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

3t--9-11-18

gor n hair. Get a clean scalp.
lor. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

HANDISE,
quality for in Boston.
2, $15, $18.
d stiff Hat. any $2.50 Hat—
TAMPS.
CO., URNISHERS.
ncy, Mass.
-l-th., fri., sat.-po-tf

r night's RON.
RN.
ncy.

PATRIOTIC SERVICE.

Grand Army and Others at Weymouth Baptist Church.

The Baptist church at Weymouth was inadequate to seat the large number of people who gathered last Sunday evening to listen to and take part in the Patriotic services arranged by and in the charge of its pastor, Rev. Frank B. Dressey.

Very early in the evening the streets around the church were lined with people, and the gallery and side aisles were rapidly filled when at 6.30 the doors were thrown open. The entire body of the church was reserved for members of the Grand Army, Women's Relief Corps, Sons of Veterans and Ladies Aid Society. The different societies of Braintree, Quincy, Rockland, Hingham and Randolph were especially invited guests of the evening, and all sent a good representation.

Promptly at 7 o'clock the various orders marched into the church, while the school children and choir stood to receive them. The singing by the children of "Keller's American Hymn" opened the services. Little C. Hudson Bryant stood at their head, and at the close of the song spoke of "The Flag of the Free," which he waved with earnestness and vigor. An anthem by church choir followed, and a Bible reading by Rev. Jonathan Tilson.

The draping of the soldier's chair by the Misses Wadell and Johnson was thoughtfully and beautifully done; coming up, one on each side of the platform with flag and crape, the one artistically arranged the flag over the chair while the other placed upon it the emblem of sorrow, then both together softly sang one stanza of "Nearer My God to Thee."

Both the violin and the cornet solos were heartily received; the cornet solo, "The vacant chair," seemed to almost literally speak the words.

A message was read from Ex-Gov. John D. Long, the guest of honor of the evening. It was hoped that he would be able to be present, and he himself regretted that he was unable to be present at the services "in memory and honor of the brave men who fought the war for the union and kept our country whole."

The address by the Rev. Frank Cressey was interesting from beginning to end; his father and four brothers were in the civil war, his grandfather in the war of 1812, and his great-grandfather in the war of the Revolution. He, himself, is Post Chaplain, and his son was in our recent war with Spain.

Taking for his text Deut. 4:32, "Ask now of the days of the past," and for his subject, "Memories of Yesterday: Resolves of Today," he held the closest attention of his entire audience. The deeds of Paul Revere are not forgotten; the lessons from the Old North Church are not forgotten; the flag means something to all of us, but without the stars and stripes would be worthless. At the close of his address he read an original poem, which was very interesting.

Comrade Bicknell of the G. A. R. sang "The Old Guard" with a force and vigor that suggested the old days on the camp field.

There was doubtless many in the audience who were especially interested in the rendering by Mrs. Estelle W. Richards of "The Graves of the Unknown Dead." It was given with fine feeling. The poem was written by T. C. Harbaugh in the National Cemetery at Fredericksburg amid the graves of twelve thousand unknown Union soldiers, some of them graves of soldiers who went to the war from Braintree and Weymouth and the surrounding towns.

A most impressive feature was the forming of the Post of Sorrow; the altar was prepared by draping a table with the flag, swords were placed upon it and the open Bible. Florence Dowerton, with a basket of flowers, stood by the vacant chair, which had been draped earlier in the exercises, and, as the names of Reynolds Post deceased since May, 1902, were read, and the drummer, W. S. Holbrook, with muffled drum "rolled" three times, she silently scattered flowers over the chair in memoriam.

Ten members were thus remembered, Martin Burrell, Edward Earley, Lorenzo White, Riley E. Jenkins, Horace M. Makepeace, William N. Cushing, Thomas J. Nightingale, Asa B. Robbins, Hugh Maguire and Edward F. Tirrell. At the close, taps was sounded and all soldiers arose and stood at parade rest, while, with darkened church, the organists played the "Dead march in Saul."

Trooping the Colors and the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by Mrs. Eva L. Baker, closed the services.

These patriotic services of which this was the sixth annual one, are something in which everyone is interested; they keep alive memories of those brave men who fought for the Union and defended our flag. The intense interest throughout the entire evening certainly showed the appreciation of the audience.

—The latest addition to the cause of science is the discovery of the origin of smallpox which was made public at the Harvard Medical school, and which will bring everlasting renown to that institution. The germ is a protozoan, which is the lowest form of animal life, and from this knowledge efforts will be directed toward finding a cure for the dreaded disease.—Old Colony Memorial.

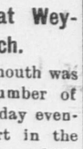

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER
YOU WILL FIND

The Co-OPERATIVE DINING ROOMS,
3 Granite Street, Quincy,
where your wants will be satisfied.

TABLE BOARD:
21-Meal..... Tickets, $3.50
ROOMS:
$1.25 Per Week and Upwards.

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.
mar.16-21--2m

Cleveland's
BAKING POWDER
Always perfect, never varies, gives uniform results.
"I have tested all the leaders. Cleveland's gives the best results."
Mrs. S. T. RORER.

LEDGER ADVERTISEMENTS
PAY BEST

Post Office Site.

Eight deeds, transferring the property at the corner of Washington street and Maple place to the government for a Federal building, have been recorded this week, and aggregate nearly $12,000, as follows:

Chas. L. Nightingale et. al. to United States of America, $2,200.

Edward P. Nightingale, by trs., to United States of America, $800.

Abbie M. Williams, by guardian, to United States of America, $800.

John M. Williams to United States of America.

Louisa A. Nightingale, by tr., to United States of America, $200.

Lewis Bass, Jr. to Chas. L. Nightingale et. al., $186.

Louisa A. Nightingale by tr. to United State of America, $1,225.

Louisa A. Nightingale, by exer., to United States of America, $4,900.

A limited time is given for the removal of the house, and work should begin soon on the new post office.

May Meeting.

The Jonas Perkins School Association held its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the home of W. H. H. Bailey on Elm street. As it was the thirty-eighth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey that evening, the members of the association thought they would give them a little surprise in honor of the occasion, so at the close of the business meeting Mr. W. H. Cronin, president of the association in a few well chosen words presented them with a beautiful steel engraving framed in dark oak.

Mr. Bailey in behalf of himself and his estimable wife, graciously responded, thanking the members not only for the gift, but for the kindly feeling of interest which prompted it. Mr. Joseph Bailey entertained the company with his phonograph, which was greatly enjoyed. After partaking of dainty refreshments the company bade their host and hostess goodnight, leaving their best wishes for a prosperous future for long years. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. B. L. Baker, May 26.

King Arthur Flour.
THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

WANTED.

WANTED—Young Man to help shipper. HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
Quincy, May 9. tf

MEN, not under 25 years, to call on old and new customers. No delivering. Position permanent to the right party. Pay weekly. GLEN BROTHERS, Rochester, N. Y.
April 23. 6w--thurs. sat. tues.

HELP WANTED — Male — Examinations for Post Office employes in Quincy will be held soon. Barely time to prepare for it. For full particulars address today. NATIONAL CORRESPONDENCE INSTITUTE, 221 Second National Bank Building, Washington, D. C. May 6-3t -6 7-9

WANTED—Money on first mortgages. Address Box 185 Quincy Post Office.
April 16. eod tf

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON.
Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—Work, housecleaning. Will go by day or week. Apply at 5 Wibird street, Quincy.
May 7. 3t

WANTED—An Experienced Girl for housework. Apply to MRS. LEWIS N. CURTIS, No. 15 Orchard Place, off Spear street. Quincy, May 7-tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

WANTED—Competent Granite Letterer at once. Good pay for a good man W. F. COOK, Springfield, Mass. 4-6t

WANTED.

WANTED—Young Men to prepare for Government Positions. Fine Openings in all Departments. Good Salaries. Rapid Promotions. Examinations soon. Particulars Free. Inter-State Cor. Inst., Cedar Rapids, Ia.
April 27. lp-1m

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.
Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day,	25 cents
" " three days.	50 cents
" " one week.	75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office.
April 28. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street.
Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE.—Yawl BRANT, 28-6 o. a., 9-0 beam, 3-0 draught, with centre board up; built by Leloise in 1898. This boat is well known along the coast as a safe and handy cruiser, is easily handled, and is in perfect condition, well found in everything needed for comfort and safety. Now at her moorings off the Wollaston Yacht Club house and ready for sea.
J. A. FENNO, 538 Hancock street.
Wollaston, May 4. tf

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve (12) rooms, with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

TO LET.

TO LET—A very large Front Room. Also two rooms connected. Another medium size room. Every room newly renovated. Large new bath room. Prices from $1.75 to $3.00 per week. 48 Revere road.
Quincy, May 9. 3t

TO LET—Furnished Parlor, also square and side room, on bath floor. 39 Washington street, opposite public library.
Quincy, May 9. 1t

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy.
April 8. w. th. s. m.--tf

TO LET—Dining Room, Kitchen and Bed Room for light housekeeping. Also Side Rooms at moderate prices. Barn for $4 per month. Apply Greenleaf street, corner Hancock street. Quincy, May 8-tf

TO LET—3 or 4 Sunny Chambers in vicinity of Brewers Corner, suitable for light housekeeping. Rent reasonable to right people. Address K., care Ledger Office.
Quincy, May 7. 3t

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet. 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street.
Quincy, April 21. tf

BILLHEADS PRINTED

of Massachusetts
PROBATE COURT.
w, Next-of-Kin, and all rested in the estate of HAGSPIEL, said County, deceased.
nstrument purporting to tament of said deceased aid Court for Probate, by Norwood, who prays that ay be issued to him, the ed, without giving a nd.
to appear at a Probate ham, in said County of
th day of May, A. D. 1903, forenoon, to show cause,
the same should not be
is hereby directed to reof by publishing this ek, for three successive ily Ledger, a newspaper
e last publication to be re said Court, and by livering a copy of this persons interested in s at least before said
LINT, Esquire, Judge of
th day of May, in
ine hundred and three.
HAN COBB, Register.
3t--9-11-18

f Massachusetts.
PROBATE COURT.
next-of-kin, creditors,
s interested in the es-LILLICRAP, aid County, deceased,
has been presented to tter of administration deceased, to Hannah to some other suitable to appear at a Probate
ham, in said County of eth day of May, A. D.
the forenoon, to show
, why the same should is hereby directed to eof, by publishing this ek, for three successive ily Ledger, a newspaper
e last publication to be aid Court.
LINT, Esquire, Judge of enth day of May, in
ine hundred and three.
HAN COBB, Register.
3t--9-11-18

St. Louis and the World's Fair.

[Editorial Correspondence.]

Plans have certainly been made on a gigantic scale for a grand World's Fair at St. Louis next year on the centennial of the Louisiana purchase. Previous to 1803 Louisiana was a vast territory owned by France, and extended from the gulf of Mexico north and west to the Pacific coast, including fourteen states and two territories and most of the region west of the Mississippi river. The acquisition of this territory by President Jefferson from Napoleon in 1803 determined that the United States should be a great expanding nation, and expansion was the principal theme of President Roosevelt, ex-President Cleveland, Gov. Odell and others who spoke at the dedication of the fair last week.

As already noted in the Ledger, the National government, the State of Missouri, the city of St. Louis, and its business men have been generous in their financial encouragement of the World's Fair. The work has been pushed, says President Francis, in every State and territory and possession of the United States, and in every civilized country of the earth. Forty-two foreign countries are now pledged to participate.

CITY OF ST. LOUIS.

St Louis has a population a little in excess of Boston, the last census showing 575,238, while Boston had 560,892. St. Louis however covers an area of over 63 acres while Boston covers less than 39 acres. The city of St. Louis is situated in a curve of the Mississippi river which is half a mile wide at this point, and is spanned by two double deck bridges.

The World's Fair grounds are situated about six miles west from the river, and about midway between the river on north and the river on the south. Twenty-seven railroads enter the city, and electric car lines traverse 321 miles of city streets. The transfer system is excellent as a passenger can transfer at any street corner, where a street railway crosses. The benefits will be better understood when it is known that the city is laid out very regularly, the streets running either east and west, or north and south. It is easy too, to find one's way about as 100 numbers are allotted to each block west from the river. Thus No. 1025 would be ten blocks from the river, and 4012 forty blocks from the river. And 1500 north is fifteen blocks north of Market street and 2000 south twenty blocks south of Market street.

FAIR ON BIG SCALE.

The buildings at the World's Fair at St. Louis will cover 250 acres, or 50 acres more than at Chicago. At St. Louis 1180 acres will be fenced in, or twice the area at Chicago. There will be twelve or more large buildings from ten to twenty-two acres in size, viz: Fine Arts, Liberal Arts, Varied Arts, Manufactures, Mines and Metallurgy, Education, Electricity, Transportation, Machinery, Agriculture, Government, Horticultural, etc. None of these are completed, and four have not been started. The arrangement of the buildings is artistic, and between them are cascades and waterways.

The illustration accompanying this article is the Liberal Art building in which the dedication exercises were held. It is not completed, but is closed in, and well along. Over 60,000 persons were in this building on Thursday of last week, when President Roosevelt, ex-president Cleveland and others spoke, and a large chorus sang. Unfortunately the crowd could not be controlled, so that they surged to the front and everybody stood. There were so many people and so much talking, moving, etc., that only a few heard the speeches, but they enjoyed the choruses and there was enthusiasm at times, especially when Roosevelt and Cleveland were introduced.

PRESIDENT IN PARADE.

Preceding the exercises there was a grand military parade from Grand street to the Fair grounds. It was in command of Gen. Corbin, and President Roosevelt rode near the head. There were 12,000 troops in line, including 4,000 regulars and 8,000 state militia, and the pageant was two hours and a quarter in passing. The President reviewed it from a grand stand on the Fair grounds.

Thursday evening, and again Friday evening, there were grand phyrotechnic displays, which were entitled to the claim "never excelled." They were a continuous performance by Pain, and covered a frontage of about quarter of a mile, and were very elaborate and marvelous.

Wednesday, the day preceding the dedication, had been a delightful summer one with temperature of 70 degrees, but on Thursday the temperature ranged between 40 and 46 and there was a northwest wind which made it decidedly chilly for those who viewed the parade and the fireworks.

Friday the representatives of foreign nations were welcomed, and made addresses in the Liberal Art building. Saturday was Governor's day, many states being represented. There was a civic parade of 40,000 men, and it rivalled the military pageant.

MEMORIABLE DEDICATION.

The presence of so many notable officials and diplomats, Governors and staffs, of the troops, of visitors by the thousands from all states of the union, together with the patriotism of St. Louis and its decorations on all hands made it a gala week indeed, and one long to be remembered. Hundreds of newspaper men were entertained, and extended every courtesy. It was the honor of the writer to have a seat on the reviewing stand with President Roosevelt on the day of the parade; also on the grand stand in the building where he spoke. To attend a banquet where ex-President Cleveland, Senator Hanna, John Mitchell, Gen. Miles, and many notables were guests and made addresses; also to attend the exercises in the Liberal Art building each day; to review the civic parade from the grand stand; to meet diplomats, and to help eat up the "President's lunch."

Much more might be written but this letter is already too long. Everybody will want to go to the World's Fair in 1904, and in the meanwhile the Daily Ledger will note the attractions offered and illustrate the buildings and grounds. The writer will also be pleased to give information relative to the city, lodging places, transportation etc.

THE BEST ROUTE.

Probably the most direct route to the Exposition city is by the lines operated by the New York Central & Hudson River R. R. If not the most direct, they are the quickest, and at the same time afford luxurious travel in comfortable cars over easy road beds, and under the greatest safeguards. A very convenient train is that which leaves Boston at 6 P. M., daily via Boston & Albany. From Albany the route is over the four-track New York Central to Buffalo, which is reached at 8.45 A. M.

Because of the change to Central time one is able to leave by the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern at 7.55 A. M., for Cleveland and thence by the "Big Four" railroad via of Indianapolis direct to St. Louis, reaching that city at 7.30 the second morning. The 11.15 P. M. train from Boston is even quicker, as it arrives in St. Louis at the same time as the 6 P. M., the schedule time being 33 hours and 15 minutes. There are also trains via the Boston & Albany at 10.15 A. M., 10.45 A. M., and 2 P. M., and others may be put on during the World's Fair next year. A stop over at Niagara Falls should be made going or coming.

WARLIKE MOVEMENTS

In Reply to China's Rejection of the Czar's Demands

NEW CHWANG REOCCUPIED

Interpreted as Declaration That Russia Is Ready to Fight to Maintain Possession of Manchuria, Where She Is Preparing to Increase Her Forces

Pekin, May 9.—The Russians have reoccupied New Chwang with a large force, and have also put garrisons in the forts at the mouth of the Liao river. They are further reported to be making extensive warlike preparations. On their return to New Chwang the Russian troops brought with them several large guns. A large force has been ordered to reoccupy Tien Chwang Tai. The Russians have 14,000 troops between the mouth of the Liao river and Port Arthur.

The Russians are reported to be constructing forts on the hills near Liao-Yung, commanding the road between there and the Yalu river, and they have arranged to have a large quantity of provisions delivered at New Chwang.

The Russians have established a consulate at Mukden.

Russia's coup has caused profound surprise here, as recent developments had led to the expectation that Russia would compromise her demands since they had been revealed to the powers. The latest maneuver is interpreted as being intended as a reply to China's refusal to grant Russia's demands, to the protests of the powers, and as a declaration that she is ready to fight in order to maintain possession of Manchuria.

It is considered significant that the Russian army reoccupied certain strategical posts at just about the time naval reinforcements were reaching the Gulf of Pe Chi Li. The temporary withdrawal of the Russian troops from New Chwang is believed to have been a feint to avert suspicion from the contemplated policy until the Russian squadron was within useful distance. It has been reported recently that Russia was accumulating great stores of provisions and war materials. It is impossible to confirm these reports, but it is known that the Russian military authorities have been buying many horses. All the available information indicates that Russia is preparing to increase and not decrease her forces in Manchuria.

The foreign ministers are discussing information to the effect that the Russians had taken a large tract of land across the river from New Chwang and commanding the terminus of the Shan Hai Kwan railroad. It was stated that Russia informed the Chinese officials that the tract was needed for a Russian drill ground. The selection of the site seemed remarkable, because all the troops were then quartered on the opposite side of the river, several miles distant, where plenty of land was available.

The Chinese officials describe the dowager empress as being greatly distressed and as fearing that the Russian aggression will excite anti-foreign demonstrations resulting in retaliation on the part of the foreigners and the introduction of more foreign troops.

It is stated here that Russian influence is being exerted to conciliate American opinion and that appeals are being made to the traditional friendship of the two nations, with the argument that Russian development of Manchuria will open a great field for American commerce, while the opposition of the United States to Russia's plans might provoke retaliation against American trade.

British Eyes Upon United States

London, May 9.—The daily papers this morning warmly welcome the prospect of the United States initiating joint action with Great Britain and Japan against the designs of Russia in Manchuria. They believe that such concerted action would induce Russia to beat a prudent retreat.

The Standard says: Now that Russia has dropped the mask Washington's forbearance is exhausted and if the United States has the will it has the power to enforce its views on the sanctity of treaties.

The Morning Post thinks it would be prudent to wait until President Roosevelt has made his decision known, and comments upon the momentous effects of such a disturbance of the balance of power in the far east as the intervention of the United States would involve.

President Had Not Heard of It

Los Angeles, Cal., May 9.—The attention of President Roosevelt was called to a dispatch from Washington, stating that Secretary Hay was in communication with him regarding the increase of the Russian garrison at New Chwang, Manchuria. President Roosevelt said that he had received no communication from Secretary Hay regarding the affair. In fact, he had never heard of the matter before.

Collapse of a Building

Denver, May 9.—The building at 1514 Laramie street, occupied by Michelson Bros.' clothing store, with a rooming house on the second floor, collapsed last night. Several persons were injured, but nobody was killed.

Colombian Congress Meets In June

Colon, May 9.—Official news has just reached the isthmus from Bogota to the effect that the Colombian congress has been called for June 20.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Industrial World Suffers Because of Frequency of Small Strikes

New York, May 9.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Unrest in the ranks of labor has increased rather than abated since May 1, when difficulties of this sort usually culminate. No single struggle of great magnitude is in progress, but the frequency of small strikes is disturbing, and in the aggregate a large force is idle, while important industrial undertakings are checked.

Good reports are received from footwear factories, shipments from Boston for the year thus far surpassing all records, and clothing makers receive duplications of spring orders in addition to getting out fall samples.

Textile manufacturers at the east have not improved their position during the past week. Jobbers are buying only small quantities, exercising a discrimination that indicates dull markets elsewhere and salesmen are being withdrawn from the road. With large print mills closed there is no activity in print cloths, nor is the movement of brown sheetings and drills of any account. Abnormal prices for raw cotton might be expected to stimulate inquiry for goods, but the only effect is to prevent sellers from making concessions. More woolen mills have closed, and the market is featureless, but the new wool clip is firmly held.

Brave Man Honored In Death

New York, May 9.—Firemen, 100 sailors of the navy and about 5000 other people attended the funeral of William McNally, the young fireman who was fatally burned trying to save a man at a tenement house fire in this city. The jackies were from the battleship Iowa, on which McNally served during the war. The funeral procession passed the headquarters of the fire department. Engine, truck and horses of the station stood at the curb, with officials of the department near, and as the hearse passed by the bell in the tower of the station was tolled and gongs on the engine and truck were lightly rung.

Souvenir of Kaiser's Surgery

Berlin, May 9.—Emperor William has caused a piece of bark 20 inches in length, bearing the inscription; "His majesty William II used this as a splint March 27 in setting the empress' broken arm" to be placed in the Hohenzollern museum. It is now in the William II room, in a glass case, among gold and silver souvenirs.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus of 'em before medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

☞Job Printing at Ledger office.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

The Divided Apple

Mr. Pig and Mr. Goat met one day under an apple tree, and after they had bidden each other good morning they turned their eyes toward the upper branches to see what amount of fruit was on the tree.

And what do you suppose they saw? Only one apple. But such a fine, ripe apple it was and large enough to make up for any number of smaller pieces of fruit.

"Will you do me a favor?" asked the pig of the goat.

"What is it?" asked the goat.

"Won't you butt up against this tree as hard as you can and shake that apple down for me?"

"Oh, ho!" cried the goat. "I was just going to ask you to rub up against the tree as hard as you could so as to shake that apple down for me."

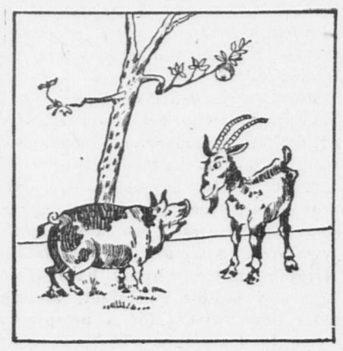

"No, I'll not shake it down for you, but I'll shake it down for myself," said the pig.

"If you do, I'll get it and eat it," answered the goat; "but I think that I'll have to butt the tree so as to get the apple for myself."

"If you do, I'll get it and eat it," replied the pig.

So they both went to work to think of a plan that would insure their getting the apple. After awhile the goat said:

"I'll tell you what we'll do. You rub against the tree, and I'll butt the tree,

"WILL YOU DO ME A FAVOR?" ASKED THE PIG.

and when the apple falls we will run to the spot, and the first one to get there may have the apple."

The pig agreed, and they set to work. The goat butted as hard as he could, and the pig rubbed as hard as he could. The tree shook, and down came the apple.

Both of the animals rushed for it, and they got there about the same time. The apple in falling had split in halves, and each of the animals grabbed a half.

"Well, that was the best way out of our controversy after all," said the goat, munching his half of the apple.

"I believe it was," assented the pig as he chewed on his half.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The governor of Maine has granted a free pardon to Miles Thompson of Patten, serving a four months' sentence in jail at Bangor for violation of the liquor law, because he is said to be dying with diabetes.

Thomas R. Price, professor of the English language and literature in Columbia university and head of its English department, is dead. Professor Price was born in Virginia 64 years ago.

Cohasset, Mass., has received a check for $10,000, a share of the Billings fund, from the trustees of that legacy. The common in the centre of the town and Pratt park will be improved with the money.

Dartmouth freshmen were defeated in joint debate by the Middlebury college freshmen on the question pertaining to the election of United States senate by direct vote of the people. Middlebury took the affirmative.

Captain Cyrus F. Staples, 61, formerly prominent in the financial circles of Brooklyn and a well known broker, died of Bright's disease.

The dual track meet between the University of Pennsylvania and Columbia university was won by Pennsylvania by a score of 68 to 49 points.

Policeman James F. Howard and his son George, aged 7, were drowned by the upsetting of a rowboat in the Bronx Hills, N. Y.

Chief Uhler of the steamboat inspection service has decided to make an investigation into the condition and equipment of steamer Saginaw, which sank after colliding with steamer Hamilton.

Violated "Jim Crow" Law

New Orleans, May 9.—Former President Pearson of the New Orleans Railway company, desiring to leave the city, went into the criminal court and pleaded guilty to charges of failure to provide screens in the street cars to separate the races. Pearson was fined $1100, which he paid.

Smallpox In College

Washington, May 9.—The war department has made public the report of Colonel Mills on the alleged interview with General Baldwin at Denver. The report pronounces the interview in which General Baldwin is alleged to have criticised the Filipinos and negroes "a fake."

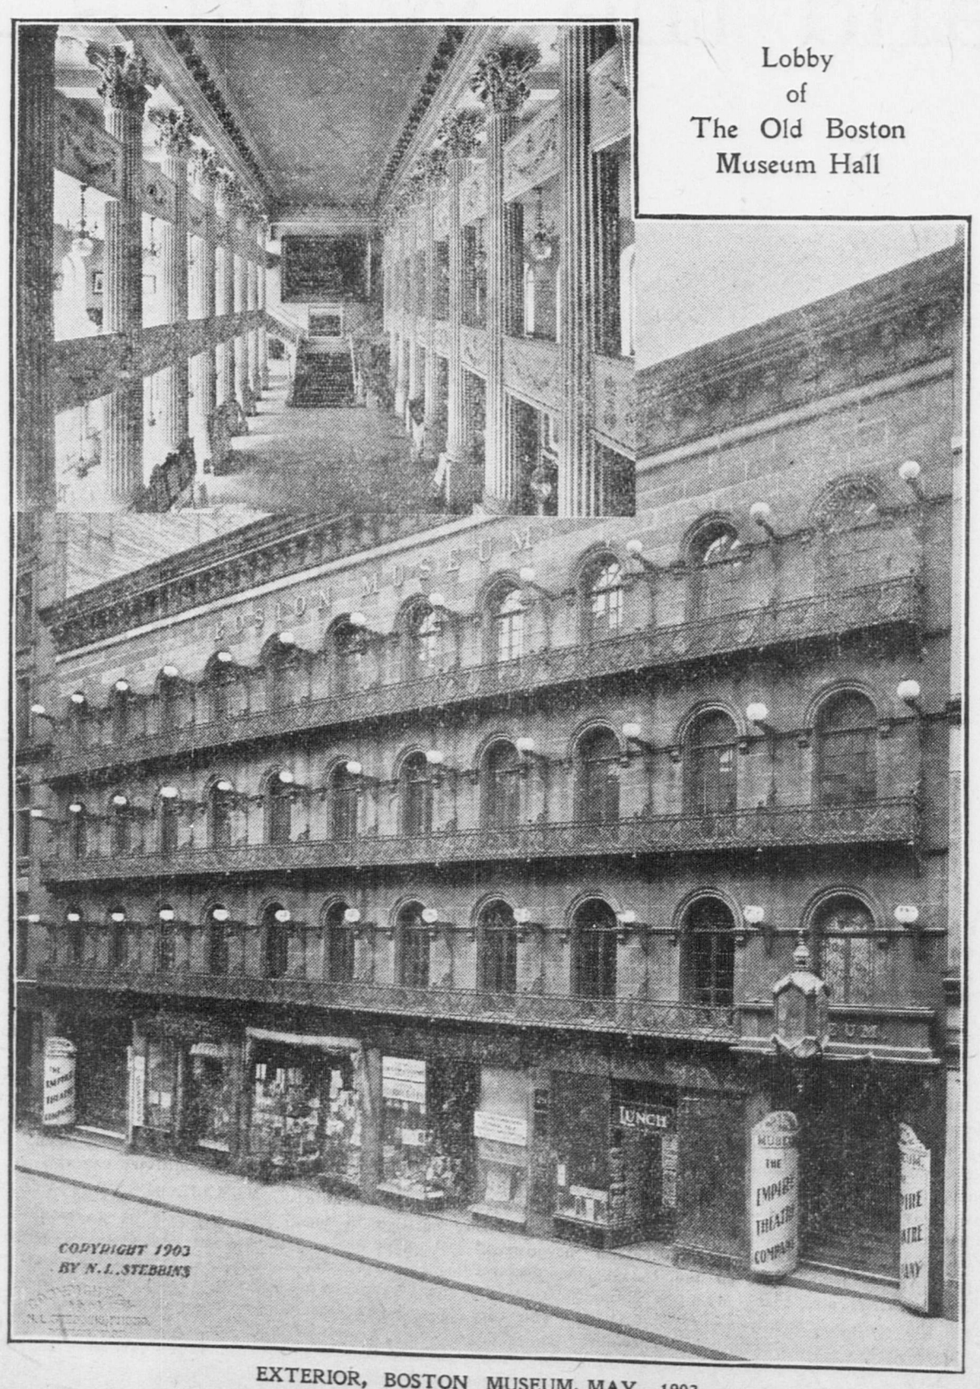

Explosion on Government Tug

Wilmington, N. C., May 9.—As a result of a boiler explosion on the government tug Cynthia, engaged in tending a dredge at work in the Cape Fear river, the engineer was scalded to death and three others of the crew were seriously burned. The tug was partially wrecked.

Would Not Make Booker's Bed

Indianapolis, May 9.—Louise Hadley, a chambermaid at the Hotel English, has been discharged for refusing to make up a bed occupied by Booker T. Washington.

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston Tel. 2181 8 Haymar- sept '6 1y

Lobby of The Old Boston Museum Hall

EXTERIOR, BOSTON MUSEUM, MAY, 1903.

ARCTIC AMERICA.

It Has Much Diversity of Climate and Luxuriant Plant Life.

To undertake to give people a correct conception of arctic America or of any part of it is difficult. Although they know that the country is much larger than the United States, they look upon it as being all alike—a country of long, dark winters, fields of ice and snow and barren wastes. In truth, within arctic and subarctic America there is much diversity of climate. And in this beautiful summer land of Alaska there are in midsummer endless fields of beautiful plant life. Many times I have left my camp at the foot of the mountains, and, passing through a little meadow where a variety of wild grasses waved their tops above my head, I would commence to climb among the dense, tangled and almost tropical jungle of alders, where grew several varities of the most beautiful ferns.

Reaching the upper limits of the alders, great, waving fields of the purple lupine and dainty red columbine covered acres and acres of the high, rolling hills. Among them wild celery and wild parsnip grew many feet high, and other luxuriant foliage plants gave my surroundings an almost tropical appearance. A little farther many little ponds grew beautiful, yellow lilies, with their great leaves resting on the surface of the water, and the purple iris bordered the shores.

Still higher came the yellow sunflowers, white and purple daisies in endless fields and higher yet violets, pinks, forgetmenots, buttercups and bluebells and dozens and dozens of dainty blossoming plants in many colors.

Purple is the predominating color, then white and yellow and blue and pink dividing honors. But few red flowers were seen. I have traveled many miles where every foot of my way was one grand profusion of beautiful flowers in many varieties. —Andrew J. Stone in Scribner's.

Breathe Through Your Nose.

In all kinds of atmosphere the breath should only be inhaled through the nose. An occasional breath of extra pure air through the mouth may be good, but in cars and in most offices and rooms nose breathing is essential. A second rule is, since so much time is spent in cars and offices and rooms in earning a livelihood, and since these places are overheated and underventilated, the heating and ventilating being done out of the control of most of us, we must take in fresh air whenever possible in order that we may restore the balance. The best times to do this will be in the early morning, when the air is freshest, and late at night, when deep breathing will help us to get sleep. We may breathe correctly while we are waiting in a street and especially where streets meet. We can soon form an automatic habit of breathing properly on such occasions.—Chambers' Journal.

His Upturned Face.

The youthful orator came down from the platform at the close of his address, and many people pressed forward to shake him by the hand. He accepted their congratulations with a smiling face, but his eyes were on a certain auditor who lingered in his seat. The young lecturer pressed through the throng about him and extended his hand to the waiting man.

"I want to thank you," he said, "for the close attention you gave my remarks. Your upturned face was an inspiration to me. I am sure you never changed your earnest attitude during my lecture."

"No," said the man; "I have a stiff neck."

Of Minor Importance.

A New England man found himself on his arrival at a southern city so besieged and set upon by negro porters from the hotels that he was fain to plead for gentler treatment.

"Look out for my bag!" he cried indignantly as it was at last torn from him to become the bone of contention between three stalwart darkies. "It's old, and it won't stand such pulling."

"I ain't tetch yo' bag, sah," said a husky but determined voice, which came from a big negro who had obtained a firm hold on his elbow. "I don' care who gets de bag, sah, long as I gets de man."—Youth's Companion.

Grief That Was Natural.

The boy came into the house weeping, and his mother was naturally solicitous. "What's the matter, Willie?" she asked.

"The boy across the way hit me," he replied.

"Oh, well, I wouldn't cry for that," she returned. "Show that you can be a little man."

"I ain't crying for that," he retorted.

"Then what are you crying for?"

"He ran into the house before I could get at him."—New York Times.

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK A SPECIALTY.

Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

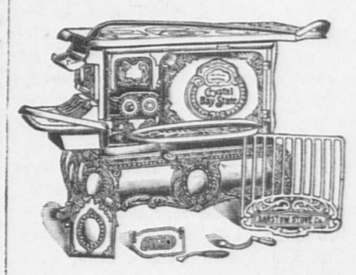

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.

Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

Address, 1362 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.

Quincy, April 10. tfip

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.

Come and See It.

BARSTOW STOVE CO.,

55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.

GUY'S COLISEUM,

W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 17. 4w

Reupholstering

OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE

HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED

And Made Over.

Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.

Call and get Prices.

C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.

Quincy, May 2. 1m

JAMES F. BURKE.

REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE

MORTGAGES.

Justice of the Peace. Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building,

June 5. tf

Notice of Milk Inspecto

[Extract from Charter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person w conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for t purpose of selling the same in such city sh annually on the first day of May, or with thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspe tor of Milk of such city to sell milk within t limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspec fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling mi or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand market place in a city or in a town in which Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appoint shall register in the books of such Inspecto Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fi cents to the use of such city or town; and w ever neglects so to register, shall be punish for each offence by fine not exceeding twe dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D., Inspector of Milk

April 15. 30t

By CHAS. H. JOHNSON, - - Auctio

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

BY Virtue of a power of sale contained certain mortgage deed given by Sia L. Brackett to the Quincy Savings Bank, d December 27, 1900, and recorded in Nor Deeds, in libro 887, folio 208 will be sol public auction for breach of the condition said mortgage, on the premises hereinafte scribed, on MONDAY, the Twenty-fifth of May, 1903, at two o'clock in the after all and singular, the premises conveyed by mortgage deed and therein described sub tially as follows:

A certain lot of land containing 6,600 s feet, with all the buildings thereon, situa Quincy, aforesaid, and being a part of lo 41 on a plan made by H. T. Whitman, veyor, dated December, 1896, and rec with Norfolk Deeds at the end of Book 78 bounded as follows, viz: Northerly by pa of lot No. 100 and a part of lot No. 98 o plan, fifty-five feet; easterly by land of Ps Batcheldor, one hundred and twenty; southerly by a private way called Butler fifty-five feet; westerly by lot No. 40 o plan, one hundred and twenty feet.

This property will be sold subject to al paid taxes, tax titles and assessments.

Terms: $200 cash at sale, balance on ten days from said sale on delivery of dee Quincy Savings Bank, Mortgagee.

By CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas Quincy, May 2, 1903. 3t--2-9

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COU

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, credi and all other persons interested in the estate of

JOHN A. DUGGAN,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to John A. Duggan of Quincy, without giving a surety on his bond

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the thirteenth day of May, A. D., 1903, at nine o'clock in the forenoon to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-second day of April, A. D. 1903.

JONATHAN COBB, Register. 3t--24-2-9

you are thinking of

ING A HOUSE

OR A

T OF LAND,

Hancock street, where you your choice of over 100 Lots, in all parts of the city.

TER E. BURKE.

14. tf

G. BERGFORS

nter and Builder.

timates furnished at short notice.
ng promptly attended to.
OUSES FOR SALE.
e Avenue, Quincy, Mass
1m

STREIFERD & SON,

FLORISTS.

hone 13-7 Braintree.

Bedding and foliage plant, Fun- Weymouth Landing cars pass or, Quincy avenue and Hayward raintree.

en by Charles C. Hearn, Pharma- Square. jan26-1y

V. P RATT,

ER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

LOWEST PRICES.

and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

AGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

ou 50 per cent. on your architect's furnish plans free with any lot iven on new work

gton St., Quincy Adams.

March 9-tf

LL · STOCK

—OF—

ATCHET

AND

ANNED

OODS,

—AT—

ks' Market,

ville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

tf

SMOKE THE

OVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

nt Cigar in the Market, Long Filler
e Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Nov. 11. 1y

CHICHESTER'S EN
NYROYAL PILLS
Original and Only Genuine.
SAFE, always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists.
Chichester Chemical Co.
Madison Square, PHILA., PA.

When you buy soap for shampooing, get the kind used and recommended by the medical profession for 30 years—and you're repaid with good results.

PACKER'S Tar Soap

Our booklet, "The Value of Systematic Shampooing," mailed free.

THE PACKER MFG. CO., 81 Fulton St., N. Y.

"IN THE SPRINCTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS.

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.
April 30. 1m

Fidgets

When a child is restless, "fidgety," can't sit still, a wise parent suspects worms may be the cause. When children are ailing, give them True's Pin Worm Elixir. A few doses will expel worms, and correct all stomach and bowel diseases. If no worms are present, this pure vegetable remedy will act as a safe tonic.

TRUE'S Pin Worm ELIXIR

has been in household use for over fifty years, and has received the highest medical endorsement. A valuable help for a growing child, and should be given as a tonic and to prevent worms.

35 Cents a Bottle, at Druggists.
Write for free booklet—"Children and Their Diseases."
Dr. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me.
Special treatment for tape worm. Write for FREE pamphlet.

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder.

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store. Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

We Do Job Printing

WITH NEATNESS AND DISPATCH

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON

INSPECTOR IN CHARGE

Of Free Delivery System of Postoffice Department

MACHEN IS OUT OF OFFICE

"Relieved From Duty" as General Superintendent of Important Bureau—Deposed Official Says He Courts the Fullest Investigation

Washington, May 9.—The investigation of the affairs of the postoffice department, which has been dragging along for two months, took a sensational turn late yesterday afternoon when, by order of Postmaster General Payne, August W. Machen, general superintendent of the free delivery system, and one of the most widely known government officials in the United States, was relieved from his duties, and Postoffice Inspector Fosnes was designated to take charge of that service. The change took effect this morning, when Fosnes assumed charge of the free delivery service and at the same time that service passed under the control of the office of the fourth assistant postmaster general. Heretofore it has been under the jurisdiction of the first assistant.

The action of the postmaster general was taken on the recommendation of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow, who is directing the investigation of the affairs of the department, that the transfer of Machen's bureau to his jurisdiction and its administration by a postoffice inspector would expedite the investigation. In ordering the change recommended, the postmaster general gave Machen "leave of absence until the investigation is concluded."

Mr. Machen promptly acquiesced in the decision of the postmaster general, taking occasion to say, in doing so, that he courted the fullest investigation of his official conduct.

Mr. Machen has been under fire ever since the investigation began. Charges of various kinds have been preferred against the administration of the free delivery branch of the postal service. They included allegations of collusion with letter box manufacturers in the furnishing of boxes to postoffice patrons, particularly on rural mail routes, the furnishing of advance information regarding the selection of routes and the appointments of carriers, etc.

There also has been a conflict between Machen and First Assistant Postmaster General Wynne ever since the latter assumed office. Wynne charges Machen with insubordination. The strained relations between the head of the free delivery service and other officials resulted in an embarrassing state of affairs, and for several months correspondence between Machen and his immediate superior, Wynne, has been conducted on the part of the former, through one of his subordinates.

Mr. Bristow all along has been of the opinion that the best interests of the service would be served by the relief of Machen and has pointed out to Payne that that action was imperatively necessary to the successful conduct of the investigation.

Mr. Payne says his conclusion to relieve Machen was reached on Thursday after office hours. Bristow, he said, had come to his office and they had a conference, during which Bristow presented a letter requesting to be put into full control of the office as a necessary step to expedite the investigation. He declined to say whether the changes made would be permanent, saying that that depended on the results of the investigation.

Former Representative Loud of California, who was chairman of the house committee on postoffices and post roads, has spent much time during the past two or three days in conference with Messrs. Payne, Wynne and Bristow. Loud and Machen have been at odds officially for nearly two years, and it is believed that the counsel of Loud has figured in the latest developments.

Stay of Ames' Sentence

Minneapolis, May 9.—The defense in the Ames bribery case, which was closed with a verdict of guilty, has asked for a stay of sentence. Judge Elliott granted the request and sentence wil not be passed today as expected.

Montreal Strike Continues

Montreal, May 9.—Two thousand longshoremen in mass meeting last night rejected a proposal to settle the big dock strike. Solution of the difficulty hinges upon union recognition and both sides remain absolute upon the point.

On the Diamond

At Brooklyn—National—Boston, 8; Brooklyn, 1.
At St. Louis—National—Chicago, 3; St. Louis, 2.
At Pittsburg—National—Pittsburg, 9; Cincinnati, 4.
At New York—National—New York, 7; Philadelphia, 3.
At Boston—American—New York, 6; Boston, 1.
At Philadelphia—American—Philadelphia, 5; Washington, 3.
At Chicago—American—St. Louis, 13; Chicago, 12.
At Cleveland—American—Cleveland, 7; Detroit, 6.
At Lowell—Lowell, 5; Nashua, 3.
At Haverhill—Haverhill, 10; Lawrence, 0.
At Fall River—Concord, 12; Fall River, 3.
At Brockton—Brockton, 7; Manchester, 4.

COLD COMFORT FOR CRUM

Fees and Expenses Cannot Be Paid Until He Is Confirmed by Senate

Washington, May 9.—An account of W. H. Crum's fees and expenses for the month of April as collector of the port of Charleston was received yesterday at the treasury department. It aggregated only $56.89 and was included in the regular account of the Charleston office. Collector Crum has been informed by the department that his personal fees and expenses cannot be paid at this time, the law saying:

"No money shall be paid from the treasury, as salary, to any person appointed during the recess of the senate to fill a vacancy in any existing office, if the vacancy existed while the senate was in session and was by law required to be filled by and with the advice and consent of the senate, until such appointment has been confirmed by the senate."

Treasury officials hold that under this statute Crum can receive no money from the government as collector for fees or expenses until his appointment shall have been confirmed by the senate. No fixed salary is provided for the collector of the port of Charleston, who receives his compensation in the form of fees and expenses.

Airship's Great Performance

Paris, May 9.—The airship constructed for the Lebaury brothers made a highly successful trip under Pilot Juchmes and Engineer Rey. The start was made from St. Martin during a light rain and with a brisk wind blowing. The dirigible airship passed over a number of suburban towns and made a circle around a cathedral spire. She was put through a series of evolutions and answered her helm and maneuvered perfectly satisfactory. She returned to her point of departure and descended without accident. The distance covered was 37 kilometres in 96 minutes, against Santos-Dumont's record of 11½ kilometres in 30 minutes.

Prince's Throne In Jeopardy

Vienna, May 9.—Doubt is expressed in political circles here whether Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria will have the courage to return to Sofia at the present critical juncture of affairs. It is even hinted that he may never return to the principality. This doubt has been increased by the receipt of two telegrams from Bulgaria last evening. The first announces that the prince, who is in Paris, has been attacked with a violent inflammation of the throat. The second tells of the publication at Varna of a pamphlet accusing the prince of having betrayed the ideas of his fatherland, and containing threats of personal violence.

Rich Woman Alleges Non-Support

Detroit, May 9.—Mrs. Susan M. Lawson has begun divorce proceedings here against her husband, Dr. Charles R. Lawson, a former Presbyterian minister of Los Angeles, Cal. Mrs. Lawson before her marriage was a widow of ex-Judge Greenwood of Brooklyn. She alleges non-support, although she is credited with a fortune in her own name. Dr. Lawson came here from Los Angeles for the purpose of taking a medical course.

"Lied Like a Gentleman"

Berlin, May 9.—Baron Von Loew, a lieutenant in the Fifth Uhlans, was sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment at Duesseldorf for having "lied like a gentleman" in slander proceedings involving the reputation of Frau Eck, wife of a distinguished engineer. The baron and Frau Eck swore in court that they never had improper relations. She drank poison at the moment of her arrest for perjury and died from the effect.

Strikers as Deputy Sheriffs

Omaha, May 9.—The peculiar spectacle of strikers in the role of deputy sheriffs protecting non-union men is presented on the streets here. The Business Men's association promised Sheriff Power to furnish 100 trustworthy men for the service, but only a few appeared and the sheriff asked the labor union to furnish 25 trustworthy men. They were picked out by the labor leaders and sworn in at the court house.

Resigned In Disgrace

Washington, May 9.—Secretary of War Root has accepted the resignation of First Lieutenant Faulkner of the Eighth infantry. Faulkner, while serving in Alaska, was charged with misappropriating funds belonging to enlisted men, and also with being short in his accounts. The money losses were made good by his father, ex-Senator Faulkner of West Virginia.

Heavy Verdict Against Railroad

New York, May 9.—The appellate division of the supreme court has unanimously sustained the verdict of the jury in the case of Mrs. William Leys against the New York Central railroad. Leys was killed in a tunnel accident and Mrs. Leys brought suit against the railroad for $250,000, the jury allowing her $100,000 damages, with costs and interest.

The Eggleston Tunnel Disaster

Bluefield, W. Va., May 9.—Ten dead bodies have been recovered from the debris so far removed from the Eggleston tunnel. A report is current here to the effect that 19 men in all were killed. The tunnel has been a scene of several serious accidents and has given the railroad company considerable trouble in the past few years.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Sunday, May 10.
Sun rises—4:29; sets—6:52.
Moon sets—4:05 a. m.
High water—10:30 a. m.; 10:45 p. m.

An area of high pressure of considerable extent covers the lower lake region and the middle Atlantic states. The weather will be fair in New England.

WOMAN'S WORLD

MISS ISABELLE HAGNER.

The Clever and Tactful Secretary to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt.

Miss Isabelle Hagner, social secretary to the wife of the president of the United States, is a marvel of tactfulness and efficiency. She is to Mrs. Roosevelt the invaluable friend, the promoter of social harmony, the manual of social tactics and the smoother of the social way.

Miss Hagner is not a Roosevelt product. She belongs to Washington and is deep rooted in the soil of smart society. There is no one who better understands the social structure of Washington than this clever, invincible girl, who was born to affluence and position and who when the necessity came proved herself equal to a personal encounter with the world.

MISS ISABELLE HAGNER.

Eight years ago the most popular debutante, the toast of the season and the leader of cotillons was Belle Hagner, and even then she possessed a woman's courage despite her girlish years. She presided over her father's house, advised her motherless sisters and brothers, attended more luncheons, dinners, teas and balls than any girl in her set, and she was never mentally or physically fatigued. Her wonderful vitality proved a stimulus to her natural ambition.

Today, with an infinitely more strenuous life to be lived, Belle Hagner is as beautiful and as much a society favorite as formerly and withal she performs the duties of secretary to half a dozen women of fashion, who swear by her talents and advice.

To Mrs. Roosevelt she is well nigh indispensable, and the two women are the closest friends. At Mrs. Roosevelt's private teas and musicales it is Miss Hagner who is "the second in command." She presides over the tea table and exercises great care that conflicting elements never tread upon each other's sensitive toes. She prevents many a heartache by arranging the White House lists of guests so that different sets and cliques will dovetail with social nicety. She knows every one by name and rank and reputation, and nothing seems like work to Miss Hagner. She simply glories in the responsibility that rests upon her, and it is her pride apparently to assist Mrs. Roosevelt in making historically famous the social record of this administration.—Washington Times.

Exquisite Old Age.

You sometimes see a woman whose old age is as exquisite as was the perfect bloom of her youth. You wonder how this has come about; you wonder how it is her life has been a long and happy one. Here are some of the reasons:

She knew how to forget disagreeable things.

She kept her nerves well in hand and inflicted them on no one.

She mastered the art of saying pleasant things.

She did not expect too much from her friends.

She made whatever work came to her congenial.

She retained her illusions and did not believe all the world wicked and unkind.

She did unto others as she would be done by, and now that old age has come to her and there is a halo of white hair about her head she is loved and considered. This is the secret of a long life and a happy one.

The Fad For Simplicity.

Thanks to the fact that some of the greatest thinkers and teachers and artists of modern times have interested themselves in the problem of beauty as it concerns the commoner things of life, the number of those who are able to plant deep in knowledge their desire to make home beautiful is constantly multiplying, and the crop of simple house furnishings is constantly increasing. It has, in fact, grown large enough of late to attract the attention even of the thoughtless. They, being always ready for something new, have of late been taking slips from this new and sturdy growth and have been planting them in their shallow ground, and behold another prodigious growth, this time of plain furniture and severe draperies, highly polished mahogany tables costing $100 each, but plain, absolutely plain, and wall papers costing $3 a roll, but severe and simple in design.—Caroline Hunt in Chautauquan.

Got Out of It Quickly.

A distressing symptom of neurasthenia is a chronic state of evil foreboding. The victim of nerves studies herself, her ailments, her wants, her loneliness, or she is forever anticipating trouble for her husband or her children. Living so much within herself, it is easy for her to fall into a habit of brooding over trouble, be the same real or imaginary. This condition of worry not only works injury to her health, but reacts upon her disposition. Her ideas become narrowed and insular, and she loses interest in and sympathy with others. The home is no longer a pleasant place for any one within it and least of all for the sufferer, whose unhappy condition might, although she probably would not believe it, be traced to her own mistake in persistently ignoring the demand of nature for sunlight, pure air and innocent diversion.

Maid and Mistress.

Many housekeepers constantly speak of "teaching a maid" when they might with advantage allow the maid to teach them. As a rule, the housekeeper has lived in but two houses, conducted much upon the same lines—her own and her mother's. The maid has seen the innermost workings of many households. Sometimes she has seen better economy, better cooking, more thorough cleaning. Accept a new idea from her now and then and gratify her by saying, "I am so pleased Mrs. So-and-so taught you this; it is a great help to me." If on the contrary you never allow her to tell what she acquired in former situations, you make her whole past life and experience of no account; something to regret and forget.

Lighting a Child's Room.

The lighting of a child's room is a very important matter from both sanitary and convenient standpoints. If gas is the illuminant, it should never be lit longer than is absolutely necessary.

If a night light is required, a little night lamp should be used. It should be so placed that its rays do not strike the child's face. Many a child squints because it too often plays or sleeps where the rays from a light strike its eyes. Grown people, from their superior height, are prone to forget this fact. Poor eyesight in children is very often caused by negligence on the part of their elders to provide a shaded light in the room where the children are playing.

To Clear the Complexion.

The very best remedy for a muddy skin is a warm bath every night. With the bath there must be soap enough to make a heavy lather, and there should be rinsing water. A nice little flesh scrubbing brush is a good thing, and it can be used freely upon the skin and with all the force you can muster, enough to make the flesh glow. Scrub it until it is a bright pink, but no more. Then rinse off with clear water, and you will have the foundation for a clear complexion. Eat plenty of grapes and oranges, also lettuce, celery, young onions and other crisp green vegetables.

Beautiful Big Waists.

The matter of a slender waist is one that is open to discussion. It is a fact that the ideals of beauty as shown in the examples of ancient sculpture do not give a woman a tiny waist, nor one that would even pass for small. Remember that the waist of the Venus de Milo, that lovely thing that is the idol and despair of all artists, measured twenty-seven inches, and she is only 5 feet 2 inches tall, and that attractive figures of art all have large waists.

A Wall Finish.

Wooden cornices of a wood to match the baseboards are the latest finish to the side wall of a room. Sometimes it is in L shape, put in at the angle of the wall and ceiling, one part on each. This wooden cornice, it is asserted, is the most artistic wall finish. A wall should have a crown as well as a foot, and it is best that this cornice or crown should agree in material and color with the foot.

The Kitchen Mirror.

A looking glass in the kitchen will be found to inspire the cook or mistress, if she does her own work, to a much neater appearance, better carriage and pleasanter smile than she was in the habit of wearing before its introduction. At the same time she is not apt to stand before it as much as her less busy sister may imagine.

The Shortened Skirt.

A skirt that just escapes the ground is not only convenient, but it is far better for a woman when walking to stand up straight than it is to lean over to one side, as one almost invariably does when grasping a long skirt to hold it off the ground. Therefore the shortened skirt is healthful too.

The Bathroom Pipes.

When there is sickness in the house, the bathroom pipes require special attention. One of the best disinfectants is carbolic acid, allowing four tablespoonfuls to a quart of cold water. Pour this in the pipes and allow it to stand for twenty minutes or so before flushing.

Jacquard is a name applied to materials woven on jacquard looms, which automatically select the threads and make the designs formerly produced on hand looms only.

In Sweden women vote for the municipal councils, and the municipal councils elect members of the upper house of the parliament.

When about to scald milk, wet the saucepan with cold water to prevent the milk from scorching.

To cut hard boiled eggs in smooth slices dip the knife in water.

Quincy Daily Ledger.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS

and at the following places:

BOSTON—Terminal News Stand after 7.35
QUI[illegible]—Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock St
a[illegible]well's Periodical Store, 14 Granite St
He[illegible] C. Kittredge, City Square
Rogers Bros., Hancock St.
J[illegible] Store, 1595 Hancock St
C[illegible]arison, near Quincy depot
A[illegible] Hall, 128 Washington St., near Canal.
QUI[illegible]—Miss Freeman's store
Sprague & Hobart, Washington cor. River St.
SOU[illegible]—L. L. Litchfield, Washington
E. Nightingale, 90 Water street
O. Chick, 59 Liberty St
WES[illegible] QUINCY—Coram's Periodical Store.
BR[illegible]WER'S CORNER—Emma Lark
WOL[illegible]ASTON—Shunk's news stand
WOL[illegible]ASTON PARK—C. E. Hosmer, cor. Hancock and Beach streets.
NOR[illegible]OLK DOWNS—Branscheid & Marten.
ATLANTIC—Branscheid & Marten.
HOUGHS NECK—Arthur Dunham at P. O.
EAS[illegible]MILTON—William Clark.
EAS[illegible] WEYMOUTH—George H. Hunt
WEYMOUTH—J. R. Walsh.
NOR[illegible]CH WEYMOUTH—B. F. Thomas.

1903			MAY			1903
Su.	Mo.	Tu.	We.	Th.	Fr.	Sa.
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24 31	25	26	27	28	29	30

MOON'S PHASES.

First Quarter 4 2:36 a. m. | Third Quarter 19 10:18 a. m.
Full Moon 11 8:18 a. m. | New Moon 26 5:46 p. m.

CITY BREVITIES.

Dr. J. H. Maloney, successor to the late Dr. McSweeney, has taken apartments at The Greenleaf.

Rev. E. C. Butler, Mr. John O. Hall and Mr. Charles H. Johnson are delegates from First church to attend the anniversary meetings in Boston the last of May.

Mrs. Victor E. Miller was chairman of the mothers' meeting held at Bethany chapel on Wednesday afternoon. The subject for the meeting was Spring Pastimes.

A book sale is to be given soon in aid of the Day Nursery and everyone is invited to save their old books and donate them to this purpose; paper covered books being especially asked for.

The Friday club bring their meetings to a close on Friday afternoon the fifteenth, when a business meeting is to be held at the home of Miss Edith Randall, Coddington street. Officers for 1903-4 will be elected.

The regular meeting of the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will be held at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, May 12, at the Methodist church. Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln, who is so well known in our city, will speak upon "Ideal Housekeeping." It is hoped every one interested will attend.

There will be a social supper at the Universalist vestry, Wednesday May 13, from 6.30 to 7.30 P. M. which will be followed by an entertainment. Rev. M. C. Ward will tell the story of the Wayside Inn. There will be readings from Longfellow's Tales by several young ladies. A miscellaneous musical program will be rendered with Miss Alice Barker of Dorchester, reader.

Episcopal Convention.

The annual Convention of the Diocese will meet in Boston on Wednesday next, May 13.

The opening service will be held in Trinity church, beginning at 9.30 A. M. when there will be a sermon by the Rev. Henry Sylvester Nash, D. D., Professor in the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, and the Administration of the Holy Communion.

In the same church, in the afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese, will deliver his tenth annual address to the convention. These services are open to all.

Delegates to this convention from Christ's Church, Quincy, are Messrs. Soloman Fuller. Elisha Packard and George H. Brown.

On the evening of the same day a meeting in the interest of the missions of the Diocese will be held in Emmanuel church, Boston, at eight o'clock. The Bishop of the Diocese will preside, and there will be an address of twelve minutes each by four speakers of this Diocese.

TODAY'S COURT.

The continued case of Walter A. Blanding, for illegal sale of liquor at Quincy, was called. Blanding retracted his plea of not guilty and entered one of guilty and was fined $50.

The continued case of John P. Keating of Braintree was called and he was defaulted.

Thomas Sullivan was sent to the State farm at Bridgewater for drunkenness at Quincy.

Mrs. John Casey was arraigned for trespass at Milton.

BRAINTREE.

The monthly supper of the Ladies' Home Missionary circle was held Wednesday evening. A most excellent supper was served to six tables full of guests of the society, the ladies serving and the waitresses filling the seventh table. The hostesses of the evening were: Mrs. C. S. Bates, Mrs. E. C. Bryant, Mrs. Francis Hunt, Mrs. Frank Dearing, Mrs. C. E. French, Misses Annie and Sarah Shaw, Miss Eliza Arnold.

The Penniman School association held its monthly business meeting at the school hall, on Wednesday evening last,—and with a representatiue number present successfully transacted a large amount of important business. Among other things money was appropriated for a flag and also for interior adornment.

Former superintendent of schools, Irving W. Horne was in town Thursday to attend the funeral of Franklin D. Thayer.

The Pond-street Cemetery Association met with Mrs. H. A. Jones, Tuesday afternoon. During the meeting several of the friends of the late Louis Gomez contributed to enter his name upon the Association's list. It was stated that the society cleared over twenty-five dollars at the sale and supper held the last Tuesday in April.

A largely attended meeting of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers employed by the N. Y., N. H. & Hartford road was held in Providence last Sunday. The following from this place attended. L. H. Tirrell, M. T. Call, W. M. Call, F. H. Tirrell, W. J. Tirrell, Jr., F. H. Lane, O. B. Cottle, G. L. Duckworth.

Rev. C. F. H. Crathern, Mrs. R. F. Randall, Mrs. Leonard Hunt, Mrs. George Parker, Mrs. Azel Erench, Mrs. Pennock, Misses Clara Green, Delia Dyer and Elizabeth Thompson attended the 77th annual meeting of the Norfork Conference of Congregational churches at Brockton, Tuesday.

At the annual meetlng of the New England Associatton of Veteran Firemen, in Paine Memorial hall, Boston, Tuesday, Mr. Worth A. Green of the Butcher Boy was appointed with four others, to look after the annual tournament. Seventy-seven associations, with a membership of 10,000, were represented at the meeting.

Rev. G. E. Whitehouse was in town Tuesday.

The morning service at the South Congregational church last Sunday was highly instructive and heartily enjoyed by all present. Rev. Mr. Crenden, a former Jewish Rabbi, elucidated several passages of scripture referring to phylacteriss, fringed garments, the book of Esther, unleavened bread, etc. by displaying the objects mentioned. The bread, which resembled soda crackers, was freely given to all who cared to ake a piece.

Mrs. Charles H. Bangs was called to Amherst the latter part of April because of the serious illness of her brother, Henry, who died the first of May.

After long and painful suffering Mrs. Bennett passed away at her home on Pond street, Thursday morning. She leave a husband and daughter, Bertell and a sister, Mrs. Edward Austin to mourn her loss.

The pleasant weather of Wednesday brought out a large number at the monthly supper of the Ladies' Aid society of the First church. The ladies in charge were Mrs. Frank Dearing, Miss Annie Shaw, Miss Sara Shaw, Miss Eliza S. Arnold, Mrs. Francis E. Hunt and Mrs. Charles Bates.

The monthly social of All Souls' church will take place next Wednesday evening. Rev. Mr. Lord of Rockland will give an illustrated lecture on "Birds and their ministry to man." These socials are free to all.

The ladies of the First church met in the chapel yesterday to tack comforters. Mrs. Brown of Wollaston was present in the afternoon and gave a very interesting talk on the W. T. C. U. movement. She hopes to interest the ladies of Braintree that a union may be formed here in Braintree.

Fletcher G. Plummer, who it was alleged induced a colored woman from Boston to his house in Holbrook and there committed rape upon her was arrested Thursday after two days of hard work by officer James R. Qualey, and turned over to officer Crooker of Holbrook who had him before the court at Quincy Friday morning. Plummer was held until May 22 under a $1000 bail.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wales Arnold of Holyoke are happy over the safe arrival of Miss Charlotte Arnold, Thursday, April 30.

Mrs. A. H. Mason returned home Saturday evening, after an absence of several weeks in Edgewood, R. I. where she was called by the serious illness of her father.

Rev. and Mrs. Baker, formerly of East Braintree, were made happy by the birth of a daughter in San Francisco, Cal., April 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Levangie of Franklin street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

SEASONABLE NECESSITIES.

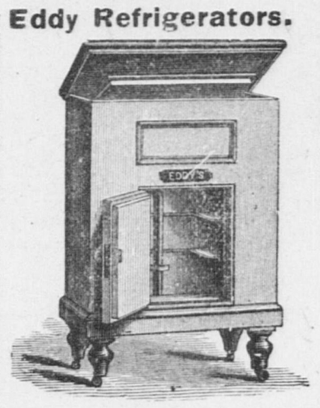

If you wish to keep up appearances in your home you must keep everlastingly at it. Now is the time to clean house, change around the furniture and add a new carpet, matting, new draperies or odd pieces of furniture where needed We have much for your consideration. Attractive goods from the best and most reliable factories in the country. Prices lower than those of any other store in New England.

Mattings, Rugs, etc.

Straw Mattings,	10c. to 25c.
Japanese Mattings,	25c. to 40c.
Prairie Grass Mattings,	35c. to 38c.
Art Squares,	$2.98 to $10 20
Dining Room Rugs in Taspesty, Brussels, Velvet, Oriental or Smyrna,	$9.75 to $35.00
Wool Carpets,	.55 to .75
Tapestry Carpets,	.65 to 1.00
Brussels,	1.00 to 1.35

Lace Draperies, Muslin Curtains, estry and Chenille Portieres.

Eddy Refrigerators.

If there was a better make of refrigerators in the market than the Eddy, it would be here for sale. The Eddy is acknowledged by experts everywhere to be the most economical ice consumer and most satisfactory ice box made. Factory prices from $5.20 up

Cottage and Porch Furniture, etc.

Piazza Chairs,	89c. to $3.25
Lawn Settees,	.98
Lawn Swings,	5.00
Cot and Iron Beds,	$1 25 to 2.98
Cottage Bureaus,	3 50
Cottage Tables,	98c. to 5.00
Cottage Couches,	$3.50 to 6.00
Cottage Washstands,	1 42
Cottage Chairs,	50c. to .75
Cottage Rockers,	79c. to 1.75

All the inexpensive fittings for cottages and temporary rooms in your own home.

Summer Necessities.

Blue Flame Oil Stoves,	$4.50 to $9 00
Common Oil Stoves,	75c. to 2.25
Lawn Mowers,	$3.25 to 7.00
Lawn Hose,	3.50 to 6.00

Bicycles, etc.

Iver Johnson, Dayton, Crawford, Leroy, High Grade Wheels, $25.00
Cheaper Wheels, $18.00
Tires, Sundries, etc.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,
Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

Furniture Store and Annex, Hancock Street, Quincy.
Short Credit Accounts When Desired.

NEW DIRECTORS.

The Cramp Ship Company Is Being Reorganized.

A meeting of the board of directors of the William Cramps & Sons Ship & Engine Building Co. was held in Philadelphia last week, says the Maritime Review. The board, after approving the matters brought before it, including the creation of a $5,000,000 loan, the issuance of $1,500,000 additional stock and placing the property in the hands of voting trustees, tendered their resignation in a body. No action was taken on them and they were laid on the table.

The directors, nearly all of whom were present, are Thomas Dolan, Clement A. Griscom, Morton McMichael, Samuel Dickson, Charles H. Cramp, Henry W. Cramp, Edwin S. Cramp, William H. Barnes and Henry Seligman.

It is understood that some of these gentlemen will be retained in the new board when formed, but that Thomas Dolan, Clement A. Griscom and William H. Barnes will be among those who will retire permanently.

"The new board," said one of the directors this evening, "will be directors in name only. They will have no power in directing the affairs of the company—will simply be figureheads, in fact. The voting trustees will have a little more power than the directors, but the real management of the company will be vested in the names of a committee of three. Who will compose this committee has not yet been decided, but it is the intention to place thereon men of recognized financial and mechanical ability."

The voting trustees are E. T. Stotesbury of Drexel & Co.; R. H. Rushton, president of the Fourth Street National Bank and G. F. Baker, president of the First National Bank of New York. There had been some doubt as to whether these men could spare the time from their other duties to accept positions as trustees of the company, but the decision to appoint an executive committee of three, solved the problem for them.

Upwards of 60 per cent. of the outstanding stock has already been deposited with Drexel & Co., assenting to the plan of reorganization and approving the $5,000,000 loan.

Bible Class Social.

Last evening at the home of Miss M. Hall on Indpendence avenue the members of the First Presbyterian Church Bible class held its annual monthly meeting, at which much business was transacted in reference to the future of this class. A very sociable evening was passed, including several piano selections by Miss Margarett Todd, who played exceptionally well; also a recitation by Miss Vautier, which took very well; and duet by Miss Hall and Miss Michael, accompanied by Miss Margaret Todd on the piano. Many others helped by giving readings. etc.

This class was organized December last, and has been a decided success, surpassing all others that have ever been in the church, there being fifty members.

The officers elected were as follows:
Teacher,—Mr. R. Habberley.
President,—Mr. Charles Joss.
Vice President,—Miss M. Michael.
Secretary,—Miss M. Hall.
Organist,—Miss M. Todd.
Librarian,—Mr. C. McDonald.
Treasurer,—Mr. Alex Cowe.

Much praise is due to Mr. Habberley, who has worked consistently towards making it a successful class, and to those who have helped him in his work.

Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on every box. 25c

SUNDAY SERVICES.

4TH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER.

Church services are inserted in this paper without charge, but none will be accepted to run until further order. A notice should be sent each week even though it is but a renewal. Give subject and special services when possible. Let all churches be represented—Eds.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, junction Hancock and Chestnut streets—Rev. E. N. Hardy, pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Preaching by the pastor. Sunday School at 12 M. Young People's meeting at 6.15. Evening church service at 7.30. Address by Emanuel C. Charlton, chaplain and manager of the "The American Deep Sea Mission." Mr. Charlton is the hero of "The Singular Life" by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps and is a most interesting speaker. Free seats and every one invited to these services.

FIRST UNITARIAN CHURCH—Rev. E. C. Butler, pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Preaching by the pastor. Sunday School 12 M.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S CHURCH—Rev. Carlton P. Mills, rector. 10.45 A. M., morning prayer and sermon. 12.20 P. M. Sunday School. 4.30 evening prayer and address.

WASHINGTON STREET CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Rev. Leon H. Austin pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Preaching by pastor. Sunday School at 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.30 P. M. Evening service at 7.15. Prayer meeting Friday at 7.30 P. M. At Sunday morning service singing by male quartette. All are cordially invited.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH, Washington street—Rev. Merrill C. Ward pastor. Residence, 18 Ashmont street, Dorchester. Service of divine worship at 2.30 P. M. Subject: "Is it I?" Sunday School at 3.45 P. M.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH, Franklin street,—Rev. William Alva Brady, pastor. Residence 25 Pleasant street. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. Bible School at 11.45 A. M. B. Y. P. U. at 6 P. M. Preaching service at 7 o'clock. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7.30.

CHRIST CHURCH, Quincy, corner Elm street and Quincy avenue—Rev. W. E. Gardner, rector. Holy communion at 8.30 A. M. Morning prayer and sermon 10.30. Sunday School at 12.05. Evening prayer and address at 7 o'clock. Anthem for the day: "The Lord is my Shepherd" by G. A. MacFarren.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Water and Quincy streets.—Rev. J. Todd, D. D., pastor. Service at 10.30 A. M. Preaching by pastor. Sunday School at 12 M. Junior C. E. at 3 P. M. Senior C. E. at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7 o'clock. Midweek service Thursday evening. Seats free. All are cordially invited.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Fort Square—Rev. W. B. Barr, pastor. Service at 10.30 A. M., preaching by pastor. Subject: "Why God's children should be happy." Sabbath School and Bible class at 12 noon. Bible class for young ladies under the direction of Mrs. J. B. Sutherland at 3.00. Y. P. C. E. meeting at 6.30. Miss Mary Harper, leader. Evening service at 7.30, a sermon to toilers by the pastor. Subject: "Dignity of Labor." This is the first of a series of four sermons to the laboring class.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, WOLLASTON—Rev. Edward Abbott Chase minister. Morning service at 10.45. Preaching by Rev. Dr. Boynton. Sunday School at 12.15 P. M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.30 P. M.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. ATLANTIC—Rev. J. H. Whitaker, pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Sermon by the pastor. Subject: "Man's Need of Christ." Sunday School at 12 M. Evening service at 7 o'clock. You are cordially invited.

ATLANTIC METHODIST CHURCH, corner Newbury avenue and Squantum street. Rev. B. D. Beck, pastor. Morning service at 10.45 o'clock. Sermon by pastor. Subject: "Good and Good for Something." Sunday School at 12 M. Epworth League at 6 P. M. Subject: "Obedience to Our King." At 7 o'clock, song service led by chorus choir. Brief sermon by pastor. Subject: "The Selfwise Enquirer." All seats free. Every one invited.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, of Braintree, Christian Science Hall on Washington street, south of Hollis avenue.—Morning service 10.45. Subject: "Mortals and Immortals," Golden text: "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? he that has clean hands, and a pure heart; who has not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully." Psalm 24:3-4. Sunday School at 10.45 A. M. Wednesday 7.45 P. M., a testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 3 to 5 and Tuesday evenings. All are welcome.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

BOSTON MUSEUM.

It is especially appropriate that the final performances at the Boston Museum should be given over to what has proved to be one of the dramatic triumphs of the present season. To make this possible Mr. Frohman planned some time ago that his Empire Company should be the last attraction at the historic playhouse just before the demolition began. Being one of the managers of the Museum it was his wish that the Company should close with its triumph, "The Unforseen," at this house of historic renown. This farewell engagement began last Monday evening when the original Empire cast and the complete Empire production was introduced. The Empire Company holds a unique position. It is the only stock organization of its kind in America, and to the discriminating theatre-goer it is the standard organization of the period. Each season it has been Mr. Frohman's custom to present the members o the Company in two plays. The first of these for the current season was "The Unforeseen," but the success of the play was so great and the demands for its continuance so incessant, that Mr. Froham departed from his policy, with the result that the play became an all-season's triumph for the Company, making, breaking and holding all records for big business in the history of the Empire organization. The organization is headed by Margaret Anglin and Charles Richman and both are ideally cast. The engagement in Boston will be the final appearance together of these two artists in the same company. Matinees will be given on Wednesdays and Saturdays during the engagement.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.

It is not often that an actress goes to the length that Miss Viola Allen has in order that her production of "The Eternal City," now being presented at the Hollis street Theatre Boston, be thoroughly artistic. During the past summer Miss Allen spent four weeks in Rome carefully inspecting the places which figure in Mr. Hall Caine's story. Of equal importance also, were the costumes worn by the players, and it was Miss Allen's purpose that these should be absolutely accurate. Miss Allen arranged with her manager to purchase in Rome, and from the Municipal Papal and Swiss Guard all those costumes needed in the play. As these cosumes have never been used on the stage, they proved a very considerable novelty and attract considerable attention, more especially those of the Swiss Guard. This guard has its place in history and the costumes worn by it has not changed in centuries. It was with considerable difficulty that new or little worn garment could be obtained, but this with American perseverance and ingenuity was accomplished. The consent of high ecclesiastical authorities had to be secured before original Swiss Guard costumes could be secured.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

John E. Henshaw, who is impersonating the leading character in "A Chinese Honeymoon" at the Colonial theatre, Boston, tells a peculiar story of how he came to play the leading role. Mr. Henshaw possesses a summer residence and a number of acres of land near Buzzard's Bay, in which locality he is nick-named "Cranberry John," on account of raising the finest cranberries grown in the Cape Cod district. The past season's crop was gathered early, and in getting them ready for market Mr. Henshaw employed a certain person to pack them in barrels and ship them to a leading commission merchant in Washington Market, New York City. But unkown to Mr. Henshaw the workman kept out about a half bushel of cranberries from each barrel and inserted a false bottom in each. The latter part of September Mr. Henshaw received a telegram signed by the commission merchants, advising him to come to New York at once, and was very much surprised to find that he had been swindled. There was nothing left for him to do but invoke the aid of the law, and in doing this in New York City, he being a resident of Massachusetts, must first give bond. The first person he met was Sam S. Shubert, manager of the Casino theatre, and he asked Mr. Shubert if he would go his bond, to which Mr. Shubert replied, "Yes, if you will play the part of Samuel Pineapple in 'A Chinese Honeymoon.'" Mr. Henshaw had hardly given a thought to an engagement for the season and was in a quandary what to do—cranberries on one side and the word pineapple on the other ringing in his ear, but Mr. Shubert's pleadings were so convincing that he finally consented to to become Samuel Pineapple.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The announcement made by the management of the Castle Square theatre of a revival of William Gillette's great drama, "Secret Service," as the attraction at this house next week will undoubtedly find general favor. Gillette's appearances in this dramatic story and the clever construction of its scenes and incidents have made it one of the greatest successes of recent years, and its earlier performances at the Castle Square contributed not a little to its local popularity. The character of the hero, originally played by the author-actor, will afford Mr. Howell Hansel an excellent opportunity in a line of dramatic work in which he has been heartily commended and his appearance in it will be awaited with much interest by Castle Square patrons. Preparations are in progress for some most attractive stage settings for the play. The leading characters in this production have been assigned as follows: Brigadier General Nelson Randolph, James L. Seeley; Mrs. General Varney, Leonore Bradley; Edith Varney, Lillian Lawrence; Wilfred Varney, George E. Mack; Caroline Mitford, Mary Sanders; Lewis Dumont, Howel Hansel. The usual distribution of souvenir boxes of chocolate bonbons will be made at the Monday matinee.

Surprise Party.

About fifty relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Vining gathered at their home on Central street Friday evening, May 1, the occasion being Mr. Vining's birthday. The surprise was a great success. A musical entertainment, consisting of piano, vocal and flute solos, were given by the Misses Wright and Mr. Arthur Vining. Especial praise was rendered to the vocal solos by Miss Bernie Wright with flute obligato by Mr. Arthur Vining; the combination of flute and voice being a rare treat.

After the entertainment a beautiful Morris chair was presented to Mr. Vining. Later in the evening refreshments were served.

The guests were from Boston, Brockton, Whitman, Abington, Quincy, Wollaston, Holbrook, Rockland, South Weymouth, Porter, Dorchester and Braintree.

LEARNED'S LATEST GIRL.

It may be justly said that the girls which Mr. Learned has drawn, and which have been published in The Boston Sunday Herald, represent a higher type of girl than do the work of any of Mr. Learned's contemporaries. These beautiful faces, refined and chaste, are ideals of young womanhood, and are so manifestly all that parents delight in their children, that boys admire in their sisters and that young men seek in wives, that they have achieved a great popularity among the people of New England. In the Sunday Herald of May 10, Mr. Learned's masterpiece, "A Breath of Spring," will appear on the first page of the Magazine Section. Admirers of Mr. Learned's work will see him at his best in next Sunday's Herald.

BORN.

ARNOLD—In Holyoke, April 30, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wales Arnold of 123 Lincoln street.

BAKER—In San Francisco, April 28, a daughter to Rev. and Mrs. Frank K. Baker, formerly of East Braintree.

Medicines come and Medicines go but lasting popularity can only be obtained by proved lasting benefits. Have you ever considered why Beecham's Pills are the greatest patent medicine and have outlived competitors? Nothing but superior merit and usefulness, and that they have proved themselves unequalled for removing the common ailments of men, women and children. Year in and year out thousands of families throughout the world keep on hand for minor ailments, which, if not at once checked, will lead to serious illness. Don't experiment with untried remedies so persistently and plausibly offered, but remember that Beecham's Pills will prove every point claimed and will

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Roll on Forever

If you would look well, feel well and keep well, use Beecham's Pills.

Sold Everywhere.
In boxes, 10c. and 25c.

TIES.

change around the furniture and ttractive goods from the best and ummer ecessities.

e Flame Oil Stoves, $4.50 to $9.00 mmon Oil Stoves, 75c. to 2.25 vn Mowers, $3.25 to 7.00 n Hose, 3.50 to 6.00

cycles, etc.

er Johnson, Dayton, Crawford, y, High Grade Wheels, $25.00 per Wheels, $18.00
res, Sundries, etc.
ancock Street, Quincy.
red.

er construction of its scenes and incidents e made it one of the greatest successes of nt years, and its earlier performances at the tle Square contributed not a little to its l popularity. The character of the hero, inally played by the author-actor, will afford . Howell Hansel an excellent opportunity in ne of dramatic work in which he has been artily commended and his appearance in it l be awaited with much interest by Castle uare patrons. Preparations are in progress some most attractive stage settings for the y. The leading characters in this production e been assigned as follows: Brigadier Gen-Nelson Randolph, James L. Seeley; Mrs.
neral Varney, Leonore Bradley; Edith Var-
, Lillian Lawrence; Wilfred Varney, George Mack; Caroline Mitford, Mary Sanders; wis Dumont, Howel Hansel. The usual dis-ution of souvenir boxes of chocolate bonbons be made at the Monday matinee.

Surprise Party.

bout fifty relatives of Mr. and Mrs.
ncy Vining gathered at their home Central street Friday evening, May 1, occasion being Mr. Vining's birth-
. The surprise was a great success.
usical entertainment, consisting of no, vocal and flute solos, were given the Misses Wright and Mr. Arthur
ing. Especial praise was rendered the vocal solos by Miss Bernie ght with flute obligato by Mr. Ar-Vining; the combination of flute voice being a rare treat.
fter the entertainment a beautiful ris chair was presented to Mr. Vin-Later in the evening refreshments e served.
he guests were from Boston,
ckton, Whitman, Abington, Quincy, llaston, Holbrook, Rockland, South ymouth, Porter, Dorchester and intree.

LEARNED'S LATEST GIRL.

may be justly said that the girls which Mr.
rned has drawn, and which have been lished in The Boston Sunday Herald, rep-sent a higher type of girl than do the work ny of Mr. Learned's contemporaries. These utiful faces, refined and chaste, are ideals oung womanhood and are so manifestly all parent's delight in their children, that boys ire in their sisters and that young men seek ives, that they have achieved a great popuy among the people of New England. In Sunday Herald of May 10, Mr. Learned's rpiece, "A Breath of Spring," will appear e first page of the Magazine Section. Ad-rs of Mr. Learned's work will see him at st in next Sunday's Herald.

BORN.

OLD—In Holyoke, April 30, a daughter
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Watts Arnold of 123
coln street.
ER—In San Francisco, April 28, a daughto Rev. and Mrs. Frank K. Baker, merly of East Braintree.

edicines come and edicines go asting popularity can only be ob-d by proved lasting benefits. Have ver considered why Beecham's Pills e greatest patent medicine and have ed competitors? Nothing

t ior merit and usefulness, and that have proved themselves unequalled removing the common ailments of women and children. Year in year out thousands of families ughout the world keep

EECHAM'S PILLS

and for minor ailments, which, if t once checked, will lead to serious ss. Don't experiment with untried dies so persistently and plausibly of-
, but remember that Beecham's Pills prove every point claimed and will ll on Forever

ou would look well, feel well and well, use Beecham's Pills.

Sold Everywhere.
n boxes, 10c. and 25c.

Reupholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE

HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.

Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.
Call and get Prices.

C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St
Tel. 64-4.
Quincy, May 2. 1m

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

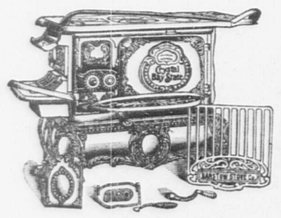

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!
OF ALL KINDS.
DRY AND GREEN
At Lowest Possible Prices.
THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.
3rd off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy
Jan. 7. tf

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
Employment Office
At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm
Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.
Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.
Come and See It.
BARSTOW STOVE CO.,
55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.

GUY'S COLISEUM,
W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 17. 4w

King Arthur Flour.
Sold in Quincy by
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.
Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

$5.00 REWARD.
A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.
Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, Pres.
April 9-2m 11-2m

"Footing Up"
what you want in a hose, you find: comfort—no seams, wrinkles, or bunches—style, and durability—all these qualities you get in Whale Hose
as in no other make. Do not fade or stain. In black, russet, and all popular colors. By mail 1 pair 20c.; 2 pairs 35c. Five cents brings patent hose supports and catalogue.
CORNELL STOCKING CORPORATION,
New Bedford, Mass.
Look for  the Whale

"IN THE SPRINGTIME
A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of
BICYCLES.
I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:
YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;
And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the
"OLD RELIABLE."
REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.
JOHN H. GILLIS,
Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.
April 30. 1m

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.
60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN.
PHARMACIST,
1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.
White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,
In a variety of Styles and Prices.
Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.
These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.
C. S. HUBBARD,
City Square, Quincy.

W. A. BRADFORD.
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,
Jobbing Promptly Attended To.
ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.
New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store. Old Telephone Number, 122-2.
April 21. tf

REAL ESTATE.
Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.
JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder,
Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.
Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.
April 25. tf

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 110. QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY, MAY 11, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS

Ottawa Lumber District Again Visited by Conflagration

ATTRIBUTED TO FIREBUG

Firemen Found Water Main Damaged and Were Forced to Remain Idle While Flames Swept Lumber Piles—Hundreds of Houses Burned

Ottawa, May 11.—A fire, suspected of being of incendiary origin, destroyed hundreds of houses and millions of feet of lumber in this city. John White, who has just been released from the penitentiary after serving a term of imprisonment for arson, was caught near where the fire was first discovered. He was arrested and the police say will be charged with starting the conflagration.

The fire originated within a stone's throw of where the great Hull fire of April 26, 1900, was checked. The Hull fire started on the opposite side of the river and spread to the Ottawa side, destroying millions of dollars' worth of property. It burned out near where the Ottawa and Parry Sound railway enters the western part of the city and it was in the lumber yards near the railroad that yesterday's fire began.

Two hours before the main blaze started two smaller fires were discovered and quickly extinguished in the lumber yards near the Canadian Pacific railway. It was 3:30 when the third was discovered. When the brigade arrived at the scene it was found that the water main had been damaged and no water could be obtained. When the firemen did get water the fire was utterly beyond control. It swept along over the same ground that the former fire had gone, the only difference being that it was going in an opposite direction. There is a large cliff which extends from the Ottawa river to the corner of Margaret and Preston streets. The fire area was on the flats below the cliff. At two or three points it came very near getting over the cliff, and had it done so nothing would have saved the city. When the fire was under control it was confined to the following area:

The Ottawa and Parry Sound railway on the south, Division street on the east, First avenue on the west and the Richmond road on the north. From the Parry Sound road to the Richmond road is about one mile, and from First avenue to Division street is about one-quarter of a mile.

While the fire was burning fiercely among the lumber piles, the whole brigade of the city, which had been summoned, were forced to remain idle.

For an hour not a drop of water was thrown into the flames. A stiff southwest wind was blowing and by the time the water main had been repaired the lumber yards were a mass of glowing coals. From the lumber yards the flames spread to a group of frame houses on the outskirts of the city. Every house in the little settlement was destroyed. Another lumber yard in a thinly settled section was swept by the fire in an incredibly short time. This brought the fire to the more thickly settled sections.

After leaving the lumber piles the flames swept over Pine street, down Willow, Poplar, Anderson, Eckles, Somerset, Spruce, Elm, Mable, Albert and on to the Richmond road, or properly speaking, Wellington street, where it stopped, a short distance from the Canadian Pacific railway depot.

Fifteen million feet of lumber was destroyed. It belonged chiefly to J. R. Booth. The loss on the lumber will be about $300,000. The buildings burned were principally dwelling houses and stores. They were all built since the last great fire and were either solid brick or brick veneered, as the city would not permit of any other kind being erected. The loss on the buildings is estimated at various figures. There are from 500 to 600 families homeless, or about 2000 individuals. All the parties are supposed to be insured.

The mayor says the city will oppose any aid being asked from outside Canada, and personally he thinks that the city should grapple with the situation without any appeal for outside help.

Assessment Commissioner Pratt says the fire covered over 60 acres and estimates the loss at upward of $500,000. Had the fire crossed Wellington street, to the Chaudiere flats, the mills would have all gone and Hull would once more have been threatened. Every available vehicle in the city was engaged in moving furniture and great excitement prevailed. The proprietors of the leading hotels notified their guests to be ready to move at any moment.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. This signature E. W. Grove on every box, 25c

A WEEK OF GOLF.

Open Tournaments for Both Men and Women at Wollaston.

The attention of both men and women golfers in the Boston district will be directed this week to the Wollaston club, on whose links at Montclair there will be open tournaments Wednesday and Thursday, and the first tournament of the enlarged Women's Golf Association on Friday. In fact, pretty nearly the whole week will be devoted to competitions on the Wollaston course, for on Tuesday the Oakley Country Club will send a team of 15 there to play a match with the Wollastonians.

Wednesday's tournament will be a handicap stroke competition, and Thursday's handicap match play vs. bogey. Entries close with C. L. Bremer, secretary of the club, Tremont building, Boston, at 6 P. M. of the day previous to each competition.

The tournament of Friday will be a handicap stroke competition (handicap limited to 18 strokes,) open to all women golfers belonging to clubs which are members of the Women's Golf Association of Boston.

Handicaps for the tournament will be based on the players' home handicaps, and prizes will be awarded for the best net and gross scores. Entries may be made with Miss Louisa A. Wells, secretary of the association, whose post-office address is 45 Commonwealth avenue, and, in order that there may be no disappointments, post entries will be allowed. As the association now includes 31 clubs, there is no doubt that the field will be large and the contest very interesting.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Professor T. F. Hunt, dean of the college of agriculture in Ohio State university, has accepted the professorship of agronomy in the college of agriculture of Cornell university.

With reference to the rumor that he is engaged to be married to Miss Daisy Lieter of Chicago, Major General Baden-Powell has written that he has never even seen Miss Lieter.

St. Peter's Roman Catholic church which has been building at Lowell, Mass., for the last dozen years, was dedicated with imposing religious services. It is one of the most magnificent churches in the state.

In the Yale-Princeton dual meet at Princeton the Yale athletes carried off the honors by the score of 75 to 29. Both in the track events proper and the field events the New Haven team was superior.

Icebergs off the Newfoundland coast and the Grand Banks interfere seriously with steamer traffic.

The betrothal is announced of Prince Andreas, fourth son of King George of Greece, and Princess Alice, eldest daughter of Prince Louis of Battenberg.

Pawet Szerygiet, 26 years old, died at West Warren, Mass., from concussion of the brain. He leaped from a trolley car and was thrown upon his head.

William Robertson & Son's paper mill at Putney, Vt., was burned. The loss is between $15,000 and $20,000.

Strike Murder and Wrecks

Jackson, Tenn., May 11.—The strike on the Mobile and Ohio railroad, now on in this city, is assuming alarming proportions. One man killed, two trains wrecked and business badly tied up is the result of Sunday in Jackson. The railroad property is being guarded and further trouble is feared.

His Own Name a Burden

Los Angeles, Cal., May 11.—John Czolgosz, brother of the assassin of President McKinley, has been released by the police. The police are convinced that he is a peaceable, law-abiding young man. For the sake of avoiding notoriety Czolgosz will continue to go under an assumed name.

Indians Drank Florida Water

Victoria, B. C., May 11.—Steamer Princess May, from Skagway, brings news from Ketchikan of the death of two Indians who bought a quantity of Florida water from a general store and died as a result of drinking the perfume too excessively. Another Indian is expected to die.

Want Foreigners Kept Out

Shanghai, May 11.—As a result of patriotic meetings called because of the situation in Manchuria, the viceroys and governors have telegraphed the grand council at Pekin urging the Chinese government to resist foreign aggression.

Two Plague-Infected Cities

Guayaquil, Ecuador, May 11.—Callao and Pisco, Peru, have been officially declared infected with the bubonic plague. Ecuadorean troops have been stationed on the Peruvian frontier to stop communication.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Tuesday, May 12.
Sun rises—4:27; sets—6:55.
Moon rises—8:03 p. m.
High water—12 m.; midnight.

An area of high pressure whose crest is off the south New England coast continues to dominate the weather east of the Mississippi. The temperature is about normal in all parts of the country except in the south. It will be fair in New England.

THE SUNDAY FIRE.

A Building of the Tubular Rivet Co. Damaged $200.

A few minutes past 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the continuous blowing of a whistle at Wollaston made it evident that something unusual was going on in that vicinity, and at 2.10, when Box 51 was sounded on the fire alarm bells, the two were immediately connected together, and a large number were soon on their way toward the factory of the Tubular Rivet & Stud Co., where the box is located.

The fire proved to be on the outside of a wooden building in the rear of the main brick building, and it was but the work of a few minutes after the arrival of the department to extinguish it.

The fire probably started from spontaneous combustion among a lot of waste outside of the building. It worked up along the outside and in through a window, but did practically no damage on the inside, as the heat had started the automatic sprinklers working. Chief Williams estimates the loss at $200.

POLICE IN THE DARK

Regarding Perpetrators of the Dynamite Scare at New York

New York, May 11.—The police have so far failed to solve the mystery surrounding the leaving of a box of dynamite on the Cunard line dock. Opinion is divided among the officials as to whether the matter was intended to be a hoax or not, but all agree that the possibilities of a great explosion and a great loss of life were many.

Superintendent Murray of the bureau of combustibles says that there is no detonating caps attached to the dynamite sticks and that without these caps it is not likely that the dynamite would have exploded from a fuse. He says, however, that if the box had been given a sudden jar at the time the fuse burned down to the dynamite an explosion might have resulted. He also says that he has experimented with the clockwork and concluded that it had run about five hours when found and that it still had about 30 hours to run before operating the firing lever. He does not believe that a hoax was intended.

Inspector McClusky can advance no theory on the case. He says he will have to wait until the results of his efforts to learn who sent the box had borne some fruit. He has a score of men at work endeavoring to locate the wagon in which the box was carried to the Cunard pier. Police Commissioner Greene declares his purpose of having the matter sifted to the bottom.

Deed of a Jealous Husband

Pittsburg, May 11.—Mrs. Margaret E. Kountz is suffering from serious wounds inflicted by her husband, Walter P. Kountz, who at the same time shot and killed John E. Walsh, who was escorting her along the street. The motive of the shooting was jealousy. Kountz is secretary of a coal company. Walsh was a prominent contractor. For some time past Mrs. Kountz had been living at the Walsh home as housekeeper. She had entered suit against her husband, alleging non-support.

Plunder Recovered From Robber

Boston, May 11.—After an exciting chase by four policemen Spencer Moore, a negro, 24 years old, was captured at the West End and upon his person were found a watch, chain, pocketbook, money and other things that had been stolen earlier from the house of Solomon Halter. Halter called at the station two hours later to report the robbery and found that all his missing property, except $2 in money, had been recovered. The police say that Moore has been out of state prison only a month or two.

Convicts on the Rampage

Birmingham, Ala., May 11.—A portion of the kitchen of the state prison at Flat Top Mines was burned last night and during the excitement nine convicts escaped. Going to the railroad station nearby the convicts robbed the telegraph operator and left him in the station tightly bound. While ransacking the station the signal light was turned, causing the next train south to stop. The bound operator was found and released. One of the convicts has been captured.

Slaughter of Christians

Constantinople, May 11.—Consular dispatches received here from Monastir, European Turkey, say the Mussulmans and Turkish troops are murdering Christians in the suburbs of the Christian quarter of the town. Houses are deserted and shops are closed. General Zontcheff, one the principal Macedonian leaders, has been killed in a fight with Turks.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

season.

GRANITE CITY CLUB.

Membership Committee Increased from Three to Five.

Several important changes in the constitution and by-laws of the Granite City club came up at the meeting on Saturday night. Among the changes made were the creation of the office of collector in connection with clerk; making the president and vice president ex officiis members of the House committee; and increasing the number of the Membership committee from three to five members.

These changes necessitated the election of two members of the Membership committee, and E. E. Morgan and W. W. Jenness were elected.

There was also a vacancy in the Entertainment committe, which was filled by the election of Ernest L. Saunders.

There were a number of other changes in the constitution and by-laws which were not of public interest

SHOEMAKERS ORGANIZE

To Carry on Fight Against Boot and Shoe Workers' Union

Haverhill, Mass., May 11.—The convention of delegates of the 18 independent shoe workers' unions in New England, which commenced in this city Saturday evening, came to a close at the Shoe Workers' Protective union headquarters last evening after a constitution had been drawn up which will be submitted to the various unions for ratification. The new organization will be known as the Federated Shoe and Leather Workers' union, and another convention will be called in this city within 30 days, when the organization will be made permanent and officers and committees will be elected.

The present membership of the new federation is about 5000, but it is expected the number will be doubled. The constitution calls for quarterly dues of 5 cents per member paid in advance, and an annual convention to be held in September. All voting is to be done by delegations. The promoters of the new federation say that the fight against the Boot and Shoe Workers' union will now be continued with increased vigor and it is believed that eventually the local branch of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union will be badly crippled.

Liquor Sellers Feel Shaky

Auburn, Me., May 11.—J. Maltais of Lewiston was fined $100 and costs for keeping a liquor nuisance, $100 and costs for search and seizure, and $200 and costs and four months in jail for common seller, second offense, and in default of payment four months' imprisonment additional. Maltais paid the first two fines. The sentence for common seller was suspended and the mittimus issued subject to the call of the county attorney. It is believed that Justice Spear intends to carry out the jail sentence plan which he began in Bangor and local rum sellers are trembling in their shoes.

He Wanted a Divorce

Greenfield, Mass., May 11.—Frank A. Larrow, 28 years old, a travelling salesman, was arrested here and held under $2000 bonds for requisition papers from the governor of Vermont. It is charged that Larrow assaulted his wife at Guilford, Vt., with intent to kill. Larrow and his wife had separated and he desired an absolute divorce. Being a Catholic she was content to have only a limited divorce. Larrow had been drinking and the assault followed. Larrow consented to waive the formality of extradition papers and accompanied Vermont officers back to Guilford.

Fire Checked Just In Time

Littleton, N. H., May 11.—At the risk of their lives Littleton firemen ascended Eutis mountain and subdued a raging forest fire just before it reached a powder house at the top of the hill. Had the flames reached the powder house, great damage would probably have resulted, as there are a large number of dwelling houses a short distance away. Inch by inch the path of the flames was narrowed until it was driven to a peak and finally checked just as the magazine was reached.

"—The choice of the Legislature of the mountain laurel as the emblematic state flower is all right as far as beauty is concerned, but the farmers whose pastures are being run over and ruined by it, may not see it in that light.—Athol Chronicle.

Mill Workers who need clear eyes and steady hands, as well as strong arms, prefer Pillsbury's Best Flour
to any other. The reason is that this flour, being made of Spring wheat, contains a larger percentage of gluten than does other flour.

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the will of

JOHN J. DAY,

late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

JAMES F SWEENEY, Executor,
(Address) 306 Sears Building, Boston, Mass.
May 9. 3t--11-18 25

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Chapter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D.,
Inspector of Milk.
April 15. 30t

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of

JOSIAH QUINCY THAYER,

late of Holbrook, in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to William H. Rogers of Boston, without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the thirteenth day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-ninth day of April, A. D. 1903.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
May 2. 3t-2-4-11

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law and all other persons interested in the estate of

WILLIAM A. CLARK,

late of Foxborough, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Harry L. Howard, administrator with the will annexed of the estate of said deceased, has presented to said Court his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offer named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, the whole of a certain parcel of the real estate of said deceased for the payment of debts, legacies and charges of administration, and for other reasons set forth in said petition.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County, on the thirteenth day of May, A. D. 1903, at nine o'clock in the forenoon to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-seventh day of April, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
3t--29 4-11

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of

HANNAH E. LILLICRAP,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, intestate.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Hannah Clements of Quincy, or to some other suitable person.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the twentieth day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this seventh day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
3t--9-11-18

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the Heirs-at-Law, Next-of-Kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of

MARY J. HAGSPIEL,

late of Foxborough, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by John Henry Devine of Norwood, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the twentieth day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixth day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
May 9. 3t--9-11-18

The Quincy Ledger

FOR SALE AT THE

South Terminal Station News Stand

After 3.35 P. M.

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	63	46	50	61	55
Monday,	76	58	58	68	61
Tuesday,	—	64	65	67	62
Wednesday,	—	54	70	60	76
Thursday,	—	64	66	73	64
Friday,	—	65	58	69	90
Saturday,	—	64	75	68	65

New Advertisements Today.

Henry L. Kincaide & Co.—Summer Goods.
Wanted—Experienced Cook.
D. E. Wadsworth & Co.—Silk Waists.
For Sale—Corning Box Buggy.
Executor's Notice.
To Let—Sunny Room.

Good Afternoon

The Treasury officials have no fear that the vessel carrying the $2,500,000 of silver Filipino coins will be waylaid. The "swag" would be too heavy to carry away.

A Philadelphia merchant recently addressed a business organization on the "Value of a Smile." An honest smile has frequently procured a valuable business contract.

When servant girls receive $5 per week as they propose to demand in Holyoke, (nothing less) how much can the man who earns $12 to $15 per week or even $20 afford to give his wife? Again, how much will be left for the man, or how much will he be in the hole each week.

Houses are in good demand in Quincy, and rents are advancing. Henry H. Faxon, Esq., who owns more houses than any one else, had not a tenement unlet on Saturday evening. Something that had not occurred before for forty years. He usually has from ten to twenty-five unoccupied.

The Boston Post charges President Roosevelt with extravagance because half a million has been spent by the government in restoration of the White House and the addition of executive offices; but at the same time encourages the expenditure of $275,000 for a cup defender like the reliance. This is only a part of the expense, and after the races the boat may be sold for old junk. The White House will be a place of interest for years.

Another Prize Winner.

Dr. W. G. Kendall of Atlantic, who is perhaps as well known as any man connected with the breeding of Boston terrier dogs, says the Herald, has added another prize winner to his kennels. The latest addition is considered very nearly, if not a perfect specimen of the breed. Squantum Boniface, the latest winner, was shown for the first time at Pawtucket last week and won first prize in the novice, limit and open Boston terrier classes, and also the special prize for the best in the show, either sex. Boniface is but a year old, and was sired by the famous champion, Roxie, whom he greatly resembles. He is of a rich dark brindle with perfect markings, broad skull, short, broad muzzle, very large soft eyes, straight legs and fine disposition. The animal is now the doctor's pet, and is kept by him in his office.

Run Down in Boston.

Sunday papers report that James F. Kelley, 27 years old, of West Quincy, was knocked down and run over by a horse and buggy driven by Martin E. Malloy on Dover street, near Washington, Boston, about 11.45 Saturday night and received a cut over the right eye, scalp wounds and internal injuries. He was taken to the City Hospital. After knocking the man down Malloy is said to have driven through Dover street at a rapid rate, followed by a crowd, and he was finally stopped on Dover street bridge and turned over to the police. They locked him and a companion, Charles F. Moran, up at the Dedham street station.

—The first book ever printed in Canada was set up by Quebec printers 130 years ago.

—To be perfectly proportioned a man should weigh 28 pounds for every foot of his hight.

MANY TRANSFERS.

Quincy Real Estate Is Rapidly Changing Hands.

In addition to the eight transfers of real estate to the government, noted Saturday, there were 42 other transferss recorded during the week, or fifty in all. None of these were tax sales, and they show considerable activity.

George S. Pratt to Floron Barri.
Wm. F. Cummings to Maria E. Draw.
Maria E. Drew to Cordelia J. Cummings.
Francis N. Thompson to Francis M. Thompson.
Murray C. Greer to Thos. C. Bachelder, $3,500.
Thos. C. Bachelder to Wm. Arthur.
Harlow H. Rogers to John E. Poland.
Robertina E. Renwick to Wendell G. Corthell, $2,000.
Wendell G. Corthell to Gardner J. Hazelton.
Mary R. Lyons to Nathaniel M. Safford.
Fred A. Perkins to Margaret A. Saunders.
Bridget McDonough to Herbert T. Whitman, $400.
Herbert T. Whitman to Chas. F. Adams et. al., trustees.
Thos. N. Elliott to Henry W. Hunt.
Henry W. Hunt to Cora M. Merrill.
Henry W. Hunt to Lora C. Merrill.
Arthur W. Woodward to Annie F. Swift.
Herbert T. Whitman et. al., trustees, to Kate A. Foster.
Lizza J. Hastings to Peleg Thacher.
Albert W. Parker to Herbert T. Whitman.
Albert W. Parker et. ux., to Herbert T. Whitman.
Wm. P. McKenzie to George E. Rogers, $300.
Daniel Clark et. al. to Julius Johnson, $4,950.
Mary Sleeper to Theodore Parker et. al., trustees.
Adelaide A. Pearce estate to Wm. A. Harper, $800.
Thomas Swithin to Charles G. Broberg.
Lena M. Ballou to William R. Thomas.
William R. Thomas to Catherine Shea.
William R. Thomas to John Ferriter.
Wm. W. Jenness to Julius Johnson.
Alex. Nash et. al. to Cora E. Emerson, $675.
Thomas A. Watson to Henry H. Faxon.
Henry H. Faxon to Fore River Ship & Engine Co.
Walter I. Badger, trustee to Geo. Russell.
Elsie Russell, et. al. to Frank W. Alexander.
Elsie Russell, trustee, et. al. to Frank W. Alexander.
Lydia S. Smith et. al. to George W. Nightingale, $1000.
George W. Nightingale to Jas. Nightingale.
Jane N. Pope to Edward R. Pope.
Edward R. Pope to Charles H. Johnson.
Arthur D. Foskit to Charles J. Hendrie.
Albert E. Avery, commr to Maria A. Elcock, $1200.

WOLLASTON MAN.

Won First Prize at the Myopia Hunt Club Golf Tournament.

There was a large field of entries at the open handicap stroke competition at the Myopia Hunt Club golf competition at Hamilton on Saturday. H. H. Harper of the Wollaston club with a handicap of 16, won the net prize with a score of 77. Other Wollaston players were well up in the list, viz: G. A. White, D. E. Little, W. U. Swan, C. L. Bremer and B. L. Pratt. The gross prize was taken by H. E. Egan of the Exmore club with 80.

Keith's Theatre.

The Fadettes woman's orchestra will be the central feature about which the balance of the vaudeville show at Keith's will revolve the week commencing May 11. This clever musical organization has appeared in all the large eastern cities since they closed their last summer's engagement at Keith's, and everywhere met with the same flattering success recorded of them in this city. It is proposed to give petite concerts of popular music, including selections from the operas, stirring marches and college airs, and dreamy waltzes and descriptive numbers, as last season, and a beautiful new stage setting has been prepared. The indications are that the Fadettes will have a brilliant opening. Some of the regular variety talent includes Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barry; Trovollo, the ventriloquist; Zazell and Vernon, and Ward and Curren, in the comedy section, with the DeForests, whirlwind dancers; the Brittons, real coon singers and dancers, and Franco Piper, a wonderful banjoist among the novelties. Thurston, the illusionist, holds over a second week. In the vitagraph "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves" will be illustrated by motion pictures for the benefit of the juvenile patrons.

Ironize Your Blood With the new iron tonic Peptiron, and you will have good color.

Iron in the blood unites with oxygen in the lungs, and the two together make the blood red.

The more iron, the more color.

Peptiron is a radical cure for anemia and paleness, whatever the cause of the trouble; and while it puts iron into the blood and color into the face, it puts strength into the nerves and builds up the whole system.

It is agreeable to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, and you can be sure it will not constipate you nor injure your teeth.

Call for Pept-iron.

Among the first to take Pept-iron was a young lady employed in a Lowell office. She writes: "I have now been taking Peptiron for about a month, and am sure it is doing me good. There is no question about it, for the pallor of countenance has changed to the rosy tint of health. I am not so nervous, and work turns off more easily."

Peptiron

Peptiron is made in two forms: In a liquid—an aromatic cordial elixir—at $1 per bottle, also in chocolote-coated pills at 50c. or $1 per box. By C. I. HOOD CO., proprietors Hood's Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

Selling Agent in Quincy:

E. J. Murphy, 1657 Hancock St.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Mrs. Kate Tucker of Norwood is visiting relatives in this city.

Alexander Smith is confined to his home on Granite street under the doctor's care, with bronchitis.

The quarterly vestry meeting will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the choir room of St. Chrysostom's church.

The Citizens' Gas Light Co. offer a reward for information that will lead to the arrest of parties breaking street lamps.

Friday afternoon at 3.45 the Loyal Temperance Legion will meet in the vestry of the Wollaston Congregational church.

It is reported that Arthur Dunn and Austin formerly of the South Quincys, will play with the Bradley A. A. club this year.

Mrs. William Fenton of Beale street with her three youngest children are visiting relatives in Philadelphia; later they go to Detroit, Michigan.

About six young men under the influence of liquor had a lively time on the Fore River bridge Sunday morning. They grew wise, however, and soon left.

A former member of the Globe reportorial staff, Joseph F. Costello of Havana, formerly of this city, after a visit here of six weeks, returned to Cuba on Saturday.

John G. Thomas, the roofer, badly scalded his arm with hot tar while at work on the roof of Henry H. Faxon's house, corner of Washington and Coddington streets.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Holmes are moving from the Point to Newcomb street. They have resided at Quincy Point for a great number of years and their leaving has caused much regret.

A great deal of excitement was caused at Quincy neck on Sunday by Officer Bradley arresting a drunken man. The man resisted and called upon others to help him, but the officer easily took care of him.

Mr. Dorr won the Club cup at the weekly shoot of the New England Kennel club at Braintree, and I. R. Thomas obtained a leg for the Brookdale cup. Mr. Perry the donor of the latter trophy had the best score, but refused to be considered in the contest.

Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock the regular meeting of the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will be held at the Methodist church. Mrs. Mary I. Lincoln who is so well known in our city will speak upon "Ideal Housekeeping." It is hoped everyone interested will attend.

At First church Sunday the pulpit was occupied by Rev. Frederick S. Jones one of the most promising young Unitarian preachers. The large bouquet of white blossoms against the mahogany pulpit was most pleasing to the eye.

Mrs. Gurney from Wollaston gave the Young People's Christian Union of First church a very pleasant talk on High Ideals, last evening. She held the attention of her hearers closely by her beautiful manner and helpful suggestions.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hynes was sent to the store on Friday morning, and it seems lost her way and wandered to Weymouth, where she was found at Porter, about four o'clock. Word was sent to the parents and the lost one was restored in the evening.

In the civil suit brought by Timothy Ford against the Swithin Granite Co., for twenty dollars, which was heard before Judge Avery on Saturday afternoon, judgment was rendered in favor of the Swithin Granite Co. Lawyer E. J. Parker for plaintiff and W. R. Thomas for defendant.

Col. W. B. White of this city and his friend A. W. Perry of Rockland, left Friday for a trip to the southern battlefields. They will be met at Richmond by a former Confederate general, who will act as their guide. The party will make the trip on horseback from Richmond. They expect to be gone about two weeks.

The first of the series of sermons preached to the toilers of Quincy by Rev. Mr. Barr was well attended and well received and it is expected that the next service will see even more of the working men than were present Sunday night. He will show next Sabbath what will dignify the laborers and gain him respect and influence and what it is that injures labor and causes much of the unrest of the day in labor circles.

Albert Pierson, widely recognized for good fellowship, and enterprises, has just put on the final touches on his handsome stone structure, erected at 82 Granite street. Seen from without, this new building with its large show-windows and its shapely imposing front offers an effective display, observed from any part of "Jones Corner" and tempts many bypassers to enters. It is one of the handsomest and best equiped places for modern storekeeping in the city today.

A LACK OF EVIDENCE

To Connect Lombardi With Sturtevant Murder

A LARGE CROP OF THEORIES

Brought to Attention of Police, but Fail to Find Favor—No Particular Medford Man Under Suspicion—Thousands at Victim's Funeral

Medford, Mass., May 11.—Sunday brought no relaxation of the energy displayed by the local and state police in running down supposed clues to the identity of the murderer of Miss Nellie A. Sturtevant. Notice is once again turned to Tomasso Lombardi, the bicyclist and suspect who is in the Cambridge jail, through the uncertainty of what will be done with him when called into court for a hearing tomorrow. Chief of Police Holmes says that he has not decided whether to ask the court for a further continuance of the hearing, to proceed with the hearing or to ask that the man be not held. Developments today, if any, will largely govern the immediate future of Lombardi in the opinion of the police.

As far as public knowledge goes the police have made no material progress, most of their attention having been given to what appeared like a promising clew when it was stated that Miss May Doherty, while returning from a dance just after midnight with a companion, had seen on Wednesday night a bicyclist with a small satchel swinging from his handle bars, about a mile from the scene of the murder, apparently headed toward Boston. Although efforts have been made to find some one else who had seen the mysterious bicyclist after he passed Miss Doherty and her escort, search has been without result.

Chief of Police Holmes has notified all the cities in the state of the action of the board of aldermen in voting a reward of $500 for information which would lead to the arrest of the murderer. It is expected that this will lead to activity on the part of the police over a wide section. Formal notices will be sent out as soon as they can be prepared.

The usual crop of fantastic theories are brought forward, but none of them is considered of sufficient importance to warrant any special attention by the officers. One story which had gained wide circulation was effectually put at rest when Chief of Police Holmes positively stated that no particular Medford man is or has been at any time under suspicion.

The little church edifice occupied by the Universalist society at Medford Hillside was the scene of one of the most impressive funeral services ever held in this city. More than 3000 persons, including the friends, the sympathetic and the curious, assembled in and around the church yesterday to take part in the funeral service for Miss Sturtevant.

Long before the hour set for the service the church was filled, and an hour later the crowd around the doors had increased to fully 2500. As the funeral cortege approached a hush fell over the great gathering, and every head was bared as the body was carried to its place before the altar.

A private service attended by the most intimate friends of the family had been held at the Sturtevant home earlier in the day. That at the church was more in the nature of a public affair, and although places in the church were reserved for the more intimate friends, the gathering on the outside included representatives of all classes.

The service was conducted by Rev. T. A. Fisher, assisted by Professor G. M. Harmon of Tufts Divinity school, and the music was furnished by the original choir of the church of which Miss Sturtevant at one time was a member. At the conclusion of the funeral service Rev. Mr. Fisher delivered a touching eulogy upon the Christian character of the young woman. Interment was in the family lot at Melrose cemetery.

Objection Over Back Pay

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 11.—As a result of the recent agitation the rock miners in the Wyoming region will receive 10 percent advance in wages, the same as decreed the coal miners, dating from April 1. The difficulty is not all settled, however, as the rock men demand 10 percent back pay on all wages since Nov. 1, and there is still a question whether they will receive this.

Great Northern Strike Unlikely

St. Paul, May 11.—While the vote of the trainmen on the Great Northern system, the canvas of which has been completed, is understood to have almost unanimously been in favor of sustaining the position of the grand officers and general committee upon the double-header question, the indications are that there will not be a strike.

American In Paris Murder Case

Paris, May 11.—The mysterious murder of Mme. De Brienne, who was found strangled in her room here, has aroused widespread interest. The police claim that an American is implicated. The victim, who was a well known figure, came from America.

A Shooting Fatality

Springfield, Mass., May 11.—John J. Gates, aged 13, and Amie Bertrand, 19, were in a boat on Watershop pond, and Bertrand was aiming at a turtle with a small rifle when Gates got in range and the bullet entered the base of his brain, killing him.

Your grandmother's doctor ordered Ayer's Sarsaparilla for your father. It's the same old Sarsaparilla today. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat.

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.

Quincy, May 9. 1m

Are You Looking for a Home?
Would You Like to Make Some Money?

Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at

BIGELOW PARK.

The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.

SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.

May 2. tf

Spring and Summer Shoes.

The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.
The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.

GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER YOU WILL FIND

The Co-OPERATIVE DINING ROOMS,
3 Granite Street, Quincy,
where your wants will be satisfied.

TABLE BOARD:
21 Meal..... $3.50
... ...Tickets,

ROOMS:
$1.25 Per Week and Upwards.

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21--2m

King Arthur Flour.

THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.

L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK A SPECIALTY.

Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.

Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

Address, 1262 HANCOCK St., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
Quincy, April 10. tflp

JOB PRINTING
AT THE PATRIOT OFFICE

ERIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.
Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
10 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass
May7. 1m

FREDERICK H. LORD,
TEACHER OF BANJO,
Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.
TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.
118 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 7. tf

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.
Plumbing and Heating Co.,
25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.
Telephone Connection.
April 24. 1-tf--p-1w

SUMMER GOODS.

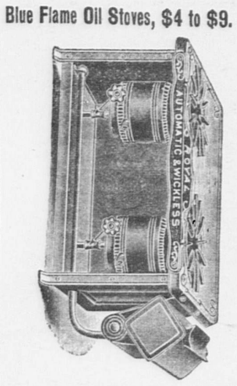

Seasonable warm weather goods for inside and outside use. No matter what you want you are sure to find it here at prices that are worthy of your consideration.

EDDY REFRIGERATORS.

At Factory prices, $5.50 and up. A catalogue for the asking.

Blue Flame Oil Stoves, $4 to $9.

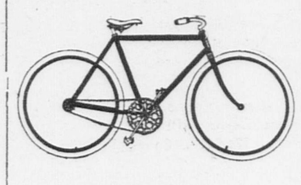

Cost almost nothing to run No fires no light, no coal, no wood, no dust, no ashes.

GO CARTS, $3.75 to $25.00.

60 patterns to choose from. The handsomest you have ever seen. If you see an attractive Go Cart on the street, the chances are it came from Kincaide's. Ours have the style.

BICYCLES, $18.00 to $30.00.

The worthy sort—IVER JOHNSON, DAYTON, CRAWFORD, LE ROY.

HAMMOCKS, LAWN SWINGS, PIAZZA CHAIRS, ICE CREAM FREEZERS, LAWN HOSE, LAWN MOWERS, SCREEN DOORS, WINDOW SCREENS, CROQUET SETS, SUMMER COTTAGE FURNITURE, MATTINGS, ETC.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO., Furniture Store and Annex, Hancock Street, Quincy.

Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings. Short Credit Accounts When Desired.

Stitchers Wanted.

EXPERIENCED on Ladies' Wrappers. Wheeler & Wilson power machines of the latest improved style. Steady work the year round, and good pay. Also, help wanted to take work home. Apply to MRS. A. L. WILBUR, Tirrell Building, 1467 Hancock street, over Old Colony Laundry, Quincy.
May 2. 1po-tf

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

Silk Waists.

23

Peau De Soie, Taffeta and Crepe De Chene Waists, in Pink, Light Blue, Old Rose, Black, White, Rosida and Pearl Grey.

PRICES:

$2.98 to $5.98.

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

On and after Oct. 19, 1902, trains will run as follows:

[Subject to change without notice.]

TO BOSTON. Leave Quincy.	Stops at	Arrive Boston.	FROM BOSTON. Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r *5 19	abcdefghi	5 47	*5 50	ihgfedcba	6 19 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 26	ad	7 45	8 28	cba	49 r
r 7 42	ab	8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 7 54	abcde	8 15	9 26	cba	9 49 r
r 8 13	a	8 32	10 28	cba	10 [illegible] r
r 8 26	abd	8 45	11 28	cba	11 [illegible] r
r 8 46	abc	9 06	2 28	cba	12 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	12 58	cba	1 19
r 9 42	abc	10 02	1 28	cba	1 49
r 10 12	abc	10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
r 10 42	abc	11 02	2 28	cba	2 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
r 12 12	abc	12 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
r 1 42	abc	2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 4 12	abc	4 32	4 50	edcba	5 15 r
r 3 12	abc	3 32	5 15	cba	5 r
r 3 42	abc	4 02	5 28	a	5 45
r 4 12	abc	4 32	5 45	edcba	6 08 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 58	cba	r
r 5 29	abcdefghi	5 57	6 15	da	6 3[illegible] r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 [illegible] r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 14	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 [illegible] r
r 7 39	abcdefghi	8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 [illegible] r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 28	fedcba	10 [illegible] r
r 9 34	abcdefghi	10 02	10 50	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
r 10 08	abcdef	10 32	11 28	cba	11 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

r 7 42	abc	8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 8 42	abc	9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 45 r
9 33	a	9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 45 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 45 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 28	cba	5 45 r
r 6 03	abcdefghi	6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	8 43	(ex)	9 00
r 10 18	abcdef	10 42	10 24	fedcba	10 53 r

* The letters in the same line as the figure stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a. Wollaston, b, Nortolk Downs, c, Atlantic, d, Neponset, e, Pope's Hill, f, Harrison Square. g, Savin Hill. h, Crescent Avenue. i, South Boston. r, Quincy Adams.

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

MANY FRIENDS.

Wish Mr. and Mrs. George Bowman Bon Voyage.

A very happy gathering convened in the First Presbyterian church Friday evening. The membership of the society was well represented. The central event of the gathering was the near departure of the much esteemed chorister, Mr. George Bowman and his wife, who sail for London, England on the 14th of May. Mr. Bowman has held the position of chorister for over three years, and all say it has been with him a pure labor of love laid at the feet of the Master.

The chair was filled on this occasion by Elder James Joss, with William Cummings and John Birnie, two members of the committee in charge, one either side of the chair.

The business of the meeting was opened by Dr. James Todd, leading in prayer, after which Mr and Mrs. Bowman were called to the platform, when Mr. Joss in the name of the congregation, presented Mr. Bowman with a handsome gold watch, and Mrs. Bowman a purse with a sum of money in gold. In a happy genial vein he acknowledged the very valuable services Mr. Bowman had rendered to the church in all his work, and also of his beloved wife in the work she had done in a quiet unobtrusive, but effective manner in so many ways known to the congregation. In the name of the congregation he wished them a happy journey and holiday, and hoped they would soon return invigorated to resume their work among them.

The balance of the evening was spent in song, speeches and stories, and everybody seemed so much in sympathy with the object of the meeting that friendship and good will seemed to pervade the entire gathering.

The committee were: John Birnie, Bell Michael, William Cummings, Thomas Cantly, Mrs. Jennie McKay and John Bissett.

Fatally Shot by Brother

Springfield, Mass., May 11.—Henry Griffin, aged 14, son of Maurice Griffin of Indian Orchard, was accidentally shot and killed by his brother, William, aged 19, who was removing the shells from the magazine of his rifle and touched the trigger. The bullet passed through his brother's throat, causing death five minutes later.

Enforcing Law—For a While

West Derry, N. H., May 11.—Sheriff Norton has visited every place where liquor was supposed to be sold in Derry, Londonderry and Whidham and ordered them closed at once and to remain closed till after the election tomorrow. The chairman of the boards of selectmen were also notified to see that the law is strictly enforced.

Woodland Fire Causes Great Loss

Spencer, Mass., May 11.—A tract of woodland 50 acres in extent was burned over here and baffled the efforts of a large force of fire fighters for several hours. A half million feet of box board lumber and several hundred cords of wood were destroyed. The total loss will be nearly $5000.

Fixing Up the Reliance

Bristol, R. I., May 11.—The crew of the Reliance had a day's rest Sunday, as the boat lay at anchor off the Herreshoff shops. Rush work was begun today in fitting the boat with its new sails and its new main gaff.

The Brotherhood of Bethany church will have a banquet on Thursday evening.

DIED.

SAVAGE—In Quincy, May 11, Mr. John H. Savage, of 13 Faxon avenue, aged 75 years and 10 months.

BATES—In East Weymouth, May 10, Mrs. Susan L., widow of Abram Bates, aged 92 years.

FLANDERS—In Greenbush, Scituate, May 9 Mary Ann Flanders, aged 76 years and month.

WON IN THE EIGHTH

Merrymounts Defeat the Wason Co. Nine at the Park.

The Merrymounts defeated the Wason Co. at Merrymount Park on Saturday in an interesting game. The Merrymounts won by a batting rally in the eighth. Taylor struck out sixteen men.

MERRYMOUNTS.

	A. B.	R.	B. H.	P. O.	A.	E.
Taylor p..	4	3	2	1	1	1
Osgood, ss.,	5	3	3	1	3	2
Baker, lf.,	5	1	1	1	1	0
Scharnagle, 2b.,	5	1	1	1	0	2
Miller, 3b.,	5	0	1	4	0	0
Nash, rf.,	5	0	1	0	0	0
Oxner cf.,	3	1	1	0	0	0
Chadbourne, c.,	4	1	1	17	1	3
Fowler, 1b.,	3	1	1	2	0	0
	39	11	12	27	6	8

WSON CO.

	AB.	R.	BH.	PO.	A.	E
Cole, lf.,	6	1	1	5	0	0
Gale, rf.,	5	1	1	0	0	0
C. Swett, s.s ,	4	1	1	0	3	2
Cushman, cf.,	5	0	0	2	0	0
Crosby, 3b ,	5	2	3	3	0	1
Fitzmaurice, 2b.,	4	1	1	1	1	1
Boyle, 1b.,	5	0	0	9	0	1
M. Swett, c.,	4	1	1	4	3	3
Curron. p.,	5	0	2	0	4	0
Totals,	43	7	10	24	11	8

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Merrymounts,	1	0	2	0	0	0	1	7	-	11
Wason Co.,	1	0	2	1	2	1	0	0	0	—7

Earned runs—Merrymounts 5, Wason Co. 2. Two-base hits—Osgood, Crosby. Three-base hit—Osgood. Home run—C. Swett. Struck out—by Taylor 16, by Curron 7. Base on balls—by Taylor 4, by Carron 3. Passed balls—Chadbourne 1, M. Swett 3. Left on bases—Merrymounts 6, Wason Co. 12.

OTHER GAMES.

At Milton—Thayer academy, 9; Milton academy, 3.

Check For $21,000 Went Astray

Rahway, N. J., May 11.—Patrick Moore, a flagman at a crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad, found a check for $21,000 which fluttered out of a window of a Long Branch express as it passed through here. The check was drawn on the Merchants' National bank of Chicago. The check was turned in to the lost property department of the railroad.

Took Money From Letters

Washington, May 11.—Frank M. Barnett, a clerk in the United States bureau of ethnology, is under arrest for opening private mail addressed to officials in the office and abstracting therefrom two checks for $175. He admits his guilt.

Pleasure Seeker Drowned

Braintree, Mass., May 11.—Patrick Higgins of Boston, aged 19, came to Braintree with three companions and occupied one of the camps on the shore of the lake. Higgins started out in a row boat for a dive in deep water. When some distance from the shore he was seen to dive from the bow of the boat. He did not reappear on the surface and a band of searchers dragged the bottom of the pond until 9:30 last night before the body was recovered.

Burglars Are Busy

Brattleboro, Vt., May 11.—Burglars entered the home of O. P. Gilson and took nearly $400 in cash and a watch and chain valued at $100 from Gilson's clothes, which had been left near the bed where he was sleeping. They also visited an adjoining room occupied by H. P. Hubbard, from whose clothing they secured $35. G. F. Barber's house was entered and cash and a revolver taken.

Australian Strike Continues

Melbourne, May 11.—There is no prospect of the cessation of the railroad strike. Very few men have accepted the offer of double pay to work in place of the strikers. The commissioner of railroads says enough men to run one train a day on each of the principal lines are applying for work.

More Thieving at Manila

Manila, May 11.—Albert Roberts, cashier of the government ice plant here, has been arrested on the charge of embezzlement. His accounts have been found to be $4000 short.

CITY BREVITIES.

It was a glorious Sunday.

This weather is more seasonable.

Let the furnace fire go out.

Mrs. John H. Gillis is confined to home by sickness.

The next meeting of the City Council will be held May 18.

Mrs. Emma Lark is quite ill at her home on Granite street.

James Dinegan, driver of Hook & Ladder No. 3, at Wollaston, is off duty owing to a sore arm.

At early candle light tomorrow, ye district school will convene at the Park and Downs church.

Edward Nute and family of Atlantic have taken up their residence for the summer at Rose hill, North Weymouth.

Members of the Bethany Sunday School who signed the Decision Day cards will meet this evening at the chapel.

The City Council Committee on Fire Department were out on a "rubbering trip" Saturday and called at several of the fire stations.

Channing T. Eurnald will open a grocery store at Jones' corner on Granite street in the store recently occupied by A. Pierson.

It seemed a little odd Sunday to see Chief Williams responding to an alarm of fire in a two-seated carriage but he was out riding with his family when the alarm sounded.

George D. Langley, owing to poor health, has been obliged to take a month's vacation and leaves today, accompanied by his wife, for a few days' visit with relatives at Taunton.

Three times in May in the last seven years Quincy has had 90 degree temperature at noon; on May 10, 1896, the mercury climbed to 93, and on May 17 the same year to 91; on May 15 the mercury touched 90, and the highest in May, 1901, was 85, and in May last year 86.

TODAY'S COURT.

Herbert K. Cushing of Weymouth was arraigned for the illegal keeping of intoxicating liquor. He pleaded nolo-contendere, and was fined $50.

Charles O'Toole, Patrick Regan, Matthew Collins and James Eddy were fined $3 each and William O'Donnell, $5, for drunkenness at Quincy.

Consand Michaelini and William Kane were arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. Cases continued until May 18.

Robert A. Welch was arraigned for drunkenness at Weymouth. Case continued until June 18.

Percy T. Ford was arraigned for drunkenness and disturbing the peace at Cohasset. Cases continued until May 25.

The case of Nora Casey for trespass at Milton was called. He was found guilty and the case placed on file. Appealed.

Unnecessary Alarm.

The alarm from Box 41 at 11.25 this noon was for a brush fire along the inside edge of the sidewalk at 105 Granite street. There was no necessity for the alarm.

—Venice has a Cafe which claims that it has been open day and night for 150 years.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

A Smuggling ...Episode

[Original.]

There is on the northern part of Manhattan Island an eminence called Fort George. When General Washington retreated from Long Island, he took up a temporary position there while his tired army recuperated. Now the place is a summer restaurant where people go to dine on the broad piazzas and enjoy the view. One evening two men were sitting on the veranda next the wall of the house. Through a window beside them they could hear the orchestra playing inside and look at the panorama without. They were talking in a very low tone.

"Now that the job is finished and we're rich I'd like to hear about your early efforts in the same direction," said one to the other.

"They were not very successful. You see, every way of concealing diamonds for smuggling purposes on the person is pretty well known to the customs men. I invented some of them or thought I did, but others had either used them or soon got on to them. The first I tried was cultivating my hair to grow straight up on my head and concealing diamonds there. But on one trip several of us were suspected and searched. Seeing the searcher go through the hair and beard of one of the party—diamonds were found in his beard—I was obliged to part with my stock in a hurry through a crack in the floor. This was a dead loss of $10,000.

"My next venture was having boot heels made hollow, and in each heel I successfully brought through $10,000 of gems, which helped me out of my previous loss. I would have tried it again, but heard that the detectives had got on to the scheme.

"On my next trip I took my wife with me, and when we returned she had on a hat adorned with a dozen of the prettiest red cherries you ever saw, and in each cherry was a diamond. The scheme would have worked well if she had come through alone. Unfortunately I was recognized as having been suspected on previous occasions, and this involved her. We were both searched, and the women who examined her went straight for the cherries.

"I had good success in having the works of a tiny lady's watch put into a good sized chronometer. This left a fine space around the works for jewels, and I filled it up. But on this occasion I could have had the diamonds anywhere, for I was disguised and went through without being suspected.

"At last the customs officers got to examining everything man or woman could wear that could be made hollow, and I concluded to get up a dodge by which the jewels could be brought through without being subject to examination. I taxed my ingenuity to the utmost, but could devise no way without taking in a confederate. I knew you and had confidence in your being straight. As for nerve or sleight of hand or anything like that, the case didn't require it. The beauty of the scheme was that I could bring as many diamonds as I liked.

"You know the rest. I took passage from New York and before leaving the wharf at Southampton engaged a return berth and at once cabled you in New York the number of my berth, which you secured for next trip out. When I went aboard again with $200,000 worth of diamonds, I knew just where I was to put them. I had a carpenter's bit, a narrow saw and a pot of paint. During the trip I took up a section of the stateroom floor and chucked in the diamonds. Of course as an old suspect when I went ashore I was searched. But as the diamonds were still on the ship I didn't mind a little thing like that, though I went off with the usual indignation at being taken for a smuggler.

"I confess I was a little nervous the day you sailed. I knew you had the room all right, but I feared some slip. You see a big part of half a million was at stake. When your wife and daughters, after seeing you off, came in with the bags in their pockets and told how they had cried over you and waved to you and all that, I was happy as a king. I knew that I must conceal the haul somewhere till your return or longer, for that matter, and concluded there was no safer place than on my own person. No one is going to molest me. The only fear for a smuggler is coming ashore with the goods on him."

The dinner being finished, the two men lighted cigars, sipped their coffee and leaned back in their chairs with the comfortable feeling of having staked all on a chance and won.

"Shall we divide now?" asked the listener.

"Just as you like. I've got two bags in my pocket of equal value. I'll take out my handkerchief. In it will be one of the bags. I'll toss the handkerchief, with the bag, carelessly into my hat. When we leave, you take my hat instead of your own."

The feat was executed. Just as the men were about to rise two arms reached from the window and grasped their coat collars. At the same time a man dining at a neighboring table arose, advanced and clapped a pair of bracelets on each.

The change from the satisfied expression on the smugglers' faces to abject misery was something to be remembered.

Later on the detective informed them how he got on to them.

"I was cabled from Southampton by a confederate detective that you had gone on board with a large amount in diamonds. When you went ashore and I didn't find them, I was nonplused. But I knew they were somewhere, and I've been shadowing you ever since."

"Smuggling's played out. You've got the thing down too fine."

MARY ALICE BOND.

LAUNDRY LINES.

Plenty of common soda in the water in which linen is washed will remove the stain of perspiration.

Buttons should be turned toward the board when ironing to prevent their being broken or rubbed off by the iron.

The most satisfactory method of sprinkling clothes is to use a good whisk broom kept expressly for that purpose.

Water that is softened with a little borax is useful in the laundry for whitening clothes and effecting a saving of soap.

Unironed underclothing is much the best wear, as retaining the fragrance and freshness of open air drying. This is worth meditation by housekeepers.

To preserve the ecru tint of lace in laundering put it through thin starch colored with tea or coffee or simply rinse in tea or coffee water. For old lace tea gives the best tint.

Irons should always be kept in a dry place. A convenient thing to keep under the set tubs or in some other out of the way corner is a soap box, into which may be placed the flatirons, holders, stand and wax cloth when not in use.

Woman With Humor.

If you consider the list of your friends, it will not take you long to discover that the woman you like best is the woman with a sense of humor. She is the one you think of first if you are getting up a picnic or a card party. If it rains or it shines, if anybody else is cross and grumpy, the woman with a sense of humor can extract fun out of the dreariest proposition, and the first thing you know she has set everybody to laughing at her droll sayings and turned defeat into a triumph, for who cares whether your original plan was carried out or not just so everybody has a good time?

A sense of humor is said to be lacking in most women. Alas, I have found this only too true! But I have noticed that when a woman does have it the men are the first to find it out, and all she has to do to acquire a husband is to pick and choose. The day of the girl with the doll face is going out, and the day of the girl with a sense of humor is coming in.—Harper's Bazar.

Value of Massage.

Massage as a treatment for the muscles of the face is without a rival to restore the normal beauty of contour and expression. No matter how many wise resolutions we may make for ourselves not to pucker up the eyebrows, not to allow these horizontal lines to form across the forehead, not to let the corners of the mouth droop down, etc., we will do them all at times in spite of ourselves. Now, massage comes in as a vigorous counter influence to the ravages of time, worry or care. The skilled manipulator can "plump up" more tired looking faces in an hour's treatment a day than most anything else that is known as a restorer of symmetry and good looks. A prolonged course of massage will render the skin more flexible and elastic than it naturally is, and it becomes even finer, softer and more supple under the skilled treatment.

Woman's Abilities.

In everyday life in matters where mental qualities are brought into play the woman, as every man knows, is able to take care of herself. On every occasion she shows herself as his equal in intelligence and wit. To what end, then, is all this ado to prove that woman is mentally inferior to man? No matter what learned professors may say, the world has pretty well made up its mind as to the place woman is entitled to hold in it, and deep treatises on the brain are not likely to affect that opinion so long as women continue to show the abilities which they display so freely today.—Worcester Spy.

A White Enamel Touch.

A pretty finish for a shabby dressing table is a coat of white enamel. Two coats of the paint will make a smooth and shining surface. The old paint should be removed from the wood and its surface thoroughly smoothed with fine sandpaper. A coat of shellac varnish applied and allowed to dry before the enamel goes on is said to improve the appearance of the table. The enamel is put on with a fine, stiff brush. The metal handles on the drawers can be brightened with gold paint.

Worn Out Stockings.

Stockings and socks that have seen their best days and are on their way to the rag bag may be utilized in various ways by the careful housewife. Cut off the feet, then fold the leg part over several times and sew the ends, and one has a soft holder for grasping kettles, the stove lifter, irons and other utensils of the kitchen. White hosiery is capital when used as a window cleaner in place of the old duster or bit of discarded muslin which many women save for this purpose.

A Good Curling Fluid.

A good curling fluid may be made thus: Place thirty quince seeds to simmer for a couple of hours in a pint of distilled water, strain and then add one gill of alcohol, refined spirits of wine or brandy and a teaspoonful of eau de cologne. Bottle and keep tightly corked. When using, dampen the hair with the mixture before putting in the wavers.

Eggshells.

It is a fact that few housewives are aware of that throwing eggshells on the fire when burning garbage will cause clinkers. The lime of the shells coagulates on the cinders, uniting them into hard masses. Herein lies the explanation of fires going out at such unreasonable times and seasons.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - 50 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—A light running open Corning Box Buggy, cheap, in fine condition; also a rubber tired Goddard, in good repair; can be seen at 19 Pine street, Wollaston. Address E. F. WHITE, Wollaston, Mass. May 11-13t

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office. April 28. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street. Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE.—Yawl BRANT, 28.6 o. a., 9-0 beam, 3-0 draught, with centre board up; built by Leloise in 1898. This boat is well known along the coast as a safe and handy cruiser, is easily handled, and is in perfect condition, well found in everything needed for comfort and safety. Now at her moorings off the Wollaston Yacht Club house and ready for sea. J. A. FENNO, 538 Hancock street. Wollaston, May 4. tf

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve (12) rooms, with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

TO LET.

TO LET—A Pleasant, Sunny Room centrally located. References required Address B., Ledger Office. May 11. 3t

TO LET—A very large Front Room. Also two rooms connected. Another medium size room. Every room newly renovated. Large new bath room. Prices from $1.75 to $3.00 per week. 48 Revere road. Quincy, May 9. 3t

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy. April 8. w. th. s. m.—tf

TO LET—Dining Room, Kitchen and Bed Room for light housekeeping. Also Side Rooms at moderate prices. Barn for $4 per month. Apply Greenleaf street, corner Hancock street. Quincy, May 8-tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet, 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street. Quincy, April 21. tf

WANTED.

WANTED—An Experienced Cook, in a family where a second girl is kept. Enquire for "MRS. A. B.," Ledger office. May 11. 6t

WANTED—Young Man to help shipper. HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO. Quincy, May 9. tf

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON. Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

WANTED.

WANTED—Young Men to prepare for Government Positions. Fine Openings in all Departments. Good Salaries. Rapid Promotions. Examinations soon. Particulars Free. Inter-State Cor. Inst., Cedar Rapids, Ia. April 27. 1p 1m

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust
Music Hall Block, Quincy

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street. Quincy, April 9. 1p-tf

IT HAS BEEN SAID

That it takes a rich man to draw a check, a horse to draw a car a pretty girl to draw attention, toper to draw a cork, a free lunch to draw a crowd, and an advertisement in the home paper to draw trade.

IF INTERESTED

Drop a postal to the office of the Daily Ledger and we will send our advertising man around. Only 5 cents per Inch per day by the Month.

King Arthur Flour

MAKES THE

BEST BREAD.

SOLD BY

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. lp-tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1-1y- p-6mos.

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pinel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7. tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov, 3-tf

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

---

FULL STOCK
—OF—
HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,
—AT—
Brooks' Market,
Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 25. tf

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS
Original and Only Genuine.
SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co. Mention this paper. Madison Square, PHILA., PA.

When Knighthood Was In Flower

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By Edwin Caskoden [Charles Major]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

This story began in the Daily Ledger of Monday, March 16, and will be continued daily until completed.

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I and II.—Charles Brandon kills a duelist on the field of honor and is appointed captain of the king's guard at the English court The king"s sister, Mary Tudor, quickly sets her fancy upon the gallant stranger. Brandon makes a confidant of Edwin Caskoden, master of the dance. III.—Caskoden is attentive to Lady Jane Bolingbroke, companion to the princess. In a fit of petulance Mary rebukes Brandon, then craves forgiveness. IV—Brandon teaches Mary a new dance learned in France. The young princess is shocked at first, then delighted with the sensation of Brandon's arm around her waist. Brandon declares that the girl is perfect, but the game of making love to royalty is dangerous. V.—Brandon crosses swords with the Duke of Buckingham, an unwelcome admirer of the princess. VI.—Mary, Lady Jane, Brandon and Caskoden ride to Windsor with the king. Mary shows decided partiality for Brandon's company, and on the return he is sent a day ahead of the royal party. VII—Louis XII of France asks for the hand of Mary. Brandon to sail for America to avoid Mary. She takes him to task for his indifference. Overcome by her pleadings, he makes a violent demonstration of his love. VIII.—Mary and Lady Jane go in disguise to consult a fortune teller. Brandon follows unknown to Mary. Buckingham plays the spy, and in a fight with Brandon he is wounded and two of his suit killed. IX.—Brandon in prison charged with murder. Mary to plead with the King. Buckingham against the prisoner. The king discovers a note sent by Mary to Brandon. Brandon condemned to death. The king learns that Brandon saved Mary from disgrace and orders his release. Brandon now madly in love with Mary. XI—Ambassadors of the French king come to England to court Mary for their aged sovereign The girl spurns them in a highly dramatic scene. The betrothal made by King Henry. Mary kept in ignorance of Brandon's plan imprisonment. She supposed he had sailed for America. XII—Mary explains to Brandon her neglect when he lay in prison. Bitter words followed by betrothal. Brandon dismissed from court. XIII.—Mary flatly refuses to wed the old French king. Brandon accuses Buckingham of having attempted to abduct Mary. King Henry angry with Brandon. XIV and XV—The kings learns of love trysts between Mary and Brandon. Brandon's life in danger. He secures passage to America Mary insists upon going along in man's disguise. XVII.—Mary escapes from her chaperons during a hunt and rides to meet Brandon. Caskoden still wooing Lady Jane.

CHAPTER XVII—[Continued.]

When Brandon looked her over, all hope went out of him. It seemed that every change of dress only added to her bewitching beauty by showing it in a new phase.

"It will never do. There is no disguising you. What is it that despite everything shows so unmistakably feminine? What shall we do? I have it. You shall remain here under the pretense of illness until we are well at sea, and then I will tell the captain all. It is too bad, and yet I would not have you one whit less a woman for all the world. A man loves a woman who is so thoroughly womanly that nothing can hide it."

Mary was pleased at his flattery, but disappointed at the failure in herself. She had thought that surely these garments would make a man of her in which the keenest eye could not detect a flaw.

They were discussing the matter when a knock came at the door, with the cry, "All hands on deck for inspection." Inspection! Jesu! Mary would not safely endure it a minute. Brandon left her at once and went to the captain.

"My lord is ill and begs to be excused from deck inspection," he said.

Bradhurst, a surly old half pirate of the saltiest pattern, answered: "Ill? Then he had better go ashore as soon as possible. I will refund his money. We cannot make a hospital out of the ship. If his lordship is too ill to stand inspection, see that he goes ashore at once."

This last was addressed to one of the ship's officers, who answered with the usual "Aye, aye, sir," and started for Mary's cabin.

That was worse than ever, and Brandon quickly said he would have his lordship up at once. He then returned to Mary, and after buckling on her sword and belt they went on deck and climbed up the poop ladder to take their places with those entitled to stand aft.

Brandon has often told me since that it was as much as he could do to keep back the tears when he saw Mary's wonderful effort to appear manly. It was both comical and pathetic. She was a princess to whom all the world bowed down, yet that did not help her here. After all she was only a girl, timid and fearful, following at Brandon's heels, frightened lest she should get out of arm's reach of him among those rough men and longing with all her heart to take his hand for moral as well as physical support. It must have been both laughable and pathetic in the extreme. That miserable sword persisted in tripping her, and the jack boots, so much too large, evinced an alarming tendency to slip off with every step. How insane we all were not to have foreseen this from the very beginning. It must have been a unique figure she presented climbing up the steps at Brandon's heels, jack boots and all. So unique was it that the sailors working in the ship's waist stopped their tasks to stare in wonderment and the gentlemen on the poop made no effort to hide their amusement. Old Bradhurst stepped up to her.

"I hope your lordship is feeling better," and then, surveying her from head to foot, with a broad grin on his features, "I declare, you look the picture of health, if I ever saw it. How old are you?"

Mary quickly responded, "Fourteen years."

"Fourteen," returned Bradhurst. "Well, I don't think you will shed much blood. You look more like a deuced handsome girl than any man I ever saw." At this the men all laughed and were very impertinent in the free and easy manner of such gentry, most of whom were professional adventurers with every finer sense dulled and debased by years of vice.

These fellows, half of them tipsy, now gathered about Mary to inspect her personally, each on his own account. Their looks and conduct were very disconcerting, but they did nothing insulting until one fellow gave her a slap on the back, accompanying it by an indecent remark. Brandon tried to pay no attention to them, but this was too much, so he lifted his arm and knocked the fellow off the poop into the waist. The man was back in a moment, and swords were soon drawn and clicking away at a great rate. The contest was brief, however, as the fellow was no sort of match for Brandon, who, with his old trick, quickly twisted his adversary's sword out of his grasp and with a flash of his own blade flung it into the sea. The other men were now talking together at a little distance in whispers, and in a moment one drunken brute shouted: "It is no man. It is a woman. Let us see more of her!"

Before Brandon could interfere the fellow had unbuckled Mary's doublet at the throat and with a jerk had torn it off, carrying away the sleeve and exposing Mary's shoulder, almost throwing her to the deck.

He waved his trophy on high, but his triumph was short lived, for almost instantly it fell to the deck, and with it the offending hand severed at the wrist by Brandon's sword. Three or four friends of the wounded man rushed upon Brandon, whereupon Mary screamed and began to weep, which of course told the whole story.

A great laugh went up, and instantly a general fight began. Several of the gentlemen, seeing Brandon attacked by such odds, took up his defense, and within twenty seconds all were on one side or the other, every mother's son of them fighting away like mad.

You see how quickly and completely one woman without the slightest act on her part, except a modest effort to be let alone, had set the whole company by the ears, cutting and slashing away at each other like very devils. The sex must generate mischief in some unknown manner and throw it off, as the sun throws off its heat. However, Jane is an exception to that rule—if it is a rule.

The officers soon put a stop to this lively little fight and took Brandon and Mary, who was weeping as any right minded woman would, down into the cabin for consultation.

With a great oath Bradhurst exclaimed: "It is plain enough that you have brought a girl on board under false colors, and you may as well make ready to put her ashore. You see what she has already done—a hand lost to one man and wounds for twenty others—and she was on deck less than five minutes. Heart of God! At that rate she would have the ship at the bottom of Davy Jones' locker before we could sail half down the channel."

"It was not my fault," sobbed Mary, her eyes flashing fire. "I did nothing; all I wanted was to be left alone, but those brutes of men—you shall pay for this; remember what I say. Did you expect Captain Brandon to stand back and not defend me when that wretch was tearing my garments off?"

"Captain Brandon, did you say?" asked Bradhurst, with his hat off instantly.

"Yes," answered that individual. "I shipped under an assumed name for various reasons, and desire not to be known. You will do well to keep my secret."

"Do I understand that you are Master Charles Brandon, the king's friend?" asked Bradhurst.

"I am," was the answer.

"Then, sir, I must ask your pardon for the way you have been treated. We of course could not know it, but a man must expect trouble when he attaches himself to a woman." It is a wonder the flashes from Mary's eyes did not strike the old seadog dead. He, however, did not see them and went on: "We are more than anxious that so valiant a knight as Sir Charles Brandon should go with us, and hope your reception will not drive you back. But as to the lady, you see already the result of her presence, and, much as we want you, we cannot take her. Aside from the general trouble which a woman takes with her everywhere"—Mary would not even look at the creature—"on shipboard there is another and greater objection. It is said, you know, among sailors that a woman on board draws bad luck to certain sorts of ships, and every sailor would desert before we could weigh anchor if it were known this lady was to go with us. Should they find it out in midocean a mutiny would be sure to follow, and God only knows what would happen. For her sake if for no other reason take her ashore at once."

[To be Continued.]

WHY MOTHERS WORRY

Did you ever hear a mother worry over a plump child? There is no better bank of health for a child to draw from than a good supply of healthy flesh.

Scott's Emulsion not only gives a child weight and plumpness, but it feeds the brain, bones and nerves with strength and active power.

Fewer mothers would worry if they knew more about Scott's Emulsion.

Scott's Emulsion is substituted by cheap emulsions and so-called wines, cordials and extracts of cod-liver oil. They can do you no good and are dear at any price. Why buy them? Scott's Emulsion has been the one reliable preparation of cod-liver oil for nearly thirty years.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.
SCOTT BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus of [illegible] before medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

EXPLOSION OF OIL

Causes the Death of a Hartford Woman and Her Young Son

Hartford, May 11.—Two persons are dead and one in a serious condition as a result of an explosion at the home of Edward L. Rowe in Rocky Hill. The dead are Mrs. Mary Rowe and her 7-year-old son, Wilbur. A daughter, Cora, is at a hospital suffering from severe burns.

Mr. Rowe was boiling a solution which contained a considerable quantity of whale oil. He left the house and a short time afterward neighbors heard a loud explosion. Little Wilbur was then seen running from the house with his clothing ablaze, calling for help. He was rolled on the ground until the flames were extinguished. When assistance reached the house it was found that Mrs. Rowe was being terribly burned. Her clothing was on fire from head to foot and it was not until her clothing was torn from her body that she was released from her garb of fire. Similar treatment was accorded the daughter, who, however, was not so badly burned as her mother.

An ambulance from this city was sent to Rocky Hill for the three sufferers. Young Wilbur died on the way to the hospital and Mrs. Rowe died early after suffering terrible pain. Her daughter, although in great pain, is expected to recover.

The exact cause of the explosion is not known. It is believed, however, that the whale oil boiled over and dripped down into the flame of the oil stove. The girl is unable to give any account of the affair.

Disease on Receiving Ships

Philadelphia, May 11.—The Press says: "Cerebro spinal menengitis has broken out in the ranks of the 1200 men aboard the receiving ships Minneapolis and Puritan, at League Island navy yard. Already it has killed three young recruits, while seven more victims are hovering between life and death. Today the work of raising tents will be started and as soon as the canvas shelters are in place the 1200 young tars will be put out to camp. When the men leave the Minneapolis and Puritan both ships will be subjected to a thorough fumigation."

Supposed Dead Man Reappears

Rochester, N. Y., May 11.—Twenty-eight years ago the body of a man was found floating in a mill race here and identified as that of William H. Stone. The identification was made positive by Mrs. Stone, the supposed widow. The military company of which he had been a member adopted a memorial and attended the funeral in a body. Interment was in the Stone family plot in Mount Hope. Stone suddenly appeared yesterday and fully identified himself to his family and the police. He has been a wanderer.

Life Savers' Good Work

Beaufort, N. C., May 11.—Definite news regarding the wreck of the Portuguese bark Vera Cruz III at Portsmouth, 60 miles north of here, shows that there were 251 passengers, all Portuguese, and a crew of 16. All were rescued by the Portsmouth life saving station crew, but one person died a few minutes after the rescue. The Vera Cruz was in charge of a local pilot, having put in at Ocraroke inlet for water.

Taraca Fight Had Good Effect

Manila, May 11.—Captain Pershing and his column have returned to Camp Vicars, Mindanao, from the expedition through the country east of Lake Lanao. Among the Moros killed in the Taraca forts were nine dattos and one sultan. It is doubtful if there will be any further hostility in the Lake Lanao country.

—Yes, it is very comforting to learn that Miss stone's ransom is being "regarded as an American contribution" to a Macedonian revolutionary fund.

SOME INSIDE HISTORY

Regarding Hold-Up of Tennessee Letter Carrier

HE WAS THE SECOND CHOICE

On the Register For the Position and Was Chosen When Highest Man Declined It—Patrons of Route Made No Objection to His Appointment

Washington, May 11.—The civil service commission has made the following explanation of the circumstances attending the appointment to his position of John C. Allgood, the Tennessee rural free delivery letter carrier, who had been prevented from performing the duties of his office by the patrons of his route:

"There are five rural free delivery routes which start at Gallatin, Tenn. There were 15 applicants for positions as rural letter carriers on these routes. Eight of these applicants have been offered appointments, of whom five accepted and three declined. For route No. 1, Allen S. Dillard, a white man, made the highest average and was appointed Feb. 16, 1903, to begin work on March 2. On Feb. 25 notice was received that Dillard had declined. The next man on the register was John C. Allgood, the colored carrier who recently was compelled to abandon his route. In his report the examiner stated that Allgood would make a very acceptable carrier. His judgment was based on his investigations as to the wishes of the patrons of the route, under section 9 of the regulations, which provides that "the examination shall further consist of a careful inquiry and report by the special agent or the route inspector as to each competitor's acquaintance with the patrons of the route and the extent to which he has their confidence, his general characteristics, suitability and fitness for the position and his character and reputation."

When Dillard declined Allgood was appointed. There is nothing in the record to show that he is a colored man, nor could this fact have been considered if the record had shown it. No protests were filed by any persons prior to the date of his appointment. He was appointed on Feb. 26, the day after the notice was received of the declination of Dillard. Allgood began work March 1, the date the service on his route started. Allgood and Dillard had made about equal averages, so far as the scholastic test is concerned, and Dillard got the benefit of the first certification merely on account of the result of the examiner's investigation, which showed that he would be satisfactory to more patrons than would Allgood. Section 9 of the regulations gives the patrons ample opportunity to select their man, inasmuch as the applicant must be a person who has a good reputation in the community. Protests from patrons in any case are always considered and investigated by the central board of examiners. When no protests are received, however, it is, of course, understood that the applicants are satisfactory to the patrons of the route.

For rural route No. 2, which starts at Gallatin, Tenn., W. H. Franklin received the highest rating. Franklin also is a colored man, and there never has been any complaint whatever as to acceptability to the patrons of his route. Franklin is a Spanish war veteran with an excellent record as shown by the copy of his discharge on file with his papers. In his case the examiner said that in his opinion no one could find fault with him, and the postmaster stated that he was fully competent.

In the case of Allgood the examination and investigation were made by a special agent whose home is in Tennessee and who is familiar with the conditions there. The agent states that while he gave the prefereuce to Dillard in his report, he thought Allgood would make a very satisfactory man in case Dillard should not accept the appointment. The examination for these routes was made as early as May 16, 1902.

No protests have been received in the cases either of Franklin or of Allgood.

Why Troops Are In New Chwang

St. Petersburg, May 11.—The foreign office here strongly deprecates the excitement concerning Manchuria. It believes mischief-makers are responsible for the reports and says the arrival of troops at New Chwang was due to the retirement of troops from Moukden province, southward, instead of northward. The troops depart by sea. The other alleged warlike preparations of Russia are ridiculed.

President's Restful Sunday

Hotel Del Monte, Cal., May 11.—President Roosevelt spent one of the most restful Sundays he has had since his trip began. In one of the most beautiful spots in California, two miles from the nearest city, unhampered by curious crowds, he had a chance to thoroughly rest.

Hope For Canal Treaty

Panama, May 11.—The convocation of the Colombian congress for June 20 is believed by people acquainted with government affairs to mean that President Marroquin is confident of having sufficient support to assure the approval of the canal treaty.

Cholera Making Gains

Manila, May 11.—The quarantining of transports bound for San Francisco has been resumed on account of the cholera. The epidemic is making slight gains in Luzon.

PLASMON COCOA

55 Per Cent. Plasmon

The injurious Coffee habit is easily and agreeably overcome by substituting Plasmon Cocoa. Its nutrition and digestibility are its strong points.

Ask your grocer or druggist for it. In cans, 15 cts. and 25 cts.

Plasmon is the nutrition of pure, sweet milk, in the form of a soluble, cream-colored powder. It can be added to other foods to increase their nutritive qualities.

Plasmon Co. of America
Centennial Building, New York.
(Literature mailed free for the asking.)

Plasmon, 15c. and 50c.; Plasmon Biscuits, 20c and 35c. per tin; Plasmon Chocolate, 5c. and 10c. per cake.

FRESH FROM THE MINES.
CARGOES OF
White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.
C. PATCH & SON
Quincy, April 23. tf

FLOWERS
AT VERY LOWEST PRICES.
MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.
63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works, Quincy Point.
FUNERAL DESIGNS A SPECIALTY.
P. GREEN, Proprietor.
Telephone 64-5 Quincy.

Wall Paper
Direct from the Manufacture.
Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.
Address,
H. BIDWELL,
Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.
April 1. lp-2mos.

J. W. PRATT,
BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES
AT LOWEST PRICES.
HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.
MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.
I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.
Estimates given on new work
8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.
Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

If you are thinking of
BUYING A HOUSE
OR A
LOT OF LAND,
Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.
WALTER E. BURKE.
Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

FRANK F. CRANE.
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17.

SMOKE THE GOVERNESS.
UNION MADE.
Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers
Manufactured by
P. A. NELSON,
59 Granite Street.
Quincy, Nov. 11 1y

W. G. CHUBBUCK
Furniture and Piano Mover,
IN AND OUT OF TOWN.
Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.
JOBBING.
Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.
lp-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

JAMES F. BURKE,
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5. tf

Dr. Emmons'
Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

OCOA

t. Plasmon

Coffee habit is eably overcome ng Plasmon utrition and dis strong points.

n Co. of America
ntennial Building,
New York.

re mailed free for the asking.)

s, 20c and 35c. per 0c. per cake.

E MINES.

Stove.
Egg.
Stove.
Egg.

t.

& SON

tf

RS

CES.

HOUSES.

e River Works,

PECIALTY.

EEN, Proprietor.

SMOKE THE

VERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Cigar in the Market, Long Filler
Wrapper for sale by all dealers
Manufactured by
A. NELSON,
9 Granite Street.
ov. 11 1y

G. CHUBBUCK
and Piano Mover,
AND OUT OF TOWN.
Packed and Stored.
ken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.
JOBBING.
at Page's Pool Room, or Nicker-Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at d's Revere Road.
Address, QUINCY, MASS.

IES F. BURKE,
STATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
e Peace. Notary Public
n 4, Savings Bank Building,
tf

. Emmons'
gulator has brought happiness to anxious women. There is positive remedy known to medical science quickly and safely do the work.
most obstinate irregularities from lieved immediately. Success guar.
y stage. No pain, danger, or inter. n work. Have relieved hundreds of e others have failed. The most diffi.
ccessfully treated by mail, and ben.
ts guaranteed in every instance. No ever. We treat hundreds of ladies ever see. Write for further particu.
e confidential advice. Do not put off ll letters truthfully answered. Re. is remedy is absolutely safe under ible condition and positively leaves effect upon the health. Sent by mail, aled, $2.00. Money letters should be
DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tre
Boston, Mass.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 111. QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

Spring and Summer Shoes.

The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.

The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.

GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat.

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.

Quincy, May 9. 1m

Are You Looking for a Home?
Would You Like to Make Some Money?

Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at

BIGELOW PARK.

The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.

SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.

May 2. tf

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON

Quincy, April 23. tf

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FA[illegible];

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS,

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.

April 30. 1m

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,

In a variety of Styles and Prices.

Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.

These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.

C. S. HUBBARD,
City Square, Quincy.

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

For Latest News See Inside Pages.

BIG FLURRY IN COTTON

All the Principle Markets Affected by It

NEW RECORDS ESTABLISHED

By Fluctuations of Twenty to Twenty-Five Points at New York and Thirty to Forty Points at New Orleans, Where Bulls Were Heavy Buyers.

New York, May 12.—There was a wild market in cotton trading yesterday, with prices covering a range of $1 a bale in this market from Saturday's closing quotations and $1.50 to $2 a bale in New Orleans. Prices soared at the commencement of business, going up by leaps and bounds on trading 20 to 25 points here and 30 to 40 points at New Orleans.

The Liverpool markets were almost equally excited. There spot cotton advanced 10 points, or equivalent to $1 a bale in our fluctuations, to the basis of 5s 8d a pound for middling cotton, which is equivalent to 11.60 cents in our market. Futures opened there equivalent to 14 to 16 points higher in our fluctuations and closed very feverish at 11 to 12 points net advance over Saturday's final prices, or equivalent to 22 and 24 points in our market.

Thus, at all points, all previous high records for cotton options, and also spot cotton on this season's crop, were surpassed. Spot cotton here is held at about 11.15 cents a pound and 10 3-4 cents at New Orleans, against 9 3-4 cents last year.

There has not been anything like the equivalent of these high prices since the last week of January, 1901, when option and spot cotton in this market was forced up to 12 cents a pound. That was the highest record for cotton since 1890, when it sold in January of that year in this market at 12 3-4 cents and about 7d a pound at Liverpool, after a prolonged season of bull speculation.

The scene on the floor of the exchange perhaps surpassed the excitement which attended the struggles of a month or two ago between the bulls and the bears. It was quite evident that those who were short of the market had become exceedingly nervous from the recent steady advance when the May buying orders came in from all directions and also that the New Orleans bull leaders' ambition to force prices higher had not yet been fully satisfied.

The shorts in the May option here were practically all driven in last week except spot dealers who intend to make good their deliveries. That option will soon expire. The stock of cotton here of contract grade, which was only 32,000 bales a month ago, has gradually been increased to about 80,000 bales through the recent steady advance in prices attracting cotton here.

Almost every broker was loaded with buying orders when the market opened and there was a great roar when trading began. As the excitement continued commission houses refused to accept any more buying or selling orders in either May or July until the market quieted down. It was reported that the New Orleans bulls were very aggressive and were the heaviest buyers of July and August in this market. It was significant that most of the selling came from the local bull clique. There were perhaps 400,000 bales traded in in this market up to noon. One house, in the first hour, doing a straight commission business and having private wire connections in the south, traded in about 40,000 bales, buying about 25,000 and selling about 15,000. This showed the extent to which the south was interested and traded in the market.

Later, when the New Orleans market reached 25 points on July and 15 to 20 points on the other options, and it was seen that the bull clique here was still inclined to sell and check any immediate further advance, things quieted down.

End of Montreal Strike

Montreal, May 12.—The strike of longshoremen which was inaugurated last fall and which has tied up the commerce of this port since the opening of navigation this spring, has been settled. The independent labor bureau is abolished and the men will receive an increase of about 20 percent in wages. Union men will not be subject to discrimination, but must allow other men to work with them if necessary.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus of ten before medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

WARD TWO POLLS.

About 300 Have Gone But 500 Have Taken Their Places.

That there is a large shifting population at Ward Two since the advent of the Fore River Ship and Engine Co. is generally known, but it will be surprising to learn how large it is. It is only at this time of the year, when the Assessors are collecting data, that any idea can be formed of the number. Albert Keating, the Assistant Assessor who is taking the poles of that ward, has nearly completed his work and up to date he has found and assessed 475 new names. To offset this there were over three hundred names he found last year that are missing this year.

CANAL TREATY'S STATUS

Jeopardized by Conflicting Elements In the Colombian Congress

Washington, May 12.—Private advices from Colombia state that there are three elements opposed to ratification of the Panama canal treaty. One element antagonizes the feature giving the United States perpetual control, another urges that the indemnity and annuity is not sufficient, and the third element consists of revolutionary spirits who fear that with the Colombian treasury enriched by $10,000,000 the government strength will be so increased as to destroy all hope of success from any revolutionary movement.

Dr. Herran, the Colombian charge d'affaires here, is without official information regarding the attitude of the majority of the members elect to the congress. When the Colombian congress is convened June 20, there will be just one month for reconsideration of the treaty and such other matters as may be called before it by the president, as the regular session meets July 20.

If the president sends the treaty to congress first, under Colombia's rules of procedure no other subject can be considered until that is disposed of. Reorganization of the finances of the government is the next most important matter before the Colombian government, and as the determination of the question of the treaty has an important bearing on the finances it is assumed here that the treaty will be sent to congress first in order that it may be known whether the government's finances are to be enriched by the addition of $10,000,000 or whether the congress must proceed on the basis of the government's present financial condition.

Reported Resignation of Marroquin

Panama, May 12.—It is reported here that President Marroquin has been compelled to resign office on account of political troubles, and that General Raphael Reyes, second vice president of Colombia, will assume the presidency. Friends of the canal are anxiously awaiting confirmation of this report.

Gamblers Purchased Protection

Honolulu, May 12.—The committee representing the keepers of Chinese gambling houses has been placed under arrest, charged with attempting to bribe Deputy Attorney General Andrews. Andrews arranged a meeting with the gamblers and concealed witnesses who heard the offer of $6000 a month made if Andrews would permit the conducting of gambling games. The Chinese state that they had formerly purchased protection from other officials and interesting disclosures are expected.

Scene of Absolute Destruction

Mexico City, May 12.—News brought here from Guatemala by people who have seen the ruin wrought by the recent eruption of Santa Maria volcano confirm all the previous reports. The situation could hardly be worse. All the coffee plantations in the vicinity of the volcano have been destroyed for all time. Ashes from 10 to 15 feet deep cover the country. In the neighborhood of the volcano ashes are so deep that only some of the tops of tall trees can be seen.

Poet of the Sierras Still Lives

San Francisco, May 12.—A report reached here of the sudden death of Joaquin Miller at his home in the Hills above Oakland. A reporter sent to investigate the rumor was informed by Miller's nearest neighbors that it was true. Information of the poet's death was then sent out to the press. Further inquiry, however, showed that the poet was alive and well.

Nobleman a Thief

Berlin, May 12.—The German university world has been startled by the discovery of thefts in the buildings occupied by the Saxonia corps and the Borussia corps, at Bonn. These clubs are exclusive and the imperial princes are members of the latter organization. The thief has been found and has confessed before a court of honor. He belongs to a noble family.

Threatened the President

San Jose, Cal., May 12.—Clay Taylor, alias Professor Plutte, was arrested here for supposed designs upon the life of the president. He has served three terms in prison. It is alleged that he wrote to the president advising him not to come here. He is also accused of recent anarchistic utterances.

CITY SQUARE SALE.

More Stores to be Erected on the Briesler Corner.

N. G. Nickerson reports the sale of the middle lot on the Briesler corner, belonging to Mrs. Mary Pollock, to Dr. John F. Welch. A store building, similar to one now building by Mr. Nickerson adjoining will be commenced at once.

The corner has long been considered the most desirable business site in the city, and is assessed more per foot than any other land in Quincy.

For many years the estate has been upon the market, but it needed the start and enterprise which N. G. Nickerson of Ward Five has exemplified. Mr. Nickerson is chairman of the Finance Committee of the Council, and his new enterprises show that he has faith in Quincy realty, and at the same time assure the tax payers that he will shape financial legislation for the best interests of the city.

There are many indications that there will be great changes in City Square and vicinity during the next ten years. At present our business centre does not indicate a city with a population of 30,000.

CARY WENT OVERBOARD

But Friends Now Have Reason to Think That He Is Alive.

Malden, Mass., May 12.—Is Walter H. Cary, who disappeared from a Fall River line steamer on the night of Dec. 6, alive? is the question awaiting a solution by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Cary and his brother, Arthur W. Cary, a clerk for the Malden Gas Light company. As the steamer was going into New York harbor on the morning of Dec. 7 there was a cry of "man overboard." A man was drowned and a search of the stateroom showed that the one that Cary had engaged was without an occupant. Cary's bag, a new suit of clothes, neatly folded, an insurance policy, some small change in silver and his watch were found there. Later, Arthur W. Cary claimed the effects, and Judge McIntire has granted him letters of administration on the property of the missing brother.

Yesterday Arthur Cary was told by a friend that his brother was alive and well and was in business in the west, but the place was not stated. It is understood that friends of Walter Cary have also received word from him, and that he has been in the south and is now in California. Walter Cary formerly worked for the Malden Gas Light company, but at the time of his disappearance he worked for the Suburban Electric company of Revere.

Not In Contempt of Court

Boston, May 12.—Ernest Dow was discharged by Judge Richardson in the superior court on the charge of contempt of court in the Lynn strike case. Dow and Matthew Haggerty were complained of for having violated the injunction which this court has issued restraining interference with Harney Bros. and their workmen. Haggerty did not put in an appearance and was defaulted by the court. Dow did, however, and introduced evidence tending to show that he had no participation in the trouble.

Quarter of a Million Liabilities

Providence, May 12.—Robert B. Treat of Warwick, cotton manufacturer and head of two large coal companies with headquarters in this city, has made an assignment. The liabilities are estimated at about $250,000, with assets in three times that sum. The poor condition of the cotton cloth market and a desire to avoid the sacrifice of valuable properties are given as reasons for the assignment.

Hartford Has Smallpox Scare

Hartford, May 12.—The health authorities have discovered five new cases of smallpox in the family of Thomas Daucre. The victims are all children, who have been attending two schools. Both these institutions will be closed temporarily and a house to house canvass will be made by physicians to make sure that none of the other children attending the schools have caught the disease.

Alleged Forger Held

West Derry, N. H., May 12.—Jarvis M. Billings of Manchester was arraigned in court here on complaint of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company, charged with forgery while working for the company as lineman. He waived examination and was held in $500 for appearance at the superior court.

Politician Attacked by Dog

Littleton, N. H., May 12.—Sumner F. Claflin of Manchester, several times the Socialist Labor candidate for governor of this state, was attacked by a dog here and bitten in several places, chiefly on the hands. A warrant was sworn out and the dog was killed. Six stitches were taken in Claflin's wounds.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

ALL GOODS WILL BE DELIVERED FREE AT RESIDENCES IN QUINCY.

STRAW MATTINGS
FOR SUMMER HOUSES

Our new importation includes all grades from China and Japan, many patterns of which are exclusive. Always cool, cleanly, and sanitary.

RUGS

Royal Wilton, Saxony Axminster, Seamless, and other Axminster and Brussels rugs, in sizes 9 x 12, 8.3 x 10.6, and 6 x 9.

Hundreds of small rugs—Smyrnas, Wiltons, Axminsters, Japanese, etc., etc., at exceptionally low prices.

RUGS

Heavy Brussels Art Squares, many of them in Oriental designs and all reversible, sizes 7.6 x 9, 9 x 9, 9 x 10.6, and 9 x 12; price about $1.00 per square yard.

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS COMPANY
Pray Building 658 Washington St. Opp. Boylston St.
BOSTON

Represented in Quincy by Mr. Otho A. Hayward; In Wollaston by Mr. J. W. Wellington.

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER YOU WILL FIND

The Co-OPERATIVE DINING ROOMS,
3 Granite Street, Quincy,
where your wants will be satisfied.

TABLE BOARD:
21-Meal..... Tickets, $3.50
ROOMS:
$1.25 Per Week and Upwards.

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21--2m

King Arthur Flour.

THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.

L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.

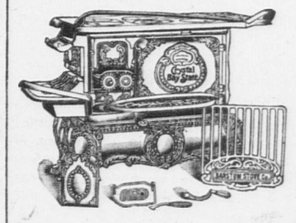

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK A SPECIALTY.
Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.

Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

Address, 1362 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
Quincy, April 10. tfip

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.

Come and See It.

BARSTOW STOVE CO.,
55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.

GUY'S COLISEUM,
W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 17. 4w

Reupholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE

HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.

Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.

Call and get Prices.

C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St
Tel. 64-4.
Quincy, May 2. 1m

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!
OF ALL KINDS.
DRY AND GREEN
At Lowest Possible Prices.
THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.
3rd off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy
Jan. 7. tf

If you are thinking of
BUYING A HOUSE
OR A
LOT OF LAND,
Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.
WALTER E. BURKE.
Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

FULL STOCK
—OF—
HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,
—AT—
Brooks' Market,
Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 25. tf

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
Employment Office
At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm
Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.
Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of

ALBERT S. HAVEN,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, two certain instruments purporting to be the last will and testament and one codicil of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by C. Fred Haven of Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline, in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-seventh day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court this eleventh day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

3t--12-29-26

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Chapter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D.,
Inspector of Milk.

April 15. 30t

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the will of

BESSIE LOUISE HARLOW born Pratt,

late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to (Address) JAMES F. HARLOW, Executor.

Quincy, Mass.

May 11, 1903. 12-3t--12-19-26

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

Silk Waists.

23

Peau De Soie, Taffeta and Crepe De Chene Waists, in Pink, Light Blue, Old Rose, Black, White, Rosida and Pearl Grey.

PRICES:

$2 98 to $5.98.

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

ERIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.
Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass
May7. 1m

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.
Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

SPILLER'S GOLDEN COUGH BALSAM
THE KIND THAT CURES
Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Inflammation of the Lungs, Lagrippe and Whooping Cough. It soothes the Cough of Consumption, and is excellent for all Lung Troubles. Try it. For sale by Weeks & Hill, Quincy, Mass. Price 25 cents.
If goods fail to give satisfaction, money refunded.

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, PRES.
April 9-2m 11-2m

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	63	46	50	61	55
Monday,	76	58	58	68	61
Tuesday,	74	64	65	67	62
Wednesday,	—	54	70	60	76
Thursday,	—	64	66	73	64
Friday,	—	64	58	69	90
Saturday,	—	64	75	68	65

New Advertisements Today.

Probate Notice.
Mock Trial—"Who Stole the Rooster?"
New Stores to let.
Wanted—Position on gentleman's place.
Executor's Notice.

Good Afternoon

There seems to be a generally mistaken idea that the World's Fair at St. Louis is now open. Such is not the case. April 30 was the centennial of the Louisiana Purchase, and it was originally intended to open the fair on that date. Instead of this, the fair was formally dedicated on that date, but will not be opened until May 1, 1904. At present about 7,000 men are at work on buildings and grounds rushing them to completion, and it would seem that the whole year will be needed to complete them. The St. Louis fair is intended to surpass Chicago, and everybody will want to go.

The promptness with which the Daily Ledger has given the news in many cases evidently has given some people the idea that job printing requires practically no time. In many cases orders can be executed on the day they are received, but others require a week and some more than a week, where there are several pages. Good work requires time, and it is not wise to crowd the printer.

Ward Two Active.

Most of the city departments seem to be busy at Quincy Point. The Assessors have been the rounds. The Sewer department is laying laterals on Washington street to enter the main sewer at Washington court. The Water department is connecting the two water mains on Washington street, but in each case is inserting a gate. At least six new hydrants will also be put in at street corners. The highway department is resurfacing and building Washington street from Elm street to the State road and Chubbuck street, and has reached Mill street. Then the Department of Public Works is overseeing the construction of the new ten-room Washington school-house, which is being rushed along. The City Engineer, inspector of the Board of Health, inspector of Plumbing, and other officials are frequently at Quincy Point, and there is activity in building.

Up-to-Date Mock Trial.

Who stole the rooster? is the momentous question that will be decided Wednesday evening in the vestry of the Water street Presbyterian church at a mock trial to be given under the auspices of the Sunday school. The presiding justice will be Dr. Hershey of Boston. The lawyers also who will argue pro and con come from Boston. The witnesses belong in Quincy as well as the eleven good men and true who are to weigh the evidence, and well and truly try the issue. Among the jurymen are many whose names do not appear in the city directory, such as Grover Cleveland, Thomas Platt, Mark Hanna and John Mitchell. The proceedings will abound in local hits and raps at recent political events in Quincy.

The Seven Master.

Rumor had it in New York, Monday, says the Globe, that the seven-master Thomas W. Lawson, belonging to a stock company, with Capt. John G. Crowley of Taunton, Mass., as the managing owner, will be converted into a coal barge. Capt. Crowley was seen concerning the rumor, and said: "That is not true, and I wish you would contradict it in the strongest possible language."

—William F. Merrill, first vice president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, has resigned.

SOMETHING WRONG.

May Be the Boxes and Not the Police Officer However

Officer William H. Lyons, who covers the Atlantic beat was suspended at roll call Monday night for failure to pull his boxes. It is probable, however, that he will be reinstated, as it has been discovered that something was wrong with the boxes.

It appears that Sunday night boxes 231 and 232 did not come in on the police station register, and later when Officer Lyons pulled another box he was asked about them and replied that he pulled them all right.

Inspector McKay and Night Officer Barry then drove down and tried the boxes, and they worked all right. Monday morning Chief Hayden and Electrician Gavin tried the boxes, and they worked all right.

Box 214 which should also be pulled by the officer every hour was not recorded but twice during the night. The result was that the officer was suspended.

Monday night Officer Curtin was put on duty on this route and it was soon discovered that Boxes 231 and 232 would not work. Chief Hayden was notified and he personally visited the boxes during the night but could not make them work. This morning the chief and electrician again tried the boxes but they would not work.

Officer Lyons claims that he had witnesses with him when he tried to pull the two boxes in question on Sunday night, and in view of the fact that there is something wrong with them it is probable that Officer Lyons will be reinstated.

Kennel Show Prizes.

The Ladies' Kennel Association has voted to offer eight special prizes which will be competed for at the open air show the New England kennel club will hold in Braintree June 5 and 6. The prizes offered are a sterling silver medal each for the best Scottish terrier dog and bitch owned and shown by a member of the New England kennel club, a sterling silver trophy for the best bloodhound owned and shown by a member of the Ladies' Kennel Association of Massachusetts, a sterling silver trophy for the best pointer under the same conditions.

Also a sterling silver trophy for the best cocker spaniel, any solid color owned and shown by a member of the L. K. A. of M.; a sterling silver trophy for the best Boston female terrier, offered by Mrs. F. H. Speed, conditions to be made known later; a sterling trophy for the best English toy spaniel, black and tan, to be owned and shown by a member of the L. K. A. of M., offered by Mrs. E. H. Seagrave; a sterling trophy for the best female cocker spaniel owned and shown by a member of the L. K. A. of M., offered by Miss Fanny Brooks.

The officers' puppy bowl will also be competed for as a challenge trophy. The conditions are that it is to be won five times before it becomes the property of the winner.

Surprise Party.

A surprise party was tenderred to Master Alexander Thompson, at his home 47 Main street, Friday evening May 8. He was presented by his many friends with a beautiful gold ring and watch charm, the speech being made by James McTiernan. The evening was spent in playing games, dancing and singing together with a tempting spread. Among those present were:

Frederick Berry, George Berry, William Robbie, Frank Tate, Victor Malcolm, James McTiernan, Leo Ford, Richard Williams, George Davy, Cot Williams, Charles Taylor, John Smith, Misses Josephine Grignon, Gertrude Jilbert, Alma LeClair, Eva Hubert, Susie Holloran, Louise Holloran, Mary Dolan, Etta Gerry, Catherine Lycett, Theresa McGrath, Theresa Kelley, Loretta MacDonnell, Esther McDonnell, Lena Moyniham, Jennie Norrie, Mabel Morrie, Catherine Taylor, Nora Eagan, Henry Mahoney, Joe Monahan.

A Big Initiation.

The Grand lodge of the New England Order of Protection tendered a reception to the Supreme officers at Tremont Temple Monday evening. Several lodges contributed candidates and 447 were initiated by the Grand officers. Judge James H. Flint of Weymouth is now at the head of the order, or Supreme warden.

Mention should be made of the excellent condition of the grounds of the Massachusetts Fields school. The lawns are like a carpet of smooth green velvet, owing to the care of the janitor and to the care of the pupils in keeping off the corners, etc.

DIED.

KELLER—In Norfolk Downs, May 11, Mr. Herman A. Keller of 22 Walker street, aged 24 years.

FOTTLER—In Hingham, May 10, Mr. Peter Fottler aged 84 years, 1 month.

VARNEY—In Cohasset, May 11, Mr. David G. Varney, aged 57 years, 10 months.

DIXON—In Neponset, May 12, Mrs. Lydia Jane, wife of Mr. Graham Dixon of 32 Taylor street, aged 62 years, and 8 months.

NORRIE—In Barre, Vt., Mr. John Norrie, formerly of Quincy.

BASE BALL SEASON.

To Be Opened By the West Quincys on Saturday.

The West Quincy ball team will play its first game of the season on Saturday on the Hall place grounds, when they will have for their opponents the Hartford A. A. Game will be called at 3.30 and all lovers of the sport who desire to see a good game should be present. The West Quincys this year will put the strongest team into the field that it has ever had, and with a little financial support there is no reason why there will not be some good games this year. The West Quincy team on Saturday will be as follows: Edward Forbes, c; Reardon late of the Brockton N. E. L. team, p; Birnie 1b; Kiley, 2b; Ring of the Boston Journal team, 3b; Roe, s.s; Tate, Duffy, Logan, fielders.

TO OPEN SEASON.

The Wollaston Yacht Club to Entertain Thursday Evening.

The members of the Wollaston Yacht Club are busy this week getting the float stages in position, and will have everything in readiness on Thurday evening when the season will be opened. Members and friends, including ladies, will be entertained at the clubhouse. Refreshments and dancing are also on the program.

S. B. Wiley, Jr., is commodore this year and F. F. Taylor is chairman of the Entertainment committee, so that a successful yachting and social season is assured.

Robinson Still Lives.

Word was received at the police station Monday night that Daniel Robinson of Intervale street had taken poison with suicidal intent. Officer Boutin went to the house and found the man on a couch. The officer called a physician who gave the man an emetic. The physician then informed the people in the house that the man had not taken poison. The family said they knew nothing about the matter, other than that he had come into the house and remarked that he had taken poison, and they had notified the police.

Wollaston vs. Oakley.

The team which will represent the Wollaston Golf club in its match today with Oakley club at Montclair is composed as follows: R. R. Freeman Bela Pratt, E. C. Tarbell, G. A. Noyes, A. L. White F. J. Robbins, Beals Wright, C. L. Perkins, D. E. Little, C. A. Price, T. E. Jacobs, C. M. Hart, J. F. Morrill, J. W. Parks and L. O. Crane.

John Norrie Dies Suddenly.

A dispatch from Barre, Vt., reports that John Norrie, a stone cutter, died very suddenly Monday afternoon at his rooms at the Otis block as the result of a shock. Mr. Norrie had been ill for several days, but was able to go fishing on Saturday and his physician did not consider him dangerously sick. He came to Barre from Quincy, Mass., eight years ago.

Peculiar To Itself

In what it is and what it does—containing the best blood-purifying, alterative and tonic substances and effecting the most radical and permanent cures of all humors and all eruptions, relieving weak, tired, languid feelings, and building up the whole system—is true only of

Hood's Sarsaparilla

No other medicine acts like it; no other medicine has done so much real, substantial good, no other medicine has restored health and strength at so little cost.

"I was troubled with scrofula and came near losing my eyesight. For four months I could not see to do anything. After taking two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I could see to walk, and when I had taken eight bottles I could see as well as ever." SUSIE A. HAIRSTON, Withers, N. C.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

A Mock Trial,

— ENTITLED —

"Who Stole the Rooster?"

Will be held in the Hall of the First Presbyterian Church, Water Street, on Wednesday Evening.

Boston and Quincy Lawyers will participate.

LOCAL HITS.

Admission, Adults, 20 cts.
Juveniles, 10 cts.

Quincy, May 12. 2t

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Summer is here.

Y. M. C. A. concert tomorrow evening.

Adams Academy vs. Quincy High today.

The warmest May 12 for at least eight years.

Probate court in Quincy tomorrow morning.

Vaudeville tonight at the Wollaston Unitarian vestry.

Miss Gertrude Hall of Newbury avenue is visiting in Cohasset.

Patterson's "Wild Duck" from the Squantum club, is in the water.

About thirty days more of school before the long summer vacation.

Days like these remind one strongly of the "Good Old Summer Time."

Mrs. C. J. Hendrie of Charles street has returned from a trip to New York.

Mrs. Will H. Burrows of Portsmouth, N. H., is the guest of Mrs. Charles W. Garey.

The residence of Capt. T. H. Newcomb of Washington street is being painted.

Harry Burgess of Roslindale has taken up his residence on Lincoln avenue, Wollaston.

Another fine day. Just the kind the gardeners want to see to start their early vegetables along.

Some handsome new window signs have been added to the store of George W. Jones in City Square.

South Quincy will not have a base ball club this summer, unless a new organization is formed.

Miss Isadore Lull of Newport, R. I. was the guest of Mrs. Charles Crane of Prospect avenue, last week.

Mrs. Edward Spear of Washington street, Quincy Point, is seriously ill and threatened with appendicitis.

Albert G. Dolliver has moved from City Square to the house on Saville street recently occupied by Leon Ward.

Among the new boats in the bay from the Wollaston Yacht Club this season, is Henry Nelson's new gasoline launch.

It is reported that 300 new men have been placed on the pay rolls of the Fore River Ship & Engine Company within a week.

The senior and junior societies of Christian Endeavor of Bethany church will hold a union meeting on Sunday evening.

Rev. F. A. Frigulietta, pastor of St. John's Catholic church, continues seriously ill. At times he has been unconscious.

Eight drunks fell into the hands of the police Saturday night and Sunday. Most of them contributed $3 in court Monday morning.

It is probable that work filling in for the large new freight yard between School and Granite streets will be commenced this week.

Mrs. George Sherwin and her sister, Mrs. Harry O. Parker, who have been spending the winter in Southern Pines have returned to Atlantic.

The Baptist Society of Wollaston regret the resignation of Mr. Boyd, the popular tenor, who has accepted a position in the vicinity of Boston.

There will probably be a fine game today at Merrymount park when Q. H. S. plays Adams, for there has always been a great rivalry between the two teams.

Wollaston Park people are waiting impatiently for "Ye Village School" at the Park and Downs church, where Mr. O. B. Plummer will "star" as the "naughty little boy."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Finch and Mr. and Mrs. William Washburn of Arlington street, were the guests Saturday and Sunday of Superintendent and Mrs. Herbert Lull, at Newport, R. I.

Mr. Herman Kellar of Walker street, Atlantic, passed away Monday evening after a short sickness of typhoid fever. He leaves a widow and one child. Mrs. Kellar has the sympathy of her many friends in her loss.

Wollaston bay is beginning to look natural again, now that the warm weather is progressing. The majority of the boats from both the Wollaston and the Squantum clubs are in the water, and many sails were seen in the bay on Sunday.

Going to San Francisco.

C. C. Dodge, one of the government draughtsmen at the Fore River Works, has been transferred to the navy yard at San Francisco, and will leave for his new station sometime this week. Mr. Dodge has made a large number of friends since he has resided in Quincy, who wish him good luck at his new station.

When the Blood is Impure

Everything goes wrong. The digestion is bad. The head aches. The brain is dull. The nerves weaken. And the skin is nearly ruined.

Your doctor knows what medicines will cure these troubles: the medicines that are in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Consult him freely.

"Five years ago I had bunches come out on my head and had a breaking out on my body. I tried different remedies without relief. I then tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Before I had taken half a bottle the bunches and the rash were gone, and I felt like a new man."—M. A. WALL, Bentley Creek, Pa.

$1.00. All druggists. J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

RICHARDS & MACOMBER,

PAINTERS and DECORATORS.

Whitewashing a Specialty. Sign Painting, Graining Kalsomining. Glazing.

Interior and Exterior House Painting. WE EMPLOY SKILLED WORKMEN ONLY

Drop us a postal and we will call at your residence and estimate your work.

Office and Shop, 31 SAVILLE ST.,
Bates' Block, Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, April 11. Sat., Tues., Thur. 6w

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.

60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN.
PHARMACIST,
1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7. tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

FREDERICK H. LORD,
TEACHER OF BANJO,
Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.
TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.
118 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 7. tf

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

...e digestion is
...in is dull. The
...s nearly ruined.
...medicines will
...ines that are in
...him freely.

...head and had a breaking
...ut relief. I then tried
...le the bunches and the ...WALL, Bentley Creek, Pa.

...YER CO., Lowell, Mass.

...ACOMBER,
...RATORS.
... Painting, Grain-
...azing.
...LOY SKILLED WORKMEN ONL
... and estimate your work.
...AVILLE ST.,
..., Mass.
Sat., Tues. Thur. 6w

...hat your night's

...D IRON.
...ottle.

...HEARN.
...r,
Quincy.

...RICK H. LORD,
...HER OF BANJO,
..., Guitar and Violin.
HARPS AND ZITHERS.
...3 Washington Street.
...7. tf

Outs of Overcoats.

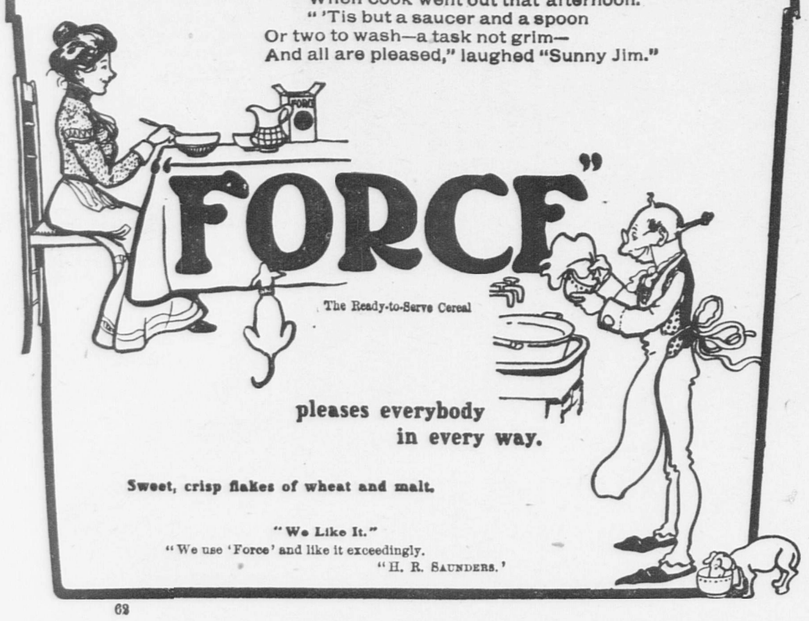

...E WINTER COAT INTO
...G WEIGHT
...ready the tendency these sunny
... We have a great variety of ...a suitable for Spring Overcoats
...ixtures, coverts, etc., which we ...make to your satisfaction. .....
...CES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

...ORTON, Tailor,
...Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
...from South Station.

...APER—Latest Designs, 3c. up.
...papered $1.75, everything found.
...man, 76 Portland Street, Boston.
...aymarket. Sept.16-1y

Jim Dumps and wife, invariably,
Had "Force" for Sunday evening tea,
When cook went out that afternoon.
"'Tis but a saucer and a spoon
Or two to wash—a task not grim—
And all are pleased," laughed "Sunny Jim."

"FORCE"

The Ready-to-Serve Cereal pleases everybody in every way.

Sweet, crisp flakes of wheat and malt.

"We Like It."
"We use 'Force' and like it exceedingly.
"H. R. SAUNDERS."

69

King Arthur Flour
MAKES THE
BEST BREAD.
SOLD BY
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

30 YEARS
In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.
15 YEARS IN QUINCY.
The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.
NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.
We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.
Plumbing and Heating Co.,
25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.
Telephone Connection.
April 24. 1-tf- p-1w

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1-1y- p-6mos.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. 1p-tf

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pinel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

ASSESSORS' NOTICE.

To the inhabitants of the City of Quincy, and all other persons liable to pay taxes therein:

You are hereby notified to bring in to the Assessors of said City,

On or before JUNE 1st, 1903,

True and Perfect Lists of all the Polls, and Schedules and Estimates of all the Personal Estates and Real Estate for which you are liable to pay taxes.

Persons holding estates in trust, whether for minors or otherwise, are particularly requested to furnish the Assessors with Statements in relation to such estates.

When the estates of persons deceased have been divided, or have changed hands from other causes during the past year, the Executors, Administrators, or other persons interested, are required to give notice of such changes, and in default of such notice will be held to pay the taxes assessed.

Blank forms for "Return of Property for Taxation" can be procured of the Assessors.

The following may serve as a guide to assist in making up Schedules and Statements:

Number of Polls 20 years and upwards; Money at interest; Amount of Money on hand, including deposits in Banks, etc., other than Savings Banks incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth; Railroad, Town, City, State and other Bonds (except those of the United States); Shares and Stocks of Insurance Manufacturing and other incorporated companies chartered or organized under the laws of any State other than Massachusetts; Goods, Wares, Merchandise and other stock in trade, within or without the State; Household Furniture, exceeding $1,000 in value; Horses, Mules, Carriages, Oxen, Cows, other neat Cattle not less than one year old, and Swine and Sheep not less than six months old; Income from Profession, Trade, or Employment exceeding $2,000; Personal Property held in trust or by wife or minor children.

Attention is hereby called to Section 32 of Chapter 12 of the Revised Laws.

"Whoever, with intent to defeat or evade the provisions of law in relation to assessment or payment of taxes, delivers or discloses to an assessor or an assistant assessor a false or fraudulent list, return, or schedule of property as and for a true list of his estates, not exempted from taxation, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in jail not exceeding one year."

MORTGAGED PROPERTY.

A mortgagor or mortgagee of real estate may bring in to the assessors of the city or town in which it lies, within the time prescribed by the notice under Sect. 41, a statement under oath of the amount secured thereon or on each separate parcel thereof, with the name and residence of every holder of an interest therein as mortgagor or mortgagee. If such property is situated in two or more places, or if a recorded mortgage includes two or more estates or parts of an estate as security for one sum, such statement shall include an estimate of the interest of the mortgagee in each estate or part of an estate. The assessors shall, from such statement or otherwise, ascertain the proportionate interests of the mortgagor or mortgagee respectively in in said estates, and shall assess the same accordingly. If, in any year, such statement is not brought in, the tax for that year on such real estate shall not be invalid merely for the reason that the interest of the mortgagee therein has not been assessed to him.—Sect. 45, Chap. 12, Revised Laws.

When a statement in conformity to the law above quoted is brought in, the real estate therein returned will be assessed under Sects. 16, 17 and 18 of Chap. 12 of the Revised Laws. But in cases where the mortgagor of the real estate has agreed in writing to pay all taxes assessed thereon, no statement or return is required from either the mortgagee or mortgagor unless requested by the assessors in writing.

The Assessors will be in session at their office every MONDAY and THURSDAY morning from 9 to 11 o'clock. Blanks will be furnished to all applicants.

JAMES THOMPSON, Chairman,
CHARLES H. JOHNSON,
WILLIAM B. GLOVER,
Assessors of Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, May 2, 1903. p-4w--1-st--2t a w

Thousands of children, made sickly and wretched by worms, have been restored to health and happiness by a few doses of
TRUE'S PIN WORM ELIXIR
Pure, vegetable, harmless tonic and specific for stomach and bowel disorders. 35 cents at druggists. Booklet free.
Dr. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me.

PROMPT ARREST.

But Complainant Concludes Not to Prosecute.

Albert Lester walked into the telephone office Monday afternoon and asked them to telephone the police that three men had robbed him in City Square of a bundle containing a clock. He said that he stood in the square with the clock under his arm when the three men took his clock and boarded a car for Neponset. Officer Hanson telephoned Station 11, Boston, and when the car arrived at Neponset the three men fell into the arms of the Boston police who held them until the patrol wagon from Quincy came after them.

The men gave their names as Patrick Graham, Thomas Killen and William Connor.

When the cases were called in court this morning Lester said he had known the three men for a long time and he was sorry he had them arrested, and that he did not desire to appear against them. Connons, the man who took the clock, was allowed to enter a plea of nolo contendere, and was fined $2.60, and the other two men were discharged.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Frank Pennell, chief of police of Quebec, died on a train between Toledo and St. Louis while on his way to New Orleans to attend the convention of chiefs of police.

Dredging operations have been commenced in Providence harbor on which the government will ultimately spend $700,000.

Citizens of Washington county, Me., voted not to sell the $500,000 preferred stock of the Washington County railroad held by the county.

Fire started in one of the buildings of the Glenwood print works at Medford, Mass., and a moment later the 75-foot water tank was seen to be ablaze. By quick work the flames in both places were put out before great damage had been done.

The summer residence at Smith Ridge, Conn., of William E. Bradley of New York was destroyed by fire of mysterious origin. The loss is about $10,000.

Held For Alleged Assault

Brattleboro, Vt., May 12.—Frank Larrow, a liquor salesman, was held for the September term of the county court on a charge of assault with intent to kill upon his wife at Guilford. Judge Tyler ordered him to furnish bail in the sum of $3000.

Objection to Labor Union

St. Johnsville, N. Y., May 12.—The Roth & Englehart Piano Action works have a notice posted on the door that the works are closed indefinitely, owing to inability to secure help and because of outside interference in the control of the business. The operatives formed a union Saturday night and this precipitated a lockout.

Railroad Sued For a Million

Louisville, May 12.—Suit for $1,000,000 taxes against the Southern Pacific Railroad company was filed in the Jefferson county court here by W. L. Weller, Jr., revenue agent for the state of Kentucky. The petition alleges that that corporation has not paid taxes in five years and that $1,000,000 is now due the state.

Thirteen Thousand Starving

Hong Kong, May 12.—Acute distress prevails in the Nanning and Tsun Fa districts of Kwang Si province. It is estimated that 13,000 persons are starving. The people of Hong Kong are sending relief.

TODAY'S COURT.

Olef Rasmuen was fined $3 for drunkenness at Quincy.

Patrick Graham Thomas Killen and William Connor were arraigned for larceny. Connor was fined $2.60 and the others were discharged.

CHARGES OF TEACHERS

Against a Schoolmaster Are Revived at Lynn

HEARING WAS REFUSED

Complaints Considered of Such a Character to Be Subject to Court of Law, to Which Offended Women Say They Will Resort

Lynn, Mass., May 12.—To the school committee last night were presented charges by Miss Annie M. Dame, a teacher, through her attorney, E. B. O'Brien, against Fred T. Batchelder, a master, alleging improper language; that certain acts of his were not indicative of moral and upright conduct, and other specifications and asking for an investigation and hearing. The committee unanimously declined to grant the request.

Similar action, only by a vote of 8 to 3, was taken on charges by another teacher, Miss Carrie M. Corson, against Batchelder, she alleging that he had defamed her, had prejudiced the committee against her by false statements, and exhibiting a statement in which she asserted that forgery had been committed. Miss Corson's complaint recently was considered by the committee on teachers, several of the hearings being in private, especially on the charges against Batchelder's character, and the forgery charge in open session, but no report was made.

Last night the committee on teachers, in reporting the list of teachers for renomination, omitted the names of Miss Dame and Miss Corson, and this is taken to be the full committee's attitude toward both teachers, dropping both. In Miss Dame's case the school committee, in declining to grant a hearing on the charges, decided that they were of such a character as to be subject rather to a court of law than to the school committee.

The charges against Batchelder, when previously heard, created no little stir in the city. Miss Dame was formerly in the Ingalls school and then she was transferred to another school, and she accuses Batchelder of being instrumental in this. She has offered to name teachers alleged to be involved, dates and places of alleged occurrences to support her charges. She was instrumental in bringing about the previous hearing into affairs at the Ingalls school. She declares her intention to carry the matter into court.

Miss Corson is a teacher in the Ingalls school and she was represented by W. H. Niles. In the previous inquiry she claimed a statement, in which she purported to retract certain statements alleged to have been made by her reflecting on alleged acts of Batchelder, was a forgery, in that while the attached signature was hers it had not been made there by her; that she had not previously seen the statement to which her signature was attached. She asserted that Batchelder took one of her examination cards and from it got her signature.

Two other teachers, Miss Bancroft and Mrs. Johnson, stated in the hearing that they saw Miss Corson sign the retraction. This retraction referred to certain statements about Batchelder which, it was asserted, Miss Corson had made to her friends.

The committee on teachers have reported the names of Batchelder, Miss Bancroft and Mrs. Johnson for reelection. According to the rules the list of teachers lays over until the next meeting without action. Miss Corson says that she intends to take her charges into court.

Rock Island Gets 'Frisco System

Des Moines, May 12.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Rock Island and Pacific Railway company the deal made by J. P. Morgan & Co. for the sale to the Rock Island of the St. Louis and San Francisco railway was approved and the capital stock of the Rock Island increased $20,000,000. The contract calls for the turning over of the entire 'Frisco system to the Rock Island officials.

Receiver For Jewelry Merchant

New York, May 12.—Four creditors whose claims aggregate $29,271 have filed an involuntary petition in bankruptcy against David Marks, a wholesale diamond and jewelry merchant of Maiden Lane. They allege that Marks has fraudulently disposed of a large amount of property. Marks' liabilities are estimated at $140,000. A temporary receiver was appointed.

Held on Smuggling Charge

Detroit, May 12.—Professor Albert Schmidt and Miss Sara Crawford of Toronto, who were arrested here for alleged smuggling, were held for trial by Commissioner Davidson. They were charged with smuggling several thousand dollars' worth of diamonds and gold novelties into the United States.

On the Diamond

At New York—National—New York, 9; Brooklyn, 1.
At Pittsburg—National—Cincinnati, 3; Pittsburg, 1.
At Cleveland—American—Cleveland, 6; Boston, 5.
At Chicago—American—Philadelphia, 4; Chicago, 2.
At Detroit—American—New York, 8; Detroit, 2.
At St. Louis—American—St. Louis, 2; Washington, 0.
At Lowell—Lowell, 7; Concord, 6.
At Brockton—Haverhill, 7; Brockton, 1.
At Lawrence—Lawrence, 4; Fall River, 2.

THE OLD RELIABLE
ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

Keeping Fine Points Secret

Gourock, Scotland, May 12.—The Shamrock III's windward work yesterday was little short of marvelous, and even more so was the manner in which she carried way while going about. She stayed on the weather bow of the old boat and practically kept pace with her opponent with light winds and through smooth water. Mr. Fife persistently avoids a formal racing trial. It is believed that he is not willing to give an opportunity of showing all that the Shamrock III is capable of between marks.

Sectionalism Buried

Richmond, May 12.—A check was received last night from ex-President Cleveland for the benefit of the fund for the erection of a monument to General Stuart, the Confederate cavalry leader. Accompanying the check is a letter, in which the ex-president says that the country is now again one and that all sections can join heartily and conscientiously in honoring the memory of an American hero, no matter whether he belonged to the north or the south, the east or the west.

Latest Story of Dreyfus Case

Paris, May 12.—La Patrie says that Minister of War Andre intends to take advantage of the diversions caused by the dispersion of the congregations and the visit of King Edward and take the unexpected step of referring the Dreyfus case to the court of cassation, thus preventing the chamber of deputies from interfering. In the event of the court acquitting Dreyfus he would be restored to the army, promoted and given a staff appointment.

Great Northern Trainmen's Vote

St. Paul, May 12.—The vote of the trainmen on the differences with the Great Northern was last evening given out, the vote standing 1199 in favor of the position of the committee to 15 in support of the company. The grand officers and the committee of Great Northern trainmen has sent an ultimatum to General Manager Ward, saying that they could not accept his proposition, but would have to maintain their original position.

Subjects For Prison Hospital

Ossining, N. Y., May 12.—"Al" Adams, the ex-policy king, now serving a sentence in Sing Sing prison, is to be removed to the state hospital at Dannemora, where all prisoners who are seriously sick are sent. Miller, of 520 percent syndicate fame, who is suffering from consumption in Sing Sing prison hospital, will also be removed to the state hospital as soon as he can stand the journey. He is confined to his bed most of the time.

Sultan Shows Sign of Humanity

Washington, May 12.—Minister to Turkey Leishman reports to the state department from Pera that the sultan has given special orders to facilitate the departure of families of naturalized American citizens of Ottoman origin who desire to rejoin their husbands and fathers in America, 27 separate families having already started. Other families are expected to follow within the next few weeks.

Judge Removed From Bench

Richmond, May 12.—Final action in the case of Judge Clarence J. Campbell, who horsewhipped Rev. Dr. Crawford, at the time head of the state anti-liquor league, has been taken, so far as the general assembly is concerned, the house of delegates agreeing to the senate amendments to the resolution removing the judge from the bench.

Treaty Revision Blocked

Shanghai, May 12.—The Chinese treaty revision commission have received from the Chinese foreign office instructions to decline further discussion with the American commissioners on article 12 of the proposed new treaty, which refers to the opening of points in Manchuria to foreign trade.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Wednesday, May 13.
Sun rises—4:26; sets—6:56.
Moon rises—8:55 p. m.
High water—12:15 a. m.; 12:45 p. m.

The pressure continues high along the northeastern coast and generally along the northern boundary. The temperature changes have been unimportant. The weather will be fair in New England.

Beautiful moonlight evenings.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

DRESS HINTS.

Cornmeal wet in benzine and rubbed over gloves while on the hands is recommended as a perfect method of cleaning.

If cotton blouses are slightly damped and pressed with a warm iron after being worn, they will remain fresh a much longer time.

Before throwing aside a garment remove the buttons or hooks and eyes. Sometimes the want of one of these trifles is very great, particularly if one is far from the shops.

Do not wear a hat or bonnet out of proportion to the head, no matter what the prevailing mode may be. The long, full face surmounted with a tiny hat or bonnet is ludicrous.

The clothes that a girl has no opportunity to wear except on Sunday should be the best she can afford in quality, style and fitness, but never so gay as to attract any one's attention.

No matter how limited the wardrobe space may be, a hatbox for every hat should be the rule. The head covering necessarily gets very hard wear and needs exceptional care because of the perishable quality of the materials usually employed.

For Tired People.

In my book of choice records I have the following simple and available recipe, a medicinal bath for the nervously worn and those who cannot sleep of nights. It was the prescription of an old physician, wise in his day and generation. It is not claimed as a cure all, but some degree of relief I believe is in store for those who give it a faithful trial:

Take of sea salt four ounces, spirits of ammonia two ounces, spirits of camphor two ounces, of pure alcohol eight ounces and sufficient hot water to make a full quart of the liquid. Dissolve the sea salt in the hot water and let stand until cool. Pour into the alcohol the spirits of ammonia and camphor. Add the salt water, shake well and bottle for use. With a soft sponge dipped in this mixture wet over the surface of the whole body. Rub vigorously until the skin glows.

When nervous or "blue" or wakeful, do not omit this bath. The rest and refreshing that follow will amply repay the effort required to prepare it.—Household.

Using Gasoline.

"After I have washed my white gloves and ribbons in gasoline," says a writer in the Woman's Home Companion, "I do not throw it out, but pour it into a quart fruit jar, then screw the cover down tight. It is then ready for numberless other uses, such as dampening a cloth with it and wiping off my gasoline stove and my teakettle. It removes the grease and dust better than soap and water. When there are no fires in the house, I slightly dampen a cloth with gasoline and wipe over my carpets and the zinc under the stoves. Its most practical use, however, is in the bathroom and lavatory. The spatter marks of hard water are difficult to get off without a liberal use of hot water, lye, soap and labor. I have found that the white porcelain surface of bath tub and lavatory can be polished to spotless condition with almost no labor if a cloth dipped in gasoline is used. It would answer as well with a zinc bath tub, I know, for it polishes zinc beautifully."

The Woman Who Drifts.

The woman who drifts—that is, tires quickly of this place or that and is quick to make changes—is rarely either a happy or prosperous creature. Self guidance is not always the best, for unless it be steered by a higher power it is very apt to make the voyage of life a hazardous one. Constantly drifting in new directions, without any definite or serious aim, is giving a life without any purpose to ennoble it or any usefulness to make it worth living. Stay where you are until you are sure that you can better yourself by making a change and learn to make the most of the opportunities that lie within your reach if you would be successful. An old proverb says, "Changes are lightsome, and fools are fond of them." Patient, well directed efforts must lead to strength and light and reward the ambition from which they sprung.

Injuries to Children's Heads.

A child sometimes falls on its head and becomes unconscious. Generally it soon comes around and is itself again, but in any case the child must be put to bed and kept there quietly till the next day. If its feet are cold, fill a bottle with hot water, wrap it in flannel and apply it to the extremities. Wet rags should be applied to the head and changed frequently. An excellent way of cooling the forehead is to apply a little eau de cologne or methylated spirit and then to fan the forehead briskly. This causes the spirit to evaporate and leaves the forehead as cold as if ice had been applied. As head injuries are dangerous, especially to children, whose bones are very soft, it is always best to send for a doctor in any case.

Flatiron Pincushion.

One of the latest of kitchen utensils to take its place on the dressing table is the flatiron, which has been converted into a thing of ornament as well as use. Its use in the bedroom is that of a pincushion, and it is stood face outward in the position in which good housewives put away this kitchen bric-a-brac. Of course it is only a flatiron in shape, for it is made of stout cardboard cut the shape of a small flatiron face. This is padded with cotton and covered smoothly with satin. A handle of heavy wire is added and wound with narrow ribbon, which is tied in bows where the handle joins the cushion part.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - 50 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—A light running open Corning Box Buggy, cheap, in fine condition; also a rubber tired Goddard, in good repair; can be seen at 19 Pine street, Wollaston. Address E. F. WHITE, Wollaston, Mass. May 11-13t

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office. April 28. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street. Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE.—Yawl BRANT, 28.6 o. a., 9-0 beam, 3-0 draught, with centre board up; built by Leloise in 1898. This boat is well known along the coast as a safe and handy cruiser, is easily handled, and is in perfect condition, well found in everything needed for comfort and safety. Now at her moorings off the Wollaston Yacht Club house and ready for sea. J. A. FENNO, 538 Hancock street. Wollaston, May 4. tf

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve (12) rooms, with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

TO LET.

TO LET—A Pleasant, Sunny Room centrally located. References required Address B., Ledger Office. May 11. 3t

TO LET—A very large Front Room. Also two rooms connected. Another medium size room. Every room newly renovated. Large new bath room. Prices from $1.75 to $3.00 per week. 48 Revere road. Quincy, May 9. 3t

TO LET—Dining Room, Kitchen and Bed Room for light housekeeping. Also Side Rooms at moderate prices. Barn for $4 per month. Apply Greenleaf street, corner Hancock street. Quincy, May 8-tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet, 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street. Quincy, April 21. tf

WANTED.

WANTED—Position on gentleman's place to take care of horses and grounds. Address REYNOLD ANDERSON, 26 Cranch street. Quincy, May 12 3t

MEN, not under 25 years, to call on old and new customers. No delivering. Position permanent to the right party. Pay weekly. GLEN BROTHERS, Rochester, N. Y. April 23. 6w--thurs. sat. tues.

WANTED—Money on first mortgages. Address Box 185 Quincy Post Office. April 16. eod tf

WANTED—An Experienced Cook, in a family where a second girl is kept. Enquire for "MRS. A. B.," Ledger office. May 11. 6t

WANTED—Young Man to help shipper. HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO. Quincy, May 9. tf

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON. Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

WANTED.

WANTED—Young Men to prepare for Government Positions. Fine Openings in all Departments. Good Salaries. Rapid Promotions. Examinations soon. Particulars Free. Inter-State Cor. Inst., Cedar Rapids, Ia. April 27. 1p-1m

NEW STORES TO LET.

A BUILDING will be erected at once by N. G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information enquire of N. G. NICKERSON. Quincy, May 12-tf

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street. Quincy, April 9. 1p-tf

JOB PRINTING
AT THE PATRIOT OFFICE

Quincy Daily Ledger.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS

and at the following places:

BOSTON—Terminal News Stand after 5.35
QUINCY—Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock St
Atwell's Periodical Store, 1 Granite St
Henry P. Kittredge, City Square
Rogers Bros., Hancock St.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St
C. F. Carlson, near Quincy depot
A. F. Hall, 128 Washington St., near Canal.
QUINCY POINT—Miss Freeman's store
Sprague & Hobart, Washington cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—P. L. Litchfield, Water st.
W. E. Nightingale 80 Water street.
O. D. Chick, 59 Liberty St.
WEST QUINCY—Coram's Periodical Store.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's news stand.
WOLLASTON PARK—C. E. Hosmer, cor. Hancock and Beach streets.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branscheid & Marten.
ATLANTIC—Branscheid & Marten.
HOUGHS NECK—Arthur Dunham at P. O.
EAST MILTON—William Clark.
EAST WEYMOUTH—George H. Hunt.
WEYMOUTH—J. R. Walsh.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—B. F. Thomas.

1903			MAY			1903
Su.	Mo.	Tu.	We.	Th.	Fr.	Sa.
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24 31	25	26	27	28	29	30

MOON'S PHASES.

First Quarter 4 2:26 a.m. | Third Quarter 19 10:18 a.m.
Full Moon 11 8:18 a.m. | New Moon 26 5:44 p.m.

A POSTPONEMENT

Of Raising of Cattle Quarantine In Massachusetts and New Hampshire

Washington, May 12.—The state department has notified the department of agriculture that the foot and mouth disease has again broken out in the Argentine republic and that Argentine has prohibited the exportation of animals from that country. Secretary Wilson views the outbreak with great concern and says that if the disease once gets a foothold on the open ranges in Argentina the results inevitably must be serious to the livestock industry there.

A part of the fight against the epidemic in New England has been made with a view of keeping the disease from spreading into the west, where the greatest danger would exist. Secretary Wilson has received word of a fresh outbreak of the disease in a herd located at Framingham, Mass. It was believed by the department officials that the epidemic had been wiped out in New England. Secretary Wilson says that he had contemplated lifting the quarantine altogether from New England in a fortnight, but that action must now be postponed indefinitely. The quarantine has been lifted from all the states originally involved except Massachusetts and New Hampshire, and it is impossible to foretell, particularly in view of the approaching warm weather, when the restrictive measures against those states can be removed.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

On and after Oct. 19, 1902, trains will run as follows:

[Subject to change without notice.]

TO BOSTON. Leave Quincy.	Stops at	Arrive Boston.	FROM BOSTON. Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r *5 19	abcdefghi	5 47	*5 50	ihgfedcba	6 19 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 48 r
r 7 26	ad	7 45	8 28	cba	8 49
r 7 42	abc	8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 7 54	abcde	8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 8 13	a	8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
r 8 26	abd	8 45	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 8 46	abc	9 06	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	12 58	cba	1 19
r 9 42	abc	10 02	1 28	cba	1 49 r
r 10 12	abc	10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
r 10 42	abc	11 02	2 28	cba	2 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
r 12 12	abc	12 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
r 1 42	abc	2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 2 12	abc	2 32	4 50	edcba	5 16 r
r 3 12	abc	3 32	5 15	cba	5 [illegible] r
r 3 42	abc	4 02	5 28	a	5 45
r 4 12	abc	4 32	5 45	edcba	6 08 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 58	cba	6 [illegible] r
r 5 29	abcdefghi	5 57	6 15	da	6 36 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 39	abcdefghi	8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 28	fedcba	10 [illegible] r
r 9 34	abcdefghi	10 02	10 50	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
r 10 08	abcdef	10 32	11 28	cba	11 [illegible] r
r 11 12	abc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

r 7 42	abc	8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 8 42	abc	9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 45 r
9 33	a	9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 45 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 45 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 28	cba	5 45 r
r 6 03	abcdefghi	6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	8 43	(ex)	9 00
r 10 18	abcdef	10 42	10 28	fedcba	10 53

* The letters in the same line as the figure stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a. Wollaston, b, Norfolk Downs, c, Atlantic, d, Neponset, e, Pope's Hill, f, Harrison Square, g, Savin Hill, h, Crescent Avenue, i, South Boston, r, Quincy Adams.

When Knighthood Was In Flower

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By Edwin Caskoden [Charles Major]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

This story began in the Daily Ledger of Monday, March 16, and will be continued daily until completed.

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I and II.—Charles Brandon kills a duelist on the field of honor and is appointed captain of the king's guard at the English court The king"s sister, Mary Tudor, quickly sets her fancy upon the gallant stranger. Brandon makes a confidant of Edwin Caskoden, master of the dance. III.—Caskoden is attentive to Lady Jane Bolingbroke, companion to the princess. In a fit of petulance Mary rebukes Brandon, then craves forgiveness. IV—Brandon teaches Mary a new dance learned in France. The young princess is shocked at first, then delighted with the sensation of Brandon's arm around her waist. Brandon declares that the girl is perfect, but the game of making love to royalty is dangerous. V.—Brandon crosses swords with the Duke of Buckingham, an unwelcome admirer of the princess. VI.—Mary, Lady Jane, Brandon and Caskoden ride to Windsor with the king. Mary shows decided partiality for Brandon's company, and on the return he is sent a day ahead of the royal party. VII—Louis XII of France asks for the hand of Mary. Brandon to sail for America to avoid Mary. She takes him to task for his indifference. Overcome by her pleadings, he makes a violent demonstration of his love. VIII.—Mary and Lady Jane go in disguise to consult a fortune teller. Brandon follows unknown to Mary. Buckingham plays the spy, and in a fight with Brandon he is wounded and two of his suit killed. IX—Brandon in prison charged with murder. Mary to plead with the King. Buckingham against the prisoner. The king discovers a note sent by Mary to Brandon. Brandon condemned to death. The king learns that Brandon saved Mary from disgrace and orders his release. Brandon now madly in love with Mary. XI—Ambassadors of the French king come to England to court Mary for their aged sovereign The girl spurns them in a highly dramatic scene The betrothal made by King Henry. Mary kept in ignorance of Brandon's imprisonment. She supposed he had sailed for America. XII—Mary explains to Brandon her neglect when he lay in prison. Bitter words followed by betrothal. Brandon dismissed from court. XIII.—Mary flatly refuses to wed the old French king. Brandon accuses Buckingham of having attempted to abduct Mary. King Henry angry with Brandon. XIV and XV—The kings learns of love trysts between Mary and Brandon. Brandon's life in danger. He secures passage to America Mary insists upon going along in man's disguise. XVII.—Mary escapes from her chaperons during a hunt and rides to meet Brandon. Caskoden still wooing Lady Jane.

CHAPTER XVII—[Continued.]

Brandon saw only too plainly the truth that he had really seen all the time, but to which he had shut his eyes, and, throwing Mary's cloak over her shoulders, prepared to go ashore. As they went over the side and pulled off a great shout went up from the ship far more derisive than cheering, and the men at the oars looked at each other askance and smiled. What a predicament for a princess! Brandon cursed himself for having been such a knave and fool as to allow this to happen. He had known the danger all the time, and his act could not be chargeable to ignorance or a failure to see the probable consequences. Temptation and selfish desire had given him temerity in place of judgment.

When the princess stepped ashore, it seemed to her as if the heart in her breast was a different and separate organ from the one she had carried aboard.

As the boat put off again for the ship its crew gave a cheer coupled with some vile advice, for which Brandon would gladly have run them through, each and every one. He had to swallow his chagrin and anger and really blamed no one but himself, though it was torture to him that this girl should be subjected to such insults and he powerless to avenge them. The news had spread from the wharf like wildfire, and on their way back to the Bow and String there came from small boys and hidden voices such exclamations as: "Look at the woman in man's clothing!" "Isn't he a beautiful man?" "Look at him blush!" and others too coarse to be repeated. Imagine the humiliating situation, from which there was no escape.

At last they reached the inn, whither their chests soon followed them, sent by Bradhurst, together with their passage money, which he very honestly refunded.

Mary soon donned her woman's attire, of which she had a supply in her chest, and at least felt more comfortable without the jack boots. She had made her toilet alone for the first time in her life, having no maid to help her, and wept as she dressed, for this disappointment was like plucking the very heart out of her. Her hope had been so high that the fall was all the harder. Nay, even more; hope had become fruition to her when they were once a-shipboard, and failure right at the door of success made it doubly hard to bear. It crushed her, and where before had been hope and confidence was nothing now but despair. Like all people with a great capacity for elation, when she sank she touched the bottom. Alas, Mary, the unconquerable, was down at last.

This failure meant so much to her. It meant that she would never be Brandon's wife, but would go to France to endure the dreaded old Frenchman. At that thought a recoil came. Her spirit asserted itself, and she stamped her foot and swore upon her soul it should never be—never, never, so long as she had strength to fight or voice to cry "No!" The thought of this marriage and of the loss of Brandon was painful enough, but there came another, entirely new to her and infinitely worse.

He waved his trophy on high.

Hastily arranging her dress she went in search of Brandon, whom she quickly found and took to her room.

After closing the door she said: "I thought I had reached the pinnacle of disappointment and pain when compelled to leave the ship, for it meant that I should lose you and have to marry Louis of France. But I have found that there is still a possible pain more poignant than either, and I cannot bear it; so I come to you—you who are the great cure for all my troubles. Oh, that I could lay them here all my life long," and she put her head upon his breast, forgetting what she had intended to say.

"What is the trouble, Mary?"

"Oh, yes! I thought of that marriage and of losing you, and then, oh, Mary Mother! I thought of some other woman having you to herself. I could see her with you, and I was jealous—I think they call it. I have heard of the pangs of jealousy, and if the fear of a rival is so great what would the reality be? It would kill me; I could not endure it. I cannot endure even this, and I want you to swear that"—

Brandon took her in his arms as she began to weep.

"I will gladly swear by everything I hold sacred that no other woman than you shall ever be my wife. If I cannot have you, be sure you have spoiled every other woman for me. There is but one in all the world—but one. I can at least save you that pain."

She then stood on tiptoes to lift her lips to him and said: "I give you the same promise. How you must have suffered when you thought I was to wed another."

After a pause she went on: "But it might have been worse—that is, it would be worse if you should marry some other woman; but that is all settled now and I feel easier. Then I might have married the old French king, but that, too, is settled, and we can endure the lesser pain. It always helps us when we are able to think it might have been worse."

Brandon might have escaped from England in the Royal Hind, for the wind had come up shortly after they left the ship, and they could see the sails indistinctly through the gloom as she got under way. But he could not leave Mary alone, and had made up his mind to take her back to London and march straight into the jaws of death with her if the king's men did not soon come.

He knew that a debt to folly bears no grace, and was ready with his principal and usance.

[To be Continued.]

Black Powder Too Smoky

Washington, May 12.—Compressed powder will be substituted for black powder in the ignition charges of the guns of the vessels of the north Atlantic squadron which are now repairing at the New York yard. This change is made to avoid the smoke encountered in the use of black powder and will be effected when the ships go into dock.

Women Friendly Toward Friars

Manila, May 12.—A petition, signed exclusively by Filipino women, has been presented to Archbishop Guidi, asking for the retention of the friars. It asserts that their withdrawal will leave hundreds of parishes without spiritual advisers, and charges that a small minority is responsible for the anti-friar movement.

Town Surrounded by Fire

Johnston, Pa., May 12.—The town of Vintondale is threatened with destruction by a forest fire which is raging near there. Fire engines and men have been sent from this city and Altoona. The place is entirely surrounded by timber, nearly all of which is ablaze.

Crushed to Death on Sidewalk

New York, May 12.—Eleanor T. Welles, aged 20, was crushed to death on a sidewalk on Broadway by a heavy case of goods which fell from a wagon as she was passing. The fatality took place in the presence of many pedestrians. The driver was arrested.

Held on Minor Charge

Ottawa, May 12.—John White, who was arrested on suspicion of having caused the great fire here, was brought up in the police court charged with drunkenness. He was remanded for a week. The police do not believe that he started the fire.

THE VEIL OF MYSTERY

Still Shields the Murderer of Miss Sturtevant

PARENTS VISIT SUSPECT

See No Resemblance In Him to Man Who Killed Their Daughter—Clews Run Down by Police In Several Cities Have Vanished In Air

Medford, Mass., May 12.—Tomasso Lombardi, the suspect in the Sturtevant murder case, who has been in the East Cambridge jail since last Thursday, will be discharged from custody, in all probability, when called before the district court at Malden, to which place his hearing was continued when first arraigned. Mr. and Mrs. Sturtevant saw the Italian during a visit to the jail last evening and it is understood that they saw no resemblance in him to the man who shot and killed their daughter last Wednesday night.

What transpired in the jail during the call of the parents is not made public by Chief of Police Holmes. They went and returned in a carriage and have denied themselves to all callers. It is known, however, that later in the day Mr. Sturtevant and Chief Holmes met Officer Whitney of the state police, District Attorney Sanderson of Middlesex county and Chief Inspector Watts of the Boston force, in Boston. It is generally accepted here as a fact that Sturtevant told of his visit to the jail and that the result will be Lombardi's discharge.

These two incidents have been the most striking ones since the commission of the crime. Since Thursday the police of several cities have been running down supposed clews, all of which have vanished in air. Both Chief Holmes and Officer Whitney say that it does not seem to them that they are any nearer a solution of the mystery than on last Thursday.

Chief Holmes was expected to issue an official statement of the case last night, and this was expected to cover the afternoon's incidents, but he changed his mind because things were not in just the shape he had expected. Chief Holmes' attitude just at present suggests a little mystery, although he is outspoken in saying that there are no important developments.

Naval Stations Overcrowded

Washington, May 12.—Overcrowding at naval training stations along the Atlantic coast is causing concern to the navy department. There has been considerable sickness among the men recently, it is feared due to this cause. Cases of diphtheria have occurred at Norfolk and Newport, meningitis at League Island and scarletina at New York. The department has decided to relieve the congestion by quartering the overflow in tents.

The Humberts Held For Trial

Paris, May 12.—Magistrate Leydat has concluded his investigation of the Humbert fraud case and has decided to commit Therese Humbert, her husband, Frederick, and her brother for trial on the charges of forgery, the use of forged documents and swindling. The magistrate dismisses the cases against Eve Humbert, Therese's daughter, and Marie Daurignac, her sister.

—The electric washing machine of Josef Nagy of Szegedin is claimed to cleanse clothes from grease, stains, etc., without soap or rubbing.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

A HINT TO YOUNG WIVES.

To keep your husband at home, ask him to shampoo your hair with

PACKER'S TAR SOAP

He will enjoy it as much as you.

Our Leaflet, "The Value of Systematic Shampooing," mailed free on application to THE PACKER MFG. CO., 81 Fulton St., N. Y.

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder.

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

FLOWERS

AT VERY LOWEST PRICES.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works, Quincy Point.

FUNERAL DESIGNS A SPECIALTY.

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy.

If You Have a House to Let, Advertise It in the Ledger.

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address, H. BIDWELL,

Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. 1p-2mos.

King Arthur Flour.

Sold in Quincy by

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

W. G. CHUBBUCK

Furniture and Piano Mover,

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

1p-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

JAMES F. BURKE,

REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,

MORTGAGES.

Justice of the Peace. Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building,

June 5 tf

FRANK F. CRANE,

REAL ESTATE,

AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER

Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass

Aug. 17.

SMOKE THE

GOVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 179 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

SUMMER GOODS.

Seasonable warm weather goods for inside and outside use. No matter what you want you are sure to find it here at prices that are worthy of your consideration.

EDDY REFRIGERATORS.

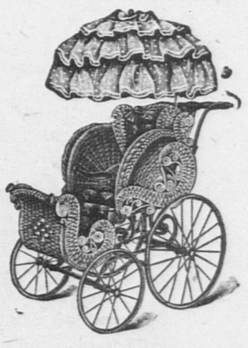

At Factory prices, $5 50 and up. A catalogue for the asking.

BLUE FLAME OIL STOVES, $4.00 to $9.00.

Cost almost nothing to run. No fires, no light, no coal, no wood, no dust, no ashes.

GO CARTS, $3.75 to $25.00.

60 patterns to choose from. The handsomest you have ever seen. If you see an attractive Go Cart on the street, the chances are it came from Kincaide's. Ours have the style.

BICYCLES,

$18.00 to $30.00.

The worthy sort:

IVER JOHNSON.

DAYTON.

CRAWFORD.

LE ROY.

HAMMOCKS, LAWN SWINGS, PIAZZA CHAIRS, ICE CREAM FREEZERS, LAWN HOSE, LAWN MOWERS, SCREEN DOORS, WINDOW SCREENS, CROQUET SETS, SUMMER COTTAGE FURNITURE, MATTINGS, ETC.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

Furniture Store and Annex, Hancock Street, Quincy.

Short Credit Accounts When Desired.

Quincy Daily Ledger.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS

and at the following places:

BOSTON—Terminal News Stand after 7.35
QUINCY—Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock St
Atwell's Periodical Store, 1 Granite St
Henry P. Kittredge, City Square
Rogers Bros., Hancock St.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St
C. F. Carlson, near Quincy depot
A. F. Hall, 128 Washington St., near Canal.
QUINCY POINT—Miss Freeman's store
Sprague & Hobart, Washington cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—P. L. Litchfield, Water st.
W. E. Nightingale 80 Water street.
O. D. Chick, 59 Liberty St.
WEST QUINCY—Coram's Periodical Store.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's news stand.
WOLLASTON PARK—C. E. Hosmer, cor. Hancock and Beach streets.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branscheid & Marten.
ATLANTIC—Branscheid & Marten.
HOUGHS NECK—Arthur Dunham at P. O.
EAST MILTON—William Clark.
EAST WEYMOUTH—George H. Hunt.
WEYMOUTH—J. R. Walsh.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—B. F. Thomas.

1903		MAY				1903
Su.	Mo.	Tu.	We.	Th.	Fr.	Sa.
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24 31	25	26	27	28	29	30

MOON'S PHASES.

First Quarter 4 2:26 a.m.
Full Moon 11 6:15 a.m.
Third Quarter 19 10:18 a.m.
New Moon 26 5:00 p.m.

A POSTPONEMENT

Of Raising of Cattle Quarantine In Massachusetts and New Hampshire

Washington, May 12.—The state department has notified the department of agriculture that the foot and mouth disease has again broken out in the Argentine republic and that Argentine has prohibited the exportation of animals from that country. Secretary Wilson views the outbreak with great concern and says that if the disease once gets a foothold on the open ranges in Argentina the results inevitably must be serious to the livestock industry there.

A part of the fight against the epidemic in New England has been made with a view of keeping the disease from spreading into the west, where the greatest danger would exist. Secretary Wilson has received word of a fresh outbreak of the disease in a herd located at Framingham, Mass. It was believed by the department officials that the epidemic had been wiped out in New England. Secretary Wilson says that he had contemplated lifting the quarantine altogether from New England in a fortnight, but that action must now be postponed indefinitely. The quarantine has been lifted from all the states originally involved except Massachusetts and New Hampshire, and it is impossible to foretell, particularly in view of the approaching warm weather, when the restrictive measures against those states can be removed.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

On and after Oct. 19, 1902, trains will run as follows:

[Subject to change without notice.]

TO BOSTON. Leave Quincy.	Stops at	Arrive Boston.	FROM BOSTON. Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r *5 19	abcdefghi	5 47	*5 50	ihgfedcba	6 19 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 48 r
r 7 26	ad	7 45	8 28	cba	8 49
r 7 42	abc	8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 7 54	abcde	8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 8 13	a	8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
r 8 26	abd	8 45	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 8 46	abc	9 06	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	12 58	cba	1 19
r 9 42	abc	10 02	1 28	cba	1 49 r
r 10 12	abc	10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
r 10 42	abc	11 02	2 28	cba	2 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
r 12 12	abc	12 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
r 1 42	abc	2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 2 12	abc	2 32	4 50	edcba	5 16 r
r 3 12	abc	3 32	5 15	cba	5 [illegible] r
r 3 42	abc	4 02	5 28	a	5 45
r 4 12	abc	4 32	5 45	edcba	6 08 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 58	cba	6 [illegible] r
r 5 29	abcdefghi	5 57	6 15	da	6 38 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 [illegible] r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 [illegible] r
r 7 39	abcdefghi	8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 28	fedcba	10 [illegible] r
r 9 34	abcdefghi	10 02	10 50	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
r 10 08	abcdef	10 32	11 28	cba	11 [illegible] r
r 11 12	abc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

r 7 42	abc	8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 8 42	abc	9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 45 r
9 33	a	9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 45 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 45 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 28	cba	5 45 r
r 6 03	abcdefghi	6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	8 43	(ex.)	9 00
r 10 18	abcdef	10 42	10 28	fedcba	10 53

* The letters in the same line as the figure stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a. Wollaston,
b. Norfolk Downs,
c. Atlantic,
d. Neponset,
e. Pope's Hill.
f. Harrison Square.
g. Savin Hill.
h. Crescent Avenue.
i. South Boston.
r. Quincy Adams.

When Knighthood Was In Flower

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By Edwin Caskoden [Charles Major]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

This story began in the Daily Ledger of Monday, March 16, and will be continued daily until completed.

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I and II.—Charles Brandon kills a duelist on the field of honor and is appointed captain of the king's guard at the English court. The king's sister, Mary Tudor, quickly sets her fancy upon the gallant stranger. Brandon makes a confidant of Edwin Caskoden, master of the dance. III.—Caskoden is attentive to Lady Jane Bolingbroke, companion to the princess. In a fit of petulance Mary rebukes Brandon, then craves forgiveness. IV—Brandon teaches Mary a new dance learned in France. The young princess is shocked at first, then delighted with the sensation of Brandon's arm around her waist. Brandon declares that the girl is perfect, but the game of making love to royalty is dangerous. V.—Brandon crosses swords with the Duke of Buckingham, an unwelcome admirer of the princess. VI—Mary, Lady Jane, Brandon and Caskoden ride to Windsor with the king. Mary shows decided partiality for Brandon's company, and on the return he is sent a day ahead of the royal party. VII—Louis XII of France asks for the hand of Mary. Brandon to sail for America to avoid Mary. She takes him to task for his indifference. Overcome by her pleadings, he makes a violent demonstration of his love. VIII.—Mary and Lady Jane go in disguise to consult a fortune teller. Brandon follows unknown to Mary. Buckingham plays the spy, and in a fight with Brandon he is wounded and two of his suit killed. IX—Brandon in prison charged with murder. Mary to plead with the King. Buckingham against the prisoner. The king discovers a note sent by Mary to Brandon. Brandon condemned to death. The king learns that Brandon saved Mary from disgrace and orders his release. Brandon now madly in love with Mary. XI—Ambassadors of the French king come to England to court Mary for their aged sovereign. The girl spurns them in a highly dramatic scene. The betrothal made by King Henry. Mary kept in ignorance of Brandon's imprisonment. She supposed he had sailed for America. XII—Mary explains to Brandon her neglect when he lay in prison. Bitter words followed by betrothal. Brandon dismissed from court. XIII.—Mary flatly refuses to wed the old French king. Brandon accuses Buckingham of having attempted to abduct Mary. King Henry angry with Brandon. XIV and XV—The kings learns of love trysts between Mary and Brandon. Brandon's life in danger. He secures passage to America. Mary insists upon going along in man's disguise. XVII.—Mary escapes from her chaperons during a hunt and rides to meet Brandon. Caskoden still wooing Lady Jane.

CHAPTER XVII—[Continued.]

Brandon saw only too plainly the truth that he had really seen all the time, but to which he had shut his eyes, and, throwing Mary's cloak over her shoulders, prepared to go ashore. As they went over the side and pulled off a great shout went up from the ship far more derisive than cheering, and the men at the oars looked at each other askance and smiled. What a predicament for a princess! Brandon cursed himself for having been such a knave and fool as to allow this to happen. He had known the danger all the time, and his act could not be chargeable to ignorance or a failure to see the probable consequences. Temptation and selfish desire had given him temerity in place of judgment.

When the princess stepped ashore, it seemed to her as if the heart in her breast was a different and separate organ from the one she had carried aboard.

As the boat put off again for the ship its crew gave a cheer coupled with some vile advice, for which Brandon would gladly have run them through, each and every one. He had to swallow his chagrin and anger and really blamed no one but himself, though it was torture to him that this girl should be subjected to such insults and he powerless to avenge them. The news had spread from the wharf like wildfire, and on their way back to the Bow and String there came from small boys and hidden voices such exclamations as: "Look at the woman in man's clothing!" "Isn't he a beautiful man?" "Look at him blush!" and others too coarse to be repeated. Imagine the humiliating situation, from which there was no escape.

At last they reached the inn, whither their chests soon followed them, sent by Bradhurst, together with their passage money, which he very honestly refunded.

Mary soon donned her woman's attire, of which she had a supply in her chest, and at least felt more comfortable without the jack boots. She had made her toilet alone for the first time in her life, having no maid to help her, and wept as she dressed, for this disappointment was like plucking the very heart out of her. Her hope had been so high that the fall was all the harder. Nay, even more; hope had become fruition to her when they were once a-shipboard, and failure right at the door of success made it doubly hard to bear. It crushed her, and where before had been hope and confidence was nothing now but despair. Like all people with a great capacity for elation, when she sank she touched the bottom. Alas, Mary, the unconquerable, was down at last.

This failure meant so much to her. It meant that she would never be Brandon's wife, but would go to France to endure the dreaded old Frenchman. At that thought a recoil came. Her spirit asserted itself, and she stamped her foot and swore upon her soul it should never be—never, never, so long as she had strength to fight or voice to cry "No!" The thought of this marriage and of the loss of Brandon was painful enough, but there came another, entirely new to her and infinitely worse.

He waved his trophy on high.

Hastily arranging her dress she went in search of Brandon, whom she quickly found and took to her room.

After closing the door she said: "I thought I had reached the pinnacle of disappointment and pain when compelled to leave the ship, for it meant that I should lose you and have to marry Louis of France. But I have found that there is still a possible pain more poignant than either, and I cannot bear it; so I come to you—you who are the great cure for all my troubles. Oh, that I could lay them here all my life long," and she put her head upon his breast, forgetting what she had intended to say.

"What is the trouble, Mary?"

"Oh, yes! I thought of that marriage and of losing you, and then, oh, Mary Mother! I thought of some other woman having you to herself. I could see her with you, and I was jealous—I think they call it. I have heard of the pangs of jealousy, and if the fear of a rival is so great what would the reality be? It would kill me; I could not endure it. I cannot endure even this, and I want you to swear that"—

Brandon took her in his arms as she began to weep.

"I will gladly swear by everything I hold sacred that no other woman than you shall ever be my wife. If I cannot have you, be sure you have spoiled every other woman for me. There is but one in all the world—but one. I can at least save you that pain."

She then stood on tiptoes to lift her lips to him and said: "I give you the same promise. How you must have suffered when you thought I was to wed another."

After a pause she went on: "But it might have been worse—that is, it would be worse if you should marry some other woman; but that is all settled now and I feel easier. Then I might have married the old French king, but that, too, is settled, and we can endure the lesser pain. It always helps us when we are able to think it might have been worse."

Brandon might have escaped from England in the Royal Hind, for the wind had come up shortly after they left the ship, and they could see the sails indistinctly through the gloom as she got under way. But he could not leave Mary alone, and had made up his mind to take her back to London and march straight into the jaws of death with her if the king's men did not soon come.

He knew that a debt to folly bears no grace, and was ready with his principal and usance.

[To be Continued.]

Black Powder Too Smoky

Washington, May 12.—Compressed powder will be substituted for black powder in the ignition charges of the guns of the vessels of the north Atlantic squadron which are now repairing at the New York yard. This change is made to avoid the smoke encountered in the use of black powder and will be effected when the ships go into dock.

Women Friendly Toward Friars

Manila, May 12.—A petition, signed exclusively by Filipino women, has been presented to Archbishop Guidi, asking for the retention of the friars. It asserts that their withdrawal will leave hundreds of parishes without spiritual advisers, and charges that a small minority is responsible for the anti-friar movement.

Town Surrounded by Fire

Johnston, Pa., May 12.—The town of Vintondale is threatened with destruction by a forest fire which is raging near there. Fire engines and men have been sent from this city and Altoona. The place is entirely surrounded by timber, nearly all of which is ablaze.

Crushed to Death on Sidewalk

New York, May 12.—Eleanor T. Welles, aged 20, was crushed to death on a sidewalk on Broadway by a heavy case of goods which fell from a wagon as she was passing. The fatality took place in the presence of many pedestrians. The driver was arrested.

Held on Minor Charge

Ottawa, May 12.—John White, who was arrested on suspicion of having caused the great fire here, was brought up in the police court charged with drunkenness. He was remanded for a week. The police do not believe that he started the fire.

THE VEIL OF MYSTERY

Still Shields the Murderer of Miss Sturtevant

PARENTS VISIT SUSPECT

See No Resemblance In Him to Man Who Killed Their Daughter—Clews Run Down by Police In Several Cities Have Vanished In Air

Medford, Mass., May 12.—Tomasso Lombardi, the suspect in the Sturtevant murder case, who has been in the East Cambridge jail since last Thursday, will be discharged from custody, in all probability, when called before the district court at Malden, to which place his hearing was continued when first arraigned. Mr. and Mrs. Sturtevant saw the Italian during a visit to the jail last evening and it is understood that they saw no resemblance in him to the man who shot and killed their daughter last Wednesday night.

What transpired in the jail during the call of the parents is not made public by Chief of Police Holmes. They went and returned in a carriage and have denied themselves to all callers. It is known, however, that later in the day Mr. Sturtevant and Chief Holmes met Officer Whitney of the state police, District Attorney Sanderson of Middlesex county and Chief Inspector Watts of the Boston force, in Boston. It is generally accepted here as a fact that Sturtevant told of his visit to the jail and that the result will be Lombardi's discharge.

These two incidents have been the most striking ones since the commission of the crime. Since Thursday the police of several cities have been running down supposed clews, all of which have vanished in air. Both Chief Holmes and Officer Whitney say that it does not seem to them that they are any nearer a solution of the mystery than on last Thursday.

Chief Holmes was expected to issue an official statement of the case last night, and this was expected to cover the afternoon's incidents, but he changed his mind because things were not in just the shape he had expected. Chief Holmes' attitude just at present suggests a little mystery, although he is outspoken in saying that there are no important developments.

Naval Stations Overcrowded

Washington, May 12.—Overcrowding at naval training stations along the Atlantic coast is causing concern to the navy department. There has been considerable sickness among the men recently, it is feared due to this cause. Cases of diphtheria have occurred at Norfolk and Newport, meningitis at League Island and scarletina at New York. The department has decided to relieve the congestion by quartering the overflow in tents.

The Humberts Held For Trial

Paris, May 12.—Magistrate Leydat has concluded his investigation of the Humbert fraud case and has decided to commit Therese Humbert, her husband, Frederick, and her brother for trial on the charges of forgery, the use of forged documents and swindling. The magistrate dismisses the cases against Eve Humbert, Therese's daughter, and Marie Daurignac, her sister.

—The electric washing machine of Josef Nagy of Szegedin is claimed to cleanse clothes from grease, stains, etc., without soap or rubbing.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

A HINT TO YOUNG WIVES.

To keep your husband at home, ask him to shampoo your hair with

PACKER'S TAR SOAP

He will enjoy it as much as you.

Our Leaflet, "The Value of Systematic Shampooing," mailed free on application to THE PACKER MFG. CO., 81 Fulton St., N. Y.

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder.

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

FLOWERS

AT VERY LOWEST PRICES.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works, Quincy Point.

FUNERAL DESIGNS A SPECIALTY.

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy.

If You Have a House to Let, Advertise It in the Ledger.

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. 1p-2mos.

King Arthur Flour.

Sold in Quincy by

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

W. G. CHUBBUCK

Furniture and Piano Mover,

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

1p-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

JAMES F. BURKE,

REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,

MORTGAGES.

Justice of the Peace. Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building,

June 5 tf

FRANK F. CRANE,

REAL ESTATE,

AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER

Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass

Aug. 17.

SMOKE THE

GOVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

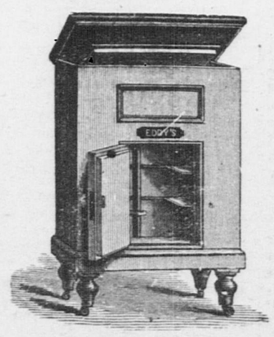

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

SUMMER GOODS.

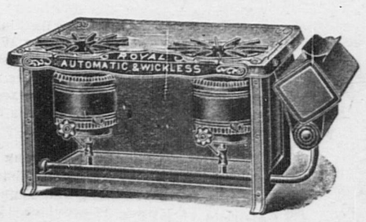

Seasonable warm weather goods for inside and outside use. No matter what you want you are sure to find it here at prices that are worthy of your consideration.

EDDY REFRIGERATORS.

At Factory prices, $5 50 and up. A catalogue for the asking.

BLUE FLAME OIL STOVES, $4.00 to $9.00.

Cost almost nothing to run. No fires, no light, no coal, no wood, no dust, no ashes.

GO CARTS, $3.75 to $25.00.

60 patterns to choose from. The handsomest you have ever seen. If you see an attractive Go Cart on the street, the chances are it came from Kincaide's. Ours have the style.

BICYCLES,

$18.00 to $30.00.

The worthy sort:

IVER JOHNSON.

DAYTON.

CRAWFORD.

LE ROY.

HAMMOCKS, LAWN SWINGS, PIAZZA CHAIRS, ICE CREAM FREEZERS, LAWN HOSE, LAWN MOWERS, SCREEN DOORS, WINDOW SCREENS, CROQUET SETS, SUMMER COTTAGE FURNITURE, MATTINGS, ETC.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

Furniture Store and Annex, Hancock Street, Quincy.

Short Credit Accounts When Desired.

ll Paper

from the Manufacture.

bbers and retailers profit. Send once giving the number of rooms aper. Samples Free.

ess,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.

1p-2mos.

Arthur Flour.

old in Quincy by

. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

G. CHUBBUCK

and Piano Mover,

AND OUT OF TOWN.

Packed and Stored.

ken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

at Page's Pool Room, or Nicker- Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at l's Revere Road.

Address, QUINCY, MASS.

MES F. BURKE,

STATE and INSURANCE,

MORTGAGES.

he Peace. Notary Public

m 4, Savings Bank Building,

tf

M. F. CRANE.

EAL ESTATE,

DNEER and APPRAISER.

Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass

SMOKE THE

OVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler tra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Nov. 11. 1y

Dr. Emmons'

Regulator has brought happiness to of anxious women. There is positive. r remedy known to medical science so quickly and safely do the work. nd most obstinate irregularities from relieved immediately. Success guar. any stage. No pain, danger, or inter. ith work. Have relieved hundreds of re others have failed. The most diffi. successfully treated by mail, and ben. ults guaranteed in every instance. No sooner. We treat hundreds of ladies never see. Write for further particu. ree confidential advice. Do not put off All letters truthfully answered. Re. this remedy is absolutely safe under sible condition and positively leaves ll effect upon the health. Sent by mail, sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be d. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 270 Tre. Boston, Mass.

that are worthy

BICYCLES,

$18.00 to $30.00.

The worthy sort:

IVER JOHNSON.

DAYTON.

CRAWFORD.

LE ROY.

S, WINDOW SCREENS,

k Street, Quincy.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 112. QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY, MAY 13, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

Reupholstering

OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE

HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED

And Made Over.

Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.

Call and get Prices.

C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.

Quincy, May 2. 1m

ERIC G. BERGFORS

Carpenter and Builder.

Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice

Jobbing promptly attended to.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass

May7. 1m

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,

FLORISTS.

Telephone 13-7 Braintree.

Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.

Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

FREDERICK H. LORD,

TEACHER OF BANJO,

Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.

TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.

118 Washington Street.

Quincy, May 7. tf

C. H. PRESCOTT,

EXPERIENCED

Piano Tuner and Repairer.

Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

Piano Tuner.

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.

Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.

Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov, 3-tf

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,

Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.

GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.

Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.

Quincy, April 7. tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS,

PAINTER, GLAZIER.

LEADED STAINED GLASS.

Decorator and Paper Hanger.

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.

15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

PAINTING

and Glazing.

WARD L. HAYWARD,

28 Mechanic Street.

Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....

PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,

3 High Street, Cor. Summer, BOSTON, MASS

Three minutes from South Station.

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

ard off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy

Jan. 7. tf

Glenwood Ranges

Make Cooking Easy

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO., QUINCY, MASS.

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat.

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.

Quincy, May 9. 1m

Are You Looking for a Home?

Would You Like to Make Some Money?

Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at

BIGELOW PARK.

The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.

SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.

May 2. tf

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON

Quincy, April 23. tf

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.

60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN.

PHARMACIST,

1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS,

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.

April 30. 1m

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

For Latest News See Inside Pages.

STRIKERS WEAKENING

Lowell Operatives Inclined to Favor Settlement

MUST INCLUDE INCREASE

Each Side Hesitates to Make Any Move Which Would Be Regarded as Confessing Weakness—Poverty Prevails In Many Homes

Lowell, May 13.—The attitude of the strikers has undergone a change. Even among the union officials there is not the same determination that manifested itself at the outset to hold out for complete surrender to the union's demand for a 10 percent increase. In fact the element which would recede from the original demand and accept other terms is to be found among the mule spinners, who have the strongest union and the most money.

It may be somewhat significant, also, that the Greeks who have gone away left their spokesman in Lowell to understand that if the mills opened at some increase over the old wages, say 5 or 6 percent, they would return. The organizations which, by virtue of their financial and numerical strength, hold the key to the situation in Lowell, have too much at stake to give up this fight for higher wages, realizing that such a course would injure their prestige in the labor movement at large; they would sooner carry their own members on strike benefits to the limits of their resources and see the contest continued to the point of starvation for the unorganized elements, but it may be said that any proposition looking toward a settlement without lowering the standing of these unions would receive consideration. In other words, some of the leading men among the spinners are less insistent now upon the full 10 percent increase than they are upon a termination which shall have the appearance of being a "settlement."

It is plainly apparent that on the question of a settlement the strikers are divided into three groups, namely, those union leaders who openly declare that this contest must be fought to a finish on the basis of a 10 percent increase, nothing less; those who are willing to compromise for the sake of increasing their chances of victory, and the third element which is ready to return at any time on the old schedule of wages.

In this light the situation is being discussed at the labor halls, and the mill agents meet every week to compare notes, but no efforts are being made to bring the two parties together. Under the circumstances they cannot be expected to come together of their own initiative, for the side which made the first move in that direction would be regarded as confessing weakness.

If the strike is to be conducted along the lines mapped out for it the time for resuming the cotton industry here will depend upon how soon the people are reduced to poverty and want to a degree which will force them by the hundreds and thousands into a public confession of misery. That is the sign for which the mill agents will look as their guide in determining when to reopen the mills, and it is a spectacle which must come not very long hence if the strike continues. The unions have not the money with which to prevent it, nor the prospect of obtaining it despite the many promises held out to the masses.

There is suffering in the city already, though the Textile union appears to be doing its best to prevent it. Little assistance is given by the city. As announced at the beginning the overseer of the poor is turning over to the Textile council the strikers who apply to the city for help, because the unions told them before calling them out that they would support them. For this reason the disbursements of the city poor department were only about $150 more last month than the average for March for six years.

Homes in actual want of the necessities of life are found without any difficulty and without any other inquiry from neighbors than as to which are the homes of strikers. Among them, however, are families who take the situation philosophically and try to get along as best they can with their little allowances from the unions. Some receive no union help whatever, nor promises of help in the future.

Grand Ovation to President

San Francisco, May 13.—Heartier greeting was never given a President of the United States than that offered by the city of San Francisco to Mr. Roosevelt. Through miles and miles of densely packed humanity the nation's chief passed, bowing his acknowledgments, evidently wearied by maintaining an erect position in his carriage, but buoyed up by the impressiveness of the demonstration. It was a magnificent ovation.

COMMISSIONS TO EDDS

Have Resulted In Newport Merchants Losing Much Profitable Business

Newport, R. I., May 13.—As a result of the evidence presented at the court martial of former Chief Commissary Edds of the naval training station, a great change has been made in the method of purchasing food supplies and the merchants of the city of Newport, who have enjoyed for years a large amount of business, are for the most part shut out from this trade.

The court martial showed that certain merchants gave Edds commissions. The navy department felt that in so doing merchants were guilty of a misdemeanor and orders were given to the paymaster at the training station to ignore the merchants who gave such commissions in the recent call for proposals for food-stuffs sent out from the station.

At the present time about $7000 a month is being expended for the provisions needed for the apprentices' messes. Under the new bids, New York and Boston firms get the bulk of the business, about the only thing given to Newport being the order for pies and ice cream and cake.

At the present time there are 1140 apprentices at the station to be fed and with the completion of the new barracks for apprentices there will be accommodations for nearly 5000 naval apprentices and the sum of nearly $20,000 a month will be expended for food.

Doctors Think They Were Robbed

Malden, Mass., May 13.—William E. Brenner and J. B. Neeley, both of Boston, were held for the grand jury, the former in $5000 and the latter in $3000, by Judge Libby on the charges of larceny from Dr. Alonzo Fales and Dr. J. A. Bruce. This case has been on trial for a number of days. The defendants are selling agents of stock of the Nova Scotia and Mexican Mining company, organized under the laws of Maine, shares of which were purchased by plaintiffs. Bail was furnished for both defendants.

Attempted Suicide by Fire

Fall River, Mass., May 13.—Miss Julia Joyce, aged 40, retired at 10:30 o'clock last night and some time later arose, soaked her clothing in kerosene and igniting it with a match ran into the street. She met two men, one of whom ran to her assistance while the other dashed into a nearby house and secured a rug with which he extinguished the flames. Miss Joyce was terribly burned and is not expected to live. She had been afflicted with melancholia for a long time.

Circulars For Skinner's Arrest

Boston, May 13.—Interest in the case of Malcolm F. Skinner, the young Congress street broker, whose alleged forgeries attracted general attention several weeks ago, was revived when from the office of Superintendent Pierce of the Boston police were mailed hundreds of circulars to police departments throughout this country and Europe. These circulars describe Skinner and state that if located Skinner is to be arrested on forgery charges and the Boston police department notified.

Awarded Damages of Nearly $1500

Alfred, Me., May 13.—The jury of the supreme court returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff and awarded damages at $1484.33 in the suit for $10,000 brought by Almon Littlefield against the Leatheroid Manufacturing company to recover for personal injuries sustained in the factory of the defendant company. It was contended by the plaintiff that the accident which caused the injuries was due to a defective elevator.

Boston Registration Figures

Boston, May 13.—The result of the registration of male residents of Boston over 20 years of age, which for the first time in the history of the city has been accomplished this year under the direction of the police department, was announced last night and shows an increase of 7995 names over the list made up last year by the assistant assessors. The totals are 183,880.

Street Department Under Fire

Malden, Mass., May 13.—Charges made by Alderman Devit that the street department had been mismanaged and that the payrolls have been padded were under consideration by the board of aldermen last night. Police officers kept the public at large out of the building. No evidence was taken, this first meeting being devoted to outlining the mode of procedure.

Mill Workers

who need clear eyes and steady hands, as well as strong arms, prefer

Pillsbury's Best Flour

to any other. The reason is that this flour, being made of Spring wheat, contains a larger percentage of gluten than does other flour.

HOSPITAL PLANS.

Trustees Appoint a Committee on Enlargement.

At the meeting of the trustees of the Hospital held Monday the following votes were passed.

Voted—"That the trustees accept with thanks the gift of ten dollars from Miss Maude Stevens towards establishing a "Nurses Home" and will appropriate it for the purpose named.

Voted—That the Trustees accept with thanks the gift of $8.24 received from Miss Gertrude M. Thorne as president of the Young Misses Aid Society of Atlantic, being the proceeds of the May festival held for the benefit of the hospital.

At the suggestion of the president of the board (Mr. W. B. Rice) a committee composed of Messrs. Gordon, Nickerson and Welch was chosen to secure plans for the proposed new wing for the hospital.

BAD FOR BERLIN

Over a Thousand Men In New Hampshire Town Are on Strike

Berlin, N. H., May 13.—More than 1000 men employed by the Berlin Mills company and the Burgess Sulphite Fibre company, whose interests are closely interwoven, are on strike because of the companies' refusal to grant their demands for more pay and recognize the various unions.

These demands were made more than a week ago, but the companies absolutely declined to yield. The two companies are so closely identified with each other that the fibre company cannot possibly continue without the other, and the latter has closed its lumber, pulp and paper mills and store in a determination to carry on the fight to a finish.

The payrolls of the two companies amount to $50,000 monthly, payable weekly, and with this amount of money removed from circulation the outlook for storekeepers and business men of all classes in this city is a most serious one.

Another bad feature of the situation is the fact that the Berlin Electric Light company obtains power from the Berlin Mills company for manufacturing and lighting stores and residences. A shutdown of the mills plant would therefore result in great inconvenience all over the city.

Clue to Alleged Dynamiter

New York, May 13.—Much of the mystery surrounding the placing of an infernal machine on the pier of the Cunard company has been cleared up and an arrest may be made at any moment. The police have learned that the box was taken to the pier from a boarding house known as the "Currie house" and patronized principally by theatrical folk. The police also know the name of the man who sent the box from the house and have a good description of him. Who this man is, however, Inspector McClusky declines to say.

United States' Leniency

Washington, May 13.—The state department fully sustains the action of Minister Conger and his associate commissioners in effecting an agreement with China for the payment of the indemnity arising from the Boxer troubles on the basis of the rate of exchange in 1901. The contention of the other powers, if sustained, would require China to pay almost double her debt, because of the heavy losses caused by the depreciation of silver.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it." says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

Pine Tree Forests Ablaze

Machias, Me., May 13.—Owing to unfavorable conditions little has been accomplished in the fighting of three forest fires which have been raging in township 30. One of these fires is in a valuable growth of standing timber and has done much damage. Three crews of fire fighters sent out Saturday have been joined by another crew of 20 men.

Sunday Moving Prohibited

Marlboro, Mass., May 13.—Mayor Marsh has decided that, while he does not intend to enforce strictly the blue laws, there shall not be any unnecessary teaming in the city streets on Sunday. Numerous complaints had been made of the number of furniture vans employed Sunday, and now people who wish to move must select some other day.

Reliance Shows Up Well

Bristol, R. I., May 13.—The Reliance had a trial spin with a new mainsail, which proved to be a good fit, also a new main boom and a larger gaff, both of which seemed to work well in taking up the slack in the mainsail. Mr. Iselin says that the test of the spars and rigging of the Reliance was satisfactory and that everything worked well.

FOUR MORE FLOATS.

Quincy Shipyard Has Another Contract from N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R.

A year ago a contract was given by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad to the Fore River Ship and Engine Company for two steel carfloats, capable of carrying 23 fifty-ton freight-cars on three tracks. So satisfactory were these floats, which were completed and delivered last year, that the same company has been given another contract; this time, for four floats.

These floats, the plans for which are completed, will be begun in a few days, they will be 315 feet long, 38 feet beam, 10 feet 4 inches deep. They will be built according to the plans of the two first floats, and will comply with the requirements of the United States Standard Register of Shipping.

They will have four lines of trusses in the hulls, and each hull will be divided into 16 water-tight compartments, making it practically unsinkable. The hulls will be of steel, with a timber fender of yellow pine and white oak. Six and eight months will be allowed in which to complete the contract.

These floats will be officially known as hulls numbers 116, 117, 118, 119 and will be built on the water-front of the Fore River shipyard, between the slips occupied by the Fall River freight-steamer and the steel six-masted schooner William L. Douglass. This will make nine hulls under construction on the shore of Quincy Creek at various stages of completion, and will leave room for only two others at the same time.

NEWS IN BRIEF

James S. Sanborn of the Boston grocery firm of Chase & Sanborn is dead. He was considered one of Boston's strongest men and one of her ablest merchants. He was born in Wales, Me., in 1835.

Amos C. Barstow of Providence, president of the Barstow Stove company, died suddenly at his home of apoplexy, aged 55. He came of revolutionary stock.

Walter M. Prince of New Haven has been appointd superintendent of the society for the prevention of cruelty to children in Brooklyn.

Edward H. Shattuck, aged 47, for many years a restaurant keeper at Burlington, Vt., committed suicide by shooting.

The British admiralty has decided to immediately install the wireless system of telegraphy on all the vessels of the North American and West Indian squadrons.

The station, freight house and milk depot on the Boston and Maine railroad at West Boylston, Mass., were destroyed by fire. The fire was probably set by sparks from a passing engine.

Fire in the machine shop of A. D. Puffer, soda fountain manufacturer, Lexington, Mass., caused a loss of $2800. The fire was caused, it is thought by a gasoline engine.

Lompos Wants to Remain

New York, May 13.—An appeal has been filed with the immigration authorities from the decision of a special board of inquiry which had ordered the deportation to Greece of T. M. Lompos, who came to this city to establish a branch of the Greek Currant company, it is alleged, in violation of the contract labor law.

Strike Riots at Valparaiso

Santiago, Chili, May 13.—Owing to a great strike of dock laborers at Valpariso all business has been suspended there. Riotous strikers have destroyed street cars, several persons have been killed and great excitement prevails. The pawnshops have been looted.

Violated Anti-Trust Law

San Francisco, May 13.—Before Judge DeHaven, in the United States district court, the Federal Salt company was convicted of maintaining a monopoly contrary to the Sherman anti-trust law.

Pearls Found In a Gutter

New York, May 13.—The $25,000 pearl necklace lost by Mrs. Colgate Hoyt, wife of the banker, was found by Miss Harriet Schade, a saleswoman, who has returned the necklace to Mrs. Hoyt. Mrs. Hoyt handed the young woman $100. Three days after Mrs. Hoyt lost her necklace Miss Schade was walking through Twenty-Third street on her way to lunch when she saw the gems glitter in the dirt in the gutter.

Her Sentence None Too Heavy

Roanoke, Va., May 13.—Mrs. Maud Ballard, who shot and killed Miss Chambers last February, has been sentenced to six years in the penitentiary. Jealousy caused Mrs. Ballard to call Miss Chambers from the house where she lived and to march her at the point of a Winchester rifle to the head of a stream, where Mrs. Ballard blew the girl's brains out while she was on her knees praying for mercy.

Much-Discussed Bill Signed

Harrisburg, May 13.—Governor Pennypacker has approved the Grady-Salus newspaper libel bill and at the same time issued a long statement giving the reasons for his action. The bill, which was in the governor's hands for more than a month, goes into effect immediately, and repeals all laws or parts of laws inconsistent with the new act.

A Mock Trial,

— ENTITLED —

"Who Stole the Rooster?"

Will be held in the Hall of the First Presbyterian Church, Water Street, on Wednesday Evening.

Boston and Quincy Lawyers will participate.

LOCAL HITS.

Admission, Adults, 20 cts.
Juveniles, 10 cts.

Quincy, May 12. 2t

King Arthur Flour

MAKES THE

BEST BREAD.

SOLD BY

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK
A SPECIALTY.
Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.

Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

Address, 1362 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
Quincy, April 10. tflp

FULL STOCK

— OF —

HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,

— AT —

Brooks' Market,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 25. tf

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,
H. BIDWELL,
Dept. 8, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. lp-2mos.

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Charter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D.,
Inspector of Milk.

April 15. 30t

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE

HAS OPENED AN

Employment Office

At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm
Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.

Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, PRES.

April 9-2m 11-2m

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.
THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	63	46	50	61	55
Monday,	76	58	58	68	61
Tuesday,	74	64	65	67	62
Wednesday,	79	54	70	60	76
Thursday,	—	64	66	73	64
Friday,	—	66	58	69	90
Saturday,	—	64	75	68	65

New Advertisements Today.

Quincy Co-operative Dining Room.
To Let—Rooms and Barn.
Houses, Stable, Hall, etc., to let.
Wanted—50 Crocheters.
To Let—Furnished Room.
Found—Lady's Silver Watch.
Wanted—Work.
Wanted—Agents for Resurrection Plant.

Good Afternoon

If the murderer of Miss Sturtevant of Medford is apprehended, it will be because the newspapers have sought out every possible fact and given publicity to the same. Their efforts to get a clue have been pursued assiduously, but apparently without success.

It is evident now why prohibition was not a success in New Hampshire. A majority in every city and some of the towns voted under the new local option law on Tuesday for license. Under the local option with campaigns every year New Hampshire again may be reclaimed for temperance, but the experience seems to be necessary.

Drift of Opinion.

☞It is announced that the government may not advertise for bids for the construction of three training ships, recently authorized, but will build them instead at government yards. This is a tendency on the part of the government which should be combatted. The government yards are established for the repair of naval vessels, but should be confined to this class of work. Whatever new construction is planned should be given to private concerns. It is only through private industry that a country grows great. The more work the government takes upon itself the less it gives its citizens to do.—Maritime News and Review.

Vaudeville at Wollaston.

The vaudeville entertainment given at the Wollaston Unitarian Vestry last evening under the direction of Mr. L. P. Loring caused a good deal of amusement for the audience. The cast was as follows:

Miss Eugenia Hatch, pianist.
Mrs. A. G. Heath, soprano.
Misses Laundrigan, costume dances.
Mr. Frederick W. McConville in a specialty.
Mr. L. P. Loring and Miss A. B. Cote, presenting the comedy, "The Silent System."
Messrs. McConville and Darling, in a musical hit.
Monologue, "The Inventor's Wife," Mr. H. H. Schumacher.
Mrs. A. G. Heath and Miss Cote in vocal duets.

The selections, "Carmena" and "The Merry Brown Thrush" were sung by Mrs. Heath with great sweetness. Mr. H. Houghton Schumacher as "The Inventor's Wife" in the Monologue did his part finely. All the numbers on the program received much applause.

Reinstated.

Officer William H. Lyons who was suspended by Chief Hayden Monday night for failure to pull his boxes, was reinstated at roll call Tuesday night. Officer Lyons claimed the boxes would not work, and an inspection Monday night and Tuesday morning by the Chief and electrician proved them to be out of order. It is somewhat strange, however that while nothing was done to the boxes Tuesday they worked all right that night.

Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Bradford of Scituate, observed their golden wedding Tuesday afternoon and evening. They were married in the house where the celebration occurred.

YE DISTRICT SCHOOL

The Audience at Wollaston Park Had No Dull Moments.

At the Park and Downs church Tuesday evening a packed house attested its appreciation of "Ye District School." The entertainment began with the examination of teachers, and the successful applicant was Mr. Milbery who as "Mr. Hezekia Pendergass did his part in the program finely.

The first day of school opened with ten girls and nine boys. Mr. Plummer as Obadiah Buzzard" performed his part admirably. Mr. Hill as "Sam Dipsey" the bad boy was perfection in his part. Mr. William Blake as "Bobby O'Lee," the stutterer was also fine. Carl Gram made a sweet little boy of four years with long curls.

Of the girls Mrs. Hill as "Sally Brown" was splendid, in fact all the girls and boys were fine examples in their acting of the times.

Miss Klinenhagen as Miss Belinda Sharp "one of the applicants for teacher was "sweet" on Mr. Pendergrass and took her part well.

The school committee were Mr. Page, as Uriah Perkins, chairman; Mr. Blake as Jacob Billaker; Mr. Dingwell as John Smith.

The visitors were: Mrs. Dipsey, Miranda Dipsey and Mrs. Snooks.

The audience during the whole evening was convulsed with laughter and the whole affair beside being unique was most entertaining. The old-fashioned costumes worn were interesting to see. After the entertainment was over those who took part remained for flashlight pictures to be taken of them. The performance will be repeated tonight and anyone who wishes to enjoy a funny evening ought to attend "Ye District School" for a most enjoyable time will be assured.

ON THE INCREASE.

Considerable More Granite Shipped in April Than in March.

The shipment of granite by rail from the three railroad terminals for the month of April amounted to 13,768,789 pounds, an increase of 3,037,664 pounds over the previous month. The increases were from the West Quincy and South Quincy terminals, the former increase being something over a million pounds and the latter over two million pounds. The amount from each of the terminals was as follows: QuincyAdams, 6,449,549 pounds; West Quincy, 5,611,550 pounds; Quarry railroad, 1,707,690 pounds.

The shipments thus for this month indicate that the returns for May will show a large increase over April. The figures given do not include the granite shipped out of town by teams. This is a large amount but it is impossible to get any idea of how much it is.

FLOWERS IN THE CITY.

People of Portland, Ore., Will Plant Rosebushes Everywhere.

That is a charming idea which the citizens of Portland, Ore., have adopted in preparation for the visitors expected during the celebration of the Lewis and Clark anniversary, says the Philadelphia Ledger. They have arranged to have California and the south ship them car loads of rosebushes, and every householder is to be given as many as he will agree to plant and care for. It is simply a delightful sight to contemplate even in fancy—a city nodding with roses, set about the stoops, trailing over doorways and potted in windows and on the top of walls and in the wards where each house has its "yard," twined along the fences and clumped on the lawns till the whole place is filled with color and fragrance and with the grace of the beautiful thought.

The Portland movement is an illustration of the success with which the city beautiful idea is making its appeal.

Plowing With an Automobile.

The plowing of a goodly part of a field in East Ashtabula, O., was accomplished the other day with an automobile which took the place of a stout team of horses, says the New York Times. The test was made by H. T. Raser of Erie, Pa., and his brother, George Raser, guided the plow. Many persons witnessed the unusual feat. Mr. Raser formerly resided in Ashtabula and was there on a visit. He found that some plowing was to be done in the fields near by and decided to make the experiment. After the plowing was finished he returned to Erie on his automobile.

To Feel Well

you must be well. Your digestive organs must be doing their work properly. Beecham's Pills act like oil on machinery, and will give you the snap and vigor that only comes with perfect health.

Beechams Pills

Sold Everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25c.

ONE SIDED.

Adams Academy Defeats Quincy High Boys.

Out Played at Every Point.

Heavy Batting by the Academy Rolls Up Many Runs.

Nine scattering singles by Quincy High against 19 safe hits by Adams Academy, the latter including doubles, three bases and two home runs, account in a large measure for the overwhelming victory for Adams on Tuesday.

But Quincy High was out-fielded and out-classed at all points. The Adams out-field only had two chances which were both accepted by Galvin at left. Eight of the High boys struck out, while six retired at first and seven at second.

Adams had a total of 35 bases includ-2 home runs, 3 three base hits, 4 two base hits and 19 singles. Two of their flies to left were captured by Shortle, and two to centre by Bennett.

Both teams scored in the first innings but it was evident from the start that the High was out-classed. About a thousand were in attendance and the blue and white flags of Adams, and the crimson and blue of High were numerous. The rooters also got in their work.

The work of both Reardon for Adams and Drake for High behind the bat were features of the game.

The full score:

ADAMS ACADEMY.

	A B	R.	B H.	P O.	A.	E
Weston, 3b.,	5	5	2	1	1	0
Moyle, ss.,	7	3	4	2	3	2
Moir, 2b.,	5	1	2	7	0	1
Reardon, c.,	6	3	0	8	4	0
Elcock, 1b.,	5	3	3	6	1	0
Hoxie, p.,	6	5	4	0	4	0
Galvin, l.f.,	5	4	3	2	0	0
Harkins, r.f.,	4	1	0	1	0	1
Penley, c.f.,	3	3	0	0	0	0
Totals,	46	28	18	27	13	4

QUINCY HIGH

	A.B.	R.	B.H.	P O.	A.	E.
Conrad, 2b.,	4	0	1	3	4	1
Bennett, c.f.,	4	1	1	2	0	1
Elcock, c.f.,	0	0	0	0	0	0
Miller, 1b., p,	4	0	1	10	1	1
Rooney, p.,	3	0	1	1	4	0
O'Brien, 1b,	1	0	0	2	0	0
Drake, c.,	4	0	0	5	1	3
Sanders, sb.,	4	1	1	1	4	2
Fenno, r.f.,	3	0	1	0	0	1
Davenport, 3b.,	3	0	2	1	3	2
Shortle, l.f.,	3	0	1	2	1	0
Totals,	33	2	9	27	18	11

Innings,	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Adams,	4	2	0	3	2	0	3	9	5	—28
Quincy H. S.,	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	—2

Two-base hits—Hoxie. Three-base hits—Moyle, Hoxie. Home runs—Weston, Elcock. Sacrifice hits—Moir. Double plays—Davenport to Conrad. Stuck out by Hoxie 8, by Rooney 1, by Miller 2. Base on balls by Rooney 3, by Miller 7. Wild pitches—Miller 3, Hoxie. Stolen Bases—Adams 11, Quincy, 5. Time—2 hours, 20 minutes. Umpires—Flynn and Munroe.

John Hancock Memorial.

The state house commission will shortly begin to consider the question of a memorial to John Hancock. The resolve which Brown of Bedford got through the legislature does not tie the commission in any way. It is provided that the commission will simply consider such a matter and report to the next general court concerning the erection of a such memorial. There is no question that a memorial of Hancock should have a place at the state house.—Boston Advertiser.

Contractor Pratt Wins.

In the case of Albert A. Murphy vs. J. Winthrop Pratt, which was an action to recover $300 damages for failure of Pratt to build a house according to contract, on trial in the Superior court at Dedham, the jury this morning rendered a verdict in favor of the defendant Pratt. E. J. Parker for plaintiff, W. W. Jenness for defendant.

Educational Committees.

Committees for the National Educational Association convention in Boston in July have been appointed and include—Finance, Advance Membership, Excursions, Accommodations, Music, Hall, Program and Guidebook, and Press.

TODAY'S COURT.

Lemuel A. Burrell, S. Maria Stetson, Irwin G. Stetson were arraigned for larceny of furniture from Walter M. Howard at Randolph. Cases continued until Saturday.

David Robertson was arraigned for non-support at Quincy. Case continued until May 27.

Ellen Crocker was arraigned for larceny at Quincy. Case continued until Thursday.

—The school superintendents of New England will meet in Latin school hall, Boston, on Friday,

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Dr. Clayton Marstin has returned from New Brunswick.

Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus, will initiate nine candidates next Tuesday evening.

The South Quincys and Atlantics will play on the Ward three playground on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Elizabeth Prescott of Federal avenue has returned from a two months' visit in New Hampshire.

Do not forget the concert at Music hall tonight for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. building fund.

The Copeland club of West Quincy are arranging for a social dance the latter part of the month.

George Farquhar, Jr., of West Quincy left Tuesday for Chicago where he will stay for an indefinite period.

Mr. Haynes of Boston will be the tenor soloist at the entertainment at the Universalist vestry tonight.

The Old Colony Grocers Association will hold their May meeting in Quincy this evening, and will dine at The Greenleaf.

The ladies of Loyal Pride of Granite lodge of Manchester Unity Odd Fellows hold a dance at St. Mary's hall this week.

The Rebekahs of Wollaston and Quincy will be the guests of Eunice Rebekah lodge of Hyde Park tomorrow evening.

Saturday's game of the Merrymount club will be with the Braintrees at Merrymount park. A good game may be expected.

Dr. and Mrs. Willard give a reception to the Senior class of the Quincy Mansion school this evening from eight until eleven.

The purple and white lilacs are in bloom, and it is doubtful if there are any left for Memorial day, which is yet two weeks off.

The funeral of the late John G. Norrie, who died in Barre, will be held at the residence of his father, 49 Newcomb place on Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

The Ward One branch of the People's Union will meet in Colonial hall next Tuesday evening and will be addressed by Mr. A. C. Farley, president of the Auburndale Improvement Association.

The directors of the Boston Credit Men's association have passed resolutions on the death of Charles G. Lee of Wollaston, which declare that the association loses one its most valued and prominent members, who, by his earnest co-operation and interest in the work of the association, had helped its usefulness and welfare to a large extent.

When Run Down

The system needs, like a clock, to be wound up again, and the best key is the new iron tonic,

Peptiron

Good at all times and especially good at this time.

Peptiron restores strength, courage, vim, appetite, good digestion, and the ability to rest well at night. It is both medicine and food for the nerves and the brain, which it nourishes and strengthens, permanently benefiting the whole system.

Peptiron is made in two forms: In a liquid—an aromatic cordial elixir—at $1 per bottle, also in chocolate-coated pills at 50c. or $1 per box. By C. I. HOOD CO., proprietors Hood's Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

Selling Agent in Quincy:
E. J. Murphy, 1657 Hancock St.

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

$3.50

For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . . At Co-operative Dining Rooms

3 Granite Street, Quincy,

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21--2m

The Quincy Ledger

FOR SALE AT THE

South Terminal Station News Stand

After 3.35 P. M.

Over 50 years ago. Doctors took right hold of it. Keep their hold yet. The oldest, best Sarsaparilla—Ayer's. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder,

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store. O'd Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,
In a variety of Styles and Prices.
Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.

These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.

C. S. HUBBARD,

City Square, Quincy.

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.

67 Franklin Street, Pixel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.

OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.

Jan. 31. tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.

At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1 1y- p-6mos.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. lp-tf

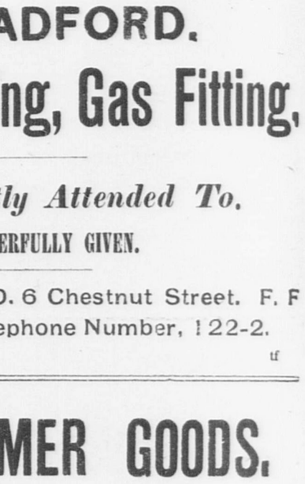

King Arthur Flour.

THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES,
Plumbing and Heating Co.,
25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.
Telephone Connection.
April 24, 1-tf--p-1w

Spring and Summer Shoes.

The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.

The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.

GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

Silk Waists.

23

Peau De Soie, Taffeta and Crepe De Chene Waists, in Pink, Light Blue, Old Rose, Black, White, Rosida and Pearl Grey.

PRICES:

$2 98 to $5.98

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

JOB PRINTING
AT THE PATRIOT OFFICE

TO LET

IN QUINCY, MASS.,
By H. H. FAXON.

HOUSES, STORES, HALL, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES, Land, Wharves, etc.

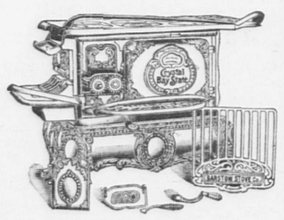

Buildings are in Complete Repair

Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.
House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.
Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.
Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc, No. 92 School street, $12 per month.
Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.
Stable, junction School and Franklin streets, $4 per month.
Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.
Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.
Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.
For particulars apply to
HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, May 13, 1903. 1m

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.
Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.

Come and See It.

BARSTOW STOVE CO.,
55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.

GUY'S COLISEUM,
W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 17. 4w

DO YOU COUGH
DON'T DELAY
TAKE KEMP'S BALSAM
THE BEST COUGH CURE

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 25 cents and 50 cents.

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.
Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

PROBATE COURT.

Wills Allowed and Administrations Granted at Puincy.

Judge Flint held probate court for Norfolk County at Quincy this morning and transacted the following business:

WILLS ALLOWED.

Of Joseph S. Kendall late of Cohasset, Ellen K. Kendall, Richard F. Bolles and John Reed executors, bond $750,000 each.

Of Charles A. McAlpine late of Hyde Park, Charles A. McAlpine executor, bond $29,000.

Of Ellen B. Pray late of Quincy, Laura E. Holt executrix, bond $3,000.

Of Abigail B. Spear late of Quincy, Howard D. Spear executor, bond $400.

Of Edward Willett late of Quincy, Martha W. G. and Joseph Willett executors, bond $36,000 each.

ADMINISTRATIONS GRANTED.

Gertrude Peakes, on estate of Joseph Peakes late of Weymouth, bond, $11,000.

John W. Wentworth, on estate of Clara Wentworth late of Quincy, bond $5,000.

Emma A. Seeley, on estate of Elizabeth L. Turner late of Quincy, bond $2,000.

Sarah F. Clark, on estate of Ansel O. Clark late of Braintree, bond $5,000.

William H. Rogers, on estate of Josiah G. Thayer late of Holbrook.

J. Albert Simpson, on estate of Adelaide A. Pearce late of Milton, bond $3,000.

Emma A. Spear, on estate of Samuel F. Smith late of Quincy, bond $12,000.

Marcia Emery, on estate of Marcia C. Emery late of Brookline, bond $40,000.

Joseph R. Davidson, on estate of Joseph Davidson late of Milton, bond $5,000.

Marshall Wilbur, on estate of Emma R Drake late of Foxboro, bond $3,000.

Thomas Kiley, on estate of Maurice Kiley late of Randolph, bond $1,000.

ACCOUNTS ALLOWED.

Sixth of Christopher A. Spear, on estate of Seth B. Bass, late of Quincy, for $448.73.

Final of Jackson Lynas, guardian of Bartlett W. Chandler, a minor of Hyde Park, for $322.91.

Final of Jackson Lynas, guardian of Abram F. Chandler, for $34.68.

GUARDIANS APPOINTED.

Fannie Duggan was appointed guardian of Fannie and William G. Duggan, minors of Quincy, bond $1600.

J. Albert Simpson was appointed guardian of A. M. and John A. Pearce, minors of Milton, bond $3,000.

Alfred Vikstrom was appointed guardian of Eric M. Matson a minor of Norwood, bond $3,000.

PETITIONS.

William I. Bowditch, guardian of Frank C. Warren, an insane person of Brookline, was granted permission to sell real estate to the amount of $12,000.

Cleveland's
BAKING POWDER

It enables you to cook and bake with perfect confidence as to results.

"I use Cleveland's Baking Powder in my kitchen and class work."
EMMA P. EWING, Principal Chautauqua Cooking School.

UNDER SUSPICION.

Woman Arrested With Stolen Property in Her Possession.

An elderly woman, who gave her name as Ellen Crocker and her residence first as Springfield and then as Boston, was arrested by Officer Goodhue Tuesday evening just as she had boarded a street car for Boston.

The arrest was the result of information lodged with the police that during the day a woman had been visiting a number of business men soliciting money. The story was that she singled out those of the Christadelphian belief and told them she belonged in Springfield, that she had lost her pocket book and came to Quincy to raise funds for returning there. She succeeded in obtaining money from several persons. While the Officer was taking her to the police station she tried to throw away some articles but did not succeed. Among these was a silver fork. Upon being questioned she said she had dined in the restaurant in City Square and inquiry at Mrs. Jewett's brought out the fact that she had dined there and that the silver fork she attempted to throw away had been stolen from there. Later the woman admitted that she came from Boston.

At the police station she was searched by a woman but all that was found was some money and a napkin marked Gastle Square Hotel. In court her case was continued until Thursday.

Haytien Frauds Involving $2,000,000

Port Au Prince, May 13.—The report of a committee of inquiry, appointed by President Nord, charges extensive frauds in the issuing of Haytien government securities. The amount involved is about $2,000,000 and the securities are alleged to have been fraudulently issued with the complicity of the national bank of Hayti.

Valuable Timber Destroyed

Plymouth, Mass., May 13.—A fire that started in the woods on the so-called Jordan road burned over about 75 acres of land and destroyed some valuable timber. The summer cottage of Robert B. Blodgett was destroyed, causing a loss of $2000. The flames were finally conquered.

Croker's Contention Denied

Albany, May 13.—The court of appeals has denied the application of former Chief Croker of the New York fire department for a mandamus compelling his reinstatement by Fire Commissioner Sturgis, by whom he was indefinitely suspended.

Freshies Reinstated

Syracuse, N. Y., May 13.—The freshman class of Syracuse university, suspended last Saturday by Chancellor Day for escapades in connection with "moving up day," has been reinstated by the chancellor with the exception of its president.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

GOLF TOURNAMENT.

Opened Today on Wollaston Club Links with About 50 Entries.

The open handicap stroke competition on the course of the Wollaston Golf club, started today with about 50 entries, 34 being from outside clubs, including Oakley, Vesper, Kenilworth, Winchester, Merrymount, Wellington Hill, Andover, Harvard, Newton, Wellesley, Newton Centre, Bellevue of Melrose, Commonwealth, Woodland and others.

TUESDAY'S MATCH.

The Oakley team of fifteen men won the match of Tuesday with the Wollaston club by the decisive score of 30 to 18. Nine of the visitors defeated their man, while Messrs. Ripley and Freeman halved. Messrs. Pratt and Tarbell of Wollaston contributed much toward evening up the score, while Messrs. Price and Little gave the victors the lead of twelve.

The full score:

OAKLEY.		WOLLASTON.
A. L. Ripley	0	R. R. Freeman,	0
J. G. Thorp	0	C. B. Cory	2
W. C. Chick	4	J. E. Jacobs	0
W. M. Whiting	0	E. C. Tarbell	5
G. F. Willett	1	G. A. Noyes	0
Fay Ingalls	4	C. L. Perkins	0
T. B. Gannett, Jr	7	C. A. Price	0
A. J. Wellington	5	D. E. Little	0
M. T. Whiting	1	B. C. Wright	0
G. C. Dutton	0	B. L. Pratt	7
T. P. Curtis	0	A. L. White	2
W. G. Brown	1	C. M. Hart	0
J. B. Fletcher	0	J. F. Morrill	2
M. P. Mason	4	J. W. Parks	0
I. W. Chick	3	L. O. Crane	0
Total	30	Total	18

MILTON.

The remodeled depot at East Milton was reopened this morning and patrons of the road will not recognize the old depot. The change in the interior is complete. The ticket office is now on the track side in the centre and there is one good-sized waiting room instead of two. There is a new floor, new settees of hard wood, new plumbing, and everything is attractive.

Pupils of the Milton High school will present a drama at the Town Hall at an early date.

A wagon load of young fellows from out of town was passing along Granite avenue Sunday evening when two were thrown out. It is said one was seriously injured.

Milton Academy was defeated by Roxbury Latin on Tuesday 10 to 6.

Six Months' Grace For Herlihy

New York, May 13.—Police Captain Herlihy has secured from the supreme court an order for a delay of six months before the beginning of his trial on charges of neglect of duty. Captain Herlihy had twice been tried on the same charges and asked time to earn money to defend himself.

Belgian King Sued by Daughter

Brussels, May 13.—The report that the Countess Lonyay has brought suit against her father, King Leopold, has been confirmed. The countess claims that her share of the estate of her mother, the late Queen Marie Henriette, should be $3,400,000, instead of $120,000, offered by King Leopold.

—Mrs Hetty Green, the wealthy and eccentric woman frequently quoted, is level-headed about some things. While in court in New York a few days ago she noticed several other women in the court room, and on enquiry was told that it was "divorce day" and that there was thirty-six cases on the calendar for that day, whereupon she made the following observation: "This divorce business is a bad thing. The women never learn how to keep house, and begin to parade around. Then the men begin to parade around, and then the trouble begins which terminates in court."

—Fred W. Atkinson has been elected superintendent of the schools at Newton.

DIED.

COBART—In Quincy, May 12, Mr. Marcus M. Hobart of 213 Independence avenue, aged 62 years and 8 months.

ROUILLARD—In Quincy, May 11, Eugene G., son of Mr. Joseph and Mrs Pauline Rouillard of 85 Quarry street, aged 1 month and 16 days.

SPEAR—In Quincy, May 13, Mrs. Helen M., widow of Capt Edward A. Spear and Mr. John Dean, aged 71 years.
Funeral from late residence 446, Washington street, Friday, May 15, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 2t NORRIE—In Barre, Vt., May 11, Mr. John G. Norrie, formerly of Quincy, aged 33 years and 3 months.

RELEASE OF LOMBARDI

Deepens Mystery In Sturtevant Murder Case

NO ARRESTS CONTEMPLATED

In the Immediate Future In Connection With the Crime—Police Describe Bag and Contents Carried Off by the Murderer

Medford, Mass., May 13.—After a brief hearing in the district court at Malden, Judge Bruce released Tomasso Lombardi, the Italian who was arrested in Boston early Thursday morning on suspicion of having murdered Miss Nellie Sturtevant at her home in Medford.

With the release of Lombardi the Medford authorities and the state police are as much in the dark as ever as to the identity of the murderer of Miss Sturtevant, and the present indications are that the murder will go down in history as another of those mysterious crimes that have never been solved. The police are doing everything in their power to get some clue that may lead to the arrest of the person who did the shooting, but, notwithstanding the stories to the contrary, the authorities have no expectation of making another arrest in the case in the immediate future.

Chief Holmes and State Officer Whitney issued a joint statement in the case last night, describing the bag and contents taken from Mr. Sturtevant and stating that they had requested Mr. and Mrs. Sturtevant to decline to give out further interviews. They further say that the alleged interviews already printed are not accepted as correct, owing to the mental condition of both Mr. and Mrs. Sturtevant, the latter being still on the verge of hysteria.

The bag is described as being known to the trade as a "club" bag; it was 15 inches long, of cowhide grain, enamelled, cloth lining, silk fastened, russet color. It contained an ink pad 3½ inches square, a rubber stamp of the Medford Co-operative bank, another stamp of the signature of J. F. Sturtevant in script, checks countersigned by Dana I. McIntire, but not countersigned by J. F. Sturtevant; a dozen bank books, a block of rent receipts, one co-operative bank sheet filled out with 23 names and a number of other blanks, such as power of attorney, etc. This bag had been in use 17 years and was old-fashioned.

Chief Holmes explodes the "foot print under the bush" clew. He says that Sergeant Elwell saw it made on the Thursday morning after the murder by a man who was helping him search the grounds.

The Colombian Muddle

Colon, May 13.—Further mail news from Bogota says there is much dissension in the cabinet. General Fernandez has resigned the portfolio of minister of state (premier), which the minister of the treasury, Francisco Mendoza, has accepted. Former President Caro has abandoned his usual attitude of reserve and is now taking a prominent part in the discussion of political affairs. In the opinion of many persons Fernandez resigned in order to offer himself as a candidate for the presidency at the next election.

Injunction Against Business Men

Omaha, May 13.—Judge Dickinson, on application of the labor unions whose members are on strike, has issued an injunction restraining the business men from refusing to sell goods to dealers who employ union labor, preventing them from boycotting union labor, requiring the Business Men's association to cease holding meetings or conspiring against the unions or in any way interfering with the unions in the management of their affairs.

Consul Jumped at Conclusions

Washington, May 13.—The state department has satisfied itself that it was unintentionally misinformed respecting the reported Russian reoccupation of New Chwang. The United States consul at that point had it upon what he regarded as trustworthy authority that the Russian troops were fortifying and reoccupying the place and, as was his duty in such a case, he transmitted the report to the state department through Mr. Conger.

Students Interested In Manila

Princeton, N. J., May 13.—The undergraduates have decided to raise $1000 for furnishing a room in the new Institutional club at Manila. Rev. Dr. Talbot of the Protestant Episcopal church of Manila urged the need of having rooms fitted out by the students of different universities, to be supported by them. Harvard, Yale and the University of Pennsylvania will also fit out rooms in the building.

Moorish Rebels' Hot Attack

Madrid, May 13.—A dispatch from Ceuta says that 10,000 rebels made an attack on Tetuan. The cannonading, which was heard at Ceuta, indicated a heavy combat, and it is feared that the town was unable to withstand the assault of the rebels. The Spanish minister at Tangier has sent advices confirming the fighting.

Has Less Exciting Billet

St. Johns, May 13.—Commodore Montgomerie, who was senior officer of the Anglo-German fleets which blockaded the Venezuelan coast last winter, has arrived here to assume command of the British fishery protection squadron in Newfoundland waters.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - 50 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

FOUND.

FOUND—A Lady's Open Face Silver Watch. Owner may have by paying charges and notifying WILLIAM CHUBBUCK, 1335 Hancock street. Quincy, May 13-3t

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—A light running open Corning Box Buggy, cheap, in fine condition; also a rubber tired Goddard, in good repair; can be seen at 19 Pine street, Wollaston. Address E. F. WHITE, Wollaston, Mass. May 11-13t

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office.
April 28. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street.
Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE.—Yawl BRANT, 28.6 o. a., 9.0 beam, 3-0 draught, with centre board up; built by Leloise in 1898. This boat is well known along the coast as a safe and handy cruiser, is easily handled, and is in perfect condition, well found in everything needed for comfort and safety. Now at her moorings off the Wollaston Yacht Club house and ready for sea.
J. A. FENNO, 538 Hancock street.
Wollaston, May 4. tf

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve (12) rooms, with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

TO LET.

TO LET—A Well Furnished Room. Price, $1.50 per week. Apply to 78 Lincoln avenue, Wollaston.
May 13. 3t--13-16-18

TO LET—Large, Square Room and Side Rooms. Barn for $4 per month. Apply Greenleaf street, corner Hancock street.
Quincy, May 8. tf

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy.
April 8. w. th. s. m.--tf

TO LET—A Pleasant, Sunny Room centrally located. References required. Address B., Ledger Office.
May 11. 3t

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet, 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 20½ Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street.
Quincy, April 21. tf

WANTED.

WANTED—Every lady in Quincy to have in the house or garden. The beautiful and mysterious "Resurrection" plant which never dies. Agents find it a ready seller, and a first rate money getter. Write for descriptive circular or send 25c. for sample plant. Summit Greenhouse Agency, Box 2137, Boston, Mass.
May 13. 1-6t--p 1w

WANTED—Work, Washing, Ironing, Cooking, or any kind of housework. Will go out or do work at own house. Apply 103 School street. Quincy, May 13-1t

WANTED—50 Crocheters to take work home. Address or apply to MRS. M. A. MACDONALD, Bryant avenue, East Milton. May 13-2t--13-16

WANTED—Position on gentleman's place to take care of horses and grounds. Address REYNOLD ANDERSON, 26 Cranch street. Quincy, May 12 3t

WANTED—Young Man to help shipper. HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
Quincy, May 9. tf

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON.
Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

WANTED.

WANTED—Young Men to prepare for Government Positions. Fine Openings in all Departments. Good Salaries. Rapid Promotions. Examinations soon. Particulars Free. Inter-State Cor. Inst., Cedar Rapids, Ia.
April 27. lp 1m

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

NEW STORES TO LET.

A BUILDING will be erected at once by N.G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information enquire of N. G. NICKERSON. Quincy, May 12-tf

SUMMER GOODS.

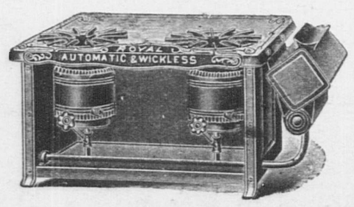

Seasonable warm weather goods for inside and outside use. No matter what you want you are sure to find it here at prices that are worthy of your consideration.

EDDY REFRIGERATORS.

Factory prices, $5.50 and up.
A catalogue for the asking.

BLUE FLAME OIL STOVES, $4.00 to $9.00.

Cost almost nothing to run. No fires, no light, no coal, no wood, no dust, no ashes.

CARTS, $3.75 to $25.00

60 patterns to choose from. The handsomest you have ever seen. If you see an attractive Go Cart on the street, the chances are it came from Kincaide's. Ours have the style.

BICYCLES,

$18.00 to $30.00.

The worthy sort:

IVER JOHNSON.

DAYTON.

CRAWFORD.

LE ROY.

HAMMOCKS, LAWN SWINGS, PIAZZA CHAIRS, ICE CREAM FREEZERS, LAWN HOSE, LAWN MOWERS, SCREEN DOORS, WINDOW SCREENS, CROQUET SETS, SUMMER COTTAGE FURNITURE, MATTINGS, ETC.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,
Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

Furniture Store and Annex, Hancock Street, Quincy.
Short Credit Accounts When Desired.

Quincy Daily Ledger.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS

and at the following places:

BOSTON—Terminal News Stand after 7.35
QUINCY—Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock St
Atwell's Periodical Store, 1 Granite St
Henry P. Kittredge, City Square
Rogers Bros., Hancock St.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St
C. F. Carlson, near Quincy depot
A. F. Hall, 128 Washington St., near Canal.
QUINCY POINT—Miss Freeman's store
Sprague & Hobart, Washington cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—P. L. Litchfield, Water St.
W. E. Nightingale 80 Water street.
O. D. Chick, 59 Liberty St.
WEST QUINCY—Coram's Periodical Store
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's news stand.
WOLLASTON PARK—C. E. Hosmer, cor. Hancock and Beach streets.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branscheid & Marten.
ATLANTIC—Branscheid & Marten.
HOUGHS NECK—Arthur Dunham at P. O.
EAST MILTON—William Clark.
EAST WEYMOUTH—George H. Hunt.
WEYMOUTH—J. R. Walsh.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—B. F. Thomas.

1903			MAY			1903
Su.	Mo.	Tu.	We.	Th.	Fr.	Sa.
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24 31	25	26	27	28	29	30

MOON'S PHASES.

First Quarter	4	9:26 a. m.	Third Quarter	19	10:12 a. m.
Full Moon	11	8:15 a. m.	New Moon	26	5:46 p. m.

NAVY HANDICAPPED

By Numerous Cases of Sickness at Various Training Stations

Washington, May 13.—To lack of sufficient shore barracks at the various naval training stations on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts the navy department attributes much of the sickness that now exists at the stations. The officials are face to face with the question whether or not recruiting in the navy should be abandoned until the congestion at the stations can be relieved.

Captain MacCalla, at San Francisco, sent an urgent telegram to the department yesterday asking that no more men be assigned there. Acting Secretary Darling decided that the need for men to man the new ships shortly to be commissioned was so great that the department could not afford to call in the recruiting officers. Captain MacCalla was instructed to ask for as many tents as are needed there and to make the best of the situation for the present.

Other dispatches were from Newport and League Island relative to conditions at those points, where diphtheria and meningitis exist. Inquiries are reaching the department from parents all over the country, who are becoming alarmed about the health of their sons.

If the sickness increases all the men ashore will be quartered in tents until the receiving ships can be thoroughly disinfected. The navy department is apprehensive of the effect of these conditions on enlistment.

Employers to Form a Union

New York, May 13.—The most important development in the strike situation is the expressed determination of the building trades association, composed of the most prominent concerns in the building business in Manhattan and the Bronx and of the Iron league, which includes most of the employers of iron workers in this country, to combine for united and aggressive action against the demands of the labor organizations. Upward of 100,000 workers will be affected by the action of the employers.

To Avert Threatened Deficit

Washington, May 13.—Postmaster General Payne announces that there will be no more daily establishments of rural free delivery postal service until July 1, the beginning of the next fiscal year. This is one result of the investigation of postoffice affairs and of the discovery that at the present rate of increase in the number of routes there will be a deficit of $20,000 in the rural free delivery service by the end of this fiscal year.

Charges Against Wine Grower

Berlin, May 13.—Dr. Schlamp, the largest wine grower in Germany, is charged with wholesale adulteration of his product. More than 200 wine growers have been called as witnesses, and a large number of doctors, chemists and professors will testify for the state. Dr. Schlamp held annual auction sales at which he sold enormous quantities of his product, much of which went to the United States.

Cromwell's Denial

Washington, May 13.—W. N. Cromwell, general counsel of the new Panama Canal company, makes public denial of reports affecting the company, including that emanating from Panama that the company had offered the Colombian government $12,000,000 of the $40,000,000 the company is to receive from the United States.

CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. This signature E. W. Grove on every box, 25c

When Knighthood Was In Flower

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening in the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By Edwin Caskoden [Charles Major]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

This story began in the Daily Ledger of Monday, March 16, and will be continued daily until completed.

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I and II.—Charles Brandon kills a duelist on the field of honor and is appointed captain of the king's guard at the English court The king's sister, Mary Tudor, quickly sets her fancy upon the gallant stranger. Brandon makes a confidant of Edwin Caskoden, master of the dance. III.—Caskoden is attentive to Lady Jane Bolingbroke, companion to the princess. In a fit of petulance Mary rebuke Brandon, then craves forgiveness. IV—Brandon teaches Mary a new dance learned in France. The young princess is shocked at first, then delighted with the sensation of Brandon's arm around her waist. Brandon declares that the girl is perfect, but the game of making love to royalty is dangerous. V.—Brandon crosses swords with the Duke of Buckingham, an unwelcome admirer of the princess. VI.—Mary, Lady Jane, Brandon and Caskoden ride to Windsor with the king. Mary shows decided partiality for Brandon's company, and on the return he is sent a day ahead of the royal party. VII—Louis XII of France asks for the hand of Mary. Brandon to sail for America to avoid Mary. She takes him to task for his indifference. Overcome by her pleadings, he makes a violent demonstration of his love. VIII.—Mary and Lady Jane go in disguise to consult a fortune teller. Brandon follows unknown to Mary. Buckingham plays the spy, and in a fight with Brandon he is wounded and two of his suit killed. IX.—Brandon in prison charged with murder. Mary to plead with the King. Buckingham against the prisoner. The king discovers a note sent by Mary to Brandon. Brandon condemned to death. The king learns that Brandon saved Mary from disgrace and orders his release. Brandon now madly in love with Mary. XI—Ambassadors of the French king come to England to court Mary for their aged sovereign The girl spurns them in a highly dramatic scene. The betrothal made by King Henry. Mary kept in ignorance of Brandon's prison imprisonment. She supposed he had sailed for America. XII—Mary explains to Brandon her neglect when he lay in prison. Bitter words followed by betrothal. Brandon dismissed from court. XIII.—Mary flatly refuses to wed the old French king. Brandon accuses Buckingham of having attempted to abduct Mary. King Henry angry with Brandon. XIV and XV—The kings learns of love trysts between Mary and Brandon. Brandon's life in danger. He secures passage to America. Mary insists upon going along in man's disguise. XVII—Mary escapes from her chaperons during a hunt and rides to meet Brandon. Caskoden still wooing Lady Jane. XVII.—The lovers board ship for America, but Mary's disguise is unmasked, and the captain orders them ashore.

CHAPTER XVIII.

TO THE TOWER.

WHETHER or not Brandon would have found some way to deliver the princess safely home and still make his escape I cannot say, as he soon had no choice in the matter. At midnight a body of yeomen from the Tower took possession of the Bow and String and carried Brandon off to London without communication with Mary. She did not know of his arrest until next morning, when she was informed that she was to follow immediately, and her heart was nearly broken.

Here again was trouble for Mary. She felt, however, that the two great questions, the marriage of herself to Louis, and Brandon [illegible] other person, were, as she called it, "settled," and was almost content to endure this as a mere putting off of her desires, a meddlesome and impertinent interference of the fates, who would soon learn with whom they were dealing and amend their conduct.

She did not understand the consequences for Brandon, nor that the fates would have to change their purpose very quickly or something would happen worse even than his marriage to another woman.

On the second morning after leaving Bristol Brandon reached London and, as he expected, was sent to the Tower. The next evening Lady Mary arrived and was taken down to Greenwich.

The girl's fair name was of course lost, but, fortunately, that goes for little with a princess—since no one would believe that Brandon had protected her against himself as valiantly and honorably as he would against another. The princess being much more unsophisticated than the courtiers were ready to believe never thought of saying anything to establish her innocence or virtue, and her silence was put down to shame and taken as evidence against her.

Jane met Mary at Windsor, and of course there was a great flood of tears.

Upon arriving at the palace the girls were left to themselves, upon Mary's promise not to leave her room, but by the next afternoon she, having been unable to learn anything concerning Brandon, broke her parole and went out to see the king.

It never occurred to Mary that Brandon might suffer death for attempting to run away with her. She knew only too well that she alone was to blame, not only for that but for all that had taken place between them, and never for one moment thought that he might be punished for her fault, even admitting there was fault in any one, which she was by no means ready to do.

The trouble in her mind growing out of a lack of news from Brandon was of a general nature, and the possibility of his death had no place in her thoughts. Nevertheless for the second time Brandon had been condemned to die for her sake. The king's seal had stamped the warrant for the execution and the headsman had sharpened his ax and could almost count the golden fee for his butchery.

Mary found the king playing cards with De Longueville. There was a roomful of courtiers, and as she entered she was the target for every eye, but she was on familiar ground now and did not care for the glances nor the observers, most of whom she despised. She was the princess again and full of self confidence, so she went straight to the object of her visit, the king. She had not made up her mind just what to say first, there was so much, but Henry saved her the trouble. He, of course, was in a great rage and denounced Mary's conduct as unnatural and treasonable, the latter, in Henry's mind, being a crime many times greater than the breaking of all the commandments put together in one fell, composite act. All this the king had communicated to Mary by the lips of Wolsey the evening before, and Mary had received it with a silent scorn that would have withered any one but the worthy bishop of York. As I said, when Mary approached her brother he saved her the trouble of deciding where to begin by speaking first himself, and his words were of a part with his nature, violent, cruel and vulgar. He abused her and called her all the vile names in his ample vocabulary of billingsgate. The queen was present and aided and abetted with a word now and then, until Henry, with her help, at last succeeded in working himself into a towering passion and wound up by calling Mary a vile wanton in plainer terms than I like to write. This aroused all the antagonism in the girl, and there was plenty of it. She feared Henry no more than she feared me. Her eyes flashed a fire that made even the king draw back as she exclaimed: "You give me that name and expect me to remember you are my brother? There are words that make a mother hate her firstborn, and that is one. Tell me what I have done to deserve it? I expected to hear of ingratitude and disobedience and all that, but supposed you had at least some traces of brotherly feeling—for ties of blood are hard to break—even if you have of late lost all semblance to man or king."

This was hitting Henry hard, for it was beginning to be the talk in every mouth that he was leaving all the affairs of state to Wolsey and spending his time in puerile amusement. "The toward hope which at all poyntes appeared in the younge Kynge" was beginning to look, after all, like nothing more than the old time royal cold fire, made to consume but not to warm the nation.

Henry looked at Mary with the stare of a baited bull.

"If running off in male attire and stopping at inns and boarding ships with a common captain of the guard doesn't justify my accusation and stamp you what you are, I do not know what would."

Even Henry saw her innocence in her genuine surprise. She was silent for a little time, and I, standing close to her, could plainly see that this phase of the question had never before presented itself.

She hung her head for a moment and then spoke: "It may be true, as you say, that what I have done will lose me my fair name—I had never thought of it in that light—but it is also true that I am innocent and have done no wrong. You may not believe me, but you can ask Master Brandon"—here the king gave a great laugh, and of course the courtiers joined in.

"It is all very well for you to laugh, but Master Brandon would not tell you a lie for your crown." Gods! I could have fallen on my knees to a faith like that. "What I tell you is true. I trusted him so completely that the fear of dishonor at his hands never suggested itself to me. I knew he would care for and respect me. I trusted him, and my trust was not misplaced. Of how many of these creatures who laugh when the king laughs could I say as much?" And Henry knew she spoke the truth, both concerning herself and the courtiers.

With downcast eyes she continued: "I suppose, after all, you are partly right in regard to me, for it was his honor that saved me, not my own, and if I am not what you called me I have Master Brandon to thank—not myself."

"We will thank him publicly on Tower hill day after tomorrow at noon," said the king, with his accustomed delicacy, breaking the news of Brandon's sentence as abruptly as possible.

With a look of terror in her eyes Mary screamed: "What! Charles Brandon—Tower hill?—You are going to kill him?"

"I think we will," responded Henry. "It usually has that effect, to separate the head from the body and quarter the remains to decorate the four gates. We will take you up to London in a day or two and let you see his beautiful head on the bridge."

"Behead—quarter—bridge! Lord Jesu!" She could not grasp the thought. She tried to speak, but the words would not come. In a moment she became more coherent, and the words rolled from her lips as a mighty flood tide pours back through the arches of London bridge.

"You shall not kill him. He is blameless. You do not know. Drive these gawking fools out of the room, and I will tell you all." The king ordered the room cleared of everybody but Wolsey, Jane and myself, who remained at Mary's request. When all were gone, the princess continued: "Brother, this man is in no way to blame. It is all my fault—my fault that he loves me, my fault that he tried to run away to New Spain with me. It may be that I have done wrong and that my conduct has been unmaidenly, but I could not help it. From the first time I ever saw him in the lists with you at Windsor there was a gnawing hunger in my heart beyond my control. I supposed of course that day he would contrive some way to be presented to me"—

"You did?"

"Yes, but he made no effort at all, and when we met he treated me as if I were an ordinary girl."

"He did?"

"Yes."

"Horrible."

Mary was too intent on her story to heed the sarcasm, and continued: "That made me all the more interested in him, since it showed that he was different from the wretches who beset you and me with their flattery, and I soon began to seek him on every occasion. This is an unmaidenly history I am giving, I know, but it is the truth and must be told. I was satisfied at first if I could only be in the same room with him and see his face and hear his voice. The very air he breathed was like an elixir for me. I made every excuse to have him near me. I asked him to my parlor—you know about that—and—and did all I could to be with him. At first he was gentle and kind, but soon, I think, he saw the dawning danger in both our hearts, as I, too, saw it, and he avoided me in every way he could, knowing the trouble it held for us both. Oh, he was the wiser! And to think to what I have brought him. Brother, let me die for him—I who alone am to blame. Take my life and spare him—spare him! He was the wiser, but I doubt if all the wisdom in the world could have saved us. He almost insulted me once in the park—told me to leave—when it hurt him more than me, I am now sure, but he did it to keep matters from growing worse between us. I tried to remember the affront, but could not, and had he struck me I believe I should have gone back to him sooner or later. Oh, it was all my fault! I would not let him save himself. So strong was my feeling that I could bear his silence no longer, and one day I went to him in your bedchamber anteroom and fairly thrust myself and my love upon him. Then, after he was liberated from Newgate, I could not induce him to come to me, so I went to him and begged for his love. Then I coaxed him into taking me to New Spain and would listen to no excuse and hear no reason. Now lives there another man who would have taken so much coaxing?"

"No, by heaven, your majesty!" said Wolsey, who really had a kindly feeling for Brandon and would gladly save his life if by so doing he would not interfere with any of his own plans and interests. Wolsey's heart was naturally kind when it cost him nothing, and much has been related of him which, to say the least, tells a great deal more than the truth. Ingratitude always recoils upon the ingrate, and Henry's loss was greater than Wolsey's when Wolsey fell.

[To be Continued.]

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus of ten before medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Thursday, May 14.
Sun rises—4:25; sets—6:57.
Moon rises—9:43 a. m.
High water—1 a. m.; 1:30 p. m.

An area of high pressure of considerable magnitude continues to cover the northeastern states, while a second high is moving slowly southeasterly over the middle Rocky mountain region. No changes of importance have occurred in eastern districts. The weather in New England will be generally fair and moderately warm weather will continue.

—In Lynn, Mass., 24,000,000 pairs of shoes were made last year; in Brockton, 17,000,000 pairs, and in Haverhill 12,000 pairs. These three cities, therefore, turned out enough shoes to supply one pair for two-thirds of the population of the country.

THE SMART BOY

The boy must be strong before he can be smart. The sick boy has his body to attend to first, even though his brain goes a-begging.

Scott's Emulsion gives strong healthy bodies to little boys and girls. By good feeding and gentle stimulation it paves the way for bright and happy minds.

Scott's Emulsion, then the strength of good health, then the bright developing mind—that is often the progress of a weak child.

Little daily doses of Scott's Emulsion give strength to weak children and fatten the thin ones.

It is peculiarly adapted to children's needs.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

LICENSE FORCES WIN

All New Hampshire Cities In Favor of Saloons

POLICY OF HALF A CENTURY

Overturned by the Vote on Adoption of New Liquor Law—Majority of Towns For No License, but Cities Overcame the Margin

Manchester, N. H., May 13.—With weather conditions which could not have been bettered for an election, the cities and towns of New Hampshire voted on the question of license. The result is that all the cities of the state have taken their places in the license column. Of the towns a large majority are no-license, returns thus far received showing that of 186 heard from 59 are for license and 127 for no-license.

Because this was the first opportunity given for such a vote in half a century, prohibition having been the law of the state since the '50's, very general interest has been felt in the outcome. Campaigning on the question has not been energetic, however, although the no-license leaders have held a number of public meetings. As a rule the license men have contented themselves with preparations to get out the vote, their use of teams, for instance, in many places being as active as at a state or general election. In few places did the fight take on bitterness, and in spite of the good weather the vote was light, as a whole.

The 11 cities of the state gave a majority of more than 11,000 for license. The totals were: Yes, 18,758; no, 7524. Manchester headed the list with a majority of 4123, Portsmouth coming next with 1565. Nashua gave 1314 and Dover 1035. The other majorities fell below 1000, Keene settling the result by the narrow margin of 80 votes and Franklin going for license by 92. Concord, where one of the liveliest fights of the day was made, voted license by 793. Berlin gave a majority of 374, Somersworth of 635, Laconia of 585 and Rochester of 438.

Of the towns reporting the 59 which went for license divided their vote thus: Yes, 9755; no, 6168. The 127 no-license towns stood: Yes, 5721; no, 11,533. With the city figures added the total is: Yes, 34,234; no, 25,225, or a majority in the state, so far as heard from, of 9009.

As a whole the towns were slightly for no-license, but the big license majorities in the cities overcame this margin by about 9000 votes.

Thirty-seven towns and places are missing from this computation, but they are nearly all small and remote, and while the great majority of them are undoubtedly no-license, their returns when received will not make a great difference in the total for the state.

Among its other results the election is likely to have more or less litigation. Recounts have been demanded at Wolfborough, where the vote as announced gave license two majority, and in some smaller towns. Sharon has a license vote, license and no-license men getting nine votes apiece into the box.

One of the provisions of the law permits a place voting license place to raise its classification, that is, to put a higher tax on liquor sellers of the various classes than is imposed by the state law, which sets the figure according to population. In some instances the towns voted to impose the maximum fees, the same as levied by Manchester, the largest city in the state. In others they have postponed action upon the matter until a subsequent meeting of the voters.

Stratham not only voted no license, but petitioned the state board of license commissioners not to permit the sale of liquors in any hotel in the town. Under the law this board is given great power in the matter of hotels, clubs, etc., and can issue a license to them, no matter how the town or city may have voted. In one or two other cases towns have voted to leave the fixing of all license fees to this board, which has power to set the figure for hotels, clubs, etc.

This function of the board was designed to meet the problem of the summer hotels, of which there are scores in the state. Carroll, which has some of the biggest and finest houses in the mountain region, voted license, but Bethlehem and most of the other towns of the same character in that region declared for no-license.

At a meeting of the Textile council the committee on investigation into the claims of cotton mill strikers needing aid was abolished. Hereafter the executive council will attend to the matter itself. The committee was not criticised, but it is said that it has allowed itself to be imposed on by unworthy applicants for assistance.

On the Diamond

At Boston—National—St. Louis, 7; Boston, 6.
At Booklyn—National—Chicago, 6; Brooklyn, 3.
At New York—National—Cincinnati, 4; New York, 1.
At Philadelphia—National—Pittsburg, 8; Philadelphia, 5.
At Cleveland—American—Boston, 10; Cleveland, 5.
At Detroit—American—Detroit, 8; New York, 4.
At St. Louis—American—St. Louis, 13; Washington, 2.
At Chicago—American—Chicago, 8; Philadelphia, 2.
At Concord—Concord, 6; Lowell, 2.
At Lawrence—Lawrence, 13; Fall River, 6.
At Brockton—Brockton, 7; Haverhill, 2.
At Nashua—Nashua, 4; Manchester, 3.

900 DROPS

CASTORIA

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS & CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna +
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed +
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda +
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES—35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

FLOWERS

AT VERY LOWEST PRICES.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works, Quincy Point.

FUNERAL DESIGNS A SPECIALTY.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy.

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

King Arthur Flour.

Sold in Quincy by

L. M. FRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

W. G. CHUBBUCK
Furniture and Piano Mover

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

lp-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

SMOKE THE

COVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

JAMES F. BURKE,
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.

Justice of the Peace. Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building, June 5. tf

FRANK F. CRANE,
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,

Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass Aug. 17.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

On and after Oct. 19, 1902, trains will run as follows:

[Subject to change without notice.]

TO BOSTON. Leave Quincy.	Stops at	Arrive Boston.	FROM BOSTON. Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy.
r *5 19	abcdefghi	5 47	*5 50	ihgfedcba	6 19 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 26	ad	7 45	8 28	cba	8 49 r
r 7 42	abc	8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 7 54	abcde	8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 8 13	a	8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
r 8 26	abd	8 45	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 8 46	abc	9 05	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	12 58	cba	1 19 r
r 9 42	abc	10 02	1 28	cba	1 49 r
r 10 12	abc	10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
r 10 42	abc	11 02	2 2	cba	2 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
r 12 12	abc	12 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
r 1 42	abc	2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 4 12	abc	4 32	4 50	edcba	5 16 r
r 3 12	abc	3 32	5 15	dba	5 36 r
r 3 42	abc	4 02	5 28	a	5 45 r
r 4 12	abc	4 32	5 4[illegible]	edcba	6 06 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 58	cba	6 19 r
r 5 29	abcdefghi	5 57	6 15	da	6 36 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 39	abcdefghi	8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 2[illegible]	fedcba	10 53 r
r 9 34	abcdefghi	10 02	10 [illegible]	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
r 10 08	abcdef	10 32	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

r 7 42	abc	8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 8 42	abc	9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 46 r
9 33	a	9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 46 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 43 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 28	cba	5 49 r
r 6 03	abcdefghi	6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	8 43	(ex.)	9 00
r 10 18	abcdef	10 42	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r

* The letters in the same line as the figure stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a. Wollaston,
b, Norfolk Downs,
c, Atlantic,
d, Neponset,
e, Pope's Hill.
f, Harrison Square.
g, Savin Hill.
h, Crescent Avenue.
i, South Boston.
r, Quincy Adams.

STORIA
ants and Children.
Kind You Have ays Bought the ture
In Use
For Over hirty Years
STORIA
NTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

ERS RICES.
NHOUSES.
bre River Works,
t.
SPECIALTY.
REEN, Proprietor.

MES F. BURKE.
ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
tf

ANK F. CRANE,
REAL ESTATE,
TIONEER and APPRAISER,
Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass

York, New Haven
d Hartford R. R.

after Oct. 19, 1902, trains will run bject to change without notice.]

BOSTON.		FROM BOSTON.
Ops Arrive at	Boston	Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy.
bcdefghi	5 47	*5 50	ihgfedcba	c 19 r
bc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
bc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
bc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
bc	7 45	8 28	cba	8 49 r
bc	8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
bcde	8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
bc	8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
bcd	8 45	11 28	cba	11 49 r
bc	9 05	12 28	cba	12 49 r
bc	9 32	12 58	cba	1 19 r
bc	10 02	1 28	cba	1 49 r
bc	10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
bc	11 02	2 2	cba	2 49 r
bc	11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
bc	12 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
bc	1 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
bc	2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
bc	2 32	4 50	edcba	5 16 r
bc	3 32	5 15	dba	5 36 r
bc	4 02	5 28	a	5 45 r
bc	4 32	5 4	edcba	6 06 r
bc	5 32	5 58	cba	6 19 r
bcdefghi	5 57	6 15	da	6 36 r
bc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
bc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
bc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
bcdefghi	8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
bcdef	8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
bc	9 32	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r
bcdefghi	10 02	10 [illegible]	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
bcdef	10 32	11 28	cba	11 49 r
bc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

bc	8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
bc	9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
bc	9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 46 r
a	9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
bcdefghi	11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 46 r
bc	1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 46 r
bcdefghi	4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
bc	5 32	5 28	cba	5 46 r
bcdefghi	6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
bc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
bcdef	8 32	8 43	(ex.)	9 00
bcdef	10 42	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r

letters in the same line as the figure different stations and indicate that p as follows:

ston, f, Harrison Square.
lk Downs, g, Savin Hill.
ic, h, Crescent Avenue.
set, i, South Boston.
s Hill. r, Quincy Adams.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 113. QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY, MAY 14, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. 8, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. 1p-2mos.

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

3rd off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy

Jan. 7. tf

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

FRANK F. CRANE.

REAL ESTATE,

AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,

Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass

Aug. 17.

JAMES F. BURKE.

REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,

MORTGAGES.

Justice of the Peace. Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building,

June 5. tf

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE

HAS OPENED AN

Employment Office

At 1663 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.

Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

W. G. CHUBBUCK

Furniture and Piano Mover,

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.

Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Blocs; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

1p-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.

1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.

2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.

3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.

Plumbing and Heating Co.,

25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.

Telephone Connection.

April 24 1-tf--p-1w

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

ALL GOODS WILL BE DELIVERED FREE AT RESIDENCES IN QUINCY.

STRAW MATTINGS

FOR SUMMER HOUSES

Our new importation includes all grades from China and Japan, many patterns of which are exclusive. Always cool, cleanly, and sanitary.

RUGS

Royal Wilton, Saxony Axminster, Seamless, and other Axminster and Brussels rugs, in sizes 9 x 12, 8.3 x 10.6, and 6 x 9.

Hundreds of small rugs—Smyrnas, Wiltons, Axminsters, Japanese, etc., etc., at exceptionally low prices.

RUGS

Heavy Brussels Art Squares, many of them in Oriental designs and all reversible, sizes 7.6 x 9, 9 x 9, 9 x 10.6, and 9 x 12; price about $1.00 per square yard.

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS COMPANY

Pray Building 658 Washington St. Opp. Boylston St.

BOSTON

Represented in Quincy by Mr. Otho A. Hayward; in Wollaston by Mr. J. W. Wellington.

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder,

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75

Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25

Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,

In a variety of Styles and Prices.

Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.

These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.

C. S. HUBBARD,

City Square, Quincy.

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON

Quincy, April 23. tf

FLOWERS

AT VERY LOWEST PRICES.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES,

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works,

Quincy Point.

FUNERAL DESIGNS A SPECIALTY.

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy

TELEGRAPHIC,

3 O'CLOCK.

For Latest News See Inside Pages.

POWER OF FIRST CLASS

President Talks of Our Greatness on the Pacific

EXTENSION OF INFLUENCE

Even Greater Than Expansion of Our Domain—Surest Way to Secure Peace Is to Show That We Are Not Afraid of War—For Larger Navy

San Francisco, May 14.—At the Mechanics pavilion President Roosevelt last night made the most important speech he has delivered since he left St. Louis. His subject, "Expansion and trade development and protection of the country's newly acquired possessions in the Pacific," together with the advocacy of a greater navy, was one that made his discourse of particular interest to the Californians and he aroused his auditors to a high pitch of enthusiasm. It was a mighty gathering that listened to the president. He said:

Before I saw the Pacific slope I was an expansionist, and after having seen it I fail to understand how any man confident of his country's greatness and glad that his country should challenge with proud confidence our mighty future, can be anything but an expansionist. In the century that is opening, the commerce and the progress of the Pacific will be factors of incalculable moment in the history of the world.

In our day, the greatest of all the oceans, of all the seas, and the last to be used on a large scale by civilized man, bids fair to become the first in point of importance. Our mighty republic has stretched across the Pacific and now in California, Oregon and Washington, in Alaska and Hawaii and the Philippines, holds an extent of coastline which makes it of necessity a power of the first class on the Pacific.

The extension in the area of our domain has been immense, the extension in the area of our influence even greater. America's geographical position on the Pacific is such as to insure our peaceful domination of its waters in the future if only we grasp with sufficient resolution the advantages of these possessions. We are taking long strides in this direction. Witness the cables we are laying and the great steamship lines we are starting, steamship lines some of whose vessels are larger than any freight carriers the world has yet seen. We have taken the first steps toward digging an isthmian canal, to be under our own control, a canal which will make our Atlantic and Pacific coast lines, to all intent and purpose, continuous, and will add immensely alike to our commercial and our military and naval strength. The inevitable march of events gave us the control of the Philippines at a time so opportune that it may without irreverance held providential. Unless we show ourselves weak, unless we show ourselves degenerate sons of the sires from whose loins we sprang, we must go on with the work we have begun.

I earnestly hope that this work will always be peaceful in character. We infinitely desire peace and the surest way to obtain it is to show that we are not afraid of war. We should deal in a spirit of fairness and justice with all weaker nations; we should show to the strongest that we are able to maintain our rights. Such showing cannot be made to bluster, for bluster merely invites contempt. Let us speak courteously, deal fairly and keep ourselves armed and ready. If we do these things we can count on the peace that comes only to the just men armed, to the just man who neither fears nor inflicts wrong.

We must keep on building and maintaining a thoroughly efficient navy, with plenty of the best and most formidable ships, with an ample supply of officers and of men, and with these officers and men trained in the most thorough way to the best possible performance of their duty. Only thus can we assure our position in the world at large and in particular our position here on the Pacific.

It behooves all men of lofty souls who are proud to belong to a mighty nation to see to it that we fit ourselves to take and keep a great position in the world, for our proper place is with the expanding nations and the nations that dare to be great; that accept with confidence a place of leadership in the world. I am proud that it has been granted me to be a citizen in a nation of such glorious opportunities and with the wisdom and hardihood and the courage to rise to the levels of its opportunities.

New Haven Strike May Spread

New Haven, May 14.—On account of the teamsters' strike manufacturing concerns are in distress for want of coal, and some may have to close. To add to the complexity of the situation, the stationary engineers threaten to strike rather than handle coal delivered by non-union team drivers.

GROCERS' MEETING.

Many Towns Represented at Banquet of Old Colony Asso.

The May meeting of the Old Colony Grocers and Provision Dealers Association was held at Hotel Greenleaf at Quincy on Wednesday evening, the following gentlemen being in attendance.

George H. Wilson, Quincy.
C. H. Hobart, South Braintree.
George T. Wild, Holbrook.
A. W. Bartlett, North Weymouth.
William O. Collyer, Weymouth.
Gordon Willis, South Weymouth.
A. O. Bridgham, South Braintree.
H. W. Mansfield, Braintree.
Fred F. Green, Quincy.
F. S. Chute, Rockland.
W. F. Coughlin, Whitman.
Josephus Sampson, Braintree,
Charles R. Cox, Whitman.
J. A. Radcliffe, Rockland.
C. L. Keon, North Abington.
A. T. Faunce, North Abington.
John W. Nash, Quincy.
E. J. Patcher, South Weymouth.
Osborne Rogers, Quincy.
Frank F. Prescott.

A full course dinner was served in the dining room of the hotel at 8 P. M. including soup, escalloped oysters, cold meats, salads, ice cream, strawberries, cake, etc.

A business meeting followed in the hotel parlors, but there was little of public interest

An Uneventful Sail

Newport, R. I., May 14.—The sail of the Reliance from Bristol to Newport through lower Narragansett bay was uneventful. The one thing which savored of interest was the cracking breeze blowing from the southwest, causing something of a sea in the lower bay from the starting point down to Newport.

Strike Closes Rubber Factory

New Haven, May 14.—A strike of 110 girls and 25 men employed at the Seamless Rubber company's factory has led to the closing of the factory. About 250 hands are thrown out of work. The strike was to back up a request for the discharge of a new foreman and the reinstatement of the former one.

Adder Up to the Standard

Newport, R. I., May 14.—After the final acceptance trial of the submarine torpedo boat Adder was held Lieutenant Pinney, who was in command of the boat, said the Adder met all requirements and everything worked well. He feels sure that in her the government has a reliable boat.

Forest Fires In New Hampshire

Littleton, N. H., May 14.—More than 200 men are fighting forest fires in this section. At Forest lake a dangerous fire is raging, while another along Gale river threatens Bethlehem Junction and Twin Mountain property. Another fire at Partridge lake threatens many summer residences.

Secretary of War the Real Head

Washington, May 14.—Friction between the war and navy departments may result from the activity of the general board, of which Admiral Dewey is president, in preparing plans for the defense of Manila, the new navay stations at Bahia Honda and Guantanamo and other naval property. According to the law the secretary of war "is charged with all matters relating to the national defense and sea coast fortifications."

Threats Against Bulgarian Crown

Sofia, May 14.—An anonymous appeal to Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria is being circulated clandestinely. It charges the prince with leading Bulgaria to the loss of its autonomy by becoming the tool of the Austro-Russian alliance, and warns him to embrace the national cause and drive the traitors from power before cries against the crown are heard.

Property Goes to Own Wife

London, May 14.—The chancery court has ordered the cancellation of the deed by which H. S. H. Cavendish, the explorer, provided that his property should go to Mrs. Strutt, wife of Major Strutt, and her children, to the exclusion of the plaintiff's own wife, who was Isabel Jay, formerly leading woman of the Savoy theatre.

Preparing to Cross the Pond

Gourock, Scotland, May 14.—It is expected that the dismantling and refitting of the two Shamrocks will be accomplished in record time. The sails and spars for the ocean rigs are practically ready. The date upon which the yachts will start for the United States has been provisionally fixed for May 30.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Ezra T. Gilliland, an inventor, to whom many of the improvements of the American Bell telephone are due, died at New York. He was born at Cuba, N. Y., 56 years ago.

Charges against Constance S. Titus, the champion amateur oarsman, were withdrawn at a meeting at New York of delegates from the Union and Atlanta Boat clubs, and his resignation from the former organization, which had been tabled, was accepted.

Mrs. Hannah N. Barrett, thought to be the oldest person in Boston, has reached the advanced age of 103 years. She still enjoys good health.

THE PANGS OF HUNGER

Experienced by Many of the Strikers at Lowell

A PICTURE OF DESTITUTION

Revealed by a Visit to the Homes of Those Who Are Idle—Growing Discontent Adds to the Misery—Strike Benefits Delayed

Lowell, Mass., May 14.—Destitution is staring Lowell in the face. Impartial investigations can lead to no other conclusion. Mothers and children are actually crying for bread, knowing not where to get the next meal, but rather than plead for help many of them abandon their homes in quest of work. The payment of rent on property occupied by strikers is virtually suspended, by kindness of the landlords, and where it is insisted upon it results in eviction. One constable here has record of 20 evictions due to strikers' inability to pay rent, but he has secured other tenements for the families and in some instances paid the expenses of moving.

Discontent among the strikers is growing stronger with every day that adds to the misery of their homes. Much of this is provoked by the way in which the unions distribute the money which comes to Lowell, for the impression has gone abroad that the unions either hold this money back or give disproportionately large sums to the spinners in order that they may be able to stay out, because they control their departments in the mills better than any other class of operatives.

Mill agents acknowledge that they cannot run their establishments without trained mule spinners and loom fixers. Hence the conditions among the great masses, the women and children and unskilled help in general, are of less consequence to the managers of this strike than the rights of the comparatively few skilled hands who have been organized for years and paid dues which entitle them to a fair support from their treasuries during the strike.

The great majority of unskilled help organized just before or immediately after the strike, so that they have paid into the unions only the initiation fees, amounting to 10 cents a head; consequently they have not, strictly speaking, earned any strike benefit, but their reply is that they were forced out by the action of the unions and that some provision should have been made for them before such action was taken. Now these people are suffering and they know that the money which is being divided among the spinners serves to prolong the contest, every day of which might deepen the misery at their own doors.

Entering the homes of these people one is brought face to face with the effects of the strike. Realizing that to remain at home meant starvation for her four children a mother who has to work alone for the support of her family abandoned her home, the rent for which she could not pay, and secured a practically abandoned basement where she left her young children in charge of a strange woman. Then she went away 80 miles from home to earn a few dollars a week and she is sending home what she can spare for the household in the basement, which is unfit for habitation.

Not a morsel of food remained Tuesday evening in a home of wife and five children, who had been starving all day. Both man and wife joined the Weavers' union the week after the strike. After waiting three weeks $2 were received from the union, and subsequently the family has received $4 in cash and $1.20 worth of groceries from the union, and this has been the sole income of that family for six weeks. Last Thursday, which was payday at the union headquarters, the woman called there for help again, but was told to return Saturday. On that day she merely was requested to leave her name and address so that her case could be looked up by the investigating committee. Monday a man called at her home to take an order, and Tuesday, when her children were crying for food, she went to the union again to see why no relief came. Then she was told that the investigating committee had been broken up and that she could have nothing before new rules had been adopted. The reason given to the Lowell press for disbanding that committee was that it was being imposed upon by people who were not entitled to help.

Thus disappointed, after begging and waiting for six days, she turned to the overseer of the poor of Lowell, but learned that she could have no help from the city because she was a striker, for which the unions have pledged support.

With a little variation in details the conditions were much the same at other homes visited. It does not come to the attention of the public that these things exist because the victims of temporary poverty have a deep aversion to being recorded as public charges, and the unions repeatedly deny that there will be suffering among the strikers.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Y. M. C. A. CONCERT.

Grand Array of Talent and a Delightful Entertainment.

One of the most pleasing and entertaining concerts given in Quincy Music hall this season was that of Wednesday evening, in aid of the building fund of Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium.

Seldom is it that such an array of talent is seen together at any one entertainment and the audience had their fill of music, and their applause of the several numbers showed that they fully appreciated it.

The talent included the combined choirs of Christ and St. Chrysostom's churches, under the direction of Mr. E. Landis Snyder; the Wollaston Glee club, W. Lester Bates, conductor; Mrs. Harriet R. Morgan, soprano; Mr. E. E. Bullock, tenor; Master John B. Findlay, soprano; Miss Nell Ames Horr, reader and Miss Gertrude M. Lufkin and Miss Mira R. Moulton accompanists.

The program opened with two piano selections—"Berceuse" and "The chase," by Miss Lufkin, followed by the combined choirs, who sang "Sunset" and "When Allen-A-Dale Went A-Hunting." Miss Horr gave a reading, "For the Crown of Victory," and later in the evening, "A study of Human Nature."

Mrs. Morgan delighted the audience with "The Rosary," "An Open Secret," and "Hearts Delight." Mr. Bullock who has often been heard in Quincy, and who it is always a pleasure to hear, sang "I dare to Love Thee" and "Come to me, Sweetheart." Master Findlay, whose youthful wonderful soprano voice has lost none of its sweetness, sang "The Holy City" and "Spring Song."

The Wollaston Glee club made a decided hit in "Knocked 'em in the old Kent Road," "Bedouin Song" and in "Sanctus," with solo by Mr. Bullock.

The closing number on the program was "Good Night, Farewell," by the combined choirs, assisted by Mrs. Morgan and Herbert Y. Follett.

There was not a poor number on the program and although it was two hours long there were none who would not have been glad if it had continued another hour.

EXILE IN CUSTODY

Once a Leader In Boston Business, Political and Social Circles

New York, May 14.—Moody Merrill, a former Boston lawyer, and once Republican candidate for mayor of that city, was arrested here on a charge of grand larceny and was held for examination on Friday. The arrest was made at the request of the Boston police, the specific charge being the larceny of $19,000, said to have been held by him in trust, for which offense he was indicted in Boston on Jan. 23, 1893.

Boston, May 13.—Moody Merrill has been an exile from Boston for 10 years. Here he once had a high reputation in business, politics and society. He left suddenly one day and the charges made at the time created no little stir. According to the police there is an indictment in five counts alleging the misappropriation of about $60,000 in trust funds. At the time he left it was alleged that the total amount of Merrill's financial irregularities was about $300,000, but only one specific charge was referred to the grand jury. He was widely known as a promoter, railway magnate and speculator. For years he was at the head of the Highland street railway. In 1890 he ran for mayor on the Republican ticket against Mayor Mathews.

Travelers Had Close Call

New Haven, May 14.—The occupants of a sleeping car attached to the New York express which reached here at 2 o'clock this morning from New York had a narrow escape while the train was standing in front of the railroad station. There was a gas explosion in the car and in a moment the entire car was wrapped in flames. The occupants, who barely escaped with their lives, were forced to fly into the station in their night clothing. Not a passenger saved a single article belonging to them. The cause of the explosion is unknown. The car was destroyed.

Prisoners Wrongfully Shot

Washington, May 14.—General Davis, commanding in the Philippines, has disapproved the findings in the court martial case which acquitted Lieutenant Lee, tried for manslaughter. Lee had charge of a number of prisoners in Mindanao and charged a corporal to shoot any prisoners who attempted to escape. Two natives were killed and on trial Lee was justified by the court. General Davis says that Lee exceeded his authority in ordering the prisoners shot.

—It is said that President Harper of the University of Chicago asserts that infidelity is spreading in all the American colleges. If this is to be the result of the education of the age, it would be far better to go back to the old red school house system.—Athol Chronicle.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of

THOMAS GRIGNON,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate by Lodina Alice Grignon of Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of June, A. D. 1903, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this thirteenth day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

May 14. 3t-14-21-28

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Chapter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D.,
Inspector of Milk.

April 15. 30t

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK
A SPECIALTY.
Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.

Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

Address, 1262 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.

Quincy, April 10. tflp

SPILLER'S GOLDEN COUGH BALSAM
THE KIND THAT CURES

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Inflammation of the Lungs, Lagrippe and Whooping Cough. It soothes the Cough of Consumption, and is excellent for all Lung Troubles. Try it. For sale by Weeks & Hill, Quincy, Mass. Price 25 cents.

If goods fail to give satisfaction, money refunded.

King Arthur Flour
MAKES THE
BEST BREAD.
SOLD BY
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

Silk Waists.
23

Peau De Soie, Taffeta and Crepe De Chene Waists, in Pink, Light Blue, Old Rose, Black, White, Rosida and Pearl Grey.

PRICES:

$2.98 to $5.98.

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.

Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.

Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

FREDERICK H. LORD,
TEACHER OF BANJO,
Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.
TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.
118 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 7. tf

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.

A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	63	46	50	61	55
Monday,	76	58	58	68	61
Tuesday,	74	64	65	67	62
Wednesday,	79	54	70	60	76
Thursday,	73	64	66	73	64
Friday,	—	65	58	69	90
Saturday,	—	64	75	68	65

New Advertisements Today.

Wanted—Girl for housework.
Probate Notice.
To Let—Houses.
Rooms to let.
Wanted—Few Good Quarrymen.

Good Afternoon

Col. A. A. Pope believes the bicycle can be restored to favor by advertising, big advertising, bigger advertising. To which the newspapers say amen.

The Luce joint caucus bill passed the Senate on Wednesday 21 to 4, and goes to the House for concurrence in amendments. As it now stands it is operative in all cities and permissive in towns.

Representative Fallon and Freeman were on opposite sides on the firemen's 12-hour bill which was enacted by the House on Wednesday, the former being paired in favor and the latter opposed. While the bill is only applicable to cities of 40,000 Quincy may have that population in 1910.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ The eighth Atlanta conference will assemble May 26 at Atlanta university, Atlanta, Ga. The subject for consideration will be "The Negro Church," which will include a study of the moral and religious condition of the Negroes. Reports are being received from nearly all the states of the Union—from bishop and general officers, and from men of affairs in all sections. The conference will be addressed by the Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden, the eminent president of the American Missionary association; Professor Kelly Miller of Howard university, a careful student; Mrs. Mary Church Terrell, former president of the National Association of Colored Women's clubs, and the Rev. C. B. Wilmer, rector of St. Luke's church, Atlanta. The Episcopal bishop of Georgia and many of the officers of other churches are expected to be present.—New Bedford Standard.

Cooking Demonstation.

The class in cookery of the Quincy Mansion school gave a dinner to ten at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Wade of Atlantic, Friday, May 8. The guests were Dr. and Mrs. Willard, Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Marceau, Miss Wood, Miss Bray, Miss Monroe. The young ladies did themselves and teacher great credit, both in the cooking and serving of the dinner. The menu was:

Cream of Asparagus, Bread Sticks
Olives Radishes
Boiled Mutton, Mint Sauce
Mashed Potatoes String Beans
Rhubarb Sauce.
Lettuce Salad Cheese Sticks
Apple Pie
Grape Velvet Sherbet Sponge Cake
Coffee

Eclipses In 1903.

During this year two eclipses have already occurred, an annular eclipse of the sun on March 28, visible over eastern Asia and the extreme northwest of America, and a partial eclipse of the moon on April 11. There are two others scheduled for the fall, says the New York Commercial Advertiser, a total eclipse of the sun on Sept. 20, visible chiefly in the antarctic regions, and a partial eclipse of the moon on Oct. 6.

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, PRES.

April 9-2m 11-2m

SCHOOL REPORT.

Record of Attendance of the Quincy Public Schools.

Superintendent Parlin reports a daily average attendance of over 4723 at the Quincy public schools for the four weeks ending May 1. The percentage of daily attendence was 93 plus, the Willard leading with the High second.

The Gridley Bryant had the fewest tardinesses with the John Hancock second.

Nine of the twelve schools report cases of truancy, 18 in all, but there were none at the Coddington, Cranch or Lincoln.

The full report:

	Whole number at Date	Average Daily Attendance.	Per cent. of Daily Attendan ce.	Tardiness.	Dismissl.	Truants.
High.	449	421.8	94.1	43	34	2
Adams,	432	393.6	92.1	35	28	1
Coddington,	418	386 7	92.5	8	22	0
Cranch,	304	285.9	93.8	9	25	0
Gridley Bryant,	318	295.2	93.7	4	12	1
John Hancock,	345	320.9	93.3	7	12	2
Lincoln,	443	406.7	93.6	21	23	0
Mass. Fields,	370	304.2	92.5	17	47	1
Quincy,	425	384.6	89.7	28	27	2
Washington,	368	333.1	93.0	12	16	3
Willard,	880	824.1	95.1	18	12	5
Wollaston,	363	327.9	92.6	18	60	1
	5115	4723.7	93.2	220	318	18

Conflagration at Dedham.

Fire in the grain store of John H. Shine at Dedham, Wednesday afternoon threatened the business section of the town, and aid was summoned from Hyde Park. The flying sparks swept over the entire square bounded by Bryant, High and Washington streets and Eastern avenue. A large wooden block owned by the Dedham Associates was on fire several times, but the damage was slight. Other buildings scorched were Hotel Reunion, Eastern avenue; several dwelling houses owned by G. F. Williams, Washington street; residence of Mrs. John Kennedy, Bryant street; residence of C. M. Ward, High street, and of John Collins, D. J. McGee, T. J. Mack, J. J. Breenan, Eliza Cahill and Mrs. C. M. Cahill, and a dwelling house owned by the McLain estate on Washington street. The loss was about $10,000.

Universalist Social.

A supper and entertainment was held in the vestry of the Universalist church, Wednesday evening. The supper, which was served at 6.30, including salads of all kinds, baked beans, pies, cake, tea and coffee. A large number were present at the supper making necessary the setting of a second table.

At eight o'clock, Rev. M. C. Ward, pastor of the church, opened the entertainment by giving the history of the Wayside Inn at Sudbury, and telling of its historical visitors. Mr. Alfred Brown read some selections from the Tales of the Wayside Inn, by Tennyson.

Mr. Savage favored the audience with a violin selection, "The Holy City," and responded to an encore. Mr. C. W. Haynes of Boston, tenor soloist, rendered several selections which were received with applause. Miss Ewell of Norfolk Downs gave a soprano selection, and Mrs. Furnald delighted the audience with several dialect readings.

It was a pleasing success for the ladies of the church under whose auspices the entertainment and supper were given.

Sent to Reformatory.

Ellen Crocker, the woman arrested Tuesday night by Officer Goodhue, for begging and larceny, was taken to Boston Wednesday by Inspector McKay, but he was unable to find out much about her, only that she had been doing the begging business for some time. She had been under police surveilence for some time but she had always been able to keep out of their clutches. The court sent her to the Woman's reformatory for a year.

Lost Child.

The lost child call was sounded on the fire alarm circuit at 8 o'clock last night to summon volunteers to search for Etta Brown, a little tot who had strayed from her home in South Quincy. The child was found almost before the call had done sounding.

TODAY'S COURT.

George D. Newcomb and Daniel Sands were fined $10 each for violation of the milk laws at Braintree.

George W. Fisher was arraigned for larceny of a bicycle at Quincy. Case continued until Friday.

The continued case of Ellen Crocker for larceny at Quincy was called, and she was sent to the woman's prison at Sherborn for one year.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus of ten before medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

MUST MARRY.

Sentence Imposed in the Rooster Case.

Proved Innocent But Found Gui'ty.

It Was a Mock Trial and a Decided Hit.

The mock trial advertised in the Ledger for the past few days, came off Wednesday evening in the hall of the Water Street Presbyterian church. W. E. Johnson was arraigned for the larceny of a rooster, the property of one Charles A. McKinnon, and pleaded not guilty.

If the clerk was honest in the names he called, seldom if ever did eleven such distinguished men sit on a jury as those who heard this case. Among the number were John L. Sullivan and J. P. Morgan.

The witnesses who were called by both sides testified to everything and anything except the alleged larceny. One man who gave his name as Henry Faxon, and his business real estate and politics, testified that Mayor Bryant was the best executive Quincy ever had; that the tax rate for Quincy was altogether too low; that one city needed one more constable; that he had been in the Legislature and that his seat in that body was now held by Pete Fallon; that he (Faxon) had written a law book which would be sent free to any address on receipt of one dollar and six cents for postage; that he had tried a liquor case before Judge Avery lately and lost; did not know why the prisoner had been discharged, in spite of the "little book," unless it was because the prisoner had hired a lawyer. He knew nothing about the rooster or the alleged larceny.

Another witness who gave his name as Joseph Hayden, and his business as chief of police, testified that the wires leading from the signal boxes were frequently getting tangled up. In such cases the remedy was to suspend a patrolman. On cross examination, he explained that this was done to give the box "the benefit of the doubt," as required by the spirit of the law. He said that the people at City Hall would support Bryant as often as he saw fit to run, but refused to state the reasons. Asked if it were true that a man had been arrested for being drunk in Quincy a few weeks ago, the witness replied with indignation that this was a no-license town.

Counsel for the defence tried to show that Dr. Todd had been seen in Mayor Bryant's barn some time ago with His Honor, and several of the other city officials while a cock fight was in progress. The rooster in question was one of the combatants, but the evidence failed to prove to the satisfaction of the jury that Dr. Todd had brought the rooster to the barn or had any particular interest in him, and the eleven good men and true, found the defendant guilty, whereupon Judge Robert C. Allen, with great solemnity, pronounced the sentence of the court that the defendant marry forthwith. The hall was crowded and the trial was pronounced a decided hit. The court officials and the lawyers were members of Dr. Hershey's church in Boston.

Letter Carriers.

The Letter Carriers held a smoker in Wilson's hall Wednesday evening on the occasion with delegations from Weymouth and Hingham, who have been organized into the National Association of Letter Carriers.

National President Keller of Cleveland, O., was expected to be present, also President D. L. White of Boston but on account of other engagements they were unable to attend. They sent a good representative in State Vice President Jeremiah Holland, who spoke at considerable length on matters pertaining to the Letter Carriers service.

President John A. Welsh gave a good report of the meeting of the State Association which was held on May 11 in the United States Hotel, Boston. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

Class Picnic.

Wednesday after school, Miss Ballou of the Willard school and her class of the eighth grade, held a very enjoyable picnic in the wooded park at West Quincy. Where the wild strawberries cluster and the sweetest voices were heard, the collation was spread. After a good time had been spent gathering flowers, the tired but happy teacher and scholars wended their way home. And memory and they will have parted company for aye when each dear heart ceases to glow and soften in recollection of the happy day in the woods.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

East winds.

Cooler Friday.

Quarrymen are wanted

Dr. Fred E. Jones has returned from Kentucky.

The Wollaston Yacht club open the season this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Graham of Maine are in town.

Try Richards and Macomber when you desire good painting.

The house of Frank O'Brien on Copeland street is being raised a story.

Some surveys are being made on the post office site on Washington street.

The house for Mr. W. C. Hunt on Miller Stile road is being raised today.

Mrs. Mary Mitten, of Amherst, Mass., is the guest of Mrs. Wilscher, of Beacon street.

Miss Henrietta Bates of Cohasset is visiting Miss Gertrude Hall of Newbury avenue.

The stable on the Turner estate on Revere road has been connected with the water service.

A social was held at the Baptist church Tuesday evening. Ice cream and cake was served.

The collection for the building fund of the Mission church at the services last week amounted to $182.70.

Mrs. W. B. Barr presented a daughter to her husband Wednesday morning. Both are doing well.

The Coddington nine defeated the Adams boys in the Grammar school league on Wednesday 12 to 9.

Mrs. Crane and son Harry have rented the house on Faxon road previously occupied by Councilman William Gassett and family.

Michael J. O'Hara and his sister Miss Margaret O'Hara of Newcomb place, sailed today on the New England, from Boston for Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bowman, of Intervale street, sailed today for Scotland, where they are to visit relatives and friends for a few months.

Commencing Sunday, May 17, 1903, the spring schedules will go into effect on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, when important changes will be made in train service.

Miss Eva M. Brown was one of the judges in the debate by the seniors and juniors of Reading High school on Wednesday. The subject was "Resolved, that Prohibition is preferable to High License as a means of dealing with Intemperance." The affirmative side won.

Not only did the large audience in Music Hall Wednesday evening, enjoy the splendid program, but large crowds congregated on the sidewalks in front of the hall. As the windows of the hall were lowered and the music from within was wafted on the night air, the passer-by could only yield to the temptation to stand and "listen."

If a few of the male residents of Atlantic who lay claim to the title of "gentlemen," writes a woman, would pattern after their young sons when they met women on the street, there would be more evidence of respect in their greeting. It is a little thing to do to lift the hat from the head in the presence of a woman, and any man ought to be ashamed to let his eight-year-old son show more respect for a woman by lifting his hat when he meets her on the street than the father who simply bows his head and considers he has done his duty.

—Yes, it is very comforting to learn that Miss Stone's ransom is being "regarded as an American contribution" to a Macedonian revolutionary fund.

After Dinner

To assist digestion, relieve distress after eating or drinking too heartily, to prevent constipation, take

Hood's Pills

Sold everywhere. 25 cents.

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

$3.50

For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . . At Co-operative Dining Rooms

3 Granite Street, Quincy,

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21--2m

Why not have young hair and look young? It's easily done with Ayer's Hair Vigor. Always restores color, stops falling. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to tuoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS,

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.

April 30. 1m

Spring and Summer Shoes.

The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.

The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.

GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

Are You Looking for a Home?
Would You Like to Make Some Money?

Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at

BIGELOW PARK.

The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.

SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.

May 2. tf

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.

60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN.
PHARMACIST,
1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

RICHARDS & MACOMBER,
PAINTERS and DECORATORS.

Whitewashing a Specialty. Sign Painting, Graining, Kalsomining, Glazing.

Interior and Exterior House Painting. WE EMPLOY SKILLED WORKMEN ONLY.

Drop us a postal and we will call at your residence and estimate your work.

Office and Shop, 31 SAVILLE ST.,
Bates' Block, Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, April 11. Sat., Tues., Thur. 6w

If You Have a House to Let, Advertise It in the Ledger.

ir and look young?
Ayer's Hair Vigor.
stops falling. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

RINGTIME of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of ll attention to my stock of LES.
make or makes. I carry the following:
ELAND, DAY AND FAY;
DO want and I will get it for you at Quincy, but my place continues to be the ABLE."
GILLIS,
Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.
1m mer Shoes.

season will be very much in of Oxford Ties in the latest Leather.
$1.00 to $3.50.
$1.25 to $3.50.
$1.00, $1.25.
$1.50, $2.00.
$1.25, $1.75.
c., 90c., $1.00.
Leaders.
for Men.
for Women.
JONES,
QUINCY.

Home?
e Some Money?
se Beautiful Lots at
PARK.
Accessible Tract of Land
District.
& Merrill Block,
Ledger Building,
QUINCY.
tf

ND IRON.
bottle.
HEARN.
ST, t, Quincy.

ACOMBER,
RATORS.
n Painting, Grain-
lazing.
MPLOY SKILLED WORKMEN ONLY.
ce and estimate your work.
AVILLE ST.,
y, Mass.
Sat., Tues., Thur. 6w

Let,
in the Ledger.

68

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat.

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.

Quincy, May 9. 1m

READ AND LEARN.

By reading you keep in touch with the times. By keeping in touch with the times you are ready to pick up a good thing when it comes your way. When it comes to Clothing, Hats and Furnishings, this store is the place to pick up a good thing, and at the same time keep part of your money too. We keep nothing but

RELIABLE DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE,

And will sell you at a Lower Price than you can buy the same quality for in Boston.

MEN'S SUITS, $5.89, $7.50, $8.50, $10, $12, $15, $18.

Ask for our "Special" $1.89 soft and stiff Hat.

These Hats are made to our order and are equal to any $2.50 Hat—Sold outside our Store. Call and See us.

WE GIVE GREEN TRADING STAMPS.

F. D. FELLOWS CO.,

RELIABLE ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS, HATTERS AND FURNISHERS.

Adams Building, City Square, Quincy, Mass.

Store open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings. April 2--l-th., fri., sat.-po-tf

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov, 3-tf

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7. tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. ly

ERIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.
Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass
May7. 1m

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1 ly- p-6mos.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. lp-tf

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pinel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. ly

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5
Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

Jealous Woman Killed Her Child

Petersburg, Va., May 14.—Mrs. Jaspor F. Gwaltney, 17 years old, crazed by jealousy, killed her 9-months-old infant with morphine and then attempted suicide by the same means. The attempt failed, and she is in jail awaiting the result of the coroner's inquest.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Friday, May 15.
Sun rises—4:24; sets—6:58.
Moon rises—10:27 a. m.
High water—1:45 a. m.; 2:15 p. m.

The atmospheric movements during the last two weeks have been unusually sluggish, especially east of the Rocky mountains. It will be fair and somewhat cooler in New England.

—A good many people have learned that in looking up the family tree there is danger of finding an ancestor hanged on one of the branches of it.—Somerville Journal.

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

King Arthur Flour.
THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

Worms?
Many children are troubled with worms, and treated for something else. A few doses of True's PIN WORM Elixir will expel worms if they exist, and prove a valuable tonic if there are no worms. 35c. at druggists.
Dr. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me.

Reupholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE
HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.
Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.
Call and get Prices.
C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.
Quincy, May 2.

BULLET PROOF.

Shot Himself Twice Then Gave it Up.

Had Wounds Dressed by Doctor.

Then Gave Himself Up to Police—Tells Queer Story.

Many queer cases are brought to the notice of the police in the course of a year, and the life of a policeman is one of continual surprises. Officer Boutin got one of these surprises Wednesday night, when a man approached him at South Quincy and quietly informed him that he had tried to commit suicide, that afternoon; that he did not succeed, but was sorry. He then asked where there was a long distance telephone, as he wanted to let his people know the condition he was in.

Officer Boutin saw that something was wrong with the man and he sent him to the police station. To Officer Barry the fellow said his name was William S. McDonald, and that he belonged in Kingston. That in the afternoon he had gone into the woods off Independence avenue and had fired two shots from a 12 caliber revolver into his head just above the right ear. The reason he did so, was that he was very dispondent. The nature of his trouble however he refused to disclose.

When he did not die from the effect of the shots he lacked the courage to make another trial, and after wandering about some time he went to the office of Dr. McLennan on Federal avenue who dressed the wounds. He than wandered about until he became thoroughly exhausted, when he went to Officer Boutin.

Officer Barry summoned City Physician Welch who made an examination and found two bullet wounds in McDonald's head. He probed for the bullets but was unable to find them. In the pockets of McDonald's coat was a revolver with two empty chambers and a box of cartridges.

After some further talk with the man he was put to bed and his friends in Kingston notified. He is about 27 years of age, and by occupation a bookkeeper.

Wint Gets Old Command

Washington, May 14.—General Wint has been placed in command of the department of Visayas in the Philippines, relieving General Lee, who will be given another assignment. General Wint formerly was in command of this department and has just returned from a visit to British India, where he was sent to investigate the methods employed for the treatment and prevention of surra, a disease which has proved very disastrous to the horses in the Philippines.

Says Broker Threatened Her

Chicago, May 14.—Miss Laura Stickler, a stenographer, was found unconscious upon the stone pavement of an alley in the rear of the Hotel Newport, and her condition is serious. According to her story she was taken to the hotel by a broker, who threatened her with a revolver, whereupon she jumped out of a third-story window. The broker has been arrested.

Strikers Will Run Off Stock

Berlin, N. H., May 14.—Striking employes of the Berlin Mills company and the Burgess Sulphite company have been paid off. The pulp makers voted to return to the sulphite mill and run off the stock which is in the pits, amounting to 250 tons, and to clean up the machinery. This stock would rot and cause much damage if left as at present.

Mill Hand Killed by Elevator

Salem, Mass., May 14.—Alexander Berube, aged 22, employed at the Naumkeag Steam Cotton company's No. 4 mill, was riding on a freight elevator when he fainted and fell so that his head and shoulders extended beyond the edge of the platform, being caught and crushed between the car and the floor. He died in a few minutes.

Congressman Draws Color Line

Baltimore, May 14.—William H. Jackson, Republican member of congress, announces that he will ask for the discontinuance of the postoffice at Quindocequia, to which Andrew J. Day, a negro, was recently appointed. Jackson says the postoffice is unnecessary and Day is not a proper person to hold such an office.

Religious Strife In Philippines

Rome, May 14.—Various documents received at the Vatican by every mail from the Philippine islands tend to prove that the enmity between the secular clergy and the friars in the archipelago is far from abating. The general feeling in the Vatican is unfavorable to the friars. They have, however, some very strong supporters.

The steam yacht Idalia of Eugene Tompkins, and the large schooner Bohemia, are hauled up on the marine railway on Town

THE OLD RELIABLE
ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

RECEPTION.

Given by Dr. and Mrs. Willard to Quincy Mansion Seniors.

The reception given on Wednesday evening by Dr. and Mrs. Horace M. Willard for the Senior class of the Quincy Mansion school, was one of the happiest of the many social entertainments, given during the past season at this popular school.

All the Seniors received, assisted by Dr. and Mrs. Willard, and it was a bevy of bright young faces, and pretty, gowns there being eleven in the class. Students in the other classes assisted as ushers, and in caring for the guests.

The reception was enlivened by music by an orchestra. Ices, cocoa and coffee were served in the dining room.

Dancing was enjoyed from ten until eleven in Livermore hall, which was beautifully decorated with apple blossoms and spring flowers.

Besides the out-of-town guest, there were noted the following Quincy people:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Harper, Mr. and Mrs. John O. Hall Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Warren W. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hardwick, Mr. Henry H. Faxon, Col. Edward Anderson, Mrs. Walter E. Burke, Mr. Delcevaro King, Mr. Gordon Adams, Mr. Thorpe Babcock, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Miss Alice Keith Prescott, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sibley, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Evan A. Leigh, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Estabrooks and Miss Estabrooks.

MILTON.

Milton High was defeated at base ball Wednesday by Roxbury High, by the score of 10 to 6.

A petition is being circulated among the residents of Belcher circle, asking that the circle be accepted by the town as a public park.

John Graham has moved to Milton centre, near the cemetery, of which he has recently been appointed superintendent.

J. A. Field of Milton has the honor of being at the head of the senior class at Harvard college in scholarship. He prepared for college at Milton academy and entered Harvard in 1889. He is 22 years of age.

William Barnes, George Simpson and Andrew Lanstrum have been appointed a committee to arrange for the annual outing of the Thursday Evening club.

Harry Brierley has moved to the house on Church street recently vocated by John Graham.

White House Resembling Monticello.

Ex-Representative Jefferson M. Levy of New York, who owns Jefferson's old home near Charlottesville, Va., says, according to the Pittsburg Dispatch, that the White House is getting to look more and more like Monticello. The architects who remodeled the executive mansion recently asked him if the mirrors in the salon of Monticello could be bought for the White House, and he wrote that while he did not feel like selling them he was willing they should be copied. This will be done. The mirrors in question were purchased in France by Jefferson.

War Ship to Be Used as Target.

One of the most daring experiments in naval annals in times of peace will be carried out at Brest within the next few months, says a Paris special cable to the New York Herald. This is nothing less than the firing of a shell against the turret of the new war ship Suffren, chosen as a target. The shell will be fired from a 305 millimeter (12 inch) gun of the Massena at 400 meters (1,312 feet). The shell, of course, is not explosive, the purpose of the experiment being merely to study the result of such an impact on the vessel struck.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale

TWO SCORES OF 76.

Eighty Entered in Open Golf Tournament at Wollaston.

Ideal conditions prevailed Wednesday for the open medal play in the golf tournament on the Wollaston club links, and all the prominent clubs were represented by crack players. Some record golf resulted.

The Wollaston club was represented by about 30 players and the outside entries numbered nearly 50. Three Wollaston men were among the first seven best scores, but H. Selfridge of the Vesper County club and Fay Ingalls of Oakley, headed the list with the best gross scores, both making the course in 76, and Mr. Ingalls took the net prize with 72.

The best 32 cards follow, and includes 20 Wollaston men:

Player.	Gross.	Handi-cap.	Net.
Fay Ingalls, Oakley,	76	4	72
H. Selfridge, Vesper C. C.,	76	3	73
E. C. Tarbell, Wollaston,	81	8	73
T. P. Pretto, Bellevue,	87	14	73
C. B. Cory, Wollaston,	77	3	74
M. T. Whiting, Oakley,	80	6	74
D. E. Little, Wollaston,	83	9	74
C. T. Crocker, Jr., Wollaston,	84	9	75
S. A. Shannon, Newton Centre,	90	15	75
H. M. Amsden, Wollaston,	93	18	75
L. O. Crane, Wollaston,	86	10	76
G. F. Willett, Wollaston,	81	4	77
A. J. Wellington, Oakley,	83	6	77
B. L. Pratt, Wollaston,	85	8	77
A. Harvard, Woodland,	91	14	77
C. E. Richardson, Wellington,	88	10	78
G. A. Noyes, Wollaston,	85	6	79
J. F. Morrill, Wollaston,	86	7	79
G. H. Crocker, Wollaston,	86	7	79
B. C. Wright, Wollaston,	37	8	79
R. D. Willard, Medford,	94	15	79
A. F. Wadsworth, Wollaston,	97	18	79
J. W. Parks, Wollaston,	89	9	80
Ralph Cracknell, Wollaston,	88	8	80
G. A. White, Wollaston,	91	11	80
F. B. Cutler, Wollaston,	92	12	80
J. G. Thorp, Oakley,	81	—	81
H. N. Raymond, Wellington,	90	9	81
J. A. Campbell, Wollaston,	93	12	81
J. P. Trainor, Wollaston,	93	12	81
C. H. Mathews, Bellevue,	95	14	81
R. R. Freeman, Wollaston,	86	4	82

The tournament is being continued today with a match play vs. bogey, and is favored by good weather.

Charged With Paris Murder

Glasgow, May 14.—Paul Martin, a deserter from the French army, was arrested here, charged with the murder in Paris of Madame de Brienne, a well known person, who went to that city from America and who was recently found strangled in her room.

Governor Thrown From Horse

Newark, N. J., May 14.—Governor Murphy is confined to his bed by shock and bruises. His horse stepped on a rolling stone, throwing Murphy to the roadway. The animal fell and rolled on Murphy's right leg, bruising it painfully, but breaking no bones.

BORN.

BAL[illegible]—In South Quincy, May 13, a daughter to Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Barr of Franklin street.

DIED.

SPEAR—In Quincy, [illegible] 13, Mrs. Helen M., widow of Capt Edward [illegible] Spear and Mr. John Dean, aged 71 years. [illegible] Washington street, Friday, May 15, at 2.30 P. [illegible] Funeral from late residence 446. [illegible] Relatives and friends invited.

WANTED.
WANTED—Young Men to prepare for Government Positions. Fine Openings in all Departments. Good Salaries. Rapid Promotions. Examinations soon. Particulars Free. Inter-State Cor. Inst., Cedar Rapids, Ia.
April 27. lp-1m

TO LET
IN QUINCY, MASS.,
By H. H. FAXON.
HOUSES, STORES, HALL, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES,
Land, Wharves, etc.
Buildings are in Complete Repair
Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.
House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.
Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.
Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc., No. 92 School street, $12 per month.
Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.
Stable, junction School and Franklin streets, $4 per month.
Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.
Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.
Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.
For particulars apply to
HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, May 13, 1903. 1m

TO LET.
FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.
Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

NEW STORES TO LET.
A BUILDING will be erected at once by N.G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information apply

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - - 50 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

FOUND.

FOUND—A Lady's Open Face Silver Watch. Owner may have by paying charges and notifying WILLIAM CHUBBUCK, 1535 Hancock street. Quincy, May 13-3t

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—A light running open Corning Box Buggy, cheap, in fine condition; also a rubber tired Goddard, in good repair; can be seen at 19 Pine street, Wollaston. Address E. F. WHITE, Wollaston, Mass. May 11-13t

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office.
April 28. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street.
Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE.—Yawl BRANT, 28.6 o. a., 9.0 beam, 3-0 draught, with centre board up; built by Leloise in 1898. This boat is well known along the coast as a safe and handy cruiser, is easily handled, and is in perfect condition, well found in everything needed for comfort and safety. Now at her moorings off the Wollaston Yacht Club house and ready for sea.
J. A. FENNO, 538 Hancock street.
Wollaston, May 4. tf

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve (12) rooms, with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

TO LET.

ROOMS TO LET—With or without board. Near electric cars; about five minutes' walk from depot. 212 Highland avenue, near Brook street, Wollaston. May 14-6t

TO LET—A House of eight rooms and bath, opposite Adams Academy, Johnson avenue; 16 Faxon avenue, house of 9 rooms and bath, 2 minutes from R. R. Station; also summer plastered house of 11 rooms, bath and hot water, on Great Hill, Quincy. FANNIE M. TAYLOR, 176 Federal street, Boston.
May 14. 3t

TO LET—Large, Square Room and Side Rooms. Barn for $4 per month. Apply Greenleaf street, corner Hancock street.
Quincy, May 8. tf

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy.
April 8. w. th. s. m.—tf

TO LET—A Pleasant, Sunny Room centrally located. References required. Address B., Ledger Office.
May 11. 3t

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet, 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street.
Quincy, April 21. tf

WANTED.

WANTED—A few Good Quarrymen, at the quarry of SWINGLE & FALCONER.
May 14. 3t

WANTED—A Girl for general housework. Apply at No. 2 Kent street, West Quincy.
May 14. 3t

MEN, not under 25 years, to call on old and new customers. No delivering. Position permanent to the right party. Pay weekly. [illegible]EN BROTHERS, Rochester, N. Y.
[illegible] 6w-thurs. sat. tues.

[illegible]EED—Money on first mortgages. Address Box 183 Quincy Post Office. eod tf

WA[illegible] dr[illegible]
April 16.

[illegible] lady in Quincy to have [illegible] garden. The beautiful [illegible]ation" plant which [illegible]ready seller, and a [illegible] for descriptive [illegible]ent. Summit [illegible]olori, Mass. [illegible]p. lw WANTED—E[illegible] in the house [illegible] and mysterious "Resu[illegible] never dies. Agents find it [illegible] first rate money getter. Wr[illegible] circular or send 25c. for sample [illegible] Greenhouse Agency, Box 2137, [illegible]

May 13. 1w

WANTED—Position on gentleman's [illegible] to take care of horses and grounds. Address REYNOLD ANDERSON, 26 Cranch street. Quincy, May 12 3t

WANTED—Young Man to help shipper. HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
Quincy, May 9. tf

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON.
Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

TO LET.
The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.
Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.
Two Destrable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.
Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.
Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

JOB PRINTING
AT THE

Quincy Daily Ledger.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS
and at the following places:

BOSTON—Terminal News Stand after 5.35
QUINCY—Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock St
Atwell's Periodical Store, 1 Granite St
Henry P. Kittredge, City Square
Rogers Bros., Hancock St.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St
C. F. Carlson, near Quincy depot
A. F. Hall, 128 Washington St., near Canal.
QUINCY POINT—Miss Freeman's store
Sprague & Hobart, Washington cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—P. L. Litchfield, Water St.
W. E. Nightingale 80 Water street.
O. D. Chick, 59 Liberty St.
WEST QUINCY—Coram's Periodical Store.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's news stand.
WOLLASTON PARK—C. E. Hosmer, cor. Hancock and Beach streets.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branscheid & Marten.
ATLANTIC—Branscheid & Marten.
HOUGHS NECK—Arthur Dunham at P. O.
EAST MILTON—William Clark.
EAST WEYMOUTH—George H. Hunt.
WEYMOUTH—J. R. Walsh.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—B. F. Thomas.

1903			MAY			1903
Su.	Mo.	Tu.	We.	Th.	Fr.	Sa.
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24 31	25	26	27	28	29	30

MOON'S PHASES.

First Quarter 4 2:26 a.m.
Full Moon 11 8:15 a.m.
Third Quarter 19 10:16 a.m.
New Moon 26 5:46 p.m.

SEARCH FOR CLUES

Has Not Yet Produced Anything Tangible In Sturtevant Murder Case

Medford, Mass., May 14.—Although the Medford police and State Detective Whitney's force are still searching in every direction for any clue that may lead to the detection of the murderer of Miss Nellie A. Sturtevant, who was shot down at the door of her own home one week ago last night, nothing tangible to that end has been produced. With the release of the suspect, Tomasso Lombardi, upon the positive statements of Mr. and Mrs. Sturtevant that he was not the man who killed their daughter, the police are back practically to where they started a week ago. They have the advantage of having a knowledge of many clues already investigated and will not be obliged to cover that ground again, but aside from this the end seems as far away as ever.

Prison Yells Greeted Governor

Boston, May 14.—The annual visit of the governor and council to the state prison was marked by several sensational incidents, chief among which was the protest of the prisoners at being refused permission to make appeals or complaints to the governor and his advisers. The protest, which took the form of wild, concerted yells, came just at the close of the visit when the officers had been lined up in the rotunda and an official was just about to tell the visitors how orderly the prisoners behaved. The cries lasted but a moment, but their effect was plainly noticeable upon all who heard them. During the tour of the shops one prisoner, an Armenian, made a scene by throwing himself at the governor's feet and pleading for a pardon.

Two Indictments Against Cooke

Milford, Mass., May 14.—The grand jury yesterday returned two indictments against Walter S. V. Cooke, the alleged defaulting treasurer of the Milford Co-operative bank, the first for embezzlement of $21,000 of the bank's funds and the second for forgery. Cooke was arraigned and pleaded not guilty to both counts. Cooke left Milford last February while an expert accountant was at work on the books of the bank and attempted to take his life at Boston by shooting.

Miraculous Escape From Death

Boston, May 14.—William Apochi, an Italian laborer, aged 45, plunged 10 stories down the elevator well of the big New England Mutual building and escaped without even a broken bone. He was practically uninjured by his drop, and when his companions who witnessed the accident ran to the foot of the elevator shaft, expecting to find his lifeless body, the Italian was found to be suffering only from slight contusions on the right leg and side.

Remains Protestant Episcopal

Boston, May 14.—By an overwhelming vote, the convention of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts refused to favor a change in the name of the church. The question was upon this resolution: "Resolved, that this convention desires that the name of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States of America shall be changed."

Fatal Bicycle Collision

Providence, May 14.—Nina Hardy, 12 years old, died here of concussion of the brain resulting from a bicycle collision with Ray Allen, 14 years of age. The children were riding in opposite directions on Hamilton street and in attempting to pass the girl became bewildered and ran directly into Allen's wheel, being thrown to the ground.

—There are many indications that a newspaper man is just the right sort of man to ferret out irregularities in a large department of the government.

When Knighthood Was In Flower

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By Edwin Caskoden [Charles Major]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

This story began in the Daily Ledger of Monday, March 16, and will be continued daily until completed.

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I and II.—Charles Brandon kills a duelist on the field of honor and is appointed captain of the king's guard at the English court The king's sister, Mary Tudor, quickly sets her fancy upon the gallant stranger. Brandon makes a confidant of Edwin Caskoden, master of the dance. III.—Caskoden is attentive to Lady Jane Bolingbroke, companion to the princess. In a fit of petulance Mary rebuke Brandon, then craves forgiveness. IV—Brandon teaches Mary a new dance learned in France. The young princess is shocked at first, then delighted with the sensation of Brandon's arm around her waist. Brandon declares that the girl is perfect, but the game of making love to royalty is dangerous. V.—Brandon crosses swords with the Duke of Buckingham, an unwelcome admirer of the princess. VI.—Mary, Lady Jane, Brandon and Caskoden ride to Windsor with the king. Mary shows decided partiality for Brandon's company, and on the return he is sent a day ahead of the royal party. VII—Louis XII of France asks for the hand of Mary. Brandon to sail for America to avoid Mary. She takes him to task for his indifference. Overcome by her pleadings, he makes a violent demonstration of his love. VIII.—Mary and Lady Jane go in disguise to consult a fortune teller. Brandon follows unknown to Mary. Buckingham plays the spy, and in a fight with Brandon he is wounded and two of his suit killed. IX.—Brandon in prison charged with murder. Mary to plead with the King. Buckingham against the prisoner. The king discovers a note sent by Mary to Brandon. Brandon condemned to death. The king learns that Brandon saved Mary from disgrace and orders his release. Brandon now madly in love with Mary. XI—Ambassadors of the French king come to England to court Mary for their aged sovereign The girl spurns them in a highly dramatic scene. The betrothal made by King Henry. Mary kept in ignorance of Brandon's [illegible] imprisonment. She supposed he had sailed for America. XII—Mary explains to Brandon her neglect when he lay in prison. Bitter words followed by betrothal. Brandon dismissed from court XIII.—Mary flatly refuses to wed the old French king. Brandon accuses Buckingham of having attempted to abduct Mary. King Henry angry with Brandon. XIV and XV—The kings learns of love trysts between Mary and Brandon. Brandon's life in danger. He secures passage to America Mary insists upon going along in man's disguise. XVII—Mary escapes from her chaperons during a hunt and rides to meet Brandon. Caskoden still wooing Lady Jane. XVII.—The lovers board ship for America, but Mary's disguise is unmasked, and the captain orders them ashore.

CHAPTER XVIII—[Continued.]

Henry really liked or, rather, admired Brandon, as had often been shown, but his nature was incapable of real affection. The highest point he ever reached was admiration, often quite extravagant for a time, but usually short lived, as naked admiration is apt to be. If he had affection for any one, it was for Mary. He could not but see the justice of his sister's position, but he had no intention of allowing justice in the sense of right to interfere with justice in the sense of the king's will.

"You have been playing the devil at a great rate," he said. "You have disobeyed your brother and your king, have disgraced yourself, have probably made trouble between us and France, for if Louis refuses to take you now I will cram you down his throat, and by your own story have led a good man to the block. Quite a budget of evils for one woman to open. But I have noticed that the trouble a woman can make is in proportion to her beauty, and no wonder my little sister has made so much disturbance. It is strange, though, that he should so affect you. Master Wolsey, surely there has been witchery here. He must have used it abundantly to cast such a spell over my sister." Then turning to the princess: "Was it at any time possible for him to have given you a love powder, or did he ever make any signs or passes over you?"

"Oh, no; nothing of that sort. I never ate or drank anything which he could possibly have touched. And as to signs and passes, I know he never made any. Sir Edwin, you were always present when I was with him until after we left for Bristol. Did you ever see anything of the sort?"

I answered "No," and she went on: "Besides, I do not believe much in signs and passes. No one can affect others unless he can induce them to eat or drink something in which he has placed a love powder or potion. Then, again, Master Brandon did not want me to love him, and surely would not have used such a method to gain what he could have had freely without it."

I noticed that Henry's mind had wandered from what Mary was saying and that his eyes were fixed upon me with a thoughtful, half vicious, inquiring stare that I did not like. I wondered what was coming next, but my curiosity was more than satisfied when the king asked, "So Caskoden was present at all your interviews?"

Ah! Holy Mother! I knew what was coming now and actually began to shrivel with fright. The king continued, "I suppose he helped you to escape?"

I thought my day had come, but Mary's wit was equal to the occasion. With an expression on her face of the most dovelike innocence she quickly said:

"Oh, no! Neither he nor Jane knew anything of it. We were afraid they might divulge it."

Shade of Sapphira!

A lie is a pretty good thing, too, now and then, and the man who says that word of Mary's was not a blessed lie must fight me with lance, battleax, sword and dagger till one or the other of us bites the dust in death, be he great or small.

"I am glad to learn that you knew nothing of it," said Henry, addressing me, and I was glad, too, for him to learn it, you may be sure.

Then spoke Wolsey: "If your majesty will permit I would say that I quite agree with you; there has been witchery here—witchery of the most potent kind; the witchery of lustrous eyes, of fair skin and rosy lips; the witchery of all that is sweet and intoxicating in womanhood, but Master Brandon has been the victim of this potent spell, not the user of it. One look upon your sister standing there, and I know your majesty will agree that Brandon had no choice against her."

"Perhaps you are right," returned Henry.

Then spoke Mary, all unconscious of her girlish egotism: "Of course he had not. Master Brandon could not help it"—which was true beyond all doubt.

Henry laughed at her naivete, and Wolsey's lips wore a smile as he plucked the king by the sleeve and took him over to the window, out of our hearing.

Mary began to weep and show signs of increasing agitation.

After a short whispered conversation the king and Wolsey came back, and the former said, "Sister, if I promise to give Brandon his life will you consent decently and like a good girl to marry Louis of France?"

Mary almost screamed: "Yes, yes; gladly. I will do anything you ask," and fell at his feet, hysterically embracing his knees.

As the king stooped and lifted her to her feet he kissed her, saying, "His life shall be spared, my sweet sister." After this Henry felt that he had done a wonderfully gracious act and was the kindest hearted prince in all Christendom.

Poor Mary! Two mighty kings and their great ministers of state had at last conquered you, but they had to strike through your love, the vulnerable spot in every woman.

"Brother, let me die for him."

Jane and I led Mary away through a side door, and the king called for De Longueville to finish the interrupted game of cards.

Before the play was resumed Wolsey stepped softly around to the king and asked, "Shall I affix your majesty's seal to Brandon's pardon?"

"Yes, but keep him in the Tower until Mary is off for France."

Wolsey had certainly been a friend to Brandon in time of need; but, as usual, he had value received for his friendliness. He was an ardent advocate of the French marriage, notwithstanding the fact he had told Mary he was not, having no doubt been bribed thereto by the French king.

The good bishop had, with the help of De Longueville, secretly sent Mary's miniature to the French court in order that it might as if by accident fall into the hands of Louis, and that worthy's little, old, shriveled heart began to flutter just as if there could be kindled in it a genuine flame.

Louis had sent to De Longueville, who was then in England, for confirmation of Mary's beauty, and De Longueville grew so eloquent on the theme that his French majesty at once authorized negotiations.

As reports came in Louis grew more and more impatient. This did not, however, stand in the way of his driving a hard bargain in the matter of dower, for "the Father of the People" had the characteristics of his race and was intensely practical as well as inflammable. They never lose sight of the dot—but I do not find fault.

Louis little knew what thorns this lovely rose had underneath her velvet leaves, and what a veritable tartar she would be, linked to the man she did not love, or he would have given Henry 400,000 crowns to keep her at home.

[To be Continued.]

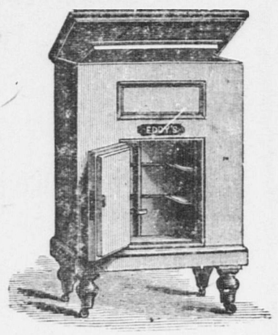

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

SUMMER GOODS.

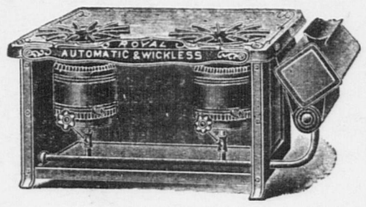

Seasonable warm weather goods for inside and outside use. No matter what you want you are sure to find it here at prices that are worthy of your consideration.

EDDY REFRIGERATORS.

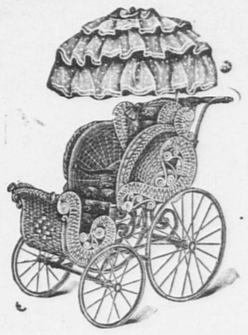

Factory prices, $5.50 and up. A catalogue for the asking.

BLUE FLAME OIL STOVES, $4.00 to $9.00.

Cost almost nothing to run. No fires, no light, no coal, no wood, no dust, no ashes.

CARTS, $3.75 to $25.00

60 patterns to choose from. The handsomest you have ever seen. If you see an attractive Go Cart on the street, the chances are it came from Kincaide's. Ours have the style.

BICYCLES, $18.00 to $30.00.

The worthy sort:

IVER JOHNSON.

DAYTON.

CRAWFORD.

LE ROY.

HAMMOCKS, LAWN SWINGS, PIAZZA CHAIRS, ICE CREAM FREEZERS, LAWN HOSE, LAWN MOWERS, SCREEN DOORS, WINDOW SCREENS, CROQUET SETS, SUMMER COTTAGE FURNITURE, MATTINGS, ETC.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO., Furniture Store and Annex, Hancock Street, Quincy.
Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings. Short Credit Accounts When Desired.

IN DESPERATE STRAITS

Colombia Is Apparently Head Over Heels In Bankruptcy

A FLOOD OF PAPER MONEY

Which Was Checked Recently Must Again Have Full Sway—Twenty-Two Thousand Colombian Dollars Worth One Dollar In New York

Washington, May 14.—A gloomy picture of the terrible plight in which Colombia finds itself as the result of the exhausting four years of rebellion is contained in a communication which has reached this city from a source of unquestionable reliability.

These advices state that on March 1 last the government gave notice that it had stopped the issue of the paper money that was flooding the country and had turned the lithograph plates from which it was made over to a committee composed of prominent members of different political parties. Consequently, the government, early in April, was almost entirely without funds. It had not enough to pay running expenses, to say nothing of foreign claims and demands. Not a cent of interest had been paid on the national debt since the war commenced in 1899. The claims growing out of the recent revolution were assuming tremendous proportions, and as there was no other means of relief it was apparent that the government again must have recourse to the lithograph stones and start the press running again.

Moreover, it was the general opinion that even the small measure of relief which might follow the receipt of the $10,000,000 from the United States on account of the Panama canal could not be obtained, as it was not expected that congress would ratify the treaty.

At one time last year exchange on New York was 22,000, that is to say 22,000 Colombian dollars were required to purchase one dollar's worth of goods in the United States. It was feared that the rate would be even higher this summer, for there was over one million dollars' worth of this paper money afloat and it was expected that five hundred million more would be issued immediately to pay war expenses.

The foreign debt in 1893 amounted to £2,700,000, on which the interest rate was first 2½ and then 3 percent, but this interest has not been paid for several years.

It was the general opinion, according to the correspondent, that the Colombian government could never pay its debts, and apprehension was expressed as to what might happen in case the foreign creditors pushed for a final settlement of their claims. The correspondent said the conditions in Colombia at the beginning of April were comparable to those existing in France in 1795.

A Cure For Consumption

Berlin, May 14.—The announcement was made before the Berlin Medical society of a new remedy for consumption called sanosin. It was declared that a number of patients, mostly workingmen, had been cured of consumption, being treated without interference with their work. The use of sanosin prevents coughing, fever and night sweats and results in the patient gaining in weight. The remedy was discovered by Dr. Robert Schneider.

Serious Results of Riots

Santiago de Chili, May 14.—Rioting at Valpariso continues. Owing, however, to the strong repressive measures taken by the government, the outbreaks are less intense. Martial law prevails. Revised reports place the number of rioters killed at 20. The property damage is great. Several buildings were burned and the esplanade was destroyed.

FIREMEN ON THE JUMP

Village of Leominster Wrought Up to High Pitch of Excitement

Leominster, Mass., May 14.—An alarm was sounded yesterday afternoon for an incipient blaze in the factory of the Sterling Comb company in the southern part of the town. Before the bells had ceased ringing another alarm came in from North Leominster. This confused the firemen and for a time impaired their efficiency.

The fire at the comb factory was handled by the shop's crew and caused but slight loss. The North Leominster blaze required the combined efforts of the entire local force, assisted by a hose company from Fitchburg, which city was called on for aid.

The North Leominster fire started in a barn on the premises of Phelps & Harrison, tanners and curriers, being started by a boy playing with matches in the hay loft. It spread to the company's wooden storehouse on the same side of the street, then jumped the road and attacked the tannery and vat houses. The firemen saved the main tannery.

The tannery is alongside the Boston and Maine railroad, which had several freight cars damaged by fire before they could be hauled to places of safety. While a shifter was engaged in this work, Michael Leonard became enveloped in the dense smoke and was run down by the engine and instantly killed.

At this time the fire was at its height in the tannery, and flying embers, fanned by a stiff wind, were carried over the village, setting fire to buildings half a mile away, eight being ablaze at one time. The numerous fires kept the hose companies dashing from street to street and from building to building for more than two hours. The people turned out by thousands and the excitement was intense. Women fainted and men were crying, all fearing that the entire village was doomed to destruction. Not until 5:30 p. m. was the danger over.

Three Thousand Acres Burned Over

Plymouth, Mass., May 14.—The most destructive of 10 forest fires here within a week burned over 8000 acres of farming and timber land and did damage estimated at thousands of dollars. The progress of the flames was checked only when they had eaten their way to land that previously had been burned over directly in its path. Thousands of smouldering stumps dot the track of land a mile and a half in length from the point where the fire started to where it finally burned itself out.

Creditors Feared He Would Skip

New York, May 14.—David Marx, a diamond dealer, against whom an involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed, and who is charged by his creditors with having secreted assets valued at $50,000, was arrested on an order in "ne exeat" obtained by creditors. Marx was later arraigned before Judge Holt and was released in $25,000 bail.

Woman's Ability Recognized

Washington, May 14.—The war department has received advices from Manila that Miss Floy Gilmore has been appointed assistant attorney general for the government in the Philippine islands. She went to the Philippines as a stenographer and gained her present position by good work in the office of the attorney general.

On the Diamond

At Boston—National—Boston, 9; St. Louis, 5.
At Brooklyn—National—Chicago, 3; Brooklyn, 1.
At New York—National—New York, 5; Cincinnati, 2.
At Philadelphia—National—Philadelphia, 1; Pittsburg, 11.
At Cleveland—American—Cleveland, 2; Boston, 1.
At Detroit—American—Detroit, 7; New York, 1.
At St. Louis—American—Washington, 3; St. Louis, 0.
At Chicago—American—Philadelphia, 6; Chicago, 0.
At Lawrence—Lawrence, 8; Brockton, 2.
At Concord—Nashua, 5; Concord, 4.
At Manchester—Manchester, 4; Lowell, 2.
At Haverhill—Haverhill, 8; Fall River, 7.

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

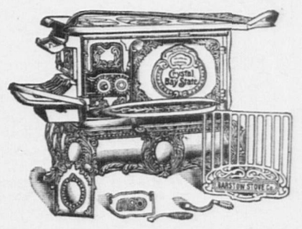

FULL STOCK
—OF—
HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,
—AT—
Brooks' Market,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 25. tf

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.

Come and See It.

BARSTOW STOVE CO.,

55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.

GUY'S COLISEUM,

W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 17. 4w

Dr. Emmons'

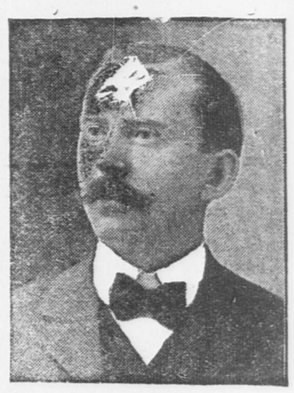

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

King Arthur Flour.

Sold in Quincy by

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

SMOKE THE GOVERNESS.
UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by
P. A. NELSON,
59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

On and after Oct. 19, 1902, trains will run as follows:

[Subject to change without notice.]

TO BOSTON. Leave Quincy.	Stops at	Arrive Boston.	FROM BOSTON Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy.
r *5 19	abcdefghi	5 47	*5 50	ihgfedcba	6 19 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 26	ad	7 45	8 28	cba	8 49 r
r 7 42	abc	8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 7 54	abcde	8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 8 13	a	8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
r 8 26	abd	8 45	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 8 46	abc	9 05	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	12 58	cba	1 19 r
r 9 42	abc	10 02	1 28	cba	1 49 r
r 10 12	abc	10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
r 10 42	abc	11 02	2 2	cba	2 49 r
r [illegible]	abc	1 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
r [illegible]	abc	2 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
r [illegible]	abc	3 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
r 1 42	abc	2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r [illegible]	abc	[illegible]	4 50	edcba	5 16 r
r [illegible]	abc	[illegible]	5 28	dba	5 36 r
r 3 42	abc	4 02	5 [illegible]	a	5 40 r
r [illegible]	abc	[illegible]	4 [illegible]	edcba	6 08 r
r [illegible]	ab	[illegible]	5 58	cba	6 19 r
r 5 29	abcdefghi	5 57	6 15	da	6 36 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 39	abcdefghi	8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 [illegible]	fedcba	10 53 r
r 9 34	abcdefghi	10 02	10 [illegible]	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
r 10 08	abcdef	10 32	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

r 7 42	abc	8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 8 42	abc	9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 45 r
9 33	a	9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 45 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 45 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 28	cba	5 45 r
r 6 03	abcdefghi	6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	8 43	(ex)	9 00
r 10 18	abcdef	10 42	10 28	fedcba	10 58 r

• The letters in the same line as the figure stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a. Wollaston, f, Harrison Square.
b, Norfolk Downs, g, Savin Hill.
c, Atlantic, h, Crescent Avenue.
d, Neponset, i, South Boston.
e, Pope's Hill. r, Quincy Adams.

CHICHESTER'S ENG.
PENNYROYAL PILLS
Original and Only Genuine.
SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Square, PHILA., PA.
Mention this paper.

at are worthy

BICYCLES,

$18.00 to $30.00.

The worthy sort:

IVER JOHNSON.

DAYTON.

CRAWFORD.

LE ROY.

WINDOW SCREENS,

Street, Quincy.

Arthur Flour.

Sold in Quincy by

. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

SMOKE THE

OVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

nt Cigar in the Market, Long Filler a Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Nov. 11. 1y

York, New Haven
Hartford R. R.

after Oct. 19, 1902, trains will run ect to change without notice.)

STON.	FROM BOSTON
ps Arrive Boston.	Leave Boston.	Stops at Quincy.
lefghi 5 47	*5 50 ihgfedcba	6 19 r
6 32	6 28 cba	6 49 r
7 02	6 58 cba	7 19 r
7 32	7 28 cba	7 49 r
7 45	8 28 cba	8 49 r
8 02	8 58 cba	9 19 r
ie 8 15	9 28 cba	9 49 r
8 32	10 28 cba	10 49 r
8 45	11 28 cba	11 49 r
9 05	12 28 cba	12 49 r
9 32	12 58 cba	1 19 r
10 02	1 28 cba	1 49 r
10 32	1 58 cba	2 19 r
11 02	2 2 cba	2 49 r
1 32	2 45 cba	3 06 r
2 32	3 28 cba	3 49 r
3 32	4 45 cba	4 06 r
2 02	4 28 cba	4 49 r
4 32	4 50 edcba	5 16 r
5 02	5 [illegible] dba	5 36 r
4 02	5 28 a	5 45 r
4 32	4 58 edcba	6 08 r
5 32	5 58 cba	6 19 r
lefghi 5 57	6 15 da	6 35 r
6 32	6 28 cba	6 49 r
7 02	6 58 cba	7 19 r
7 32	7 28 cba	7 49 r
leighi 8 07	8 28 fedcba	8 53 r
ief 8 32	9 28 cba	9 49 r
9 32	10 [illegible] fedcba	10 53 r
efghi 10 02	10 [illegible] ihgfedcba	11 19 r
gef 10 32	11 28 cba	11 49 r
11 32

SUNDAYS.

8 02	6 28 cba	6 49 r
9 02	8 58 cba	9 19 r
9 32	10 16 ihgfedcba	10 45 r
9 51	12 28 cba	12 49 r
efghi 11 44	2 16 ihgfedcba	2 45 r
1 32	3 16 ihgiedcba	3 45 r
lefghi 4 44	4 28 cba	4 49 r
5 32	5 28 cba	5 45 r
lefghi 6 30	6 58 cba	7 19 r
7 32	8 28 fedcba	8 53 r
fief 8 32	8 43 (ex)	9 00
fief 10 42	10 28 fedcba	10 58 r

ters in the same line as the figure different stations and indicate that s follows:

on,	f, Harrison Square.
Downs,	g, Savin Hill.
,	h, Crescent Avenue.
t,	i, South Boston.
Hill.	r, Quincy Adams.

CHICHESTER'S ENG...

NYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine.

SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Paper. Madison Square, PHILA., Pa.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 114. QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 15, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, Pres.

April 9-2m 11-2m

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. lp-tf

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pinel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
Telephone 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
Office Hours: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1 1y- p-6mos.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov, 3-tf

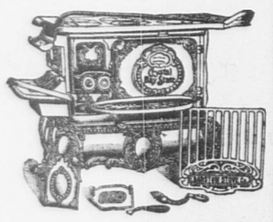

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
Old Furniture Refinished.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7. tf

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.

Come and See It.

BARSTOW STOVE CO.,
55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.

GUY'S COLISEUM,
W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 17. 4w

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.

60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN.
PHARMACIST,
1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,
In a variety of Styles and Prices.
Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.
These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.

C. S. HUBBARD.
City Square, Quincy.

Are You Looking for a Home?
Would You Like to Make Some Money?
Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at

BICELOW PARK.

The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.

SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.
May 2. tf

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS.
Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.
April 30. 1m

FLOWERS

AT VERY LOWEST PRICES.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works, Quincy Point.

FUNERAL DESIGNS A SPECIALTY.

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

For Latest News See Inside Pages.

CORRUPTION CHARGED

Sensational Hearing In Massachusetts Legislature

SENATOR FOSTER IS NAMED

By George Raymond as the Member Who Attempted to Secure Money From Him to Pass a Certain Bill—Boston Paper Dragged Into It

Boston, May 15.—The charges of corruption which originally appeared in an advertisement published in a local paper over the signature of George J. Raymond and directed against a then un-named member of the Massachusetts senate were repeated at the state house when, before a special committee appointed by the senate to hear the charges, Mr. Raymond publicly accused Senator Foster of Gloucester of having approached him with an offer to "see through" certain legislation upon the receipt of $1000.

Mr. Raymond further stated under oath that Senator Foster told him that "Senator Fitzgerald" was to receive half of the thousand dollars; and also that the proprietor of a weekly paper published in this city had called on him and stated that if the witness wanted anything at the state house, he could get it by advertising in his paper.

Mr. Raymond's testimony was corroborated in part by his bookkeeper, Miss Lydia G. Brown, and at his request numerous other witnesses will be summoned before the committee at the continuation of the hearing.

The session was enlivened by many sensational features and F. S. Hesseltine and John B. Moran, attorneys for Raymond, were three times ejected by the sergeant-at-arms because they insisted upon coaching their client while he was testifying and making remarks which the chairman declared out of order. The first time Mr. Moran was escorted from the room, he took the witnesses with him and forced a recess, during which a summons was served upon Miss Brown, and Mr. Moran and Mr. Hesseltine were readmitted.

Mr. Raymond made repeated efforts to get before the committee certain statements which he admitted he might not be able to prove, while Chairman Frost insisted that his testimony be confined to facts of which witness had personal and positive knowledge. This resulted in many sharp exchanges between the two and Mr. Raymond frequently consulted his attorneys before replying to questions of the committee.

The hearing lasted less than two hours, when adjournment was taken. Senator Frost of Lawrence is chairman of the committee, which includes Senators Apsey of Cambridge, W. T. A. Fitzgerald of Boston, Cole of Beverly and Fletcher of Westford.

Senator Foster was seen shortly after his name had been mentioned by Mr. Raymond and asked about the statements which had been made. He said he did not care to make any statement now, but that in due time one would come from him to meet the stories. "I intend to have this thoroughly sifted," he said.

Ex-Congressman Fitzgerald, editor and proprietor of the paper referred to in Mr. Raymond's testimony, was asked if he had anything to say in answer to the charges. He replied: "I have nothing to say at present. Mr. Raymond has not finished his testimony. When he does I will act. I know where the remedy lies and I propose to apply it in a drastic manner. That is all."

Accident to Baseman O'Hagan

Newark, N. J., May 15.—Harry O'Hagan, first baseman of the Newark Baseball club, is in a serious condition, suffering from a concussion of the brain. O'Hagan, while sliding to third base in a game with Worcester, struck his head against the heel of Baseman Madison's shoe. It was at first believed that he had only been stunned.

Strike of Die Cutters

Providence, May 15.—The journeymen die cutters in a half-dozen shops of this city are out with the object in view of forcing the jobbing die sinkers to grant their demands of 10 hours' pay for nine hours' work. The strike will seriously cripple the die sinking industry.

Woman Textile School Graduate

Lowell, Mass., May 15.—Forty-one students in the evening classes of the Lowell Textile school received their diplomas last night, among them being Miss Martha Balmforth of Billerica, the first woman to graduate from the evening classes.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. This signature E. W. Grove on every box, 25c

MERRILL HAS FRIENDS

Who Are Inclined to Think That He Has Been Sinned Against

Boston, May 15.—There are many persons in Boston who feel very kindly towards Moody Merrill, the Boston promoter and politician under arrest in New York, and who say that Merrill should not be judged too hastily nor too harshly. It is asserted that for years past Merrill had been sending large sums of money to Boston to square up old accounts and that a great part of this money sent by Merrill has been sequestered. It is also said that some of the people who have been acting as his agents converted the money to their own cases, and have steadily worked on the fears of Merrill to keep him not only away from Boston, but also to continued having sent along other large sums to them on the representation that they were applying it to the old debts and getting the indictments dismissed.

According to the records of the Suffolk superior criminal court Merrill was indicted at the May term of the grand jury in 1895, just three years after he left Boston. The indictment is one of nine counts of embezzlement and four counts of larceny, which are set forth in four transactions involving an aggregate of $19,000.

Roosevelt a Doctor of Laws

Berkeley, Cal., May 15.—The citizens of Berkeley united with the members of the faculty and students of the University of California in tendering an ovation to President Roosevelt and party. The president was introduced by President Wheeler. Then as the chief executive, attired in a black academic robe, trimmed with purple, stepped into the sunlight, President Wheeler said: "Theodore Roosevelt, by authority of the regents of the University of California, I confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws. This is the highest honor the state knows how to confer on you. I bestow it gladly." President Roosevelt then addressed the assemblage, eulogizing the state, its people and the university.

Says He Is Persecuted

New York, May 15.—William N. Amory, who complained that detectives dogged his steps after he accused the Metropolitan Street Railway company of irregularities in its reports, now alleges that special delivery letters directed to him and mailed within a few blocks of his house are 24 hours in reaching him, and that in one case a document was extracted from a sealed special delivery letter, that his telephone wire has been tapped by induction, and that detectives have tried to induce his servants to steal his private papers.

Immigrants Without Funds

Newbern, N. C., May 15.—Inspectors have examined 138 immigrants from the wrecked bark Vera Cruz as to health and eligibility of landing according to law, none of whom could land because they are paupers. The men claim to have deposited their money, averaging from $4 to $38 each, with Captain Fernandinez of the Vera Cruz, who has left the city. Four of the immigrants will have to return to the island on account of trachoma. Sixteen are now in the hospital.

War on Department Stores

Milwaukee, May 15.—The Retail Grocers' association of Milwaukee, a member of the national association, has passed resolutions not to handle products of manufacturers that are placed in department stores. It is predicted that the action of Milwaukee grocers will be followed by every one of the 41 states in which the national association has branches.

Mysterious Double Drowning

Yarmouth, N. S., May 15.—Jesse Amiro, aged 14, and Henry Deveau, aged 15, went fishing in a punt and four hours later the boat was picked up without the occupants. Their caps were found floating and a search resulted in the finding of Amiro's body in the channel. The boat did not upset, as some fish, bananas and a coat were found on the seat.

Tried to Burn Minister's House

Kingston, N. Y., May 15.—An attempt was made last night to burn a house at Clintondale occupied by Miss Fannie Hull and Rev. Frederick Ryon, pastor of the Friends church. Parts of the building had been saturated with oil and the occupants were awakened by the light of the flames. This is the second attempt made to burn the house within a short time.

Cotton Takes Another Jump

New York, May 15.—Another new record for the season has been established in the cotton market, the feature being the price made by July, 11 cents. August sold at 10.73, May made a new record of 11.42 and spot cotton was quoted at 11.60. These prices were the highest in 12 or 13 years and added to this the transactions were of enormous volume.

—It is claimed now by eminent bacteriologists, of New York, who have been investigating for many months past, that cancer is due to chemical changes in the blood and is not due to a parasite as has been quite generally believed. This may be a valuable discovery if it proves true, but we don't understand that it will render cancer any the less dangerous. It will still be the same old cancer.

FROM CITY TREASURY

Funds Will Meet Wants of Lowell's Needy Strikers

ALMSHOUSE WELL FILLED

Calls at City Dispensary Beginning to Be Numerous—Much Good Work by Philanthropists—Textile Council Has New Investigating Committee

Lowell, Mass., May 15.—City authorities have been forced to change their policy in the matter of giving aid to striking mill operatives. They find that it is useles to longer turn applicants over to the Textile council, which had promised to help everybody, and henceforth will meet their wants with the funds in the city treasury. There are only $15,000 available for such purpose, and this sum was intended to last the whole year, but President Adams of the common council says that these people who are in the city suffering for want of food must be provided for whatever it may cost; the city council will have to provide the means when the present funds become exhausted. Secretary Courtney of the overseers of the poor has been placing applications from strikers on file with intention to help all who are in need, and such applications are growing in numbers.

The almshouse has already as many occupants as it can accommodate—about 500. Those who have been there during the winter and under ordinary circumstances would leave in the spring to provide for themselves did not leave, as they saw no prospect of eking out an existence outside, and many more have come since the strike started. Calls at the city dispensary are beginning to become very numerous, indicating that the strikers have not the means with which to engage the services of physicians in case of sickness, or to buy the medicine prescribed.

Private charity is doing a good deal for the needy, and relatives help each other, but there are many families which had their whole income from the cotton mills and have no relatives to depend upon. Miss Lettie Mason, deaconess and city missionary, finds a good deal of suffering already, whole families which have been without food for two days; in one home she found a dying baby whose sickness, according to the physician, was due to starvation, and numerous cases bordering on destitution. She helps them as far as she is able. Somewhat similar work is done by Miss Emily Simpson, missionary for the First Baptist church. In many instances this church pays the rent for striking operatives.

Constable McManus, like Patrolman Dennett, is a philanthropist who in the prosecution of his duties comes in direct contact with the poorest element and can bring worthy cases to the attention of the proper authorities when unable to find the means for relieving them himself. About 100 children are fed every day through the efforts of John Dennett, whose beat is through one of the poorest districts in the city. But for his free restaurant, to which the merchants of the city and even mill agents contribute, many of these children would have to go hungry, as their parents cannot feed them. People of ample means have agreed not to turn hungry women and children away from their doors.

At the Children's Home, managed by Miss Ellen O'Leary, there are about 40 children who could not be taken care of at their own homes. When the parents are working they usually pay small sums to the home for children, perhaps $1 a week, or $2 or $3 for four children, for some mothers have all their little ones at this institution, so that it had an income of $20 or more every pay day at the mills, and all bills were met promptly. As soon as the mills closed the mothers intended to take the children away and provide for them as best they could, but Miss O'Leary kept them and is now boarding them free of charge until the parents find work; and she does not intend to collect back board bills later. Now that the parents have nothing to pay the accounts are running a little behind. But the little boys and girls get their three meals a day.

A new committee has been appointed by the Textile council to investigate calls for aid. There is no doubt that this council will assist as far as its means allow in the alleviation of suffering, and for that purpose will use the money coming in from outside unions, but the calls are so numerous that the demand for help far exceeds the income. Some days the income is quite large, and assurance of contributions in the future are received from many sources, but on other days very little comes into the treasury. It is thought that the wide publicity given recently to the fact that hardship exists among the operatives, and the appeal issued by the state branch of the American Federation of Labor will result in more liberal contributions.

Mormon Elders Choked Off

New York, May 15.—Mayor Low has stopped the preaching of Mormonism on the streets of the city. All permits, formerly issued to Mormon elders to preach in the streets, have been revoked and no more will be issued. The elders were not known as Mormons when they obtained the permits.

W. Y. C. OPENING.

Fixtures for the Season of 1903 Announced—Hop Last Night.

The clubhouse of the Wollaston Yacht club was formally opened Thursday evening, when there was an entertainment, refreshments and a hop. The capacity of the clubhouse was fully tested, and it was an evening of enjoyment and one which fortells a prosperous season. Mr. F. F. Taylor was chairman of the entertainment committee.

McTear's orchestra, a favorite with the club, opened the program, and Commodore Wiley extended a greeting. The end men at the recent minstrel show were next heard in songs and specialties, which were encored. Mr. Hastings gave a piano solo.

Ice cream and cake were served, and a hop concluded the festivities.

The Regatta committee—A. E. Linnell chairman, A. T. Barstow and A. C. Gardner announced the following fixtures:

May 30—Chase cup race, start at 1 P. M.; high tide at 2.07.

June 17—Grand handicap race, start at 2 P. M.; high tide at 4.33; nine prizes as follows, $5, $4, $3, $3, $3, $2, $2, $2, $1. All yachts finishing will get their measurements free.

June 17—Handicap power boat race, with appropriate prize.

June 27—First club championship, start at 1.30 P. M.; high tide 12.57.

July 7—Moonlight sail, start at 7.30 P. M.; high tide at 10.02.

July 18—Ladies' day, start at 3 P. M.; high tide at 5.35.

Aug. 1—Second Club Championship, start at 3 P. M.; high tide at 6.01.

Aug. 15—Clambake (details later); high tide at 4.10.

Aug. 29—Third Club Championship, start at 2 P. M.; high tide at 4.34.

Sept. 5, 6 and 7—Annual cruise.

Sept 26—Chase cup race, start at 2 P. M.; high tide at 3.09.

Took Aconite to Cure Grip

Paris, May 15.—The Petit Journal says that Emma Calve, who is now singing in "The Damnation of Faust" at Sarah Bernhardt's theatre here, accidentally poisoned herself last night by taking an overdose of aconite as a remedy against the grip. The prompt action of the doctors succeeded in saving her life, but she was unable to appear at last night's performance.

Fatal Explosion of Gas

New York, May 15.—Mrs. Kate Taylor had her head blown off by the explosion of a carbonated gas tank used for generating soda water, which also wrecked the rear rooms in her store. Mrs. Taylor went to attach a tube to the tank. In a moment there was an explosion which shook the building. Parts of the woodwork were blown 100 feet across the street.

Met a Terrible Death

Halifax, May 15.—William Gray, aged 60, an oiler in the Consumers' Cordage company mill at Dartmouth, slipped and fell against the big fly wheel which was moving at the rate of 100 revolutions a minute. His body was caught up by the belt and his head was battered to a jelly. Life was extinct before the engine was stopped.

Concessions on Each Side

St. Paul, May 15.—All danger of a strike on the Great Northern railway system has passed and an amiable agreement between the company and its trainmen has been reached, the schedules being signed last evening. Each side made concessions, although officials say the men have somewhat the better of it.

Porte's Denial Refuted

London, May 15.—"In spite of the denials of the porte," cables the Constantinople correspondent of The Daily Mail, "the situation at Monastir is alarming. Thirty-eight additional battalions of redifs (reserves) have been ordered thither from Smyrna."

Smuggled Gems at Auction

Detroit, May 15.—United States Marshal Bates sold at public auction 581 diamonds on the steps of the federal building for $19,375. The gems were seized in 1899 from Louis Busch, who was later convicted of smuggling them from Canada.

—In China there are large cities that have no municipal organization and spend nothing on public improvements or for official expenses.

Mill Workers

who need clear eyes and steady hands, as well as strong arms, prefer

Pillsbury's Best Flour

to any other. The reason is that this flour, being made of Spring wheat, contains a larger percentage of gluten than does other flour.

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. Quincy, April 11, 1903.

TAKEN on execution and will be sold at public auction on SATURDAY, the thirtieth day of May 1903, at 9 o'clock, A. M., at my residence No 163 Franklin street, in Quincy said County of Norfolk, all the right, title and interest which Walter W. Bates of Milton had (not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution) on the thirteenth day of January 1903 at nine o'clock and three minutes A. M., (being the time the same was attached on mesne process) in and to the following described real estate,to wit:

A certain parcel of land on Adams street in the City of Quincy being lot numbered 27 according to a plan by Whitman and Breck.

Commencing at a point on the west side of Adams street 62.66 feet from the proposed street to be called Bates street and running in a southwest direction 141 feet; thence turning at right angles and running in a northeasterly direction 61.5 feet; thence turning at right angles and running along the proposed Bates street 129 feet; thence turning and running along the line of Adams street 62.66 feet to beginning. Containing 8302.5 square feet.

GEORGE H. FIELD,
Deputy Sheriff.

May 15-3t. 15-22 29

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. Quincy, March 31, 1903.

TAKEN on execution and will be sold at public auction on SATURDAY, the sixteenth day of May, at 9 o'clock A. M., at my residence No. 163 Franklin street, in Quincy, said County, all the right, title and interest which Annie H. Betts of Quincy, said County, had (not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution) on the twenty-ninth day of October, 1901, at four o'clock and fifty minutes P. M., (being the time the same was attached on mesne process) in and to the following described real estate, to wit:

A certain parcel of land situated in Quincy and shown on a plan made by H. T. Whitman and E. W. Branch, surveyors, dated May, 1896, and recorded with the Norfolk Deeds, bounded and described as follows, viz:

Beginning at a point on the southerly side of Washington street, whence the line which divides the herein granted premises, from premises now or formerly of one French, intersects the said southerly side of Washington street, thence running in a southwesterly direction along the line of said French and also on on line of land of J. R. Graham, three hundred and twelve and 48-100 feet to a stake, thence turning and running in a northwesterly direction along the line of other land of J. R. Graham, ninety-eight and 9-10 feet to a stake, thence by a curved line fourteen and 5-10 feet to another stake, thence running in a northeasterly direction along the line of other land of John R. Graham, two hundred and fifty-seven feet to a stake, thence by a curved line twenty feet to a cut on wall, thence running in an easterly direction along the said southerly side of Washington street, one hundred and fifty-seven and 16-100 feet to the point of beginning, containing 40,410 square feet of land. Being the same land conveyed to John H. Dinegan by J. R. Graham, by deed dated May 15, 1896, and recorded with the Norfolk Deeds, lib. 761, folio 319, and conveyed to Annie H. Betts, by deed of John H. Dinegan.

Also a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon containing fifty-four hundred (5400) square feet, situate in Quincy, Mass., and being lot number thirty (30) on a plan of house lots on Cranch Hill, made by H. T. Whitman, dated January 20, 1897, and recorded with the Norfolk Plans and bounded and described as follows, viz: Northerly on Whitwell street, sixty (60) feet; southeasterly on lot thirty-one (31) on said plan, ninety (90) feet; northwesterly on lot twenty-nine (29) on said plan, ninety (90) feet; southwesterly on lot No 39 on said plan, sixty (60) feet. Being the same premises conveyed to Annie H. Betts by Selina Tunnicliff and John R. Tunnicliff by their attorney, Ransom Tunnicliff, October 24, 1899, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Lib. 856, Fol. 76.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Deputy Sheriff.

May 1. 3t--1-8-15

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Chapter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D.,
Inspector of Milk.

April 15. 30t

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

$3.50

For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . . At Co-operative ining Rooms

3 Granite Street, Quincy

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21--2m

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. 1p-2mos.

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE

HAS OPENED AN

Employment Office

At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm
Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.

Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year

A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	63	46	50	61	55
Monday,	76	58	58	68	61
Tuesday,	74	64	65	67	62
Wednesday,	79	54	70	60	76
Thursday,	73	64	66	73	64
Friday,	72	65	58	69	90
Saturday,	—	64	75	68	65

New Advertisements Today.

Wanted—Good Carpenters.
F. D Fellows & Co.—Men's Clothing.
Card of Thanks.

Good Afternoon

The newspapers will have to give Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt a rest for a few days.

The Senate on Thursday passed to be engrossed by a vote of 18 to 5 a bill to prohibit the use of trading stamps.

The unparalled popularity which President Roosevelt enjoys is demonstrated at every point at which he stops but nowhere more so than in the territories to which Statehood was refused by the last Congress.

The methods used nowadays to secure and defeat legislation are certainly questionable, as shown at the investigation before the special committee of the Senate. No legislator should be interested in the expenditure of any money to influence legislation.

Was not the bail under which Moody Merrill, late of Boston, was released an insignificant sum, for a man who has been a fugitive from law for ten years, and who is alleged to have misappropriated large sums? This seems a case where an example should be made.

Miss Marion Talbot of the Chicago University has devised, by the aid of science, a scheme of living on 10 cents per day. We would like to see, weigh, and x-ray Miss Talbot before we attempted to put her scheme into practice.

Drift of Opinion.

We have heord many complaints of the destruction of robins by boys with air guns, and the practice should be discouraged. The robin is a favorite song bird, and almost domesticated, so familiar is it in its visits to the lawns and trees, and it is a shame to kill the red-breasted visitor. Perhaps the boys do not know that there is a penalty of $10 for the killing of robins, and if the fathers of the lads, who like to show their proficiency as marksmen, had to pay the fine, they might induce the young fellows to let the robins alone. School teachers could help a good cause by instilling into the minds of their pupils a regard for the songbirds. Let the robins have the freedom of the air and their cheerful song enliven and please those who enjoy bird music.—Milford Journal.

Granite Manufacturer Dead.

Barre, Vt., lost a well known granite dealer on Thursday in the death of A. J. Stephens, aged 46, of the granite firm of Stephens & McMillan, who died suddenly at his home on Seminary street. Death was due to a complication of diseases. Mr. Stephens was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, came to Barre in 1884, and since 1885 had been a granite manufacturer. He was a member of Clan Gordon, Granite lodge of Masons and the Burns club.

Anniversary Exercises.

The anniversary exercises of the Epworth league of the West Quincy M. E. church, will be held Sunday evening, May 17, at 7 o'clock. Solo by Miss Annie Holmes of Boston. Violin solo by Mr. Roy M. Lothrop of Pope's Hill. Address by Rev. R. D. Tarbox and by the pastor, Rev. W. A. Mayo. All are cordially invited.

Women's Golf Tournament.

Today the women are in possession of the links of the Wollaston Golf club, and are holding a handicap stroke competition open to women belonging to clubs of the Women's Golf Association.

ANNUAL BANQUET.

Brotherhood of Bethany Church Have Interesting Speakers.

The annual banquet of the brotherhood of Bethany church was held Thursday evening in the chapel and attended by upwards of 150.

From 6 to 7 o'clock there was an informal reception. At the latter hour the announcement was made that dinner was ready, and in a few minutes the merry party were seated about the festive board, and were enjoying the many good things spread before them.

The banquet was served by Mrs. Jewett, and w s a regular course dinner. The menu was one calculated to please and it certainly did.

An hour or more was passed at the dinner and then came the literary feast.

President W. G. Shaw called the gathering to order after the dinner and welcomed all, and then spoke of the aims and objects of the Brotherhood, and reviewed the work of the year.

Edward Southworth spoke on "The Relation of the church to the youth of today." To develop the character of our young men and to fit them for good citizenship was one of the fundamental purposes of the church. One of the greatest dangers that menace the youth today is cigarette smoking. This habit exists to an alarming extent among our boys. There were few who realized the effect of this habit on boys. It impairs their mental faculties. Teachers had told him of boys who had apparently lost their mental grip, who were unable to learn. Upon talking with them it was found that their condition had been brought about by cigarette smoking. Something should be done to stop this debasing practice.

Ernest W. Branch spoke of the "Relation of the Sunday school to the Brotherhood."

Henry H. Faxon spoke of the necessity of members of christian churches taking a more active interest in politics. A man can not be a good christian and neglect his duties of citizenship. Too many men who occupy high social positions are negligent in this respect. He sometimes trembled for his country when he thought of the wickedness which exists in large cities. Political leaders in large metropolitan communities are devoid of moral principle. It therefore behooves christian men of our time to enter the political arena. He also referred to the tendancy of young men and women to absent themselves from Sunday services. This he considered parents responsible for in a large measure. They do not impress their children with the importance of being present at Sunday School or church services. Parents do not attend these services and children think they have the same right. He was glad that his parents compelled him to attend church. It would be wise of parents to do the same today.

Rev. Edwin N. Hardy spoke in reference to the claim which had been made, that the men of today did not attend church? He denied this saying that there was a larger attendance of men at church services than ever before. He gave statistics in support of this claim.

Theophilus King spoke on "What do you live on."

During the evening there were piano solos by Everett Hayden, and vocal solos by George E. Bonney.

Birthday.

Francis A. Spear, the genial Probation Officer of the district court, is passing another milestone in his eventful life today, and is receiving the congratulations of his many friends. Frank owns up to being 49, but he does not look it. That some of his friends had not forgotten the day was evident by the two handsome and fragrant bouquets that adorned his desk this morning. Frank himself was loaded with cigars and through the cigar smoke that gathered about after court adjourned, went many wireless messages of congratulations and well wishes for the future.

Ideal Housekeeping.

About one hundred and fifty members and friends of the W. C. T. U. listened to a very pleasing and practicala ddress from Mrs. Mary A. Lincoln at the Methodist church, Wollaston, on Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was in charge of the Health and Heredity department. The subject of the discourse was "Ideal Housekeeping." The body in this instance being the house. Her chief thought that she wished to emphasize was that the women of the present day didn't give themselves rest enough. She dwelt upon the importance of the daily nap, for a healthy body is the foundation of "ideal housekeeping."

Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

HOUGHS NECK.

The season at Houghs Neck can now be said to be fairly under way. Many of the cottagers have already arrived and new families are coming every day. Nearly everything in the line of a cottage has already been let, and still the demand continues. The real estate agents report that the demand for cottages this year is greater than ever before, and the indications are that the season will be a successful one. Many new cottages have been built during the past winter and spring, but these have already been noticed in these columns.

Arthur H. Dunham has made a number of improvements to his store which will as usual be in charge of John Ross. John still wears that familiar little cap and long linen duster. He is just as popular with the summer cottagers as ever, and one of the first things that is done by a new arrival is to go down and shake his good right hand, which is always extended in welcome, and incidentally learn of the latest wrinkles in bowling.

Edward O'Toole and family of Dedham are in the Waverly cottage on Bay View avenue.

Arthur Harris of Quincy is at the Billings cottage on Great Hill.

George E. Eurann and family of Roxbury are on Rock Island road.

Abel Howe and family of Marlboro are in the Poco cottage on Manet avenue.

Mrs. Abbott has opened a cafe on Bay View avenue.

Half hour cars are due in a few weeks now.

Mrs Vogel and family of Dorchester are in the Holland cottage on Rock Island road.

H. W. Robbins and family of Milton are in the Cliffhust on Great Hill.

J. Lesuer and family of Cambridge are in the Katahen cottage.

Frank Turner and family of Roxbury are on Rock Island road.

An additional letter carrier went on duty May 1.

The buildings on Sea street that were outside the street line have been moved back.

John Brunton and family of Cohasset are in the Eyrye cottage on Great Hill.

J. B. Walker and family of Boston are in the Opydoor cottage on Bird street.

W. H. Ferris has opened an ice cream parlor.

Cook, the photographer, has built a new studio on the corner of Sea street and Bay view avenue.

The tunnel through Great Hill for the sewer will be completed this week.

A number of cottages are being connected with the city water supply.

Stephen A. Pierce of Quincy is in the Bennett cottage on Shennon street.

Commissioner Knowlton with a large gang of men has been at work this week building Rock Island road. Although the appropriation for this work was a small one the improvement is marked and one that will be appreciated.

Beautiful Descriptive Books.

In the list of literature published by the Boston & Maine Railroad Passenger Department are thirteen books entitled: "The Merrimack Valley," "Among the Mountains," "Lakes and Streams," "Lake Sunapee," "Lake Memphremagog and About There," "Southeast New Hampshire," "Southwest New Hampshire," "Hoosac Country & Deerfield Valley," "Valley," "Valley of the Connecticut & Northern Vermont," "All Along Shore," "Central Massachusetts," "The Monadnock Region," "Fishing & Hunting."

The books give a delightful description of the different resorts of New England, each book containing from thirty to sixty pages of interesting reading matter and beautiful illustrations.

One of these books will be mailed upon receipt of two cents and the whole set will be mailed upon receipt of twenty-six cents in postage by the General Passenger Department, Boston & Maine Railroad, Boston.

Two Heroic Quincy Boys

William Milne and Edward Kenny, both of Quincy, now employed by the Eastern Ship Building Co., of New London, Conn., succeeded in doing a daring act on Saturday by saving Fred Ennis of Brooklyn, N. Y. from drowning in the Thames River. In the morning the three started out on a yacht which was managed by Milne. They lost control of the boat and it was capsized. Ennis could not swim so would have drowned had it not been for the help of Milne and Kenny, who held on to him for 25 minutes until picked up by the government transport steamer Spriggs Carroll, which docked at New London where all were quickly cared for.

—A Caterpillar is so greedy that in one month it usually devours 6000 times its own weight in food.

CARD OF THANKS.

The undersigned wishes to thank their neighbors and friends for the sympathy and many acts of kindness shown them during the brief illness and death of John H. Savage, and for the beautiful flowers sent to the funeral services.

ISAIAH O. SAVAGE and family.

Quincy, May 15. 1t

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

There will be a dance in Brasee's Hall, Wollaston, tonight.

There will be a vesper service at Christ church at 4 P. M. Sunday.

Milton High vs Quincy High at the park this afternoon in the Highland league.

Mrs. Clara Otis formerly of Vane street, Norfolk Downs, has moved to 49 Holmes street.

There will be baptism at the Sunday evening service at the Calvary Baptist church, Franklin street.

Charlie Jones' "Careless Horse" is one of the new boats upon the list at the Wollaston Yacht club this season.

The "Neptune," with A. E. Linwel and guests will leave the Wollaston Yacht club float Saturday for a short fishing cruise.

There will be a shirt-waist party in the Norfalk Downs hall, May 20, given by Louis S. Cleaves and Willis Tibbetts of Wollaston.

Bishop Lawrence on Thursday appointed Rev. C. P. Mills of St. Chrysostom's church as one of the Sunday School commission of thirteen.

Ward Two People's Union, Tuesday evening, the 19th in the vestry of the Point church at 7.30 o'clock. Address on "Citizenship" by Supt. Parlin.

The boys of '04 of the High school have organized a base ball team and elected Wallace Bennett of Wollaston, captain. Bennett is a member of the school team.

Mr. Edward Philips, whose singing was so popular this winter at the Monday Evening club, is to be the soloist at the Memorial Congregational church, Atlantic on Sunday morning.

The flagship Claytonia of Commodore Wiley of the Wollaston Yacht club is in commission and left today on a trial trip to Marblehead. The skipper had as a guest, F. F. Taylor, the chairman of the entertainment committee of the club.

Rev. J. H. Whitaker, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church, Atlantic, was pleasantly surprised by members of his parish, on Thursday, who presented him with one hundred dollars, as a slight expression of their love and esteem.

F. F. Crane will continue in business at the old stand, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. He has recently doubled the capacity of his private office, and made it much more attractive. At the front of the store, C. Patch & Son and W. A. Bradford will have offices.

Senator Brackett in Favor.

After reconsideration, the Senate on Thursday refused to order to a third reading by a vote of 15 to 18 the bill forbidding the employment of women and minors in manufacturing and mercantile establishments between 6 P. M. and 6 A. M. Senator Brackett voted in favor of the bill.

—Only 1 per cent. of the telegrams sent over seas are concerned with family or private matters. The rest are commercial, journalistic or official.

King Arthur Flour.

Sold in Quincy by

L. M. FRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

FULL STOCK

—OF—

HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,

—AT—

Brooks' Market,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 25. tf

FREDERICK H. LORD,

TEACHER OF BANJO,

Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.

TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.

118 Washington Street.

Quincy, May 7. tf

Motherhood

Is made happy-hood by healthy infant-hood.

Children that have bunches in the neck, eruptions on the face, head or body, eczema, sore ears, inflamed eyelids, rickets, or snuffles, should be given

Hood's Sarsaparilla

The great specific for inherited or acquired Scrofula.

None too young or too old to be benefited by this great blood purifier, alterative and tonic.

"I had scrofula when I was two years old and Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me. I have since taken it for dyspepsia and it has helped me very much." ADA AUSTIN, Tate, Va.

"Our little boy had eczema and the top of his head became scaly. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured him and made him strong and hearty." MRS. M. HORNBY, Lawrence, Kan.

Accept no Substitutes for Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills. No Substitutes act like them.

To Direct Your Footsteps

toward this store is to walk the path leading to economy. To purchase here is to show much wisdom in the choice of a trading place. The kind of Clothing, Hats and Men's Furnishings, that PARTICULAR PEOPLE want is the kind we have for sale. And the completeness of our stock has been a feature of our business highly appreciated in the past year. There's an abundance of excellent things here that no other store would think of carrying.

Men's Suits, $5.89 to $18.00.
Men's Hats, 50c. to $3.00.
Men's Fancy Negligee Shirts, 48c. to $1.50.
Children's Suits, $2.00 to $5.00.

CALL AND SEE.

F. D. FELLOWS CO.,

RELIABLE ONE PRICE CASH CLOTHIERS, HATTERS AND FURNISHERS.

Adams Building, City Square, Quincy, Mass.

WE GIVE TRADING STAMPS.

Store open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings. April 2--l-th., fri., sat.-po-tf

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON

Quincy, April 23. tf

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder,

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store. Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

hood

's rilla erited or acquired old to be benefited lterative and tonic.

years old and Hood's taken it for dyspepsia
ADA AUSTIN, Tate, Va.
d the top of his head cured him and made
RNBY, Lawrence, Kan.
Sarsaparilla and Pills.
ke them.

o Direct Your Footsteps rd this store is to walk the path ng to economy. To purchase is to show much wisdom in the e of a trading place. The kind lothing, Hats and Men's Furngs, that PARTICULAR PEOwant is the kind we have for

And the completeness of our has been a feature of our busi-highly appreciated in the past
There's an abundance of excel-think of carrying.

$18.00.
3.00.
Shirts, 48c. to $1.50.
to $5.00.
SEE.

OWS CO.,
HATTERS AND FURNISHERS.
e, Quincy, Mass.
NG STAMPS.
April 2-1-th., fri., sat.-po-tf

THE MINES.
OF Stove.
Egg.
Stove.
Egg. g.
Tut.
& SON
tf

TATE.

he best part of life is gone.
gradually, this would not be a y ending. Consult me. I have o House Lots for sale in all

ON, Builder,
Quincy, Mass.
Sods for sale.
tf

FORD.
Gas Fitting,

ttended To.
LY GIVEN.
Chestnut Street. F. F
e Number, 122-2.
tf

Always restores color to gray hair.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Makes the hair grow. Checks falling.

J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat.

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.

Quincy, May 9. 1m

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

Silk Waists.

23

Peau De Soie, Taffeta and Crepe De Chene Waists, in Pink, Light Blue, Old Rose, Black, White, Rosida and Pearl Grey.

PRICES:

$2.98 to $5.98.

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

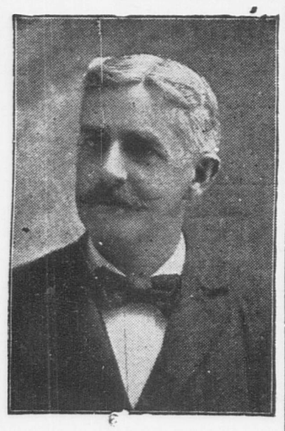

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

King Arthur Flour.

THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.

Plumbing and Heating Co.,

25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot. Telephone Connection.

April 24 1-tf--p-1w

GOLF TOURNAMENT.

Two Better then Bogey while Three Others Even Up.

The open golf tournament on the links of the Wollaston club on Thursday was confined largely to members of the local club. It was a match play vs. bogey, and two Wollaston men got the best of the colonel, while three other players were even. D. E. Little's score was 84, and that of F. D. Amsdem 81. Those who played early in the morning were favored with good weather, but a raw east wind set in before noon, and Messrs. Freeman and Burditt, the last to finish, had difficulty in finding the holes because of the mist.

The summary:

D. E. Little, Wollaston,	3 up
F. D. Amsden, Wollaston,	2 up
C. B. Cory, Wollaston,	even
D. Davenport, Brae-Burn,	even
C. L. Bremer, Wollaston,	even
Ralph Cracknell, Wollaston,	1 down
A. J. Wellington, Oakley,	1 down
W. F. Poole, Allston,	1 down
B. L. Pratt, Wollaston,	2 down
G. A. Noyes, Wollaston,	2 down
J. W. Parks, Wollaston,	3 down
H. F. Amsden, Wollaston,	3 down
J. P. Treanor, Wollaston,	3 down
W. L. Church, Woodland,	3 down
E. Brooks, Vesper county club,	3 down
H. N. Raymond, Wellington Hills,	3 down
E. C. Tarbell, Wollaston,	4 down
R. R. Freeman, Wollaston,	5 down
T. A. Burditt, Wollaston,	5 down
C. J. Lindsey, Wollaston,	6 down
G. F. Steede, Woodland,	7 down
H. Selfridge, Vesper County club,	7 down
J. A. Campbell, Wollaston	8 down

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Southern Textile company has been formed of cotton mills in Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee.

Following the recent example of the longshoremen of Montreal, the longshoremen of St. Johns have organized a strike. Five hundred men are involved. There has been no disorder.

Richard Gridley, aged 60, an inmate of the Pawtucket, R. I., poor farm, hanged himself from a tree in the orchard.

Northampton, Mass., citizens of prominence in business and social life have been chosen by the city council to constitute a committee to arrange for the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the settlement of Northampton, on May 9 next year.

The Turkish council of ministers has decided in favor of the proposals of the Ottoman bank for the unification of the Turkish debt.

The zinc plant of the Utah Metals company, at Park City, Utah, the only plant for the treatment of zinc bearing ores in the west, was almost totally destroyed by fire. The loss is about $125,000.

Benito Lagarda, a Filipino member of the Philippine commission, has donated a site in Manila for the general hospital which is being founded under the auspices of the Episcopal church.

In a fit of despondency, Benjamin F. Chubbuck, aged 50, a shoemaker and a prominent worker in the Methodist church, took laudanum at his home at Brockton, Mass., and is in a very critical condition.

—A Hartford, Conn., fire insurance company has purchased the house in that city which, in 1794, was the first in this country to be insured against fire.

—In Philadelphia physical culture has been added to the regular course of study in the public schools.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus of ten before medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

QUINCY TEACHERS.

Interested in the National Educational Convention.

The annual meeting and sociable of the Quincy Teachers' Association was held in High School hall Thursday evening. The president J. O. Hall, Jr., presided at the business meeting.

The report of the treasurer showed a comfortable balance in the treasury after all the bills for the association course and sociables had been paid. A short report was offered by Mr. Hall relative to excursions to be sent to Quincy, the second week in July, in connection with the convention of the National Educational association. It is proposed to organize a corps of local guides to meet two trains each day of the convention, and show visitors the principal points of interest.

The principal business of the evening was the election of officers for the ensuing year. Mr. Charles Sampson, of the Quincy School was chosen president Miss Iola L. Pearl of the High School, vice-president; and Mr. Austin W. Greene of the Gridley Bryant School, secretary and treasurer.

The entertainment for the evening had been provided by a committee consisting of Mr. Pollard, Miss Pearl and Miss Smith of the Wollaston school. Several songs were attractively rendered by Miss Wood of Boston, and a ladies' trio, composed of Mrs. Carter, Miss Drew and Miss Gage, all of the Washington School, sang "Queen of the Night" very effectively.

There were games for those who cared to play. Ice cream and cakes were served. In spite of the thunder shower the party lingered for informal dancing. Eighty teachers were present, and the affair made a very pleasant ending to a successful season for the association.

Incidentally, Superintendent Parlin mentioned that the number of teachers from Quincy who had joined the National Educational Association was phenomenally large. The attention of the central committee has thus been attracted to Quincy, and the old prestige of the city in educational circles is likely to be maintained.

Long Term For Liquor Dealer

Auburn, Me., May 15.—The severest sentence ever imposed in this county on a liquor case was given by Judge Spear in the case of A. Jolicoeur of Lewiston, who was sentenced on search and seizure, liquor nuisance and common seller. The total on these three counts was a fine of $425 and eight months in jail additional. In default of payment of fine, he is to serve eight months additional in jail. Jolicoeur pays $113 and serves 60 days in jail. The other sentences hang over him to be served if complaint of any kind in regard to liquor selling ever be made regarding him.

Old Landmark Destroyed by Fire

Manchester, N. H., May 15.—The Massabesic hotel was destroyed by fire last night. The hostelry was situated on the shores of Lake Massabesic, where it had been a public house ever since the old stage coach days. The fire was doubtless of incendiary origin. A postal card message received at the office of the Manchester Union last evening stated that there would be a brilliant illumination of the heavens to the east of the city about 2:30 o'clock. This was signed "fire-bugs." At the hour predicted the sky was red from the blazing structure.

TODAY'S COURT.

John T. Manning was arraigned for violation of the liquor law at Randolph. Case continued until May 23.

John Whalen was arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. Case continued until May 18.

The continued case of Patrick J. Whalen of Randolph was called and he was defaulted.

George Fisher was fined $20 for the larceny of a bicycle at Quincy.

Lewis L. Wheelwright was arraigned for assault on Thomas A. Stevens at Cohasset. He was found not guilty and discharged.

PUBLIC WORK OF CITIES

What Many Are Doing In Great Britain.

VARIOUS ENTERPRISES MANAGED

Baths, Water Gardens, Golf Links, Theaters, Pleasure Boats, "Switchback Railways," Sewage Farms and Oyster Beds Are Some of the Specialties—Nearly Two Hundred Towns Have Their Own Water Supply.

English cities have gone much further than our own in carrying on activities that used to be considered exclusively matters of private business. An article in the Liverpool Post, summarized by United States Consul Boyle, shows the extent to which this process has been carried.

The town of Bath owns its hot springs, most of the cold springs, the Roman baths and the famous "pump rooms," one of which has recently been extended with a Roman promenade at a cost of $150,000.

Bournemouth owns its winter gardens and golf links and keeps a public orchestra.

Harrogate receives a good income from its royal baths and springs, winter garden theater and the Royal Spa concert rooms and gardens.

Leamington owns its popular baths and pump room.

Southport earns $17,500 a year with pleasure boats on its marine park lakes and runs a Coney Island on the beach, with a switchback railway, "aerial flight" and other attractions.

Brighton owns its royal pavilion and aquarium.

Many towns dispose of their drainage on sewage farms, which they cultivate with profit. Birmingham raises over $125,000 worth of stock, wool, crops and milk on its sewage farm every year.

Colchester sells 3,000,000 oysters a year from its famous Colne oyster fishery.

Bradford runs a hotel in connection with its public markets, and Plymouth owns both a hotel and a theater.

Birkenhead clears $50,000 a year from its fleet of twelve ferry boats plying to Liverpool.

York owns a canal and a fleet of tugs.

Manchester has invested $25,000,000 in the Manchester ship canal, in which it holds a controlling interest.

Bradford tests wool, yarns and cord at a profit, makes paving slabs from the clinkers in its refuse destructors, and turns fish refuse into fertilizer.

Liverpool makes artificial stone out of clinkers and turns it into workmen's model dwellings.

Leicester makes paving slabs of clinkers and its three sewage farms produce $110,000 a year.

All the common services of Glasgow, except the cemeteries, have been municipalized.

Manchester clears $75,000 a year net profit from its fifteen markets; Liverpool's markets pay $72,860, and the 228 towns that own public markets draw in all $418,910 profit from that source.

The street railway systems owned by the various towns clear over $500,000 profit, which is rapidly increasing. In every case, it is alleged, the transfer of such a system from private to public hands has led to "better service, cheaper fares, increased traffic and larger profits, while the position of the employees has been greatly improved in regard to pay and the hours of labor."

In Leeds the tramways have relieved taxation $204,380 a year.

Liverpool last year cleared $60,145 from the supply of electricity.

One hundred and ninety-three towns have their own water supply, from which they clear a net annual profit of $450,640, after providing interest and sinking funds for borrowed capital, and ninety-nine towns own gas works, paying a profit of $1,974,125 a year. Manchester alone clears $250,000 from gas, instead of paying three millions to a corporation, like New York.

"Hiking" Shoes For Our Troops.

The Washington Times says that a "hiking" shoe has been adopted by the war department for the use of the troops in the Philippines. Experience has shown that the ordinary service shoe is not adapted to the hard service to which it is subjected in the rough sections of the country, especially during the wet season. The new shoe is what is commonly known as the hunting shoe. The sole is heavy, and the heel and sole are fitted with hobnails, an idea adopted from the English army shoe. The uppers come well up on the leg, and the tongue is arranged so as to exclude water. The shoe is made of rough grain leather of the so called tan variety and, while lighter in weight than the English army shoe, is believed to be equally durable.

Lawyers and Juries.

An able New York judge recently gave a severe rebuke to the attorneys on both sides of a case for unprofessional conduct in attempting to influence the jury by declaring their own personal belief in the evidence on their side. Every juror fit to serve knows that an attorney's belief is not evidence, that the attorney is well aware of it and that his declaration thereof to the jury is certainly an improper trick and quite probably a lie. Such an attempt by an attorney is one of the varieties of claptrap by which intelligent jurors are offended. Sharp judicial reminders of its impropriety might well be more frequent.—Case and Comment.

CITY BREVITIES.

Mr. A. G. Heath has sold his store, corner of Beale and Hancock streets, Wollaston, to Mr. Harris of Cambridge.

Miss Annie H. Leonard of the City clerk's office at City Hall has gone to Staten Island, New York, for a few days' trip.

William Kelley, president of the Street Railway Employes' union, was elected vice president of the American association at its meeting in Pittsburg last week.

The game between Adams Academy and the Brown & Nichols School team, at the Park tomorrow afternoon will begin at 2.30 instead of the usual time. A close game is looked for.

Quincy and Braintree members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, assisted Division 9 of East Weymouth to celebrate their anniversary in Odd Fellows' opera house on Thursday evening. There was a musical and literary program and dancing.

Cars and Bridge Wrecked

Hot Springs, Ark., May 15.—A passenger train jumped the track on a 15-foot embankment about a mile east of this city, wrecking all of the cars except the Pullman sleeper and carrying an iron bridge down into the Gulpha creek. The fireman was killed and at least 20 other persons were injured, one fatally, and several others seriously.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Saturday, May 16.
Sun rises—4:23; sets—6:59.
Moon rises—11:05 p. m.
High water—2:30 a. m.; 3 p. m.

The principal area of high pressure overlies the north Pacific coast, the northeast high on the Atlantic having given way rapidly. The weather will be fair in New England.

On the Diamond

At Boston—National—Boston, 8; St. Louis, 2.
At Philadelphia—National—Pittsburg, 5; Philadelphia, 1.
At Brooklyn—National—Brooklyn, 4; Chicago, 3.
At New York—National—Cincinnati, 3; New York, 0.
At Cleveland—American—Boston, 10; Cleveland, 4.
At St. Louis—American—Washington, 4; St. Louis, 3.
At Chicago—American—Chicago, 9; Philadelphia, 3.
At Detroit—American—Detroit, 9; New York, 6.
At Lowell—Lowell, 6; Manchester, 0.
At Nashua—Nashua, 9; Concord, 3.
At Lawrence—Lawrence, 7; Brockton, 3.

DIED.

SHEPPARD—In Quincy, May 15, Mrs. Emma Julia, widow of Mr. John Henry Sheppard, of 46 Granite street, aged 48 years.

HAYWARD—In East Braintree, May 15, Mrs. Sarah A., widow of the late Daniel Hayward, aged 83 years, 11 months.
Funeral from late residence Quincy avenue, Monday May 18, at 2:30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

TO LET

IN QUINCY, MASS.,

By H. H. FAXON.

HOUSES, STORES, HALL, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES,

Land, Wharves, etc.

Buildings are in Complete Repair

Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.
House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.
Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.
Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc, No. 92 School street, $12 per month.
Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.
Stable, junction School and Franklin streets, $4 per month.
Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.
Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.
Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.
For particulars apply to
HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, May 13, 1903. 1m

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

SUMMER GOODS.

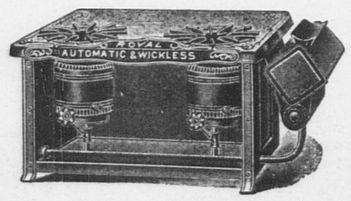

Seasonable warm weather goods for inside and outside use. No matter what you want you are sure to find it here at prices that are worthy of your consideration.

EDDY REFRIGERATORS.

Factory prices, $5.50 and up. A catalogue for the asking.

BLUE FLAME OIL STOVES, $4.00 to $9.00.

Cost almost nothing to run. No fires, no light, no coal, no wood, no dust, no ashes.

CARTS, $3.75 to $25.00

60 patterns to choose from. The handsomest you have ever seen. If you see an attractive Go Cart on the street, the chances are it came from Kincaide's. Ours have the style.

BICYCLES, $18.00 to $30.00.

The worthy sort:

LIVER JOHNSON.
DAYTON.
CRAWFORD.
LE ROY.

HAMMOCKS, LAWN SWINGS, PIAZZA CHAIRS, ICE CREAM FREEZERS, LAWN HOSE, LAWN MOWERS, SCREEN DOORS, WINDOW SCREENS, CROQUET SETS, SUMMER COTTAGE FURNITURE, MATTINGS, ETC.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO., Furniture Store and Annex, Hancock Street, Quincy.

Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings. Short Credit Accounts When Desired.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day,	25 cents
" " three days,	50 cents
" " one week,	75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—A light running open Corning Box Buggy, cheap, in fine condition; also a rubber tired Goddard, in good repair; can be seen at 19 Pine street, Wollaston. Address E. F. WHITE, Wollaston, Mass. May 11-13t

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office. April 28. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street. Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE.—Yawl BRANT, 28.6 o. a., 9-0 beam, 3-0 draught, with centre board up; built by Lelosse in 1898. This boat is well known along the coast as a safe and handy cruiser, is easily handled, and is in perfect condition, well found in everything needed for comfort and safety. Now at her moorings off the Wollaston Yacht Club house and ready for sea. J. A. FENNO, 538 Hancock street. Wollaston, May 4. tf

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve (12) rooms, with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

TO LET.

ROOMS TO LET—With or without board. Near electric cars; about five minutes' walk from depot. 212 Highland avenue, near Brook street, Wollaston. May 14-6t

TO LET—A House of eight rooms and bath, opposite Adams Academy, Johnson avenue; 16 Faxon avenue, house of 9 rooms and bath, 2 minutes from R. R. Station; also summer plastered house of 11 rooms, bath and hot water, on Great Hill, Quincy. FANNIE M. TAYLOR, 176 Federal street, Boston. May 14. 3t

TO LET—Large, Square Room and Side Rooms. Barn for $1 per month. Apply Greenleaf street, corner Hancock street. Quincy, May 8. tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet, 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street. Quincy, April 21. tf

WANTED.

WANTED—Two Good Carpenters who understand inside finish. These only need apply Monday morning at new house, corner of Dimmock street and Whalley road. May 15-3t

WANTED—A few Good Quarrymen, at the quarry of SWINGLE & FALCONER. May 14. 3t

WANTED—A Girl for general housework. Apply at No. 2 Kent street, West Quincy. May 14. 3t

WANTED—Every lady in Quincy to have in the house or garden. The beautiful and mysterious "Resurrection" plant which never dies. Agents find it a ready seller, and a first rate money getter. Write for descriptive circular or send 25c. for sample plant. Summit Greenhouse Agency, Box 2137, Boston, Mass. May 13. 1-6t--p 1w

WANTED—Young Man to help shipper. HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO. Quincy, May 9. tf

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON. Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

WANTED.

WANTED—Young Men to prepare for Government Positions. Fine Openings in all Departments. Good Salaries. Rapid Promotions. Examinations soon. Particulars Free. Inter-State Cor. Inst., Cedar Rapids, Ia. April 27. 1p-1m

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F CRANE, 4 Chestnut street. Quincy, April 9. 1p-tf

NEW STORES TO LET.

A BUILDING will be erected at once by N. G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information enquire of N. G. NICKERSON. Quincy, May 12-tf

JOB PRINTING AT THE PATRIOT OFFICE

Quincy Daily Ledger.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS
and at the following places:

BOSTON—Terminal News Stand after 35
QUINCY—Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock St
Atwell's Periodical Store, 1 Granite St
Henry P. Kittredge, City Square
Rogers Bros., Hancock St.
J. P. O'Brien, 1596 Hancock St
C. F. Carlson, near Quincy depot
A. F. Hall, 128 Washington St., near Canal.
QUINCY POINT—Miss Freeman's store
Sprague & Hobart, Washington cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—P. L. Litchfield, Water st.
W. E. Nightingale 80 Water street.
O. D. Chick, 59 Liberty St.
WEST QUINCY—Coram's Periodical Store.
BRAINTREE—Emma Lark.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's news stand.
WOLLASTON PARK—C. E. Hosmer, cor. Hancock and Beach streets.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branscheid & Marten.
ATLANTIC—Branscheid & Marten.
HOUGHS NECK—Arthur Dunham at P. O.
EAST MILTON—William Clark.
EAST WEYMOUTH—George H. Hunt
WEYMOUTH—J. R. Walsh.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—B. F. Thomas.

1903		MAY				1903
Su.	Mo.	Tu.	We.	Th.	Fr.	Sa.
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24 31	25	26	27	28	29	30

MOON'S PHASES.

First Quarter	4	2:26 a. m.	Third Quarter	19	10:18 a. m.
Full Moon	11	8:16 a. m.	New Moon	26	5:44 p. m.

CALL FOR FULL REPORT

Of Conditions In the Philippines as Observed by General Miles

Washington, May 15.—Secretary Root and a number of other officials in the war department have received a circular letter from Herbert Welch of Philadelphia, which also has been mailed to a number of private individuals, in reference to the report of Lieutenant General Miles. The letter desires that letters be addressed to the president, Secretary Root, Adjutant General Corbin, Judge Advocate General Davis, Assistant Adjutant General Hall and Assistant Adjutant General Ennis asking them to make public, for the information and guidance of the country, the full report of General Miles regarding the affairs in the Philippine islands.

He says he has not seen General Miles' report, "having in vain tried to secure a copy of it from the war department," but believes that it contains facts that enlightened citizens should have. Mr. Welsh says that 600,000 souls have perished in those islands from war, famine and pestilence under our flag.

Secretary Root referred the circular letter he received to Judge Advocate General Davis.

Fortune's Misfortune

Manila, May 15.—After a difficulty with the local police T. T. Fortune, a colored newspaper man, appointed special labor commissioner by the war department, has left Manila for home. Fortune's secretary was arrested for a petty offense and Fortune accompanied him to the police station, where an argument led to a fight, during which the police clubbed Fortune's secretary and charged Fortune with resisting officers of the law. Fortune made counter charges, but later all the charges were withdrawn.

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.
Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass the house, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward st., East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacy, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

When Knighthood Was In Flower

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening in the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By Edwin Caskoden [Charles Major]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

This story began in the Daily Ledger of Monday, March 16, and will be continued daily until completed.

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I and II.—Charles Brandon kills a duelist on the field of honor and is appointed captain of the king's guard at the English court The king"s sister. Mary Tudor, quickly sets her fancy upon the gallant stranger. Brandon makes a confidant of Edwin Caskoden, master of the dance. III.—Caskoden is attentive to Lady Jane Bolingbroke, companion to the princess. In a fit of petulance Mary rebuke Brandon, then craves forgiveness. IV—Brandon teaches Mary a new dance learned in France. The young princess is shocked at first, then delighted with the sensation of Brandon's arm around her waist. Brandon declares that the girl is perfect, but the game of making love to royalty is dangerous. V.—Brandon crosses swords with the Duke of Buckingham, an unwelcome admirer of the princess. VI—Mary, Lady Jane, Brandon and Caskoden ride to Windsor with the king. Mary shows decided partiality for Brandon's company, and on the return he is sent a day ahead of the royal party. VII—Louis XII of France asks for the hand of Mary. Brandon to sail for America to avoid Mary. She takes him to task for his indifference. Overcome by her pleadings, he makes a violent demonstration of his love. VIII.—Mary and Lady Jane go in disguise to consult a fortune teller. Brandon follows unknown to Mary. Buckingham plays the spy, and in a fight with Brandon he is wounded and two of his suit killed. IX.—Brandon in prison charged with murder. Mary to plead with the King. Buckingham against the prisoner. The king discovers a note sent by Mary to Brandon. Brandon condemned to death. The king learns that Brandon saved Mary from disgrace and orders his release. Brandon now madly in love with Mary. XI—Ambassadors of the French king come to England to court Mary for their aged sovereign The girl spurns them in a highly dramatic scene. The betrothal made by King Henry. Mary kept in ignorance of Brandon's imprisonment. She supposed he had sailed for America. XII—Mary explains to Brandon her neglect when he lay in prison. Bitter words followed by betrothal. Brandon dismissed from court. XIII.—Mary flatly refuses to wed the old French king. Brandon accuses Buckingham of having attempted to abduct Mary. King Henry angry with Brandon. XIV and XV—The kings learns of love trysts between Mary and Brandon. Brandon's life in danger. He secures passage to America. Mary insists upon going along in man's disguise. XVII—Mary escapes from her chaperons during a hunt and rides to meet Brandon. Caskoden still wooing Lady Jane. XVII.—The lovers board ship for America, but Mary's disguise is unmasked, and the captain orders them ashore. XVIII.—The fugitives captured and taken seperately to London. Brandon ordered to the Tower to await execution. Mary barters herself to the French king to save Brandon's head

CHAPTER XIX.

PROSERPINA.

So the value received for Wolsey's friendship to Brandon was Mary's promise to marry Louis.

Mary wanted to send a message at once to Brandon, telling him his life would be spared and that she had made no delay this time—a fact of which she was very proud—but the Tower gates would not open until morning, so she had to wait. She compensated herself as well as she could by writing a letter, which I should like to give you here, but it is too long. She told him of his pardon, but not one word upon the theme he so wished yet feared to hear of—her promise never to wed any other man. Mary had not told him of her final surrender in the matter of the French marriage, for the reason that she dreaded to pain him and feared he might refuse the sacrifice.

"It will almost kill him, I know," she said to Jane that night, "and I fear it is a false kindness I do him. He would, probably, rather die than that I should marry another. I know that I should rather die or have anything else terrible to happen than for another woman to possess him. He promised me he never would, but suppose he should fail in his word, as I have today failed in mine? The thought of it absolutely burns me." And she threw herself into Jane's arms, and that little comforter tried to soothe her by making light of her fears.

"Oh, but suppose he should?"

"Well, there is no need to borrow trouble. You said he promised you, and you know he is one who keeps his word."

"But I promised, too, and think of what I am about to do. Mary in heaven, help me! But he is made of different stuff from me. I can and do trust his word, and when I think of all my troubles and when it seems that I cannot bear them the one comforting thought comes that no other woman will ever possess him—no other woman, no other woman. I am glad that my only comfort comes from him."

"I hoped that I might have been some comfort to you. I have tried hard enough," said Jane, who was jealous.

"Oh, yes, my sweet Jane. You do comfort me. You are like a soothing balm to an aching pain." And she kissed the hands that held hers This was all that modest little Jane required. She was content to be a humble balm and did not aspire to the dignity of an elixir.

The girls then said their prayers in concert, and Mary gently wept herself to sleep. She lay dreaming and tossing nervously until sunrise, when she got up and added more pages to her letter until I called to take it.

I was on hand soon after the Tower gates had opened and was permitted to see Brandon at once. He read Mary's letter and acted like every other lover since love letters first began. He was quick to note the absence of the longed for but not expected assurance, and when he did not see it went straight to the point.

"She has promised to marry the French king to purchase my life. Is that not true?"

"I hope not," I answered evasively. "I have seen very little of her, and she has said nothing about it."

"You are evading my question, I see. Do you know nothing of it?"

"Nothing," I replied, telling an unnecessary lie.

"Caskoden, you are either a liar or a blockhead."

"Make it a liar, Brandon," said I, laughingly, for I was sure of my place in his heart and knew that he meant no offense.

I never doubt a friend. One would better be trustful of ninety-nine friends who are false than doubtful of one who is true. Suspicion and supersensitiveness are at once the badge and the bane of a little soul.

I did not leave the Tower until noon, and Brandon's pardon had been delivered to him before I left. He was glad that the first news of it had come from Mary.

He naturally expected his liberty at once, and when told that he was to be honorably detained for a short time turned to me and said: "I suppose they are afraid to let me out until she is off for France. King Henry flatters me."

I looked out of the window up Tower street and said nothing.

When I left, I took a letter to Mary, which plainly told her he had divined it all, and she wrote a tear stained answer, begging him to forgive her for having saved his life at a cost greater than her own.

For several days I was kept busy carrying letters from Greenwich to the Tower and back again, but soon letters ceased to satisfy Mary, and she made up her mind that she must see him. Nothing else would do. She must not, could not and, in short, would not go another day without seeing him—no, not another hour. Jane and I opposed her all we could, but the best we could accomplish was to induce her for Brandon's sake—for she was beginning to see that he was the one who had to suffer for her indiscretions—to ask Henry's permission, and if he refused, then try some other way. To determine was to act with Mary, so off she went without delay to hunt the king, taking Jane and me along as escort. How full we were of important business as we scurried along the corridors, one on each side of Mary, all talking excitedly at once! When anything was to be done, it always required three of us to do it.

We found the king, and without any prelude Mary proffered her request. Of course it was refused. Mary pouted and was getting ready for an outburst when Wolsey spoke up: "With your majesty's gracious permission, I would subscribe to the petition of the princess. She has been good enough to give her promise in the matter of so much importance to us, and in so small a thing as this I hope you may see your way clear toward favoring her. The interview will be the last and may help to make her duty easier." Mary gave the cardinal a fleeting glance from her lustrous eyes full of surprise and gratitude and as speaking as a book.

Henry looked from one to the other of us for a moment and broke into a boisterous laugh.

"Oh, I don't care, so that you keep it a secret. The old king will never know. We can hurry up the marriage. He is getting too much already—400,000 crowns and a girl like you. He cannot complain if he have an heir. It would be a good joke on the miserly old dotard, but better on 'Ce Gros Garcon.'"

Mary sprang from her chair with a cry of rage. "You brute! Do you think I am as vile as you because I have the misfortune to be your sister, or that Charles Brandon is like you simply because he is a man?" Henry laughed, his health at that time being too good for him to be ill natured. He had all he wanted out of his sister, so her outbursts amused him.

Mary hurriedly left the king and walked back to her room, filled with shame and rage, feelings actively stimulated by Jane, who was equally indignant.

Henry had noticed Jane's frown, but had laughed at her and had tried to catch and kiss her as she left, but she struggled away from him and fled with a speed worthy of the cause.

This insulting suggestion put a stop to Mary's visit to the Tower more effectually than any refusal could have done, and she sat down to pour forth her soul's indignation in a letter.

She remained at home then, but saw Brandon later, and to good purpose, as I believe, although I am not sure about it even to this day.

I took this letter to Brandon along with Mary's miniature—the one that had been painted for Charles of Germany, but had never been given—and a curl of her hair, and it looked as if this was all he would ever possess of her.

De Longueville heard of Henry's brutal consent that Mary might see Brandon, and, with a Frenchman's belief in woman's depravity, was exceedingly anxious to keep them apart. To this end he requested that a member of his own retinue be placed near Brandon. To this Henry readily consented, and there was an end to even the letter writing. Opportunities increase in value doubly fast as they drift behind us, and now that the princess could not see Brandon or even write to him she regretted with her whole soul that she had not gone to the Tower when she had permission, regardless of what any one would say or think.

Mary was imperious and impatient by nature, but upon rare and urgent occasions could employ the very smoothest sort of finesse.

[To be Continued.]

ARREST EXPECTED

Police Are Moving Very Cautiously In Sturtevant Murder Case

Medford, Mass., May 15.—The resident upon whom the police have decided to fix the responsibility for the killing of Nellie Sturtevant on the night of May 6 is yet at liberty. Last night it was given out unofficially that the arrest would take place very shortly, and the police showed great activity during the whole evening. But the police are still at work gathering evidence against the man. The possibility of another failure is making the police doubly careful about making the arrest. They are seeking conclusive evidence in the hope it will come to make conviction of the man certain.

Tieup Threatened at Bridgeport

Bridgeport, Conn., May 15.—This city is on the verge of a strike which will tie up the local line of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company, with branches extending to neighboring towns. The employes demand recognition of the union, a flat wage rate of 22½ cents an hour; abolishment of "swing" runs; a maximum workday of 10 hours; for the employment of a sufficient number of extra men to allow each regular man a day off each week, and a choice of runs by the men, according to seniority and a few other unimportant privileges. The company is willing to grant all the requests but the recognition of the union and the flat wage rate.

Cause of Shooting Not Clear

Boston, May 15.—Eric B. H. Mackay shot and seriously wounded Ernest F. Holbrook, a clerk employed in the laboratory of the United Drug company, but the latter's injuries are not likely to prove fatal. Mackay called at the laboratory to see Holbrook. The shooting then followed. Mackay says that he and Holbook had had trouble over a coat; that he had been unable to secure payment for it, and that it was for that purpose he called upon Holbrook. On the other hand, Holbrook says that he does not even know Mackay and that he was greatly surprised when the latter made the demand upon him for the money.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Ravder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

Woman Admits Stabbing

Haverhill, Mass., May 15.—Mrs. Sarah R. Morrison is locked up, charged with assault on her husband, Walter Morrison, who is also under arrest on a charge of drunkenness. Morrison has a deep knife wound in the left side of his neck, and his wife admits having stabbed him with a carving knife. She says her husband was intoxicated and assaulted her. The blade barely missed his jugular vein.

Cotton Sold at Good Profit

Lowell, Mass., May 15.—The Tremont and Suffolk mills shipped 200 bales of cotton which, it is said, will go to Russia. It was sold at a good profit.

—The empire of Morocco is the most important state that is absolutely without a newspaper.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

is for babies and children who are thin and pale when they ought to be fat and ruddy; for men and women who are weak and delicate when they ought to be strong and hearty—for all who are not getting proper nourishment from their food.

Poor blood, thin body, open the door for disease. Scott's Emulsion bars the way. Makes the blood richer, produces healthy flesh and above all provides nourishment.

Avoid these so-called wines, cordials and extracts of cod liver oil that are prepared for the taste only, contain none of the value of cod liver oil and which contain a large percentage of alcohol.

Scott's Emulsion has been the reliable cod liver oil preparation for over a quarter of a century.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

WAS MADE IN CHICAGO

Police Succeed In Tracing Umbria Infernal Machine

LOOKING FOR "G RUSSELL"

Who Manufactured Deadly Device and Was Unsuspectingly Assisted by Three Mechanics—Belief That He Is En Route For Some Foreign Port

Chicago, May 15.—The infernal machine which was taken to the Cunard docks at New York to be placed on board the steamer Umbria was made in Chicago by a man named G. Russell, living at 247 Washington boulevard. The house at that number is kept by a Mrs. Ehlan. She says that a man apparently about 30 years of age, who gave his name as G. Russell, had lived in her house for three weeks prior to April 25, on which day he left, saying that he intended to go east. The woman says that during his stay in her house he was engaged in some mysterious work, and kept his door always locked. She saw enough of what he was doing, she said, to know that it had something to do with clocks, and that he was always arranging some machinery that had a number of wheels in it.

The Chicago police have discovered three men, who, it is believed, unsuspectingly assisted the mysterious "G. Russell" in manufacturing his deadly device. The men are J. W. Seymour, carpenter; J. W. Elsenberg, blacksmith, and John Clarke, machinist, whose shops are in the vicinity of the apartment occupied by Russell in Washington boulevard.

"During the week Russell roomed across the street," said Seymour, last night, "I planed down four strips of wood about 20 inches long for a man answering his description, who said he had a patent of some kind. I believe he said it was a gambling device."

"Some time ago," said Clarke, "a man came to my shop and asked for assistance in making a gambling machine. He said it was something new in the way of a gambling device. We made him a cone, with an inch base and a disk to fit it. He first said that he wanted only one pair of the iron pieces, but later asked for three more pairs. He never called for the additional pieces. The man answers the description of the mysterious stranger known as 'G. Russell.'"

Inspector McCluskey and Detective Sergeants Carey and Funston of New York arrived in Chicago and spent most of the afternoon following the trunk check clue. Inspector McClusky returned to New York last night, but left his two detectives here to assist the local police on the case. Before leaving for the east the inspector said:

"I believe the machine was made in Chicago and that the conspiracy, if any existed, was hatched here. We have the entire detective force of New York at work on the case and we are looking for startling developments soon."

Lieutenant Rohan of the Chicago detective bureau, who has charge of the case, said last night: "I believe that without any doubt this man Russell, who lived at the home of Mrs. Ehlen, is the man who made the bomb and who consigned it to the Umbria. We have discovered already how, when and where the infernal machine was made."

Lieutenant Rohan would not say whether he believed that the mysterious "G. Russell" or "Rosseau" is in Chicago, but the fact that the lieutenant kept his men on the run is taken as an indication that he had reason to believe the dynamiter is in the city.

May Be In Mid-Ocean

New York, May 15.—Sailing lists of half a dozen trans-Atlantic steamship lines have been found by detectives in the room of G. Rosseau, who, it is alleged, was the sender of the infernal machine found at the Cunard company's dock recently. This fact has given rise to a theory that Rosseau sailed for Europe Saturday immediately after mailing the warning letter to Police Commissioner Greene. The sailing lists found in Rosseau's room were all folded in a way to suggest that Saturday's sailings had been studied. No railroad timetables were found in the room, and those boarders in the house who knew Rosseau best are strongly of the opinion that he is now in mid-ocean en route for some foreign port. They think it possible that he sailed on the Umbria. On cabled instructions from the police here each of the steamers which sailed eastbound Saturday will be searched on arrival for the dynamiter.

Trolley Party In Smashup

Indianapolis, May 15.—Two street cars, bearing a trolley party of delegates of the national convention of Royal Neighbors, collided here last evening. Ten women were more or less injured, three of whom are hurt seriously. The accident was caused by a car being stopped suddenly and another car crashing into it.

Three Sailors to Hang Liverpool, May 15.—Three seamen of the British bark Veronica, from Ship Island, Miss., against whom the grand jury returned true bills on the charges of murder and arson, have been sentenced to death.

Women Inspectors Lose Jobs

Washington, May 15.—The services of the women immigration inspectors appointed three months ago at New York, under the operation of the civil service law, have been discontinued.

Spring and Summer Shoes.

The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.
The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.

GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

Reupholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE
HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.
Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.
Call and get Prices.
C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.
Quincy, May 2. 1m

W. G. CHUBBUCK
Furniture and Piano Mover,
IN AND OUT OF TOWN.
Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.
JOBBING.
Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Blocks; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.
lp-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

FRANK P. CRANE,
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER.
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17.

JAMES F. BURKE,
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5. tf

ERIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.
Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass
May7. 1m

SMOKE THE
COVERNESS.
UNION MADE.
Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers
Manufactured by
P. A. NELSON,
59 Granite Street.
Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

If you are thinking of
BUYING A HOUSE
OR A
LOT OF LAND,
Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.
WALTER E. BURKE.
Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.
BELL and TELEPHONE WORK
A SPECIALTY.
Guaranteed Work at Right Price.
Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.
Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.
Address, 1262 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
Quincy, April 10. tfip

King Arthur Flour
MAKES THE
BEST BREAD.
SOLD BY
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!
OF ALL KINDS.
DRY AND GREEN
At Lowest Possible Prices.
THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.
ard off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy
Jan. 7. tf

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

On and after Oct. 19, 1902, trains will run as follows:

[Subject to change without notice.]

TO BOSTON. Leave Quincy.	Stops at	Arrive Boston	FROM BOSTON Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy.
r *5 19	abcdefghi	5 47	*5 50	ihgfedcba	6 19 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 26	ad	7 45	8 28	cba	8 49 r
r 7 42	abc	8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 7 54	abcde	8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 8 13	a	8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
r 8 26	abd	8 45	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 8 46	abc	9 06	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	12 58	cba	1 19 r
r 9 42	abc	10 02	1 28	cba	1 49 r
r 10 12	abc	10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
r 10 42	abc	11 02	2 28	cba	2 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
r 12 12	abc	12 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
r 1 42	abc	2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 2 12	abc	2 32	4 50	edcba	5 16 r
r 3 12	abc	3 32	5 15	dba	5 36 r
r 3 42	abc	4 02	5 28	a	5 45 r
r 4 12	abc	4 32	5 45	edcba	6 08 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 58	cba	6 19 r
r 5 29	abcdefghi	5 57	6 15	da	6 36 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 39	abcdefghi	8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r
r 9 34	abcdefghi	10 02	10 [illegible]	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
r 0 08	abcdef	10 32	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

r 7 42	abc	8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 8 42	abc	9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 46 r
9 33	a	9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 45 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 45 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 28	cba	5 45 r
r 6 03	abcdefghi	6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	8 43	(ex)	9 00
r 10 18	abcdef	10 42	10 25	fedcba	10 53 r

* The letters in the same line as the figure stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a. Wollaston, b, Norfolk Downs, c, Atlantic, d, Neponset, e, Pope's Hill, f, Harrison Square, g, Savin Hill, h, Crescent Avenue, i, South Boston, r, Quincy Adams.

Dr. Emmons'
Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

Shoes.
l be very much in Ties in the latest
to $3.50.
to $3.50.
00, $1.25.
0, $2.00.
5, $1.75. c., $1.00.
ders.
Men.
Women.
ONES,
NCY.

SELL JONES,
CTRICIAN.
TELEPHONE WORK
SPECIALTY.
Work at Right Price.
ld remain in order from one to two years.
by me are GUARANTEED FOR ail orders receive prompt at-1262 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
10. tflp

Arthur Flour
AKES THE T BREAD.
SOLD BY PRATT & SON,
QUINCY

WOOD! WOOD!
F ALL KINDS.
AND GREEN
owest Possible Prices.
O'BRIEN & SONS.
nd West Streets, West Quincy
tf

ork, New Haven
Hartford R. R.

r Oct. 19, 1902, trains will run to change without notice.]

TON.	FROM BOSTON
Arrive Boston	Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy.
ghi 5 47	*5 50	ihgfedcba	6 19 r
6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
7 45	8 28	cba	8 49 r
8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
8 45	11 28	cba	11 49 r
9 05	12 28	cba	12 49 r
9 32	12 58	cba	1 19 r
10 02	1 28	cba	1 49 r
10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
11 02	2 28	cba	2 49 r
11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
12 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
1 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
2 32	4 50	edcba	5 16 r
3 32	5 15	dba	5 36 r
4 02	5 28	a	5 45 r
4 32	5 45	edcba	6 08 r
5 32	5 58	cba	6 19 r
ghi 5 57	6 15	da	6 36 r
6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
ghi 8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
9 32	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r
hi 10 02	10 [illegible]	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
10 32	11 28	cba	11 49 r
11 32

UNDAYS.

8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 46 r
9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
hi 11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 45 r
1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 45 r
hi 4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
5 32	5 28	cba	5 45 r
hi 6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
8 32	8 43	(ex)	9 00
10 42	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r

in the same line as the figure ent stations and indicate that lows:

f, Harrison Square.
wns, g, Savin Hill.
h, Crescent Avenue.
i, South Boston.
r, Quincy Adams.

Emmons'
ator has brought happiness to ious women. There is positive edy known to medical science ickly and safely do the work.
et obstinate irregularities from ed immediately. Success guar age. No pain, danger, or inter
rk. Have relieved hundreds of ers have failed. The most diffi sfully treated by mail, and ben uaranteed in every instance. No r. We treat hundreds of ladies
see. Write for further particu nfidential advice. Do not put off tters truthfully answered. Re emedy is absolutely safe under condition and positively leaves t upon the health. Sent by mail
, $2.00. Money letters should be
H. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tre on, Mass.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 115. QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

A HOME DEPOSIT BANK
FREE.

Savings Department

The National Granite Bank,

QUINCY, MASS.

The National Granite Bank announces the addition of a Savings Department, and the introduction of the Home Deposit Bank System. You are requested to call and have this system fully explained to you.

The Plan.

A deposit of One Dollar ($1.00) or more will secure you the loan of one of these banks. Your bank account will be opened, and pass-book furnished you shows your deposit duly credited.

Take the Bank Home

and place in it your spare change and surplus moneys. At certain intervals, or as often as convenient, when an accumulation has resulted, bring your bank to us. The contents will be removed, counted, and your deposits with us earn

3 per cent. interest.

YOU KEEP THE BANK.

WE KEEP THE KEY.

The Result.

You don't miss what you drop in. What comes out surprises you. The presence of the small bank in your home is equivalent to your having a branch of our Savings Department always at hand. To remove the usual

Temptation to Spend,

the money slot in the small bank is so constructed that moneys once dropped in cannot be shaken out. The application of this savings plan creates

Good Business Habits.

The Home Deposit Bank System is within the reach of all, and is of especial interest to every working man, woman and salaried individual.

It is not what you Earn, but what you Save, that makes you independent, and the sooner you make a start in this direction, the sooner you will reach the desired goal.

Money at interest works for you night and day, Sundays and holidays, and twenty-four hours per day.

THE NATIONAL GRANITE BANK.

Established 1865.

CAPITAL STOCK, $150,000. SURPLUS AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $153,000. DEPOSITS, $420,000.

THEOPHILUS KING, President. RUPERT F. CLAFLIN, Cashier.

DIRECTORS.

THEOPHILUS KING, RUPERT F. CLAFLIN,
EDWIN W. MARSH, JAMES THOMPSON,
JOSEPH H. VOGEL, CLARENCE BURGIN,
DELCEVARE KING, RUSSELL A. SEARS.

Banking Hours: From 8.30 A. M. till 3 P. M. Saturdays closing at 12 M.

NOTICE—In the event that you are unable to call at the Bank, drop us a line or phone No. 26-3, and one of our representatives will visit you.

This system is being installed by the C. O. Burns Company, originators and original patentees and manufacturers of the Home Deposit Banks and System, Nos. 13–21 Park Row, New York.

When Knighthood Was In Flower

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By Edwin Caskoden [Charles Major]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

This story began in the Daily Ledger of Monday, March 16, and will be continued daily until completed.

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I and II.—Charles Brandon kills a duelist on the field of honor and is appointed captain of the king's guard at the English court The king's sister, Mary Tudor, quickly sets her fancy upon the gallant stranger. Brandon makes a confidant of Edwin Caskoden, master of the dance. III.—Caskoden attentive to Lady Jane Bolingbroke, companion to the princess. In a fit of petulance Mary rebuke Brandon, then craves forgiveness. IV—Brandon teaches Mary a new dance learned in France. The young princess is shocked at first, then delighted with the sensation of Brandon's arm around her waist. Brandon declares that the girl is perfect, but the game of making love to royalty is dangerous. V.—Brandon crosses swords with the Duke of Buckingham, an unwelcome admirer of the princess. VI—Mary, Lady Jane, Brandon and Caskoden ride to Windsor with the king. Mary shows decided partiality for Brandon's company, and on the return he is sent a day ahead of the royal party. VII—Louis XII of France asks for the hand of Mary. Brandon to sail for America to avoid Mary. She takes him to task for his indifference. Overcome by her pleadings, he makes a violent demonstration of his love. VIII.—Mary and Lady Jane go in disguise to consult a fortune teller. Brandon follows unknown to Mary. Buckingham plays the spy, and in a fight with Brandon he is wounded and two of his suit killed. IX.—Brandon in prison charged with murder. Mary to plead with the King. Buckingham against the prisoner. The king discovers a note sent by Mary to Brandon. Brandon condemned to death. The king learns that Brandon saved Mary from disgrace and orders his release. Brandon now madly in love with Mary. XI—Ambassadors of the French king come to England to court Mary for their aged sovereign The girl spurns them in a highly dramatic scene. The betrothal made by King Henry. Mary kept in ignorance of Brandon's imprisonment. She supposed he had sailed for America. XII—Mary explains to Brandon her neglect when he lay in prison. Bitter words followed by betrothal. Brandon dismissed from court. XIII.—Mary flatly refuses to wed the old French king. Brandon accuses Buckingham of having attempted to abduct Mary. King Henry angry with Brandon. XIV and XV—The kings learns of love trysts between Mary and Brandon. Brandon's life in danger. He secures passage to America Mary insists upon going along in man's disguise. XVII—Mary escapes from her chaperons during a hunt and rides to meet Brandon. Caskoden still wooing Lady Jane. XVII.—The lovers board ship for America, but Mary's disguise is unmasked, and the captain orders them ashore. XVIII.—The fugitives captured and taken seperately to London. Brandon ordered to the Tower to await execution. Mary barters herself to the French king to save Brandon's head

CHAPTER XIX—[Continued.]

Henry's brutal seinsnness in forcing upon her the French marriage, together with his cruel condemnation of Brandon and his vile insinuations against herself, had driven nearly every spark of affection for her brother from her heart. But she felt that she might feign an affection she did not feel, and that what she so wanted would be cheap at the price. Cheap? It would be cheap at the cost of her immortal soul. Cheap? What she wanted was life's condensed sweets—the man she loved—and what she wanted to escape was life's distilled bitterness—marriage with a man she loathed. None but a pure woman can know the torture of that. I saw this whole disastrous campaign from start to finish. Mary began with a wide flank movement conducted under masked batteries and skillfully executed. She sighed over her troubles and cried a great deal, but told the king he had been such a dear, kind brother to her that she would gladly do anything to please him and advance his interests. She said it would be torture to live with that old creature, King Louis, but she would do it willingly to help her handsome brother, no matter how much she might suffer.

The king laughed and said: "Poor old Louis! What about him? What about his suffering? He thinks he is making such a fine bargain, but the Lord pity him when he has my little sister in his side for a thorn. He had better employ some energetic soul to prick him with needles and bodkins, for I think there is more power for disturbance in this little body than in any other equal amount of space in all the universe. You will furnish him all the trouble he wants, won't you, sister?"

"I shall try," said the princess demurely, perfectly willing to obey in everything.

"Devil a doubt of that, and you will succeed, too, or my crown's a stew-pan." And he laughed at the huge joke he was about to perpetrate on his poor old royal brother.

It would seem that the tremendous dose of flattery administered by Mary would have been so plainly self interested as to alarm the dullest perception, but Henry's vanity was so dense and his appetite for flattery so great that he accepted it all without suspicion, and it made him quite affable and gracious.

Mary kept up her show of affection and docile obedience for a week or two until she thought Henry's suspicions were allayed, and then, after having done enough petting and fondling, as she thought, to start the earth itself a-moving—as some men are foolish enough to say it really does—she began the attack direct by putting her arms about the king's neck and piteously begging him not to sacrifice her whole life by sending her to France.

Her pathetic, soul charged appeal might have softened the heart of Caligula himself, but Henry was not even cruel. He was simply an animal so absorbed in himself that he could not feel for others.

"Oh, it is out at last!" he said with a laugh. "I thought all this sweetness must have been for something. So the lady wants her Brandon and doesn't want her Louis, yet is willing to obey her dear, kind brother? Well, we'll take her at her word and let her obey. You may as well understand, once and for all, that you are to go to France. You promised to go decently if I would not cut off that fellow's head, and now I tell you that if I hear another whimper from you off it comes, and you will go to France too."

This brought Mary to terms quickly enough. It touched her one vulnerable spot—her love.

"I will go; I promise it again. You shall never hear another word that no harm shall come to him—to him." And she put her hands over her face to conceal her tears as she softly wept.

"The day you sail for France Brandon shall go free and shall again have his old post at court. I like the fellow as a good companion, and really believe you are more to blame than he."

"I am all to blame, and am ready this day to pay the penalty. I am at your disposal to go when and where you choose," answered Mary most pathetically.

Poor, fair Proserpina, with no kind mother Demeter to help her. The ground will soon open, and Pluto will have his bride.

That evening Cavendish took me aside and said his master, Wolsey, wished to speak to me privately at a convenient opportunity. So when the bishop left his card table an hour later I threw myself in his way. He spoke gayly to me, and we walked down the corridor arm in arm. I could not imagine what was wanted, but presently it came out: "My dear Caskoden"—had I been one for whom he could have had any use I should have grown suspicious—"my dear Caskoden, I know I can trust you; especially when that which I have to say is for the happiness of your friends. I am sure you will never name me in connection with the suggestion I am about to make, and will use the thought only as your own."

I did not know what was coming, but gave him the strongest assurance of my trustworthiness.

"It is this: Louis of France is little better than a dead man. King Henry, perhaps, is not fully aware of this, and if he is he has never considered the probability of his speedy death. The thought occurred to me that although the princess cannot dissuade her brother from this marriage, she may be able, in view of her ready and cheerful com-

"My dear Caskoden, I know I can trust you."

pliance, to extract some virtue out of her sore necessity and induce him to promise that in case of the death of Louis she herself shall choose her second husband."

"My lord," I replied, quickly grasping the point, "it is small wonder you rule this land. You have both brain and heart."

"I thank you, Sir Edwin, and hope that both may always be at the service of you and your friends."

I gave the suggestion to Mary as my own, recommending that she proffer her request to the king in the presence of Wolsey, and, although she had little faith or hope, she determined to try.

Within a day or two an opportunity offered, and she said to Henry: "I am ready to go to France any time you wish, and shall do it decently and willingly, but if I do so much for you, brother, you might at least promise me that when King Louis is dead I may marry whomsoever I wish. He will probably live forever, but let me have at least that hope to give me what cheer it may while I suffer."

The ever present Wolsey, who was standing near and heard Mary's petition, interposed: "Let me add my prayer to that of her highness. We must give her her own way in something."

Mary was such a complete picture of wretchedness that I thought at the time she had really found a tender spot in Henry's heart, for he gave the promise. Since then I have learned, as you will shortly, that it was given simply to pacify the girl, and without any intention whatever of its being kept, but that, in case of the death of King Louis, Henry intended again to use his sister to his own advantage.

To be a beautiful princess is not to enjoy the bliss some people imagine. The earth is apt to open at any time and Pluto to snatch her away to—the Lord knows where.

Mary again poured out her soul on paper—a libation intended for Brandon. I made a dozen attempts in as many different ways to deliver her letters, but every effort was a failure, and this missive met the fate of the others. De Longueville kept close watch on his master's rival and complained to Henry about these attempts at communication. Henry laughed and said he would see that they were stopped, but paid no more attention to the matter.

If Mary, before her interview with Henry, had been averse to the French marriage, she was now equally anxious to hurry it on, and longed to go upon the rack in order that Brandon might be free. He, of course, objected as strenuously as possible to the purchase of his life by her marriage to Louis, but his better judgment told him—in fact, had told him from the first—that she would be compelled eventually to marry the French king, and common sense told him if it must be she might as well save his life at the same time. Furthermore, he felt a certain sense of delight in owing his life to her, and knew that the fact that she had saved him, that her sacrifice had not all been in vain, would make it easier for her to bear.

The most beautiful feature of the relations between these two lovers was their entire faith in each other. The way of their true love was at least not roughened by cobblestones of doubt, however impassable it was from mountains of opposition.

My inability to deliver Mary's letters did not deter her from writing them, and as she was to be married in a few days—De Longueville to act as proxy—she devoted her entire time to her letters and wrote pages upon pages, which she left with me to be delivered "after death," as she called her marriage.

At this time I was called away from court for a day or two, and when I returned and called upon Brandon at the Tower I found him whistling and singing, apparently as happy as a lark. "You heartless dog!" thought I at first, but I soon found that he felt more than happiness—exaltation.

"Have you seen her?" I asked.

"Who?" As if there were more than one woman in all the world for him.

"The princess."

"Not since I left her at Bristol."

I believed then, and believe now, that this was a point blank falsehood, a very unusual thing for Brandon, but for some reason probably necessary in this case.

There was an expression in his face which I could not interpret, but he wrote, as if carelessly scribbling on a scrap of paper that lay upon the table, the words, "Be careful," and I took the hint—we were watched. There is an unpleasant sensation when one feels that he is watched by unseen eyes, and after talking for awhile on common topics I left and took a boat for Greenwich.

When I arrived at the palace and saw Mary, what was my surprise to find her as bright and jubilant as I had left Brandon. She, too, laughed and sang and was so happy that she lighted the whole room. What did it all mean? There was but one explanation. They had met, and there was some new plan on foot—with a fatal ending. The next failure would mean death to Brandon as certainly as the sun rises in the east. What the plan was I could not guess. With Brandon in the Tower under guard both day and night, and Mary as closely guarded in the palace, I could not see any way of escape for either of them, nor how they could possibly have come together.

Brandon had not told me, I supposed, for fear of being overheard, and Mary, although she had the opportunity, was equally noncommunicative, so I had recourse to Jane upon the first occasion. She, by the way, was as blue and sad faced as Mary was joyous. I asked her if the princess and Brandon had met, and she sadly said: "I do not know. We went down to London yesterday, and as we returned stopped at Bridewell House, where we found the king and Wolsey. The princess left the room, saying she would return in a few minutes, and then Wolsey went out, leaving me alone with the king. Mary did not return for half an hour, and she may have seen Master Brandon during that time. I do not understand how the meeting could have occurred, but that is the only time she has been away from me." Here Jane deliberately put her head on my shoulder and began to weep piteously.

"What is the trouble?" I asked.

She shook her head: "I cannot, dare not, tell you."

"Oh, but you must, you must!" And I insisted so emphatically that she at length said:

"The king!"

"The king! God in heaven, Jane; tell me quickly!"

When urged, Jane said between her sobs: "He tried to kiss me and to—mistreat me when Wolsey left the room at Bridewell House. I may have been used to detain him while Mary met Master Brandon; but, if so, I am sure she knew nothing of it."

"And what did you do?"

"I struggled away from him and snatched this dagger from my breast, telling him that if he took but one step toward me I would plunge it in my heart, and he said I was a fool."

"God keep you always a fool!" said I prayerfully. "How long has this been going on?"

"A month or two. But I have always been able to run away from him. He has been growing more importunate of late, so I bought a dagger that very day and had it not one hour too soon." With this she drew out a gleaming little weapon that flashed in the rays of the candle.

This was trouble in earnest for me, and I showed it very plainly. Then Jane timidly put her hand in mine for the first time in her life and murmured: "We will be married, Edwin, if you wish, before we return from France." She was glad to fly to me to save herself from Henry, and I was glad even to be the lesser of two evils.

As to whether my two friends met or not that day at Bridewell I cannot say, but I think they did. They had in some way come to an understanding that lightened both their hearts before Mary left for France, and this had been their only possible opportunity. Jane and I were always taken into their confidence on other occasions, but as to this meeting, if any there was, we have never been told a word. My belief is that the meeting was contrived by Wolsey upon a solemn promise from Brandon and Mary never to reveal it, and if so they have sacredly kept their word.

On the 13th of August, 1514, Mary Tudor, with her golden hair falling over her shoulders, was married at Greenwich to Louis de Valois, De Longueville acting as his French majesty's proxy. Poor, fair Proserpina!

Note.—Maidens only were married with their hair down. It was "the sacred token of maidenhood."—Editor.

[To be Continued.]

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed All orders promptly attended to. No 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7. tf

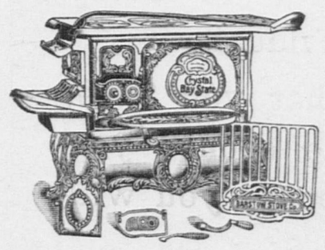

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.
Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!
OF ALL KINDS.
DRY AND GREEN
At Lowest Possible Prices.
THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.
and off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy
Jan. 7 tf

J. W. PRATT,
BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES
AT LOWEST PRICES.
HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.
MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.
I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.
Estimates given on new work
8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.
Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

If you are thinking of
BUYING A HOUSE
OR A
LOT OF LAND,
Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.
WALTER E. BURKE.
Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.
Come and See It.
BARSTOW STOVE CO.,
55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.
GUY'S COLISEUM,
W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 17. 4w

AT BED TIME I TAKE A PLEASANT HERB DRINK
THE NEXT MORNING I FEEL BRIGHT AND NEW AND MY COMPLEXION IS BETTER.
My doctor says it acts gently on the stomach, liver and kidneys and is a pleasant laxative. This drink is made from herbs, and is prepared for use as easily as tea. It is called "Lane's Tea," or
LANE'S FAMILY MEDICINE
All druggists or by mail 25 cts. and 50 cts. Buy it to-day. Lane's Family Medicine moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Address, Box 295. Le Roy, N. Y.

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1 1y- p-6mos.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. 1p-tf

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pirel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

FULL STOCK
—OF—
HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,
—AT—
Brooks' Market,
Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 25. tf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

Dr. Emmons'
Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

FRANK F. CRANE,
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17.

JAMES F. BURKE.
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5 tf

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
Employment Office
At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm
Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.
Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

Wall Paper
Direct from the Manufacture.
Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.
Address,
H. BIDWELL,
Dept. 8, Buffalo, N. Y.
April 1. 1p-2mos.

SMOKE THE
COVERNESS.
UNION MADE.
Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers
Manufactured by
P. A. NELSON,
59 Granite Street.
Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

On and after Oct. 19, 1902, trains will run as follows:

[Subject to change without notice.]

TO BOSTON. Leave Quincy.	Stops at	Arrive Boston.	FROM BOSTON. Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy.
r *5 19	abcdefghi	5 47	*5 50	ihgfedcba	6 19 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 26	ad	7 45	8 28	cba	8 49 r
r 7 42	abc	8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 7 54	abcde	8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 8 13	a	8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
r 8 26	abd	8 45	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 8 46	abc	9 05	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	12 58	cba	1 19 r
r 9 42	abc	10 02	1 28	cba	1 49 r
r 10 12	abc	10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
r 10 42	abc	11 02	2 23	cba	2 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
r 11 42	abc	12 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
r 1 42	abc	2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 2 12	abc	2 32	4 50	edcba	5 16 r
r 3 12	abc	3 32	5 15	dba	5 36 r
r 3 42	abc	4 02	5 28	a	5 45 r
r 4 12	abc	4 32	5 43	edcba	6 08 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 58	cba	6 19 r
r 5 29	abcdefghi	5 57	6 15	da	6 36 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 39	abcdefghi	8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r
r 9 34	abcdefghi	10 02	10 50	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
r 10 08	abcdef	10 32	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

r 7 42	abc	8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 8 42	abc	9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 45 r
9 33	a	9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 45 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 45 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 28	cba	5 45 r
r 6 03	abcdefghi	6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	8 43	(ex.)	9 00
r 10 18	abcdef	10 42	10 23	fedcba	10 53 r

* The letters in the same line as the figure stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a. Wollaston,
b, Norfolk Downs,
c, Atlantic,
d, Neponset,
e, Pope's Hill.
f, Harrison Square.
g, Savin Hill.
h, Crescent Avenue.
i, South Boston.
r, Quincy Adams.

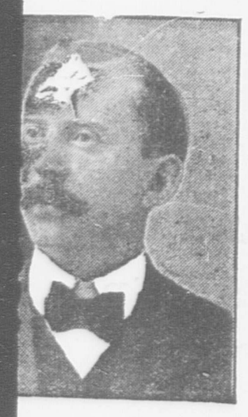

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS
Original and Only Genuine.
SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Mention this paper. Madison Square, PHILA., PA.

...K F. CRANE,
...EAL ESTATE,
...NEER and APPRAISER,
...Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass

...MES F. BURKE.
...STATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
...e Peace. Notary Public
...4. Savings Bank Building,
tf

C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
...ployment Office
...ock Street, corner School and Elm
...adies to call as a number of young
...ke employment.
...t. 31. Aug. 18-1y

...ll Paper
...from the Manufacture.
...obbers and retailers profit. Send
...once giving the number of rooms
...per. Samples Free.
...ess,
...H. BIDWELL,
Dept. 8, Buffalo, N. Y.
...lp-2mos.

SMOKE THE ...VERNESS.
UNION MADE.
...Cigar in the Market, Long Filler
Wrapper for sale by all dealers
...anufactured by
...A. NELSON,
...9 Granite Street.
...v. 11. 1y

...ork, New Haven
Hartford R. R.

...er Oct. 19, 1902, trains will run
...to change without notice.]

...ON. Arrive Boston	FROM BOSTON. Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy.
...hi 5 47	*5 50	ihgfedcba	6 19 r
6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
7 45	8 28	cba	8 49 r
8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
8 45	11 28	cba	11 49 r
9 05	12 28	cba	12 49 r
9 32	12 58	cba	1 19 r
10 02	1 28	cba	1 49 r
10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
11 02	2 28	cba	2 49 r
11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
12 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
1 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
2 32	4 50	edcba	5 16 r
3 32	5 16	dba	5 36 r
4 02	5 28	a	5 45 r
4 32	5 45	edcba	6 08 r
5 32	5 58	cba	6 19 r
ni 5 57	6 15	da	6 36 r
6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
ni 8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
9 32	10 [illegible]	fedcba	10 53 r
10 02	10 30	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
10 32	11 28	cba	11 49 r
11 32

...UNDAYS.

8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 45 r
9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 45 r
1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 45 r
4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
5 32	5 28	cba	5 45 r
6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
8 32	8 43	(ex.)	9 00
10 42	10 23	fedcba	10 53 r

...the same line as the figure
...ut stations and indicate that
...ws:

...s, f, Harrison Square.
g, Savin Hill.
h, Crescent Avenue.
i, South Boston.
r, Quincy Adams.

...ESTER'S E...
...ROYAL ...ILLS
Original and only genuine.
...Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist
CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
...ED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed
...ue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse
...gerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist or send 4c. in
...s for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by
...ists. Chichester Chemical Co.
Madison Square, PHILA., PA.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signatnre of Chas. H. Fletcher. and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Are You Looking for a Home?
Would You Like to Make Some Money?
Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at

BIGELOW PARK.

The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.

SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.
May 2. tf

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,
In a variety of Styles and Prices.
Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.
These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.

C. S. HUBBARD.
City Square, Quincy.

RICHARDS & MACOMBER,

PAINTERS and DECORATORS.

Whitewashing a Specialty. Sign Painting, Graining, Kalsomining, Glazing.
Interior and Exterior House Painting. We Employ Skilled Workmen Only
Drop us a postal and we will call at your residence and estimate your work.
Office and Shop, 31 SAVILLE ST.,
Bates' Block, Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, April 11. Sat., Tues., Thur. 6w

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.
ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.
New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store. Old Telephone Number, 122-2.
April 21. tf

If You Have a House to Let,
Advertise It in the Ledger.

IN A STATE OF RIOT

Railway Company Defied Orders of City of Newport

INSISTED ON LAYING TRACK

On a Long Turnout to Prevent Rival Company Getting Privileges on Same Thoroughfare—Laborers Scared Off When Riot Call Was Sounded

Newport, R. I., May 16.—Mayor Boyle declared the city of Newport to be in a state of riot at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, as the climax of trouble between the police stationed on Broadway to prevent, and the attempt of a gang of track layers employed by the Old Colony street railway to lay a long switch in the face of an order not to do so.

The riot call was sounded on the fire bells, the fire department was placed in readiness to help the entire police force, and Mayor Boyle, as the commanding civil officer, had arranged to have the Newport artillery and the Newport company of the naval reserves called out.

While matters looked threatening for a couple of hours the danger from actual hand-to-hand conflict between the police and the track layers was not great for the reason that the 50 workmen were scared by overwhelmingly numbers, fully 5000 persons standing ready to back up Mayor Boyle and the police.

The Old Colony Street Railway company has a single track franchise to run through Broadway. Recently the Newport and Providence railway was given a one-track franchise on the same street. The city wants the companies to use the two tracks which will be on Broadway when the new company complies with its franchise rights, using one track for cars coming into the city and the other for return cars. The companies are at loggerheads over the use of each other's tracks.

This week the Old Colony company started laying a turnout, 2½ blocks in length. Work was begun in the middle and the track layers had progressed to the point when switches were needed to connect the turnout with the main track. Mayor Boyle had forbidden the Old Colony company to connect its turnout with the track. He saw that trouble was impending and had an officer placed on guard, to stop the attempt to lay the switch at the south end of the turnout.

The officer was crowded by the track layers yesterday afternoon and he warned the men that they would have to lay the iron over his body and if he was touched arrests would follow for assault on an officer. When the officer found that he would have hard work to hold his own he sent word to the police station and a squad of officers responded.

Mayor Boyle and the street commissioners were present, and when it seemed as if the track layers would be able to force the police out of the way the mayor took command and declared the city to be in a state of riot. The riot call was sounded and all the police and reserves responded within 17 minutes. The general public also turned out. Foremen of the fire companies responded to a second call, and received instructions to have their apparatus for emergency use in event of another call.

Mayor Boyle asked Francis Burdick, the local manager of the street railway company, to call off his men and obey the order issued forbidding the laying of switches. Burdick was understood to reply that he would not call off his men and that the switches would be laid in spite of the mayor or his order. The mayor then said that he would arrest every foreman and official and the laborers themselves if any further attempt was made to force a combat with the police. This occurred at the south end of the turnout, and the track layers next made an attempt to lay a connection at the north end. The police again presented a solid front.

At 6:15 a train of cars arrived bringing more layers and shovellers from Fall River. Again matters looked bad, but at 6:30 the workmen were called off and the night lanterns put out, indicating that, for a time, at least, the effort to lay the switches had been delayed. Mayor Boyle is not to be taken unawares and he has a big squad of officers on duty on the turnout and at the first signs of work on the switches the riot call again will be sounded.

Mayor Boyle's position is endorsed by the citizens, for he claims that he is simply protecting the city's rights. If the Old Colony street railway should get its turnout completed it is claimed that the city can not get it up, and that it would be impossible, through lack of width of the street, to have the new street railway company lay its track at this point.

The city council last night created an ordinance compelling the Old Colony Street Railway company to take up its present tracks and turnouts on Broadway and lay a single track between the junction of Spring street and One Mile corner. The council passed an unanimous vote of thanks to Mayor Boyle for the manner in which he is guarding the city's interests.

Seven Thousand Acres Burned Over

Lancaster, N. H., May 16.—Thanks to a rainfall, the first in weeks, the forest fires that have caused great damage in this vicinity seem well under control. The fire has burned over 7000 acres of valuable timberland.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN

By the Flood of Immigrants Arriving at Boston During April

Boston, May 16.—Official figures just compiled show that 2034 more immigrants were landed in Boston during the month of April, 1903, than ever before in the history of the port. Including aliens who came here direct from abroad and those who came from Canada, the total number admitted here was 9784. The best previous record was made in April of last year, 7750. For the 10 months of the fiscal year ending April 30 the total number of immigrants landed here has been 48,463, whereas in the same period of 1901-02 the number was only 29,373. Before the first of July, the end of the department year, perhaps 15,000 more immigrants will arrive at this port, making the year's figures between 60,000 and 65,000, or more than 20,000 in excess of any previous year.

Of those who arrived in April, exclusive of a number who came through Canada, 25 nationalities were represented. Italians led in the point of numbers, with 4501. Second to the Italians in number were the Scandinavians (Swedes, Norwegians and Danes), 1744 in all. The Irish population received an additional 827 and the English 532. The real feature of the month was the great influx of Greeks, no fewer than 695 having arrived.

Young Woman Roughly Handled

Dover, N. H., May 16.—Annie Healy of Manchester was found unconscious in a clump of bushes last night by Deputy Sheriff Wentworth. Later she became conscious and charged a young man with having enticed her to the locality, where she was knocked down by another man and assaulted by others. The police arrested Hugh Carvey and George Brophy, and both were identified by the young woman as among her assailants. She had been struck a hard blow in the face, for the wound was bleeding profusely when she was found. Wentworth's attention was attracted by hearing groans, and as he approached the bushes three or four men ran away.

Public Should Own Public Utilities

Boston, May 16.—The Massachusetts Reform club last night had the largest attendance ever known at its May meeting, the incentive to the large number present being a desire to hear the address of Harry D. Lloyd of Chicago, assistant counsel for the miners in the recent hearing before the coal investigating commission. Mr. Lloyd's paper enumerated the public evils in the way of extortion which arise from the present management of coal mines and railroads, and concluded with a flat-footed declaration that the inevitable outcome is to be the ownership of both by the people.

Robbed by Fellow Countrymen

Boston, May 16.—Paolo Seafomo, an Italian fisherman, was met on the street by two fellow-countrymen who represented that they were about to return to Italy and asked him if he did not wish to exchange his bank bills for gold. He was agreeable and going to his house obtained $225 in bills which he handed to the men, receiving in exchange a package which they told him was worth $300, and which he was to keep until they returned with the gold. The men did not come back and the package proved worthless.

Armenians In Stabbing Affray

Malden, Mass., May 16.—John Siraganian and Charles Moses were the victims of a stabbing affray in an Armenian boarding house here last night, said to have resulted from a quarrel over a game of checkers. Siraganian was stabbed three times in the groin and is in a very critical condition, while Moses was stabbed twice in the leg, but his injures are not considered serious. Moses Najarian, who committed the assaults, surrendered to the police. Najarian was recently released from an insane asylum.

Motorman Gets $5500 Damages

Marlboro, Mass., May 16.—William J. Moore, a motorman, was awarded $5500 in his damage suit against the Marlboro Street Railway company. He was hurt in the collision of cars on the Hudson division on June 28 last. Motorman Harris losing his life and some 20 passengers being badly hurt. Moore sued for $10,000. The road went into a receiver's hands last winter because many claimants refused to settle with the road in preference to a suit.

Disagreed After Long Sitting

Boston, May 16.—In the cases of Alexander Campbell and the North Packing and Provision company vs. the Boston Elevated Railway company the jury reported a disagreement. It was out 27 hours. Campbell sought $50,000 damages for personal injuries, resulting from a collision between a wagon and a car. The packing company sued for damages for injuries to the wagon and horse.

Dastardly Assault by a Negro

Waterbury, Conn., May 16.—Mrs. E. A. Stevens was walking along a lonely part of the road near her house last night when a negro sprang from the side of the highway and caught her by the throat. After criminally assaulting her he took the contents of her purse and fled. Mrs. Stevens' throat was badly lacerated by the negro's hands, but otherwise she was not badly injured.

Conness Wins His Suit

Boston, May 16.—John Conness, formerly United States senator from California, has recovered a verdict of $14,422 from the commonwealth of Massachusetts, of which he is now a citizen. The action was brought for an assessment of damages for the taking by the Metropolitan park commissioner of land in Mattapan for park purposes.

IN AN OFFICIAL CAPACITY

Miles Did Not Visit Philippines as a Tourist

WAS NO HUMAN TORTURE

By Our Army During the Civil War or In the Hundred Years of Fighting the Indians—Officers Responsible For Outrages In Philippines

New York, May 16.—The Army and Navy Journal prints a long letter from General Miles, in explanation of his reports of cruelties and outrages in the Philippines. He says that he went to the Philippine islands not as a tourist, but in an official capacity, and that the instructions addressed to him as lieutenant general commanding the army came from the president, in which he was directed to give especial attention to the "instruction, discipline and supplies of the army." General Miles says that "no one can have a more sacred regard for the honor of the army than myself.

"In the greatest and bloodiest of all wars, covering four years in which were engaged 3,000,000 of brave men, I have never heard of a single case of human torture, and those who falsely assert that it was practiced insult alike those who wore the blue and the gray.

"For 100 years the army has been waging war against savage Indians, and there is no namable atrocity that at some time some Indians did not commit, but retaliation in kind and violence toward captive and surrendered Indians have always been prohibited."

Coming to the subject of cruelties in the Philippines, General Miles' letter reads as follows:

"It is idle to assume that campaigning in the Philippines has conditions that warrant resort to mediaeval cruelty and a departure from the honorable method of conducting warfare, and that such departures as have existed should be overlooked and condoned.

"It is most gratifying that the serious offences have not been committed by the soldiers unless they were under the direct orders of certain officers who were responsible. Soldiers have withheld fire when ordered to shoot prisoners, protested against acts of cruelty and written to relatives at home urging them to take action to put a stop to those crimes. It will ever be one of the glories of the army that such deeds committed by whatever authority are abhorrent to the American soldier. The officers who are responsible, using chiefly cruel Maccabebes, do not by any means constitute the American army, and there must be a very unmistakeable line drawn between the great body of honorable and faithful officers and brave soldiers whose records have been commendable, and those, of whatever station, whose acts have received and should receive the earnest condemnation of all honorable men."

About the Rice Deal

Washington, May 16.—General Bell, who recently returned from the Philippines, had a conference with Secretary Root yesterday. General Bell has been assigned to command the military school at Fort Leavenworth, Kas. The sale of rice during the campaign in Batangas, and which has recently been the result of comment on account of criticism in the report of General Miles, was not mentioned during the conference. Secretary Root considers the whole rice transaction a closed incident. He regards the action of General Bell as one of military necessity and holds that General Bell would have been remiss in his duty had he not acted as he did. The secretary also says that the action was not unprecedented, as has been charged, but was similar to the action taken in Porto Rico when that island was swept by the hurricane.

Stabbed For Refusing to Give Money

Lynn, Mass., May 16.—As Albert E. Cochrane was walking on Alley street a man approached him and asked for 10 cents. Cochrane refused him the money, whereupon the stranger stabbed Cochrane twice in the left side. Cochrane gave the stranger several hard blows with his fist, knocking the knife from his hand, and the man took to his heels and escaped.

Guerilla Leader Executed

Panama, May 16.—Victoriano Lorenzo, the Indian chieftain who was a leader of guerillas during the recent revolution and who was sentenced to death by a court martial on charges of having committed serious crimes while in the field, was executed by shooting here. Lorenzo died bravely.

On the Diamond

At Boston—National—Boston, 10; St. Louis, 0.
At New York—National—Cincinnati, 5; New York, 4.
At Brooklyn—National—Chicago, 7; Brooklyn, 4.
At Philadelphia—National—Pittsburg, 13; Philadelphia, 2.
At Detroit—American—Detroit, 8; Boston, 6.
At St. Louis—American—Philadelphia, 4; St. Louis, 2.
At Cleveland—American—Cleveland, 5; New York, 3.
At Chicago—American—Chicago, 7; Washington, 4.
At Haverhill—Brockton, 5; Haverhill, 3.
At Fall River—Lawrence, 8; Fall River, 4.
At Nashua—Lowell, 13; Nashua, 8.
At Concord—Concord, 8; Manchester, 4.

FINE AND IMPRISONMENT

For Boston Banker Who Figured In Many Court Cases

Springfield, Ills., May 16.—Judge Humphrey, in the United States circuit court, adjudged Clarence H. Venner of Boston guilty of contempt of court, fined him $1000 and costs, and, in addition, ordered him committed to jail for a term of six months. The court denied Venner's application for an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals and also refused to admit him to bail, or to stay the execution.

Venner is president of the New England Waterworks company and the Boston Waterworks company of Boston and the Alton Waterworks company of Alton, Ills., and is a member of the banking firm of Venner & Co. of Boston. The action in which the order of Judge Humphrey was entered was that of the Farmers' Loan and Trust company of New York, against the New England Waterworks company, the Boston Waterworks company and the Alton Waterworks company to foreclose on a mortgage trust deed for $200,000 given by the Alton Waterworks company to the Farmers' Loan and Trust company.

Judge Humphrey entered an order last April commanding Venner to produce the books and other papers of the waterworks companies, but Venner refused to produce the books.

Venner is the person who attempted to enjoin the Pullman Palace Car company from purchasing the Wagner Car company and the latter from selling; who attempted to prevent the United States Steel company from exchanging $200,000,000 of preferred stock for 5 percent bonds and who attempted to wind up the affairs of the Amalgamated Copper company, all of which cases were thrown out of court. He now has a suit pending to prevent the consolidation of the Rock Island and San Francisco railway.

Chamberlain For Free Trade

London, May 16.—Addressing his constituents at Birmingham last night Colonial Secretary Chamberlain made a speech which seems to foreshadow the direct raising of the question of free trade versus protection at the next general election. "There are two alternatives before you," he said. "First, to maintain the free trade policy in all its severity, although it is repudiated by every other nation and your colonies. Secondly, to insist that we be not bound by any purely technical definition of free trade. While we seek the one chief object, the free interchange of commerce between ourselves and all the nations of the world, we will nevertheless recover our freedom, resume the power of negotiations, and, if necessary, of retaliation."

Poking Fun at Pennypacker

Philadelphia, May 16.—Every newspaper in the state is at war with Governor Pennypacker, botanist, antiquarian, historian, former common pleas judge and cousin to Senator Quay. With cartoons, verses, editorial and bitter paragraphs the governor is being assailed. Governor Pennypacker's physical build provides an ideal basis for the cartoonists to work from, and the memorandum with which the governor accompanied his approval of the libel bill provides further material for the newspaper war upon him.

The Cotton Trade Furor

New York, May 17.—Since the excitement began last Saturday upwards of 4,500,000 bales of cotton options have changed hands in this market and prices have gone up about 100 points, or equivalent to $5 a bale, with no material reaction of any importance. There is evidence that the local clique is now closing its deal and that the worst of the present excitement and upheaval in prices is over, for the present, at least.

Chicago Laundries Still Closed

Chicago, May 16.—Failing to break the deadlock with the Laundry Workers' union by efforts to secure arbitration, laundry owners throughout Chicago undertook to operate the laundries. By a concerted movement a score of laundries were opened for business. The result was that, of 11 big establishments which started the movement to break the strike, only two were running last night.

Police Looking For Rossow

Chicago, May 16.—Police officials have taken a new tack in the Chicago end of the Umbria dynamite plot investigation and begun a search for Jean Rossow. They believe it may be possible that Rossow and "G. Russell," who made the infernal machine, are the same. Rossow is an anarchist and was accused to being among those who threw the bomb at the Haymarket riot.

Money For Kishineff Sufferers

New York, May 16.—During the 10 days that collections have been made in the United States for the immediate assistance of the sufferers in the religious riots at Kishineff, Russia, about $50,000 has been subscribed to the relief fund.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The body of Svante Anderson, 50 years old, was found hanging by a clothesline from a bedpost at his home at Salem, Mass.

H. C. Russell, government astronomer of Australia, claims to have made the discovery, after long and careful search among astronomical records, that the moon regulates the rain.

Christopher H. Payne, colored, of West Virginia, has been appointed United States consul at St. Thomas.

The thousand employes of E. & T. Fairbanks company, St. Johnsbury, Vt., will be placed on a nine-hour basis June 1. The men are greatly pleased with the news.

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

~~Subscription~~ Price, $6.00 per year

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	63	46	50	61	55
Monday,	76	58	58	68	61
Tuesday,	74	64	65	67	62
Wednesday,	79	54	70	60	76
Thursday,	73	64	66	73	64
Friday,	72	65	58	69	90
Saturday,	64	64	75	68	65

New Advertisements Today.

Lost—Watch and Chain.
Probate Notice.
A. S. Sandberg—Houses for sale.
Monatiquot Greenhouses—Cut Flowers.
To Let—Large Front Room.
Chas. C. Hearn's Medical Notice.
For Sale—Stable.

Good Afternoon

A large number of editors have signified their intentions to visit Quincy next Monday, and see our places of historical interest and also the shipyard. They are very welcome.

All the towns about Boston are making stringent rules as to the rate of speed of automobiles, and Quincy should pass an ordinance and see that it is enforced. There is some pretty fast spinning along Hancock street, also Washington street by parties en route to Nantasket and the South Shore, and travel will increase during the summer.

Supt. Whalen claims the municipal printing plant of Boston was a paying institution the past year. It ought to be when it is able to charge up $179,-931 worth of work against city departments in a year. It has no competition and no loses, but does the city get better printing or save money on its printing bill? A reliable firm would probably have been glad to do all the printing of last year for $150,000 or less where the expenditures of the plant were $170,688.

Everyone is invited to show their interest in the welfare of Ward One, by attending the meeting of the Ward One branch of the People's union, at Colonial hall next Tuesday evening. An opportunity will be given all to sign and become members. The annual dues are but fifty cents, just enough to have a fund on hand to pay expenses of holding public meetings, etc. It is a village improvement society to work for the improvement of the city in the way of clean broad streets, grass plots, artistic buildings; to cultivate an interest in home surroundings, well kept yards, back as well as front; in fact to work on any line that will be for the uplifting and improvement of the city.

More New Stores.

Dr. John F. Welch has also purchased the remaining third of the Briesler estate owned by Mrs. Abbie F. Polson, at the corner of Hancock and Granite streets, through the agency of N. G. Nickerson, and Mr. Nickerson will erect stores on the entire estate. This will give Quincy six or more desirable new stores, and be an improvement to City Square.

Copeland Club.

The Copeland club of West Quincy held the first of their monthly smoke-talk at their rooms last evening, which was attended by about forty of the members and friends. After a short concert refreshments were served and cigars were enjoyed until a late hour. Speeches were made by the officers of the club and some of the guests. The affair was in charge of M. F. Cohen who acted as toast master.

G. A. R. Funeral.

The funeral of Mr. Marcus M. Hobart was held Friday afternoon from his late residence on Independence avenue. The services were conducted by Rev. Edwin N. Hardy and were attended by Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R. After the services the remains were escorted to Mt. Wollaston where the Grand Army burial service was performed.

The general orders of Paul Revere Post, 88, G. A. R., for Memorial day, are on the usual plan. The Post will visit West Quincy in the morning, and Mt. Wollaston in the afternoon.

A GOOD GAME.

Quincy High Shows Up Well in Match with Milton High.

The Quincy High school baseball team played its second game in the Highland league at Merrymount park Friday afternoon, being defeated by the Milton High school team by a score of eight to four. The game was very encouraging to the Quincy supporters, as the team as a whole showed improvement over its work in previous games. The game was lost by Quincy through an inability to hit Mahoney early in the game.

Rooney pitched a good game and with one or two exceptions was supported well by the players. He gave but two bases on balls, and outside of the eighth inning kept the hits well scattered. Joyce, a new player, showed up remarkably well at second base. He participated in two double plays, making one unassisted. Bennett covered center field in good shape, while Shortle and O'Brien looked after their territory without misplays.

For Milton, Mahoney was easily the star of the team. He retired twelve men on strikes and allowed but one base on balls. He also fielded his position well. Boylston and Mahoney led their team in batting.

Quincy could not seem to solve Mahoney's curves until the eighth inning, when three singles were made, and aided by an error and stolen base, resulted in two runs. Again in the ninth four hits, one of which was a double, netted two more runs.

Milton got one run in the first on Sander's error and a three-base hit by Mahoney. In the second, two more were added on an error by Davenport, a base on balls and two singles, Milton got another run in the fourth inning, owing to an error of the short stop, followed by hits by Boylston and Bent. The score was increased to eight in Milton's last inning. The first three three men up singled, and two were scored on Mahoney's two-base hit. Kersey followed with a single, scoring two more runs.

The summary follows:

MILTON.

	A.B.	R.	B.H.	P.O.	A.	E.
Boylston, 1b.,	5	2	4	9	0	1
Furber, c.f.,	4	0	0	0	0	0
Mahoney, p.,	5	1	2	2	3	0
Nilsson, 2b.,	5	0	1	0	0	1
Kersey, c.,	5	0	2	14	0	0
Gardner, 3b.,	3	1	0	2	0	1
Tucker, ss.,	4	2	1	0	3	0
Bent, l.f.,	4	1	2	0	0	0
Crafts, r.f.,	4	1	1	0	0	0
Totals,	39	8	13	27	6	3

QUINCY HIGH

	A.B.	R.	B.H.	P.O.	A.	E.
Davenport, 3b. s.s.,	5	0	3	2	3	2
Sanders, s.s.,	3	0	1	0	1	2
Drake, c.,	2	1	2	0	1	0
Miller, 1b.,	5	1	1	7	0	0
Shortle, l.f.,	5	0	0	2	0	0
Bennett, c.f.,	4	0	2	3	0	0
Joyce, 2b.,	4	0	1	4	2	0
Fenno, c., 3b.,	4	1	1	3	1	0
Donovan, r.f.,	2	0	0	0	0	0
O'Brien, r.f.,	2	0	0	2	0	0
Rooney, p.,	3	1	1	1	2	0
Totals,	39	4	12	24	10	4

Innings,	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Milton,	1	2	0	1	0	0	0	4	—	8
Quincy H. S.,	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	2—	4

Two-base hits—Mahoney, Kersey, Rooney. Three-base hits—Mahoney. Sacrifice hits—Furber. Double Plays—Joyce, unassisted; Davenport to Joyce; Rooney to Fenno to Miller. Struck out—By Mahoney 12, by Rooney 2. Base on balls—By Mahoney 1, by Rooney 2. Stolen bases—Davenport, Bennett, Boylston, Tucker Time—2 hours, 20 minutes. Umpires—Wing and Smith.

May Ball at Braintree.

The popular members of the Braintree Fife and Drum Corps have brought their socials to a very high standard. Their May ball given in the Town hall last night was equal to any ball in Braintree in the past ten years. Never has the ball been so beautifully trimmed for such an occasion. The stage was one mass of green, consisting of palms, pine branches and numerous potted plants, Cuff's orchestra of eight pieces being allotted a small space in the center.

All nooks and corners were trimmed to harmonize with the stage. There were numerous drums, flags and bunting here and there and Japanese lanterns on the electrolier. The camp-fire on the left of the stage was very attractively arranged. Do not forget to credit the members of the corps who worked so hard.

During the delightful concert program the matrons, Mrs. W. H. Cuff, Mrs. W. A. Torrey, Mrs. N. G. Torrey, Mrs C. B. Cummings and Mrs. G. W. Stevens received. Their corner was at the foot of the hall, and arranged by an artist. Screens formed the background. In front of them were rugs, chairs and a large banquet lamps.

The grand march was led by James Cuff and his sister Miss Helen, followed by the members of the corps, the Oriental Fife and Drum Corps of East Braintree and the Columbias of South Weymouth all in uniform. Of course each had a fair partner. There were 56 couples in the march and twice as many couples seated around the hall.

Dancing was enjoyed until one o'clock. The Braintrees are to be congratulated upon their success.

Venus, as evening star, is shining forth resplendent.

Improvement of Quincy.

A business meeting of the executive committee and other committees, of the Ward One branch of the Quincy People's union was held Thursday evening and it looks as though active work for the improvement of Quincy would be begun at once.

The committee to investigate the placing of the city scales reported favorably, and it is thought they will not be placed in Fountain square as proposed by the city.

Improving the surroundings at the Quincy station was talked of but it was thought nothing definite could be done until the new freight yard was opened.

There was quite a discussion on the erection of the Federal building on the site purchased, the opinion being that the building should have a much larger lot, and that Quincy would regret it for the next hundred years if it allowed the building to be erected on the present lot. It was thought that Washington street should be widened from Temple street to allow for double tracking of the street railway. The present track is in a very unsafe place if the proposed building abuts the sidewalk.

Also that Maple place should be widened on the north side to twice its width and extended to come out on Hancock street on a broad open place, whereas if widened on the south it would enter Chestnut street, which is narrow at Bethany church corner. If this widening is done properly there is little left of the government lot. Committees were appointed to investigate the matter, to confer with the congressman at Washington, post office officials, etc., and see if an additional appropriation cannot be secured. Why should other cities and towns of much less population get appropriations of thirty to forty thousand while Quincy only gets twelve thousand? It was hoped it was not too late to reconsider the matter.

Attention was called to the gradual destruction of the trees at Merrymount park by the burning of the underbrush every spring. The young trees have all been ruined as well as the roots of some of the older trees. It was thought the matter should be laid before the Park Commissioners and that they be asked to discontinue their annual spring cleaning by burning. It was thought new trees should be set out each Arbor day at the park or in the future there would be no trees there. Italians were allowed the freedom of the park and were killing off the birds and squirrels. A more watchful care was needed over Quincy parks.

The public meeting at Colonial hall on Tuesday evening was spoken of and it was hoped to get out a large gathering of Ward One people. Mr. A. C. Farley, president of the Auburndale Improvement association, is to speak of his organization, and a discussion of possible work in Quincy will follow.

New Timetable.

There are but few changes of interest to Quincy in the new timetable of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad which goes into effect tonight at midnight. In the inward service the train now leaving Quincy at 8.13 A. M. will leave at 8.12, or one minute earlier.

In the outward service the train now leaving Boston at 4.50 will leave at 4.45 and arrive in Quincy at 5.08. The 5.28 P. M. which now runs express to Wollaston will make stops at Atlantic and Norfolk Downs.

Funeral of J. G. Norrie.

The funeral of Mr. John G. Norrie who died in Barre, Vt., was held Friday afternoon from the residence of his father on Newcomb place. The services were conducted by Rev. James Todd, D. D., and were attended by Mt. Wollaston lodge of Odd Fellows, and delegations from the Granite Cutters' Union and the Red Men of Barre, Vt., who accompanied the remains to Quincy. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston where the Odd Fellows burial service was read.

TODAY'S COURT.

Arthur Tombs was arraigned for assault at Quincy. Case continued until May 21.

Herman Jones of Holbrook was arraigned for being a stubborn child. Case continued until next Thursday.

The liquors seized from Lougi Caldialo at Quincy and Matthew Morrow of Weymouth were forfeited.

Thomas Casson was arraigned for threatening an assault at Quincy. He was put under bonds of $200 to keep the peace for two months.

John Dignon of Milton was arranged for an unlawful act and held in $2,000 until next Monday.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S CHURCH—Rev. Carlton P. Mills, rector. 9.45 A. M., the holy communion. 10.45 A. M., morning prayer, Litany and sermon. 12.20 P. M. Sunday School 4.30 evening prayer and address.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Quincy council, K. of C., will initiate candidates next Tuesday evening.

John Nesbitt has petitioned for a divorce from his wife Matilda T. Nesbitt.

At the Wollaston church tomorrow Rev. George W. Cutter of Neponset will preach.

George Farquhar, Jr., of Centre street, has gone to Chicago to enter business.

The West Quincys opened the base ball season on the home grounds this afternoon with the Hartford A. A.

The foundations were laid yesterday for a new block on Temple street and the building was raised today.

The subject for Mr. Parlin's consideration in his Bible Class at Wollaston Sunday will be "The Second Coming of Jesus."

The Home Sciene association made two hundred and fifty dollars at the children's festival, held at Quincy Music Hall the last Saturday in April.

James F. Burke reports the sale of St. John's hall on School street to the Jewish society of Quincy who will remodel it into a Jewish synagogue.

There will be a four o'clock vesper service on Sunday at the Wollaston Baptist church. The church quartette will be assisted by Mr. Edward E. Bullock.

The funeral of Herman E. Kellar was held from his residence on Walker street, Atlantic, Friday afternoon. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The burial was at Woodlawn cemetery.

Rev. E. N. Hardy is to deliver the address at the tenth anniversary of the Christian Endeavor society at Abington which is to be celebrated on May 28th. A fine musical program has also been arranged.

The funeral of Mrs. Helen M., widow of Edward A. Spear, was held Friday afternoon from her late residence on Washington street. The services were conducted by Rev. Leon H. Austin. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston.

The Young People's Religion Union holds its usual meeting in the vestry of Wollaston Unitarian church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Rev. F. W. Pratt will speak upon "The Power and Value of Heroism in Common Life." All are invited.

The Grand Army will attend services on Sunday, May 24, as follows: At First Unitarian church at 10.30 A. M.; at St. Marys, West Quincy, in the evening. The Relief Corps, Camp Boyd and all soldiers and sailors of the wars are invited to accompany them.

All Pale, Nervous, Dyspeptic Sufferers Must Have Iron

And should take Peptiron—a radical cure for paleness, nervousness and dyspepsia in either sex at any age.

It cures and prevents nervous exhaustion and debility; overcomes the effects of mental and physical overwork and all excesses, perfects digestion.

Peptiron is invaluable to invalids and convalescents, the aged and infirm, and all sufferers from poor circulation, cold hands and feet, loss of appetite and sleep.

Its effects are permanent.

Peptiron is made in two forms: In a liquid—an aromatic cordial elixir—at $1 per bottle, also in chocolate-coated pills at 50c. or $1 per box. By C. I. HOOD CO., proprietors Hood's Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

Selling Agent in Quincy:

E. J. Murphy, 1657 Hancock St.

LECTURE

By DR. WILLIAM J. LONG.

Subject: "Animal Life and Death," true stories of all kinds of birds and animals.

High School Hall, Quincy,

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 27,

At Eight o'clock,

For the benefit of the Washington School, Quincy Point.

Tickets, 25 cents.

Quincy, May 16. p-2w--l-2t--16-25

King Arthur Flour

MAKES THE

BEST BREAD.

SOLD BY

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

To know all there is to know about a Sarsaparilla, take Ayer's. Your doctor will say so, too. He knows.

J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

FREE LECTURE.

CAROLL NORTON, C. S. D.

of New York City, will deliver a lecture

"THE MEANING OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE,"

TOWN HALL, SOUTH BRAINTREE,

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 22, 1903,

AT 8 O'CLOCK.

PUBLIC CORDIALLY INVITED.

May 9. o--9-16--p-16--l-16-21-22

Jeweler's Building, Boston. Brewers Corner, Quincy. May 16. 6t

A. S. SANDBERG,

Others at Quincy Point, Houghs Neck, Malden and Everett.

VERY DESIRABLE ONES.

Three at Norfolk Downs,

HOUSES FOR SALE.

To Direct Your Footsteps

toward this store is to walk the path leading to economy. To purchase here is to show much wisdom in the choice of a trading place. The kind of Clothing, Hats and Men's Furnishings, that PARTICULAR PEOPLE want is the kind we have for sale. And the completeness of our stock has been a feature of our business highly appreciated in the past year. There's an abundance of excellent things here that no other store would think of carrying.

Men's Suits, $5.89 to $18.00.
Men's Hats, 50c. to $3.00.
Men's Fancy Negligee Shirts, 48c. to $1.50.
Children's Suits, $2.00 to $5.00.

CALL AND SEE.

F. D. FELLOWS CO.,

RELIABLE ONE PRICE CASH CLOTHIERS, HATTERS AND FURNISHERS.

Adams Building, City Square, Quincy, Mass.

WE GIVE TRADING STAMPS.

Store open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings. April 2--l-th., fri., sat.-po-tf

Spring and Summer Shoes.

The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1 25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.

The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.

GEORGE W. JONES,

Adams Building, - QUINCY.

ORDER NOW FOR

DECORATION DAY

--YOUR--

Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES,

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works,

Telephone 64-5 Quincy P. GREEN, Proprietor.

know about a
Your doctor
WS. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

TURE.
C. S. D. a lecture HAN SCIENCE," RAINTREE,
Y 22, 1903,
K.
INVITED.
o--9-16--p-16--1-16-21-22

Jeweler's Building, Boston.
May 16.
A. S others at quinc
VERY Three S HOUS

ect Your Footsteps store is to walk the path economy. To purchase how much wisdom in the trading place. The kind
. Hats and Men's Fur-nt PARTICULAR PEO-is the kind we have for the completeness of our een a feature of our busiappreciated in the past
's an abundance of excel-carrying.
.00.
s, 48c. to $1.50.
$5.00.
VS CO.,
ERS AND FURNISHERS.
Quincy, Mass.
TAMPS.
April 2--1-th., fri., sat.-po-tf

Shoes. be very much in Ties in the latest
to $3.50.
to $3.50.
0, $1.25.
0, $2.00.
5, $1.75. c., $1.00.
ders.
Men.
Women.
ONES,
NCY.
OR DAY
g Plants.
USES,
River Works,
N, Proprietor.

BOUQUETS AND FLORAL DESIGNS
— FOR —
MEMORIAL DAY.
Plants of all kinds for your garden at lowest prices at
DERRINGER'S CONSERVATORY,
Glover Avenue, off Hancock Street,
NORFOLK DOWNS.
Mar 16. p-3w--1-2t

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.
$3.50
For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . . At Co-operative Dining Rooms
3 Granite Street, Quincy,
"Right in the Heart of the City."
Call in and talk it over.
mar.16-21--2m

FREDERICK H. LORD,
TEACHER OF BANJO,
Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.
TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.
118 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 7. tf

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.
Silk Waists.
23
Peau De Soie, Taffeta and Crepe De Chene Waists, in Pink, Light Blue, Old Rose, Black, White, Rosida and Pearl Grey.
PRICES:
$2.98 to $5.98.
D. E. Wadsworth & Co.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

King Arthur Flour.
THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

TO LET
IN QUINCY, MASS.,
By H. H. FAXON.
HOUSES, STORES, HALL, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES,
Land, Wharves, etc.
Buildings are in Complete Repair
Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.
House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.
Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.
Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc., No. 92 School street, $12 per month.
Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.
Stable, junction School and Franklin streets, $4 per month.
Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.
Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.
Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.
For particulars apply to
HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, May 13, 1903. 1m

TO LET.
FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.
Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

NEW STORES TO LET.
A BUILDING will be erected at once by N.G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information enquire of N. G. NICKERSON. Quincy, May 12-tf

ANNIVERSARY WEEK

Unitarians to Hold Meetings Every Day Next Week.

Next week is known as anniversary week for Unitarians. At that time there will be the annual meetings of the American Unitarian association, National alliance of Unitarian and other liberal Christian women, the Unitarian Sunday school society, the Young Peoples Religious union, the Unitarian Temperance society, the Ministerial union, the Historical society and the Children's Mission.

These meetings which continue from Monday May 18 to Saturday May 24 are attended by Unitarians from all parts of the United States and Canada and representatives will be present from the British Unitarian church from the Holland, the Switzerland, the Hungarian Unitarian churches and from other countries. The attendance is always very large and the meetings of great interest.

Below is an abridged program of the week, giving meetings of special interest to Quincy people. Each morning at nine there is Morning Prayer at King's chapel.

Monday, 2.30. Public meeting of the National Alliance at South Congregational church. 8 to 10 P. M. Reception at Hotel Vendome, President Eliot, Dr. Collyer and Dr. Hale will receive.

Tuesday, 2.30. Business meeting of the Unitarian association at Tremont Temple. 7.30 P. M. Service of public worship, Rev. James H. Ecob of Philadelphia will preach the sermon.

Wednesday, 10. Annual meeting of American Unitarian association at Tremont Temple. 7.30 Public meeting of the American Unitarian association. Addresses on "The Common Inheritance and Duties of Congregationalists" by Rev. E. E. Hale, Rev. George A. Gordon, Rev. F. G. Peabody and Prof. Moore of Harvard.

Thursday, 10.30. Meeting of the Historical Society at Channing Hall. 2.30 Annual meeting Young Peoples Religious Union at Second church. 3 Annual meeting of the Unitarian Temperance society at Kings chapel. 7.30 Public meeting of Y. P. R. U. at Second church. Addresses by Rev. Frank O. Hall and Rev. Thomas Slicer.

Friday, 10 and 2 P. M., at Kings chapel. Meeting of Sunday School society. Addresses by Miss Hazard, President of Wellesley, Rev. E. A Horton, Rev. J. M. Pullman and others. 6 P. M. Unitarian Festival at Tremont Temple.

Sunday, 8 P. M., at Symphony hall. Emerson Centennial. Address by President Eliot of Harvard. Music by Handel and Haydn Society.

MILTON.

Work was commenced this week remodeling East Milton Congregational church. The present building will be moved back and raised so as to have a vestry in the basement. A piazza will be built on front with a main entrance leading to a vestibule from which stairways will lead to the vestry. There will be a kitchen, parlor, choir and pastor's rooms, also a platform. There will also be a platform for entertainments in the vestry. The alterations will cost about $4000.

Melborn G. Richardson was severely shaken up last week Friday by being thrown from his horse. He was riding horseback when his animal became frightened by a passing automobile. He shied and ran against a carriage. Mr. Richardson's leg got caught in one of the wheels and he was thrown.

A petition is being circulated at East Milton to the Dorchester Gas Co., to extend its mains to East Milton.

Rev. Edward Norton is supplying the pulpit of the East Milton Congregational church.

The Thursday Evening club will visit the Milton club on the evening of May 22.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

BORN.

FULLERTON—In North Weymouth, May 11, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fullerton.

MARRIED.

GAMMON—DOWNS—In Weymouth, May 10, by Rev. J. B. Holland, Mr. Patrick Gammon of Claremont, N. H., formerly of Braintree, to Miss Mary J. Downs of Weymouth.

DIED.

HAYWARD—In East Braintree, May 15, Mrs. Sarah A., widow of the late Daniel Hayward, aged 83 years, 11 months.
Funeral from late residence Quincy avenue, Monday May 18, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

FRARY—In Long Beach, Calif., May 13, Rev. Lucien Haskell Frary D.D., formerly of Braintree, Mass., aged 64 years, 1 month and 24 days. Interment at Weymouth.

SULLIVAN——In Holbrook, May 14, Catherine, wife of Mr. Cornelius Sullivan of Pine street, aged 61 years.

KILEY—In Braintree, May 15, Mrs. Julia F. (nee Spillaine) wife of Mr. Dennis Kiley.

WANTED.
WANTED—Every lady in Quincy to have in the house or garden. The beautiful and mysterious "Resurrection" plant which never dies. Agents find it a ready seller, and a first rate money getter. Write for descriptive circular or send 25c. for sample plant. Summit Greenhouse Agency, Box 2137, Boston, Mass.
May 13. 1-6t--p 1w

Cleveland's
BAKING POWDER
In cooking or baking, we are safe if we follow methods of the expert cooks and bakers.
"Cleveland's is superior to any powder I know. I use it exclusively."
MRS. S. T. RORER, Principal Philadelphia Cooking School.

BRAINTREE.

In a most fitting manner Puritan lodge, 179, I. O. O. F., dedicated their new quarters last night by entertaining the state officers of the order, ladies and friends.

In Braintree, Mass, the whole number of votes obtained from the different societies, clubs and schools for the Massachusetts State Floral Emblem was 601 as follows: mountain laurel 480, trailing arbutus 52, pond lily 36, blue flag 7, odd flowers 27. The mountain laurel had the largest vote in the state.

Rev. Lucien H. Frary, D. D., a pastor of the Union church of Braintree and Weymouth from 1875 to 1886, died at Long Beach, Calif., on Wednesday, May 13. He was pastor of the Congregational church at Pomona in that state up to last December when ill health caused him to resign. He was born in Haverhill, N. H., March 19, 1839, and was graduated at Dartmouth and Andover. He filled pastorates at Middleton, Conn., Braintree, Mass., and in California with marked success. The interment will be at Weymouth.

Tuesday evening several hundred people assembled in the Town hall to witness an exhibition dance by pupils of Mrs. Horace L. French to the music of Cuff's orchestra.

The Cochato veteran firemen are holding frequent meetings the next one to be held Thursday evening, May 21. They have secured new quarters which they expect to occupy next month. Their hopeful tub "Cochato" is being overhauled and will be in first class condition to participate in the muster at Portland, Maine, July 4. Let all those interested in Cochato go to Portland and encourage the boys to bring home first prize.

Mr. Plummer C. Spring has rented Mr. G. D. Willis cottages at Bayside for the summer.

One of the large elm treas in front of the Monatiquot school has been cut down and removed. The sidewalk at that point is to be lowered.

Mr. Paul Wilde is seriously ill.

Two cars of Lehigh coal, fifty tons, arrived at the Braintree depot Tuesday for Mr. G. H. Arnold.

Mr. W. A. McKean, with a party of friends from Milford, Mass., has gone on a fishing trip to Northern Vermont.

George A. French won a champion blue ribbon at the Readville horse trot Thursday.

The fence on the south side of L. O. Crocker's residence adjoining the railroad property has been moved in and a bank wall laid to make room for the branch road of the Fore River Ship and Engine Co.

Mrs. Joseph Costello nee Miss Elsie Drinkwater of Havanna is at present, very ill, at the home of her father, Col. A. C. Drinkwater.

The Ladies' Cemetery Improvement Association of Weymouth and East Braintree will meet with Mrs. W. H. Bond, Summer street, Weymouth May 20, at 2.30 P. M. A full attendance desired.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Dugan welcomed a fine boy last Sunday.

Charles F. Penniman returned to his home on Washington street, foot of Mount Vernon avenue, the first of this week, after a stay of four months in the Quincy hospital. Mr. Penniman has been suffering with a broken hib caused by a fall on the ice.

Caroll Norton, C. S. D., a lecturer who has many friends in Braintree will deliver an address in the Town hall next Friday evening. His subject will be "The meaning of Christian Science." Admission free.

There will be a unique service, Sunday, at 7.30 P. M. at the Ashmont Universalist church, of which Rev. Merrill C. Ward is pastor. The same service will be held the same evening at the Universalist church of Tokyo, Japan. It is in dedication of a pulpit given by the Ashmont church to the new church building in Tokyo. At both churches the same hymns will be sung, the same order of program observed, letters exchanged between the churches will be read. At Ashmont, two members of the Tokyo church, Mr. K. Satoh, and Miss Tame Imai will appear in Japanese costume. Rev. L. W. Attwood, who visited the Tokyo church, and F. A. Bisbee, D. D. editor of the Universalist Leader, will speak.

LECTURE IS FREE.

Souvenir Package of Special Food Given Each Person Attending.

Mr. Elisha B. Worrell, who lectures on "Building the Body" Tuesday afternoon, May 19th, in Quincy Music hall, has given many years to the study of food and dietetics. His books "Food Adulteration" and "Housekeepers' Educator and Guide" have reached a combined circulation of more than fifty thousand copies.

He has built for himself a unique and wholly original profession. His work is endorsed by such people as Edward Everett Hale, E. A. Winship of the Journal of Education, Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, and thousands of people in private life who have been benefitted by his addresses.

The expenses of Mr. Worrell's lectures have always been paid to him by well known manufacturers, thus making them free to housekeepers and the public.

Each person attending will be presented a souvenir package of a food which specially develops sound, symetrical teeth. Admission is free.

GRANITE BUSINESS.

Prospects for Work Good After Memorial Day.

A trip through the granite district finds the manufacturers well along with their Memorial Day orders, and the coming week all orders that called for delivery before that day will be shipped to their destination There was a time when May was the busiest month in the year among granite manufacturers, as everybody was anxious to have their memorials set before Memorial Day. Of late years, however this custom has been dying out, and customers now are not so particular that their work should be completed and set before that day. This has come about by the belief that if the manufacturer is given more time, and are not obliged to rush their order, that they will get better work. This is true to a large extent.

The granite business this year, as a rule, has been a little quiet. This is not only true of Quincy but of all granite centres. The correspondents of the Granite Cutters' Journal from all granite manufacturing places tell the same story, that work is a little quiet.

This condition is largely due to the general uneasiness all over the country among the labor organizations early in the year. Almost every class of labor has demanded an increase and as many of the differences were not settled until early in May, people who had their minds made up to order work did not place their orders until business had settled down.

During the past week there has been a notable increase in requests for estimates, and it is the general impression among the granite men that business will pick up, as it already has done, and that the balance of the year business will be rushing. There have been few large jobs cut in Quincy thus far this year, the work as a rule being of the medium-sized kind.

Women's Tournament.

Twenty-three women were entered in the handicap stroke competition on the links of the Wollaston Golf club yesterday, open to members of all clubs of the Womens Golf Association. Wollaston had but two players Miss Mary B. Adams with a handicap of 2 and Mrs. J. W. Parks with Handicap of 12. Miss Elizabeth S. Porter of Oakley made the best gross score, 90, with Miss Osgood seccond, and Miss Adams third. The net prize went to Miss Katherine C. Harley of Fall River on a score of 81, Miss Adams being eighth, and Mrs. Parks lower.

The Y. P. S. C. E.

A social meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. of Quincy Point was held Thursday evening. Miss Gertrude Foster presided over many games. Chief of them was "Conversation Games," in which all participated with much enjoyment. The following program was rendered, after the games: Piano recital by Emma Hayden, vocal selections by Frank Newcomb, reading by Estelle Tirrell, solo by D. J. Seward McCurdy, selection by Y. M. Glee club, duet by Frank Newcomb and D. J. Seward McCurdy.

A New Savings System.

Our today's edition offers more than usual interest to the people of Quincy and this vicinity. The National Granite Bank announces the addition of a Savings Department, and the installation of the Home Deposit Bank system. The growth and spread of this system throughout the country during the past fourteen years is an evidence of its popularity and merit, and its advent here under the auspices of the National Granite bank, will receive the warm endorsement of this community.

The system is briefly as follows: Everyone is encouraged to open a bank account. To be within the reach of all, this can be accomplished by depositing a nominal sum, one dollar or more, as they see fit. A pass-book is furnished to the depositor, showing his or her deposit duly credited, and a Home Deposit Bank is loaned them. This bank is a small steel, handsomely finished, strong box, with a patent money slot device. The construction of this devise prevents moneys dropped in from being shaken out. The small bank is issued to the depositor securely locked, and the National Granite Bank retains the key. The depositor takes the bank home, where it acts as a constant reminder, and serves to collect and care for his or her surplus money and small change.

Thus the Bank practically establishes a branch in the depositor's household where small sums can be deposited daily or at the depositor's convenience. At certain intervals when accumulation has resulted, the small safe is brought to the bank to be opened. The contents are counted and placed to the depositor's credit on the pass-book. To further encourage thrift, such deposits will earn 3 per cent. interest.

The commendable features of this savings system must commend it to the intelligence of every salaried individual and working man or woman.

Mr. C. O. Burns of New York under whose supervision the work here will be initiated, is the originator of the system, and manufacturer and patentee of the banks. His statistics on results obtained throughout the various states for the past fourteen years furnishes interesting reading.

Gannon—Downs.

Miss Mary J. Downs daughter of Mr. John Downs of Prospect street and one of the popular young ladies of this village was united in marriage Sunday evening May 10 to Mr. Patrick M. Gannon of Braintree by the Rev. J. B. Holland. The bride was charmingly gowned in a beautiful la mode nuns veiling tastily trimmed with blue panne velvet and lace medallions. She carried a bunch of bride roses. She was attended by her cousin Miss Annie Downs who was becomingly gowned in pearl gray. Mr. Frank Gannon, a brother of the groom was best man. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts including silver, china, cut glass, etc. Mrs. Gannon was born and had always lived in this section of the town and leaves hosts of friends here to whom she has endeared herself by her charming and cheery manner and whose best wishes follow her to her far away New Hampshire home where they will reside for the present.

Recital.

The recital given by the pupils o Miss Adelaide Thomas, Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. Frank Porter, corner of Wollaston avenue and Fenno street was a very enjoyable affair. Those to participate were Ralph Odiorne, Wallace Bennett, Frank Snyder, Gertrude Brown, Marion Waterhouse and Warren Humphrey. The recital closed with two selections by Miss Thomas assisted by Mrs. Morehouse at the piano, which were received with the usual pleasure.

GOOD WAY TO DO BUSINESS.
Chas. C. Hearn Sells Reliable Remedy at Half Price, and Guarantees a Cure.
When one can buy gold dollars for fifty cents, it is a good time to purchase.
In offering a 50 cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at 25 cents, Chas. C. Hearn is giving one of the greatest trade chances ever offered to the people of Quincy.
If food does not digest well, if there is gas or pain in the stomach, if the tongue is coated and the breath bad, if there is constipation and straining, Dr. Howard's specific will cure you. If it does not, you have druggist Chas. C. Hearn's personal guarantee to return your money.
This remarkable remedy comes in the form of tiny granules, and can be carried in the vest pocket or purse. It is very popular in New York city, and it is not unusual to see some one after a meal at one of the large hotels or restaurants, take a dose of this specific, knowing that it will prevent the uncomfortable feeling which frequently follows a hearty meal.
Dr. Howard's specific gives quick relief and makes permanent cures of constipation, dyspepsia, and all liver troubles.
These are strong statements, but Chas. C. Hearn is giving his customers a chance to prove their truth at just half the regular price—sixty doses for 25 cents. If they are not found true, all you have to do is to ask for your money.
16-20

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day,	25 cents
" " three days,	50 cents
" " one week,	75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line Long term rates furnished on application.

LOST.

LOST—On Friday, a Watch and Chain, between Scammell street and Brewer's corner via ot Water street. Please send information to "A. B. H.," Ledger office. May 16-3t

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE. Stable Manure Delivered in Quincy for $5 a cord. Address BOX 154, Atlantic. May 16. 6t

FOR SALE—A light running open Corning Box Buggy, cheap, in fine condition; also a rubber tired Goddard, in good repair; can be seen at 19 Pine street, Wollaston. Address E. F. WHITE, Wollaston, Mass. May 11-13t

FOR SALE. Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office.
April 28. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street.
Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE.—Yawl BRANT, 28-6 o. a., 9-0 beam, 3-0 draught, with centre board up; built by Leloise in 1898. This boat is well known along the coast as a safe and handy cruiser, is easily handled, and is in perfect condition, well found in everything needed for comfort and safety. Now at her moorings off the Wollaston Yacht Club house and ready for sea.
J. A. FENNO, 538 Hancock street.
Wollaston, May 4. tf

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve (12) rooms, with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

TO LET.

TO LET—Large Front Room, also medium size Middle Room adjoining, convenient for four, $5 per week, or will let separate. Other rooms, $1.50 and $2.00 per week. House newly painted and papered. Large new bath room. 48 Revere Road. May 16-1t

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy.
April 8. w. th. s. m.--tf

TO LET—A Well Furnished Room. Price, $1.50 per week. Apply to 78 Lincoln avenue, Wollaston.
May 13. 3t--13-16-18

ROOMS TO LET—With or without board. Near electric cars; about five minutes' walk from depot. 212 Highland avenue, near Brook street, Wollaston. May 14-6t

TO LET—A House of eight rooms and bath, opposite Adams Academy, Johnson avenue; 16 Faxon avenue, house of 9 rooms and bath, 2 minutes from R. R. Station; also summer plastered house of 11 rooms, bath and hot water, on Great Hill, Quincy. FANNIE M. TAYLOR, 176 Federal street, Boston.
May 14. 3t

TO LET—Large, Square Room and Side Rooms. Barn for $1 per month. Apply Greenleaf street, corner Hancock street.
Quincy, May 8. tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet, 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street.
Quincy, April 21. tf

WANTED.

MEN, not under 25 years, to call on old and new customers. No delivering. Position permanent to the right party. Pay weekly. GLEN BROTHERS, Rochester, N. Y.
April 23. 6w--thurs. sat. tues.

WANTED—Money on first mortgages. Address Box 180 Quincy Post Office.
April 16. eod tf

WANTED—50 Crocheters to take work home. Address or apply to MRS. M. A. MACDONALD, Bryant avenue, East Milton. May 13-2t--13-16

WANTED—Two Good Carpenters who understand inside finish. These only need apply Monday morning at new house, corner of Dimmock street and Whalley road.
May 15-3t

WANTED—A few Good Quarrymen, at the quarry of SWINGLE & FALCONER.
May 14. 3t

WANTED—A Girl for general housework. Apply at No. 2 Kent street, West Quincy.
May 14. 3t

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON.
Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

TO LET.
The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.
Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.
Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.
Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.
Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

TESTIMONY OF RAYMOND

Is Corroborated by One of His Employes

MEN WHO FATHERED BILL

Which Brought Investigation of Alleged Corruption Testify as to Money Raised to Defray Expenses Incident to Its Passage

Boston, May 16.—The senate committee resumed at the state house the inquiry into the charges of corruption made against a member of that body by George J. Raymond, a Boston merchant. James J. Munroe, an employe of the Raymond syndicate, told of arranging the meeting between Mr. Raymond and Senator Foster and corroborated the testimony of the former given previously, when he said that the senator had offered to save senate bill No. 194, termed "a bill to prevent the sale of merchandise in bulk in defraud of creditors," in consideration of $1000.

The rest of the session was devoted to the examination of members of the Credit Men's association, the association having fathered the bill referred to and raised among its members $1380 to defray expenses incident to its passage. These witnesses included representative business men of Boston, each of whom denied emphatically any participation in or knowledge of legislative corruption or that they had done any advertising in the hope of influencing legislation. They explained that the association regarded the passage of the bill as in the interest of honest business methods, and when it was known that the constitutionality of the measure had been questioned it was decided to raise a fund for the purpose of securing competent legal opinion regarding it and for the distribution of printed matter among legislators.

George H. Groves, treasurer of the association, read from a check book to show how the fund was expended. Some $250 was paid for printing and clerical services, $100 to ex-Attorney General Pillsbury for an opinion on the constitutionality of the bill, and $285 remained unexpended. One item of $750 charged to "sundry expenses" had been partially accounted for by a previous witness, W. M. Morgan, who testified that he acted as counsel for the association at the time and received $500 for his services.

The spectacular features that characterized Thursday's hearing were not repeated yesterday. Only once did Mr. Raymond's counsel interrupt the proceedings and then Mr. Hesseltine begged to inquire if there was any use of his remaining at the hearings; he was there only as counsel for Mr. Raymond, and unless he was to be allowed to examine witnesses he could be better engaged elsewhere. Chairman Frost's reply was not encouraging and after a parting word Hesseltine withdrew, and none too soon to escape the escort of the sergeant-at-arms.

Christian Science Treatment

Newport News, Va., May 16.—The inquest over the body of the Christian science patient, Maggie Harris, who was found dead with a bullet in her brain, failed to place the blame. Samuel Robertson, who treated the woman for a complication of diseases for several months prior to her death, testified that he had prescribed in this case seven swallows of water daily and frequent prayer.

Perfect Work of Airship

Paris, May 16.—The Lebaudy airship has made another ascension, circling Mantes, Rosny and Moisson. In a series of evolutions over the Chateau de Rosny the ship answered her rudder perfectly. She covered slightly over 7½ miles in 25 minutes. Part of the course was against a brisk wind. A slight accident to the ventilator did not interrupt the success of the trip.

To Rely Upon Relief Fund

Pittsburg, May 16.—The movement in the Order of Railway Conductors of America to erect a home for the permanently disabled members will come to naught this year. The general opinion is that the disabled members can be better and more satisfactorily taken care of by means of their relief fund, as is done at present.

Villages Destroyed by Troops

Vienna, May 16.—Advices from Uskub, European Turkey, say the Turkish advance upon Ipek is meeting with strong resistance. There has been severe fighting at three villages. Artillery was employed and these villages were destroyed. Thirty Albanians were killed and many were wounded.

Where They Fight For Presidency

San Domingo, May 16.—General Jiminez, who was deposed from the presidency of Santo Domingo by General Vasquez, who in turn was driven out by General Gil, the present president, has arrived here from New York. He was given a cool reception.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus of collapse medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 17—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—The lad with the loaves and fishes.—John vi, 9-13. (A meeting with the Juniors.)

At the close of a long day of service Christ and His disciples were on the eastern shore of the Galilean sea, surrounded by a vast multitude of people, who had made no provision for the evening meal. The disciples urged Him to send them away to provide for themselves, but the Master said, "Give ye them to eat." This seemed to them impossible because of their limited store, which consisted of five loaves and two fishes carried by a boy. But these Jesus miraculously multiplied, giving to the disciples and they giving to the people. This was continued until all were fed, and then it was found that twelve basketfuls of fragments remained.

In this incident a "lad with five barley loaves and two fishes" played an important part and in doing so illustrates the fact that even children can have a very important relationship to the Lord Jesus Christ. In years gone by the church accorded little place to the child in the courts of our God. God called Samuel to His service, accepted the praises of children and the Master took the children in His arms and blessed them, yet the church was slow to recognize the fact that children can have any place or part in religion or in the life of the church. Its attitude was rather that of the disciples of Christ than that of the Master Himself. But this attitude toward children has undergone a wonderful change. Scores of them are received into the church and lead sweet Christian lives. Thousands of them as Junior Endeavorers render faithful and loving service to the Master, whom they love, and are frequently the means of leading others to Him and into His service.

The possibility of such conditions is foreshadowed in the incident of the lad with the loaves and fishes. 1. He was personally attached to Christ and His disciples. Not only had the men and women followed Jesus, but this boy had also done so. Discipleship cannot be limited to age. Some of the most saintly of God's people have given themselves to Him very early in life and at the most advanced ages with all our experience and knowledge the most of us are spiritually but "babes in Christ." Children can love and trust the Saviour, and we may rejoice that this fact has such abundant recognition today. 2. He served Christ. It is supposed and not without reason that this lad carried the loaves and fishes for Jesus and the apostles. They may have had him with them for this very purpose. Children can serve Christ. Their little lives can be consecrated to Him, and in praise, in prayer, in study, in Christian living and in Christian deeds they can serve Him. 3. Christ used the boy with the fishes in the services of others. Under the blessing of Christ the boy's limited provisions were made capable of feeding thousands of people. So Christ today can take the possessions and talents even of the children and make them redound to the glory of God and the benefit of mankind. How thoroughly the Junior Endeavor society has demonstrated this fact! Therefore it should be our aim to increase its numbers and to enlarge its usefulness.

BIBLE READINGS.

I Sam. i, 10; II Kings xxii, 1, 2; Ps. viii, 1, 2; Dan. i, 8; Luke i, 80; ii, 40-52; xviii, 15-17; Acts ii, 37-39; xvi, 29-33; Eph. vi, 1-3.

Giving God a Chance.

"Giving God a chance at you—that is the meaning of the Quiet Hour. Teachers, friends, books, newspapers, business, pleasure—all these have a chance at us. Day by day they are influencing us, and day by day they are molding our lives. Shall we not also give God a chance at us?"

This is the Spirit inspired message that was given us by our beloved leader, Dr. Clark, at the Troy convention. Friends, are we as a society putting the emphasis clearly in the right place? Are we as much concerned that each of our individual members shall be found daily in definite personal communion with God as that he shall be regular in his attendance at the prayer meeting? Are we giving Bible study and prayer the place in our lives that God would have us give them?

Friends, let us choose, let us select, the influence which shall dominate our lives. Let us morning by morning, before man is met, talk with God alone. Let us seek a great intimacy. Let us know His will before we go forth to do His work. Let us say as a society that daily, personal waiting on God in earnest searching of His word and in prayer is the first need, the first duty and the first privilege of every Christian Endeavorer. Let us give God a chance. —Herbert E. Baright.

McKinley and Christian Endeavor.

President McKinley said: "Character is currency that passes at a premium the world around. Christian endeavor makes character; therefore I love Christian endeavor."

Quiz Box.

[Any question may be asked that pertains to any phase of Christian Endeavor work. Address Lock Box 674, Binghamton, N. Y.]

No. 61. M. C. E., Fiedler, Pa.—Christian Endeavor urges the sending of missionary contributions through the mission boards of the denomination to which the society belongs. If your question is meant to cover a gift for the spread of Christian Endeavor in other lands, we suggest that you write William Shaw, treasurer of the World's C. E. union, Tremont Temple, Boston.

No. 62. Mrs. J. C. L., North Bergen, N. Y.—Write H. A. Kinports, 1 West Twenty-ninth street, New York city.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

5TH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER.

FIRST UNITARIAN CHURCH—Rev. E. C. Butler, pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Preaching by the pastor. Sunday School 12 M.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, junction Hancock and Chestnut streets—Rev. E. N. Hardy, pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Preaching by the Rev. W. W. Dornan of Holbrook in exchange with the pastor. Sunday School at 12 M. Young People's meeting at 6. The Senior and Junior societies will unite. Evening church service at 7.30. A Vesper service given by Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt and the church quartette. Short address by pastor. Free seats and every one invited to these services.

CHRIST CHURCH, Quincy, corner Elm street and Quincy avenue—Rev. W. E. Gardner, rector. Holy communion at 8.30 A. M. Morning prayer and sermon 10.30. Subject: "Mission Work among the Indians and Colored People." Sunday School at 12.05. Vesper service at 4 o'clock.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH, Washington street—Rev. Merrill C. Ward pastor. Residence, 18 Ashmont street, Dorchester. Service of divine worship at 2.30 P. M. Subject: 'Teachings of the Trees." Sunday School at 3.45 P. M.

CHRISTADELPHIAN CHURCH, at Keating's hall, Washington street near Canal street,—At 7 P. M. Subject: "Devil of the Bible vs. devil of popular superstition." All are welcome. Seats free. No collection.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH, Franklin street,—Rev. William Alva Brady, pastor. Residence 25 Pleasant street. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. Bible School at 11.45 A. M. B. Y. P. U. at 6 P. M. Preaching service at 7 o'clock. Baptism at the evening service. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7.30.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Water and Quincy streets.—Rev. J. Todd, D. D., pastor. Service at 10.30 A. M. Preaching by the Rev. J. B. Henry of Norristown, Pa., morning and evening. Sunday School at 12 M. Junior C. E. at 3 P. M. Senior C. E. at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7 o clock. Midweek service Thursday evening. Seats free. All are cordially invited.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Fort Square—Rev. W. B. Barr, pastor. Service at 10.30 A. M., preaching by pastor. Subject: "Power of an endless life." Sabbath School and Bible class at 12 noon. Y. P. C. E. meeting at 6.30. Evening service at 7.30, the second sermon to toilers of Quincy. Subject: "What will dignity and what will injure labor." Labor Unions, strikes, etc., in their results upon the toiler will be considered. Seats free. All toilers especially invited.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, WEST QUINCY—Rev. W. A. Mayo, pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Sunday School at 12 M. Epworth League devotional service at 6 P. M. Preaching at 7 o'clock. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7.30. All who are without a church home are most cordially invited to share all the privileges of our church. We extend a hearty welcome to all. Seats free.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH—Rev. Edmund D. Webber, pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Preaching by pastor. Subject: "The Persuasion of the Gospel." Sunday School at 12.10. Junior C. E. society at 3 P. M. Vesper service at 4 P. M. Young People's meeting at 7 o'clock.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, ATLANTIC—Rev. J. H. Whitaker, pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Sermon by the pastor. Subject: "Faith." Soloist, Mr. Edward Philips of Boston. Sunday School at 12 M. Evening service at 7 o'clock. Monday Evening club, Monday evening at 8 P. M. Rev. Father Julian Johnstone of Quincy, speaker. You are cordially invited.

ATLANTIC METHODIST CHURCH, corner Newbury avenue and Squantum street. Rev. B. D. Beck, pastor. Morning service at 10.45 o'clock. Sermon by pastor. Subject: "Mountain Climbing." Sunday School at 12 M. Epworth League at 6 P. M. Consecration service. Leader, pastor. At 7 o'clock, Epworth League Anniversary service. Special program of music and addresses suitable to the occasion All seats free. Every one invited.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, of Braintree, Christian Science Hall on Washington street, south of Hollis avenue.—Morning service 10.45. Subject: "Soul and Body." Golden text: "Will God indeed dwell on the earth? behold the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much less this house that I have builded?" 1 Kings, 8:27. Sunday School at 10.45 A. M. Wednesday 7.45 P. M., a testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 3 to 5 and Tuesday evenings. All are welcome.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The enterprise of the Castle Square theatre management, in affording patrons of this popular play-house opportunities to become acquainted with a varied repertoire of all that is best in dramatic literature, is again shown in the announcement the coming week of a production of "The Duke's Motto." This romatic play owes its origin to one Paul Feval who gave it to the French stage as "Le Bossu," and English versions of the play found their way to this country fully 40 years ago. It was, however, not until Charles Fechter came to America and appeared as Lagardere, in his own version of the play, that its value was realized by the American public, and Fechter gained many notable triumphs in this character during his tour in this country. The Fechter version of the play will be used in the Castle Square production and the management promises some fine scenic effects and most elaborate costumes. "The Duke's Motto" will be played but a single week and at the Monday matinee every patron will be given a souvenir box of choice chocolate bonbons.

BOSTON THEATRE.

The season at the Boston Theatre, now drawing to a close, has served to emphasize in even a more marked degree than its immediate predecessor Manager Lawrence McCarthy's persistent and approved policy of "highest class attractions at fair prices" This policy has had perhaps no clearer illustration than is afforded in the current engagement of those two brillant stars Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon, in the great Conan Doyle-Gillette drama of "Sherlock-Holmes." It is their first appearance in Boston in the play made famous by William Gilllette, and their success at the Boston Theatre as elsewhere, in the roles of the wily and imperturbable ferret and the unfortunate heroine, Alice Faulkner, has been instantaneous and pronounced. Mr. Gillette's inspiration for the drama came from a short story entitled "A Scandal in Bohemia," an intensely dramatic tale containing probably more of the element of genuine mystery than any of Doyle's other writings. It is in this masterpiece of modern melodrama that Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon are now achieving the crowning triumphs of their career. The Boston Theatre engagement is for two weeks only, including Wednesday and Saturday matinees. It will end on Saturday evening, May 23.

Beware of the cunning portrait agent who promises much for nothing.

By CHAS. H. JOHNSON, - - Auctioneer

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

BY Virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Sidney L. Brackett to the Quincy Savings Bank, dated December 27, 1900, and recorded in Norfolk Deeds, in libro 887, folio 208 will be sold at public auction for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, the Twenty-fifth day of May, 1903, at two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular, the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described substantially as follows:

A certain lot of land containing 6,600 square feet, with all the buildings thereon, situated in Quincy, aforesaid, and being a part of lot No 41 on a plan made by H. T. Whitman, Surveyor, dated December, 1896, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds at the end of Book 784, and bounded as follows, viz: Northerly by a part of lot No. 100 and a part of lot No. 98 on said plan, fifty-five feet; easterly by land of Francis Batcheldor, one hundred and twenty feet, southerly by a private way called Butler Road, fifty-five feet; westerly by lot No. 40 on said plan, one hundred and twenty feet.

This property will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles and assessments.

Terms: $200 cash at sale, balance cash in ten days from said sale on delivery of deed.

Quincy Savings Bank, Mortgagee.
By CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.
Quincy, May 2, 1903. 3t--2-9 16

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Charter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D.,
Inspector of Milk.
April 15. 30t

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON,

60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN.
PHARMACIST,
1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

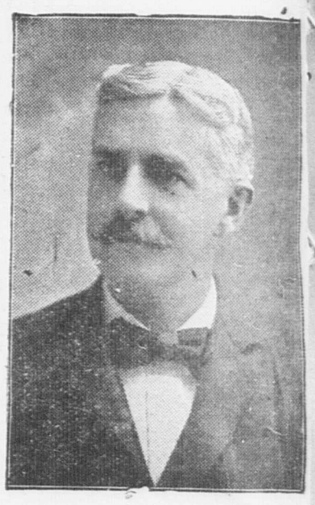

FRESH FROM THE MINES,
CARGOES OF
White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.
C. PATCH & SON
Quincy, April 23. tf

W. G. CHUBBUCK
Furniture and Piano Mover,
IN AND OUT OF TOWN.
Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.
JOBBING.
Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.
lp-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.
BELL and TELEPHONE WORK
A SPECIALTY.
Guaranteed Work at Right Price.
Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.
Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.
Address, 1362 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
Quincy, April 10. tflp

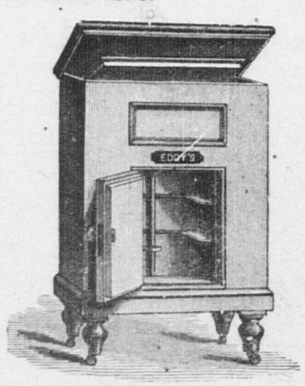

$5.00 REWARD.
A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.
Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, PRES.
April 9-2m 11-2m

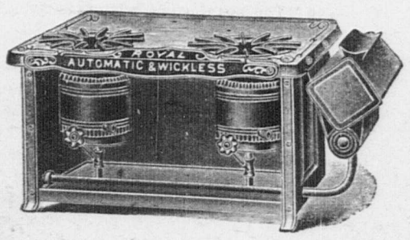

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

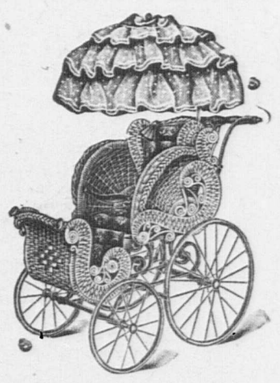

30 YEARS
In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.
15 YEARS IN QUINCY.
The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.
NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.
We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.
G. B. BATES.
Plumbing and Heating Co,
25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.
Telephone Connection.
April 24 1-tf--p-1w

SUMMER GOODS.
Seasonable warm weather goods for inside and outside use. No matter what you want you are sure to find it here at prices that are worthy of your consideration.

EDDY REFRIGERATORS.

At Factory prices, $5.50 and up.
A catalogue for the asking.

BLUE FLAME OIL STOVES, $4.00 to $9.00.

Cost almost nothing to run. No fires, no light, no coal, no wood, no dust, no ashes.

CARTS, $3.75 to $25.00

60 patterns to choose from. The handsomest you have ever seen. If you see an attractive Go Cart on the street, the chances are it came from Kincaide's. Ours have the style.

BICYCLES,
$18.00 to $30.00.
The worthy sort:
LIVER JOHNSON.
DAYTON.
CRAWFORD.
LE ROY.

HAMMOCKS, LAWN SWINGS, PIAZZA CHAIRS, ICE CREAM FREEZERS, LAWN HOSE, LAWN MOWERS, SCREEN DOORS, WINDOW SCREENS, CROQUET SETS, SUMMER COTTAGE FURNITURE, MATTINGS, ETC.
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,
Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.
Furniture Store and Annex, Hancock Street, Quincy.
Short Credit Accounts When Desired.

eling that your night's

Tonic.

AND IRON.

bottle.

HEARN.

CIST,

reet, Quincy.

THE MINES.

OF n Stove.

n Egg.

n Stove.

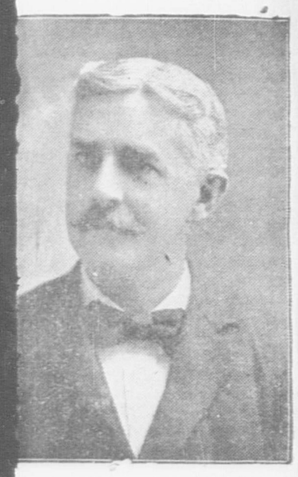

n Egg.

gg.

Nut.

& SON

tf

30 YEARS

he Plumbing and Heating trade. If we 't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

HING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

attribute our success to three causes.
The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
Our strict and personal attention to
ess.
Our Low Prices and Square Dealing;
ing in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.

mbing and Heating Co,

1 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.
Telephone Connection.

il 24 1-tf--p-1w

S.

ices that are worthy

BICYCLES,

$18.00 to $30.00.

The worthy sort:

IVER JOHNSON.

DAYTON.

CRAWFORD.

LE ROY.

ORS, WINDOW SCREENS,

cock Street, Quincy.

d.

Irritated skin is quickly soothed by a lather of

PACKER'S
Tar Soap

Pure as the Pines.
Balsamic. Antiseptic.
A luxury to use.
30 years reference.

At all druggists.

THE PACKER MFG. CO. 81 Fulton St., N. Y.

"IN THE SPRINCTIME

young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS.

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass
April 30. 1m

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder.

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

Weigh the Child

If it is losing flesh it may indicate worms.
If it has indigestion and a variable appetite suspect worms.
Other symptoms, are offensive breath; gripings and pains about the navel; eyes dull; itching nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; starting during sleep; slow fever and often convulsions.

The certain specific for worms is

TRUE'S
PIN WORM
ELIXIR

It has been used since 1851, and has restored thousands of suffering children. Whenever worms are suspected, give True's Elixir. If worms are present it will expel them, if not it can do no harm but acts as a tonic and cures all the common complaints of children. Price 35 cents, at druggists. Write for free book, "Children and Their Diseases."

DR. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me.
Special Treatment for Tape Worm. Write for pamphlet.

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.

Quincy, May 9. 1m

BUSINESS.

YOU GET IT.

BY ADVERTISING

---IN THE---

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Industrial Conditions Disturbed by Vast Army of Idle Men

New York, May 16.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Warmer weather has made it possible for the retail trade to regain part of the earlier losses in volume of transactions, and the level of quotations for staple lines of merchandise is well maintained. Wholesale trade in seasonable goods is quiet. Clothing manufacturers are busy on fall samples, which are unusually late. Industrial conditions would be exceedingly encouraging were it not for the vast army of men voluntarily idle. The numerous strikes exert more influence by disturbing confidence than by their direct effect on business. Railway earnings continue to show the usual gain.

Textile manufacturing conditions are extremely irregular, some improvement being noted at woolen mills, while cotton spinners are in a bad position. Cotton mills are harrassed by the phenomenal quotations for raw material, being unable to obtain even small concessions from buyers of goods, who only purchase such small quantities as are required immediately.

Coal Fraud In New York

New York, May 16.—Comptroller Grout has called upon the district attorney's office to investigate what he characterizes as gross frauds and roguery on the part of an official in the armory board, in connection with the purchase of coal for that department during the past winter. Assistant District Attorney Clark says that it would seem from the papers in his possession that coal had been purchased last winter for the armory board at $9 a ton that was nothing more than dirt. Several boat loads of this coal had been delivered to the various armories in the city.

A Sad Spectacle

Fall River, Mass., May 16.—William Donovan, 12 years old, was placed under arrest last night, charged with drunkenness. He is said to have taken a jug of gin from a wagon and drank enough of the contents to render him helpless. He fell in the street unconscious and for some time all efforts to revive him proved unsuccessful. When he temporarily regained consciousness he attempted to stab his brother and the police were called in. The liquor again overcame him and he was then taken to a hospital in a serious condition.

Brought Big Batch of Stowaways

Providence, May 16.—Customs officials here have held up the Portuguese schooner Unique, from the Cape Verde islands with 56 passengers, 22 immigrants not declared in the manifest having been found stowed away in the hold in violation of the law. The foreigners are now detained on the technical charge that they are likely to become public charges. Captain Ouveira will be held responsible for the undesirable arrivals in the sum of $5700 to guard against their escape.

Bridgeport Cars Tied Up

Bridgeport, Conn., May 16.—The Connecticut Railway and Lighting company will make an effort to resume the operation of the local trolley lines with non-union men from New York and Philadelphia. There was a conference between the executive committee of the union and Manager Sewell last evening, but it was fruitless, so far as an agreement was concerned.

Merrill's Case Adjourned

New York, May 16.—Moody Merrill was in court here less than two minutes, his counsel asking for an adjournment until May 26, which was granted. He did not speak during his brief arraignment before Magistrate Deul, the only proceeding being the swearing of Detective Woolridge as to the truth of the affidavit necessary for the warrant.

Applicants Willing to Buy Jobs

Lincoln, Neb., May 16.—Governor Mickey says that he has been offered $1000 each for four four positions under the state government. He says he was offered that sum directly to appoint certain persons to the position of oil inspector, deputy oil inspector and commandant of the soldiers' home at Grand Island.

Trouble on the Wabash

Washington, May 16.—Acting Secretary Darling has called for further information regarding the recent trouble aboard the receiving ship Wabash at Boston, where charges of insubordination against a number of enlisted men have been presented and summary court martial ordered.

President In Big Tree Country

Wawona, Cal., May 16.—President Roosevelt, for the second time since he left Washington on his present trip, is cut off from communication with the outside world. He is camping in the big tree country and will remain secluded until Monday morning.

Police Inspector Quits

New York, May 16.—Police Inspector Clayton has been retired on his own application. Clayton was appointed to the force in 1874. Captains Maude and Hardy, who are under charges, had precincts under Clayton.

Robbery of $50,000 In Jewels

London, May 16.—It is said that Mrs. Pierre Lorillard of New York has been robbed of $50,000 worth of jewels while travelling from Paris to London.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Sunday, May 17.
Sun rises—4:22; sets—7.
Moon rises—11:41 p. m.
High water—3:15 a. m.; 3:45 p. m.

The relative position of the highs and the lows has not changed much. The weather will be fair in New England.

THE EYE OF TRUTH

By LILIAN C. PASCHAL

Copyright, 1902, by Lilian C. Paschal

CONSISTING of clippings from various newspapers, files of 1948.

From the Butte (Mont.) Daily Digger, Sept. 12, 1948:

Yesterday afternoon a remarkable circumstance occurred on the volcanic eminence west of the city, known as Big Butte. It was an adventure of two miners who had been prospecting for the new mineral silvoro. They had unhooked their patent divining rod from a ledge of rock where they had located a lead of the precious metal, the natural amalgam of gold and silver, now so much more in demand than the old fashioned gold.

The electric filaments on the finder of the appliance were observed to be in a state of great agitation. Instead of searching the face of the cliff for silvoro, as the delicate threads were accustomed to do, they were waving wildly toward the western sky. Upon looking in that direction what was the astonishment of the men to behold what appeared to be a strange bird of gigantic proportions flying swiftly toward them. Transfixed with fear, they watched the terrifying object as it dropped its inflated black wings and settled noiselessly to earth near the spot where they stood.

On nearer view it seemed to be a sort of air ship. Its machinery gleamed with silvoro, which explained the action of the divining rod. Over its side appeared the head of a most grotesque personage. Steadying his uncanny craft, he leaped out with surprising agility. He was of alarming height, and his head seemed to center toward one terrible eye in the midde of his face.

He approached and spoke to them in a strange kind of English, saying he was well acquainted with the races of the earth at a distance, having studied their ways and listened to their various languages through the astronomical apparatus in one of the public observatories in his home on the planet Mars.

Conversing genially all the way, the miners brought their strange guest into the city. He was not to be seen when the reporter called at a late hour last night. He is said to be remarkable in appearance, nearly twelve feet in height and clad in garments woven of one piece without seams.

His awestruck captors aver that his one eye possesses a basilisk power, but in a peculiar and alarming direction—that of evoking absolute truth from the unfortunate victim of its fascinating glare; that, no matter what is in the speaker's mind to say, the unvarnished truth, however unpleasant it may be, comes from his lips with that dreadful eye upon him.

They also ascribe to their celestial visitor among other black arts the power of becoming invisible at will whenever and to whomever he chooses. Possibly the latter faculty belongs also to his air ship, as no trace of it can be found on Big Butte.

But should his possession of this truth compelling power of eye prove to be a fact it is rather disquieting to speculate upon the direful changes that may be wrought in human affairs by the presence of this unique being in our midst.

* * * * * * *

Clipped from the Anaconda (Mont.) Copper Sheet, Sept. 16, 1948:

Many accounts have been given of the man from Mars who arrived last week from the sky. He has been seen by few, but it appears that little escapes his eye. That forceful orb wreaks itself upon inanimate things as well as upon man. It has evidently been turned upon the billboards of the city during the past night, so changed are they from yesterday. Such advertisements as these confronted the startled gaze of our citizens this morning:

THE TRUTH IN THE BILLBOARDS.

"Quack-All's Hair Destroyer! Warranted to produce gray hair and baldness in one month!"

"Harvard Gleanings. Most indigestible of breakfast foods!"

"Satin Skin Soap! Ruins the hands and complexion!"

"Pincher Shoes promote profanity and corns; will cripple for life. After one pair you will never wear any other!"

Farther down in the suburbs the most astounding posters met the eye:

"At the Grand! The Screamer Opera company! Worst of the season's tortures!" And the portraits of the beautiful stars of that troupe were distorted into the faces of wrinkled old women.

"Coming next week! Smallest show on earth! No animals worth seeing; jokes all musty with age; 2 cents' worth for only half a dollar!"

The campaign notices of our estimable townsmen who are now running for office on various tickets we forbear to publish. It would be too harrowing.

This public terror must be hunted down. Such things must not be in our law abiding city. No one is safe while this monster is abroad. A mass meeting is to be called tonight. The Martian must go!

* * * * * * * *

Locals from the city columns of Butte Daily Digger, Sept. 21, 1948:

Since the appearance on our streets at mysterious intervals of the man from Mars most of the doctors' and lawyers' signs have disappeared. The occupation of the latter is gone when every one in the court room, themselves and witnesses included, tells the exact truth. The Martian is a daily visitor at the courthouse.

Various rumors indicate that the recent revolution against medical men began with one Mike Doolan of the Anaconda mine. It seems that Dr. Dash, the company physician, while writing a prescription for Mike was startled by the sudden appearance of the giant form and truth extracting eye of the Martian; hence Doolan's discovery that all the potent symbols on the bit of white paper signified no more than salt, water and soda.

"Faith," he was heard to declaim to a gaping crowd of listeners, "an' if thet's phwat we're payin' him foive hoonderd dollars a mont' fer we moight as well put it into a few tons o' sody crackers an' tak' it thot way ivery marnin', begorry!"

The man from Mars was reforming the schools yesterday with his optical search light. During his visit to the high school the history lesson was a marvelous disclosure. Heroes were shown up to be only very common men. Washington had told several lies and sworn several swears. Youth was instructed that goodness is Siamese twin brother to loneliness; that many bad people are happy and various other truths that caused the dismissal bell to ring in agitated haste at 2:30. At the general teachers' meeting a like commotion was caused by the same planetary headlight. We refrain from publishing the remarks of the superintendent to his teachers. The Martian must go!

* * * * * * * *

From the Evening Continental, Butte, Mont., dated Sept. 24, 1948, extra edition:

HARROWING HORROR!

The Martian Murderer! Done to Death! Pulled From the Pulpit!

The Rev. Dr. Blank, pastor of the People's church, lies in a critical condition at the City hospital, the victim of violence at the hands of his own parishioners.

The Sabbath quiet of that church was rudely broken by a scene of riot and bloodshed. No clear account can be obtained, though we append exclusive interviews with prominent members who were present.

But it seems that regular service was in progress when the magnetic presence of the Martian was felt by all, and it is presumed that his evil spell was over the minister, the eloquent Rev. Blank, and caused those astounding utterances which enraged his usually decorous congregation into insurrection against him.

They rose as one man and literally tore him from the pulpit. He escaped, though seriously injured, through a side door and was taken to the hospital. Fears for his safety even in case of recovery are entertained, so great is the feeling against him.

The crowd was dispersed by officers of the law amid much excitement. The Martian must go!

* * * * * * * *

From the New York Earth, Jan. 1, 1949:

THE SCOURGE REMOVED.

This is the day of special thanksgiving appointed by the president to show our gratitude that a national scourge has been mercifully lifted from our land. We may once more walk freely forth into the light of day without fear of the immense shadowy form and piercing eye of the Martian who has caused a reign of terror in the United States for the last three months. Some little resume of his career may not be amiss here.

In the town where he first appeared, Butte, Mont., there are yet traces of his ravages. He put an entire stop to the system of social calls among the ladies. Instead of joyful greetings the caller met with such remarks from her hostess as "Old frump!" "Hateful thing!" and "What did you come here for?"

To which the visitor responded, to her own horror as well as that of her dear friend, "Just to see if you had bought any new furniture to replace that shabby stuff in your parlor."

It grew too dangerous. After the first week of hair pullings all calling ceased. No woman could call her tongue her own with the baleful Martian influence upon her. For the same reason there have been no dances at the clubs this entire season, and the churches and schools are yet in a chaotic condition.

The town itself is now divided in half, East Butte being the abode of the larger part of the grown male population and West Butte occupied by the majority of the ladies. There are but few residences or homes occupied. They are chiefly boarding houses now.

This is the direct result of the busy month when the divorce courts turned out an average daily grist of 213 decrees, a total aggregation of 6,391, for the month of November, 1948. On the other hand, many are reunited who had been estranged before.

Several prominent and highly esteemed citizens are residing for the present in the city jail, while as many prisoners are released, their innocence having been proved beyond a doubt since the advent of the Martian.

Everybody has read the famous Truth Issue of the Anaconda Copper Sheet. It has been translated into fourteen languages. As is well known, it was caused by an unexpected visit of the Martian to the editorial rooms just as the printer's devils began their nightly rush for copy.

We need not describe that memorable sheet, pocket edition, size 5 by 9 inches, its advertising columns of bargains reduced to facts and four sticks of nonpareil, its society news shorn of all glory or glowing adjectives, the microscopic corner occupied by police items divested of their padding, reminding one of a row of brownie skeletons; the page devoted to paying gold mines and rich strikes in the Klondike shrunk by the hydraulic pressure of that Martian eye to five lines, the uncomplimentary nature of the remarks about the "greenroom" and the results thereof—all this is well known to our readers. This was the last edition destined to be issued from the Copper Sheet fonts. That paper is now no more. The building was burned to the ground that night. The editor was forced to fly for his life, but he afterward made a great fortune by printing souvenir editions of the Truth Issue, which have been sold in all parts of the world. The editor has since retired to private life.

That the Martian monster finally traveled over this great country of ours, seeking whom he might devour,

"WHAT DID YOU COME HERE FOR?"

and that wreckage and destruction followed in his path are matters of current history. We need not repeat them here.

When he created such terrible havoc in our halls of congress, as a result of which we have had to call extra elections to fill the numerous vacant seats in both houses on account of the boodle and bribery scandals; when he tampered with the president's message, which told us how many millions accrued to that noble statesman from the sugar trust; when our marts of commerce had been closed by him; when the Stock Exchange had been made the abode of spiders and silence; when at the last he committed the heinous crime of disclosing and therefore destroying the methods by which a model machine made city government was conducted in our great vice protecting city of New York; when, in short, our whole system of living had been turned upside down and inside out by the Archimedes screw of that compelling eye, it was time for the nation to rebel. And we did.

No common methods would avail to rid us of a visitor who could render himself invisible to the police when wanted. So a day of public hypnotism was appointed. On that day, Dec. 23, 1948, at 10 a. m., the whole country joined in an effort to hypnotize the Martian back to his lair in the empyrean. Standing under the open sky and looking toward the east, every person in the United States over eighteen years of age concentrated his thoughts and prayers upon that one object.

The hum of industry was stopped; every train and mill and store and factory in the whole vast area of the continent was blanketed in one tremendous silence as the millions of people faced the morning sun as though by the swing of a mighty pendulum swayed by a common human impulse, for every soul on earth has some dread of a power which compels the unvarnished truth at all times.

The common enemy was in Washington at the time, ascending the steps of the Congressional library. So many hostile thought currents focused upon his will proved too much for him. He was overwhelmed by an inclination to call his air ship and journey again homeward.

At 10:20 a black speck appeared in the sky above the gilded dome of the library. At 10:30 he stepped into his conjured air ship, and the awful eye was seen to close slowly three times as the vessel rose above the city.

Quincy Daily Ledger.

ON SALE BY NEWSBOYS
and at the following places:

BOSTON—Terminal News Stand after 35
QUI Y—Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock St a well's Periodical Store, 1 Granite St
He Kittredge City Square
Rogers Bros., Hancock St.
J Brien 1695 Hancock St
C Carlson near Quincy depot
A F. Hall, 128 Washington St., near Canal.
QUI CY POINT—Miss Freeman
Sprague & Hobart, Washington cor. River St.
SOU ANCY—I. L. Litchfield,
E. Nightingale 80 Water street.
Quick, 59 Liberty St.
WES QUINCY—Coram's Periodical Store
BR VER'S CORNER—Emma Lark
WOL ASTON—Shunk's News stand
WOL ASTON PARK—C. E. Hosmer, cor. Hancock and Beach streets.
NOR OLK DOWNS—Branscheid & Marten.
ATL NTIC—Branscheid & Marten.
HOU HS NECK—Arthur Dunham at P. O.
EAS MILTON—William Clark.
EAS WEYMOUTH—George H. Hunt.
WEY OUTH—J. R. Walsh.
NOR H WEYMO UTH—B. F. Thomas

1903			MAY			1903
Su.	Mo.	Tu.	We.	Th.	Fr.	Sa.
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24 31	25	26	27	28	29	30

MOON'S PHASES.

First Quarter	4	2:26 a. m.	Third Quarter	19	10:18 a. m.
Full Moon	11	8:18 a. m.	New Moon	26	5:46 p. m.

THE SOCIAL REALM.

Congressman Charles Q. Tirrell will be the Old Home Week orator at Weymouth. Mr. Tirrell formerly resided at Weymouth.

* * *

Miss Katherine Le Baron Lewis of South Framingham is the guest for a few days of Miss Alice Keith Prescott.

* * *

Cards have been received for the wedding on June third of Miss Edith Gray Hollis of Hingham and Mr. Harold Marshall Curtiss of Milford, Mass.

* * *

At the meeting of Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, held at the John Adams birthplace on May fonrth final arrangements were made for the Flag Day celebration, on June 13th and for entertaining Gov. and Mrs. Bates. A new flag is to be raised with music by a band, after which there will be speaking followed by a reception and refreshments.

* * *

Mrs. Francis L. Hayward and daughter, Miss Theodora Hayward, have given up their apartments, Back Bay, Boston, and are now settled in the summer home recently purchased by Mrs. Hayward, at Ponkapoag.

* * *

The Greenleaf Street school went to Plymouth by electrics today and will return by the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Miss Wright and her assistants chaperoned the pupils.

Lecture by Dr. Long.

Attention is called to the lecture by Dr. Long advertised in another column. His books are well known and have been read by many people in Quincy, all of whom can testify to their fascinating interest. He is not less fascinating as a lecturer than as a writer. His article in the May number of the North American Review in reply to John Burrough's article in a recent number of the Atlantic is attracting wide attention.

The lecture will be given under the auspices of the Washington school, and the proceeds will be devoted to the purchase of pictures or other works of art for the adornment of the new school house, now in process of erection. Dr. Long is an old friend of the principal and he has given him such terms that the greater part of the money received will be available for the object mentioned. For such a worthy cause and with such a popular lecturer the hall should be filled.

Quincy Real Estate Sales.

The following is a list of the recent real estate transfers in Quincy:

Patrick D. Cronin to Catherine S. McCabe.
Thomas Swithin et al. trs. to Julius Johnson.
Rufus A. Thayer to Commonwealth of Mass.
James Thompson et al. trs. to William R. Bateman.
Dana I. McIntire to Mattie E. Kirkpatrick.
Augusta P. Nickerson to Robert A. Robertson
Josiah P. Quincy to Hamilton Flood.
Josiah P. Quincy to Andrew S. Odom.
Josiah P. Quincy to Ezekiel C. Sargent.
Francis Batchelder et al, trs. to John W. Ryan.
John Swithin to Julius Johnson.
Isabella M. Reeve to Ida M. Rice.
Walter E. Burke to James Freeborne.
James Freeborne to George A. Crawford et al, trs.
Herbert T. Whiiman et al, trs. to Thomas M. Chisholm.
Annie F. Swift to Mary J. Woodward.

The Social Realm.

All thoughts of ill; all evil deeds,
That have their root in thoughts of ill;
Whatever hinders or impedes
The noble action of the will;—
All these must first be trampled down
Beneath our feet, if we would gain
In the bright fields of fair renown
The right of eminent domain.
We have not wings, we cannot soar;
But we haqe feet to scale and climb
By slow degrees, by more and more,
The cloudy summits of our time
—Longfellow.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. J. Franklin Faxon of Adams street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Patty Earle, to Mr. Warren Greene Ogden of Washington, D. C., a graduate of Cornell, class of 1901.

* * *

The Junior Sons and Daughters, under the directorship of Miss Mary E. Nightingale, are to have the pleasure of entertainning Governor and Mrs. John L. Bates at John Adams Birthplace on Saturday, May twenty-three.

* * *

Miss Edith Randall of Coddington street entertained the Friday club yesterday afternoon at the closing meeting of the season. The officers elected for the season on 1903-4 were: Mrs. Dexter E. Wadsworth, president; Mrs. W. E. Alden, secretary; Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick, and Mrs. Frederick Allison Tupper executive committee.

* * *

Rev. J. H. Whitaker of the Atlantic Memorial church, is to go abroad in a few weeks.

* * *

Miss Anna S. Newton, and friends from Winthrop are at Lake Mooselookmeguntic, Maine.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Fraser of Weymouth leave tonight for Nova Scotia, to attend the graduating exercises of Antigonish college, their son Archie Fraser being among the graduates.

* * *

Eugene C. Hultman returned Tuesday from a brief trip to Montreal.

* * *

Mr. H. A. Johnson and family have closed their town house on Chestnut street, Boston and this week returned to their home on Quincy avenue. Although away from Quincy all winter, Miss Elizabeth Johnson has come out frequently and kept up her interest in the welfare of the city, in the Home Science work, the People's union and other public benefits. Mr. Johnson who had the misfortune to break his hip, is recovering and glad to be out in the country again.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Ivers M. Low, nee Milne, who were married last week by Rev. James Todd, are settled in a cosy cottage on Commercial street, Weymouth.

* * *

Mrs. Fitch who has been at Saxton's River, Vt., throughout the winter and spring returned to her home on Tremont street, Braintree, last Saturday.

* * *

Rev. Edward Anderson is to deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the Quincy Mansion school, commencement week.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Evart Adams of Colorado, are expected in Quincy this summer; Mrs. Adams coming in June and Mr. Adams later in the summer, for the month of August. It is some time since Mr. Adams has been home, and his father, Mr. Warren W. Adams and his friends will be glad to see him.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon M. Keating are at their cottage at Bayside, Weymouth, for the summer.

* * *

George A. Schiller playing with "Peggy from Paris" at the Tremont Theatre has opened his summer cottage at Squantum and will reside there during his engagement at that theatre which will be all summer.

* * *

Wednesday evening was a busy one socially, and no one need have stayed at home for the want of something doing. The Y. M. C. A. concert had a large audience at Quincy Music hall; South Quincy people were interested in the mock trial at the Water Street Presbyterian church; the Universatists had a supper and social; the grocers a dinner and social at The Greenleaf; the letter carriers a smoke talk; at Norfolk Downs the District School was a great attraction, and there was the Senior reception at the Quincy Mansion school.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. George Homer Lane have issued cards for the marriage of their daughter, Miriam Blagden to Mr. Harry Lambert Patten, on Wednesday evening, May the twenty-seventh, at the

The round of business meetings, receptions, excursions and luncheons, enjoyed this week by the delegates to the annual convention of the Daughters of the Revolution, in New York, came to an end Friday with an excursion to Peekskill, with a tally-ho drive through the country to points of historic interest. It has been a glorious week, with fine weather, and pleasant reunions.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Alden A. Thorndike were in Braintree this week making preparations for their moving out to their summer home with their family next week.

* * *

How charming the girls did look a the reception given Wednesday evening, at the Quincy Mansion school, by Dr. and Mrs. Willard, for the Senior class. Their bright young faces brightened every nook and corner of the grand old house.

* * *

Mrs. Louise M. Colvin with her little son Ritchie left Braintree May the 6th for N. Y. taking the Fall River line. They will visit her brother, Henry H. Young for a few days and then go up the Hudson to Albany to visit some relatives, returning by way Hoosic Tunnel.

* * *

Rev. William C. Glover of North Weymouth is at his cottage at Rock Island for the summer.

* * *

Miss Florence R. Emery is to be the soloist at a large reception given next Wednesday afternoon, at hotel Vendome, Boston, by the Woman's Press club, to the wives of the Army and Navy Surgeons of Washington. A paper by Prof. Copeland of Harvard college will precede the reception.

* * *

Mrs. Willard Keyes of Wollaston Park is visiting relatives in Buffalo, N. Y.

* * *

Mr. Harold L. Jones of Braintree, and Miss Bessie DeForest of Randolph, were married Friday evening, May 8th., at the Baptist parsonage, Randolph, by Rev. Mr. McAllister. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. Harvey and Miss Mable DeForest, brother and sister of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will reside on Holbrook avenue in the house owned by Mr. Horace A. Jones,

* * *

The Saturday Evening club will meet this week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Pratt of Edwards street.

* * *

The last literary meeting of the Junior Friday club is to be held at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Price, Adams street on Monday afternoon May eighteenth. It will be a Dickens afternoon, the program being in charge of Miss Randall. A business meeting for the election of officers for 1903-4 will be held on the twenty-fifth with Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield of Brook street, Wollaston.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Holmes of Braintree left Thursday afternoon for a month's visit in New York and Washington.

* * *

Mrs. Chandler W. Smith and Mr. Frank P. Waterhouse represent the Wollaston Unitarian church, and Rev. E. C. Butler and Mr. Charles H. Johnson, the First church, at the Anniversary week exercises in Boston next week opening on Monday evening with a reception at Hotel Vendome from eight until ten. Those to receive are Rev. Dr. Everett E. Hale, Rev. Dr. Samuel A. Eliot, Rev. Robert Collyer, Hon. Carroll D. Wright and Hon. John D. Long.

* * *

A merry party gathered at the home of Miss Bertha S. Hobart, Braintree Saturday May 9, to unwind a cobweb prepared by Misses Bertha S. Hobart, Minnie Annis and Ida Rowell. At the end of each string was a may-basket stowed away in some unexpected nook. After the baskets were found the rest of the evening was devoted to music and games. Cake and lemonade were served during the evening.

* * *

The Norfolk Country club of Dedham will observe Memorial day with an open horse show, gymkhana races, a pony steeple chase and a base ball game. It will be an all-day show and prizes will be given.

* * *

Miss Olive Babcock of Braintree entertained about twenty-five friends and associates at her home Saturday evening in honor of her sixteenth birthday. During the evening a dainty lunch was served and games, music, etc., added to the enjoyment. Miss Olive was the recipient of a number of choice gifts among which was a handsome gold watch and chain. At a late hour the guests departed expressing themselves as enjoying a delightful

Monday will be newspaper day in this city, as Mr. George W. Prescott has invited the New England Suburban Press association to be his guests for the day, in celebration of his fifty years in the newspaper business. The association will visit the historic Adams houses, First church, the home of Mr. Prescott, also inspect his printing plant, after which dinner will be served at Mrs. Jewett's dining rooms, and the afternoon given up to visiting the Fore River Ship and Engine Works.

* * *

Joseph Walker is on a brief trip to Vermont.

* * *

The Philergians met with Mrs. O. W. Allen, Braintree, Tuesday P. M. Miss Wilde was hostess. Mrs. Herman Roberts, Mrs. R. E. Morrison and Mrs. Oscar Gallagher entertained the club members with selections from the living poets. The last meeting of the season will be held Tuesday, May 26, with Mrs N. S. Gould, Hollis avenue.

* * *

P. J. Daly of Boston is at his summer residence at Squantum.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Chapin formerly of Braintree and Randolph, are expected east from Rock Springs, Wyoming, today. Mr. Chapin has accepted a position in Worcester and will go there in a few days after a visit in Randolph.

* * *

Mrs. Bidwell of Wollaston Park and granddaughter have gone on a visit to Atlanta, Georgia.

* * *

Dr. Fred E. Jones arrives home from Kentucky today.

* * *

Mrs. Edward Burrows and Miss Mary Cropper of Cincinnati, Ohio, are the guest of Rev. F. W. Burrows, at Braintree.

* * *

Mrs. J. Frank Faxon and Miss Patty Faxon of Adams street, have returned from Baltimore where they have been passing a few weeks.

* * *

Miss Alice E. Townsend of the City Treasurer's office will be the guest over Sunday of friends at Melrose.

* * *

Mrs, Albert E. Avery of East Braintree, entertained the ladies duplicate whist party of Braintree and Weymouth Wednesday afternoon at her home on Commercial street. During intermission a dainty lunch was served. About twenty ladies participated in the game for about two hours enjoying a very pleasant afternoon.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Keating are spending the month of May with Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Dana, at the Bayside.

* * *

Miss Alice Holbrook of Braintree, entertained the Afternoon whist club Wednesday, the gathering being the last one of the season. Souvenirs were awarded Miss Nellie Porter and Mrs. W. A. Torry.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. H. Milton Marr of North Weymouth observed their fifteenth marriage anniversary on Wednesday evening.

* * *

Rumor has it that quite an innnovation will be in order at the Cochato club at Braintree tonight, when the young men of the club will regale the ladies with chafing dish dainties.

* * *

The young people of First church are much pleased with the plans which are being made to have a Sunday school camp for member of the Norfolk County Unitarian Sunday schools. The idea is to have a camp, a week for girls and a week for boys at a small expense, say three dollars a week for board and the traveling expenses to and from the camp. The camp will be located where there will be plenty of boating, bathing and opportunities for sports. Fuller details will be given when plans are perfected.

* * *

Mrs. A. C. Drinkwater has returned from Ashville to Braintree.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Damon of West Norwell observed their golden wedding last evening, entertaining a large number of guests from South Shore towns.

* * *

A cordial invitation is extended to the members of the Wollaston Unitarian society to attend the informal reception to be given at the Vendome, corner of Commonwealth avenue and Dartmouth street, Boston, Monday evening from 8 to 10. Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, Rev. Robert Collyer, Rev. Dr. Samuel A. Elliot, and it is hoped Hon. Carroll D. Wright and Hon. John D. Long will receive.

* * *

Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on every box. 25c

Are you Bilious?
Are you Fagged?
Are you Constipated?

Take
Beecham's Pills

If you are Bilious

It interferes with work, pleasure and happiness—everybody is so at times; in many cases it makes life a burden—the fault is with the stomach, liver and kidneys. The action of Beecham's Pills is prompt and certain—and will in a short time remove the evil.

When you are Fagged

That run-down feeling is caused by your overworked digestive organs not doing their work properly. Beecham's Pills will set them right, reinvigorate the system and restore sound and lasting health.

If Constipated

It is important to know that constipation causes more than half the sickness in the world, especially of women. It can all be prevented if Beecham's Pills are taken whenever nature seems to call for assistance. Comfort and happiness are sure to follow the use of Beecham's Pills.

Sold Everywhere in Boxes, 10c. and 25c.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of

WILLIAM HARLOW,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to James F. Harlow of Quincy, without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline, in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-seventh day of May, A. D., 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fourteenth day of May, A. D. 1903.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
3t- 16-18-25

ASSESSORS' NOTICE.

To the inhabitants of the City of Quincy, and all other persons liable to pay taxes therein:

You are hereby notified to bring in to the Assessors of said City,

On or before JUNE 1st, 1903,

True and Perfect Lists of all the Polls, and Schedules and Estimates of all the Personal Estates and Real Estate for which you are liable to pay taxes.

Persons holding estates in trust, whether for minors or otherwise, are particularly requested to furnish the Assessors with Statements in relation to such estates.

When the estates of persons deceased have been divided, or have changed hands from other causes during the past year, the Executors, Administrators, or other persons interested, are required to give notice of such changes, and in default of such notice will be held to pay the taxes assessed.

Blank forms for "Return of Property for Taxation" can be procured of the Assessors.

The following may serve as a guide to assist in making up Schedules and Statements:

Number of Polls 20 years and upwards; Money at interest; Amount of Money on hand, including deposits in Banks, etc., other than Savings Banks incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth; Railroad, Town, City, State and other Bonds (except those of the United States); Shares and Stocks of Insurance Manufacturing and other incorporated companies chartered or organized under the laws of any State other than Massachusetts; Goods, Wares, Merchandise and other stock in trade, within or without the State; Household Furniture, exceeding $1,000 in value; Horses, Mules, Carriages, Oxen, Cows, other neat Cattle not less than one year old, and Swine and Sheep not less than six months old; Income from Profession, Trade, or Employment exceeding $2,000; Personal Property held in trust or by wife or minor children.

Attention is hereby called to Section 32 of Chapter 12 of the Revised Laws.

"Whoever, with intent to defeat or evade the provisions of law in relation to assessment or payment of taxes, delivers or discloses to an assessor or an assistant assessor a false or fraudulent list, return, or schedule of property as and for a true list of his estates, not exempted from taxation, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in jail not exceeding one year."

MORTGAGED PROPERTY.

A mortgagor or mortgagee of real estate may bring in to the assessors of the city or town in which it lies, within the time prescribed by the notice under Sect. 41, a statement under oath of the amount secured thereon or on each separate parcel thereof, with the name and residence of every holder of an interest therein as mortgagor or mortgagee. If such property is situated in two or more places, or if a recorded mortgage includes two or more estates or parts of an estate as security for one sum, such statement shall include an estimate of the interest of the mortgagee in each estate or part of an estate. The assessors shall, from such statement or otherwise, ascertain the proportionate interests of the mortgagor or mortgagee respectively in in said estates, and shall assess the same accordingly. If, in any year, such statement is not brought in, the tax for that year on such real estate shall not be invalid merely for the reason that the interest of the mortgagee therein has not been assessed to him.—Sect. 45, Chap. 12, Revised Laws.

When a statement in conformity to the law above quoted is brought in, the real estate therein returned will be assessed under Sects. 16, 17 and 18 of Chap. 12 of the Revised Laws. But in cases where the mortgagor of the real estate has agreed in writing to pay all taxes assessed thereon, no statement or return is required from either the mortgagee or mortgagor unless requested by the assessors in writing.

The Assessors will be in session at their office every MONDAY and THURSDAY morning from 9 to 11 o'clock. Blanks will be furnished to all applicants.

JAMES THOMPSON, Chairman
CHARLES H. JOHNSON,
WILLIAM B. GLOVER,
Assessors of Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, May 2, 1903. p-4w--1-3t--2t a w

ERIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.
Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass

By C. H. JOHNSON, - - Auctioneer.
Office, Room 3 Adams Building, Quincy.

QUINCY
Real Estate at Public Auction.

The Valuable Real Estate
— ON —
Hancock Street, in Quincy,
— OF THE —
Late Nancy Brackett,

Will be sold at Public Auction on the premises, 1207 Hancock Street, on

May 23, 1903, at 3 o'clock P. M.

Train for Quincy leaves South Station, in Boston, at 2.28 o'clock.

The land has a frontage of 318 feet on Hancock street, a depth of 269 feet and embraces 84,935 square feet. The buildings consist of a 10-room House, built in the Old Colonial style, and a stable. The estate is one of the old estates of Quincy. It is situated on the main thoroughfare in the centre of the city within a few steps of the Railroad Station, Post Office, stores, and public buildings. It offers excellent opportunities for a private residence, or for development by the laying out of streets and erection of buildings. The present growth and prospects of the city of Quincy make this a peculiar opportunity for either investment or improvement.

$500 to be deposited and other terms to be announced at the time and place of sale.

For plan of land or any other information, inquire of

GEORGE W. MORTON,
Adams Building, Quincy.
HENRY H. SPRAGUE,
19 Milk street, Boston.
May 9—7t 9, 16, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22

SPILLER'S GOLDEN COUGH BALSAM
THE KIND THAT CURES
Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Inflammation of the Lungs, Lagrippe and Whooping Cough. It soothes the Cough of Consumption, and is excellent for all Lung Troubles. Try it. For sale by Weeks & Hill, Quincy, Mass. Price 25 cents.
If goods fail to give satisfaction, money refunded.

King Arthur Flour.
Sold in Quincy by
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

Reupholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE
HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.
Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.
Call and get Prices.
C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.

agged?
ou Constipated?
n's Pills everybody is so at times; in many cases it ver and kidneys. The action of Beecham's ime remove the evil.
rked digestive organs not doing their work
t, reinvigorate the system and restore sound more than half the sickness in the world, echam's Pills are taken whenever nature are sure to follow the use of Beecham's xes, 10c. and 25c.

C H. JOHNSON, - - Auctioneer.
Office, Room 3 Adams Building, Quincy.
QUINCY
al Estate at Public Auction.
he Valuable Real Estate
— ON — ancock Street, in Quincy,
— OF THE —
ate Nancy Brackett, ll be sold at Public Auction on the premises, 1207 Hancock Street, on ay 23, 1903, at 3 o'clock P. M.
Train for Quincy leaves South Station, in ston, at 2.28 o'clock.
The land has a frontage of 318 feet on Han k street, a depth of 269 feet and embraces 935 sq uare feet. The buildings consist of a -room House, built in the Old Colonial style, d a stable. The estate is one of the old ates of Quincy. It is situated on the main oroughfare in the centre of the city within a steps of the Railroad Station. Post Office, ores, and public buildings. It offers excellent portunities for a private residence, or for velopment by the laying out of streets and ction of buildings. The present growth and spects of the city of Quincy make this a eculiar opportunity for either investment or provement.
$500 to be deposited and other terms to be nounced at the time and place of sale.
For plan of land or any other information, in-ire of
GEORGE W. MORTON,
Adams Building, Quincy.
HENRY H. SPRAGUE,
19 Milk street, Boston.
May 9—7t 9, 16, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22

SPILLER'S GOLDEN COUGH BALSAM
THE KIND THAT CURES
Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Inflammation of the Lungs, Lagrippe and Whooping Cough. It soothes the Cough of Consumption, and is excellent for all Lung Troubles. Try it. For sale by Weeks &
Hill, Quincy, Mass. Price 25 cents.
If goods fail to give satisfaction, money refunded.

King Arthur Flour.
Sold in Quincy by
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

ns and Outs of Overcoats.

COPYRIGHT.
UT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO
HE SPRING WEIGHT is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS
M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
ree minutes from South Station.

Reupholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE
HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.
Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.
Call and get Prices.
C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St
Tel. 64-4.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 116. QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY, MAY 18, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, PRES.
April 9-2m 11-2m

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. lp-tf

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pixel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5
Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered.
Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite
Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb. 2. 1 1y- p-6mos.

FRANK F. CRANE
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17.

JAMES F. BURKE.
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5. tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7. tf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock
Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point,
Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov, 3-tf

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

Reupholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE
HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.
Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.
Call and get Prices.
C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St
Tel. 64-4.
Quincy, May 2. 1m

Spring and Summer Shoes.
The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Childre's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.
The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.
GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

ORDER NOW FOR DECORATION DAY
--YOUR--
Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.
MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.
63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works,
P. GREEN, Proprietor.
Telephone 64-5 Quincy

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.
White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,
In a variety of Styles and Prices.
Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.
These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.
C. S. HUBBARD.
City Square, Quincy.

REAL ESTATE.
Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.
JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder,
Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.
Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.
April 25. tf

"IN THE SPRINGTIME
A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of
BICYCLES.
I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:
YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;
And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the
"OLD RELIABLE."
REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.
JOHN H. GILLIS,
Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.
April 30. 1m

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat
Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful
NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE
at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.
Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.
Quincy, May 9. 1m

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

For Latest News See Inside Pages.

FIERCE BOMBARDMENT

Of Trolley Cars and Barns at Bridgeport

POLICE WERE POWERLESS

To Cope With Mob, Which Was Finally Scattered by the Fire Department's Use of Water—Thirty Men More or Less Seriously Injured

Bridgeport, Conn., May 18.—The attempt made by the officials of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company to run their cars with non-union men resulted in a riot in which over 30 men were injured. The sheriff hopes that it will not be necessary to call out the state troops, but says that another such outbreak will make that step inevitable. Five persons have been arrested for throwing stones.

At 11:20 a. m. yesterday trolley cars were started out on the Barnum and State street lines. There were large crowds in the vicinity of the car sheds when operations were commenced, but no violence was offered at this time. The cars were manned by 12 of the 130 strike breakers brought to this city by the trolley company.

There was no disturbance of any kind until 1:30 in the afternoon. The first car had completed its third round trip and was in front of the Wheeler & Wilson factory, where a crowd of at least 1000 persons had gathered. The car was running slowly, owing to the crowd, when stones began to fly. Deputy Sheriffs Hendrue and Plumb, who were riding on the car, saw a man in the crowd hurl a stone. They had the car stopped immediately and plunged into the crowd to get the offender. With considerable difficulty he was seized and dragged to the car, the intention of the sheriffs being to put him on board and take him to police headquarters. The stone-thrower struggled so fiercely that a policeman who was standing near by went to the assistance of the sheriffs. Mayor Mulvihill ordered the policeman to keep his hands off the prisoner. He then told the deputy sheriffs that they had better let the man go. During the argument the stone-thrower took advantage of the diversion which had been created, and wrenched himself free, dashed into the crowd and was lost to view.

In the meantime the stones were flying in a shower and one of them struck Mayor Mulvihill on the head. He was wearing a soft hat and a large hole was cut in this. Although the mayor's scalp was not lacerated he received a bruise.

The two sheriffs then jumped on the car and ordered the motorman to proceed to the car sheds, a quarter of a mile distant. The bombardment did not abate and the crowds on the street were so dense that the motorman could not go very fast without running some one down. The stone throwing soon became so furious that the sheriffs drew their revolvers and fired five shots in the air and toward the ground. This caused the bombardment to let up a little and the car reached the barns and was run inside. The other five cars, operated on the same streets, received exactly the same treatment as they followed the first car into the car barns.

When the last car had passed within the doors there was a crowd of 4000 people gathered in a vacant lot opposite and violence once more broke loose. Brickbats, stones and everything that could be thrown were hurled at the barns and anything that belonged to the company in the vicinity.

At this point Mayor Mulvihill saw that the sergeant and nine policemen who were stationed at the car barns were unable to cope with the mob and he sent for Chief Coffin of the fire department. The latter ordered out engine company No. 6 with a steamer and a line of hose. Superintendent Birmingham also ordered every available man to the spot to co-operate with the firemen and soon a strong stream was being played on the mob, which slowly fell back before the water. One of the strike breakers was assisting the firemen in holding the hose when a brick struck him on the head and knocked him to the ground senseless. When the mob had dispersed, the firemen and extra policemen were ordered back to their quarters and the regular detail remained guarding the car barns.

The officials of the trolley company will not reveal the names of the men injured or the nature of their injuries. It is positively known, however, that not a man of those who were on the six cars escaped an injury of some kind. Every one of them, as they stood on the platform of their cars while going into the barns, was seen to be bleeding profusely from the head and face. In addition to the trolley men injured, Road Master Davis of the trolley company was injured by a stone which struck him in the head. Sheriffs Hendrie and Plumb were, apparently, targets for the mob as well as the strike breakers, for each of them was struck in different parts of the body at least a dozen times.

No attempt was made to run cars last night.

All of Sheriff Hawley's deputies have reported to him for duty. In an interview the sheriff said: "I will have no further interference on the part of Mayor Mulvihill. I will have 100 special men here and will do my best to preserve peace, and if the mayor or any one else attempts to interfere he will be stopped; if necessary I will supercede Mayor Mulvihill in authority."

IDENTITY UNKNOWN

Woman of Evident Refinement and Wealth Found Dead at Boston

Boston, May 18.—No clew to the identity of the young woman whose disfigured body was found in the Charles river at Harvard bridge Saturday night has come to the police. Medical Examiner Durrell held an autopsy and said he believed that her death as that of a suicide, by drowning. There are bruises on the body and much blood was found on the clothing, but the medical examiner believes that this resulted from the body striking something in the river.

Everything indicates that the young woman had means and belonged to a good station in life. Most of her clothing is very good texture. Her waist, her shoes, her dress all bear out the theory that she was well-to-do. She was 5 feet 6 inches in height, weighed about 150 pounds, had dark hair and eyes and was about 30 years old.

The medical examiner says that circumstances point to suicide, as the young woman had been in delicate health. Besides, he finds that she had taken precautions to remove marks from the clothing, and from apparel which had borne laundry marks. He has intimated to the police that he has failed to find any evidence of foul play, although reserving an official report until later. The woman may not have belonged either in Boston or Cambridge, for the body may have floated down the Charles from some town above Boston. In life she must have been a handsome woman. Her face shows evidences of refinement. Her hands show that she was not accustomed to hard work, and her clothing leads to the opinion that she was a woman of comparative wealth.

More Aid For Jewish Sufferers

Baltimore, May 18.—Three thousand people attended an enthusiastic meeting here in behalf of the victims of the anti-Jewish outrages in Russia. Several thousand dollars were subscribed. A series of resolutions was adopted calling upon the United States to "bring such influences to bear on the Russian government as may tend to bring about a cessation of these inhumanities," and upon members of congress to protest "against the outrages to which the Jews of Russia are subjected."

Ratsey Sails on Columbia

New York, May 18.—The old cup defender Columbia has been fitted out with a suit of sails from the American loft of Ratsey & Lapthorn, the English sailmakers, who have made sails for three Shamrocks. The new sails stretched splendidly and if they prove better than the Herreshoffs' suit the Columbia will sail under them in all the races this season, including the cup defense races if she should be selected.

Aguinaldo In Funeral Procession

Manila, May 18.—In spite of the fact that he died of cholera the authorities permitted Mabini, the Filipino politician and leader, to be given a public funeral yesterday. Eight thousand natives marched from Mabini's house to the church and thence to the cemetery. Hundreds of former insurgents, headed by Aguinaldo, took part in the procession. There were also many bands of music.

Porto Rico Suffers From Drought

San Juan, P. R., May 18.—Continued southerly winds are causing an alarming drought in Porto Rico. The orange blossoms are dropping, the new cane crop has been seriously delayed, cattle are suffering from a disease due to lack of food and water, there have been many small whirlwinds and minor crops are scarce. The coffee is in good condition.

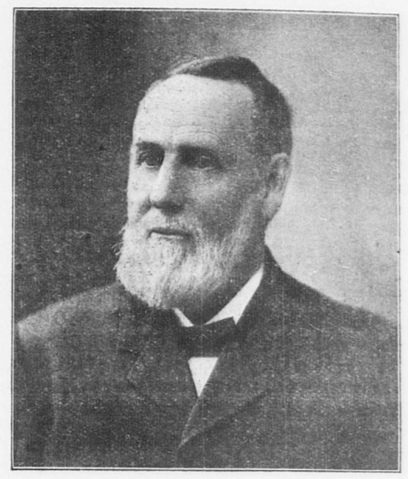

—The Bengal cavalry, which constitutes the bodyguard of the governor general of india, was raised as far back as 1775.

Best for Children.

Bread made from Spring wheat flour necessarily is best, because of the gluten and phosphate it contains. It feeds the brain as well as nourishes the body. Pillsbury's Best is the standard Spring wheat flour.

EDITORS FROM FIVE STATES

At Quincy Today Assisting Editor Prescott to Observe His Semi-Centennial as a Publisher.

[Reported by the Office Cat during absence of the Editor.]

The query, as to who that distinguished looking body of men seen about City Square today, are, is answered by saying that they are the editors of Suburban newspapers throughout New England, and not millionaires on an outing as some supposed. As a street urchin was heard to remark: "Them's the fellers what prints de papers, see?"

They are editors, first for lack of something else to do, and secondly because they like to take a hand in moulding public opinon in their particular locality. In this respect they are a great power. They are supposed by the general public to work for love, yet they must have a little coin occasionally with which to feed their families. Most of them have large families. Editors always do.

They are in Quincy today as guests of George W. Prescott of the Patriot and Daily Ledger, to help him celebrate his fiftieth year in the newspaper business at the "old stand."

They are a jovial, well fed and groomed set of men, out for a good time, and they will probably get it. They also have a nose for news and may have something to say about Quincy.

There entrance, into the "City of Presidents," was not heralded by a brass band. On the contrary they came in a quiet unostentatious manner on the train that arrived at 10.49.

They looked at the substantial stone building on the right and were told it was City Hall. Then their eye took in the big stone fountain, from whose faucet there runs an endless stream of clear cold water for man and beast. It was a reminder that Quincy was a temperance town and that they must quench their thirst, if they had one, with water. The building just beyond was pointed out as the home of Henry H. Faxon, the temperance man of renown and the friend of the Board of Health. Henry was with the party but did not invite them to his cellar. Instead of that he took them to the historic Adams temple. Here they filed down the narrow stairway and one by one looked in through the iron barred door at the massive sarcophagi, containing the remains of John Adams and John Quincy Adams, the two Presidents and their wives.

They said little, but kept up a deal of thinking, and through the brain of not a few, ran the thought, that perhaps some day they might be President and have a hand in giving out offices which pay well for a little work.

From the church a look was taken at the site of he proposed government building on Washington street, the Thomas Crane Public library, and the residence of Mr. Prescott on Spear street.

Then came a visit to the Ledger office. The boys in the office had been tipped off that visitors might be expected and had improved the time to slick up a bit, and to polish up the windows, so that the girls could see what was going on in the street without straining their eyes.

About the main office were numerous

Continued on Page 3.

Restful Mattresses.

Just think, people everywhere trying to get enjoyment and comfort out of this life, and the queer thing about it all is, that very few start in the rightplace.
There isn't any money that will bring such rest and comfort to tired folks as the money you spend for one of our famous Cotton Felt Mattresses.
These Mattresses are as unlike the one you are now using, as night is unlike day. They are soft, soothing, springy, restful, dreamy. They fit the body from top to toe, and afford you rest, comfort and enjoyment, unequalled by anything else that money can buy in all this great world of ours.
They range in price from $7.50 to $15.00. We have them for immediate delivery.
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,
New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,
Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.
We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

Are You Looking for a Home?
Would You Like to Make Some Money?
Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at
BIGELOW PARK.
The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.
SWIFT & BROS., 3 and 4 Dargin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.
May 2.

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 75-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	79	63	67	78	73
Monday,	86	76	80	60	53
Tuesday,	—	74	65	49	53
Wednesday,	—	79	61	53	55
Thursday,	—	73	69	67	75
Friday,	—	72	82	85	72
Saturday,	—	64	86	81	71

New Advertisements Today.

Henry L. Kincaide & Co.—Mattresses.
Auction Sale of Household Furniture.
E. M. Maxwell—Dressmaking.
Chas. C. Hearn—Medical Notice.
Henry L. Kincaide & Co.—Piazza Furnisnre.

Good Afternoon

Welcome to the editors! We had this day made to order for you.

Bicyclist Run Down.

An unknown bicyclist had a very narrow escape Sunday evening from being killed by an automobile. As it was, his wheel was smashed. The bicyclist was coming through Water street when a big "red devil," in which were two men and three women, came down Franklin street at a terrific speed. For a minute it seemed as though the bicycle rider would be killed. With rare presence of mind the bicycle rider threw himself from his wheel into the street just as the red devil dashed by. The rider escaped with a few bruises, but the automobile passed over the bicycle, smashing it into bits. The automobile party did not stop to see what damage they had done, but kept on their way and disappeared from sight.

The West Quincys played their first game of the season Saturday when they had the Hartford A. A. for their opponents. West Quincy put up a strong game and won by a score of 17 to 12.

By C. H. JOHNSON, Auctioneer.
Office: Room 3 Adams Building.

Household Furniture

At Public Auction of CHARLES PETERSON will be sold from residence No. 138 Granite Street, on Tuesday, May 26, 1903,

At 1.30 P. M.

The goods consist in part as follows: Plush Rocker, Woolen Carpet, Curtains, 2 Rockers, 6 Rugs, Oak Side Board in good order, Cane Seat Rocker, Oak Commode, Oak Bureau, 8 foot Oak Extension Table, 6 Cane Seat Dining Room Chairs, Art Square, Hanging Lamp, Plants, 5 Odd Chairs, White Iron Bed nearly new, Rocker, Table Covers, Bed Spreads, Comforters, Mattresses, Straw Matting, Chamber Set, China Tea Set, lot of Dishes and Glass Ware, Magee Range in good order, Kitchen Table, and a lot of Kitchen Furniture. This is only a partial list of the furnishings of 5 rooms. All of above furniture is clean and in good order.

Sale positive. Goods to be removed at once. Terms, Cash.

No. 138 Granite Street.

May 18. 6t-18-19-20-22-23-24

By C. H. JOHNSON, - - Auctioneer.
Office, Room 3 Adams Building, Quincy.

QUINCY

Real Estate at Public Auction.

The Valuable Real Estate

— ON —

Hancock Street, in Quincy,

— OF THE —

Late Nancy Brackett,

Will be sold at Public Auction on the premises, 1207 Hancock Street, on

May 23, 1903, at 3 o'clock P. M.

Train for Quincy leaves South Station, in Boston, at 2.28 o'clock.

The land has a frontage of 318 feet on Hancock street, a depth of 269 feet and embraces 84,935 square feet. The buildings consist of a 10-room House, built in the Old Colonial style, and a stable. The estate is one of the old estates of Quincy. It is situated on the main thoroughfare in the centre of the city within a few steps of the Railroad Station, Post Office, stores, and public buildings. It offers excellent opportunities for a private residence, or for development by the laying out of streets and erection of buildings. The present growth and prospects of the city of Quincy make this a peculiar opportunity for either investment or improvement.

$500 to be deposited and other terms to be announced at the time and place of sale.

For plan of land or any other information, inquire of

GEORGE W. MORTON,
Adams Building, Quincy.
HENRY H. SPRAGUE,
19 Milk street, Boston.

May 9—7t 9, 16, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22

NEW CLUBHOUSE.

Squantum Yacht Club Will Build One 250 Feet from Shore.

The Squantum Yacht club, of which Mayor Bryant is commodore, have plans for a $6000 clubhouse to be built 250 feet from shore.

The lower floor will be given up to lockers, a kitchen and all the necessary appliances for making a yachtman's shore life comfortable. The upper floor will contain a large dancing hall and banquet room, and the entire house will be surrounded by spacious piazzas which will give a fine unobstructed view of Quincy bay and the lower harbor.

The new Metropolitan boulevard will run along the shore near the present clubhouses making changes necesssry, and it looks as if the Squantum club intended to improve the opportunity.

Italian Row.

Giovanno Porreca, a West Quincy Italian, "ran amuck" on California avenue Sunday night, and but for his prompt arrest by Officer Hinchon he would probably have murdered someone, for he was brandishing a wicked looking carving knife and acting like a crazy man. From what could be learned it appears that Porreco, who has a wife and son, became jealous of his wife, from some unknown reason, and proceeded to show his love for her by pulling her down stairs by the hair, and kicking her about the body. He then grabbed the carving knife and rushed through the street threatening to carve anyone who came in his way. The first man he run into, however, was Officer Hinchon, who got the knife away from him and placed him under arrest.

Porreco's wife then appeared on the scene and begged the officer to let her husband go. Porreco was arranged in court this morning for disturbing the peace.

Senatorial Good-Fellowship.

It was Senator Brackett of Norfolk who presided gracefully over that most unusual of Senatorial functions one afternoon last week when the big senator from South Boston was presented with a dainty carriage for his baby girl. Senator Sullivan, thanks to the tactful manner in which the Norfolk senator had attended to details was genuinely surprised. It was one of the finest demonstrations of good fellowship that has been witnessed on the hill for years.

Goff Succeeds Foster.

Sunday papers reported that E. C. Foster, vice president and general manager of the companies under the control of the Massachusetts Electric Companies, had resigned his position to accept the position of president of the New Orleans Railways company, New Orleans. Mr. Robert S. Goff of Fall River, now the general superintendent of the Old Colony street railway company, has been appointed as his successor.

R. A. Visitation.

Walter H. Hadley, of Holliston, Grand Chaplain, of the Royal Arcanum of Massachusetts and W. H. Leavitt, District deputy Grand Regent of the 54th district, will make an official visitation to Manet Council, No 1763, Royal Arcanum this evening at 7.30, at the Council Chamber in Clan McGregor hall, South Quincy. All members are requested to be present.

The degree will be conferred upon three candidates. Refreshment will be served and a social hour will follow the evening work.

WHY HE DOES IT.

Druggist Chas. C. Hearn Gives Reasons for Selling at Half-Price.

"It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicines put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said druggist Chas. C. Hearn to one of his many customers, "but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that plan.

"The Howard Co., in order to get a quick introductory sale, authorized me to sell the regular fifty cent bottle of their specific for half-price, 25 cents, and although I have sold a lot of it, and guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory.

"One great advantage of this specific," he continued, "is its small dose and convenient form. There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and every one has more medicinal power than a big pill or tablet or a tumbler of mineral water.

"I am still selling the specific at half-price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so. Any person who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion, or a general played out condition, ought to take advantage of this opportunity. If the specific does not cure them, they can come right back to my store, and I will cheerfully refund their money." 18-21

Quincy High will be represented in the Interscholastic Association of Amateur Athletes of New England on Saturday, June 6.

DIGNITY OF LABOR

Some Plain Truths by Rev. Mr. Burr.

Hits the Trusts and the Unions.

Believes in Organization of Capital and Labor, but—

Rev. Barr of the United Presbyterian church, Fort Square, who has been discoursing for the last two Sabbath evenings to the laboring men of Quincy discussed the following propositions:

I—That man as he came from the hand of God was constituted to work and ordained to work.

II—That the dignity of labor consisted in doing an honest days work, and in doing honest work.

III—In doing an honorable and necessary work.

Gen. Grant visited the great Chinese wall and afterward said, "I believe that the labor expended upon this wall would have built every railroad in the United States, every canal and highway and most if not all our cities" and yet, as far as we can see, seems to be of little use.

Such unnecessary work as this, and the building of the pyramids of Egypt, which are the wonders of the world, and the Bylonian tower by which men would climb to heaven; are but monuments of folly which tend to injure the dignity of labor.

IV—The dignity of labor consists in making good use of our earnings.

The necessity for child labor and female labor in our shops and factories proceeds from and is largely the result of the want of economy and the indulgencies and habits of the working classes. When anything befalls the bread winner of the home, the rest of the family are compelled to earn the living.

Says Dr. Talmage "Gather up the money that the working classes have spent for rum in the last thirty years, and I will build for every working man a house, and lay out a garden, and clothe his sons in broad cloth and his daughters in silk and stand at the front door a prancing span of sorrels or bays; and secure him a policy of insurance so that the present home may be well maintained after he is dead. The most persistent, the most overpowering enemy, of the working classes is intoxicating liquors. It has boycotted, and is now boycotting the body, mind and soul of American labor. It is to labor a worse foe than Monopoly or Associated Capitol."

Bemean the laborer by taking his money without value received; destroy him by robbing him of a clear brain, and a healthy body; humble him by clothing him and his family with rags; (all of which and charge to the liquor traffic, gambling and speculation and the cultivation of our vices rather than our virtues) and you have robbed labor of its standing among the honorable things.

Getting along in this world depends as much on how we spend what we earn, as how we earn what we spend.

The dignity of labor consists in condering your employers interests as well as your own. I have no sympathy with trusts and monopolies which crush out and drive to the wall small producers for fear of competition.

"Competition is the life of trade" and the life of other people too. Every man in a free republic ought to have the right and the protection of law to follow any honest business without molestation or oppression. Every man under such a government should have the right to invest his capital of brains and muscle to obtain a livelihood for himself and family in any honorable way without interference.

When associated capital becomes oppressive and dangerous to the best interests of society it ought to be disorganized. When organized labor becomes tyranical and oppressive, a menace to the peace of the community and interference with personal liberty, then it should be disorganized.

The man who throws down his tools at the instant the whistle blows, although a few minutes of time would be a valuable concession of help to his fellow workman and his employer, is working for himself and not his employer. The society that would interfere with him for giving such time is oppressive.

I believe in the organization of labor if such organization will help him to invest his capital of brains and muscle to better advantage. But as one has well said, "The right which capital and labor has to organize, does not give either of them the rights of others be they rival combinations or individuals."

Strikes as a rule are not profitable in the long run. Boycotts are undemocratic, un-American and as a rule unchristian, a species of tyranny that can never be defended, whether practiced by capital or labor. If either cannot work out their salvation without violence or resorting to unlawful acts their existence cannot be defended.

The laborer has a right to strike either alone or in conjunction with his fellow workman, but he has no right to destroy the prosperty of the employer. It is not the organization that is to floun usually for the lawless acts committed but it is the lawless element in the organization. Thousands of self-respecting honorable working men are as sorry for the deeds of lawlessness as the public.

Again the dignity of labor consists of dignity in labor and lastly in doing what we do to the glory of God. To labor thus is to labor honestly. To labor looking to God for his blessing is to labor for the good of others—An unselfish toil.

Next Sabbath Rev. Barr will preach on the "Heroes of hardwork.

Game Cancelled.

The Adams Academy nine has cancelled its game with the Rockland High school today because the captain of the latter team could not guarantee to play only members of the school as the nine has always consisted solely of school members in full and regular standing, and in the interests of clean athletics the manager believes that other schools should hold to the same standard.

The attention of the Academy was first called to the ineligibility of the Rockland catcher by the action of the Bridgewater High school boys last week in withdrawing their nine from the field because they knew him to be an outsider. An attempt was then made to get the Rockland boys to agree not to play outsiders in the game scheduled for today. As such assurance was refused, the Academy management decided to support the attitude taken by Bridgewater, and cancelled the game.

Adams, 19; B & N, 6.

Adams Academy won another victory on Saturday, defeating the Brown & Nichols school 19 to 6.

Innings,	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Adams,	1	6	2	2	0	2	6	0		—19
Brown & Nichols	0	0	2	0	0	3	0	0	1	—6

Runs made—By Reardon 2, Moyle, Moir, 2, McTiernan, Elcock, 2, Berry, Galvin, 5, Hoxie 4, Penley, Ames, Pratt, Littlemore, J. McDonald 3. Two-base hits.—Reardon, Hoxie 2, J. McDonald. Home run—Hoxie Stolen bases—Moyle, Moir 4, Elcock, Galvin, Hoxie, Penley, Cunningham.

Merrymounts Defeated.

The Merrymounts were outclassed and and easily defeated by the Braintrees at Merrymount Park, Saturday afternoon 22 to 4. Ryan pitched a good game for the visitors, while Monroe proved to be rather easy, and his team helped things along by doing some erratic fielding. Martells work with the stick and behind the bat, was a feature of the game. Baker led his side with the bat and played a good game in the field.

Atlantics Win.

The Atlantics and South Quincys met on the diamond at South Quincy and the Atlantics won by a score of 11 to to 9.

Thayer Defeated.

The Thayer Academy was defeated at Salem by a score of 8 to 4.

Is There Iron in Your Blood

Great achievers, men and women who bring things to pass, obstacles or no obstacles, have an abundance of iron in their blood. They take the initiative; they push ahead, regardless of obstacles; they succeed.

There is no quality of character that gains more admiration and respect than that which enables a person to form a definite purpose and then concentrate all his energy in executing it. To possess and use this quality, it is necessary to be in a sound mental and physical condition, to have an abundance of iron in the blood, which gives stamina, vigor and endurance.

Peptiron ironizes the blood, nourishes, strengthens and steadies the nerves and produces the above result. It is a new and thoroughly scientific preparation, combining iron with the best tonics and nutrients; is agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and readily assimilated, and has the great advantage of not causing constipation nor injuring the teeth.

Peptiron is made in two forms: In a liquid—an aromatic cordial elixir—at $1 per bottle, also in chocolate-coated pills at 50c. or $1 per box. By C. I. HOOD CO., proprietors, Hood's Sarsaparilla. Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

Selling Agent in Quincy:

E. J. Murphy, 1657 Hancock St.

E. M. MAXWELL,
DRESSMAKING.

Ladies' Tailor Made Suits a specialty. Altering and Repairing neatly and promptly attended to. No 3 South Central Avenue, corner Newport Avenue, Wollaston, Mass.

May 18. 6t

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Fair Sunday.

City Council this evening.

A. E. Sproul spent Sunday at his summer home at Pittsfield, N. H.

Another hot day, the hottest since April 30. Temperature at noon 86 degrees.

Mrs. G. K. Livermore of Spear street has gone to Gilman, N. H., for the summer.

At the Park and Downs church there is to be a recital on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The children have got it down fine just how many more days they will have to atteud schoo before vacation.

Joseph C. Morse and J. Harry Emery left today for a two weeks' fishing trip down to Upper Dam, Rangeley Lakes.

Mrs. Thomas Hewson of Newcomb place has returned from a five weeks' visit with her sister at St. Johns, N. B.

Thomas Johnson as grand deputy made a visit to Clan McDonald of Brockton on Friday evening of last week.

Miss Brown of Wollaston, formerly with H. L. Kincaide & Co., has accepted a position as clerk with Miss C. S. Hubbard.

"The Little Lights" will give an entertainment and sale in the vestry of the Wollaston Congregational church on Tuesday evening.

Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Ladies' Foreign Mission Society will meet at the home of Mrs. George F. Pinkam, 111 Warren avenue, Wollaston.

A class initiation of the Royal Arcanum for the councils of Quincy, Wollaston, Braintree, Hingham and Weymouth will be held at Weymouth, June 29.

The wedding of Miss Annie Yaffe of Boston and Rubin Berman of Quincy was held last week at Concord hall, Boston. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi S. H. Shoher and Rev. Shereshefsky.

Paul Revere, W. R. C. 103, will be the guests of the Hingham corps on Thursday, when they will witness the exemplification of the work. Mrs. Evans, department president, and Mrs. Jones, department inspector, and many other officers will also be present.

A large number of automobiles passed through Quincy on Sunday. At times there seemed to be an almost endless stream. From actual count between hours of 2 and 5 o'clock, 35 machines passed through City Square going south. Of this number 21 went down Washington street and 14 up Hancock street.

At the regular meeting of Maple lodge, K. & L. of H., on Wednesday evening in Wilson's hall, the 23d anniversary of the lodge will be observed, by a dramatic and musical entertainment and banquet to be followed by dancing. The Grand Protector, Hattie E. Silsby, the D. D., Nellie E. Hallett and the P. G. D. D., Carrie L. Ingram, are expected to be present.

Died at Barre.

William G. Smith formerly of Quincy died at Barre, Vt., on Sunday. His remains will be brought to Quincy for burial. The funeral services will be held Tuesday at the residence of John Sanderson at 4 McDonald street, West Quincy. Mr. Smith was a member of Clan McGregor, O. S. C., and of Granite lodge, F. and A. M. of Barre, Vt.

TODAY'S COURT.

John McGillvray, Frank Martin and Charles O'Tool were arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. Cases continued until May 25.

Lawrence Farrell was fined $3 for drunkenness at Weymouth, and James Pike $3 for drunkenness at Quincy.

Giovanni Porreca was arraigned for disturbing the peace at Quincy and was fined $3, and was put under $100 bonds to keep the peace for thirty days.

James Shaw, Josiah Doherty and Peter F. Dolan were arraigned for disturbing the peace at Quincy. Case continued until Thursday.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus oftenbefore medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

DIED.

SMITH—In Barre, Vt., May. 17, Mr. William G. Smith formerly of Quincy, Mass., Funeral Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of John Sanderson of No. 4 McDonald street, West Quincy.

YOUNG—In Wollaston, May 17, Mrs. Eva E., wife of Mr. William A. Young of 15 Broomfield street, aged 21 years.

SANDFORD—In Boston, May 16, Mr. Russell M. Sanford of Braintree, aged 32 years.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Only 35? You look at least 60. Restore color to your gray hair. Why not? J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Jeweler's Building, Boston. Brewers Corner, Quincy.
May 16. 6t

A. S. SANDBERG,

Others at Quincy Point, Houghs Neck, Malden and Everett.

VERY DESIRABLE ONES.

Three at Norfolk Downs,

HOUSES FOR SALE.

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON.

Quincy, April 23. tf

Piazza Furniture.

For nearly four months the piazza of your home will be used for rest and recreation. Afternoons, evenings and Sundays, every member of your family will spend their leisure moments there. There also, you will receive and entertain your friends, and your pleasure and comfort will be two fold if you have the proper piazza Furniture.

This means but trifling expense if you make your selection from our complete and low priced stock.

Piazza Rockers,	89c. to $3.50.
Hammocks,	69c. to $4.59.
Lawn Settees,	98c. to $1.25.
Lawn Swings,	$3.00.

Our Piazza Furniture will last for years.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

Rather Rough on Peter.

Speaker Myers raised a laugh on Thursday, says Practical Politics, by an unconscious mixing of names, and for a few minutes he seemed at a loss to discover what the members were getting so hilarious about.

Mr. Fallon of Quincy arose to address the house, and the speaker recognized him as "Mr. Faxon of Quincy." As Mr. Fallon has nothing in common with the great temperance advocate beyond the fact that they live in the same city, the members began to giggle out loud.

The mirth was redoubled when the speaker brought down his gavel with a bang and said: "The house will be in order. Mr. Faxon of Quincy has the floor." Later the speaker addressed the member by his right name, but the latter will probably have to answer queries as to the progress of the temperance cause for the next few weeks.

An ideal Day.

Sunday was an unusually warm day for this season of the year and there were thousands upon the streets. The open cars of the street railway were well patronized, and it was necessary to run extra cars on nearly every route. This was especially true on the Houghs Neck line where it was necessary to run three and four cars on every trip.

Keith's Theatre.

There are so many good things offered in the Keith program for the week of May 18 that it is almost impossible to particularize without being accused of favoritism. Of course the Fadettes woman's orchestra continues as a special feature, but their charming concerts of popular music will be supplemented by a vaudeville show that will compare with any given in this theatre this season. It should be noted, too, that the talented legitimate actor, Frank J. Keenan, and his company, are only in for one week, as also Bob Cole and Rosmond Johnson, the greatest of all colored entertainers. Mr. Keenan is supported by a capital company and will offer an entirely new comedy sketch, "The Actor and the Count," which is said to be one of the best laugh-creating offerings done in the varieties this season. Messers. Cole and Johnson will sing a number of new ballads in their inimitable fashion. The way in which the summer business has started in at Keith's indicates that last season's phenomenal attendance will probably be duplicated this year.

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

$3.50

For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . . At Co-operative Dining Rooms

3 Granite Street, Quincy,

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21—2m

King Arthur Flour.

Sold in Quincy by

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

FREDERICK H. LORD,
TEACHER OF BANJO,
Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.
TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.
118 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 7. tf

ERIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.
Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass
M ay7. 1m

JOB PRINTING
AT THE PATRIOT OFFICE

No Seamy Side
—no wrinkles, bunches, or wads to hurt the feet. In Whale Hose, they fit the foot like a second skin. Handsome and durable, too.

Whale Hose

are made in black, russet, and all the popular colors. By mail, 1 pair 25c; 2 pairs 45c. Five cents brings patent hose supports and catalogue.

CORNELL STOCKING CORPORATION
New Bedford, Mass.

Look for  the whale.

BOUQUETS AND FLORAL DESIGNS
— FOR —
MEMORIAL DAY.

Plants of all kinds for your garden at lowest prices at

DERRINGER'S CONSERVATORY,
Glover Avenue, off Hancock Street,
NORFOLK DOWNS.
May 16. p-3w--1-2t

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

Silk Waists.

23

Peau De Soie, Taffeta and Crepe De Chene Waists, in Pink, Light Blue, Old Rose, Black, White, Rosida and Pearl Grey.

PRICES:

$2.98 to $5.98.

O.E. Wadsworth & Co.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.
Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

MR. WORRELL'S WORK IS OF HIS OWN CREATION.

YIELDS HIM HANDSOME INCOME.

While Mr. Worrell's lectures are free to the public, he personally, is given a large sum for every lecture delivered. For years he has been the best known and best paid lecturer on food subjects in the United States. Sixteen years ago after many years of study, he began lecturing. Public Food discussion, at this time, was unknown.

His talks were interesting and instructive, and having the benefit of a business training and being very practical it was but natural that his success should be of a sturdy character. One hundred addresses constitute a season's work. He finishes this season on May 29th. Mr. Worrell is insured a certain fixed sum per lecture by well known representative manufacturers, and thus the talks are free to the public.

Mr. Worrell speaks at 2.30 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, May 19, in Music hall.

Souvenir package of food specially helpful in developing sound symmetrical teeth will be given each person present.

An Upset.

What came near being a drowning accident was averted by the prompt action of Messrs James Milne and Albert Bruff both of Quincy on Sunday. While walking along the beach at Houghs Neck they witnessed the upsetting of a boat containing a lady. Both men plunged into the water and rescued the parties.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

EDITORS HERE TODAY

Continued from page 1.

fragrant bouquets which admiring friends of Mr. Prescott had presented with their compliments.

As they entered the office they were greeted by the young ladies of the office force, who were gowned in their best Sunday-go-to-meeting and who bestowed upon the visitors a smile that would have melted the hardest heart. There was no sign of a paste pot, and while there were several pairs of shears hanging about, they gave no evidence of hard or frequent use.

As a matter of precaution the door of the office safe was closed and locked. There is always a safe in every well regulated editorial office. Not that editors ever have any use for a safe, for their money, but because it makes a good impression, and is handy to keep newspaper exchanges in.

Passing into the press room under the guidance of Foreman Hill, who is in his 18th year of service, they noticed that the usual yard-wide, yard-long and foot thick printers towel had been replaced by a piece of unbleached crash. A spirit of cleanliness seemed to prevail the whole room. Even "Billy" the office devil, had found time to remove some of the ink and grease from his face and hands by a generous application of soap and water. He was so interested in watching the visitors that he even forgot to talk back to the foreman.

Up stairs they went to the composing room where all the force were found to be hard at work, sticking type. Just as hard as they always are when the boss does not stand in the door looking at them. There was nothing to show that they ever looked out of the windows to see a passing procession or to hear a hurdy-gurdy play "Mr. Dooley."

Passing through the stock room they entered the editorial and reportial room where what is called the "brain work" is done. On the tables were numerous exchanges that had arrived in the morning mail. A few scraps of paper, upon which were unintelligible pencil marks, that became like Greek, even to the man that made them after they became cold. Yet these same scraps of paper might have contained facts that were good for a story worth a ten line scare head. The city editor and reporters were busy working the wireless and underground machines and only had time to nod to the assembled crowd. A sign on the wall read: "This is our busy day."

After inspecting the newspaper office, one of the large, easy riding open cars of the Old Colony street railway rolled up to the door and the visitors were off to take a look at the many things of historic value within the walls of the birthplaces of the Presidents Adams.

The return to Quincy was made at 1 o'clock when dinner was served at the Hancock chambers by Mrs. Jewett.

It was after 2 o'clock before dinner was over and the party were aboard a special car bound for the Fore River Ship and Engine Co., where they passed the remainder of the day in "rubbering."

The tour of the city will be told in tomorrow's issue.

The editors present represented five of the New England states, as will be seen by the list:

A. Vittum, Daily Times, Beverly, Mass.
J. H. Whiting, Journal, Gardner, Mass.
L. O. Williams, Patriot, Putman, Conn.
C. B. Johnson, Sentinel, Franklin, Mass.
C. W. Robbins, Enterprise, Old Town, Maine.
Loring W. Puffer, Brockton, Mass.
Louis R. Hovey, Criterian, Haverhill, Mass.
A. M. Bridgman, Record, Stoughton, Mass.
George C. Fairbanks, Bulletin, Natick, Mass.
Theo. P. Wilson, Star, Winchester, Mass.
L. W. Brewster, Journal, Portsmouth N. H.
Clifton B. Heath, Budget, Merrimac, Mass.
C. A. Loring, Allston Mirror, Boston Mass.
H. E. Emerson, Sun, Winthrop, Mass.
Charles A. Wood, Mercury, Medford, Mass.
M. E. Hawes, Transcript, Weymouth. Mass.
A. C. Dowse, N. E. Grocer, Boston, Mass.
Harris M. Dolbeare, Daily Item, Wakefield, Mass.
J. M. Marshall, Critic, Manchester, Mass.
R. Wm. Waterman, Chronicle, Athol, Mass.
Henry L. Andrews, News, Woburn, Mass.
J. S. Smith, Standard, Rockland, Mass.
Geo. M. Whitaker, N. E. Farmer, Boston, Mass.
John F. Wood, Mercury, Medford, Mass.
Geo. W. Southworth, Chronicle, Needham, Mass.
Fred G. Barker, Enterprise, Watertown, Mass.
W. E. Twombly, Chronicle, Reading, Mass.
C. J. McPherson, Evening News, So. Framingham, Mass.
A. W. Laughlin, Pendulum, East Greenwich, R. I.
L. B. Hatch, Plymouth Co. Journal, Whitman, Mass.
O. A. Towne, Journal-Transcript, Franklin Falls, N. H.
L. C. Hall, Wareham.
A. C. Benson, South Framingham.
Wm. F. Jarvis, Waltham.
E. B. Thorndike, Norwood.
H. F. Wilder, Marlboro.
W. H. Cobb, Quincy.
Eben Prescott, Braintree Observer.
George T. Magee, Daily Ledger.
A. Starbuck, Waltham.
Francis Procter, Gloucester.
George H. Procter, Gloucester.
Albert F. Hunt, Newburyport.
H. E. Green, Malden.
Fred F. Green, Quincy.
Wm. J. Heffernan, Spencer.
Francis W. Crooker, Fitzwilliams, N. H.
Chas. C. Doten, O. C. Memorial, Plymouth.
G. M. Billings, Milford Gazette.
Daniel H. Huxford, Randolph Register.
Geo. W. Prescott, Quincy.

Sunday Disturbances.

James Shaw Josiah Doherty and Peter F. Dolan, three young fellows hailing from Braintree way, drove through Quincy Sunday noon in an open grocery wagon. They were not content to go along in a peaceful manner but made a nuisance of themselves by shouting and singing. They passed through City Square just as the congregations from the churches were coming out, and therefore attracted unusual attention. They were held by Officer Murray who placed them under arrest for disturbing the peace. They were in court this morning.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. This signature E.W. Grove on every box, 25c

WANTED.

WANTED—Every lady in Quincy to have in the house or garden. The beautiful and mysterious "Resurrection" plant which never dies. Agents find it a ready seller, and a first rate money getter. Write for descriptive circular or send 25c. for sample plant. Summit Greenhouse Agency, Box 2137, Boston, Mass.
May 13. 1-6t--p 1w

LEDGER ADVERTISEMENTS

PAY BEST

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - - 50 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

LOST.

LOST—On Friday, a Watch and Chain, between Scammell street and Brewer's corner via of Water street. Please send information to "A. B. H.," Ledger office. May 16-3t

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE. Stable Manure. Delivered in Quincy for $5 a cord. Address BOX 154, Atlantic. May 16. 6t

FOR SALE—A light running open Corning Box Buggy, cheap, in fine condition; also a rubber tired Goddard, in good repair; can be seen at 19 Pine street, Wollaston. Address E. F. WHITE, Wollaston, Mass. May 11-13t

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office.
April 28. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street.
Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve (12) rooms, with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

TO LET.

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy.
April 8. w. th. s. m.--tf

TO LET—A Well Furnished Room. Price, $1.50 per week. Apply to 78 Lincoln avenue, Wollaston.
May 13. 3t--13-16-18

ROOMS TO LET—With or without board. Near electric cars; about five minutes' walk from depot. 212 Highland avenue, near Brook street, Wollaston. May 14-6t

TO LET—Large, Square Room and Side Rooms. Barn for $4 per month. Apply Greenleaf street, corner Hancock street.
Quincy, May 8. tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet, 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street.
Quincy, April 21. tf

WANTED.

WANTED—Two Good Carpenters who understand inside finish. These only need apply Monday morning at new house, corner of Dimmock street and Whalley road.
May 15-3t

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON.
Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

TO LET

IN QUINCY, MASS.,
By H. H. FAXON.
HOUSES, STORES, HALL, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES,
Land, Wharves, etc.

Buildings are in Complete Repair

Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.
House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.
Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.
Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc., No. 92 School street, $12 per month.
Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.
Stable, junction School and Franklin streets, $4 per month.
Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.
Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.
Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.
For particulars apply to
HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, May 13, 1903. 1m

NEW STORES TO LET.

A BUILDING will be erected at once by N.G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information enquire of N. G. NICKERSON. Quincy, May 12-tf

"SAVE THE DIMES, THE DOLLARS WILL TAKE CARE OF THEMSELVES."

GET ONE OF OUR HOME BANKS THAT WE LOAN FREE TO ANY ONE WHO OPENS AN ACCOUNT OF $1.00

The National Mount Wollaston Bank,
QUINCY, MASS.

WE PAY THREE PER CENT. INTEREST ON HOME BANK DEPOSITS. Invites your business. A general Banking Business conducted in a safe, conservative manner. We give careful attention to small accounts as well as large. For the benefit and assistance of saving depositors, we have adopted the Home Bank System of the W. F. Burns Co., New York and Chicago. These are handsome oxidized steel banks, with Yale lock, and we will loan one without charge to any person opening a savings account with us. The banks help you to save, as they afford a safe, convenient place in which to accumulate small accounts, and as we keep the key, you cannot be tempted to spend what you have saved. In order to give everyone an opportunity to try our new plan for saving, we have decided to loan a bank to anyone who wishes to Open a Bank Account of One Dollar.

THE NATIONAL MOUNT WOLLASTON BANK,
Chartered as a National Bank 1864.

Capital, $150,000. Undivided Profits, $90,000. Deposits, $360,000.
Total Dividends Paid, $496,500.

Transacts a General Banking Business. Accounts received on favorable Terms.

OFFICERS

Charles A. Howland, PRESIDENT. Horace F. Spear, CASHIER.

DIRECTORS

CHARLES A. HOWLAND, President and Treasurer Quincy Mutual Fire Ins. Co. / Trustee Quincy Savings Bank.
HORACE B. SPEAR, Retired. Treasurer of Quincy 18 years. / Cashier National Mount Wollaston Bank 16 years. / Trustee Quincy Savings Bank.
HERBERT F. DOBLE, Wholesale Groceries, Provisions, Flour and Grain.
GEO. HARVEY FIELD, Real Estate and Insurance. / Vice-President Quincy Co-operative Bank.
LESTER M PRATT, Wholesale and Retail Grocer.
HENRY M. FAXON, Real Estate.
GEORGE W. MORTON, Capitalist. Trustee Quincy Savings Bank. / Director Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Co.
FRANK S. PATCH, Proprietor C. Patch & Son, Coal and Wood. / Meadow Brook Ice Co. / Director Quincy Co-operative Bank.

BANK HOURS: 8.30 to 3. Saturdays, 8.30 to 12.

Have You Some Ready Money to Accept a Good Business Offer.

"READY MONEY" is a Remedy for Many Ills.

Cornelius Vanderbilt's rule for saving: "No matter what I was earning, I always made it a rule to save some thing." The money will pile up in time."
A Glass Blower Said: "I could easily have saved $20.00 a week for the past thirty years." Now if he had only saved $10.00 a week for thirty years he would have in the bank today $25,217.50. Think it over—figure out what he could have saved.
A Lady Teacher who had $750.00 in bank said: "I never would have saved a cent but for the little HOME SAVINGS BANK.
Three girls purchased a $200.00 piano after using a little Bank eighteen months.

YOU have the BANK, WE have the KEY.

Cut showing exact size of bank will appear in tomorrow's issue.

3 Per Cent. Interest on HOme Bank Deposits.

DID YOU EVER CONSIDER

How much money you were spending thoughtlessly?
You are earning money every day?
Are you saving any money?
Could you easily save more?

Save Your Nickles, Pennies and Dimes,

The interest you get makes the Dollars.
And thus the little savings will grow into mighty dollars.
Call and get one of these little home savings banks tomorrow free.

Call and ask for a Little Bank. Write or telephone and We Will Deliver a Bank at Your Home.

Begin saving today and in a few short years you will have a capital with which to go in business or buy a home. Do you know that if you will save only 25 cents each working day for five years, you will have accumulated, by the aid of interest, $119.10.

THIS WILL BE YOURS IF YOU MAKE AN EFFORT.

The $1.00 with which you open the account draws at THREE PER CENT., and will be returned when you close your account. It's what you save, and not what you earn, that makes wealth. Our representative will call on you to explain our savings plan, and will leave a Home Bank with you if you deposit $1.00 with which to open the account.

Money Grows
BUT NOT ON TREES.
Saving Pennies
is the secret.

Anyone can save small amounts. Money at interest in the bank grows Sundays, Holidays, every hour, every day.

King Arthur Flour.

THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.

L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK
A SPECIALTY.
Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.
Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.
Address, 1362 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
Quincy, April 10. tflp

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
Employment Office
At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm
Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.
Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

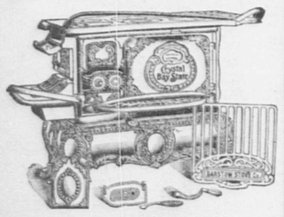

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!
OF ALL KINDS.
DRY AND GREEN
At Lowest Possible Prices.
THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.
3rd off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy
Jan. 7. tf

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.
Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

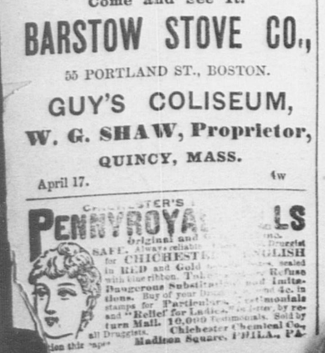

30 YEARS
In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.
15 YEARS IN QUINCY.
The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.
NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.
We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.
G. B. BATES,
Plumbing and Heating Co,
25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.
Telephone Connection.
April 24 1-tf- p-1w

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.
Come and See It.
BARSTOW STOVE CO.,
55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.
GUY'S COLISEUM,
W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 17. 4w

-9-7t

Wall Paper
Direct from the Manufacture.
Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.
Address,
H. BIDWELL,
Dept. 8, Buffalo, N. Y.
April 1. 1p-2mos.

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT
is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS
M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

J. W. PRATT,
BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES
AT LOWEST PRICES.
HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.
MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.
I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.
Estimates given on new work
8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.
Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

If you are thinking of
BUYING A HOUSE
OR A
LOT OF LAND,
Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.
WALTER E. BURKE.
Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

FULL STOCK
—OF—
HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,
—AT—
Brooks' Market,
Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 25. tf

King Arthur Flour
MAKES THE
BEST BREAD.
SOLD BY
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

A CASHIER DISAPPEARS

Shortage In Connecticut Bank of Over $50,000

HEAD OF MINING COMPANY

And Executor of a Number of Estates Which May Suffer Through His Departure—No Suspicion of Trouble Until Bank Examiner Got to Work

Southport, Conn., May 18.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Oliver T. Sherwood, cashier of the Southport National bank and son of E. C. Sherwood, president of the bank, who disappeared from this town last Thursday. Sherwood is charged with the defalcation of between $50,000 and $80,000 of the bank's funds.

Because of the disappearance of Sherwood, a meeting of the directors of the bank was held here and Frank Sherwood, a brother of the missing cashier, was elected to fill his position. Experts were then called in and an examination of the books was made, which resulted in the discovery of the shortage.

Sherwood was president of the Wilbur Camp Mining company of Colorado and the executor of a number of estates in this county. It is feared that the mining company and the estates may have suffered losses also, and an examination will be conducted to ascertain if possible the exact amount of the defalcation.

Friends of Sherwood say that his disappearance is brought about by insanity induced by overwork, and claim that he has been working until late into the night for the last three months. The bank officials, however, are authority for the statement that the books show evidence that the overwork was due to his fear of discovery and an attempt to fix the books so that the shortage might not be discovered by the bank examiners.

The warrant was placed in the hands of Sheriff Bulkeley of Fairfield county and an attempt will immediately be made to locate Sherwood. It is believed that if the man had any of the money in his possession at the time of his disappearance it was only a small amount.

Tuesday, a national bank inspector paid a visit to the bank and as Sherwood failed to put in an appearnce the next day, after making an appointment with the inspector, the latter became suspicious and when he came to examine the books found that there was a shortage in the accounts. It was expected that the shortage would only amount to a few thousand dollars and the fact was kept quiet till it was found that it amounted to many thousands.

The bank's soundness is not affected by the loss. Its capital is $100,000, and the surplus, $112,000, will cover the alleged shortage.

Members of the Sherwood family, which is an old and respected one, represent the financial element in Southport, and the banking institution has been, in a way, a family affair. Oliver T. Sherwood was quite well to do, and was under bonds for $20,000. He leaves behind him a wife and three children. He is 45 years old.

Clothing Caught Fire From Lamp

Boston, May 18.—Mrs. Hannah Williams, a widow, lived in a tenement on the second floor and when her dress caught fire from a kerosene lamp last night she ran down stairs into the tenement of Mrs. Carrington and threw herself upon a sofa, setting it on fire. She then ran into the street, where she fell unconscious. The flames were extinguished and the woman hurried to a hospital, but was dead upon her arrival.

Schooner Turned Over

Hawkesbury, N. S., May 18.—Schooner Tidal Wave, bound to the Magdalen islands for bait, when eight miles north of Cape Jack shoals was struck by a heavy squall, throwing her on her beam ends, the sails lying flat on the water. The crew held onto the vessel until rescued by another schooner. The wrecked vessel went on the beach a mile west of Harbor Bouche.

Usual Sunday Drinks Cut Out

Amsterdam, N. Y., May 18.—The newly formed Law and Order league yesterday made its force keenly felt in this city, which has been wide open for many years. Admittance to hotels and saloons, heretofore doing a rushing Sunday business, was obtainable only by those who were personal friends to the proprietors, and this only in a few instances.

Venezuela Keeping Agreement

Caracas, May 18.—The Venezuelan government yesterday paid to Germany through the German legation here the sum of $68,000, being the sixth payment stipulated in the protocol. The seventh payment, due next month, is already in the governmental treasury.

Would Keep Out Chinese Labor

Pretoria, May 18.—At a mass meeting held here to protest against the introduction of Chinese labor into South Africa great enthusiasm was displayed. A resolution against the introduction of Chinese was carried with but one dissentient voice.

Jockey at Death's Door

New York, May 18.—Jockey Lawrence Barry, who was thrown from the horse Seminole in the hurdle race at Morris park last Wednesday, is said to be dying in the Fordham hospital. He sustained a fracture of the skull.

ONE WOMAN KILLED

Out of Party of Eight Sitting on a Veranda When It Collapsed

Fall River, Mass., May 18.—A party of eight were seated on the veranda on the third story of a house on King Philip street last evening, when it collapsed. Miss Josephine Croteau succeeded in clinging to a portion of the broken platform, but the other seven were precipitated to another veranda which surrounds the house at the second story. The force of the contact broke the rail which surrounds this balcony and Mrs. Vergernon, aged 55, Mrs. Frenette, 34, Eugene Vergernon, 39, and Alfred Vergernon, aged 7, rolled over the edge and into the yard 30 feet below.

Mrs. Vergernon's skull was fractured and she died while being carried to the house. Eugene Vergernon and Mrs. Frenette were unconscious, but Alfred escaped without any apparent ill effect from his 40-foot fall. When Eugene and Mrs. Frenette were taken to the house, it was found that their injuries, while severe, were not at all dangerous, the former having sustained lacerations of the scalp and the latter a broken collar bone.

The three who succeeded in holding on the second veranda had nothing more than slight bruises as a result of their experience, and Miss Croteau was rescued from her perilous position without any injury whatever.

Roads May Reach Agreement

Newport, R. I., May 18.—Nothing has occurred in connection with the street railway troubles to disturb the ordinary quiet of the city. Two policemen have been kept on duty about the location of the switch on Broadway and will be stationed there night and day until the Old Colony street railway officials either obtain an injunction or abandon the proposed switch. It is believed that the two roads will come to an agreement whereby both will use one track for entering the city and the other for leaving it, each road to maintain its own track.

Unable to Furnish Bail

Dover, N. H., May 18.—George Brophy, arrested on a charge of criminally assaulting Annie Healey, who was found unconscious near a railroad bridge, was held in $1000 for the grand jury. He was unable to secure the required amount of bail and was committed. Miss Healey also was unable to furnish bail in the sum of $50 for her appearance as a witness and she also was sent to jail. The police are looking for two other young men who are alleged to have participated in the assault upon Miss Healey.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Ravder, of Plattsburg Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

Fear of Cattle Disease

Worcester, Mass., May 18.—A special meeting of the Worcester Agricultural society will be called this week to discuss the advisability of giving up the annual September fair this year because of the reappearance of the foot and mouth disease in this section of the state. Several prominent stockmen of this vicinity have talked over the danger of their herds becoming infected if a large number of cattle were brought together as is usually the case at a September fair.

Blames Whisky For Shooting

Athol, Mass., May 18.—While under the influence of liquor Sumner O. Varney, a teamster, boarding with William Fisher and wife, last night shot Mrs. Fisher, inflicting a slight wound, and then attempted to take his own life, but without success. He was arrested and says he had been drinking heavily and that poor whisky alone was responsible for his act. Mrs. Fisher's injuries are not serious and she is suffering more from the shock than from the wound itself.

A LINGERING COUGH

The cough that holds on in spite of all remedies needs energetic and above all thorough treatment. A mere cough mixture won't do. Root out the cold that causes the cough.

How? Scott's Emulsion. Why Scott's Emulsion? Because it stops the irritation, soothes the tissues and heals the affected membranes. When? Right away. Scott's Emulsion begins to help with the first dose.

People who have used Scott's Emulsion will not be satisfied with any of the numerous substitutes that are offered in the form of wines, extracts, cordials, etc. When life and health are at stake it is unwise to experiment with unknown and untried preparations.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York

MASSACRE AT KISHINEFF

Denounced by Jew and Gentile In Boston Meeting

WORD PICTURE OF VIOLENCE

Brings Tears to Eyes of Hearers and Denunciation of the Czar Heartily Endorsed—Americans Whack at Our Government's Philippine Policy

Boston, May 18.—Hundreds shed tears last night in Faneuil hall for the butchered Hebrews of Kishineff. From the historic hall rang forth a protest against Russia, and a fervid appeal to the United States to intercede in behalf of the survivors and victims of the awful atrocities committed by the Russian mob.

It was a protest and appeal that touched the hearts of all present. Men, women and children poured into the assembly to cry out their indignation, and to give of their savings towards alleviating the miseries of their fellow-coreligionists and countrymen who met the fury of the Russian rioters.

The pulse of the Hebrews of Boston throbbed feverishly. It required but the chord of their native language, sounded with the fiery vehemence of an impassioned leader, to cause their eyes to moisten and make their bosoms throb with anguish.

The brilliant Hebrew orator, Harris Masliansky, editor of The Hebrew World of New York, told in Hebrew of the massacre. As he described the tortures, the acts of cruelty and the abandon of the mob, he could not restrain the tears in his own eyes. Those who could not well understand the words of the American speakers hung upon every word uttered by the Hebrew editor, and when he scored the czar and ironically referred to the peace overtures of Nicholas II they gave forth their approbation of the attack with outbursts of applause that were probably never exceeded in spontaneity and volume in the "cradle of liberty."

It was a cosmopolitan assemblage. Three-fourths of the big audience were the poorer Hebrews who work in shops or who have but lately come to America. They know from personal experience the rigors of the Russian system and the intensity of religious persecution.

The other one-fourth was made up of the younger generation and the well-to-do. The orthodox and reformed Hebrews sat side by side. They were as one in lifting up their voices in protest.

The protests of the Hebrew speakers were echoed by prominent Bostonians. Rev. Charles G. Ames, Hon. George E. McNeill, Hon. Michael J. Murray, Henry B. Blackwell and Representative Carey added their indignant outbursts to the words of Meyer Bloomfield, Max Mitchell, R. Davis and M. Goldstein.

"Remember Kishineff" seemed to be the predominating note of the night. Harris Masliansky's word pictures of the massacre and tortures were accompanied by gestures that told more powerfully than words. At times he seemingly half strangled himself in demonstrating how women and children were deprived of life by the Russians.

The cabled stories of assaults on defenseless mothers and daughters were briefly retold. He charged that victims were spiked through the brain and horribly butchered.

When he had gone on in this strain he called out vehemently: "What irony! The czar, the peacemaker of Europe and the butcher of his own subjects, turning a whole city into a butcher shop. Long live those young revolutionists suffering in Siberia and in Petropolioskia prison. Long live they and may their cause be ever strengthening."

The defiant outburst awoke applause that lasted for a full minute.

Representative Carey dwelt largely on Socialism, saying that in that political creed was relief from oppression and despotism. That a considerable portion of his audience believed in his utterances was manifest.

Rev. Mr. Ames, Mr. McNeill and Mr. Blackwell spoke upon the broad plane of humanitarian doctrines. Almost all took a fling at the policy of this country towards the Filipinos, saying it was in a like category with the Russian outrages. Mr. Murray spoke briefly and eloquently, saying that the "heart of the world was palsied at the atrocities."

Many Killed on Both Sides

Constantinople, May 18.—The report that many men on both sides were killed or wounded during the engagements which constituted the Albanian resistance to the advance of the imperial troops on Ipek has been confirmed. The Albanian chiefs explain that the encounters were an outcome of a misunderstanding.

Unknown Man Killed Himself

Lynn, Mass., May 18.—While walking through the woods in Saugus James Duckering found the badly decomposed body of a man lying on top of a large rock. A blood-stained razor found nearby indicated that the man was a suicide. There was nothing about the body to assist in identification.

His 103rd Birthday

Boston, May 18.—Lawrence Sullivan of this city has reached the unusual age of 103 years. Mr. Sullivan mourns the loss of his old friend, Thomas Grimes, who died two days ago at the age of 101.

Feeling tired out?
Appetite Poor?
Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?
What you need is a Spring Tonic.
Try a bottle of
ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.
60 cts. per bottle.
CHARLES C. HEARN,
PHARMACIST,
1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

W. A. BRADFORD.
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,
Jobbing Promptly Attended To.
ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.
New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store O'd Telephone Number, 122-2.
April 21. tf

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.
TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of
WILLIAM HARLOW,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, intestate:
Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to James F. Harlow of Quincy, without giving a surety on his bond.
You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline, in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-seventh day of May, A. D., 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fourteenth day of May, A. D. 1903.
JONATHAN COBB, Register.
3t- 16-18-25

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.
TO the Heirs-at-Law, Next-of-Kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of
MARY J. HAGSPIEL,
late of Foxborough, in said County, deceased.
Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by John Henry Devine of Norwood, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.
You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the twentieth day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixth day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.
JONATHAN COBB, Register.
May 9. 3t--9-11-18

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK ss. PROBATE COURT.
TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of HANNAH E. LILLICRAP,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, intestate.
Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Hannah Clements of Quincy, or to some other suitable person.
You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the twentieth day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.
Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this seventh day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.
JONATHAN COBB, Register.
3t--9-11-18

Executor's Notice.
NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the will of JOHN J. DAY,
late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs.
All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to
JAMES F. SWEENEY, Executor,
(Address) 306 Sears Building, Boston, Mass.
May 9. 3t--11-18 25

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Chapter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D.,
Inspector of Milk.
April 15. 30t

W. G. CHUBBUCK
Furniture and Piano Mover,
IN AND OUT OF TOWN.
Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.
JOBBING.
Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.
1p-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

SMOKE THE GOVERNESS.
UNION MADE.
Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers
Manufactured by
P. A. NELSON,
59 Granite Street.
Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

Dr. Emmons'
Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 117. QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY, MAY 19, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

ALL GOODS WILL BE DELIVERED FREE AT RESIDENCES IN QUINCY.

STRAW MATTINGS
FOR SUMMER HOUSES

Our new importation includes all grades from China and Japan, many patterns of which are exclusive. Always cool, cleanly, and sanitary.

RUGS

Royal Wilton, Saxony Axminster, Seamless, and other Axminster and Brussels rugs, in sizes 9 x 12, 8.3 x 10.6, and 6 x 9.

Hundreds of small rugs—Smyrnas, Wiltons, Axminsters, Japanese, etc., etc., at exceptionally low prices.

RUGS

Heavy Brussels Art Squares, many of them in Oriental designs and all reversible, sizes 7.6 x 9, 9 x 9, 9 x 10.6, and 9 x 12; price about $1.00 per square yard.

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS COMPANY
Pray Building 658 Washington St. Opp. Boylston St.
BOSTON

Represented in Quincy by Mr. Otho A. Hayward; in Wollaston by Mr. J. W. Wellington.

ORDER NOW FOR DECORATION DAY
--YOUR--
Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.
MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.
63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works,
P. GREEN, Proprietor.
Telephone 64-5 Quincy

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pinel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 28. 1y

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1 1y- p-6mos.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. 1p-tf

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov, 3-tf

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

ERIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.
Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass
May 7. 1m

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, Pres.
April 9-2m 11-2m

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.
BELL and TELEPHONE WORK
A SPECIALTY.
Guaran'eed Work at Right Price.
Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.
Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.
Address, 1362 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
Quincy, April 10. tflp

Wall Paper
Direct from the Manufacture.
Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.
Address,
H. BIDWELL,
Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.
April 1. 1p-2mos.

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

King Arthur Flour.
THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

Reupholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE
HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.
Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.
Call and get Prices.
C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.
Quincy, May 2. 1m

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

For Latest News See Inside Pages.

ADVICE TO THE IRISH

Nothing to Show For Large Percentage of Population

MUST SHOW WORTHINESS

If They Desire Good Treetment at Hands of Commonwealth—Trade and Industry of More Importance Than College Education

Boston, May 19.—The feature of the regular monthly meeting of the Charitable Irish society last night was an address by Edward I. F. McSweeney, formerly assistant United States immigration commissioner at the port of New York. His subject was: "Irish immigration to the United States; its character, scope and results." In the course of his address he indulged in some plain talk to the people of Irish birth or descent in the United States, saying that among the second generation of people of Irish descent there was a decrease in the birth rate which would one day bring it down to the level of births among families of "Yankee stock."

President Jordan acted as toastmaster and introduced the speaker of the evening, who said that with at least 50 percent of the population of Boston, what have the Irish got to show for it? "In the field of finance, in 38 National banks in Boston," he said, "there is not one president, vice president, cashier, or assistant cashier, and only nine directors out of 400. Out of 12 trust companies whose lists were available, there is only one president, two vice presidents, no cashier, assistant cashier, treasurer or secretaries, and nine out of 210 directors. Of the clerks and minor officers employed in all the financial institutions, there were 39 out of 1009, or 6 percent.

"The racial derivation of professional men in Boston is not collected, and can only be obtained by an examination of the names—an unsatisfactory process at best—but from this examination we find that out of 2205 lawyers in Boston, there are about 10 percent Irish. Applying the same test to the physicians, we find that out of 1561 there are only about 16 percent Irish. Of 1200 business men whose names were available about 7 percent are Irish.

Our race was formerly classed as being composed of saloon keepers and policemen. In the second generation alone of Irish in Massachusetts today there are more lawyers, doctors and authors than there are saloon keepers, and more teachers than policemen.

"What the Irish need today is plain talk. If Irish, Jews or Italians desire good treatment at the commonwealth, they must show themselves worthy of it. The lessons are around them everywhere; the man who wins is the man who works.

"The Irish must not give all their attention to law and medicine; humanity takes neither with pleasure, and only under compulsion. Go into trade and industry. In the coming century one school of technology and a good textile school will make more bread winners than half a dozen colleges; and one man who learns how to build a locomotive will do more to advance his trade than a hundred cooling their heels in a law office.

"When these facts have been instilled into Irish heads, and without accompanying salve; when we devote less time to race glorification and more time to race rehabilitation; when we understand that races and individuals are measured by their performance, and not by their promise, we will start in to grasp our share of the prizes of the coming age, and get them."

PEACE WORKERS

Listen to Attack on "Strenuous Life" of President Roosevelt

Boston, May 19.—A banquet of the American Peace society was held last night, Moorfield Storey being the chief speaker.

He said that the time was coming when the man who engaged in war will be stamped as a criminal. He criticised President Roosevelt for his attitude towards war. "There is a school of men who would have us follow in the steps of the middle ages," said he. "Prominent among these is the President of the United States." He then read from President Roosevelt's recent speeches in the west in which he has said that the country must maintain and increase our armament.

"There is no great courage required in fighting," said Mr. Storey. "No race has lacked the courage to die. Far greater and higher a courage is required when the circuit attorney of St. Louis fearlessly attacks and conquers corruption.

"The President of the United States would show higher courage if he would say so to men like Platt or Quay: 'I have no sympathy with your aims and methods, and you may count on my inflexible opposition.' He would show greater courage if he would administer his office regardless of his political future. That would be the kind of a 'strenuous life' for him to lead."

Desperate Criminal's End

New York, May 19.—Thomas Anderson, 36 years old, who had recently served a 10 years' term for burglary, went to the residence of his wife in Brooklyn, and, after vainly endeavoring to get her to consent to live with him again, shot her, inflicting what will probably prove a mortal wound. The police arrested Anderson and took him to the station house, where he was locked in a cell. An hour later the prisoner was found to be dead. It is supposed that he secreted a powerful poison about his person and swallowed it.

Minister Won't Get Damages

Trenton, May 19.—Judge Kirkpatrick, in the United States circuit court, has rendered a decision setting aside the verdict of $500 awarded Henry T. Johnson, a colored minister, in his suit against the Pullman company. Johnson sued because he was refused a seat in a parlor car. The suit was brought under a federal act which Judge Kirkpatrick says has been declared unconstitutional.

President Never Felt Better

Berendo, Cal., May 19.—President Roosevelt broke all road records for Yosemite park travel when his coach came from Yosemite to Raymond, where his train awaited him, in 10 hours of actual travel. The distance is 69 miles. The president passed Sunday night at camp at Bridal Veil Falls. He slept soundly and declared he had never felt better in his life.

No Overtures to Strikers

Pawtucket, R. I., May 19.—Manager Smith of the American Textile company's plant here, where the lace makers have been out on strike for three months, has notified the strikers to call at the mill to get their belongings. This action is accepted by the strikers as indicating that the company has no overtures to make looking to a settlement.

Porpoise's Performance

Greenport, N. Y., May 19.—The Holland submarine torpedo boat Porpoise, in a government trial on Peconic bay, fired a torpedo at the end of a successful submerged run of a mile and a half. The torpedo went straight between two flags set 150 feet apart representing a war vessel. The navy trial board is satisfied with the result.

Newspaper Men's Offense

Berlin, May 19.—The Mercur, a weekly paper published by a group of young literary men in Strasburg, was confiscated on the charge of lese majeste. A medical student named Hans Pagel, the responsible editor of the paper, thereupon shot and killed himself and his sweetheart.

To Devote Time to Flying Machine

Washington, May 19.—Professor Alexander G. Bell has resigned the presidency of the National Geographic society. His reason for relinquishing the office is that all his time will be employed for more than a year to come in perfecting his new kite-flying machine.

Charged With Theft of $2700

Manchester, N. H., May 19. James M. Lurvey, the former Goffes Falls postmaster, was placed on trial today under the indictment charging him with robbing the express agent at Goffes Falls in August last of a package containing $2700 in money.

Government Terms Accepted

Melbourne, May 19.—The railroad strikers by ballot decided by an overwhelmingly majority to resume work on the government's terms.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

CITY COUNCIL

Too Hot For Debates at Meeting Last Evening.

City Scales Remain on Table.

Order Offered for the Watering of Sea Street.

The regular meeting of the City Council on Monday evening was short, and without debate. An attempt to locate city scales in City Square was nipped in the bud, the Council refusing to take up the order.

Councilman Alden, Cleverly and Smith were the absentees.

Councilman Nickerson called the meeting to order and upon roll call was elected chairman.

THE SEWER LOAN.

A communication was received from City Treasurer Gray in reference to the loan of $70,000 for sewers, advising that all bonds be of the denominations of $1,000 and that the rate of interest not exceed three and one half per cent. Laid on the table until later when an order was offered complying with these recommendations. Adopted.

A communication was received from the City Treasurer in reference to the order to pay the Swedish Lutheran society on Granite street, $52.20, half the cost of permanant sidewalk, which was charged to the appropriation for edgestones when made. There was no such appropriation in the budget and therefore nothing to charge it to. To Committee on Finance.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mayor Bryant forwarded the following appointments which were confirmed:

Constables,—John T. Hunt, Alexander Shirley, W. L. Peck, John M. Coffey, George O. Shirley.

Registrar of Voters,—Michael B. Geary.

Weigher of Coal,—James J. Ryan.

The auctioneer's bond of H. C. Saunders was approved.

PETITIONS.

A large number of petitions for minor licenses were received and referred.

The Electric Light Co. petitioned for a location for one pole on Clive street, and nine poles on Quincy avenue.

REPORT OF COMMITTEES.

The special committee on railroad fares reported no action necessary.

Chairman Gassett said that the committee found no discrimination in fares as to Quincy and but a slight difference at Wollaston; Atlantic, however, was above. The committee therefore thought it unwise to go to the Railroad Commissioners.

Councilman Hardwick thought it might as well be considered now as later on. He thought much could be done toward reducing the rates to Quincy.

Report of the committee accepted.

OTHER REPORTS.

The Committee on Licenses reported upon a number of petitions which were granted.

Councilman Bass asked why the committee had not reported on the application of Mrs. Peter Anderson.

Councilman Hughes replied that the committee had not viewed her premises as yet.

Councilman Whiton asked about junk dealers licenses. Why they were held up.

Councilman Hughes replied that the committee would probably report at the next meeting.

MOTIONS, ORDERS, ETC.

Councilman Hughes offered an order granting J. E. Glover a license for four bowling alleys and one pool table at Houghs Neck. Adopted.

Councilman Gassett offered a resolution requesting the Mayor to interview the New York and New Haven and request that twenty-five ride books be issued between Atlantic and Boston. Adopted.

Councilman Whiton offered an order authorizing the Mayor to execute deeds in behalf of the Adams Temple and School fund. Adopted.

SEA STREET WATERING.

Councilman Meyer offered an order for $300 for watering Sea street between Mt. Wollaston cemetery and the Yacht Club house at Houghs Neck, one half cost to be assessed on abutters.

Councilman Bass moved suspension of the rules.

Councilman Whiton opposed. There were other places that needed watering just as bad as Sea street.

Councilman Bass—Sea street is in a bad condition, having been cut up by sewer teams. Over $60,000 is paid in taxes by this section. Unless watered there would be no pleasure driving to the beach.

City Solicitor Blackmur when asked for an opinion said that the order as far as the amount went could be passed at this meeting but not the levying of an assessment as the charter provides that an order levying an assessment must have more than one reading.

Order referred to Finance Committee.

Councilman Whiton offered the following orders refunding amounts paid for tax titles.

$95 to Harlow H. Rogers, on property of N. V. Titus.

$49 to H. N. Richard, on property of N. V. Titus.

$75 to Harlow H. Rogers, on property of Samuel W. Hollis.

All referred to Finance Committee.

Councilman Whiton asked of the License Committee of Samuel Castleman, Louis Grosman and others were to be granted a junk dealer's license.

The chair ruled the question not in proper form, as no report had been made.

CITY SCALES.

Councilman Reardon moved the order relative to public scale be taken from the table.

Motion lost by a vote of six in favor and ten against.

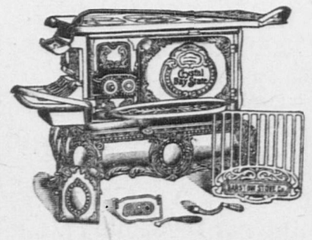

Adjourned 8.20.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.
$3.50
For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . . At Co-operative Dining Rooms
3 Granite Street, Quinc ,
"Right in the Heart of the City."
Call in and talk it over.
mar.16-21--2m

SPILLER'S GOLDEN COUGH BALSAM
THE KIND THAT CURES
Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Inflammation of the Lungs, Lagrippe and Whooping Cough. It soothes the Cough of Consumption, and is excellent for all Lung Trobles. Try it. For sale by Weeks & Hill, Quincy, Mass. Price 25 cents.
If goods fail to give satisfaction, money refunded.

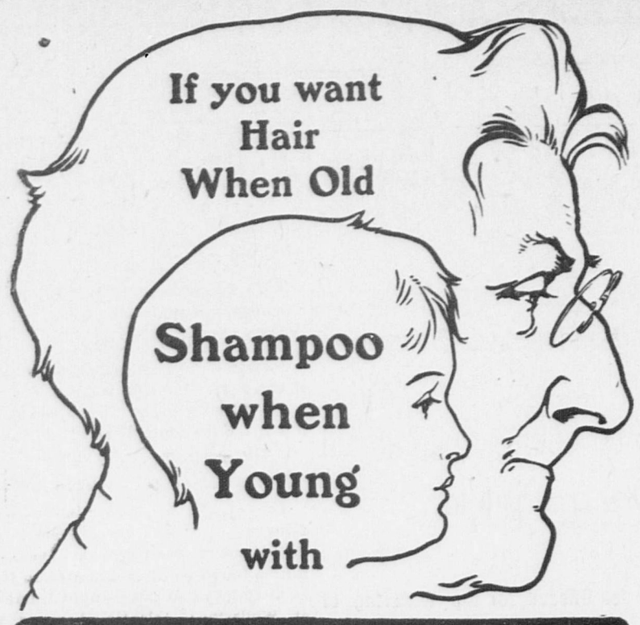

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.
Come and See It.
BARSTOW STOVE CO.,
55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.
GUY'S COLISEUM,
W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 17. 4w

Gone to the Philippines.

H. S. Hanaford, who has been a resident of this city for the past year, has been promoted from his position of chief stenographer to the naval constructor at the Boston Navy Yard, being transferred to the position of chief clerk in the construction and repair department, U. S. Naval station, Cavite, P. I. Although Mr. Hanaford has been a resident of Quincy but a short time he has become very widely known and popular. He was solo tenor of the Christ church choir and president of the Adams Tennis club. His many friends wish him a prosperous term of dute and safe return. Mr Hanaford sailed from San Francisco May 15. His tour of duty will cover three years.

PACKER'S TAR SOAP.

Our Leaflet, "The Value of Systematic Shampooing," sent free on application to THE PACKER MFG. CO., 81 Fulton St., N. Y.

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,

In a variety of Styles and Prices.

Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.

These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.

C. S. HUBBARD.

City Square, Quincy.

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.

Plumbing and Heating Co,

25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot. Telephone Connection.

April 24 1-tf--p-1w

King Arthur Flour

MAKES THE

BEST BREAD.

SOLD BY

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

JOHN STREIFERD & SON, FLORISTS.

Telephone 13-7 Braintree.

Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.

Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

FULL STOCK

—OF—

HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,

—AT—

Brooks' Market,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 25. tf

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

ard off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy

Jan. 7. tf

FREDERICK H. LORD,

TEACHER OF BANJO,

Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.

TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.

118 Washington Street.

Quincy, May 7. tf

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,

Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.

GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.

Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.

Quincy, April 7. tf

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE

HAS OPENED AN

Employment Office

At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.

Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

NON-UNION EMPLOYES

Manning Cars In Operation at Bridgeport

BUT LITTLE INTERFERENCE

Meeting of Police Commissioners and Citizens, at Which Mayor Mulvihill Is Accused of Inciting Riot—Promises Not to Interfere Further

Bridgeport, Conn., May 19.—With a very few exceptions the running of trolley cars on the lines of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company, manned by non-union motormen and conductors, was not interfered with yesterday. There were 15 men and boys locked up during the day on charges of intimidation. The majority of the prisoners were using offensive language to the strike breakers at the time of their arrest. The men were placed under $1000 bonds each and the boys were obliged to furnish a $300 bond.

A trolley car, manned by non-union men and guarded by two deputy sheriffs, was fired upon by a man on the west side. No damage was done and the man escaped after a chase by the officers.

Promptly at 6 o'clock last night every car was sent to the car barns. It is probable that this policy will be followed for at least a week, neither the trolley officials nor the strike breakers desiring to risk an outbreak after dark. During the afternoon teamsters delayed the passage of trolley cars as much as possible by driving slowly upon the tracks in front of cars. Two drivers were arrested for this offense.

Despite the apparent quiet which prevailed over the city last night the day was not without its sensational incidents. The most important feature of the day was the action taken at a meeting of the police commissioners, at which some of Bridgeport's prominent citizens participated. This meeting was called because of the difference of opinion between Mayor Mulvihill and the police commissioners as to the disposition of the police department during the present trouble. Mayor Mulvihill presided at the meeting.

Sheriff Hawley opened the proceedings after the mayor had called the gathering to order by telling of the Sunday riot. He declared that Mayor Mulvihill had interfered with two deputy sheriffs who had a man under arrest for throwing stones at a car, and that through this interference, the man escaped from custody. After the two deputies had been called in to tell their story, Mayor Mulvihill flatly denied that he had any intention of interfering with an arrest or that he gave any order to a policeman. He said he saw two men whom he did not know, holding another man up against a picket fence. A crowd was collecting. He did not know that two of the men were deputy sheriffs, and his only object at that time was to get the crowd scattered. He denied that he made any trouble or interfered in any way.

Allan W. Paige declared that the mayor did more than any other man to cause a continuance of the riot. Mayor Mulvihill quickly retorted by saying that the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company paid no taxes to the city and got more protection than all the other concerns in town together. Mr. Paige remarked that the company paid $80,000 in taxes to the state last year.

Ex-Mayor Taylor expressed the opinion that the mayor had overstepped his authority, and that he was not a good man to continue in authority at this critical time.

Senator McNeil did not doubt that Mayor Mulvihill was actuated by honest motives, but he believed that rioting should be stopped.

The question then arose whether Mayor Mulvihill would allow the police board to conduct the affairs of the police department without interference from him. It was made plain that under the charter the mayor can assume control during an actual state of riot, but that the charter does not distinctly say whether he has authority to make preparations to meet an expected riot.

After further discussion the mayor agreed that hereafter during the strike he would not interfere with any action taken by the police commission in conducting the police department.

Court Martial For Robinson

Washington, May 19.—Secretary Root has ordered a court martial of Second Lieutenant Robinson, Thirtieth infantry, on charges of being short in his accounts of canteen money. A board of survey examined the shortage and exonerated Robinson, but the findings were disapproved by General Davis, commanding in the Philippines.

On the Diamond

At Boston—National—Chicago, 4; Boston, 2.
At Philadelphia—National—Philadelphia, 5; St. Louis, 3.
At New York—National—Pittsburg, 3; New York, 2.
At Brooklyn—National—Cincinnati, 7; Brooklyn, 3.
At Detroit—American—Detroit, 12; Boston, 1.
At Chicago—American—Washington, 7; Chicago, 1.
At Cleveland—American—Cleveland, 7; New York, 3.
At Lawrence—Haverhill, 3; Lawrence, 0.
At Brockton—Fall River, 3; Brockton, 0.
At Concord—Concord, 10; Lowell, 0.
At Nashua—Nashua, 11; Manchester, 5.

SHORTAGE OF BREAD

Due to Strike of Bakers In Cities and Towns In Blackstone Valley

Pawtucket, R. I., May 19.—With less than a dozen bakers working in Pawtucket and in the cities and towns of the Blackstone valley, housekeepers, hotel, restaurant and saloon proprietors suffer alike from the lack of bread. The normal daily output of bread in the locality covered by the strike is 60,000 loaves, and not more than one-tenth that amount is being put out.

The cities and towns affected by the strike order are Pawtucket, Central Falls, Lonsdale and Lincoln, R. I., and Attleboro, Mass. Woonsocket also is affected to a certain extent, as one Pawtucket baker sends a large shipment of bread to that city every day. Now he is unable to send even a single loaf.

All the local hotel keepers will bake bread for their own dining rooms, while the small restaurants will attempt to get a supply from outside the affected district. Saloon keepers here have made a practice of furnishing a free lunch to their patrons. A large amount of bread was used in this way, and the saloon keepers are now confronted with the necessity either of discontinuing this feature or procuring a supply of bread from some outside source.

A meeting of the master bakers was held last evening to consider plans for the future, but at its conclusion they refused to make any statement.

Brothers Died Together

Providence, May 19.—Harold R. and Herbert A. Goodwin, brothers, aged 8 and 10 years, respectively, were drowned at Silver lake. The younger lad was paddling about in the water and stepped into a hole. His brother went to his rescue and both sank. The affair was witnessed only by a companion of the boys, who ran from the place to the Goodwin residence, a quarter of a mile away, where the mother was informed of the fate that had befallen her children.

Spring Will Be Utilized

Plymouth, Mass., May 19.—The recent discovery that there was quicksand under an ell of the Puritan mill of the American Woolen company here has been followed by the finding of a spring of water of great volume and purity which, having forced its way to the surface, caused the damage to the ell of the mill. A new ell will be put up and the water from the spring will be carried to all parts of the mills, both for drinking and other purposes.

Nashua to Have Dry Spell

Nashua, N. H., May 19.—Chief of Police Eaton issued a sweeping order last night that all places selling liquor must cease such traffic. This means that Nashua will be a strictly prohibition town until after high licenses are granted. Activity of the police is occasioned by a section of the license law which makes liable to a fine of $300, imprisonment in jail for 30 days, or both, to officers who fail to close places which illegally sell liquor.

Fair Pleader Lost Her Case

Boston, May 19.—For the first time in the history of the Boston municipal court a woman lawyer appeared yesterday to defend a prisoner. Amy F. Acton was the lawyer and she appeared in the case of a Greek push-cart peddler, who was charged by a patrolman with having sold oranges from his cart in violation of the statutes. The judge fined him $5.

Ice Dealers Yield to Demands

Lynn, Mass., May 19.—The arbitration committee of the Lynn board of trade last night succeeded in averting a strike of ice team drivers in this city by obtaining the signatures of three of the largest ice companies to the agreement with the Drivers' union. The union feels confident the smaller dealers will follow the lead of the large ones.

Large and Valuable Cargo

Boston, May 19.—With her hatches fairly bulging with valuable merchandise from the far east, the steamer Swazi has entered port after a long voyage from Calcutta and Colombo. She brought 7500 tons of cargo. Without estimating the value of each article on board, the aggregate is placed at more than $1,000,000.

Side of Laundry Blown Out

North Attleboro, Mass., May 19.—An immense extractor in the laundry of Charles L. Jordan & Co. burst last night and Albert Gagnor was badly hurt. The material damage done was extensive. One side of the laundry was blown out. The extractor was moving at the rate of 1400 revolutions a minute when it left its bearings.

A Freight Wreck

Norwich, Conn., May 19.—A freight train on the Central Vermont collided with a switching engine in the yard here. The tender of the switcher was demolished, the engine of the freight was overturned, three cars were wrecked and 13 others derailed. The crews of both engines escaped by jumping.

Fifty Sick at Training Station

Newport, R. I., May 19.—The naval hospital on Coasters island is well filled with patients, mostly apprentice boys, most of them under treatment for diphtheria. The sick list is 50, at the training station, not all diphtheria cases, and 11 at the Newport hospital, all diphtheria.

Boys Became Intoxicated

Fall River, Mass., May 19.—Patrick Kelley and Richard Doherty, bartenders, were arrested last night on warrants charging them with selling liquor to minors. The warrants were procured by the parents of three young boys who went to their homes in an intoxicated condition.

ONE OF THE BEVERLY GIRLS

[Copyright, 1902, by T. C. McClure.]

She was lithe and sun tanned, with a suspicion of mellow carmine in her brown cheek and unexpected dimples whenever she talked, but she didn't talk much. She lived out of doors mostly, and she heartily detested head coverings of any description, so that her flaxen hair was crisped over to the color of August corn tassels.

Patty was incongruous and unlike the other Beverlys. People said she was a misfit.

Cheseldine had heard of the charms of the Beverly girls before he went to the little country town of Yarrow, which they illumined with the brilliance of their beauty. Moreover, it had been predicted that he would fall a victim to Medora Beverly, for that was the accepted rule. Still there were exceptions, and some did escape Medora's fascinations, only to become entangled in the silken web of Lillian's golden hair or fall under the spell of Lora's wonderful singing. Cheseldine proved what might be called an exceptional exception, for neither the magnolia complexion and melting dark eyes of Medora, the golden locks and blue orbs of Lillian nor the witching voice of Lora held the charm that he found in Patty's little contradictory face and odd, alert ways. He had only met her accidentally. No one ever seemed to think Patty of much importance. And yet he, John Cheseldine, who had traveled half over the world and never sued for woman's love, found himself a slave.

They became chums after a fashion, and she showed him where the hazelnut patches and papaw thickets were. One day he saw her gather a little bunch of yellow threads that tangled about an herb.

"Now we can tell our fortunes," she said. He looked on, mystified.

"It is golden dodder, or 'love vine.' You take a single thread, tie a loose knot, think of the one you love and try to draw the knot tight. If the thread breaks, you will never marry that person; if not, you will."

He laughed. "Let's try it," he said.

"Did you ever have your fortune told, Mr. Cheseldine?"

"Once—by a gypsy woman. She said I was going to marry a widow."

Patty moved quickly, and the tinge of red spread over her brown cheek.

"And I know now she was lying."

"Why are you so sure?" Patty drew up the golden knot she was tying with a vicious little twist that snapped it.

"Because I do not choose that it shall be true. You've wrecked your love with that thread, Lady Patty. Try another."

"Lady Patty" was the whimsical title he had given her from the first.

She dropped all the golden snarl of vine upon the ground and turned her head away.

"Who did you name?" he asked.

"Nobody—I won't tell. It's all a lie, anyway," she said sharply, and, looking into her face, he saw she was pressing her lips tight together to keep them from quivering. He was puzzled.

"Lady Patty, have I said anything to offend you?"

"No." She turned her head steadfastly away. "Let us go home."

They went on slowly. John was badgering his brain for a solution of Patty's change of mood. It was as if a bright spring day suddenly became overcast, with a flurry of snow.

They came to the bars of a great meadow. Far across it, on the slope of the hill was the little village church and back of it the peaceful "God's acre," whose stones gleamed white in the sunshine. Patty stood gazing at it with solemn eyes.

"Have you any friends there?" John asked reverently. Then she let her eyes—soft, mysterious gray eyes, they were—come back to his face as she answered simply:

"My husband."

"Patty, dear, are you wild? Your husband! Why, you are scarcely more than a child. Are you not one of 'the Beverly girls?'"

"I am Walter Beverly's widow. You may have heard the girls mention their dead brother Walter. I am classed as one of the 'Beverly girls,' and no one thinks me of enough importance to explain or even remember about it, but I am twenty-three and have been a widow for four years. Please lower the bars now and let us go home."

And then he remembered the fortune teller—the widow—

"Patty, Lady Patty, wait," he cried. "I never knew; I never dreamed it. Nobody told me of it. I took it for granted you were the youngest of the Beverly sisters. Love, stop. I will not let you go through the bars until I have told you. I named 'Patty' when I tied the love vine knot, and, see, it is drawn tight. Who did you name?"

"Lower the bars," she ordered imperiously.

"Not until you tell me, Lady Patty," he said immovably.

"I won't tell. Anyway, the thread broke, and, besides, you said you would never marry a widow."

"I lied, then. Here is my vine, Patty. Try your fortune again and name the same name—out loud, mind you. What was it?" She stole a glance at his face and saw all the tenderness in his eyes. Then she took the golden thread, tied a knot in it and murmured scarcely loud enough for him to hear:

"John Cheseldine."

HARRIET WHITNEY.

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of

ALBERT S. HAVEN,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, two certain instruments purporting to be the last will and testament and one codicil of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by C. Fred Haven of Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline, in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-seventh day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court this eleventh day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

3t--12-19-26

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the will of

BESSIE LOUISE HARLOW, born Pratt,

late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to (Address) JAMES F. HARLOW, Executor.

Quincy, Mass.

May 11, 1903. 12-3t--12-19-26

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Chapter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D., Inspector of Milk.

April 15. 30t

JAMES F. BURKE.

REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,

MORTGAGES.

Justice of the Peace. Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building,

June 5. tf

W. G. CHUBBUCK

Furniture and Piano Mover,

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.

Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

ly-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

LEWIS N. CURTIS,

PAINTER, GLAZIER.

LEADED STAINED GLASS.

Decorator and Paper Hanger.

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.

15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's bills, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

Bennington St., Quincy Adams

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of

ALBERT S. HAVEN,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, two certain instruments purporting to be the last will and testament and one codicil of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by C. Fred Haven of Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline, in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-seventh day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court this eleventh day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

3t--12-19-26

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the will of

BESSIE LOUISE HARLOW, born Pratt, late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself the trust by giving bond as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to (Address) JAMES F. HARLOW, Executor.

Quincy, Mass.

May 11, 1903. 12-3t--12-19-26

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Charter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who keeps milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and who neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D., Inspector of Milk.

April 15. 30t

JAMES F. BURKE.

REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,

MORTGAGES.

Justice of the Peace. Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building,

W. G. CHUBBUCK

Furniture and Piano Mover,

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.

Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at Mr. Arnold's Revere Road.

Address, QUINCY, MASS.

LEWIS N. CURTIS,

PAINTER, GLAZIER.

LEADED STAINED GLASS.

Decorator and Paper Hanger.

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.

Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

Dr. Emmons'

Family Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positive... other remedy known to medical science will so quickly and safely do the work... most and most obstinate irregularities from cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and benefit results guaranteed in every instance. No matter whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off writing. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under any possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

A HOME DEPOSIT BANK

FREE.

Savings Department

The National Granite Bank,

QUINCY, MASS.

The National Granite Bank announces the addition of a Savings Department, and the introduction of the Home Deposit Bank System. You are requested to call and have this system fully explained to you.

The Plan.

A deposit of One Dollar ($1.00) or more will secure you the loan of one of these banks. Your bank account will be opened, and pass-book furnished you shows your deposit duly credited.

Take the Bank Home

and place in it your spare change and surplus moneys. At certain intervals, or as often as convenient, when an accumulation has resulted, bring your bank to us. The contents will be removed, counted, and your deposits with us earn

3 per cent. interest.

YOU KEEP THE BANK.

WE KEEP THE KEY.

The Result.

You don't miss what you drop in. What comes out surprises you. The presence of the small bank in your home is equivalent to your having a branch of our Savings Department always at hand. To remove the usual

Temptation to Spend,

the money slot in the small bank is so constructed that moneys once dropped in cannot be shaken out. The application of this savings plan creates

Good Business Habits.

The Home Deposit Bank System is within the reach of all, and is of especial interest to every working man, woman and salaried individual.

It is not what you Earn, but what you Save, that makes you independent, and the sooner you make a start in this direction, the sooner you will reach the desired goal.

Money at interest works for you night and day, Sundays and holidays, and twenty-four hours per day.

THE NATIONAL GRANITE BANK.

Established 1865.

CAPITAL STOCK, $150,000. SURPLUS AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $153,000. DEPOSITS, $420,000.

THEOPHILUS KING, President. RUPERT F. CLAFLIN, Cashier.

DIRECTORS.

THEOPHILUS KING, RUPERT F. CLAFLIN,
EDWIN W. MARSH, JAMES THOMPSON,
JOSEPH H. VOGEL, CLARENCE BURGIN,
DELCEVARE KING, RUSSELL A. SEARS.

Banking Hours: From 8.30 A. M. till 3 P. M. Saturdays closing at 12 M.

NOTICE—In the event that you are unable to call at the Bank, drop us a line or phone No. 26-3, and one of our representatives will visit you.

This system is being installed by the C. O. Burns Company, originators and original patentees and manufacturers of the Home Deposit Banks and System, Nos. 13--21 Park Row, New York.

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $3.00 per year

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	79	63	67	78	73
Monday,	86	76	80	60	53
Tuesday,	90	74	65	49	53
Wednesday,	—	79	61	53	55
Thursday,	—	73	69	67	75
Friday,	—	72	82	85	72
Saturday,	—	64	86	81	71

New Advertisements Today.

Paul Revere Post, G. A. R. Notice.
Lost—Pocket Book.
D. E. Wadsworth & Co.—Summer Goods.
King's Park House—Rooms and Board.
For Rent—Furnished House.

Ninety Degree Day

Monday was called a hot day but the temperature at noon was not as high as today at the same hour. Monday's temperature at noon which was 86 was the hottest day of this season since April 30, when it was also 86 at noon. At noon, today, however, the mercury indicated 90 degrees. It is the hottest May day since May 15, 1900.

Piece Work on Battleships

A New York dispatch says: As a result of the refusal of 25 men to work on the battleship Connecticut under the piece system of payment, fully 700 employes in the shops in the Brooklyn navy yard will soon be laid off. The ship is now far behind her sister vessel which is being built by private contract at the Newport News shipyard.

LOST—On May 18, in vicinity of Brewer's Corner a Pocket Book containing a sum of money. Finder will be rewarded by returning same to 23 Albertina street. May 19-3t

By C. H JOHNSON, Auctioneer.
Office: Room 3 Adams Building.

Household Furniture

At Public Auction of CHARLES PETERSON will be sold from residence No. 138 Granite Street, on Tuesday, May 26, 1903,

At 1.30 P. M.

The goods consist in part as follows: Plush Rocker, Woolen Carpet, Curtains, 2 Rockers, 6 Rugs, Oak Side Board in good order, Cane Seat Rocker, Oak Commode, Oak Bureau, 8 foot Oak Extension Table, 6 Cane Seat Dining Room Chairs, Art Square, Hanging Lamp, Plants 5 Odd Chairs, White Iron Bed nearly new, Rocker, Table Covers, Bed Spreads, Comforters, Mattresses, Straw Matting, Chamber Set, China Tea Set, lot of Dishes and Glass Ware, Magee Range in good order, Kitchen Table, and a lot of Kitchen Furniture. This is only a partial list of the furnishings of 5 rooms. All of above furniture is clean and in good order.

Sale positive. Goods to be removed at once. Terms, Cash.

No. 138 Granite Street.

May 18. 6t-18-19-20-22-23-24

By C. H JOHNSON, - - Auctioneer.
Office, Room 3 Adams Building, Quincy.

QUINCY

Real Estate at Public Auction.

The Valuable Real Estate

— ON —

Hancock Street, in Quincy,

— OF THE —

Late Nancy Brackett,

Will be sold at Public Auction on the premises, 1207 Hancock Street, on

May 23, 1903, at 3 o'clock P. M.

Train for Quincy leaves South Station, in Boston, at 2.28 o'clock.

The land has a frontage of 318 feet on Hancock street, a depth of 269 feet and embraces 84,935 square feet. The buildings consist of at 10-room House, built in the Old Colonial style, and a stable. The estate is one of the old estates of Quincy. It is situated on the main thoroughfare in the centre of the city within a few steps of the Railroad Station, Post-Office, stores, and public buildings. It offers excellent opportunities for a private residence, or for development by the laying out of streets and erection of buildings. The present growth and prospects of the city of Quincy make this a peculiar opportunity for either investment or improvement.

$500 to be deposited and other terms to be announced at the time and place of sale.

For plan of land or any other information, inquire of

GEORGE W. MORTON, Adams Building, Quincy.
HENRY H. SPRAGUE, 19 Milk street, Boston.

May 9—7t 9, 16, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22

KING'S PARK HOUSE.

Board and Rooms.

345 Washington Street.

Quincy, May 19. 1m

MANY SURPRISES

For the Editors Who Visited Quincy Yesterday.

And Also for Editor Prescott.

Proud of Shipyard as a New England Industry.

The half a hundred editors who visited Quincy on Monday, as the guest of George W. Prescott will have much to tell their readers of the "City of Presidents."—of its enterprise and thrift; of its historical associations; of its big shipyards and the battleships being built; of the natural scenery and other attractions.

They found the remodeled City Hall an attractive municipal building. They saw much of historic interest in the old Stone church built in 1828, with its old-style pulpits, pews and choir loft; its tablets, etc. They stood in awe at the Adams shrine where John Adams and John Quincy Adams and their wives are interred in massive sarcophagi. The beautiful Public Library building and grounds attracted their attention.

They found the time at the birthplaces of the Presidents altogether too short, but we venture that they took it all in. They had congratulations for Editor Prescott on his commodious and attractive newspaper plant, and his hospitable residence.

Mr. Spear, the custodian, presented each visitor with a bit of wood from the John Quincy Adams house.

At 1 P. M. dinner was served in the Hancock chambers and was followed by a brief business meeting and presentation. President George O. Fairbanks noted that five in the Association had completed 50 years of newspaper work, and all were present, viz: L.W. Brewster, of the Portsmouth (N. H.) Journal; R. William Waterman, of the Athol Chronicle; George and Francis H. Proctor of the Gloucester Times, and the host of the day, George W. Prescott of the Quincy Patriot and Daily Ledger. He called upon Bro. Brewster to tell how it was he continued to grow young.

Mr. Brewster, however, directed his remarks wholly to Mr. Prescott and said:

When we travelled together through the "Sunny South" we saw and heard many pleasant things. We listened, at the barbecue in Little Rock, to the wit, humor and eloquence of Southern orators, and partook of the generous hospitality of the warm hearted people of Arkansas, who taught us to say Arkansaw. If we may believe what they told us there and at St. Louis, Memphis, Vicksburg, Jackson, Grenada, Hattiesburgh, Gulfport, Baton Rouge and other places, of the mighty power and influence of the Press, we may well feel a swelling pride in our editorial profession and look with wonder and admiration upon such a grand battery of world-controlling force as that combination of editors denominated the Suburban Press Association of New England!

Do you appreciate, then, the magnificent import of an expression of thanks from such a notable body?

We are today partaking of a hospitality quite equal to that of the Southerners; are greatly enjoying the busy scenes and the interesting historical spots of your delightful city of Quincy, and having as entertaining and interesting a day as ever we spent in Missouri, Tennessee, Louisianna or Mississippi. There are pleasure spots as well in New England as in distant places. The opening spring is as delightful here as in any other part of our great country, and you have well chosen this season to take us abroad among the foliage and blossoms of your home land. Verily, were it not that the people where we live would suffer great loss and privation if we should leave them, we might yield to the temptation to remain here all our days—and starve, for we could not expect to get a living here where the field is so well occupied by the Daily Ledger and the Quincy Patriot,—and we do not think you would like the contract of taking care of us all for an indefinite period, as you have today.

It is many years that you have constituted yourself an active and useful member of this association. We will not offend your modesty by telling you how much we esteem you, nor commit ourselves by acknowledging the obligations we are under for your kindly interest and services all these years. A man who has been doing "write-ups" for fifty years, or less, might think it "Shop talk." We all know better than to "puff" each other. We have a much more acceptable way of expressing our sentiments.

Brother Prescott, fifty years must be full of events, and we hope that somehow, sometime, you may gather them up and let us have the enjoyment of living them over with you. The years have dealt very kindly with you, and your looks would seem to belie your half-century statement if we didn't have the utmost confidence in your probity. Good and fruitful years they must latterly have been, both for yourself and the many thousands who in all that time have perused your daily and weekly issues, for counsel, instruction and entertainment.

When you finally have completed your good work and come to the golden gate we doubt not that the bald pate of St. Peter will beam with a new luster, and that he will joyfully open wide the doors to bid you welcome, reciting meanwhile the good deeds of pen and scissors he has recorded on your page of his book. Verily, an editor can make a record as good as the best, or as bad as the worst. His field is illimitable.

But we hope that before you visit Saint Peter, and even when the years bring physical infirmities, your sphere of usefulness will not perceptibly diminish, and that your latter days may abound in wisdom and love. When those latter days begin to come on you may need some other support in your daily walks than nature affords. We would not hasten those days, but this seems a more opportune moment than may again occur, for as to provide for your comfort.

We would have you always remember this gathering of your associates, who will ever be ready to do all in their power to assist you over the rough ways of life with all the moral help at their command; and as a token of the sincerity of this expression of their regard, and as a practical aid in the years to come, they present to you this cane. May it be many years ere you will need its support, but when you do, please remember that in its every fibre are the best wishes of the Suburban Press Association of New England.

We thank you for this day's excellent entertainment.

Mr. Prescott was pleased to welcome so many of the fraternity to Quincy, and to have them as his guests. Through the kindness of Old Colony street railway, which furnishes transportation; Henry H. Faxon, Esq., who has invited us to the shrine of the two Presidents; to Mrs. N. B. Titus, the regent of Adams chapter, D. R., who control the birthplace of President John Adams; to Mr. W. G. Spear of the Quincy Historical Society, who is custodian of the birthplace of President John Quiney Adams; to Bro. E. C. Linfield, as guide at the shipyard; to Mrs. Jewett, the caterer, and to others, we have planned an outing for the association which will be profitable, as well as interesting.

Great changes have taken place in Quincy during fifty years, and with it the Patriot and Daily Ledger have flourished. During all these years I have been with these papers in one building, but have time and time enlarged the floor space until today we lease the entire building.

Gentlemen, I thank you for the cane. It will ever be a reminder of your visit today; of our many years of association, and our travels and good times. Again I thank you, and hope you will enjoy yourself today, and come again.

The cane is a rich ebony one with a massive gold head, on the top of which is inscribed:

"Presented to George W. Prescott by members of Suburban Press Association May 18, 1903."

The arrival of a special electric for the shipyard brought the banquet to a close and the editors were soon at the busy industry in which all New England takes pride.

A visitor to the plant of the Fore River Ship & Engine Company at Quincy, will, at first sight, see much that is rough and crude in the way of undeveloped yards and construction work, but an hour's inspection will show him a perfect wonder in mechanical progress and development, all created within three years. He will see the almost unparalleled development of a small private plant into one of the best equipped ship building plants in the entire country. Its present standing reflects the greatest credit upon the founders, who still remain in active management, men, who, by their force of character, tact and good judgment in selecting their assistants, are given by all conversant with the business, great credit and hearty appreciation.

Massachusetts and New England are getting proud of this industry, as they become better acquainted with its work and its possibilities. Particularly among business men is this fact being discovered and appreciated.

The company is repeatedly offered much new business that it is obliged to refuse, from the simple fact that the greater portion of the plant has all it can do on the present large contracts for several years to come. The proffered work includes about everything made of steel, from a yacht to an automobile; a bridge to a street railway snow-plow, all of which it could do with its present plant had it no other work in hand. A plant capable of doing all this work is needed to answer the demands of mechanical progress in this section of the country.

At the forge, pounding the ten-ton ingots of steel into the crankshafts or other parts of the big battleships, is seen as large a steam hammer as is found anywhere in the country, capable of striking a blow of 200 tons. With several smaller hammers. It is served by two travelling cranes, which take the red-hot ingots from the furnaces to the hammers, where they are as easily handled as a blacksmith handles his little piece of forging. After finishing they are dropped upon flat cars or else picked up by the locomotive crane and then transported to the machine shops, then placed on the lathes and planers for the finishing.

Economy of operation is secured in the forge, as elsewhere, noticeably by making the surplus heat from the furnaces supply the steam for the hammers.

This is the only ship yard in the country having a forge of its own, and thus is able to do better and quicker work, particularly in repair jobs.

The power house, so small as to be almost unnoticed by many visitors, yet contains the very heart of the establishment, supplying energy throughout the 90 acre yard, distributing it silently through wires and pipes. Electrical energy lights the yard and buildings, and supplies power to individual motors coupled direct to all the large machines, doing away with all shaftings and most of the belting, at a saving of 33 per cent. in operating cost. Compressed air and water, distributed through pipes in underground tunnels, run the small pneumatic tools for chipping the plates and heating the red hot rivets on the ships, while the hydraulic pressure in a big man-hole punch cuts a hole 18x32 inches in a cold steel plate an inch in thickness as easily as one would bite a cracker.

The machine shop interests the average visitor fully as much as any department. Here in a building covering nearly two acres are huge lathes that turn the largest crank-shafts or a 50-foot propeller shaft to proper diameter and finish them with a delicate polish almost like a mirror.

Planers, great and small, the giant having a bed 16 feet wide and 30 feet long. A big boring mill is busy turning out the inside of a six-foot cylinder for the battleships.

Running overhead is another big electric crane that handles the work from machine to machine with the simple throw of the lever of an electric controller.

(To be continued.)

Spring Medicine

There is no other season when good medicine is so much needed as in the Spring.

The blood is impure, weak and impoverished—a condition indicated by pimples and other eruptions on the face and body, by deficient vitality, loss of appetite, lack of strength, and want of animation.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Make the blood pure, vigorous and rich, create appetite, give vitality, strength and animation, and cure all eruptions. Have the whole family begin to take them today.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has been used in our family for some time, and always with good results. Last spring I was all run down and got a bottle of it, and as usual received great benefit." MISS BEULAH BOYCE, Stowe, Vt.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

BUY YOUR

Hot Weather Goods

— OF —

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

And get your COLD SODA

FREE.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

E. M. MAXWELL,

DRESSMAKING.

Ladies' Tailor Made Suits a specialty. Altering and Repairing neatly and promptly attended to No. 3 South Central Avenue, corner Newport Avenue, Wollaston, Mass.

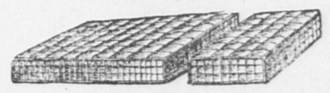

May 18. 6t

The doctor orders the medicine, the medicine aids nature, and nature makes the cure. Ask your own doctor about it. He has our formula. He knows why Ayer's Sarsaparilla makes the blood pure and rich, why it tones up weak nerves, and why it overcomes all debility.

Ayer's Pills aid the Sarsaparilla. They keep the liver active, cure constipation, biliousness, sick-headache, nausea. J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

Restful Mattresses.

Just think, people everywhere trying to get enjoyment and comfort out of this life, and the queer thing about it all is, that very few start in the right place.

There isn't any money that will bring such rest and comfort to tired folks as the money you spend for one of our famous Cotton Felt Mattresses.

These Mattresses are as unlike the one you are now using, as night is unlike day. They are soft, soothing, springy, restful, dreamy. They fit the body from top to toe, and afford you rest, comfort and enjoyment, unequalled by anything else that money can buy in all this great world of ours.

They range in price from $7.50 to $15.00. We have them for immediate delivery.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

Are You Looking for a Home?

Would You Like to Make Some Money?

Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at

BIGELOW PARK.

The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.

SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.

May 2. tf

Spring and Summer Shoes.

The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.

The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.

GEORGE W. JONES,

Adams Building, - QUINCY.

RICHARDS & MACOMBER,

PAINTERS and DECORATORS.

Whitewashing a Specialty. Sign Painting, Graining, Kalsomining, Glazing.

Interior and Exterior House Painting. WE EMPLOY SKILLED WORKMEN ONLY

Drop us a postal and we will call at your residence and estimate your work.

Office and Shop, 31 SAVILLE ST.,

Bates' Block, Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, April 11. Sat., Tues., Thur. 6w

edicine, the medicine akes the cure. Ask
He has our formula.
rsaparilla makes the
it tones up weak
mes all debility.
aparilla. They keep tipation, biliousness,

J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

Just think, people everywhere trying to get enjoyment and comfort out of this life, and t very few start in the bring such rest and com-u spend for one of our e one you are now using,
, soothing, springy, rest-top to toe, and afford you led by anything else that of ours.
$15.00. We have them

AIDE & CO.,
Furniture Store,
Quincy, Mass.
d Saturday Evenings.

Home?
e Some Money?
se Beautiful Lots at
PARK.
Accessible Tract of Land
District.
Merrill Block,
dger Building,
QUINCY.
tf

ner Shoes.
ason will be very much in f Oxford Ties in the latest Leather.
.00 to $3.50.
.25 to $3.50.
$1.00, $1.25.
$1.50, $2.00.
$1.25, $1.75.
, 90c., $1.00.
eaders.
for Men.
or Women.
JONES,
QUINCY.

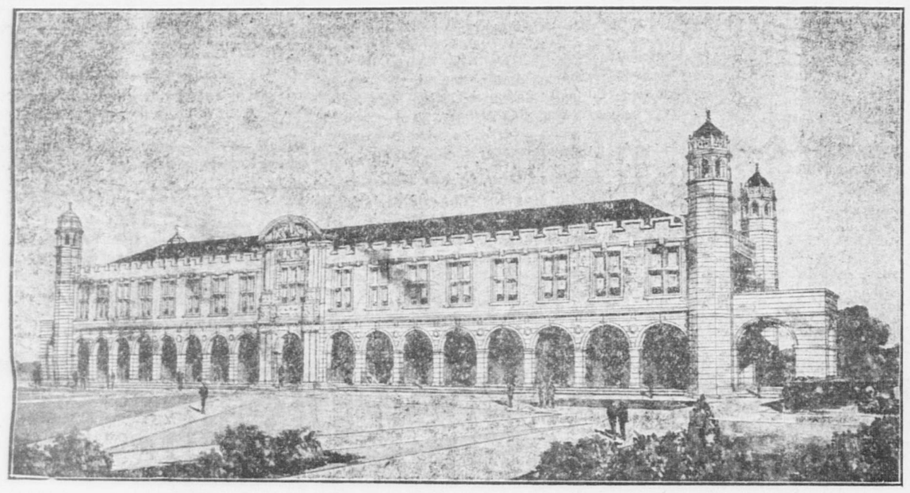

ACOMBER,
ORATORS.
gn Painting, Grain-
Glazing.
EMPLOY SKILLED WORKMEN ONLY
nce and estimate your work.
SAVILLE ST.,
cy, Mass.
Sat., Tues., Thur. 6w

64

WORLD'S FAIR BUILDING AT ST. LOUIS.

The Hall of International Congresses Where President Roosevelt Dined on Dedication Day, and Where Congresses Will be Held Next Year.

The Hall of International Congresses, in which the philosophers and scientists of the world are to hold their sittings during the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis in 1904 is 257 feet long and 47 feet wide, with a height of two stories and basement. It is now completed. There is also a rear projection from the centre that is 41 feet wide and 100 feet long.

It will have four large assembly halls, of which three will be 46 by 110 feet in size and the other 41 by 100. It is a massive and handsome structure of hammer-faced red Missouri granite, laid in "broken-range rubble" with ornamental courses of Bedford stone.

The architecture belongs to the later period of Tudor Gothic, with an admixture of the Renaissance. One striking feature is the arcaded cloistered walk running the entire length of the eastern facade (258 ft.) and three steps higher than the quadrangle surface, which is reached by steps of dressed granite along the entire length.

The banquets to President Roosevelt and others during dedication week were on the second floor of this building. Other Worlds Fair views will appear each Saturday.

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.

60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN.

PHARMACIST,

1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS,

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.

April 30. 1m

CHAS. C. HEARN'S SUCCESS.

Great Popularity of Plan to Sell Medicine at Half-Price and Guarantee a Cure.

Mr. Chas. C. Hearn, the enterprising druggist, rather than await the ordinary method of introduction, urged the Dr. Howard Co., to secure a quick sale for their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by offering the regular 50c bottle at half-price.

The wonderful success of this plan was a great surprise even to Mr. Hearn and today there are scores of people here in Quincy who are using and praising this remarkable remedy.

So much talk has been caused by this offer, and so many new friends have been made for the specific, that the Dr. Howard Co. have authorized Druggist Hearn to continue this special half-price sale for a limited time longer.

In addition to selling a 50c bottle of Dr. Howard's specific for 25c, Mr. Hearn has so much faith in the remedy that he will refund the money to anyone whom it does not cure.

When your head aches, your stomach does not digest food easily and naturally, when there is constipation, specks before the eyes, tired feelings, giddiness, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, heart-burn, sour stomach, roaring or ringing in the ears, melancholy, and liver troubles, Dr. Howard's specific will cure you. If it does not, it will not cost you a cent. 19

TODAY'S COURT.

John Ruby and Michael Callahan were fined $3 each for drunkenness at Quincy.

William Heffernan was fined $15 for drunkenness at Quincy.

John Neimi was fined $3 for violation of the City Ordinances by loitering on the sidewalk at Brewers corner.

☞Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

SEWER CONTRACTS.

Bids for Building Sections 11 and 12 Opened.

The Sewer Commissioners opened bids Monday night for building sections 11 and 12 of the main sewer to Quincy Point which is to be a 20 inch pipe. The bids on the two sections were as follows:

Section 11, from the corner of Canal and Newcomb streets to Edison street.

H. A. Hanscom & Co.,	$20,360.00
Eglee, Bunting Co.,	16,316 50
C. E. Trumbull Co.,	15,433.00
T. J. O'Connel,	14,405 75

Section 12 from a point on land of Hanley Construction Co, through private land and Washington court to Washington street and in Washington street from Broadway to 400 feet beyond South street:

Eglee, Bunting Co.,	$13,807.90
William J. McCarty,	13,577.70
C. C. Trumbull Co.,	12,819.50
H. A. Hanscom Co.,	12,672 30
James H. Ferguson,	10,821.80
T. O. O'Connel,	11,106.10

Pretty Entertainment.

The "Blossom Bouqet" given by the Danison House Auxiliary Monday evening at the Wollaston Unitarian vestry drew a good house.

The cast included: Mrs. Elder Blossom, Beulah Hatch; Mrs. John Quill Blossom, Marjorie Fay; Lily, Winifred White; Rose, Susie Page; Daisy, Clara Ela; Violet, Louise Waterman; Pansy, Mollie Brown; Myrtle and Clover, Alice Dow and Grace Bishop; Junica, Bulah Loud; Romeo, Rena Grant; Juliet, Lizzie Linnell; Miss Rosemary, Maud Currier; Mrs. Philury Jarvis, Mabel Longhead.

The whole affair was one of the prettiest entertainments seen for a long time. The young people who took part showed that they were adepts in the art, for considering their short time they had been taught they really did clever work. To the skilful coaching of Mrs. Gurney is due to a large extent the credit for the successful entertainment.

Whist Party.

Miss Grace Batson of Quincy entertained the Smart Set whist club Saturday afternoon and evening, each member contributing a prize. Pictures of the club were taken and miscellaneous games played during the afternoon. At supper prophesies of each young woman were read, creating a great deal of fun. The tables were appropriately ornamented with bachelor buttons. Following supper a musical game was played in which Miss Gertrude Warren took first prize. Partners for whist were chosen by small Japanese lanterns which each member took from a great Japanese parasol suspended from the centre of the room. The idea was a novel one. Miss Addie May Ruggles ended with highest score and had first choice of the sixteen prizes, the others chose according to succeeding ranks. It was a delightful ending to a most enjoyable season of whist for the Smart Set.

May Party.

The annual dance of the Physical Training class of Miss Mary Agnes Elcock at Quincy Music hall, Monday evening, was a very pretty party, from sixty to seventy couples being present. Beautiful gowns were worn by the young ladies. The decorations included lighted Japanese lanterns, potted plants, and festoons of lilac. There was a reception from 8 to 9, the guests being presented to the matrons who were stationed in the corner at the right of the stage. The matrons were gowned as follows: Mrs. N. G. Torrey of Braintree, in white crepe de chine over taffeta; Mrs. John H. Dinegan in green foulard with lace trimmings, and Mrs. Daniel Deasy in nuns veiling over silk. Lyons orchestra furnished popular music. The floor director was Mr. John J. Deasy, who was assisted by Clarence Fouche, Robert McDonnell, George Gavin, William J. Biganess, Thurlow Torrey, John McTiernan, Frank Shevlin, Joseph Kiley, John Heaney, Joseph Elcock and Walter Elcock. Lemonade was served during the evening.

The general impression seems to be that summer has come.

The Senior Christian Endeavors give a sociable at the Wollaston Congregational church on Thursday evening.

—Rev. E. C. Stover of Palmer has accepted the call to the Braintree Baptist church.

FOR RENT--By a young married couple without children, furnished house this summer. Best of references. Parties going to the beach will find this a good opportunity to leave their home in responsible care. Address, H. H., Ledger office. Quincy, May 19-tf

SECOND CONCERT

GIVEN BY THE

WOLLASTON CHORAL SOCIETY,

MR. CHARLES B. STEVENS, Director.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH,

WEDNESDAY, May 20, 1903,

At 8 o'clock.

May 9. p-2w--l-18-3t

THE OLD RELIABLE

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

Evading Fare

William Heffernan hailing from Brockton way learned this morning that it costs high to refuse to pay a street car fare. Heffernan, who was under the influence of liquor, boarded a car at Neponset Monday afternoon for Brockton. When Conductor George Blair came along and asked for his fare, Heffernan not only refused to pay it but attempted to assault the conductor. When the car reached Quincy Officer Murray placed the fellow under arrest. After his arrest the fellow was willing and wanted to pay his fare, but it was then too late. He was arraigned in court this morning for drunkenness and fined $15.

Worms

Hundreds of Children and adults have worms but are treated for other diseases. The symptoms are—indigestion, with a variable appetite; foul tongue; offensive breath; hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; starting during sleep; slow fever; and often in children, convulsions.

TRUE'S PIN WORM ELIXIR

is the best worm remedy made. It has been in use over 50 yrs. It is purely vegetable, harmless and effectual. Where no worms are present it acts as a Tonic, and corrects the condition of the mucous membrane of the stomach and bowels. A positive cure for Constipation and Biliousness, and a valuable remedy in all the common complaints of children. Price 25 cts. Ask your druggist for it.

Dr. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me.

Special treatment for Tape Worms. Free pamphlet.

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.

Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

CITY BREVITIES.

Miss Lillian Waterhouse of Squantum is ill with tonsilitis.

A salad supper will be served by the Woman's guild of Christ church tomorrow evening.

It was a pleasure to many Quincy friends of Rev. W. W. Dornan to have him occupy the pulpit of Bethany church Sunday morning. He preached an able sermon from Deut. 32; 11 and 12.

Christ church tendered a dinner Monday evening to the choir at the United States Hotel, Boston, 22 being present representing vestry and choir. Rev. W. E. Gardner presided at the post prandial exercises, and there were speeches by Messrs S. B. Whitney, George H. Brown, C. T. Hardwick, F. F. Crane, and E. L. Snyder. It was an enjoyable occasion.

WANTED.

WANTED—Every lady in Quincy to have in the house or garden. The beautiful and mysterious "Resurrection" plant which never dies. Agents find it a ready seller, and a first rate money getter. Write for descriptive circular or send 25c. for sample plant. Summit Greenhouse Agency, Box 2137, Boston, Mass.

May 13. 1-6t--p-1w

WANTED.

MEN, not under 25 years, to call on old and new customers. No delivering. Position permanent to the right party. Pay weekly. GLEN BROTHERS, Rochester, N. Y.

April 23. 6w--thurs. sat. tues.

WANTED—Money on first mortgages. Address Box 185 Quincy Post Office.

April 16. eod tf

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON.

Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,

Music Hall Block, Quincy.

HEADQUARTERS

PAUL REVERE POST 88, G. A. R.

DEPARTMENT OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Quincy, May 12, 1903.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 1.

COMRADES: Again it becomes our duty to gather on the day set apart, to do homage to those, who having fought the good fight in the cause of Country, have gone to their reward. Let that day (May 30th) made sacred by their privations and fidelity to the flag for which they fought so nobly, be a reminder to us to keep the day in a manner that those who come after us, may be impressed with the full meaning of what our mission is. There are those, who on that day will follow the dear old flag for the last time. Let it be with a spirit which we had in those dark days when we were of the Army of the Union.

ON SUNDAY, MAY 24,

the post will assemble in full uniform at headquarters at 9.30 A. M., to attend service at the First Unitarian Church, Quincy, and listen to a Memorial address by the Rev. E. C. Butler and also a history of the Post by Past Commander Charles H. Porter. At 6 P. M. the post will assemble again in full uniform at headquarters to attend service at the Catholic Church, West Quincy and listen to a memorial address by the Rev. A. F. Roche. Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103, Ladies' Aid No. 3, John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans and all Soldiers and Sailors are invited to be present.

Contributions of food and flowers from our many friends will be gratefully received and may be left at the following residences; Mrs. F. P. Loud, Mrs. Annie C. Wright, Ward One; Mrs. H. O. Souther, Mrs. Annie E. Merritt, Ward Two; Mrs. Edward Richardson, Miss Mildred M. Willett, Ward Three; Mrs. John S. Farrell, Mrs. Joseph Shackley, Miss A. A. Bartlett, Ward Four; Mrs. Joseph W. Newcomb, Mrs. G. C. Ela, Ward Five; Mrs. A. G. Heath, Norfolk Downs; Mrs. Daniel McGrath, Ward Six.

The Principals and teachers of the schools are invited to request their pupils to bring flowers to the schoolhouses on the morning of May 29th. They will be collected for the purpose of decorating our Comrades' graves on Memorial day. Let no soldier's or sailor's grave be forgotten by this beautiful tribute.

MAY 30, ORDERS OF THE DAY.

1. The Post will assemble at Headquarters in full uniform at 7 A. M.

2. Junior Vice Commander Thomas Ring in command of a detail will proceed to Mount Wollaston cemetery and decorate the graves of our comrades sleeping there.

3. Officer of the Guard William M. Bird will make a detail and accompanied by the Chaplain of the day will proceed to the National Sailors' Home and deposit a floral offering.

4. Officer of the Day Warren Dunbar with a detail will decorate the graves of our comrades in the Hancock and English cemeteries.

5. Comrade James H. Webb will have charge of the invited guests.

6. Comrade James M. Cleverly will attend to and take care of our disabled comrades.

7. Comrade Abel Nutting will proceed to Mount Auburn cemetery and decorate the grave of Col. Paul J. Revere.

8. Officer of the Day Warren Dunbar is hereby detailed to have charge of the Band and escort.

9. Senior Vice Commander Charles L. Orne is detailed to have charge of Hancock hall.

10. Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103, will have charge of the collation at Hancock hall and also the arrangement of flowers for Memorial day.

11. The Rev. Leon H. Austin will act as Chaplain of the Day.

12. At 9.30 A. M. the post will form at Headquarters with the City Band will march to the junction of School and Franklin streets where barges will be taken for Hall cemetery, West Quincy, where appropriate ceremonies will be held and the graves of our late comrades decorated.

13. At 10.30 A. M., the command will continue to the Catholic cemeteries where services will be held by Rev. A. F. Roche, after which the graves of our comrades resting there will be decorated. The command will then proceed to the junction of School and Franklin streets, where they will be met by the John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans and escorted to Hancock hall, where they all will partake of a collation.

14. At 2 P. M., the line will be formed as follows: Detail of Police, Chief Comrade Joseph W. Hayden; Braintree Fife and Drum Corps; John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans, Commander George E. Adams; Officer of the Day Warren Dunbar; City Band; Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R.; John W. Hersey, Commander; City officials in carriages; disabled comrades; Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103; Mrs. Alice Litchfield, President, and Ladies' Aid No. 3, Miss Mildred M. Willett, President, in barges and will proceed by the following route: Headquarters G. A. R. to City Hall, where they will countermarch in front of the First church. Here a delegation of children from the different schools will be assembled and salute the Flag with singing, etc. The line of march will then continue through Temple street to Coddington, to Sea, to Mount Wollaston Cemetery, where services will be held at the soldiers' monument by Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R. The command will then proceed to the lot of Lieut. Edward Bumpus, where services will be performed by John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans, after which they will assemble at the G. A. R. lot where memorial services will be performed by Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103, in memory of the unknown dead. The line will then reform and return via Coddington street to City square, Hancock street to Headquarters.

Past Commanders are requested to parade on the staff of the Commander.

Per order, JOHN W. HERSEY, Commander.

[OFFICIAL] I. M. HOLT, Adjutant.

May 19. 1-2t--p-1w

When Knighthood Was In Flower

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By Edwin Caskoden [Charles Major]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

CHAPTER XX.

DOWN INTO FRANCE.

SO it came to pass that Mary was married unto Louis and went down into France.

[Again the editor takes the liberty of substituting Hall's quaint account of Mary's journey to France.]

Then when all things were redy for the conueyaunce of this noble Ladye, the kyng her brother in the moneth of Auguste, and the xV daye, with the quene his wife and his sayde sister and al the court came to Douer and there taryed, for the wynde was troblous and the wether fowle, in so muche that shippe of the kynges called the Libeck of IXC. tonne was dryuen a shore before Sangate and there brase & of VI C. men scantely escaped iiiC and yet the most part of them were hurt with the wrecke. When the wether was fayre, then al her wardrobe, stable, and riches was shipped, and such as were appoyncted to geve their attendaunce on her as the duke of Norfolke, the Marques of Dorset, the Bysshop of Durham, the Earle of Surrey, the lorde Delawar, sir Thomas Bulleyn and many other knights, Squyers, gentlemen & ladies, al these went to shippe and the sayde ladye toke her leaue of the quene in the castell of Douer, and the king brought her to the sea syde, and kissed her, and betoke her to GOD and the fortune of the sea and to the gouernaunce of the French king her husband. Thus at the hower of foure of the clock in the morenynge thys fayre ladye toke her shippe with al her noble compaignie: and when they had sayled a quarter of the see, the wynde rose and seuered some of the shippes to Cayles, and some in Flaunders and her shippe with great difficultie to Bulleyn, and with great ieopardy at the entrying of the hauen, for the master ran the shippe hard on shore, but the botes were redy and receyued this noble ladye, and at the landyng Sir Christopher Garnysha stode in the water and toke her in his armes, and so caryed her to land, where the Duke of Vandosme and a Cardynall with many estates receyued her, and her ladies, and welcommed all the noble men into the countrey, and so the quene and all her trayne came to Bulleyn and ther rested, and from thence she remoued by dyuerse lodgynges tyll she came all most within iii miles of Abuyle besyde the forrest of Arders, and ther kynge Loyes vppon a greate courser met her, (which he so longe desired) but she toke her way righte on, not stopping to conurse. Then he returned to Abuyle by a secret waye, & she was with greate triumphe, procession & pagiantes receyued into the toune of Abuyle the VIII day of October by the Dolphin, which receyued her with greate honor. She was appeareilled in cloth of siluer, her horse was trapped in goldsmythes work very rychly. After her followed xxxvi ladies al ther palfreys trapped with crymsyn veluet, embraudered: after the folowed one charyott of cloth of tyssue, the seconde clothe of golde and the third Crymsyn veluet embraudered with the kynges armes & hers, full of roses. After them folowed a great nomber of archers and then wagons laden with their stuf. Greate was the riches in plate, iuels, money, and hangynges that this ladye brought into France. The Moday beyng the daye of Sayncte Denyce, the same kynge Leyes maried the lady Mary in the greate church of Abuyle, bothe appareled in goldesmythes woorke. After the masse was done ther was a greate banket and fest and the ladyes of England highly entreteyned.

The Tewesdaye beyng the x daye of October all the Englishmen except a fewe that wer officers with the sayde quene were discharged whiche was a great sorowe for theim, for some had serued her longe in the hope of preferment and some that had honest romes left them to serue her and now they wer out of seruice, which caused the to take thought in so much, some dyed by way returning, and some fell mad, but ther was no remedy. After the English lordes had done ther commission the French kynge wylled the to take no lenger payne & so gaue to theim good rewardes and they toke ther leaue of the quene and returned.

Then the Dolphyn of Fraunce called Frauncys duke of Valoys, or Faunceys d'Angouleme, caused a solempne iustes to be proclaymed, which sholde be kept in Parys in the moneth of Noueber next ensuyng, and while al these thinges were prepearyng, the Ladye Mary, the V. daye of Noueber, then beying Sondaye was with greate solempnitee crowned Queen of Fraunce in the monasterye of Saynct Denyce, and the Lorde Dolphyn, who was young, but very toward, al the season held the crowune ouer her hed, because it was of great waight, to her greuaunce.

Mme. Mary took her time, since a more deliberate journey bride never made to waiting bridegroom. She was a study during this whole period, weeping and angry by turns. She, who had never known a moment's illness in all her days, took to her bed upon two occasions from sheer antipathetic nervousness, and would rest her head upon Jane's breast and cry out little, half articulate prayers to God that she might not kill the man who was her husband when they should meet.

When we met the king about a league this side of Abbeville, and when Mary beheld him with the shadow of death upon his brow, she took hope, for she knew he would be but putty in her hands, so manifestly weak was he, mentally and physically. As he came up she whipped her horse and rode by him at a gallop, sending me back with word that he must not be so ardent; that he frightened her, poor, timid little thing, so afraid of—nothing in the world! This shocked the French courtiers, and one would think would have offended Louis, but he simply grinned from ear to ear, showing his yellow fangs, and said whimperingly: "Oh, the game is worth the trouble. Tell her majesty I wait at Abbeville."

The old king had ridden a horse to meet his bride in order that he might appear more gallant before her, but a litter was waiting to take him back to Abbeville by a shorter route, and they were married again in person.

Again a quotation from Hall is substituted:

Mondaye the .vi daye of Noueber, ther the sayde quene was receyued into the tyttee of Paryse with the [illegible] eth. First the garde of the cytee met her with oute Sayncte Denyce al in coates of goldsmythes woorke with shippes gylt, and after them mett her al the prestes and religious whiche were estemed to be .iiiM. The quene was in a chyre coured about (but not her ouer person) in white clothe of golde, the horses that drewe it couered in clothe of golde, on her hed a coronall, al of greate perles, her necke and brest full of Iuels, before her wente a garde of Almaynes after ther fascion, and after them al noblemen, as the Dolphyn, the Duke of Burbon, Carynalles, and a greate nomber of estates. Aboute her person rode the kynge's garde the which wer Scottes. On the morowe bega the iustes, and the quene stode so that al men might see her, and wonder at her beautie, and the kynge was feble and lay on a couche for weakenes.

So Mary was twice married to Louis, and, although she was his queen fast and sure enough, she was not his wife.

You may say what you will, but I like a fighting woman, one with a touch of the savage in her when the occasion arises, one who can fight for what she loves as well as against what she hates. She usually loves as she fights—with all her heart.

So Mary was crowned and was now a queen and hedged about by the tinseled divinity that hedgeth royalty.

It seemed that she was climbing higher and higher all the time from Brandon, but in her heart every day she was brought nearer to him.

There was one thing that troubled her greatly, and all the time. Henry had given his word that Brandon should be liberated as soon as Mary had left the shores of England, but we had heard nothing of this matter, although we had received several letters from home. A doubt of her brother, in whom she had little faith at best, made an ache at her heart which seemed at times likely to break—so she said. One night she dreamed that she had witnessed Brandon's execution, her brother standing by in excellent humor at the prank he was playing her, and it so worked upon her waking hours that by evening she was ill. At last I received a letter from Brandon, which had been delayed along the road, containing one for Mary. It told of his full pardon and restoration to favor, greater even than before, and her joy was so sweet and quiet and yet so softly delirious that I tell you plainly it brought tears to my eyes, and I could not hold them back.

The marriage, when once determined upon, had not cast her down nearly so deep as I had expected, and soon she grew to be quite cheerful and happy. This filled me with regret, for I thought of how Brandon must suffer, and felt that her heart was a poor, flimsy thing to take this trouble so lightly.

I spoke to Jane about it, but she only laughed. "Mary is all right," said she. "Do not fear. Matters will turn out better than you think, perhaps. You know she generally manages to have her own way in the end."

"If you have any comfort to give, please give it, Jane. I feel most keenly for Brandon, heart tied to such a willful, changeable creature as Mary."

"Sir Edwin Caskoden, you need not take the trouble to speak to me at all unless you can use language more respectful concerning my mistress. The queen knows what she is about, but it appears that you cannot see it. I see it plainly though, although no word has ever been spoken to me on the subject. As to Brandon being tied to her, it seems to me she is tied to him and that he holds the reins. He could drive her into the mouth of purgatory."

"Do you think so?"

"I know it."

I remained in thought a moment or two and concluded that she was right. In truth, the time had come to me when I believed that Jane, with her good sense and acute discernment, could not be wrong in anything, and I think so yet. So I took comfort on faith from her and asked, "Do you remember what you said should happen before we return to England?"

Jane hung her head. "I remember."

"Well?"

She then put her hand in mine and murmured, "I am ready any time you wish."

Great heaven! I thought I should go out of my senses. She should have told me gradually. I had to do something to express my exultation, so I walked over to a bronze statue of Bacchus, about my size—that is, height—put my hat, which I had been carrying under my arm, on his head, cut a few capers in an entirely new and equally antic step, and then drew back and knocked that Bacchus down. Jane thought I had gone stark mad, and her eyes grew big with wonder, but I walked proudly back to her after my victory over Bacchus and reassured her—with a few of Mary's messages that I had still left over, if the truth must be told. Then we made arrangements that resulted in our marriage next morning.

Accordingly Queen Mary and one or two others went with us down to a little church, where, as fortune would have it, there was a little priest ready to join together in the holy bonds of wedlock little Jane and little me—everything so appropriate, you see. I suppose in the whole world we couldn't have found another set of conditions so harmonious. Mary laughed and cried and laughed again, and clapped her hands over and over, and said it was "like a play wedding," and, as she kissed Jane, quietly slipped over her head a beautiful diamond necklace that was worth full £10,000—aside, that is, from the millions of actual value because it came from Mary. "A play wedding" it was, and a play life it has been ever since.

We were barely settled at court in Paris when Mary began to put her plans in motion and unsettle things generally. I could not but recall Henry's sympathy toward Louis, for the young queen soon took it upon herself to make life a burden to "the Father of His People," and in that particular line I suppose she had no equal in all the length and breadth of Christendom.

Jane thought I had gone stark mad.

[To be Continued.]

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - 50 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

LOST.

LOST—On Friday, a Watch and Chain, between Scammell street and Brewer's corner via of Water street. Please send information to "A. B. H.," Ledger office. May 16-3t

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE. Stable Manure. Delivered in Quincy for $5 a cord. Address BOX 154, Atlantic. May 16. 6t

FOR SALE—A light running open Corning Box Buggy, cheap, in fine condition; also a rubber tired Goddard, in good repair; can be seen at 19 Pine street, Wollaston. Address E. F. WHITE, Wollaston, Mass. May 11-13t

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office. April 28. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street. Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve (12) rooms, with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

TO LET

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy. April 8. w. th. s. m.—tf

TO LET—A Well Furnished Room. Price, $1.50 per week. Apply to 78 Lincoln avenue, Wollaston. May 13. 3t--13-16-18

ROOMS TO LET—With or without board. Near electric cars; about five minutes' walk from depot. 212 Highland avenue, near Brook street, Wollaston. May 14-6t

TO LET—Large, Square Room and Side Rooms. Barn for $4 per month. Apply Greenleaf street, corner Hancock street. Quincy, May 8. tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet. 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street. Quincy, April 21. tf

TO LET

IN QUINCY, MASS.,

By H. H. FAXON.

HOUSES, STORES, HALL, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES, Land, Wharves, etc.

Buildings are in Complete Repair

Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.

House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.

Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.

Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc., No. 92 School street, $12 per month.

Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.

Stable, junction School and Franklin streets, $4 per month.

Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.

Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.

Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.

For particulars apply to

HENRY H. FAXON.

Quincy, May 13, 1903. Quincy, Mass. 1m

LEDGER ADVERTISEMENTS PAY BEST

NEW STORES TO LET.

A BUILDING will be erected at once by N. G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information enquire of N. G. NICKERSON. Quincy, May 12-tf

DELICATE DIPLOMACY

Needful In Handling the Kisheneff Matter

NO MOVE AT WASHINGTON

Until Officials Have Firm Basis Upon Which to Proceed—Cassini Gives Some Reasons For the Russian Feeling Against Jews

Washington, May 19.—None of the many resolutions relative to the Kisheneff outbreak adopted Sunday at various places in the United States has reached the state department and the officials have nothing new before them upon which to proceed. It is not known whether further instructio is have been sent to our embassy at St. Petersburg. So far, the department has before it only newspaper clippings describing the Kishineff massacre, and it scarcely feels authorized to move upon that basis even if it had the power to do so. Admitting a desire to investigate in disregard of the formal assurance of the Russian government to Ambassador McCormick, the department would probably have to content itself with the sworn statements of refugees from Kishineff.

To procure information through the American embassy or the American consuls in Russia would probably render our diplomatic agents persona non grata in case they should cast doubt upon the official Russian statements.

A brief cablegram from St. Petersburg might open the way for diplomatic action on the part of the United States in this matter. The statement said the Russian government has forbidden the Jews to arm or defend themselves, with a deliberate purpose of forcing them to emigrate to the United States, for nowhere in Europe could they find refuge. Such action would be similar to that taken by the Roumanian government, upon which the state department laid down the doctrine that the dumping of hordes of emigrants likely to prove paupers upon our shores was obnoxious to the United States. In this connection it may be worth noting that in spite of the vigorous protest against Roumania's action contained in the state department's circular note to the powers, the Roumanian government never admitted our right to interfere, even on the basis of immigration, and conditions continue very much as they were, so far as the Jews in Roumania are concerned.

Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, referring to the Jewish troubles in Russia, said: "There is in Russia, as in German Austria, a feeling against certain of the Jews. The reason for this unfriendly attitude is found in the fact that the Jews will not work in the field nor engage in agriculture. They prefer to be money lenders. Give a Jew a couple of dollars and he becomes a banker and money broker. In this capacity he takes advantage of the Russian peasant, whom he soon has in his power and ultimately destroys. It is when the patience of the peasant is exhausted that a conflict between the peasant and the Jews occurs.

"Emperor Nicholas I sought to help the Jew by ordering the establishment of agricultural colonies in southern Russia, hoping to induce the Jews to engage in agricultural pursuits instead of money lending, but this was not successful; nor have other projects establishing Jewish states been successful. There is no feeling against the Jew in Russia because of religion. There are many good Jews in Russia and they are respected. Jewish genius is appreciated in Russia and the Jewish artist is honored. Jews also appear in the financial world in Russia. The Russian government affords the same protection to the Jews that it does to any other of its citizens, and when a riot occurs and Jews are attacked the officials immediately take steps to apprehend those who begun the riot and visit severe punishment upon them.

Story of a Survivor

Boston, May 19.—A letter received by Wolf Greenberg of this city from his father in Kishineff gives corroborative statements of the massacre there. As translated it says in part, after describing the mad riot of the Russians: "They killed, massacred and drove nails into the brains. They cut off the cheeks, the nose and tongue. To some they opened the abdomen and stuffed it with feathers. Sixty men were killed outright and 84 are in the hospital, lingering between life and death, and 300 are maimed or crippled. Fifty girls they outraged. They are also in the hospital, besides women. They broke the synagogues and tore the scrolls of the law. This lasted from Sunday at 5 o'clock until Monday at 12 at night. All are left without clothes and shoes. There is nothing to sit upon in the houses, or lie the head upon and I am among them. We were left naked in the house. Everything was torn or broken to pieces. We were only with our souls. We were all hidden in the attic, and in the house they destroyed whatever they found. They were going to the attic, but somehow by miracle we were saved, for the robbers were called away."

Generous Aid For Jews

New York, May 19.—Arnold Kohn of the state bank received nearly $5000 yesterday to add to the fund for the distressed Jews of Kishineff. The money came from widely separate parts of the United States.

OPENING BLOCKED

Russia Prevents China Giving Us Free Ports In Manchuria

Pekin, May 19.—China, in reply to further representations of the United States and Japanese ministers, has again pointed out the impossibility of including in the commercial treaties the opening to trade of Manchurian towns, on account of Russian opposition.

Washington, May 19.—The state department has been made fully aware of the obstacles which the Shanghai treaty commissioners are meeting with the Chinese in the effort to include in the commercial treaties the opening to trade of Manchurian towns. The Chinese, as stated in the Pekin dispatch, point out the impossibility of this on account of Russian opposition. The accuracy of this statement, however, is denied by the Russians themselves. Meanwhile, the United States, anxious to secure additional port facilities for American trade interests in Manchuria, will continue to exert its efforts to bring about that result.

Agressor Shot and Killed

Thibodeaux, La., May 19.—A shooting affray which resulted in the death of former Lieutenant Governor Clay Knoblock occurred here. The shooting was done by James Garault, a barber, on Main street. Witnesses of the shooting say that Garault shot in self-defense. The men were talking together when suddenly Knoblock drew his revolver. He experienced some trouble with the weapon, and the cartridge failed to explode. Before Knoblock could make another attempt to shoot, Garault opened fire, shooting Knoblock five times. Garault surrendered to the authorities immediately. The cause of the shooting is unknown.

Jury Considering Probate Case

Nashua, N. H., May 19.—Mrs. Jefts, a daughter, has appealed from the probate court's admission of the will of the late Quincy A. Woodward of this city. A jury is nearing the evidence. Woodward left the income of his estate, valued at $38,000, to the widow for her use during life time, the income to go upon her death to a son and daughter. Upon the death of all beneficiaries under the will the estate is to go to Masonic bodies. Mrs. Jefts alleges that her father was of unsound mind when he drew the will and that it was not signed or sealed by him.

Railroad Blamed For Disaster

Detroit, May 19.—The coroner's jury has rendered a verdict finding the Grand Trunk railway responsible for the accident on May 3, when a Grand Trunk train ran into a number of Polish excursionists. Nine of the Polanders lost their lives. The jury found that the accident was caused by the running of trains within the city limits at a speed in violation of the provisions of the city ordinance.

Blackmailer Caught

St. Joseph, Mo., May 19.—An effort has been made to extort $5000 from the Burlington railway officials here under a threat to blow up with dynamite one of the fast mail trains running between Kansas City and Omaha. A decoy bag filled with rock was placed at a spot designated by the robbers, near Watson, Mo., and a posse lying in wait has captured J. H. Franklin, a young farmer.

Ice Hinders Navigation

St. Johns, May 19.—Steamer Nordkap, from Boston for Tilt Cove, has arrived here. She was unable to reach Tilt Cove, owing to a heavy ice pack. Other incoming ships report having met with enormous ice floes and bergs extending 200 miles seaward. Schooner Navaraisse has been driven ashore by the ice on the west coast.

Run Down by a Train

Milford, Conn., May 19.—Tomasso Fusci and Francesco Costello, two track laborers, were killed last night while walking on the railroad tracks here. Both men stepped off the eastbound track to get out of the way of a train and they were run down by a west-bound train. Both men lived in Bridgeport.

Father Wants to Find Son

New York, May 19.—A reward of $1000 is offered by James C. Blagden for information as to the whereabouts of Philip S. Blagden, his son. Young Blagden was a bank clerk employed at the Liberty National bank in this city. He is 30 years old. Blagden's accounts are said to be correct.

Suicide's Identity Unrevealed

Boston, May 19.—Men and women have flocked to the undertaking room in Cambridge where the body of the young woman found in the Charles river last Saturday night is awaiting identification, but no clew of the unfortunate's identity has developed.

City Officials Indicted

Colorado Springs, Col., May 19.—Chief of Police King and Alderman St. John are under arrest on indictments returned by the grand jury. The police chief is charged with having secreted witnesses and the alderman with having solicited and accepted a bribe.

Another Jump In Cotton

New York, May 19.—There was another exciting day on the cotton exchange, the scenes surpassing those witnessed last week. All records for the present movement were broken. May sold as high as 11.68c and July up to 11.26c.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Wednesday, May 20.
Sun rises—4:19; sets—7:03.
Moon rises—12:44 a. m.
High water—5:30 a. m.; 6 p. m.

The weather continues dry and warm in the Ohio valley and eastward to the Atlantic. The weather in New England will be fair and warmer.

LET LIGHT INTO THE HOUSE

Better to Have Wall Paper Fade Than Your Children.

Most housekeepers yearn after artistic home furnishing, and few can resist the temptation to shroud the windows in heavy tapestried hangings and to draw down the shades in order to carefully exclude any beams of sunshine which might have the audacity to peep in. Oh, the placid egotism of finite intellect!

Subdued light is essential to artistic effect in your handsomely furnished parlor, is it, madam? We must assume, then, that art had little to do with the creation and that a sad offense against good taste was committed in that time so very, very long ago when, the beautifying of this poor old world being all complete, "there was light."

Do the trees and the grass and the flowers ever suffer in appearance from being viewed in the strong radiance of sunshine? It is the false complexion that blooms best in shadow. If your rooms will not bear the light, it is the fault of the furnishing. Choose the better part. If need be, banish those dust catching cabinets, those delicate and perhaps slightly soiled upholsteries, those buhl tables and gilt chairs, too ornate for the common daylight.

And yet, again, if you dared put up your shades those bright, intrusive rays would spoil the carpet, would they? Don't have carpet, then; don't have rugs; don't have hand painted cushions; don't have silk tissued draperies; don't have anything inimical to the free admittance of the blessed sunshine, which disinfects and beautifies and makes healthful whatever it is permitted to shine upon. It is better to see the roses on your wall paper fade than those on the cheeks of your children.

It is a mistake to suppose that the beautiful house is the gloomy one, where the guest takes a header, as it were, into the parlor, trusting that luck will help him to a chair, and where people engaged in conversation peer at each other out of dusky corners. Let in the light, with its accompanying cheer and gladness.—Exchange.

Folding Workbag.

Here is an invaluable little comfort for the home, and it is easily made. It is a folding workbag, the frame of which may be made of either straight or curved strips of wood, with a pivot or wooden peg through the legs, fitted loosely enough to allow the frame to close and open. The bag may be made of mercerized cotton or denim and has a row of handy pockets inside for the little odds and ends that the busy sewer needs.

THE WORKBAG OPEN.

The Beautiful American Woman.

Are American women growing better looking? is a question raised occasionally by magazine writers, and then they write long essays to prove that they are. The truth is that American women are and always have been good looking. What often leads to the general remark that women look more beautiful today than formerly is the difference between the styles of wearing apparel in vogue now and those of fifty years ago. At a theater or social party it is sometimes difficult to discover which is the daughter and which the mother nowadays, because one looks about as youthful in appearance as the other.—Boston Globe.

Children and Sweets.

If the children covet sweets, let them have them, but the proper kind of sweets. Cheap candies, too much jam, sweet cakes and lumps of sugar are bad. Pure chocolate, not chocolate candies, and honey are good. Honey is more easily assimilated than many "predigested" foods. It is a concentrated food and furnishes the same elements of nutrition as starch and sugar, imparting warmth and energy.

The Flour Barrel.

Keep a flour barrel elevated at least two inches from the floor on a rack to allow a current of fresh air to pass under it and prevent dampness collecting at the bottom. Do not allow any groceries or provisions with a strong odor near the flour barrel. Nothing absorbs odors more certainly than flour.

Soap.

Soap improves with keeping, so it should be bought in large quantities. Before storing it, however, it is well to cut the bars into convenient pieces, for this is most easily done when it is soft. The cutting may be done with a piece of string or wire more easily than with a knife.

Mattress Filling.

One of the cheapest things with which to fill a mattress is a pine fiber, and it is a pretty good sort of filling. No one without experience can imagine the different varieties of hair which go into mattresses of different grades. There are eight or nine different kinds or mixtures.

IGHT INTO THE HOUSE to Have Wall Paper Fade Than Your Children.

housekeepers yearn after artis- furnishing, and few can re- temptation to shroud the win- heavy tapestried hangings and down the shades in order to exclude any beams of sun- hich might have the audacity in. Oh, the placid egotism of tellect!

ed light is essential to artistic your handsomely furnished s it, madam? We must as- en, that art had little to do creation and that a sad of- ainst good taste was commit- at time so very, very long ago e beautifying of this poor old eing all complete, "there was trees and the grass and the ver suffer in appearance from ewed in the strong radiance of ? It is the false complexion oms best in shadow. If your ll not bear the light, it is the the furnishing. Choose the art. If need be, banish those ching cabinets, those delicate haps slightly soiled uphol- those buhl tables and gilt o ornate for the common day-et, again, if you dared put up ades those bright, intrusive uld spoil the carpet, would Don't have carpet, then; don't gs; don't have hand painted ; don't have silk tissued dra- on't have anything inimical to admittance of the blessed sun- hich disinfects and beautifies kes healthful whatever it is d to shine upon. It is better he roses on your wall paper n those on the cheeks of your mistake to suppose that the house is the gloomy one, e guest takes a header, as it o the parlor, trusting that luck him to a chair, and where ngaged in conversation peer at r out of dusky corners. Let ght, with its accompanying d gladness.—Exchange.

Folding Workbag.

an invaluable little comfort ome, and it is easily made. lding workbag, the frame of y be made of either straight strips of wood, with a pivot

THE WORKBAG OPEN.

en peg through the legs, fitted enough to allow the frame to d open. The bag may be made erized cotton or denim and has f handy pockets inside for the ds and ends that the busy sew-eautiful American Woman.

erican women growing better is a question raised occa- by magazine writers, and then te long essays to prove that . The truth is that American re and always have been good What often leads to the gen- mark that women look more l today than formerly is the e between the styles of wear- rel in vogue now and those of rs ago. At a theater or social is sometimes difficult to dis- ich is the daughter and which her nowadays, because one out as youthful in appearance her.—Boston Globe.

Children and Sweets.

children covet sweets, let them em, but the proper kind of Cheap candies, too much jam, kes and lumps of sugar are e chocolate, not chocolate can- honey are good. Honey is ily assimilated than many sted" foods. It is a concen- od and furnishes the same ele- nutrition as starch and sugar, warmth and energy.

The Flour Barrel.

flour barrel elevated at least es from the floor on a rack to current of fresh air to pass and prevent dampness collect- e bottom. Do not allow any or provisions with a strong r the flour barrel. Nothing odors more certainly than mproves with keeping, so it e bought in large quantities. oring it, however, it is well e bars into convenient pieces, s most easily done when it is e cutting may be done with a string or wire more easily h a knife.

Soap.

Mattress Filling.

f the cheapest things with fill a mattress is a pine fiber, a pretty good sort of filling. without experience can imag- different varieties of hair which mattresses of different grades. re eight or nine different kinds ures.

Piazza Furniture.

For nearly four months the piazza of your home will be used for rest and recreation. Afternoons, evenings and Sundays, every member of your family will spend their leisure moments there. There also, you will receive and entertain your friends, and your pleasure and comfort will be two fold if you have the proper piazza Furniture.

This means but trifling expense if you make your selection from our complete and low priced stock.

Piazza Rockers,	89c. to $3.50.
Hammocks,	69c. to $4.59.
Lawn Settees,	98c. to $1.25.
Lawn Swings,	$5.00.

Our Piazza Furniture will last for years.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store.

Hancock Street. Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

May 16. 6t

Jeweler's Building, Boston. Brewers Corner, Quincy.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

Three at Norfolk Downs,

VERY DESIRABLE ONES

and Everett.

others at Quincy Point, Houghs Neck, Malden

A. S. SANDBERG,

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON.

Quincy, April 23. tf

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder,

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.

Quincy, May 9. 1m

If You Have a House to Let,

Advertise It in the Ledger

THE MODERN SALESMAN.

He Realizes the Necessity For Correct Dress In Business.

It has become the unwritten but none the less stringent law that young men shall dress well and neatly during business hours. In many of the largest banks and financial institutions none of the clerks is permitted to go coatless, and in the mercantile establishments where salesmen are employed "loud" attire is actually discouraged. The old time salesman gloried in his flamboyant cravats and shirts, his diamonds and his peculiar clothes. His capital in trade consisted of a flashy appearance, vulgar stories, a constitution that would stand intoxicating liquor and an unlimited amount of cheek. He did not have to know anything about the goods he sold, except in a general way. He slapped men on the back, took them out to dinner, got drunk with them and then booked their orders. The modern salesman is a well educated, neatly dressed gentleman who knows all about the goods he sells. He is never called upon to drink, he never needs to dine out, he trades on honor and brains, and his customers are men who only admire men who know as much as or more than they do about their business. Dress plays the most important part in the game of commerce, no less with the salesman than it does with the manufacturer, the mill man, the banker or the financial man. They all dress to impress their fellow men favorably. —C. M. Connolly in Success.

Got the Oysters.

A captain of a Massachusetts regiment, stationed in Washington at the time of the civil war, was noted for his love of good things to eat and one day dispatched one of his soldiers, a man named Bailey, to Alexandria to get some fresh oysters, giving him instructions not to return without them. The man started, and no more was seen of him for nine days. The Washington Times prints the story of his return:

After a lapse of nine days Bailey came into camp leading a train of four horse wagons, loaded with oysters. Approaching and respectfully saluting the amazed captain, Bailey said:

"Here are your oysters, captain. Couldn't find any in Alexandria, so I chartered a schooner and made a voyage to Fortress Monroe and Norfolk for them. There are about 200 bushels. Where do you want 'em?"

Bailey did really make the trip, hired his men and sold oysters enough in Georgetown before "reporting" to pay all expenses and leave him a profit of about $100. The 200 bushels were divided among the members of the regiment, and Bailey returned to his duty.

Paper Making and the Egyptians.

The art of paper making is almost prehistoric. It is believed that the Egyptians invented the first crude process. This is shown in the name itself, which is derived from the word papyrus, a reed which grows in Egypt and other warm countries.

The ancient Egyptians made their primitive paper from this plant by taking the smooth, fibrous layer between the rough outer bark and the inner flesh of the reed. This they dried and glued together in long rolls, which served as a means to convey their thoughts in hieroglyphics. This process has been so improved upon during the succeeding ages that today the most perfect paper can be made from the meanest substances.

Home Treatment.

In Ohio, as in several other states, persons condemned to death are taken to the state capital for execution.

Recently in the Greene county court a jury was being chosen to try a murder case.

One member of the panel had been asked the usual questions and had given satisfactory answers until the lawyer for the defense inquired:

"Do you believe in capital punishment?"

"No, sir," was the prompt reply; "I believe in hanging them right here at home."—What to Eat.

Caged Birds Live Longest.

Many people declaim against the cruelty of keeping birds in cages, but it is a well proved truth that cage birds live about six times as long as a wild bird, and the bird invariably becomes so fond of its owner and its surroundings that when the cage is thrown open it will not fly away. It suffers so little from solitude that if a prospective mate is introduced it hits her on the head at first for her impudence in daring to intrude into a private apartment.

Bird Superstitions.

According to a superstition which holds sway in some parts of Ireland, the sedge warblers possess the souls of unbaptized babes and sing their sorrow at the midnight hour, while the linnet, yellow hammer and finch sing their plaintive and tender songs to remind us they are souls of departed friends not yet relieved from purgatorial pains. The bittern is their herald at night.—Irish Times.

A Sermon on Money.

"No, my son," said the Bilville parent; "money doesn't bring happiness. It only pays house rent and the grocery bill and makes the bailiff and the bill collector respect us six days in the week while the parson gives us the halleluia smile on Sunday."—Atlanta Constitution.

A Shocking Drinker.

The Girl—Does he drink so terribly?

The Guy—Yes, indeed; pours it out into his saucer.—Kansas City Independent.

If you have a good temper, keep it; if you have a bad one, don't lose it.—Columbia Jester.

RUSSIA IN MANCHURIA.

Her Policy In the East Outlined by Edwin Wildman.

NOT TO PLUNDER A HEMISPHERE

Out of a Chaotic Territory She Is Establishing Form and Is Bringing Life to the Latent Possibilities of a Senile People, Says Ex-American Consul at Hongkong—Black Bear Watchful of England.

"Stop thief!" Great Britain cries every time Russia lays a new tie or pitches a Cossack tent on Manchurian soil. "Maintain the status quo!" she shrieks. "Keep the door open!"

Fine sounding phrases! Lofty sentiments! Disinterested warnings! But belated, says Edwin Wildman, former United States consul at Hongkong, in the New York Herald.

Russia is not in Manchuria by the accident of war, not to avenge the murder of a missionary nor to wrench from China an indemnity as a sop for injured feelings. Her presence in the east is constructive, racial and permanent. She is not there to plunder a hemisphere of its wealth, to sap a nation of its strength, to enrich herself by the energies of pauper labor nor to subjugate a people. Russia is not a vandal, a freebooter or a territorial highwayman.

She has come to Asia with a full purse and a strong arm to build railways and cities, to cultivate and develop productive but neglected soil, to employ a population in the arts of peace and industry. Her mission is not philanthropic, neither is it destructive. In Manchuria she is planting her civilization. She is paying her gold, injecting her energies and out of a chaotic and hitherto unfruitful territory is establishing form, enforcing order and bringing to life the latent possibilities of a senile people.

There is the stamp of permanency upon Russia's structural operations in Asia. She is there to stay. Her railroad is there, her Siberian peasants are flocking thither, her Cossack guards are there, her fortifications are there, her outlet to the Pacific is there, her civilization is there, her trade will grow there, and her sturdy race of men and women will increase and prosper on the fertile soil of the vast territory that her enterprise has opened up to the inhabitants of the cold north and to the trade of the world.

There is no evidence in her policy that it is Russia's aim to denude the territory of its forests, to take from the country its gold and silver and coal, to suck up the soil of its richness and then retire. There is no such precedent in Russia's history.

The Boxer outbreak and the nearing completion of the Transsiberian railway threw the white light upon Russia's activities in Manchuria. The Englishman read the handwriting on the wall and sounded the alarm, rushed into German and Japanese alliances and warned the United States that the presence of Russia meant death to the "open door" and the end of the American trade extension in the north; meant the partition of China and the "yellow, or Asiatic, peril," the Slav conquest of the universe!

Russia became the object of fierce suspicion. Her railroad, her troops, her civilization, were the dragnet that threatened the sovereignty of Manchuria. Her armada hovered along the coast from Port Arthur to Vladivostok, lay off the bar by Taku and pushed its nose up the Woosung river toward Shanghai. Her peasants poured across the Amur river, and her Cossacks raised the standard of the white czar in the coveted territory of Manchuria.

Russia has spent a hundred millions of dollars to open the window on the Pacific, she had pushed her treaty rights to the doorstep of British ingressions in China, and she had established her physical and moral influence along the northernmost border of a province covering 360,000 square miles and containing seven and a half millions of people, and the "Son of Heaven," sitting on the dragon throne in Peking, had not protested. On the contrary, he had granted rights and astounded the comparative nations in the Chinese mart. He had by treaty "recognized that Russia should possess a station that she can defend" and had leased for twenty-five years Port Arthur, Talienwan and adjacent seas, the lease to "be extended by mutual agreement between China and Russia. To the north of the territory leased, to the Amur river, perhaps, shall be a zone * * * China may not quarter her troops there without the consent of Russia."

Great Britain was aroused. The alarming evidences of the increasing friendship of Russia and China staggered her. China had made an ally of her neighbor. She had checkmated the ambitions of "foreigners," for Russia was never looked upon as other than Asiatic by the Mantchoo rulers of China, and the "break up" that might give Great Britain and Germany an oriental empire had been averted. The two great Asiatic races were dovetailed, and at last, after a century, China was at peace with her ancient foes across the great wall. A Russo-Chinese bank completed the bond and brought China under the protecting wings of the double eagle. The masterful diplomacy of Li Hung Chang was revealed.

And now a new era opens up to the powers. When the final rail is laid between Lake Baikal and the coast the white czar will at last compete in the marts of China, and his influence in the oriental Asia will be a vital force. In ten days he can send merchandise to the Yellow sea, and in return he can carry the products of the east and of America over his own route to Russia, and, not of less importance, he can place troops in Manchuria at the rate of 2,000 a day. He can commissary and coal a fleet off Vladivostok and Port Arthur; can snap his fingers at Great Britain and laugh in the face of Japan. He can cross his bayonets over the doors of Manchuria, send an army to Tientsin, to Peking and close the north of China.

But of what avail? Russia is not mad. She is not a hermit nation. She has not come into the east to raise batteries to trade, to dwarf the growth of her own civilization, to stunt her own progress. She aspires, as the United States aspired, to carry her flag and her civilization across the North American continent. Her world policy, from Peter the Great to Nicholas II., is a history of expansion, a look toward seas where her fleets may sail as free as those of other nations, with harbors and ports where her own flag bids them welcome.

Russia has not put her millions into steel rails, iron bridges, telegraph wires, embryonic cities, vast agricultural stations, to invite destruction and the enmity of nations. Her ambition in the east is no greater than made England and Germany empires—the United States a world power.

If China is to be partitioned, Russia's position will demand the share that by racial and natural homogeneousness she is heir to. If China's integrity is to be preserved, Russia will play her part in its rehabilitation and vitalization. Her very life and being depend upon her strength and growth on the Pacific.

Russia's position in Manchuria is not a menace to civilization or trade. It has not been in the past and it cannot be in the future—not until the genius and industry of America, England and Germany bow down before the Slav.

At Newchwang, 100 miles from the guns of Russia at Port Arthur, British merchants are in the ascendant and carry on the bulk of trade, the Chinaman himself controlling or playing an important part in every large mercantile house in the port. So it is at Shanhaikwan and at Tientsin, while at Vladivostok German and Japanese merchants are in the majority. In all Manchuria, despite the presence of Russian engineers and Cossacks, Great Britain's trade is over £3,000,000. Russia's is practically nothing, eliminating her railroad operations. Such evidences of the "open door" do not portend, to a sane mind, predatory tendencies on the part of the czar, even though war alarms continue to emanate from Peking.

Had Russia spent $100,000,000 in Great Britain (instead of in America) for the purchase of her thousands of miles of steel, her hundreds of locomotives, her millions of ties, her tons of telegraph wire, her ice crushing ships; had she bought her cotton sheetings in Manchester, her flour in Australia and her tinned goods in England, and had she borrowed her money in London, her presence in Manchuria would not have been heralded as a menace to the world, a slap at the "open door," a step in the break up of China.

Great Britain is alarmed and imbittered. Her trade is no longer paramount in Asia. Her fleet in Chinese waters is not supreme. The Muscovite has out-Britoned the Briton in the north of China, and the Briton, dreaming of what he has been, now rises green eyed at the calm, forceful policy of Russia and cries, "Wolf!"

We have nothing to fear from Russia's position in the east. Two-thirds of the imports into Manchuria are the product of American industry. Our rails, our engines, our bridges, our windmills, our wire, our scales, our canned goods, cloth, plows, mowing and reaping and sewing machines, electric lights and a thousand and one other products of our skilled labor are going to Siberia and Manchuria by the shipload. They will continue to go while Russia pursues her policy of expansion in her Asiatic empire. A million and a half tons of steel alone will be required to double track her Transsiberian railway, and this feat is Russia's dream. And she will not stand by idly while Germany girdles Shangtung with her 600 miles of track, while the Belgians construct a line from Peking to Hankow, the Americans from Hankow to Canton and the British connect Tientsin with the vast coal mines of Shensi.

Russia, too, will continue to extend her activities, but they will not signify conquest of territory or sovereignty to a greater extent than do the enterprises of other nations in China in like undertakings. Her conquest is primarily commercial, strategic and international, in a sense that she has an eye to future expediencies, but she will take no greater advantage of her position in Manchuria than Great Britain has in the Yangtse valley and in the Kwangtung province; than Germany has in Shangtung or Japan has in Korea.

Yet the black bear is watchful. He is ready to defend his position, and at the first step Briton or Teuton takes to bring pressure on China and assert suzerainty or dispute her treaty rights in the Liaotung peninsula the flag of the white czar will be raised in Manchuria, and it may not stop there. But Russia's policy is defensive. The bear will hibernate until goaded from his lair by the avarice and aggressions of his neighbors.

Shall our hand be raised in warning to Russia or to Great Britain?

Concerning Home Runs.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "doesn't it depress people when some one makes a home run at a baseball game?"

"I should say not! How could it?"

"I should think it would remind a lot of men who are late for dinner of what they ought to be doing."—Washington Star.

NEW VEGETABLES.

Strange Varieties Being Introduced Here From Mexico and Europe.

The department of agriculture is making experiments with many new vegetables which are expected to prove useful in the United States if the people can be persuaded to grow them, says the Saturday Evening Post. Its explorers are fetching them from various parts of the world, especially from Mexico, which is known to possess many food plants that would be of much value if introduced into the United States.

Among the available Mexican vegetables are various kinds of peppers and several species of tomatoes which are unknown to us. For example, there is the husk tomato, which is about the size of a horse chestnut and is contained in a sort of detachable rind that is removed when the fruit is ripe as a preliminary to cooking it. It is not good raw, but is said to be excellent when stewed or fried. The Mexicans preserve it as a sweet pickle.

Then there is a brand new kind of cucumber which is quite an oddity in its way inasmuch as it explodes with a loud report when ripe, throwing its red seeds to a distance. Its chief use is as a medicine, but the vine on which it grows is so handsome as to be desirable for gardens. More valuable is a giant okra lately obtained from Europe which has pods five or six times the ordinary size. Soon doubtless it will be commonly grown in the United States and will be obtainable in our markets. It has a delightful flavor.

Another European vegetable which Uncle Sam wants to introduce is the tuber of a plant that looks a good deal like marsh grass. It is only about as big as a hazelnut and when eaten raw resembles cocoanut in flavor. This is called chervil and may be cooked in a variety of ways. The plant is a kind of sedge.

Special attention is being paid to the cultivation of new pot herbs on the experimental farm which the government maintains near Washington, and the seeds of the best of these when a sufficient supply has been obtained will be distributed to farmers and gardeners. Notable among them is a plant from India called basella, which bears fruits that look like little blackberries. It is a vine, has pink blossoms resembling those of the arbutus and is said to be delicious.

WASHINGTON'S NEW DEPOT

Plans Provide For Private Entrance For President and His Family.

The plans made by D. H. Burnham of Chicago, the architect of the world's fair in 1893, for the Union station at Washington for the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore and Ohio railroads were submitted to the District government the other day, says the New York Times. They provide for a station 760 feet wide, with room in the train shed for eighteen trains side by side and six more leading out of the tunnel on a lower level, making twenty-four trains in all that are to be accommodated at one time in the new structure. The train shed will not be constructed with one big arch, but with three, on pillars and piers, so that the height of the shed may be lower than the main front of the building.

The carriage porticos on each side of the station will be capable of sheltering 200 vehicles at one time. A unique feature of the building will be a private entrance and waiting room for the president of the United States. This will fill a long felt want. Whenever the president goes or comes there is always a large crowd at the station, often making it nearly impossible for the traveling public to move. The members of the president's family are also often seriously inconvenienced by the throng, and the special waiting room is intended to obviate any difficulty on that score.

LORENZ ON HIS METHOD.

Never Claimed Priority, He Says, but Only Improvement.

Dr. Adolf Lorenz said to a reporter of the New York Times in an interview recently at New Orleans concerning bloodless surgery: "It is charged that I claim to be the originator of this method, but I do not claim priority in the treatment at all. Such priority would not be of value. Any sensible man could make this class of invention. Some smart midwife of the middle ages probably first tried this method.

"I only claim to have introduced more technic and thoroughness into an old method which was long neglected. I am now only trying to make this method popular for the benefit that will accrue to all mankind from it, and I think I have incidentally made quite a success of it. The dissecting knife is being left out in the treatment of congenital foot and hip trouble."

A Children's Exchange.

There is being revived in Berlin this spring a curious arrangement called "the exchange of children," which was adopted by some charitable people last year and which has been commended to the charitably disposed of the British islands, says the St. James Gazette. The promoters arrange for the temporary interchange of city and country children for a few months in the summer. Those from the farms come into the city, which is a valuable educational experience for them, and those in the city have an opportunity to enjoy a little country life without depriving the parents of either the country or town children of assistance.

Traveling Libraries.

In Sweden books are placed in third class railway cars for the free use of passengers. A similar plan is about to be adopted in Denmark.

Quincy Daily Ledger.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS and at the following places:

BOSTON—Terminus News Stand after 35
QUI[illegible]—Ledger Office, 1420 Hancock St.
[illegible] Periodical Store, 1 Faneuil St.
Hotel Kimball, City Square
Rogers Bros., Hancock St.
J[illegible] Hotel, 1590 Hancock St.
C[illegible] near Quincy Depot.
A. F. Hall, 128 Washington St., near Canal.
QUINCY POINT—Miss Freeman's store
Sprague & Hobart, Washington cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—F. L. Litchfield, Main St.
E. Nightingale, 80 Water street.
D. Clark, 69 Liberty St.
WEST QUINCY—Coram's Periodical Store
BRAINTREE—Corner Drug Store
WOLLASTON—Shunk's news stand
WOLLASTON PARK—C. E. Hosmer, cor. Hancock and Beach streets.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Bruscheid & Martens.
ATLANTIC—Bruscheid & Martens.
HOUGHS NECK—Arthur Dunham at P. O.
EAST MILTON—William Clark
EAST WEYMOUTH—George H. Hunt.
WEST MOUTH—J. R. Wash.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—B. F. Thomas.

1903 MAY 1903
Su.	Mo.	Tu.	We.	Th.	Fr.	Sa.
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24	25	26	27	28	29	30
31

MOON'S PHASES.
First Quarter 4 day 2 hr 11 min P.M.
Full Moon 11 day 8 hr 28 min P.M.
Last Quarter 19 day 10 hr 33 min A.M.
New Moon 26 day 8 hr 28 min P.M.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Dr. T. J. Dion is confined to his home by illness.

Dr. S. A. Elsworth's house on Russell park has been painted, the same colors being retained, and it looks very attractive.

The "Choral Society" will give its second concert of the season at the Baptist Church, Wollaston tomorrow evening, with Mr. Charles B. Stevens as conducter.

Mrs. Gragg of 13 River street, Milton will give a social whist on Friday evening to her many friends for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society of this city.

The young, bright and interesting actress, Virginia Thornton, has closed her season's engagement and is now taking a much needed rest at the home of her uncle James Levering of Calumet street, Norfolk Downs.

Hancock hall was filled to overflowing Monday night at the benefit dance to Thomas Murphy. Over one hundred couples participated. The committee in charge were John J. McDonald, Daniel Doran, John Crotty, Edward Crotty, Henry Gilrain and John Foye.

The Ward One branch of the People's union holds a public meeting at Colonial hall this evening at eight o'clock. An interesting talk on the Auburndale Improvement association will be given by its president Mr. A. C. Farley, after which there will be a general discussion of possible work in Quincy. It is hoped that every one will show their interest by attending and offering suggestions.

Quincy Post Office.

Letters unclaimed for week ending Monday, May 18:

Aron Adamsons, Jacbop Binola, Luigi Buirnetti, Agostini Cantalini, George E. Dumas, Arthur E. Hodkins, D. J. McLeer, Mary Murray, Mr. Oliver, Andrew Perkins, Thomas S. Phillips, Joel Lutine Francesco Tametta, Thomas Treloan, Bernochor Trylpium.

Miss Olgar Anderson, Miss Nellie May Bliss, Miss Johanna Daly.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus oftenbefore medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

BORN.

HUTT—In South Quincy, May 15, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hutt of Pearl street.

O'BRIEN—In Quincy, May 17, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John P. O'Brien, nee Haley, of Newcomb street.

MARRIED.

CURNEY-WALTER—In Boston, May 17, by Rev. T. J. Bemey, Mr. Peter W. Curney to Miss Elizabeth R. Walter both of Quincy.

DIED.

SICTO—In Quincy, May 18, Margrie, daughter of Mr. Joseph and Mrs. Marie Sicto at 18 Newcomb street, aged 6 years and 6 months.

FRANK F. CRANE,
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17.

SMOKE THE GOVERNESS.
UNION MADE.
Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers
Manufactured by
P. A. NELSON,
59 Granite Street.
Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

IT HAS BEEN SAID

That it takes a rich man to draw a check, a horse to draw a car a pretty girl to draw attention, toper to draw a cork, a free lunch to draw a crowd, and an advertisement in the home paper to draw trade.

IF INTERESTED

Drop a postal to the office of the Daily Ledger and we wil send our advertising man around. Only 5 cents per Inch per day by the Month.

King Arthur Flour
Sold in Quincy by
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

"SAVE THE DIMES, THE DOLLARS WILL TAKE CARE OF THEMSELVES."

GET ONE OF OUR HOME BANKS THAT WE LOAN FREE TO ANY ONE WHO OPENS AN ACCOUNT OF $1.00

The National Mount Wollaston Bank,
QUINCY, MASS.

WE PAY THREE PER CENT. INTEREST ON HOME BANK DEPOSITS. Invites your business. A general Banking Business conducted in a safe, conservative manner. We give careful attention to small accounts as well as large. For the benefit and assistance of saving depositors, we have adopted the Home Bank System of the W. F. Burns Co., New York and Chicago. These are handsome oxidized steel banks, with Yale lock, and we will loan one without charge to any person opening a savings account with us. The banks help you to save, as they afford a safe, convenient place in which to accumulate small accounts, and as we keep the key, you cannot be tempted to spend what you have saved. In order to give everyone an opportunity to try our new plan for saving, we have decided to loan a bank to anyone who wishes to Open a Bank Account of One Dollar.

THE NATIONAL MOUNT WOLLASTON BANK,
Chartered as a National Bank 1864.

Capital, $150,000. Undivided Profits, $90,000. Deposits, $360,000.
Total Dividends Paid, $496,500.

Transacts a General Banking Business. Accounts received on favorable Terms.

OFFICERS

Charles A. Howland, PRESIDENT. Horace F. Spear, CASHIER.

DIRECTORS

CHARLES A. HOWLAND, President and Treasurer Quincy Mutual Fire Ins. Co. Trustee Quincy Savings Bank.
HORACE B. SPEAR, Retired. Treasurer of Quincy 18 years. Cashier National Mount Wollaston Bank 16 years. Trustee Quincy Savings Bank.
HERBERT F. DOBLE, Wholesale Groceries, Provisions, Flour and Grain.
GEO. HARVEY FIELD, Real Estate and Insurance. Vice-President Quincy Co-operative Bank.
LESTER M PRATT, Wholesale and Retail Grocer.
HENRY M. FAXON, Real Estate.
GEORGE W. MORTON, Capitalist. Trustee Quincy Savings Bank. Director Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Co.
FRANK S. PATCH, Proprietor C. Patch & Son, Coal and Wood. Meadow Brook Ice Co. Director Quincy Co-operative Bank.

BANK HOURS: 8.30 to 3. Saturdays, 8.30 to 12.

Have You Some Ready Money to Accept a Good Business Offer.

"READY MONEY" is a Remedy for Many Ills.

Cornelius Vanderbilt's rule for saving: "No matter what I was earning, I always made it a rule to save some thing." The money will pile up in time."
A Glass Blower Said: "I could easily have saved $20.00 a week for the past thirty years." Now if he had only saved $10.00 a week for thirty years he would have in the bank today $25,217.50. Think it over—figure out what he could have saved.
A Lady Teacher who had $750.00 in bank said: "I never would have saved a cent but for the little HOME SAVINGS BANK.
Three girls purchased a $200.00 piano after using a Little Bank eighteen months.

YOU have the BANK, WE have the KEY.

This is the Bank.

DID YOU EVER CONSIDER

How much money you were spending thoughtlessly?
You are earning money every day?
Are you saving any money?
Could you easily save more?

Save Your Nickles, Pennies and Dimes,

The interest you get makes the Dollars.
And thus the little savings will grow into mighty dollars.
Call and get one of these little home savings banks tomorrow free.

The $1.00 with which you open the account draws at THREE PER CENT. and will be returned when you close your account. It's what you save, and not what you earn, that makes you wealthy. Our representative will call on you to explain our savings plan, and will leave a Home Bank with you if you deposit $1.00 with which to open the account.

Call and ask for a Little Bank. Write or telephone and We Will Deliver a Bank at Your Home.

Begin saving today and in a few short years you will have a capital with which to go in business or buy a home. Do you know that if you will save only 25 cents each working day for five years, you will have accumulated, by the aid of interest, $410.10.

THIS WILL BE YOURS IF YOU MAKE AN EFFORT.

3 Per Cent. Interest on HOme Bank Deposits.

Money Grows
BUT NOT ON TREES.
Saving Pennies
is the secret.

Anyone can save small amounts. Money at interest in the bank grows Sundays, Holidays, every hour, every day.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 118. QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY, MAY 20, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

BUY YOUR

Hot Weather Goods

—OF—

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

And get your COLD SODA

FREE.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.

Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

Glenwood Ranges

Make Cooking Easy

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO., QUINCY, MASS.

RICHARDS & MACOMBER,

PAINTERS and DECORATORS.

Whitewashing a Specialty. Sign Painting, Graining Kalsomining, Glazing.

Interior and Exterior House Painting. WE EMPLOY SKILLED WORKMEN ONLY

Drop us a postal and we will call at your residence and estimate your work.

Office and Shop, 31 SAVILLE ST.,

Bates' Block, Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, April 11. Sat., Tues., Thur. 6w

THE NATIONAL MOUNT WOLLASTON BANK,

Chartered as a National Bank 1864.

Capital, $150,000. Undivided Profits, $90,000. Deposits, $360,000.

Total Dividends Paid, $496,500.

Transacts a General Banking Business. Accounts received on favorable Terms.

OFFICERS

Charles A. Howland, PRESIDENT. Horace F. Spear, CASHIER.

DIRECTORS

CHARLES A. HOWLAND, President and Treasurer Quincy Mutual Fire Ins. Co. Trustee Quincy Savings Bank.

HORACE B. SPEAR, Retired. Treasurer of Quincy 18 years. Cashier National Mount Wollaston Bank 16 years. Trustee Quincy Savings Bank.

HERBERT F. DOBLE, Wholesale Groceries, Provisions, Flour and Grain.

GEO. HARVEY FIELD, Real Estate and Insurance. Vice-President Quincy Co-operative Bank.

LESTER M. PRATT, Wholesale and Retail Grocer.

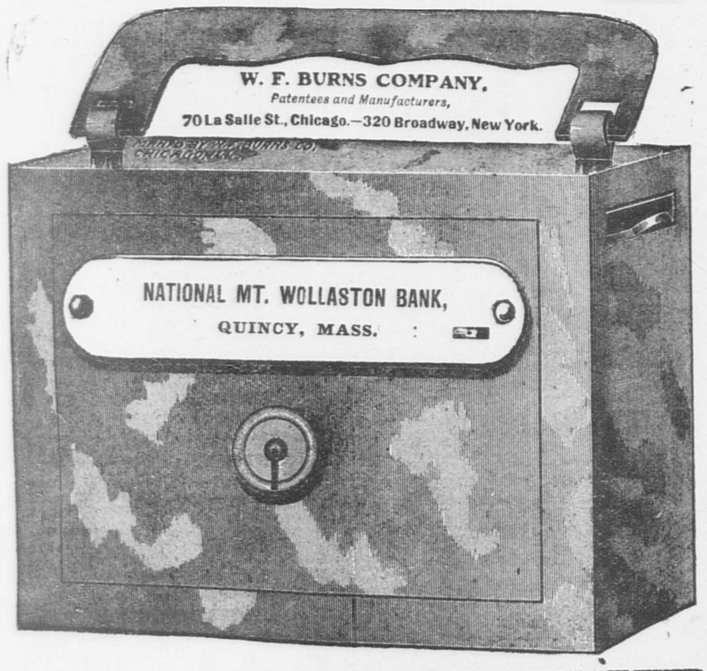

HENRY M. FAXON, Real Estate.

GEORGE W. MORTON, Capitalist. Trustee Quincy Savings Bank. Director Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

FRANK S. PATCH, Proprietor C. Patch & Son, Coal and Wood. Meadow Brook Ice Co. Director Quincy Co-operative Bank.

BANK HOURS: 8.30 to 3. Saturdays, 8.30 to 12.

YOU have the BANK, WE have the KEY.

This is the Bank.

We Pay 3 Per Cent.

INTEREST ON

HOME BANK DEPOSITS.

THE more limited your income the more imperative is your DUTY TO Save.

We have been educated to SPEND MONEY; now let us educate ourselves to SAVE MONEY instead of patronizing the various slot machines and devices for collecting small amounts or needlessly spending it "just because it is so small."

Open a Deposit Account—take a HOME BANK and DROP SOME AMOUNT INTO IT EVERY DAY. You will soon be surprised at the amount to your credit in the Bank.

CALL and ASK for a LITTLE BANK.

Write or Telephone and we will

Deliver a Bank at your Home

Begin saving today and and in a few short years you will have a capital with which to go in business or buy a home. Do you know that if you will save only 25 cents each working day for only five years, you will have accumulated by the aid of interest $419.10.

This Will Be Yours If You Make the Effort.

The $1.00 with which you open the account draws at THREE PER CENT. and will be returned when you close your account. It's what you save and not what you earn, that makes wealth. Our representative will call on you to explain our plan, and will leave a HOME BANK with you if you deposit $1.00 with which to open the account.

DID YOU EVER CONSIDER How much Money you were Spending Thoughtlessly? You are Earning Money every day? Are you Saving any Money? Could you Easily Save More?

Save Your Nickles, Pennies and Dimes.

The Interest you get makes the Dollars. And thus the little savings will grow into mighty Dollars.

Call and get one of these Little Home Banks Today FREE.

HAVE YOU SOME READY MONEY TO ACCEPT A GOOD BUSINESS OFFER? "Ready Money is a Remedy for Many Ills."

Cornelius Vanderbilt's rule for saving: "No matter what I was earning, I always made it a rule to save something. The money will pile up in time."

A Glass Blower said: "I could easily have saved $20 a week for the past thirty years." Now if he had only saved $10 a week for thirty years he would have in bank today $25,217.50. Think it over—figure out what he could have saved.

A lady teacher who had $750 in bank said: "I never would have saved a cent but for the little HOME SAVINGS BANK."

Three girls purchased a $200 piano after using a little Bank eighteen months.

HOME BANK DEPARTMENT NATIONAL MT. WOLLASTON BANK, Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, May 20. 5t 20-21-25-27-28

3 Per Cent. Interest on HOme Bank Deposits.

Money Grows

BUT NOT ON TREES.

Saving Pennies

is the secret.

Anyone can save small amounts. Money at interest in the bank grows Sundays, Holidays, every hour, every day.

"READY MONEY" is a Remedy for Many Ills.

Cornelius Vanderbilt's rule for saving: "No matter what I was earning, I always made it a rule to save some thing." The money will pile up in time."

A Glass Blower Said: "I could easily have saved $20.00 a week for the past thirty years." Now if he had only saved $10.00 a week for thirty years he would have in the bank today $25,217.50. Think it over —figure out what he could have saved.

A Lady Teacher who had $750.00 in bank said: "I never would have saved a cent but for the little HOME SAVINGS BANK."

Three girls purchased a $200.00 piano after using a little Bank eighteen months.

Have You Some Ready Money to Accept a Good Business Offer.

King Arthur Flour

Sold in Quincy by

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

FIREMEN'S BILL VETOED

Governor Bates Says No Legislation Is Necessary

HEAVY BURDEN TO CITIES

By Limiting Day's Duty to Twelve Hours—Referendum Must Not Be Carelessly Used—Attractive Conditions in Fire Departments

Boston, May 20.—Governor Bates has vetoed the firemen's bill, so-called, which provided that firemen in cities of over 40,000 population should work only 12 hours in every 24. In returning to the legislature the bill entitled "an act to regulate the hours of labor for members of the fire department in cities of more than 40,000 inhabitants," the governor said:

"This bill seems to be entirely unnecessary. Every municipality has at the present the right to fix the hours of service of its firemen. When the public sentiment of any community demands that the firemen be employed only 12 hours in 24 the public officers, who are the servants of that community, will readily grant the demand. No legislation is necessary for this purpose."

He further said that the bill, under existing statutes, is a "needless interference by the legislature with the authorities that it has constituted to attend to such matters, and would establish a precedent for all manner of legislative interference in the mere details of municipal management.

"The fact that the referendum is attached to this bill does not relieve the legislature or the executive of the responsibility. If it did, every petitioner for legislation, no matter how unreasonable the legislation might appear to be, would argue that the legislature need take no responsibility itself, but should submit his matter to the people for their determination.

"The referendum is still a new principle, as far as its application to our form of government is concerned. If it is to be of any value it must not be used carelessly. The people, in order to be relieved of just such questions as the one involved in this bill, have established a representative form of government, and they expect their representatives in the state and city not to shift the burden of responsibility back upon them, but to determine these questions by most careful study and due consideration of the welfare of the entire community."

The governor then analyzes what enactment of the bill would mean in burdening cities with expense. He said that the mayors of nearly all cities affected opposed the bill. He pays a tribute to the bravery and manhood of the firemen, and points out what is done by them for municipalities. In the veto the governor says:

"Their pay is sure, and there is no deduction for stormy weather. Contrast the pay which they receive with the skilled mechanic, from whose ranks firemen are often recruited, and it will be found that their compensation is larger, and larger also than the average compensation paid to employes in the mercantile world. In every city there are numbers of men who are anxious to enter the fire department and the men rarely leave it. The mayor of one city informs me that there has been no voluntary retirement from the fire department in his city during the last 10 years. Men are constantly changing their occupations because they are unsatisfactory, and the fact that men do not leave the fire department must be taken as, in a measure, indicating that the conditions of life in the fire departments are attractive."

He said that the most important reason for objecting to the bill is the expense involved. In Boston the increased cost would be $893,000 a year, in Worcester $155,000, in Lowell $85,000, in Lynn $62,000, in Somerville $50,000 and in Fall River $119,000.

The sentimental plea that if the bill became a law it would tend to increase the moral condition among the firemen is answered by the governor, who says that if that plea is worth anything, the cities under 40,000 inhabitants should be protected as well as those of 40,000 inhabitants or over.

Governor's Word Unreliable

London, May 20.—The Times' St. Petersburg correspondent, in a dispatch dealing with the dismissal of Governor Raaben of Kishineff, says the conduct of the governor in allowing by his inaction the anti-Jewish riots to develop into a massacre is all the more incomprehensible because he had assured the Jews who warned him and appealed for protection that every precaution had been taken to suppress disorder.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. This signature E. W. Grove on every box, 25c

LIGHTNING'S PRANKS

Two Men Killed and Damage to Property During Severe Storm

South Framingham, Mass., May 20.—During a severe thunderstorm yesterday afternoon the lightning not only did much damage to telephone wires, caused delay to street railway traffic and entered several houses, causing slight damage, but also killed two Italian laborers and a pair of horses. The Italians were employed as railroad section hands and had taken shelter beneath a large tree.

Fall River, Mass., May 20.—Lightning twice entered the house of Benjamin Wilbur and gave successive light shockks to Mrs. Wilbur and her two children. The furniture was broken and thrown about. Street cars were disabled and the signal service between this city and Newport was burned out. Two men who were trying to use the telephone were thrown down, both getting severe bodily injuries. A horse was killed in the street.

Newport, R. I., May 20.—As the steamer City of Newport was leaving Conanicut park there came a sharp flash of lightning, which buried itself not many feet away from the bow of the steamer. Many on board felt the shock. When the steamer reached her wharf in this city soon afterward, Manuel Souza, a deckhand, who was hauling the stern line, sustained an electric shock so severe that he was thrown to the deck, where he lay for some time unconscious.

Hyde Park, Mass., May 20.—During a heavy thunderstorm a bolt of lightning struck the Hyde Park electric light and power station, disabling the main generator and stopping for two hours all traffic on the Norfolk division of the Old Colony street railway, which obtains its power from this station. There was some excitement on a car near Forest Hills, where a fuse burned out. One woman fainted and other passengers were greatly frightened as the lightning played along the wires at either end of the car. Two or three houses were struck by the lightning in different sections of the town.

Schwab Remembers Native Town

Williamsburg, Pa., May 20.—Williamsburg gave a great welcome to its distinguished son, Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation. The occasion was the laying of the corner stone of the Williamsburg paper mill, an industrial enterprise to which Mr. Schwab contributed $100,000. Several addresses were delivered laudatory of Schwab, who promised to stand by the local paper industry to his last dollar. Mr. Schwab announced that he would place in the hands of a local committee $10,000 worth of paper mill stock to be distributed to the worthy poor.

Exceptions to Cassini's Statement

London, May 20.—The Jews of London are very indignant at the assertion of Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador at Washington, that the troubles at Kishineff were the outcome of the usury of the money lenders. The editor of The Jewish World offers to give $250 to any American charitable institution named by Count Cassini if the latter can substantiate his assertion to the satisfaction of three Americans of standing in the United States.

Powers Not Showing Fair Spirit

Washington, May 20.—Mexico is the only one of the peace powers that has adhered to The Hague arbitration protocol signed by Mr. Bowen last winter and by Secretary Hay for the United States. The other powers have shown a singular and unexplainable indifference. If this attitude is unchanged the entire expense of the presentation of the case of the powers before The Hague will fall on the United States and Mexico.

Opposed to Seating of Smoot

Buffalo, May 20.—At the second day's session of the Women's Baptist Home Mission society resolutions were adopted opposing the seating of Reed Smoot in the United States senate and petitioning the senate to exclude Smoot from its councils and to take such initiative as may be necessary to secure an amendment to the constitution making polygamy a crime against the organic law of the land.

Not a Negro This Time

Madison, Fla., May 20.—A mob entered this city last night, secured the keys to the jail from the night watchman, took out Washington Jarvis, a white man, tied him to a tree and shot him to death. He was accused of murdering his cousin, John Waldrop. The night watchman was blindfolded and held captive until the mob finished its work.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Bridget Polaski, aged 14, died while being taken to a hospital at Northampton, Mass., after the explosion of a kerosene can. She tried to light a fire with oil.

Rev. C. H. Chase, one of the oldest Methodist ministers in the United States, died of old age at Chicago. He was 88 years old and for 18 years was a prominent minister in New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

The incorporation of the American Saddlery and Harness company at Trenton is the first step towards a combination of the principal concerns in the United States making saddlery and harness

Have you one of the new savings banks?

MR. CRANE SUES.

Wants a Divorce from Emma B. Crane.

Cruel and Abusive Treatment

Alleged by Plaintiff Who Was in February the Defendant.

Charles Crane of Greenleaf street has instituted divorce proceedings against his wife, Emma B. Crane, but has found some difficulty in finding Mrs. Crane to serve the papers on her.

It will be remembered that at the February session of the Norfolk Superior court at Dedham, Mr. Crane was defendant in a similar proceeding; that Mrs. Crane then charged him with unfaithfulness.

The court found that the plaintiff and her lawyer had conspired to implicate Mr. Crane, and not only dismissed the case, but suspended the lawyer, Alvin H. Bacon of Melrose for two years.

Mr. Crane in his allegations for divorce now claims cruel and abusive treatment by Emma B. Crane, based largely on the previous case, and incidents in connection therewith.

Yesterday's Shower.

Quite a heavy shower passed over Quincy Tuesday afternoon. It was accompanied by sharp and vivid flashes of lightning, and quite a fall of rain. Reports from other localities, however, would make it appear that Quincy did not get the heaviest of the shower.

The air which had been hot and oppressive up to that hour cooled off a little and the rain settled the dust. There was not rain enough however to penetrate very deep into the earth.

As far as can be learned the storm did not do much damage. Some of the telephone lines were burnt out.

The lightning struck the corner of George Taylor's barn on Elm street and knocked off a few clapboards, but did not set fire to the building.

A bolt also entered the street railway signal box opposite Music hall on Hancock street and burnt it out, and gave the passengers of an electric car that was passing quite a shock, and made their fingers tingle.

Several horses were also frightened and started to run away, but no serious damage was done other than the runaway at West Quincy.

The power house of the Old Colony street railway at Hyde Park was crippled from 4 to 6 Tuesday afternoon and cars were tied up between Dorchester Lower Mills and Walpole.

Destructive Runaway.

Tuesday afternoon, a runaway horse attached to the grocery wagon of Natale Fossati did considerable damage in the exhibition yard of the Aberogwen Granite Works on Copeland street. The animal became frightened while on Buckley street and dashed down the hill on the run. When the end of Buckley street was reached the animal continued across Copeland street into the yard of the Granite Works. The yard was full of finished monuments and the team was brought to a sudden stop. Before that however great pieces had been chipped from dies and bases and monuments upset. The damage to the monuments is estimated at $700.

TODAY'S COURT.

Patrick Magan was fined $3 for drunkenness at Quincy and was given until next Monday to raise his fine.

Best for Children.

Bread made from Spring wheat flour necessarily is best, because of the gluten and phosphate it contains. It feeds the brain as well as nourishes the body. Pillsbury's Best is the standard Spring wheat flour.

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.

FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.

At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.

Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.

FREE EXAMINATIONS.

Feb. 2. 1 1y- p-6mos.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,

DENTIST.

21 Chestnut Street.

Telephone 126-5.

Quincy, Oct. 1. lp-tf

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,

DENTIST.

67 Franklin Street, Pinel Block.

Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.

Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M. Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.

TELEPHONE 175-2.

Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,

DENTIST,

Opposite Post Office,

1355 Hancock St., Quincy.

OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.

Jan. 31 tf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

Piano Tuner.

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.

Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass

Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

C. H. PRESCOTT,

EXPERIENCED

Piano Tuner and Repairer.

Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

PAINTING

and Glazing.

WARD L. HAYWARD,

28 Mechanic Street.

Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

LEWIS N. CURTIS,

PAINTER, GLAZIER,

LEADED STAINED GLASS.

Decorator and Paper Hanger.

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.

19 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,

Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.

GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.

Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.

Quincy, April 7. tf

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE

HAS OPENED AN

Employment Office

At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.

Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

JAMES F. BURKE.

REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,

MORTGAGES.

Justice of the Peace. Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building,

June 5

FRANK F. CRANE

REAL ESTATE,

AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,

Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass

Aug. 17. tf

W. G. CHUBBUCK

Furniture and Piano Mover,

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.

Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

lp-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

A. RUSSELL JONES,

ELECTRICIAN.

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK

A SPECIALTY.

Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.

Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

Address, 1262 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.

Quincy, April 10. tflp

CONSTITUTION LAID UP

Heeled Over While Being Taken From the Water

CRADLE PROPS GAVE WAY

Bilge Blocks Almost Went Through Her Bronze Underbody—Doubtful Whether She Can Participate In the Glens Cove Trial Races

New York, May 20.—The ill-luck which has trailed along in the wake of the Constitution ever since her launching two years ago is still with her, for an accident which happened when she was being hauled out at Jacob's yard, City Island, will keep her out of the first two or three days' Glens Cove races, if not the whole series.

She arrived from New London Monday afternoon and it was thought that it might be possible to get her out at high water early yesterday morning when the Reliance, which has been reburnished, was put overboard. On account of the neap tide, however, there was not sufficient time in which to do the double job, and the work of hauling out was postponed until high water in the afternoon.

The cradle was adjusted, the Constitution came slowly out of the water, when suddenly the cradle props gave way. The big yacht heeled over to port, and with so great force that some of the bilge blocks went almost through her thin tobin bronze underbody. Her keel sank into the mud and after a line was passed to the Satellite it was all her tender could do to get her off.

It was thought at first that the hull had escaped injury and that with extra effort the yacht could be got ready for today's race. When, however, the damage inflicted by the bilge blocks was discovered last night, her owner, August Belmont, gave up all hopes of being able to enter the Constitution in the first race against Reliance and Columbia and he at once arranged with the Morse iron works, Brooklyn, to have the yacht docked there for repairs. She arrived there this morning and was dry docked immediately, and although the work of repairs and over hauling will be carried on with all possible speed, it will be at least a week before the yacht is again in racing trim.

Perhaps Referred to President

Sacramento, Cal., May 20.—A man was arrested last night by a citizen named Woodson. Woodson heard him say: "One has died; and another might just as well." When arrested and taken to the jail the man gave his name as Randleman. He had a big six-shooter inside his vest and two extra cartridges in his pocket. He offered no explanation. He has a ticket from Sacramento to Selby smelting works. He had $27 in his pocket. President Roosevelt arrived here last night and later left for the north.

Scheme For Making "Citizens"

New York, May 20.—Three Italians were arraigned before Commissioner Shields, whom the secret service agenets say are the leaders of a plot to forge thousands of naturalization papers. The prisoners are Roberto Bunaro, Rocco Figuelio and Guiseppe Caparelli. The secret service men say the certificates had been sold from $5 to $100 each to Italians and that at least 1000 have been issued. Bunaro was held in $10,000 bail and Figuelo and Caparelli in $5000 bail each, to await the action of the grand jury.

Russian Aggression Continues

London, May 20.—According to a Pekin dispatch to The Times, the situation at New Chwang and in Manchuria, in spite of the proclamations and assurances, is unchanged. There is a constant flow of Russians and war material to both the Chinese and Korean banks of the Yalu river. Numbers of Chinese described as former brigands are officered by Russians. They number at least 2000.

Lieutenant Killed In Cebu Fight

Manila, May 20.—Lieutenant Waider of the constabulary, who was reported missing after the recent fighting in the Island of Cebu, was killed by a force of fanatics which surrounded the lieutenant's party. Two privates of the constabulary were also killed and three were captured. Two of the prisoners were murdered. One of them escaped.

Greene Reinstates Glennon

New York, May 20.—Edward Glennon has been reinstated on the police force by Commissioner Greene and placed on patrol duty. Glennon was convicted of failing to suppress a disorderly house. He was sentenced to six months in the penitentiary. The court of appeals reversed the decision, granting a new trial.

Cars Bottom Side Up

Raleigh, May 20.—Nine persons were injured in a wreck on the Southern railway near this city. The wreck is thought to have been caused by the spreading of the rails. All the cars were ditched, turning completely over, so that they now lie top downward. The coupling broke and the engine remained upon the ties.

Railway Preparing For Strike

Montreal, May 20.—The Montreal Street Railway company's employes have submitted a lengthy schedule of wages and grievances to the company. It is said the company will not agree to the demands and are making arrangements to operate their cars in the event of a strike.

THE CITY'S GUESTS"

Over Four Hundred Immigrants In New Bedford City Hall

New Bedford, Mass., May 20.—The New Bedford city hall was converted to one of the strangest uses in its whole history, when its doors were opened to receive 404 Brava immigrants off the stranded bark Vera Cruz VII, which went ashore May 9. in Coracoke inlet. The immigrants arrived here from Newbern, N. C., in a special train and were transported in barges to city hall, there to be held until relatives or friends come forward with assurances that they will not become public charges.

The crowded interior of the building presents a curious sight with its scantily attired black men and gaudily dressed women. Chaos reigns amid a multitude of trunks and bundles of wearing apparel, and the occupants of the building are peered at curiously by those who can reach the doors. The immigrants themselves find their new surroundings interesting, and groups of heads are thrust out of the numerous windows with looks which betoken a burning anxiety for freedom after several trying episodes.

Criminal Malpractice Alleged

Lynn, Mass., May 20.—Dr. E. T. Wing was arrested last night, having been indicted for criminal malpractice in connection with the death of Mrs. David Ross. It is understood that an indictment as accessory was found against Ross, but the latter has not been placed under arrest. At the time of Mrs. Ross' death her husband brought suspicion upon himself by insisting upon his wife's immediate burial. He testified at the inquest that Dr. Wing treated his wife and that an operation was performed as a last resort in the hope of saving her life.

Sick Jackies In Tents

Newport, R. I., May 20.—Owing to the prevalence of scarlet fever, measles and diphtheria at the naval training station among apprentices and enlisted men, a number of tents were set up last night for the accommodation of the sick ones. The training ship Essex is awaiting a draft of boys and the Monongahela is coming soon for others, but owing to the large amount of sickness there will be considerable delay in filling the drafts for the vessels.

Fortune Goes to Brother

Boston, May 20.—Although the two brothers had not seen each other for 40 years, Thomas Kelly, until recently a resident of New York, will receive the estate of $24,000 left by John Kelly, the thrifty West End laborer, who died last fall. Several cousins had contested for the property, but the brother put in an appearance in response to an advertisement and Judge Hammond has decided that he is entitled to the whole estate.

Vaccination Case In Jury's Hands

Dedham, Mass., May 20.—Answers to two questions and a verdict are to be returned by a jury which listened since Friday last to evidence in the suits of Mary D. and J. F. Hammond, school children, against the town of Hyde Park, for $10,000 each damages for disbarment from the school because they refused to be vaccinated. The case went to the jury late yesterday afternoon.

Old Hills to Disappear

Scituate, Mass., May 20.—Coleman hills, the formation of which is gravel, have been bought by a Boston contracting concern. The material to be taken from the hills will be transported by barges to Boston. In the course of time these hills will disappear. They cover about 300 acres and the top of the highest hill is perhaps 150 feet above the mean level of surrounding land.

Charge of "Simple Assault"

Pawtucket, R. I., May 20.—Charles King of Central Falls will be charged in the police court with simple assault upon James Folan. The assault occurred last Thursday night in a saloon owned by King, when it is alleged that King broke Folan's jaw. Folan died in a hospital yesterday. King will be placed under heavy bail to await the result of the coroner's inquest into Folan's death.

Looks Bad For Carter

Waterbury, Conn., May 20.—The hearing of the case of Lewis Carter, a colored teamster, on a charge of committing an assault upon Mrs. E. C. Stevens and an attempted assault upon Philomene Stadtmiller, aged 15, was held behind closed doors. Carter was found probably guilty on both charges and was bound over to the superior court under $15,000 bonds.

Merrill Extradition Papers

Boston, May 20.—The executive department has received from the Suffolk district attorney's office the extradition papers for Moody Merrill, now in New York. They were immediately returned to the attorney general's office for an examination and a report as to their correctness in form, etc.

Held on Forgery Charges

Boston, May 20.—John M. Hamlin, who was arrested by the Melrose police, was arraigned before Judge Wentworth in this city, charged with uttering three forged promissory notes for $84, $112 and $125, a total of $321. Hamlin was held in $2000 bail for the superior court.

No Bread In Bakeshops

New Haven, May 20.—New Haven is practically without bread again because of the determination of the master bakers not to bake any more bread until the strike of the journeymen is settled. The journeymen bakers remain firm in their stand for day work only.

Breezy Items From The Arizona Kicker

[Copyright, 1902, by C. B. Lewis.]

We understand that Major Callahan has referred to us as a jackass and a dude. We shall take early occasion to meet the major and give him opportunity to confirm or deny. We'll bet two to one he denies.

During the last few months our esteemed contemporary lay in wait for us with a gun on twenty-eight different occasions, but none of his bullets even grazed us. We shall make no change in the programme. We shall continue to saunter around, and he may continue to shoot. We believe in continuing harmless amusements.

"WE SHALL CONTINUE TO SAUNTER AROUND, AND HE MAY CONTINUE TO SHOOT."

While we now hold the honored position of editor, postmaster, mayor, senator and deputy United States marshal, we feel that we could easily take care of two or three more, and shall do our level best to gather them in. We know of no reason why an editor should let a good thing get past him.

There are seven shyster lawyers in this town, all of whom get a living by stirring up trouble. There are also six men who claim to be doctors, but who are the rankest sort of quacks. We think we shall turn loose very soon and head a popular movement to start both shysters and quacks out in search of new abiding places. M. QUAD.

Jim Drew a Full Hand.

"It was this a-way, jedge: Ye see, I doled de cards, and Jim Brown he had a pah of aces and a pah of kings."

"What did you have?"

"Three aces, jedge, and"—

"What did Jim do?"

"Jim, he drew."

"What did he draw?"

"He drew a razzer, jedge."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Took It as a Compliment.

"Yes," said his wife's mother, "I see it was a mistake for my daughter to marry you at all. She is just as different from you in every respect as she can be."

"Well, well!" replied the great brute. "How you flatter me!"—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Their Battle Cry.

"That ball team that enlisted made a wonderful record for bravery, I understand."

"Yes. Whenever they went into battle some one would cry, 'Kill the umpire!' and then there was no holding them."—Chicago Post.

Feminine Charity.

He—I wonder why Miss Overton is so sensitive about her age.

She—I can't imagine. She's certainly old enough to have got over a little thing like that long ago.—Chicago News.

Looking Ahead.

"So you've taken up the study of law?"

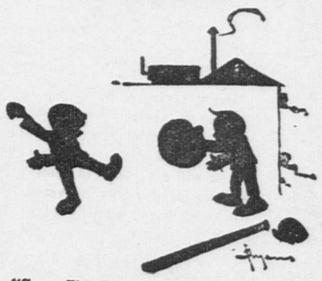

"Yes. It's always well to be posted on alimony and such things, you know."—New York Evening Journal.

Cruel Man.

"Before marriage you always gave in to me when I cried."

"Well, I've learned to swim since then."—Toronto Moon.

A Phenomenon.

"Say, Jimmie, you've got wonderful control of the ball. I could almost reach that last one you throwed."—New York American.

Manchuria.

Alas, for that unhappy land,
Manchuria!
Now menaced by a Tartar band,
Manchuria!
Between the Chinaman and Russ
You're in a most unpleasant muss;
It's pretty sure to grow much wuss,
Manchuria!

The bear is sniffing at your heels,
Manchuria!
We hear your faint and faroff squeals,
Manchuria!
We really don't know what to do;
The bear would laugh if we said "Boo!"
Our fond regrets we send to you,
Manchuria!

—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON,

60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN,

PHARMACIST,

1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder,

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,

In a variety of Styles and Prices.

Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.

These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you

C. S. HUBBARD.

City Square, Quincy.

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

ard off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy

Jan. 7. tf

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLAS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

King Arthur Flour.

Sold in Quincy by

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

SMOKE THE

GOVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

feeling your night's ing Tonic.

AND IRON.

er bottle.

C. HEARN.

ACIST,

Street, Quincy.

STATE.

ntil the best part of life is gone. or it gradually, this would not be a early ending. Consult me. I have Also House Lots for sale in all

SON, Builder,

Quincy, Mass.

nd Sods for sale.

tf

MER GOODS.

from 69c. to $1.75

$1.25

Summer Underwear, es and Prices.

White Mull Ties, Wrist

ashes and neckwear.

at prices that will please you

BBARD.

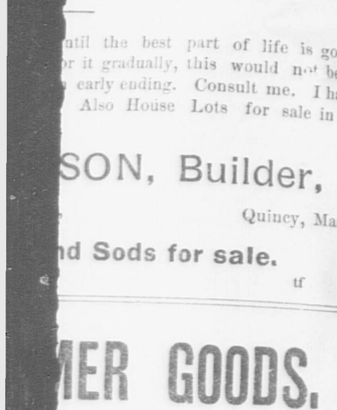

, Quincy.

King Arthur Flour.

Sold in Quincy by

L. M. FRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

SMOKE THE

COVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

st 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

incy, Nov. 11. 1y

Dr. Emmons'

nthly Regulator has brought happiness to ndreds of anxious women. There is positive- o other remedy known to medical science will so quickly and safely do the work. ngest and most obstinate irregularities from y cause relieved immediately. Success guar- eed at any stage. No pain, danger, or inter- ence with work. Have relieved hundreds of es where others have failed. The most diffi- t cases successfully treated by mail, and bene- ial results guaranteed in every instance. No k whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies om we never see. Write for further particu- and free confidential advice. Do not put off long. All letters truthfully answered. Re- mber, this remedy is absolutely safe under ry possible condition and positively leaves after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, urely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be gistered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tre nt St., Boston, Mass.

HEADQUARTERS

PAUL REVERE POST 88, G. A. R.

DEPARTMENT OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Quincy, May 12, 1903.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 1.

COMRADES: Again it becomes our duty to gather on the day set apart, to do homage to those, who having fought the good fight in the cause of Country, have gone to their reward. Let that day (May 30th) made sacred by their privations and fidelity to the flag for which they fought so nobly, be a reminder to us to keep the day in a manner that those who come after us, may be impressed with the full meaning of what our mission is. There are those, who on that day will follow the dear old flag for the last time. Let it be with a spirit which we had in those dark days when we were of the Army of the Union.

ON SUNDAY, MAY 24,

the post will assemble in full uniform at headquarters at 9.30 A. M., to attend service at the First Unitarian Church, Quincy, and listen to a Memorial address by the Rev. E. C. Butler and also a history of the Post by Past Commander Charles H. Porter. At 6 P. M. the post will assemble again in full uniform at headquarters to attend service at the Catholic Church, West Quincy and listen to a memorial address by the Rev. A. F. Roche. Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103, Ladies' Aid No. 3, John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans and all Soldiers and Sailors are invited to be present.

Contributions of food and flowers from our many friends will be gratefully received and may be left at the following residences; Mrs. F. P. Loud, Mrs. Annie C. Wright, Ward One; Mrs. H. O. Souther, Mrs. Annie E. Merritt, Ward Two; Mrs. Edward Richardson, Miss Mildred M. Willett, Ward Three; Mrs. John S. Farrell, Mrs. Joseph Shackley, Miss A. A. Bartlett, Ward Four; Mrs. Joseph W. Newcomb, Mrs. G. C. Ela, Ward Five; Mrs. A. G. Heath, Norfolk Downs; Mrs. Daniel McGrath, Ward Six.

The Principals and teachers of the schools are invited to request their pupils to bring flowers to the schoolhouses on the morning of May 29th. They will be collected for the purpose of decorating our Comrades' graves on Memorial day. Let no soldier's or sailor's grave be forgotten by this beautiful tribute.

MAY 30, ORDERS OF THE DAY.

1. The Post will assemble at Headquarters in full uniform at 7 A. M.

2. Junior Vice Commander Thomas Ring in command of a detail will proceed to Mount Wollaston cemetery and decorate the graves of our comrades sleeping there.

3. Officer of the Guard William M. Bird will make a detail and accompanied by the Chaplain of the day will proceed to the National Sailors' Home and deposit a floral offering.

4. Officer of the Day Warren Dunbar with a detail will decorate the graves of our comrades in the Hancock and English cemeteries.

5. Comrade James H. Webb will have charge of the invited guests.

6. Comrade James M. Cleverly will attend to and take care of our disabled comrades.

7. Comrade Abel Nutting will proceed to Mount Auburn cemetery and decorate the grave of Col. Paul J. Revere.

8. Officer of the Day Warren Dunbar is hereby detailed to have charge of the Band and escort.

9. Senior Vice Commander Charles L. Orne is detailed to have charge of Hancock hall.

10. Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103, will have charge of the collation at Hancock hall and also the arrangement of flowers for Memorial day.

11. The Rev. Leon H. Austin will act as Chaplain of the Day.

12. At 9.30 A. M. the post will form at Headquarters with the City Band will march to the junction of School and Franklin streets where barges will be taken for Hall cemetery, West Quincy, where appropriate ceremonies will be held and the graves of our late comrades decorated.

13. At 10.30 A. M., the command will continue to the Catholic cemeteries where services will be held by Rev. A. F. Roche, after which the graves of our comrades resting there will be decorated. The command will then proceed to the junction of School and Franklin streets, where they will be met by the John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans and escorted to Hancock hall, where they all will partake of a collation.

14. At 2 P. M., the line will be formed as follows: Detail of Police, Chief Comrade Joseph W. Hayden; Braintree Fife and Drum Corps; John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans, Commander George E. Adams; Officer of the Day Warren Dunbar; City Band; Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R.; John W. Hersey, Commander; City officials in carriages; disabled comrades; Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103; Mrs. Alice Litchfield, President, and Ladies' Aid No. 3, Miss Mildred M. Willett, President, in barges and will proceed by the following route: Headquarters G. A. R. to City Hall, where they will countermarch in front of the First church. Here a delegation of children from the different schools will be assembled and salute the Flag with singing, etc. The line of march will then continue through Temple street to Coddington, to Sea, to Mount Wollaston Cemetery, where services will be held at the soldiers' monument by Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R. The command will then proceed to the lot of Lieut. Edward Bumpus, where services will be performed by John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans, after which they will assemble at the G. A. R. lot where memorial services will be performed by Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103, in memory of the unknown dead. The line will then reform and return via Coddington street to City square, Hancock street to Headquarters.

Past Commanders are requested to parade on the staff of the Commander.

Per order, JOHN W. HERSEY, Commander.

[OFFICIAL] I. M. HOLT, Adjutant.

May 19. 1-2t-p-1w

Whale Hose

are "all the go" with walkers and workers. No seams to hurt the feet, no wrinkles, or bunches from ill fits; comfortable, stylish and durable. Do not fade or stain. Made in black, russet and all the popular colors. By mail, 1 pair 20c; 2 pairs 35c. Five cents brings patent hose supports and catalogue.

CORNELL STOCKING CORPORATION
New Bedford, Mass.

Look for the whale.

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store. Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON.

Quincy, April 23. tf

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.

Quincy, May 9. 1m

THE DEAD LINE

By HOWARD FIELDING

Copyright, 1902, by Charles W. Hooke

YOU are to imagine that it is Dr. William Boyd McKenna, the famous expert in insanity, who tells this story. He has told me many, the majority of which should not be repeated in a world where every individual may read sufficient horrors from the scroll of his own destiny. This tale, however, is merely odd.

A man whom I will name Brown called upon me at my office one day. I had never had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Brown before.

When we got down to business it appeared that Mr. Brown could not sleep, or, to be more exact, he could not sleep consecutively.

"I wake up five hundred times every night," said he. "It seems to me that I fall asleep as readily as a normal man should, but I cannot stay there. I start up. I find myself sitting in bed talking to myself sometimes and staring"—

My patient paused.

"Into the darkness," said I.

"Well," said he, with hesitation, as if he were ashamed, "I generally have a little light."

"Nightmare," I suggested.

"I would naturally suppose that it is a dream which wakes me and probably the same dream every time," said he, "but I have no idea what it is. I have never been able to remember it."

"Yet you feel a sensation of horror?"

"I feel afraid," he admitted.

"Have you had any alarming experience or violent shock to the nerves recently?" I asked.

Mr. Brown replied in the negative.

"I am a nervous man," said he, "though I don't look it"—

He did, however.

"A coward, I'm afraid," he continued after a pause. "But there is nothing to be afraid of, and even a coward needs some excuse for fear."

This is not true, of course. There is terror without cause and without cowardice. Under certain conditions the human mechanism manufactures its own fear out of nothing in particular, but I did not say this to Mr. Brown. Instead I asked him some questions about his general health and found that there was no sign of anything wrong, except that he was losing weight.

He was a bachelor, he was not in love, his business was satisfactory, and he had a sufficient income aside from it. He knew of no reason why he should have fallen into this state of nervous agitation. The main trouble was in the matter of sleeping. Mr. Brown had all the modern soporifics, and he told me, with a grim smile, that they all worked beautifully.

"In fact," said he, "I can put myself to sleep with half a glass of beer, but

"YET YOU FEEL A SENSATION OF HORROR?"

I judge that nothing short of deadly poison would prevent me from waking up again immediately."

In my opinion he was the victim of a fixed idea or persistent mental image, probably of a horrible nature, and so influential in the realm of his thought that it held sway even in sleep and drove him back in terror from the pleasant land of dreams. It remained for me to find out what this terror was and to successfully combat it. But upon the occasion of his first visit I did not think best to antagonize him by too sharp questionings. I therefore gave him a dozen tablets containing nothing that would do him any harm (or good) and made an appointment with him for the day after tomorrow.

He came promptly, looking very haggard and scared, and I had a serious talk with him, entirely destitute of value to either of us. Upon this occasion he came near to convincing me that he really did not know what he was afraid of nor what dream it was that invariably waked him.

Naturally I had asked him early whether he had any enemies, and he had replied that he had none. But the answer had been given in such a way as to leave the impression with me that, while he feared no one and upon his own part cherished no rational animosity, he might be laboring under an impulse to injure some one.

I think it was the fifth or sixth visit when he found me upon the sidewalk in front of my house, ready to start on a round of professional calls. My horse and light wagon were ready, and I asked Mr. Brown to come along with me.

"Which way are you going?" he asked.

"Down town a bit and then up again," I replied.

"How far?"

"Fifty-seventh street," I replied.

"All right," said he. "I'll ride with you."

We talked about his case as we rode, and I thought him somewhat improved. He praised some medicine that I had given him and said that he had slept better than usual on the previous night. He sat in the wagon while I made my brief calls, among them the one on Fifty-seventh street which I had mentioned to him.

When I rejoined him after this visit I said that there was one more which I had just decided to make. I could not fail to note his anxiety when he asked me where it was. We had already started, and I was on the point of turning northward into Fifth avenue.

"Sixty-second street," I replied.

He hastily put his hand upon mine with which I was holding the reins.

"I think I won't go up so far as that," said he. "If you'll let me out here"—

I began to be very much interested.

"Ride up to Fifty-ninth street," said I, "and take the cross town car."

"No," he replied nervously; "I really mustn't."

"Why, what possible objection can there be"— I began. And the next instant he was over the wheels, landing squarely on his feet upon the pavement and sustaining no injury.

Of course I pulled up hastily and sprang out also. Mr. Brown came toward me, dusting his hat, which had fallen when he made his leap.

"I beg your pardon for this exhibition," said he, "but really, really, I can't go above Fifty-ninth street. It would be a very serious matter with me, I assure you."

His eyes were wild and dancing. He had the look of a creature at bay. Upon the question of crossing Fifty-ninth street northward I have no doubt that he would have fought me to the death.

"What do you think would happen to you?" I asked.

He shook his head, with a knowing smile.

"That's immaterial," he replied. "The point is that it would happen."

"Is this what you dreamed about?" said I.

His face flushed.

"Why, yes, if you must know," said he. "I dream that I am being forced across that street."

"At any particular spot?"

"It is usually at Madison avenue," he replied. "But that is not important. I would not cross it anywhere from river to river."

"Did anything remarkable ever happen to you or some person dear to you upon that street?"

"Nothing," he answered calmly. "I have no especial association with Fifty-ninth street, except that I will not cross it."

"How do you get to Boston?" I asked, remembering that he had spoken of going to that city.

"By water," he replied impressively.

"Do you know," said I persuasively, "if I had such a feeling about a place wild horses couldn't hold me back from making a practical test of it. I have too much curiosity."

"I have none," said he.

"Do you think it would be fatal?"

"Permit me to be the judge of that," said he gravely. "You may be sure of one thing, which is that I shall not risk my life in the attempt. I still have work to do in this world. But," he added, with a febrile impatience, "let us not stand here discussing it."

"You are quite right," I said, seeing that his excitement had reached the limit of safety. "Get into the carriage, and I'll turn around and take you home."

After this experience I felt that I had something definite to work upon, but for a long time I was in doubt what to do. Meanwhile Mr. Brown seemed to be getting worse, and I had no difficulty in foreseeing the utter wreck of his mind. As a last resort, therefore, I resolved to break down his delusion by an actual demonstration. I have often used this method with success.

I prepared for the experiment very carefully, accustoming Brown to drive with me and to approach his imaginary dead line. We rode often in the morning and early afternoon, and I invented errands on Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth streets, so that he might learn to trust me; also I used a wider wagon and had my friend, Dr. Emmett, who is a little fellow, but strong as a moose, accompany us in our rides. Brown grew to like Emmett very much, and I grew to like Brown, so that I felt like a rascal for deceiving him.

We three were out one morning about half past 8 o'clock, and I had called upon an imaginary patient in Fifty-eighth street. Upon leaving that house I suddenly turned my horse northward on Madison avenue, which happened to be fairly clear in the stretch alongside the car tracks.

Dr. Emmett knew what I was going to do, and he instantly seized Brown in a grip of iron. Brown understood. He protested, he struggled violently, and yet, upon the whole, he behaved better than I had expected.

I took all kinds of chances with flying cross town cars, and we went across Fifty-ninth street like a shot out of a gun. Indeed I considerably overdid it, for the people waiting to transfer from car to car upon the corner yelled at us and scared my horse. He was a powerful beast, and for a second or two I had a most uneasy notion that there would be a runaway which might result in a tragic fulfillment of Brown's insane dreams. But a big policeman sprang out from the sidewalk and seized the horse by the head just in time.

At this very instant a tremendous change came over Brown. He shook himself loose from Dr. Emmett and got upon his feet. As the policeman had the horse, I was free, and, turning, I threw myself upon the lunatic, who was screaming:

"Tell him! Tell him you brought me here by force!"

"Tell whom?" I gasped, breathless with my struggles. But before Brown could answer I heard Emmett say:

"Yes, yes; it's true. We forced him across."

I felt Brown's muscles relax in my grasp, and he fell back, fainting, upon the seat. Dr. Emmett had snatched the reins. He called to the policeman that we were all right, turned the horse, and before I had finished my inspection of my extraordinary patient's condition we were south of Fifty-ninth street again.

WE WENT ACROSS FIFTY-NINTH STREET LIKE A SHOT.

"Whew!" whistled Emmett. "Did you see him?"

"See whom?" said I.

"The man with the revolver," he replied, "an iron faced son of a pirate if ever I saw one. He was coming down the avenue, and Brown caught sight of him. That was when our friend yelled. The man saw him instantly and came straight for the carriage. He was beside it when the policeman brought the horse to a stand. The man had a revolver, though I didn't see him draw it, but he was holding the thing half hidden by the cape of his coat. Upon my soul, I think he would have shot if you hadn't covered Brown completely at the time. What do you think of it?"

I gave it up. I doubt whether anything that had ever happened to me before had so bewildered me. However, we had a full explanation in a few minutes, for Brown revived and told his story.

"That man's wife," said he in substance, "was a dear friend of mine years ago. I give you my most sacred word of honor that she was never anything more to me. I have never spoken a word of love to her in my life.

"There were some years when I lost sight of her, and when at last I met her by accident upon the street she told me that she was this man's wife. She asked me to call upon her, and I saw no reason why I shouldn't. I supposed it to be merely accidental that I did not meet her husband. In reality he is insanely jealous of her, and, with a woman's typical folly, she concealed my visits from him. It seems that he knew all about me and had spoken of me in such a way as to frighten her.

"Well, the inevitable happened at last, and he found me in the house. I was absolutely innocent of offense and utterly unprepared for the scene that followed. I dare not speak of it. I have told you that I am a coward. It is enough to say that I descended to the pitiful level of begging for my life. He had a revolver in his hand—I believe that he always goes armed—and he took pleasure in playing upon my abnormal sensibility to fear. For hours, as it seems to me, while I dared not call for help because of the disgrace to her, that man kept me in the immediate terror of death. Then he released me and set this singular command upon me—that I was never to pass the line of Fifty-ninth street northward.

"'If you go south,' said he to her, 'or this man comes north of that street I'll kill you both.'

"I know not what the result has been with her, but you have seen what it has been with me. The shame of my cowardice kept the memory of that scene always before my mind. Sleeping or waking, I could never forget, until at last I was the abject prey of this fear. I seemed always to be crossing that dead line, to die and to cause her death."

Well, the doctor concluded, we had a mighty hard time with Mr. Brown, and I can take no credit to myself for the fortunate result. He's all right now. What pulled him through? Providence, my friend, Providence. The woman's husband died. No mortal could have predicted whether this would have any effect upon Brown, but it did. He's gone abroad now, practically cured, and Emmett and I have sent the pretty widow after him. I guess it will be all right.

ASSESSORS' NOTICE.

To the inhabitants of the City of Quincy, and all other persons liable to pay taxes therein:

You are hereby notified to bring in to the Assessors of said City,

On or before JUNE 1st, 1903,

True and Perfect Lists of all the Polls, and Schedules and Estimates of all the Personal Estates and Real Estate for which you are liable to pay taxes.

Persons holding estates in trust, whether for minors or otherwise, are particularly requested to furnish the Assessors with Statements in relation to such estates.

When the estates of persons deceased have been divided, or have changed hands from other causes during the past year, the Executors, Administrators, or other persons interested, are required to give notice of such changes, and in default of such notice will be held to pay the taxes assessed.

Blank forms for "Return of Property for Taxation" can be procured of the Assessors.

The following may serve as a guide to assist in making up Schedules and Statements:

Number of Polls 20 years and upwards; Money at interest; Amount of Money on hand, including deposits in Banks, etc., other than Savings Banks incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth; Railroad, Town, City, State and other Bonds (except those of the United States); Shares and Stocks of Insurance, Manufacturing and other incorporated companies chartered or organized under the laws of any State other than Massachusetts; Goods, Wares, Merchandise and other stock in trade, within or without the State; Household Furniture, exceeding $1,000 in value; Horses, Mules, Carriages, Oxen, Cows, other neat Cattle not less than one year old, and Swine and Sheep not less than six months old; Income from Profession, Trade, or Employment exceeding $2,000; Personal Property held in trust or by wife or minor children.

Attention is hereby called to Section 32 of Chapter 12 of the Revised Laws.

"Whoever, with intent to defeat or evade the provisions of law in relation to assessment or payment of taxes, delivers or discloses to an assessor or an assistant assessor a false or fraudulent list, return, or schedule of property as and for a true list of his estates, not exempted from taxation, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in jail not exceeding one year."

MORTGAGED PROPERTY.

A mortgagor or mortgagee of real estate may bring in to the assessors of the city or town in which it lies, within the time prescribed by the notice under Sect. 41, a statement under oath of the amount secured thereon or on each separate parcel thereof, with the name and residence of every holder of an interest therein as mortgagor or mortgagee. If such property is situated in two or more places, or if a recorded mortgage includes two or more estates or parts of an estate as security for one sum, such statement shall include an estimate of the interest of the mortgagee in each estate or part of an estate. The assessors shall, from such statement or otherwise, ascertain the proportionate interests of the mortgagor or mortgagee respectively in in said estates, and shall assess the same accordingly. If, in any year, such statement is not brought in, the tax for that year on such real estate shall not be invalid merely for the reason that the interest of the mortgagee therein has not been assessed to him.—Sect. 45, Chap. 12, Revised Laws.

When a statement in conformity to the law above quoted is brought in, the real estate therein returned will be assessed under Sects. 16, 17 and 18 of Chap. 12 of the Revised Laws. But in cases where the mortgagor of the real estate has agreed in writing to pay all taxes assessed thereon, no statement or return is required from either the mortgagee or mortgagor unless requested by the assessors in writing.

The Assessors will be in session at their office every MONDAY and THURSDAY morning from 9 to 11 o'clock. Blanks will be furnished to all applicants.

JAMES THOMPSON, Chairman
CHARLES H. JOHNSON,
WILLIAM B. GLOVER,
Assessors of Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, May 2, 1903. p-4w--1-2t--2t a w

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Charter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D.,
Inspector of Milk.

April 15. 30t

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

COPYRIGHT.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.

PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,

3 High Street, Cor. Summer,

BOSTON, MASS

Three minutes from South Station.

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1873.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	79	63	67	78	73
Monday,	86	76	80	60	53
Tuesday,	90	74	65	49	53
Wednesday,	78	79	61	53	55
Thursday,	—	73	69	67	75
Friday,	—	72	82	85	72
Saturday,	—	64	86	81	71

New Advertisements Today.

Wanted—Girl to learn type-setting.

Good Afternoon

Agents of the National Mt. Wollaston and National Granite banks are making a thorough canvass of the city, placing the little steel savings bank boxes. They find that many already have boxes taken out from the Boston bank and this has helped the agents in disposing of others. Its needs but little explanation to convince the average person that the system of saving is a good one and many boxes have already been placed. It is estimated by those who have made a study of system, that it will be the means of Quincy people saving many thousands of dollars during a year that would otherwise have been expended, perhaps foolishly.

Our correspondent today, relative to the watering of Sea street, makes a mistake if he thinks an exception is proposed or will be made for this street. Where streets of the city are now watered, the abutters are assessed one-half the cost. If the street railway should water Sea street, it should water all streets of the city which it traverses. Abutters on many streets have a greater grievance than has the Houghs Neck gentleman; they are willing to be assessed if they can have their streets watered, but the City Council says nay. We believe abutters would be willing to be assessed more than one-half the cost to have street watering more general, and the city appropriation would go much further as a third or a quarter, than as a half as now. Where taxpayers are willing to be assessed, as at Quincy Neck, Revere road, Bigelow street and Miller Stile road, they should have their streets watered.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Bishop Lawrence's suggestion that the Episcopal church has more important things to think about than names strikes outsiders as being excellent good sense.—New Bedford Standard.

—College students are forbidden by the police authorities from giving their college yells in the streets of Terre Haute.

GOOD WAY TO DO BUSINESS.

Chas. C. Hearn Sells Reliable Remedy at Half Price, and Guarantees a Cure.

When one can buy gold dollars for fifty cents, it is a good time to purchase.

In offering a 50 cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at 25 cents, Chas. C. Hearn is giving one of the greatest trade chances ever offered to the people of Quincy.

If food does not digest well, if there is gas or pain in the stomach, if the tongue is coated and the breath bad, if there is constipation and straining, Dr. Howard's specific will cure you. If it does not, you have druggist Chas. C. Hearn's personal guarantee to return your money.

This remarkable remedy comes in the form of tiny granules, and can be carried in the vest pocket or purse. It is very popular in New York city, and it is not unusual to see some one after a meal at one of the large hotels or restaurants, take a dose of this specific, knowing that it will prevent the uncomfortable feeling which frequently follows a hearty meal.

Dr. Howard's specific gives quick relief and makes permanent cures of constipation, dyspepsia, and all liver troubles.

These are strong statements, but Chas. C. Hearn is giving his customers a chance to prove their truth at just half the regular price—sixty doses for 25 cents. If they are not found true, all you have to do is to ask for your money.

16-20

OUR SHIPYARD.

Over Ten Million Dollars of Contracts.

The Pay Roll Now Over $30,000.

Force Soon to be Increased to Over Three Thousand.

In Tuesday's Ledger we told in part of a tour of the Fore River shipyard with the visiting editors of New England; of the rapid building up of the plant; of the forge, the power plant and the machine shop, and today continue from that point.

In rear of the machine shop is the long fitting out dock, now under construction, alongside which lies the cruiser Des Moines, being fitted with her engines and boilers, electrical equipment, and interior woodwork. All the heavy lifting of this work is done by the large "gantry" crane, standing a hundred feet in air with its long boom stretching out fifty feet over the vessels. Travelling up and down the dock, as it may when wanted, it does its work by means of the ever-present electricity tapped from the wires alongside.

At the point lies the torpedo boat destroyer Macdonough, only awaiting her final endurance test under the supervision of the trial board of the Navy, then to be passed over to Uncle Sam, to accompany her sister ship the Lawrence.

Opposite the fitting-out dock, steam dredgers are at work excavating for the immense new floating dry dock and a marine railway that will take in the largest ships entering Boston.

The mold loft is simply a large floor, 300 feet long and 72 feet wide, devoid of a single post, the roof being supported entirely by steel trusses. On this floor are laid out the lines of the ships in exact full size proportions. After being drawn, pattern or templates are made of thin strips of wood, showing the exact size of each plate of steel marked for the holes for rivets.

From the mould loft, the templates are taken to the plate yard, a plate selected, taken to the fitting shop, cut to proper form, holes punched, rolled to shape to conform to form of the vessels' sides, passed out where the big cranes running overhead in the ship-house take it up, transport it to its destination and drop it exactly into place by the deft guidance of the human hand, then bolted and riveted into its position in battleships or merchant vessels.

The work under construction at present amounting to over ten million dollars, includes the two battleships "Rhode Island" and "New Jersey," each of 15,000 ton displacement, the largest fighting ships building, except the "Louisiana" and "Connecticut," which are a thousand tons heavier. The speed of these two immense fighting machines will be 19 knots an hour; coal capacity, 1900 tons; armor from 6 to 11 inches thick; arament, four 12-inch, 40-caliber guns; eight 8-inch; twelve 6-inch; twelve 3-inch; twelve 3-pounders; eight 1-pounders; two 3-inch field guns; six automatic and two machine guns, besides two submerged torpedo tubes. They will carry nearly 1000 men.

The cruiser Des Moines is of 3,500 tons; a speed of 16 1-2 knots; armor, only a "protective deck" of 1-2 to 2-inch plates; armament, ten 5-inch; eight 6-pounders; two 1-pounders; four Colts, and one field gun; complement, 400 men.

Alongside the battleships lies the 6-masted schooner, named the "Wm. L. Douglas," from the famous Brockton shoe manufacturer, a heavy stockholder in the Crowley syndicate of merchant vessels. She is built on the same spot where her sister ship the "Thomas W. Lawson" was constructed. She is to be of 7000 tons and nearly 400 feet long.

Two immense Fall River line boats, one a passenger the other a freighter, costing a million and a half, will soon be under way. The New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company has also just placed an order for four more car floats similar to the two built by the Fore River company for them last year, each capable of holding on its three tracks twenty-four of the largest freight cars.

Quite in contract to the present force of employes is that of the first year of the establishment of the original works at Weymouth, in 1884, when but 6 men employed, while now the number is 2500, and promises to be over 3000 within a few weeks. The payroll is now over $30,000 a week, a neat sum for distribution in this community.

The company in now offering a very liberal contract to young men who desire to learn a trade in any branch. This offers a splendid opportunity for youths, and will enable the Company to secure a corps of specially trained mechanics.

The company looks carefully after the welfare of its employes, maintaining a hospital with a skilled surgeon and nurse for their treatment. A lunch room on the grounds provides the best of wholesome food for a nominal price.

A mutual accident association has just been formed, and will provide insurance in case of accident while at work for the company. A foreman's association, holding monthly meetings, has in view the maintenance of cordial relations between departments and employes with employers.

The plant contains over 90 acres, 70 being within the yard and 25 in docks and basins. The docks and river will have a depth of 25 to 30 feet at low water. In the forty buildings there are about twelve acres of floor space.

It is not surprising that New England as well as Quincy takes pride in this up-to-date shipyard.

ALARM AT OUTPOST.

Camp Boyd Presented with Springfield Breechloaders.

At the regular meeting of John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, L. S. W. V., on Tuesday evening, the members were assembled little dreaming that in these peaceful times there was any danger of surprise or attack. When the Sentinel on outpost gave the alarm that an armed party was approaching.

Commander Adams at once ordered the "Assembly" sounded and the camp formed for attack. The officer of the day and adjutant was sent on a scout and found that the approaching party was not dangerous and escorted into the midst of the Camp a party composed of the ladies of the Volunteer Aid Association of 1898 together with members of Post 88, G. A. R.

Eight of the party were armed with Springfield breechloading rifles and carried cartridge belts and bayonets. After being introduced by Commander John W. Hersey of Post 88, G. A. R., Mrs. Leavitt, president of the association, stepped forward and in a few well chosen words presented the Camp with a complete stand of arms and equipments.

Commander Adams of the L. S. W. V. accepted the gift, and in behalf of the camp made a short speech, in which he spoke of the good work performed by the association during the Spanish American War, and said that the gift of the rifles arrived at a most opportune time.

Three cheers were then given for the ladies and three for the G. A. R., and a few moments were spent in a general good time.

The commander assured the association that at an early date John A. Boyd Camp would endeavor to have something in the way of a retaliation party to which they would all be the especial guests.

The members of the party were as follows: Mrs. Leavitt, Mrs. Crane, Mrs. Holt, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Fields, Mrs. Newcomb, Mrs. Farrell, Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Guthrie, Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Loud, Commander John Hersey, Adjutant I. M. Holt, Comrades Phillips and Loud.

—I am glad says the Boston Home Journal, to hear that the school committee of Pittsfield, Massachusetts, has unanimously banished the vertical system of handwriting from the public schools. There may be people who can write a "pretty hand" by following that system, but I've yet to see the person, and my observation has not been limited. I had a school ma'am correspondent who wrote that way and her letters looked like some of the signs I've seen in Salem street.

NURSING MOTHERS

"A richer milk than milk" is good food for nursing mothers. Scott's Emulsion is the rich cream of cod liver oil, and contains ten times as much cream as milk does.

The nursing mother must eat with the purpose of producing good, nourishing milk for her baby. A little Scott's Emulsion is often a very wise addition to her daily diet. If through nervousness or weakness her milk is a failure, Scott's Emulsion will help make it a success.

The baby gets the benefit, too, when the mother takes Scott's Emulsion. The same remedy brings new strength and nourishment to both.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Get out your Panama.

Rev. Merrill C. Ward is moving this week to 20 Mellen street, Ashmont.

Mrs. Kate Hayden has gone to Newmarket, N. H., for a two weeks' visit.

Adams Academy has a game scheduled with Mechanics Art High school today.

The shirt-waist party in Norfolk Downs hall, will be held May 27, instead of May 20.

The first race of the season at the Wollaston Yacht club will come off May 30, Memorial day.

The revised rules of the Quincy Tennis club, and a list of the members will be issued this month.

Mrs. F. C. Hughes and the Misses Maggie and Sadie Steward of Brockton spent Sunday in West Quincy.

The permanent men of the Fire department have appeared in new straw hats furnished by Peter L. Litchfield.

Mrs. P. H. Mannex of Roger street has been entertaining Miss Annie McMahon and Mr. John Miller of Medway.

The revised timetable of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., for the summer appears in this issue. There are a few changes.

Leigh H. Harris, of Cambridge, has bought out Heath's Cash Grocery, corner of Beach and Hancock streets, Wollaston Park.

The West Quincy B. B. C. will have as opponents on Saturday on the Ward Four playgrounds, the crack Somerville nine.

D. E. Wadsworth and his mother Mrs. E. D. Wadsworth of Milton left Tuesday for a brief trip to Norfolk, Virginia.

A local druggist compounded a prescription on Tuesday that filled one eight-ounce bottle. There was nothing remarkable about it except the charge made, which was $6.50.

The grounds about the residence of Hon. Charles H. Porter on Hancock and Adams streets have been nicely graded and sown down with grass. They look very attractive.

Now it is reported that E. C. Foster, vice-president of the Boston & Northern and general manager of the Old Colony electric railways, has decided not to accept the presidency of the New Orleans railway companies.

On account of the hot weather yesterday, many people living near beaches availed themselves of the opportunity, and took a "dip" in the salt water. There were a large number of bathers at Wollaston Beach.

The Atlantic Associates gave Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Barker an old fashioned surprise party at their home on Hanstreet Tuesday evening, May 12, and a thoroughly good time was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Pierce and Charles Hadlock won first prizes at whist and Herbert Gearwar and Mrs. Osgood second.

Fore River Dredging.

The prospects are now good for a State appropriation for dredging the Fore River at Quincy Point. Practical Politics comments as follows:

The most surprising turtle-turning of the year has been done by the committee on harbors and public lands on the bill for dredging the Weymouth Fore River, which Representative Drinkwater of Braintree has introduced and advocated. This bill calls for an expenditure of $25,000 to dredge to a depth of 24 feet at mean low water. When this bill went into the committee on harbors and public lands, a hearing was, of course, advertised and held. The need of such dredging was shown in a way, but it was not a very pressing need, and the committee voted unanimously to report leave to withdraw. This was the start of the affair.

Drinkwater naturally felt very much hurt at this and he sought out the members of the committee. His request was not that they report the bill, but that they recommit it so that new evidence could be brought out. Finally he secured this favor and, to the surprise of about every one, the committee which reported unanimously leave to withdraw was ready to report the bill unanimously, till Cliff Sherman and Benney of Scituate finally asked to be put down as dissenters.

It was sent to the ways and means committee and another surprise came out there when the committee reported favorably on it.

Leg and Collarbone Broken.

Wilber Parkinson of Quincy, a lineman on the Old Colony street railway, fell from one of the poles, on which he was at work in Holbrook on Saturday and was badly hurt. Dr. Merriam attended him and found that his right leg was broken above the knee as was his left collarbone, and he was otherwise bruised. He was taken to Quincy.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Doctor orders. Druggist sells. You take. Quickly said. Quickly cured.

J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

Three at Norfolk Downs,

VERY DESIRABLE ONES.

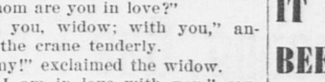

others at Quincy Point, Houghs Neck, Malden and Everett.

A. S. SANDBERG,

Jewelers Building, Boston. Brewers Corner, Quincy.

May 16. 6t

Restful Mattresses.

Just think, people everywhere trying to get enjoyment and comfort out of this life, and the queer thing about it all is, that very few start in the right place.

There isn't any money that will bring such rest and comfort to tired folks as the money you spend for one of our famous Cotton Felt Mattresses.

These Mattresses are as unlike the one you are now using, as night is unlike day. They are soft, soothing, springy, restful, dreamy. They fit the body from top to toe, and afford you rest, comfort and enjoyment, unequalled by anything else that money can buy in all this great world of ours.

They range in price from $7.50 to $15.00. We have them for immediate delivery.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

The Crane's Courtship

The Widow Owl was sitting on the stump of an old tree early one evening when who should come along but gallant Mr. Crane. He made his best bow and wished her the best of health. The widow said she was feeling well, thank you, and then they fell to talking about the weather and one thing and another.

After awhile Mr. Crane sighed a deep sigh and the Widow Owl exclaimed:

"Dear me, Mr. Crane, what is the matter that you should sigh that way? It really sounds as if you were in love."

"I am in love, Mrs. Owl—deeply in love," replied the long legged bird.

"I thought so," said the widow. "And with whom are you in love?"

"With you, widow; with you," answered the crane tenderly.

"Oh, my!" exclaimed the widow.

"Yes, I am in love with you," continued the crane, "and I want you to be my wife. You are the fairest female in the land."

"I'M IN LOVE, MRS. OWL."

"And you," said the widow shyly, "you are the handsomest thing I know."

"Then will you be mine?" cried the crane.

"Alas, I can never be!" replied the widow.

"Why not, dear heart?" he asked.

"You live in the day and I live at night. Our paths must ever be separate."

"Too sad!" exclaimed the crane, brushing a tear from his eye.

"But I will be a sister to you," added the Widow Owl.

And then the crane shed a few more tears and went to sleep, while Mrs. Owl flew away to catch her nightly supply of mice.—Chicago Tribune.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus oftenbefore medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

WATCH US GROW. WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

$3.50

For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . . At Co-operative Dining Rooms

3 Granite Street, Quincy,

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21-2m

IT HAS BEEN SAID

That it takes a rich man to draw a check, a horse to draw a cart, a pretty girl to draw attention, a toper to draw a cork, a free lunch to draw a crowd, and an advertisement in the home paper to draw trade.

IF INTERESTED

Drop a postal to the office of the Daily Ledger and we will send our advertising man around. Only 5 cents per Inch per day by the Month.

Reupholstering

OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE

HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED

And Made Over.

Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.

Call and get Prices.

C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.

Quincy, May 2. 1m

E. M. MAXWELL,

DRESSMAKING.

Ladies' Tailor Made Suits a specialty. Altering and Repairing neatly and promptly attended to No. 3 South Central Avenue, corner Newport Avenue, Wollaston, Mass.

May 18. 6t

KING'S PARK HOUSE.

Board and Rooms.

345 Washington Street.

Quincy, May 19. 1m

Sarsaparilla
octor orders. Druggist sells.
ou take. Quickly said.
uickly cured. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Jewelry Building, Boston.
May 16.

A. S. S. and others at Quincy Po
VERY DES
Three at N
HOUSES

Just think, people everywhere trying to get enjoyment and comfort out of this life, and that very few start in the ill bring such rest and comyou spend for one of our the one you are now using, soft, soothing, springy, restom top to toe, and afford you qualled by anything else that rid of ours.
0 to $15.00. We have them

CAIDE & CO.,
ced Furniture Store,
Quincy, Mass.
and Saturday Evenings.

WATCH US GROW.
E ARE HERE TO STAY.

$3.50
For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . .
At Co-operative Dining Rooms
3 Granite Street, Quincy,
Right in the Heart of the City."
all in and talk it over.
mar.16-21-2m

T HAS EEN SAID
That it takes a rich man to draw a check, a horse to draw a cart, a pretty girl to draw attention, a toper to draw a cork, a free lunch to draw a crowd, and an advertisement in the home paper to draw trade.

INTERESTED
Drop a postal to the office of the Daily Ledger and we wil send our advertising man around. Only 5 cents per Inch per day by the Month.

Upholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE
IR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.
pets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.
Call and get Prices.
H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.
ncy, May 2. 1m

. M. MAXWELL,
DRESSMAKING.
s' Tailor Made Suits a specialty. Altering Repairing neatly and promptly attended to o. 3 South Central Avenue, corner Newport Avenue, Wollaston, Mass.
y 18. 6t

NG'S PARK HOUSE.
Board and Rooms.
345 Washington Street.
ncy, May 19. 1m

SECOND CONCERT

GIVEN BY THE

WOLLASTON CHORAL SOCIETY,

MR. CHARLES B. STEVENS, Director.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH,

WEDNESDAY, May 20, 1903,

At 8 o'clock.

May 9. p-2w--1-18-3t

By C. H. JOHNSON, Auctioneer.
Office: Room 3 Adams Building.

Household Furniture

At Public Auction of CHARLES PETERSON will be sold from residence No. 138 Granite Street, on Tuesday, May 26, 1903,

At 1.30 P. M.

The goods consist in part as follows: Plush Rocker, Woolen Carpet, Curtains, 2 Rockers, 6 Rugs, Oak Side Board in good order, Cane Seat Rocker, Oak Commode, Oak Bureau, 8 foot Oak Extension Table, 6 Cane Seat Dining Room Chairs, Art Square, Hanging Lamp, Plants, 5 Odd Chairs, White Iron Bed nearly new, Rocker, Table Covers, Bed Spreads, Comforters, Mattresses, Straw Matting, Chamber Set, China Tea Set, lot of Dishes and Glass Ware, Magee Range in good order, Kitchen Table, and a lot of Kitchen Furniture. This is only a partial list of the furnishings of 5 rooms. All of above furniture is clean and in good order.

Sale positive. Goods to be removed at once. Terms, Cash.

No. 138 Granite Street.

May 18. 6t-18-19-20-22-23-24

By C. H. JOHNSON, - - Auctioneer.
Office, Room 3 Adams Building, Quincy.

QUINCY

Real Estate at Public Auction.

The Valuable Real Estate

— ON —

Hancock Street, in Quincy,

— OF THE —

Late Nancy Brackett,

Will be sold at Public Auction on the premises, 1207 Hancock Street, on

May 23, 1903, at 3 o'clock P. M.

Train for Quincy leaves South Station, in Boston, at 2.28 o'clock.

The land has a frontage of 318 feet on Hancock street, a depth of 269 feet and embraces 84,935 square feet. The buildings consist of at 10-room House, built in the Old Colonial style, and a stable. The estate is one of the old estates of Quincy. It is situated on the main thoroughfare in the centre of the city within a few steps of the Railroad Station, Post Office, stores, and public buildings. It offers excellent opportunities for a private residence, or for development by the laying out of streets and erection of buildings. The present growth and prospects of the city of Quincy make this a peculiar opportunity for either investment or improvement.

$500 to be deposited and other terms to be announced at the time and place of sale.

For plan of land or any other information, inquire of

GEORGE W. MORTON,
Adams Building, Quincy.
HENRY H. SPRAGUE,
19 Milk street, Boston.

May 9—7t 9, 16, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22

AN OLD WEDDING CUSTOM.

Throwing the Bridal Shoe, and How It Originated.

In nearly all countries when a young couple are wedded some one flings an old shoe or slipper after the carriage in which they roll away from the scene at which the ceremony takes place, yet few know how the custom originated. It was first known in what is now a part of the German empire. According to a law in Hamburg, enacted in 1291, the bridegroom was bound to present the bride with a pair of shoes. They almost played the part of our engagement ring and were, as it were, evidence of betrothal.

Among the Saxons of Transylvania it is still the custom for the bridegroom early in the morning of the wedding day to send his intended a pair of shoes, and an ancient tradition enjoins upon the girl that she must treasure these shoes up if she wants to be kindly treated by her husband, for he will not begin to beat her until they are worn out. In Greece when the maiden has concluded the leavetaking with her friends in her father's house the "best man" puts on her feet her boots, the gift of the bridegroom. Then the procession starts for the church, but before entering it the bridegroom's mother asks the maiden three times, "Bride, hast thou the shoes?"

In many places the shoes are given to the relatives and not to the bride. Among some of the American Indian tribes the braves on visiting their intended before marriage place shoes on her feet (moccasins). Among the east Finns the young couple are attended to their bedroom by the entire company, but the bride's mother will not allow the young husband to go to bed until he has given her a pair of shoes. In Bulgaria the bridegroom makes a money present to the relatives of the bride. It is called "shoe money," and the father buys shoes for the other members of his family. This money is said to be the relic of the price paid for a wife to the clan from which she was taken.

—When a camel wants water it moans continually. It is pitiful at night in the desert to hear the ceaseless moaning of thirsty camels.

NEED OF UNITY.

To Make Our City More Beautiful.

What is Accomplished Elsewhere.

Profitable Meeting of the People's Union of Ward One.

Although the attendance was not large at the meeting of the Ward One branch of the People's Union, at Colonial hall Tuesday evening it was encouraging for the cause, as those present manifested much interest.

Mr. John McKnight presided and introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. A. C. Farley a past president of the Auburndale Improvement Association, one of the prettiest villages on the Boston & Albany railroad, and a part of the city of Newton, which is famous for its fine residences, beautiful streets, and progressive citizens. It is a pity more could not have heard Mr. Farley. His society is an old one having started almost at the time the village did.

He told how hard they had worked to get the Boston & Albany to build a railroad station, and at last built it at their own expense. The old depot has since been replaced by the handsomest one in the state, designed by Richardson, but this time the railroad did not ask Auburndale to contribute.

The association had bought up acres of land along the Charles river, had caused streets to be widened before built upon, had had street railways widen street before securing a franchise.

Mr. Farley emphasized the need of unity; of getting together and deciding what the town needed and then working for it, going often in a mass to City Council meetings, and success was sure to follow.

He spoke of the branch of the public library which the association started, leasing three rooms, one for library, one for games and one for reading and reference. These the association furnished, subscribed for magazines and bought books. After a few years the burden was taken from their shoulders by the city which now appropriates money each year for this branch library. These few rooms had been of great benefit to the village in taking people off the street nights, and had done untold good morally for the village.

His association kept up their interest year after year; paid annual dues of one dollar and often went down into their pockets when some special improvement was desired. It is impossible to give Mr. Farley's talk in full or bring out all the good points.

General discussion followed. One gentlemen told of what was done in Wyoming, a suburb of Cincinnati and what a beautiful town it was now. Ex Mayor Hall spoke of the public scales, the railroad station and other matters pertaining to city improvements: Dr. C. T. Sherman spoke of the Quincy station, how he had always hoped it would some day be on the Nancy Brackett estate amid the beautiful old elm trees and pretty surroundings. The present station came in for some heavy criticism, architecturally as well as unattractive surroundings.

Several signed to become members and at the annual meeting in June there will doubtless be a large enrollment ready to take up in earnest the work of advancing Quincy, along the lines of the beautiful, and artistic all working together without regard to creed or politics, having always in mind the making of Quincy an attractive and desirable place to live in and to attract others.

Sewer Connections.

Following are the estates connected with the public sewer during the past two weeks:

Geo. H. Cox Royal street.
Fred A. Meier Felton street.
Mrs. J. F. Reardon Squantum street.
May E. Hayes Tyler street.
J. W. Pratt Independence avenue.
William Beveridge Old Colony street.
B. J. Barry Walker street.
H. B. Chapman Holmes street.
Josephine Alden Liberty street.
B. G. Barri Glover avenue.
B. G. Barri Beach street.
N. G. Nickerson Old Colony street.
Sprague Bros & Co. Clark avenue.
Sprague Bros & Co. Clark avenue.
A. E. Sevlt Birch street.
E. Hawkridge Rawson Road.
B. G. Barri Glover avenue.
W. A. Hodges Hodges avenue.
John Pinnington Birch street.
Matt Henderson Atlantic street.
W. Beveridge Old Colony avenue.
Mrs. Sophia MacIntire Hollis street.
E. R. Wade Atlantic street.

—Fireworks are sent off before the services at the Bahia cathedral (in Brazil) in order to attract the attention of the people.

Cleveland's
BAKING POWDER
Makes the cake and biscuit come right every time.
"I prefer Cleveland's; perfectly wholesome; always gives uniform results." CARRIE M. DEARBORN, Late Principal Boston Cooking School.

MORAL EDUCATION.

Discussed by Rev. Fr. Johnstone Before Monday Evening Club.

The last regular meeting for the season of the Atlantic Monday Evening club took place this week, the speakers being Rev. Julian Johnstone of Quincy and Mr. Thomas D. Borst of Atlantic.

Rev. Father Johnstone's topic was "Moral education from the Roman Catholic point of view." His paper was scholarly and contained an ideal standard for living a noble life. He spoke of the elements necessary in forming true character, and decried any tendency to eliminate from it the religious side, claiming it was the sincere and earnest desire of the Roman Catholic church to build up in the minds and hearts of her adherents their duty to God, thus insuring their lives as true citizens. He emphatically denied that the Roman Catholic church is opposed to a Republican government and asserted that she teaches duty to God, as the first requisite in all men's lives, and the second duty is one's country.

He received many congratulations from the members of the club on his interesting address.

Mr. Borst's paper on "Life in the Markets" was a most felicitous one and gave a history and realistic picture of the business and pleasure connected with the famous Faneuil Hall and Quincy Marts, and the improvements in the modern mode of preserving the freshness of foods by cold storage.

The musical program was in charge of the music committee, Mrs. Alfred Jelinek, who announced eight numbers, including two recitations by Miss Archibald, which were given in a delightful manner and elicited much applause.

Miss Wendelsten presided at the piano and played two solos, "The Butterfly" by Lavallee, and "Springtime."

Misses Stearns and Frederickson played two violin duets, and Miss Russell sang two songs, "Hold thou my hand" and "Sing me to sleep," the latter with violin obligato.

The music was all much enjoyed and the encores were very persistent.

Mrs. Theodore Parker was the social committee.

The annual meeting is to be held next Monday evening.

Beautiful Descriptive Books.

In the list of literature published by the Boston & Maine Railroad Passenger Department are thirteen books entitled: "The Merrimack Valley," "Among the Mountains," "Lakes and Streams," "Lake Sunapee," "Lake Memphremagog and About There," "Southeast New Hampshire," "Southwest New Hampshire," "Hoosac Country & Deerfield Valley," "Valley," "Valley of the Connecticut & Northern Vermont," "All Along Shore," "Central Massachusetts," "The Monadnock Region," "Fishing & Hunting."

The books give a delightful description of the different resorts of New England, each book containing from thirty to sixty pages of interesting reading matter and beautiful illustrations.

One of these books will be mailed upon receipt of two cents and the whole set will be mailed upon receipt of twenty-six cents in postage by the General Passenger Department, Boston & Maine Railroad, Boston.

Crushing a Bore.

John G. Whittier, the Quaker poet, once in describing the usages of the Quakers in regard to "speaking in meetings" said that sometimes the voluntary remarks were not quite to the edification of the meeting. It once happened that a certain George C. grew rather wearisome in his exhortations, and his prudent brethren, after solemn consultation, passed the following resolution: "It is the sense of this meeting that George C. be advised to remain silent until such time as the Lord shall speak through him more to our satisfaction and profit."

The Throat and Tonsils.

A simple gargle for a sore throat may be made by adding fifteen drops of refined carbolic acid to a quart of water. Remember to shake thoroughly before using—otherwise it will be useless—and gargle four or five times a day. In case of swollen tonsils a teaspoonful of powdered tannin dissolved in a tumbler of water forms an excellent gargle, which should be used every two hours. A gargle of permanganate of potash, not too strong, is also excellent for use in cases of mild sore throat.

STREET WATERING.

Houghs Neck Man Believes Street Railway Should Water Sea Street.

To the Council of the City of Quincy:

I see by tonight's Ledger, that Councilman Meyer has offered an order to have Sea street watered, and the abutters to pay one-half of the expense. I, as an abutter, do not approve of any such measure, from the very fact that the electric railway company should be compelled to do it at their expense. They have a valuable franchise through this public highway.

If the Council impose this extra tax I shall take the matter to the highest court and compel the records of receipts and expenditures to be produced by the said city of Quincy at Houghs Neck for the last ten years, exclusive of water tax.

Now let Mr. Meyer tell me if he thinks the abutters between the Willows (so called) and the new engine house would submit to such a tax. And does Mr. Meyer have to pay any part of this tax? No!

I say to the Council that it is their duty to compel the street railway to run their sprinkler over that part of Sea street that they have free use of at the taxpayers expense.

William John Tilley.

Houghs Neck, May 19, 1903.

College Y. M. C. A. Events.

Jeremiah Holmes has resigned from the position of General Secretary at Brown University to enter some other phase of secretarial work. C. F. Savage of the class of 1904 has been elected to take his place.

The Harvard Association has issued an attractive prospectus entitled "Harvard at Northfield," and 100 men are expected to attend the conference in July.

The reports from 19 student Associations in Massachusetts and Rhode Island show a membership in the Y. M. C. A. of 2,037 in the institutions, which have an enrollment of 8,694 students; 34 courses in Bible study have been conducted with an average attendance of 538, and 45 religious meetings are held every week with an average attendance of 1329. Clayton S. Cooper of the International Committee and George S. Budd, the student secretary of the State Committee, have conducted institutes on Bible study in many of these institutions and they have adopted a policy of doubling the enrollment in Bible study the next season.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

DIED.

MEAD—In Quincy, May 20, Margaret F., daughter of Mr. David T. and Mrs. Rosanna Meade, of 44 Brackett street, aged 4 years, 7 months and 29 days.

LIRA—In Quincy, May 19, John L., son of Mr. John and Mrs. Hilma Lira of 7 Clark avenue, aged 1 year, 5 months and 15 days.

BLANCHARD — In Neponset, May 19, Mr. Charles F. Blanchard of 6 Lorenzo street, aged 62 years, 11 months.

WILD—In Holbrook, May 16, Mr. William H. Wilde, aged 77 years, 8 months and 21 days.

Peptiron
Is a Specific for Unstrung Nerves
Impaired Digestion
Pale, Weak People
Of Both Sexes and All Ages.

It is tonic, digestive and nutritive—both medicine and food. Possesses the strength-giving qualities of iron, the digestive powers of pepsin, and the nerve-building qualities of celery and other valuable ingredients. Does not injure the teeth, nor cause constipation.

Peptiron is made in two forms: In a liquid—an aromatic cordial elixir—at $1 per bottle, also in chocolate-coated pills at 50c. or $1 per box. By C. I. HOOD CO., proprietors Hood's Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

Selling Agent in Quincy:
E. J. Murphy, 1657 Hancock St.

FREDERICK H. LORD,
TEACHER OF BANJO,
Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.
TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.
118 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 7. tf

PUZZLES IN SPELLING.

They Are Liable to Catch You In a Most Mysterious Way.

What queer quirks a good and obedient mind will sometimes take! A clergyman of exceptional scholarly attainments tells me that he once wrote what he at the moment conceived to be the word "righteous." The nature of his calling ought to suggest that of all words this one should be among the most familiar to him, and indeed it was. Yet when he had written it it did not look right. After puzzling over it for some time he concluded that it must end with "ious" instead of "eous," as he had written it. Finally in a mental muddle he went to his unabridged dictionary, but was amazed at finding no such word there. Deferring further search for the nonce, he completed his letter and then opened the dictionary again. This time he found the word all right and in its proper place, a fact which, he said, would have been a warning to him if he had been a drinking man.

The explanation of it was that by some unaccountable freak he had got it into his noddle that it was spelled "ritcheous." He had spelled it so in his letter and had of course looked on the wrong page of the dictionary for it in the first instance. By the time he looked again the crotchet was out of his mind, and he knew how to spell the word as well as Webster did.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Scholarly Men and the Pulpit.

If scholarly men more and more reject the church as the means by which they will influence opinion and conduct and replace it by educational, editorial and administrative agencies, the next century may be altogether guided in its intellectual decisions and in those of its actions which depend on intellectual judgments by forces outside the church. Our grandfathers looked to the minister for advice not only upon religious beliefs and moral practice, but also upon most matters outside their own direct acquaintance. The minister prescribed for the education of sons, solved social problems and acted as the source and judge of truth in matters of general knowledge. Our sons seem likely to regard the ministry as a body of men fitted to deal with men's religious welfare, but less fitted to be generous mentors in others. The direction of the people in other than purely religious activities may pass wholly out of the hands of the church.—Professor E. L. Thorndike in Century.

A Tragic Wedding Ring.

A tragic story of a forgotten wedding ring is told in the "Lives of the Lindsays." He should have been at church when Colin Lindsay, the young Earl of Balcarras, was quietly eating his breakfast in nightgown and slippers. Reminded that Mauritia of Nassau was waiting for him at the altar, he hurried to church, but forgot the ring. A friend present gave him one, which he, without looking at, placed on the bride's finger.

After the ceremony was over the countess glanced at her hand and beheld a grinning death's head on her ring. She fainted away, and the omen made such an impression on her that on recovering she declared she was destined to die within a year, a presentiment that probably brought about its own fulfillment, for in a few months the careless Colin was a widower.

Irritation and Pain.

A sharp definition should be drawn between irritation and pain. Irritation is not pain, but only a frequent cause of it. Thus a crumb lodged in the larynx near the vocal cords produces violent irritation and prolonged coughing, which often result in actual pain. So, too, a speck of dust in the eye sets up violent irritation and inflammation, followed by acute pain. Of the surface of the body the finger tips and the end of the tongue are most sensitive—for instance, a burn on the fingers is much more painful than one on the back would be, while one on the tongue would be more painful still. Deep wounds are not painful, as a rule, save as regards the surface injury.

Trees of Europe and North America.

Forest vegetation is much richer in North America than in Europe and comprises 412 species, of which 176 are native to the Atlantic region, 106 to the Pacific, 10 are common to both, 46 to the Rocky mountain region, and 74 are tropical species near the coast of Florida as against 158 species in Europe. Six North American species of forest trees—the Judas tree, persimmon, hackberry, plane tree, hop hornbeam and chestnut—are also indigenous in Europe, all now growing there naturally south of the Alps.

Nature's Toilet.

The West Indian negro need not buy soap. He picks a bulb from the "soap tree" in the jungle, which makes a beautiful lather.

If he wants a shave, he uses a piece of sharp cocoanut shell or broken glass and it answers as well as a razor.

To clean his teeth he picks a twig of "chewstick," which is better than the best camel's hair brush and dentifrice.

The Correct Reply.

At an examination held at the agricultural college the question was put, "When is the best time to sow barley?" The examinate," a sharp country lad from the district of Altenburg, promptly replied:

"Three days before a gentle rain, sir."—From the German.

A Lender No Longer.

"Never lend Burroughs any money?"
"Never did."
"But you have."
"No; used to think I did, but found I was making a gift every time."—Boston Post.

To Look Well
your blood must be pure to give your complexion that peculiar freshness which can only be obtained when your system is in good working order. Beecham's Pills will put you in condition.
Beecham's Pills
Sold Everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25c.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - 50 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

LOST.

LOST—On May 18, in vicinity of Brewer's Corner, a Pocket Book contuining a sum of money. Finder will be rewarded by returning same to 23 Albertina street. May 19-3t

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE. Stable Manure. Delivered in Quincy for $5 a cord. Address BOX 154, Atlantic. May 16. 6t

FOR SALE—A light running open Corning Box Buggy, cheap, in fine condition; also a rubber tired Goddard, in good repair; can be seen at 19 Pine street, Wollaston. Address E. F. WHITE, Wollaston, Mass. May 11-13t

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office. April 28. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street. Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve (12) rooms, with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

WANTED.

WANTED—As one of our compositors is about to be married there is an opening at the Daily Ledger Office for a bright girl who wishes to learn type-setting. Apply to or address GEO. W. PRESCOTT, Ledger Office, Quincy. May 20-tf

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London and Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON. Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

TO LET.

FOR RENT—By a young married couple without children, furnished house this summer. Best of references. Parties going to the beach will find this a good opportunity to leave their home in responsible care. Address, H. H., Ledger office. Quincy, May 19-tf

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy. April 8. w. th. s. m.—tf

ROOMS TO LET—With or without board. Near electric cars; about five minutes' walk from depot. 212 Highland avenue, near Brook street, Wollaston. May 14-6t

TO LET—Large, Square Room and Side Rooms. Barn for $4 per month. Apply Greenleaf street, corner Hancock street. Quincy, May 8. tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet. 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street. Quincy, April 21. tf

NEW STORES TO LET.

A BUILDING will be erected at once by N. G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information enquire of N. G. NICKERSON. Quincy, May 12-tf

LEDGER ADVERTISEMENTS PAY BEST

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

JOHN STREIFERD & SON, FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.

Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

When Knighthood Was In Flower

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening in the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By Edwin Caskoden [Charles Major]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

CHAPTER XX—Cortinued.

I nearly detested King Louis, largely, I think, because of prejudice absorbed from Mary, but he was, in fact, a fairly good old man, and at times I could but pity him. He was always soft in heart and softer in head, especially where women were concerned. Take his crazy attempt to seize the Countess of Croy while he was yet Duke of Orleans, and his infatuation for the Italian woman, for whom he built the elaborate burial vault—much it must have comforted her! Then his marriage to dictatorial little Anne of Brittany, for whom he had induced Pope Alexander to divorce him from the poor little crippled owlet Joan. In consideration of this divorce he had put Cæsar Borgia, Pope Alexander's son, on his feet, financially and politically. I think he must have wanted the owlet back again before he was done with Anne, because Anne was a termagant and ruled him with the heaviest rod of iron she could lift.

But this last passion, the flickering, sputtering flame of his dotage, was the worst of all, both subjectively and objectively, both as to his senile fondness for the English princess and her impish tormenting of him. From the first he evinced the most violent delight in Mary, who repaid it by holding him off and evading him in a manner so cool, audacious and adroit that it stamped her queen of all the arts feminine and demoniac. Pardon me, ladies, if I couple these two arts, but you must admit they are at times somewhat akin. Soon she eluded him so completely that for days he would not have a glimpse of her, while she was perhaps riding, walking or coquetting with some of the court gallants, who aided and abetted her in every way they could. He became almost frantic in pursuit of his elusive bride, and would expostulate with her, when he could catch her, and smile uneasily, like a man who is the victim of a practical joke of which he does not see or enjoy the point. On such occasions she would laugh in his face, then grow angry—which was so easy for her to do—and, I grieve to say, would sometimes almost swear at him in a manner to make the pious though ofttimes lax virtued court ladies shudder with horror. She would at other times make sport of his youthful ardor and tell him in all seriousness that it was indecorous for him to behave so and frighten her, a poor, timid little child, with his impetuosities. Then she would manage to give him the slip, and he would go off and play a game of cards with himself, firmly convinced in his own feeble way that woman's nature had a tincture of the devil in it. He was the soul of conciliatory kindness to the young vixen, but at times she would break violently into tears, accuse him of cruelly mistreating her, a helpless woman and a stranger in his court, and threaten to go home to dear old England and tell her brother, King Henry, all about it and have him put things to right and redress her wrongs generally. In fact, she acted the part of injured innocence so perfectly that the poor old man would apologize for the wrongs she invented and try to coax her into a good humor. Thereupon she would weep more bitterly than ever, grow hysterical and require to be carried off by her women, when recovery and composure were usually instantaneous. Of course the court gossips soon carried stories of the quick recoveries to the king, and when he spoke to Mary of them she put on her injured air again and turned the tables by upbraiding him for believing such calumnies about her, who was so good to him and loved him so dearly.

Mary would often pout for days together and pretend illness. Upon one occasion she kept the king waiting at her door all the morning, while she, having slipped through the window, was riding with some of the young people in the forest. When she returned—through the window—she went to the door and scolded the poor old king for keeping her waiting penned up in her room all the morning. And he apologized!

She changed the dinner hour to noon in accordance with the English custom, and had a heavy supper at night, when she would make the king gorge himself with unhealthful food and coax him "to drink as much as Brother Henry," which invariably resulted in Louis de Valois finding lodgment under the table. This amused the whole court except a few old cronies and physicians, who, of course, were scandalized beyond measure. She took the king on long rides with her on cold days, and would jolt him almost to death and freeze him until the cold tears streamed down his poor pinched nose, making him feel like a half animated icicle and wish that he were one, in fact.

At night she would have her balls and keep him up till morning, drinking and dancing, or trying to dance, with her until his poor old heels, and his head, too, for that matter, were like to fall off; then she would slip away from him and lock herself in her room. December, say I, let May alone; she certainly will kill you. Despite which sound advice, I doubt not December will go on coveting May up to the end of the chapter, each old fellow—being such a fine man for his age, you understand—fondly believing himself an exception. Age in a fool is damnable.

Mary was killing Louis as certainly and deliberately as if she were feeding him slow poison. He was very weak and decrepit at best, being compelled frequently upon public occasions, such, for example, as the coronation tournament of which I have spoken, to lie upon a couch.

Mary's conduct was really cruel, but then, remember the provocation, and that she was acting in self defense. All this was easier for her than you might suppose, for the king's grasp of power, never very strong, was beginning to relax even what little grip it had. All faces were turned toward the rising sun, young Francis, duke of Angouleme, the king's distant cousin, who would soon be king in Louis' place. As this young rising sun, himself vastly smitten with Mary, openly encouraged her in what she did the courtiers of course followed suit and the old king found himself surrounded by a court only too ready to be amused by his lively young queen at his expense.

This condition of affairs Mary welcomed with her whole soul, and to accent it and nail assurance, I fear, played ever so lightly and coyly upon the heartstrings of the young duke, which responded all too loudly to her velvet touch and almost frightened her to death with their volume of sound later on. This Francis d'Angouleme, the dauphin, had fallen desperately in love with Mary at first sight, something against which the fact that he was married to Claude, daughter of Louis, in no way militated. He was a very distant relative of Louis, going away back to St. Louis for his heirship to the French crown. The king had daughters in plenty, but, as you know, the gallant Frenchmen say, according to their law salic, "The realm of France is so great and glorious a heritage that it may not be taken by a woman." Too great and glorious to be taken by a woman, forsooth! France would have been vastly better off had she been governed by a woman now and then, for a country always prospers under a queen.

Francis had for many years lived at court as the recognized heir, and, as the custom was, called his distant cousin Louis "Uncle." "Uncle" Louis in turn called Francis "Ce Gros Garcon," and Queen Mary called him "Monsieur, mon beau fils," in a mock motherly manner that was very laughable. A mother of eighteen to a "good boy" of twenty-two! Dangerous relationship! And dangerous indeed it would have been for Mary had she not been as pure and true as she was wilful and impetuous. "Mon beau fils" allowed neither his wife nor the respect he owed the king to stand in the way of his very marked attention to the queen. His position as heir and his long residence at court, almost as son to Louis, gave him ample opportunities for pressing his unseemly suit. He was the first to see Mary at the meeting place this side of Abbeville, and was the king's representative on all occasions.

"Beau fils" was rather a handsome fellow, but thought himself vastly handsomer than he was, and had some talents, which he was likewise careful to estimate at their full value, to say the least. He was very well liked by women, and in turn considered himself irresistible. He was very impressionable to feminine charms, was at heart a libertine, and, as he grew older, became a debauchee whose memory will taint France for centuries to come.

Mary saw his weakness more clearly than his wickedness, being blinded to the latter by the veil of her own innocence. She laughed at and with him, and permitted herself a great deal of his company—so much, in fact, that I grew a little jealous for Brandon's sake, and, if the truth must be told, for the first time began to have doubts of her. I seriously feared that when Louis should die Brandon might find a much more dangerous rival in the new king, who, although married, would probably try to keep Mary at his court even should he be driven to the extreme of divorcing Claude as Claude's father had divorced Joan.

I believed, in case Mary should voluntarily prove false and remain in France either as the wife or the mistress of Francis, that Brandon would quietly but surely contrive some means to take her life, and I hoped he would. I spoke to my wife, Jane, about the queen's conduct, and she finally admitted that she did not like it, so I, unable to remain silent any longer, determined to put Mary on her guard, and for that purpose spoke very freely to her on the subject.

"Oh, you goose!" she said laughingly. "He is almost as great a fool as Henry." Then the tears came to her eyes, and half angrily, half hysterically, shaking me by the arm, she continued: "Do you not know? Can you not see that I would give this hand or my eyes, almost my life, just to fall upon my face in front of Charles Brandon at this moment? Do you not know that a woman with a love in her heart such as I have for him is safe from every one and everything; that it is her sheet anchor, sure and fast? Have you not wit enough to know that?"

"Yes, I have," I responded, for the time completely silenced. With her favorite tactics she had, as usual, put me in the wrong, though I soon came again to the attack.

"But he is so base that I grieve to see you with him."

"I suppose he is not very good," she responded, "but it seems to be the way of these people among whom I have fallen, and he cannot harm me."

"Oh, but he can! One does not go near smallpox, and there is a moral contagion quite as dangerous, if not so perceptible, and equally to be avoided. It must be a wonderfully healthy moral nature, pure and chaste to the core, that will be entirely contagion proof and safe from it."

She hung her head in thought and then lifted her eyes appealingly to me. "Am I not that, Edwin? Tell me! Tell me frankly; am I not? It is the one thing of good I have always striven for. I am so full of other faults that if I have not that there is no good in me." Her eyes and voice were full of tears, and I knew in my heart that I stood before as pure a soul as ever came from the hand of God.

"You are, your majesty; never doubt," I answered. "It is pre-eminently the one thing in womanhood to which all mankind kneels." And I fell upon my knee and kissed her hand with a sense of reverence, faith and trust that has never left me from that day to this. As to my estimate of how Francis would act when Louis should die, you will see that I was right.

Not long after this Lady Caskoden and I were given permission to return to England, and immediately prepared for our homeward journey.

As we left, Mary placed in my hands a letter for Brandon, whose bulk was so reassuring that I knew he had never been out of her thoughts. I looked at the letter a moment and said, in all seriousness, "Your majesty, had I not better provide an extra box for it?"

She gave a nervous little laugh, and the tears filled her eyes as she whispered huskily: "I fancy there is one who will not think it too large. Goodby, goodby!" So we left Mary, fair, sweet girl queen, all alone among those terrible strangers. Alone with one little English maiden, seven years of age, Anne Boleyn.

[To be Continued.]

PRESIDENT AND KAISER.

German Forestry Commissioner Tells Why Both Are Popular Abroad.

According to Mr. G. E. Solomon of Berlin, royal Prussian forest assessor, connected with the ministry of forestry, who has been staying at the Southern hotel, the St. Louis world's fair will attract a large number of his countrymen, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Mr. Solomon states that the fair is being considerably discussed in Germany.

"Many Germans will undoubtedly attend," he said. "I would suggest, however, that before next year your hotels supply themselves with office clerks who can talk German. On my arrival I went to the Planters' and found no one in the office who could speak my language.

"That hotel was full, and I came here to the Southern. I have found no one in this office either who can talk German, although most of the waiters can. German visitors will like to find clerks in the hotels who are familiar with German."

It was remarked that Mr. Solomon had missed hearing President Roosevelt. At the name his face lit up, and he rubbed his hands.

"Roosevelt—ah! There's some one I would like to see. He is well known in Germany."

"Do not your countrymen think that the kaiser may be compared in many ways to the president?" was asked.

Mr. Solomon became serious.

"We do not compare our emperor to any one. He stands alone," he said. "But," he continued after a pause, "there are points in which your president may be compared to our emperor. It can be summed up thus: They are both popular in Germany for the reason that they are both men."

KEYS TO SUCCESS.

Millionaire Shedd Rates Politeness High Among Qualities Needed.

John G. Shedd of Chicago, millionaire and partner of Marshall Field in the dry goods business, talked recently to 500 young men in his employ and gave them these keys to success, says the New York World:

"The man who is not polite is ninety-nine times out of a hundred a failure.

"High moral character is the best commodity a business man can keep in stock.

"You can't be a good salesman and be a liar.

"I wish there was no such thing as tobacco in existence.

"You can't aim too high, and be sure and pull the trigger before you get wabbly.

"Breathe pure air. Associate with good companions. Drink plenty of pure water and nothing that will intoxicate. Take plenty of wholesome exercise. By a little training you will have an outfit which will take you far on the road to success in business.

"Learn how to save. Give the money you are spending for tobacco and drinks to your wife to put in the savings bank. Don't ever invest your savings for the sake of the income. It's very dangerous.

"The big head is the worst disease that ever attacked a young man.

"The fellow who only thinks ordinarily and lives ordinarily and doesn't much care will never go anywhere.

"Don't lose your temper. Let the other fellow lose his.

"Those who in their youth have found themselves really in need of earning their daily bread have been those who have made the successes in life."

Have you one of those home savings banks?

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Ravder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

HISTORIC QUINCY.

Pilgrimages Almost Daily to the City of Presidents.

Quincy will soon be as famous for pilgrimages as Plymouth and Concord, as parties come now almost daily. Surely there are many historic spots of National interest, and enterprises which are novel to many. A brief list is given below.

BIRTHPLACE JOHN ADAMS.

Franklin street, Quincy Adams, house built in 1681 and restored in 1897 by Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution. Open to public. Patriotic societies admitted free, although contributions are welcome to defray expenses of keeping house open and in repair. Small fee asked the general public.

BIRTHPLACE JOHN QUINCY ADAMS.

Junction of Franklin street, Presidents road and Independence avenue. Built 1716, restored 1896 by the Quincy Historical Society. Open to public afternoons from 2 to 5. Admission charged.

BURIAL PLACE OF PRESIDENTS ADAMS.

First Congregational Church (Unitarian) Quincy centre. In auditorium each side of high pulpit, are mural monuments, to the memory of John Adams, the second president, and John Quincy Adams, the sixth president of the United States, and their wives. In cellar is old town hearse, also box in which was brought from Washington the body of John Quincy Adams. At extreme end, under front steps are the vaults of the presidents, a massive stone door closing the entrance. Admission may be secured on application to W. E. Dewhurst, sexton, 3 Maple Place, or to the office of L. S. Anderson, treasurer, 9 Savings Bank building, whose office hours are 8 A. M. to 12 M. and 2 to 5 P. M. A fee is asked for attendance, etc.

HANCOCK CEMETERY.

Hancock street, across from First Church. Many old stones, among the oldest that of Rev. John Hancock, father of the Patriot, who died May 7, 1744. Was fifth minister of First Church.

PRESIDENTS ADAMS MANSION.

Adams street, corner Newport avenue, Quincy. Residence of President John Adams and contains many family relics. Occupied by descendants. Not open to public.

JOHN HANCOCK BIRTHPLACE.

Adams street, junction of Dimmock and Hancock streets. A bronze tablet has been placed by the City of Quincy on Adams Academy to mark the place where the house stood in which the patriot John Hancock, the bold signer of the Declaration of Independence, was born.

MYLES STANDISH CAIRN.

Squantum heights, erected in 1895 by the Daughters of the Revolution, of Massachusetts, in memory of Captain Myles Standish and his men of Plymouth Colony, who landed here Sept. 30, 1621, guided by the indian Tisquantum.

SQUAW ROCK.

Pile of rock, on which is a perfect head of a squaw, frequently mentioned in early Squantum history. Near by is also Sachem's Knoll.

ABIGAIL ADAMS CAIRN.

Penns hill, erected June 17, 1896, by Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, to the memory of Abigail Adams, who with her son, John Quincy, from the spot watched the smoke of battle at Bunker Hill. Cairn composed of many historic stones, the corner stone being part of old sleeper of first railroad in United States which ran from Quincy quarries to tide water, Neponset river.

MYLES STANDISH SPRING.

On the beach to the left and back of Squantum Inn. Spring of fresh cold water, where Standish and his party breakfasted and thence started to explore the country around Boston Bay.

DOROTHY Q. HOUSE.

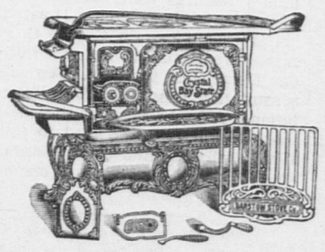

Hancock street, corner Butler road, Quincy. Old Quincy homestead in which Dorothy Q was born. Has quaint old paper on parlor put on for wedding of John Hancock and Dorothy Quincy; also secret chamber and other interesting features. Private house, not open to public.

PRESIDENTS LANE.

Now Goffe street, leading from Adams street, near Mansion. Opened by John Adams to drive his cows to pasture.

Many other points of interest might be mentioned: Thomas Crane Memorial Hall which is the public library building; Merrymount, the home of Mrs. John Quincy Adams, where Morton erected his famous May pole in 1626; the soldiers' monument at Mount Wollaston cemetery with its tablets; the famous Quincy granite quarries, many of great depth; the granite yards where monuments and statuary are being cut, and the polishing mills where granite is polished; also the big ship yard now established at Quincy Point.

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.

Come and See It.

BARSTOW STOVE CO.,

55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.

GUY'S COLISEUM,

W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 17. 4w

900 DROPS

CASTORIA

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS & CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER

Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna +
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed +
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda +
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES - 35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Are You Looking for a Home?

Would You Like to Make Some Money?

Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at

BIGELOW PARK.

The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.

SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.

May 2. tf

ORDER NOW FOR

DECORATION DAY

--YOUR--

Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works,

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy

Piazza Furniture.

For nearly four months the piazza of your home will be used for rest and recreation. Afternoons, evenings and Sundays, every member of your family will spend their leisure moments there. There also, you will receive and entertain your friends, and your pleasure and comfort will be two fold if you have the proper piazza Furniture.

This means but trifling expense if you make your selection from our complete and low priced stock.

Piazza Rockers,	89c. to $3.50.
Hammocks,	69c. to $4.59.
Lawn Settees,	98c. to $1.25.
Lawn Swings,	$5.00.

Our Piazza Furniture will last for years.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

"IN THE SPRINCTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS,

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.

April 30. 1m

ASTORIA

Infants and Children.

Kind You Have lways Bought ars the nature

of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use
For Over
Thirty Years

ASTORIA

CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Home?
e Some Money?
se Beautiful Lots at

PARK.

Accessible Tract of Land
District.

Merrill Block,
dger Building, QUINCY.

tf

Y FOR

ON DAY

edding Plants.

ENHOUSES.

Fore River Works,

GREEN, Proprietor.

the piazza of your home recreation. Afternoons, every member of your leisure moments there.
ive and entertain your and comfort will be two piazza Furniture.
xpense if you make your
and low priced stock.

0c. to $3.50.
0c. to $4.59.
5c. to $1.25.
$5.00.

last for years.

DE & CO.,
Furniture Store,
Quincy.
Saturday Evenings.

INGTIME
Love." Yes, and to thoughts of ttention to my stock of

LES.

ke or makes. I carry the following:

LAND, DAY AND FAY;

O want and I will get it for you at ncy, but my place continues to be the

BLE."

GILLIS,

all Block, Quincy, Mass.
1m

King Arthur Flour

MAKES THE

BEST BREAD.

SOLD BY

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

ERIC G. BERGFORS

Carpenter and Builder.

Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass
May 7. 1m

FULL STOCK

—OF—

HATCHET
BRAND CANNED GOODS,

—AT—

Brooks' Market,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,
QUINCY, MASS.

April 25. tf

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 25 cents and 50 cents.

TO LET

IN QUINCY, MASS.,

By H. H. FAXON.

HOUSES, STORES, HALL, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES, Land, Wharves, etc.

Buildings are in Complete Repair.

Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.
House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.
Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.
Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc., No. 92 School street, $12 per month.
Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.
Stable, junction School and Franklin streets, $4 per month.
Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.
Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.
Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.
For particulars apply to
HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, May 13, 1903. 1m

Spring and Summer Shoes.

The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.

The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.

GEORGE W. JONES,

Adams Building, - QUINCY.

BUSINESS.

YOU GET IT.

BY ADVERTISING

---IN THE---

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

NOTE HEADS
BILL HEADS ENVELOPES
CARDS
CIRCULARS.
PROGRAMS
MENUS POSTERS DODGERS
PLACARDS

Book and Job PRINTING

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION

PROMPTLY EXECUTED AT THE

Quincy Daily Ledger Office.

FIRST-CLASS WORK
PROMPT DELIVERY
PRICES RIGHT

AN EMPHATIC DENIAL

O. Raymond's Charges of Legislative Corruption

ACCUSED MAN TESTIFIES

Never Asked For Money or Spoke of It In Conversation With Accuser—Introduced an Ex-Senator, Whose Negotiations Were Without Result

Boston, May 20.—The charges of George J. Raymond, a merchant of this city, that Harry C. Foster of Gloucester, a member of the state senate, this year as well as last, had demanded money of him to "save" certain measure, were emphatically denied at the hearing before the senate investigating committee. The accused senator was on the witness stand about 20 minutes and told his story in a calm and straightforward manner. He readily admitted going to Raymond's office, but said he did so in response to a request from Raymond, who asked him for advice on a pending measure. Mr. Foster told him that he had better employ counsel, and suggested ex-Senator William A. Butler as a good man to further the proposed bill. With the introduction of Butler to Raymond, Foster said his connection with the case closed.

The senator from Gloucester denied that he had ever asked for money from Raymond or that terms "money" and "stuff" were ever used in their conversation. He denied Raymond's statement that he had to "divide" with Senator Fitzgerald or any other senator. His direct testimony to the committee in fact was a complete denial of all Raymond's charges. Although he was nervous he did not hesitate in a single answer and seemed to anticipate almost every question put to him by members of the committee.

Ex-Senator William A. Butler followed Senator Foster on the stand. He confirmed the latter's statement as to his (Butler's) connection with Raymond. The result of his negotiations with Raymond apparently were without result, for after Butler offered to take up the bill for $500 Raymond decided to let the matter drop.

The committee again decided to allow cross-questioning by counsel. Senator Frost once more laid down the policy of the committee, stating that while Foster, as a man accused by witnesses under oath, was entitled to representation by counsel, the committee would not allow cross-examination at present. This being the case, Foster's legal representative stated to the committee that Foster would go upon the stand unrepresented by counsel.

The hearing was devoid of any exciting incident, and lasted scarcely an hour. Just at the close John B. Moran requested permission to cross-examine Foster and Butler in order, as he said, to bring out the "whoe truth," but this privilege was denied by the committee.

Postal Affairs In Good Shape

San Juan, P. R., May 20.—Postmaster Landis of San Juan says the Porto Rico postal commission, against which Seymour W. Tulloch recently brought charges, deserves the highest commendation. All the accounts here were correct when the Porto Rican postoffice service was transferred to the administration of the Washington authorities with the exception of the Ponce postoffice, where there was a defalcation of $3000, which was made good by the defaulter's bondsmen.

Money May Go to Philippines

Washington, May 20.—The committee appointed by the president and the other committees formed to raise funds for the relief of the sufferers by the Mt. Pelee eruptions have completed their work. Announcement is made that of the $157,000 collected only $73,000 has been expended and that it is not considered expedient to distribute the remainder. President Roosevelt has suggested that the funds still on hand be sent to Governor Taft for relief work in the Philippines.

Move Against Disfranchisement

New York, May 20.—At a conference of prominent negroes at Brooklyn, it was decided to issue a call requesting all the negro voters of New York, New Jersey and New England to send reports to a convention to be held here on June 3. The object of the call is to take measures to prevent the disfranchisement of southern negroes and to elect delegates to the national suffrage convention.

Tammany Alderman Promoted

New York, May 20.—The board of aldermen has deposed Alderman Herbert Parsons, Republican, as chairman of the finance committee, and elected in his place John T. McCall, Tammany. This is the most important of all the aldermanic committees.

On the Diamond

At Brooklyn—National—Brooklyn, 3; Cincinnati, 2.
At Philadelphia—National—Philadelphia, 6; St. Louis, 4.
At New York—National—New York, 4; Pittsburg, 3.
At Detroit—American—Boston, 3; Detroit, 2.
At St. Louis—American—Philadelphia, 7; St. Louis, 4.
At Cleveland—American—Cleveland, 9; Washington, 1.
At Fall River—Fall River, 2; Brockton, 1.
At Manchester—Manchester, 5; Nashua, 2.
At Haverhill—Lawrence, 10; Haverhill, 9.
At Lowell—Concord, 10; Lowell, 8.

OFFENSIVE LANGUAGE

The Chief Weapon of Sympathizers With Strikers at Bridgeport

Bridgeport, Conn., May 20.—The situation in Bridgeport remains quiet and with one single exception there was no violence in the city yesterday. Abraham Munt, a coal cart driver, was unloading coal on Barnum avenue, and as a car passed he called out an offensive name and threw a piece of coal, which struck the motorman in the face. Sheriff Hawley placed Munt under arrest and he was held in default of $1000 bail.

Three young men were arrested during the day for using offensive language to the non-union men and they are held under $300 bonds.

No attempt was made to run the cars after 6 o'clock last night. Very few persons are patronizing the cars. Because of this fact the striking trolley men will put busses on all the streets through which trolley cars pass.

German View of American Trusts

Berlin, May 20.—Professor Von Halle of the Berlin university, lecturing on trusts before the American Chamber of Commerce here last night, said: "One of the most interesting things about the building up of American trusts, especially in their invasion of England, was that it was done largely with foreign money. More American bills were circulated in Europe than ever before. The United States was beginning to govern the world industrially by supplying the intelligence and organizing capacity while the world supplied the capital."

Organizing Against Labor

New York, May 20.—About 150 representatives of firms and associations engaged in the building business in this city assembled last night at the call of the Building Trades association, issued last Friday night, to form an offensive and defensive alliance against the encroachments of the alliance of labor organizations known as the United Board of Building Trades. While no definite plan of action was adopted an emergency committee was appointed with power "to handle the immediate conditions existing in the building strike situation."

Accurate Torpedo Firing

Greenport, N. Y., May 20.—The Holland submarine torpedo boats Plunger and Shark, in their official government trials on Peconic bay, covered a two-mile course, each firing a torpedo at the end of the distance. The Plunger exceeded the government requirements in speed and fired the torpedo with absolute accuracy between two flag buoys representing the vitals of a battleship. Owing to a hot bearing the Shark's speed fell shortly below that required, but her torpedo was fired as correctly as that of the Plunger.

Berbers Desert Sultan

Tangier, May 20.—Tetuan is still threatened by the hostile tribes. A thousand men belonging to the powerful Berber tribes of the Zimmuri, who were summoned to Fez to join the expedition against the pretender and whose assistance as cavalry was very important to the sultan, have mutinied. The other troops were order dto fire on them, whereupon the whole body deserted to their own tribe lands, carrying with them the whole of their equipment.

Richmond Wants Henry's Grave

Richmond, May 20.—A strong movement has begun in Richmond for the removal of the body of Patrick Henry from its present grave in Charlotte county to St. John's churchyard in this city and the erection of a marble monument to the great Virginia orator and leader of the revolution. It was in St. John's church that Henry made his famous speech ending: "Give me liberty or give me death."

Masked Robbers Attack Women

White Plains, N. Y., May 20.—Two masked robbers entered the home of Mrs. Marie Durando and after beating her almost to death stole $845 she carried in a belt. Her husband found her lying unconscious in a pool of blood on the kitchen floor. Two weeks ago two masked robbers robbed Mrs. Mary Caladuno of Mount Vernon of $3500. She was also beaten in a similar manner.

Discouraging to Americans

Vienna, May 20.—The Austrian-Hungarian consul at Manila, in his report for 1902, says business was stagnant, the erection of a match factory and a color works being the only new enterprises of the whole year. Manila is flooded with unemployed Americans and cost of living has enormously increased since the American occupation.

Filipino Insurgents Active

Manila, May 20.—The situation in some of the districts of Cebu is regarded as serious. It is reported that the total of the bands of insurgents in the field exceeds 1500. It is believed here that the adoption of energetic measures will be necessary to suppress the disturbances.

Slot Machines Publicly Burned

Philadelphia, May 20.—Thirteen hundred slot gambling machines, valued at about $125,000, were publicly burned here by order of the director of public safety. The machines were captured in raids conducted by the Law and Order society and the police authorities.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Thursday, May 21.
Sun rises—4:18; sets—7:04.
Moon rises—1:14 a. m.
High water—6:30 a. m.; 7 p. m.

Pressure has fallen over the south Atlantic states, but the relative positions of the highs and lows remain unchanged. Scattered showers and thunderstorms are probable in New England.

THEY STUDY AT HOME.

Why German School Hours Seem Longer Than They Really Are.

In Germany the law requires that every child attend school from the age of six up to fourteen. Parents are compelled to pay a fine in court if their children are absent from school without good cause, and the child must make up the time lost by just as many extra days at the end of his course as he has been absent. Children are called by their last names from the very first of their school days. Their teachers are men almost without exception. The hours for attendance in the winter are from 8 to 12 in the morning and from 2 to 4 in the afternoon and in the warmer months from 7 to 11 and from 2 to 4. These hours are shortened for the younger children. On Wednesday and Saturday afternoons the schools are closed. What seems strange to us is that all studying is done out of school. A class not having a recitation, therefore, is sent home, and so it happens that few children are all of the six hours a day in school, as the above hours would seem to indicate. The very little ones, for instance, may be in school from 8 to 9, from 11 to 12 and from 2 to 3, the intervening time being spent at home in play or study. In consequence of this out of school study all books, pencils and stationery are taken home at the close of the morning and afternoon sessions. This has given rise to the use of knapsacks by both girls and boys. These knapsacks are made of leather either dressed or with the hair on.

If a boy intends to carry his education beyond that afforded by the grammar school, he is expected to enter the high school at the age of nine or ten years, where his lower school studies are continued and languages are commenced in a simple way. Girls in like manner go to a higher school. The studies pursued in German schools are much the same as in our own.—Charles Walter Gerould in St. Nicholas.

The Scene Was Changed.

He kissed devotedly the hand that passed him the autograph album and wrote therein:

"I write my name upon this virgin page. Would that I could inscribe it upon the purer scroll of your heart in that invisible ink which shall only appear when the thing upon which it is written is warmed at the fires of love which takes no note of time!"

That was a year ago. They are married now, and when she asks him for his autograph in the shape of a goodly sized check to liquidate her millinery bill he grasps that album or a larger book, if handy, and threatens to throw it at her.—London Globe.

The Suicide Wind.

A curious belief prevails among the natives of Brazil and other parts of South America which prompts them to fear a certain condition of the air, which they call "suicide wind." It is not a superstition, but an actual condition of the atmosphere which seems to drive people to madness, and during its continuance self inflicted deaths are numerous. Criminologists and scientists all over the world are interested in this peculiar atmospheric influence, which is indicated by a soft, moist, warm air that settles heavily on the earth.

A Bad Half.

A negro couple were in police court at Topeka on a charge which grew out of their quarrels. The evidence was heard, and the judge, thinking to harmonize the family's domestic relations, told the wife that she was too easily led by the gossip about her husband; that she mustn't believe all the stories told by enemies. "'Deed I don't belieb all de lies da tells on Jim," she responded. "I doesn't belieb moah 'n half ob dem. But half ob dem lies, jedge, makes him a low down, onery nigger."—Kansas City Journal.

Nothing to Crow About.

Little Arthur was visiting his grandmother, who owned a large rooster that was possessed of fighting qualities. Arthur went out to feed the chickens, when the rooster flew at him, pecking him severely.

Arthur beat him off as well as he could and finally got away and ran to the house. Some time later he was playing on the porch, when all at once the rooster flew upon an adjoining fence and crowed lustily. Arthur looked up and exclaimed:

"You lie! You lie! You didn't lick me! I runned!"

A Narrow Escape.

A Dutchman was relating his marvelous escape from death when thirteen of his companions were drowned by the upsetting of a boat and he alone was saved.

"And how did you escape their fate?" asked one of his hearers.

"I tid not go in te poat," was the Dutchman's placid reply.

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, Pres.

April 9-2m 11-2m

King Arthur Flour.

THE WHITEST BREAD.
THE BEST BREAD.
THE MOST BREAD.

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. 1p-2mos.

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.

Plumbing and Heating Co,

25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.
Telephone Connection.

April 24 1-tf--p-1w

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

On and after May 17, 1903, trains will run as follows:

[Subject to change without notice.]

TO BOSTON. Leave Quincy.	Stops at	Arrive Boston.		FROM BOSTON. Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy.
r *5 19	abcdefghi	5 47		*5 00	ihgfedcba	5 19	r
r 6 12	abc	6 32		6 28	cba	6 49	r
r 6 42	abc	7 02		6 58	cba	7 19	r
r 7 12	abc	7 32		7 28	cba	7 49	r
r 7 26	ad	7 45		8 28	cba	8 49	r
r 7 42	abc	8 02		8 58	cba	9 19	r
r 7 54	sbcde	8 15		9 28	cba	9 49	r
r 8 12	abc	8 32		9 28	cba	10 49	r
r 8 26	abd	8 45		11 28	cba	11 49	r
r 8 46	a. cd	9 05		12 28	cba	12 49	r
r 9 12	ab.	9 32		12 58	cba	1 19	r
r 9 42	abc	10 02		1 28	cba	1 49	r
r 10 12	abc	10 32		1 58	cba	2 19	r
r 10 42	abc	11 02		2 28	cba	2 49	r
r 11 12	abc	11 32		2 45	cba	3 06	r
r 12 12	abc	12 32		3 28	cba	3 49	r
r 1 12	abc	1 32		3 45	cba	4 06	r
r 1 42	abc	2 02		4 28	cba	4 49	r
r 2 12	abc	2 32		4 45	edcba	5 08	r
r 2 12	abc	2 32		5 15	dba	5 36	r
r 3 42	abc	4 02		5 28	cba	5 49	r
r 4 12	abc	4 32		5 4-	edcba	6 08	r
r 5 12	abc	5 32		5 58	cba	6 19	r
r 5 29	abcdefghi	5 57		6 15	da	6 36	r
r 6 12	abc	6 32		6 28	cba	6 49	r
r 6 42	abc	7 02		6 58	cba	7 19	r
r 7 12	abc	7 32		7 28	cba	7 49	r
r 7 39	abcdefghi	8 07		8 28	fedcba	8 53	r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32		9 28	cba	9 49	r
r 9 12	abc	9 32		10 28	fedcba	10 53	r
r 9 34	abcdefghi	10 02		10 50	ihgfedcba	11 19	r
r 10 08	abcdef	10 32		11 28	cba	11 49	r
r 11 42	abc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

r 7 42	abc	8 02		6 28	cba	6 49	r
r 8 42	abc	9 02		8 58	cba	9 19	r
r 9 12	abc	9 32		10 16	ihgfedcba	10 45	r
9 33	a	9 51		12 28	cba	12 49	r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 44		2 16	ihgfedcba	2 45	r
r 1 12	abc	1 32		3 16	ihgfedcba	3 45	r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 44		4 28	cba	4 49	r
r 5 12	abc	5 32		5 28	cba	5 49	r
r 6 03	abcdefghi	6 30		6 58	cba	7 19	r
r 7 12	abc	7 32		8 28	fedcba	8 53	r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32		8 43	(ex.)	9 00
r 10 18	abcdef	10 42		10 28	fedcba	10 53	r

* The letters in the same line as the figure stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a. Wollaston,	f, Harrison Square.
b, Norfolk Downs,	g, Savin Hill.
c, Atlantic,	h, Crescent Avenue.
d, Neponset,	i, South Boston.
e, Pope's Hill.	r, Quincy Adams.

A HOME DEPOSIT BANK

FREE.

Savings Department

The National Granite Bank,

QUINCY, MASS.

The National Granite Bank announces the addition of a Savings Department, and the introduction of the Home Deposit Bank System. You are requested to call and have this system fully explained to you.

The Plan.

A deposit of One Dollar ($1.00) or more will secure you the loan of one of these banks. Your bank account will be opened, and pass-book furnished you shows your deposit duly credited.

Take the Bank Home

and place in it your spare change and surplus moneys. At certain intervals, or as often as convenient, when an accumulation has resulted, bring your bank to us. The contents will be removed, counted, and your deposits with us earn

3 per cent. interest.

YOU KEEP THE BANK.

WE KEEP THE KEY.

The Result.

You don't miss what you drop in. What comes out surprises you. The presence of the small bank in your home is equivalent to your having a branch of our Savings Department always at hand. To remove the usual

Temptation to Spend,

the money slot in the small bank is so constructed that moneys once dropped in cannot be shaken out. The application of this savings plan creates

Good Business Habits.

The Home Deposit Bank System is within the reach of all, and is of especial interest to every working man, woman and salaried individual.

It is not what you Earn, but what you Save, that makes you independent, and the sooner you make a start in this direction, the sooner you will reach the desired goal.

Money at interest works for you night and day, Sundays and holidays, and twenty-four hours per day.

THE NATIONAL GRANITE BANK.

Established 1865.

CAPITAL STOCK, $150,000. SURPLUS AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $153,000. DEPOSITS, $420,000.

THEOPHILUS KING, President. RUPERT F. CLAFLIN, Cashier.

DIRECTORS.

THEOPHILUS KING, RUPERT F. CLAFLIN,
EDWIN W. MARSH, JAMES THOMPSON,
JOSEPH H. VOGEL, CLARENCE BURGIN,
DELCEVARE KING, RUSSELL A. SEARS.

Banking Hours: From 8.30 A. M. till 3 P. M. Saturdays closing at 12 M.

NOTICE—In the event that you are unable to call at the Bank, drop us a line or phone No. 26-3, and one of our representatives will visit you.

This system is being installed by the C. O. Burns Company, originators and original patentees and manufacturers of the Home Deposit Banks and System, Nos. 13--21 Park Row, New York.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 119. QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.

FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.

At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.

Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.

FREE EXAMINATIONS.

Feb, 2. 1 1y- p-6mos.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,

DENTIST.

21 Chestnut Street.

Telephone 126-5.

Quincy, Oct. 1. lp-tf

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,

DENTIST.

67 Franklin Street, Pinel Block.

Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.

Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M. Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.

TELEPHONE 175-2.

Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,

DENTIST,

Opposite Post Office,

1355 Hancock St., Quincy.

OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.

Jan. 31. tf

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. lp-2mos.

FULL STOCK

—OF—

HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,

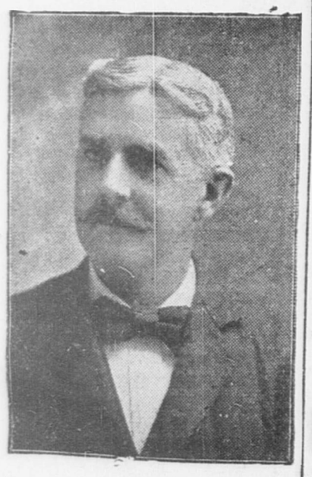

—AT—

Brooks' Market,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 25. tf

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.

1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.

2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.

3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.

Plumbing and Heating Co,

25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot. Telephone Connection.

April 24 1-tf--p-1w

ALL GOODS WILL BE DELIVERED FREE AT RESIDENCES IN QUINCY.

STRAW MATTINGS

FOR SUMMER HOUSES

Our new importation includes all grades from China and Japan, many patterns of which are exclusive. Always cool, cleanly, and sanitary.

RUGS

Royal Wilton, Saxony Axminster, Seamless, and other Axminster and Brussels rugs, in sizes 9 x 12, 8.3 x 10.6, and 6 x 9.

Hundreds of small rugs—Smyrnas, Wiltons, Axminsters, Japanese, etc., etc., at exceptionally low prices.

RUGS

Heavy Brussels Art Squares, many of them in Oriental designs and all reversible, sizes 7.6 x 9, 9 x 9, 9 x 10.6, and 9 x 12; price about $1.00 per square yard.

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS COMPANY

Pray Building 658 Washington St. Opp. Boylston St.

BOSTON

Represented in Quincy by Mr. Otho A. Hayward; in Wollaston by Mr. J. W. Wellington.

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.

Quincy, May 9. 1m

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

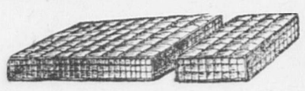

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder,

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

Restful Mattresses.

Just think, people everywhere trying to get enjoyment and comfort out of this life, and the queer thing about it all is, that very few start in the right place.

There isn't any money that will bring such rest and comfort to tired folks as the money you spend for one of our famous Cotton Felt Mattresses.

These Mattresses are as unlike the one you are now using, as night is unlike day. They are soft, soothing, springy, restful, dreamy. They fit the body from top to toe, and afford you rest, comfort and enjoyment, unequalled by anything else that money can buy in all this great world of ours.

They range in price from $7.50 to $15.00. We have them for immediate delivery.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

ORDER NOW FOR

DECORATION DAY

--YOUR--

Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES,

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works,

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy

BUSINESS.

YOU GET IT

BY ADVERTISING.

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

For Latest News See Inside Pages.

ON MULVIHILL'S ORDER

Stone Thrower Says He Was Released by Sheriff

MAYOR MAKES A DENIAL

That He Ordered Any Prisoner Freed —Interesting Talk Before Legislative Committee Considering Bill Curtailing His Power

Bridgeport, Conn., May 21.—A sensation was caused here last night when Sheriff O'Brien arrested Matthew Reilly on the charge of stone throwing during the riot on Sunday. Reilly made a statement after his arrest in which he said that he was the man the mayor ordered released from the custody of the deputy sheriff on Sunday. He said that as the crowd tried to drag him away the mayor came upon the scene and said: "I am the mayor of Bridgeport; let that man alone." The mayor has heretofore denied that he interfered with any deputy on Sunday and the city has been agitated over the question to a considerablee extent.

Mayor Mulvihill attended a hearing before the committee on cities and boroughs of the legislature at Hartford yesterday on the proposed bill curtailing his power in the appointment of police and other commissioners. He took the floor and replied to accusations made against him before the committee. He denied everything that his accusers said about him and asked Mr. Coit, chairman of the committee, upon what ground the proposed curtailment of his powers was declared to be necessary. Coit replied: "On the ground that the situation in Bridgeport makes some change necessary."

Mayor Mulvihill: "I deny that. The whole question is whether certain commissioners, who have no interest in this work, shall be returned whether it is for the best interest of the public or not. As to my action during the riot on Sunday. I live near the scene of the trouble and went out to help stop the riot when it occurred. I did not know this man was a sheriff. I deny positively that he had a prisoner under arrest, whom I ordered freed. The sheriff was in a precarious condition and I tried to help him out."

Mr. Coit: "In fairness to you, I should state that affidavits are here from two sheriffs that you did order the man freed."

Mayor Mulvihill: "And I have affidavits from the policeman and 200 citizens that that is not true. At the risk of my life I went into the crowd and tried to scatter it. The whole trouble is that I am a laboring man."

Dr. Fitzgerald of the health board said that he had heard the mayor say: "To hell with the health board. I'll have a health board of my own to do my bidding."

Fire Commissioner O'Rourke called Mulvihill a political hyena and said he had demoralized the fire department He referred to the "viciousness, pernicousness and michieviousness" of the mayor.

Mayor Mulvihill again addressed the committee. He said the people did not want the bills. He believed he had prevented bloodshed Sunday. The mayor continued: "As for O'Rourke he wanted me to put him on the police board and I would not do it. He sent me a check when I ran for mayor and I sent it back to him. Dr. Fitzgerald had a brother-in-law, who was declared elected city collector, but the supreme court reviewed the case and turned him out. I did not think the city should pay him when he was not the collector. That's why Fitzgerald is against me. He also has a bill against the city which I vetoed. He had no authority to do the work."

Dr. Fitzgerald: "That's not true."

Mayor Mulvihill: "I have the floor; you keep still. I deny there was ever a clash between the police department and the mayor. But I don't think the policemen ought to go on the cars and act as motormen and conductors. They are needed on the streets."

Mr. O'Rourke: "I did send the mayor $25 and he sent it back. I have no personal motive in this matter. He asked me himself to go on the police board."

At this point the hearing closed.

The number of cars operated yesterday reached 32, about half the regular number. Deputy sheriffs rode on the cars. The travel was light. The strikers ran busses on many of the lines, but with them also the patronage was light. There was no trouble of a serious nature and the arrests for the entire day were but three, all for trivial offenses

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

SPECIAL PROVISIONS

To Enable Interchang o Cattle Business In New England

Boston, May 21.—Some modifications of the cattle embargo have been authorized by the department of agriculture to meet the requirements of the spring trade between Massachusetts and New Hampshire, both being under quarantine, and also the trade with Vermont. Ordinarily Massachusetts cattle are shipped to New Hampshire for pasturage in the spring, but that could not be done under the quarantine regulations issued last year. Secretary Wilson has therefore issued an order to the effect that cattle may be shipped from Massachusetts into New Hampshire in cases where the chief of the bureau of animal industry finds that it may be done with safety and has issued a permit therefor, and when the consent of the proper authorities of the state of New Hampshire has been obtained.

The new order also provides that cattle may be shipped from New Hampshire into Massachusetts, subject to the regulations of the latter state, for immediate slaughter at Boston, Brighton, Cambridge and Somerville, where inspection is maintained by the department of agriculture. Such cattle cannot be unloaded en route or at any public stock yard.

Compromise on Woodward Will

Nashua, N. H., May 21.—The Woodward will case, which has been on trial in the superior court here for three days, ended with a compromise agreement by the interested parties. Quincy A. Woodward's will disposed of property valued at about $35,000 and provided that the estate finally should go to the various Masonic bodies of this city. By the terms of the agreement the property remains in trust during the life of Mrs. Woodward, as provided in the will, but at her death one-third of the property will go to the Masonic bodies and the remaining two-thirds to the son and daughter of the testator.

Had Hair-Breadth Escape

Gloucester, Mass., May 21.—A small sloop yacht capsized off Folly Cove last evening. When taken from the water the two occupants were unconscious, and it was only after physicians had worked over them several hours that their recovery was assured. When the men regained consciousness they said they were James Clark, 26 years old, and Albert West, both of Chelsea. Later they said that their real names were John Irwin and Michael Murphy. The men probably will be held until their condition is considerably improved. In the meantime the police will investigate their story.

Fooled Professional Men

Fall River, Mass., May 21.—In John Pierce, aged 19, who was arrested on a charge of using obscene language on a telephone, the police believe they have the person who has caused much annoyance to physicians, lawyers and undertakers during the past six months. At frequent intervals professional men have been sent on wild goose chases by some person who gave the call on the automatic private line telephone. Pierce was caught in an unoccupied office from which the telephone had not been removed.

Five Incendiary Fires In a Week

North Attleboro, Mass., May 21.—An attempt was made to burn a large icehouse owned by William McKell at New Boston, but the flames were extinguished. Later, however, the building again was fired, and this time was entirely consumed. The flames communicated to woodland nearby and many acres were burned over. This is the fifth incendiary fire in North Attleboro within a week.

Suicide's Identity Unknown

Cambridge, Mass., May 21.—The body of the woman that was found floating in the Charles river last Saturday has been buried in the Cambridge cemetery, as no one who called at the morgue could identify it. The police have still in their possession articles that were taken from the body, and they will keep these in the hope that some time an identification can be made from them.

Serious Drouth In Vermont

Middlebury, Vt., May 21.—Today is the 42nd consecutive day of drought in this section. Crops and hay will prove failures unless rain falls immediately. The forest fires in range towns have destroyed thousands of acres of valuable timber, entailing money loss far into the thousands. Two thousand acres of grain in this county is in terrible condition for lack of moisture.

Kidnapped Child Recovered

Rutland, Vt., May 21.—Aftere a long search Mrs. Allman of Newark, N. J., has found her 4-year-old son in Danby. Mrs. Allman claims that the child was kidnapped by its grandmother after her husband deserted her about a month ago. The child was found living in Danby with its father, who was known there as W. E. West. She returned to Newark with the boy last night.

Heater Boys on Strike

Bath, Me., May 21.—Thirty heater boys employed at the Bath iron works went out on strike when their unexpected demand for an increase in wages was refused, and as a result 90 riveters with whom the boys worked are temporarily out of employment. The boys are paid from $1.25 to $1.50 a day, and they demand a uniform rate of $1.50.

☞ Advertise in the Daily Ledger.

IS TREMENDOUS.

Shock to Battleship When Big Gun Goes Off.

The New Jersey and Rhode Island

Will Have the Heaviest Armament Ever Launched.

It is an old complaint against American men-of-war, says the Maritime News and Review, that they are overloaded with more guns and heaver guns than they ought to carry, and the recent development of some weakness in the gun deck of the Maine is eagerly hailed as proof that this criticism is a just one—that the hulls of our warships are not strong enough for the weight and stress which they must bear.

As a matter of fact such misbaps as that to the Maine are extremely rare in the United States naval service. The fleet which boasts the Oregon has not been plagued by weaklings. Since the battle of Santiago a wonderful advance has been wrought in the power of American naval guns. The "stress" due to a ship's battery in now about one-quarter greater than it was in the Spanish War.

But, on the other hand, of course these newly-armed ships can work just so much more destruction to an enemy. Take, for instance, the muzzle velocit of the new six-inch rifle, like that carried by the Maine and to be carried by the New Jersey and Rhode Island now building at Fore River, in Boston harbor, which is no less than 2900 feet a second, and its muzzle energy no less than 5800-foot tons.

Since the new Maine developed a weakness the bureau of construction and repair has taken steps to see that adequate strength is provided to withstand the recoil of the new guns, and it is worthy of note that the cruiser Des Moines, now being completed in the same yard, meets these latest requirements. Naval designers and shipbuilders realize now perfectly well that the shock to which a ship's structure is exposed when a modern gun "goes off" is almost the striking shock of a locomotive.

This immensely enlarged power is due not only to longer and better rifles, but to smokeless powder of a new composition and of greater strength. Of course, the naval designers and th shipbuilders of the country know that they are dealing with a tremendous power in this new artillery. The twin batteships—Rhode Island and New Jersey—will carry armaments even heavier than that of the Maine; indeed, the very heaviest armaments ever launched upon the ocean.

The Maine has four 12-inch turret rifles and 16 six-inch in broadside. The New Jersey and Rhode Island will have the four 12-inch and 12 of the six-inch rifles of the earlier ship, and then in place of the other four six-inch rifles of the Maine they will have eight eight-inch guns—of course, very much more weighty and more powerful. The projectile of a six-inch rifle weighs 100 pounds; the projectile of an eight-inch rifle, 250. Four of these eight-inch rifles in each of the new ships will be contained in the novel superimposed turrets mounted on the two main 12-inch turrets fore and aft.

In view of the difficulty with the Maine it may be interesting to note the extraordinary precautions which Uncle Sam takes in his newest ships to see that his mighty guns are securely fastened to the vessel that must bear them. Battleships like the Rhode Island and New Jersey are practically as well as theoretically floating forts and must furnish stable and well-protected gun platforms. The heavy protective deck—a "turtleback" of nickel steel-serves as the bombproof of the fort, but also as the subfoundation for the gun mounts.

The novel superimposed turrets, each containing two 12-inch and two eight-inch rifles, rise from the main deck, but turn upon a cylindrical steel foundation which rests upon the protective deck. From the protective deck also rise the barbettes, cylinders of 10-inch steel which protect the turning gear and ammunition hoists. The amidships barbettes for the eight-inch rifles are sustained by bulkheads which rests upon the protective deck.

But the most massive framework of the whole ship is really that which ap-

(Continued on Page 8.)

A HOME DEPOSIT BANK

FREE.

Savings Department

The National Granite Bank,

QUINCY, MASS.

The National Granite Bank announces the addition of a Savings Department, and the introduction of the Home Deposit Bank System. You are requested to call and have this system fully explained to you.

The Plan.

A deposit of One Dollar ($1.00) or more will secure you the loan of one of these banks. Your bank account will be opened, and pass-book furnished you shows your deposit duly credited.

Take the Bank Home

and place in it your spare change and surplus moneys. At certain intervals, or as often as convenient, when an accumulation has resulted, bring your bank to us. The contents will be removed, counted, and your deposits with us earn

3 per cent. interest.

YOU KEEP THE BANK.

WE KEEP THE KEY.

The Result.

You don't miss what you drop in. What comes out surprises you. The presence of the small bank in your home is equivalent to you having a branch of our Savings Department always at hand. To remove the usual

Temptation to Spend,

the money slot in the small bank is so constructed that moneys once dropped in cannot be shaken out. The application of this savings plan creates

Good Business Habits.

The Home Deposit Bank System is within the reach of all, and is of especial interest to every working man, woman and salaried individual.

It is not what you Earn, but what you Save, that makes you independent, and the sooner you make a start in this direction, the sooner you will reach the desired goal.

Money at interest works for you night and day, Sundays and holidays, and twenty-four hours per day.

THE NATIONAL GRANITE BANK.

Established 1865.

CAPITAL STOCK, $150,000. SURPLUS AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $153,000. DEPOSITS, $420,000.

THEOPHILUS KING, President. RUPERT F. CLAFLIN, Cashier.

DIRECTORS.

THEOPHILUS KING, RUPERT F. CLAFLIN,
EDWIN W. MARSH, JAMES THOMPSON,
JOSEPH H. VOGEL, CLARENCE BURGIN,
DELCEVARE KING, RUSSELL A. SEARS.

Banking Hours: From 8.30 A. M. till 3 P. M.
Saturdays closing at 12 M.

NOTICE—In the event that you are unable to call at the Bank, drop us a line or phone No. 26-3, and one of our representatives will visit you.

This system is being installed by the C. O. Burns Company, originators and original patentees and manufacturers of the Home Deposit Banks and System, Nos. 13--21 Park Row, New York.

Spring and Summer Shoes.

The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.

The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.

GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

W. A. BRADFORD.
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store. Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,
In a variety of Styles and Prices.

Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.

These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you

C. S. HUBBARD.
City Square, Quincy.

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.

60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN.
PHARMACIST,
1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON.

Quincy, April 23. tf

If You Have a House to Let,
Advertise It in the Ledger

RAYMOND HEARING ENDS

Committee Refuses to Allow Cross-Examination

ACCUSER WRITES A LETTER

Announcing His Withdrawal From the Case—Statement by Counsel For Member Under Fire, Who Will Await Report of the Committee

Boston, May 21.—Senator Frost, chairman of the special senate committee which has been investigating the charges of alleged corruption made by George J. Raymond against Senator Harry C. Foster, has brought the hearing to an abrupt close. This ending to the investigation had been generally expected after the committee's stand regarding the question of cross-examination. This, coupled with the fact that Senator Foster went upon the witness stand without representation by counsel, apparently committed the members of the committee to a policy, the result of which was shown by the statement of Chairman Frost.

Chairman Frost said that the committee had ruled that cross-examination will not be allowed by either side in view of the refusal of Senator Foster to avail himself of the privilege of counsel. He then called upon any other persons who could show corruption to appear and be sworn. Naturally no one else stepped forward and the hearing, "for present purposes," was declared closed.

As soon as Senator Frost had declared that the hearing was closed the members of the committee hastened from the room and went into executive session in another part of the building. The spectators and the newspaper men, all more or less surprised at the turn the investigation had taken, soon followed. The news quickly spread from one end to the other of the state house and was the topic of conversation of many groups in the lobbies and corridors.

After remaining in executive session for some time the committee adjourned without taking any final action on the matters before it. A member said that though they had closed the Raymond-Foster part of the case, the adjournment was in such form that the hearings can be resumed should occasion arise; and, meanwhile, they felt that it would be best to wait a day or two before taking further action.

Just before the hearing began, a messenger from George J. Raymond handed to Chairman Frost the following communication:

"The attorneys retained by me to present the evidence in support of my charges having been refused by you an opportunity to examine and cross-examine the witnesses, I have reached the conclusion that you, alone and unaided, have been and will continue to be unable to secure the full truth, even if you be earnest and determined to secure it, and not resolute and firm in a purpose of securing as little as possible. I have therefore dismissed my attorneys, and will personally ignore your existence unless compelled by summons to appear before you."

Before leaving the state house, Alfred S. Hayes, counsel for Senator Foster, made the following statemeent:

"Mr. Foster acted entirely under my advice, regardless of his own wish in the matter. He simply told me the story and told me to advise such action as I thought best. We had only a straightforward story to tell. Cross-examination, by either Mr. Moran or myself, could not develop anything which has not appeared. The committee seemed to be willing to receive any substantial and pertinent evidence, and I think was very wise in excluding the vague hearsays and innuendoes and especially when coming from a man who, as he himself confesses, is for personal motives deeply interested in matters of legislation such as this referred to. Senator Foster was willing and anxious to be cross-examined, and exercised his right to appear without counsel only upon my advice. What action, if any, will be taken he has left entirely with me, and upon that I have not formed any opinion as yet. Certainly we shall do nothing till we have received the decision of the committee, in any event."

The President's Tour

Redding, Cal., May 21.—Four counties were represented in a large crowd which gathered at the depot here and listened to a 10-minute speech by President Roosevelt. The speaker dwelt on the qualities of good citizenship. The train then started north on its trip through the picturesque Sacramento river canon.

On the Diamond

At Boston—National—Chicago, 2; Boston, 0.
At Philadelphia—National—Philadelphia, 4; St. Louis, 1.
At Brooklyn—National—Brooklyn, 10; Cincinnati, 2.
At New York—National—New York, 2; Pittsburg, 1.
At St. Louis—American—St. Louis, 4; Boston, 3.
At Detroit—American—Detroit, 3; Philadelphia, 1.
At Chicago—American—New York, 5; Chicago, 2.
At Cleveland—American—Cleveland, 5; Washington, 4.
At Manchester—Manchester, 9; Fall River, 0.
At Concord—Concord, 4; Lawrence, 1.
At Lowell—Lowell, 6; Brockton, 2.
At Nashua—Nashua, 7; Haverhill, 5.

REPORT SUPPRESSED

Exposure of Condition of Jews In Russia Was Never Made Public

Milwaukee, May 21.—Dr. Walter Kempster announces that a report which he made as a commissioner of the United States government appointed to investigate the condition of the Jews in Russia at the time of the last exodus of 1891, and ordered printed by the congress of the United States, was suppressed, and all of the government edeition made way with and destroyed by the Russian representatives in Washington.

"The government ordered 10,000 copies printed, and I ordered 100 for private use," said Dr. Kempster. "I received my 100 copies, but the government edition disappeared and no one, to this day, seems to be able to tell what became of it. I learned after the report was issued that it was substantially cabled to St. Petersburg as it had been printed in this country."

Dr. Kempster visited Europe after the publication of the report and it was printed in London in the English, German and French languages and copies were sent by registered mail in separate packages from the London postoffice to the czar, the heads of each of the departments of the government and to the governors of the provinces. "Every one of these reports," said Dr. Kempster, "including the one sent to the czar, was returned to the London postoffice stamped 'forbidden.'"

Not In Position to "Throw Stones"

Boston, May 21.—A cabled request from several rabbis for the Unitarian association to pass resolutions condemning the massacre at Kishineff in Russia was disregarded by the association last night. An attempt was made to get the resolution acted upon, but on Rev. C. G. Ames urging that, after what we as a country had done in the Philippines and permitted in the south, the association was not in a position to throw stones at the Russian government or its treatment of the Jews, the meeting withheld its cooperation.

Kishineff Police Chief Out

St. Petersburg, May 21.—The chief of police at Kishineff has also been dismissed for failure to suppress the anti-Semitic riots. Heavy Jewish claims for damages have been entered against Lieutenant General Von Raaben, who was dismissed from the governorship on account of the Kishineff riots.

To Take Account of Stock

Washington, May 21.—United States Treasurer Roberts has appointed a committee of seven persons to make a detailed count of the bonds in the bond vault of the treasury. There has been no full count of the contents of the big vault since Roberts took charge of his office six years ago. Mr. Roberts says there is no particular reason for making the count at this time.

Postoffice Promotions Checked

Washington, May 21.—The cancellation of the promotions of over 3000 postoffice clerks throughout the country, recently authorized by the department, and a formal notice to former First Assistant Postmaster General Heath of the charges made against him by S. W. Tulloch constitute the latest developments in the postoffice investigation.

Banker Attempts Suicide

New York, May 21.—Washington Seligman, banker and broker, was found in his room at the Rossmore hotel last night with a deep gash in his throat. He was taken to a hospital, a prisoner, charged with attempting suicide. Seligman say he had been suffering from a nervous ailment. He will recover.

Mobile and Ohio Strike Off

Mobile, Ala., May 21.—The strike of the trainmen and switchmen of the Mobile and Ohio railroad has been declared off by agreement. The terms have not been made public.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Clergymen from various parts of Vermont visited Sheldon to assist in the dedication of the newly remodelled Methodist Episcopal church edifice. The pastor of the church is a native of Armenia.

The court of inquiry which has been looking into the recent destruction by fire of the range finder at Fort Adams, R. I., was unable to ascertain the cause of the fire, which completely destroyed all the instruments and fittings.

A bolt of lightning entered the steeple of the sheep house on the farm of H. A. C. Taylor at Portsmouth, R. I., passing completely through the steeple to the ground, doing no injury, but partially stunning two farm hands.

The Coleman Ship Coppering company of South Boston has been attached for $5000, and a restraining order has been asked for at Portland, Me., in the interest of the minority stockholders from liquidating the company.

While riding on top of a freight car, William J. Small, a brakeman, was struck by a bridge at Boston and killed.

Joseph Brewster, aged 5, was run over and instantly killed by an ice wagon at Boston.

S. K. Pierce & Son's chair factory at South Gardner, Mass., was damaged about $15,000 by fire. The fire is supposed to have resulted from spontaneous combustion.

The 75th anniversary of the Baptist church at Brooklin, Me., was observed with appropriate exercises. The church was built in 1828, and while the repairs have not at any time been extensive the church is today in first class condition.

Hugh J. Murdoch, editor of United Presbyterian and prominent in church circles, died at his home at Sewickley, Pa., of fatty degeneration of the heart. He was 70 years old.

BOWSER BUYS BOOKS

Swindler With Bogus Biographical Scheme Finds Him an Easy Victim : : : : : :

[Copyright, 1903, by C. B. Lewis.]

"By the way," began Mr. Bowser as he looked up from his paper, "weren't you saying something the other day about your watch being out of order?"

"Yes, it was out of order," replied Mrs. Bowser, "but I had it fixed. A man came along yesterday morning, and I gave it to him, and he had it back before 2 o'clock."

"Do you mean that a stranger came along?"

"Yes; he said he was from a jewelry store."

"And you handed him your watch without knowing who he was?"

"Yes."

"Well, if you don't deserve to be robbed of your shoes! By thunder, but I wouldn't believe it!"

"Why, what's wrong?" innocently asked Mrs. Bowser.

"Wrong? Wrong? You have a watch worth $100. You hand it out to a stranger to carry off without one chance in a hundred that you will ever see him again. If any one had told me that you were as big an idiot as that I couldn't have believed it."

"THE BOOK WOULD NOT BE COMPLETE WITHOUT A SKETCH OF YOUR LIFE."

"But the man brought it back."

"Are you sure it is the same watch?"

"Yes."

"And he didn't steal half the wheels?"

"No."

"Well, you have had a narrow escape and I hope it will be a great moral lesson to you. You are what is called an easy mark."

"I don't see that I did anything very silly," protested Mrs. Bowser. "I have known of your being swindled fifty different times, and you can't point to one single instance where I"—

"What—what!" he shouted, as he sprang up. "Woman, be careful how you talk. When have I ever been swindled?"

"On hair dyes and tonics and fire escapes and patent fuels and such things."

"Never in this world, and you know it! No human man has ever played me for a flat, and none ever will, while you would give up the dress off your back if asked for it!"

"Don't you remember that you once bought a fire escape warranted to ease you down to the ground as gently"—

"Stop right there! If it is your purpose to drive me from the house this evening, why don't you say so and be done with it? The idea of your talking such stuff!"

"Well, the man was honest and brought my watch back, and let's say no more about it. I see there is to be an exhibition of pictures this evening, and if you are agreeable"— "Exhibition be hanged! You have charged me with being a fool—a sucker—a victim of swindlers. I want you to make that charge good or render an apology."

"But you called me an easy mark."

"And so you are. I have no doubt that you have been swindled a hundred times and said nothing to me about it. Go ahead, however, and support your charges against me."

But Mrs. Bowser didn't have to. The door bell rang just then and a stranger who had called to see Mr. Bowser was admitted. He was a sleek, slick man, and there was molasses in his mouth as he began:

"Mr. Bowser, I am from the firm of Ink & Roller, the Chicago publishers. We are getting out a book of biographical sketches of 250 great men of America, beginning with Washington. I have been instructed to call on you. We feel that the book would not be complete without a sketch of your life."

"H'm. I don't think I care for it," replied Mr. Bowser, though at the same time secretly pleased with the idea.

"But you must sacrifice your modesty for the sake of future generations. You are like all great men—overmodest—but I trust you will not carry it too far in this case. Let me show you what I have written up from such facts as I could gather, and I want you to correct any mistakes and elaborate on the whole."

The caller thereupon produced a typewritten paper and read:

"Benjamin Bowser, descendant of William Bowser, who commanded the patriot troops at Lexington. Was a wheel horse in politics for thirty years. Wrote many poems and essays, and delivered many speeches that attracted widespread attention. Might have been vice president, but declined the honor. Had the respect, love and esteem of all who came in contact with him. In his unflinching integrity of character he was often compared to Nero. The world will know fewer men deserving of a niche in the temple of fame."

That was all, but it was enough to melt Mr. Bowser and send a warm glow all through him.

"Understand," said the agent, "we make no charge for this—none whatever. If you feel that you would like several of the books, however, they will cost you $5 a volume. No one is obliged to buy. The notices will go in just the same. Have I got the facts right?"

"Y-e-s," was the hesitating reply.

"And do you wish to elaborate on them?"

"N-o."

"Very well. I will bid you good evening, and I thank you for your courtesy."

"Hold on a minute," said Mr. Bowser as the agent arose to depart. "I think—I think I will want about five of those books."

"Yes? I will put you down for five. Our rules are cash in advance. I will write you a receipt for the money, and I hope you will get a special photograph for us. If you desire to make any changes please communicate with Chicago."

Mr. Bowser returned to the sitting

"I AM REQUESTED TO TELL YOU THAT YOUR HUSBAND IS ON THE TRAIL OF THE FAKIR."

room with a pleased smile on his face and the receipt in his hand, and after strutting up and down for five minutes he communicated the affair to Mrs. Bowser.

"Yes, I thought so," she quietly replied. "You'd better go over and see our butcher."

"What has our butcher got to do with it?"

"Well, when I was in there the other day this same agent was trying to induce him to have his biography published, but he only asked him a dollar a volume for the books."

Mr. Bowser looked at her for a minute, and then his face began to pale and his hair to curl. Without a word he put on his hat and left the house.

The butcher was in his shop. There was a private and confidential confab lasting ten minutes, and then Mr. Bowser disappeared. A few minutes later the butcher himself appeared at the Bowser residence and smilingly said to Mrs. Bowser:

"I am requested to tell you that your husband is on the trail of the fakir, and at last reports both were going for the country at a gait of eight miles an hour. I think Mr. Bowser intends to pursue him for at least 10,000 miles if necessary, and if he isn't home for a month or two you needn't worry."

And while Mrs. Bowser and the cat turned out the lights and went to bed the villain was still pursued.

M. QUAD.

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	79	63	67	78	73
Monday,	86	76	80	60	53
Tuesday,	90	74	65	49	53
Wednesday,	78	79	61	53	55
Thursday,	86	73	69	67	75
Friday,	—	72	82	85	72
Saturday,	—	64	86	81	71

New Advertisements Today.

For Sale—Emerson Piano.
For Sale—Reclining Wheel Invalid's Chair.
Modern house at auction.
House and land for sale.
Probate Notices.
F. D. Fellows Co.----Straw Hats.
A. S. Sandberg----Insurance.
L. M. Pratt & Son----Crackers.

Good Afternoon

A good step for all the Ward Improvement societies would be to encourage and to stimulate the making o tiny gardens around our homes, using the corners that have formerly been only waste places. Let us employ the idle vacation hours of our big army of children in this healthful and beneficial way. We must keep our grip on them after the hard work done for them during school months.

The fog has gone east; Miss Fogg married John East at Manchester on Wednesday.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ It would seem as though at the grave the line might well be drawn in the conflict between labor and capital, and yet last week the grave diggers in a New Haven cemetery, notified the sexton that they would not dig another grave in that cemetery that was to contain a body laid out in a casket brought to the burying ground in a hearse owned by a non-union liveryman or driven by a non-union driver. We presume that after the deceased's soul crosses the river it will find no labor unions among the angels to say it cannot enter heaven because it was buried in a box unsanctified by the world's union label, nor will the Lord refuse the spirit of a truly good man from Lynn, if such there be, a welcome because in the flesh he did not join in the fight of the Knights of Labor Union against the Union of the Shoe Cutters.—Waltham Free Press.

☞ Brockton is to spend $500 in setting out shade trees. In most cities the money is spent in cutting the trees down as fast as they die from neglect or actual ill treatment. But Brockton has the right idea, for there is nothing that contributes more to the making of a city beautiful than well shaded streets.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞ The gypsy moth, which ate over a million nice, long, green leaves from the state's pocketbook, is again on Beacon Hill demanding $520,000 more. The moth will have to show that the million did it any good before it or its supporters get another cent.—Worcester Telegram.

Epworth League.

The 17th anniversary of the Epworth League was observed by the Kelly Chapter, Sunday evening at the M. E. church at West Quincy.

Rev. W. A. Mayo, pastor of the church, gave a short discoure on the Epworth League in general, and Rev. Roscoe D. Tarbox, former assistant pastor, followed with an address on the work of the local chapter during the past year. The choir was ably assisted by Miss Annie Holmes, soloist, of Boston, and Mr. Roy Lothrop, violinist, also of Boston. Much credit is due to the young president, Mr. William Williams, for his zealous efforts to make the anniversary a success.

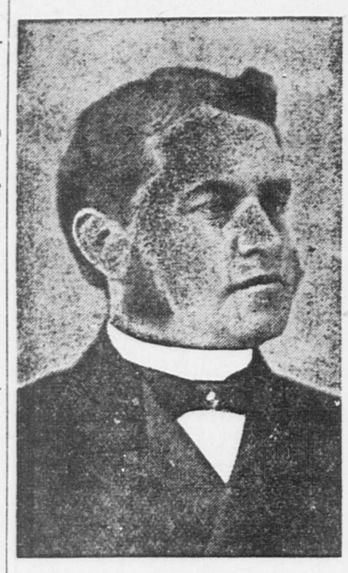

Majority But Not Two-Thirds.

By a vote of 111 yeas to 64 nays, the House yesterday refused to pass to be engrossed the resolve for a constitutional amendment, authorizing municipal fuel yards, a two-thirds vote being required and the vote in the affirmative falling 17 short of that. Mr. Schofield of Ipswich moved reconsideration, which will come up today.

GOVERNOR BATES

To Be a Guest on Saturday of Quincy Children.

The Junior Sons and Daughters of Revolution will give a reception to Governor and Mrs. John L. Bates Saturday afternoon at the John Adams birthplace. Governor and Mrs. Bates will arrive in Quincy on the 2.28 train from Boston and after a visit to the Adams shrine under the First church will be driven to the old houses where they will be the guests of the juniors. It will be an entirely informal affair, but a big day for the young people.

HON. JOHN L. BATES.

Later, Gov. Bates will visit Quincy, officially accompanied by members of his staff, as a guest of Adams chapter, when there will be a flag raising on the lawn of the John Adams birthplace, with address by the Governor.

Pleasing Recital.

Last evening a full house greeted the pianoforte pupils of Miss Ursula C. Ferris to hear their recital at the Park and Downs church. The program was of fifteen numbers, and all were well executed.

Before Part II, occurred a class drill. The little ones at first read notes from blackboard scale, then wrote upon the scale any notes which Miss Ferris sounded upon the piano. Teresa Edwards, Marian Jones and Mildred Andrews were especially adept at this, the latter writing several very difficult chords correctly.

The numbers were all well rendered but honorary mention should be made of Teresa Edwards, Stella Marcy, Marian Jones, Helen Atkins and Mildred Andrews, who played extremely well for such little folks.

The light, pretty dresses of the pupils, added to the effectiveness. Miss Ferris was dressed in pretty figured muslin, quite meet for the occasion.

Those to take part were: Doris Cummings, Inez Jefferson, Helen Atkins, Leila Drew, Albert Drew, Marian Smith, Edwin Wallace, Teresa Edwards, Stella Marcy, Marian Jones, Edith Sass, Edward Bishop, Doris Hayes, and Mildred Andrews.

An Abstract Idea.

At a card party at Charles Lamb's Hazlitt and Lamb's brother got into a discussion as to whether Holbein's coloring was as good as that of Vandyke. At length they became so excited that they upset the table and seized each other by the throat. In the struggle Hazlitt got a black eye, but when the combatants were parted Hazlitt turned to Talfourd, who was offering his aid, and said: "You need not trouble yourself, sir. I do not mind a blow, sir. Nothing affects me but an abstract idea!"

Dogmatism.

A pretty snub delivered by a professor to a very young and very dogmatic undergraduate is refurbished in a work of fiction. "Dogmatism," said the don sadly, "is puppyism which has reached maturity." It may similarly be said of dog Latin that it is chiefly used by pups.—London Globe.

All About Metaphysics.

A Scotchman thus defines metaphysics: "When a mon wha' kens naething aboot any subject takes a subject that nae mon kens anything aboot and explains it to anither mon still more ignorant than himself—that's metaphysics."—Lyre.

It is funny a man loses his hair and doesn't comb it much, and a woman combs, brushes, curls and pulls and still has a wad left when she dies.—Atchison Globe.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

FREIGHT YARD.

Will Have Trackage for 128 Cars.

Grade of Land to be Raised.

Work on the Fill Has Already Commenced.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad has commenced active work on its new freight yard between Granite and School streets. A spur track is being built into the new yard from near the School street end of the yard.

The grade of the yard will be raised and the gravel necessary for this work is being taken from a large hill in Holbrook.

When completed the yard will have accommodations for 128 cars at one time.

The main entrance from the street to the yard will be from Granite street and the freight house will be located on Grantite street nearly opposite Whitwell street.

K. & L. of H. Anniversary.

Maple lodge, K. & L. of H., observed its 23d anniversary at Wilson hall on Wednesday evening, over one hundred members of the order and friends being present. Mrs. Hattie E. Silsbey of Roxbury, the grand protector, made the opening address and told of the progress of the order and what it was doing. Phonograph selections were given by H. P. Furnald. Alma and Bertha Reed entertained with a mandolin and violin duett and also a skirt dance, and Bessie Powers gave a dance. The program concluded with a farce entitled "A game of chess," with the following in the cast: Peter Gomez, John Greene, Frank Stoddard, Mrs. Herbert Holmes, Mrs. Flora Dunn and Miss Newcomb. Miss M. L. Furnald was chairman of the entertainment committee.

Ice cream and cake were served. The guests included members of Jewell and Unity lodges and Miss Carrie Ingram of Boston, past deputy.

Important Sale.

The Nancy Brackett estate on Hancock street offered at auction on Saturday of this week contains nearly two acres and has a frontage of 318 feet. It must very soon become a valuable business site, being so near City Square on a main thoroughfare. All the street car lines between Boston and Quincy and the South Shore towns pass through this street, and also the beach travel from Milton, Hyde Park, Dedham and other towns. A new street from Saville street to Dimmock street, fifty feet from the railroad would develop this and other estates, and give the divided Brackett estate a frontage of 954 feet, or 45 stores with a frontage of about 20 feet each.

Matron at Depot.

It will be welcome news to the lady patrons of the Quincy station, of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad that through the efforts of Mayor Bryant the railroad has employed a matron who is on duty at the station all day from 7.30 in the morning until 7 in the evening. The matron is Mrs. Clark of Hingham.

Cracker Sale

THIS WEEK AT

PRATT'S.

Grahams,	8 cts. pound.
Grandmother's Cookies,	8 cts. pound.
Butter Thins,	13 cts. pound.
Susie Wilson's	10 cts. pound.
Saltines,	13 cts. pound.

About 150 different kinds of

KENNEDY CRACKERS

At Wholesale Prices.

Boston Branch Grocery,

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Continued fair weather.

Walter E. Loud is on a concert tour in the Provinces.

Milton Academy was defeated by Volkmann school at Milton 5 to 4.

A meeting of the City Hospital committee was held Wednesday evening.

Adams Academy was defeated on Wednesday by the Mechanics' Art school 9 to 4.

A modern house on Butler road will be sold at auction on Monday by Auctioneer Johnson.

Lester Pratt was drowned at Fitchburg on Wednesday, but he was not Lester M. of Quincy.

The warm weather this week has caused many to enquire when the city bath house will be opened.

Household furniture of Charles Peterson will be sold by Auctioneer Johnson at No 138 Granite street next Tuesday afternoon.

Michael Callahan, an employe at the Fore River Ship and Engine Co. plant, was hit in the right eye by a piece of flying steel Wednesday. He was taken to the eye and ear hospital.

Officer Goodhue found a woman in City Square Wednesday night a little the worse for liquor. She had a child with her and had lost her pocketbook. Out of consideration for the child she was furnished with transportation to her home in Brockton.

DERRICK FALLS.

Carpenter at New Schoolhouse Probably Fatally Injured.

Just before twelve o'clock this noon a derrick used in the erection of the new Washington schoolhouse at Quincy Point fell, and Henry Ewell of Brockton, one of the carpenters was seriously injured.

He was taken to the Quincy hospital in the police ambulance, where it was learned that his skull was fractured. He is on the dangerous list.

Quincy Brakeman Killed.

William J. Small, aged 18 years, a son of Michael Small of 171 Copeland street, and employed as a brakeman on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, was killed at the Pope's Hill bridge last night. He failed to notice the bridge which struck him. He was carried on the train for some distance before he rolled off. He was sent to Boston on the next inward train but died before reaching there. He was identified by a letter and railroad pass found on his clothing.

New Cruiser.

The new cruiser Tacoma will be launched today from the shipyard of the Union Iron Works, San Francisco. The Tacoma is 292 ft. long, 44 ft. beam and will draw 15 ft. on 3,200 mean draft, the displacement being 3,200 tons.

Tonight

Just before retiring, if your liver is sluggish, out of tune and you feel dull, bilious, constipated, take a dose of

Hood's Pills

And you'll be all right in the morning.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

BUY YOUR

Hot Weather Goods

—OF—

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

And get your COLD SODA

FREE.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

E. M. MAXWELL,

DRESSMAKING.

Ladies' Tailor Made Suits a specialty. Altering and Repairing neatly and promptly attended to No. 3 South Central Avenue, corner Newport Avenue, Wollaston, Mass.

May 18. 6t

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

We put the best in it. You get the best out of it. And the doctors approve. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

FREE LECTURE.

CAROLL NORTON, C. S. D.

of New York City, will deliver a lecture

"THE MEANING OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE,"

TOWN HALL, SOUTH BRAINTREE,

FRIDAY EVENNC, MAY 22, 1903,

AT 8 O'CLOCK.

PUBLIC CORDIALLY INVITED.

May 9. o--9-16--p-16--J-16-21-22

INSURE TODAY.

Tomorrow may be too late.

Endowment Policies, $19.10 and upward per $1,000.

Ask to see the new and valuable features on our Endowment Policies

READY JUNE 1st

Issued by THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO., of New York.

A. S. SANDBERG,

Jeweler's Building, Boston. Brewers Corner, Quincy.

Tel. 4409 2 Main.

May 16. 6t

Are You Looking for a Home?

Would You Like to Make Some Money?

Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at

BIGELOW PARK.

The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.

SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.

May 2. tf

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS,

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.

April 30. 1m

Piazza Furniture.

For nearly four months the piazza of your home will be used for rest and recreation. Afternoons, evenings and Sundays, every member of your family will spend their leisure moments there. There also, you will receive and entertain your friends, and your pleasure and comfort will be two fold if you have the proper piazza Furniture.

This means but trifling expense if you make your selection from our complete and low priced stock.

Piazza Rockers,	89c. to $3.50.
Hammocks,	69c. to $4.59.
Lawn Settees,	98c. to $1.25.
Lawn Swings,	$5.00.

Our Piazza Furniture will last for years.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

RICHARDS & MACOMBER,

PAINTERS and DECORATORS.

Whitewashing a Specialty. Sign Painting, Graining, Kalsomining, Glazing.

Interior and Exterior House Painting. WE EMPLOY SKILLED WORKMEN ONLY.

Drop us a postal and we will call at your residence and estimate your work.

Office and Shop, 31 SAVILLE ST.

Bates' Block, Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, April 11. Sat., Tues., Thur. 6w

Sarsaparilla

We put the best in it. You get the best out of it. And the doctors approve. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

ECTURE.

RTON, C. S. D.

will deliver a lecture

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE,"

UTH BRAINTREE,

, MAY 22, 1903,

CLOCK.

ALLY INVITED.

o--9-16--p-16--l-16-21-22

TODAY.

y be too late.

and upward per $1,000.

eatures on our Endowment Policies

JUNE 1st

INSURANCE CO., of New York.

NDBERG,

Brewers Corner, Quincy.

6t

a Home?

Make Some Money?

of those Beautiful Lots at

W PARK.

Most Accessible Tract of Land

River District.

Burgin & Merrill Block, Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.

tf

PRINCTIME

ughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of o call attention to my stock of CLES.

ular make or makes. I carry the following

LEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

at you DO want and I will get it for you s in Quincy, but my place continues to be the ELIABLE."

GILLIS,

usic Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.

1m nths the piazza of your home st and recreation. Afternoons, days, every member of your their leisure moments there. ll receive and entertain your easure and comfort will be two proper piazza Furniture.

dling expense if you make your mplete and low priced stock.

89c. to $3.50.
69c. to $4.59.
98c. to $1.25.
$5.00.

e will last for years.

CAIDE & CO.,

Priced Furniture Store,

Quincy.

day and Saturday Evenings.

MACOMBER,

DECORATORS.

Sign Painting, Graining, Glazing.

We Employ Skilled Workmen Only

your residence and estimate your work.

31 SAVILLE ST.

Quincy, Mass.

Sat., Tues., Thur. 6w

By C. H. JOHNSON, - - Auctioneer.
Office, Room 3, Adams Building, Quincy.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE
—OF A—
Modern House
—AT—PUBLIC AUCTION

Situated on Butler Road near Park Lane, consisting of 8 rooms, bath, furnace, set tubs, and 6 600 square feet of land. Will be sold from above premises on MONDAY, May 25, 1903, at 2 P. M., prompt. The location is good, house nearly new and well built. A fine chance to obtain a trade. For terms apply to auctioneer.

LOOK IT UP. LOOK IT UP.

Quincy, May 21. 3t

By C. H. JOHNSON, Auctioneer.
Office: Room 3 Adams Building.

Household Furniture

At Public Auction of CHARLES PETERSON will be sold from residence No. 138 Granite Street, on Tuesday, May 26, 1903,

At 1.30 P. M.

The goods consist in part as follows: Plush Rocker, Woolen Carpet, Curtains, 2 Rockers, 6 Rugs, Oak Side Board in good order, Cane Seat Rocker, Oak Commode, Oak Bureau, 8 foot Oak Extension Table, 6 Cane Seat Dining Room Chairs, Art Square, Hanging Lamp, Plants, 5 Odd Chairs, White Iron Bed nearly new, Rocker, Table Covers, Bed Spreads, Comforters, Mattresses, Straw Matting, Chamber Set, China Tea Set, lot of Dishes and Glass Ware, Magee Range in good order, Kitchen Table, and a lot of Kitchen Furniture. This is only a partial list of the furnishings of 5 rooms. All of above furniture is clean and in good order.

Sale positive. Goods to be removed at once. Terms, Cash.

No. 138 Granite Street.

May 18. 6t-18-19-20-22-23-24

By C. H. JOHNSON, - - Auctioneer.
Office, Room 3 Adams Building, Quincy.

QUINCY
Real Estate at Public Auction.

The Valuable Real Estate
—ON—Hancock Street, in Quincy,
—OF THE—
Late Nancy Brackett,

Will be sold at Public Auction on the premises, 1207 Hancock Street, on

May 23, 1903, at 3 o'clock P. M.

Train for Quincy leaves South Station, in Boston, at 2.28 o'clock.

The land has a frontage of 318 feet on Hancock street, a depth of 269 feet and embraces 84,935 square feet. The buildings consist of at 10-room House, built in the Old Colonial style, and a stable. The estate is one of the old estates of Quincy. It is situated on the main thoroughfare in the centre of the city within a few steps of the Railroad Station, Post Office, stores, and public buildings. It offers excellent opportunities for a private residence, or for development by the laying out of streets and erection of buildings. The present growth and prospects of the city of Quincy make this a peculiar opportunity for either investment or improvement.

$500 to be deposited and other terms to be announced at the time and place of sale.

For plan of land or any other information, inquire of

GEORGE W. MORTON,
Adams Building, Quincy.
HENRY H. SPRAGUE,
19 Milk street, Boston.

May 9—7t 9, 16, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22

Reupholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE

HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.

Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.

Call and get Prices.

C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.

Quincy, May 2. 1m

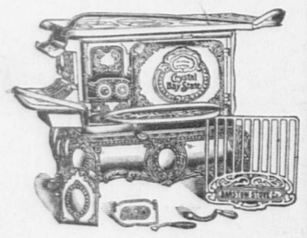

W. G. CHUBBUCK
Furniture and Piano Mover,
IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.
JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

lp-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

THE CRYSTAL BAY STATE

It has more Desirable Features than any other Range on the Market.

Come and See It.

BARSTOW STOVE CO.,

55 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON.

GUY'S COLISEUM,
W. G. SHAW, Proprietor,
QUINCY, MASS.

April 17. 4w

Don't Spend Money

Where the goods are not the equivalent. It is so easy to buy right that buying wrong is nothing short of extravagance. Whatever you fancy in the line of is here—if it's good. And the prices are reasonable. If you pay less you get less. If you pay more you do not get better quality.

CLOTHING

STRAW HATS

ARE NOW RIPE.

You can pick them at 25c., 50c., 98c., $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50

each and they are good values all along the line.

Yours for Honest Values.

F. D. FELLOWS CO.,

Reliable One Price Clothiers, Hatters and Furnishers.

Adams Building, City Square, Quincy, Mass.

WE GIVE TRADING STAMPS.

Store open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

May 21. 1-th., Fri., Sat.,-po-tf

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of MARY A. NELSON,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Catherine Nelson of Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of June, A. D. 1903, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

3t--21-28-4

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the Heirs-at-Law and all other persons interested in the estate of
FRANK H. MARRIOTT,
late of Stoughton, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Elizabeth M. Cook, administratrix of the estate of said deceased, has presented to said Court her petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offer named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, the whole of a certain parcel of the real estate of said deceased for the payment of debts and charges of administration, and for other reasons set forth in said petition.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County, on the third day of June, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

May 21. 3t--21-25-1

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

$3.50

For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . . At Co-operative Dining Rooms

3 Granite Street, Quincy,

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21--2m

GRAND CONCERT.

Wollaston's Choral Society's Second Entertainment.

A Great Credit to Director Stevens.

Chorus Sings with Good Volume and Much Spirit.

The Wollaston Choral Society under the direction of Mr. Charles B. Stevens gave its second concert of this season in the Baptist church Wednesday evening and presented a program that was carefully arranged and the variety of the numbers, together with the excellence of the selections deserved every bit of the close attention and generous applause accorded it. The chorus was assisted by Mr. Leon Van Vliet, violincellist, Dr. Florence Olney, Mrs. Amos T. Leavitt accompanists, Mrs. Alma Faunce Smith organist.

The chorus acquitted itself with particular credit to itself and to the untiring conductor, Mr. Stevens, whose ability requires no new endorsement, for he is known as a man of fine parts and achievements. Wollaston may well feel a pride in this really fine chorus which is worthy of heartiest commendation, in that it is educational in making its members as well as the public acquainted with a high order of music. Its annual concerts are the only demands made upon the public for an audience.

The selections by the chorus were well received, perhaps the most enjoyable being the "Bridal Chorus" from the cantata of "The Rose Maiden," (by desire.) Mrs. Smith and Dr. Olney executed the "Triumphal March" by Guilmant on piano and organ, magnificently, and received such enthusiastic applause that they repeated a portion of it.

The ladies' "Trio Club" gave four selections with great sweetness.

Dr. Olney accompanied in her usually artistic manner.

The skill of the principal soloist, Mr Van Vliet, stamps him as an artist of the foremost rank. His performance of Traumeri, "La Cinquantaine" and the "Andante from a minor concerto" were all notable for purity of tone and contrasts in tempo and expression. Each solo evoked generous applause and encores were demanded.

The duet, "The Night," by Mrs. Saxe and Mr. Stevens, with Mrs. Leavitt at the piano, was beautifully sung and met with enthusiastic approval from the audience.

The last selection on the program was "With Sheathed Sword" ("Maama") by the chorus which fairly outdid itself, and sang with good volume of tone and with much spirit and precision.

A Woodland Echo.

As became the idle man having the time of his life in the primeval forests of the Temagamie reserve in Canada, the clerk of the New York court of special sessions was graciously inclined to instruct the workers in camp. These, says the New York Tribune, were two young, unknown men who, with a canoe and a camping outfit, were likewise seeking backwood experience.

He came upon one of them baking bread in a portable aluminium oven before a smoldering log fire.

"Ah," said the clerk, assuming a reclining position of graceful ease, "baking bread, I see."

"Yes. It doesn't come up for a cent."

"You see," continued the clerk, with rising wisdom, "the baking powder, which contains cream of tartar, liberates when heated a certain amount of carbonic acid gas, which"—

"Oh, don't talk shop!" interrupted the cook. "I hate it out here!"

"Oh, you do!" the clerk observed, astonished. "What business are you in, may I ask?"

"I'm an assistant professor of chemistry at Yale."

Throwing Rice at Weddings.

Like roast pig, the origin of throwing rice at weddings is Chinese, and the legend is scarcely less worthy of Charles Lamb: "A famous sorcerer named Chao became jealous of the power of another sorcerer, a woman, and, conceiving a plan to destroy her, he persuaded her parents to bestow her upon his supposed son. The crafty Chao chose the most unlucky day for the wedding, the day when the 'Golden Pheasant' was in the ascendant, so that when the bride entered the red chair the spirit bird would destroy her with his powerful beak. But Peachblossom gave directions to have rice thrown out at the door, and she passed out unharmed while the spirit bird was devouring it."

☞The Daily Ledger is for sale at the South Terminal station.

THE OLD RELIABLE

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

STRUCK AT MILTON.

Woman Rendered Unconscious and Was Speechless for Hours.

Mrs. James Craig had a narrow escape from being killed by lightning during the storm Tuesday afternoon. During a lull in the storm, thinking that it was over, she went into the yard to look at her bee hives. While standing beneath a tree, there came a heavy roll of thunder and a sharp crack of lightning. The lightning struck the tree beneath which she was standing and felled it. The same bolt also splintered a telephone pole in the street near by. Mrs. Craig was knocked down and was senseless for some minutes. She was carried into the house where restoratives were applied. The shock effected her throat, somewhat, and it was some hours before she regained her power of speech.

Superintendent Sheppard.

O. M. Sheppard now superintendent of the New York division of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., has been appointed as general superintendent of the entire system with office at New Haven.

PRESENCE OF MIND.

The Duke of Wellington's Experience With a Murderous Maniac.

One day as the Duke of Wellington sat writing at his library table quite alone his door was suddenly opened without a knock or announcement of any sort, and in stalked a gaunt man, who stood before the commander in chief with his hat on and a savage expression of countenance. The duke was of course a little annoyed at such an unceremonious interruption, and, looking up, he asked, "Who are you?" "I am Dionysius," was the singular answer. "Well, what do you want?" "Your life." "My life?" "Yes; I am sent to kill you." "Very odd," said the duke, sitting back and calmly gazing at the intruder. "Not at all, for I am Dionysius," said the stranger, "and I must put you to death." "Are you obliged to perform this duty today?" asked the commander in chief. "I am very busy just now and have a large number of letters to write. It would be very inconvenient today." The visitor loked hard during a moment's pause. "Call again," continued the duke, "or write and make an appointment." "You'll be ready?" "Without fail," was the reply. The maniac, awed doubtless by the stern old soldier, backed out of the room without further words and half an hour later was safe in bedlam.

Taking Life Too Seriously.

Taking life too seriously is said to be an especially American failing. This may be true; but, judging from appearances, it would seem to be world-wide, for, go where you may, you will find the proportion of serious, not to say anxious, faces ten to one as compared with the merry or happy ones. If "the outer is always the form and shadow of the inner" and if "the present is the fullness of the past and the herald of the future" (and how can we doubt it?), how many sad histories can be read in the faces of those we meet every day! The pity of it is, too, that the sadness is a self woven garment, even as is the joy with which it might be replaced. Ruskin says: "Girls should be sunbeams not only to members of their own circle, but to everybody with whom they come in contact. Every room they enter should be brighter for their presence." Why shouldn't all of us be sunbeams, boys as well as girls, all along the way from twenty-five years and under to eighty-five years and over?—Success.

A Cheerful Expression.

"I wish I could always look as cheerful as you do," said the sweet young thing as she dropped down beside the attractive widow.

"There are times when it is embarrassing, that cheerful expression of mine," said the widow. "Let me tell you. When my husband died, I was journeying alone to his home, where he was to be buried. I was much annoyed at the persistency with which the man across the aisle attempted to flirt with me. Finally he took a seat in front of me and said, 'I beg pardon, but I thought I'd like to talk with you awhile because you have such a cheerful expression.'

"And there I'd been weeping my eyes out for two days. So don't cultivate that cheerful look too much or you'll find some one accusing you of looking happy at a funeral."—New York Times.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Groceryman Thrown Out of Wagon and Dragged Some Distance.

Burliegh E. Pratt of L. M. Pratt & Son had a narrow escape from a fatal accident on Washington street this morning. He was driving one of the grocery wagons of the firm when his horse became frightened at a cow and ran away.

Before Mr. Pratt could control the animal he ran into a coal wagon. Mr. Pratt was thrown out and dragged some distance.

The police ambulance was called and he was taken to the Greenleaf, where he was attended by Dr. Welch. Fortunately no bones were broken but he was severely strained about the stomach.

A Mediæval Survival.

It may interest some of your readers to know that the archaic method of reckoning by tallies is still in vogue in Pau. While there I saw a bundle of tally sticks (there called tailles) suspended in a baker's shop, and on inquiry I found that most of the poorer country people thus registered their purchases until they were able to pay. The tally stick is cut down the center, the baker and purchaser each retaining a half, and when a loaf is sold the two halves are fitted together, and a notch is made across them, the purchaser thus keeping an exact check upon the baker's score. Upon any payment being made a corresponding number of notches are shaved off.—London Athenæum.

Smoker's Heart.

Smoking, as a rule, agrees with persons for many years, perhaps for twenty years and longer, although by degrees cigars of a finer flavor are chosen, but all at once, without any assignable cause, troubles are experienced with the heart, which rapidly increase and compel the sufferer to call in the help of a medical man. The age at which disturbances of the heart become pronounced varies very much. It is but rare that patients are under thirty years of age; they are mostly between forty and sixty years old.

Explains It.

"Why is it," asked the curious guest, "that poor men usually give larger tips than rich men?"

"Well, suh," said the waiter, "de po' man don' want nobody to fin' out he's po', an' de rich man don' want nobody to fin' out he's rich, suh."—Chicago Tribune.

The Last Straw.

After a fellow has walked about fourteen miles every night for two weeks with the baby it pains him to be told by the doctor: "You look all run down. You should take more exercise."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Too Rusty.

Lady (after singing a few rusty notes) — Don't you think my voice should be brought out?

Manager—No; pushed back.—Columbus Dispatch.

The Only Disagreeable Part.

It is only the first half of any job that is disagreeable. The second half is worse.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

☞Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

How do you like an 8-page Ledger?

TRUE'S Pin Worm ELIXIR

The only sure, safe, entirely vegetable remedy for worms in children or adults. 35c at your druggists. DR. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me.

TO LET

IN QUINCY, MASS.,
By H. H. FAXON.

HOUSES, STORES, HALL, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES,
Land, Wharves, etc.

Buildings are in Complete Repair

Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.

House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.

Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.

Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc., No. 92 School street, $12 per month.

Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.

Stable, junction School and Franklin streets, $4 per month.

Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.

Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.

Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.

For particulars apply to
HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, May 13, 1903. 1m

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS.

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - 25 cents
" " three days, - - 50 cents
" " one week, - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

LOST.

LOST—On May 18, in vicinity of Brewer's Corner, a Pocket Book contuining a sum of money. Finder will be rewarded by returning same to 23 Albertina street. May 19-3t

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—Two acres of land and house, within 5 minutes' walk of central railroad station. Taxed for $2,200. Will sell for $1,800 if taken within 10 days. Address FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street, Quincy, Mass.
May 21. tf

FOR SALE—A Reclining Wheel invalid's chair. Address, Box 84, Weymouth, Mass.
May 21. 3t

FOR SALE—A Large Size Emerson Piano for $150.00. Six years old. Address H. L. D., Ledger office, Quincy, Mass.
May 21. tf

FOR SALE. Stable Manure. Delivered in Quincy for $5 a cord. Address BOX 154, Atlantic. May 16. 6t

FOR SALE—A light running open Corning Box Buggy, cheap, in fine condition; also a rubber tired Goddard, in good repair; can be seen at 19 Pine street, Wollaston. Address E. F. WHITE, Wollaston, Mass. May 11-13t

FOR SALE. Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office.
April 28. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

SODS FOR SALE—Apply to JULIUS JOHNSON, Adams Building, Temple street.
Quincy, April 6. tf

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve (12) rooms, with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. April 22-1m

WANTED.

MEN, not under 25 years, to call on old and new customers. No delivering. Position permanent to the right party. Pay weekly. GLEN BROTHERS, Rochester, N. Y.
April 23. 6w--thurs. sat. tues.

WANTED—Money on first mortgages. Address Box 185 Quincy Post Office.
April 16. eod tf

WANTED—As one of our compositors is about to be married there is an opening at the Daily Ledger Office for a bright girl who wishes to learn type-setting. Apply to or address GEO. W. PRESCOTT, Ledger Office, Quincy. May 20-tf

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London and Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON.
Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

TO LET.

FOR RENT--By a young married couple without children, furnished house this summer. Best of references. Parties going to the beach will find this a good opportunity to leave their home in responsible care. Address, H. H., Ledger office. Quincy, May 19-tf

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy.
April 8. w. th. s. m.--tf

TO LET—Large, Square Room and Side Rooms. Barn for $4 per month. Apply Greenleaf street, corner Hancock street.
Quincy, May 8. tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet, 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street.
Quincy, April 21. tf

NEW STORES TO LET.

A BUILDING will be erected at once by N.G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information enquire of N. G. NICKERSON. Quincy, May 12-tf

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.
Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

KING'S PARK HOUSE.

Board and Rooms.

345 Washington Street.

Quincy, May 19. 1m

When Knighthood Was In Flower

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By Edwin Caskoden [Charles Major]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

CHAPTER XXI.

LETTERS FROM A QUEEN.

UPON our return to England I left Jane down in Suffolk with her uncle, Lord Bolingbroke, having determined never to permit her to come within sight of King Henry again if I could prevent it. I then went up to London with the twofold purpose of seeing Brandon and resigning my place as master of the dance.

When I presented myself to the king and told him of my marriage, he flew into a great passion because we had not asked his consent. One of his whims was that every one must ask his permission to do anything—to eat or sleep or say one's prayers, especially to marry, if the lady was of a degree entitled to be a king's ward. Jane, fortunately, had no estate, the king's father having stolen it from her when she was an infant; so all the king could do about our marriage was to grumble, which I let him do to his heart's content.

"I wish also to thank your majesty for the thousand kindnesses you have shown me," I said, "and, although it grieves me to the heart to separate from you, circumstances compel me to tender my resignation as your master of dance." Upon this he was kind enough to express regret and ask me to reconsider, but I stood my ground firmly, and then and there ended my official relations with Henry Tudor forever.

Upon taking my leave of the king I sought Brandon, whom I found comfortably ensconced in our old quarters, he preferring them to much more pretentious apartments offered him in another part of the palace. The king had given him some new furnishings for them, and, as I was to remain a few days to attend to some matters of business, he invited me to share his comfort with him, and I gladly did so.

Those few days with Brandon were my farewell to individuality. Thereafter I was to be so mysteriously intermingled with Jane that I was only a part—and a small part at that, I fear—of two. I did not, of course, regret the change, since it was the one thing in life I most longed for, yet the period was tinged with a faint sentiment of pathos at parting from the old life that had been so kind to me and which I was leaving forever. I say I did not regret it, and, though I was leaving my old haunts and companions and friends so dear to me, I was finding them all again in Jane, who was friend as well as wife.

Mary's letter was in one of my boxes which had been delayed, and Jane was to forward it to me when it should come. When I told Brandon of it, I dwelt with emphasis upon its bulk, and he, of course, was delighted and impatient to have it. I had put the setter in the box, but there was something else which Mary had sent to him that I had carried with me. It was a sum of money sufficient to pay the debt against his father's estate and, in addition, to buy some large tracts of land adjoining. Brandon did not hesitate to accept the money and seemed glad that it had come from Mary, she, doubtless, being the only person from whom he would have taken it.

One of Brandon's sisters had married a rich merchant at Ipswich, and another was soon to marry a Scotch gentleman. The brother would probably never marry, so Brandon would eventually have to take charge of the estates. In fact, he afterward lived there many years, and, as Jane and I had purchased a little estate near by, which had been generously added to by Jane's uncle, we saw a great deal of him. But I am getting ahead of my story again.

The D'Angouleme complication troubled me greatly, notwithstanding my faith in Mary, and although I had resolved to say nothing to Brandon about it, I soon told him plainly what I thought and feared.

He replied with a low, contented little laugh.

"Do not fear for Mary. I do not. That young fellow is of different stuff, I know, from the old king, but I have all faith in her purity and ability to take care of herself. Before she left she promised to be true to me, whatever befell, and I trust her entirely. I am not so unhappy by any means as one would expect. Am I? And I was compelled to admit that he certainly was not.

So it seems they had met, as Jane and I suspected, but how Mary managed it I am sure I cannot tell. She beat the very deuce for having her own way, by hook or by crook. Then came the bulky letter, which Brandon pounced upon and eagerly devoured. I leave out most of the sentimental passages, which, like effervescent wine, lose flavor quickly. She said, in part:

To Master Brandon:

Sir and Dear Friend, Greeting—After leaving thee, long time had I that mighty grief and dole within my heart that it was like to break, for my separation from thee was so much harder to bear even than I had taken thought of, and I also doubted me that I could live in Paris, as I did wish. Sleep rested not upon my weary eyes, and of a very deed could I neither eat nor drink, since food distasted me like a nausea and wine did strangle in my throat. This lasted through my journey hither, which I did prolong upon many pretexts nearly two months, but when I did at last rest mine eyes for the first time upon this King Louis' face I well knew that I could rule him, and when I did arrive and had adjusted myself in this Paris I found it so easy that my heart leaped for very joy. Beauty goeth so far with this inflammable people that easily do I rule them all, and truly doth a servile subject make a sharp, capricious tyrant. Thereby the misfortune which hath come upon us is of so much less evil and is so like to be of such short duration that I am almost happy, but for lack of thee, and sometimes think that after all it may verily be a blessing unseen.

This new, unexpected face upon our trouble hath so driven the old gnawing ache out of my heart that I love to be alone and dream, open eyed, of the time, of a surety not far off, when I shall be with thee. * * * It is ofttimes sore hard for me, who have never waited, to have to wait, like a patient Griselda, which of a truth I am not, for this which I do so want, but I try to make myself content with the thought that full sure it will not be for long, and that when this tedious time hath spent itself we shall look back upon it as a very soul school, and shall rather joy that we did not purchase our heaven too cheaply.

I said I find it easy to live here as I wish, and did begin to tell thee how it was when I ran off into telling of how I long for thee, so I will try again. This Louis, to begin with, is but the veriest shadow of a man, of whom thou needst have not one jealous thought. He is on a bed of sickness most of the time, of his own accord, and if, perchance, he be but fairly well a day or so I do straightway make him ill again in one way or another, and, please God, hope to wear him out entirely ere long time. Of a deed, Brother Henry was right. Better had it been for Louis to have married a human devil than me, for it maketh a very one out of me if mine eyes but rest upon him, and thou knowest full well what kind of a devil I make. Brother Henry knoweth, at any rate. For all this do I grieve, but have no remedy nor want one. I sometimes do almost compassionate the old king, but I cannot forbear, for he turneth my very blood to biting gall, and must e'en take the consequences of his own folly. Truly is he wild for love of me, this poor old man, and the more I hold him at a distance the more he fondly dotes. I do verily believe he would try to stand upon his foolish old head did I but insist. I sometimes have a thought to make him try it. He doeth enough that is senseless and absurd, in all conscience, as it is. At all of this do the courtiers smile and laugh and put me forward to other pranks—that is, all but a few of the elders, who shake their heads, but dare do nothing else for fear of the dauphin, who will soon be king and who stands first in urging and abetting me. So it is easy for me to do what I wish, and above all to leave undone that which I wish not, for I do easily rule them all, as good Sir Edwin and dear Jane will testify. I have a ball every night wherein I do make a deal of amusement for every one by dancing La Volta with his majesty until his heels, and his poor old head, too, are like to fall off. Others importune me for those dances, especially the dauphin, but I laugh and shake my head and say that I will dance with no one but the king, because he dances so well. This pleases his majesty mightily and maketh an opening for me to avoid the touch of other men, for I am jealous of myself for thy sake, and save and garner every little touch for thee. * * * Sir Edwin will tell you I dance with no one else and surely never will.

You remember well, I doubt not, when thou first didst teach me this new dance. Ah, how delightful it was, and yet how at first it did frighten and anger me. Thou canst not know how my heart beat during all the time of that first dance. I thought, of a surety, it would burst, and then the wild thrill of frightened ecstasy that made my blood run like fire! I knew it must be wrong, for it was, in truth, too sweet a thing to be right. And then I grew angry at thee as the cause of my wrongdoing and scolded thee, and repented it, as usual. Truly didst thou conquer, not win, me. Then afterward, withal it so frightened me, how I longed to dance again, and could in no way stay myself from asking. At times could I hardly wait till evening fell, and when upon occasion thou didst not come I was so angry I said I hated thee. What must thou have thought of me, so forward and bold! And that afternoon! Ah, I think of it every hour, and see and hear it all and live it o'er and o'er, as it sweeter grows with memory's ripening touch. Some moments there are that send their glad ripple down through life's stream to the verge of the grave, and truly blest is one who can smile upon and kiss these memory waves and draw from thence a bliss that never fails; but thou knowest full well my heart, and I need not tease thee with its outpourings.

There is yet another matter of which I wish to write in very earnestness. Sir Edwin spoke to me thereof, and what he said hath given me serious thought. I thank him for his words, of which he will tell thee in full if thou but importune him thereto. It is this: The dauphin, Francis d'Angouleme, hath fallen desperately fond of me and is quite as importunate and almost as foolish as the elder lover. This people in this strange land of France have, in sooth, some curious notions. For an example thereto, no one thinks to find anything unseeming in the dauphin's conduct by reason of his having already a wife, and more, that wife the Princess Claude, daughter to the king. I laugh at him and let him say what he will, for in truth I am powerless to prevent it. Words cannot scar even a rose leaf and will not harm me. Then, by his help and example, I am justified in the eyes of the court in that I so treat the king, which otherwise it were impossible for me to do and live here. So, however much I may loathe them, yet I am driven to tolerate his words, which I turn off with a laugh, making sure, thou mayest know, that it come to nothing more than words. And thus it is, however much I wish it not, that I do use him to help me treat the king as I like, and do then use the poor old king as my buckler against this duke's too great familiarity. But, my friend, when the king comes to die, then shall I have my fears of this young Francis d'Angouleme. He is desperate for me, and I know not to what length he might go. The king cannot live long, as the thread of his life is like rotten flax, and when he dies thou must come without delay, since I shall be in deadly peril. I have a messenger waiting at all hours ready to send to thee upon a moment's notice, and when he comes waste not a precious instant. It may mean all to thee and me. I could write on and on forever, but it would be only to tell thee o'er and o'er that my heart is full of thee to overflowing. I thank thee that thou hast never doubted me, and will see that thou hast hereafter only good cause for better faith. MARY, Regina.

"Regina!" That was all. Only a queen! Surely no one could charge Brandon with possessing too modest tastes.

It was, I think, during the second week in December that I gave this letter to Brandon, and about a fortnight later there came to him a messenger from Paris, bringing another from Mary, as follows:

Master Charles Brandon:

Sir and Dear Friend, Greeting—I have but time to write that the king is so ill he cannot but die ere morning. Thou knowest that which I last wrote to thee, and in addition thereto I would say that although I have, as thou likewise knowest, my brother's permission to marry whom I wish, yet as I have his one consent it is safer that we act upon that rather than be so scrupulous as to ask for another wife upon the old one rather than risk the necessity of having to do it without any. I say no more, but come with all the speed thou knowest. MARY.

It is needless to say that Brandon started in haste for Paris. He left court for the ostensible purpose of paying me a visit, and came to Ipswich, whence we sailed.

The French king was dead before Mary's message reached London, and when we arrived at Paris Francis I. reigned on the throne of his father-in-law. I had guessed only too accurately. As soon as the restraint of the old king's presence, light as it had been, was removed, the young king opened his attack upon Mary in dreadful earnest. He begged and pleaded and swore his love, which was surely manifest enough, and within three days after the old king's death offered to divorce Claude and make Mary his queen. When she refused this flattering offer, his surprise was genuine.

"Do you know what you refuse?" he asked in a temper. "I offer to make you my wife—queen of 15,000,000 of the greatest subjects on earth—and are you such a fool as to refuse a gift like that, and a man like me for a husband?"

"That I am, your majesty, and with a good grace. I am queen of France without your help and care not so much as one penny for the honor. It is greater to be a princess of England. As for this love you avow, I would make so bold as to suggest that you have a good, true wife, to whom you would do well to give it all. To me it is nothing, even were you a thousand times the king you are. My heart is another's, and I have my brother's permission to marry him."

"Another's? God's soul! Tell me who this fellow is that I may spit him on my sword!"

"No, no! You would not. Even were you as valiant and grand as you think yourself, you would be but a child in his hands."

Francis was furious, and had Mary's apartments guarded to prevent her escape, swearing he would have his way.

As soon as Brandon and I arrived in Paris we took private lodgings, and well it was that we did. I at once went out to reconnoiter, and found the widowed queen a prisoner in the old Palace des Tournelles. With the help of Queen Claude I secretly obtained an interview and learned the true state of affairs.

Had Brandon been recognized and his mission known in Paris he would certainly have been assassinated by order of Francis.

When I saw the whole situation, with Mary nothing less than a prisoner in the palace, I was ready to give up without a struggle, but not so Mary. Her brain was worth having, so fertile was it in expedients, and, while I was ready to despair, she was only getting herself in good fighting order.

After Mary's refusal of Francis, and after he had learned that the sacrifice of Claude would not help him, he grew desperate and determined to keep the English girl in his court at any price and by any means. So he hit upon the scheme of marrying her to his weak minded cousin, the Count of Savoy. To that end he sent a hurried embassy to Henry VIII., offering, in case of the Savoy marriage, to pay back Mary's dower of 400,000 crowns. He offered to help Henry in the matter of the imperial crown in case of Maximilian's death, a help much greater than any King Louis could have given. He also offered to confirm Henry in all his French possessions and to relinquish all claims of his own thereto—all as the price of one eighteen-year-old girl. Do you wonder she had an exalted estimate of her own value?

As to Henry, it of course need not be said that half the price offered would have bought him to break an oath made upon the true cross itself. The promise he had made to Mary, broken in intent before it was given, stood not for an instant in the way of the French king's wishes, and Henry, with a promptitude begotten of greed, was as hasty in sending an embassy to accept the offer as Francis had been to make it. It mattered not to him what new torture he put upon his sister. The price, I believe, was sufficient to have induced him to cut off her head with his own hands.

If Francis and Henry were quick in their movements, Mary was quicker. Her plan was made in the twinkling of an eye. Immediately upon seeing me at the palace she sent for Queen Claude, with whom she had become fast friends, and told her all she knew. She did not know of the scheme for the Savoy marriage, though Queen Claude did and fully explained it to Mary. Naturally enough, Claude would be glad to get Mary as far away from France and her husband as possible, and was only too willing to lend a helping hand to our purpose, or Mary's, rather, for she was the leader.

We quickly agreed among ourselves that Mary and Queen Claude should within an hour go out in Claude's new coach for the ostensible purpose of hearing mass. Brandon and I were to go to the same little chapel in which Jane and I had been married, where Mary said the little priest could administer the sacrament of marriage and perform the ceremony as well as if he were thrice as large.

[To be Continued.]

Have you one of the new savings banks?

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus oftenbefore medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

ST HYACINTHE'S FIRE

Has Left a Large Part of the City's Population Without Homes

St. Hyacinthe, Que., May 21.—A fire which broke out in the shoe factory of Cote Bros. destroyed that and half a dozen other flourishing industries and 250 houses, leaving nearly a quarter of the city's population sitting homeless amidst heaps of furniture. The loss is placed at $400,000. The water pressure was poor, and it was not long before the fire had gotten entirely beyond control. Word was wired to Montreal for help, and the Montreal men were actually at work an hour and a half after they received instructions to leave their stations.

By this time the fire had worked its way up to St. Antoine street and was attacking the finest business blocks of the town, situated on the Market square. Through the efforts of the Montreal men, the market building and the buildings on the other side of the square were saved. By this time the water supply was practically exhausted, and the flames were burning in a score of places.

The burned district is practically the same as that destroyed in 1876. The River Yamaska flows through the town in the shape of a letter "V" and St. Antoine street runs along the top of this "V" and practically everything south of that street was burned.

Another Scandal In British Army

London, May 21.—An outbreak of enteric fever on board the reformatory ship Cornwall has been traced to fever infected army blankets from South Africa. Thousands of similar blankets have been sold and sent all over the country, without even being washed or disinfected. The army regulations provide that such articles shall be destroyed and it is not known how the blankets came to be sent to England. The Daily Mail this morning declares that it is a scandal demanding the strictest investigation.

Sedition Charges Not Proven

Manila, May 21.—The supreme court has decided that Dorr and O'Brien, respectiveely the proprietor and editor of Freedom, are not guilty of sedition. The main charges made were that in many cases the Filipino office holders were rascals and the United States commission had exalted to the highest positions Filipinos who were notoriously corrupt. The conviction of Dorr and O'Brien on the charge of libeling Benito Legarda, a native member of the Philippine commission, was confirmed by the supreme court.

Appointment Not Quite Straight

Washington, May 21.—Postmaster Genéral Payne has received the official report of the investigation into the recent intimidation of John Allgood, the colored rural free delivery carrier at Gallatin, Tenn. The report says that only two persons were involved in the affair and that the sentiment of the community does not uphold their act. An irregularity in the appointment of Allgood has been discovered and the matter has been referred to the civil service commission.

Mismanagement Alleged

New York, May 21.—Two stockholders of the Guardian Trust company have taken action which, if successful, will practically force the retirement of Bird S. Coler from the presidency of the company. The two stockholders have brought suit in the supreme court against Coler for alleged mismanagement and for the recovery of certain blocks of stock alleged to have been pledged as collateral without the sanction of the directors.

To Investigate Alleged Misdeeds

St. John, May 21.—Premier Tweedie has been appointed by the government a commissioner to investigate charges against Chief of Police Clark of St. John, preferred by John McKelvey of the customs service here. The premier declines to state the nature of the charges. There are also charges against the provincial lunatic asylum management.

Hot Weather Brings Suffering

New York, May 21.—Two deaths and about a dozen cases of prostration marked the hottest weather ever recorded by the local weather bureau on May 20. At 3:30 in the afternoon the mercury registered 90 degrees. Last night the temperature was still oppressive and throughout the swarming tenement districts the suffering was very great.

Lightning Struck Engineer

Rockport, Mass., May 21.—William Perkins, an engineer at the Rockport Granite company's quarry here, was at work in the quarry when a lightning bolt struck him a glancing blow on the side of the head, cutting a deep gash and making him unconscious. He may recover.

Woodlake Wins Latonia Derby

Cincinnati, May 21.—T. C. McDowell's Candlemas colt, Woodlake, carrying 114 pounds, with Jockey Crowhurst on his back, won the Latonia derby. The time was 2:36 3-4. The net value of the stake to the winner was $7035.

A City of Idleness

Denver, May 21.—Committees representing the printers, business men and citizens alliance had a futile conference, endeavoring to adjust the labor troubles in this city. The total number of idle men in this city now is about 10,000.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Friday, May 22.
Sun rises—4:17; sets—7:05.
Moon rises—1:44 a. m.
High water—7:15 a. m.; 7:45 p. m.

Temperatures continue above the seasonal average east of the Mississippi. The weather will be fair in New England.

BELGIUM GETS BIG END

Berlin Act Violated In Trading In Congo State

REPORTS ABOUT OFFICIALS

By an American Missionary Bring the Matter to the Attention of British Government, Which Declares Its Anxiety to Abate Prevalent Evils

London, May 21.—The allegations of ill-treatment of the natives made against the Congo state officials by Rev. William Morrison of Lexington, Va., a member of the American Presbyterian mission, were brought up before parliament last night and found the government, although unwilling to censure the administration of the Congo state, anxious to co-operate with the other powers to abate the scandals.

Herbert L. Samuel moved a resolution that "the government of the Congo state, having at its inception guaranteed to the powers that the natives should be governed humanely and that no trading monopoly or privilege should be permitted, and both these guarantees having been constantly violated, the house requests the government to confer with the other signatories of the Berlin general act, in virtue of which the Congo state exists, in order that measures may be adopted to abate the prevalent evils."

Mr. Samuel, in support of the motion, quoted the statements made by Mr. Morrison and declared that many witnesses also testified to the existence of the scandals. He pointed out that the trading was overwhelmingly in favor of Belgium, which was a violation of the Berlin act. The speaker said that he was glad that public opinion had been awakened. It was a matter in which apathy could not be tolerated and the government, on the ground of commerce and humanity, could not refuse to take action.

Sir Charles Dilke seconded and other speakers endorsed the resolution, advocating prompt and decisive action looking to an entire change of the methods of control of the Congo state.

Lord Cranborne, under foreign secretary, admitted that the government had a "locus standi" under the Berlin act, but Great Britain could not act alone. They intended, however, to take the opinion of the signatory powers on the subject and he thought that it would be well if the Congo state did its best to clear up suspicion. In view of the differences of opinion existing as to the precise effect of the monopoly clause of the Berlin act, it would be reasonable to exchange views with the powers. The government, therefore, was unable to accept Mr. Samuel's resolution as it stood.

Lord Fitzmaurice described Lord Cranborne's speech as "giving the prisoner the benefit of the doubt."

Premier Balfour said that they should consult in agreement with the practical proposal that they should consult the signatory powers, but it would not be judicious to place on record an explicit condemnation of a friendly government.

Mr. Samuel thereupon consented to omit from his resolution the words: "And both these guarantees have been constantly violated." Thus altered, the resolution was adopted without division amid cheers.

A Sympathetic Judge

New York, May 21.—"As an act of humanity" Magistrate Mayo last evening discharged 28 prisoners held over from the raid on an alleged pool room in Sixth avenue. The men had been unable to get bondsmen, and had been without food for more than 24 hours when discharged. Their long detention was due to the fact that the police were unable to make any specific complaint on which the magistrate could act.

Sternburg to Be Ambassador

Washington, May 21.—Any doubt that may have existed as to the intention of the German government to make Baron Speck Von Sternburg ambassador has been dispelled by advices from Berlin to the effect that his credentials as ambassador will be issued to him as soon as the three months of full pay allowed by German custom to retiring ambassadors have elapsed.

Fishermen Are Safe

Newport, R. I., May 21.—Schooner Maud Gertrude of Newport, which left here three weeks ago and was believed to have been lost, has returned here with Captain Millette and his crew. They were caught in the storm, but weathered it and went off the New York and New Jersey coasts to fish for mackerel, where they have been ever since.

New Plates Not Necessary

New York, May 21.—When docked the effect of the accident to the Constitution was shown by two dented plates. It is expected that both dents may be pounded into shape and it will probably not be necessary to put in new plates. Captain Rhodes expects the boat will be ready to sail in the races on Saturday.

Not Ordered to Leave Spain

Madrid, May 21.—The report circulated by a news agency that the Infanta Eulalie, aunt of King Alfonso, had been ordered by the queen mother to leave Spain, owing to the infanta's separation from her husband, is absolutely unfounded, and has aroused the indignation of the government.

ERIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.
Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice. Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass
May 7. 1m

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
Employment Office
At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm. Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.
Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7. tf

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER,
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

FRANK F. CRANE
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER.
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17. tf

JAMES F. BURKE.
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5. tf

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!
OF ALL KINDS.
DRY AND GREEN
At Lowest Possible Prices.
THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.
3rd off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy
Jan. 7. tf

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.
Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant. Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
[3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

RIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.
ns and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass
ay 7. 1m

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
Employment Office
1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm uld like ladies to call as a number of young s would like employment.
uincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
iano Tuner and Repairer.
rompt attention and thorough work. Con-ed by Telephone. Address 373 Silver et, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

ERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
ffice at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock
et, Quincy.
esidence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, s. elephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
ainters, Decorators and Paperhangers.
ILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly ended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7. tf

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
AINTER, GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
corator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

FRANK F. CRANE
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER.
ice, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
ug. 17. tf

JAMES F. BURKE.
EAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
stice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building, une 5 tf

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!
OF ALL KINDS.
DRY AND GREEN
At Lowest Possible Prices.
THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.
rd off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy
Jan. 7. tf

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.
Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass reenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward reet, East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharma-st, Quincy Square. Jan26-1y

ns and Outs of Overcoats.

COPYRIGHT.

UT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO
HE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS.

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
13 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

THE NATIONAL MOUNT WOLLASTON BANK,
Chartered as a National Bank 1864.
Capital, $150,000. Undivided Profits, $90,000. Deposits, $360,000.
Total Dividends Paid, $496,500.
Transacts a General Banking Business. Accounts received on favorable Terms.
OFFICERS
Charles A. Howland, PRESIDENT. Horace F. Spear, CASHIER.
DIRECTORS
CHARLES A. HOWLAND, President and Treasurer Quincy Mutual Fire Ins. Co. Trustee Quincy Savings Bank.
HORACE B. SPEAR, Retired. Treasurer of Quincy 18 years. Cashier National Mount Wollaston Bank 16 years. Trustee Quincy Savings Bank.
HERBERT F. DOBLE, Wholesale Groceries, Provisions, Flour and Grain.
GEO. HARVEY FIELD, Real Estate and Insurance. Vice-President Quincy Co-operative Bank.
LESTER M. PRATT, Wholesale and Retail Grocer.
HENRY M. FAXON, Real Estate.
GEORGE W. MORTON, Capitalist. Trustee Quincy Savings Bank. Director Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Co.
FRANK S. PATCH, Proprietor C. Patch & Son, Coal and Wood. Meadow Brook Ice Co. Director Quincy Co-operative Bank.
BANK HOURS: 8.30 to 3. Saturdays, 8.30 to 12.

YOU have the BANK, WE have the KEY

This is the Bank.

We Pay 3 Per Cent
INTEREST ON
HOME BANK DEPOSITS.

THE more limited your income the more imperative is your DUTY TO Save.

We have been educated to SPEND MONEY; now let us educate ourselves to SAVE MONEY instead of patronizing the various slot machines and devices for collecting small amounts or needlessly spending it "just because it is so small."

Open a Deposit Account—take a HOME BANK and DROP SOME AMOUNT INTO IT EVERY DAY. You will soon be surprised at the amount to your credit in the Bank.

CALL and ASK for a LITTLE BANK
Write or Telephone and we will Deliver a Bank at your Home

Begin saving today and in a few short years you will have a capital with which to go in business or buy a home. Do you know that if you will save only 25 cents each working day for only five years, you will have accumulated by the aid of interest $419.10.

This Will Be Yours If You Make the Effort.

The $1.00 with which you open the account draws at THREE PER CENT. and will be returned when you close your account. It's what you save and not what you earn, that makes wealth. Our representative will call on you to explain our plan, and will leave a HOME BANK with you if you deposit $1.00 with which to open the account.

DID YOU EVER CONSIDER How much Money you were Spending Thoughtlessly? You are Earning Money every day? Are you Saving any Money? Could you Easily Save More?

Save Your Nickles, Pennies and Dimes.

The Interest you get makes the Dollars. And thus the little savings will grow into mighty Dollars.

Call and get one of these Little Home Banks Today FREE.

HAVE YOU SOME READY MONEY TO ACCEPT A GOOD BUSINESS OFFER? "Ready Money is a Remedy for Many Ills." Cornelius Vanderbilt's rule for saving: "No matter what I was earning, I always made it a rule to save something. The money will pile up in time."
A Glass Blower said: "I could easily have saved $20 a week for the past thirty years." Now if he had only saved $10 a week for thirty years he would have in bank to day $25 217 50. Think it over—figure out what he could have saved.
A lady teacher who had $750 in bank said: "I never would have saved a cent but for the little HOME SAVINGS BANK."
Three girls purchased a $200 piano after using a little Bank eighteen months.

HOME BANK DEPARTMENT NATIONAL MT. WOLLASTON BANK, Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, May 20. 5t 20-21-25-27-28

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of

THOMAS GRIGNON,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate by Lodina Alice Grignon of Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of June, A. D. 1903, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this thirteenth day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
May 14. 3t-14-21-28

Notice of Milk Inspector

[Extract from Chapter 57, Sections 3 and 4 Public Statutes.]

SECT. 3.—"In all cities every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city shall annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter be licensed by the Inspector of Milk of such city to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such Inspector fifty cents each to the use of the city."

SECT. 4.—"Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand, or market place in a city or in a town in which an Inspector or Inspectors of Milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such Inspector or Inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register, shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

FREDERICK J. PEIRCE, M. D.,
Inspector of Milk.
April 15. 30t

SMOKE THE
COVERNESS.
UNION MADE.
Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers
Manufactured by
P. A. NELSON,
59 Granite Street.
Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

FREDERICK H. LORD,
TEACHER OF BANJO,
Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.
TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.
118 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 7. tf

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181-8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

HIS PRIZE ROSES.

A Little Secret That Was Confided to the Wrong Man.

An amusing incident is reported in connection with a small flower show in the north of England. One of the classes—cut roses—was open only to cottage gardeners within a certain radius, and the winner turned up in a laborer whom we will call Sandy. The lucky individual was in high feather and hung about near his exhibit all the afternoon receiving the congratulations of his friends.

"Beautiful roses," remarked a well dressed stranger to Sandy. "They tell me, however, that if Briggs had been qualified to enter he would have beaten you."

Now, Briggs was the rose grower par excellence in the neighborhood; but, unfortunately for him, he was just outside the radius.

"Briggs be hanged!" ejaculated Sandy. "He ain't got no better roses than them!"

"That's nonsense!" retorted the stranger. "Briggs' roses are the talk of the district."

Sandy still stuck to his point and became quite confidential. "Between you and me," he whispered eventually, "Briggs ain't got no better roses than them, 'cos them's his! He couldn't enter himself, so he gave me the pick of his garden."

The stranger was satisfied, and it was only afterward that Sandy discovered to his cost that he had confided his secret to a member of the show committee.—London Tit-Bits.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS
Original and Only Genuine.
SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co. Madison Square, PHILA., PA.
Mention this paper.

SPIDER M'GANN'S REPUTATION

By RICHARD BARKER SHELTON

Copyright, 1902, by T. C. McClure

The Rev. Charles Aloysius Hall would scarcely have been taken for a minister of the gospel as he sat in the corner of a downtown hotel that morning, intent on the columns of a time table. There was no "Prince Albert," no high hat, no clerical collar, no high buttoned vest. His clothes, of not the latest cut, yet carefully brushed and pressed, would have stamped him a young business man, and after a glance at his face—a firm, clean shaven face, with the brows at that moment knit in a frown—one would have said that business was not all the gentleman in question could have wished it.

It was a favorite remark of the Rev. Mr. Hall that if his daily life and deeds gave no inkling to his profession the symbols of the cloth never would. For the first time in the long fight the Rev. Charles Hall was discouraged. He realized that now indeed the church at Cedarville, his church, was in the last ditch. The roof leaked and that cracked the plastering, the carpet was in tatters, the paint was losing faith in the clapboards and the spire was so badly out of plumb that the town board had threatened to take it down unless it was given prompt attention.

Some subscription papers, circulated through the town, had netted returns pitifully small. The envelope weekly offering system had been woefully inadequate to cover the pastor's salary, and the Ladies' Aid society, with three suppers and a fair, had raised just $68.37. He smiled grimly as he remembered that last year his salary had been $200 short and this year bade fair to be another hundred shorter.

There had remained yet one hope. Cedarville was quite a summer resort, and during the hot months numerous well to do men from the neighboring city stayed there with their families. Some of these attended the church. As a last resort Rev. Mr. Hall had come to the city to make personal appeal to these men. But Brother Jones and Brother Hayes and Brother Benton had other channels for their currency, and when Hall, weary and heartsick, sat down in the corridor of the hotel, he had raised but $20 in cash, with pledges of perhaps $38 more.

He had opened his time table again when some one touched his shoulder.

"Oh, I say, Spider," said a voice in deprecation, "this isn't just square, you know. We've been hunting high and low for you. Why didn't you send us word?"

Hall looked up. Two young fellows, evidently college men, stood before him.

"Were you addressing me?" said Hall.

"That's pretty good," said the other young man. "You're funny when you have a try at dignity, old boy."

"There's no use mincing matters," said No. 1. "If you're going to back down, we want the deposit back; that's all."

"Gentlemen," said Hall curtly, "I'll give your seeming impertinence the benefit of the doubt. There is evidently some mistake here."

"Oh, ring off; ring off!" said the first speaker wearily. "You've led us enough of a chase already."

"See here," said Hall, rising angrily; "I've no intention"—

"Have you the nerve to say you're not Spider McGann?" said No. 2 while he favored his companion with a ponderous wink.

"Most certainly I'm not," said Hall.

"Would you mind letting us see your left forearm?" said No. 1, with the air of a man who has trumped the trick.

"Certainly not," said Hall, with some asperity, "if it will be a means of convincing you."

He bared his left forearm, and the two bent over it critically.

"By George! There aren't any tattoo marks here," said the shorter of the pair. "We owe you every apology, sir, for a very stupid blunder. Will you join us?" He nodded toward a pair of swinging doors from behind which the clink of glasses was plainly audible.

"No, thank you," said Hall shortly and turned again to his time table.

Again he felt the touch on his shoulder.

"We don't mean to intrude," said a respectful voice.

Hall looked up and found the young fellows again before him.

"Well?" he said.

"You see," began the taller chap, "we're in the deuce of a fix, and we thought perhaps—bare chance, you know—you might care to help us out and incidentally make a neat bit out of it. There's several hundred in it for some one."

Hall thought of the church and his morning's work for the $38.

"I'm certainly open to suggestions," he said, smiling grimly.

"Can you box?" said his interlocutor.

Hall's face wore a puzzled expression at the inquiry. "I have in years past," he admitted.

"Good!" said the other. "If we can come to terms, you are the very man we need just at present. This gentleman is Mr. Burns. I am Robert Dix.

"You see," Dix continued, "at the gym there is a trainer called Hefty Burke. He's put out every man in college who has had the courage to give him a go by virtue of which Mr. Burke has begun to think himself the whole thing, and it therefore becomes our bounden duty to relieve this superfluous pomposity.

"This was our plan: Some years ago there came to the gym a little fellow named Spider McGann. Spider was a coming lightweight, which truth didn't strike Hefty until Hefty struck the floor. But the affair blew over, and now he is crowing again. So we hunted up McGann, who is a lightweight champion now, and offered him $800 to go up against Burke. The mill comes off tonight at the Macedonian club, and poor old Hefty thinks he's up against the Macedonian club's trainer. It 'll be rare to see his face when he finds it's Spider McGann. Spider will lay down in the ninth, and Hefty will simply swell. He'll continue to swell until the Annual comes out. This will be in it."

He handed Hall a slip of paper. In a scrawling hand was written:

This is to certify that I, Spider McGann, laid down in my fight with Hefty Burke. I could have punched him full of holes as a sieve if I'd had a mind to, same's as I done once before.
SPIDER M'GANN,
Lightweight Champion of the World.

"Now, the point is, Spider's gone back on us."

"That's it," said Burns. "We've got to pull it off somehow. We've sold over 1,000 tickets at anywhere from $2 up. All the old grads Hefty has floored will be there ready to back him—you see, no one knows it's fixed but Dix and I and the board of editors of the Annual."

"And you're the image of Spider McGann," said Dix. "Our proposition is to give you the $800 to meet Hefty tonight. If we couldn't tell you from Spider McCann, he couldn't. You're due to go out anyway, so it won't make very much difference when you do, only we'd want you to stay as many rounds as you could for the sake of appearances."

Hall was thinking deeply. "For the church! For the church!" ran through his head.

"Gentlemen," said he, "Spider McGann pro tem. is at your service."

"You're a brick!" said Dix, wringing Hall's hand. "Meet us here at 5, and we can talk it over at dinner. And"—fishing in his pocket—"here's fifty to clinch it. We'll give you the rest after the mill."

At 5 Hall was pacing the corridor, when Burns and Dix came in. After dinner, at which Hall was given many valuable points as to Hefty's style of boxing, the three entered a cab and were driven rapidly to the Macedonian club.

It was precisely 8 o'clock when the Rev. Charles Aloysius Hall, clad in green trunks, faced Hefty Burke. That gentleman's face was a study. Beyond a doubt he was suffering from the shock of recognition.

"Not quite so easy as last time," Burke muttered between clinched teeth, and Hall could not restrain a chuckle.

"Time!" The referee's voice sounded in almost absolute stillness. Then at it they went. Hefty was nervous and Hall was cool. He could imagine himself back at the gym in his university days. He side stepped Hefty's sledge-hammer blows; he dodged and ducked in a manner that brought the crowd to its feet. He would do his utmost to stay those nine rounds.

In one of the boxes Burns and Dix were hugging each other.

"It's great, great!" said Dix. "Hefty will surely think it was Spider."

And there was even more cause for Hefty to think so when the end came rather suddenly early in the eighth. Hall ducked a vicious jab and at the same time swung with his right. The blow landed with terrific force on Hefty's neck, and he went down blowing like a grampus. Then the referee counted off ten seconds. The crowd howled. It was some minutes before Hall realized what had happened, and when he did he vaulted the ropes and broke for his dressing room, while behind him the cheering redoubled.

At Cedarville two days later Hall received the following letter:

Rev. Charles Aloysius Hall:

Dear Sir—You will probably wonder how we know your name and address. A card fell from your pocket in your dressing room, and we have guarded it jealously. Your secret is safe with us.

It was because we had the card that we let you depart that night without saying more about the money after you had refused it because you claimed you had broken your contract by flooring Hefty. You earned it; ye gods, you richly earned it. The first thing Hefty said when they got him to his corner was, "Well, I ain't so much, am I?"

Inclosed please find check on Third National for $800.

We have secured from Spider a sworn statement that he did not fight Hefty Burke on the evening of April 7. This will appear in the Annual, with a poem on Hefty's fall before the great unknown.

Great unknown! You shall remain such, but permit us to express our gratitude to you. Sincerely yours, ROBERT DIX.
JOHN BURNS.

HISTORIC QUINCY.

Pilgrimages Almost Daily to the City of Presidents.

Quincy will soon be as famous for pilgrimages as Plymouth and Concord, as parties come now almost daily. Surely there are many historic spots of National interest, and enterprises which are novel to many. A brief list is given below.

BIRTHPLACE JOHN ADAMS.

Franklin street, Quincy Adams, house built in 1681 and restored in 1897 by Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution. Open to public. Patriotic societies admitted free, although contributions are welcome to defray expenses of keeping house open and in repair. Small fee asked the general public.

BIRTHPLACE JOHN QUINCY ADAMS.

Junction of Franklin street, Presidents road and Independence avenue. Built 1716, restored 1896 by the Quincy Historical Society. Open to public afternoons from 2 to 5. Admission charged.

BURIAL PLACE OF PRESIDENTS ADAMS.

First Congregational Church (Unitarian) Quincy centre. In auditorium each side of high pulpit, are mural monuments, to the memory of John Adams, the second president, and John Quincy Adams, the sixth president of the United States, and their wives. In cellar is old town hearse, also box in which was brought from Washington the body of John Quincy Adams. At extreme end, under front steps are the vaults of the presidents, a massive stone door closing the entrance. Admission may be secured on application to W. E. Dewhurst, sexton, 3 Maple Place, or to the office of L. S. Anderson, treasurer, 9 Savings Bank building, whose office hours are 8 A. M. to 12 M. and 2 to 5 P. M. A fee is asked for attendance, etc.

HANCOCK CEMETERY.

Hancock street, across from First Church. Many old stones, among the oldest that of Rev. John Hancock, father of the Patriot, who died May 7, 1744. Was fifth minister of First Church.

PRESIDENTS ADAMS MANSION.

Adams street, corner Newport avenue, Quincy. Residence of President John Adams and contains many family relics. Occupied by descendants. Not open to public.

JOHN HANCOCK BIRTHPLACE.

Adams street, junction of Dimmock and Hancock streets. A bronze tablet has been placed by the City of Quincy on Adams Academy to mark the place where the house stood in which the patriot John Hancock, the bold signer of the Declaration of Independence, was born.

MYLES STANDISH CAIRN.

Squantum heights, erected in 1895 by the Daughters of the Revolution, of Massachusetts, in memory of Captain Myles Standish and his men of Plymouth Colony, who landed here Sept. 30, 1621, guided by the indian Tisquantum.

SQUAW ROCK.

Pile of rock, on which is a perfect head of a squaw, frequently mentioned in early Squantum history. Near by is also Sachem's Knoll.

ABIGAIL ADAMS CAIRN.

Penns hill, erected June 17, 1896, by Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, to the memory of Abigail Adams, who with her son, John Quincy, from the spot watched the smoke of battle at Bunker Hill. Cairn composed of many historic stones, the corner stone being part of old sleeper of first railroad in United States which ran from Quincy quarries to tide water, Neponset river.

MYLES STANDISH SPRING.

On the beach to the left and back of Squantum Inn. Spring of fresh cold water, where Standish and his party breakfasted and thence started to explore the country around Boston Bay.

DOROTHY Q. HOUSE.

Hancock street, corner Butler road, Quincy. Old Quincy homestead in which Dorothy Q was born. Has quaint old paper on parlor put on for wedding of John Hancock and Dorothy Quincy; also secret chamber and other interesting features. Private house, not open to public.

PRESIDENTS LANE.

Now Goffe street, leading from Adams street, near Mansion. Opened by John Adams to drive his cows to pasture.

Many other points of interest might be mentioned: Thomas Crane Memorial Hall which is the public library building; Merrymount, the home of Mrs. John Quincy Adams, where Morton erected his famous May pole in 1626; the soldiers' monument at Mount Wollaston cemetery with its tablets; the famous Quincy granite quarries, many of great depth; the granite yards where monuments and statuary are being cut, and the polishing mills where granite is polished; also the big ship yard now established at Quincy Point.

This Dog Can Spell.

There is a south side lady who owns a Gordon setter which she believes is endowed with almost human intelligence, says the Chicago News. This is not a hastily formed nor unfounded opinion, but has been developed by years of experience. Here is one of the many incidents from which has sprung her faith in her dog:

One Sunday, having finished her dinner, the lady went into the drawing room to read the paper. On a rug near the window the setter was basking drowsily in the sunshine. The lady's two sons were still in the dining room finishing the repast, and the mother overheard something said about bones. Now, the good lady has a mortal dread that her beautiful dog will choke to death on a bone some day, so, raising her voice, she called out, "Boys, don't give Dan any c-h-i-c-k-e-n b-o-n-e-s," spelling these two words so the dog's attention would not be attracted. "I'm afraid he will choke."

As she spelled "chicken" the dog raised his head; at "bones" he got up, walked into the dining room and looked at the bones the boys were picking.

In Society.

Bella—I certainly think you deserve great credit for your kindness to your mother.

Mildred—Oh, it's only natural.

Bella—I don't know. It isn't every daughter that invites her mother to her swellest dinner parties, as you do.—Brooklyn Life.

Out of the Heart's Bitterness.

Blobbs—Scribbler has had no less than nine plays rejected.

Slobbs—What is he doing now?

Blobbs—Writing essays on the decline of the drama.—Philadelphia Record.

Modest.

The Landlady—Which part of the chicken do you prefer, Mr. Lanks?

The Boarder—Either half will do, thank you, Mrs. Hungerford.—Puck.

It is not what he has or even what he does which expresses the worth of a man, but what he is.—Amiel.

Politeness is a locksmith and opens many difficult doors.—Schoolmaster.

Quincy Daily Ledger.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS
and at the following places:

BOSTON—Terminal News Stand after 35
QUI [illegible]—Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock St
a[illegible]well's Periodical Store, 1 Granite St.
He[illegible] Kittredge, City Square.
Rogers Bros., Hancock St.
J[illegible]'Brien, 1596 Hancock St
C[illegible]Carlson, near Quincy depot
A[illegible]Hall, 128 Washington St., near Canal.
QUI[illegible]Y POINT—Miss Freeman's store
Sprague & Hobart, Washington cor. River St.
SOU[illegible]QUINCY—F. L. Litchfield, Wate[illegible]
W. E. Nightingale 80 Water street.
D. Chick, 59 Liberty St.
WEST QUINCY—Coram's Periodical Store.
BRAINTREE'S CORNER—Emma Lark
WOLLASTON—Shunk's news stand.
WOLLASTON PARK—C. E. Hosmer, cor. Hancock and Beach streets.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branscheid & Marten.
ATLANTIC—Branscheid & Marten.
HOUGHS NECK—Arthur Dunham at P. O.
EAST MILTON—William Clark.
EAST WEYMOUTH—George H. Hunt.
WEYMOUTH—J. R. Walsh.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—B. F. Thomas.

1903			MAY			1903
Su.	Mo.	Tu.	We.	Th.	Fr.	Sa.
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24 31	25	26	27	28	29	30

MOON'S PHASES.

First Quarter	4	9:36 a. m.	Third Quarter	19	10:16 a. m.
Full Moon	11	9:18 a. m.	New Moon	26	5:06 p. m.

CITY BREVITIES.

Willard street near the Milton line is being resurfaced.

Commencing Saturday, May 30, City Hall will close at noon on Saturdays until Sept. 12.

"M. Quad" tells today on one of the inside pages how Bowser buys books from a swindler.

The Water department is laying a main on West street between Copeland and Centre streets.

The Coddingtons defeated the John Hancocks in the Grammar School league on Wednesday, 7 to 6.

Memorial day will be observed in the public schools on Friday afternoon of next week. The Coddington will have outdoor exercises and a band.

The picturesque old house on Granite street, so long occupied by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. H. Bass has been painted anew, in white with dark green blinds.

L. P. Webber of this city was on Wednesday reelected president of the Fire Chiefs Association of Massachusetts at the annual meeting at Hotel Cecil, Boston.

Rev. C. Hill Crathern gave an interesting talk on his travels abroad, illustrated with the stereopticon, at the meeting of St. Stephens chapter, Royal Arch Masons, Wednesday evening. He was taken with a fainting spell whil delivering his talk and was later take home in a carriage.

TODAY'S COURT.

Louis Schatzel and Martha Carson were arraigned for lewd and lascivious cohabitation at Quincy. Case continued until Monday under bonds of $1000 each.

The continued case of Arthur Toombs for assault on Bernard Donaher at Quincy was called. Donaher acknowledged satisfaction, and Toombs was discharged on payment of costs.

WHY HE DOES IT.

Druggist Chas. C. Hearn Gives Reasons for Selling at Half-Price.

"It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicines put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said druggist Chas. C. Hearn to one of his many customers, "but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that plan.

"The Howard Co., in order to get a quick introductory sale, authorized me to sell the regular fifty cent bottle of their specific for half-price, 25 cents, and although I have sold a lot of it, and guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory.

"One great advantage of this specific," he continued, "is its small dose and convenient form. There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and every one has more medicinal power than a big pill or tablet or a tumbler of mineral water.

"I am still selling the specific at half-price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so. Any person who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion, or a general played out condition, ought to take advantage of this opportunity. If the specific does not cure them, they can come right back to my store, and I will cheerfully refund heir money." 1-21 holds and protects the huge eight and 12-inch rifles in their circling turrets. So, also, with the broadside guns of the Rhode Island and New Jersey. They are lighter weapons, it is true—100-pounders of six-inch calibre. These guns stand upon the gun deck, sheltered behind armor six inches thick. The deck beneath them, to which the gun mounts are attached, is powerfully strengthened. This deck is of steel plate to begin with. Underneath at a distance of several inches is fastened an extra plate.

IS TREMENDOUS.

Continued from Page 1.

The interval between these two plates—the deck plating and the layer below it—is filled in solidly with hardwood and bolted through again and again, making an extraordinary heavy cushion. Then this thick deck beneath the broadside guns is supported by stanchions—that is to say, steel posts, by steel knees, or by partial bulkheads and brackets. Some of these steel stanchions which tie the gun foundation to the protective deck are five and one-half inches in diameter.

MAY WED OUTSIDE SECT.

Quaker Women No Longer Restricted In Choice of Husbands.

In obedience to the decision arrived at a few days ago at a meeting of the Society of Friends at Philadelphia marriage between Quaker maidens and men not members of the Orthodox Society of Friends will not hereafter carry with it the serious consequences imposed by the orders and advices of 1682, under which the society has been working up to date, says the Philadelphia Press. The particular paragraph relating to marriages dated back only to 1719, but the penalty went back to 1682. The old rule follows:

"And where any (members of Friends) are present at the marriage of a member, accomplished either by the official interference of a priest or in any other way out of our comely order, they are to be dealt with, and where they are not brought to a sense of their error let them be testified against."

This paragraph was erased from the discipline, the revising committee contenting itself with an admonishment to Friends not to associate for the purpose of marriage with persons not of the society and not to attend the marriages of any members who may marry outside the pale. This relaxing of the severity which has for so long distinguished the matrimonial laws of the Quakers was said to have been suggested by members of the Twelfth street meeting and was satisfactory to the yearly meeting.

LOVERS OF GAELIC.

Society to Study the Language Formed In Bridgeport, Conn.

The interest taken in the revival of the Gaelic language by the Irish people of Connecticut was manifested in the meeting held in Bridgeport the other day, at which a permanent state organization was formed, says the New Haven Evening Register. It will be known as the Gaelic Language Society of Connecticut. The meeting was held at Hibernian hall and was attended by representatives of Gaelic language schools in Bridgeport, New Haven, Waterbury, Hartford, Meriden, Wallingford and Naugatuck. After the discussion of plans for the extension of schools and the enlargement of the existing ones officers were elected as follows:

President, P. M. Foran of New Haven; secretary, William Foley of Wallingford; treasurer, W. F. Maher of Bridgeport.

In Bridgeport the class in Gaelic consists of about forty pupils. The membership is increasing rapidly, and the pupils are disseminating what they learn among their associates. Those interested in Bridgeport hope that in a year from now there will be a large number who can speak the tongue.

CAUSE OF JEWISH HORROR.

Kishineff Said to Have Honored Instigator of the Massacre.

"I have just returned from Kishineff," said M. Myerson, director of the Jewish Colonization society, to the New York American correspondent at Paris the other day, "and I want to tell you one or two facts apart from the ghastly record of brutalities of which, I imagine, you have heard enough.

"Russia has no intention of punishing the brutes who took part in the massacres. The judicial proceedings that I heard in Kishineff were a mere farce. The principal culprits have not been and will not be arrested, while the editor of the Bessarabitz, the instigator of the whole affair, was not only permitted to leave town openly by train, but was even 'seen off' by a crowd of enthusiastic friends assembled at the station."

A Memorial to Sir Henry Bessemer.

A representative committee has been formed in London for the purpose of raising a memorial to the late Sir Henry Bessemer. The objects of the memorial are the erection of metallurgical teaching and research works in connection with the University of London and the foundation of international scholarships for postgraduate courses in practical work.

Have you one of those home savings banks?

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

OUR STRENUOUS LIFE.

Dr. Oliver T. Osborne Points Out Its Harmful Elements.

DRUGS AND AUTOS A MENACE.

Increasing Reckless Use of Coal Tar Products to Relieve Pain the Cause For Many Breakdowns, Says New Haven Physician—"Vaso Motor Contraction Check" Newest Danger. German Scientist Says We're All Right.

Dr. Oliver T. Osborne's paper on "The Strenuous Life," which was read before the American Therapeutic society at Washington recently, led to the conclusion that Americans live at too fast a pace, says the New York World. This was admitted by nearly all the doctors present at the American Medical congress, but nobody had a remedy to suggest.

Dr. Osborne said the strenuousness of the life of the average American business man has a tendency to increase cardiac and arterial weaknesses, and that another cause for the many breakdowns is the constantly increasing and reckless use of coal tar products for the relief of pain.

"We hardly realize this daily tension and the effects on our hearts unless we analyze it," said Dr. Osborne, who comes from New Haven. "We rise on time in the morning, whether by an alarm clock or the call of a servant or by habit, eat breakfast and read the papers on time, a clock in every room and a watch frequently in our hand. We then, on time, meet office and outside engagements, college appointments, consultations, always and constantly carefully predicting the amount of time that will be required and timing our next engagement by this decision.

"During the day we rush up long flights of stairs or take elevators that go up with a rush and stop with a plunge. If we drive, either horse or automobile, our hearts stop, jump and receive the vaso motor contraction check when, by the carelessness of pedestrians or bicyclists, we are suddenly anxious lest we do them an injury. If we are in a car or vehicle managed by some one else we often receive the same real or needless shocks to our nervous systems and hearts. If we are ailing we slight nature's signal to relax and still keep up the pace. If we are actually sick, unless we are seriously ill, we fight and wrestle with the disease, whatever it may be, instead of calmly giving up and allowing the disease to be temporary master of ceremonies.

"This describes the life of most of the men and women of our rapid age and country. Even the school children and, I might say, the young children see too much, do too much, are amused too much, receive too much, compete in school too much, are taught too much, are awake too much for the welfare of their nervous systems."

These are Dr. Osborne's ideas. Nearly all the noted doctors at the congress coincide. One who doesn't is Professor Hanskehr of Vienna.

"Tut, tut!" said Professor Hanskehr. "I don't think this strenuous life of you Americans is killing any one. I confess I like the American way. The hurry, the hustle, as you call it, does not, in my opinion, kill men. They are put here to work hard. If you Americans work harder than other people, then you are fulfilling to a larger degree the purpose of your being here. That is my idea of a strenuous life."

"I agree with Dr. Osborne," said Dr. Matthew D. Mann of Buffalo, one of the surgeons who attended President McKinley after he was shot. "I did not hear the paper read, but the idea that the Americans drive themselves too fast is a correct one. After the heart has been worn by the strain given it by the life of the American of great affairs it is useless to expect drugs to restore it.

"The constant nervous shocks to which Americans subject themselves have the same effect as fast driving on a high strung horse. Any owner or driver will tell you it is not the distance the horse is driven, but the speed at which he goes that does the injury.

"Americans could work longer hours without harming themselves half as much as they do by their comparatively short hours, which they spend in a terrific effort to accomplish everything their brains have been able to think of."

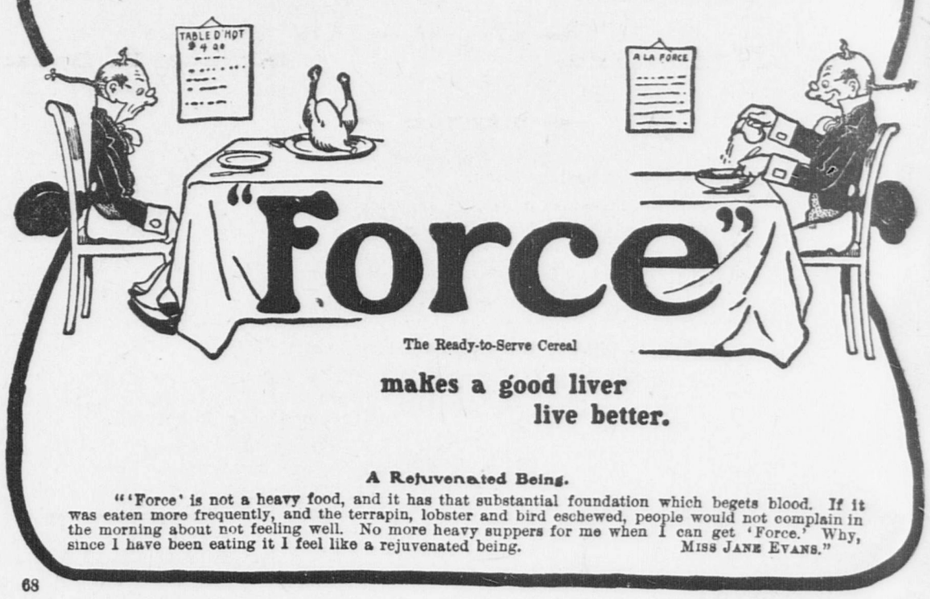

The New Department's Seal.

The contents and general design of the seal of the new department of commerce and labor have been agreed upon and are now turned over to the engravers, says the Washington correspondent of the New York Post. The devices are very dignified and simple, consisting of a spread eagle surmounting a large heraldic shield, on the upper half of which is a brig under full sail, emblematic of commerce, while the lower half shows an anvil, with hammer resting against it, typifying labor. In view of the strikes and rumors of strikes which have prevailed during all the formative period of the department the quiescence of the hammer and anvil seem highly timely and appropriate.

Novel Military Sport.

Chasing balloons with automobiles is the latest military sport in Austria. The other day a balloon managed by the famous aeronaut Archduke Leopold Salvator was pursued by six automobiles, but managed to escape them all by landing on an island in the Danube.

Jim Dumps once found he must endure
The pain that haunts an epicure.
"Give up rich foods and try instead
The well-known 'Force'-cure, sir," one said.
Jim tried it. It agreed with him.
The "Force"-cure made him "Sunny Jim."

"Force"

The Ready-to-Serve Cereal makes a good liver live better.

A Rejuvenated Being.

"'Force' is not a heavy food, and it has that substantial foundation which begets blood. If it was eaten more frequently, and the terrapin, lobster and bird eschewed, people would not complain in the morning about not feeling well. No more heavy suppers for me when I can get 'Force.' Why, since I have been eating it I feel like a rejuvenated being. MISS JANE EVANS."

68

HEADQUARTERS

PAUL REVERE POST 88, G. A. R.

DEPARTMENT OF MASSACHUSETTS

Quincy, May 12, 1903.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 1.

COMRADES: Again it becomes our duty to gather on the day set apart, to do homage to those, who having fought the good fight in the cause of Country, have gone to their reward. Let that day (May 30th) made sacred by their privations and fidelity to the flag for which they fought so nobly, be a reminder to us to keep the day in a manner that those who come after us, may be impressed with the full meaning of what our mission is. There are those, who on that day will follow the dear old flag for the last time. Let it be with a spirit which we had in those dark days when we were of the Army of the Union.

ON SUNDAY, MAY 24,

the post will assemble in full uniform at headquarters at 9.30 A. M., to attend service at the First Unitarian Church, Quincy, and listen to a Memorial address by the Rev. E. C. Butler and also a history of the Post by Past Commander Charles H. Porter. At 6 P. M. the post will assemble again in full uniform at headquarters to attend service at the Catholic Church, West Quincy and listen to a memorial address by the Rev. A. F. Roche. Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103, Ladies' Aid No. 3, John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans and all Soldiers and Sailors are invited to be present.

Contributions of food and flowers from our many friends will be gratefully received and may be left at the following residences; Mrs. F. P. Loud, Mrs. Annie C. Wright, Ward One; Mrs. H. O. Souther, Mrs. Annie E. Merritt, Ward Two; Mrs. Edward Richardson, Miss Mildred M. Willett, Ward Three; Mrs. John S. Farrell, Mrs. Joseph Shackley, Miss A. A. Bartlett, Ward Four; Mrs. Joseph W. Newcomb, Mrs. G. C. Ela, Ward Five; Mrs. A. G. Heath, Norfolk Downs; Mrs. Daniel McGrath, Ward Six.

The Principals and teachers of the schools are invited to request their pupils to bring flowers to the schoolhouses on the morning of May 29th. They will be collected for the purpose of decorating our Comrades' graves on Memorial day. Let no soldier's or sailor's grave be forgotten by this beautiful tribute.

MAY 30, ORDERS OF THE DAY.

1. The Post will assemble at Headquarters in full uniform at 7 A. M.
2. Junior Vice Commander Thomas Ring in command of a detail will proceed to Mount Wollaston cemetery and decorate the graves of our comrades sleeping there.
3. Officer of the Guard William M. Bird will make a detail and accompanied by the Chaplain of the day will proceed to the National Sailors' Home and deposit a floral offering.
4. Officer of the Day Warren Dunbar with a detail will decorate the graves of our comrades in the Hancock and English cemeteries.
5. Comrade James H. Webb will have charge of the invited guests.
6. Comrade James M. Cleverly will attend to and take care of our disabled comrades.
7. Comrade Abel Nutting will proceed to Mount Auburn cemetery and decorate the grave of Col. Paul J. Revere.
8. Officer of the Day Warren Dunbar is hereby detailed to have charge of the Band and escort.
9. Senior Vice Commander Charles L. Orne is detailed to have charge of Hancock hall.
10. Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps. No. 103, will have charge of the collation at Hancock hall and also the arrangement of flowers for Memorial day.
11. The Rev. Leon H. Austin will act as Chaplain of the Day.
12. At 9.30 A. M. the post will form at Headquarters with the City Band will march to the junction of School and Franklin streets where barges will be taken for Hall cemetery, West Quincy, where appropriate ceremonies will be held and the graves of our late comrades decorated.
13. At 10.30 A. M., the command will continue to the Catholic cemeteries where services will be held by Rev. A. F. Roche, after which the graves of our comrades resting there will be decorated. The command will then proceed to the junction of School and Franklin streets, where they will be met by the John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans and escorted to Hancock hall, where they all will partake of a collation.
14. At 2 P. M., the line will be formed as follows: Detail of Police, Chief Comrade Joseph W. Hayden; Braintree Fife and Drum Corps; John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans, Commander George E. Adams; Officer of the Day Warren Dunbar; City Band; Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R.; John W. Hersey, Commander; City officials in carriages; disabled comrades; Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103; Mrs. Alice Litchfield, President, and Ladies' Aid No. 3. Miss Mildred M. Willett, President, in barges and will proceed by the following route: Headquarters G. A. R. to City Hall, where they will countermarch in front of the First church. Here a delegation of children from the different schools will be assembled and salute the Flag with singing, etc. The line of march will then continue through Temple street to Coddington, to Sea, to Mount Wollaston Cemetery, where services will be held at the soldiers' monument by Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R. The command will then proceed to the lot of Lieut. Edward Bumpus, where services will be performed by John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans, after which they will assemble at the G. A. R. lot where memorial services will be performed by Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103, in memory of the unknown dead. The line will then reform and return via Coddington street to City square, Hancock street to Headquarters.

Past Commanders are requested to parade on the staff of the Commander.

Per order, JOHN W. HERSEY, Commander.

[OFFICIAL] I. M. HOLT, Adjutant.

May 19. 1-2t-p-1w

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, PRES.

April 9-2m 11-2m

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

A. RUSSELL JONES,

ELECTRICIAN.

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK
A SPECIALTY.
Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.

Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

Address, 1362 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
Quincy, April 10. tf1p

SPILLER'S GOLDEN COUGH BALSAM

THE KIND THAT CURES

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Inflammation of the Lungs, Lagrippe and Whooping Cough. It soothes the Cough of Consumption, and is excellent for all Lung Troubles. Try it. For sale by Weeks & Hill, Quincy, Mass. Price 25 cents.

If goods fail to give satisfaction, money refunded.

LEDGER ADS PAY BEST
TRY ONE AND SEE

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLAS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

On and after May 17, 1903, trains will run as follows:

(Subject to change without notice.)

TO BOSTON.			FROM BOSTON*
Leave Quincy.	Stops at	Arrive Boston.	Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy.
r *5 19	abcdefghi	5 47	*5 50	ihgfedcba	6 19 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 26	ad	7 45	8 28	cba	8 49 r
r 7 42	abc	8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 7 54	abcde	8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 8 12	abc	8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
r 8 26	abd	8 45	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 8 46	abcd	9 05	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	12 58	cba	1 19 r
r 9 42	abc	10 02	1 28	cba	1 49 r
r 10 12	abc	10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
r 10 42	abc	11 02	2 23	cba	2 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
r 12 12	abc	12 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
r 1 42	abc	2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 2 12	abc	2 32	4 45	edcba	5 06 r
r 3 12	abc	3 32	5 15	dba	5 36 r
r 3 42	abc	4 02	5 28	cba	5 49 r
r 4 12	abc	4 32	5 45	edcba	6 06 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 58	cba	6 19 r
r 5 29	abcdefghi	5 57	6 15	da	6 36 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 39	abcdefghi	8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r
r 9 34	abcdefghi	10 02	10 50	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
r 10 08	abcdef	10 32	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

r 7 42	abc	8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 8 42	abc	9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 45 r
9 33	a	9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 45 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 45 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 03	abcdefghi	6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	8 43	(ex.)	9 00
r 10 18	abcdef	10 42	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r

* The letters in the same line as the figure stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a, Wollaston,
b, Norfolk Downs,
c, Atlantic,
d, Neponset,
e, Pope's Hill.
f, Harrison Square.
g, Savin Hill.
h, Crescent Avenue.
i, South Boston.
r, Quincy Adams.

e said.

hich begets blood. If it ple would not complain in can get 'Force.' Why, MISS JANE EVANS."

J. W. PRATT,

UILDER OF FIRST-CLAS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

OUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

ORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's s, or will furnish plans free with any lot ght of me.

stimates given on new work

Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

61. 83-2. March 9-tf

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

all at 1361 Hancock street, where you n have your choice of over 100 ouses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

ew York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

On and after May 17, 1903, trains will run follows:

(Subject to change without notice.)

TO BOSTON.			FROM BOSTON*
Leave Quincy.	Stops at	Arrive Boston	Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy.
*5 19	abcdefghi	5 47	*5 50	ihgfedcba	6 19 r
6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
7 26	ad	7 45	8 28	cba	8 49 r
7 42	abc	8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
7 54	abcde	8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
8 12	abc	8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
8 26	abd	8 45	11 28	cba	11 49 r
8 46	abcd	9 05	12 28	cba	12 49 r
9 12	abc	9 32	12 58	cba	1 19 r
9 42	abc	10 02	1 28	cba	1 49 r
10 12	abc	10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
10 42	abc	11 02	2 28	cba	2 49 r
11 12	abc	11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
12 12	abc	12 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
1 12	abc	1 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
1 42	abc	2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
2 12	abc	2 32	4 45	edcba	5 08 r
3 12	abc	3 32	5 15	dba	5 36 r
3 42	abc	4 02	5 28	cba	5 49 r
4 12	abc	4 32	5 45	edcba	6 08 r
5 12	abc	5 32	5 58	cba	6 19 r
5 29	abcdefghi	5 57	6 15	da	6 36 r
6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
7 39	abcdefghi	8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
8 08	abcdef	8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
9 12	abc	9 32	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r
9 34	abcdefghi	10 02	10 60	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
10 08	abcdef	10 32	11 28	cba	11 49 r
11 12	abc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

7 42	abc	8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
8 42	abc	9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
9 12	abc	9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 45 r
9 33	a	9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
11 16	abcdefghi	11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 45 r
1 12	abc	1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 45 r
4 16	abcdefghi	4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
5 12	abc	5 32	5 28	cba	5 49 r
6 03	abcdefghi	6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
7 12	abc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
8 08	abcdef	8 32	8 43	(ex.)	9 00
10 18	abcdef	10 42	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r

* The letters in the same line as the figure nd for different stations and indicate that ins stop as follows:

Wollaston, f, Harrison Square.
Nortolk Downs, g, Savin Hill.
Atlantic, h, Crescent Avenue.
Neponset, i, South Boston.
Pope's Hill. r, Quincy Adams.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 120. QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 22, 1903. PRICE TWO CEN[TS]

A HOME DEPOSIT BANK

FREE.

Savings Department

The National Granite Bank,

QUINCY, MASS.

The National Granite Bank announces the addition of a Savings Department, and the introduction of the Home Deposit Bank System. You are requested to call and have this system fully explained to you.

The Plan.

A deposit of One Dollar ($1.00) or more will secure you the loan of one of these banks. Your bank account will be opened, and pass-book furnished you shows your deposit duly credited.

Take the Bank Home

and place in it your spare change and surplus moneys. At certain intervals, or as often as convenient, when an accumulation has resulted, bring your bank to us. The contents will be removed, counted, and your deposits with us earn

3 per cent. interest.

YOU KEEP THE BANK.

WE KEEP THE KEY.

The Result.

You don't miss what you drop in. What comes out surprises you. The presence of the small bank in your home is equivalent to your having a branch of our Savings Department always at hand. To remove the usual

Temptation to Spend,

the money slot in the small bank is so constructed that moneys once dropped in cannot be shaken out. The application of this savings plan creates

Good Business Habits.

The Home Deposit Bank System is within the reach of all, and is of especial interest to every working man, woman and salaried individual.

It is not what you Earn, but what you Save, that makes you independent, and the sooner you make a start in this direction, the sooner you will reach the desired goal.

Money at interest works for you night and day, Sundays and holidays, and twenty-four hours per day.

THE NATIONAL GRANITE BANK.

Established 1865.

CAPITAL STOCK, $150,000. SURPLUS AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $153,000. DEPOSITS, $420,000.

THEOPHILUS KING, PRESIDENT. RUPERT F. CLAFLIN, CASHIER.

DIRECTORS.

THEOPHILUS KING, RUPERT F. CLAFLIN,
EDWIN W. MARSH, JAMES THOMPSON,
JOSEPH H. VOGEL, CLARENCE BURGIN,
DELCEVARE KING, RUSSELL A. SEARS.

Banking Hours: From 8.30 A. M. till 3 P. M. Saturdays closing at 12 M.

NOTICE—In the event that you are unable to call at the Bank, drop us a line or phone No. 26-3, and one of our representatives will visit you.

This system is being installed by the C. O. Burns Company, originators and original patentees and manufacturers of the Home Deposit Banks and System, Nos. 13--21 Park Row, New York.

PENNYPACKER INTERVIEWED.

Pennsylvania's Law Against Cartoons Defended.

MALICIOUS CARICATURES HURTFUL

Governor of Pennsylvania Thinks Good Natured Cartoons Are All Right—He Tells James Creelman That Public Sentiment Is Not Against the New Law.

When I went into the executive chamber at Harrisburg to meet this new regulator of the American press I saw a stalwart, burly man of sixty years, seated before a large, flat-topped desk, says James Creelman in the New York World. On the carpet at his feet was a half circle of commissions, charters and laws which he had just signed. Governor Pennypacker had thrown himself back in his chair and was playing with a massive cube of erasing rubber.

Mr. Pennypacker has an impressive physique, wide shouldered, deep chested, strong limbed—such a husky frame of bone and brawn as the Boers have. He is Dutch on his father's side; otherwise he is English, German and Welsh—all stubborn bloods. His immense head, high cheek bones and narrow pendulous gray beard suggested at once the mandarin of northern China. The dark eyes, almost negroid in their expression; the high forehead, wide at the base and narrow at the top; the dark skin, heavy jaws, and short nose heighten the impression of Mongol magisterialism. It is easy to find such a powerful, bony, almost savagely impressive countenance in the yamens of Manchuria. The very look is mandarin like.

It is only fair to say that Mr. Pennypacker was not eager to discuss the new law of libel with me, and it was only when I reminded him that the situation in Pennsylvania had caused a national scandal that he ventured to make any reply.

"The object of the new law," he said, "is simply to apply to newspapers the law of negligence which applies to other businesses to hold newspapers civilly responsible for the damage which they may do. Of course, the newspapers object to the law because it affects their interests, but I have been too long a lawyer, too long a judicial officer, to be governed in my official action by the representations of one party to a case."

"But the very nature of journalism, its complexity and the haste with which news must be gathered and presented make such a law, if it were strictly applied, a check upon enterprise and courage," I suggested.

"The very power of the press is a reason why it should be put on a footing with other businesses. If I should throw this piece of rubber out of the window"—the governor was twirling the huge rubber eraser between his thumb and fingers—"and it should strike a passing citizen in the eye I would certainly be responsible in a civil action for my negligence. The business of railways is important to the public. It also is complex and involves haste. Yet the New York Central railway, for instance, with thousands of employees, is responsible before the law for every act of negligence resulting in damage."

"But how are you going to enforce such a law, governor? Public sentiment is against it. Newspapers of all parties defy it. If enforceable it would suppress the cartoon as an instrument of criticism and agitation."

"The newspapers are against it certainly, although they might as well recognize that when a matter has been decided lawfully it is useless to complain. In this case the law was presented to me by the legislature. I had to decide for or against it. I considered the interests of the newspapers, and I also considered the interests of the public affected by the newspapers. Then I signed the law. For the past three months the press of the state generally has commended my official acts, but when an act of mine touched its special interests it naturally attacked me. I deny that public sentiment is against the new press law. If you want to know the attitude of the newspapers read the newspapers, but if you want to know the opinion of the people go into the streets, go to the dwellings and stores and ask citizens what they think. They may tell you another story. As for the cartoons, no citizen is likely to bring an action because of a merely funny cartoon. Good natured caricature amuses, malicious caricature injures. It is easy to see the difference between fun and malice.

"If you slap a man on the back and say, 'Old man, you are getting baldheaded,' the man would take that as a pleasantry, but if you say, 'You baldheaded old scoundrel' he would naturally resent that as a malicious attack."

"Will you take advantage of the new law yourself and sue the newspapers which are attacking you in cartoons today?"

"I have been too busy attending to my official duties to look at the newspapers."

"Then I can tell you that the Philadelphia North American printed today (May 16) a cartoon representing you as an ugly parrot with your feathers pulled out and a bandage around your head. It was much worse than the cartoon you complained of in your message. Do you intend to sue the North American?"

"I do not care to speak of my personal intentions. I am too busy to look at the papers."

"Do you think the law is constitutional?"

"I have signed it; I have given my official opinion."

"But your opinion as a lawyer?"

"I do not think it fair to ask me for my private legal opinion. The law is there and the courts will pass upon it."

"Suppose it is declared unconstitutional?"

"Then that will end it. There will be nothing more to say."

"You say that public opinion is not against the law, governor, and yet Charles Emory Smith, one of the foremost citizens of your state and a leading man of your own party, has bitterly attacked you in public for signing it."

"Mr. Smith is an eminent citizen of Pennsylvania, and he has always been kind and careful in his criticisms, but Mr. Smith's interests are touched by this law. He is an editor and his whole mind is wrapped up in his newspaper, the Philadelphia Press. That explains his action."

"You certainly must be aware, governor, that this law is regarded as an outrage all over the country."

"An outrage in what respect?"

"In that it is an attempt to restrict and cripple a moral agency which is an indispensable adjunct of free government and that to accomplish this end a rule of negligence which does not apply to real statements or discussions is applied to printed statements or discussions; that it is an attempt to prohibit cartoons.

"I do not admit that the press is a part of the government," said the governor. "Would you say that a music teacher is part of the government? And yet a music teacher instructs and elevates the people."

"Yes, but a music teacher is not specially privileged by the constitution, nor does a music teacher act as an imitator and promoter of political discussion or as a critic of the government and as a curb upon official power.

"It is said that in signing this law you were actuated by a desire to punish newspapers which had criticised you in the past and to prevent such criticism in the future; that the inspiration was spite and revenge."

"I will not discuss my motives."

"To speak quite plainly, Governor Pennypacker, it is pretty generally believed that Pennsylvania is a state given up absolutely into the control of corrupt politicians."

"That is absolutely untrue. Who says such things?"

"Mr. John Wanamaker, for instance, the greatest merchant in your state, told me some time ago that from a political standpoint Pennsylvania was a sunken state lying in an almost hopeless moral abyss."

"It was very wrong on that gentleman's part to say such a thing. He had ambitions of his own, and they were defeated. He based his ambitions upon his claims as a merchant. His failure to accomplish what he desired may account for his utterance."

"But, governor, it is generally believed that Pennsylvania is an utterly corrupt state, that the only check upon corruption has been the independent and honest press, and it is charged that in signing this law you were merely the instrument of unscrupulous politicians who desire to take the bravery out of the press and to make it impossible for it to continue the fight for honest laws and decent government."

"The fact is," said Mr. Pennypacker, "that Pennsylvania is a little better than any other state in the Union."

"But today, governor—the Pennsylvania of today?"

"Pennsylvania of today spends more for schools and charities than any state in the Union."

"But are your elections honest?"

"As I said before, Pennsylvania is a little better than any other state. Public offices are managed here on a broader and better basis, leading to higher thoughts and better results."

"Apparently you do not care to answer the charge that you have been used by corrupt politicians as an instrument to silence the criticism of the press."

"You can go back to New York," replied the governor, "and you can say to the people of New York that the governor of Pennsylvania has sat on the judicial bench for ten years, that at the time of his nomination for governor he had just been elected for another period of ten years, that he did not seek to be governor, that he did not desire the office and that he is not a politician."

"And what do you say to the charge that this press law is the result of corrupt politics waging war on reformatory forces, and that it is a disgrace not only to Pennsylvania but to the whole nation?"

"It is false! Pennsylvania has simply put the newspaper press on the same footing with other private businesses. That is all there is to the law."

A Warning to Inventors.

Notice is given the unsuspecting public by the commissioner of patents that no patent has been or will be granted for perpetual motion machines, says the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald. An effort is apparently being made to work a swindle by a newspaper paragraph launched in the south which is now going the rounds of the press announcing that a perpetual motion machine has been patented, giving the name of the alleged inventor and an involved description of the machine. The commissioner of patents hopes the unwary will take warning and not permit themselves to be swindled.

Novel Beds.

Bedsteads with alarm clocks as part of the head rail are being made for South London early risers.

"BAD ADMINISTRATION"

Payne Gives an Official Opinion of Machen.

DEFICIENCY OF THOUSANDS

Shown In the Free Delivery Department on the First of May—Does Not Say There Is Evidence of Crime, but the Matter Will Be Looked Into

Washington, May 22.—The postmaster general, for the first time, has criticised the administration of A. W. Machen, the general superintendent of the free delivery system, who is out on indefinite leave of absence.

"This is not the first time that a deficiency has occurred in the free delivery service," said Mr. Payne, "but I regret its existence. At the opening of the last congress Mr. Machen pointed out that without additional appropriations no more routes could be established beyond those ready to be installed this year. He said, however, if congress appropriated $590,000 for the purpose the work could be continued during the rest of the fiscal year. This appropriation was promptly made, but it was exhausted. Despite this fact the office (the free delivery office) was going on increasing the deficiency, and if we had not taken steps to curtail the expenditures and suspend the establishment of routes until the beginning of the next fiscal year, the deficit would have been much larger. It was not good administration."

Continuing, the postmaster general said that part of the deficiency was discovered before Mr. Machen was given his leave of absence. In discussing the big deficiency in the free delivery service Mr. Payne said:

"It is very reprehensible for a bureau officer to have a deficit of $20,000 rolled up on the first of May. It was bad, very bad administration. A bureau officer should not incur a deficit without consulting his superior officer, the postmaster general. I cannot stand for that kind of administration and I do not approve of it. An official must be held to a more strict accounting. I do not say that there was anything criminal nor anything wrong in Mr. Machen's action, but it was certainly loose administration and he should have had his business more in hand. I believe, however, that congress will quickly vote the money to cover the deficiency."

Mr. Payne said that A. W. Machen, the general superintendent, would be given an opportunity to be heard on the subject. Mr. Payne was asked a number of questions as to the effect of the discovery of the deficiency as to the status of Machen, but he parried the questions. He said that the matter would be looked into and a communication might be sent later to Machen, asking for an explanation of the condition of affairs. The entire map work of the rural free delivery service has been suspended and no more maps will be made before the beginning of the next fiscal year. The funds for this purpose have been exhausted.

Superintendent Machen, when told of the postmaster general's criticism about the free delivery deficit, said there had been no intention on his part to deceive his departmental superiors. He said:

"I forwarded to Mr. Wynne at the close of April a statement of the deficit then existing. Those figures were for routes already established. The figures for routes to be established May 1 and May 15 and June 1 and June 15 had not been then put on the books by the book keeper. Therefore the deficit of $20,000 was not a misrepresentation of the actual condition of the appropriation at that time.

"I should have asked congress," added the free delivery superintendent, "for a larger sum than $500,000, which was voted at the last session for the present fiscal year. The pressure for more rural routes was very strong and I yielded to it beyond what the appropriation really provided. The same thing had been done in years gone by and congress has always readily voted the money necessary to make up the deficit."

Famous Singer's Throat Affected

London, May 22.—The Morning Advertiser states that Mme. Melba, the prima donna, is ill in Paris with an affection of the throat. Dr. Rees, the physician who attends the artists engaged for the Convent Garden opera, has been summoned from London to examine her condition.

Clear Passage to Gulf

Cairo, Ills., May 22.—The monitor Arkansas arrived safely at Cairo last evening and is now anchored off this city. No further trouble will now be encountered in reaching the gulf.

On the Diamond

At Boston—National—Boston, 3; Cincinnati, 0.

At Philadelphia—National—Chicago, 11; Philadelphia, 6.

At Brooklyn—National—Pittsburg, 11; Brooklyn, 6.

At New York—National—New York, 9 St. Louis, 4.

At Cleveland—American—Cleveland, 5; Washington, 2.

At Detroit—American—Detroit, 5; Philadelphia, 3.

At Manchester—Manchester, 8; Lawrence, 7.

At Lowell—Haverhill, 11; Lowell, 9.

At Concord—Concord, 10; Fall River, 5.

At Nashua—Nashua, 5; Brockton, 3.

POLICE IN READINESS

To Quell Any Strike Disturbance That May Arise at Bridgeport

Bridgeport, Conn., May 22.—The city officials of Bridgeport will not be taken unawares in case there are serious disturbances of any kind in connection with the trolley strike. The police commissioners began last night to make arrangements for the housing and feeding of the entire police department Saturday and Sunday. Never before in the history of Bridgeport has a force of reserves been kept at the precincts and the present move is therefore regarded as important.

At 7:30 last night the trolley cars were taken off, an hour and a half later than they have run since the riot. Forty-three cars were in operation, the usual number being 68. By Saturday night it is expected that the full number of cars will be running.

Mayor Mulvihill gave out a statement in which he announces himself as an exponent of law and order. He said that at the Monday meeting he agreed to give full authority to the police commissioners because he thought it would be better for the discipline of the department; not because the commissioners asked it, but because such a course was requested by the business men present.

End of Denver Strike

Denver, May 22.—The strike which for several days has practically paralyzed the business of the city, involving nearly 10,000 men and women, and threatening to force into idleness twice that number of union members, was settled last night through the efforts of a committee of the chamber of commerce and one from the local Typographical union. Though both sides made concessions the victory seems to be with the laboring men. The men now out are to be reinstated as rapidly as their services can be utilized. All suits for injunctions are to be withdrawn.

Gave Anonymous Insults

Fall River, Mass., May 22.—A sentence of six months in the house of correction was imposed upon John W. Pearce, charged with using improper language over a telephone wire. Evidence was presented to show that Pearce had used a telephone in a vacant building to call up different people, including several women, and insulted them. An appeal was taken from the sentence and the case will be heard by the superior court.

Violated Ticket-of-Leave

St. Albans, Vt., May 22.—Armand Voyer, who is in jail here on burglary charges under the alias of Albert Rodler, has been identified as an old offender from Canada, who left recently a penitentiary in Montreal on a ticket-of-leave. The Canadian commissioner of police has requested Sheriff Kelley to turn the prisoner over to him for recommitment to the penitentiary if he is not convicted here.

Long Chase Rewarded

Woburn, Mass., May 22.—After a chase to St. John and from thence to Los Angeles, Cal., Chief of Police McDermott of this city arrived here last night with Ernest Whelpley, local superintendent for Woburn of the Prudential Life Insurance company, who is charged with misappropriating funds of his employers. Whelpley has lived here several years. He has a wife and several children.

Sickness Increasing

Newport, R. I., May 22.—At the training station seven new cases of illness among the apprentices have developed. The epidemic is general among the apprentices. Carpenters are working overtime preparing floorings for tents in which all will live during the summer, with the exception of those who will be assigned to the two training ships.

Serious Collision of Electrics

Chicago, May 22.—Twelve persons were severely injured, five of them dangerously, and a score of other passengers thrown into a panic by a collision between electric cars here. One car was thrown upon the sidewalk by the force of the impact. Failure of the brakes on one of the cars is said to have caused the accident.

New Bedford Factory to Close

New Bedford, Mass., May 22.—It is announced that the William A. Rogers company, manufacturers of silverware and cutlery, who have maintained a factory in this city, are to shut down their works on June 1, and that the concern will move to Niagara Falls, where the main plant is situated.

China Buying Cheap Rifles

Washington, May 22.—According to advices from the Orient Yuan Shi Kai has contracted in Japan for 200,000 rifles for the Chinese government at 25 yen each. From the low price at which the weapons are being bought the rifles are evidently second hand.

Money For Kishineff Jews

New York, May 22.—More than $1500 was added yesterday to the fund in the hands of the central relief committee for the Jews of Kishineff. Arnold Kohn, treasurer, cabled 1400 roubles direct to the relief committee in charge at Kishineff.

Marroquin Still In Office

Panama, May 22.—It is learned from an official source that there is no truth in the report recently circulated that President Marroquin had resigned.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Saturday, May 23.
Sun rises—4:16; sets—7:06.
Moon rises—2:16 a. m.
High water—8:15 a. m.; 8:30 p. m.

The western depression has made some progress eastward and has apparently crossed the Rocky mountains. Rain is probable in New England.

Piazza Furniture.

For nearly four months the piazza of your home will be used for rest and recreation. Afternoons, evenings and Sundays, every member of your family will spend their leisure moments there. There also, you will receive and entertain your friends, and your pleasure and comfort will be two fold if you have the proper piazza Furniture.

This means but trifling expense if you make your selection from our complete and low priced stock.

Piazza Rockers,	89c. to $3.50.
Hammocks,	69c. to $4.59.
Lawn Settees,	98c. to $1.25.
Lawn Swings,	$5.00.

Our Piazza Furniture will last for years.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. Quincy, April 11, 1903.

TAKEN on execution and will be sold at public auction on SATURDAY, the thirtieth day of May 1903, at 9 o'clock, A. M., at my residence No 163 Franklin street, in Quincy said County of Norfolk, all the right, title and interest which Walter W. Bates of Milton had (not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution) on the thirteenth day of January 1903 at nine o'clock and three minutes A. M., (being the time the same was attached on mesne process) in and to the following described real estate, to wit:

A certain parcel of land on Adams street in the City of Quincy being lot numbered 27 according to a plan by Whitman and Breck.

Commencing at a point on the west side of Adams street 62.66 feet from the proposed street to be called Bates street and running in a southwest direction 141 feet; thence turning at right angles and running in a northeasterly direction 61.5 feet; thence turning at right angles and running along the proposed Bates street 129 feet; thence turning and running along the line of Adams street 62.66 feet to beginning. Containing 8302.5 square feet.

GEORGE H. FIELD,
Deputy Sheriff.

May 15-3t. 15-22 29

ASSESSORS' NOTICE.

To the inhabitants of the City of Quincy, and all other persons liable to pay taxes therein:

You are hereby notified to bring in to the Assessors of said City,

On or before JUNE 1st, 1903,

True and Perfect Lists of all the Polls, and Schedules and Estimates of all the Personal Estates and Real Estate for which you are liable to pay taxes.

Persons holding estates in trust, whether for minors or otherwise, are particularly requested to furnish the Assessors with Statements in relation to such estates.

When the estates of persons deceased have been divided, or have changed hands from other causes during the past year, the Executors, Administrators, or other persons interested, are required to give notice of such changes, and in default of such notice will be held to pay the taxes assessed.

Blank forms for "Return of Property for Taxation" can be procured of the Assessors.

The following may serve as a guide to assist in making up Schedules and Statements:

Number of Polls 20 years and upwards; Money at interest; Amount of Money on hand, including deposits in Banks, etc., other than Savings Banks incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth; Railroad, Town, City, State and other Bonds (except those of the United States); Shares and Stocks of Insurance. Manufacturing and other incorporated companies chartered or organized under the laws of any State other than Massachusetts; Goods, Wares, Merchandise and other stock in trade, within or without the State; Household Furniture, exceeding $1,000 in value; Horses, Mules, Carriages, Oxen, Cows, other neat Cattle not less than one year old, and Swine and Sheep not less than six months old; Income from Profession, Trade, or Employment exceeding $2,000; Personal Property held in trust or by wife or minor children.

Attention is hereby called to Section 32 of Chapter 12 of the Revised Laws.

"Whoever, with intent to defeat or evade the provisions of law in relation to assessment or payment of taxes, delivers or discloses to an assessor or an assistant assessor a false or fraudulent list, return, or schedule of property as and for a true list of his estates, not exempted from taxation, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in jail not exceeding one year."

MORTGAGED PROPERTY.

A mortgagor or mortgagee of real estate may bring in to the assessors of the city or town in which it lies, within the time prescribed by the notice under Sect. 41, a statement under oath of the amount secured thereon or on each separate parcel thereof, with the name and residence of every holder of an interest therein as mortgagor or mortgagee. If such property is situated in two or more places, or if a recorded mortgage includes two or more estates or parts of an estate as security for one sum, such statement shall include an estimate of the interest of the mortgagee in each estate or part of an estate. The assessors shall, from such statement or otherwise, ascertain the proportionate interests of the mortgagor or mortgagee respectively in said estates, and shall assess the same accordingly. If, in any year, such statement is not brought in, the tax for that year on such real estate shall not be invalid merely for the reason that the interest of the mortgagee therein has not been assessed to him.—Sect. 45, Chap. 12, Revised Laws.

When a statement in conformity to the law above quoted is brought in, the real estate therein returned will be assessed under Sects. 16, 17 and 18 of Chap. 12 of the Revised Laws. But in cases where the mortgagor of the real estate has agreed in writing to pay all taxes assessed thereon, no statement or return is required from either the mortgagee or mortgagor unless requested by the assessors in writing.

The Assessors will be in session at their office every MONDAY and THURSDAY morning from 9 to 11 o'clock. Blanks will be furnished to all applicants.

JAMES THOMPSON, Chairman
CHARLES H. JOHNSON,
WILLIAM B. GLOVER,
Assessors of Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, May 2, 1903. p-4w--1-8t--2t a w

TO LET

IN QUINCY, MASS.,

By H. H. FAXON.

HOUSES, STORES, HALLS, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES, Land, Wharves, etc.

Buildings are in Complete Repair.

Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.

House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.

Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.

Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc., No. 92 School street, $12 per month.

Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.

Stable, junction School and Franklin streets, $4 per month.

Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.

Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.

Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.

For particulars apply to
HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, May 13, 1903. tf

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

BUY YOUR

Hot Weather Goods

— OF —

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

And get your COLD SODA

FREE.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

SMOKE THE

GOVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

uths the piazza of your home and recreation. Afternoons, ys, every member of your eir leisure moments there.
receive and entertain your sure and comfort will be two oper piazza Furniture.
ng expense if you make your plete and low priced stock.

89c. to $3.50.
69c. to $4.59.
98c. to $1.25.
$5.00.

will last for years.

CAIDE & CO.,
riced Furniture Store,
Quincy.
y and Saturday Evenings.

TO LET

IN QUINCY, MASS.,
By H. H. FAXON.

HOUSES, STORES, HALL, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES,
Land, Wharves, etc.

Buildings are in Complete Repair.

Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.
House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.
Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.
Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc., No. 92 School street, $12 per month.
Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.
Stable, junction School and Franklin streets, $4 per month.
Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.
Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.
Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.
For particulars apply to
HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, May 13, 1903. 1m

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

BUY YOUR

Hot Weather Goods

—OF—

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

And get your COLD SODA

FREE.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

SMOKE THE

COVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.

60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN.

PHARMACIST,

1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F Crane's Store. Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,

In a variety of Styles and Prices.

Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.

These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.

C. S. HUBBARD.

City Square, Quincy.

W. G. CHUBBUCK
Furniture and Piano Mover,

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

lp-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.

Plumbing and Heating Co,

25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot. Telephone Connection.

April 24 1-tf--p-1w

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. 8, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. lp-2mos.

FULL STOCK

—OF—

HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,

—AT—

Brooks' Market,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 25. tf

Reupholstering

OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE

HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED

And Made Over.

Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.

Call and get Prices.

C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4,

Quincy, May 2. 1m

HER CANINE CHAUFFEUR

By Bennet Musson

Copyright, 1902, by T. C. McClure

It was a dull day for bulldogs. Puffs, whose bull baiting ancestors had bequeathed him a love of adventure, sat on the veranda of the villa and yawned.

A green automobile rolled along the driveway of the house. When it stopped at the veranda, a pretty, brown haired girl of twenty laughingly greeted her enthusiastic friend, who leaped upon her, regardless of the damage which dirty paws inflicted on a white serge dress.

"One would think I had been away a year instead of a week," the girl said gayly.

"Is it only a week since I first met you?" replied her companion. "I seem to have known you always."

Florence Hastings' face became serious as she patted the wriggling Puffs. "I am afraid your imagination is overpowerful, Mr. Oakley," she said. "Anyway, you've saved me a dismal railway journey from the Newtons'. I was glad to let my trunks take it alone. So, whatever your condition of mind, you must come in and meet papa."

"Is he at home?"

"He comes on the 5 o'clock 'relief express.' That's what he calls any train which takes him away from Wall street."

"He leaves his office at 4?"

"Yes. Do you hesitate at the ordeal of passing the interval with me?" Florence was smiling again.

Porter Oakley laughed protestingly. "I was hesitating because of an important business affair," he said finally. "Is there a telegraph office in the village?"

"There is, and I will send a groom with your message."

Oakley looked at his watch. "Quarter of 3," he murmured. "Will you pardon me if I go to the office in the automobile?" he asked. "It will save fifteen valuable minutes."

As the machine puffed along the driveway Florence watched it musingly and inwardly resented her feeling of relief—it seemed like weakness. When she first met Oakley at the Newtons' country house, she vaguely disliked him. As she watched the automobile speeding toward the village she thought of Trilby and smiled. Then she grew serious and felt sorry that she had asked Oakley to stay, but she knew that if the little scene near the veranda were to be reacted she would ask him again.

"Do you believe in hypnotic influence, Puffs?" she said softly, putting an arm around the bulldog's muscular neck.

Puffs did not. Every line in his sturdy figure expressed disbelief. Then he conveyed sympathy and encouragement by extending a few inches of damp pink tongue toward his mistress' cheek.

That evening Florence sat on the veranda with Porter Oakley. Her father did not arrive on the "relief express," nor had word come from him. Oakley had waited for the older man, had accepted an invitation to dine, and now he sat with Florence and watched the moon creep toward the Orange mountains.

"There is still an hour or so of moonlight, and I shall have a bright road to New York," he said.

"I thought father would surely be here on the 8 o'clock train," said Florence.

Oakley held the face of his watch to his cigar tip. "Half past 8 now," he answered. "When does the next train arrive?"

"At 9."

"Your father may be on that. Why don't you run down to the station with me and meet him?" Oakley said.

Florence looked up at him quickly. "Why, I—I"— she began, but Oakley was leaning toward her, the moonlight shining on his face and lighting his gray eyes, which were fixed on hers.

Five minutes later the automobile was running along the country road, containing one uneasy and one triumphant person and followed by a white, four legged creature whose under jaw protruded at the angle of determination and who patiently blinked away the dust aroused by the flying monster in front.

The hands of the little red faced clock in the tower of the station pointed to a quarter of the hour, and they passed on, Oakley saying that they would have five minutes of speeding before returning to wait for the train.

The lights of the village disappeared, and the moon was hidden by the overhanging trees of the road along which they flew. Puffs stretched his legs and galloped his hardest. The machine drew rapidly away from him, but he followed, with the perseverance of his kind.

"We had better turn back," said Florence as they reached an open stretch of road.

Oakley consulted his watch. "After 9," he said, in apparent surprise. "We can't meet your father now. Shan't we keep on?"

"I prefer to go home," Florence replied coldly.

Oakley leaned over the steering lever as the machine sped on its way. Then he turned and his eyes met Florence's. "I am the chauffeur," he said quietly.

Florence looked steadily at him. Porter Oakley returned her gaze, but the trifling power that had made her forget conventionalities was dissipated by the honest wrath which glowed in the girl's eyes.

"Mr. Oakley, will you turn back?" she said sharply.

"Miss Hastings, we are not going back," Oakley replied mockingly.

"What do you mean?"

"I mean that I have known and wanted you for a week. It usually takes less than a week for me to get anything I want. You will go home, but it will be tomorrow—and it will be as Mrs. Oakley."

Florence rose from her seat. "If you do not stop, I shall jump out," she said.

Oakley seized her arm, but she struggled. His grasp on the steering lever became unsteady, the machine swerved violently, and he gradually brought it to a standstill at the side of the road. Florence jumped to the ground and started toward home, but Oakley placed himself in her way.

"You shall not go back," he said. "If you won't go on, we can stay in this lonely place, and in the morning, when it is known that you have passed the night with me, you may be more willing to accept my proposals."

Florence stopped and faced Oakley. Her hands were clinched, but she was trembling pitiably. He smiled and came toward her.

"Come, now. Marriage is easy in New Jersey," he said. "We can go"—

A white, panting form shot from the road and came between them. Florence threw herself on the ground, clasped her arms around a muscular neck and sobbed: "Thank God, you have come, Puffs! Thank God, you have come!"

Oakley drew back. He was not smiling. "You don't think I shall let a dog interfere with my plans, do you?" he asked.

He stepped to the automobile, placed his hand under the seat, and when he withdrew it it held a glittering object. Florence gave a low cry, and a white streak flew from the road. The next instant Oakley was kneeling on the ground, Puffs' teeth were firmly holding his wrist, and the useless weapon was lying in the dust.

Florence looked at him helplessly; then her eyes brightened. "Come, Puffs, we shall go home," she said, "and he will take us."

Half an hour later a green automobile drew slowly up the driveway of the Hastings country house. Seated in it were a young woman and a sullen looking man. Between them, with his back to the girl and his eyes fixed on the man, was a stolid and dusty bulldog.

When Mr. Hastings arrived on the 11 o'clock train, he found his daughter in a subdued mood.

"What is the meaning of this?" he asked, waving a telegram before her.

Florence took the paper and read:

Meet me at the uptown ferry, 10 o'clock tonight. FLORENCE.

"This is why you stayed in the city," she said slowly. Then, as she realized the meaning of the message, "It must have been Mr. Oakley's important business."

When Mr. Hastings had recovered a degree of equanimity after the story of the automobile, he looked fondly at Puffs.

"I'll buy one of those machines some day," he said, gravely extending his hand, into which a responsive paw was placed, "and when I do I shan't have to look far for a chauffeur."

Very Old Church.

The Church of San Miguel, at Santa Fe, is claimed by New Mexicans to be the oldest in the United States. There is much dispute over the exact date of its erection, but it was certainly built between 200 and 300 years ago by the first Indian converts under the direction of the Spanish padres—some say as long ago as 1545. Inside it is like a vault, black and crumbling, with cracked adobe walls and roof, and a gallery whose woodwork still shows traces of the figures painted there by the Indians, designs like those they put upon their pottery today.

But the most interesting thing in San Miguel is the old bell, St. Joseph. Black with age, it looks like a mass of old iron in its dim recesses. But strike it, and it gives forth a mellow note of silvery clearness, echoing with marvelous sweetness through the vaultlike old church. The quality of the bell metal makes the richness of the note, and there is a tradition that it was made of the gold and silver ornaments of the Spanish as a thank offering for a victory over the Moors.

At any rate, the old Spanish padres brought the bell, already ancient, across the seas from Spain and over mountains and plateaus from Mexico. The Moors are gone, Spain's great empire of the west has vanished, and still the old bell stands there, older than American civilization.

The Fan In History.

As in a mirror, the fan, the origin of which is lost in the twilight of oriental legend, reflects the habits, customs, art and taste of every country which has made a friend of an article so useful and ornamental. Greece was the first European country to adopt the fan—two birds' wings—one of its uses being by acolytes in the temples to drive away the flies from the sacrifice. It served the early Christians in the catacombs a similar purpose when the bread and wine were spread for the sacrament, a custom which lasted in the Roman Catholic church to the fourteenth century.

In this same century the fan made an almost simultaneous appearance throughout Italy and France, in England and Spain. Its most artistic flights have been achieved in France, but not even to France will Spain yield in its use of the fan as "an important weapon in the mimic warfare of coquetry and flirtation." Whether the Spanish lady is in church or a place of amusement, whether visiting or walking, it is always in her hands, frequently portraying the horrors of the bullfight. Corresponding with these, certain French revolution fans represent Charlotte Corday carrying a dagger in one hand and a fan in the other!

The Five Stages of Man

At seventeen she said: "I want a man who is ardent in all love's ways and whose passionate devotion may never flag. He must be tall and broad shouldered and handsome, with dark, flashing, soulful eyes, and, if need be, go to the ends of the world for my sake."

At twenty she said: "I want a man who unites the tender sympathies of a woman with the bravery of a lion. I don't mind his being a little dissipated, because that always adds a charm. He must be, however, accomplished to the last degree and capable of any sacrifice for my sake."

At twenty-five she said: "I want a man who unites with an engaging personality a complete knowledge of the world, and if, of necessity, he happens to have a past, he must also have a future—a man to whom I can look up and with whom I can trust myself at all times without the slightest embarrassment."

At thirty she said: "I want a man with money. He can have any other attributes a man ought to possess, but he must have money, and the more he has the better I will like it."

At thirty-five she said, "I want a man."—Life.

From a Novel.

"He addressed her in cold, hard words."—Chicago News.

A Tough Job For the Teacher.

The lad was the worst one in the Sunday school, and he appreciated the fact. His idea of his own iniquity was expressed when his teacher announced the intention of making him good.

"Say," drawled the reprobate, "I'm bettin' you'll have the time of your life an' then not win out in tr'in' to 'make good' makin' me good."—New York Times.

Not to Be Thought Of.

Housewife (to tramp)—If you saw that wood, I will give you 10 cents.

Tramp—My dear woman, I assure you I would be happy to favor you, but you see if I did that job for 10 cents I'd be prosecuted under the new antitrust law for charging you less than I charge your neighbors.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Quite the Thing.

"That's a queer design you have in the corner of your billhead," said Slopay.

"It's merely a little flower," replied the tailor.

"Think that's appropriate?"

"Well, yes; it's a forgetmenot."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Not Too Much So.

Uncle Reuben says: "I like a conscientious man, but I like him as I like him. In other words, I don't want him so conscientious as to admit dat he quarrels wid his wife, cuffs his children or starves his dawg to carry out sartin principles."—Detroit Free Press.

Somewhat Different.

Mrs. Peck—Henry, do you mean to say you have been playing the races again?

Henry—No, my dear. The bookmakers have been working me.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Favorable Comment.

Clara—How well you looked at the fancy ball!

Maud—Think so?

Clara—Oh, yes. You had on such a becoming mask.—Town Topics.

No Help There.

"Oh, dear, I'm afraid I've lost my way!"

"Youse kin search me, lady. I ain't found it."—San Francisco Examiner.

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, Pres.

April 9-2m 14-2m

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

3rd off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy

Jan. 7. tf

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLAS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

On and after May 17, 1903, trains will run as follows:

[Subject to change without notice.]

TO BOSTON. Leave Quincy.	Stops at	Arrive Boston.	FROM BOSTON. Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy.
r *5 19	abcdefghi	5 47	*5 50	ihgfcdcba	6 19 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 26	ad	7 45	8 28	cba	8 49 r
r 7 42	abc	8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 7 54	abcde	8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 8 12	abc	8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
r 8 26	abd	8 45	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 8 46	atcd	9 05	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	12 58	cba	1 19 r
r 9 42	abc	10 02	1 28	cba	1 49 r
r 10 12	abc	10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
r 10 42	abc	11 02	2 28	cba	2 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
r 12 12	abc	12 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
r 1 42	abc	2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 2 12	abc	2 32	4 45	edcba	5 08 r
r 3 12	abc	3 32	5 15	dba	5 36 r
r 3 42	abc	4 02	5 28	cba	5 49 r
r 4 12	abc	4 32	5 45	edcba	6 08 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 58	cba	6 19 r
r 5 29	abcdefghi	5 57	6 15	da	6 36 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 39	abcdefghi	8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r
r 9 34	abcdefghi	10 02	10 50	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
r 10 08	abcdef	10 32	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

r 7 42	abc	8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 8 42	abc	9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 45 r
9 33	a	9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 45 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 45 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 28	cba	5 49 r
r 6 03	abcdefghi	6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	8 43	(ex.)	9 00
r 10 18	abcdef	10 42	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r

* The letters in the same line as the figure stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a. Wollaston, f, Harrison Square.
b, Norfolk Downs, g, Savin Hill.
c, Atlantic, h, Crescent Avenue.
d, Neponset, i, South Boston.
e, Pope's Hill. r, Quincy Adams.

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	79	63	67	78	73
Monday,	86	76	80	60	53
Tuesday,	90	74	65	49	53
Wednesday,	78	79	61	53	55
Thursday,	86	73	69	67	75
Friday,	85	72	82	85	72
Saturday,	—	64	86	81	71

New Advertisements Today.

Bigelow Park House Lots.
Hospital Fair.
For Sale----Meadow Brook.
Chas C Hearn----Medical Notice.

Good Afternoon

East Bridgewater's loss by fire on Thursday is one which will be a severe blow to the little town, as it would be to a city of the size of Quincy. The historic old Methodist church, and the pattern shop of the Old Colony Foundry Co., cannot easily be replaced. Five buildings in all were destroyed and but for timely aid from Brockton no one knows how extensive the conflagration would have been.

It is an honor to Massachusetts that Gov. Bates is one of the two governors who have been invited to make addresses on the grounds of the White House at Washington on Independence day. He will represent the north while Gov. Montague of Virginia will represent the South. Another notable feature of the day will be the reading of the Declaration of Independence by Admiral Dewey.

Judge Emmons of the Boston police commission suggests that if the police officials of surrounding cities would arrest promptly all intoxicated persons brought into their city by train or electric cars it would go a long way toward reducing, if not entirely obviating the present evils caused on the cars by intoxicated persons. The chief of police of Chelsea has promptly acted on the suggestion, and concerted action would work wonders on the late trains.

Again the boys and girls who are members of the Junior society of Adams Chapter, D. R., are envied by many of their playmates. If the birthplace of President John Adams was more commodious, many more invitations would be issued, but already the capacity of the house has been reached. The children will doubtless take great pleasure in grasping a governor by the hand, and listening to a few remarks, but the members feel that in the old historic birthplace they have something which will interest Gov. and Mrs. Bates as it does others.

Excursions are to be a prominent part of the National Educational convention to be held in Boston, and historic Quincy is frequently mentioned as one of the objective points. President Eliot endorses this feature and it will go a long way toward making the Boston convention popular. Addressing the Boston teachers on Thursday he said in part: "I was very careful to have fewer meetings than any convention of this association ever had before, and to have them shorter, and to reserve all the afternoons for that very important part of the meeting. I expect a very large meeting for the reason that the people who will come, many of them have never seen New England, they have never seen anything old, never seen salt water."

Drift of Opinion.

☞ One often wishes that all who desire to work for the world's welfare might in some way be independent of their vocation so far as earning a living is concerned. To do good in any way as a means of livelihood sometimes seems like a desecration. One says, "If I could do what I like to do for the benefit of the world, and give my efforts as a free will offering, how much happier I could be!" But, practically, things don't come out that way. Those who are paid to serve the world, as a rule, serve it better than those who are not paid; and the reason is, not that they work for the money they get but to keep there engagements. —Christian Register.

NEGRO FRANCHISE.

The Quincy Point Young Men's club held another debate in the vestry of the church on Tuesday evening. Mr. J. F. Thomas took the affirmative and Mr. E. Barrows the negative, and several others spoke after the debate on the subject—"Shall the Negro have the right of franchise?"

Although the affirmative had a lengthy and strong argument the judges decided in favor of the negative.

Mr. Thomas compared the interest the Negro took in this country with the white emigrants, saying that the white emigrants had relations and even homes in other countries. He spoke on many different phases of the subject.

Mr. Barrows showed that the Negro was not fitted to fill the positions of a white man and that the 15th amendment to the constitution was made by the people of the North for political purposes.

While the judges were deciding, Mr. T. B. Pollard, Dr. Bushnell, Mr. W. Newcomb and Mr. Fryer spoke.

Mr. Pollard said that the 15th amendment was enacted for the benefit of the Negro. He thought they have always been brave men. He cited as an example the work of the 54th regiment at Santiago.

Mr. Fryer thought that every man in this country should have the right to become equal to any other. He said if they were let alone they would work this out for themselves. He also said that they were good fighters.

Dr. Bushnell said that he did not agree with Mr. Fryer concerning the fighting ability of the Negro.

In reply, Mr. Fryer mentioned the Shaw Memorial in front of the State House in support of his argument.

Mr. W. Newcomb said that by actual experience it seemed to him in South Carolina that the Negro had more ambition than the white man.

Here Mr. Barrows admitted that physically the were superior but not mentally.

For White Mountain Tourists.

The most popular resort in the country is the White Mountains, and the number of people visiting these beautiful hills is yearly growing larger. The White mountains vacationists has any number of interesting points of interest and places to visit, and the tourist will do well to take in all the sights and wonders of this glorious region. In order to get some accurate and needy information before starting on a pilgrimage to the mountains, one should send to the Boston & Maine Railroad passenger department for their descriptive book "Among the Mountains," which contains some delightful illustrations and forty-six pages of interesting descriptive reading matter, telling the different points of interest and describing the beauty of this region in detail. Besides, one should not forget the "Bird's Eye View from Mt. Washington." This is something well worth securing. Last summer was the first time that anything of this kind was ever issued. It is a colored bird's eye view from the Summit showing the different buildings on the summit and the many ravines, notches, lakes and mountain peaks which can be seen from the summit all numbered, and an index telling the name of each number. This is a beautiful and artistic piece of work and will impress upon your memory the location of every place of interest worth knowing. This map will be mailed to any address upon receipt of six cents in stamps and the book upon receipt of two cents.

Foresters' Dance.

A social dance was held at Hancock hall Thursday evening by Quincy Court of Foresters. The affair was largely attended and was a complete success. The floor was in charge of Hugh P. Tracy, who was assisted by Herbert Griffin, Thomas Moran, John J. Feeley, James P. Flannagan, Edward Lawton, William Taylor, John Heffernan and Timothy J. Crowley. The reception committee were: Miss Mary Moran, Miss Helen M. Sweeney, Miss Annie E. Shea and Miss Nellie Collins.

Citizenship.

The lecture on "Citizenship" by Supt. F. E. Parlin before the Ward 2 People's Union Tuesday evening was remarkably good, and it is to be regretted that there was not a larger attendance. Those who did go felt amply repaid. This address should be repeated at some future time when a larger audience can be gathered.

☞ There is at least a melancholy satisfaction in connection with the corruption which has been found to exist in large cities such as Minneapolis, St. Louis, Pittsburg and others. It is found in the fact that the public prosecutors seem to be aroused to a sense of their duty to the people and are doing their best to send to the penitentiary those officials who have proved faithless to the trusts reposed in them by their fellow citizens. Such prosecutions, earnestly and sincerely carried forward, will undoubtedly have a deterrent effect upon other officials having similar opportunities for doing evil. —Colorado Springs Gazette.

AFTER DRUNKS.

They Will Not Be Allowed to Board Late Train.

The Electrics Do Not Want Them.

Travelling Public Will Appreciate the New Orders.

Hereafter people who go to Boston nights and get drunk will have a hard time getting home unless they walk, and if they do that they should be quite well sobered off by the time they reach Quincy.

When the Ledger called attention to the condition of affairs that existed on the late trains from Boston, especially on Saturday nights, attention was brought to the railroad officials. They acted promptly and now not only send special officers out on the late trains but have put extra men on duty at the gates in the train shed at the South Terminal. When a man approaches the gate to enter the train, if he is under the influence of liquor, he is not only turned back but run out of the depot.

The new order went into effect last Saturday, and the result was that the arrival of the late train was attended with no more excitement than though it had been a train in the middle of the day.

Unable to get home by the trains the drunks turned their attention to street cars. Here they made such a nuisance of themselves that Gen. Bancroft, President of the Boston Elevated, has issued an order that no more drunks will be allowed to ride on their cars, and of necessary officers in citizens dress will be carried to preserve order. This means that Quincy drunks will now have to walk to Neponset to get home, and if they succeed in getting that far without arrest, they may have difficulty in getting transportation further.

All that is now necessary to make the thing complete is for the Old Colony system to refuse to carry drunks.

This has not been done as yet, but it is probable that the matter will be taken up by the officials and an order similar to that on the Boston Elevated issued.

The Little Lights.

The sale and entertainment given by "The Little Lights" Tuesday evening in the vestry of the Congregational church at Wollaston, brought out a crowded house. The entertainment consisted of songs, piano duets and recitations. A number of Mother Goose characters by seven little folks was a great attraction.

Fancy articles, candy, lemonade and aprons were for sale. The entertainment closed with a "Good Night Drill," in which eight dainty little girls attired in night dresses and caps, carrying dolls and candles, made an attractive picture.

—Carl Butts of East Weymouth, a conductor on the Hingham line, was struck by a pole Thursday evening, and picked up unconscious.

—Representative McCartney of Rockland is critically ill with pneumonia.

OIL FOR THE BODY

You can't lose an atom without feeling it. The body is like an engine, a watch, a machine; must be kept in good order to run right.

That's the reason Scott's Emulsion is so successful in all wasting diseases. It feeds, nourishes and strengthens when ordinary food won't.

Doctors say Scott's Emulsion is the best nourishment for those who are not as well as they should be.

We use the whole oil in Scott's Emulsion because the great reputation of cod liver oil as a food and medicine was made by using it in this way. Substitutes in the shape of wines, cordials, extracts, etc., should be carefully avoided.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

The Quincy High nine went to West Roxbury today to play the West Roxbury High in the Highland league.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church gave a supper on Wednesday evening which was well attended.

A free lecture on "The meaning of Christian Science" will be given by Caroll Martin at the Town Hall, Braintree, this evening.

There will be a social of the Sunday School of Christ Church at the home of Miss Ethel Thomas, 93 Granite street, Saturday evening.

Rev. Frederick Kent of Northampton with his wife and little daughter are the guests of their parents in Wollaston during Anniversary week.

Burleigh Pratt, who was taken to Hotel Greenleaf on Thursday after his accident, was able to be dressed today, and taken to his home on Federal avenue in a carriage.

Past Commander Charles H. Porter will give the history of Paul Revere Post, 88, G. A. R., at the service at the First church on Sunday, at 10.30 A. M. The memorial address will be by the pastor.

Mr. Loring's Sunday school class is to hold a cake and candy sale at his home 52 Willow street, on Saturday afternoon for the purpose of raising funds to be used in furnishing the Wollaston Unitarian vestry.

After curfew Thursday evening, a brigade of small boys marched up and down the streets of Atlantic beating a drum and whistling discordant tunes. Where was the policeman to enforce the law of the curfew?

Plans are being formed for a Sunday School Camp for the members of the Unitarian Sunday Schools of Norfolk County. It is the purpose to have a camp a week for boys, and a week for girls. The expenses for board will be three dollars for the week. There will also be expenses for travelling to and from the camp. The camp will be situated so that there will be boating, bathing, fishing and sports.

EX-COUNCILMAN.

Peter J. Donahoe Dies Suddenly at West Quincy.

Mr. Peter J. Donahoe, a well known citizen of West Quincy, died suddenly this morning at his home on Willard street. Mr. Donahoe has been in poor health of late but has been able to be about and attend to his business as usual. He did not complain of illness when he got up this morning. Shortly after arising he went into the yard. While there he was seen to fall. He was carried into the house, but before medical aid arrived he was dead.

Mr. Donahoe was born in Quincy in 1847, and has always made this city his home. He was educated in the public schools and at the High school. After leaving school he entered the granite business, and was interested in the development of the Braintree Red Granite Co. Of late years he has been engaged as superintendent of that quarry by its present owners.

Mr. Donahoe was elected a member of the City Council from Ward Four for the year 1893 serving with John O'Connell and John H. Rooney. While in the City Council he was a member of the standing committee on Water Supply and Sewers and Drains. He leaves a widow.

ONE QUALIFIED.

C. L. Bremer Shows up Well at Country Club.

But two of the 158 players in the Country club golf tournament at Brookline on Tuesday had a better score than C. L. Bremer of the Wollaston club, who scored 79. G. M. Wheelock and H. Selfridge did the course in 77.

Other players from the Wollaston club stood in this order by net scores: G. H. White, George Wright, G. A. Noyes, J. W. Parks, F. B. Cutter, C. S. Burke, C. L. Perkins, B. L. Pratt, D. E. Little, H. H. Harper, R. R. Freeman, T. A. Burditt, E. C. Tarbell, H. N. Stetson and H. F. Amsden.

B. S. Evans of the Merry Mount club was well up in the list, only four having better net scores.

The Herald says, C. L. Bremer and W. C. Chick also had cards of 79, and there were dashes of the most brilliant golf in their going. Going out for 44, Bremer gave no indication that his would be the fourth best score of the 158 starters. But his homeward journey for 35 was the best score for nine holes of any player in the tournament, he having played but two 5's in the nine, all the other holes having been taken in 4's and 3's.

Mr. Bremer is the only Wollaston man who qualified and will play today with M. McBurney of Stockbridge.

Boyhood

Is the foundation of Manhood.

The DELICATE boy, the SPINDLING boy, the PIMPLE-FACED boy all need

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It purifies and enriches the blood, strengthens the muscles and bones, promotes mental and physical development, and builds up the whole system.

"My boy was suffering from scrofula, which covered his face entirely. I decided to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. After taking three bottles he was entirely cured." MRS. ELSIE HOTALING, Voorheesville, N. Y.

"I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla for years, giving it to my children and grandson for poor appetites and bad stomachs. It has always proved a blessing. It tones the stomach and increases the appetite." MRS. F. P. DEBOLT, Forest Grove, Oregon.

If There is Biliousness or Constipation, Hood's Pills Should be Taken Also.

FREE LECTURE.

CAROLL NORTON, C. S. D.

of New York City, will deliver a lecture

"THE MEANING OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE,"

TOWN HALL, SOUTH BRAINTREE,

FRIDAY EVENNC, MAY 22, 1903,

AT 8 O'CLOCK.

PUBLIC CORDIALLY INVITED.

May 9. o--9-16--p-16--1-16-21-22

Hundreds

— OF —

VALUABLE PRESENTS

ABSOLUTELY FREE.

Whether you purchase a Lot or not.

Bigelow Park,

ENTIRE WEEK.

1.30 to 5 P. M.

May 25 to May 30, 1903

Quincy, May 22. tf

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

$3.50

For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . . At Co-operative Dining Rooms

3 Granite Street, Quincy,

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21--2m

Coal Bill Killed.

The municipal coal bill came up in the Legislature Thursday on the motion of Representative Schofield to reconsider the vote of Wednesday rejecting the bill, which called for a constitutional amendment to provide for the establishing of municipal coal yards. The motion to reconsider was refused by a vote of 68 to 86.

Remick's new turnout from which ice cream is delivered from house to house made its first appearance on the streets Thursday.

—Jerusalem is now but a shadow of the magnificent city of ancient times. It is about three miles in circumference and is situated on a rocky mountain.

Don't Spend Money

Where the goods are not the equivalent. It is so easy to buy right that buying wrong is nothing short of extravagance. Whatever you fancy in the line of is here—if it's good. And the prices are reasonable. If you pay less you get less. If you pay more you do not get better quality.

CLOTHING

STRAW HATS

ARE NOW RIPE.

You can pick them at 25c., 50c., 98c., $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50

each and they are good values all along the line.

Yours for Honest Values.

F. D. FELLOWS CO.,

Reliable One Price Clothiers, Hatters and Furnishers.

Adams Building, City Square, Quincy, Mass.

WE GIVE TRADING STAMPS.

Store open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

May 21. l--th., Fri., Sat.,-po-tf

LEDGER ADVERTISEMENTS PAY BEST

hood

s the foundation of Manhood.

DELICATE boy, the NG boy, the PIMPLE-boy all need ood's parilla

he blood, strengthens romotes mental and uilds up the whole

crofula, which covered e Hood's Sarsaparilla
he was entirely cured."
lle, N. Y.
rilla for years, giving poor appetites and bad blessing. It tones the
" MRS. F. P. DEBOLT,

stipation, Hood's Pills
n Also.

CTURE.

N, C. S. D. ver a lecture
STIAN SCIENCE," BRAINTREE,
AY 22, 1903,
CK.
INVITED.
o--9-16--p-16--1-16-21-22

on't Spend Money

the goods are not the equiva-
It is so easy to buy right that wrong is nothing short of gance. Whatever you fancy line of

CLOTHING

—if it's good. And the prices asonable. If you pay less you
s. If you pay more you do better quality.

RAW HATS

RE NOW RIPE.
You can pick them at 50c., 98c., $1.50,

2.00 and $2.50

d they are good values all along the line.

rs for Honest Values.

. FELLOWS CO.,
One Price Clothiers, Hatters and Furnishers. ilding, City Square, Quincy, Mass.

GIVE TRADING STAMPS.
n Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.
1-th., Fri., Sat.,-po-tf

GER ADVERTISEMENTS
PAY BEST

The beginning of baldness is dandruff.
Dandruff is a disease and can be cured.

Cure the disease that causes dandruff,
And the dandruff will disappear for good.

Use only some old established remedy.
We know one tested for more than 50 years—

Ayer's Hair Vigor

It cures dandruff, checks falling, makes the hair grow, always restores color to gray hair.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor has cured my scalp of a bad case of dandruff. It is a delightful preparation to use."
Mrs. L. H. Budd, Lebanon Springs, N. Y.

J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

GRAND FAIR
IN AID OF THE
QUINCY HOSPITAL.
At the Residence of MISS BEALE. Adams Street,
ON THURSDAY, JUNE 11th,
Afternoon and Eveuing, beginning at 2 o'clock
PROCEEDS TO BE DEVOTED TO THE NURSES' HOME.
Admission 50 cents. Children under 12 years, 25 cents.
An invitation is extended to all who are interested in the welfare of the hospital and in providing a nurses' home.
May 22. 1-tf--p-2w

By C. H. JOHNSON, - - Auctioneer.
Office, Room 3 Adams Building, Quincy.

QUINCY
Real Estate at Public Auction.

The Valuable Real Estate
— ON —
Hancock Street, in Quincy,
— OF THE —
Late Nancy Brackett,
Will be sold at Public Auction on the premises, 1207 Hancock Street, on
May 23, 1903, at 3 o'clock P. M.
Train for Quincy leaves South Station, in Boston, at 2.28 o'clock.
The land has a frontage of 318 feet on Hancock street, a depth of 269 feet and embraces 84,935 square feet. The buildings consist of at 10-room House, built in the Old Colonial style, and a stable. The estate is one of the old estates of Quincy. It is situated on the main thoroughfare in the centre of the city within a few steps of the Railroad Station, Post Office, stores, and public buildings. It offers excellent opportunities for a private residence, or for development by the laying out of streets and erection of buildings. The present growth and prospects of the city of Quincy make this a peculiar opportunity for either investment or improvement.
$500 to be deposited and other terms to be announced at the time and place of sale.
For plan of land or any other information, inquire of
GEORGE W. MORTON,
Adams Building, Quincy.
HENRY H. SPRAGUE,
19 Milk street, Boston.
May 9—7t 9, 16, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22

By C. H. JOHNSON, - - Auctioneer.
Office, Room 3, Adams Building, Quincy.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE
— OF A —
Modern House
— AT —
PUBLIC AUCTION
Situated on Butler Road near Park Lane, consisting of 8 rooms, bath, furnace, set tubs, and 6,600 square feet of land. Will be sold from above premises on MONDAY, May 25, 1903, at 2 P. M., prompt. The location is good, house nearly new and well built. A fine chance to obtain a trade. For terms apply to auctioneer.
LOOK IT UP. LOOK IT UP.
Quincy, May 21. 3t

By C. H. JOHNSON, Auctioneer.
Office: Room 3 Adams Building.

Household Furniture
At Public Auction of CHARLES PETERSON will be sold from residence No. 138 Granite Street, on Tuesday, May 26, 1903,
At 1.30 P. M.
The goods consist in part as follows: Plush Rocker, Woolen Carpet, Curtains, 2 Rockers, 6 Rugs, Oak Side Board in good order, Cane Seat Rocker, Oak Commode, Oak Bureau, 8 foot Oak Extension Table, 6 Cane Seat Dining Room Chairs, Art Square, Hanging Lamp, Plants, 5 Odd Chairs, White Iron Bed nearly new, Rocker, Table Covers, Bed Spreads, Comforters, Mattresses, Straw Matting, Chamber Set, China Tea Set, lot of Dishes and Glass Ware, Magee Range in good order, Kitchen Table, and a lot of Kitchen Furniture. This is only a partial list of the furnishings of 5 rooms. All of above furniture is clean and in good order.
Sale positive. Goods to be removed at once. Terms, Cash.
No. 138 Granite Street.
May 18. 6t-18-19-20-22-23-24

Camera Shows Twins to Be Unlike.

"It is a curiosity of photography that two persons who look alike in the flesh look entirely unlike in a picture," said a photographer. "I saw that peculiarity of the human countenance strangely exemplified in the case of two girls whom I photographed a few weeks ago. The girls were twins. Each was the dead image of the other, and I felt positively uncanny when posing them, for I expected the result to be two pictured faces startlingly alike. But they did not turn out so. The features were the same, to be sure, but in the photographic process the underlying expression had been brought to the fore and had given to each girl an individuality of her own which diminished the resemblance wonderfully.

"I have noticed the same peculiarity in other cases of photographing doubles, although never in so pronounced a degree. In some faces expression counts for much more than feature, even in photography, and, although the cheeks, nose and mouth may be cast in the same mold, the camera gives results widely different." — New York Press.

Thackeray Didn't Wear Spurs.

Thackeray was not a vain man, and he disliked vanity in others and made it the subject of his ridicule and sarcasm.

After long pleading his family induced him to have his portrait painted, and Lawrence, a famous London artist, gladly undertook the task.

Soon after the picture was completed Thackeray chanced to be dining at his club when a pompous officer of the guards stopped beside the table and said:

"Haw, Thackeray, old boy, I hear Lawrence has been painting your portrait."

"So he has," was the response.

"Full length?"

"No; full length portraits are for soldiers, that we may see their spurs. But the other end of the man is the principal thing with authors," said Thackeray.

When Squirrels Were Numerous.

Accounts of early writers show that squirrels must formerly have been amazingly numerous. Godman says that the gray coat was a fearful scourge to colonial farmers and that Pennsylvania paid £8,000 in bounties for their scalps in 1749 alone. This meant the destruction of 640,000 within a comparatively small district. In the early days of western settlement regular hunts were organized by the inhabitants, who would range the woods in two companies from morning till night, vying as to which band should bring home the greatest number of trophies. The quantities thus killed are almost incredible now.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

—Breakage of propeller shafts at sea costs an immense sum annually in salvage.

☞ The Daily Ledger is for sale at the South Terminal station.

TRUCK DRIVER AND HORSE.

How a Friendly Understanding Developed Between Them.

The friendly relations which often exist between truck drivers and their horses is shown in the story of Chieftain, one of the tales in "Horses Nine," by Sewell Ford. Tim Doyle, the driver, having been left alone in the world, takes up lodgings in the stable. The story runs thus: So for three years or more Chieftain had always had a good night pat on the flank from Tim, and in the morning, after the currying and rubbing, they had a little friendly banter in the way of love slaps from Tim and good natured nosings from Chieftain. Perhaps many of Tim's confidences were given half in jest, and perhaps Chieftain sometimes thought that Tim was a bit slow in perception; but, all in all, each understood the other even better than either realized.

Of course Chieftain could not tell Tim of all those vague longings which had to do with new grass and springy turf, nor could he know that Tim had similar longings. These thoughts each kept to himself. But if Chieftain was of Norman blood, a horse whose noble sires had ranged pasture and paddock free from rein or trace, Tim was a Doyle whose father and grandfather had lived close to the good green sod and had done their toil in the open, with the cool and calm of the country to soothe and revive them.

Of such delights as these both Chieftain and Tim had tasted scantily, hurriedly, in youth, and for them in the lapses of the daily grind both yearned each after his own fashion.

And, each in his way, Tim and Chieftain were philosophers. As the years had come and gone, toil filled and uneventful, the character of the man had ripened and mellowed, the disposition of the horse had settled and sweetened.

In his earlier days Tim had been ready to smash a wheel or lose one, to demand right of way with profane unction and to back his word with whip, fist or bale hook. But he had learned to yield an inch on occasion and to use the soft word.

Chieftain, too, in his first years between the poles had sometimes been impatient with the untrained mates who from time to time joined the team. He had taken part in mane biting and trace kicking, especially on days when the loads were heavy and the flies thick, conditions which try the best of horse tempers. But he had steadied down into a pole horse who could set an example that was worth more than all the six foot lashes ever tied to a whipstock.

Dr. Holmes' Table Talk.

At table Dr. Holmes was unflaggingly vivacious, ready at repartee, as witty as Lowell without Lowell's audacity at punning and for the immediate moment as wise as Emerson. Underwood, in his monograph on "Lowell, the Poet and the Man," has by some lapse of memory misquoted a passage of words that took place between Emerson and Holmes at one of the early Atlantic dinners. The conversation was upon the orders of architecture. It was Emerson, not Holmes, who had been saying that the Egyptian was characterized by breadth of base, the Grecian by the adequate support and the Gothic by its skyward soaring. Then it was Holmes, not Emerson, who flashed out instantly, "One is for death, one is for life, and one is for immortality." I did not hear this, but it was repeated to me at the time by one who did.—J. T. Trowbridge in Atlantic.

Huge Stones From the Moon.

In a catalogue of Mexican meteorites prepared by M. Antonio del Castillo one mass is mentioned which exploded in the air and fell in widely dispersed fragments, portions of it being found in three places at the angles of a triangle whose two longer sides were some fifty-five and thirty-five miles in length. In one of these places two plates of stone were discovered, lying about 250 yards apart, which had evidently once formed one huge block. Measurements and estimations place the combined weight of the two blocks at eighty tons. In this one shower of "moon stones," according to M. del Castillo's paper, not less than 3,000 tons of rocks fell.

Opportunities.

However a man is gifted, whether for active enterprise of thought or charity, there lies around him a world of opportunity. So far behind are we socially, morally, intellectually, that one might be forgiven if he supposed the world were made but yesterday and nothing had yet been done. Does no ambition fire us to help the despairing, starving, sinking people around us? If a few more years be added to our life, would we not strive to put something right, to sweep out some little corner, to awaken some soul to see and rejoice in the growing light?—Good Words.

Bird Superstitions.

In many parts of England there are curious superstitions about birds. The stonechat, for instance, is believed to be continually chatting with the evil one, so it is held in bad repute, and as the raven commonly impersonates his sable majesty it is ranked in the same category of evil birds. Sometimes, however, the raven's appearance, so it is held, forebodes a death.

Natural Conclusions.

"Ef dey's milk in paradise dey mus' have cows dar," said Brother Williams, "en ef dey got honey dar dey sho mus' have bees, en whar bees is dey's blossoms, en whar blossom is dey's always watermillions in season, bless de Lawd!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Self made pedestals are a good deal more numerous than self made men.—Puck.

HOUGHS NECK.

Q. Y. Clubhouse Will Open Tomorrow—New Cottages Building.

A change in the running time of the cars on the Houghs Neck line will go into effect Sunday when half hour time will be established. For the present cars will leave City Square for Houghs Neck at 10 of and 20 past the hour. Returning cars will leave Houghs Neck at 15 of and 15 past the hour.

The Quincy Yacht club house opens Saturday. Frank Pray will be the janitor this year.

D. D. Driscoll of Roxbury, President of the Central Labor union, and family are in the Mayflower cottage on Crosby street.

Edgar B. Farmer and family of Cambridge are in the Leighton cottage on Bird street.

The Houghs Neck steamer will be brought from her winter quarters this week.

Lawrence A. Fregeau of Roxbury and family are in their new cottage on Winthrop street.

William Norteman and family of Somerville are in the Great Hill cottage.

Mrs. Cobb and family of Hyde Park are in their cottage at Rock Island.

I. M. Whittemore and family of Ashmont, are in the Crest Haven cottage on Great Hill.

W. B. North has opened his candy kitchen.

John Crosby and family of Hyde Park are in the Helena cottage on Crosby street.

Thomas Doherty and family of Brockton are in the Irene cottage on Bay View avenue.

R. F. Parry and family of Brockton are in the Sky Farm cottage on Great Hill.

George C. Bell is building a cottage on Manet avenue.

Harry Stiffs, Inspector on the Metropolitan sewer, is in the Hall cottage at Post island.

Perley Glass and family of Quincy are in the Mooring cottage on Great Hill.

Ralph Hobbs is building a cottage on Island avenue.

C. C. Hanley and family are in a cottage on Adams shore.

The latch string at the Saints Rest cottage is out, which means a hearty welcome for all friends.

The Largest of All.

Beginning on Monday of next week and continuing during the entire week, Swithin Bro. propose holding another grand sale on their beautiful tract of land at Bigelow Park. All previous efforts in this line are to be eclipsed. Hundreds of valuable presents are to be given away absolutly free whether the persons to receive them purchase lots or not. Samples of these gifts may now be seen in the display window of the Daily Ledger building.

The tremendously large number of sales on this elegant property have fully justified the claims that this is the fastest selling piece of property in Quincy, showing that the people are quick to realize the exceptional advantages offered, both to the home-seeker and the investor.

It is not necessary that one be possessed of a fat bank account nor a large income to become a property holder in the fastest growing city in New England, upon the terms offered on this property. The prices and terms enable all to obtain the strongest security yet offered for their money, viz:—real estate in a growing locality.

Condition Critical.

At the City Hospital this noon it was said, that Henry Ewell, whose skull was fractured by being struck by a falling derrick at the new school building at Quincy Point Thursday was very low and that he probably would not live throughout the day.

A NOVEL INTRODUCTION.

Dr. Howard Co. Make a Special Price.

The Dr. Howard company have entered into an arrangement with Chas. C. Hearn's drug store, by which a special introductory offer will be made of 25 cents on the 50 cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

So remarkably successful has Dr. Howard's specific been in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all forms of liver trouble, that Chas. C. Hearn will return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

The old-fashioned idea of dosing with mineral waters, cathartic pills or harsh purgatives will soon be a thing of the past. The best physicians are prescribing Dr. Howard's specific, both because it is so remarkable a medicine and on account of the small dose that is needed. Headaches, coated tongue, dizziness, gas on the stomach, specks before the eyes, constipation and all forms of malaria and liver trouble are soon cured by this scientific medicine.

Chas. C. Hearn has been able to secure only a limited supply, so everyone who wishes to be cured of dyspepsia or constipation should call upon him at once or send him 25 cents by mail, and get 60 doses of the best medicine ever made, on this special half price introductory offer, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if the specific does not cure.
22-26-29 2

MILTON.

Mr. and Mrs. John Seymour of Pleasant street have the sympathy of East Milton people in the sudden death of their two-year-and-a-half old daughter who died Sunday. The little girl was suddenly taken with convulsions and died in a short time.

The Thursday Evening club visit the Milton club Thursday evening, May 28.

Melborn Richardson who was injured last week is convalescent.

The house of John Ford was struck by lightning Tuesday but not damaged much.

John Edwards has moved into the house on the corner of Pierce and Adams street recently occupied by Harry Brierley.

A May festival will be held at the Town Hall, May 21. The entertainment will be given by the Old Maids' Matrimonial club.

Milton High was defeated by Arlington High on Thursday 10 to 4.

WIRELESS PHONE TESTS.

Conversation Carried on With Base Between Ferryboats.

T. Comerford Martin, editor of the Electrical World and Engineer, was seen recently with reference to the trials of the Collins wireless telephone on north river ferryboats the other afternoon, says the New York Times.

"I talked with ease at a distance which we estimated at from 500 to 700 feet," said Mr. Martin, "so that the success of the wireless telephone for that distance is not a matter of opinion, but of fact. The sound came to me much more clearly than over an ordinary land wire and was not confused by the ordinary wire noises.

"Of course the apparatus used was of the most primitive kind, and numbers of changes will suggest themselves as the various experiments are made. One occurred to me while we were at it on the river. Mr. Collins' entire rigging consisted of a wire going to the masthead and one going to a submerged copper plate used for what would correspond to the ground circuit connection in an ordinary phone, these two being attached to ordinary telephone instruments.

"We had a great deal of trouble because various of the submerged plates were wrenched off in the wash of the boat or broken through contact with a floating log, and it occurred to me that it would be perfectly possible to attach this 'ground' wire to the coils of the condenser, which, of course, are fastened into the hull. In this way, if the vessel had a copper bottom, the entire bottom surface would become available, and the great area ought to help materially in improving the communication.

"Of course, this is only one of the many improvements which probably will suggest themselves, but from the results attained I should say that the marine telephone ought to be of very great use in harbor navigation, both as between vessels and between vessel and dock.

"It would not be possible now," he added in answer to a question, "to forecast the limitations of the invention as regards distance, because it has been the experience of all telephonic experiments that many things come in to complicate the problem when distance is the obstacle to be overcome. If the marine phone followed the peculiarities of the land telephone an increase of current would not be of any assistance. But for the matter of that the telephone applied to the purposes for which it seems best adapted would not need to be able to cover great distances, for when ships are in the harbor in a fog, for instance, they do not care about the ships a number of miles off, but for those near them and correspondingly in danger of colliding."

MICROBES AT THE POLE.

Trip to Determine Whether These Exist In Arctic Regions.

One of the most peculiar arctic expeditions ever planned is that of Dr. J. Charcot, who will soon sail from St. Malo, France, on a specially built ship, says the Springfield Republican. The expedition is also to be under the auspices of the Pasteur institute and the Museum of Natural History of Paris. Dr. Charcot believes that the study of bacteriology may be aided greatly by analyses of air and water in the polar regions and, above all, the examinations of the intestines of polar animals for "primary" microbes, which are so abundant in warm or temperate latitudes.

A Professor Levin, it seems, disputes the existence of the polar microbe, and Dr. Charcot is going up north to find out all about microbes within the frozen zone. Science ought to be benefitted by such an expedition. Dr. Charcot should be able to settle forever the question whether people ever have colds north or near the arctic circle.

Electric Railway on Mont Blanc.

Plans have been drawn up for an electric railway from Le Fayet, about twelve miles from Chamounix, to the summit of Mont Blanc, says the Geneva correspondent of the New York World. The first section to be constructed is to include in its stations the Motivon, the Col de Voza, Mont Lachat, Les Rognes and Tete Rousse, the provisional terminus being l'Aiguille du Gouter, at 12,500 feet above the mean level of the sea. Later the line is to be prolonged to the summit, 15,780 feet above the sea level. The municipal council of St. Gervais has approved the scheme and granted the concession.

How do you like an 8-page Ledger?

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:
Four lines, or less, one day, - - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - 60 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents
Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

LOST.

LOST—On May 18, in vicinity of Brewer's Corner, a Pocket Book contuining a sum of money. Finder will be rewarded by returning same to 23 Albertina street. May 19-3t

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE----Meadow Brook, in good order. Apply to 21 Station street, West Quincy.
May 22. 3t

FOR SALE—Two acres of land and house, within 5 minutes' walk of central railroad station. Taxed for $2,200. Will sell for $1,800 if taken within 10 days. Address FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street, Quincy, Mass.
May 21. tf

FOR SALE—A Reclining Wheel invalid's chair. Address, Box 84, Weymouth, Mass.
May 21. 3t

FOR SALE—A Large Size Emerson Piano for $150.00. Six years old. Address H. L. D., Ledger office, Quincy, Mass.
May 21. tf

FOR SALE. Stable Manure. Delivered in Quincy for $5 a cord. Address BOX 154, Atlantic. May 16. 6t

FOR SALE—A light running open Corning Box Buggy, cheap, in fine condition; also a rubber tired Goddard, in good repair; can be seen at 19 Pine street, Wollaston. Address E. F. WHITE, Wollaston, Mass. May 11-13t

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office.
April 28. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

WANTED.

MEN, not under 25 years, to call on old and new customers. No delivering. Position permanent to the right party. Pay weekly. GLEN BROTHERS, Rochester, N. Y.
April 23. 6w--thurs. sat. tues.

WANTED—Money on first mortgages. Address Box 185 Quincy Post Office.
April 16. eod tf

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London and Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON.
Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

TO LET.

FOR RENT--By a young married couple without children, furnished house this summer. Best of references. Parties going to the beach will find this a good opportunity to leave their home in responsible care. Address, H. H., Ledger office. Quincy, May 19-tf

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy.
April 8. w. th. s. m.--tf

TO LET—Large, Square Room and Side Rooms. Barn for $4 per month. Apply Greenleaf street, corner Hancock street.
Quincy, May 8. tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet. 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Appiy C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street.
Quincy, April 21. tf

NEW STORES TO LET.

A BUILDING will be erected at once by N.G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information enquire of N. G. NICKERSON. Quincy, May 12-tf

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

JOB PRINTING
AT THE PATRIOT OFFICE

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.
Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

KING'S PARK HOUSE.
Board and Rooms.
345 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 19. 1m

When Knighthood Was In Flower

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening In the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered Into Modern English From Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir

By Edwin Caskoden [Charles Major]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

CHAPTER XXI—Continued.

I hurriedly found Brandon and repaired to the little chapel, where we waited for a very long time, we thought. At last the two queens entered as if to make their devotions. As soon as

He fell upon his knee and kissed the hem of her gown.

Brandon and Mary caught sight of each other Queen Claude and I began to examine the shrines and decipher the Latin inscriptions. If these two had not married soon, they would have been the death of me. I was compelled at length to remind them that time was very precious just at that juncture, whereupon Mary, who was half laughing, half crying, lifted her hands to her hair and let it fall in all its lustrous wealth down over her shoulders. When Brandon saw this, he fell upon his knee and kissed the hem of her gown, and she, stooping over him, raised him to his feet and placed her hand in his.

Thus Mary was married to the man to save whose life she had four months before married the French king.

She and Queen Claude had forgotten nothing, and all arrangements were completed for the flight. A messenger had been dispatched two hours before with an order from Queen Claude that a ship should be waiting at Dieppe ready to sail immediately upon our arrival.

After the ceremony Claude quickly bound up Mary's hair, and the queens departed from the chapel in their coach. We soon followed, meeting them again at St. Denis gate, where we found the best of horses and four sturdy men awaiting us. The messenger to Dieppe who had preceded us would arrange for relays, and, as Mary, according to her wont when she had another to rely upon, had taken the opportunity to become thoroughly frightened, no time was lost. We made these forty leagues in less than twenty-four hours from the time of starting, having paused only for a short rest at a little town near Rouen, which city we carefully passed around.

We had little fear of being overtaken at the rate we were riding, but Mary said she supposed the wind would die down for a month immediately upon our arrival at Dieppe. Fortunately no one pursued us, thanks to Queen Claude, who had spread the report that Mary was ill, and, fortunately also, much to Mary's surprise and delight, when we arrived at Dieppe, as fair a wind as a sailor's heart could wish was blowing right up the channel. It was a part of the system of relays—horses, ship and wind.

"When the very wind blows for our special use, we may surely dismiss fear," said Mary, laughing and clapping her hands, but nearly ready for tears notwithstanding.

The ship was a fine new one, well fitted to breast any sea, and, learning this, we at once agreed that upon landing in England Mary and I should go to London and win over the king, if possible. We felt some confidence in being able to do this, as we counted upon Wolsey's help, but in case of failure we still had our plans. Brandon was to take the ship to a certain island off the Suffolk coast and there await us the period of a year if need be, as Mary might, in case of Henry's obstinacy, be detained, then revictual and reman the ship and out through the North sea for their former haven, New Spain.

In case of Henry's consent, how they were to live in a style fit for a princess Brandon did not know unless Henry should open his heart and provide for them, a doubtful contingency upon which they did not base much hope. At a pinch they might go down into Suffolk and live next to Jane and me on Brandon's estates. To this Mary readily agreed, and said it was what she wanted above all else.

There was one thing now in favor of the king's acquiescence. During the last three months Brandon had become very necessary to his amusement, and amusement was his greatest need and aim in life.

Mary and I went to London to see the king, having landed at Southampton for the purpose of throwing off the scent any one who might seek the ship. The king was delighted to see his sister, and kissed her over and over again.

Mary had as hard a game to play as ever fell to the lot of woman, but she was equal to the emergency if any woman ever was. She did not give Henry the slightest hint that she knew anything of the Count of Savoy episode, but calmly assumed that of course her brother had meant literally what he said when he made the promise as to the second marriage.

The king soon asked: "But what are you doing here? They have hardly buried Louis as yet, have they?"

"I am sure I do not know," answered Mary, "and I certainly care less. I married him only during his life and not for one moment afterward, so I came away and left them to bury him or keep him, as they choose; I care not which."

"But"— began Henry, when Mary interrupted him, saying, "I will tell you"—

I had taken good care that Wolsey should be present at this interview. So we four—the king, Wolsey, Mary and myself—quietly stepped into a little alcove away from the others and prepared to listen to Mary's tale, which was told with all her dramatic eloquence and feminine persuasiveness. She told of the ignoble insults of Francis, of his vile proposals—insisted upon, almost to the point of force—carefully concealing, however, the offer to divorce Claude and make her queen, which proposition might have had its attractions for Henry. She told of her imprisonment in the Palace des Tournelles and of her deadly peril and many indignities, and the tale lost nothing in the telling. Then she finished by throwing her arms around Henry's neck in a passionate flood of tears and begging him to protect her, to save her, save her, save her, his little sister!

It was all such perfect acting that for the time I forgot it was acting, and a great lump swelled up in my throat. It was, however, only for the instant, and when Mary, whose face was hidden from all the others on Henry's breast, smiled slyly at me from the midst of her tears and sobs, I burst into a laugh that was like to have spoiled everything. Henry turned quickly upon me, and I tried to cover it by pretending that I was sobbing. Wolsey helped me out by putting a corner of his gown to his eyes, when Henry, seeing us all so affected, began to catch the fever and swell with indignation. He put Mary away from him and, striding up and down the room, exclaimed in a voice that all could hear: "The dog, the dog, to treat my sister so! My sister! My father's daughter! My sister! The first princess of England and queen of France for his mistress! By every god that ever breathed, I'll chastise this scurvy cur until he howls again. I swear it by my crown, if it cost me my kingdom," and so on until words failed him. But see how he kept his oath, and see how he and Francis hobnobbed not long afterward at the Field of the Cloth of Gold.

Henry came back to Mary and began to question her, when she repeated the story for him. Then it was she told of my timely arrival, and how, in order to escape and protect herself from Francis, she had been compelled to marry Brandon and flee with us.

She said: "I so wanted to come home to England and be married where my dear brother could give me away, but I was in such mortal dread of Francis, and there was no other means of escape, so"— "God's death! If I had but one other sister like you, I swear before heaven I'd have myself hanged. Married to Brandon! Fool! Idiot! What do you mean? Married to Brandon! Jesu! You'll drive me mad! Just one other like you in England, and the whole damned kingdom might sink. I'd have none of it. Married to Brandon without my consent!"

"No, no, brother," answered Mary softly, leaning affectionately against his bulky form. "Do you suppose I would do that? Now, don't be unkind to me when I have been away from you so long! You gave your consent four months ago. Do you not remember? You know I would never have done it otherwise."

"Yes, I know! You would not do anything—you did not want, and it seems equally certain that in the end you always manage to do everything you do want. Hell and furies!"

"Why, brother, I will leave it to my lord bishop of York if you did not promise me that day, in this very room and almost on this very spot, that if I would marry Louis of France I might marry whomsoever I wished when he should die. Of course you knew, after what I had said, whom I should choose, so I went to a little church in company with Queen Claude and took my hair down and married him, and I am his wife, and no power on earth can make it otherwise." And she looked up into his face with a defiant little pout, as much as to say, "Now, what are you going to do about it?"

Henry looked at her in surprise and then burst out laughing, "Married to Brandon with your hair down?" And he roared again, holding his sides. "Well, you do beat the devil. There's no denying that. Poor old Louis! That was a good joke on him. I'll stake my crown he was glad to die! You kept it warm enough for him, I make no doubt."

"Well," said Mary, with a little shrug of her shoulders, "he would marry me."

"Yes, and now poor Brandon doesn't know the trouble ahead of him either. He has my pity, by Jove!"

"Oh, that is different," returned Mary, and her eyes burned softly, and her whole person fairly radiated, so expressive was she of the fact that "it was different."

Different? Yes, as light from darkness; as love from loathing; as heaven from the other place; as Brandon from Louis, and that tells it all.

Henry turned to Wolsey, "Have you ever heard anything equal to it, my lord bishop?"

My lord bishop, of course, never had, nothing that even approached it.

"What are we to do about it?" continued Henry, still addressing Wolsey.

The bishop assumed a thoughtful expression, as if to appear deliberate in so great a matter, and said, "I see but one thing that can be done." And then he threw in a few soft, oily words upon the troubled waters that made Mary wish she had never called him "thou butcher's cur," and Henry after a pause asked: "Where is Brandon? He is a good fellow, after all, and what we can't help we must endure. He'll find punishment enough in you. Tell him to come home—I suppose you have him hid around some place—and we'll try to do something for him."

"What will you do for him, brother?" said Mary, not wanting to give the king's friendly impulse time to weaken.

"Oh, don't bother about that now." But she held him fast by the hand and would not let go.

"Well, what do you want? Out with it. I suppose I might as well give it up easily; you will have it sooner or later. Out with it and be done."

"Could you make him duke of Suffolk?"

"Eh? I suppose so. What say you, my lord of York?"

York was willing; thought it would be just the thing.

"So be it, then," said Henry. "Now I am going out to hunt, and will not listen to another word. You will coax me out of my kingdom for that fellow yet." He was about to leave the room when he turned to Mary, saying: "By the way, sister, can you have Brandon here by Sunday next? I am to have a joust."

Mary thought she could, and the great event was accomplished.

One false word, one false syllable, one false tone, would have spoiled it all had not Mary—but I fear you are weary with hearing so much of Mary.

So after all, Mary, though a queen, came portionless to Brandon. He got the title, but never received the estates of Suffolk. All he received with her was the money I carried to him from France. Nevertheless, Brandon thought himself the richest man in all the earth, and surely he was one of the happiest. Such a woman as Mary is dangerous, except in a state of complete subjection, but she was bound hand and foot in the silken meshes of her own weaving, and her power for blissmaking was almost infinite.

And now it was, as all who read may know, that this fair, sweet, willful Mary dropped out of history, a sure token that her heart was her husband's throne, her soul his empire, her every wish his subject, and her will, so masterful with others, the meek and lowly servant of her strong but gentle lord and master, Charles Brandon, duke of Suffolk.

THE END.

Note by the Editor.—Sir Edwin Caskoden's history differs in some minor details from other authorities of the time. Hall's chronicle says Sir William Brandon, father of Charles, had the honor of being killed by the hand of Richard III. himself at Bosworth Field, and the points wherein his account of Charles Brandon's life differs from that of Sir Edwin may be gathered from the index to the 1548 edition of that work, which is as follows:

Charles Brandon, Esquire, is made knight, created Viscount Lysle, made duke of Suffolke, goeth to Paris to the lustes, doeth valiantly there, returneth into England, he is sent into Fraunce to fetch home the French quene into England. He maryeth her, and so on until he dyeth and is buryed at Wyndesore.

No mention is made in any of the chronicles of the office of master of dance. In all other essential respects Sir Edwin is corroborated by his contemporaries.

Helpful Education.

[Professor Trueblood of the University of Michigan is teaching the young men in his classes the proper way to make love.]

Professor, O professor, when you've trained each budding mind
And stocked it with instruction in the course you have outlined,
When you have taught the pupils how to hold a lady's hand
And how to make her think that love is something truly grand,
When you have shown him how to slip his arm about her waist
And how to squeeze precisely when his arm is rightly placed—

When you have drilled this knowledge into every intellect,
Go on and add some teachings that should have a good effect.
The Romeos you're training should be bidden to acquire
The wisdom that will aid them to concoct a kitchen fire
And how to beat the carpets and to keep coal in the bin;
You ought to show them plainly how to dodge a rolling pin.

Give them some elocution—not this namby pamby stuff
Made up of "ducky," "dove" and "dear"—it isn't strong enough.
Guide them along the pathway that they'll have to take through life
And show them how to gesture when explaining to a wife
About the cause that kept them out at night till almost day;
Professor, O professor, tell your pupils what to say!

A course in matching ribbons would be excellent for all,
And couldn't you, professor, let some pearls of wisdom fall
Concerning who's entitled to the latchkey to the flat
And how to make her happy, but not buy her a new hat,
And how to mail her letters? Oh, professor, teach them this As well as "The Relation of the Googoo Eye to Bliss!"

—Chicago Tribune.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

THE BILL FAILED.

And the Man Who Killed It Knew What He Was About.

"When I was in the legislature," said a gentleman from Mississippi, "we sometimes conducted progressive legislation under difficulties, and often a really meritorious measure died a-borning on account of the cant and sophistry of some gentleman from the 'sticks.' When I was in the lower branch, some years ago, I introduced a bill exempting all money from taxation which was loaned at a rate of interest less than 6 per cent. The house was strictly a body of farmers at that time, and many of them were paying as much as 12 per cent for money with which to make their crop. So it would seem to an outsider that my bill would have a fair chance to pass, particularly as it was favorably reported by the committee to which it had been referred.

"But an old farmer from back in the woods killed it dead as a door nail. In a speech on the subject he said: 'What's the use to pass any fool bill like that? When I wuz making my canvass, I had to borrow $150, and I had to put up two good mules and a wagon to get it; besides I had to pay 11 per cent interest. Now, don't you know, Mr. Speaker, nobody ain't goin' to lend no money at 6 per cent while they can get 11 per cent? I move that we lay that fool bill on the table and get to work on something that will do the people some good.' And that is exactly what they did.

"Some time after this I twitted the old fellow about his opposition to my bill. 'Why, durn et, feller,' he said in a bantering, laughing way, 'if that bill had passed I know six men in my county who'd borrowed money jest to run against me. Don't believe in encouragin' young fellers in borrowin' money an' gettin' mixed up in politics.' All of which shows how things sometimes go in a legislative body."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Sarcastic Cabby.

"I notice," said the observant lady to the cabby as she handed him the strictly legal fare, "that your poor horse has got a large blister on the side of his neck. Do be careful with him, won't you?"

"Yes, mum," the cabby replied. "He hurt hisself turning round so often to see if any kind hearted old party would give me an extra copper or two for an extra good feed for him. It did happen once, and he was so surprised and pleased that he wept tears of joy, mum, and I think it must ha' drawn 'em all into one spot, and they ain't subsided yet."—London Tit-Bits.

A Scotch Hint.

A man was taken on as a laborer in one of the large shipbuilding yards on the Clyde. The first job he had to do was to carry some rather heavy planks. He had been about an hour carrying them when he went up to the foreman and said:

"Did Ah tell you ma name whin Ah started?"

"Aye," said the foreman. "You said it was Tamson."

"Oh, that's a' richt," replied the man, looking over at the pile of planks he had yet to carry. "Ah wis wunnerin' if you thocht Ah said it wis Samson."—Liverpool Mercury.

A Superlative Expression.

During an attempt to "develop" the idea and use of the superlative degree of the adjective the following conversation took place:

Teacher—I see a pretty girl, and you see one who is better looking than the first. Now, how can you describe the second girl by the use of the word pretty?

Pupil—The second girl is prettier.

Teacher—Very good. Now, suppose you see a girl who is better looking than either of the others, what would you call her?

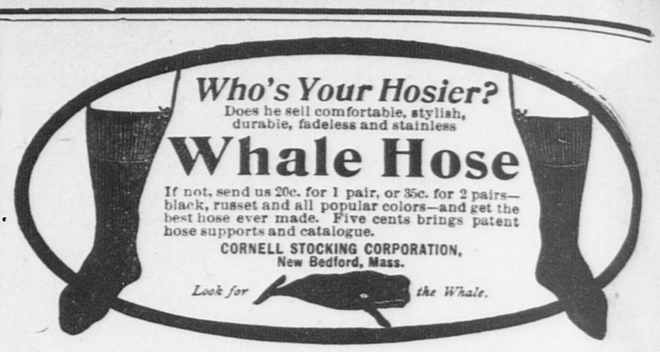

Pupil—I should call her a daisy.

An Invitation Declined.

A philanthropic company of actors undertook to amuse the patients of a lunatic asylum. The principal comedian was carrying everything before him, shaking the house with laughter and filling the eyes of his audience with tears of joyous hilarity, when a voice from the back, breaking through the laughter, plunged the whole play into tragedy. Said the voice, "You'd better stay here!"—Kansas City Independent.

Soldier Ants.

Among ants there is much the same division of labor as among bees and a more complicated series of individuals, for we find not only the neuters, which perform all the working functions of the hive, the males and the queens, but we have in some species a special class known as soldier ants, which have wonderfully powerful heads and jaws and perform no other duties than to defend the formicary and make war.

ORDER NOW FOR

DECORATION DAY

--YOUR--

Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works,

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy

Are You Looking for a Home?

Would You Like to Make Some Money?

Then don't fail to buy one of those Beautiful Lots at

BIGELOW PARK.

The Prettiest—The Best—The Most Accessible Tract of Land in the Fore River District.

SWITHIN BROS., 3 and 4 Durgin & Merrill Block, and The Daily Ledger Building, QUINCY.

May 2. tf

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder,

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat.

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

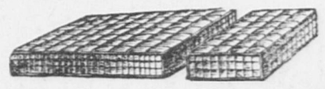

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.

Quincy, May 9. 1m

Restful Mattresses.

Just think, people everywhere trying to get enjoyment and comfort out of this life, and the queer thing about it all is, that very few start in the right place.

There isn't any money that will bring such rest and comfort to tired folks as the money you spend for one of our famous Cotton Felt Mattresses.

These Mattresses are as unlike the one you are now using, as night is unlike day. They are soft, soothing, springy, restful, dreamy. They fit the body from top to toe, and afford you rest, comfort and enjoyment, unequalled by anything else that money can buy in all this great world of ours.

They range in price from $7.50 to $15.00. We have them for immediate delivery.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS,

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.

April 30. 1m

r Hosier? rtable, stylish,
and stainless
Hose air, or 35c. for 2 pairs—lar colors—and get the e cents brings patent ue.
CORPORATION,
, Mass.
the Whale.

OW FOR ION DAY
UR--
Bedding Plants.
REENHOUSES,
ite Fore River Works,
P. GREEN, Proprietor.

a Home?
Make Some Money? of those Beautiful Lots at
PARK.
Most Accessible Tract of Land
ver District.
rgin & Merrill Block,
ily Ledger Building,
QUINCY.
tf

STATE.
ntil the best part of life is gone.
r it gradually, this would not be a early ending. Consult me. I have Also House Lots for sale in all
SON, Builder,
Quincy, Mass.
nd Sods for sale.
tf

noke, No Heat.
Cheapest way in the world. No dust, nderful
S GAS RANGE
Depot Avenue.
We sell everything pertaining to the
1m

Just think, people everywhere trying to get enjoyment and comfort out of this life, and is, that very few start in the will bring such rest and comey you spend for one of our like the one you are now using, e soft, soothing, springy, restfrom top to toe, and afford you equalled by anything else that world of ours.
.50 to $15.00. We have them
CAIDE & CO.,
riced Furniture Store,
Quincy, Mass.
ay and Saturday Evenings.

PRINCTIME
hts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts call attention to my stock of CLES.
ar make or makes. I carry the following EVELAND, DAY AND FAY;
you DO want and I will get it for you in Quincy, but my place continues to be the LIABLE."
GILLIS,
sic Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.
1m

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1 1y- p-6mos.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. 1p-tf

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pinel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov, 3-tf

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7. tf

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

FRANK F. CRANE
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17. tf

JAMES F. BURKE.
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5. tf

ERIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.
Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass
M ay7. 1m

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
Employment Office
At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm
Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.
Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.
BELL and TELEPHONE WORK
A SPECIALTY.
Guaranteed Work at Right Price.
Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.
Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.
Address, 1362 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
Quincy, April 10. tflp

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

HEADQUARTERS

PAUL REVERE POST 88, G. A. R

DEPARTMENT OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Quincy, May 12, 1903.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 1.

COMRADES: Again it becomes our duty to gather on the day set apart, to do homage to those, who having fought the good fight in the cause of Country, have gone to their reward. Let that day (May 30th) made sacred by their privations and fidelity to the flag for which they fought so nobly, be a reminder to us to keep the day in a manner that those who come after us, may be impressed with the full meaning of what our mission is. There are those, who on that day will follow the dear old flag for the last time. Let it be with a spirit which we had in those dark days when we were of the Army of the Union.

ON SUNDAY, MAY 24,

the post will assemble in full uniform at headquarters at 9.30 A. M., to attend service at the First Unitarian Church, Quincy, and listen to a Memorial address by the Rev. E. C. Butler and also a history of the Post by Past Commander Charles H. Porter. At 6 P. M. the post will assemble again in full uniform at headquarters to attend service at the Catholic Church, West Quincy and listen to a memorial address by the Rev. A. F. Roche. Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103, Ladies' Aid No. 3, John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans and all Soldiers and Sailors are invited to be present.

Contributions of food and flowers from our many friends will be gratefully received and may be left at the following residences; Mrs. F. P. Loud, Mrs. Annie C. Wright, Ward One; Mrs. H. O. Souther, Mrs. Annie E. Merritt, Ward Two; Mrs. Edward Richardson, Miss Mildred M. Willett, Ward Three; Mrs. John S. Farrell, Mrs. Joseph Shackley, Miss A. A. Bartlett, Ward Four; Mrs. Joseph W. Newcomb, Mrs. G. C. Ela, Ward Five; Mrs. A. G. Heath, Norfolk Downs; Mrs. Daniel McGrath, Ward Six.

The Principals and teachers of the schools are invited to request their pupils to bring flowers to the schoolhouses on the morning of May 29th. They will be collected for the purpose of decorating our Comrades' graves on Memorial day. Let no soldier's or sailor's grave be forgotten by this beautiful tribute.

MAY 30, ORDERS OF THE DAY.

1. The Post will assemble at Headquarters in full uniform at 7 A. M.
2. Junior Vice Commander Thomas Ring in command of a detail will proceed to Mount Wollaston cemetery and decorate the graves of our comrades sleeping there.
3. Officer of the Guard William M. Bird will make a detail and accompanied by the Chaplain of the day will proceed to the National Sailors' Home and deposit a floral offering.
4. Officer of the Day Warren Dunbar with a detail will decorate the graves of our comrades in the Hancock and English cemeteries.
5. Comrade James H. Webb will have charge of the invited guests.
6. Comrade James M. Cleverly will attend to and take care of our disabled comrades.
7. Comrade Abel Nutting will proceed to Mount Auburn cemetery and decorate the grave of Col. Paul J. Revere.
8. Officer of the Day Warren Dunbar is hereby detailed to have charge of the Band and escort.
9. Senior Vice Commander Charles L. Orne is detailed to have charge of Hancock hall.
10. Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103, will have charge of the collation at Hancock hall and also the arrangement of flowers for Memorial day.
11. The Rev. Leon H. Austin will act as Chaplain of the Day.
12. At 9.30 A. M. the post will form at Headquarters with the City Band will march to the junction of School and Franklin streets where barges will be taken for Hall cemetery, West Quincy, where appropriate ceremonies will be held and the graves of our late comrades decorated.
13. At 10.30 A. M., the command will continue to the Catholic cemeteries where services will be held by Rev. A. F. Roche, after which the graves of our comrades resting there will be decorated. The command will then proceed to the junction of School and Franklin streets, where they will be met by the John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans and escorted to Hancock hall, where they all will partake of a collation.
14. At 2 P. M., the line will be formed as follows: Detail of Police, Chief Comrade Joseph W. Hayden; Braintree Fife and Drum Corps; John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans, Commander George E. Adams; Officer of the Day Warren Dunbar; City Band; Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R.; John W. Hersey, Commander; City officials in carriages; disabled comrades; Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103; Mrs. Alice Litchfield, President, and Ladies' Aid No. 3, Miss Mildred M. Willett, President, in barges and will proceed by the following route: Headquarters G. A. R. to City Hall, where they will countermarch in front of the First church. Here a delegation of children from the different schools will be assembled and salute the Flag with singing, etc. The line of march will then continue through Temple street to Coddington, to Sea, to Mount Wollaston Cemetery, where services will be held at the soldiers' monument by Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R. The command will then proceed to the lot of Lieut. Edward Bumpus, where services will be performed by John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, Legion of Spanish War Veterans, after which they will assemble at the G. A. R. lot where memorial services will be performed by Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103, in memory of the unknown dead. The line will then reform and return via Coddington street to City square, Hancock street to Headquarters.

Past Commanders are requested to parade on the staff of the Commander.

Per order, JOHN W. HERSEY, Commander.

[OFFICIAL] I. M. HOLT, Adjutant.

May 19. 1-2t-p-1w

FRESH FROM THE MINES.
CARGOES OF
White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.
C. PATCH & SON.
Quincy, April 23. tf

BUSINESS.
YOU GET IT
BY ADVERTISING.

NOTE HEADS
BILL HEADS ENVELOPES
CARDS
CIRCULARS.
PROGRAMS
MENUS POSTERS DODGERS
PLACARDS

Book AND Job PRINTING
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION
PROMPTLY EXECUTED AT THE Quincy Daily Ledger Office.
FIRST-CLASS WORK
PROMPT DELIVERY
PRICES RIGHT

ACTS OF SELF-DEFENSE

Will Not Be Tolerated In the Czar's Domain

JEWS ARE DEFYING ORDERS

Undoubtedly Prevented Massacres by Arming Themselves—Count Tolstoi Lays Blame For the Kishineff Affair at the Door of the Government

St. Petersburg, May 22.—A circular of Interior Minister Von Plehwe ascribes the massacre of the Jews at Kishineff largely to acts of self-defense on the part of the Jews and continues:

"The events at Kishineff have alarmed the Jewish portion of the population in many regions of the empire and have occasioned rumors among the Christians about intended Jewish persecutions. In some of the cities the Jews began forming self-defense associations. After I reported to his majesty about the disorders his majesty commanded me to impress on the commanders in the provinces and towns that they are obligated to and are held personally responsible to take all the necessary measures to prevent violence and calm the populace in order to remove the occasion of fears for life and property in any portion.

"In informing your excellency of the monarch's will I feel obliged to state for your guidance that no sort of associations for self-defense can be tolerated."

The Jews are not inclined to depend wholly on the police and have armed themselves, in spite of the circular, throughout the Jewish belt. Undoubtedly their action prevented a repetition of the massacre at Viev, Odessa, Minsk and elsewhere. The Minsk Jews are so alarmed that the slightest outbreak causes a general closing and barricading of their shops.

Answering a private letter asking for his opinion of the Kishineff massacre, Count Tolstoi writes:

"My relations to the Jews and the terrible Kishineff affair must be clear to everybody interested in my beliefs. My relation to the Jews can only be as that to brothers whom i love, not because they are Jews, but because they and everybody are the sons of one father, God. That love does me no violence, because I have met and know Jews who are very good people. My relation to the Kishineff crime is also defined in my religious beliefs. Before knowing all the frightful details I understood the horror and felt intense pity for the innocent victims of mob savagery, mingled with perplexity at the bestiality of the so-called Christians and aversion and disgust for the so-called educated people who instigated the mob and sympathized with its deeds. Above all, I was horrified at the real culprit, namely, the government, with its foolish, fanatical priesthood and gang of robber officials. The Kishineff crime was a consequence of preaching lies and violence, which the government carries on with such stubborn energy. The government's relation to the affair is new proof of its rude egotism, hesitating at no atrocity when it is a question of crushing movements regarded as dangerous, and is proof of its complete equanimity, which is like that of the Turkish government towards the Armenian massacres and most horrible atrocities, if only its interests remain untouched."

Puncturing Cassini's Statement

Philadelphia, May 22.—Meyer Sulzberger, a distinguished member of the Pennsylvania judiciary and a man whom the Jews of the country regard as eminently qualified to speak for the people of his faith, in a statement to The Associated Press replied to the assertions of Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, that the troubles in Kishineff are due to an uprising of peasants against the money lenders.

Judge Sulzberger said: "Count Cassini is confronted with the fact that there have been rapes and murders of women, horrible cruelty to babies and murder of unoffending men committed. While all this massacre was occurring in Kishineff and went on three days, five Russian regiments were quartered in the town. It is therefore certain that the police and military departments permitted the massacre and are responsible for it. Their responsibility is now assumed and shared by all the people who think with Count Cassini. As regards his puerile remarks it is enough to say:

"'First: That the great bulk of the Jews of Russia are the poorest people in the world and have no money to lend.

"'Second: That babies do not lend money.

"'Third: That murderous criminals are not usually borrowers.'

"On the other hand there have been known high officials living lives of luxury and debauchery who were in need of many thousand roubles and to whose depleted pocket proceeds of loot and the price of protection might bring a new lease of revelry.

"No doubt, in the usual relations of life the count is a gentleman in his manners and practices, but, after all, he is a Russian nobleman. If he wants the opinion of an unprejudiced American commissioner let him read the report made to the United States government by Colonel Weber and Dr. Walter Kempster, printed at the government printing office in 1892. There are in it such passages as even a Russian nobleman would blush to have submitted to the women of the United States."

AUTOMOBILE WRECKED

After Gasolene Tank Exploded and Burned Several Persons

New York, May 22.—A score or more of persons were injured by the explosion of the gasolene tank of an automobile owned by Thomas D. Dewitt. All the injured, among whom were a policeman and three firemen, were burned by the shower of blazing gasolene which accompanied the explosion. While several were taken to the hospital none was fatally hurt.

The automobile was in charge of a chauffeur who was taking it to a repair shop. He found the machine on fire from a leakage from the gasolene tank and brought it to a halt. An alarm was sent in and after vainly attempting to extinguish the flames with hand grenades, the firemen turned a stream on the blazing vehicle.

By that time over 300 people had gathered close to the machine. The water had scarcely been turned on when the gasolene tank exploded. The burning fluid from the tank scattered in all directions and those in the front rank of the crowd caught the full force of it. The scene that followed the explosion was appalling. A score of men rolled on the ground and shrieked with pain, women fainted and the fire was for a moment forgotten. The firemen dropped the hose and running for their rubber coats and blankets extinguished the burning clothing of many. The automobile was totally wrecked.

"Dressed Up" For Suicide

Webster, Mass., May 22.—After preparing in every way to make as presentable an appearance as possible in his attire, William H. Buchholy, aged 34, went to the woodshed in the rear of his home and cut his throat. Doctors used about 50 stitches to close the gap, but he died a few hours later. Buchholy had his shoes shined, hair cut, shaved and then borrowed $2 with which he purchased the razor which later he put to deadly use.

Jews to Flock to Chicago

Chicago, May 22.—To Chicago alone, it is said, 6000 persons from Kishineff and other stricken towns in Bessarabia will come, that number of tickets having been sent by friends and relatives of the Jews there. The public relief funds raised in this city have been remarkably large, having reached about $20,000. A careful estimate of the amount that has been expended privately places it at $150,000.

Loss of 1,500,000 Sheep In Blizzards

Helena, Mont., May 22.—Statistics compelled by President Powers of the state board of sheep commissioners place the total number of sheep lost in the recent blizzard at 900,000. Up to the time of the storm 600,000 had been frozen in previous blizzards, making a total of 1,500,000 lost in Montana since December. At an average of $2.50 this means a monetary loss of $3,750,000.

Successful Aerial Navigation

Paris, May 22.—Santos-Dumont made a successful ascent in his steerable balloon at Neuilly yesterday afternoon in the presence of 3000 spectators. The balloon proceeded to the Bois de Boulogne, where a number of evolutions were gone through. After maneuvering for half an hour at a height of 600 feet, Santos-Dumont returned to Neuilly.

In a Worthy Cause

Washington, May 22.—A committee representing the Philadelphia chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution has handed to Secretary Root a certified check for $10,000 to be used in the erection of a memorial building at the new military post at Manila, P. I., for the physical and medical welfare of the enlisted men.

World's Cycle Records Fall

Philadelphia, May 22.—In the motor-paced cycle race at the Coliseum track last night Elkes won over De Guichard in the remarkable time of 6:27 2-5 for five miles, covering the last mile in 1:14 3-5, breaking all world's records. The best previous American record was made at Pittsburg by Nelson, 1:20 for one mile and 6:37 for five miles.

Hit In Eye With Golf Club

Middletown, Conn., May 22.—Ralph M. Cole, a student at Wesleyan university, will lose the sight of one eye as a result of an accidental blow from a golf club. While playing on the university ground, a companion missed a stroke, and the club hit Cole in the eye.

Definite Proposals Not Made

Pekin, May 22.—Great Britain, although willing to accept payment of her indemnity on a silver basis for nine years and in gold thereafter, leaving the question open whether China shall ultimately pay the difference, has not yet made definite proposals to China.

Futile Break For Liberty

New York, May 22.—Two prisoners in Snake Hill, N. J., penitentiary made a break for liberty and one of them, Charles Austell, was shot and will probably die. The other, Roy Carroll, was finally rounded up. Both were serving terms for robbery.

Could Not Throw Ruhlin

New York, May 22.—Ernest Roeber failed to throw Gus Ruhlin in a handicap wrestling match at Brooklyn last night. Roeber was to have thrown Ruhlin three times within an hour, but failed to get a single fall. Ruhlin was very aggressive.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A public forum is to be established and maintained by the town of Leominster, Mass., the first one, probably, in the country.

Boston Christian Scientists have given real estate valued at $15,000 to the Christian Science church at Concord, N. H.

THE SNAGS OF LITERATURE

[Original.]

Bardwell Winchester spent several years writing stories in the school of realism without success. The motives of his characters were not plain enough, his ideas too philosophic, his humor too delicate, for the general public. At least that is what his publishers told him. He supposed they knew all about it and determined to abandon the school of realism and try a story with incident and action.

To gather inspiration from the ocean, which he loved, he went to a quiet village at the seashore. On the very morning of his arrival he met Lucia Penley, the daughter of a cottager. Miss Penley had a way of understanding Winchester's ideas before he had half expressed them. He told her of his failures in the school of realism and that he was about to write a novel in which the hero and heroine were to be pursued by adverse circumstances. Seven in ten of the characters were to die violent deaths, while the other three—

Miss Penley shook her head.

"But the publishers"—

"Never mind the publishers. Be what you are or nothing."

Winchester was persuaded and resolved to make one more trial of the realistic school. As he proceeded with his work he read the manuscript to Miss Penley. She approved of it, but occasionally suggested his bringing out an idea or a motive more plainly.

"You think the public won't understand?"

"I'm thinking of your publishers. They are one in perhaps fifty thousand of your audience, and any stupidity on their part is detrimental in like proportion. Indeed, you must pass them to get at the public."

"I wonder why I didn't think of that before," said Winchester musingly.

In the autumn Winchester took his manuscript to the city and began to send it round the circle of publishers. The result was the same as before. It was returned with thanks "for being permitted to read it." In despair the author worked his way into the sanctum of one of the persons who had read and declined his production and begged for his reasons.

"My dear fellow," replied the "reader," "you are too late. During the past six months the sensational historical novel has appeared and revolutionized everything. Six months ago I would have recommended your story for publication; today I would not dare do so."

Then Winchester regretted that he had not gone into the sensational school. He resolved to shut himself up for the winter and do so. He finished his story by early spring and submitted it. Meanwhile the paper covered novel in which such stories had usually appeared had passed out and the expensive cloth book had taken its place. Winchester was told that his story was too short to be sold "in cloth."

With a load on his heart he went home and spent months in lengthening it. When he submitted it again he was informed that it appeared to have been "padded."

Winchester resolved to try once more and make his novel long enough to suit any one. He had noticed that writers of genius had demonstrated that there was ample opportunity for high grade literary work in the school of incident as well as in the school of realism. He therefore determined to select a subject capable of being worked to advantage and make one supreme effort. Five years elapsed before he finished his magnum opus. His wife had helped him with an occasional suggestion and after the work was put into good form read it carefully and pronounced it by far the best thing he had ever done. He felt encouraged, for he had begun to have a great regard for her opinion. Then he sent it to the publishers.

He was crushed by the first reply. "If you will cut your story," it said, "to one-fifth its length, we will gladly use it. In its present form it is unavailable."

Again Winchester sought the "reader" and asked him his reasons.

"Within a few months," replied the "reader," "the whole character of the literary market has changed. The short story is replacing the long novel."

Winchester went home to his wife and told her that his hopes had again been dashed.

"Bardwell," she replied, "I think you have had all the pleasure you can get with your pen, and that's all there is in it except for one in fifty million, so you'd better take up something new. How would you like to go into the publishing business?"

"Why do you suggest that line?"

"Because before I met you I had discovered what you have been so long learning. You know 'Rose Drake,' that has been selling by the hundred thousand lately? Well, I am its author."

"Great heavens!"

"The way I got it published was this: I found an obscure publisher who had for years tried his own judgment, making a failure every time, and at the moment I struck him he was desperate. After reading 'Rose Drake' he sent for me and said:

"'In my judgment, that's the worst novel ever written. But, as I have found my judgment no good, I'm going to the opposite extreme, and am ready to sign a contract for its publication.'"

"But 'Rose Drake' is a beautiful story."

"Well, now that I've made one success perhaps I can make more. We might as well have all there is in it. So you'd better turn publisher."

"I'll do so," said the ex-author, throwing his arms about his wife. And he did, but unfortunately his wife's next novel appeared under an unattractive title and was a failure.

F. A. MITCHEL.

Quincy Daily Ledger.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS
and at the following places:

BOSTON—Terminal News Stand after 3.35
QUINCY—Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock St.
Atwell's Periodical Store, 1 Granite St.
Henry P. Kittredge, City Square.
Rogers Bros., Hancock St.
J. J. O'Brien, 1596 Hancock St.
C. Y. Carlson, near Quincy depot.
A. F. Hall, 128 Washington St., near Canal.
QUINCY POINT—Miss Freeman's store
Sprague & Hobart, Washington cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—P. L. Litchfield, Water st.
W. E. Nightingale 80 Water street.
C. D. Cnick, 59 Liberty St.
WEST QUINCY—Coram's Periodical Store.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's news stand.
WOLLASTON PARK—C. E. Hosmer, cor. Hancock and Beach streets.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branscheid & Marten.
ATLANTIC—Branscheid & Marten.
HOUGHS NECK—Arthur Dunham at P. O.
EAST MILTON—William Clark.
EAST WEYMOUTH—George H. Hunt.
WEYMOUTH—J. R. Walsh.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—B. F. Thomas.

1903			MAY			1903
Su.	Mo.	Tu.	We.	Th.	Fr.	Sa.
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24 31	25	26	27	28	29	30

MOON'S PHASES.

First Quarter 4, 3:00 a.m. | Third Quarter 19, 10:15 a.m.
Full Moon 11, 3:15 a.m. | New Moon 26, 5:00 p.m.

CITY BREVITIES.

Don Bellows of Atlantic street is very ill.

Mr. Walter Churchill and family of Wollaston have taken up their residence in Springfield.

G. W. Sargent of Quincy Neck, celebrated his twenty-first birthday Thursday evening by entertaining the crew of the Enigma, of which he is the skipper, with their young ladies. Dancing and refreshments and a good time was the program.

Master Chester Brown of Wollaston observed his eighth birthday on Monday by giving a party to a few of his friends from 4.30 to 6.30 in the afternoon. After enjoying a good time playing games, the young people were served with fruit, ice-cream and cake. He was remembered with gifts.

Under the auspices of the Quincy W. C. T. U., Mrs. Gleason addressed the pupils of six of the Quincy schools on Thursday; the High, Coddington, Adams, John Hancock, Wollaston, and Massachusetts Fields. She spoke against the use of tobacco, chiefly cigarettes, and made her remarks quite interesting.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus oftenbefore medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

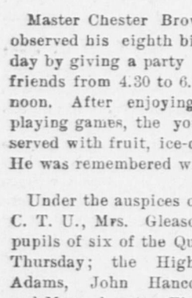

—The Eskimo of Alaska make waterproof boots and shirts of the skin of the salmon.

—The manufacture of quinine was begun in Philadelphia by John Farr in 1820, the year of its discovery.

DIED.

DONAHOE—In May 22, Mr Peter J. Donahoe of Willard street, aged 56 years
GRAINEY—In Quincy, May 22, Mrs. Jane, widow of Mr. Andrew Grainey, aged 80 years.
CRANE—In East Braintree, May 20, Mr. Joseph Crane, aged 84 years.

Best for Children.

Bread made from Spring wheat flour necessarily is best, because of the gluten and phosphate it contains. It feeds the brain as well as nourishes the body. Pillsbury's Best is the standard Spring wheat flour.

BY GOOD THREE MILES

Reliance Leaves Columbia Behind In Their First Race

OLD BOAT HANDICAPPED

By a Minor Accident Which Caused Her to Lose Time, But She at No Time Equalled Performance of the Newly Built Cup Defender

New York, May 22.—By a combination of good luck and splendid sailing qualities the new cup yacht Reliance inflicted such a defeat upon the former cup defender Columbia as she had never before suffered, leading her over the finish line of a 25-mile course off Glen Cove by 14 minutes and 43 seconds, official time.

Not all the glory of that rosy victory was fairly earned by the boat. If it had been there would have been no doubt that the Reliance would be the next cup defender. But, despite the Columbia's ill-luck, the Reliance convincingly showed herself to be the better boat. She had beaten the Columbia nearly eight minutes in a broad reach of 11 miles in fluky zephyrs, beaten her one minute and 15 seconds running free for three miles in a steady 12-knot breeze and beaten her four minutes and 15 seconds in an 11-mile thresh to windward close hauled in a 15-knot southwester. This time is unofficial, and allows for Reliance's 55 seconds' advantage at the start.

When the Reliance crossed the finish line the Columbia was three miles astern and hopelessly beaten. But the victory was not so great as the result might indicate. The Columbia's ill-luck in fluky winds in the three hours necessary to cover the first 11 miles had contributed to her defeat. The first leg was not a fair test of the merits of the two boats, but it sufficed to develop surprising drifting abilities in the Reliance, supposed to be a heavy weather boat.

The Columbia missed the favoring zephyrs that had helped the Reliance to beat her eight minutes in a drift of three hours in the first 11 miles and in the windward work had been hampered by an accident to her babyjibtopsail. Only once in the whole race did she gain on the new boat.

The race was an exasperating start and a flying finish. The course was triangular, 11 miles to the eastward along the Long Island shore to Eaton's point, three miles north northwest across the sound to Green's Ledge light and 11 miles southwest by west to the finish line off Glen Cove.

Shortly after the turn for home the tack of the Columbia's baby jibtopsail parted and the little sail went aloft in a bundle to the topmasthead and hung flapping for three minutes. Reliance was now steadily leaving her astern and sailing at a 10-knot clip within 3½ points of the wind. She fetched half a mile to the leeward of the finish line and after two short tacks swept across it and through a lane of welcoming steam yachts that greeted her and acknowledged her victory with earsplitting sirens.

Columbia was a good three miles to leeward, but hanging on gamely. She also received a greeting from the assembled fleet, but of less volume.

The official time is as follows:

	Start	Finish	Elapsed
Reliance	1:57:00	6:14:36	4:17:36
Columbia	1:57:00	6:29:19	4:32:19

Reliance, Columbia and Constitution will race off Glen Cove tomorrow if the Constitution is out of the drydock in time. If not the Reliance and Columbia will sail the race.

Lawyer Mills Found Guilty

New York, May 22.—A verdict of guilty was brought in last night in the case of George E. Mills, a lawyer, charged with attempted grand larceny in trying to procure, for the purpose of destroying them, the original drafts of five indictments against Dr. R. C. Flower, charging him with grand larceny. Mills will be sentenced Tuesday. The conviction carries with it a maximum penalty of 2½ years' imprisonment and a fine of $250.

Biddy Wandered From Home

Providence, May 22.—The alleged larceny of a hen, valued at 85 cents, was the cause of a suit in the supreme court here against James Roddy, a police officer of Pawtucket. The policeman was acquitted of the charge. The complainant was Mrs. Isabelle MacNinnian. The hen strayed into the policeman's yard and the officer, while rounding up fowls for market, possibly captured the woman's hen by mistake.

Brown's Modest Claim

Washington, May 22.—The state department has called the attention of the British government to the claims of the late Charles Brown, an American civil and mining engineer, for compensation for lands of which he was deprived by the Boer government before the South African war. The amount of the claim is $5,000,000.

Miners Caught by Cavein

Terre Haute, Ind., May 22.—Ten men were imprisoned by a cavein in Zeller's coal mine near Cloverland late last night. All the men employed at the mine are working to release the imprisoned men.

Little Invalid Honored

Salem, Ore., May 22.—On his way to the depot here President Roosevelt noticed an invalid child lying upon a stretcher on the curbing. He stopped his carriage, alighted and kissed the little girl.

FROM BANK TO BARRACKS

Former Society Man Becomes a "Rookie" at Charlestown

Boston, May 22.—Phillips Blagden, a young society man and teller in the Liberty National bank of New York, of which his uncle, E. C. Converse, is president, who dropped out of sight of relatives on April 29, has been in this city since May 6, and is now wearing Uncle Sam's uniform as a private in the marine corps at the Charlestown navy yard. His family offered $1000 reward for information of his whereabouts, and Blagden is in a position to claim that if he chooses to do so, because he found himself and gave the first information of his whereabouts to his family in a letter which he wrote home. He enlisted voluntarily and intends to remain, with the hope of becoming an officer.

Just what caused his sudden flight from New York no one seemed able to tell. There was no apparent shortage of funds, and as far as known, no woman figured in the case. Nevertheless his disappearance was as complete as his flight was sudden.

A reporter saw Blagden at the Charlestown barracks, but the new recruit had "nothing to say" when asked about the reason for his disappearance and his entrance into the marine service.

Convicted of Larceny From Bank

Springfield, Mass., May 22.—James Richardson, Frederick M. Hunt and Richard Fox, all of this city, were found guilty in superior court on a charge of larceny from the Westfield Savings bank of $2600. The money was obtained under false pretenses, Richardson borrowing the above sum and giving in security a lot to which he had no deed. Hunt, a real estate dealer, engineered the scheme, and Fox was a party to the transaction. In the trial Richardson turned state's evidence.

East Bridgewater's Big Fire

East Bridgewater, Mass., May 22.—Fire in this town wiped out the Old Colony iron foundry and machine shop, levelled the Methodist Episcopal church and two large storage warehouses belonging to the N. Y., N. H. & H. railroad and damaged a dozen other buildings. The total loss is estimated at $100,000. The opportune arrival of steamers from Brockton and Bridgewater checked the flames. Although there were several narrow escapes, no one was injured.

Worst Drought In Years

Burlington, Vt., May 22.—Reports received by The Free Press from all sections of the state indicate that most serious spring drought in years is being experienced. The meadows are badly burned, feed in pastures is very short and thousands of acres of timberland have been burned over and are not yet under control. The hay crop is very seriously injured and other crops are seriously retarded.

Gravediggers' Wages Raised

Fall River, Mass., May 22.—On and after June 1 the charge for opening graves in this city are to be advanced, the gravediggers having been successful in pushing their demand for higher wages. The diggers have been working nine hours a day for $1.50. They asked for $1.75 at eight hours a day and a compromise was affected at $1.75 a day and nine hours.

Complete Victory For Strikers

Providence, May 22.—The strike of the Plumbers' union against the Master Plumbers' association, which has been in progress here since May 4, has been settled. The union received all that it asked for, which includes an increase in wages from $3 to $3.50 a day for eight hours' work. The settlement was reached only after a long period of negotiation.

Triple Drowning Accident

Nashua, N. H., May 22.—Three lads were drowned through going beyond their depth in the Nashua river. They were Remi Deresi, aged 8; Adlai Burbeau, aged 11, and Napoleon Antaya, aged 11. They, with other lads of like ages, went in bathing and got into deep water and the other lads, being unable to swim themselves, could give no assistance.

Disbarred From Maine Court

Alfred, Me., May 22.—By a decree signed by Judge Strout Frank W. Hovey, formerly a resident of Biddeford and Pittsfield, Me., was disbarred from membership in the York Bar association on a charge of unprofessional conduct. According to the decree Hovey was charged with forgery and perjury and disloyalty to clients.

Fire Followed Wreck

Nashua, N. H., May 22.—A shifting engine ran into some freight cars which were being made up into a train here last night. Four cars were derailed and the shifter badly damaged. Fire broke out in the debris and the city firemen were called out. The loss will not be determined until the contents of the cars are known.

Socialist Leader Very Sick

Rockland, Mass., May 22.—The condition of Rev. Frederic O. MacCartney, Socialist representative in the legislature from this town, who is critically ill with bronchial pneumonia, is practically unchanged. Many telegrams of inquiry and expressing sympathy with the Socialist leader in his illness, have arrived.

Circus Train Laid Up

Stamford, Conn., May 22.—George Francis Train is quarantined at the home of his sister in this city, suffering from a mild case of smallpox. Train came here Wednesday from New York. The physicians in attendance on him assert that he has been ill for at least a week.

THE FLAG IN BATTLE

WHEN OR WHERE IT WAS FIRST BORNE HISTORY RECORDS NOT.

Its Development From the First Inanimate Object Carried Aloft on a Staff—Dear to the Hearts of Fighters In All Ages and Nations.

Where in the whole world is another thing meaningless in itself that has signified so much or served so greatly in the dramas of national life as the flag? asks the London Globe.

One tradition says the Saracens first carried an orthodox standard into battle and thus gave the idea, as they gave so many others, to the crusaders. But obviously the flag is far older than this, and it is interesting to note its development from the first inanimate object borne aloft on a staff so as to be generally visible down to the complicated blazonry of a royal banner in our own ages. The Egyptians thus carried before their hosts the figure of a sacred animal on a spear, and the Assyrians, as their carvings tell us, inspired the hopes and centered the attentions of their soldiers in the same way. The royal standard of the Persians for many centuries was a blacksmith's apron, and it is said a local prince in passing a hermit's cell on the way to battle one morning asked the inmate for his blessing or something expressive to put on that artless cognizance. The hermit, possibly a little touchy, as even saints will be when disturbed at breakfast time, threw the chieftain the flat, round cake he was eating, which was duly added to the apron; hence the Persian "sun." The lion was an obvious afterthought. The Turks used a horse's tail, the rank of a pasha being known by the number of tails he carried, and probably this suggested the much bifurcated pennon of early western chivalry familiar to every one who has studied the Baveux tapestry or early illuminated missals.

In the middle ages, devoted to display and military arrogance, the flag stood in relationship to the great captain's array as his personal armor stood to himself; it insured recognition in the melee and supplied a rallying point for the fighters such as nothing else could have done. This led to an etiquette of flags which apportioned shape and size to every rank of the peerage, from the royal standard itself down through a varied array of banners, gonfalons, pennons, ensigns and other "bits of red rag," and kept the heralds' college busy, besides supplying the poets with admirable local coloring for their battle pieces. Does not Scott tell us in some famous lines:

Then fell that spotless banner white,
Lord Howard's lion fell;
But still Lord Marmion's falcon flew
With wavering flight, while fiercer grew
Around the battle yell.

Here, it will be noted, the whole gist and point of the fight centers in the pennons of the leaders, and of the same vital importance of the flag there are innumerable instances in mediæval literature. When the Douglas unfurled his standard at Otterburn—a flag, by the way, which is still in existence—he declared, and thought not without reason, that the mere sight of that famous cloth would put the English host to rout. And even in comparatively modern and prosaic times the belief that a dreaded captain was beneath a certain emblem has sufficed to turn the scales of battle.

Thus in the French war of 1797 the French Rear Admiral Sarcy when cruising with six frigates in the bay of Bali came in sight of five or our Indiamen, one of them the Woodford, Captain Lennox. They were homeward bound and all richly laden, and to all appearances they had no chance of escape, when Captain Lennox rescued them by an act of great judgment and presence of mind. He first of all hoisted in his own ship a flag which the French admiral knew well, that of the British Admiral Rainier, blue, at the mizzen, and he made all the other ships in his company hoist pennants and ensigns to correspond. But he did more. He detached two of the Indiamen to chase and reconnoiter the enemy, and as these advanced toward the French reconnoitering frigate, the Cybele, the latter, completely deceived, made all sail to join her consorts, on which the French admiral, believing he was in the presence of a powerful British squadron, made off with his frigates under all sail, and Captain Lennox and his consorts completed their voyage in safety.

The flag indeed preserved its glamour long after the time when it was the cynosure of conflict, the emblazoned meteor of victory, as Milton calls it. Napoleon's officers, retreating from Moscow, burned their standards and in the excess of their bitter affection mixed the ashes with wine and drank them so. The same was done at Metz and Sedan, and even today there is probably no soldier in the world who would not do a little more for his colors than for anything else within his martial horizon. The idea has penetrated into all ranks of society. To nail one's colors to the mast is the last expression of desperate resolve, just as to haul them down indicates the abyss of humiliation.

Generous Host.

Tommy—Ma, can I play makin' believe I'm entertainin' another little boy?

Mamma—Yes, dear, of course.

Tommy—All right. Gimme some cake for him.—Exchange.

Accomplished.

Ethel—Isn't Judy newsy?

Mayme—Isn't she, though? She tells so much I don't see how she gets time to hear anything.—Detroit Free Press.

Don't think that every sad eyed woman you meet has loved and lost. She may have loved and got him.—Lyre.

Spring and Summer Shoes.

The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.
The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.

GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

INSURE TODAY.

Tomorrow may be too late.

Endowment Policies, $19.10 and upward per $1,000.

Ask to see the new and valuable features on our Endowment Policies

READY JUNE 1st

Issued by THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO., of New York.

A. S. SANDBERG,

Jeweler's Building, Boston. Brewers Corner, Quincy.
Tel. 4409 2 Main.
May 16. 6t

A HISTORIC SCHOOL.

It Was Established at Dorchester, Mass., In 1639.

The first public school in America to be supported by direct taxation "upon the inhabitants of a town" was established at Dorchester, Mass., in May, 1639.

In 1636 David Thompson had settled upon Thompson's island, off the coast of the colony town, and in 1638 he gave the island to the town on the payment of 12 pence yearly rental. Having transferred the island to the town, the town council met May 20, 1639, and adopted the following order:

It is ordered the 20th day of May, 1639, that there shall be a rent of £20 a year imposed forever on Thompson's island, to be paid by every person that hath property in said island, according to the proportion that any such person shall from time to time enjoy and possess there, and this toward the maintenance of a school in Dorchester. This rent of £20 a year to be paid to such schoolmaster as shall undertake to teach English, Latin and other tongues, also writing. The said schoolmaster to be chosen from time to time by the freemen, and it is left to the discretion of the elders and the seven men for the time being whether maids shall be taught with the boys or not. For the levying of this £20 yearly from the particular persons who ought to pay it according to this order it is further ordered that some man shall be appointed by the seven men for the time being to receive this, and on refusal to levy it by distress and not finding distress such person as so refuseth payment shall forfeit the land he hath in propriety in said island.

Here the first teacher was the Rev. Thomas Waterhouse.—Chicago Tribune.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. This signature E. W. Grove on every box, 25c

MAMMOTH SALE

CHOICE HOUSE LOTS.

Bigelow Park,

ENTIRE WEEK.

1.30 to 5 P. M.

May 25 to May 30, 1903.

May 22. lp-1w

E. M. MAXWELL,
DRESSMAKING.

Ladies' Tailor Made Suits a specialty. Altering and Repairing neatly and promptly attended to No. 3 South Central Avenue, corner Newport Avenue, Wollaston, Mass.
May 18. 6t

FREDERICK H. LORD,
TEACHER OF BANJO,
Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.
TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.
118 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 7. tf

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.

Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan28-1y

Cracker Sale

THIS WEEK AT

PRATT'S.

Grahams,	8 cts. pound.
Grandmother's Cookies,	8 cts. pound.
Butter Thins,	13 cts. pound.
Susie Wilson's	10 cts. pound.
Saltines,	13 cts. pound.

About 150 different kinds of

KENNEDY CRACKERS

At Wholesale Prices.

Boston Branch Grocery,
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these many days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.

PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARD.

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS.

Three minutes from South Station.

LEDGER ADS PAY BEST
TRY ONE AND SEE

mmer Shoes,

ning season will be very much in ment of Oxford Ties in the latest ds of Leather.

m $1.00 to $3.50.
m $1.25 to $3.50.
$1.00, $1.25.
$1.50, $2.00.
$1.25, $1.75.
75c., 90c., $1.00.

Leaders.
das for Men.
er for Women.

V. JONES,
, - QUINCY.

TODAY. be too late.
and upward per $1,000.
ures on our Endowment Policies
UNE 1st
NSURANCE CO., of New York.
NDBERG,
Brewers Corner, Quincy.
6t

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.
Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant. Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree. Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

Cracker Sale
THIS WEEK AT
PRATT'S.
ahams, 8 cts. pound.
randmother's Cookies, 8 cts. pound.
utter Thins, 13 cts. pound.
isie Wilson's 10 cts. pound.
altines, 13 cts. pound.
About 150 different kinds of
KENNEDY CRACKERS
At Wholesale Prices.
oston Branch Grocery,
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

ns and Outs of Overcoats.

COPYRIGHT.
T OF THE WINTER COAT INTO E SPRING WEIGHT
is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS
. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
e minutes from South Station.
DGER ADS PAY BEST
TRY ONE AND SEE

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 121. QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, MAY 23, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

Hundreds
— OF —
VALUABLE PRESENTS
ABSOLUTELY FREE.
Whether you purchase a Lot or not.
Bigelow Park,
ENTIRE WEEK.
1.30 to 5 P. M.
May 25 to May 30, 1903.
Quincy, May 22. tf

COPYRIGHT

Don't Spend Money
Where the goods are not the equivalent. It is so easy to buy right that buying wrong is nothing short of extravagance. Whatever you fancy in the line of is here—if it's good. And the prices are reasonable. If you pay less you get less. If you pay more you do not get better quality.
CLOTHING

STRAW HATS
ARE NOW RIPE.
You can pick them at 25c., 50c., 98c., $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50
each and they are good values all along the line.
Yours for Honest Values.
F. D. FELLOWS CO.,
Reliable One Price Clothiers, Hatters and Furnishers.
Adams Building, City Square, Quincy, Mass.
WE GIVE TRADING STAMPS.
Store open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.
May 21. l--th., Fri., Sat.,--po-tf

Reupholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE
HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.
Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.
Call and get Prices.
C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.
Quincy, May 2. 1m

ERIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.
Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass
May 7. 1m

FREDERICK H. LORD,
TEACHER OF BANJO,
Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.
TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITUERS.
118 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 7.

LEDGER ADS PAY BEST
TRY ONE AND SEE

Glenwood Ranges
Make Cooking Easy.
H. L. KINCAIDE & CO., QUINCY, MASS.

"IN THE SPRINCTIME
A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of
BICYCLES.
I am not pledged, or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:
YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FA\;
And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the
"OLD RELIABLE"
REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.
JOHN H. GILLIS.
Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Blo k, Quincy, Mass
April 30. 1m

W. A. BRADFORD.
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,
Jobbing Promptly Attended To.
ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.
New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street, F. F Crane's Store. Old Telephone Number, 122-2.
April 21. tf

Feeling tired out?
Appetite Poor?
Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?
What you need is a Spring Tonic.
Try a bottle of
ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.
60 cts. per bottle.
CHARLES C. HEARN.
PHARMACIST,
1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat.
Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful
NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE
at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.
Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.
Quincy, May 9. 1m

ORDER NOW FOR DECORATION DAY
--YOUR--
Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.
MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.
63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works.
P. GREEN, Proprietor.
Telephone 64-5 Quincy

The Social Realm.

Live in the sunshine, don't live in the gloom,
Carry some gladness the world to illume.
Live in the brightness, and take this to heart,
The world will be gayer if you'll do your part.
Live on the housetop, not down in the cell;
Open-air Christians live nobly and well.
Live where the joys are, and, scorning defeat,
Have a good morrow for all whom you meet.
Live as a victor, and triumphing go
Through this queer world, beating down every foe.
Live in the sunshine, God meant it for you!
Live as the robbins and sing the day through.
—Margaret E. Sangster.

* * *

May seems to be the month to bring to a close social life indoors, with its rounds of receptions, whist parties, literary and social clubs and to enjoy outdoor life with golf, tennis, lawn parties, rambles in the woods, besides looking forward to June weddings. The present month has been so warm many are closing their houses and going to the beaches or the country, earlier than usual.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coe of Billings street have gone on a short trip through the Southern states.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Buckingham of Alleyne terrace are talking of leasing the Rice house on Goffe street as Mrs. Howes her young charges expect to move to Boston in the fall.

* * *

Mrs. C. H. Sprague and Miss Sprague of Braintree returned Wednesday after a five weeks' stay in Atlantic City, Washington, New York and Sharon, Conn.

* * *

Eighteen from the Quincy Mansion school went to see the dramatization of Tennyson's "Princess" at the Goddard gymnasium Tuesday evening at Tufts college.

* * *

Mr. Lawrence Sturtevant returned the first of the week from a few weeks' trip.

* * *

The spread at the Cochato club last Saturday evening was very tempting, consisting of rarebit made and served by the committee; Mrs. Small and Miss Pray, assisted by Mrs. Wales, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Kneeland and Mrs. Weldon Reynolds. It is said, the original plan of having the gentlemen serve will be carried out this evening.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin P. Horton, of Putnam street are receiving congratulations on the birth, Wednesday, of a son and daughter.

* * *

The closing meeting of the Junior Friday club, is to be held on Monday afternoon with Mrs. Jesse Litchfield of Brook street, Wollaston. It will be a social and business meeting with the election of officers for 1903-4.

* * *

Mr. B. F. Dyer and Miss Annie K. Dyer are enjoying the breezes at Atlantic City.

* * *

The wedding of Mr. Edward L. Goodridge of Granite street and Miss Alice Wales Baker of Randolph is to be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Wales Baker, on Wednesday evening, June 10th. Only the immediate relatives will be present.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Parker of Dixwell avenue, have taken a cottage at Post Island for the summer and will move down for Memorial day.

* * *

Mr. J. Henry Emery and Mr. Joseph C. Morse are at Rangeley Lakes, Maine, on a two weeks' fishing trip.

* * *

Henry O. Studley of this city attended yesterday a family reunion at the old homstead at Norwell. A sister of Mr. Studley died in infancy, but he has never lost a brother, and on this occasion all six were present, the first time all have met together except once in 35 years. The oldest is 70 and the youngest 55.

* * *

Saturday, Mrs. Albert E. Legg of Braintree entertained three of her former class-mates, Miss Caldwell of the Monatiquot school and Miss Bates and Miss Westgate of Woodward Institute, Quincy.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Sawtelle, nee Graham, of 14 Alleyne Terrace, are receiving congratulations on the birth yesterday of a son and heir.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. C. Nelson Smith are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter born yesterday.

Much interest is being taken in the fair to be held on Thursday, June eleventh at the home of Miss Beale, Adams street, in aid of the nurses' home, something much needed at the Hospital to make life easier and pleasanter for the faithful nurses who minister to the sick brought to the Hospital for treatment. All should contribute and help along the cause and put the date down on their calendar so as to attend.

* * *

Mrs. C. F. H. Crathern, who has been in New York the past few weeks, returned Wednesday.

* * *

The wedding of Miss Miriam Blagden Lane and Mr. Harry L. Patten both of Braintree and well known to Quincy young people, is to be solemnized next Wednesday evening at the First Congregational church, Braintree.

* * *

Miss Alice Keith Prescott is in South Framingham for a few days, the guest of Miss Katherine Lewis.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Poole have closed their house Braintree for a few weeks, which they will spend in New York with their daughters, Mrs. Grover and Mrs. Peterson.

* * *

A special meeting of the Daughters of the Revolution is to be held this afternoon at two o'clock at hotel Vendome, Boston. Chapter regents are to tell of the work of their chapters and there will be reports from the annual meeting held recently in New York, followed by refreshments. A large delegation from Adams chapter is to attend.

* * *

Mr. William B. Rice of Adams street sails for Europe in a few weeks taking with him his niece Miss Mildred Rice of Goffe street.

* * *

Rev. E. N. Hardy was elected on the executive committee at the general association of Congregational churches at Great Barrington on Wednesday.

* * *

The wedding of Miss Mirian Lane and Mr. Harry L. Patten will take place in the First church Braintree, next Wednesday evening.

* * *

The Monday Evening club of Atlantic, will bring its meetings to a close next Monday evening when the annual business meeting for the election of officers for 1903-4 will be held. The meetings during the winter have been very enjoyable as well as profitable.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Marr of 145 Hamden circle, have issued cards for the wedding of their daughter, Julia Adline and Mr. Herbert F. Hatch, on Wednesday afternoon, June tenth at half after two.

* * *

Owing to a mistake Quincy is to have the pleasure of having two visits from Gov. Bates, the first one this afternoon when he will be entertained by the Junior Sons and Daughters of the Revolution, and again on Saturday June 13th when he will assist at the flag raising of the Daughters of the Revolution on the lawn of the John Adams birthplace. His first visit will be informal and the one on flag day, official with members of his staff in uniform. Gov. Bates will make a brief address. Prominent officials and members of the Adams family have accepted invitations to be present at the flag raising.

* * *

Rev. Joseph Kyte and wife of Braintree have returned from a four months' visit with their daughter in Washington.

* * *

Miss Nellie Reynolds of North Easton is the guest of Quincy friends.

* * *

Dr. Charles S. Adams gave a lecture on Thursday before the ladies at the Physiological Institute, Boston, on "Preventation of disease."

* * *

Mrs. Charles A. Winslow of Edwards street, returned Thursday from New York, where she has been visiting for several weeks, going over for the wedding of her niece.

* * *

Mr. James F. Harlow moved from Edwards street this week. He is somewhat improved in health.

—Miss Mary Pretty, who is employed in the Patent Office at Washington, has come into fame by reason of her speed as a typewriter, she having a record of twenty-four thousand words in six hours.

GOV. BATES.

A Guest of Children of Quincy Today.

Wife and Parents Also Expected.

Mayor Bryant Will Meet Party at Quincy Depot.

The coming of the Governor of the Commonwealth to Quincy this afternoon will not be heralded by guns or a brass band. According to wish of His Excellency, the visit will be quiet and informal. He has accepted an invitation of the Junior Society of Adams Chapter, to meet the children at the birthplace of President John Adams, and is expected to address them briefly.

In the party will be the Governor's wife, and the parents of Governor, Rev. and Mrs. L. B. Bates. Rev. Dr. Bates is a well-known evangelical minister, and the elder Mrs. Bates is a splendid example of the old-school type of wife and mother. Both are very proud of the success of the Governor.

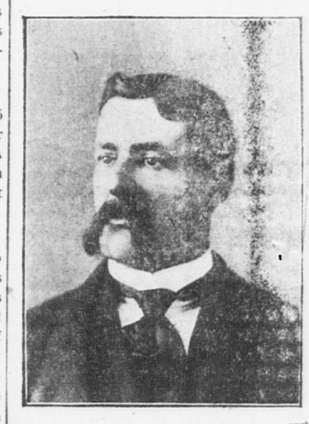

Gov. Bates is but 43 years of age, and North Easton was his birthplace. He is prominent in church organizations and trust company, a 33d degree Mason an Odd Fellow, a member of the Royal Arcanum, A. O. U. W., Pilgrim Fathers, and other societies.

Mayor Bryant and Miss Mary E. Nigotingale, director of the Junior Society, will meet the Governor at the Quincy station at 2.49 and escort the party first to the shrine beneath the pillars of the First church, and then to the birthplace of President John Adams.

Dr. W. D. Holmes.

The news of the sudden death of Dr. Holmes in New York on Wednesday of this week came as a terrible shock to all who knew him.

Just a week ago Dr. and Mrs. Holmes started on a trip to New York and Washington, and were staying at the Marlboro House, Astoria, when he was taken ill on Monday.

It was a case of partial sunstroke, aggravated by the continued heat of the following days, and on Wednesday evening at six o'clock the end came. Mrs. Holmes returned with the body to South Braintree Friday morning.

Funeral services will be held at the M. E. church Sunday at three o'clock and the burial will be at Woodlawn cemetery at the convenience of the family.

Dr. Todd's Farewell.

At the Water Street Presbyterian church on Sunday at the morning service, the Rev. Dr. Todd, the pastor will give his last special message to the church members and adherents. In the evening the Rev. Samuel Freuder, formerly a Jewish Rabbi, now a christian minister of the gospel, will speak. Subject: "From Sinai to Calvary." A retiring silver collection will be taken up at the close. Mr. Freuder comes highly commended and his visit is specially appropriate at this time of Russian Jewish massacres.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

WOMAN'S WORLD

MISS FLORENCE CORBETT.

A Clever Young Woman Who Is an Expert on Dietetics.

Miss Florence Corbett, consulting dietitian, is one of the most important officials of the charities department of Brooklyn, and her work is all of a scientific nature.

"Look into this! See about this! How are meals cooked at the almshouse? How are the kitchens and dining rooms at the Metropolitan hospital arranged with relation to each other? Taking into account the money spent at that institution, could better results be obtained for the same expenditure? Is the service all it might be here, and might not the food be made more appetizing there?"

These are samples of the questions the commissioner brings up almost daily before his consulting dietitian.

Miss Florence Corbett was one of the students in the Kansas State Agricultural college a few years ago, working on foods, general science, biology, physiology, diet, domestic science. Even then she had a clear ambition of what she wanted to do. Completing her course there, she took a postgraduate course, not neglecting to get a good practical knowledge of how to cook thoroughly and well. Then she came east and took two terms, or about two-thirds of a year, at the Pratt institute in domestic science. Equipped for her novel profession as well as the technical schools could make her, she got a post in the Elizabeth hospital, half as scientist, half as practical executive, seeing to everything from the moment the raw material came out of the storeroom until it was finally served to patients, nurses and staff.

MISS FLORENCE CORBETT.

But in Elizabeth there was too small a field. Her work was too varied in the Elizabeth hospital, with too little of a chance to bring her scientific acquirements and practical theories into play. The ground was, however, broken. She had made a start, and a substantial one, and when some months later she got into communication with Dr. Duryea of the Kings County hospital and outlined to him her ambitions and the possibilities of the profession she was pioneering Dr. Duryea decided that this was just the sort of official he needed.

At the Kings County hospital Miss Corbett was dietitian, and she still remains on the city pay roll as such, though now in the charities department central office her duties are very different. Her advancement is exceptionally interesting, for her studies and investigations as an expert in all matters that concern food, its preparation and its service may quite possibly bring about great changes in the conduct of all the institutions under the city's charge.

This is the first time the dietary of charitable institutions in any American city has been subjected to scientific study.—Brooklyn Eagle.

A Well Bred Woman.

Always and ever the young woman in public places shows her breeding to the observing stranger, first by her walk, sedate, yet with buoyancy that does not attract undue attention, then by her talk, which is in well modulated tones, designed for the ear of the person whom she is addressing and not pitched in such a key and delivered in such a style as to impress one that she is talking for the benefit of the strangers around her—a foolish vanity which some are known to indulge in—also, good breeding is shown in her general manner, which, if it betrays native vivacity in unguarded moments, does not give way to vehement gestures or a dramatic display of facial expression better suited to the stage, and, lastly, count dress among these things, since it declares the choice of the individual very particularly, says a writer in Modern Woman. Happy she whose purse is measured to her taste! Perhaps she is happier whose taste is fitted to the purse, but may the taste be not for what is gaudy or extravagant merely, but for things adequate, elegant and appropriate—things such as enhance a woman's beauty and hang upon her body more as suggestions of the soul's enrichment than as an advertisement of the skill of the highest priced milliners and modistes.

Wife and Partner.

Marriage is a partnership in a special sense, in which the man is generally the breadwinner, but it by no means follows that the woman is merely an ornament or a doll arrayed in pretty dresses or house gowns. In the ideal home the wife bears her share of the burdens that must come, it would seem, to us all. She keeps the house more or less elaborate, according to the circumstances. If she has one servant or more her burdens take other forms than if she did her own work. If she has children there is the responsibility of caring for them. The mother's influence upon her children for good or evil is very great. If there are guests at the home the matter of entertainment devolves largely upon the wife. Her duties are multifarious, and when she has done all she is expected to be a companion for her husband and to be interested in the things in which he is interested. All this is just as much contribution to the household happiness and comfort as the money the husband brings home every week. In business matters the wife should be treated like a business partner; she should have an allowance and should not have a false sentiment about asking for it.—Woman's Home Companion.

Make Baby Comfortable.

Don't make baby's dress too tight, says a writer in Good Housekeeping. Many a baby frets and cries simply because the little arms are restricted, or the neckband is too tight. By making baby's first clothes large you will save yourself much extra work and many fretful days. My baby wore her first dresses until she wore them out, some being in use when she was two and a half years old. No change was necessary save in length of skirt. Recently I saw a big, overgrown baby of six months whose yoke met only at one button. I asked the mother if I might loosen the clothes. I did so and found that the sleeves, made for a small baby, now cut into the fat arms. The baby at once stopped fretting.

Cheese Fondue.

Savarin's famous recipe for cheese fondue is worth preserving and should be pasted on the fly leaf of the cookbook most often in use. "Take first as many eggs as there are guests and then about one-third as much by weight of the best Gruyere cheese and half of that of butter. Break and beat up the eggs well in a saucepan, then add the butter and the cheese, grated or cut into small pieces. Place the saucepan on the fire and stir with a wooden spoon until it is of a soft consistence; put in salt according to the age of the cheese and a strong dose of pepper, that being a special attribute of this ancient dish, and finally let it be brought to the table on a hot dish."

The Ready Made Hat.

A girl having good taste and whose observation of the smartest hat models leads her to fix in her mind certain modes of trimming may with very little expense add lace, ribbon or a spray of flowers to the ready made hats sold at so moderate a price at the department shops. This is the cheapest way to secure a pretty hat. Those who wear them as they are sold usually appear most commonplace in them, while those who invest them with a fashionable air are never suspected of their amateur cleverness, so professional does the hat look on their heads.—Buffalo News.

The Neck.

Nearly every woman believes that a black velvet band brightens the beauty of her neck when in low corsage. Especially if it be long and slender does she insist upon putting black velvet or a narrow necklace about it, and thus she makes it look even longer and more slender. The effect is to make the neck appear longer and the face thinner. It is the stout woman with a too plump neck who may thus decorate herself.

Shirt Buttonholes.

When shirts give out at the buttonholes, take a piece of linen tape as wide as the neckband and put a piece inside and outside about an inch each side of the buttonhole. Overcast it neatly at top and sew down flat. Then cut and make a new buttonhole over the old one. It will last the shirt out. When laundered, you would hardly know it had been mended.

Home Corned Beef.

Home corned beef is better than that corned in the market. Make the brine of two quarts of water, two cupfuls of salt and two teaspoonfuls of saltpeter. Put it in a covered jar. Turn the beef when it has been in the brine for two days and allow it to stay in for two or three days longer. The rump is the best piece for corning.

Discolored Piano Keys.

Discolored piano keys can with care be restored to their proper color. Dilute one ounce of nitric acid in ten ounces of soft water. Apply this liquid to the ivory with a brush, taking care that none of it touches the wood on which the ivory is veneered. Wash off the acid with a piece of flannel dipped in clean water.

An Enameled Floor.

An excellent way for treating the floor of a girl's bedroom is to enamel it in some pretty art color and have a rug on it. Such a floor is easily kept clean, always looks dainty and, if given a thin coat of enamel every year, can be kept in good condition.

The brush and tray service for the removal of crumbs from the tablecloth is out of date. Use a folded napkin and a plate or one of the silver scrapers that come for the purpose.

Let the home be cheerful, a place where the husband or son, when returned from his daily toil, may find a haven of rest, an oasis in the desert.

The stout girl must gain control over her waist and abdominal muscles. She must sit and stand correctly.

A little lemon juice in the shampoo water will lighten the hair.

OPPOSITION TO TRUSTS

In Bill Passed by the Massachusetts House

COAL STRIKE RESPONSIBLE

For Measure Reported by Investigating Committee to Prevent Combinations to Enhance or Control Prices of Commodities In Bay State

Boston, May 23.—The coal strike is responsible for the passage through the Massachusetts legislature of a most drastic piece of legislation in the form of the "anti-trust" bill reported by the special coal investigating committee. This bill is senate No. 374 which is as follows:

"Any person, firm or corporation who shall enter into any agreement, oral or written, express or implied, the purpose, intent or effect of which, in whole or in part, is to enhance or maintain prices of any article of merchandise, or to compel, induce or persuade any person, firm or corporation by the offering of any advantage, benefit or emolument, financial or otherwise, or by the imposition of any penalty, in any form whatsoever, to sell or distribute the same to any person, firm or corporation, upon any terms or conditions, except such as the vendor and vendee, or distributor or distributee, may freely, and without control or dictation, determine between themselves, shall be punished by a fine not to exceed $500, or by imprisonment not exceeding three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

This bill was reported in the senate on May 5, was ordered to a third reading on May 6, and was passed to be engrossed on May 7—all without debate. It was received in the house on May 11 and, after several postponements, was assigned to yesterday. Mr. Skerett of Worcester said this was a question whether or not the members were willing to go on record as in favor of the corporations and against the interests of the people. The coal investigation committee was appointed to formulate some method of preventing such combinations as that which prevailed in the coal business last winter and has done so in this bill, which was drafted by the attorney general. The bill would meet such conditions as those which prevailed last winter.

Mr. Cole of Andover said in legislating for the coal difficulty the house had no right to go further and stifle every other business in the state. The laborer has but one thing to sell and that is his labor. Under the present law labor may organize; under this law the man who forms a combination to sell the product of labor would be criminally liable.

Mr. Underhill of Somerville said the trust was a good thing for the small dealer, as is fixes prices, and the small dealer can compete with the large one.

Mr. Kiley of Boston said the opponents of the measure do not offer any solution of the situation which would be any better or as good as this bill. He recalled the fact that the farmers were obliged to rise up en masse to protect themselves against the milk dealers' trust.

Mr. Taft of Worcester asked if the combination of farmers to protect themselves would not have been illegal under this act. The bill expressly states that no person, firm or corporation "shall enter into any agreement, oral or written, express or implied, the purpose, intent or effect of which is to enhance or maintain prices," etc. To this Mr. Kiley was disingenous when he answered Mr. Taft's sharp question by saying that the farmers' combination would not be illegal because they had no "criminal intent."

Mr. Kiley said he knew there was a combination in cement dealers of Boston to prevent the sale of cement to be used on public work for less than a certain figure.

Mr. Hayes of Lowell said this bill would cripple every organization of farmers in their granges. The coal dealers could have been reached directly, without the enactment of a law which would affect every interest in the state.

Mr. Maloney of Ayer started to oppose the bill, but yielded to Mr. Dyar of Hyde Park for a question, and the latter made a speech in its favor.

Mr. Maloney said the bill might well punish the coal dealers, but no bill should be passed which would prevent the farmers from combining to get a fair price for their milk. If this bill is the common law already, such a bill as this is unnecessary.

Messrs. Drinkwater of Braintree, Buttimer of Hingham and Cunningham of Gloucester further defended the bill, while it was further opposed by Messrs. Dana of Newton and Mills of Fall River.

The amendment of Mr. Holmes of Boston to strike out the words under which the criminal intent of those combining could be shown was rejected.

By a vote of 72 to 63 the bill was ordered to a third reading.

Finnish Statesman Exiled

Helsingfors, Finland, May 23.—A decree of exile has been issued against former Senator Mochelin, who is now visiting Stockholm. Mr. Mochelin is one of the foremost Finnish statesmen and an authority on constitutional law.

MacCartney Close to Death

Rockland, Mass., May 23.—The condition of Representative Frederic O. MacCartney has grown steadily worse and it is feared he will not survive.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 24—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Power and prayer.—Acts i, 13, 14; ii, 1-4, 41.

That there is an intimate relation between power and prayer cannot for a single moment be doubted or denied. The arm that moves the world is the arm of God, and the human agency that reaches the arm of God is prayer. "Ask and ye shall receive, seek and ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you." Thus we have God's emphatic promise through His Son that He will answer prayer, and prayer thus becomes the means of our obtaining power from God.

The topical references in a striking manner illustrate the relation of power and prayer. In them we see the cause and the effect. Like links in a chain of consequences, they follow each other until the results are manifest. They begin with prayer and end with power. "These [the apostles and the women] all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication," praying undoubtedly for the Holy Ghost, who had been promised. And as a result of their prayers, "when the day of Pentecost was fully come, * * * they were all filled with the Holy Ghost." Peter under the power of the Holy Spirit preached to the people, and "then they that gladly received his word were baptized, and the same day there were added unto them about 3,000 souls." Thus we have the story of the great Pentecostal revival: First, prayer; second, the Holy Ghost as a result of prayer; third, 3,000 conversions as a result of the presence and power of the Holy Ghost.

Power and prayer go together in our personal lives. If as individuals we want spiritual power—power with God, power with ourselves and power with others—it must be obtained at the throne of grace. Prayer was the secret of Jacob's power. Persistent and earnest in prayer, he would not let the angel of the Lord go without his blessing and received the name of "Israel, for as a prince thou hast power with God and hast prevailed." Prayer was the secret of Elijah's power. By believing prayer he controlled the very elements, causing the rain to be sent or to be delayed. The Master Himself spent much time in prayer and especially when unusual manifestations of His power were desired. The throne of grace is our source of strength. If we would grow in grace, increase in power to resist temptation and be of personal efficient service for Christ, we must spend much time in prayer.

Prayer and power are also associated in our church life. It was the church that prayed and received the Holy Ghost and power. The church's power today comes from the same source and in the same way. "It is not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts." And God's spirit, as on Pentecost, comes in answer to united, earnest prayer.

BIBLE READINGS.

Gen. xxxii, 24-32; I Kings xviii, 31-39; Ps. cvii, 1-8; Isa. xl, 27-31; Zech. iv, 6; Matt. vii, 7, 8; Luke xviii, 10-14; Acts vi, 8; II Cor. xii, 7-9; Jas. v, 14-18.

A Well Known Endeavorer.

One of the best loved Endeavorers in New York and one widely known throughout the United States is Mr. H. A. Kinports, who since 1899 has held the position of state secretary for New York. For four years previous to that time he was treasurer of the state union. He has also served as president of the local union of New York city, one of the largest city unions in the world. As a convention speaker Mr. Kinports takes high rank, his addresses, full of vim and pith, always proving acceptable to Endeavor audiences. The "tour of the state" plan, which embraced an official visit to every county union in the state, was originated by Mr. Kinports.

H. A. KINPORTS.

Two Quiet Hour Thoughts.

Let us get away from the idea that the Quiet Hour is to fit us only for the other world. Let us rather think of it as a time to acquire power for practical duties and ability for common service.—Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D., at Troy Convention.

Untold possibilities of power lie open before us if by faith we appropriate the sweet invitation of our Saviour-King to enter into habitual heart fellowship with Him in the secret of His presence.—David McConaughy.

A Missionary Revival.

The way to get a missionary revival is to have a revival here at home. President Harrison once said, "The greatest need of the foreign fields is a revivified, reconsecrated and unified home church." We are helping missions in a very real way when we do anything to revive our own church.

Quiz Box.

[Any question may be asked that pertains to any phase of Christian Endeavor work. Address Lock Box 674, Binghamton, N. Y.]

No. 63. V. S. P., Tristates, N. Y.—Others than Christian Endeavorers may travel to Denver on the special convention trains if they so desire, but they must make arrangements for so doing through the state transportation managers.

No. 64. K. V. L., Troy, N. Y.—The New York state bulletin is called "Empire State Notes." It is issued quarterly at 10 cents the year. The place of publication is Binghamton, N. Y.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

The Prosperous Bugs

"Good morning, Higgy," said the hagglebug to the higglebug as they met on the street the other day. "How are you?"

"Very fine, I thank you, Haggy," replied the higglebug. "How are you?"

"Oh, I am always well," answered the hagglebug, "except now, you know, my business is brisk and I am just a wee bit overworked."

"Ah!" exclaimed the higglebug. "Lots of work? That's good. Let me congratulate you. I know just how it is, for, you see, my business is brisk, too, and I am afraid sometimes I will not be able to attend to it all. By the way, Haggy, what business are you in now?"

"I'M A DOCTOR," DECLARED THE HIGGLEBUG.

"I'm a barber," answered the hagglebug.

"A barber!" exclaimed the higglebug. "And what do you do as a barber?"

"Why, mercy, man, haven't you heard?" cried the hagglebug in surprise.

"No," said the higglebug. "What is it?"

"Well, the caterpillars have adopted the new style of having their heads bald, and my business is to shave the caterpillars. There are lots of them, and it keeps me busy day and night doing the work."

"You must be making a great deal of money," said the higglebug.

"Yes, indeed," replied the hagglebug. "By the way, what business are you in?"

"I'm a doctor," declared the higglebug.

"A doctor!" exclaimed the hagglebug. "And what do you do as a doctor?"

"My, my, my! Don't you know?" cried the higglebug in surprise.

"No," said the hagglebug. "What is it?"

"Well, the grasshoppers have adopted the new style of wearing long whiskers, and I furnish them with a face powder to bring out their beards. They use a great deal of the powder, and I am kept busy night and day mixing it for them."

"I suppose you will soon be rich," said the hagglebug.

"I hope so," responded the higglebug.

"Well, goodby, Higgy," said the hagglebug as he passed on down the street.

"Goodby, Haggy," answered the higglebug.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Hunger

when it comes and goes capriciously in children, is a sign of worms. The child is not nourished—it eats much and grows thin. Give

TRUE'S PIN WORM ELIXIR

A few doses removes the worms, acts as a tonic and the child is built up into health by the food it then digests. 35c. a bottle at druggist's. Write for booklet on Children's Diseases, free.

DR. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me.

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

ard off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy

Jan. 7. tf

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. 1p-2mos.

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLAS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

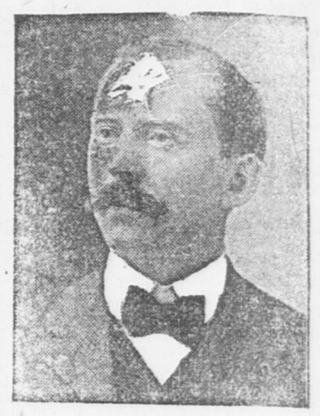

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 8-tf

SMOKE THE

COVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

On and after May 17, 1903, trains will run as follows:

[Subject to change without notice.]

TO BOSTON.			FROM BOSTON.
Leave Quincy.	Stops at	Arrive Boston.	Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy.
r *5 19	abcdefghi	5 47	*5 40	ihgfedcba	6 19 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 26	ad	7 45	8 28	cba	8 49 r
r 7 42	abc	8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 7 54	abcde	8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 8 12	abc	8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
r 8 26	abd	8 45	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 8 46	at cd	9 05	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	12 58	cba	1 19 r
r 9 42	abc	10 02	1 28	cba	1 49 r
r 10 12	abc	10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
r 10 42	abc	11 02	2 28	cba	2 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
r 12 12	abc	12 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
r 1 42	abc	2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 2 12	abc	2 32	4 45	edcba	5 08 r
r 3 12	abc	3 32	5 15	dba	5 36 r
r 3 42	abc	4 02	5 28	cba	5 49 r
r 4 12	abc	4 32	5 45	edcba	6 08 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 58	cba	6 19 r
r 5 29	abcdefghi	5 57	6 15	da	6 36 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 39	abcdefghi	8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r
r 9 34	abcdefghi	10 02	10 50	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
r 10 08	abcdef	10 32	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

r 7 42	abc	8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 8 42	abc	9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 45 r
9 33	a	9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 45 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 45 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 28	cba	5 49 r
r 6 03	abcdefghi	6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	8 43	(ex.)	9 00
r 10 18	abcdef	10 42	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r

• The letters in the same line as the figure stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a. Wollaston,
b, Norfolk Downs,
c, Atlantic,
d, Neponset,
e, Pope's Hill.
f, Harrison Square.
g, Savin Hill.
h, Crescent Avenue.
i, South Boston.
r, Quincy Adams.

PEN-ROYAL'S PILLS

original and ... SAFE. A specific ... CHICHESTER ... LISH ... R.D and Gold ... with ribbon. Take ... Refuse ... Dangerous Substi... tutions ... Drug... buy of your ... Inquire for Particulars ... monials ... "Relief for Ladies," ... by re... turn Mail. 10,000 ... Sold by ... all druggists. Chichester Chemical Co. ... Madison Square, Phila., Pa.

Mention this paper.

Vall Paper

irect from the Manufacture.

the jobbers and retailers profit. Send ples at once giving the number of rooms ve to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. 8, Buffalo, N. Y.

1. 1p-2mos.

W. PRATT,

LDER OF FIRST-CLAS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

SES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

RTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

save you 50 per cent. on your architect's r will furnish plans free with any lot of me.

mates given on new work

nnington St., Quincy Adams,

83-2. March 9-tf

SMOKE THE

COVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler matra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

y, Nov. 11. 1y

w York, New Haven
nd Hartford R. R.

and after May 17, 1903, trains will run
ws:

Subject to change without notice.]

BOSTON. Stops at	Arrive Boston.	FROM QUINCY. Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy.
abcdefghi	5 47	*5 50	ihgfedcba	6 19 r
abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
ad	7 45	8 28	cba	8 49 r
abc	8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
abcde	8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
abc	8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
abd	8 45	11 28	cba	11 49 r
abcd	9 05	12 28	cba	12 49 r ab	9 22	12 58	cba	1 19 r
abc	10 02	1 28	cba	1 49 r
abc	10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
abc	11 02	2 28	cba	2 49 r
abc	11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
abc	12 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
abc	1 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
abc	2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
abc	4 32	4 45	edcba	5 08 r
abc	1 32	5 15	dba	5 36 r
abc	4 02	5 28	cba	5 49 r
abc	4 32	5 45	edcba	6 08 r
abc	5 32	5 58	cba	6 19 r
abcdefghi	5 57	6 15	da	6 36 r
abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
abcdefghi	8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
abcdef	8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
abc	9 32	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r
abcdefghi	10 02	10 50	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
abcdef	10 32	11 28	cba	11 49 r
abc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

abc	8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
abc	9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
abc	9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 45 r
	9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
bcdefghi	11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 45 r
abc	1 32	3 16	ihgfedeba	3 45 r
abcdefghi	4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
abc	5 32	5 28	cba	5 49 r
abcdefghi	6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
abc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
abcdef	8 32	8 43	(ex.)	9 00
abcdef	10 42	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r

letters in the same line as the figure different stations and indicate that as follows:

ston,	f, Harrison Square.
lk Downs,	g, Savin Hill.
tic,	h, Crescent Avenue.
set,	i, South Boston.
Hill.	r, Quincy Adams.

ER'S

OYA LS

original and ... genuine ENGLISH
CHICHESTER ... sealed
Pill and Gold ... Refuse Dangerous Substi... inferior Relief for Ladies, ... by return Mail. 10,000 ... Sold by Chichester Chemical Co
Madison Square, Phila., Pa.

Swollen and tender feet quickly eased
by a lather of

PACKER'S
Tar Soap

Pure as the Pines.
Soothing and antiseptic.
Worth more than it costs.

At all druggists.

THE PACKER MFG. CO., 81 Fulton St., N. Y.

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,

In a variety of Styles and Prices.

Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.

These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you

C. S. HUBBARD.

City Square, Quincy.

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

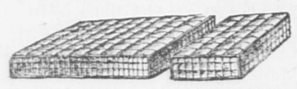

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder.

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

Restful Mattresses.

Just think, people everywhere trying to get enjoyment and comfort out of this life, and the queer thing about it all is, that very few start in the right place.

There isn't any money that will bring such rest and comfort to tired folks as the money you spend for one of our famous Cotton Felt Mattresses.

These Mattresses are as unlike the one you are now using, as night is unlike day. They are soft, soothing, springy, restful, dreamy. They fit the body from top to toe, and afford you rest, comfort and enjoyment, unequalled by anything else that money can buy in all this great world of ours.

They range in price from $7.50 to $15.00. We have them for immediate delivery.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON.

Quincy, April 23. tf

If You Have a House to Let,

Advertise It in the Ledger

CORRUPT CONSCIENCE

Of Russian "Society" Guided the Kishineff Mob

ARE COWARDLY SLAVES

In the Opinion of Novelist Gorki, Who Writes an Article on the Massacre—Photographs From the Scene Sustain Reports of Atrocities

Berlin, May 23.—Maxim Gorki, the Russian novelist, recently wrote an article on the Kishineff massacre for a Russian newspaper, but the censor refused to allow its publication. Gorki then sent the article to the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Frankfort Kliene Presse, which prints it. In the article Gorki says:

"Russia has been disgraced more and more frequently of recent years by dark deeds, but the most disgraceful of all is the horrible Jewish massacre at Kishineff. It would be unjust, and too simple to condemn the mob. The latter was merely the hand which was guided by a corrupt conscience, driving it to murder and robbery. For it is well known that the mob at Kishineff was led by men of cultivated society, which in Russia is really much worse than the people, who are goaded by their sad life and blinded and enthralled by the artificial darkness created around them.

"The cultivated classes are a crowd of cowardly slaves, without feeling of personal dignity, ready to accept every lie to save their ease and comfort; a weak and lawless element almost without conscience and without shame in spite of the elegant exterior.

"Its members' guilt consist in that not merely they did not protect the victims, but that they rejoiced over the murders. To all the shameful names hitherto given to these repulsive men must be added another, and the well deserved one, of instigators of village murder. These hypocrites, with the name of God on their lips, who preach in Russian society hatred of the Jews, Armenians and Finns, today heap base and cowardly calumnies upon the corpses of those killed through their influence, and they shamelessly continue their hateful work of poisoning the minds and feeling of the weak-willed Russian society.

"Shame upon their wicked heads. May the fire of conscience consume their decayed hearts, covetous only of lackey-like honors and slavishly obsequious to power. It is now the duty of Russian society that it not yet wholly ruined by these bandits to prove that it is not identified with these instigators of pillage and murder."

Official Accounts Contradicted

St. Petersburg, May 23.—Photographs from Kishineff which have been received here, besides fully sustaining the reports that the worst atrocities were committed during the outbreak against the Jews there, contradict the official account of the massacre and the stories printed in the Nationalist press. The people of Kishineff declare that no Christians received a gunshot wound and that there are no Christians in the hospitals. The Jews of Kishineff absolve Chief of Police Khaubenov and Lieutenant Governor Von Raaben, who have been dismissed, from complicity, but they charge the officials with inertia and cowardice.

Cassini and Hay Get Crank Letters

Washington, May 23.—Crank letters are now appearing in the mail of the Russian ambassador, Count Cassini. They criticise his utterances and attack his arguments concerning the character of the Russian Jews. Secretary Hay is also getting his share of such communications. These letters, however, give no serious concern to either the secretary or the ambassador. As things now stand it is said that there is nothing for the state department to do. There is not believed to be any danger of a recurrence of anti-Jewish outbreaks. As to the threatened immigration to the United States of swarms of Jewish refugees from Russia, it is said that the state department must await an appeal from the treasury department if that department finds itself unable to keep out objectionable immigrants.

Resignation Rumor Untrue

Washington, May 23.—The state department cabled United States Minister Beaupre at Bogota an inquiry as to the accuracy of the report that President Marroquin had resigned. The answer has come in the following terms: "President has not resigned."

Death In Kansas Cyclone

Topeka, May 23.—A tornado at Clay Centre last night killed two girls and injured others. Half the town is reported blown away.

On the Diamond

At Boston—National—Cincinnati, 8; Boston, 4.
At Brooklyn—National—Pittsburg, 12; Brooklyn, 5.
At New York—National—New York, 8; St. Louis, 1.
At Philadelphia—National—Chicago, 8; Philadelphia, 4.
At St. Louis—American—St. Louis, 6; Boston, 4.
At Chicago—American—Chicago, 2; New York, 1.
At Manchester—Manchester, 8; Haverhill, 2.
At Concord—Concord, 10; Brockton, 4.
At Lawrence—Lawrence, 6; Lowell, 3.
At Nashua—Nashua, 8; Fall River, 2.

AFFIDAVIT SIGNED

Mrs Cohen Agrees to the Prosecution of Moody Merrill

Boston, May 23.—Mrs. Sarah Cohen of Blue Hill avenue has been found. Her name has been prominently mentioned in connection with the criminal proceedings against Moody Merrill, alias Colonel C. F. Grayson, who is held in $1000 bail in New York city to appear in the police court of that city on Tuesday next, in connection with proceedings in which the authorities of Suffolk county are trying to get the man back to Boston. She will appear against Merrill if he is extradited from New York.

Mrs. Cohen, accompanied by her counsel, appeared at the office of District Attorney Stevens and signed an affidavit, such as usually accompanies the requisition papers sent to other states asking for the return of a fugitive. The affidavit was in effect that Mrs. Cohen, as one of the principal complaining witnesses against Merrill, swore that she made the complaint against him in good faith, solely for the purpose of punishing him for the crime of embezzling $13,000 from her, and that she does not desire or expect to use the criminal process of getting the fugitive back to Boston for civil purposes.

Sherwood Led Double Life

Westport, Conn., May 23.—It is learned that the amount of defalcation of Oliver Sherwood, former cashier of the Westport National bank, will reach very close to $200,000. The officials of the bank will not confirm this insofar as it relates to exact figures, but they admit that the loss to the bank is much more serious than was at first supposed. Not the least disturbing feature of the case, so far as Sherwood's relatives are concerned, is the fact that the young man has been leading a double life for some time past. Mrs. Sherwood is prostrated with grief because of her husband's actions.

Linemen May Go Out

Bridgeport, Conn., May 23.—The only development in the trolley strike is the probability that all the linemen employed in this city will go out on a sympathetic strike. It is not probable that the strike will in any way cripple the company. The crews of the four express cars running between New Haven and Norwalk were called out by the union because the manager of the line has been riding on the cars in Bridgeport.

Master Bakers Yielding

New Haven, May 23.—The present indications are that a settlement of the bakers' strike in this city will be affected at a meeting of the journeymen and master bakers to be held today. Three master bakers have signed the agreement and it is expected that a majority of the other bakers in the city will follow suit. The master bakers will concede the demand that day work only be required.

Shovelers Buried Under Coal

New Haven, May 23.—Four coal shovelers were buried under about 100 tons of coal by the collapse of a bulkhead in a scow moored under a coal pocket at Belle dock. Charles E. Anderson was killed instantly, while James Garvey, Martin McCarthy and Michael Dwyer were seriously injured. Medical Examiner Bartlett has begun an investigation.

Arrest In Broad Murder Case

Cornish, Me., May 23.—Arthur S. Lane, aged 22 years, was arraigned last night before trial Justice Randall, charged with the murder of Miss Olive Broad, Aug. 20 last, in a wood road between the Cornish railroad station and the village. The case was continued until next Friday. Until then he will be confined in the Saco jail.

Engine Dropped Into Pit

Rockport, Mass., May 23.—A misplaced switch sent an engine into the turntable pit just beyond the station here last night, and the outcome is a wrecked machine and tender. The baggage car of the train was overturned. The engineer and fireman jumped and escaped with bruises. Four or five passengers were shaken up.

Tremont Temple to Call Lorimer

Boston, May 23.—Tremont Temple church voted last night to extend a call to Rev. Dr. Lorimer to become its pastor by a vote of 394 yeas to 189 nays. On the vote to make the vote unanimous there were 446 yeas and 56 nays. Even Dr. Lorimer's supporters did not seem very enthusiastic over the result of the meeting.

House of Correction Sentences

Springfield, Mass., May 23.—Found guilty of the larceny of $2600 from the Westfield Saving bank, Frederick M. Hunt, Edward A. Fox and James Richardson of this city were sentenced respectively to three, two and one years in the house of correction. The trial lasted an entire week.

Shot Brother In Arms

Hartford, Vt., May 23.—William H. Pierce twice shot, but did not seriously wound, his brother, Charles, on the farm on which Charles worked. A bullet struck each arm. Charles did not know of his brother's presence until the shots were fired. William is thought to be mentally ill.

Ex-Shool Teacher Burned to Death

Providence, May 23.—Mrs. Lucinda G. Maxfield, 72 years old, formerly a teacher in the public schools, died of injuries sustained as a result of her clothing catching fire at her home. The cause of the fire which set her clothing ablaze has not been learned.

Eight-Hour Bill Rejected

Boston, May 23.—The state senate rejected without debate the bill to constitute eight hours a maximum day's work for public employes.

CUBAN TREATY SIGNED

No Change In Proposals of the United States

THE PLATT AMENDMENT

Embodied In Its Entirety In the Document—We Hold Right to Intervene For Preservation of Cuban Independence—Two Questions Unsettled

Havana, May 23.—The permanent treaty between the United States and Cuba, in which is incorporated all the provisions of the Platt amendment, was signed yesterday afternoon by Secretary of State Zaldo and United States Minister Squiers, who were constituted special plenipotentiaries for that purpose by their respective governments.

The permanent treaty contains provisions for its abrogation and no extraneous conditions of any kind. It simply incorporates the entire Platt amendment into the form of a treaty. The delay in the negotiations was principally due to the fact that the Cuban government desired to include in the treaty various extraneous conditions, especially one to the effect that there should be no intervention in Cuban affairs by the United States except through the initiative of the president of Cuba. All these conditions were rejected.

Washington, May 23.—Minister Squiers has been at work for several months in the negotiations with the Cuban government which were concluded by the signing of the permanent treaty which includes, word for word, the provisions of the Platt amendment. This amendment was made a part of the army appropriation act of the second session of the Fifty-Sixth congress. It therefore became a law of the United States. Later it was added by the Cubans as an appendix to the constitution adopted by them. Its incorporation into the form of a treaty is in accordance with provision 8 of the amendment, which specified by way of "further provisions into a permanent treaty with the United States."

These provisions succinctly stated are as follows:

Cuba is never to enter into any treaty or other compact with any foreign power which will impair or tend to impair its independence.

The government is not to assume nor contract any public debt to pay the interest upon which and to make reasonable sinking fund provision for the ultimate payment of which the ordinary revenues of the island, after paying the government expenses, shall be inadequate.

Cuba consents that the United States may intervene for the preservation of Cuban independence. Cuba ratifies all acts of the United States in Cuba done during the military occupation.

Cuba will make provision for the sanitation of the cities of the island to the end that a recurrence of epidemic and infectious diseases may be prevented.

While the "permanent treaty" negotiated by Minister Squiers contains the provisions of the Platt amendment regarding the Isle of Pines and the acquisition of coaling stations by the United States, the final settlement of these questions, which will involve the ownership of the Isle of Pines and the specific location of the coaling stations, will be made the subject of a special treaty or treaties between the United States and Cuba.

License Commissioners Removed

Lawrence, Mass., May 23.—Mayor Grant removed from office last night the three license commissioners, Messrs. Bradley, Patch and Coughlin, after considering the evidence submitted at the recent hearing upon the charges which he preferred against the commissioners. It is expected that Mayor Grant will appoint a new commission today and they will assume the duties of the office as soon as they are sworn in.

Pensions For Deserving Poor

London, May 23.—In the course of a discussion in the house of commons of the old age pension bill, which ultimately passed its second reading and was referred to a select committee for further consideration, Colonial Secretary Chamberlain spoke favorably of the general question of pensions for the deserving poor.

Fifty-Cent Dollars For Mexico

El Paso, Tex., May 23.—Mexico will soon have a stable dollar fixed at a non-fluctuating value of 50 cents. This comes to El Paso from official sources. It is said Mexico's financiers will never permit silver to be secondary in the republic. They will allow it to be the coin of the realm, however, only at a fixed ratio.

Assaulted His Stepdaughter

Bainbridge, Ga., May 23.—William Hopkins, a negro, charged with assaulting his 9-year-old stepdaughter at Babcock, was shot to death by a mob at Whites Mill. Hopkins was taken from a train upon which he was being conveyed to jail by an officer. The negro confessed the crime.

Brakeman Held For Manslaughter

South Norwalk, Conn., May 23.—Probable cause was found in the case of Dennis Dowd, a railroad brakeman, charged with manslaughter in causing the death of Eugene Cavanaugh in a collision of trains in this city. He was held for the superior court.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Business Somewhat Handicapped by Hot Weather and Labor Troubles

New York, May 23.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Weather conditions and the labor situation are the dominant influences in the business world. Unseasonably high temperature at many points, especially in the east, stimulated retail trade in wearing apparel and other summer merchandise to an unusual degree, but had a most unsatisfactory effect upon vegetation, which was promptly reflected in diminished orders for supplies and in some cases there were cancellations.

On the whole there are fewer wage earners voluntarily idle, yet the spirit of unrest has caused the abandonment of some new enterprises and postponement of others, which means less demand for structural materials and labor. Aside from these two adverse factors the trade situation is favorable. Manufacturing plants are generally well occupied, especially in footwear, iron and steel. Traffic on the railways is heavy.

Advances of about 5 percent in wide sheetings indicate that the cotton goods market is beginning to respond to the higher raw material. A still more encouraging sign is the greater interest displayed by purchasers, although this has not materially increased business, owing to a corresponding reserve on the part of sellers. There is great reluctance among mill owners to contract for distant delivery, and a further curtailment is noted in productive capacity. Warm weather stimulates activity in wash goods for quick delivery.

Helped Country In Time of Need

Malden, Mass. May 23.—Judge John W. Pettengill died suddenly last evening from heart trouble at his residence, aged 67. He was born in Salisbury, N. H., in 1836 of Puritan ancestry. In 1856 he became connected with the editorial department of the Independent Democrat of Concord, N. H., and while there began the study of law. He was a brilliant speaker in his younger days and was sent by the national Republican committee into Illinois in 1859 and 1860 to stump the state for Lincoln. At the opening of the Civil war he organized a company in Charlestown which he equipped at his own expense and sent to the front. In 1874 he was appointed judge of the First district court of eastern Middlesex, which position he held until his death.

Wholesale Tax Dodging Alleged

Swampscott, Mass., May 23.—The board of assessors of Swampscott was in session last night, but the members decline to discuss publicly the relation of the town toward the estate of Arioch Wentworth. One member did say, however, that the town would endeavor to obtain all that was due it, going back three years in its claims. The Wentworth will shows that the estate located in this town is worth $3,000,000, instead of $300,000, as sworn to by Wentworth, and on which he was taxed.

Ex-Bank Treasurer Goes to Prison

Worcester, Mass., May 23.—Walter S. V. Cooke pleaded guilty in superior court to a charge of larceny of $21,000 from Milford Co-operative bank, of which he was former treasurer, and was sentenced to not less than six or more than eight years in state prison. The court took no action on an indictment of forgery against Cooke.

Fatal Attack by Elephant

Atchison, Kas., May 23.—William Geary, an employe of a Wild West show, was attacked by an elephant which he was urging to draw a heavy load and was fatally injured. The elephant knocked Geary down and was belaboring him with its trunk when other members of the show rescued him.

Disaster Overtakes Deserters

Tangier, May 23.—The Zimmour tribe, which recently deserted from the sultan's army, was attacked by loyal Kabyles a few miles outside of Fez. About 250 Zimmours were killed.

Korea's Demand Upon Russia

London, May 23.—A dispatch from Tokio to The Daily Mail states that Korea insists on the Russians recrossing the Yalu river. The request is couched in vigorous language.

The Arkansas Has a Leader

Cairo, Ills., May 23.—The monitor Arkansas has departed for New Orleans. The Carrie V will lead the way and assist the Arkansas as far down as Memphis.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The acting secretary of the navy has directed the final acceptance of the torpedo boat destroyers Dale and Stewart.

Mrs. Mary Curry, widow of the late Dr. John L. M. Curry, former United States minister to Spain, died at Atlantic City, N. J.

An expert has arrived in Jamaica to inquire into the possibility of tea cultivation there on an extensive scale. The idea is to make of Jamaca another Ceylon, if conditions are found to be favorable to tea growing.

Fire destroyed the tannery of Covell Bros. at East Orrington, Me., and a dwelling house. The loss is $12,600.

The resignation of Second Lieutenant Henry M. Dougherty, Twenty-Seventh field battery, at Fort Ethen Allen, has been accepted, to take effect at once.

Captain William Bainbridge Hoff, U. S. N., retired, died at Washington, aged 56. Interment will be in the naval cemetery at Annapolis, Md.

Fire in woods adjoining Evergreen cemetery, Portland, Me., burned several hundred cords of prepared firewood besides the standing growth. The loss is about $4000.

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year

A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	79	63	67	78	73
Monday,	86	76	80	60	53
Tuesday,	90	74	65	49	53
Wednesday,	78	79	61	53	55
Thursday,	86	73	69	67	75
Friday,	85	72	82	85	72
Saturday,	70	64	86	81	71

New Advertisements Today.

For Sale---Coffee Mill.
C. B. Huston & Co.---Mason Work.
Wanted---Second-hand Roll Top Desk.
Wanted—Girls.
Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.
Wanted—Two Farm Hands.
Chas. C. Hearn---Medical Notice.

Good Afternoon

Welcome to Gov. and Mrs. Bates, and also to the parents of His Excellency who today honor Quincy by their presence. May they find much of interest and come often.

Three times, we believe, this month, former residents of Quincy have died at Barre, Vt. If there are other Quincy people there they should return promptly.

Again the Legislature has upheld a very wise veto of Gov. Bates, the fireman's bill, which would divide responsibility between the day men and the night men. If any city desires such divided responsibility there is nothing unconstitutional against its adoption.

The editor of the Ledger has been extended an invitation to be represented at the celebration of Greenfield's 150th anniversary, June 9, when Senator Lodge is to be the orator, Governor Bates is to be a guest and there will be elaborate decorations and an extensive parade. The committee on publicity is made up of the newspaper men of the town, with W. S. Carson, the well-known Globe correspondent, at its head, and the press is assured ample hospitality.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The Woman's auxiliary will meet at the Y. M. C. A. house, No. 61 Washington street, on Monday at 3 P. M. State Secretary, R. M. Armstrong and Ambrose Page of Cambridge are expected to address the ladies on this occasion. A general invitation is extended to all ladies to be present and hear what the Y. M. C. A. is doing for boys in other cities.

The gymnasium soliciting committee met last Thursday evening. Ice cream was served. Plans for the new building were discussed.

A meeting of the building committee of the board of directors has been called for next Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The committee hopes to lay the corner stone on the Fourth of July

Dr. Long's Lecture.

Tickets for Dr. Long's lecture in the High school hall next Wednesday evening are selling rapidly and the success of the enterprise advertised today is already assured. Dr. Long's study of animals has extended over a good many years. From his boyhood he has been accustomed to roam in the woods and fields, and each year for the last fifteen or twenty, sometimes in summer and sometimes in winter, he has spent some weeks in the wilderness of New Brunswick and northern Maine. His lectures are made up largely of stories of personal observations of animals at home and abroad. This is surely an unusually good opportunity to hear him.

Charles H. Burgess of Russell Park who has been in a Boston Hospital undergoing treatment has returned home.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus often before medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

MEMORY OF ADAMS

President Once Taught School at Worcester.

Tablet Dedicated There Today.

Senator Hoar, Charles F. Adams and Others Present.

A bronze tablet marking the site of the schoolhouse where John Adams of Quincy, second President of the United States, taught school in Worcester before the revolution is to be unveiled in the building of the American antiquarian society, Worcester this afternoon, after appropriate exercises in the First Unitarian church, says the Globe.

The site of the school building where President Adams taught the boys and girls of Worcester from 1755 to 1758 has been the topic of much discussion. For scores of years it has been debated whether Worcester's most illustrious pedagogue taught in the first rude building erected near Lincoln square or in the second schoolhouse in the vicinity of Main and Mechanic streets.

The committee on historical research of Col. Timothy Bigelow chapter, D. A. R., has made exhaustive efforts to settle the disputed point, and from all the available warrants, records, diaries and other data. It has established the fact that the first schoolhouse in Worcester stood directly in front of the stone post at the southeast corner of the antiquarian lot.

There was much trouble before the early settlers of Worcester agreed to build a schoolhouse, but the building was finally erected, and $375 was appropriated in 1755 for the support of the school. John Adams was engaged as master, and presided over the school; but according to the old records he had troubles in the building because it was out of repair. Repairs were made in 1756 and evidently pleased the schoolmaster, who in his diary says:

"All this past week my designs have been interrupted by the Troubles and Confusion of ye House. I shall be able to resume the Thread of my studies I hope now."

Schoolmaster Adams was particular about the kind of a school he taught. He had objections to teaching in what was known in those days as a moving school, and in his diary of 1756 is found: "Supped at Maj. Gardiner's and engaged to keep school at Bristol, provided Worcester people at their ensuing March meeting should change this into a moving school, not otherwise."

At the march meeting the usual allowance was voted for the grammar school, and John Adams remained here, combining his teaching with law study in Judge Putnum's office. He remained here until 1758, and, although the schoolhouse has long ago passed from Worcester's map, the memory of its illustrious master survives.

The exercises attending the unveiling of the tablet will be held at 2.30 P. M. in the First Unitarian church. The special guests of the chapter will be Senator George F. Hoar, Hon. Charles Francis Adams, grandson of President John Adams; Dr. G. Stanley Hall, president of Clark university; Mrs. Charles H. Masury, state regent Massachusetts D. A. R., and Mrs. Greenlief W. Simpson, vice president general of the nation society, D. A. R.

Mrs. Daniel Kent, regent of Col. Timothy Bigelow chapter, will preside and introduce the speakers, and the music will be by the South high school orchestra and chorus.

Immediately after the exercises in the church the tablet will be unveiled by Mrs. Annie Russell Marble, and at 4 o'clock a reception will be held by the chapter in the colonial suites of the woman's clubhouse.

No Liquors Found.

Inspector McKay with Officers Murray and Johnson, armed with a liquor search warrant, visited the little store of Mrs. Frances Richards on the corner of Copeland and Common streets last night. No liquors were found on the premises, but Mrs. Richards was arrested for the illegal sale of Liquor.

Hotel for Quincy Point.

The homestead house of Preston P. Kittredge on Washington street is being moved back toward South street. It is understood that a large hotel is to be erected on the site of the homestead house.

Proved Fatal.

Henry Ewell, the workman who was injured at the new school building by the fall of a derrick on Thursday, died at the City Hospital Friday afternoon. He was 54 years of age and resided in Brockton. The body was taken to that city this morning.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Rev. Leon H. Austin will be chaplain of the day for Paul Revere Post on Memorial day.

The Womens' Christian Temperance union will meet Tuesday next in the City Council Chamber, City Hall, at 3 P. M.

The regular meeting of the Hospital Aid Association will be held Thursday, May 28th, at 2.30 P. M. in the chapel of the First church, city square. A full attendance is desired.

Flecher Miller of the Quincy High school, spent some days last week with two of his friends at Amherst college, where he expects to enter in the autumn.

Manet encampment, I. O. O. F. entertained about 75 members of the order from Brockton, Weymouth and Dorchester last evening, and worked the Royal Purple degree. A turkey and salad supper followed.

Suicide at Barre.

Word was received in Quincy this morning that Augus Nickerson, a stone polisher, formerly of this city had committed suicide at Barre, Vt., where he has been living of late. He was a member of the Scottish Clans and leaves a widow and two children.

Police and Firemen

Following are the names of those who successfully passed the recent civil service examination for police and firemen. Of the applicants for police examination two were thrown out by the examining board and one failed to pass on account of a defect in his eyesight.

Police,—Michael Donovan, Henry F. Corbett, Charles T. Crooker, Joseph F. Goodhue, Class A. Broberg, James P. Landers, James Dunn, Jr., Henry W. Thorne, Daniel H. Doran, Malcolm C. Stewart, Thomas F. Maloney and Charles Olson.

Fire Department,—Herbert Griffin, James W. Connell and Edward Flaherty.

FAVORS OKLAHOMA STATE.

Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock Impressed by His Visit.

Oklahoma has won a stanch supporter for its statehood in Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock, says a special dispatch from Enid, Okla., to the Chicago Inter Ocean. He stopped at Enid recently on his tour of the territories and made a speech to 5,000 citizens.

"My trip to Oklahoma," said he, "has changed my mind upon the advisability of admitting the territory to statehood. Conditions are remarkable and prosperity apparent. You are entitled to statehood, and, while the interior department has little to do with congress, I shall upon my return to Washington recommend immediate statehood for Oklahoma."

Secretary Hitchcock is quoted as saying later in an interview, "I am opposed to statehood for Indian Territory until such a time as existing treaties expire and the land is subject to title."

STATUE TO MAJOR REED.

Plan to Honor Man Who Found Mosquitoes Carry Yellow Fever.

A movement is on foot to persuade congress to authorize a statue in honor of the late Major Reed of the army, who in his researches as an army surgeon made the discovery that yellow fever was carried by mosquitoes, says a Washington special dispatch to the New York Times. The announcement made a stir in the medical world, and the name of Major Reed became well known everywhere.

His contributions to science have had a powerful influence on medical methods in the army. Orders were recently issued that the native troops in the Philippines as well as the Americans should sleep under mosquito nets in order to protect them against the possibility of the spread of infectious fevers.

The Wombat and the Automobile.

At last an animal has been found whose fur is suitable for automobile coats, says the New York Press. Bearskin, the fur of foxes, lynxes, minks and other animals have been tried, but they were not durable when exposed to the pelting of dust and gravel, and they were easily soiled by gasoline, grease and rain. The wombat is the animal which has come to the rescue of auto enthusiasts. It is a member of the marsupial family and hails from Australia and New Zealand. The fur can be dyed nearly any color, but brown has been found to stand the test better than any other shade. So valuable are the wombat pelts for auto coats that they are not used for any other purpose.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

VICTORY FOR HIGH.

They Get Onto the West Roxbury Pitcher.

Rooney Effective for Quincy.

Two Three-Base Hits by Bennett and Saunders.

At Roslindale yesterday afternoon, the Quincy High school base ball team defeated the West Roxbury High by a score of 21 to 10. This game was the first for Quincy to win in the Highland league. Quincy had the lead from the first of the game, while West Roxbury got most of its runs during the latter part. Quite a number of High school pupils accompanied the team from Quincy.

Rooney pitched a good game for Quincy, allowing but five hits up to the eighth inning. Bennett, Miller and Sanders led the batting, while Joyce and Sanders fielded their positions well.

For West Roxbury, Walsh started in to pitch, but after the third inning he retired in favor of Loniegan, who did considerably better. Briggs and Bagnoll fielded their positions well.

The summary follows:

QUINCY HIGH

	A.B.	R.	B.H.	P.O.	A.	E.
Sanders,	5	3	2	2	2	0
Bennett,	6	5	4	3	0	2
Miller,	6	1	4	10	1	1
Shortle,	5	2	1	1	1	1
Fenno,	4	0	0	2	3	0
Rooney,	4	3	2	3	2	0
Joyce,	5	3	2	3	4	1
Conrad,	1	0	0	0	0	0
Williams,	2	3	1	1	0	2
O'Brien,	5	1	0	2	0	0
Totals,	43	21	16	27	12	7

WEST ROXBURY.

	AB.	R	BH.	PO.	A.	E.
Briggs, 3b., 2b.,	4	0	0	4	3	0
Walsh, p, 3b.,	2	1	1	1	1	2
Ware, r. f,	2	1	1	0	0	1
Loniegan, c., p.,	5	1	1	0	6	1
Connolly, ss.	3	3	1	3	1	0
Gately, lf,	5	1	2	0	1	0
McInnis, 1b,	5	1	1	12	1	1
Hamilton, rf., 2b.,	5	2	3	2	0	0
Bagnoll, 3b., c.,	5	0	0	4	6	1
Noyes, c.,	4	0	1	1	1	2
Totals,	40	10	11	27	20	8

Innings,	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Quincy,	3	5	6	0	1	3	0	0	3	—21
W. Roxbury,	0	0	0	1	3	0	0	3	3	—10

Two-base hits,—Bennett, Ware, McInnis Three-base hits,—Bennett, 2; Saunders, 2. Sacrifice hits,—Shortle, Fenno. Double plays—Sanders to Joyce. Struck out—by Rooney, 3; by Loniegan, 8. Passed balls—by Fenno Loniegan, Bagnoll 2. Base on balls—by Rooney, 3; by Walsh, 4; by Loniegan, 2. Stolen bases—Quincy, 7; W. Roxbury 5. Time—2 hours. Umpires——Smith and Davis.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad management has voluntarily increased the pay of the night gatemen fifteen cents per night.

Pept-iron is The Most Up-to-Date Preparation of Iron, Agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach, and readily assimilated by the most delicate system.

It does not injure the teeth nor cause constipation, and is taken with great satisfaction by persons not able hitherto to take any form of this wonderful curative metal so much needed by the pale, weak and run-down.

Peptiron puts iron into the blood, color into the face, strength into the nerves. It gives ruddy health.

Peptiron is made in two forms: In a liquid—an aromatic cordial elixir—at $1 per bottle, also in chocolate-coated pills at 50c. or $1 per box. By C. I. HOOD CO., proprietors Hood's Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

Selling Agent in Quincy:

E. J. Murphy, 1657 Hancock St.

MASON WORK

OF ALL KINDS

Done in the Best Manner

At Reasonable Prices by

C. B. HUSTON & CO.,

4 High School Avenue.

Having had many years' experience we can give perfect satisfaction.

All orders promptly attended to.

C. B. HUSTON,
D. H. CLEARY,
F. A. SOUTHER.

Quincy, May 23. 1m

WATCH US GROW. WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

$3.50

For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . . At Co-operative Dining Rooms

3 Granite Street, Quincy,

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21--2m

A. RUSSELL JONES,

ELECTRICIAN.

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK

A SPECIALTY.

Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.

Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

Address, 1362 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.

Quincy, April 10. tfip

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE

HAS OPENED AN

Employment Office

At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.

Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-ly

Your grandmother's doctor ordered Ayer's Sarsaparilla for your father. It's the same old Sarsaparilla today. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

GRAND FAIR

IN AID OF THE

QUINCY HOSPITAL,

At the Residence of MISS BEALE. Adams Street,

ON THURSDAY, JUNE 11th,

Afternoon and Eveuing, beginning at 2 o'clock

PROCEEDS TO BE DEVOTED TO THE NURSES' HOME.

Admission 50 cents. Children under 12 years, 25 cents.

An invitation is extended to all who are interested in the welfare of the hospital and in providing a nurses' home.

May 22. 1-tf--p-2w

Spring and Summer Shoes.

The Low Cut Shoe for the coming season will be very much in favor. We are showing a fine assortment of Oxford Ties in the latest up-to-date styles, in all the popular kinds of Leather.

Women's,	from $1.00 to $3.50.
Men's,	from $1.25 to $3.50.
School Girls',	$1.00, $1.25.
School Boys',	$1.50, $2.00.
Youths',	$1.25, $1.75.
Children's,	75c., 90c., $1.00.

Our $3.50 Leaders.

The W. L. Douglas for Men.
The Knickerbocker for Women.

GEORGE W. JONES,

Adams Building, - QUINCY.

RICHARDS & MACOMBER,

PAINTERS and DECORATORS.

Whitewashing a Specialty. Sign Painting, Graining, Kalsomining, Glazing.

Interior and Exterior House Painting. WE EMPLOY SKILLED WORKMEN ONLY

Drop us a postal and we will call at your residence and estimate your work.

Office and Shop, 31 SAVILLE ST.,

Bates' Block, Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, April 11. Sat., Tues., Thur. 6w

Piazza Furniture.

For nearly four months the piazza of your home will be used for rest and recreation. Afternoons, evenings and Sundays, every member of your family will spend their leisure moments there. There also, you will receive and entertain your friends, and your pleasure and comfort will be two fold if you have the proper piazza Furniture.

This means but trifling expense if you make your selection from our complete and low priced stock.

Piazza Rockers,	89c. to $3.50.
Hammocks,	69c. to $4.59.
Lawn Settees,	98c. to $1.25.
Lawn Swings,	$5.00.

Our Piazza Furniture will last for years.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

doctor ordered r your father. It's illa today. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

FAIR
THE OSPITAL,
BEALE. Adams Street,
JUNE 11th,
rinning at 2 o'clock.
O THE NURSES' HOME.
ren under 12 years, 25 cents.
ested in the welfare of the hospital and in 1-tf--p-2w

mmer Shoes.
season will be very much in ht of Oxford Ties in the latest of Leather.
n $1.00 to $3.50.
n $1.25 to $3.50.
$1.00, $1.25.
$1.50, $2.00.
$1.25, $1.75.
5c., 90c., $1.00.
Leaders.
as for Men.
r for Women.
. JONES,
- QUINCY.

MACOMBER,
ECORATORS.
Sign Painting, Grain-
g, Glazing.
WE EMPLOY SKILLED WORKMEN ONLY residence and estimate your work.
1 SAVILLE ST., uincy, Mass.
Sat., Tues., Thur. 6w

us the piazza of your home ad recreation. Afternoons,
, every member of your
r leisure moments there.
ceive and entertain your re and comfort will be two per piazza Furniture. expense if you make yo ur
ete and low priced stock.
59c. to $3.50.
39c. to $4.59.
98c. to $1.25.
$5.00.
ll last for years.
AIDE & CO., d Furniture Store,
Quincy.
nd Saturday Evenings.

RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.
LL and TELEPHONE WORK
A SPECIALTY.
Guaranteed Work at Right Price.
ur Bell should remain in order from one to two years.
lls repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attn.
Address, 1262 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
uincy, April 10. tflp

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
Employment Office
653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm
ld like ladies to call as a number of young
would like employment.
uincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

KING'S PARK HOUSE.
Board and Rooms.
345 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 19. 1m

E. M. MAXWELL,
DRESSMAKING.
Ladies' Tailor Made Suits a specialty. Altering and Repairing neat ly and promptly attended to
No. 3 South Central Avenue, corner Newport Avenue, Wollaston, Mass.
May 18. 6t

By C. H. JOHNSON, - - Auctioneer.
Office, Room 3, Adams Building, Quincy.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE
—OF A—
Modern House
—AT—
PUBLIC AUCTION
Situated on Butler Road near Park Lane, consisting of 8 rooms, bath, furnace, set tubs, and 6,600 square feet of land. Will be sold from above premises on MONDAY, May 25, 1903, at 2 P. M., prompt. The location is good, house nearly new and well built. A fine chance to obtain a trade. For terms apply to auctioneer.
LOOK IT UP. LOOK IT UP.
Quincy, May 21. 3t

By C. H. JOHNSON, Auctioneer.
Office: Room 3 Adams Building.
Household Furniture
At Public Auction of CHARLES PETERSON will be sold from residence No. 138 Granite Street, on Tuesday, May 26, 1903,
At 1.30 P. M.
The goods consist in part as follows: Plush Rocker, Woolen Carpet, Curtains, 2 Rockers, 6 Rugs, Oak Side Board in good order, Cane Seat Rocker, Oak Commode, Oak Bureau, 8 foot Oak Extension Table, 6 Cane Seat Dining Room Chairs, Art Square, Hanging Lamp, Plants, 5 Odd Chairs, White Iron Bed nearly new, Rocker, Table Covers, Bed Spreads, Comforters, Mattresses, Straw Matting, Chamber Set, China Tea Set, lot of Dishes and Glass Ware, Magee Range in good order, Kitchen Table, and a lot of Kitchen Furniture. This is only a partial list of the furnishings of 5 rooms. All of above furniture is clean and in good order.
Sale positive. Goods to be removed at once. Terms, Cash.
No. 138 Granite Street.
May 18. 6t-18-19-20-22-23-24

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.
BUY YOUR
Hot Weather Goods
—OF—
D. E. Wadsworth & Co.
And get your COLD SODA
FREE.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT
is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS
M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

LEDGER ADS.
PAY BEST.

DRUNKS BEWARE!

Wholesale Arrests are Expected Tonight.

Mayor and Railroad Cooperate.

Officers Will Board Trains from Boston at Atlantic.

For some weeks Mayor Bryant has been laboring with the officials of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. to secure cooperation in handling drunks who come on the late trains from Boston. The Mayor has investigated the conditions and knows that a great evil exists.

When His Honor called the attention of Chief of Police Hayden to the same, the Chief said little could be accomplished until the railroad would cooperate. In the past, when drunks had been arrested on the trains, the railroad had failed to prosecute, and the men had gone free.

When Mayor Bryant went to the railroad company the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. claimed that they had no jurisdiction over the terminal station in Boston; that it was under control of the Terminal Company, who had been requested to prevent drunks from boarding the trains.

Mayor Bryant was not satisfied, however, and by his strenuosity has secured the cooperation of Supt. Taylor of the Plymouth division, who promises that his conductors on the late trains shall arrest all drunks on arrival at Quincy, and that trainmen will appear in court against them.

The new order will go into effect today, and if tonight is not an exception to the usual Saturday night, the Quincy police station will be full to overflowing at midnight.

Chief of Police Hayden will detail officers to board the trains from Boston at 10.28, 10.50 and 11.28, at Atlantic, and the Chief himself will be at the Quincy depot with the patrol wagon to give all offenders who may be scooped in a free ride.

Many doubtless will be around to see the fun, and also at the District court on Monday when the men will be arraigned. It is believed if this warfare is continued a few weeks, especially on Saturday nights, that there will be a very marked improvement.

Dancing.

May 30th afternoon and evening, in the Pavilion, at Fensmere Beach, Houghs Neck, beginning at 2 o'clock, dancing will be under the management of Prof. and Mrs. Gibson as usual. The reputation of Prof. Gibson, as an instructor, and manager is so well established, that extended comment is unnecessary. 4t

—According to a London paper Mr. William K. Vanderbilt belives that "inherited wealth is a great handicap to happiness." Well, it's easy enough to get rid of the handicap, Mr. V. I'll agree to organize a company composed of Myself, David Converse, M. D. Converse and Mister David Converse that will remove any inherited financial obstacles to your happiness. You don't have to live less happily any more than little Andy has to die rich. A whole lot of us stand ready to help both of you out of your awful predicaments.—Boston Home Journal.

Cleveland's
BAKING POWDER
The most economical of all leavening agents, and makes the finest food.

NEW POWER HOUSE.

Foundation at Depth of Thirty Feet at Water's Edge.

A large gang of men are at work on the foundation for the new power house of the Old Colony street railway at Quincy Point. The new station will adjoin the present power house on Wharf street, and will extend from the present building to the extreme end of the land.

A breakwater is being built entirely around this point, and the foundations for the building and machinery are of solid concrete. Work on these foundations is necessarily slow on account of water, as the land itself is but little above high water mark. Two powerful pumps are kept constantly at work pumping the water, from the excavation, it however, runs in nearly as fast as it is pumped out.

It is necessary that the foundations for the engines and generators be perfectly solid. The excavation, therefore, is to be made to the depth of thirty feet, and then filled in with concrete until it reaches the surface. The foundation of the building itself is also of concrete of the same depth so that when completed, the building will have as solid a foundation as if located a mile inland.

The expense of such a foundation is enormous, but will be more than offset by the saving that will be made in water. Thousands of gallons of water will be used every day in the condensers, and if city water had to be used it would mean a heavy outlay.

With an unlimited quantity of salt water near at hand at all times, a great saving is made.

A channel is also being dredged to the company's wharf, which not only means plenty of water at low tide, but that the coal used under the boilers can be brought direct to the power station.

—The demand for registration of real estate under the Torrens land registration law was never so great as at the present time. The calls for the action of the court of registration now come equally from all over the state and the officials declare that it is but a question of a very short time when the larger portion of the real property will be held under title of this convenient. inexpensive and simple system.—Weymouth Gazette.

—The people who believe that the moon has an influence on the weather don't explain why it is that, with the same moon shining, it rains in one place and is pleasant in another only a hundred miles or so away.

BORN.

SAWTELL—In Quincy, May 22, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Sawtelle of 14 Alleyne terrace.

DIED.

HUNTING—In Quincy, May 23, Mrs. Julia Maria, widow of Rev. Sylvan S. Hunting and mother of Dr. Nathaniel S. Hunting of 1136 Hancock street, aged 79 years, 9 months and 17 days.

EWELL—In Quincy, May 22, Mr. Henry Ewell of Brockton, aged 54 years, 11 months and 13 days.

HOLMES—In New York, May 20, Dr. William D. Holmes of Braintree.

GENUINE SURPRISE.

Presentation to Mr. and Mrs. John McQueen of Independence Ave.

A party of housewarmers paid an unexpected visit to Mr. and Mrs. John Mc Queen, at their newly erected home on Independence avenue last evening.

The party arrived at their residence about eight o'clock and as was desired found the home making couple busy in their domestic affairs and not in the least expecting so large a contingent of their friends to enter upon them so abruptly. There was not the least doubt but Mr. and Mrs. McQueen were taken unawares and for a few moments were staggered by the formidable host, that pressed in through the door and took uninvited possession of every available nook and corner of the house.

Mr. McQueen quickly regained his composure and welcomed the visitors telling them to make themselves at home. Mrs. McQueen did not recover from her surprise so easily, for like a true woman she had first to find relief in tears. Then followed the smile which betokens the joy which one feels when they find a new hope in their life. She was pleased to meet her friends in her own home.

After the greater number had found seats, a program of entertainment was arranged and preparations made for the dispensing of refreshments which were of all kinds and qualities suitable to the various tastes and requirements of the company.

At this stage a magnificent parlor lounge splendidly and richly upholstered was carried in and presented to Mr. and Mrs. McQueen as a souvenir of the occasion. Mr. McQueen very warmly thanked his friends who had thus remembered himself and wife. He said he appreciated in the most sincere manner the gift and would be careful to prove himself worthy of such genuine friendship.

A long list of songs and other amusements kept the party happy during the evening. Miss Bella McIntosh was especially bright and entertaining in her singing of comic coon songs.

Mr. Sam Tutten, Mr. D. T. Drummond, Mr. R. Prout, Mr. John McIntosh, Mr. James Birnie, Mr. Wm. Warmington, Mr. T. Collins and Mr. Sam Kain were also delightful in vocal efforts and received will merited applause.

All meetings have a parting however, and Mr. and Mrs. McQueen had to say good bye and see their friends depart shortly after the midnight hour.

Among those present were:
Mr. and Mrs. John Mason,
Mr. and Mrs. John Robbie,
Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Drummond,
Mr. and Mrs. Forbes Craig,
Mr. and Mrs. William Birnie,
Mr. and Mrs. James Birnie,
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mavers,
Mr. and Mr. Andrew McIntosh, Sr.,
Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McIntosh, Jr.,
Mr. and Mrs William McIntosh,
Mr. John McIntosh,
Mr. Thomas Douglas,
Mr. A. Cowe,
Mr. William T. Spargo,
Mr. William Farquharsen,
Mr. William Warmington,
Mr. R. Gordon,
Mr. Charles Martin,
Miss Martin,
Mr. R. Prout,
Mr. G. Prout,
Miss Bella McIntosh,
Mr. and Mrs. Pawsey,
Mr. Ruxton,
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Collins,
Mr. Thomas Mitchel,
Mr. Charles Besanki,
Mr. Oscar Swanson,
Mr. George Main.

The Pond Home.

On June 3d the King's Daughters of Norfolk County will celebrate the first anniversary of the dedication of the Pond Home. It will also be Donation Day and a sale of useful and fancy articles will be held, to which all are invited to contribute. Sandwiches, cake, coffee and ice-cream will be on sale. All friends are invited to be present. Trains leave the South Terminal, Boston, at 7.27 A. M. and 12.27 P. M. for Pondville (without change).

—St. Louis will have no "Midway Plaisance" at her exposition, but will have a plain "Pike," for the same sort of exhibitions. The name, however, will not prevent just as queer things bordering it.

Despite the warm weather of the past week Fr. Francis the much loved pastor of Quincy is holding his own though still very weak.

IT SAVES YOU MONEY.
Dr. Howard's Dyspepsia Specific; Regular price 50c. Chas. C. Hearn's Price 25c.
The special half price sale of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by Chas. C. Hearn means the saving of a few dollars on every family's yearly bill for medicines.
Each 50 cent bottle (Mr. Chas. C. Hearn sells it for 25c.) contains sixty doses of a medicine that is pleasant to take and which can be depended upon to cure the worst case of constipation, dyspepsia or liver trouble. Mr. Chas. C. Hearn has so much faith in the superior merit of this medicine that he says: "If Dr. Howard's specific does not cure you, come back to my store and I will return your money."
If you are troubled with constipation, headache or dizziness, or if your food does not digest naturally and easily, you cannot afford to let pass the special price that Mr. Hearn is making this week on Dr. Howard's specific.
This remedy is not an ordinary medicine. It is the favorite formula of a well known physician, and has the endorsement of hundreds of physicians of eminence in their profession, who prescribe it in all cases of constipation, dyspepsia or liver trouble, knowing from experience that it will make a complete and lasting cure.
Mr. Hearn is giving his customers a chance to try Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at just half the regular price, 25c. And every package is sold under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it is not satisfactory.

Cracker Sale
THIS WEEK AT
PRATT'S.
Grahams, 8 cts. pound.
Grandmother's Cookies, 8 cts. pound.
Butter Thins, 13 cts. pound.
Susie Wilson's 10 cts. pound.
Saltines, 13 cts. pound.
About 150 different kinds of
KENNEDY CRACKERS
At Wholesale Prices.
Boston Branch Grocery,
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

TO LET
IN QUINCY, MASS.,
By H. H. FAXON.
HOUSES, STORES, HALL, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES,
Land, Wharves, etc.
Buildings are in Complete Repair
Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.
House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.
Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.
Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc., No. 92 School street, $12 per month.
Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.
Stable, junction School and Franklin streets, $4 per month.
Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.
Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.
Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.
For particulars apply, to
HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, May 13, 1903. 1m

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day,	45 cents
" " three days,	90 cents
" " one week,	75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE--One new Coffee Mill, No. 9, and coffee and tea box; two scales, lowest prices. JOHN MATTSON, 365 Water street, Quincy. May 23 2t

FOR SALE---Meadow Brook, in good order. Apply to 21 Station street, West Quincy. May 22. 3t

FOR SALE—Two acres of land and house, within 5 minutes' walk of central railroad station. Taxed for $2,200. Will sell for $1.800 if taken within 10 days. Address FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street, Quincy, Mass. May 21. tf

FOR SALE—A Reclining Wheel invalid's chair. Address, Box 84, Weymouth, Mass. May 21. 3t

FOR SALE—A Large Size Emerson Piano for $150.00. Six years old. Address H. L. D., Ledger office, Quincy, Mass. May 21. tf

FOR SALE—A light running open Corning Box Buggy, cheap, in fine condition; also a rubber tired Goddard, in good repair; can be seen at 19 Pine street, Wollaston. Address E. F. WHITE, Wollaston, Mass. May 11-13t

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office. April 28. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

WANTED.

WANTED—Girls to fill first-class places; cooks, second girls and waiters. Best of wages. Also cook and second girl to go together; wages $3 to $4 per week. Apply at 1522 HANCOCK STREET, opposite Music hall. Miss L. M. Flynn. May 23. 3t

WANTED---Two Farm Hands at National Sailors' Home, Wollaston. Must know how to milk and to handle horses and farm tools. Apply at the Home. May 23. 3t--23-25-27-29

WANTED--A Second-hand Roll Top Desk Address E. G. HARTUNG, 91 Revere road, Quincy. May 23. 1t

MEN, not under 25 years, to call on old and new customers. No delivering. Position permanent to the right party. Pay weekly. GLEN BROTHERS, Rochester, N. Y. April 23. 6w--thurs. sat. tues.

WANTED—Money on first mortgages. Address Box 185 Quincy Post Office. April 16. eod tf

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London and Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON. Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

WANTED.

GIRL—To tend bakery and lunch. Call at CHASE'S, 1587 Hancock street. May 23. 1tpl

TO LET.

FOR RENT--By a young married couple without children, furnished house this summer. Best of references. Parties going to the beach will find this a good opportunity to leave their home in responsible care. Address, H. H., Ledger office. Quincy, May 19-tf

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy. April 8. w. th. s. m.--tf

TO LET—Large, Square Room and Side Rooms. Barn for $4 per month. Apply Greenleaf street, corner Hancock street. Quincy, May 8. tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet. 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street. Quincy, April 21. tf

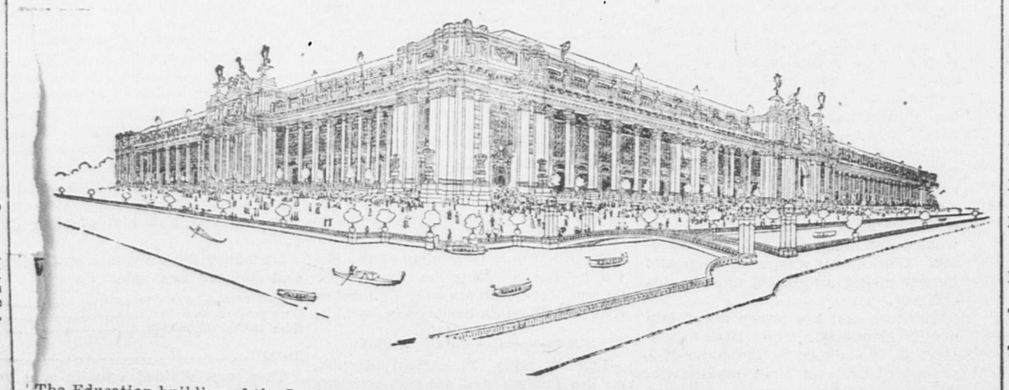

NEW STORES TO LET.
A BUILDING will be erected at once by N.G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information enquire of N. G. NICKERSON. Quincy, May 12-tf

TO LET.
The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.
Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.
Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.
Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.
Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

TO LET.
FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street. Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

JOB PRINTING
AT THE
PATRIOT OFFICE

EDUCATION BUILDING AT WORLD FAIR AT ST. LOUIS.

The Education building of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition is of the Corinthian order of architecture. It is situated to the left of the main lagoon, and this, and the Electricity building are the only two buildings facing the grand basins with the cascades and approaches to the terrace crowning the hill on which the Art building stands. While not the largest in area, its position makes it one of the most conspicuous buildings in what has been called the main picture of the exposition.

The building fronts 525 feet on the main thoroughfare of the Exposition. A liberal use of architectural sculpture lends a festal character to the otherwise somewhat severely classical exterior. The screen wall back of the colonnade gives opportunity for a liberal display of color as a background for the classic outlines of the Corinthian columns, affording liberal scope for the mural decorator.

The interior court follows the general outline of the buildings in form and style, and is laid out in the form of a plaisance or garden of a formal type.

The contract price of the Education building was $319,399. It is constructed of staff.

THE PASSING OF THE SUMMER BOARDER

By TEMPLE BAILEY

Copyright, 1902, by T. C. McClure

"Goodby, dear."

"Goodby."

Miss Tremont held Cornelia in her arms for a moment as she kissed her. The figure of the girl was rigid, and the lips she touched were cold, but Miss Tremont did not notice the lack of enthusiasm. She was used to conquests, and she was sure Nelie loved her.

She whispered in the girl's ear. Her voice was penetrating, and, as she intended, the clear tones reached the ear of the man who stood close by.

"When you are married, let me know, and I will come and dance at your wedding," was what she said.

Then she gathered up her rustling skirts and waved her bunch of American Beauties at the pair, and the coach drove off.

Cornelia turned to the man beside her.

"Did you hear what she said?"

"Yes," he answered absently, his eyes on the fluttering bit of white veil far down the road.

"Well, she needn't have said it. I shan't let her know."

The man turned, his sunburned face showing his surprise.

"I thought you liked Miss Tremont."

"So I did, and I do yet, but I tell you now, Dave Clinton, that if mother takes boarders again next summer I shall go away and stay." Her voice was fierce.

An uneasy look came into the blue eyes of the young farmer.

"And leave me?" He tried to ask the question easily, but his voice was not steady.

She laid her hand on his arm, with a kind of doubting appeal.

"Would you care if I went—if she was here?"

The man shifted his position uneasily. "I don't see that you are called upon to ask me that question, Nelie," he said.

"But I do ask it." Her fingers were locking each other nervously. "I did like her," she went on, "for she is so beautiful, and she interested me—until you began to notice her"—

He tried to take her hand, but she flung herself away from him. Then for a moment there was tense silence.

"I love you, Nelie," he said at last.

"You don't, you don't! You love her!" she cried passionately. "And I wish we had never seen her." She ran swiftly up the path and shut the door of the house behind her.

That night the family sat down at a small table in the big kitchen. The dining room had been restored to its original position as a living room, and the parlor was closed. The supper of warmed over potatoes and eggs, with one kind of preserve, announced the return of plain living.

After supper Nelie washed the dishes in the big pantry just outside the kitchen. Her mother was in the milk-room, skimming, so when Dave came and stood beside her they were alone.

"What's the matter, Nelie?" he said. "Are you mad at me?"

She raised her blue eyes.

"No, Dave," she said quietly.

She poured some hot water into her pan so recklessly that her fingers were burned, and she uttered an involuntary cry.

Dave reached over and took them, red and wet as they were.

"Poor little fingers!" he said.

Nelie's eyes blazed. "I won't have your pity, Dave Clinton!" Her voice was hushed, but vehement.

Without another word the man turned away, but she called him back in a whisper.

"I want to see you when I finish. I'll come down to the orchard seat."

The orchard was spicy with the scent of apples, and under the moonlight the great red globes showed dark in the shadow of the leaves. Dave sat on a natural bench made by the gnarled trunks of two old apple trees and watched Nelie come down the path. He rose to meet her and put his arm around her, but she thrust him aside with a little, impatient gesture.

Then she sat down and looked up at him as he stood in front of her.

"It isn't that I am jealous," she began, as if their conversation of the afternoon had not been interrupted, "but it's because I can never be the same to you, no matter if you do think you love me. You have seen Miss Tremont, and now, always, she will be the most beautiful woman in the world to you."

"She is a beautiful woman," he assented gravely.

"Yes, and before she came you thought my hands were pretty—my little, red, rough hands"—her voice broke—"and you admired my hair and the little dresses I made myself. I am not blaming you," she went on, "but you had never seen a woman like her. I hadn't, either, and you were carried away just as I was. But don't you see that I want to be first with you?"

"You are first, Nelie," he said gravely.

"But I haven't wonderful eyes like hers, and I can't use them as she does. I can't say the right thing as she does in her soft voice. And her perfumes! Will you ever smell a violet again, Dave, without thinking of her? Will you?"

He smoothed her hand soothingly and said nothing.

"Did you ever see such dresses and beautiful shoes? I was ashamed all the time, and wore my best slippers every day. She was like a rose—one of the big, beautiful roses that were sent her from town so often."

She went on in a sobbing monotone, while the man's face was white and set.

"And now it will be her that you love and not me. Of course you will marry me because you couldn't marry her; you are not her kind. But I don't want your pity. That's why I am going to give this back." She stripped a little garnet ring from her third finger and handed it to him.

He took it and turned it over and over in his hand.

Then he walked up and down under the trees, and she watched the tall, strong figure with the steady, firm tread as she leaned trembling against the old gnarled apple tree.

Suddenly he came over to her, and in spite of her protests he lifted her in his arms to a higher seat in the old tree where he could stand beside her and stroke her hair and watch the moonlight on her face as he had watched so many, many times before.

"Nelie," he said, "I bought this little ring for the woman who was to be my wife, and there can never be any other."

Both of her hands were on his big ones now, and her eyes were searching his face wistfully.

"When she came," he waved his hand down the road as if the summer boarder were still a visible presence, "I had never seen anything like her. She fascinated you; she fascinated me. She is a wonderful dream woman." His voice trailed off into silence.

"But I want to be your dream woman," she wailed.

With an effort he brought his eyes down close to hers and smiled at her tears. "You are my real woman," he said.

"But," she began.

"There are no 'buts.'" He lifted her down, and they stood together beneath the dark boughs. "She is beautiful, little girl; but so was the picture that we saw in the art gallery when we went to the city, but I didn't want to bring the picture home, and I couldn't take her into my little home any more than I could the picture. I want the tender, sweet woman who has filled my heart since I was a boy and who fills it still."

She laid her head down on his arm with a sigh of content.

"But I can't help wishing you had never seen her."

Into the blue eyes which looked over her bowed head and down the long, long road that led to the city there came a shadow, but Dave's voice was gay as he raised her face to his and kissed her.

"The summer is ended, sweetheart, and the little house is ready. When?"

Ben Butler's Short Speech.

Francis E. Leupp in the Century says that probably the shortest speech ever delivered in congress was made by Ben Butler of Massachusetts. An Ohio member had fallen afoul of him one day and poured upon him a torrent of abuse which would have excited general indignation but for an unconsciously ridiculous gesture with which the orator accompanied almost every alternate sentence. This tempered the disgust of his hearers with mirth. He would raise his arms just as high above his head as possible and then wring his hands as if he were making a delirious attempt to wring them off. Butler sat through the speech with his eyes half closed, not moving a muscle. He rose when his assailant finished and stood calmly in the aisle. After perhaps a minute of silence he began, "Mr. Speaker!" Another impressive pause, and expectancy reached nearly the bursting point. Suddenly raising his arms, Butler reproduced exactly the awful gesture of the Ohio congressman. Then his arms fell to his sides, and for another minute he stood silent. "That is all, Mr. Speaker," he said finally. "I just wanted to answer the gentleman from Ohio."

History and Biography.

The whole value of history, of biography, is to increase my self trust by demonstrating what man can be and do. This is the moral of the Plutarchs, the Cudworths, the Tennemanns, who give us the story of men or of opinions. Any history of philosophy fortifies my faith by showing me that what high dogmas I had supposed were the rare and late fruit of a cumulative culture, and only now possible to some recent Kant or Fichte, were the prompt improvisations of the earliest inquirers; of Parmenides, Heraclitus and Xenophanes.

In view of these students the soul seems to whisper: "There is a better way than this indolent learning of another. Leave me alone. Do not teach me out of Leibnitz or Schelling, and I shall find it all out myself."

Still more do we owe to biography the fortification of our hope. If you would know the power of character, see how much you would impoverish the world if you could take clean out of history the lives of Milton, Shakespeare and Plato, these three, and cause them not to be. See you not how much less the power of man would be? —Emerson.

The Care Free Swazis.

Who are the happiest people in the world? Undoubtedly the Swazis of South Africa. There are about 70,000 of them, and if you searched the world over you could not find 70,000 people of a happier temperament. They utterly refuse to worry about anything. They positively decline to work, and they will not be civilized on any account. Unlike most savages, they are not troubled by any superstitions. A happy, careless people, loving idleness and the sun, the Swazis go through life with the least possible trouble. They are prodigal in times of plenty, philosophical in times of want, optimistic at all times.

AID TO RACE SUICIDE.

Dr. Curtin Shows How Decreasing Birth Rate Is Influenced.

FEES OF PHYSICIANS TOO HIGH.

Charges In Motherhood Cases Have Advanced From $10 and $25 Up to $25 and $250, Says Philadelphia Doctor—Predicts Balance of Political Power Will In Thirty Years Be Held by Children of Foreigners.

"Is the Decreasing Birth Rate Influenced by the Modern Physician?" the subject of a paper read by Dr. R. G. Curtin of Philadelphia before the recent congress of American physicians and surgeons in Washington, has engaged the attention of prominent practitioners and men interested in the question of "race suicide" to the possibility that physicians may not altogether be without responsibility for the condition that exists, says a Philadelphia special dispatch to the New York Herald.

The reading of the paper at the congress was listened to with undivided attention by the men of medicine and surgery. It was admitted that Dr. Curtin had taken up a new line in the discussion of the problem and that he had presented certain deductions that invited the serious thought of every physician in the country.

In presenting the question of "race suicide" Dr. Curtin called attention to the fact that it has been repeatedly brought to public attention and particularly by President Roosevelt in recent utterances. The importance of preserving the human species, he indicated, was shown by looking over the older states of the country, where it is found that the greatest loss is among the old, influential families.

"The greatest number of children," he said, "comes from the unassimilated foreign population. Therefore it occurs to me that in thirty years the balance of political power will be in the hands of these children and not in the hands of the 'strain' that has brought our country to its present position among nations."

In appealing to the patriotism of the native born inhabitants of the country Dr. Curtin takes the position that in families where there is an only child such a child is apt to be petted, spoiled, pevish, without self denial or straightforward manhood. He indicates that such citizens will not be able to cope with the foreigners.

"The decline of the birth rate," he said, "is a subject that should be taken up and a warning sounded. According to the statistics gathered by college presidents, it appears that educated persons have very few children. Three years ago there met in a suburban hotel near Philadelphia seventeen couples that had been married, on an average, four years. There was not a single child in the whole party, but several dogs were prominent."

Discussing the physician's position in the matter, he indicated that he has a responsibility.

"To begin with, he can do a great deal of harm," he said. "The doctor's advice is generally very potent with loyal patients, therefore let it be of a high moral character. I have never heard any one who has given explanation of the question of 'race suicide' speak of the part that the doctor takes in this great tragedy.

"By high prices he may increase the family expense to such an extent as to plunge the young husband into debt."

He stated that in cases of motherhood where formerly the usual charges were from $10 to $25, they have advanced from $25 to $250. In the matter of nursing, he also stated, was another change. Formerly little nursing was needed. Now it is necessary to have a trained nurse for eight weeks. These reasons he advanced as among those in which a doctor may influence the birth rate. Dr. Curtin also gave considerable attention to the giving of bad advice by physicians, together with surgical operations, as other influences that had much to do with the situation.

"Among the causes of the diminished birth rate not generally mentioned," he added, "are the changes in the method of living. The apartment house, which is growing in favor, is a bad school for good wives and mothers, especially those that are young. Children are not wanted in such quarters. The servant question often drives families to these houses. The population in the apartment houses, as a rule, turn a cold shoulder upon the woman who is a fond mother or commiserate her for her enslaved position."

Continuing he said: "Another cause is the pursuit of manly callings by women. First, it makes them feel independent of marriage. Second, they take the work from men, so that the men cannot afford to marry.

"Another cause is the nervous trades, which bring on exhaustion and unfit women for maternity and housekeeping. Clerks, stenographers, shop and factory girls are to be included in this category.

"A cause that has grown up of late may be mentioned. The study of genealogy is, in some cases, the cause of a growth of pride of birth, making the individuals feel that they are too good for those about them."

Dover to Calais In Forty-five Minutes

The new turbine steamer the Queen, which was recently launched at Dumbarton, will cross the English channel from Dover to Calais in forty-five minutes. She is 310 feet long and forty feet wide. Her chief feature is a very large promenade deck, and the absence of the usual bulky machinery gives her unusual cabin room. She has five screws.

DEFICIT OF $227,000

Payne Says That Machen Created It Without Authority

Washington, May 23.—Postmaster General Payne declines with some warmth to say whether the circumstances surrounding the deficit in the free delivery service warants the removal of A. W. Machen, who was relieved recently. Mr. Payne says that in his opinion the question is impertinent. He was questioned by the newspaper correspondents regarding the discrepancy between the $20,000 reported by Machen as the deficit and the $227,300 subsequently reported by the inspectors. Mr. Payne replied that promptly on the receipt of the report from Machen that there was a deficit of $20,000 he gave instructions that this deficit should not be increased and that expenditures should be curtailed so as to eliminate it if possible by the end of the fiscal year, June 30 next.

"Then," added the postmaster general, "I immediately got the report that the deficit was $227,000. A subordinate official has no authority to create a deficit without the authority of his superior officer, I care not who that subordinate officer may be. If he knew on May 1 that there was a $20,000 deficit and that very day appointed a large number of carriers which would largely increase the deficit the action was objectionable."

The postmaster general said that he had not yet sent any communication to Machen.

Italians Getting a Bad Scare

New York, May 23.—Over 500 men in the street cleaning department, Italian sweepers and drivers, are under the surveillance of the United States secret service agents, suspected of having obtained their positions through the purchase of bogus naturalization papers. A host of resignations have been received and the department is short 1000 men who are staying away from work, it is thought, through fear of arrest. The price paid for these papers varied from $2.50 to $25 each, and not less than $10,000 was received by the alleged forgers.

Whelpley Pleads Not Guilty

Woburn, Mass., May 23.—In the district court A. E. Whelpley, alleged defaulting local superintendent of the Prudential Life Insurance company, was arraigned on four complaints, charging misappropriations of funds and raising amounts on bank receipts returned to the company. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $5.00 for a further hearing on May 27. In default of bail Whelpley was taken to jail. Whelpley was brought here from Los Angeles, Cal. When arrested the fugitive had only 20 cents in his pockets.

Starts on a Perilous Trip

Boston, May 23.—With many well wishers cheering him lustily, Ludwig Eisenbraum set sail from the North End park with the anticipation of reaching Europe in a 17-foot dory, the Columbia. Captain Eisenbraum carried with him two kegs of water and was also supplied with a considerable quantity of canned goods and a medicine kit. The captain's object in making the trip is for the purpose of exhibiting himself and the dory at the St. Louis exposition.

Judge Opposes Pennypacker Idea

Emporia, Kas., May 22.—In the district court here Judge Madden refused to grant a request made by counsel for the plaintiff in a note case to restrain newspapers from reporting the evidence and allegations in the case before it should go to the jury. In refusing to grant the order, Judge Madden said: "I will not give an order muzzling the press." He then delivered a strong speech upholding the press.

Receiver Asked For Oil Companies

San Antonio, Tex., May 23.—Suit has been filed against the King-Crowther corporation and the King-Crowther Pipeline company asking for a forfeit of the charters and the appointment of a receiver on the ground of insolvency. Large amounts of stock have been sold on claims that the company has numerous oil wells and is building a railroad and pipe line in Texas, which, the petition charges, are not true.

Said to Have Got $240,000

New York, May 23.—Robert A. Ammon, who has been out on $5000 bail for two years for receiving stolen goods in connection with the 520 percent Miller case, has been rearrested and his bail increased to $20,000. The rearrest was at the instance of District Attorney Jerome, who says he can show that Ammon received $240,000 from Miller, in his office, a few days before Miller was arrested.

Four Killed In Elevator Accident

Pittsburg, May 23.—One man and three women were killed and five or six injured last night at 1026 Fifth avenue, in a building occupied by a dancing academy. The cause of the fatalities was the snapping of the elevator ropes, allowing the cage to drop 50 feet. The dead are so badly mashed that identification has been impossible.

Three Miles In 14:17 3-5

London, May 23.—Alfred Shrubb, on the London Athletic club grounds, ran three miles in 14 minutes, 17 3-5 seconds, beating the world's record for that distance.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Sunday, May 24.
Sun rises—4:16; sets—7:07.
Moon rises—2:49 a. m.
High water—9 a. m.; 9:30 p. m.

The area of low pressure that was central in North Dakota has made no progress and is apparently filling up. The weather will be fair in New England.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

A WONDERFUL SECRET.

Lucy and Amy Thought It Was the Best One They Ever Had.

Two little girls were out under the apple tree, playing with their dolls.

"Lucy, let's have a secret," said Amy.

"Oh, yes, let's!" said Lucy.

"And not tell any one, ever."

"No, not any one."

"And, oh, Lucy, let's wear a ribbon bow, and then people will say, 'What's that for?' And we'll say it's a secret, and they'll want to know, and we mustn't tell."

"I've got some pretty red ribbon, and I'll cut it in two and give you half, and we will each wear a little red bow."

"Freddie tried to tease me to tell the last time we had a secret," said Amy, "and he took Evalina and held her upside down by one leg and said he would bang her head against the wall if I didn't tell. And yet he never tells me anything, and there are so many things I would like to know."

"Well, I wouldn't tell if a big policeman came and said, 'Little girl, tell me your secret.' Would you?"

"No, and I wouldn't tell if"—

But just then Lucy's mamma called her, and she had to run home.

The next day the two little girls met at school. Each was wearing the little red ribbon.

"Have you got a secret?" asked Polly Ames, as she saw the two little red bows.

"Yes, but we're not going to tell," said Amy. "I'd like to tell you, Polly, but we said we wouldn't ever tell; so we can't."

Just then Lucy began to laugh. "Oh, Amy!" she said. Then she drew Amy, away into a corner, where the other girls could not hear her.

"Amy, what is our secret?" she asked.

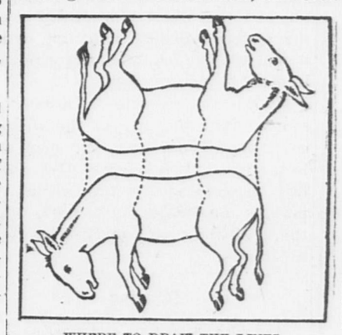

"What is it?" said Amy. "Why—oh—we didn't have any, Lucy. And she, too, began to laugh. "We forgot to make any secret, really and truly, Lucy."

"Well," said Lucy, "let's have it a secret that we didn't have any secret, and we won't tell anybody. Isn't that a funny secret—the best we ever had?"

So Lucy and Amy wore the little red bows to remember that the secret was that there wasn't any secret.—Ida Keniston in Youth's Companion.

Trick Donkeys.

Almost any little girl or boy can draw this picture on a sheet of paper, leaving out the dotted lines, and then puzzle friends by asking them to draw four lines and make the animals look very much alive.

WHERE TO DRAW THE LINES.

The animals shown in the illustration are two apparently dead donkeys. To bring them to life it is only necessary to fill in the dotted lines and then turn the page half way round.

A Remarkable Circus.

A cat and a kitten set out to go
To a wonderful traveling circus show.
They reached the door of the circus tent,
They paid their money, and in they went.

And, oh, the wonderful things they saw!
A glass eater with a terrible jaw,
Who ate bottles and tumblers with greatest zest
(He was an ostrich, as you may have guessed).

And then with a double shuffle and prance
A centiped did a fine clog dance,
And a snake sword swallower easily swallowed
A cutlass and sword, while a scimiter followed.

The ossified oyster was a great show
And the two headed wonder (a barrel, you know),
While the world renowned freak, a three handed clock,
Gave the sightseers quite a shock,

When the next exhibit they turned to see,
The boy faced dog it chanced to be,
And with two terrified, horrified squeals
The cat and kitten took to their heels!
—New York Herald.

Puzzle of the Camels.

There was once an Arab who had three sons. He died, leaving behind him a will in which he stated that his property, consisting of seventeen camels, was to be divided between his three sons. The first was to have one-half of the camels, the second one-third and the third one-ninth. As they could not halve seventeen camels they went to a neighbor and told him of their difficulty.

He loaned them a camel, so that they had eighteen to divide. So—

The first son took one-half	9
The second, one-third	6
The third, one-ninth	2
Total	17

They had divided equally and yet were able to give back the camel which had been loaned to them.

Conundrums.

Why is a tight boot like a windmill? Because it grinds the corn.

Why is a cowardly soldier like butter? Because he is sure to run when exposed to fire.

Why are persons blind from birth unfit to be carpenters? Because they never saw.

What relation is the door mat to the scraper? A stepfather.

AT BED TIME I TAKE A PLEASANT HERB DRINK

THE NEXT MORNING I FEEL BRIGHT AND MY COMPLEXION IS BETTER.

My doctor says it acts gently on the stomach, liver and kidneys and is a pleasant laxative. It is made from herbs, and is prepared for use as easily as tea. It is called "Lane's Tea" or

LANE'S FAMILY MEDICINE

All druggists or by mail 25 cts. and 50 cts. Book free. Lane's Family Medicine moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy it is necessary. Address, Box 295, Le Roy, N. Y.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1.

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREW
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pixel Building
Doble's Corner, Quincy Adams
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 8.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23.

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTON
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5. Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31.

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, near Fountain, Quincy.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy.

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 371 Kneeland street, South Boston.

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3.

BAILLIE & TAYLOR
Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7.

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER, GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
Decorator and Paper Hanger
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

FRANK F. CRAIG
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy,
Aug. 17.

JAMES F. BURKE
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public.
Room 4, Savings Bank Building.
June 5.

W. G. CHUBBUCK
Furniture and Piano Movers
IN AND OUT OF TOWN.
Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.
JOBBING.
Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.
lp-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs. Room papered $1.75, everything included. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept. 12-1y

THE NEXT MORNING I FEEL BRIGHT AND NEW AND MY COMPLEXION IS BETTER.

My doctor says it acts gently on the stomach, liver and kidneys and is a pleasant laxative. This drink is made from herbs, and is prepared for use as easily as tea. It is called "Lane's Tea" or

LANE'S FAMILY MEDICINE

All druggists or by mail 25 cts. and 50 cts. Buy it to-day. Lane's Family Medicine moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Address, Box 295, Le Roy, N. Y.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. lp-tf

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREW
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pixel Block
Doble's Corner, Quincy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M.
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 8.
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. ly

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTON
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5. Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 43-2.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1 1y- p-6mos

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov, 3-tf

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. ly

BAILLIE & TAYLOR
Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7. tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

FRANK F. CRANE
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER.
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass.
Aug. 17.

JAMES F. BURKE.
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5. tf

W. G. CHUBBUCK
Furniture and Piano Moving
IN AND OUT OF TOWN.
Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.
JOBBING.
Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.
lp-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—3 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

A HOME DEPOSIT BANK

FREE.

Savings Department

The National Granite Bank,

QUINCY, MASS.

The National Granite Bank announces the addition of a Savings Department, and the introduction of the Home Deposit Bank System. You are requested to call and have this system fully explained to you.

The Plan.

A deposit of One Dollar ($1.00) or more will secure you the loan of one of these banks. Your bank account will be opened, and pass-book furnished you shows your deposit duly credited.

Take the Bank Home

and place in it your spare change and surplus moneys. At certain intervals, or as often as convenient, when an accumulation has resulted, bring your bank to us. The contents will be removed, counted, and your deposits with us earn per cent. interest.

YOU KEEP THE BANK.

WE KEEP THE KEY.

The Result.

You don't miss what you drop in. What comes out surprises you. The presence of the small bank in your home is equivalent to your having a branch of our Savings Department always at hand. To remove the usual

Temptation to Spend,

the money slot in the small bank is so constructed that moneys once dropped in cannot be shaken out. The application of this savings plan creates

Good Business Habits.

The Home Deposit Bank System is within the reach of all, and is of especial interest to every working man, woman and salaried individual.

It is not what you Earn, but what you Save, that makes you independent, and the sooner you make a start in this direction, the sooner you will reach the desired goal.

Money at interest works for you night and day, Sundays and holidays, and twenty-four hours per day. Call at the National Granite Bank and get one of these banks free with your account.

THE NATIONAL GRANITE BANK.

Established 1865.

CAPITAL STOCK, $150,000. SURPLUS AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $153,000. DEPOSITS, $420,000.

THEOPHILUS KING, PRESIDENT. RUPERT F. CLAFLIN, CASHIER.

DIRECTORS.

THEOPHILUS KING, RUPERT F. CLAFLIN,
EDWIN W. MARSH, JAMES THOMPSON,
JOSEPH H. VOGEL, CLARENCE BURGIN,
DELCEVARE KING, RUSSELL A. SEARS.

Banking Hours: From 8.30 A. M. till 3 P. M. Saturdays closing at 12 M.

NOTICE—In the event that you are unable to call at the Bank, drop us a line or phone No. 26-3, and one of our representatives will visit you.

This system is being installed by the C. O. Burns Company, Established in 1890, originators and original patentees and manufacturers of the Home Deposit Banks and System, Nos. 13--21 Park Row, New York.

Quincy Daily Ledger.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS
and at the following places:

BOSTON—Terminal News Stand after 3.35.
QUI[illegible]—Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock St.
[illegible]well's Periodical Store, 1 Granite St.
He[illegible] Kittredge, City Square.
Rogers Bros., Hancock St.
J[illegible] O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St
C[illegible] Carlson, near Quincy depot
A[illegible] Hall, 128 Washington St., near Canal.
QUI[illegible] POINT—Miss Freeman's store
Sprague & Hobart, Washington cor. River St.
SOU[illegible] QUINCY—P. L. Litchfield, Water St.
[illegible] E. Nightingale 80 Water street.
[illegible] Chick, 59 Liberty St.
WES[illegible] QUINCY—Coram's Periodical Store.
BR[illegible]WER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
WOL[illegible]ASTON—Shunk's news stand.
WOLLASTON PARK—C. E. Hosmer, cor. Hancock and Beach streets.
NOR[illegible]OLK DOWNS—Branscheid & Marten.
ATL[illegible]NTIC—Branscheid & Marten.
HOUGHS NECK—Arthur Dunham at P. O.
EAS[illegible] MILTON—William Clark.
EAS[illegible] WEYMOUTH—George H. Hunt.
WEYMOUTH—J. R. Walsh.
NOR[illegible]H WEYMOUTH—B. F. Thomas.

1903			MAY			1903
Su.	Mo.	Tu.	We.	Th.	Fr.	Sa.
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24 31	25	26	27	28	29	30

MOON'S PHASES.

First Quarter 4 2:26 a. m.
Full Moon 11 8:18 a. m.
Third Quarter 19 10:16 a. m.
New Moon 26 5:42 p. m.

BRAINTREE.

Miss Ellen M. Stone will speak in the Unitarian church, East Weymouth on Wednesday evening, May 27, on her captivity among the brigands of Macedonia for the benefit of the building fund of the Congregational church so recently burned.

A delegation of members of Blue Hill lodge, A. O. U. W., visited Crary lodge, A. O. U. W., at East Weymouth, last Tuesday evening. They were welcomed by Master Workman William E. Dizer, and responses were made my Messrs. Gammons, Keith, Trainer, Margeson, Annis, Binney, Spaulding and Pinckney of Blue Hill. Whist contests followed in which the home teams got the best of the argument. The Baintree members are much pleased with the reception and subsequent collation and are hoping for an opportunity to reciprocate.

Wednesday evening the members of the Loyal Knights and Ladies, and riends, gathered in I. O. O. F. hall to a bountiful supper. The gathering was larger than on previous occasions and everybody seemed to be happy in spite of too high temperature. Mr. F. M. Buzzell, Mrs. H. W. Simonds, Mrs. C. A. Hobart, Mrs. G. W. Osgood and Mrs. A. H. Howe were the committee in charge, Supper was served at 6.30 followed by a social hour. Only members of the lodge lingered after eight o'clock for it was the regular meeting night. Three candidates were initiated.

Fully five hundred people gathered in the Town hall last evening to enjoy the lecture on "The Meaning of Christian Science" by Carol Norton, C. S. D.

There was a large crowd at G. A. R. hall last Wednesday evening, at a ladies' night given under the auspices of Blue Hill lodge, 208, A. O. U. W. It was one of the most enjoyable occasions ever given under the auspices of that hustling organization. The committee of arrangements comprised Brothers William Pinckney, Oakes A. Bridgham and E. G. Annis. There was a short entertainment, consisting of graphophone selections by the Master Workman, and piano solos by Georgie Abell and Miss Sadie Brown. Grand Supervisor E. B. Estes was present and made a brief but interesting address, after which there was a collation of ice cream and cake. Whist followed, souvenirs being awarded to O. P. Margeson and Warren B. Keith. Mrs. E. G. Annis and Mrs. O. A. Bridgham received souvenirs for ladies. William Pinckney presided. The ushers were L. W. Spaulding, Henry Binney, R. F. Burleigh, A. J. Spaulding, Fred Cross, and O. P. Margeson.

Mr. Fred Sanford has the sympathy of his friends and neighbors in the death of his brother, Russell Sanford, aged 32 years. The funeral was Wednesday afternoon. Interment was at Blue Hill Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crane of Quincy avenue are both very ill.

The newly organized Weymouth Brass Band paraded several of the streets of this village Thursday evening and discoursed some excellent music. Several of our young men are members of the band.

Reynolds Post 58, G. A. R., several members of which reside in this place, will attend a memorial service at the Universalist church, Weymouth, Sunday afternoon, at two o'clock. The Rev. Melvin S. Nash will deliver the address.

Eugene F. Bowles, formerly of East Braintree, has resigned his position in Springfield to accept a similar one in New Bedford.

The funeral services of the late Rev. Lucien H. Frary, a former pastor of Union church, will be held at the chapel of the Weymouth cemetery today at 2 P. M.

Chester Hollis is about town limping on one foot on account of being spiked in the Merrymount game at Quincy last Saturday. His injury will keep him out of the game for the rest of the season.

Mrs. Sarah A. Pratt is seriously ill with a complication of diseases, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. O. Crocker.

Miss V. P. Wilde has been confined to her home since Monday, owing to injuries received on the electrics that day, while on her way to her duties here.

The little son of Station Agent Brooks, who has been seriously ill with a severe case of tonsilitis is much improved under the skillful treatment of Dr. Bullock.

Charles W. Tabor has moved from the Buckley house on Oak street to Weymouth and Mr. George Buckley and family of Jamaica Plain are occupying the cottage.

Miss Olive Carson will be class historian at the High school this year. She was the valedictorian of the class of 99 at the Monatiquot grammar school.

Miss Avis Thayer, principal of the Union school, who met with an accident on the electric car the first of the week, expects to resume her duties at the school Monday morning.

Contractor J. H. G. Robinson is erecting a large house on Sherbrooke avenue.

The graduating class of the High school enjoyed a pleasant day in Boston through the kindness and courtesy of our representative Mr. Horace R. Drinkwater.

Richard, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilson of Fairview avenue, died at the home of his parents Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock after a few days' illness of diphtheria. Richard was a bright interesting child and a pupil at the southwest school. His age was six years.

The alarm from box 46 Thursday evening was for a fire in the woods at Mayflower Park. About twelve acres of underbrush was burned before the firemen succeeded in subdueing the flames. The land was owned by Mr. Lake.

During the thunder storm Tuesday afternoon a cow, owned by Mr. E. H. Mathewson, was instantly killed by lightening while at pasture in the rear of the Monatiquot school. The animal was discovered soon after by children playing near the fatal spot.

Joseph J. Stehniarter, formerly of this town, has just been elected recording secretary of the Shoe and Leather Club of Philadelphia. Mr. Steinharter represents the Shoe and Leather Reporter in that city.

TODAY'S COURT.

Frances Richards was arraigned for the illegal sale of liquors at Quincy. Case continued until June 6.

Samuel F. Chase was arraigned for concealing leased property at Weymouth. Case continued until June 2.

IN MEMORIAM.

RICHARD HENRY STODDARD.
Obit May 12, 1903.
Sit tibi terra levis.

Farewell, O poet of a purer time,
Whose lips the muses touched with sacred fire,
Master of trenchant prose and tenderest rhyme,
Our Nestor of the lyre,

A long farewell!  Now age hath lost its dread;
Eyes that were dimmed with honored toil of years
Shall see the long line of illustrious dead,
And there shall be no tears.

Perchance in stellar worlds a-thrill with song
Thou hear'st angelic music, passing sweet,
Or, harping toward thee, some celestial throng
Wends down the golden street.

Whatever shores ethereal thou dost roam
Rest thou hast found and peace and labor past,
As some faint carrier dove, storm tossed from home,
Reaches her home at last.

O lifeless presence, mute, unknowing clay,
Accept from us our sorrowing heart's behest,
As, with a sigh, we reverently lay
The laurel on thy breast.

—Lloyd Mifflin in New York Mail and Express.

Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on every box. 25c

ECSTCN /MLSMENTS.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

"A Chinese Honeymoon," now in its fourth week at the Colonial Theatre, Boston seems fair to outdo all predecessors in the way of popularity On last Wednesday night this company celebreted its 200th performance, and the other company, playing the same piece in Chicago, gave its 550th performance. No musical comedy of late days can boast of so long and succesful a record both here in America and abroad where it was shown in London for two years. It is a delightful story, embodying the honeymoon trip of a Mr. and Mrs. Pineapple from England to China.

Over one hundred people are employed in the company, and it may truthfully be said that the Colonial Theatre has never before offered an attraction that has been so generally liked by its out-of-town patrons as "The Honeymoon."

During the summer months the theatre is artificially cooled by a special apparatus which forces cold air to all parts of the auditorium as well ai underneath all the seats, thereby making the house delightsully cool and avoiding all uncomfortableness of a warm evening in s crowded house.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

Henry Pettit's great drama, "Hands Across the Sea," will make the Castle Square theatre attraction next week and preparations are in progress for a production of the play that shall surpass any previously given. The great dramatic interest of the story told by the author has been proven beyond question by the remarkable popularity of the play, both in England and America and the favor it has enjoyed with Boston audiences makes its selection by the Castle Square theatre management eminently judicious. The opportunities given in "Hands Across the Sea" for elaborate scenic and mechanical effects will be fully improved in the coming production so that the play will be seen to the best possible advantage. A large number of speaking characters have been introduced in this drama and of these the principal ones have been cast as follows: Jack Dudley, Howell Hansel; Joseph Stillwood, Lindsay Morison; Hiram Hickory, William J. Hasson; Lilian Melford, Lillian Lawrence; Lucy Nettlefold, Mary Sanders; Madame Vallerie, Susette Willey. "Hands Across the Sea" is announced for a single week only and at the Monday matinee all patrons will be given a souvenir box of chocolate bonbons.

BOSTON THEATRE.

On Monday, May 25, there will be a return to a musical form of entertainment at the Boston theatre, when "The Defender," Lowe and Dennee's famous play, opens a limited engagement at the big playhouse. For this presentation of "The Defender," that bright, breezy and thoroughly delightful combination of mirth, melody and terpsichorean gaiety, which is so well know to all New England theatre goers as to require no introduction, a degree of sumptuousness in mounting and costuming will be attained that will make it unparalled in musical comedy productious. Notwithstanding, the fact that previous presentations of "The Defender" have been marked by an elaborateness of detail, yet a fortune of no mean dimentions has been expended on further embellishments. The massive stage of the Boston theatre will lend itself most aptly to this production in its new dress. The chorus will be a strictly American one and will include sixty girls, among whom are a number of beauties. The orchestra will be a feature during this engagement, and will number thirty musicians. It will include among other instruments an organ and a harp soloist and a church chime of bells. Startling novelties in electrical effects and coloring devices will be introduced, making the new edition of "The Defender" a production of great attractiveness and marked interest. For the benefit of out-of-town theatre-goers there will be special matinees on Wednesdays in addition to the usual Saturday afternoon performances.

KEITH'S THEATRE.

Those "up" in vaudeville will not have to be assured that the Keith program for the week commencing Monday, May 25, is one of the strongest and most varied offered at the theatre this spring. It is specially prolific in mirth-producing specialties, some of which have never before been given here. None of the new comers, however, will be more welcome than some of the old-time funmakers, the principal of whom is Will Cressy, the best actor of rural character parts in the varieties. Supported by Blanche Dayne, Mr. Cressy will appear in his charming comedy, "A Village Lawyer," in which special scenic and light effects are employed. Press Eldridge, blackface humorist, just back from a successful London engagement with new patter and songs; George Reno and Frank Richards, eccentric comedians and acrobats, and Joe, Myra and "Buster" Keaton, in a potpouri of nonsense, dancing, singing and acrobatic tumbling, will be others whose contributions must find favor with the audiences. The Fadettes orchestra continues, with a complete change of selections, the hours for the concerts being the same, The usual cooling facilities adopted during the summer months have already been installed.

—Sadie Vanderhoven died in Hoboken the other day and her funeral was real jolly, for she set apart $50 to buy various cheering liquids for the "mourners." About a year ago she told one John Jensen, "When I am in my coffin offer me a drink, and if I don't take it, you may drink it yourself." John agreed to that and carried it out by offering the corpse a glass of kummel. The corpse failing to respond, he silently drank. Then they tapped the beer and all drank to Sadies memory.

—The effect of raising the price of licenses in New York fifty per cent. has had the effect it is said, of reducing the number of saloons by 700, and putting a better class of men into the business, at the same time making the brewers more careful of whom they start in business. On the whole the experiment is said to be working well, and as no one has had to go dry, those who belong to the drink party are also satisfied.—Old Colony Memorial.

Have you one of the new savings banks?

SUNDAY SERVICES.

6TH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER.

Church services are inserted in this paper without charge, but none will be accepted to run until further order. A notice should be sent each week even though it is but a renewal. Give subject and special services when possible. Let all churches be represented—Eds.

FIRST UNITARIAN CHURCH—Rev. E. C. Butler, pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Preaching by the pastor. Sunday School 12 M. The Grand Army will be present at the morning service.

WASHINGTON STREET CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Rev. Leon H. Austin pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Preaching by pastor. Sunday School at 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.30 P. M. Evening service at 7.15. Prayer meeting Friday at 7.30 P. M. All are cordially invited.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH, Washington street—Rev. Merrill C. Ward pastor. Residence, 18 Ashmont street, Dorchester. Service of divine worship at 2.30 P. M. Subject: "The Spirit of Emerson." Sunday School at 3.45 P. M.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH, Franklin street,—Rev. William Alva Brady, pastor. Residence 25 Pleasant street. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. Bible School at 11.45 A. M. B. Y. P. U. at 6 P. M. Preaching service at 7 o'clock. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7.30.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Water and Quincy streets.—Rev. J. Todd, D. D., pastor. Service at 10.30 A. M. Preaching by the pastor. Sunday School at 12 M. Junior C. E. at 3 P. M. Senior C. E. at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7 o'clock. Midweek service Thursday evening. Seats free. All are cordially invited.

CHRIST CHURCH, Quincy, corner Elm street and Quincy avenue—Rev. W. E. Gardner, rector. Holy communion at 8.30 A. M. Morning prayer and sermon 10.30. Subject: "The Parish at Work." Sunday School at 12.05. Evening prayer and address at 7 o'clock. Subject: "Whom having not seen we love." Anthem, for the day: "Unfold Ye Portals Everlasting," Gounod.

CHRISTADELPHIAN CHURCH, at Keating's hall, Washington street near Canal street,—At 7 P. M. Subject: "Will the Persecution of the Jews involve all nations in war, if so what will the result be." All are welcome. Seats free. No collection.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Fort Square—Rev. W. B. Barr, pastor. Service at 10.30 A. M., preaching by pastor. A patriotic sermon. Sabbath School at 12 noon. Mr. Sutherland's Bible class at 3.30 P. M. Y. P. C. E. meeting at 6.30. Evening service at 7.30, the third sermon to toilers of Quincy. Subject: "The Heroes of Toil." Teachers' meeting Tuesday evening at 7. Seats free. All toilers especially invited.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, WOLLASTON—Rev. Edward Abbott Chase minister. Morning service at 10.45. Preaching by minister. Subject: "The Saving of Energy in the Spiritual World," also "Children's sermon and hymns." Sunday School at 12.15 P. M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.30 P. M.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH—Rev. Edmund D. Webber, pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Preaching by pastor. Subject: "Our Religion—Pastime or Practice?" Sunday School at 12.10. Junior C. E. society at 4 P. M. Young People's social service at 7 o'clock.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, ATLANTIC—Rev. J. H. Whitaker, pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Sermon by the pastor. Subject: "The Christian Home." Soloist, Miss Alice G. Coe. Sunday School at 12 M. Evening service at 7 o'clock. You are cordially invited.

ATLANTIC METHODIST CHURCH, corner Newbury avenue and Squantum street. Rev. B. D. Beck, pastor. Morning service at 10.45 o'clock. Sermon by pastor. Subject: "Accountability to God." Sunday School at 12 M. Epworth League at 6 P. M. Subject: "Attendance on the Means of Grace." Leader, Mr. J. C. Davis, Boston. At 7 o'clock song service led by chorus choir. Brief sermon by pastor. Subject: "Drifting." All seats free. Every one invited.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, of Braintree, Christian Science Hall on Washington street, south of Hollis avenue.—Morning service 10.45. Subject: "Ancient and Modern Mecromancy or Mesmerism and Hypnotism." Golden text: "Rejoice, ye heavens and ye that dwell in them. Woe to the inhabiters of the earth and of the sea! for the devilis come down unto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time." Rev. 12:12. Sunday School at 10.45 A. M. Wednesday 7.45 P. M., a testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 3 to 5 and Tuesday evenings. All are welcome.

A Wonderful Medicine.
Beecham's Pills
FOR ALL
Bilious and Nervous Disorders
Sick Headache, Constipation,
Wind and Pains in Stomach,
Impaired Digestion,
Disordered Liver and Female Ailments.
PREPARED ONLY BY THE PROPRIETOR,
Thomas Beecham, St. Helens, Eng.
Sold by all Druggists in United States.
In boxes, 10c. and 25c.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

BY Virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Hannah K. Ahlstrom to Edward Billings, dated April 10, 1902, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 919, page 326, for breach of the condition of said mortgage deed, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises on MONDAY, the fifteenth day of June, 1903, at 4.30 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage and therein described as follows, to wit:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy called Atlantic. Said parcel is a part of lot No. 847, on plan of "Norfolk Downs," by Charles D. Elliott, dated April, 1892, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book of Plans No. 14, plan numbered 640, and is bounded and described as follows, to wit: Northeasterly by lot 846 on said plan, one hundred and five (105) feet; southeasterly by Aphorp street, thirty (30) feet; southwesterly by a line parallel with and distant twenty (20) feet; northeasterly from the division line between lots 847 and 848, one hundred and five (105) feet; northwesterly by a portion of said lot 847, thirty (30) feet; containing 3,015 square feet of land, be any or all of said measurements more or less, or however otherwise bounded, measured or described. Said premises are hereby conveyed subject to the restrictions named in Deed of Henry H. Savage, et al, Trustees, dated December 14, 1895, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 753, page 554, so far as the same have any force at the present time. The kitchen range in the upper tenement of said house goes with the real estate. Said premises will be sold subject to the restrictions referred to in said deed, also subject to a mortgage of two thousand dollars, dated April 9th, 1902, to Daniel L. Shearer, Trustee, and duly recorded with Norfolk Deeds, and to all unpaid taxes, assessments and tax titles, if any there be.

For further particulars inquire of George H. Brown, Attorney, 22 Adams Building, Quincy.

$200 in cash will be required to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Further terms at sale.

EDWARD BILLINGS, Mortgagee.
Weymouth, Mass., May 23 1903. 3-23 25-1

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.
Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

SPILLER'S GOLDEN COUGH BALSAM
THE KIND THAT CURES
Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Inflammation of the Lungs, Lagrippe and Whooping Cough. It soothes the Cough of Consumption, and is excellent for all Lung Troubles. Try it. For sale by Weeks & Hill, Quincy, Mass. Price 25 cents.
If goods fail to give satisfaction, money refunded.

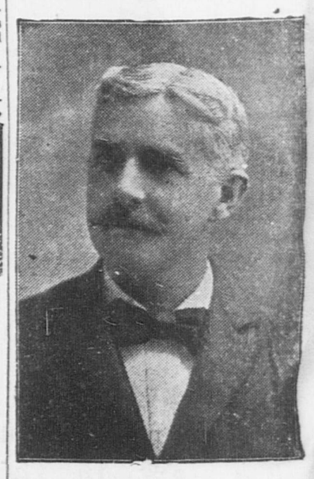

FULL STOCK
—OF—
HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,
—AT—
Brooks' Market,
Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 25. tf

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, Pres.
April 9-2m 11-2m

MAMMOTH SALE
CHOICE HOUSE LOTS.
Bigelow Park,
ENTIRE WEEK.
1.30 to 5 P. M.
May 25 to May 30, 1903.
May 22. 1p-1w

30 YEARS
In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If w don't know our BUSINESS we never will.
15 YEARS IN QUINCY.
The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.
NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS
We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.
G. B. BATES.
Plumbing and Heating Co,
25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.
Telephone Connection.
April 24 tf-p-1w

Vol. 15. N
Cracker
THIS WEE PRATT Grahams,
Grandmother's Cookies
Butter Thins,
Susie Wilson's
Saltines,
About 150 differen
KENNEDY CR
At Wholesale
Boston Branch
L. M. PRATT
QUINC LEDGER ADS PAY TRY ON
THE Capital, $150
Transacts a Gen
Charles PR
CHARLES A. HOWLAND
HORACE B. SPE
HERBER
CA BANK HO
YOU have NATION
T
The $1.00 with whic account. It's what you our plan, and will leave
DID YOU EVER
The Interest you get HAVE YOU SOME Cornelius Vanderbilt's pile up in time."
A Glass Blower said:
years he would have in bank
A lady teacher who had Three girls purchased a HOME BANK
DEPARTMEN
Quincy, May 20.

ORIA

, and which has been orne the signatnre of n made under his per-vision since its infancy.
e to deceive you in this.
Just-as-good" are but ndanger the health of against Experiment.

STORIA

for Castor Oil, Pare-
. It is Pleasant. It nor other Narcotic
e. It destroys Worms
Diarrhœa and Wind
es, cures Constipation Food, regulates the
hy and natural sleep.
er's Friend.

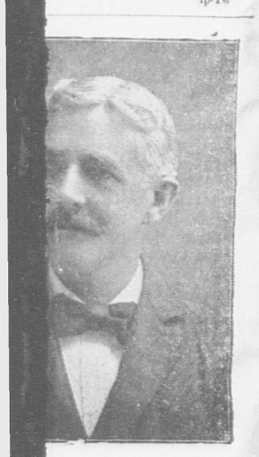

RIA ALWAYS
ure of tcher. lways Bought

30 Years.
NEW YORK CITY.

00 REWARD.

reward will be paid for the d conviction of any person breaking any street lamp to THE CITIZENS' GAS CO. order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, PRES.
11-2m

AMMOTH
SALE ICE HOUSE
LOTS.
elow Park,
TIRE WEEK.
1.30 to 5 P. M.
to May 30, 1903.
lp-1w

O YEARS
ng and Heating trade. If we ur BUSINESS we never will.
EARS IN QUINCY.
d oldest Plumbing and Heating
ncerns in Quincy.
UCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.
our success to three causes.
t efforts of our skilled workmen.
ict and personal attention to Prices and Square Dealing;
iberal patronage of the Public.
B. BATES.
g and Heating Co,
Street, opposite Quincy Depot. lephone Connection.
tf-p-1w

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 122. QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY, MAY 25, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

Cracker Sale

THIS WEEK AT

PRATT'S.

Grahams,	8 cts. pound.
Grandmother's Cookies,	8 cts. pound.
Butter Thins,	13 cts. pound.
Susie Wilson's	10 cts. pound.
Saltines,	13 cts. pound.

About 150 different kinds of

KENNEDY CRACKERS

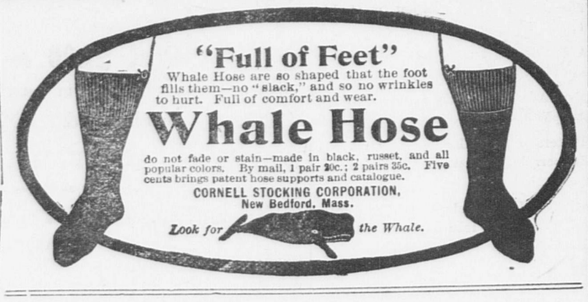

At Wholesale Prices.

Boston Branch Grocery,

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

LEDGER ADS PAY BEST
TRY ONE AND SEE

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,

In a variety of Styles and Prices.

Fancy Stocks. Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.

These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you

C. S. HUBBARD.

City Square, Quincy.

THE NATIONAL MOUNT WOLLASTON BANK,

Chartered as a National Bank 1864.

Capital, $150,000. Undivided Profits, $90,000. Deposits, $360,000.
Total Dividends Paid, $496,500.

Transacts a General Banking Business. Accounts received on favorable Terms.

OFFICERS

Charles A. Howland, PRESIDENT. Horace F. Spear, CASHIER.

DIRECTORS

CHARLES A. HOWLAND, President and Treasurer Quincy Mutual Fire Ins. Co. Trustee Quincy Savings Bank.
HORACE B. SPEAR, Retired. Treasurer of Quincy 18 years. Cashier National Mount Wollaston Bank 16 years. Trustee Quincy Savings Bank.
HERBERT F. DOBLE, Wholesale Groceries, Provisions, Flour and Grain.
GEO. HARVEY FIELD, Real Estate and Insurance. Vice-President Quincy Co-operative Bank.
LESTER M. PRATT, Wholesale and Retail Grocer.
HENRY M. FAXON, Real Estate.
GEORGE W. MORTON, Capitalist. Trustee Quincy Savings Bank. Director Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Co.
FRANK S. PATCH, Proprietor C. Patch & Son, Coal and Wood. Meadow Brook Ice Co. Director Quincy Co-operative Bank.

BANK HOURS: 8.30 to 3. Saturdays, 8.30 to 12.

YOU have the BANK, WE have the KEY

This is the Bank.

We Pay 3 Per Cent.

INTEREST ON

HOME BANK DEPOSITS.

THE more limited your income the more imperative is your DUTY TO save.

We have been educated to SPEND MONEY; now let us educate ourselves to SAVE MONEY instead of patronizing the various slot machines and devices for collecting small amounts or needlessly spending it "just because it is so small."

Open a Deposit Account—take a HOME BANK and DROP SOME AMOUNT INTO IT EVERY DAY. You will soon be surprised at the amount to your credit in the Bank.

CALL and ASK for a LITTLE BANK
Write or Telephone and we will

Deliver a Bank at your Home

Begin saving today and in a few short years you will have a capital with which to go in business or buy a home. Do you know that if you will save only 25 cents each working day for only five years, you will have accumulated by the aid of interest $419.10.

This Will Be Yours If You Make the Effort.

The $1.00 with which you open the account draws at THREE PER CENT. and will be returned when you close your account. It's what you save and not what you earn, that makes wealth. Our representative will call on you to explain our plan, and will leave a HOME BANK with you if you deposit $1.00 with which to open the account.

DID YOU EVER CONSIDER How much Money you were Spending Thoughtlessly? You are Earning Money every day? Are you Saving any Money? Could you Easily Save More?

Save Your Nickles, Pennies and Dimes.

The Interest you get makes the Dollars. And thus the little savings will grow into mighty Dollars.

Call and get one of these Little Home Banks Today FREE.

HAVE YOU SOME READY MONEY TO ACCEPT A GOOD BUSINESS OFFER? "Ready Money is a Remedy for Many Ills." Cornelius Vanderbilt's rule for saving: "No matter what I was earning, I always made it a rule to save something. The money will pile up in time."

A Glass Blower said: "I could easily have saved $20 a week for the past thirty years." Now if he had only saved $10 a week for thirty years he would have in bank today $25,217.50. Think it over—figure out what he could have saved.

A lady teacher who had $750 in bank said: "I never would have saved a cent but for the little HOME SAVINGS BANK."

Three girls purchased a $200 piano after using a little Bank eighteen months.

HOME BANK DEPARTMENT NATIONAL MT. WOLLASTON BANK, Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, May 20. 5t 20-21-25-27-28

MEMORIAL SUNDAY

The Grand Army Attend Two Services.

Historical Address by C. H. Porter.

Sermons by Rev. E. C. Butler and Fr. Roche.

Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R., attended services Sunday morning at the First church and listened to a strong address on heroism by Rev. Ellery C. Butler. The two flags of the Post occupied a prominent place on the pulpit platform and beautiful cut flowers adorned the communion table and side of the pulpit.

Rev. Mr. Butler's text was from the eighth verse of the third chapter of Ecclesiastes, "there is time for war."

There is at the bottom of every human life a little spot of grit, he said. A man who in battle who says he will not be taken alive is not a hero but one senseless of danger. Men may face death fearlessly yet be a bully and coward. Washington was a hero because he was great in soul. A hero is not the act alone but the feeling that prompted it.

No accident of birth can make a hero. It is common to all men. It may exist at West Point, yet he never knew anything more cowardly than their conduct to the first year men. The very essence of heroism lies in doing plain humblest duty. It is the common soldier that makes the hero. War is the result of unsatisfied human nature. It only excuse is the urgent need of peace. We need today the man with sharp brains, not the sharp sword.

He who strikes for his country in time of war is no more a hero than he who strives for his country in time of peace. There was never a time when sincerity was more needed than now. There was much talk about patriotism today but it was usually by gentlemen who want a fat office, and the votes to put them there. We want men whom the office seeks, not men who seek the office. What makes New England a power in the whole world? Not its wealth but the spirit of those who could not live in the old country but came here. They were the stuff of which heroes are made, now and forever. The Puritans had their faults but they were as honest as steel and that is what we want. As the people are, so will the leaders be.

Col. Charles H. Porter then gave a brief history of the Civil war and of Paul Rever Post. During the war 2,814,304 men enlisted for from sixty days, to three years. This includes those who reenlisted, but not the 50,000 in the navy. No correct figures could be given of the Confederate strength, but estimates give it as 700,000 to 1,500,000. A conservative estimate was 1,200,000.

During the war there were 2000 battles and skirmishes. 110,070 were killed or died of wounds, and 249,458 died of disease. Of the Confederates it was estimated the loss was 330,000, a total of 615,245 on both sides.

The state expends annually $800,000 in aid of the soldiers and sailors and the United States $140,000,000. The Grand Army also extends a great aid.

After the war, two societies were formed, the Loyal Legion and Grand Army of the Republic. Paul Revere Post was granted a charter June 4, 1869. Of the original charter members six are dead. The total members enrolled had been 292, of which 102 have died. About $500 is spent annually in relief. In all, the Post has expended about $12,000. The average age of the volunteer of '61, is now about 65 years. We are the old guard. The men who are here fought gallantly and well forty years ago. We have earned the right to be honored. We were of the best that lived at that time.

The services closed with the singing of America.

(Continued on page 3.)

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

THINKS THEY WILL WIN

Gompers Addresses a Mass Meeting of Striking Mill Operatives

Lowell, Mass., May 25.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor addressed an audience of about 4000 strikers on the south common Sunday afternoon. He said that to win the strikers must touch the mill men in their pocketbooks. He made light of the condition of the cotton market. His most significant utterance was:

"I believe and I hope that you will win in this fight. Anything I can do within my power will be done to aid you. I am not prepared to state the extent of my aid, but I am here to say that I recently issued a circular to all organized labor in America to aid the strikers of Lowell. I hope that money will come in sufficient amounts to enable you to buy bread and maintain your manhood and womanhood, and if you fail it will not be my fault.

"The operatives want to go back to work self-respecting and with ambition to perform their old duties to the best of their ability. If it met the approval of those delegated by you I would feel it my duty to bring this contest to an honorable close, and if you cannot go back without self respect I advise you to leave Lowell and make your living where you may. When self-respect is gone, all else of the future goes with it."

Kingdon's Ashes Deposited In Rock

The Weirs, N. H., May 25.—According to his request made some time since, the ashes of Samuel S. Kingdon, a Boston newspaper man, whose body was cremated, was placed in a rock on Beaver Island, Lake Winnepissogee. There was no formal ceremony, the ashes being carried to the rock by a party of Boston newspaper men. The rock in which the cavity had been previously made for the reception of the ashes was selected by Kingdon for the purpose during his lifetime, and the fact communicated to his fellow-newspaper men, who carried out his wishes.

Crops Damaged by Frost

Manchester, N. H., May 25.—Great damage has been done to vegetation in Manchester and vicinity by heavy frost. The mercury dropped to 1 and 2 degrees below the freezing point and frozen pools of water were found in some places about town. Beans, peas, potatoes, etc., were cut down to the very ground by the severe frost.

Lewiston, Me., May 25.—Frost severely injured and in some cases killed the crops in this vicinity. Farmers are feeling discouraged, as the dry weather had retarded the growth of the crops.

Robberies Under Policemen's Noses

New Haven, May 25.—Burglars, some time between midnight and 3 o'clock Sunday morning, entered the grocery store of S. S. Adams, blew open the safe and secured about $700. They then went next door, to the store of Knapp & Co., and broke open a small safe, securing $40 or $50. The robbery was apparently the work of experts. The stores which were entered by the burglars are scarcely 100 yards away from police headquarters. Patrolmen pass the vicinity frequently.

Accidentally Killed Sister

Vergennes, Vt., May 25.—A 5-year-old daughter of Albert Hiera, a farmer, was accidentally shot and killed by her 8-year-old brother at their home at Waltham. The boy had been sent by his father to get a revolver. The weapon was in a pocket of a pair of trousers which hung in a sleeping room and in withdrawing it the hammer caught and it was discharged. The ball lodged in the head of the little girl, who was asleep on a bed in the room, killing her instantly.

No Interference With Cars

Bridgeport, Conn., May 25.—There was not the slightest sign of disturbance in Bridgeport Sunday and trolley cars ran from early morning until 8 o'clock at night, although they were very poorly patronized. Sheriff Hawley had 200 deputy sheriffs on hand in the city, who had instructions to make arrests at the first sign of violence. The entire police force was within easy call, the men who were not on duty on the streets being held in reserve at police headquarters.

Auto Speeders Arrested

Newton, Mass., May 25.—In their efforts to put a stop to reckless speeding of automobiles on Commonwealth avenue boulevard Chief Tarbox and a squad of officers yesterday afternoon held up and took the names of 28 drivers who were found to be exceeding the speed of 10 miles an hour allowed by the law. They will be summoned into court.

Enforcement of Blue Law

Danbury, Conn., May 25.—The old Connecticut blue law relating to Sunday closing of stores was rigidly enforced here yesterday. Fruit stores and ice cream parlors were unable to do business because of a warning sent out by the police that an attempt to open such stores would result in arrests.

A Runaway for Amherst

Worcester, Mass., May 25.—Amherst won the New England intercollegiate championship with 51 points. Williams was second with 31, Massachusetts Institute of Technology being close up with 30. Dartmouth scored 15 and Wesleyan and Bowdoin tied for fifth place with 13 each.

☞Advertise in the Ledger

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
Employment Office
At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.
Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

If you are thinking of
BUYING A HOUSE
OR A
LOT OF LAND,
Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.
WALTER E. BURKE.
Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

Wall Paper
Direct from the Manufacture.
Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.
Address,
H. BIDWELL,
Dept. 8, Buffalo, N. Y.
April 1. lp-2mos.

Reupholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE
HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.
Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.
Call and get Prices.
C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.
Quincy, May 2. 1m

ERIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.
Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass
May 7. 1m

W. G. CHUBBUCK
Furniture and Piano Mover,
IN AND OUT OF TOWN.
Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.
JOBBING.
Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.
lp-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.
BELL and TELEPHONE WORK
A SPECIALTY.
Guaranteed Work at Right Price.
Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.
Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.
Address, 1362 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
Quincy, April 10. tflp

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT
is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

MAMMOTH SALE
CHOICE HOUSE LOTS.
Bigelow Park,
ENTIRE WEEK.
1.30 to 5 P. M.
May 25 to May 30, 1903.
May 22. lp-1w

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pigel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 49-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1 1y- p-6mos.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. lp-tf

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7 tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

FRANK F. CRANE
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17. 1.

JAMES F. BURKE,
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5. tf

By C. H. JOHNSON, Auctioneer.
Office: Room 3 Adams Building.

Household Furniture

At Public Auction of CHARLES PETERSON will be sold from residence No. 138 Granite Street, on Tuesday, May 26, 1903,

At 1.30 P. M.

The goods consist in part as follows: Plush Rocker, Woolen Carpet, Curtains, 2 Rockers, 6 Rugs, Oak Side Board in good order, Cane Seat Rocker, Oak Commode, Oak Bureau, 8 foot Oak Extension Table, 6 Cane Seat Dining Room Chairs, Art Square, Hanging Lamp, Plants, 5 Odd Chairs, White Iron Bed nearly new, Rocker, Table Covers, Bed Spreads, Comforters, Mattresses, Straw Matting, Chamber Set, China Tea Set, lot of Dishes and Glass Ware, Magee Range in good order, Kitchen Table, and a lot of Kitchen Furniture. This is only a partial list of the furnishings of 5 rooms. All of above furniture is clean and in good order.

Sale positive. Goods to be removed at once. Terms, Cash.

No. 138 Granite Street.

May 18. 6t-18-19-20-22-23-24

ASSESSORS' NOTICE.

To the inhabitants of the City of Quincy, and all other persons liable to pay taxes therein:

You are hereby notified to bring in to the Assessors of said City,

On or before JUNE 1st, 1903,

True and Perfect Lists of all the Polls, and Schedules and Estimates of all the Personal Estates and Real Estate for which you are liable to pay taxes.

Persons holding estates in trust, whether for minors or otherwise, are particularly requested to furnish the Assessors with Statements in relation to such estates.

When the estates of persons deceased have been divided, or have changed hands from other causes during the past year, the Executors, Administrators, or other persons interested, are required to give notice of such changes, and in default of such notice will be held to pay the taxes assessed.

Blank forms for "Return of Property for Taxation" can be procured of the Assessors.

The following may serve as a guide to assist in making up Schedules and Statements:

Number of Polls 20 years and upwards; Money at interest; Amount of Money on hand including deposits in Banks, etc., other than Savings Banks incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth; Railroad, Town, City, State and other Bonds (except those of the United States); Shares and Stocks of Insurance, Manufacturing and other incorporated companies chartered or organized under the laws of any State other than Massachusetts; Goods, Wares, Merchandise and other stock in trade, within or without the State; Household Furniture, exceeding $1,000 in value; Horses, Mules, Carriages, Oxen, Cows, other neat Cattle not less than one year old, and Swine and Sheep not less than six months old; Income from Profession, Trade, or Employment exceeding $2,000; Personal Property held in trust or by wife or minor children.

Attention is hereby called to Section 32 of Chapter 12 of the Revised Laws.

"Whoever, with intent to defeat or evade the provisions of law in relation to assessment or payment of taxes, delivers or discloses to an assessor or an assistant assessor a false or fraudulent list, return, or schedule of property as and for a true list of his estates, not exempted from taxation, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in jail not exceeding one year."

MORTGAGED PROPERTY.

A mortgagor or mortgagee of real estate may bring in to the assessors of the city or town if which it lies, within the time prescribed by the notice under Sect. 41, a statement under oath of the amount secured thereon or on each separate parcel thereof, with the name and residence of every holder of an interest therein as mortgagor or mortgagee. If such property is situated in two or more places, or if a recorded mortgage includes two or more estates or parts of an estate as security for one sum, such statement shall include an estimate of the interest of the mortgagee in each estate or part of an estate. The assessors shall, from such statement or otherwise, ascertain the proportionate interests of the mortgagor or mortgagee respectively in in said estates, and shall assess the same accordingly. If, in any year, such statement is not brought in, the tax for that year on such real estate shall not be invalid merely for the reason that the interest of the mortgagee therein has not been assessed to him.—Sect. 45, Chap. 12, Revised Laws.

When a statement in conformity to the law above quoted is brought in, the real estate therein returned will be assessed under Sects. 16, 17 and 18 of Chap. 12 of the Revised Laws. But in cases where the mortgagor of the real estate has agreed in writing to pay all taxes assessed thereon, no statement or return is required from either the mortgagee or mortgagor unless requested by the assessors in writing.

The Assessors will be in session at their office every MONDAY and THURSDAY morning from 9 to 11 o'clock. Blanks will be furnished to all applicants.

JAMES THOMPSON, Chairman
CHARLES H. JOHNSON,
WILLIAM B. GLOVER,
Assessors of Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, May 2, 1903. p-4w--1-8t--2t a w

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

$3.50

For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . . At Co-operative Dining Rooms

3 Granite Street, Quincy,

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21--2m

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS
Original and Only Genuine.
SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co. Madison Square, PHILA., PA.
Mention this paper.

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year

A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	58	79	83	72	67
Monday,	64	86	77	49	62
Tuesday,	—	90	80	59	68
Wednesday,	—	78	76	53	55
Thursday,	—	86	70	62	57
Friday,	—	85	65	58	76
Saturday,	—	70	60	49	82

New Advertisements Today.

A lady's gold watch lost.
Wanted—Persons to board and room.
Silver watch lost.
Wanted---Two or three Rooms.
Angora cat lost.
To Let—Houses.
Henry L. Kincaide & Co.---Refrigerators.
Geo. W. Jones---Straw Hats.
Chas. C. Hearn---Medical Notice.
Henry L. Kincaide & Co.---Oil Stoves.
Any person to distribute samples.
Young man wanted.

Good Afternoon

While Gov. Bates honored Quincy by his presence on Saturday and visited the birthplace of President John Adams, there was a notable gathering at Worcester, the heart of the commonwealth, to honor the name of Adams and erect a tablet to him as a schoolmaster. A beautiful tribute was paid to our distinguished townsman;

Senator Hoar said in part: "John Adams occupied a middle ground between Jefferson and Samuel Adams. These two stood for liberty of the individual, while John Adams was a great constitutional lawyer. He signed the Declaration of Independence, but he knew even better than his great kinsman, he knew far better than Jefferson, that neither law nor liberty could be trusted where the temporary impulse of the people has full and direct sway in government. He knew the value of courts, of constitutional restraints, of deliberations, of the sober better and second thought. He knew than Hamilton that the considerate will of a free people is safer than that of any monarch or of any nobility. He understood, too, better than any other man of his time, with few exceptions, that there are great domains of power into which no government should be permitted to enter,

"It is to the glory of John Adams that he knew how to construct the mechanism which would make Jefferson's lofty theories living and practical realities, and would secure government by the people, aganist the perils feared by Hamilton.

"After all, it is of little importance to either. Monuments and statues are not for the dead, but for the living. So long as in every generation the youth of Massachusetts learn their lesson from this great schoolmaster, the commonwealth he loved and served, for whom he wrote her constitution, the immortal textbook of liberty will abide."

Philippine Commanders have hastened to advise the War Department of numerous instances of bravery of colored troops which come to their attention. They say the records of the colored regiments will compare favorably with those of white organizations.

Summer Suggestions.

Here are just a few hints for the summer girls of 1903:

Eat lobsters, but do not flirt with them.

Dress in lawn, but do not sit on it.

Beware the lynx on the links.

Tip the porter, but not the highball.

Only a potato has any license to make goo-goo eyes.

It does not require a highwayman to hold up a train.

Eat clams, but do not be one.

Careful not to mix your teas with your tees.

—From "Vest Pocket Confidences," in Four-Track News for May.

It was one of the first warm days, and little Mabel, aged 4, who had been playing with some neighboring children rushed into the house, and, throwing herself across her mother's lap, exclaimed:

"Oh, mamma, take off some of my clothes. I'm a whole petticoat too hot!"

VISIT OF COVERNOR

Delighted With Quincy's Historic Places.

Takes a Drive With Mayor Bryant.

Reception at Birthplace of John Adams a Happy Occasion.

The informality of the visit of Gov. Bates to Quincy on Saturday made it a delightful occasion for all who had the pleasure of entertaining the party, or meeting them at the birthplace of President John Adams.

The Governor came on the invitation of the Junior society of Adams Chapter, D. R., of which Miss Mary E. Nightingale is director. Accompanying His Excellency was Mrs. Bates, a very lovable lady, and also the Governor's parents, Rev. and Mrs. L. B. Bates, a distinguished and happy couple, and also Mrs. Caroline C. Carlton of Chelsea, a friend of the family.

The party arrived at Quincy at 2.50, and were met at the station by Hon. Charles M. Bryant, Mayor of the city, and Miss Mary E. Nightingale, director of the society.

Carriages were taken to the old First church where the Adamses worshipped; where mural monuments are erected to their memory, and beneath whose pillars the bodies of President John Adams and his wife Abigail Adams, and President John Quincy Adams and his wife Louisa C. Adams are interred.

The party was received at the church by the pastor Rev. E. C. Butler and his wife, and under their guidance learned of the connection of the Adams with the church.

A drive was then taken through Adams street to the Adams homestead, and then over Presidents' hill to the birthplaces of the Presidents at South Quincy.

A visit was first made to the birthplace of John Quincy Adams in charge of the Quincy Historical Society, Mr. W. G. Spear custodian. Here W. G. A. Pattee, Esq., the president of the society, and Mrs. Pattee received, and took pleasure in showing the house and its relics to the distinguished guests, who found much of interest.

The Governor was greeted on the lawn at the birthplace of John Adams by a bevy of girls, members of the Junior Society, who were in society dress of a century ago.

The Governor and Mrs. Bates received in the easterly front room with its hugh fire-place, the guests being presented by the following ushers in costume: Miss Edith Littlefield, Miss Grace F. Spear, Miss Avah Gilson, Miss Amy Wright, Miss Helen Barnes. Miss Louise Burleigh, Miss Ethel Sprague, Master Carl Prescott and Master Carlton Beal.

The tickets were taken at the door by George Proctor, who was in Continental costume.

The following young ladies, mostly in costume, served frappe, cake and crackers in the other front room: Miss Margaret Elkins, Miss Florence Elkins, Miss Carlena Walker, Miss Avah Gilson, Miss Grace Spear, Miss Ethel Sprague, Miss Gladys Hannum, Miss Mabelle Clapp, Miss Lora Emerson and Miss Catherine Stearns.

During the reception, music was furnished by Mr. William Wilson, piano, and Mr. Joshua Hanson, violin.

Most of the members of Adams chapter, D. R., were present and assisted the young people, and among the guests were noticed: Mayor Bryant, Mrs. Charles M. Bryant, City Solicitor Blackmur and son, Mr. Charles F. Harper, Miss Mary E. Dearborn, Mrs. Edward Norton, Mrs. E. N. Hardy, Mrs. Wilson Marsh, Hon. John Shaw, Mrs. George T. Pfaffmann, Mr. Henry H. Faxon, ex-Councilman John P. Bigelow, Mr. A. T. Stearns of Neponset, ex-Senator E. H. Sprague and Miss Sprague. Mrs. H. F. Spear, Mrs. H. C. Rodgers, Mrs. John O. Hall, Jr., Mrs. F. S. Davis, Miss Hultman.

Mrs. Thayer, Mrs. Sprague, Mrs. Charles Belcher, Mrs. Wilde, Miss Brady, Mrs. Eugene Dyer, Miss Dyer and Mrs. Beal of Braintree, Mrs. W. E. Piper, Miss Spear, Mr. C. T. Hardwick and wife, Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Gilson, Mrs. John F. Welch, Mrs. A. E. Sproul, Mrs. W. W. Ewell, Mrs. George W. Ewell, Mr. George T. Magee and wife, Mrs. Friend Crane, Mrs. Isaac, Miss Macfarlane, Mrs. Frank F. Crane, Mrs. Thomas, Miss Margaret Thomas, Mrs. Charles H. Penniman, Mrs. Osborne Rogers, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. Frank Brewer, Miss Gavin, Mrs. C. B. Tilton, Mrs. G. G. Saville, Miss Carrie Crane, Mrs. Nightingale, Misses Nightingale, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Prescott, Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Granger of Randolph, Mrs. Littlefield Mrs. Charles H. Johnson.

Maynard Stearns, Miss Stearns, Albert Stearns, Gladys Hannum, Pecival Sears, Jack Pfaffmann, Clarke Saville, Gerna and Catherine Saville, Avard Sproul, Irma Tilton, Lorenzo Gilson, Albert Prescott, Henry Prescott.

Leaving the birthplaces of the Presidents, the Governor and party enjoyed a ride with Mayor Bryant. They visited the Dorothy Quincy house and were driven through Merrymount park by the residence of the Mayor. The Governor boarded the 5.15 train at Wollaston.

WORK REVIEWED.

Dr. Todd Has a Heart-to-Heart Talk With His People.

The Rev. Dr. Todd preached a heart-to-heart message to his church Sunday morning from Phil. 4:6. His theme was grace, which meant he said, the unmerited favor of Jesus Christ which saved the soul, and the favor shown to us daily in his good providence. It also meant to Christian people that which gives sweetness, gentleness, peace and love. It meant not only good morals in a Christian but pleasant manners.

Every convert in the early church became cultured in this sense to some extent. There existed a genial courtsey and considerateness among the early apostolic church was more easily obtained in this age. The fragrance of the rose is more religious than the thorns of the thistle. This grace was the wisdom of the serpent without the sting in its tail. Its motto is "Give me your hand my trusty friend," and it is infinitely nobler than "touch me if you dare." It has all the harmlessness of the dove without either the simplicity or obstinacy of the fatuous. Its presence made man trustful, not suspicious; friendly not jealous. It never hates nor condemns until guilt is proven and then as justice is tempered with mercy.

In reviewing his ministry of two years and nine months, Dr. Todd said they had been greatly blessed with peace and prosperity. He said he had made a great sacrifice in salary in coming to them, but he had been amply rewarded for the Lord Jesus had died to bring peace among men. Seventy members had been added to the church and twenty had been dismissed, leaving a net gain of fifty.

The work among the young people had been greatly strengthened, and the church had the largest Junior C. E. society and the largest Bible class, excepting one, in the Presbytery of Boston, whereas three years ago the cry in the church was, how can we get hold of the young people.

Financially, the church had raised one third more money than in the three years previous; and he heartily thanked the church for their assistance and co-operation. He closed by advising the members to be of one mind, consider the feelings and opinions of each other, live and labor together and they would accomplish greater things in the future, and by saying if he is ever led to another pastorate he would wish to be led to one as well conditioned and equipped for work as the one he leaves.

Another for Park A. A.

The Wollaston Park A. A. easily defeated the American Woolen Co. at Wood Island Park, Saturday, by a score of 22 to 8. The feature of the game was the fine batting of the home team. This makes the second victory for the Park boys, as they have previously defeated the strong Holbrook A. A. by a good margin.

Miss Muriel Rogers of Hancock street, the daughter of Osborne Rogers, had a narrow escape from serious injury Wednesday while watching a game of ball at Merrymount park. She was standing near the first baseman who missed a thrown ball, which struck her on the forehead between the eyes. Had the ball struck a little lower or a little to the side of where it did permanent injury would probably have resulted. As it was the injuy was a painful one.

"I guess it's all over between Millie and me."

"Why, what's the trouble?"

"I went up there this afternoon with my trotter to take her out for a drive; and there was a fellow ahead of me with an automobile." — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

—In proportion to its size Great Britian has eight times as many railway as United States.

—In Texas a locomotive was recently decorated with 100 incandescent lights for use as an excursion locomotive.

DIED.

RAJALA—In Quincy, May 23, Effie L., daughter of Mr. Nestor and Mrs. Lydia Rajala of 115 Granite street, aged 4 months and 10 days

OSBORNE—At Rutland, John H. Osborne of Wollaston.

Funeral from St. Chrysostom's church Wollaston, Wednesday, May 27, at 11 o'clock, A. M.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Next Saturday will be a holiday.

The City Council will not meet this week.

A fire on the hearth was appreciated on Sunday.

Mrs. Adam Whitney is critically ill with pneumonia.

Patterson of Wollaston picked a box strawberries last Saturday and one today.

Arthur Lussier clerk at the Public market has gone into business for himself.

There will be no more evening services in the Wollaston Unitarian church until next fall.

Representative Fallon voted in favor of passing the firemen's bill over the veto of the Governor.

There will be a Mothers' meeting at the Park and Downs church on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The closing reception of the pupils of Elmer W. Baker's classes will be held at Faxon hall tomorrow evening.

A report of the address of Rev. Samuel Freuder, formerly a Jewish rabbi, will be given in the Ledger tomorrow.

The W. C. T. W. will meet in the Council Chamber at City Hall, Tuesday afternoon, at three o'clock. All invited.

The last meeting of the season of the Charitable Ten, King's Daughters, will be held with Mrs. Frank F. Davis of Elm street, tomorrow evening.

Administrations were granted at probate court last week on the estates of John A. Duggan of Atlantic and Hannah E. Lillicrap of South Quincy.

The Sunday morning service in the Unitarian church, Wollaston, was a memorial on Emerson, as May 25 was the centennial of his birth.

In a closely contested match, John G. Anderson of the Amherst County club, tied Parlette, the champion golfer of Western Massachusetts on May 9.

An abstract of a very interesting address by Rev. Mr. Barr on Sunday evening at the United Presbyterian church on the "Heroes of Toil," will appear in Tuesday's Ledger.

Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock the regular meeting of the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. J. T. Burchsted, Beale street, corner of Highland avenue.

On the morning of Memorial day May 30, the ladies of the Wollaston Baptist church will serve breakfast in the vestry from 7.30 to 9.30. Proceeds to be used for some needed additions to the church equipment.

The Woman's Guild will hold the last meeting of the season at the Rectory of St. Chrysostom's church on Wednesday at 2.30 P. M. Mrs. Groves will speak upon her work at St. Mary's for Sailors. A full attendance is desired.

Those having children to be presented for baptism at the First church, on Children's Sunday, June 7, are requested to send the names of such children to the pastor of the church, or to the superintendent of the Sunday school, before Wednesday night, May 27, in order that they may be printed in the order of service for the day.

Annie M. Troup of Quincy has purchased a house lot of J. W. Pratt on Plymouth street and is building a fine house thereon for a permanent residence. She will occupy the same about July 1. The same builder has sold to Bernard J. Talbot 5,057 feet on Plymouth street and will begin the construction of a two-story house upon the same at once.

Iron For Color

Iron has been given for the cure of anemia or paleness from a very early date in medical history, and has always deserved the high praise it has received.

In no other preparation has Iron ever been so effectively and agreeably combined as in PEPT-IRON — a specific remedy for all forms and degrees of anemia, curing not only the paleness but also the nervousness and dyspepsia from which anemic patients so commonly suffer.

Pept-iron is a blood nutrient, nerve and stomach tonic, beneficial to all pale, nervous, dyspeptic people.

Mr. Chas. Dinwoodie, East Lexington, Mass., writes that his daughter was pale and had spells of not wanting to move about and of not caring whether she ate anything or not. Then she began taking Pept-iron and it gave her color, animation and a good appetite.

Peptiron

It leaves no inky or metallic flavor in the mouth, is agreeable to the taste, does not injure the teeth nor cause constipation.

Peptiron is make in two forms: In a liquid—an aromatic cordial elixir—at $1 per bottle, also in chocolate-coated pills at 50c. or $1 per box. By C. I. HOOD CO., proprietors Hood's Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

Selling Agent in Quincy:

E. J. Murphy, 1657 Hancock St.

STRAW HATS.

WE HAVE A FINE LINE OF THE LATEST STYLES.

OUR $1.00 to $3.00 HATS

ARE ALL OF THE POPULAR

LAMSON & HUBBARD MAKE

OUTING CAPS

In all Shapes and Colors,

25c., 50c., 75c., $1.00, $1.50.

HEADQUARTERS FOR THE

QUINCY YACHT CLUB CAP.

GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

GRAND FAIR

IN AID OF THE

QUINCY HOSPITAL,

At the Residence of MISS BEALE. Adams Street,

ON THURSDAY, JUNE 11th,

Afternoon and Eveuing, beginning at 2 o'clock

PROCEEDS TO BE DEVOTED TO THE NURSES' HOME.

Admission 50 cents. Children under 12 years, 25 cents

An invitation is extended to all who are interested in the welfare of the hospital and in providing a nurses' home.

May 22. 1-tf--p-2w

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.

60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN.

PHARMACIST,

1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

ORDER NOW FOR

DECORATION DAY

--YOUR--

Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

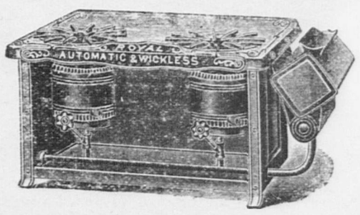

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works,

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy

It's Fun To Cook on a Blue Flame Oil Stove.

And the fun grows more intense after you have used one of these famous stoves for over a month, and figure that it has cost you almost nothing to run. No over heated kitchen, no coal, no wood, no dust, no ashes, a fire piping hot in a twinkling, ready to roast or to bake.

You are losing much of the pleasure of living today without one of our Blue Flame Stoves. We guarantee them to give perfect satisfaction or refund the money. Our Prices, $3.98 to $10.00. (Gasolene Stoves also for folks who wish.)

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

...ATS.

...NE OF ...ES.

...00 HATS ...PULAR ...RD MAKE ...APS ..., ...00, $1.50. ...THE ...LUB CAP.

...JONES, ...QUINCY.

...FAIR ...SPITAL, ...ALE. Adams Street, ...UNE 11th, ...ng at 2 o'clock. ...HE NURSES' HOME. ...nder 12 years, 25 cents. ...the welfare of the hospital and in

1-tf--p-2w

...that your night's ...ge.

...D IRON. ...ottle.

...HEARN. ...T, ..., Quincy.

...FOR ...N DAY ...ding Plants. ...HOUSES. ...re River Works, ...EEN, Proprietor.

...Stove.

And the fun grows more intense after you have used one of these famous stoves for over a month, and figure that it has cost you almost nothing to run. No over heated kitchen, no coal, ...hot in a twinkling, ...living today with- ...guarantee them to ...oney. Our Prices, ...folks who wish.)

...E & CO., ...iture Store, Quincy. ...ay Evenings.

LECTURE

By DR. WILLIAM J. LONG.

Subject: "Animal Life and Death," true stories of all kinds of birds and animals.

High School Hall, Quincy,

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 27,

At Eight o'clock,

For the benefit of the Washington School, Quincy Point.

Tickets, 25 cents.

Quincy, May 16. p-2w--1-2t--16 25

MASON WORK

OF ALL KINDS

Done in the Best Manner

At Reasonable Prices by

C. B. HUSTON & CO.,

4 High School Avenue.

Having had many years' experience we can give perfect satisfaction.

All orders promptly attended to.

C. B. HUSTON,
D. H. CLEARY,
F. A. SOUTHER.

Quincy, May 23. 1m

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

BUY YOUR

Hot Weather Goods

—OF—

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

And get your COLD SODA

FREE.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

Hundreds

—OF—

VALUABLE PRESENTS

ABSOLUTELY FREE.

Whether you purchase a Lot or not.

Bigelow Park,

ENTIRE WEEK.

1.30 to 5 P. M.

May 25 to May 30, 1903.

Quincy, May 22. tf

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.

Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

TO LET

IN QUINCY, MASS.,

By H. H. FAXON.

HOUSES, STORES, HALL, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES,

Land, Wharves, etc.

Buildings are in Complete Repair

Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.

House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.

Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.

Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc., No. 92 School street, $12 per month.

Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.

Stable, junction School and Franklin streets, $4 per month.

Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.

Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.

Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.

For particulars apply to

HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, May 13, 1903. 1m

MEMORIAL SUNDAY.

Continued from page 1.

AT WEST QUINCY.

The Grand Army assembled again in large numbers in the evening, and accompained by the Woman's Relief Corps, Ladies' Aid Society, and Spanish War Veterans took special cars for West Quincy to accept an invitation of Rev. A. F. Roche, pastor of St. Mary's church.

The body of the church between the centre aisles was reserved for the organizations, and as they entered "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung by choir. Music was a feature of the service, and the following program was rendered.

Star Spangled Banner.
Schubert's Military March.
Schmidt's Requiem Mass.
Veni Creator, La Hache
Hymn,—America.
Inflamatus Rossini
Miss Foley.
A Salutaris, Werner
Miss Foley.
Tantum Ergo, Lambilotte
Holy God chorus
Soprano soloist, Miss Alice Foley.
Organist, Mary E. McKay.
Director, John A. McGowan.

Rev. Fr. Roche took for his subject: "The Deeper Meaning of Memorial Day." He said the world at large seemed unmindful of the reasons, and it was well for us to consider. We honor those who fell for our country not because they are dead but because they offered to sacrifice their lives for the country in time of peril.

The foundation of government is religion, which is to know, love and serve God. This is the ideal foundation. The foundation that is built on human greed and selfishness is always detrimental and must never be accepted as a guide to action. The law of God, as emphasized in ideal government, is contained in his saying, "Thou Shalt Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself." This is not impossible of realization; on the contrary it is the only true basis of human happiness.

To bring about this condition of love for our neighbor, a higher law is necessary that the penal code of any government. This law is conscience when properly instructed as to the relationship between God, our fellow men and ourselves. As conscience depends upon knowledge and as all men's knowledge is not alike, it follows that to guide all men of diverse degrees of knowledge, a certain law is necessary which must be complete, easily understood and perfectly just to all, and for all, and superior to the laws of fallible men; consequently it must be made by God of infinite wisdom who says, "I am the Way, the Truth and the Light."

You men who are members of the Grand Army of the Republic, with all due praise for your heroism, you and all others must yet realize that Christ's kingdom in a grander republic which for 19 centuries existed before the Grand Army was organized and which will last till the world's end. As this country has a standard—the stars and stripes—so Christ's republic has its standard—the sign of the cross; the ideal American citizen is the one who realizes that the grandest of all standards is the cross of Christ with the stars and stripes enshrouded upon it, representing, entwined, our love for our God and the highest realization in civil government of our love for our neighbor.

TODAY'S COURT.

A busy session of the District court was held by Judge Avery this morning. Sixteen were arraigned for drunkenness, mostly at Quincy and the fines ranged from $3 to $15. The $3 fines were imposed upon the simple drunks arrested in the street, and a fine of $15 imposed on the two arrested on the trains.

Those to contribute $3 fines were: Richard Sullivan, William Labiti, Joseph Higgins, Daniel McCullen, Edward Pirenin, Axel Svenson Oscar Halmquist, Loretto Sarchetti, Manuel Ylenquis, August Ylenquis, John A. Finden, Axel Sampson and John Beaton.

Allison Graham was fined $5 and Genaro Cicoone and Angelo DeGuesto $15 each.

Joseph N. Delory was arraigned for assault on his wife at Weymouth. He was fined $3 and put under bonds to keep the peace for three months.

Vinzenzo Recca was arraigned for threatening to commit an assault at Weymouth. Case continued until June 3.

Mary Andrews was arraigned for the larceny of money from Margaret Clements at Quincy. She was sentenced to three months in the house of correction.

☞Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

NEW STORES TO LET.

A BUILDING will be erected at once by N.G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information enquire of N. G. NICKERSON. Quincy, May 12-tf

IMPORTANT SALE.

At Less Than Half the Assessed Value.

Nancy Brackett Estate at Auction.

Assessed for $53,700 and Bid off at $24,835.15.

A large number of moneyed men were present Saturday at the sale of the Nancy Brackett estate on Hancock street by Auctioneer Johnson. Bidding, however, was slow and the sale again demonstrated the fact that property in the centre will not bring its assessed value under the hammer.

This estate which is one of the most desirable in Quincy comprised 84,935 square feet, having a frontage on Hancock street of 318 feet and about the same on the railroad and a depth of 269 feet.

On the estate is a large house and stable. The assessed value of the estate in 1902 was $53,700, divided as follows: House, $3,500; stable, $200; and land $50,000. The land assessment was at the rate of 60 cents per foot.

At the commencement of the sale Auctioneer Johnson announced that it would be a bona fide sale. It would be sold subject to the 1903 taxes; terms cash; and at so much per foot to include buildings.

Henry H. Faxon started the bidding at 17 cents and it was run up rapidly to 25 cents. There it hung for a while until Henry M. Faxon raised it to 26 cents.

From this on bidding was slow and was at the rate of half a cent until it reached 29 cents, where it hung and no amount of urging on the part of the auctioneer could raise it from that figure. It was sold to J. Frank Faxon for that figure. This brought the price up to $24,835.15 which was considered by all the gentlemen present as unusually cheap. There was an out-of-town bidder but he stopped bidding at 28.

Efforts to sell the estate at private sale have been unsuccessful, although the property has been in the market for two or three years.

Dancing.

May 30th afternoon and evening, in the Pavilion, at Fensmere Beach, Houghs Neck, beginning at 2 o'clock, dancing will be under the management of Prof. and Mrs. Gibson as usual. The reputation of Prof. Gibson, as an instructor, and manager is so well established, that extended comment is unnecessary. 4t--23-25-27-29

Found Dead.

Arthur W. Reed of Whitman was found dead in the woods at Milton Thursday night. A little bottle had contained laudanum was beside the body. He had previously made an attempt at suicide. He was a blacksmith and about 29 years old.

Quincy Post Office.

Letters unclaimed for week ending Monday, May 25:

I. P. Benyman, Antonio Roe, C. H. Coburn, Thomas Coughlin, T. F. Cunningham, Albert Hughes, Rev. T. M. Huston, Henry F. Kilburn, Vicktor Larson, John Marley, J. K. Patten, John A. Remall, Louis Ruggles, Walter M. Selicaline.

Miss Belle Boyden, Miss Marianna Heath, Mrs. Merrill, Mrs. J. L. Rice, Mrs. Charles Rider.

Wollaston P. O. Station.

Letters unclaimed for the week ending, Saturday, May 23, 1903:

Mr. Frank Burnham, Mrs. T. R. Brooks, Mr. Wm. Tracey, Miss Mary Stone.

A reasonably active man walks about 297,209 miles—more than 10 times the earth's circumference—in 84 years, just walking about his house and office.

Spring Wheat,

from which Pillsbury's Best Flour is made—grown in the Red River Valley of the North, Minnesota, North and South Dakota—is best in the world for flour.

SCOOPED A FEW.

Quincy Police Put Up Aggressive Fight Against Car Disturbers.

The well advertised fact that war had been declared upon the drunks that frequent the late trains, was sufficient warning for many not to overload themselves with alcoholic stimulants in Boston Saturday night.

This with the cool weather was the cause for the peacefulness that characterized the late trains. The police were prepared to preserve order, and it was a foregone conclusion that anyone who indulged to a boisterous extent would spend the night at the police station.

The patrol wagon met all the late trains at the Quincy Adams station although there was a large crowd at the Quincy station, as it was anticipated that this would be the scene of the fun. There was little fun however, anywhere.

Chief Hayden, Inspector McKay, with Officer Bradley, Burrell, Murray and Golden were the squad that boarded all late trains at Atlantic and rode through to Quincy Adams. While there were quite a number on the trains who had a fairly good load aboard, there were but few who were loaded above the danger limit, and two of these were taken from the train and one from an electric car.

Before the electric cars on the Quincy Point line left City Square, its passengers were looked over carefully by an officer who was ready to arrest any disturbers.

Although there were but few drunks taken from the trains, the Quincy police scooped in fifteen between Saturday night and this morning.

A Tie Game.

The Adams Academy nine went to Duxbury on Saturday for the annual game with Powder Point school. A high wind blowing across the field made accurate fielding well-nigh impossible. A tie game resulted 8 to 8.

The game, though somewhat loosely played, abounded in interesting situations. As the Powder Point school plays teachers, Mr. Kent played third base for the Academy in place of Weston who was obliged to be away. Mr. Kent distinguished himself by catching a hot liner, making a fine hit at a most opportune time, and muffing a fly.

Hoxie pitched a good game for Adams. The throwing for both sides was somewhat wild. At the end of the ninth innings the score stood eight to eight. An attempt was made to play a tenth innings, but before it could be finished the Academy boys had to leave for their train. The score reverted to the ninth innings and so the game resulted in a tie.

The fielding of the Academy boys in the eighth innings was noteworthy. They retired the three batteries in three minutes' play.

Below is the score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Powder Point.	3	0	0	2	3	0	0	0	0	—8
Adams,	0	2	1	1	1	0	1	1	1	—8

The Adams Academy second nine defeated the nine connected with the Boys' Improvement club of Atlantic by a score of 29 to 21.

Easy for Merrymounts.

The Merrymounts defeated the Harvard '04 team at Merrymount park on Saturday afternoon. Both pitchers were hit freely but Kolson was effective at critical times. Chadbourne caught a good game and led his side with the bat. Of the visiting team, Sheldon led with the bat and Viaux did some clever fielding.

The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Merrymounts,	1	4	0	0	2	1	1	9	0	—18
Harvard, '04,	0	0	0	0	0	2	1	3	2	2—10

Earned runs.—Merrymounts, 6; Harvard, '04, 3. Two-base hits,—Osgood, Sheldon. Three-base hits.—Sheldon. Double plays—Viaux and Lester. Passed balls—by Chadbourne 1, Thayer 2. Hit by pitched ball—Taylor. Time—2 hours 20 minutes. Umpire—Curran.

West Quincys Defeat Oakdale.

The West Quincys won their second victory of the season Saturday in their game with the Oakdales of Somerville defeating them by a score of 8 to 6. The batteries were Caswell and Ball, Logan and Forbes. Hits, West Quincy 9, Oakdale 8. Errors West Quincy 4, Oakdale 3. The score:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
West Quincy	1	2	0	0	4	0	0	1		—8
Oakdale	1	0	0	3	0	0	0	0	2	—6

Close at Atlantic.

The Auburns of Cambridge visited Atlantic Saturday and defeated the home team by a score of 8 to 7. Auburn made 14 hits and Atlantic 9. Errors, Auburn 4, Atlantic 6. The batteries were: Wheatly and McGilvary and Doyle and Hall. The score:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Auburn	1	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	1	—8
Atlantic	1	0	0	0	3	0	1	0	2	—7

Other Games.

The South Quincys went to Neponset Saturday and were defeated by the Neponsets by a score of 21 to 4.

The Milton Academy team was defeated by the Roxbury Latin school by a score of 17 to 7.

FARMERS' COMBINATION

Makes First Formal Demand For Increase In Prices

WHEAT AT $1 A BUSHEL

That They May Share Country's Unequalled Prosperity—Labor Receiving Higher Wages Than Ever Before and Should Share Proceeds

Indianapolis, May 25.—The American Society of Equity issued a bulletin today to the farmers of the United States demanding an increase in the price of wheat, arguing that the minimum price of wheat should be $1 a bushel and urging the farmers of the United States not to sell for less than that price. The society has been organized with this city as national headquarters to maintain higher prices for farm products by co-operation of the farmers of the country, and this is the first formal demand for increase in prices as the result of the combination.

The bulletin sets out the claims that as this is an era of unequalled prosperity, demand for commodities is unprecedented, labor is receiving higher wages than ever before and the demand for and consumption of wheat is greater than ever before, with a low visible supply. The bulletin then says:

"It is evident that the American farmers cannot produce more than about 12 bushels per acre on an average, which, at 88 cents a bushel, represents $10.56 an acre, to cover all the work, seed, twine, threshing, marketing, etc., an amount that scarcely equals the simplest machine that the farmer buys, yet which represents only a small fraction of the factory investment, capital and labor employed.

"Who dare say, in the face of these evidences, and considering the present higher range of values for nearly every other commodity produced in the country, that wheat at this time and for the next crop is not equitably worth $1 per bushel on the basis of the Chicago market, and that other farm crops should be on a corresponding basis?

"Farmers, keep this matter in mind: keep dollar wheat $1 at Chicago before you, and you will get it as sure as the sun rises in the east and sets in the west. Above all, however, we implore you, don't be fools. When you get the equitable price let it go. Sell on the basis of $1 and no less, but don't hold for more, or you may run up an unwieldly surplus, which must eventually compel lower prices."

Postmaster Threw Letters Away

Guthrie, O. T., May 25.—Amos Leedy, aged 60, postmaster at Leedy, has pleaded guilty to the charge of detaining valuable letters in land contest cases. The letters remained in the office uncalled for, and Leedy, ignorant of what course to pursue, threw them into the waste basket. On account of his age he was let off with a fine and given permission to return home alone for the money with which to pay it.

A Brooklyn Bridge Suicide

New York, May 25.—An unknown man sitting in an open car crossing the Brooklyn bridge suddenly alighted when the car was in the middle of the centre span and, running to the side of the bridge, jumped into the river. He dived headlong, holding a lighted cigar between his teeth. His body rose to the surface immediately after the plunge and was carried away by the current.

Army Officer In Debt

Atlanta, May 25.—Lieutenant Joseph W. LaCour, Sixteenth Infantry, left Fort McPherson on Thursday and his whereabouts are unknown. LaCour sent a letter to the commandant at Fort McPherson in which he filed his resignation and stated he was in serious financial embarrassment. He is 40 years old and an alumnus of Yale. He was regarded as an exemplary officer.

Drowned In Jail Bathtub

Middletown, N. Y., May 25.—Charles Adams, awaiting trial in the Goshen jail for the attempted murder of his wife, committed suicide by drowning in a bathtub. He left a letter for his wife, imploring her forgiveness. Adams shot his wife and then attempted to kill himself in a fit of jealous fury. His wife was paralyzed as the result of her wounds and will probably not live long.

Burned Nearly Two Months

Halifax, May 25.—The fire at Dominion No. colliery at Glace bay, which has been burning for nearly two months, is out. The mine, which was flooded from the sea, will be pumped out immediately.

Counterfeiter Pleads Guilty

New York, May 25.—Charles Gardner pleaded guilty to the charge of making counterfeit silver coins and was held in $2500 bail. The quarter and half dollars made by Gardner were unusually good.

Cape Rebels May Return

Amsterdam, May 25.—General Botha has telegraphed that an amnesty has been accorded to all the cape rebels and accordingly all those residing in Holland can safely return to South Africa.

Author Blouet Dead

Paris, May 25.—Paul Blouet (Max O'Rell), the author, died in this city last night. He had never been really well since he was operated on in New York last year for appendicitis.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Plymouth, Mass., voted to appropriate $15,000 to assist in construction of the Plymouth, Carver and Wareham street railway.

The Yale freshmen crew won from the Springfield High school eight in the first annual race on the Connecticut river. Yale broke the record for the course, doing it in nine minutes.

Free delivery mail service has been established at Hudson, Mass., Rochester, N. H., and Westport, Me., to take effect Sept. 1.

Charles V. Tracy, known all over the country as an expert telegrapher, died at Salt Lake of consumption, aged 30. He had worked at nearly every important point east, south and west.

The badly decomposed body of an unknown man was found in Palmer river near Rehobeth, Mass., having apparently been in the water several weeks.

Napoleon Spooner, a track walker, was killed at Attleboro, Mass., the railroad bicycle which he was riding being struck by a train.

Colonel Willard Glazier, who led a recent expedition to the interior of Labrador, has decided to make another attempt and will start from Boston the latter part of June.

Despondent because of ill-health, Mrs. Catherine Hurley, aged 25, committed suicide at Northampton, Mass., by taking carbolic acid. She had been ill a long time.

The Bath iron works has contracted to build two big steel tugboats for the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, at the cost of $80,000.

Alfred E. Stearns, A. M., who has been serving as vice president of Phillips-Andover academy, has been elected principal to succeed Dr. O. F. P. Bancroft, who died last year.

The old Blanchard & Twitchell sawmill at Rumford Falls, Me., was burned to the ground. The loss is $6000. A spark from a passing engine was the probable cause of the blaze.

Boys Shut Out of Mines

Hazleton, Pa., May 25.—The coal companies of the Lehigh region today commenced the enforcement of the new age limit law regulating the employment of boys in and about the mines. Nearly 500 boys will be ineligible under the act. Their discharge will in many cases work hardship on families depending almost exclusively on their minors for support.

Enforcing Anti-Trust Law

San Antonio, Tex., May 25.—Attorney General Bell and District Attorney Bee have filed the first suits under the recently enacted anti-trust law. The suits are against a number of wholesale grocers. The petition charges that the firms named formed a trust and entered into an agreement to maintain certain process for groceries sold to retail dealers.

Training Station's Sick List

Newport, R. I., May 25.—Seaman John Drummond of the training ship Constellation has succumbed to pneumonia. Of the 125 cases of illness at the training station now, a large percentage is diphtheria. The disease is running in a light form, however.

Bank Bookkeeper Short

Buffalo, May 25.—Grant Blodgett general bookkeeper of the Bank of Buffalo, shot himself, the bullet severing both optic nerves, so that if he does recover he will be blind. Blodgett says that he was short $519.59. He had worked for the bank 16 years.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Tuesday, May 26.
Sun rises—4:17; sets—7:08.
New moon—5:50 a. m.
High water—10:45 a. m., 11 p. m.

There has been considerable rain in the upper Ohio valley and the middle Atlantic states. It is much cooler in Atlantic coast districts from Virginia northward. It will be fair and warmer in New England.

C. C. HEARN'S NEW DEPARTURE.

Selling Medicine at Half Price Under Guarantee of Cure.

After two months of remarkable sales, Chas. C. Hearn, the enterprising druggrst, says that his plan of selling at half price the regular 50 cent size of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dysyepsia and guaranteeing to refund the money if it does not cure, has been the greatest success he has ever known.

Any one suffering with dyspepsia, constipation, liver troubles, headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, or the general tired feeling, caused by inactive liver and bowels or disordered digestion, should take advantage of Chas. C. Hearn's new departure and buy a bottle of Dr. Howard's specific at half price, with his personal guarantee to return the money if it does not cure.

The specific comes in the form of small granules, very pleasant to take, and each vial contains sixty doses. Under Mr. Chas. C. Hearn's special half-price offer, this means a month's treatment for 25 cents, with the best medicine known for the cure of constipation and stomach troubles.

If you cannot go to his store today, send him your order by mail, as Mr. Chas. C. Hearn has only a limited supply to sell at this special price.

25-28-1-4

—The king of Riam owns an "elephant corps," numbering some 500 gray animals. They all are trained for army purposes. A general is in charge.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. This signature E. W. Grove on every box, 25c

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - 50 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

LOST.

LOST—Between Quincy Centre and Weymouth by way of electric cars, a lady's gold watch with "Nettie" inscribed on the case. Finder will please return to Quincy Savings Bank.
Quincy, May 25. 3t

LOST—On Sunday a silver watch with gold bracelet attached, between Baxter street and Mount Wollaston cemetery. Finder will please return to 80 Washington street.
Quincy, May 25. 3t

LOST—Angora Cat, female, white and male tese, with small black mark under the chin. Any information will be thankfully received. H. H. HILL, the Weeks Hill Pharmacy.
Quincy, May 25. tf

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—One new Coffee Mill, No. 9, and coffee and tea box; two scales, lowest prices. JOHN MATTSON, 365 Water street, Quincy.
May 23 2t

FOR SALE—Meadow Brook, in good order. Apply to 21 Station street, West Quincy.
May 22. 3t

FOR SALE—Two acres of land and house, within 5 minutes' walk of central railroad station. Taxed for $2,200. Will sell for $1,800 if taken within 10 days. Address FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street, Quincy, Mass.
May 21. tf

FOR SALE—A Large Size Emerson Piano for $150.00. Six years old. Address H. L. D., Ledger office, Quincy, Mass.
May 21. tf

FOR SALE—A light running open Corning Box Buggy, cheap, in fine condition; also a rubber tired Goddard, in good repair; can be seen at 19 Pine street, Wollaston. Address E. F. WHITE, Wollaston, Mass. May 11-13t

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office.
April 28. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

WANTED.

WANTED—Young man as assistant bookkeeper and stenographer. A portion of time to be devoted to collecting. A permanent position, with advancement in view for a trustworthy young man. Address, stating age and salary willing to start on, K, Ledger office.
Quincy, May 25. tf

WANTED—Two or three Rooms, furnished, for light housekeeping. Address, "H," Ledger office.
Quincy, May 25. 3t

WANTED—A few persons desiring good board and room. Apply at 4 Johnson avenue, opposite Adams Academy; five minutes from Quincy depot, one minute from electrics.
Quincy, May 25. 6t

WANTED—Girls to fill first-class places; cooks, second girls and waiters. Best of wages. Also cook and second girl to go together; wages $3 to $4 per week. Apply at 1522 HANCOCK STREET, opposite Music hall. Miss L. M. Flynn. May 23. 3t

WANTED—Two Farm Hands at National Sailors' Home, Wollaston. Must know how to milk and to handle horses and farm tools. Apply at the Home.
May 23. 3t--23-25 27-29

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London and Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON.
Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

ANY PERSON who will distribute samples for $3 daily, should address "Standard" 4 Wells, Chicago. Steady Position. No Canvassing. May 25-1t

TO LET.

TO LET—16 Faxon avenue, House of 9 rooms and bath. All improvements. Two minutes from R. R. Station. Also plastered Shore Cottage of 10 rooms and bath, hot and cold water, Great Hill, Quincy. FANNIE M. TAYLOR, 176 Federal street, Boston, Mass.
May 25. tf

FOR RENT--By a young married couple without children, furnished house this summer. Best of references. Parties going to the beach will find this a good opportunity to leave their home in responsible care. Address, H. H., Ledger office. Quincy, May 19-tf

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy.
April 8. w. th. s. m.—tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet, 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street.
Quincy, April 21. tf

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

Probably you know how Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores color to gray hair and makes the hair grow. That so? J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder,

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat.

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.

Quincy, May 9. 1m

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS,

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.

April 30. 1m

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

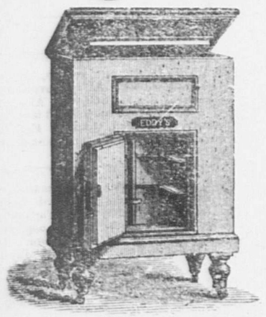

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F. Crane's Store. Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

Eddy Refrigerators.

It is doubtful if any one ever heard of an Eddy Refrigerator during the 54 years they have been manufactured, that didn't give better service than ever was expected of it. Back of that name stands a guarantee of excellence and honest construction, unequalled by any other maker in the world. An Eddy Refrigerator will pay for itself in ice saved. Factory Prices, $6.50 to $25.00. A catalogue and price list for the asking.

HENRY L KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON.

Quincy, April 23. tf

A TRAIN OF CASUALTIES

In the Wake of the Paris-Madrid Auto Race

TREMENDOUS SPEED MADE

Resulting In Accidents Which Caused Death In Many Instances—Premier Combes Forbids Continuance of Contest on French Territory

Paris, May 25.—The first stage in the Paris-Madrid automobile race, from Versailles to Bordeaux, 343 miles, finished at noon Sunday, when Louis Renault dashed at a furious pace into Bordeaux, having made a record run of 8 hours and 27 minutes. An hour later M. Gabriel arrived with a still better record of 8 hours and 7 minutes. It is estimated from the times made that these automobiles covered 62 miles an hour on the road outside the cities.

During the afternoon word of the accidents began to arrive and cast a cloud over the event. A dispatch from Bordeaux announced that Lorraine Barrows had met with a shocking accident near Libourne. Barrows had tried to avoid a dog which was crossing the track, and his car struck a tree with terrific force. His chauffeur was killed outright. Barrows himself was picked up unconscious, but still breathing, and was taken to a hospital, where his condition was declared to be critical. His car was dashed to pieces.

Shortly afterwards news came that Marcel Renault had been overturned in a deep ditch beside the road near Couhe, and that he was dangerously injured.

Near Bonneval, 19 miles from Chartres, a machine driven by M. Porter was overturned at a railroad crossing and took fire. The chauffeur was caught underneath the automobile and burned to death, while two soldiers and a child were killed.

A chauffeur was badly injured by an accident to his motor car near Angouleme.

A woman crossing the road in the neighborhood of Ablis was run over by one of the competing cars and killed.

In view of the number of accidents, some fatal, in the first stage of the race, Premier Combes has forbidden the continuance of the contest on French territory. The second stage of the race, which was to have been continued tomorrow, included a run over French teritory from Bordeaux.

It is reported that the Spanish government has also forbidden the continuance of the race on Spanish territory.

Many lesser breakdowns and casualties are reported.

The name of W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., disappeared from the reports along the route after Rambouillet, where he passed 28th in order at 4:45 in the morning. The omission of his name from the dispatches from Chartres, the next town on the road, caused some anxiety. It was learned later that he, Henri Fournier and Baron DeForest withdrew from the race together before reaching Chartres. All of them suffered breakdowns.

Versailles passed a night of wild excitement. It is estimated that 100,000 persons crowded into the little town to witness the start of the race. Soldiers with fixed bayonets lined the track for some distance from Versailles. A bomb was exploded at 3:35 a. m. as a signal to get ready. Another bomb was fired at 4:45 for the start and then an enormous machine shot forward amid the shouts of the thousands of spectators. The other cars followed in quick succession. Mme. DeGast, the sole female competitor in last year's Paris-Berlin race, was again the only woman to participate in the present contest. Her machine was decked with flowers and her departure was the signal for a great ovation. She made a splendid run, passing five of her competitors before reaching Chartres. The last departure was at 6.45.

The reports along the route soon showed that Louis Renault was making a great race and before Chartres was reached he had gained a lead which he never lost. Dispatches from Vendome, Tours and Poistiers told of his passing through ahead and Bordeaux sent the announcement of his arrival first, in 8:17. He had beaten Henri Fournier's record of 8:44. Charles Jarrett finished second, having covered the course in 8:44. M. Gabriel arrived third, his time being 8:27. Other contestants who made fast time were J. Salleron, 8:10; Baron De Crawher, 8:53; J. B. Warden, 8:50; and M. Voigt, 8:55.

The result of the first stage of the race appears to be a draw between the merits of the light and heavy vehicles. Louis Renault drove a light machine, weighing 650 pounds and of 30 horse power, while Gabriel drove a heavy machine of 70 horse power, weighing 1000 pounds.

Most of the papers this morning comment with satisfaction on the stoppage of the race. They dilate on the dangers of racing, but offer no suggestions as to the prohibition or regulation of such racing in general.

It is stated that Louis Renault's automobile attained at Beourdiniere, between Chartres and Bonneval, a maximum speed of 88 3-4 miles an hour.

The illuminations which were fixed for last night in honor of the automobile race have been countermanded as a sign of mourning for the persons killed during the contest.

COCK FIGHTERS CAUGHT

Three Score Were Enjoying Sunday Entertainment In a Barn

Westerly, R. I., May 25.—Police from Providence and Westerly swooped down Sunday on a barn here owned by Mort Gross at Shannock and arrested 47 out of 60 spectators at a cock fight which was in progress at the time. Twenty-two of the men arrested gave their names and furnished bonds for their appearance in the Westerly court next Thursday, but the other 25 demanded an immediate hearing. The 22 men allowed to go after they had furnished sureties for their appearance, while the remaining 25 were handcuffed in pairs and brought here for a hearing. On the way to the city one of the prisoners, a negro named Delmonico Clark, secured a file and succeeded in cutting nearly through the chain that bound him to his companion. The file was taken from him, new handcuffs supplied, and the journey to the city continued.

When the men appeared in court all pleaded guilty to the charge preferred against them, and a uniform fine of $5 and costs was imposed, except in the case of Gross. He was fined $35 and costs, amounting in all to $47.

The police believe the arrests and convictions will put an end to the sport in this vicinity. The 22 men out on bail will appear in court next Thursday, when it is expected they will be fined the same amount as those who appeared before the court yesterday.

RELIANCE'S SUPERIORITY

Clearly Shown In a Race With Columbia and Constitution

New York, May 25.—In a wind that ranged from a mere zephyr to an eight-knot breeze the Reliance clearly proved has superiority over the Columbia and Constitution in their second race on Long Island sound. Though officially the race was no contest, owing to the failure of the boats to finish before 6:30 o'clock, enough was revealed to prove that in his latest creation Designer Herreshoff has wrought his masterpiece. In all points of sailing, as they were brought out in the triangular course over which the boats sailed, the new boat clearly outclassed her rivals. Whenever conditions were at all equal she scurried away from the old yachts with ease.

As for the Columbia and Constitution, the contest was indecisive, though when the time limit had expired and the boats stood about to make their moorings, the Columbia had a very slight advantage over the Constitution.

Obstinate Laundry Drivers

Chicago, May 25.—Refusal of the laundry drivers to submit their wage scale to arbitration has prevented a settlement of the laundry strike. All kinds of arguments were brought to bear on the drivers recede from their position, but the latter refused to yield. The owners and the Laundry Workers' unions have settled their differences, but the owners refuse to open their places for business until the trouble with the drivers shall have been adjusted. The strike has lasted more than three weeks.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus often before medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

Ice Melted by Fire

Providence, May 25.—A large ice-house containing over 1200 tons of ice, at Rocky Point, a summer resort, was totally destroyed by fire. The loss is about $9000. It is supposed that the fire was caused by a lighted match or cigar thrown against the building.

Has Another Week to Live

Albany, May 25.—Governor Odell has given a reprieve of one week to Arthur Flannigan, who was to have been executed today at Sing Sing for the murder of Keeper McGovern in the Seventh district prison.

HOW TO GAIN FLESH

The life of food is the fat within it—the more fat the more real benefit from the food; that is why cod liver oil is a powerful builder of flesh.

Scott's Emulsion of pure cod liver oil solves the problem of how to take cod liver oil. That is one reason why doctors have been prescribing Scott's Emulsion for all wasting diseases, coughs, colds and bronchitis for almost thirty years.

One of the inducements offered in order to substitute something else for Scott's Emulsion is the matter of cost. You save a few cents at the expense of your health. Scott's Emulsion costs more because it does more and does it better than the substitutes.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

FREDERICK H. LORD,

TEACHER OF BANJO,

Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.

TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.

118 Washington Street.

Quincy, May 7. tf

FULL STOCK

—OF—

HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,

—AT—

Brooks' Market,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 25. tf

KING'S PARK HOUSE.

Board and Rooms.

345 Washington Street.

Quincy, May 19. 1 m

DR ANDREWS CONVERTED

To the Idea That Gold Should Be the Standard of Monetary Value

Lincoln, Neb., May 25.—Free silver has lost an advocate in the person of Dr. E. B. Andrews, formerly president of Brown university and now chancellor of the University of Nebraska. In an address before the class in ethics Dr. Andrews announced that he no longer entertained the views he had once held concerning silver coinage. That change in views had been gradual in its development, but his opinion was now fixed and definite.

In company with many others a few years ago, Councillor Andrews said, he had been misled by the arguments of public men, particularly a certain geologist of Europe, who, after much study and investigation, had announced that the supply of gold was being exhausted and the world's mines would soon cease to yield a sufficient quantity of that metal. This made it necessary that there be another standard of value. Time had proved the prophecy of the geologist to be false. Instead of lessening, said the chancellor, the output of gold has greatly increased, and the supply now seems inexhaustible and, as a result, prices of commodities, instead of going to a lower level, have constantly appreciated.

Cloudburst In Oklahoma

Enid, O. T., May 25.—Hundreds of persons were rendered homeless and property damage to the extent of more than $300,000 was done in the Enid bottoms alone by a cloudburst west of this city. A bank of water three feet high and 200 feet wide swept down through the bottoms at midnight, carrying houses and everything before it. It came upon Enid without warning while most of its citizens were asleep. Within a few minutes 100 houses were submerged. Rescuers went to work immediately and all night labored to save persons from perilous positions.

Hacked to Death

New York, May 25.—The body of Garbed M. Kentvoni, a Turkish Armenian, was found in a tenement here almost decapitated by a knife slash across the throat. There were also nine stab wounds and two bad cuts. The police are now working on the theory of robbery and murder. Two broken and chairs in the room told the story of a struggle. Kentvoni was a recluse and is said to have been miserly.

Paraders Assaulted Trolleymen

Montreal, May 25.—The second day of the street railway strike leaves the situation in a favorable situation as far as the moving of cars is concerned. The police allowed the strikers to hold a parade Sunday afternoon and the parade held up several cars, assaulted the motormen and conductors and ill-treated the police. As a result of these encounters two motormen are in the hospital seriously injured.

Won't Go to Tremont Temple

New York, May 25.—Rev. George C. Lorimer, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist church, says that he will not accept the tender of the pastorate of the Tremont Temple, Boston, which the congregation of that church voted him on Friday. He said that he had signified his intention of accepting if 85 percent of the members voted in his favor. As only 65 percent voted for him, he will not consider the offer.

New Officer For Treasury

Washington, May 25.—The appointment of Charles H. Keep as assistant secretary of the treasury to succeed Milton E. Ailes, who recently resigned to accept the vice presidency of the Riggs National bank, is announced at the treasury department. Since graduation from Harvard Keep has been a practicing lawyer at Buffalo, his specialty being along investment and financial lines.

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,

C. W. MORSE, PRES.

April 9-2m 11-2m

JOHN STREIFERD & SON, FLORISTS.

Telephone 13-7 Braintree.

Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.

Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

BY Virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Hannah K. Ahlstrom to Edward Billings, dated April 10, 1902, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 919, page 326, for breach of the condition of said mortgage deed, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises on MONDAY, the fifteenth day of June, 1903, at 4.30 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage and therein described as follows, to wit:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy called Atlantic. Said parcel is a part of lot No. 847, on plan of "Norfolk Downs," by Charles D. Elliott, dated April, 1892, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book of Plans No. 14, plan numbered 640, and is bounded and described as follows, to wit: Northeasterly by lot 846 on said plan, one hundred and five (105) feet; southeasterly by Apthorp street, thirty (30) feet; southwesterly by a line parallel with and distant twenty (20) feet; northeasterly from the division line between lots 847 and 848, one hundred and five (105) feet; northwesterly by a portion of said lot 847, thirty (30) feet; containing 3,015 square feet of land, be any or all of said measurements more or less, or however otherwise bounded, measured or described. Said premises are hereby conveyed subject to the restrictions named in Deed of Henry H. Savage, et al, Trustees, dated December 14, 1895, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 753, page 554, so far as the same have any force at the present time. The kitchen range in the upper tenement of said house goes with the real estate. Said premises will be sold subject to the restrictions referred to in said deed, also subject to a mortgage of two thousand dollars, dated April 9th, 1902, to Daniel L. Shearer, Trustee, and duly recorded with Norfolk Deeds, and to all unpaid taxes, assessments and tax titles, if any there be.

For further particulars inquire of George H. Brown, Attorney, 22 Adams Building, Quincy.

$200 in cash will be required to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Further terms at sale.

EDWARD BILLINGS, Mortgagee.

Weymouth, Mass., May 23 1903. 3-23 25-1

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the Heirs-at-Law and all other persons interested in the estate of

FRANK H. MARRIOTT,

late of Stoughton, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Elizabeth M. Cook, administratrix of the estate of said deceased, has presented to said Court her petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offer named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, the whole of a certain parcel of the real estate of said deceased for the payment of debts and charges of administration, and for other reasons set forth in said petition.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County, on the third day of June, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

May 21. 3t--21-25-1

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of

ALBERT S. HAVEN,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, two certain instruments purporting to be the last will and testament and one codicil of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by C. Fred Haven of Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline, in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-seventh day of May, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court this eleventh day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

3t -12-19-25

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of

WILLIAM HARLOW,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to James F. Harlow of Quincy, without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline, in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-seventh day of May, A. D., 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fourteenth day of May, A. D. 1903.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

3t- 16-18-25

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the will of

JOHN J. DAY,

late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

JAMES F. SWEENEY, Executor,

(Address) 306 Sears Building, Boston, Mass.

May 9. 3t--11-18-25

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

Yard on Miller and West Streets, West Quincy

Jan. 7. tf

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.

1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.

2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.

3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G B BATES.

Plumbing and Heating Co,

25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.

Telephone Connection.

April 24 tf- p-1w

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLAS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

SMOKE THE

COVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

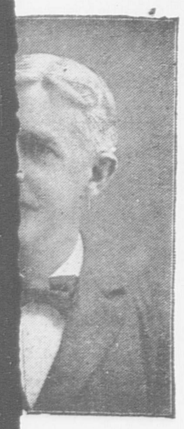

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

WOOD! WOOD!
ALL KINDS.
AND GREEN
est Possible Prices.
BRIEN & SONS.
Vast Streets, West Quincy
tf

YEARS and Heating trade. If we BUSINESS we never will.
RS IN QUINCY.
dest Plumbing and Heating
ns in Quincy.
EEDS LIKE SUCCESS.
uccess to three causes.
orts of our skilled workmen.
and personal attention to rices and Square Dealing;
al patronage of the Public.
BATES.
nd Heating Co,
t, opposite Quincy Depot.
e Connection.
tf-p-1w

PRATT, OF FIRST-CLAS HOUSES
VEST PRICES.
Lots for sale Terms to S placed for customers
at lowest rates.
per cent. on your architect's sh plans free with any lot n new work
St., Quincy Adams.
March 9-tf

E THE RNESS.
MADE.
he Market, Long Filler or sale by all dealers
tured by ELSON,
ite Street.
1y

mmons" brought happiness to men. There is positive wn to medical science
d safely do the work.
nate irregularities from ediately. Success guaro pain, danger, or inter-ve relieved hundreds of e failed. The most diffireated by mail, and ben-ed in every instance. Re reat hundreds of ladies rite for further particul advice. Do not put off thfully answered. Be-absolutely safe under n and positively leaves
he health. Sent by mail.
Money letters should be
EMMONS CO., 170 Tre-

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 123. QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY, MAY 26, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

It's Fun To Cook on a Blue Flame Oil Stove.

And the fun grows more intense after you have used one of these famous stoves for over a month, and figure that it has cost you almost nothing to run. No over heated kitchen, no coal, no wood, no dust, no ashes, a fire piping hot in a twinkling, ready to roast or to bake.

You are losing much of the pleasure of living today without one of our Blue Flame Stoves. We guarantee them to give perfect satisfaction or refund the money. Our Prices, $3.98 to $10.00. (Gasolene Stoves also for folks who wish.)

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, PRES.

April 9-2m 11-2m

A. RUSSELL JONES,
ELECTRICIAN.

BELL and TELEPHONE WORK A SPECIALTY.
Guaranteed Work at Right Price.

Your Bell should remain in order from one to two years.
Bells repaired by me are GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR. Mail orders receive prompt attention.
Address, 1262 HANCOCK ST., or 37 SAVILLE AVE.
Quincy, April 10. tfip

ERIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.

Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass.
May 7. 1m

EASY MADE
$50.00 $50.00 $50.00
SAVE! SAVE! SAVE!
HOME BANK DEPARTMENT
NATIONAL MOUNT WOLLASTON BANK,
QUINCY.

In order to properly introduce our HOME BANKS in Quincy and as an encouragement to SAVE, the W. F. Burns Co., Originators and Manufacturers will pay a

PREMIUM OF $25.00

to the Man, Woman or Child saving the Largest Amount in their Home Bank between NOW and JANUARY 1st, 1904; a Premium of $15.00 to the Second Largest, and a Special Premium of $10.00 to the Boy or Girl having the Largest Deposit JANUARY 1st, 1904.

The only conditions being that you must have one of our HOME BANKS and make a deposit once each Month, First Deposit to be Made in JUNE.

YOU have the BANK, WE have the KEY.

This is the Bank.

$1.00
Will Start Your Account.

BEGIN at ONCE.

The above offer stands good. This amount is on deposit to pay the Premiums.

NATIONAL MOUNT WOLLASTON BANK,
HORACE F. SPEAR, Cashier.

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

For Latest News See Inside Pages.

"HONOR" REQUIRED IT

Many Auto Racers Wished to Continue Contest

AT LEAST SIX FATALITIES

Probability That Speed Races In France Will Be Stopped by the Authorities—Clarence Moore Describes Terrific Speed Attained by Racers

Paris, May 26.—It is now possible to assemble from the many reports along the route of the first stage of the Paris-Madrid automobile race a complete list of the casualties. This shows six persons killed, three so dangerously injured that they may die and 10 seriously injured. The dead are:

Pierre Roderiz and Mr. Barrow, machinist, collision with a tree: Nixon, Mr. Porter's machinist, burned under automobile; Normand, M. Tourand's machinist; Dupuy, soldier; Caillon, cyclist; and an unknown peasant woman.

Bordeaux reports that many of the competitors desired to abandon the race, but others insisted that their honor required them to resume it at the Spanish frontier if possible, but the Spanish government later forbade the race and thus compelled its complete abandonment. The manufacturers have agreed that as a road race is impossible the meeting will be resumed within a closed course.

The correspondent of The Associated Press interviewed a number of the leading American and French automobilists, and they all expressed horror at the series of accidents and added that in their opinion it would end speed races in France and at other points on the continent.

The speed limitations which have been fixed by the French and Spanish governments will put an end to any chance of fast time being made between Bordeaux and Madrid and the balance of the race will be run under tourist conditions. The stretches of road beyond Bordeaux are more difficult than the route covered from Versailles, owing to the many hills and sharp turnings.

Clarence Moore of Washington, the whip and authority on sports, has returned from an inspection of the track, for which unusual facilities were granted him by the judges of Sunday's race. He timed Louis Renault's car as it passed him and he found it was making 74½ miles an hour. The automobile of M. Gabriel, the winner, he says, gave forth a deep bass roar as it leaped the steep incline near Chartres like a huge rabbit bounding up a hill. He saw Jarrett approaching at lightning speed. A huge black mastiff got right in the path. Jarrett realized that to try to avoid the dog would throw his car against a tree and he steered directly for the dog. He struck the dog squarely and it was pinned in front of the automobile for half a minute and then dropped to the ground between the wheels. Mr. Moore and others examined the carcass of the dog and found that there was not a bone left in its body over two inches long.

Concerning the effect of the accidents Mr. Moore expressed the opinion that it will stop the excessive speed of races and that this would really be beneficial to true sport. He says the Paris Madrid race is less a contest of sportsmanship than a competition between rival makers seeking to gain a reputation. Many makers offer large premiums to unknown men to induce them to break records.

Jews Living in Dread

Berlin, May 26.—A special dispatch from St. Petersburg confirms the news that the Jews in that city are in fear that serious outrages similar to those which occurred at Kishineff may occur in the Russian capital during the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the foundation of St. Petersburg, which will be held on May 29. All the Jews who are possessed of means are preparing to go to Finland, while the poor Jews are panic stricken.

Letter Arrived After Death

Manchester, N. H., May 26.—The body of P. Peters was found drowned in a ledge on the outskirts of the city. Peters was a stranger here. He had been expecting a letter from some one and had been much dejected at its failure to arrive. The expected mail came just after his disappearance, in the shape of a registered letter from Herman Holway, Long Branch, N. J.

Collapse of a Building

Chicago, May 26.—One man was killed and another seriously injured by the collapse of a building under construction here last evening. Both were laborers. The cause of the disaster is not known. It occurred in the height of a severe thunderstorm.

☞Advertise in the Ledger

MacCARTNEY DEAD.

A Member of the House and a Leading Socialist.

Rockland, Mass., May 26.—Representative Frederic O. MacCartney died at his home here last night from bronchial pneumonia. Mr. MacCartney started for Chatham, on the Cape, where his summer home is located, on May 16 and while on the train was taken ill. This was the beginning of his final illness, for the attack developed into bronchial pneumonia.

Frederic O. MacCartney was born in Wisconsin in 1864. At the age of 6 years his parents moved to Iowa, locating in Storm Lake. There young MacCartney received his early education in the public schools. On leaving school he followed various occupations for a brief period and then decided to enter the ministry. He graduated from the Theological seminary at Andover, Mass., in 1893. The same year he left the Congregational denomination and was admitted to the Unitarian ministry.

Mr. MacCartney did a great deal of work as secretary of the Industrial Peace society, which contended that political action is necessary to effect public co-operation. He began his political career in the fall of 1899 when he was nominated for representative to the general court from the Fourth Plymouth district. MacCartney favored the bill to allow gunning on Sunday and was, to the surprise of all, elected representative by a large plurality. Mr. MacCartney entered the house and at once became one of its leaders. This continued until he was one of the leading Socialists of the entire country. For four years he was elected as a representative from Rockland.

Confesses False Birth Declaration

London, May 26.—Mrs. Gunning S. Bedford, who was arrested at Queenstown on the arrival from New York of steamer Umbria, charged with making false declaration of a child's birth, was brought up on remand here and pleaded guilty. She admitted the child was not her own, and said she had adopted it. Mrs. Bedford was fined $50.

New York, May 26.—An attorney of this city interested in the Bedford case says: Mrs. Bedford will receive $10,000 left her by her husband, but the rest of the estate, about $300,000, which might have gone to the child, reverts to the American heirs, of whom there are five.

Coal Depot In Alaska

Washington, May 26.—Admiral Dewey, as president of the general board, has made a report to Secretary Moody recommending the immediate establishment of a coal station at Dutch Harbor, Alaska, and the erection there of a coal depot with an initial capacity of 5000 tons. The estimated cost of the work is about $51,000. The president has heartily approved the plan and preliminary steps in the work have been taken already.

Wholesale Arrests of Strikers

Montreal, May 26.—Nearly 50 arrests have been made of strikers who were concerned in the attacks made upon the cars Sunday afternoon. Among the men arrested was the business manager of the local union, who is charged with intimidation. Bail will not be accepted for any one arrested in connection with the strike until they have appeared in court.

A Ten-Year-Old Desperado

Plainfield, N. J., May 26.—William James, 10 years old, is under arrest, charged with shooting Theresa Watson, aged 10. Both were members of a party of boys and girls who ran away from their homes here, but did not go far. Theresa cried to go home and James shot her with a Flobert rifle. One of her wounds is dangerous.

Explosion Caused $6500 Loss

Pawtucket, R. I., May 26.—The explosion of a kerosene lamp in a Chinese laundry here last night caused a fire loss of $6500 in the tenement and business block owned by the William Ashworth estate. The building was occupied on the ground floor by four stores, and there were two tenements on the floor above.

American Made Fine Stand

London, May 26.—Jack Palmer of Newcastle met "Twin" Sullivan of Boston here last night in a contest for the middleweight championship of England and $1000. At the close of the 15th round the referee decided in favor of a draw. Sullivan finished the stronger of the two men.

Objected to Probing Fraud

Port Au Prince, May 26.—The entire Haytien ministry, with the exception of the minister for war, has resigned. The ministry was opposed to continuing the investigation into the alleged extensive frauds in the issuing of Haytien government securities, amounting to $2,000,000.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it." says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

ALL GOODS WILL BE DELIVERED FREE AT RESIDENCES IN QUINCY.

STRAW MATTINGS
FOR SUMMER HOUSES

Our new importation includes all grades from China and Japan, many patterns of which are exclusive. Always cool, cleanly, and sanitary.

RUGS

Royal Wilton, Saxony Axminster, Seamless, and other Axminster and Brussels rugs, in sizes 9 x 12, 8.3 x 10.6, and 6 x 9.

Hundreds of small rugs—Smyrnas, Wiltons, Axminsters, Japanese, etc., etc., at exceptionally low prices.

RUGS

Heavy Brussels Art Squares, many of them in Oriental designs and all reversible, sizes 7.6 x 9, 9 x 9, 9 x 10.6, and 9 x 12; price about $1.00 per square yard.

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS COMPANY
Pray Building 658 Washington St. Opp. Boylston St.
BOSTON

Represented in Quincy by Mr. Otho A. Hayward; in Wollaston by Mr. J. W. Wellington.

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,
In a variety of Styles and Prices.

Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.

These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you

C. S. HUBBARD.
City Square, Quincy.

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings, City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1 1y- p-6mos.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. 1p-tf

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pinel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7 tf

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
Employment Office
At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.
Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

FRANK F. CRANE
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17. t.

JAMES F. BURKE.
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5. tf

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	58	79	83	72	67
Monday,	64	86	77	49	62
Tuesday,	69	90	80	59	68
Wednesday,	—	78	76	53	55
Thursday,	—	86	70	62	57
Friday,	—	85	65	58	76
Saturday,	—	70	60	49	82

New Advertisements Today.

Swithin Bros.---Bigelow Park House Lots.
For Sale-- Desirable House.
To Let---Houses.

Good Afternoon

Something is radically wrong when land assessed at 60 cents per square foot is sold at a well-advertised public auction at 29 cents, as was the case on Saturday with the Nancy Brackett estate. Situated on the main thoroughfare of the city within five hundred feet of City Hall and the central depot, and well adapted for business, fine residences or apartment houses, it was surprising that it should be sold as low as it was. It is evident, however, that the estate is very much over-assessed. Were the lot but one hundred feet deep it might be worth 60 cents per foot, but there is considerable back land and it would be necessary to sacrifice 9,000 to 10,000 feet to sub-divide it.

Perhaps the reason why the estate did not sell for more is because very few could handle it financially. It is said only three Quincy men had the necessary capital, but that is not very complimentary to the city. At best, however, it would be a big venture for a syndicate to expend $53,700, the assessed value, for land, and $100,000 or more to develop it. There is more money in less expensive land.

Many estates well situated in the city seem to be drugs on the market. It is is impossible to get an offer for them at assessed value or even at a great discount. We hear frequent complaints of high rents, yet the landlords in many cases do not get enough out of estates to pay a fair interest on capital invested, and some cannot get dollar for dollar for expenses. In addition to taxes there are sewer assessments, sidewalk assessments, street sprinkling assessments, water rates, gas and electric light bills, plumbers bills, repairs, etc, etc. It is surprising with all these disadvantages that there are so many transfers of land, and so much building in Quincy, for the city continues to grow rapidly. Probably real estate in Quincy is much the same as elsewhere, investments of late going inother directions, possibly to water the stock of the trusts.

The confession of Rev. Dr. Todd, that he accepted a salary of $500 less when he came to Quincy from the West, and that his salary in his new position as superintendent will be less than he now receives at the First Presbyterian church, reputes emphatically that a minister is always influenced by salary. Members of his family were benefited in health by coming to Quincy, he says, and duty to his church at large calls him to to his new position. May success attend him.

Regret is general at the death of Representative MacCartney of Rockland. Those who do not believe in the principles of Socialism which he advocated, bebelieved in his sincerity, and admired his plucky fights. Unlike many professed Socialists, he was well educated, and argued questions with intelligence, and was not so erratic as some less successful. He accomplished much for the laboring man, and the people at large.

The Bath Iron Works has contracted to build two big steel tug boats 122 feet in length, for the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co., at the cost of $80,000.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

CITY OF THE DEAD.

The Lawn Plan at Mt. Wollaston Being Extended.

Several New Memorials Erected.

The Sacred Grounds More Beautiful Each Year.

It is at this season of the year more than at any other that the thoughts turn toward the burial places of our city. The season when authorities having these grounds in charge are putting them in shape so that they may be beautiful on Memorial day, the one day in year when thousands pay their visit to the cemeteries.

There are several cemeteries in Quincy but the one to which the general public turns is to Mt. Wollaston. This is indeed a most beautiful spot and improvements are being made yearly so that it is fast approaching a condition where it compares favorably with such cemeteries as Forest Hills and Mt. Auburn.

The modern idea is to take away that dismal look that in olden times characterized burial places and make them look more like public parks. The thickly set trees with overhanging branches that cast a sort of gloom about the grounds are being thinned out, so that the warm sun may enter and give life.

The one thing that has greatly improved Mt. Wollaston cemetery and given it a park-like appearance is the placing of lots upon what is known as the lawn plan. Every year more lots are thus treated, and in a few years instead of unsightly moss covered humps, it will become a long rolling green.

This work is necesssarily slow, but with the cooperation of lot owners it will not be many years before the citizens have a cemetery in which the community at large will take pride.

Since Memorial Day last year, a number of monuments and headstones have been erected, although they have been largely of the smaller kind.

One of the largest new memorials is the Quincy granite sarcophagus to the memory of George Prout. Other good-sized monuments have been erected on the lots of George J. Jones, Joseph Robertson, Daniel A. Goodwin, G. G. Grant, Mrs. Isabella Black and Elias A. Perkins.

Smaller memorials have also been erected upon the lots of Orville Bassett, L. T. Hathaway, Mrs. Mary A. O'Neil, A. W. Thompson, L. G. Wilbur, H. P. Smith, Lewellyn Cunningham, John Q. A. Field and George A. Tripp.

Other work during the past year aside from the regrading of lots, has been the raising of the grade of some of the driveways, a thing most needed, as in some places there was always a pool of water after a storm.

Nothing has been done by the city about improving the ground about the street at the main entrance but the City Council have it in charge and before another year this will probably be improved.

—Cups are now being made with small thermometers, which tell the degree of temperature of the cocoa or coffee they hold.

A NOVEL INTRODUCTION.

Dr. Howard Co. Make a Special Price.

The Dr. Howard company have entered into an arrangement with Chas. C. Hearn's drug store, by which a special introductory offer will be made of 25 cents on the 50 cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

So remarkably successful has Dr. Howard's specific been in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all forms of liver trouble, that Chas. C. Hearn will return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

The old-fashioned idea of dosing with mineral waters, cathartic pills or harsh purgatives will soon be a thing of the past. The best physicians are prescribing Dr. Howard's specific, both because it is so remarkable a medicine and on account of the small dose that is needed.

Headaches, coated tongue, dizziness, gas on the stomach, specks before the eyes, constipation and all forms of malaria and liver trouble are soon cured by this scientific medicine.

Chas. C. Hearn has been able to secure only a limited supply, so everyone who wishes to be cured of dyspepsia or constipation should call upon him at once or send him 25 cents by mail, and get 60 doses of the best medicine ever made, on this special half price introductory offer, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if the specific does not cure.

22-26-29-2

"HEROES OF TOIL."

The Hand That Rocks the Cradle Put First.

Rev. Mr. Barr of the United Presbyterian church, preached to a large congregation Sunday evening the third discourse of series on the subject of "heroes of toil." The choir deserves great praise under the efficient leadership of Prof. Parsons for their part of the service.

The lights went out as the congregation was gathering but lamps were speedily substituted and the service went on without interruption.

Rev. Mr. Barr began by saying that every man's life, in the opinion of some was a plan of the Almighty and away back in the councils of eternity, God laid out a work for each one of us to do." t becomes us to do that work so as to accomplish the greatest good to the greatest number, and the more difficulties we have to surmount to do it well, the more of a hero we are if we succeed.

The world is full of heroes. We have patriotic heroes and missionary heroes; heroes in high life and heroes in low life; heroes whose names history has been proud to honor, and heroes whose deeds of valor, gallantry and fortitude have never adorned the pages of history or been recorded in books, and the latter in number far exceeding the former who are just as worthy of honorable mention though not so well known to fame.

The impression is abroad that only those are worthy of special mention and entitled to enrollment among the honorable and the noble, who have done conspicuous service in distinguished places. But I desire to unroll a scroll of heroes before you tonight, who have never been acknowledged before as such by the world, and are not included in any of the classes previously mentioned.

They may never have handled a Winchester, or a Damascus blade, or marched to marshal music; they may never have conquered cities, or proved their valor in military warfare; but yet on the great day of God Almighty will stand side by side with the greatest of them, and the angels will proclaim their deeds to a listening universe.

I mean the heroes and heroines of toil. There is just as much reward to those who stay at home and mind their own business and do their whole duty where they are, according to the word of God as to those who organize great moral and social reforms or command armies on the high places of the field. David said after his return from the battle of Amolekites "As his part is that goeth down to battle, so shall his part be that tarrieth by the stuff,"

We want more sermons on the discharge of the ordinary duties in ordinary places. We want more sympathy for those who bear the burden and heat of the day in the ordinary walks and ways of life. More thoughtfulness for those who endure hardness and get no credit for it.

In our day there are many who estimate the respectability of an occupation by the honorableness of a profession, by short hours and the cleanliness of the work; forgetting as one has well said, "that a laboring man's overalls are just as honorable as a priest's robes, and a blacksmith's anvil as respectable as a pulpit." It is not the height of a man's silk hat nor the style of his silk cravat, nor the make of his kid gloves, nor the cut of his clothes that tells what kind of a heart is inside of them. You cannot always judge heroic characters by the cut of the man's clothes.

This was forcibly illustrated by an honest sobler.

I want to mention first among the heroes and heroines of toil, the heroes of the home. I look at this class of unrecognized workers and take off my hat to them as worthy of first place among all the toilers; first in honor, because first in importance.

We have heard much of the importance of the man behind the gun, and have read the poem of "the man and the hoe." Some one to improve on these has said but more important is the woman behind the broomstick, but I go one step farther and say "the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world" and is most important of all. How impressive and yet true is the motto "What is home without a mother?"

Napoleon Bonaparte once said "What France needed most was good mothers who would not only give birth to children but train them up for good citizens and good society." This also is the hope of America. I look at the heroines of the Bible, Hannah, Abigail, Rebecca, Dorcas and Mary Magdalena and place them along side of Joseph and David and his brothers, Jonathan and his armor bearer, Daniel and his brethren. * * *

But I pass on to notice the heroes and heroines in factory and mill and shop and store. The great question with these toilers is not "Home Rule" but how to get a home to rule. It is not tariff high or low, but how to get something worth taxing. The heroic problem some of you are heroically trying to solve is how to get something to eat, how to pay your coal bill, and your rent, and provide for those dependent on you.

This is the battle of the masses—the battle of the ages; a battle each must fight for himself. But to fight the battle succesfully in the face of greedy corporations, and exorbitant prices for the necessities of life, is a victory worthy of all honor, and shows a heroic spirit.

May God bless the toilers of America. "Quiet yourselves like men be strong. Imitate the "Hero of the Ages," Jesus Christ, manifest his spirit of love and self-forgetfulness. And though you have it hard here, you shall enter his rest in the land of bliss and the blest.

Rev. Barr will close this series of sermons next Sabbath by discussing, "The heroes in overalls or how some men climb to fame on the shoulders of others."

Prizes Offered.

The Mt. Wollaston bank has inaugurated a new scheme in connection with their home bank department, which will act as a stimulant to encourage the hundreds, if not thousands, who have one of their home savings banks to look after their small change, that they may have some of the wherewithal in time of adversity. The new scheme is to pay a premium to the man, woman or child who saves the largest amount between now and the first of January, 1904. The person saving the largest amount will be given a premium of $15, and the second largest $10. The only conditions imposed upon this offer is that one of the Mt. Wollaston home banks be secured and a payment made during June and each month. One of these banks may be obtained at the bank upon the deposit of the first dollar, or if unable to call a postal card will bring one of their agents to your home.

Everyone who has investigated this system of saving money has been convinced that it is one of the best money savers ever invented. Everybody wants to save money but everybody cannot. With one of these banks, however, one can not help saving money.

Chain Cables for Douglas.

A number of trips of a four-horse truck have been necessary to carry down from the Quincy Adams station the chain cables of the six-masted steel schooner "William L. Douglas" now building at Fore River for the Coastwise Transportation Company— —better known as the "Crowley fleet."

The chain was made in Pennsylvania and will be in two cables of 120 fathoms each. Each cable will contain three "shots" or sections of chain, two "shot" being 45 fathoms long, and one 30 fathoms. Shackle connect each "shot."

The links of this chain are large and are of two and one half inch "wire" with a "stud" across the middle of the link. So heavy is the cable that it requires the united efforts of seven men to unload a single shot and pile it up near the ship where the "Douglas" is being built.

In Original Packages.

There was a rumor about Monday that parties in the vicinity of the Fore River works intended to take advantage of the ruling of Judge Emmonds and sell liquor in original packages to the employes of the Fore River works. Where the rumor started no one seemed to know.

While the police did not take much stock in the story they made up their minds not to be caught napping, and Inspector McKay made an investigation during the evening, and other officers were on the watch, but no one attempted to sell original package liquor. Had they done so they would probably have been brought into court.

Coming to Trial.

Judge Fox has assigned for trial on Tuesday, June 2, the case of Harkins et al. vs. Rochford et al. relative to the six-family apartment house on Revere road, work on which was stopped over a year ago when nearly completed. It will be tried in the Equity Merit Session in Boston, and is of interest to master builders in general, as the sub-contractors in this case "got stuck."

On the Diamond

At Boston—National—Cincinnati, 3; Boston, 2.
At New York—National—New York, 13; St. Louis, 4.
At Brooklyn—National—Brooklyn, 5; Pittsburg, 0.
At Philadelphia—National—Chicago, 8; Philadelphia, 4.
At Cleveland—American—Cleveland, 2. Philadelphia, 1.
At St. Louis—American—St. Louis, 3; New York, 1.
At Detroit—American—Washington, 5; Detroit, 1.
At Lawrence—Concord, 9; Lawrence, 3.
At Brockton—Lawrence, 3; Brockton, 0.
At Haverihll—Manchester, 9; Haverhill, 1.

It is reported that William Norrie of 40 Rodman street, 40 years old, 5 feet, 7 inches, light complexion, has been missing from his home since Thursday last. His family are more than anxious as to his whereabout and have asked aid from the police.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

The last week of May.

The Grand Army desire flowers for Memorial day.

Chief Hayden is busy making up his detail for Memorial day.

John W. Nash has returned from a week's visit in New Hampshire.

The Ancients will parade at the dedication of the Hooker statue June 25.

George D. Langely has returned from Pawtucket and has gone to Durham, N. H.

Miss Mabel Whitcomb was the guest of Miss Grace Harmon of Malden last week.

Mr. Hill and family have moved into one of the vacant houses on Faxon Road.

Miss Beatrice Tisdale has gone to Andover for a week's visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Morse have taken up their summer residence at Rose Cliff.

Mrs. Wilson Tisdale left Monday for a ten days' rest at her summer home at Somersworth, N. H.

The case of Faircloth vs. the City of Quincy is in order for trial in the Superior court at Dedham.

The assistant assessors have completed their labors taking polls but their returns have not been tabulated as yet.

The cool east wind that has prevailed this week would be more welcome in July or August.

The Copeland club will hold a dance on Friday evening at St. Mary's hall, with music by Marnock's orchestra.

John Knight has severed his connections with J. W. Nash and has accepted a position with L. M. Pratt & Son.

The West Quincys will have as rivals on the morning of Memorial day the Cambridge Reds. Game called at 9.30 o'clock.

Another gala week at Bigelow Park. Presents are distributed every afternoon to those in attendance whether they buy or not.

The play, "A District School," will be given in Memorial church, Atlantic, on Wednesday evening by the members of the Sunday school.

The new street railway power house at Quincy Point when completed will furnish the power for all lines this side of Brockton inciuding Brockton.

The freight railroad to the shipyard is now opened for its entire length. On Monday however the locomotive was derailed near the ice house, causing some delay.

The Woman's Guild of Christ church will hold the last meeting of the season tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. After the meeting Mrs. Gardner will entertain in the rectory.

The Merrymounts go to Hingham Saturday morning to play the Wanpatucks of that town. The game will be played on the fair grounds and will be called at 10 o'clock.

The floats of the Moswetussett landing will be laid this week, enabling those who use the Atlantic wharf for a starting place, to get off more easily when the tide is not high.

Women's Tournament.

Miss Mary B. Adams of Wollaston had the second best gross score at the women's open golf tournament of the Country club of Brookline on Monday in a field of 39. She scored in 94, while Miss Elizabeth Farrington of Vesper Country was 2 better, and Miss Harley of Fall River 1 behind. Miss Alice Lidnell of Wellington Hills with a big handicap won the net prize.

Catarrh

Invites Consumption

It weakens the delicate lung tissues, deranges the digestive organs, and breaks down the general health.

It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, and affects the voice.

Being a constitutional disease it requires a constitutional remedy.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Radically and permanently cures catarrh of the nose, throat, stomach, bowels, and more delicate organs.

Read the testimonials.

No substitute for Hood's acts like Hood's. Be sure to get Hood's.

"I was troubled with catarrh 20 years. Seeing statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla resolved to try it. Four bottles entirely cured me." WILLIAM SHERMAN, 1030 6th St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Get well before you have to think of weak lungs, bronchitis, pleurisy. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

GRAND FAIR

IN AID OF THE

QUINCY HOSPITAL,

At the Residence of MISS BEALE. Adams Street,

ON THURSDAY, JUNE 11th,

Afternoon and Eveuing, beginning at 2 o'clock

PROCEEDS TO BE DEVOTED TO THE NURSES' HOME.

Admission 50 cents. Children under 12 years, 25 cents.

An invitation is extended to all who are interested in the welfare of the hospital and in providing a nurses' home.

May 22. 1-tf--p-2w

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.

60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN.

PHARMACIST,

1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

FRESH FROM THE MINES.

CARGOES OF

White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.

C. PATCH & SON.

Quincy, April 23. tf

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

BUY YOUR

Hot Weather Goods

— OF —

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

And get your COLD SODA

FREE.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

WATCH US GROW. WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

$3.50

For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . . At Co-operative Dining Rooms

3 Granite Street, Quincy

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21--2m

Cracker Sale

THIS WEEK AT

PRATT'S.

Grahams,	8 cts. pound.
Grandmother's Cookies,	8 cts. pound.
Butter Thins,	13 cts. pound.
Susie Wilson's	10 cts. pound.
Saltines,	13 cts. pound.

About 150 different kinds of

KENNEDY CRACKERS

At Wholesale Prices.

Boston Branch Grocery,

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

SPILLER'S GOLDEN COUGH BALSAM

THE KIND THAT CURES

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Inflammation of the Lungs, Lagrippe and Whooping Cough. It soothes the Cough of Consumption, and is excellent for all Lung Trobles. Try it. For sale by Weeks & Hill, Quincy, Mass. Price 25 cents.

If goods fail to give satisfaction, money refunded.

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the will of

BESSIE LOUISE HARLOW, born Pratt,

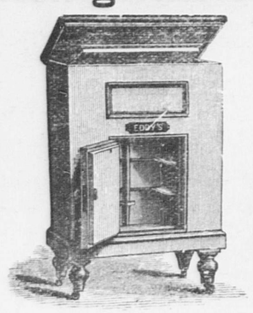

late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to (Address) JAMES F. HARLOW, Executor.

Quincy, Mass.

May 11, 1903. 12-3t--12-19-26

Eddy Refrigerators.

It is doubtful if any one ever heard of an Eddy Refrigerator during the 54 years they have been manufactured, that didn't give better service than ever was expected of it. Back of that name stands a guarantee of excellence and honest construction, unequalled by any other maker in the world. An Eddy Refrigerator will pay for itself in ice saved. Factory Prices, $6.50 to $25,00. A catalogue and price list for the asking.

HENRY L KINCAIDE & CO.,
New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,
Hancock Street, Quincy.
We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.
Quincy, April 9. 1p-tf

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust
Music Hall Block, Quincy

TO LET

IN QUINCY, MASS.,
By H. H. FAXON.
HOUSES, STORES, HALL, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES,
Land, Wharves, etc.
Buildings are in Complete Repair

Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.
House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.
Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.
Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc., No. 92 School street, $12 per month.
Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.
Stable, junction School and Franklin streets $4 per month.
Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.
Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.
Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.
For particulars apply to
HENRY H. FAXON.
Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, May 13, 1903. 1m

LEDGER ADS PAY BEST
TRY ONE AND SEE

NEW STORES TO LET.

A BUILDING will be erected at once by N. G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information enquire N. G. NICKERSON. Quincy, May 12-tf

KING'S PARK HOUSE.

Board and Rooms.
345 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 19. 1m

JOHN STREIFERD & SON, FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.
Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant. Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

The Quincy Ledger

FOR SALE AT THE
South Terminal Station News Stand
After 3.35 P. M.

Thousands of children, made sickly and wretched by worms, have been restored to health and happiness by a few doses of
TRUE'S PIN WORM ELIXIR
Pure, vegetable, harmless tonic and specific for stomach and bowel disorders. 35 cents at druggists. Booklet free.
Dr. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me.

THE AUXILIARY.

Assisting in Reorganizing The Y. M. C. A.

To Have Membership Contest.

Addresses by Secretaries Paige, Armstrong and Coburn.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. met Monday at 3 P. M. in the rooms of the association, the occasion being the regular monthly meeting of the society.

The attendance was good and enthusiasm seemed to be on the increase.

Mrs. W. G. Shaw, president of the Auxiliary, presided and opened the meeting, introducing the speakers, Mr. Ambrose Page, Secretary of boy's work at Cambridge, and Mr. R. M. Armstrong of Boston, State Secretary of the association.

Mr. Paige showed the value of our boys and the necessity of placing good influences about them, at that age when they are seemingly in the transition period from boyhood to manhood. He impressed those present of the great need of providing for the boys of Quincy, in their new movement. The time when "anything is good enough for boys" is past, now the best is none too good for these boys who are going to make our future.

Mr. Armstrong gave several illustrations which have come under his special Supervision of the good influence exerted over the boys by the association, and reminded us of the three-fold purpose, body, mind and spirit.

Asst. Sec. Coburn presented the financial side of the work asking for the co-operation of the auxiliary in raising necessary funds to provide a suitable place for advancement of our Quincy young men. About 1-3 of the necessary $25,000 has been subscribed, but there is great need of more active and earnest work among our people.

A business meeting following in which a new constitution was presented awaiting adoption at the next regular meeting.

Arrangement were made also for a membership contest in the auxiliary, either side being represented by Mrs. R. S. Hewitson of Wollaston and Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick of Quincy.

The annual meeting of the Auxiliary will be held, Monday, June 8, when officers for the coming year will be elected.

It is hoped the ladies of Quincy will be ready to help in all ways this great movement for the betterment of Quincy.

Many Pay Rolls.

This the last week in the month in the City Treasurer's office and a busy week, especially so as Saturday is a holiday. It will require quite a sum of money to satisfy all demands, for the city officials will receive their monthly salary, as will also the school teachers, then there is State and Military aid, police, firemen and other employes in the various city departments. As the larger part of these will pe paid on Friday it will keep Treasurer Gray busy.

THE OLD RELIABLE
ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

JEWS AND JEWS.

Rev. Samuel Freuder Preaches at the Presbyterian Church.

"For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulders, and his name shall be called Wonderful Counsellor, the Prince of Peace."

From this prophecy, made by Isaiah seven hundred years before the birth of Christ, the Rev. Samuel Freuder, formerly a Jewish Rabbi, now a minister of the gospel preached Sunday evening in the Water Street Presbyterian church. His conversion was referred to as a passing from the law to the gospel, from the letter to the spirit, from Sinai to Calvary."

The speaker was highly interesting. He gave statistics regarding the Jewish race in this and other countries, and predicted that the recent Russian massacres would serve to give an impetus to the movement for a return to Palestine and setting up a government there, which was the fondest hope of the orthodox Jew of the present day.

The difference between the reformed Jew, who is well known to the Americans, and the orthodox Jew was explained very clearly. The religious customs of the Jews and their scriptural authority were also gone into. The twenty-third Psalm was chanted by the speaker in the Hebrew tongue. He stated a fact not generally known, which is, that, while other languages change, the Hebrew is precisely what it was three thousand years ago. If King David were to hear this psalm, he would understand every word of it.

While it might seem strange that, with two thousand years of Christian glory before their eyes, the Jewes should still refuse to accept Christ as fulfilment of the above prophecy, there were many things which, if considered, would make their attitude less incomprehensible, one cause being the persecution of the Jews by people professing Christianity, and in its name perpetrating such horrible crimes as have been reported from Russia of late.

Sewer Connections.

The following estates were connected with the public sewer last week:

R. S. Hewitson, Newport avenue.
Dennis F. Ryan, Squantum street.
Helen A. Adams, Merrymount road.
Patrick H. Golden, Squantum street.
C. Fred Haven, Newport avenue.
A. L. Baker, Arlington street.
E. W. Branch, Putnam street.
A. P. Messer, Arlington street.
W. G. A. Pattee, Irving place.
Thomas M. Butler, Putnam street.

TODAY'S COURT.

Arthur L. Davis was fined $3 for drunkenness at Weymouth.

Dennie DeSantes was arraigned for the larceny of a bicycle from Salvatore Di Guisto at Quincy. He was found not guilty and discharged.

DENS MUST BE CLOSED

If Work Is to Proceed at Bremerton Navy Yard

STRONG POLITICAL ACTION

Brought to Bear Upon Acting Secretary Darling to Revoke His Order, but Without Avail—Change In Commandership Also Stands as Planned

Washington, May 26.—Until he is satisfied with conditions at Bremerton, Wash., in the vicinity of the navy yard, acting Secretary Darling will direct that no more ships be ordered there for repair or docking. The work, so far as practicable, will be done at the Mare Island navy yard. Ships too large for docking at Mare Island will come to the Atlantic coast.

Telegraphic instructions have been sent to the Pacific squadron, which was about to proceed to Bremerton for repairs, to remain at San Francisco until further orders, and Mr. Darling has wired Captain Bleecker, the acting commandant at Bremerton, regarding the truth of newspaper reports that the Bremerton town council had declined to approve the revoking of the licenses of the saloons and gambling houses on Front street and that these places were still in operation.

If these reports be true Mr. Darling says the department has been misled. Some time ago, because of the evil influences which investigation showed existed directly outside the Bremerton yards, an order was issued that no more ships be sent there until this condition was remedied. Although powerful political influence was brought to bear on the department to revoke this order, Mr. Darling stood his ground, and not until the Bremerton authorities officially informed him that the licenses for all saloons and gambling houses on Front street had been revoked and these places closed did he consent that the gunboat Ranger go there for docking. That vessel has just arrived at Bremerton.

Mr. Darling desires that whenever practicable the yard at Bremerton shall be kept busy, but he is determined that American sailors shall not be subjected to evil influences such as have existed just outside the gates of the Bremerton yard.

It is announced that the orders recently issued to Captain Barclay to take command of the Bremerton yard will not be revoked in favor of Captain Bleecker, the present acting commandant. Secretary Moody was urged by the United States senators from Washington to revoke Captain Barclay's orders and appoint Captain Bleecker commandant of the yard. A telegram has been received from the secretary approving the issuance of Captain Barclay's orders and announcing that he had informed the senators of his views on the case. Captain Bleecker has not informed the department that the Bremerton town council has declined to close the objectionable resorts. He has been telegraphed to for information.

If it is necessary to keep ships away from Bremerton the New York will probably come to Atlantic waters sooner than was anticipated for an overhauling, which will require two years' work. If temporary repairs can be made at Bremerton the New York will remain on the Pacific coast for another year.

MARRIED.

NILSON—JOHNSON—In Quincy, May 23, by Rev. John A. Bernhard Mr. Emanuel Nilson of Somerville to Miss Karolina Johnson of Cambridge.
MANTER—LUNDBLAD—In Plymouth, May 23, by Rev. D. M. James, Mr. Arthur L. Manter of Plymouth to Miss Frieda Lundblad of Quincy.

DIED.

STODDER—In Hingham, May 24, Mrs. Deborah Goodwin, widow of Thomas Waterman Stodder aged 90 years, 6 months.

HOUSES IN DEMAND.

Ex-Mayor Hall Will Build Several on Chubbuck Street.

The recent sale of a large tract of land on Chubbuck street, known as the Pinel estate, to ex-Mayor John O. Hall means the immediate addition of a large number of houses. This section of Quincy, since the advent of the Fore River Ship and Engine Co. has grown rapidly and the demand for houses has far exceeded the supply. Many new houses have already been erected in this vicinity yet the demand has in no wise diminished.

With the increase in the force of workmen at the Fore River, and the prospect in the near future of the location of the Tube Works, it has become evident that houses can not be built too fast.

The sale to Mr. Hall was through the agency of Frank F. Crane the property being owned by W. G. A. Pattee. It is the intention of Mr. Hall to erect from time to time fifty houses. They will be single and double houses and tenements.

Plans have already been made for five buildings and work will be commenced upon these immediately and other blocks will be started as soon as plans now under way have been completed.

In addition to the houses he is to erect at Quincy Point, Mr. Hall has secured a large tract of land bordering on Independence avenue, and it is his intention to begin at once the erection of five or more houses in that section.

The demand for houses in South Quincy is almost as great as at Quincy Point, and there is no question but what the houses will either be sold or let as fast as completed.

The activity of Mr. Hall and other builders is evidence that Quincy is to experience a building boom the coming year such as never before.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS.

Association Building As Well As "Gym" May Be Erected.

The building committee of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. met Monday evening and decided to invite architects to submit plans for a gymnasium 60 by 45 feet, to contain a basement 8 feet high, 4 feet above ground. The class room to be 18 feet high.

It was also voted to secure plans for a three-story front 60 by 60, to contain offices, class rooms, reading rooms, a small hall and dormitories.

Granite will be used for the basements, and brick or wood for the remainder of the building. The selection of material will depend upon the figures submitted by the builders.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus oftenbefore medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

Lump of Coal Struck Him

Lynn, Mass., May 26.—While at work in the hold of a coal barge at a wharf here, Dennis Donohue was struck in the face by a large piece of coal which fell from a hoisting shovel. He was so badly injured that he died while being taken to a hospital.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Wednesday, May 27.
Sun rises—4:13; sets—7.09.
Moon sets—7:57 p. m.
High water—11:30 a. m.; 11:45 p. m.

The weather has cleared in the east and fair weather prevails in the remaining districts. It will be fair and warmer in New England.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS.

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - 60 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

LOST.

LOST—Between Quincy Centre and Weymouth by way of electric cars, a lady's gold watch with "Nettie" inscribed on the case. Finder will please return to Quincy Savings Bank.
Quincy, May 25. 3t

LOST—On Sunday a silver watch with gold bracelet attached, between Baxter street and Mount Wollaston cemetery. Finder will please return to 80 Washington street.
Quincy, May 25. 3t

LOST—Angora Cat, female, white and malt tese, with small black mark under the chin. Any information will be thankfully received. H. H. HILL, the Weeks Hill Pharmacy.
Quincy, May 25. tf

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve (12) rooms, with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. May 16-1m

FOR SALE—Two acres of land and house, within 5 minutes' walk of central railroad station. Taxed for $2,200. Will sell for $1,800 if taken within 10 days. Address FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street, Quincy, Mass.
May 21. tf

FOR SALE—A Large Size Emerson Piano for $150.00. Six years old. Address H. L. D., Ledger office, Quincy, Mass.
May 21. tf

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office.
April 28. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

WANTED.

MEN, not under 25 years, to call on old and new customers. No delivering. Position permanent to the right party. Pay weekly. GLEN BROTHERS, Rochester, N. Y.
April 23. 6w-thurs. sat. tues.

WANTED—Money on first mortgages. Address Box 185 Quincy Post Office.
April 16. eod tf

WANTED—Young man as assistant bookkeeper and stenographer. A portion of time to be devoted to collecting. A permanent position, with advancement in view for a trustworthy young man. Address, stating age and salary willing to start on, K, Ledger office.
Quincy, May 25. tf

WANTED—Two or three Rooms, furnished, for light housekeeping. Address, "H," Ledger office.
Quincy, May 25. 3t

WANTED—A few persons desiring good board and room. Apply at 4 Johnson avenue, opposite Adams Academy; five minutes from Quincy depot, one minute from electries.
Quincy, May 25. 6t

WANTED—Girls to fill first-class places; cooks, second girls and waiters Best of wages. Also cook and second girl to go together; wages $3 to $4 per week. Apply at 1522 HANCOCK STREET, opposite Music hall. Miss L. M. Flynn. May 23. 3t

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London and Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON.
Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Hecker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5 tf

TO LET.

TO LET—A House of eight rooms and bath, opposite Adams Academy, Johnson avenue; 16 Faxon avenue, House of 9 rooms and bath. All improvements. Two minutes from R. R. Station. Also plastered Shore Cottage of 10 rooms and bath, hot and cold water, Great Hill, Quincy. FANNIE M. TAYLOR, 176 Federal street, Boston, Mass.
May 25. 6t

FOR RENT—By a young married couple without children, furnished house this summer. Best of references. Parties going to the beach will find this a good opportunity to leave their home in responsible care. Address, H. H., Ledger office. Quincy, May 19-tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet. 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street.
Quincy, April 21. tf

Greatest Values of the Year---Two Chances to Make Money.

FIRST.
Dollars Invested by you Now
IN THE FINEST HOUSE LOTS
IN
The FORE RIVER DISTRICT
MEANS HUNDREDS
IN THE NEAR FUTURE.

AT THE Mammoth Sale of Choice House Lots
AT
BIGELOW PARK
EVERY AFTERNOON THIS WEEK.

SECOND.
YOU HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY
To Obtain ABSOLUTELY FREE
ONE OF THE HUNDREDS OF ELEGANT PRESENTS
TO BE GIVEN AWAY.

What the President of the Fore River Ship Works says:
"500 New Houses will be needed in the vicinity of Quincy Point during the next year."

What the Real Estate Men of Quincy will tell you:
Impossible to supply the demand for Houses in the Fore River District now.

WHAT THE TENANTS SAY:
Rents are jumping away up in the air and it is impossible to find houses to rent at almost any price.

WHAT WE ASK: Can you afford to miss this opportunity to obtain a home on our terms?

Small Amount Down on a Lot and $1 per Week.

Just Think This Over--Come and Inspect The Property--It Can't Cost You Anything to do This--It Means Dollars to You--
This Applies to the Single as well as the Married Man---Start Now.

SALE EVERY AFTERNOON THIS WEEK,---May 25 to May 30, 1903.

SWITHIN BROS.,

Cleanliness Begins at the Top.

To keep the hair and scalp clean and healthy there's nothing like shampooing with

Packer's Tar Soap

It removes dandruff and prevents diseases which produce baldness. For sale by druggists.

Our leaflet, "The Value of Systematic Shampooing," mailed free.

THE PACKER MANUFACTURING CO.
81 Fulton St., New York.

ORDER NOW FOR

DECORATION DAY

--YOUR--

Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works,

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS,

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.

April 30. 1m

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat.

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.

Quincy, May 9. 1m

STRAW HATS.

WE HAVE A FINE LINE OF THE LATEST STYLES.

OUR $1.00 to $3.00 HATS

ARE ALL OF THE POPULAR

LAMSON & HUBBARD MAKE.

OUTING CAPS

In all Shapes and Colors,

25c., 50c., 75c., $1.00, $1.50.

HEADQUARTERS FOR THE

QUINCY YACHT CLUB CAP.

GEORGE W. JONES,

Adams Building, - QUINCY.

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder,

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25.

FOR ACCEPTING BRIBE

Attorney In Postal Department Dismissed

WARRANT FOR HIS ARREST

As Well as That of His "Partner" or Go-Between—Charged With Having Made a Deal With the Ryan Turf Investment Concern of St Louis

Washington, May 26.—Postmaster General Payne has summarily dismissed Daniel V. Miller, assistant attorney in the office of the assistant attorney general for the postoffice department, for accepting a bribe in connection with the case of John J. Ryan & Co., charged with fraudulent use of the mails. A warrant was issued for Miller's arrest.

Another warrant has been issued for the arrest of a man who is charged with being the partner or a go-between in the transaction. A postoffice inspector has gone west from Cincinnati to effect the arrest. The bribe is alleged to have been accepted at Cincinnati last December.

Miller came here from Terre Haute, Ind., about two years ago. He was appointed by former Assistant Attorney General Tyner. The charge against Miller has been under investigation for three months. The Ryan company was a turf investment concern which operated at St. Louis and Covington, Ky. Its methods and working operations are said to be similar to those of the Arnold company, which has figured conspicuously in the postoffice investigation. The inspectors have been quietly at work on the case and action was delayed so they might get together all the papers and evidence which, in their opinion, was necessary.

Postoffice Inspector Vickery at Cincinnati and Postoffice Inspector Fulton at St. Louis recently were given full charge of the case. Complaint was made by Inspector Fulton before a United States commissioner in Cincinnati Saturday and a warrant was then issued for Miller and for the other party. Inspector Fulton immediately came to Washington, while another inspector went west from Cincinnati to make the other arrest. Miller was at his desk all day yesterday. He was called into the office of Assistant Attorney General Robb shortly after 3 o'clock in the afternoon and notified of his immediate dismissal and of the steps that had been taken.

The Ryan company was the beneficiary under a decision of the assistant attorney general of the postoffice department, made several months ago, subsequent to the decision in the Arnold case and couched in practically the same terms as that decision.

Those decisions declared the concerns named to be free to use the mails. The Arnold decision, it is stated, was signed by Assistant Attorney General Tyner and the Ryan decision by George C. Christiancy, the law clerk of the department, who was then acting assistant attorney general on account of Tyner's protracted illness. Christiancy was at the postoffice department yesterday on a summons from the department and was closely examined regarding the case.

It is stated that the amount offered Miller as a bribe aggregated several thousand dollars and was in the form of a cash payment, followed by a check. This payment is alleged to have taken place in Cincinnati, so the case will be tried there. The penalty for the offense is punishable by a fine not more than three times the amount asked or accepted and by imprisonment of not more than three years.

Miller was last night placed under arrest by a deputy marshal. He waived examination and was released on $1500 bonds for appearance at court in Cincinnati next fall. The warrant, it is learned, charges conspiracy instead of bribery, as first reported. A warrant on the same charge has been issued for the arrest of Joseph M. Johns, a lawyer of Rockville, Ind. It was intended to have both arrests made at the same time, but no report has been received yet of Johns' apprehension.

Politics In New York Postoffice

New York, May 26.—Charges, supported by documentary evidence, that promotions in the New York postoffice have been secured through political influence, have been made to Postmaster General Payne by Louis M. Ehrich, for eight years a clerk in the general postoffice. Ehrich was dismissed on May 7 for being absent 35 days without leave and failing to obey the orders of the postoffice doctor. He asserts that in reality his dismissal was due to a lack of political influence, and that the charges made against him were not supported. Ehrich produced a letter from District Leader Lexow explaining that as others had been more active than he, their names stood at the head of the list of applicants for increase of salary. Favored employes, he says, received increases of $200 a year, while he had only one increase in eight years.

Searching Pond For Child

Gloucester, Mass., May 26.—The police have begun a search of Webster pond, expecting to find in it the body of the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Berry, who has disappeared. The pond is near the home.

Race Scheduled For Today

New York, May 26.—The tuning up of the cup yacht Reliance is still in progress. The three cup yachts will race off Glen Cove again today.

LYNN'S SCHOOL MUDDLE

Teachers Who Accused a Principal Are Now Out of Employment

Lynn, Mass., May 26.—The school board last night elected public school teachers whose names were on the list reported by the committee on teachers at the previous meeting of the board. Fred P. Batchelder, principal of the Ingalls grammar school, was among those elected, but Miss Carrie M. Corson and Miss Annie M. Dame were dropped. Miss Dame has brought suit in the civil court for $20,000 alleged damages on the charge that Batchelder has defamed her character and that he had attempted assault upon her. Miss Corson has announced that she will bring suit on the charge of defamation of character and claim $6000 damages against Batchelder.

In the school board last night an order was presented, calling for a special committee to investigate the charges of both teachers against Batchelder, but it was defeated, 9 to 3.

The Emerson Centennial

Concord, Mass., May 26.—A reminder of the days of the Concord school of philosophy was the gathering here of a great body of citizens to do honor to the memory of one of the greatest of many men who made the school famous—Ralph Waldo Emerson—on the centennial of his birth. Those who made a pilgrimage to Concord were received with heartiness by the townspeople who revere the name of Emerson with the many which are linked with the town's history. Business was entirely suspended and the day was almost made a sacred holiday.

Settlement Apparently Far Away

Bridgeport, Conn., May 26.—The trolley strike situation is as far from a settlement as it was the day the conductors and motormen went out. The company refuses to submit the difficulty to arbitration and it is upon this basis that the strikers hoped for a settlement. The business men are suffering seriously. People from the many small towns with which the cars connect are not coming into Bridgeport, and even the city people are not riding to the centre.

Vicious Lad Shoots His Mother

Oakland, Me., May 26.—Mrs. Nellie Bickford, wife of Everett Bickford, a farmer, was shot and probably fatally wounded last night by her 10-year-old son, whose only motive for the crime, as far as has been learned, was a desire to avoid being sent to school in Massachusetts. The weapon which the boy used was obtained from the house of a neighbor, which he forcibly entered, breaking open several trunks and drawers with an axe in order to get the weapon.

Signs of a Break at Lowell

Lowell, Mass., May 26.—The agents of the cotton mills had a conference last evening on the question of opening the mills. It is understood that they are ready to open the gates June 1 and will submit the question to the mill treasurers at a meeting in Boston today. Thousands of operatives are eager to return to work and the opening of the gates would undoubtedly cause a rush to the mills. The Textile council has called an important meeting for today.

Havoc Wrought by Frost

Laconia, N. H., May 26.—The Winnipesaukee valley, as well as the whole north county, so far as heard from, has been visited by a heavy frost. The freeze was the most extensive known here in years. Ice formed as thick as window glass, while all kinds of early vegetation in gardens, field crops, etc., was cut down. The mercury averaged 28 degrees. The farmers are busy replanting seed.

Leaves Methodist Fold

Newport, R. I., May 26.—Chaplain William G. Cassard, U. S. N., stationed at the naval training station here, has withdrawn from the ministry and membership of the Methodist Episcopal church and announces his purpose to enter the Protestant Episcopal church. Cassard will be confirmed in the Emmanual church here next Sunday and will at once become a candidate for holy orders.

Anti-Trust Bill Opposed

Boston, May 26.—Members of the Chamber of Commerce at a special meeting placed themselves on record as decidedly disapproving the so-called "anti-trust bill" which the special committee on coal investigation has recommended to the legislature and which has already passed the senate. The resolutions say that unjustness would arise from the passage of such an act.

Divorce In High Life

Newport, R. I., May 26.—The supreme court has granted a divorce to Mary I. Kemp from Arthur T. Kemp. Mrs. Kemp is a sister to Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt. Mrs. Kemp charged neglect and failure to provide the necessities of life. Under the new divorce law the decree will not become effective until six months have elapsed.

Engine Company Assigns

Warren, Mass., May 26.—The Slater Engine company of Warren has made an assignment to a Boston attorney, pending a reorganization of the company. It is one of the principal industries of this town, and employs about 100 men. What the financial condition of the company is can not be learned as yet.

Employers Oppose Unionism

Springfield, Mass., May 26.—The firm of Smith & Wesson, revolver manufacturers, closed its factory last evening for an indefinite period. This step is taken presumably on account of labor troubles, the men having signified their intention of forming a union despite the opposition of the firm.

FREDERICK H. LORD,

TEACHER OF BANJO,

Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.

TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.

118 Washington Street.

Quincy, May 7. tf

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.

1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.

2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.

3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.

Plumbing and Heating Co;

25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot. Telephone Connection.

April 24 tf- p-1w

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

W. G. CHUBBUCK

Furniture and Piano Mover

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.

Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

lp-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F. Crane's Store. Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

and of Hancock and Water Streets, West Quincy

Jan. 7 tf

FULL STOCK

—OF—

HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,

—AT—

Brooks' Market,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

April 25. tf

MASON WORK

OF ALL KINDS

Done in the Best Manner

At Reasonable Prices by

C. B. HUSTON & CO.,

4 High School Avenue.

Having had many years' experience we can give perfect satisfaction.

All orders promptly attended to.

C. B. HUSTON,
D. H. CLEARY,
F. A. SOUTHER.

Quincy, May 23. 1m

Reupholstering

OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE

HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED

And Made Over.

Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.

Call and get Prices.

C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.

Quincy, May 2. 1m

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. 1p-2mos.

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

SMOKE THE

COVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 124. QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY, MAY 27, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, PRES.

April 9-2m 11-2m

ERIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.
Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass.
May 7. 1m

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1 1y- p-6mos.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. 1p-tf

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pixel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 28. 1y

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Mechanic Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7 tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
16 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
Employment Office
At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm
Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.
Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

Reupholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE
HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.
Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.
Call and get Prices.
C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.
Quincy, May 2. 1m

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

MASON WORK
OF ALL KINDS
Done in the Best Manner
At Reasonable Prices by
C. B. HUSTON & CO.,
4 High School Avenue.
Having had many years' experience we can give perfect satisfaction.
All orders promptly attended to.
C. B. HUSTON,
D. H. CLEARY,
F. A. SOUTHER.
Quincy, May 23. 1m

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.
BUY YOUR
Hot Weather Goods
—OF—
D. E. Wadsworth & Co.
And get your COLD SODA
FREE.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

FULL STOCK
—OF—
HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,
—AT—
Brooks' Market,
Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 25. tf

J. W. PRATT,
BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES
AT LOWEST PRICES.
HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.
MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.
I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.
Estimates given on new work
8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.
Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

If you are thinking of
BUYING A HOUSE
OR A
LOT OF LAND,
Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.
WALTER E. BURKE.
Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

Glenwood Ranges
Make Cooking Easy
H. L. KINCAIDE & CO., QUINCY, MASS.

FRESH FROM THE MINES.
CARGOES OF
White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.
C. PATCH & SON.
Quincy, April 23. tf

REAL ESTATE.
Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.
JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder.
Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.
Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.
April 25. tf

TELEGRAPHIC.
3 O'CLOCK.

For Latest News See Inside Pages.

WAS ONCE A PICTURE

Large Section of Laconia Now a Blackened Waste

MANY HOMELESS PEOPLE

Nearly a Hundred Buildings In Beautiful Residential District Consumed by Fire—Small Blaze Soon Developed Into a Conflagration

Laconia, N. H., May 27.—Nearly 100 buildings burned, 350 persons made homeless and a loss of between $350,000 and $400,000 is the story of the greatest fire this city ever experienced. The burnt district in the Lakeport section covers about 150 acres. The fire caught from an insignificant blaze in the boiler room of the H. H. Wood hosiery mill. In 15 minutes the flames got beyond control of the two or three men who started to extinguish the little blaze and in a very short time the entire structure was ablaze. Next it went to the finished lumber plant of the Boulia-Gorrell company and then to the works of the Laconia Electric Lighting company. In less than an hour both these plants were flat.

The city fire department was unable to check the flames at this point and could do nothing to put out small fires which had begun to show themselves on buildings on the west side of the Winnipesaukee river. The result was that burning brands began to fall on houses some distance away and street after street became a new locality for a fire. In two hours the conflagration was in progress. The work of destruction went on until the fire actually burned itself out for want of material, having reached outside of what is known as the fire district. Help had been summoned from Concord, Franklin and Meridith, but the combined forces of apparatus and firemen were absolutely powerless.

One reason for the spread of the fire over such an area was the dryness of all woodwork, for only half an inch of rain has fallen over this section in the last 40 days. The scenes as the fire jumped from building to building were harrowing in the extreme. Householders did their best to save their effects and in a great many cases had removed a portion of their goods out of what they supposed would be the fire zone, but the flames came down on them and licked up the articles as they were piled in the city streets. Although the city has an abundance of water the drain on it was so heavy that it decreased the pressure until it reached that point where it became of very little help. The heat was intense and without pressure in the hose the firemen late in the afternoon were unable to fight at close quarters.

Mayor Melcher early took steps to provide food and lodging for the homeless and his efforts were ably seconded by the entire population, shelter being provided in Odd Fellows hall and in several churches. Private citizens also opened their houses and cared for people. The greatest of confusion prevailed for hours, but late in the evening some order was restored so that the work of relief became systematized.

In Odd Fellows' hall and the churches cot beds were placed and a supply of bed linen secured. Food also was taken to those places that no one might go to bed hungry. One of the especially touching incidents during the fire was the removal of a sick woman and her wee baby from her house on a stretcher by friends, followed by her husband and six other children. A few minutes later the fire had swept away all their earthly possessions.

When the fire started there was a great rush of people to the fire centre, few realizing that the sparks would be carried over the river. When a few houses began to blaze up people rushed to fight fire here, but soon it was necessary for all to look after their own property. Not a few persons who stopped to help others found a little later that their own homes and goods were ablaze.

Dogs, pigs and fowls ran through the streets bewildered by the smoke and flames, only to sooner or later die from the heat, the bodies being quickly incinerated as the fire swept onward.

The district on the west side of the Winnipesaukee swept by fire was entirely a residential one, and being on an elevation was a beautiful spot. The houses were not close together and around many of them the grounds were nicely laid out. What was once a picture is now a blackened waste. An estimate is that residential property destroyed was worth $150,000. This section on the west side of the river probably will not be rebuilt for a long time, if at all.

The loss on the Wood hosiery mill is placed at $85,000, which includes the stock and machinery, the building itself being owned by the Lake Winnipesaukee Cotton and Woolen company. The Boulia company loss is $30,000 and the Electric Lighting company loss $30,000. In the burnt district were also the Trinity Methodist church and the North Advent church, the former having a loss of $12,000 and the latter $3000. The fire begun at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and was not fully under control until after dark.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. This signature E. W. Grove on every box, 25c

YIELDS TO PRESIDENT

Hanna Withdraws Opposition to Endorsement

ROOSEVELT NOT FROM OHIO

And Therefore Has No Particular Claim Upon the State, Which, However, Has No Candidate—Opinion That Direct Issue Is Forced

Cleveland, May 27.—Senator Hanna has decided to offer no further opposition to a proposed resolution in the coming Republican state convention endorsing the candidacy of President Roosevelt for another term. Mr. Hanna made the following statement to The Associated Press representative:

"I am in receipt of a telegram from President Roosevelt which indicates to me his desire to have the endorsement of the Ohio Republican state convention of his administration and candidacy. In view of this I shall not oppose such action by the convention, and I have telegraphed the president to that effect."

It is the general belief, however, among those close to the senator, that he still doubts the advisability of the adoption of a resolution endorsing President Roosevelt's candidacy by this year's convention.

Senator Hanna declares that Ohio will have no Republican candidate for the presidency next year. "I see," said the senator, "that Senator Foraker says the propriety of endorsing Roosevelt at the coming state convention can't be questioned, and points to past instances of similar action in Ohio. He also calls attention to the action of New York, which endorsed Roosevelt. It is all right for New York to endorse Roosevelt, as he is from that state. We endorsed McKinley on the same ground, but it was a case of the favorite son. Roosevelt is not from Ohio and has no claim upon Ohio more than any other candidate. If Ohio had a candidate, the convention might with perfect propriety endorse him, but Ohio has no such candidate." When the senator was asked if Ohio might not have a candidate at the last moment, he said: "No, no; there is no such possibility. That is most ridiculous. I have heard no man but Roosevelt mentioned even as a possibility anywhere."

Opposition Will Be Uncovered

Washington, May 27.—News reaching Washington that President Roosevelt had given out a statement on the Ohio endorsement situation, which is regarded as a call on his friends in that state to vote for such a resolution, caused a political sensation. It is regarded here as making the issue direct between Roosevelt and Hanna. It will also have the effect, it is thought, of uncovering whatever opposition there may be to President Roosevelt's nomination. It was said by a prominent administration supporter that the monopoly interests in the country, which have been both secretly and openly opposed to Roosevelt's nomination, intended to make a stand in Ohio as a test case, using whatever assistance Hanna could give this movement.

An interesting incident in connection with the Ohio situation was the appearance in Washington of two prominent negro Republicans from the south, who in the past have been members of the national committee and who were responsible for the statement that a majority of the negroes of the south are opposing the president's nomination and favoring Hanna as a candidate.

Foraker's Comment

Washington, May 27.—When the dispatch announcing that Senator Hanna would not oppose an endorsement of President Roosevelt at the coming Ohio state convention was shown to Senator Foraker he dictated the following statement:

"I am very much gratified to learn that Senator Hanna has withdrawn his opposition to the endorsement of President Roosevelt's candidacy in 1904. Not on any personal grounds, for I have not at any time had any personal interest in the matter, but solely because I think endorsement good for Senator Hanna and the party as well as for President Roosevelt, who has well earned a second term by the splendid administration he has given us. The result will be a harmonious convention and an enthusiastic and unanimous endorsement for Senator Hanna for another term in the senate."

Insurance Rates Reduced

Boston, May 27.—The Boston board of fire underwriters announces that a 25 percent reduction in insurance rates will go into effect Aug. 1, granting outright a request to this effect made by the Merchants' association.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it." says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

RELIANCE AGAIN WINS

Constitution Made a Game Struggle and Columbia Is Outclassed

Glen Cove, L. I., May 27.—For the third time the swift Reliance has won over the Glen Cove course, but it was only after the Constitution had given her a game struggle. At the finish the new boat led the Constitution by 2 minutes and 51 seconds. The Columbia was miles away to the leeward and outclassed.

The manner in which the Constitution outsailed the old cup defender of two years ago was the surprise of the day, as was also her ability to keep close to the Reliance. During the first three legs of the course, which was sailed twice over, the Constitution lost 3 minutes and 8 seconds, while on the two legs the second time around the triangle she gained 1 minute and 49 seconds. On the last leg, however, which was a beat to windward, the Reliance gained more than a minute.

The day was a perfect one for the race, the wind blowing nearly 12 knots an hour, although it shifted back and forth. The official time:

	Start	Finish	Elapsed
Reliance	12:15:00	3:12:11	2:57:11
Constitution	12:15:30	3:15:02	2:59:32
Columbia	12:15:00	3:28:02	3:13:02

The Reliance beat the Constitution 2 minutes 51 seconds and Columbia 15 minutes 51 seconds.

A Noisy Demonstration

Wallace, Idaho, May 27.—When President Roosevelt's train pulled into Starbuck early in the morning the president and members of his party were awakened by the discharge of firearms, the blowing of horns and the shouting of people. The secret service officer on duty tried to stop the racket, but the people refused to be quiet, even going to the length of knocking on the windows of the cars. The demonstration was kept up until the train left. The president did not show himself.

Search For Mysterious Colony

Washington, May 27.—Manila newspapers contain an interesting account of an expedition that has gone into Mindoro, "ostensibly," one paper puts it, "to explore the country, but in reality to search for a white colony which it has long been claimed lives in the interior of the island." They are characterized further as a roving band. A previous expedition failed to penetrate the interior of Mindoro and was obliged to turn back.

Town Partly Under Water

Salina, Kas., May 27.—This city is the scene of the worst flood in its history. Fully 100 families have been driven from their homes and the extent of the damage is estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars. More rain fell last night, making four inches of rain within the last 24 hours. The northwestern portion of the city is entirely submerged, and women and children were rescued from their homes in boats.

Montreal Strikers Losing

Montreal, May 27.—Six months' imprisonment with hard labor was imposed upon Joseph Limoges, a striking conductor, for taking a sign board off a car and with it belaboring a policeman. Twenty-six other cases were before the court. Fines ranging from $3 to $15 were imposed upon 17. The other cases were remanded. The car service shows a great improvement and a complete service is expected by Saturday.

Liller's Mail Held Up

Washington, May 27.—Postmaster General Payne has signed an order forbidding the delivery of mail and the payment of money orders to "William C. Liller, adjutant general," of Lancaster, Pa. According to Payne Liller represents himself to be the adjutant general of the Spanish-American war veterans. The order is an echo of the factional controversy in the ranks of the Spanish war veterans.

Strike Will Involve 100,000

Philadelphia, May 27.—In all of the local textile mills notices have been posted by the manufacturers announcing their refusal to grant the demand of the workers for a 55-hour week. The employes fixed June 1 as the time limit for the concession and it is almost certain that a strike involving upwards of 100,000 men will be inaugurated next Monday.

To Entertain Veteran Firemen

Salem, Mass., May 27.—At a meeting of the Salem common council last night an opinion from the city solicitor stated that it would be legal for the council to appropriate $1000 for the Veteran Firemen's league muster to be held here, provided the money is expended under the supervision of the council committee. The amount was appropriated.

On the Diamond

At Boston—National—Pittsburg, 10; Boston, 4.
At Philadelphia—National—Cincinnati, 10; Philadelphia, 1.
At New York—National—New York, 4; Chicago, 3.
At Brooklyn—National—Brooklyn, 13; St. Louis, 6.
At Chicago—American—Chicago, 3; Boston, 2.
At Detroit—American—Detroit, 3; St. Louis, 0.
At Cleveland—American—Philadelphia, 8; Cleveland, 2.
At Fall River—Fall River, 3; Nashua, 1.
At Brockton—Lowell, 8; Brockton, 1.
At Lawrence—Concord, 7; Lawrence, 1.

THE FATAL FIFTH

Tables Turned at High-Adams Game at Park.

High Wins by Score of 21 to 14.

Every Member of the High Nine Hits Safely.

Adams Academy received a most signal defeat at the hands of the High school at Merrymount park Tuesday afternoon. The score was 21 to 14, and had not the Quincy players made several costly errors during the latter part of the game, the score of their opponents would have been much smaller.

It has been known for several days that the High school boys were going to put a more formidable team on the field against the Academy but the latter was sure of winning the game.

Hoxie, the star pitcher of the Adams team in the game some weeks ago, seemed no puzzle to his opponents, who hit him hard during nearly every inning. Rooney, the High school pitcher, played a steady game, and although he seemingly let up during the latter part of the game, he never lost his head.

A feature of the game was the fielding of Bennett of the High school. He started his phenomenal playing in the first inning, when he made a one-handed catch of a long hit from Weston's bat. He accepted his second chance after a long run back of short stop.

Adams got one run in the first and two more in the second inning. The High school team failed to score in either inning, but in the third, Joyce came to the bat and got an easy single. Williams followed with another of the same sort and O'Brien scored both on on a single to right field. Sanders duplicated O'Brien's hit and Bennet and Miller each got a single. This meant four runs for Quincy and the lead thus once obtained was not lost during the remainder of the game.

Adams failed to tally in the third, while their opponents added one more to their lead.

(Continued on Page 3.)

Increase For Heater Boys

Bath, Me., May 27.—The heater boys in the riveting department of the Bath iron works who have resumed work have been notified of a sliding wage schedule of $1.25 to $150 a day. The increase is 25 cents for most of them. The terms are satisfactory to all.

Six Deaths From Tornadoes

Des Moines, May 27.—Iowa has been storm-swept for the past 24 hours. Three tornadoes resulted in the loss of six lives, the fatal injury of three persons and the serious injury to a score of people, beside great property loss.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Thursday, May 28.
Sun rises—4:13; sets—7:10.
Moon sets—8:57 p. m.
High water—12 m.; 12:30 p. m.

The eastern area of high pressure stretches from the Canadian maritime provinces southward to Georgia. It will be fair and warmer in New England.

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....

PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.
THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.
Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	58	79	83	72	67
Monday,	64	86	77	49	62
Tuesday,	69	90	80	59	68
Wednesday,	80	78	76	53	55
Thursday,	—	86	70	62	57
Friday,	—	85	65	58	76
Saturday,	—	70	60	49	82

New Advertisements Today.

A. Russell Jones—Electrician.
Wanted—Strong Boy.
Notice—Licensing of Plumbers.

Good Afternoon

Real estate on Hancock street and vicinity has received a rude shock since the Nancy Brackett sale for less than half the assessed value. Property holders have found that their estates are not worth big sums even if the Assessors say they are, and they recall the letter of Henry H. Faxon, "How I Got Rich." Fortunately for these estates, which the Assessors might have found more valuable (?) this year, the Assessors have not made their appraisals for this year, having been at work in Wards Two, Three and Four. There is no doubt but Hancock street values should be scaled down.

Lakeport, N. H., formerly a part of Laconia, is well known to many Quincy people. Some have lived there while others have found it a delightful place in summer. They regret to learn of the serious conflagration which swept the city on Tuesday, destroying so many houses and rendering so many homeless. It was a beautiful city and we hope it may rise Phoenix like.

Fire at New Downers.

There came near being a disastrous fire at New Downer Landing, North Weymouth at 11 o'clock this morning, and at one time it looked as though all of the buildings in the grove would be consumed.

The fire probably started from a bonfire which some of the workmen who were cleaning the grove had started. This communicated with the small cafe building in the rear of the grove which was entirely destroyed.

The large cafe building and the dance hall took fire in several places but prompt work on the part of the fire department saved them. When the fire was discovered the employes held it in check with an emergency hose until the fire department arrived. The loss will be several hundred dollars.

Fire at Brewers Corner.

The alarm from box 42 at 10.28 Tuesday night for a fire in the basement of a shoe store in the Adolph Sandberg block on the corner of Water and Granite streets. The fire was confined to the basement. Loss about $150.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus oftenbefore medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

NOTICE.

CITY OF QUINCY.

THE Board of Examiners for the Licensing of Plumbers will hold an examination at the office of the Board of Health, City Hall, on THURSDAY Evening, June 11, at 7 o'clock, sharp. Those who desire to take this examination should make application in writing to the Chairman of the Board of Health, on or before this date.

Please post in a conspicuous place in your store or shop.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM A. BRADFORD,
Secretary of the Board.

Quincy, May 26, 1903. 3t-27-3-10

SELAW----WALES

Quincy's Former Ice Cream Merchant Arrested,

Charged with Larceny of $350

Conducted Bogus Coal Office in Charlestown Last Winter.

The John H. Wales, alias William H. Jones, arrested at Charlestown on Monday for larceny, is said to be the former ice cream merchant of Quincy, who did business on Temple, Hancock and Washington streets.

At the time of his arrest he was canvassing Charlestown for the sale of "Selaw," a preparation to keep cream in good condition. It will be observed that "Selaw" is Wales spelled backward. The initials of William H. Jones are also the reverse of John H. Wales.

In January, last winter, when coal was $20 per ton William H. Jones opened an office at No. 54A Warren street, Charlestown, and advertised to sell coal at $10 per long ton. He required a $5 payment on each ton ordered, and it is said he did a rushing business for six days, when he locked his doors and departed. It is estimated that he scooped in from $2,000 to $5,000.

An indictment was secured against Jones but not until this month was a clue obtained. Jones wore a full beard in January, but his victims say that Wales is the man, although he now has a clean face.

Wales, alias Jones, was arraigned in court Tuesday and committed to Charles street jail in default of bail. He claims a residence at 202 Townsend street, Roxbury.

Reminiscences of Civil War.

The following comrades of Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R. have been assigned to attend the Memorial exercises in the public schools Friday:

High School, James F. Merrill, R. A. Seaver at 9 o'clock A. M.

Adams School, Abel Nutting, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

Coddington School, Charles H. Porter and Henry C. Hallowell, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

Cranch School, R. A. Seaver, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

Gridley Bryant School, Jonas Shackley, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

John Hancock School, Charles L. Orne at 2 o'clock P. M.

Lincoln School, Henry Chubbuck, at 2 o'clock P. M.

Massachusetts Fields School, A. H. Maxwell, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

Quincy School, Thomas Gurney and Paul W. Costain, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

Washington School, Thaddeus H. Newcomb and Nathan C. Pratt, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

Willard School, James F. Merrill and John Faircloth, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

Wollaston School, James W. Pierce and Asa A. Pope, at 2 o'clock P. M.

Hip Fractured.

Boston papers report that when about to step on an electric car at the corner of Washington and Lagrange streets in that city, Tuesday evening, about 7.30, Mrs. John Kapples, 75 years old, of 70 Williard street, West Quincy, was knocked down, accidentally, by a man who was alighting from the car. The man didn't seem to notice that anything had happened on account of his carelessness and walked away. Mrs. Kapples was taken in a police ambulance to the Relief hospital. Where it was found that her hip had been fractured.

Mrs. Kapples is the mother of ex-Councilman John C. Kapples, of the Merrymount Granite Company.

Why She Stood.

"Madam," said the conductor to the plain and somewhat elderly woman standing up in the street car, "why don't you ask one of these men to give you a seat?"

"Because," she answered, grimly sarcastic, "I haven't the face to do it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Costly to Admire.

"Why is it that wealthy people become so cold and cynical?"

"They don't necessarily," answered Mr. Cumrox. "They have their enthusiasms. The trouble is that a rich man can't admire anything without being solicited to buy it."—Washington Star.

Postprandial Effulgence.

"He's quite a star as an after dinner speaker, isn't he?"

"Star? He's a regular moon. He becomes brighter the fuller he gets."—Philadelphia Press.

AT THE WOODWARD.

Annual Election of Teachers—Improvements to be Made.

The regular meeting of the board of directors of the Woodward Institute was held Tuesday afternoon.

It was voted to equip the building with an automatic program clock. This system consists of a master clock which operates dials in all of the rooms thus maintaining the same time in every room. It also automatically sounds the period bells in each of the rooms.

It was also voted to erect a flag staff in the yard.

Frank E. Parlin was re-elected as superintendent for another year.

The following teachers were elected:

Frederick W. Plummer, Principal, Latin and History.

Charlotte J. Burgess, Stenography and Typewriting.

Nellie H. Swift, Natural Sciences.

Mary L. Westgate, Greek and Mathematics.

Adella W. Bates, German and Latin.

Gertrude C. Schmidt, French and History.

Catherine M. Tinker, English.

Mary C. Fish, Physical Training.

Georgiana C. Lane, Art.

John D. Buckingham, Vocal Music.

New Pine Tree Club.

A movement is on foot in the city for the formation of a club composed of sons and daughters of the state of Maine. Last week a meeting of those interested in the matter, was held and a temporary organization was formed, John F. Merrill being elected chairman and S. D. Thompson, secretary. Plans were made for a meeting in Grand Army hall next Monday evening, June 1, at 8 o'clock, when all now residing in Quincy and natives of the Pine Tree state, are invited to attend and participate in a permanent organization. Any who may be interested but unable to attend next Monday evening, can show their interest by addressing the secretary.

Wants Her $10.

Samuel B. Cornwell of Brockton was in court this morning upon complaint of Martha Lovering of Holbrook for pretending to be a doctor.

Mrs. Lovering's story was that Cornwell called upon her frequently last fall and sold her stove polish. One day when he called she was not feeling well and he told her she had kidney and liver trouble which she said was true. He then told her he could help her and sold her several bottles of medicine. He did not charge her anything for the first bottle but as the medicine helped her she later paid him $7.00.

One day when he called she loaned him $10. Then he disappeared. In her direct examination she said he never claimed to be a doctor. Later when cross-examined by defendants counsel she said she supposed that she was bringing a civil suit for her $10 and not a criminal charge. She also admitted that what she wanted was he $10. The court found Cornwell not guilty and ordered his discharge.

Dancing.

May 30th afternoon and evening, in the Pavilion, at Fensmere Beach, Houghs Neck, beginning at 2 o'clock, dancing will be under the management of Prof. and Mrs. Gibson as usual. The reputation of Prof. Gibson, as an instructor, and manager is so well established, that extended comment is unnecessary. 4t--23-25-27-29

Thrown From Car.

Mrs. Sarah J. Woodbury of East Howard street had her hip broken at Quincy Point Tuesday evening. Mrs. Woodbury was alighting from an electric car when it is alleged that the car started and threw her off.

GRIP CONVALESCENCE

There's nothing better than Scott's Emulsion after the grip. When the fever is gone the body is left weak and exhausted; the nervous system is completely run down and vitality is low.

Two things to do: give strength to the whole body and new force to the nerves. Scott's Emulsion will do it; contains just what the worn-out system needs.

Rich blood, healthy flesh, resistive force, more and better nourishment are what Scott's Emulsion supplies to the convalescent.

Scott's Emulsion is the original and has been the standard emulsion of cod liver oil for nearly thirty years. Why buy the new, untried, cheap emulsions or so called wines, cordials and extracts of cod liver oil, when you can buy what is sure to help you?

We'll send you a sample free upon request.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

QUINCY SCHOOLS.

Teachers Elected by School Committee.

Leave of Absence for Mr. Finch.

Grammar Graduation Exercises to be Held June 20.

The regular meeting of the School Committee was held Tuesday evening. Those present were Messrs Porter, Hallowell, Record and Smith.

GRADUATION.

It was voted that the graduation exercises of the Grammar schools be held Saturday, June 20, at 3 o'clock.

A RESIGNATION.

The resignation of Maurice B. Smith sub-master of the High school was accepted. Mr. Smith has accepted a position in the William Penn Charter school at Philadelphia at double his present salary.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Miss Clara E. Thompson of the High was granted a leave of absence for the last week of the present term.

Miss Beatrice H. Rothwell was granted a leave of absence for the last three weeks of the present term.

Charles E. Finch, master of the Massachusetts Fields and Wollaston schools, was granted a year's leave of absence in order to pursue a course of study which he has been desirous of doing for some time.

SUMMER KINDERGARTEN.

The Quincy Home Science Association was granted the use of a room in the Adams and John Hancock buildings for a summer kindergarten school and a room in the basement of the Cranch school for a manual training school.

TEACHERS ELECTED.

James D. Howlett was elected as sub-master of the High school. Mr. Howlett has been acting as principal of the Coburn Classical Institute at Waterville, Me.

Charles H. Taylor was elected as master of the Massachusetts Field and Wollaston schools. Mr. Tayor has had charge of a large district in Portsmouth, N. H.

Miss Agnes M. MacWilliams was elected a teacher of the Quincy school.

Miss Nina B. Gage was elected a teacher in the Washington school.

The following teachers were elected for one year:

High school,—James D. Howlett, Martha L Desmond, Eleanor W. Guild, Martha F. Sawyer, Katharine W. Hall, Samuel D. Thompson, Harry A. Blake.

Adams school,—Sarah A. Packard, Elsie E. Turner, Harriet T. Ross.

Coddington school,—Ruth A. Taylor, Freda Salfisiberg, Grace E. Patterson, R. Belle Forsaith.

Cranch school,—Cora M. Hutchinson, Mary A. Sayward, Annie S. Keenan, Grace E. Perry, Elizabeth H. Poland, Anna H. Cochrance.

Gridley Bryant school,—Elizabeth B. Thomas, Emily M. Rogers.

John Hancock school,—Winthrop N. Crocker as master, Mabel G. Drake, Josephine T. Collagan, Annie R. Black, Mary A. Thomas.

Lincoln school,—Winthrop N. Crooker as master, Caro B. Rhodes, Mary A. Days, Abbie A. Seyner, Frances J. Elcock, Kathryn G. Meaney, Elsie B. Martin, Nancy E. Woy.

Massachusetts Fields school,—Charles H. Taylor as substitute master, Caro E. Wyman, Zulma E. Lunt, S. Jean Smith, Grace M. Spinney, Florence G. Gammons, Olive V. Bicknell.

Quincy school,—Agnes M. MacWilliam, Amelia Knobel, E. Gertrude Ward, Grace Eaton, Christina McPherson, Delia E. Burke.

Washington school,—Mary Sampson, Nina B. Gage.

Willard school,—Edgar M Copeland as master, Madge D. Ballou, L. Jeanette Sanders. Ona I. Nolan, Annie Z. White, Alicia B. Elcock, Mary B. Keating.

Wollaston School—Charles H. Taylor as substitute master, Beatrice J. Smith, Marion E Hood, Irene H. Nichols.

Supervisor of Drawing,—Lillian M. Dearborn.

Supervisor of Music,—E. Landis Snyder.

ELECTED FOR TENURE.

High School—L. Frances Tucker.

Adams School—Annie W. Miller, Beatrice H. Rothwell.

Coddington School—Mary E. Costello.

John Hancock School—Helen F. Boyd.

Quincy School—Josephine L. Kelley.

FINANCES.

The financial exhibit to date was reported as follows:

	Appropriation	Expended	Balance
Salaries,	$84,418.00	$41,463.64	$42,954.36
Janitors,	7,035.00	2,916.20	4,118.80
Books, Supplies and Sundries,	8,737.00	3 357 45	5 379 55
Fuel,	7,500.00	3,306.82	4,193 18
Transportation,	1,060.00	523 00	477.00
Rents,	810.00	312.50	497.50
Ev'ng Schools,	1,500.00	438.58	1,061.42
Totals,	$111,000.00	$52,318.19	$58,681.81

—The Cape Ann granite works are advertised to be sold at receivers' sale.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Warmer today.

Will we get rain?

Mr. C. T. LaRue of Maryland is a Hotel Greenleaf.

The public bath house will be opened Saturday, May 30.

Geo. W. Jones' store is headquarters for the Q. Y. C. caps.

Mr. B. W. Moore from New York is a guest at The Greenleaf.

An examination for plumbers will be held at City Hall June 11.

A patent was issued to Henry A. Williams of this city on Tuesday.

Mrs. William T. Spargo is on a visit to her daughter at Stony Brook, Conn.

The joint committee on Public Buildings and Fire Departmedt will meet tonight.

The Quincy Eagle base ball team defeated the Water streets by a score of 29 to 9.

In the Highland league on Tuesday Milton High defeated West Roxbury High 4 to 2.

Mrs. Ella Lebigh from Portland, Oregon, is visiting Mrs. Abrams at Hotel Greenleaf.

The opening smoker of the Quincy Yacht club will be held at the clubhouse Thursday evening.

The torpedo boat destroyer MacDonough is having her final government endurance trial today.

The ladies of the West Quincy Methodist church are arranging for a salad supper and entertainment next week.

Mt. Wollaston lodge, I. O. O. F., will hold memorial services at the West Quincy Methodist church, Sunday, June 7.

The graduating class of the Washington school, accompanied by Mr. Pollard, visited points of interest in Boston on Monday.

The advance sale of tickets for Dr Long's lecture this evening has been nearly 350. An entertaining and instructive talk is promised.

A tournament in handicap singles will be held by the Quincy Tennis club on Memorial day beginning at 9.30 A. M. on the Whitney road grounds.

Nominations for Congress and the Governors Council will be made in convention this year as in the past, the direct nomination bill having been killed.

Representative Freeman voted in favor of the anti combination bill which passed the House on Tuesday by vote of 96 to 64. Representative Fallon was not recorded.

The closing reception by pupils of Elmer W. Baker was held at Faxon hall Tuesday evening. Wilson's orchestra furnished music, and dancing continued until 1 A. M.

The regular meeting of the Hospital Aid Association will be held Thursday, May 28th, at 2.30 P. M. in the chapel of the First church, city square. A full attendance is desired.

The many friends of Hon. William N. Eaton of Adams street, the ex-Commissioner of Public Works, regret to learn of his continued disability, which at present confines him to his bed.

The East Norfolk Christian Endeavor Union have arranged for a committee conference and social at the regular meeting on Monday Evening, June 1, in the Wollaston Congregational church. All Christian Endeavorers invited to attend.

"Honorable mention" is made of the very beautiful small flower garden in front of a home on Faxon avenue. The beauty here shows what time and taste can do. This would receive a first prize from some sources; and is made by Mrs. Murphy.

Peptiron Paints Pale Cheeks

Trade-Mark.

The Hue of Health.

A NEW IRON TONIC

Of unequalled medicinal value, feeding unstrung nerves, toning weak stomachs and digesting the increased food taken by the sharper appetite it creates.

Peptiron is made in two forms: In a liquid—an aromatic cordial elixir—at $1 per bottle, also in chocolate-coated pills at 50c. or $1 per box. By C. I. HOOD CO., proprietors Hood's Sarsaparilla. Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

Selling Agent in Quincy:
E. J. Murphy, 1657 Hancock St.

LEDGER ADS.

PAY BEST.

Over 50 years ago. Doctors took right hold of it. Keep their hold yet. The oldest, best Sarsaparilla—Ayer's. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

GRAND FAIR

IN AID OF THE

QUINCY HOSPITAL,

At the Residence of MISS BEALE Adams Street,

ON THURSDAY, JUNE 11th,

Afternoon and Eveuing, beginning at 2 o'clock

PROCEEDS TO BE DEVOTED TO THE NURSES' HOME.

Admission 50 cents. Children under 12 years, 25 cents

An invitation is extended to all who are interested in the welfare of the hospital and in providing a nurses' home.

May 22. 1tf--p-2w

STRAW HATS.

WE HAVE A FINE LINE OF THE LATEST STYLES.

OUR $1.00 to $3.00 HATS

ARE ALL OF THE POPULAR

LAMSON & HUBBARD MAKE

OUTING CAPS

In all Shapes and Colors,

25c., 50c., 75c., $1.00, $1 50

HEADQUARTERS FOR THE

QUINCY YACHT CLUB CAP.

GEORGE W. JONES,

Adams Building, - QUINCY.

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,

In a variety of Styles and Prices.

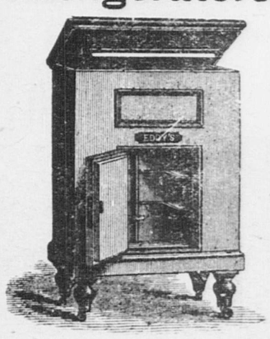

Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.

These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you

C. S. HUBBARD.

City Square, Quincy.

Eddy Refrigerators.

It is doubtful if any one ever heard of an Eddy Refrigerator during the 54 years they have been manufactured, that didn't give better service than ever was expected of it. Back of that name stands a guarantee of excellence and honest construction, unequalled by any other maker in the world. An Eddy Refrigerator will pay for itself in ice saved. Factory Prices, $6 50 to $25,00 A catalogue and price list for the asking.

HENRY L KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F. Crane's Store. Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. tf

Electric Call Bell

Wired Complete $2.50 Guaranteed One Year.

Repairing Guaranteed.

A. RUSSELL JONES,

1362 Hancock Street, Quincy.

May 27. 1po-tt

KING'S PARK HOUSE.

Board and Rooms.

345 Washington Street.

Quincy, May 19. 1m

FREDERICK H. LORD,

TEACHER OF BANJO,

Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.

TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITUERS.

118 Washington Street.

Quincy, May 7. tf

JOHN STREIFERD & SON, FLORISTS.

Telephone 13-7 Braintree.

Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.

Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

$3.50

For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . . At Co-operative Dining Rooms

3 Granite Street, Quincy,

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21--2m

TO LET

IN QUINCY, MASS.,

By H. H. FAXON.

HOUSES, STORES, HALL, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES,

Land, Wharves, etc.

Buildings are in Complete Repair

Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.

House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.

Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.

Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc., No. 92 School street, $12 per month.

Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.

Stable, junction School and Franklin streets, $4 per month.

Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.

Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.

Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.

For particulars apply to

HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, Mass.

Quincy, May 13, 1903. 1m

SMOKE THE

GOVERNESS.

UNION MADE.

Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers

Manufactured by

P. A. NELSON,

59 Granite Street.

Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

JOB PRINTING

AT THE

PATRIOT OFFICE

THE FATAL FIFTH.

Continued from page 1.

But it was in the fifth inning that Pitcher Hoxie met his Waterloo. He was pounded all over the field and when the dust had cleared away, nine hits had been made and these, aided by four errors, two stolen bases and a wild pitch added twelve runs to the High school score. It is interesting to note that ten of these runs were made after two men had retired.

The High school added one in the sixth and three in the seventh to its comfortable lead. Adams failed to score in the fourth, but luckily got three in the fifth, five more in the sixth and two in the seventh. Weston, by clever base running scored a run in the ninth inning.

It has been some years since the High school has been able to compete with Adams on an equal footing, but on this occasion the tables were decidedly turned. The High school pupils assembled at the game knew no bound for their enthusiasm, and cheering was in order throughout the afternoon.

The summary of the game follows:

QUINCY HIGH

	A.B.	R.	B.H.	P.O.	A.	E.
Saunders, ss.,	6	4		1	3
Bennett, c.f.,	6	1	4	5	0	0
Miller, 1b.,	6	2	3	9	0	2
Shortle, l.f.,	6	3	2	2	0	0
Fenno, c.f.,	5	1	1	5	1
Rooney, p.	6	3	3	0	1	0
Joyce, 2b.,	5	2	2	3	2	0
Williams, 3b.	6	3	1	2	2	1
O'Brien, r.f.,	5	2	3	0	0	0
Totals,	51	21	22	27	9	8

ADAMS ACADEMY.

	AB.	R.	BH.	PO.	A.	E.
Weston, 3b.,	6	5	0	0	0	0
Moyle, ss,	4	4	3	2	4	1
Moir, 2b,	6	2	3	4	1	1
Berry, 2b.,	4	1	0	1	0	1
Reardon, c.,	5	0	1	5	2	2
Elcock, 1b,	5	1	1	10	0	0
Galvin, l.f.,	4	0	1	4	0	3
Hoxie, p.,	4	0	0	7	1	1
Penley, c.f.,	5	1	0	0	0	0
Totals,	43	14	13	*26	15	9

* Bennett out, hit by batted ball.

Innings,	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Quincy,	0	0	4	1	12	1	3	0	0	0—21
Adams,	1	2	0	0	3	5	2	0	1	—14

Two-base hits—Sanders. Three-base hits—Sanders, O'Brien Weston. Double plays—Joyce to Miller. Stolen bases—Quincy 4, Adams 7. Passed balls—by Fenno 3. Wild pitches—by Rooney, Hoxie. Hit by pitched ball—Fenno. Struck out—by Rooney 2, by Hovie 4. Base on balls by Rooney 4, by Hoxie 1. Umpire—Flynn. Time—2 hours and 15 minutes. Attendance 1000.

Convicted of Killing Son

Bridgeport, Conn., May 27.—The jury in the case of Patrick Gorman, charged with the murder of his son John, brought in a verdict of murder in the second degree last night. Judge Wheeler immediately sentenced the prisoner to the state prison for life. The old man showed no emotion when the verdict was announced. The murder was committed on the night of Jan. 23.

Kiley Not Involved In Frauds

Boston, May 27.—The report of the election laws committee on the evidence presented before it some weeks ago to the effect that election frauds prevailed to an alarming extent at the past state election, involving the name of Representative Daniel J. Kiley, exonerates Kiley and recommends that the exoneration be spread upon the records of the house of representatives.

Confessed to Shooting Mother

Oakland, Me., May 27.—Everett Bickford, Jr., aged 10, who shot his mother through the back, pleaded guilty when arraigned before Justice Bryant and was bound over to the September term of the supreme court in the sum of $2000. He was taken to the county jail at Augusta. Young Bickford confessed the shooting. The result of Mrs. Bickford's wound is uncertain.

Hold Peremanic Tendencies

North Berwick, Me., May 27.—William Day, aged 22, has been adjudged insane and last night was sent to the state insane asylum. Recent fires in valuable timber have caused losses aggregating $30,000. These fires were thought to have been set and suspicion was directed towards Day. He was followed to the woods and his actions caused his arrest.

Fined for Reckless Speeding

Newton, Mass., May 27.—Winfield Smith, S. H. Thurber, Frank Townsend and Joseph Hockbridge, who were among the 17 automobilists arrested on a boulevard here for reckless speeding of their machines, were fined $10 each. Another batch of speeders will be arraigned later.

Spring Wheat,

from which Pillsbury's Best Flour is made—grown in the Red River Valley of the North, Minnesota, North and South Dakota—is best in the world for flour.

Cleveland's BAKING POWDER

All the Leading Teachers of Cookery use it. Why?

Does better work and goes further than any other.

MARION HARLAND, author Common Sense in the Household.

CROP FAILURE FEARED

Previous Droughty Conditions In New England Greatly Intensified

Boston, May 27.—Farmers are fearing a crop failure in New England this year, owing to the lack of rain. Reports have come from all sections of the district in the last few days, and they are summarized as follows, in the climatic and crop bulletin issued by J. W. Smith, director of the New England section of the weather bureau, United States department of agriculture.

The droughty conditions that have prevailed throughout New England for the past few weeks have been greatly intensified by the weather conditions of the week just past. An abundance of moderately high, exceptionally drying winds, abnormally high temperatures, and an almost total absence of precipitation have brought things to a pass that seldom exists at this season of the year. There is universal complaint from all sections of the district and the prophecies of the farmers are most pessimistic.

Remarkable Family Records

Northampton, Mass., May 27.—Mrs. Margaret Marier of this city, aged 101 years, is dead, after an illness of three weeks, of old age. She was married at the age of 19 to Joseph Marier, who was at that time about 50 years old. They came to Northampton in 1867 and 32 years ago her husband died, aged 102. His father also lived to a great age, dying when 101. Mrs. Marier had been the mother of 12 children. There are 72 direct descendants of Mrs. Marier living. Both of Mrs. Marier's parents lived to be nearly 100 years old.

Railroad Must Pay Heavy Damages

Brockton, Mass., May 27.—In the case of Frank A. Cashin of Springfield against the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, claiming $75,000 damages for injuries received in the Avon accident Sept. 18, 1901, the jury awarded plaintiff $39,045. The evidence for the plaintiff was to the effect that he had been in perfect health previous to the accident; that he was 28 years of age and employed as a traveling salesman, earning $2500 a year.

Frosts as Well as Drouth

Chester, Vt., May 27.—For the past three mornings heavy frosts have occurred here and everything in the early vegetable line that has appeared above ground has been killed. The young fruit trees and shrubbery have suffered greatly. The ground has not been so dry in many years at this season as it is now and unless rain comes soon the hay crop will be ruined. The streams are drying up fast, and the springs and wells are low.

Insurance Company Winds Up

Boston, May 27.—The North American Insurance company, organized immediately after the big fire of 1872, by a vote of 1627 in favor and no dissenting voices, has decided to go out of business. This vote was taken after the stockholders had decided to refuse to pay an assessment called for by the insurance commissioner. The officers were instructed to wind up the affairs of the company and distribute the assets.

Arbitration Favors Laborers

Boston, May 27.—Judge Ely of the municipal court, as the arbitrator agreed upon by the joint committee of the master builders and the Building Laborers' unions district council, has decided in favor of the original demand of the men for an increase of 2 cents an hour in wages, and on and after July 1 the latter will be paid 29 cents an hour. The new wage scale will affect 2000 laborers.

Large Nickel Steel Ingot.

One of the first shipments expected to arrive at the Fore River shipyard over the new Fore River branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. from Braintree, which will be opened for service in a few days, will be the largest nickel steel ingot ever shipped from the Carbon Steel Company of Pittsburgh. This huge cylinder of metal weighs 110,000 pounds, or 55 tons, and is to be welded into the crank-shaft for the battleship Rhode Island. It was shipped, however, on a car whose capacity is estimated at 100,000 pounds, or 10,000 pounds less than the weight of the ingot. This will be one of the largest pieces of steel ever forged in the Fore River yard, ingots of 30 to 40 tons weight having been handled previously.

BORN.

PRATT—In South Quincy, May 24, a daughter to Mr. Burleigh E. and Mrs. Jennie (Bishop) Pratt, of Federal avenue.

MARRIED.

BENN—STEWART—In Boston, May 25, by Rev. E. A. Blake, Mr. Edward H. Benn of Quincy to Miss Jessie M. Stewart of Boston.

A PRECOCIOUS BOY.

The Essay on Man That Was Written by a Child of Eight Years.

I remember, writes a correspondent of a London paper, hearing Lord Dufferin tell the following story of the late Sheridan Le Fanu: Sheridan's father—the archbishop of Meath, I think—was a great stickler for punctuality, a regard his son did not share. One morning young Sheridan, then about eight years old, descended unusually late for breakfast and was met at the door by his father, watch in hand. "Is this right, sir; is this right?" demanded the prelate in stern tones. "I don't know, sir," replied Sheridan, looking at the watch and pretending to think the question applied to it and not to his conduct, "but I rather think it's fast."

For this impertinence young Sheridan was condemned to write an essay on "The Three Ages of Man." Here is what he wrote:

"There are three ages of man.

"First.—When he is engaged in planning every conceivable mode of wickedness. This is known as the age of innocence.

"Second.—When he is putting his nefarious plans into operation. This is called the prime of manhood.

"Third.—When he becomes anxious about his soul and turns to religion. This is dotage."

And this from a child of eight!

The Power of Thought.

Beware of what you think, for what you think quite as much as what you do molds your character. Wrong acts persisted in will wreck any life, but wrong thoughts have just as sure an effect. It not infrequently happens that people who live fairly good lives, so far as their actions go, do not feel it necessary to set so close a guard on their thoughts. These are hidden, and of what harm is it to occasionally cherish a vulgar thought if one does not allow it to escape in action? Of what harm to hate if one does not show it? To imagine oneself committing wrong acts if one does not actually commit them? But the laws of life say that every thought affects the whole being. As a man's heart is, so will he be. Evil thoughts gradually undermine the character, and some day these thoughts will burst into action which is irremediable.—Woman's Home Companion.

The Body and Soul.

It is an ever increasing pity that the average doctor who tries to heal the body cares nothing for the soul. On the other hand, the parson who tries to heal the soul cares nothing for the body. The body and soul cannot be separated in such a manner. The diseases that afflict the body also affect the soul, and vice versa. No one who is ignorant of the laws that govern either the soul or the body is fit to attempt to heal the diseases of either the one or the other.

A bad man may preach a good sermon. A bad man may prescribe a good medicine. But both the sermon and the medicine would have had a greatly increased efficacy had they been delivered by a good man.—Medical Talk.

TODAY'S COURT.

Archibald McDougal and James Morrison were fined $3 each for drunkenness at Quincy.

Matthew Marrow was fined $50 for the illegal sale of liquor at Weymouth.

James Dean was sent to the State farm for drunkenness at Randolph.

IT SAVES YOU MONEY.

Dr. Howard's Dyspepsia Specific; Regular price 50c. Chas. C. Hearn's Price 25c.

The special half price sale of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by Chas. C. Hearn means the saving of a few dollars on every family's yearly bill for medicines.

Each 50 cent bottle (Mr. Chas C. Hearn sells it for 25c.) contains sixty doses of a medicine that is pleasant to take and which can be depended upon to cure the worst case of constipation, dyspepsia or liver trouble. Mr. Chas. C. Hearn has so much faith in the superior merit of this medicine that he says: "If Dr. Howard's specific does not cure you, come back to my store and I will return your money."

If you are troubled with constipation, headache or dizziness, or if your food does not digest naturally and easily, you cannot afford to let pass the special price that Mr. Hearn is making this week on Dr. Howard's specific.

This remedy is not an ordinary medicine. It is the favorite formula of a well known physician, and has the endorsement of hundreds of physicians of eminence in their profession, who prescribe it in all cases of constipation, dyspepsia or liver trouble, knowing from experience that it will make a complete and lasting cure.

Mr. Hearn is giving his customers a chance to try Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at just half the regular price, 25c. And every package is sold under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it is not satisfactory.

23-27-30 3

FOR A LIVING HERO

By COLIN S. COLINS

[Copyright, 1902, by the S. S. McClure Company.]

FROM Main street came the strain of martial music. Four-year-old Nellie Bromley clapped her hands and demanded that she be taken to see the Memorial day parade, but her mother only caught the tiny form to her heart, and tears glistened on the golden head like diamonds in some fairy coronet. Every shrill note of the fife, every drumbeat, was a stab.

Was it only a year ago that she had been persuaded by all her townspeople to ride in the procession? The orator of the day had feelingly spoken of her as "this young widow who gave her best to her country and who shall ever be our care." It had been a terrible ordeal to the delicate, shrinking woman. This—this loneliness and oblivion were the easier to bear. And yet it was hard to have them forget him so soon.

"FOR JACK'S SAKE."

Jack Bromley had been among the unidentified dead at San Juan. There would be no wreath on his unknown grave today.

Yet he had been Silverton's only hero of the Spanish war. The town had no militia, but when Jack went to Carson and joined a regiment there it was not slow in taking due credit to itself. Only Judge Bromley was missing from the crowd that saw him off at the station. He had not spoken to his son since the day he cursed and disinherited him—the day he married Alice Chase. He could say nothing against sweet Alice, but she was the daughter of Hanson Chase, his enemy, whom even in death the judge still hated.

When the sad news reached Silverton, he gave no sign of grief. He made no offer of help to the widow and intimated grimly that a government pension would make a very good life insurance. She, poor girl, said proudly that she would never ask for government relief. She had sent her husband forth with a brave smile. Now, when they told her that he would never come back, she bowed her head in submission. His sacrifice and hers had been accepted. She would fight as bravely here at home as he on the distant battlefield. Only to him had come rest, while to her—O God, the days of heartache and the nights of weeping! But no shadow must fall on Nellie's golden head. The little mouth must be fed, so she began to do water color work for a city store.

At first the work had not seemed hard, for she was surrounded by an atmosphere of love and sympathy. Every one wanted to help "our hero's" wife. Charity lost its sting when cloaked under the tender ministrations of neighborly affection.

But before this second memorial day came they had forgotten her. Hero worship had lost its novelty. Then Willie Langtry, who had volunteered for the Philippines, had been brought home to sleep among his own people. Here was an actual shrine for devotion.

Those who gave a thought to Edith idly argued that Judge Bromley was more than able to support his son's wife and daughter. If she did not ask him, it was no affair of theirs.

She did not ask either from him or any man. Pride had prompted her independent words in the first days of her bereavement, and now, when she found the struggle almost beyond her strength, pride closed her lips. So she worked silently at the decorative work furnished her by the father of an old school friend. The house was Jack's, and this insured her a home. Her work paid for the rest. Only Ford, the giver, knew how pitifully small the rest was, and Ford—well, there was only one man Ford told.

The music grew fainter as the procession moved on to the cemetery. Finally it died away. The tears, too, had ceased to fall as mother love brought comfort to the wounded heart. What if the world had forgotten? She had Nellie left—Nellie with her father's bonny blue eyes and crisp curls.

Suddenly she started up in surprise. The Bromley farm wagon stood at the gate, and the judge himself was hitching the horse. What could it mean?

"Kind er surprised to see me, ain't you?" he asked. "Well, them fools is taking things out to the cemetery, and—and I kind er thought 'twas time I was doing some decorating myself. Ford told me the other day how hard you had to hustle, and it struck me it would do a heap more good to decorate your pantry a bit than to put flowers on dead men's graves. Them folks is so took up with dead heroes they kind er seem to have forgotten the living ones."

"What do you mean?" she said.

"It means just this," he answered stoutly: "Your pa and me weren't friends, and I took it hard that John should have married you. But you've made a good fight since, and I'm proud of your pluck. If you'll forgive an old man, why—why"— His voice was choked, but his open arms were more eloquent than words.

She paused irresolutely, but only for a moment. Then she stepped forward quietly, and his arms closed around her. As his bearded cheek rested against hers he caught the whisper, "For Jack's sake," and knew that through the dead the living had been united.

When the supplies were put away, the two sat in the little parlor. As his big, brown hand closed over hers he told her how his heart had yearned to share his grief with her, but how pride had held him back till Ford's tale of her privations had conquered his stubbornness. Hot tears rolled down his cheeks, and it was the girl's tender voice that comforted.

Again the music sounded—the parade was coming back—and the whistle of the afternoon train added its shrill notes to the familiar air of "Marching Through Georgia." But the two on the big sofa had ears only for a lost voice.

Little Nellie, playing happily on the porch, heard the music stop short and a burst of cheering go up. Then the band struck up again, but it could not drown the cheers. Then down the street they came—the Horricon hose, the Rescue hook and ladder, the Grand Army veterans and the Masons. Nellie came flying into the parlor, with cries of "Come! Come!" and the two reluctantly stepped out on the porch. With her hand on the judge's arm Edith looked bravely up the street. Then she swayed and would have fallen if he had not supported her. A wild cry burst from her lips. On the shoulders of four men was a strangely familiar figure, and with a blare of brass never before equaled the Silverton Cornet band played "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

Edith straightened up and stood there transfigured waiting till they would give him to her arms. The old man at her side cried, "My boy!" Then low to himself, "I am glad I came before he did, for now I have a new daughter as well as a son."

IN BLUE AND IN GRAY.

A New England Veteran Who Is a Member of a Confederate Camp.

It is a strange anomaly that one man should belong both to the Grand Army of the Republic and the organization of Confederate Veterans. James Anderson of Springfield, Mass., is, however, a member of both bodies. On Memorial day he appears in the blue uniform of the Union army, and he is the possessor also of a suit of Confederate gray. But Mr. Anderson did not fight on both sides during the civil war. He was with the forces of the north, a member of the Thirty-first Maine volunteers. His membership in the organization of Confederate Veterans came about in another way. About four years ago the Union veteran was in Petersburg, Va., visiting the old battle ground. He was invited to a meeting of Confederate Veterans and responded to an invitation to make a speech. So highly did he praise the bravery of the soldiers of the south during the Petersburg siege that he quite won the hearts of the old Confederates seated about him. The feeling of friendship resulted in an invitation to the members of the Confederate camp to visit the G. A. R. post to which Mr. Anderson belonged in Springfield, Mass. The southern veterans went to Springfield in a body, and soon afterward unanimously made Mr. Anderson a contributing member of their camp. And this incident is a striking illustration of the union of the north and south.

Grant Threw Away His Cigar.

There used to be a rule late in the war against smoking at the war department. All visitors there were required not to smoke within the old building. A story used to be told by Lieutenant James Hutchinson, formerly of the Thirteenth New York volunteers, that Grant, when a lieutenant general, approached the building, a cigar in his mouth. A veteran of the reserve corps, which Hutchinson commanded, was on guard. Hutchinson was officer of the day. "You can't go in and keep your cigar," said the soldier on guard to the general, and he quietly threw the cigar away. General Halleck, after Grant departed, issued an order that officers should be allowed to smoke within the building, but it is said this never was suggested by General Grant.—Washington Post.

In Battle With the Merrimac.

Soldiers of the Twentieth Indiana infantry were once a thorn in the flesh of the Confederates on the Merrimac. They passed a winter at Fort Monroe. They also encamped at Newport News, where they were at the time the Merrimac fought the Congress. The Confederates wanted to take possession of the Congress, but the Hoosiers deployed on the beach in face of a hostile fire and prevented the enemy from gaining the prize. In May of 1862 they went over to Norfolk.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS.

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day,	25 cents
" " three days,	50 cents
" " one week,	75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

LOST.

LOST—Between Quincy Centre and Weymouth by way of electric cars, a lady's gold watch with "Nettie" inscribed on the case. Finder will please return to Quincy Savings Bank.

Quincy, May 25. 3t

LOST—On Sunday a silver watch with gold bracelet attached, between Baxter street and Mount Wollaston cemetery. Finder will please return to 80 Washington street.

Quincy, May 25. 3t

LOST—Angora Cat, female, white and maltese, with small black mark under the chin. Any information will be thankfully received. H. H. HILL, the Weeks Hill Pharmacy.

Quincy, May 25. tf

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve (12) rooms, with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. May 26-1m

FOR SALE—Two acres of land and house, within 5 minutes' walk of central railroad station. Taxed for $2,200. Will sell for $1,800 if taken within 10 days. Address FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street, Quincy, Mass. May 21. tf

FOR SALE—A Large Size Emerson Piano for $150.00. Six years old. Address H. L. D., Ledger office, Quincy, Mass. May 21. tf

FOR SALE, Cheap—Two Desirable House Lots on Mechanic street. Apply at once. Address E., Ledger office. April 28. tt

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

WANTED.

WANTED—Strong Boy to care for horses, wagons, etc.

Apply, W. G. Shaw,
GUY'S COLISEUM.

Quincy, May 26. 3t

WANTED—Two Farm Hands at National Sailors' Home, Wollaston. Must know how to milk and to handle horses and farm tools. Apply at the Home.

May 23. 3t--23-25-27-29

WANTED—Money on first mortgages. Address Box 185 Quincy Post Office. April 16. eod tf

WANTED—Young man as assistant bookkeeper and stenographer. A portion of time to be devoted to collecting. A permanent position, with advancement in view for a trustworthy young man. Address, stating age and salary willing to start on, K, Ledger office. Quincy, May 25. tf

WANTED—A few persons desiring good board and room. Apply at 4 Johnson avenue, opposite Adams Academy; five minutes from Quincy depot, one minute from electrics.

Quincy, May 25. 6t

MEN, not under 25 years, to call on old and new customers. No delivering. Position permanent to the right party. Pay weekly. GLEN BROTHERS, Rochester, N. Y. April 23. 6w--thurs. sat. tues.

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London and Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON. Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

TO LET.

TO LET—A House of eight rooms and bath, opposite Adams Academy, Johnson avenue; 16 Faxon avenue, House of 9 rooms and bath. All improvements. Two minutes from R. R. Station. Also plastered Shore Cottage of 10 rooms and bath, hot and cold water, Great Hill, Quincy. FANNIE M. TAYLOR, 176 Federal street, Boston, Mass. May 25. 6t

FOR RENT—By a young married couple without children, furnished house this summer. Best of references. Parties going to the beach will find this a good opportunity to leave their home in responsible care. Address, H. H., Ledger office. Quincy, May 19-tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet. 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1267 Hancock street. Quincy, April 21. tf

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street. Quincy, April 9. lp-tf

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

NEW STORES TO LET.

A BUILDING will be erected at once by N.G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information enquire of N. G. NICKERSON. Quincy, May 12-tf

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat.

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.

Quincy, May 9. 1m

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

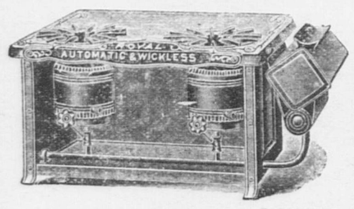

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS,

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.

April 30. 1m

It's Fun To Cook on a Blue Flame Oil Stove.

And the fun grows more intense after you have used one of these famous stoves for over a month, and figure that it has cost you almost nothing to run. No over heated, kitchen, no coal, no wood, no dust, no ashes, a fire piping hot in a twinkling, ready to roast or to bake.

You are losing much of the pleasure of living today without one of our Blue Flame Stoves. We guarantee them to give perfect satisfaction or refund the money. Our Prices, $3.98 to $10.00. (Gasolene Stoves also for folks who wish.)

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

ORDER NOW FOR

DECORATION DAY

--YOUR--

Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES,

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works,

Telephone 64-5 Quincy P. GREEN, Proprietor.

TO OPEN THEIR GATES

Agents Will Attempt to Operate Lowell Cotton Mills

MEN INVITED TO RETURN

On Schedule That Existed Before the Shutdown—Many Think Trouble Will Soon End, but Union Officials Say Managers Will Be Disappointed

Lowell, May 27.—The Lowell cotton mills will reopen next Monday. The treasurers of the several corporations held a meeting in Boston and approved the action of the mill agents in deciding upon this date. It is now nearly three months since the mills closed, and so many of the strikers have indicated to the mill management a desire to return to work that the agents agreed among themselves that they will give them an opportunity on June 1 to return. The plan is officially announced here.

Union officials in Lowell are noncommittal regarding this move, except to say that they expect the mill agents will be more disappointed than the strike leaders next Monday; the inference to be drawn from this being that so few of the skilled operatives, like the mule spinners, loom fixers, beamers and slasher tenders, will report for duty as to make it extremely difficult for the mills to remain in operation. The action of the mill treasurers in Boston was reported immediately upon the adjournment to Secretary Southworth of the Lowell Cotton Manufacturers' association, and he made the formal announcement.

In this proposition to resume operation there is no promise of higher wages. The strikers will be invited to return on the schedule that existed before the strike, with an assurance of no discrimination against them in consequence of the strike. It is expected that the operatives will be given their former positions in the mills as far as possible, though in many instances it may become necessary to reorganize the various crews so as to have some operatives in each department; for the agents themselves do not expect to find a very large representation of skilled help in the departments strongly unionized.

Many of those who left Lowell when the trouble began are expected to return, some of them having stated that their departure was only temporary. At one of the boarding houses it was stated that of the 125 who boarded there while the mills were running nearly 100 went away when the gates shut down, but informed the boarding house management that they intended to return as soon as the mills opened.

It is believed that should the mills find it impossible to get their skilled help back, they will shut down again for several months. There are those, however, who think that the strike will be ended in a short time, although the union officials deny that such will be the case. The news that the mills would attempt to run was particularly welcome to business men, as the strike has been on eight weeks last Saturday, and trade was beginning to be seriously affected.

Overseers and second hands are calling their help back from other cities. At a meeting of the Greek operatives last night it was voted to return to work.

The mills are being put in shape for the resumption of work. All departments will probably not be ready to start on Monday, but there will be work enough for all who return.

Little Canada operatives generally welcome a chance to return to work.

☞Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

DEPUTY SHERIFF ARRESTED

His Actions Deemed Conducive to Inciting Crowd to Riot

Derby, Conn., May 27.—A slight demonstration last night by a crowd of about 100 persons when the last car from Bridgeport arrived, manned by non-union men and guarded by two deputy sheriffs, resulted in the arrest of Deputy Sheriff Callahan of Bridgeport on a charge alleging an "attempt to incite riot."

When the car arrived here the men on board were greeted with derisive yells and Callahan stepped off the car and walked into the crowd in an endeavor to locate the persons causing the disturbance. He was unable to do so and when he returned to the car the howling was again commenced with renewed vigor. Callahan again left the car and walked toward the crowd. According to the police the deputy had both hands thrust into his coat pockets in a suggestive manner and as he approached the crowd he called out: "Now let me hear you holler; whoever is looking for trouble can get it right here."

Callahan once more attempted to go through the crowd and his action so angered the people that Policeman Pierce placed him under arrest. The chief of police consulted Mayor Sullivan in regard to the matter and it was finally decided to charge the deputy sheriff with attempting "to incite riot."

Judge Clark held a special session of the town court and after hearing the facts in the case released Callahan on bonds of $50. When the deputy sheriff was searched two revolvers were found in his coat pockets.

Municipality For 250 Years

New York, May 27.—New York officially commemorated the 250th anniversary of the establishment of municipal government in New Amsterdam, afterwards called New York. The whole city was gay with bunting. The city hall, where the main exercises were held, and city hall park were the centre of attraction, the decorations there being especially elaborate. In the public schools in the five boroughs 500,000 children took part in special patriotic exercises.

Donovan Outwalked Five Men

Salem, Mass., May 27.—Michael Donovan of Glens Falls, N. Y., last night walked against five other pedestrians in relays, a distance of 10 miles, defeating them by covering the distance in 1:25:30. The five men against whom Donovan walked, and who covered two miles each, were Roberts, Barnum, McDermott and Kiernan, all of Salem, and William Moore, who claims to be the long distance walking champion of New England.

Worrying Over Original Packages

Boston, May 27.—Governor Bates has asked Attorney General Parker for an opinion on the right of importers of liquor to sell original packages in this state. A delegation of ministers visited the governor to present the matter now agitating no license communities and to request that the executive take notice of the situation.

Glenn Sued by Filipino

Manila, May 27.—Gabriel Galza, a native living in the island of Leyte, has sued Major Glenn for 15,000 pesos damages on the ground of alleged false imprisonment. Galza was suspected of aiding the Samar insurgents. He was arrested by Major Glenn's orders and was confined in Samar. Ultimately Galza was released.

Forceful Expulsion of Jews

St. Petersburg, May 27.—The chief of police of Kieff has ordered the police commissaries within his jurisdiction to institute a fresh inquiry into the legal status of the Jews and to forcefully expel those who have no legal right of residence and who refuse to leave.

Wachter Wants to Be Mayor

Baltimore, May 27.—Formal notice of Frank C. Wachter's intention to contest the recent election for mayor has been sent to Mayor McLane.

—We take life and ourselves too seriously, and by so doing miss much of the joy of living. Take a bath of joy in the morning and a spoonful every hour of the day.

To Aid Nature

This health giver is most speedy in action and satisfactory in results. There will be no bilious attacks or sick-headaches if you take

Beecham's Pills

Sold Everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25c.

NEWS IN BRIEF

James Stillman of New York has given $50,000 to establish a contagious disease ward in Stillman infirmary, Cambridge, Mass., which he founded a year ago.

In the French chamber of deputies the bill reducing the duty on wheat to 5 francs was defeated by a majority of 301 votes.

Mrs. Joseph Strout, aged 50 years, committed suicide at Watertown, Mass., by drowning. She leaves a husband and eight children.

Justice Fletcher Ladd of the supreme court of the Philippine Islands has resigned, on account of the illness of his wife, and has left Manila for home. He belongs at Lancaster, N. H.

Professor Thompson J. Hudson, author of a number of psychological works, died at his home at Detroit from angina pectoris.

The Austrian minister of commerce is sending to the United States experts and officials of the Austrian postoffice to investigate the American telegraph and telephone systems.

Plans for the wooden brig to be built at the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard have been completed. This vessel will cost $50,000, and will be used for the training of landsmen and apprentices.

A work train with a gang of Italian laborers on board collided with some box cars at Columbus, O. Two Italians will die and 16 others were seriously hurt.

Charles B. Evans, aged 62, proprietor of a boarding house at Mt. Tom, was killed by being struck by an engine at Northampton, Mass.

It is rumored that bubonic plague has appeared at the seaport of Iquique, Chile.

Chippewa Lands to Be Sold

Washington, May 27.—Advertisements for the sale of the timber on 108,000 acres of the lands owned by the Chippewa Indians in Minnesota have been prepared and will be published soon. This advertisement will be followed by another covering 200,000 acres. The proceeds from the sales will aggregate perhaps $15,000,000. The money received will go to the Indians.

Fatalities In Mine Explosion

Pittsburg, May 27.—Four men were killed and two badly burned by an explosion of gas in the mines of the Chartiers Coal and Coke company at Federal. The cause of the accident was the explosion of gas brought about by a blast in the "tunnel" where a dip in the coal road was being removed.

Two Will Be Executed

London, May 27.—Otto Monson, one of the three seamen of the British bark Veronica who were sentenced to death on the charge of murdering Captain Shaw and six other members of the Veronica's crew, has been granted a reprieve. The other two condemned men will be executed next Tuesday.

Series of Storms In Nebraska

Omaha, May 27.—To the local weather bureau during the past 24 hours seven distinct tornadoes have been reported, varying in severity. Rain continued the greater part of yesterday and last night. The country is soaked and railroad traffic is badly hampered by soft tracks in many localities.

Many Fatalities In Gale

St. Johns, May 27.—A severe gale which swept the coast did much damage to the fishing vessels on the Grand Banks. The Peerless reports having lost 12 men during the storm. Other fishing boats report smaller losses. It is feared that the fatalities will reach a large total.

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spring Tonic.

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.

60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN,

PHARMACIST,

1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

FRANK F. CRANE

REAL ESTATE,

AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER.

Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass

Aug. 17. t

JAMES F. BURKE.

REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,

MORTGAGES.

Justice of the Peace. Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building,

June 5. tf

Cracker Sale

THIS WEEK AT

PRATT'S.

Grahams,	8 cts. pound.
Grandmother's Cookies,	8 cts. pound.
Butter Thins,	13 cts. pound.
Susie Wilson's	10 cts. pound.
Saltines,	13 cts. pound.

About 150 different kinds of

KENNEDY CRACKERS

At Wholesale Prices.

Boston Branch Grocery,

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

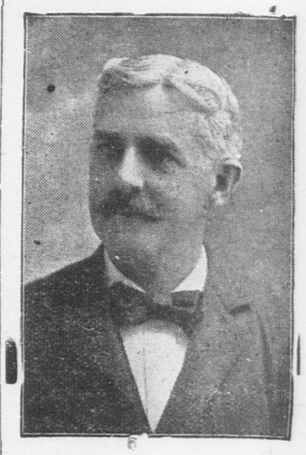

DRY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

Yard off Miller and West Streets, West Quincy

Jan. 7. tf

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.

1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.

2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.

3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES,

Plumbing and Heating Co,

25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.

Telephone Connection.

April 24 tf--p-1w

W. G. CHUBBUCK

Furniture and Piano Mover,

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.

Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

lp-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

Greatest Values of the Year---Two Chances to Make Money.

FIRST.

Dollars Invested by you Now IN THE FINEST HOUSE LOTS IN The FORE RIVER DISTRICT MEANS HUNDREDS IN THE NEAR FUTURE.

AT THE

Mammoth Sale of

Choice House Lots

AT

BIGELOW PARK

EVERY AFTERNOON THIS WEEK.

SECOND.

YOU HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY To Obtain ABSOLUTELY FREE ONE OF THE UNDREDS OF ELEGANT PRESENTS TO BE GIVEN AWAY.

What the President of the Fore River Ship Works says:

"500 New Houses will be needed in the vicinity of Quincy Point during the next year."

What the Real Estate Men of Quincy will tell you:

Impossible to supply the demand for Houses in the Fore River District now.

WHAT THE TENANTS SAY:

Rents are jumping away up in the air and it is impossible to find houses to rent at almost any price.

WHAT WE ASK: Can you afford to miss this opportunity to obtain a home on our terms?

Small Amount Down on a Lot and $1 per Week.

Just Think This Over--Come and Inspect The Property--It Can't Cost You Anything to do This--It Means Dollars to You--This Applies to the Single as well as the Married Man---Start Now.

SALE EVERY AFTERNOON THIS WEEK,---May 25 to May 30, 1903.

SWITHIN BROS., Quincy, Mass.

ng that your night's

Tonic.

ND IRON.

bottle.

HEARN.

IST,

eet, Quincy.

OOD! WOOD! WOOD!

OF ALL KINDS.

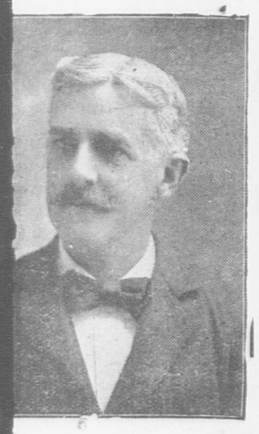

RY AND GREEN

At Lowest Possible Prices.

HOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.

Miller and West Streets, West Quincy

tf

30 YEARS

Plumbing and Heating trade. If we know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

gest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NG SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

ttribute our success to three causes.

The best efforts of our skilled workmen.

Our strict and personal attention to s.

Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; g in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G. B. BATES.

mbing and Heating Co,

Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.

Telephone Connection.

24 tf--p-1w

. G. CHUBBUCK

ture and Piano Mover,

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

re Packed and Stored.

s Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

left at Page's Pool Room, or Nicker ndy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at rnold's Revere Road.

Address, QUINCY, MASS.

UNITY FREE EDS NTS Y.

You--

SS.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 125. QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY, MAY 28, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

ALL GOODS WILL BE DELIVERED FREE AT RESIDENCES IN QUINCY.

STRAW MATTINGS
FOR SUMMER HOUSES

Our new importation includes all grades from China and Japan, many patterns of which are exclusive. Always cool, cleanly, and sanitary.

RUGS

Royal Wilton, Saxony Axminster, Seamless, and other Axminster and Brussels rugs, in sizes 9 x 12, 8.3 x 10.6, and 6 x 9.

Hundreds of small rugs—Smyrnas, Wiltons, Axminsters, Japanese, etc., etc., at exceptionally low prices.

RUGS

Heavy Brussels Art Squares, many of them in Oriental designs and all reversible, sizes 7.6 x 9, 9 x 9, 9 x 10.6, and 9 x 12; price about $1.00 per square yard.

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS COMPANY

Pray Building 658 Washington St. Opp. Boylston St.
BOSTON

Represented in Quincy by Mr. Otho A. Hayward; in Wollaston by Mr. J. W. Wellington.

GRAND FAIR
IN AID OF THE
QUINCY HOSPITAL,
At the Residence of MISS BEALE. Adams Street,
ON THURSDAY, JUNE 11th,
Afternoon and Eveuing, beginning at 2 o'clock
PROCEEDS TO BE DEVOTED TO THE NURSES' HOME.
Admission 50 cents. Children under 12 years, 25 cents.

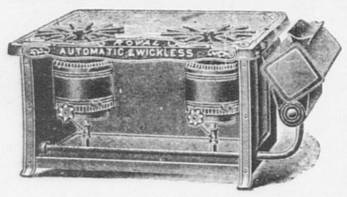

An invitation is extended to all who are interested in the welfare of the hospital and in providing a nurses' home.

May 22. 1-tf--p-2w

FRESH FROM THE MINES.
CARGOES OF
White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.
C. PATCH & SON.

Quincy, April 23. tf

It's Fun
To Cook on a
Blue Flame Oil Stove.

And the fun grows more intense after you have used one of these famous stoves for over a month, and figure that it has cost you almost nothing to run. No over heated, kitchen, no coal, no wood, no dust, no ashes, a fire piping hot in a twinkling, ready to roast or to bake.

You are losing much of the pleasure of living today without one of our Blue Flame Stoves. We guarantee them to give perfect satisfaction or refund the money. Our Prices, $3.98 to $10.00. (Gasolene Stoves also for folks who wish.)

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,
New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,
Hancock Street, Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.

White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,
In a variety of Styles and Prices.

Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.

These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you.

C. S. HUBBARD.
City Square, Quincy.

TELEGRAPHIC.
3 O'CLOCK.

For Latest News See Inside Pages.

A SENSATIONAL CLIMAX

To Investigation Into the Misdeeds of Machen

IS PLACED UNDER ARREST

Said to Have Received Nearly $19,000 In Bribes From Contractors In Less Than Three Years—Contractors Are Also Arrested and Held

Washington, May 28.—By far the most sensational development of the postoffice investigation, up to this time, occurred when Augustus W. Machen, general superintendent of the free delivery service, was arrested on a warrant issued on the information of postoffice inspectors charging him with having received "rake-offs" from contracts made with the local firm of Groff Bros. for a patent postal box fastener.

The warant specifically charges him with receiving $18,981.78 since Aug. 8, 1900. It is alleged, however, at the department that this amount does not represent all that Machen obtained in connection with these contracts, it being charged that he has profited by them for several years prior to the date of the first contract mentioned in the warrant. Other arrests are to follow.

Immediately after Machen was taken into custody the postmaster general issued an order removing him from office. He had been practically under suspension for a fortnight pending the investigation into his bureau.

The discovery of Machen's alleged interests in the contracts was made quite accidentally by the inspectors some three weeks ago and since then their energies had been directed toward making out a case. Tuesday night, after the authorities had become convinced that they were in possession of the necessary evidence, Machen was notified to appear at the department Wednesday. He did so and was subjected to a "sweating" process by the inspectors and General Bristow for three hours, but no admissions that he profited by the contracts could be secured from him. He declined to answer many questions on the ground that they related to his private business, but insisted to the end that he had not received a cent improperly. Nevertheless, he was arrested on the warrant which had been prepared and taken before United States Commissioner Taylor, where his attorney immediately demanded a full hearing. Assistant District Attorney Taggart, however, was not ready to proceed with the case and the hearing was set for June 5. Machen gave a $20,000 bond, furnished by a Philadelphia bonding company, for his appearance.

After his release he declined to make any statement beyond the single declaration that the whole thing was a grand stand play and would come out all right. His attorneys declared that at the proper time they would show conclusively that he had been guilty of no wrong in connection with the contracts and, on the contrary they would be able to show that his administration of the free delivery service had been characterized by ability and integrity. The department officials claim that their evidence is conclusive. It is understood that civil suit will be entered to recover from Machen the amount he is alleged to have received on the contracts.

Diller B. Groff, one of the partners in the firm of Groff Bros., who are accused of having bribed Machen for the purpose of procuring purchase by the government of their letter box fasteners, called at police headquarters last night, stating that he had heard a warrant for his arrest was out. He was served with the warrant and was released on $10,000 bond, pending a hearing before the United States commissioner.

Samuel A. Groff, the other member of the Groff firm, was taken into custody later, and was released on receipt of bail in the sum of $5000.

Hanna Has Nothing to Say

Cleveland, May 28.—Senator Hanna has received a large number of telegrams concerning his decision not to further oppose an endorsement of President Roosevelt's candidacy for a second term at the coming state convention. These telegrams are said to be nearly all of a congratulatory nature. Senator Hanna steadfastly refuses to discuss the subject, insisting that it is a closed incident.

In Favor of Insurance Company

Springfield, Ills., May 28.—The suit against the Aetna Fire Insurance company of Hartford to compel payment of $300,000 penalties for failure of agencies to report net yearly receipts to the state in order that they might be taxed, was thrown out of the Sangamon circuit court here by Judge Creighton. The court held that the statutes impose no penalty for failure to report.

LACONIA'S FIRE LOSS

Eighty-Eight Houses Burned and Money Loss of Over $400,000

Laconia, N. H., May 28.—The total amount of insurance on the property burned here Tuesday was $299,000 and the net loss, as figured by the insurance people, is $100,000. As loss of insured property is total, and the net loss is $100,000 more, the aggregate loss therefore falls just short of $400,000. This is realty loss and to it must be added the loss on personal property not covered by insurance.

The whole number of buildings burned was 88, and the whole number of tenements 104, the excess of the latter being explained by the fact that quite a number of the buildings had accommodations for two or three families.

The work of the relief committee continues and all applications for assistance, both of food and lodgings, have been promptly met. It is now known by actual canvass that the number of persons rendered homeless was 483.

The work of clearing away debris in the city streets has begun. Thousands of feet of hose which had been abandoned by firemen when they could not withstand the heat and smoke has been gathered up. Much of it is in a half burned condition.

The rush of visitors from surrounding towns continues. It is a remarkable fact that not a single person was seriously injured or burned during the fire. Minor injuries were numerous,

Fish Trust Wins Suit

Buffalo, May 28.—By a judgment of the supreme court entered here A. Booth & Co., sometimes called the fish trust, have won an important case against fish dealers who sold out to them and afterwards resumed business. Cases of a similar nature are pending in other cities and several million dollars are involved in the litigation. Justice White finds the agreement entered into to be a valid contract; that the resumption of business by the defendants is a violation of the contract, and the plaintiff is entitled to a permanent injunction restraining the defendants from directly or indirectly engaging in business in the territory mentioned in the contract.

Eight Killed In Freight Wreck

Birmingham, Ala., May 28.—Two freights collided at Bryan, with the result that both trains caught fire and were burned and eight men were killed and others may die. The officials of the road have not yet explained the cause of the accident, but it is alleged that an operator went to sleep on duty and failed to deliver an order.

Old Sea Fighter Dead

Washington, May 28.—Rear Admiral David Smith, U. S. N., retired, is dead, aged 70. He was a native of Scotland. He was a member of the United States steel board appointed by President Grant and also of the board that began in 1890 a systematic plan for reorganizing the methods and plan of navy yard administration.

How Jews May Use Money

London, May 28.—The Standard's correspondent at Odessa asserts that the bulk of the funds subscribed in the United States and elsewhere for the relief of the Jewish sufferers from the recent riots at Kishineff will be utilized to assist the emigration of the recipients to Great Britain and America.

Storm Does $100,000 Damage

Toledo, May 28.—Northwestern Ohio was visited by one of the worst storms in its history late yesterday. The damage done in Toledo is estimated at $100,000, while reports from all portions of northwestern Ohio indicate that great damage was done throughout the country and especially in the oil fields.

New Zealand Meat In England

London, May 28.—The New Zealand government has completed arrangements to start on its own account a meat trade with Great Britain. It will buy meat in the colony and have it shipped to a commissioner here for sale. Emporiums will be opened in the chief cities of the united kingdom.

Held For Jewel Smuggling

Halifax, May 28.—Steamer Rosalind, from New York, was seized by the customs authorities here. A man was found coming ashore with a box containing a quantity of rings and jewel cases which were not on the manifest, and the steamer is held liable.

Shot Employer and Killed Himself

New York, May 28.—Solomon Horn, 29 years old, of Brooklyn, committed suicide by shooting after perhaps fatally wounding his employer, Julius Reiss, also of Brooklyn. Reiss has two bullet wounds in the back.

President Diaz's Modesty

Mexico City, May 28.—President Diaz, with reference to the agitation for his re-election, says it is the duty of all citizens to serve the country if called upon "even at a personal sacrifice."

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus oftenbefore medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has un doubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

LEDGER ADS PAY BEST
TRY ONE AND SEE

GENERAL ALARM.

Commercial Square at East Weymouth Threatened by Fire.

East Weymouth was threatened with a conflagration Wednesday evening. The large barn of Bela French on Water street was burned with all its contents, and four or more other buildings took fire.

The barn contained two horses, two cows, several tons of hay, and tools.

The Temple of Honor hall was badly burned.

The building on Commercial street occupied by J. F. Otis as a market was damaged, and his stock also.

The store of Joseph Haskell, the bakery of J. A. Pratt and the house of William Lovell on on School street took fire and were more or less damaged.

The barn and contents were valued at $3,000. The market building was damaged $300, and the stock about $500. Mr. Lowel's house was damaged about $500.

MUCH LARGE WORK.

Shafts, Crank Shafts, Davits, Gun Forgings, etc., at Shipyard.

A great deal of large work is engaging the energies of the Fore River machine shop. One of the most important jobs is the shaft for Fall River freight steamer. This will be nearly 29 feet long and 21 inches in diameter. The crank-shaft connections are also being turned. Another large piece of lathe-work is the shaft for one of the battleships, which is 17 and a half inches in diameter and 37 feet long, hollow-bored. The forgings for the six-inch guns are also being turned—25-foor long tubes with jackets of 16-inch bore. These latter are made in groups of four and turned and bored before separating.

The davits for the United States cruiser Des Moines are also in hand. The two for the steam cutter are 28 and a half feet long and nine and a half inches at the largest diameter; those for the 30-foot launch are 26 feet long by seven and a half inches.

The struts for the propeller shafts of the New Jersey have been made ready and those for the Rhode Island are in the shop. The "pads" have been set on the hulls and the installation and final work of finishing will be done in afew days.

"INDISCREET" COLLECTOR

Received "Presents" of Tobacco and Liquor and Gets Called Down

San Juan, P. R., May 28.—As a result of the visit here of Customs Inspector Cullom, charges have been filed at Washington against Collector Cruzon, alleging irregularities in the conduct of the San Juan office. According to affidavits submitted with the charges, Cruzon received unlawful emoluments, permitted ships to visit island ports without an inspector on board, in return for presents made to him, and unlawfully demanded cigars from shippers. The collector is absent now, but on his return a reply from him is expected.

Washington, May 28.—The treasury department makes the following statement:

"The investigation referred to at San Juan was the regular investigation of the port of San Juan ordered by the department. Irregularities were reported by the agent. The collector was accused of receiving presents of tobacco and liquors. In explanation to the agent he said that they were given to him voluntarily. The collector has been severely censured by the department for his indiscretions and the irregularities of administration have been corrected. The report did not disclose any overt act of dishonesty."

Fitting Climax to Criminal Life

New York, May 28.—James Brady, aged 78, noted bank burglar of 30 years ago, the pal of the greatest criminals of the day, was killed by a train near New Rochelle by a passing express. He had been discharged but a few hours before from the Westchester county poor house. A bag upon which the dead fingers were rigidly clinched when his body was picked up contained a complete set of burglar tools. The lock picks and saws were made in secret last winter at the poor house, where the unsuspecting officials looked upon the old man as repentant.

On the Diamond

At Boston—National—Boston, 7; Pittsburg, 1.

At Brooklyn—National—St. Louis, 3; Brooklyn, 1.

At Philadelphia—National—Philadelphia, 2; Cincinnati, 2. Called; darkness.

At New York—National—New York, 5; Chicago, 4.

At Cleveland—American—Chicago, 1; Cleveland, 0.

At Concord—Haverhill, 4; Concord, 0.

At Manchester—Manchester, 4; Lawrence, 2.

At Fall River—Lowell, 5; Fall River, 4.

At Brockton—Brockton, 3; Nashua, 2.

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.

$3.50

For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . . At Co-operative Dining Rooms

3 Granite Street, Quincy,

"Right in the Heart of the City."

Call in and talk it over.

mar.16-21--2m

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

BUY YOUR

Hot Weather Goods

— OF —

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

And get your COLD SODA

FREE.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

Don't Spend Money

Where the goods are not the equivalent. It is so easy to buy right that buying wrong is nothing short of extravagance. Whatever you fancy in the line of is here—if it's good. And the prices are reasonable. If you pay less you get less. If you pay more you do not get better quality.

CLOTHING

STRAW HATS

ARE NOW RIPE.

You can pick them at 25c., 50c., 98c., $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50

each and they are good values all along the line.

Yours for Honest Values.

F. D. FELLOWS CO.,

Reliable One Price Clothiers, Hatters and Furnishers.

Adams Building, City Square, Quincy, Mass.

WE GIVE TRADING STAMPS.

Store open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

May 21. 1-th., Fri., Sat.,-po-tf

Electric Call Bell

Wired Complete $2.50 Guaranteed One Year.
Repairing Guaranteed.
A. RUSSELL JONES,
1362 Hancock Street, Quincy.
May 27. lpo-tt

FREDERICK H. LORD,
TEACHER OF BANJO,
Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.
TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITUERS.
118 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 7. tf

FULL STOCK
— OF —
HATCHET BRAND CANNED GOODS,
— AT —
Brooks' Market,
Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,
QUINCY, MASS.
April 25. tf

J.W. PRATT,
BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES
AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lot bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

SMOKE THE
GOVERNESS.
UNION MADE.
Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers
Manufactured by
P. A. NELSON,
59 Granite Street.
Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

Dr. Emmons'
Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 179 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

By C. H. JOHNSON - - Auctioneer.
Office, Room 3, Adams Building, Quincy.

NEW FURNITURE

At Public Auction of AUGUST JOHNSON, will be sold from residence No. 257 Whitwell St., corner of Deldorf St., (third flight) on Tuesday, June 2, 1903,

At 1.30 P. M.

The goods consist in part as follows:

New Cherry Parlor Set, nicely upholstered, of 5 pieces—Sofa, Rocker and 3 Chairs; Brussels Carpet, Parlor Lamp, Pictures, Cherry Table, Rugs, 15 Window Shades, 30 yards Brussells Carpet, Art Square, Oak Dining Room Table, 6 Oak Dining Room Chairs, Table, Morris Chair, Plush Lounge, Glenwood Range, E., nearly new, Table, 3 Chairs, Hanging Lamp, Dishes, Kitchen Furniture, Parlor Stove, White Iron Bed, Oak Bureau, Rug, Straw Matting, Commode, 2 Chairs, Pillows, Comforters, Commode Set, Single White Iron Bed, Willow Baby Carriage, Singer Sewing Machine, Phonograph. The above is a partial list of the goods. The goods are all new and purchased only a short time ago from a local dealer.

Sale Positive. Terms Cash.

Block, corner of Whitwell and Deldorf Streets.

Quincy, May 28. 3t

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

NORFOLK ss. Quincy, April 25, 1903.

TAKEN on execution and will be sold at public auction on SATURDAY, the thirteenth day of June, 1903, at 9 o'clock A. M., at my residence No. 163 Franklin street, Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, all the right, title and interest which John A. McAloon and Helen R. McAloon, both of said Quincy, had (not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution) on the seventeenth day of December, 1902, at seven o'clock and thirty minutes P. M., (being the time the same was attached on mesne process) in and to the following described real estate, to wit:

A certain lot of land containing about one-half acre (in other conveyances erroneously written one acre more or less) with all buildings, situated in said Quincy, and bounded and described as follows:

Easterly by Hancock street, 80 feet; southerly by land of Chamberlin, formerly of Nathaniel M. Bean, 276 3-4 feet; westerly by land now or formerly of Thomas Adams et al, by a line parallel with said Hancock street, 80 feet; and northerly by land of same by a line parallel with said Bean's land, 276 3-4 feet, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 857, Page 132.

Also a certain lot of land with buildings, containing about 4950 square feet, situated in Quincy aforesaid, and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point in northerly line of a certain way called Ballou street, which point is 175 feet distant westerly from intersection of said Ballou street with Robertson street, and running in a westerly direction bounding southerly on said Ballou street, 45 feet, to land now or formerly of Florentine Walters, then turning at a right angle and running northerly bounding westerly on land now or late of last named, 110 feet to land of Babcock, then turning at right angles and running easterly bounding southerly on land of last named, 45 feet, to land now or late of Florentine Walters, then turning at a right angle and running southerly bounding easterly on land of last named 110 feet to said Ballou street and its point of beginning.

Also a certain parcel of land situated in said Quincy and bounded northerly by land of Babcock, 44.72 feet; easterly on other land of grantor 110 feet; southerly on a private way called Ballou street, 48.10 feet; westerly on a proposed street called Bryant street, 110 feet; recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 751, Page 551.

Also a certain lot of land situated in that part of Quincy known as West Quincy, and lying on two streets laid out by George K. and Rebecca H. W. Gannett as shown on a plan of Gannett's House Lots, made by Whitman & Breck, January, 1872. Said lot contains about one quarter of an acre and is bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point at the corner of the continuance of Grove street, and another street running southerly, laid out by Gannett as aforesaid. Said street being 33 feet wide as shown on said plan and bounded northeasterly by the street last mentioned, 159 feet; and southeasterly by land now or formerly owned by said Gannett, 72 feet; southwesterly by same, 147.05 feet; northwesterly by said Grove street, 73 feet, to point of beginning.

Also a certain lot of land situated in said West Quincy, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at northwesterly corner of land of McAloon, being the lot described above on continuance of Grove street, and running in a southerly direction on said land of McAloon, 147.05 feet; then at right angles in a westerly direction on other land of said Gannett, 76 feet; then at right angles in a northerly direction on land of said Gannett, 135 feet to said Grove street, then at nearly right angles on said Grove street, 78 feet to point of beginning. Containing about one-quarter of an acre, being lot No. 35 on a plan of said Gannett's land made by Whitman & Breck, dated January, 1872, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 776, Page 37.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Deputy Sheriff.

May 28. 3t-28-4-11

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of

THOMAS GRIGNON,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate by Lodina Alice Grignon of Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of June, A. D. 1903, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this thirteenth day of May, in the year one thousand nine hunnred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

May 14. 3t-14-21-28

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of

MARY A. NELSON,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Catherine Nelson of Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of June, A. D. 1903, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

3t-21-28-4

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	58	79	83	72	67
Monday,	64	86	77	49	62
Tuesday,	69	90	80	59	68
Wednesday,	80	78	76	53	55
Thursday,	83	86	70	62	57
Friday,	—	85	65	58	75
Saturday,	—	70	60	49	82

New Advertisements Today.

Sheriff's Sale.
Norteman's Pavilion—Clambakes.
Auction Sale of New Furniture.
Probate Notice.
House to let.

HOLIDAY NOTICE.

The office of the Daily Ledger will be closed on Saturday, Memorial Day, no paper being issued.

The usual Saturday features will appear in the Friday Ledger, and news should be forwarded early.

Good Afternoon

The building committee of the Y. M. C. A. is meeting with such good success in raising funds for a gymnasium that now there seems to be a probability that an association building will be erected at the same time as the gymnasium on the Washington street lot. The subscription book shows several pledges of from $100 to $1,000, there being three or four of the larger sum and more in sight. This is good news for the city, as a flourishing Y. M. C. A. is alway a power for good, and the association will succeed in Quincy with such a building and gymnasium as are proposed. The young men and the mothers are much interested in the movement and are helping financially.

We need more men in Quincy like the gentleman who compose the syndicate headed by ex-Mayor Hall. Prospective residents should not be turned away from our city as during the past year or two because there are no houses. When good tenants are assured as is now the case, for all the houses that can be built this year, there should not be so much hesitancy among those who have the land and also money with which to develop it.

That was indeed a brave act of Engineer Trowbritz of the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R., who left his cab at Hingham and snatched two boys from the track just in time to prevent them from being run down by the Lawson express. All escaped unhurt.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ The expected has happened in Australia where the employes on the government railway have struck, and a bill has been introduced in the legislative assembly by the premier making it an offense punishable by a $500 fine or a year's imprisonment for an employe to leave his work without having given four nights' notice, and authorizing the police to suppress all literature encouraging the strike, making printers of such literature offenders and prohibiting all meetings at which four strikers shall be present as conspiring against the law. The proposed legislation is even more radicol than that proposed recently in Holland.—Haverhill Gazette.

Y. M. C. A. Annual.

The annual meeting of Y. M. C. A. has been called for Monday evening, June 1 at 8 o'clock. The constitution calls for written reports from the president, treasurer and committees. Directors for the ensuing year are also elected at this meeting. It is strongly urged that all members of the Association attend promptly at 8 o'clock.

—With the early penmakers the problem of a point was the most serious, and a long time elapsed before it was definitely solved.

—The early inhabitants of the Nile valley had excellent roads, paved somewhat in the macadam style of the present day.

ENDURANCE TRIAL.

The Macdonough Meets All the Requirements.

The torpedo boat destroyer Macdonough had her official endurance trial Wednesday with the goverment board from Washington on board. In this trial she was required to maintain 26-knot speed for an hour. The trial was more than successful as she maintained a speed of 26 1-2 knots. She will now be turned over to the government and will probably be towed to the Charles town navy yard in a few weeks.

The trial board consisted of Captain Charles J. Train, President; Naval Constructor, J. J. Woodward, Captain Charles R. Roelker and Commander Walter C. Cowles.

They were assisted by Lieut. Commander E. H. Scribner, Lieut. Walter Ball, and Naval Constructor R. M. Watt, all stationed at Fore River, and Lieut. W. R. White of the bureau of steam engineering.

The Macdonough's engines showed 332 7-10 revolutions against the required number, 331. The test was made with ordinary unselected coal.

Funeral of Mr. Osborne.

The funeral of John H. Osborne was held Wednesday at St. Chrysostom's church at 11 A. M., and the service was conducted by Rev. Carlton Mills. The choir of which Mr. Osborn had been a member, sang feelingly, "I heard the voice of Jesus Say," "Lead Kindly Light" and "Abide with me". A profusion of beautiful floral tributes were about the casket, noticeable among them was a handsome set piece of white lilies and roses from Mayor Bryant. Escorting the body were the following pall bearers: Amos Leavitt and Edmund Taylor, of Wollaston, John L. Clark Jr. and Mr. Edward E. Allen of Boston. The music was under the direction of E. Landis Snyder. Following the service the body was taken to South Hanson for interment.

Mr. Osborne's death came as a sad surprise to his Wollaston friends. He had recently returned from Colerado Springs where he had been living for the past two years. A short time ago he went to Rutland, Mass, thinking the change might benifit him, but died suddenly whilst there. Mr. Osborne was a young man of excellent promise and highly esteemed in all his business relations. He is mourned by a mother, a sister, Mrs. George Keith of Hudson, and a brother. Mr. William Osborne of Whitman.

Bank Robbery.

There was a bank robbery in the vicinity of the car barn on Hancock street last week, but up to the present time it has not been reported to the police as the owner of the bank is doing some Sherlock Holmes work and expects to bring the offender to the rack soon, if not before. The bank was one of the kind issued by the local banks and was taken out by one John T. Kelly, a conductor on the West Quincy line. It will be unhealthy for the man who took his bank should he find out who he was.

This noon it was learned that the missing bank had been left with the foreman at the car barn and Mr. Kelly has recovered his own. It is said that the hasty delivery of the bank was due to his having obtained a clue to the man who purloined it, and the preparation made for the thief's annihilation.

Shipyard May Close.

Repeated strikes at the Crescent shipyard, Elizabethport, N. J., threaten to result in an indefinite closing there. Mr. Chase, president of the company, said today: "This talk about discrimination against any union men is all nonsense. The strike was caused by one or two trouble makers."

C. C. HEARN'S NEW DEPARTURE.

Selling Medicine at Half Price Under Guarantee of Cure.

After two months of remarkable sales, Chas. C. Hearn, the enterprising druggrst, says that his plan of selling at half price the regular 50 cent size of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dysyepsia and guaranteeing to refund the money if it does not cure, has been the greatest success he has ever known.

Any one suffering with dyspepsia, constipation, liver troubles, headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, or the general tired feeling, caused by inactive liver and bowels or disordered digestion, should take advantage of Chas. C. Hearn's new departure and buy a bottle of Dr. Howard's specific at half price, with his personal guarantee to return the money if it does not cure.

The specific comes in the form of small granules, very pleasant to take, and each vial contains sixty doses. Under Mr. Chas. C. Hearn's special half-price offer, this means a month's treatment for 25 cents, with the best medicine known for the cure of constipation and stomach troubles.

If you cannot go to his store today, send him your order by mail, as Mr. Chas. C. Hearn has only a limited supply to sell at this special price.

25-28-1-4

THE SHIP TRUST.

Plans for the Reorganization Announced.

The Fore River is Independent.

Bath Iron Works and Other Concerns Involved.

The plan for the reorganization of the United States Shipbuilding Company was made public tonight, says a New York dispatch of Wednesday to the Journal, and takes in the three New England concerns, two at Bath, Me., and one at New London, Conn.

It has been prepared and will be carried out by a committee consisting of George R. Sheldon, chairman; Charles S. Fairchild, president of the New York Security & Trust Company; John E. Borne, president of the Colonial Trust Company; Max Pam and Charles Wetmore, president of the North American Company.

The counsel to the committee are Sullivan & Cromwell and Pam., Calhoun & Glennon. Walter W. Lee is secretary of the committee.

The securties affected by the reorganization are to be deposited with the City Trust Company of New York.

The plan provides for the organization of a company, with the title of Bethlehem Steel & Shipbuilding Company. The properties to be taken over are: Union Iron Works, San Francisco; Bath Iron Works, Limited, Bath, Me.; Hyde Windlass Company, Bath, Me.; Crescent Shipyard Company, Elizabethport, N. J.; Canada Manufacturing Company, Carteret, N. J.: Samuel L. Moore & Sons Company, Elizabethport, N. J.; Eastern Shipbuilding Company, New London, Conn.; Harlan & Hollingsworth Company, Wilmington, Del.; also all of the capital stock (except directors' qualification shares) of Bethlehem Steel Company, owning the Bethlehem Steel Works and property in the the boroughs of South Bethlehem and Northampton Heights.

The total capitalization of the new company will be $43,000,000, and its fixed charges will be $517,550 for interest on the underlying bonds of the Bethlehem Iron and Bethlehem Steel Companies and $600,000 on the first mortgage bonds of the new company, a total of $1,117,550.

To this should be added after the first five years, $250,000 per annum for the sinking fund to retire the new first mortgage bonds.

To secure continuity in the management of the new corporation it is proposed to create a voting trust for a period of seven years. The initial voting trustees will be Messrs. Charles M. Schwab, George C. Sheldon, Max Pam, Charles W. Wetmore and James H. Reed of Pittsburg.

The plan has already been approved by the holders of large amounts of the various securities.

Memorial Day.

John A. Boyd camp, L. S. W. V., will assemble at 8.15 on the morning of Memorial day and will march to St. Marys cemetery at West Quincy, where graves will be decorated. Details will also decorate graves at Mt. Wollaston, Milton and Weymouth. At noon the camp will partake of a collation at Hancock hall on invitation of Paul Revere Post, and in the afternoon will join with the Post in its observance of the day. At Mt. Wollaston cemetery the camp will conduct services at the grave of Lieut. Edward Bumpus.

Fitting-Out Basin.

In the course of a few weeks work is to be resumed on the concrete walls of the pier alongside the fitting-out basin on the Fore River shipyard, extending them 1200 feet. The pier will then be completed by filling the space between walls with earth, on which the railway tracks will be carried. The tracks for the gantry crane will also be extended.

☞ Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relie was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

Best Hard Wood

CHARCOAL,

10 cts. Bag.

Boston Branch Grocery,

L. M. PRATT & SON.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Windy!

Showers are predicted.

No Ledger on Memorial day.

No Ledger on Saturday, Memorial day.

Mr. J. V. Bowers of New York city is stopping at the Greenleaf.

Mrs. Loring is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coe of Billings street.

Mr. George Lord, of New York, is here on business and is stopping at the Greenleaf hotel.

Rev. E. C. Butler has been elected president of the alumni of the Meedville Theological School.

Miss Helen Bemis of Atlantic street, who has been away teaching school, is at home for a visit.

A team of fifteen from the Wollaston Golf club went to the Oakley club links today to play a match.

The Grand Army solicit flowers for Memorial day, and also food for the noon-day lunch on that day.

Frank Rorke, an uncle-in-law of Hugh Tracey and the late John Day of this city, died in Somerville on Sunday, aged 60 years.

Commodore Eben W. Sheppard of the Quincy Yacht club, goes to Bellgrade, Me., tomorrow on his annual trip after black bass.

On the Ward Two play ground at Quincy Point on the morning of Memorial Day, the Quincys and Hartford A. A., will play at 10 A. M.

The Edward Hewitson Associates Glee club will give its third annual concert next Tuesday evening, June 2, at the Wollaston Baptist church.

The presents being given away at Bigelow Park this week are more beautiful than ever. Swithin Bros. expect to do a big business on Memorial day.

A sale of ices, cakes and candies was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Warren of Billings street. The proceeds will be given to the Florence Crittendon Mission.

The quaint combination school desk and chair at the rooms of the School Committee is indeed a relic. It is said to have been one of the first used in Boston. It is the property of Albert G. Dolliver who has loaned it during the Educational convention.

Supt. Parlin went to Lexington on Wednesday and addressed the teachers in the afternoon on "Reading." It is evident, he says, that Henry W. Porter, formerly of Quincy, is making a success as principal of the High school and superintendent in that town.

Henry T. Bailey, State Superintendent of Art, will lecture at the High School hall next Wednesday afternoon, June 3, at 4 o'clock, on "The Arts and Crafts Movement and the public School." All are invited and no ticket of admission is required.

The lecture of Dr. Long at the High School hall Wednesday evening, in aid of the fund for decorating the new Washingson schoolhouse, was largely attended and full of interest. It was a pleasure to see so many of the pupils of the school present, and to see the interest they manifested. Mr. T. B. Pollard, the principal, introduced the speaker, who was very instructive and entertaining.

The Non-Irritating Cathartic

Easy to take, easy to operate—

Hood's Pills

NORTEMAN'S PAVILION,

Opposite Steamboat Wharf,

HOUGHS NECK.

The first clambake of the season will be served

MAY 30th.

Bake Opens at one o'clock Every Sunday.

May 28. 2t

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of

ABIGAIL N. CHAMBERLIN,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, not already administered, to William G. A. Pattee of Quincy, without giving surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of June, A. D. 1903, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-seventh day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

May 28, 3t-28-1-8

Feeling tired out?

Appetite Poor?

Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?

What you need is a Spri

Try a bottle of

ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.

60 cts. per bottle.

CHARLES C. HEARN.

PHARMACIST,

1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

ORDER NOW FOR

DECORATION DAY

--YOUR--

Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.

63 Nevard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works,

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS.

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass

April 30. 1m

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all parts of the city.

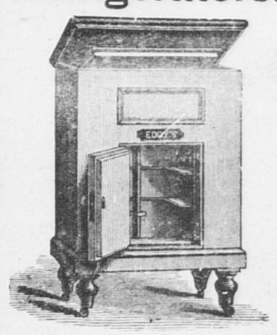

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder.

Office 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 25. tf

Eddy Refrigerators.

It is doubtful if any one ever heard of an Eddy Refrigerator during the 54 years they have been manufactured, that didn't give better service than ever was expected of it. Back of that name stands a guarantee of excellence and honest construction, unequalled by any other maker in the world. An Eddy Refrigerator will pay for itself in ice saved. Factory Prices, $6.50 to $25,00. A catalogue and price list for the asking.

HENRY L KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat.

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.

Quincy, May 9. 1m

ing that your night's

AND IRON.

bottle.

HEARN.

IST,

eet, Quincy.

Y FOR

ON DAY

dding Plants.

ENHOUSES.

Fore River Works,

GREEN, Proprietor.

INCTIME

Love." Yes, and to thoughts of ttention to my stock of

LES.

e or makes. I carry the following:

AND, DAY AND FAY;

O want and I will get it for you at y, but my place continues to be the

BLE."

ILLIS.

ll Block, Quincy, Mass

1m

TATE.

e best part of life is gone. radually, this would not be a ending. Consult me. I have House Lots for sale in all

N, Builder.

Quincy, Mass.

Sods for sale.

tf

t is doubtful if any one r heard of an Eddy rigerator during the years they have been nufac ured, that didn't e better service than er was expected of it. ck of that name stands uarantee of excellence l honest construction, qualled by any other er in the world. An dy Refrigerator will for itself in ice saved. tory Prices, $6.50 to 00. A catalogue and e list for the asking.

E & CO.,

rniture Store,

Quincy.

day Evenings.

e, No Heat.

way in the world. No dust,

S RANGE

ue.

erything pertaining to the

1m

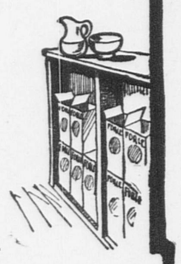

Jim Dumps' grandchild, sly little elf,
Cried, "Grandpa, on the lowest shelf
Please put the food I like the best,
So I can reach it with the rest.
I just love 'Force,'" she said to him.
"'Force' you shall have," said "Sunny Jim."

"Force"

The Ready-to-Serve Cereal

liked alike
by young and old.

She Likes It.

"I am a little girl seven years old. We use 'Force' for breakfast and like it. JESSIE MARGARET RICHARDSON."

71

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN,
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
OFFICE HOURS: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday.
Jan. 31. tf

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pirel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quncy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9
TELEPHONE 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1 1y- p-6mos.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. 1p-tf

PAINTING
and Glazing.
WARD L. HAYWARD,
28 Merchants Street.
Quincy, Sept. 3. 1y

30 YEARS
In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.
15 YEARS IN QUINCY.
The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.
NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.
We attribute our success to three causes.
1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.
2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.
3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing; resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.
G. B. BATES.
Plumbing and Heating Co,
25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot.
Telephone Connection.
April 24 tf--p-1w

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

MILTON

Mr. Harlow of Belcher circle has purchased an automobile.

The clergymen of Milton are taking the religious census of Milton.

Rev. George A. Whitehouse gave a Memorial Day address Sunday morning at the Baptist church.

Charles Whittemore of Washington street expects his family home from Chicago next week.

The marriage of Mr. Walter B. Skinner to Miss Packard of Wollaston is announced for early in June.

The Thursday evening club will suspend its meetings during the months of June, July and August.

The Thursday Evening club visits the Milton club tonight.

Memorial Day exercises will be held in the public schools Friday afternoon.

L. M. PRATT & SON,
Charcoal, 10c bag.
L. M. PRATT & SON,
QUINCY.

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

COPYRIGHT.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT

is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....

PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS

M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER, GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
Decorator and Paper Hanger.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov, 3-tf

PLAYGROUND NAMES

Prizes Awarded for Suggestions Offered by School Children.

About a year ago the Park Commissioners invited the pupils of the public schools to suggest names for the four playgrounds of the city. A great many were submitted and the board have examined the same. No selections have been made, but the commissioners have decided to award prizes to the following pupils for names suggested:

Charles E. French and Margaret Carey of the Washington school.

Mary Williams, Blodwin Walters and Ftta McDonald of the Willard school.

Enoch Fuller of the Gridley Bryant school.

Mary Doyle, Thomas Doran and Katherine McDonald of the John Hancock school.

To each of the above children, a copy of Rev. D. M. Wilson's book, "Where American Independence Began," is awarded.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

DIED.

SAVARD—In Quincy, May 27, Mrs. Apro len L., wife of Mr. Abel Savard of 276 Watere street, aged 62 years.

Boston Branch Grocery.
BEST HARD WOOD
Charcoal,
10 cts. bag.
L. M. Pratt & Son,

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,
Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers.
GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.
Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.
Quincy, April 7 tf

Worms?
Many children are troubled with worms, and treated for something else. A few doses of True's PIN WORM Elixir will expel worms if they exist, and prove a valuable tonic if there are no worms. 35c. at druggists. Dr. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me.

KING'S PARK HOUSE.
Board and Rooms.
345 Washington Street.
Quincy, May 19. 1m

$5.00 REWARD.
A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.
Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, PRES.
April 9-2m 11-2m

STRIKE LEADERS' MOVE

To Prevent Resumption of Work at Lowell

SPECIAL MEETINGS CALLED

At the Hour of Opening Mill Gates—Agents Expect Enough Former Employes to Return to Start Machinery—Will Be No Discrimination

Lowell, Mass., May 28.—The strike leaders are making every effort to hold the skilled operatives from returning to work in the cotton mills Monday. They addressed meetings of the loom fixers and slasher tenders last night and neither of these unions took a vote on the question of returning to work. Special meetings of the unions have been called for Monday morning at the hour of opening the mills in the effort to keep these men from entering the gates. The loom fixers have voted to have a roll-call Monday morning.

There is sure to be friction in the unions if all the members are given an opportunity to vote on the question whether or not they shall return to work, because the new members are not as loyal to the union as the old ones. The Textile council will meet again next Sunday and by that time will have learned pretty thoroughly the sentiment of the strikers.

The mill agents are confident that enough of their former employes will return Monday to enable them to start operations if they are not wholly dependent upon the unions. In fact 17 nappers and five beamers are at work in the Tremont and Suffolk mills. And at the Textile council headquarters there has been posted a list of names of 16 nappers who are called "strike breakers."

In this attempt to resume operation the mills will act in the same spirit of harmony as when they closed the establishments. Treasurer Clark of the Boott mill says that if the unions should decide to direct their attention to any one mill and succeed in keeping that closed, the treasurers will retaliate by closing all the mills again, and there will be a lockout.

Their principal concern now is to find out how many really want to go back to work. The skilled help will be engaged without any question, then unskilled labor will be taken in in sufficient numbers to keep them supplied. There will be no discrimination against union members, except possibly against the mule spinners, who went out from the Lawrence mills and afterward lost their chances of coming back to that mill because of the substitution of ring spinning frames for the mules they operated before the strike. At least one of the mills will refuse to hire any of them.

Even the strike leaders are invited to return to their former positions. "It would be unfair to discriminate against them," said one of the agents. "They simply misunderstand the situation, and no doubt have done what they believe to be right, but it is unfortunate that they should mislead these people. All the assurance we have that the strikers want to return is what we hear from people coming in every day or writing to ask us how soon we will open so that they may go to work, and they have become so numerous that we believe there is a general desire for work. They have asked us to open, and now it is up to them."

Greeks professed grim determination at the outset to remain out till the increase is granted, and to draw no pay from the unions meantime, but they have changed front materially in the last few days, and now that they see a chance to go back to work they say openly and freely they will accept it. Many of them got together in an informal way to discuss the change in the situation, and incidentally passed a vote to break away from the strike and return to the mills.

Lives With Bullet In Brain

Glens Falls, N. Y., May 28.—A case which is exciting the interest of the medical profession in northern New York is that of Joseph Bailey of this city, who, since November, has lived with a 22-calibre bullet in his brain. Bailey, who is 19 years old, was shot in a street fight. He has recovered his health, but his mind is a blank, and he is an imbecile.

Becoming Weary of Exile

Middletown, N. Y., May 28.—Eugene B. Quick, the defaulting treasurer of this city, has been heard from in San Francisco. He is said to be anxious to come back. Friends have sent him money and advised his immediate return. In addition to city funds, Quick is charged with taking money belonging to an Odd Fellows' lodge.

To Testify Against Ammon

New York, May 28.—Judge Newburger has signed an order to Warden Johnson at Sing Sing directing that William F. Miller of 520 percent fame be brought here and placed in the tombs until the trial of Robert Ammon is finished. Miller, it is said, will be a witness against Ammon. He is serving a sentence of 10 years.

Middies Raced For Prize

Annapolis, May 28.—The annual catboat race by midshipmen for a prize offered by R. M. Thompson of New York was sailed on the Severn. Four boats, each manned by one midshipman, contested. Midshipman Selfridge won the prize by capturing 25 of the 48 buoys.

THE OLD RELIABLE
ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

COMIC OPERA.

Priscilla Presented by a Local Cast at Music Hall.

There was a good attendance at Music hall Wednesday evening at the presentation of the two-act comic opera "Priscilla" which was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary, No. 8, A. O. H.

The story deals with the proxy wooing of the fair Priscilla by John Alden on behalf of Myles Standish.

Those who made up th chorus were:

Sopranos,—Misses Mary McConarty, Veronica Burke, Kitty Hartery, Zita Barry, Mary Swain, Katherine Higgins, Annie Lyons, Katherine Walsh, Katie Desmond, Eugenie McKenna, Margaret Hastings, Susie McClusky and Mrs. May McClusky.

Altos,—Misses Annie Walsh, Lizzie Garrity, Nettie Sweeny, Julia O'Brien, Lena McConarty.

Tenors,—Messrs. Irving Joy, George Loveday, John McKenna, Patrick O'Brien, John McKenna.

Basses,—Messrs. Aloysius Casey, James Sullivan, Charles Foy, Joseph Malley, James Mullen, Thomas Fitzpatrick, Frank Tate.

Following the entertainment was a dance, at which Timothy J. Carey was floor director and P. J. Ferguson assistant, and the following aids: Thomas F. Carey, Patrick O'Brien, Charles Foye, M. C. Walsh, John McClusky, David Warner and Michael Maher.

School Program.

The Wollaston School will observe its Memorial Day exercises out of doors on Friday at 2 P. M. The following programe has been arranged:

Addresses by Comrades A. H. Maxwell and Asa A. Pope.

"Flowers for the Soldiers," Grade IV.

"Memorial Day," Abby Wilde.

March Song, "Decorating the Monument, by School.

"Memorial Day,"

a. "Heroes Requiem," Twelve Girls.

b. "In Honor of our Dead," Grades VII and VIII.

"Dottie's Thought," Helen Seavey, Grade IV

Patriotic Catechism, Grade VIII, with response from Grade VI, VII, VIII.

"Presentation of new flag, Dr. Record.

Raising flag while all recite, "Up with our Banner Bright," (School.)

Salute flag (School.)

"Star Spangled Banner," (School.)

"God save the Flag, Harold Nash.

"Flag Drill," Twelve pupils Grade V.

Song, "Our own Red, White and Blue," Grade II and III.

Stars and Stripes," (Grade I.)

Song, "Banner of the Free," Grade VIII.

Song, "Our Flag," Edward Bullock.

"Quotations," Ten boys from Grade VII.

"America," School.

TODAY'S COURT.

Henry Leman was fined $3 for drunkenness at Quincy.

Joseph LaBrick was arraigned for creating a disturbance at Music hall. He was found guilty and the case paced on file.

Andrew Raiche was arraigned for assault on James D. McKeon at Quincy. He was found guilty and the case placed on file.

The continued case of Louis Shatzel and Martha J. Carson for lewd and lascivious cohabitation was heard. They were found not guilty and discharged.

Outing for Poor Children.

The Boston Traveler is undertaking a plan to provide a week in the country for a number of poor children in its city. To this end it asks the kindly disposed in each town if they can entertain one or two youngsters for a week at some time during the coming summer. Traveling and all preliminary expenses are met by the paper. To all volunteers will be sent The Daily Traveler for a year as a token of its appreciation Those who feel that they can help in the matter are requested to write to the "Outing Editor," care Traveler, Boston.

The temperature was high this noon and but for the stiff south-west breeze it would have been scorching hot.

The extremes of June temperature last year were 92 and 65. For the last seven years the extremes have been 98 and 55.

—A French company of Alpine riflemen, with full war equipment, recently climbed to the top of Mont Blanc from Chamounix.

CITY BREVITIES.

Rain fell at noon, but more is needed.

The Squantum Inn will open Saturday.

A barge load of coal arrived at Sheppard & Son's Quincy Point wharf this morning.

The new seats on the Atlantic playground have been well patronized since their erection.

Miss Miriam Priest of Old Colony street gave a party to her little friends Wednesday afternoon.

At the Friday evening service at the Congregational church the topic will "Spring Lessons of Life."

The Quincy Yacht club boys expect a fine time tonight at their opening smoker. A pleasing program has been arranged.

A survey is being made in City Square for the double track on Washington street between Temple and Saville streets.

Auctioneer Burke will sell at public auction on Saturday, real estate of Thomas H. O'Brien on Rogers street, West Quincy.

The Edward Hewitson Associates give a concert on Tuesday evening, June 2, and a fine program is looked forward to.

Word has been received that Mrs. Joseph Eaton is very sick in a hospital in California. Her mother, Mrs. Charles Dorman left Wednesday for that place.

Upon motion of Representative Freeman the bill to incorporate the Massachusetts Ship Canal Company was referred Wednesday to the next General Court.

Judge James H. Flint was elected supreme representative for four years of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, at its annual meeting on Wednesday.

The Mission Study club will meet at the Congregational parsonage, Wollaston, on Saturday evening at 7.30 o'clock. Mrs. John B. Cornish will give an illustrated talk upon India.

Thomas Rooney of Hyde Park lost his case in the Superior court at Dedham on Wednesday against the town of Hyde Park, and John Cavanagh & Co., for injuries by fall of a sewer well.

At the Massachusetts Fields school on Friday appropriate exercises will be observed in the different rooms, and the work of the pupils will be on exhibition to those who are interested.

F. E. and H. T. Drake formerly of Quincy are prominent in shoe factory of the W. L. Douglas Co., at Brockton. F. E. Drake is the assistant superintendent and all grievances of employes are made to him, who is authorized to adjust them if possible. If he fails they are referred to the five heads of departments, of which H. T. Drake, the superintendent, is one.

The Magazines.

The ladies' journals of the east have a worthy rival in the California Ladies' Magazine now in its fourth volume. The growth of this monthly has been phenomenal. All the officers and directors are married women, and the journal contains a high class of literature. Land has just been purchased and plans secured for a handsome six-story building to be occupied entirely by the publication. In the May number were half tones of the noted castles of the Old World and many illustrated articles of merit; also, fashions, art, short stories and other departments. Lura B. Starr writes of the Imperial Family of Japan, and Cardinal Gibbons on "Our Christian Heritage." Published at San Francisco.

The June World's Work is the annua "World at Play" number, and it contains many practical articles on timely vacation topics. John R. Spears writes about "The Cup Races," showing that the sport of yacht racing is one of the most practical of possible experiments in naval architecture. Distinctly open-air and refreshing are Edwin Sandy's delightful fishing reminiscences, Dan Beard's practical article on "The Art of Camping," Ralph D. Paine's "To the Arctic in an Automobile," Frank M. Chapman's story of the sport to be had from "Hunting with a Camera," and Henry D. Sedgwick, Jr.'s brilliant word picture of a trip "On Horseback Through the Yellowstone National Park." M. G. Cunniff contributes an interesting article about "The Comforts of Railroad Travel," and Raymond Stevens writes about "The Appalachian Club and Mountain-Climbing," while Grace Gallatin Seton and Walter Camp tell of some of the exciting and memorable summer experiences that they have had.

BOSTON MUSIC HALL.

Carl Hagenbeck's trained animals take possession of the stage at the Boston Music Hall next week, and if reports from New York City and elsewhere may be credited, will prove in more senses than one "a roaring success." It has been eight years since the Hagenbeck show visited this country. At that time it exhibited for many months at the World's Fair in Chicago, and afterward took to the road, playing all of the large cities of the country, including a long engagement in Boston. The present importation is larger in every respect, has more animals and more trainers, and marks another advance in the art of training wild beasts. The entire performance takes place in a circular steel cage that is covered with a heavy net. Whatever may be the danger to the trainers, the audience is perfectly safe. Of principal interest is Herman Boger's big mixed group of lions, tigars, pumas, leopards, panthers, polar bears and Stuttgart hounds. Throughout the entire show there is a well-sustained comedy interest, and certainly as many thrills as the average spectator cares for. The usual daily matinees will be given during the engagement.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS.

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day, - - - 25 cents
" " three days, - - - 50 cents
" " one week, - - - - 75 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

LOST—Angora Cat, female, white and maltese, with small black mark under the chin. Any information will be thankfully received. H. H. HILL, the Weeks-Hill Pharmacy.
Quincy, May 25. tf

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve (12) rooms, with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. May 16-1m

FOR SALE—Two acres of land and house, within 5 minutes' walk of central railroad station. Taxed for $2,200. Will sell for $1,800 if taken within 10 days. Address FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street, Quincy, Mass.
May 21. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

WANTED.

WANTED—Strong B y to care for horses, wagons, etc.
Apply, W. G. Shaw,
GUY'S COLISEUM.
Quincy, May 26. 3t

WANTED—Young man as assistant bookkeeper and stenographer. A portion of time to be devoted to collecting. A permanent position, with advancement in view for a trustworthy young man. Address, stating age and salary willing to start on, K, Ledger office.
Quincy, May 25. tf

WANTED—A few persons desiring good board and room. Apply at 4 Johnson avenue, opposite Adams Academy; five minutes from Quincy depot, one minute from electrics.
Quincy, May 25. 6t

MEN, not under 25 years, to call on old and new customers. No delivering. Position permanent to the right party. Pay weekly. GLEN BROTHERS, Rochester, N. Y.
April 23. 6w--thurs. sat. tues.

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London and Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON.
Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Decker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5 tf

TO LET.

HOUSE TO LET—No. 10 Mill street, off Washington, 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace. All modern improvements. Apply, C. W. GAREY, M. D, 1247 Hancock street.
May 28. tf

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy.
April 8. w. th. s. m.--tf

TO LET—A House of eight rooms and bath, opposite Adams Academy, Johnson avenue; 16 Faxon avenue, House of 9 rooms and bath. All improvements. Two minutes from R. R. Station. Also plastered Shore Cottage of 10 rooms and bath, hot and cold water, Great Hill, Quincy. FANNIE M. TAYLOR, 176 Federal street, Boston, Mass.
May 25. 6t

FOR RENT--By a young married couple without children, furnished house this summer. Best of references. Parties going to the beach will find this a good opportunity to leave their home in responsible care. Address, H. H., Ledger office. Quincy, May 19-tf

STABLE TO LET—25x32 feet. 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street.
Quincy, April 21. tf

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.
Quincy, April 9. 1p-tf

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

NEW STORES TO LET.

A BUILDING will be erected at once by N. G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information enquire of N. G. NICKERSON. Quincy, May 12-tf

The Quincy Ledger
FOR SALE AT THE
South Terminal Station News Stand
After 3.35 P. M.

Quincy Daily Ledger.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS
and at the following places:

BOSTON—Terminal News Stand after 3.35.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock St.
Hartwell's Periodical Store, 1 Granite St.
Henry P. Kittredge, City Square.
Rogers Bros., Hancock St.
J P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
C F. Carlson, near Quincy depot.
A. F. Hall, 128 Washington St., near Canal.
QUINCY POINT—Miss Freeman's store
Sprague & Hobart, Washington cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—P. L. Litchfield, Water St.
W. E. Nightingale 80 Water street.
O. D. Chick, 59 Liberty St.
WEST QUINCY—Coram's Periodical Store.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's news stand.
WOLLASTON PARK—C. E. Hosmer, cor. Hancock and Beach streets.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branscheid & Marten.
ATLANTIC—Branscheid & Marten.
HOUGHS NECK—Arthur Dunham at P. O.
EAST MILTON—William Clark.
EAST WEYMOUTH—George H. Hunt.
WEYMOUTH—J. R. Walsh.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—B. F. Thomas.

1903			MAY			1903
Su.	Mo.	Tu.	We.	Th.	Fr.	Sa.
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24 31	25	26	27	28	29	30

MOON'S PHASES.

First Quarter 4 2:26 a.m. | Third Quarter 19 10:18 a.m.
Full Moon 11 8:15 a.m. | New Moon 26 5:56 p.m.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The hay knife and machete manufacturing plant of Clark & Parsons at South Wilton, Me., was destroyed, together with an adjoining dwelling house. The loss is about $3000.

Governor Bates of Massachusetts has signed the bill to prohibit the sale or distribution of trading stamps or similar devices. The act takes effect Oct. 1, 1903.

The 6-year-old child of Mr and Mrs. James Shaunnessey of Central Village, Conn., is dead as a result of burns sustained by setting its clothing afire while playing with matches.

Exercises were held in Fall River city hall in connection with the placing of a tablet upon a building marking the spot where the "skeleton in armor," immortalized by Longfellow in his poem of that name, was found.

Manville Strikers Arrested

Woonsocket, R. I., May 28.—The first arrests in connection with the strike since the Manville company's mule spinners went out were made when officers took Antoine Desmanais and Edward Andrew, striking mule spinners, in custody on charges of intimidation and conspiracy. The warrants alleged that they intimidated and conspired to prevent a man from pursuing employment at the Manville company mills for compensation which suited him. The men pleaded not guilty and furnished sureties for their appearance at a hearing next Monday.

Employers Refuse Demands

New London, Conn., May 28.—A petition demanding a nine-hour day with a half holiday on Saturday at the present pay for a 10-hour day was presented to the officers of the Eastern Shipbuilding company by a committee representing 400 employes. The request embodied in the petition was refused.

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.

Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

SHOULD MOVE SLOWLY

Not Time For America to Protest to Russia

CLEVELAND GIVES ADVICE

As to Dealing With Kishineff Massacre and Reminds Us of a Few Shortcomings at Home—Must Not Be Swift In Assuming Russia's Guilt

New York, May 28.—Carnegie hall was packed last night, the occasion being the indignation mass meeting to protest against the massacre of the Hebrews at Kishineff. The announcement that former President Grover Cleveland would speak lent additional interest to the gathering.

Letters and telegrams sympathizing with the objects of the meeting from Lyman Abbott, John F. Dillon, Carl Schurtz, Senator T. C. Platt and others.

When Mayor Low introduced Mr. Cleveland there was a roar of applause and the audience arose and cheered, waved handkerchiefs and gave Mr. Cleveland a royal welcome. Mr. Cleveland said in part:

"Every American humane sentiment has been shocked by a late attack on the Jews in Russia; an attack murderous, atrocious and in every way revolting. As members of the family of mankind, and as citizens of a free nation, we are here to give voice to the feeling that should stir every true man and every American worthy of the name. There is something intensely horrible in the wholesale murder of unoffending, defenseless men, women and children, who have been tacitly, if not expressly, assured of safety under the protection of a professedly civilized government. Such things give rise to a distressing fear that even the enlightenment of the 20th century has neither destroyed nor subdued the barbarity of human nature.

"We, and all our countrymen, protest in the strongest language at our command, and with the moral force which our American citizenship gives us, against these murders and outrages, and we insist that swift and condign punishment ought to be visited upon their barbarous perpetrators. We will, in a fashion quite American, and with an open handedness always displayed when human distress appeals to us, assist the families made headless and robbed of support by murder and those who, wounded and terrorized, and in hunger and want, have been driven from their homes.

"I desire to avoid sounding a discordant note, but yet I cannot refrain from the suggestion that the moral effect of our protest and the usefulness of this demonstration will not be lessened if we require indubitable proof before we accuse the government of Russia with guilty complicity in the crimes committed within her borders; and it seems to me we may well consider the proper relationship between nations before we demand the pronounced interference on the part of our own government. I do not say that the Russian government may not, by sins of omission or commission, be justly deserving of our condemnation; but we should not be swift to assume this, when we remember that we ourselves have found it impossible to prevent mob violence and murderous assaults in Wyoming and upon Italians in Louisiana. I am distinctly and unequivocally in favor of informing our government in unmistakeable terms of our indignant and deep condemnation of the late outrages upon the Jews in Russia, but I hope that in obedience to the dictates of American conservatism and moderation, which are never long obscured, we may be even now just and fair, and that we will be content to forego perplexing and extreme demands upon our government for violent action. Our public servants should hear us speak; but we certainly ought to be justified in trusting the care of our national honor and duty in the premises, and the enforcement of the humane instincts of our people so far as this may be within governmental action, to those charged with the responsibility of managing our public affairs.

"In the meantime let the people of the United States, gathered together in such an assemblage as this, in every part of the land, fearlessly speak to the civilized world, protesting against every pretense of civilization that permits medieval persecution; against every bigoted creed that forbids religious toleration and freedom of conscience, against all false enlightenment that excuses hatred and cruelty towards any race of men, and against all spurious forms of government protection that withholds from any human being the right to live in safety and toil in peace."

Mr. Cleveland at the conclusion of his address was applauded for nearly five minutes and was compelled to rise and bow several times.

President Schurman of Cornell denounced the massacre and the reasons advanced by way of justifying it. Rev. Robert S. McArthur and E. M. Shepard also spoke and resolutions were adopted denouncing the massacre, urging the claim of the Jews in Russia to just treatment and protection, and declaring "that the people of the United States should exercise such influence with the government of Russia as the ancient and unbroken friendship between the two nations may justify to stay the spirit of persecution, to redress the injuries inflicted upon the Jews of Kishineff, and to prevent the recurrence of outbreaks such as have amazed the civilized world."

A Gift of $40,000

Lowell, Mass., May 28.—The directors of the Young Women's Christian association have received a gift of $40,000 from Frederick F. Ayer of New York to be used for the construction of a new building. The association has already, through the generosity of Mr. Buttrick of this city and his sister, acquired the old John Street church property, and Ayer's gift will enable them to remodel the building.

Moccasin Made Fine Showing

Newport, R. I., May 28.—The submarine torpedo boat Moccasin made a remarkable submerged run of 1½ hours' duration under the waters of Narragansett bay under command of Lieutenant Pirney, who had charge of a naval crew practically new to this class of craft. Both the boat and the men made an admirable showing.

Justice of Peace Called Upon

West Derry, N. H., May 28.—The officials of the First parish, East Derry, having refused to issue a call for a special meeting of the parish upon the petition of the parish upon the petition of the question of dismissal of the pastor, a warrant was issued last night by a justice of the peace for a meeting to be held June 13.

Woman Suffrage Sympathizers

Boston, May 28.—The New England Women's Suffrage association, at its annual meeting, heard letters of a strongly sympathetic character from Senator Hoar, ex-Governor Long and Governor Garvin of Rhode Island. An article written by Ralph Waldo Emerson, strongly commending woman suffrage, was also read.

Burglars Worked Unmolested

Stillwater, R. I., May 28.—The safe in the Centredale worsted mill and that in the grist mill of Congressman Calson were blown open by expert cracksmen, but not more than $60 booty was secured. The burglars apparently went about their work in a leisurely way. They departed undetected.

Fell From Telegraph Pole

Whitman, Mass., May 28.—While attempting to string a beaner across a street Charles Lord fell from the top of a telegraph pole and was killed. It is supposed he came in contact with a live wire. His neck was broken and death was instantaneous.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Friday, May 29.
Sun rises—4:12; sets—7:11.
Moon sets—9:51 p. m.
High water—12:45 a. m.; 1:15 p. m.

Wind velocities ranging from 40 to 48 miles an hour were recorded in the lake region. Showers are indicated for New England. It will be somewhat warmer. Storm warnings are displayed on the coast from Baltimore to Eastport.

BOUTWELL'S REPLY

To Request For Contribution to Jackson Memorial Fund

Boston, May 28.—Former Governor Boutwell, in acknowledging the receipt of a letter inviting him to contribute to the $500,000 fund which it is proposed to use for a memorial to Thomas Jefferson, says he would not make a contribution to a memorial for either Jefferson or George Washington until by progress of events "it became apparent that the principles for which they contended, which are embodied in the Declaration of Independence and illustrated in the organization of this government, had been vindicated and their authority re-established." He further says that under lead of President McKinley "the policy of an empire has been introduced and the doctrines set forth in the Declaration of Independence have been abandoned, if not repudiated.

"There is a manifest inconsistency in the attempt now making by the people of the United States to erect a permanent memorial to Thomas Jefferson and a permanent memorial to William McKinley. In my judgment there should be delay as to each of them until the people of this country have had full opportunity to make a decision and shall have made a decision of the question whether this government is to be re-established as a republic or whether it is to continue as a republic, or whether it is to continue as an empire on the foundation laid by President McKinley."

Fears For Blueberry Crop

Harrington, Me., May 28.—The long continued drought, followed by the severe frosts of the past few days, has caused fears that the blueberry crop in this section, which is the centre which supplies the markets of the United States with canned blueberries, will be seriously affected. In event of a failure of the crop this and neighboring towns would suffer severely. Hundreds of residents depend largely upon the profits made during the blueberry season for a living during the remainder of the year.

Blackburn's Latest Venture

Gloucester, Mass., May 28.—Captain Howard Blackburn, the navigator who has already twice crossed the Atlantic ocean single-handed and who has also crossed the United States via the Hudson river, the Great lakes, Mississippi river and the gulf as far as Cuba, is about to make a fourth venture of this kind. He intends to sail from this port for Havre, France, on June 7. The dimensions of his new craft are 15 feet 6 inches over all, 5 feet beam, and 18 inches in depth.

Maine Banks Flourishing

Augusta, Me., May 28.—The semi-annual statement of the condition of the savings banks, trust and banking companies and loan and building associations in Maine for the six months ending April 25, 1903, shows that the resources of the savings banks aggregate $79,673,069.89, as against $77,855,815.64 in October of last year, a gain of $1,819,254.29. The trust and banking companies have gained $414,168.32, and the loan and building associations have lost $49,345.30.

SPILLER'S GOLDEN COUGH BALSAM
THE KIND THAT CURES

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Inflammation of the Lungs, Lagrippe and Whooping Cough. It soothes the Cough of Consumuption, and is excellent for all Lung Trobles. Try it. For sale by Weeks & Hill, Quincy. Mass. Price 25 cents.
If goods fail to give satisfaction, money refunded.

W. G. CHUBBUCK
Furniture and Piano Mover,
IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.
JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.
lp-tf Address, QUINCY, MASS.

This is what Ayer's Hair Vigor does: Restores color to gray hair, makes the hair grow, stops falling, cures dandruff. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

W. A. BRADFORD.
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,
Jobbing Promptly Attended To.
ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F. Crane's Store. Old Telephone Number, 122-2.
April 21. tf

STRAW HATS.
WE HAVE A FINE LINE OF THE LATEST STYLES.
OUR $1.00 to $3.00 HATS
ARE ALL OF THE POPULAR
LAMSON & HUBBARD MAKE OUTING CAPS
In all Shapes and Colors,
25c., 50c., 75c., $1.00, $1.50.
HEADQUARTERS FOR THE
QUINCY YACHT CLUB CAP.
GEORGE W. JONES,
Adams Building, - QUINCY.

TO LET
IN QUINCY, MASS.,
By H. H. FAXON.
HOUSES, STORES, HALL, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES,
Land, Wharves, etc.
Buildings are in Complete Repair

Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.
House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.
Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.
Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc., No. 92 School street, $12 per month.
Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.
Stable, junction School and Franklin streets, $4 per month.
Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.
Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.
Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.
For particulars apply to
HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, May 13, 1903. Quincy, Mass. 1m

CHICHESTER'S ENG.
PENNYROYAL PILLS
Original and Only Genuine.
SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," as letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Square, PHILA., PA.
Mention this paper.

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!
OF ALL KINDS.
DRY AND GREEN
At Lowest Possible Prices.
THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.
ard of Miller and West Streets, West Quincy
Jan. 7. tf

If you are thinking of
BUYING A HOUSE
OR A
LOT OF LAND,
Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.
WALTER E. BURKE.
Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE
HAS OPENED AN
Employment Office
At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm
Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.
Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

ERIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.
Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass.
May 7. 1m

Reupholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE
HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.
Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.
Call and get Prices.
C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.
Quincy, May 2. 1m

MASON WORK
OF ALL KINDS
Done in the Best Manner
At Reasonable Prices by
C. B. HUSTON & CO.,
4 High School Avenue.
Having had many years' experience we can give perfect satisfaction.
All orders promptly attended to.
C. B. HUSTON,
D. H. CLEARY,
F. A. SOUTHER.
Quincy, May 23. 1m

FRANK F. CRANE
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER.
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17. t

JAMES F. BURKE.
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5. tf

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

On and after May 17, 1903, trains will run as follows:

[Subject to change without notice.]

TO BOSTON. Leave Quincy.	Stops at	Arrive Boston.	FROM BOSTON Leave Boston.	Stops at	Arrive Quincy.
r *5 19	abcdefghi	5 47	*5 50	ihgfedcba	6 19 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 26	ad	7 45	8 28	cba	8 49 r
r 7 42	abc	8 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 7 54	abcde	8 15	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 8 12	abc	8 32	10 28	cba	10 49 r
r 8 26	abd	8 45	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 8 46	at cd	9 05	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	12 58	cba	1 19 r
r 9 42	abc	10 02	1 28	cba	1 49r
r 10 12	abc	10 32	1 58	cba	2 19 r
r 10 42	abc	11 02	2 28	cba	2 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32	2 45	cba	3 06 r
r 12 12	abc	12 32	3 28	cba	3 49 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 45	cba	4 06 r
r 1 42	abc	2 02	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 2 12	abc	2 32	4 45	edcba	5 06 r
r 3 12	abc	3 32	5 15	dba	5 36 r
r 3 42	abc	4 02	5 28	cba	5 49 r
r 4 12	abc	4 32	5 45	edcba	6 06 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 58	cba	6 19 r
r 5 29	abcdefghi	5 57	6 15	da	6 36 r
r 6 12	abc	6 32	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 6 42	abc	7 02	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	7 28	cba	7 49 r
r 7 39	abcdefghi	8 07	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	9 28	cba	9 49 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 48	fedcba	10 53 r
r 9 34	abcdefghi	10 02	10 50	ihgfedcba	11 19 r
r 10 08	abcdef	10 32	11 28	cba	11 49 r
r 11 12	abc	11 32

SUNDAYS.

r 7 42	abc	8 02	6 28	cba	6 49 r
r 8 42	abc	9 02	8 58	cba	9 19 r
r 9 12	abc	9 32	10 16	ihgfedcba	10 43 r
9 33	a	9 51	12 28	cba	12 49 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 44	2 16	ihgfedcba	2 46 r
r 1 12	abc	1 32	3 16	ihgfedcba	3 46 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 44	4 28	cba	4 49 r
r 5 12	abc	5 32	5 28	cba	5 49 r
r 6 03	abcdefghi	6 30	6 58	cba	7 19 r
r 7 12	abc	7 32	8 28	fedcba	8 53 r
r 8 08	abcdef	8 32	8 43	(ex.)	9 00
r 10 18	abcdef	10 42	10 28	fedcba	10 53 r

• The letters in the same line as the figure stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a. Wollaston, b, Norfolk Downs, c, Atlantic, d, Neponset, e, Pope's Hill, f, Harrison Square. g, Savin Hill. h, Crescent Avenue. i, South Boston. r, Quincy Adams.

Greatest Values of the Year----Two Chances to Make Money.

FIRST.
Dollars Invested by you Now
IN THE FINEST HOUSE LOTS
IN
The FORE RIVER DISTRICT
MEANS HUNDREDS
IN THE NEAR FUTURE.

AT THE Mammoth Sale of Choice House Lots
AT
BIGELOW PARK
EVERY AFTERNOON THIS WEEK.

SECOND.
YOU HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY
To Obtain ABSOLUTELY FREE
ONE OF THE HUNDREDS OF ELEGANT PRESENTS
TO BE GIVEN AWAY.

What the President of the Fore River Ship Works says:
"500 New Houses will be needed in the vicinity of Quincy Point during the next year."

What the Real Estate Men of Quincy will tell you:
Impossible to supply the demand for Houses in the Fore River District now.

WHAT THE TENANTS SAY:
Rents are jumping away up in the air and it is impossible to find houses to rent at almost any price.

WHAT WE ASK: Can you afford to miss this opportunity to obtain a home on our terms?

Small Amount Down on a Lot and $1 per Week.

Just Think This Over--Come and Inspect The Property--It Can't Cost You Anything to do This--It Means Dollars to You--This Applies to the Single as well as the Married Man---Start Now.

SALE EVERY AFTERNOON THIS WEEK,---May 25 to May 30, 1903.

SWITHIN BROS., Quincy, Mass.

Blistering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE
ATTRESSES RENOVATED
and Made Over.
ken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.
Call and get Prices.
OWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.
ay 2. 1m

SON WORK
OF ALL KINDS
n the Best Manner Reasonable Prices by HUSTON & CO.,
igh School Avenue.
d many years' experience we can satisfaction.
promptly attended to.
C. B. HUSTON,
D. H. CLEARY,
F. A. SOUTHER.
ay 23. 1m

NK F. CRANE
EAL ESTATE, APPRAISER.
estnut Street, Quincy, Mass
t

ES F. BURKE.
TATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
e Peace. Notary Public
4, Savings Bank Building,
tf

York, New Haven
Hartford R. R.
ter May 17, 1903, trains will run ct to change without notice.]

STON.	FROM BOSTON
s Arrive Boston.	Leave Stops Boston.	Arrive at Quincy.
efghi 5 47	*5 50 ibgfedcba	6 19 r
6 32	6 28 cba	6 49 r
7 02	6 58 cba	7 19 r
7 32	7 28 cba	7 49 r
7 45	8 28 cba	8 49 r
8 02	8 58 cba	9 19 r
te 8 15	9 28 cba	9 49 r
8 32	10 28 cba	10 49 r
8 45	11 28 cba	11 49 r
9 05	12 28 cba	12 49 r
9 32	12 58 cba	1 19 r
10 02	1 28 cba	1 49r
10 32	1 58 cba	2 19 r
11 02	2 28 cba	2 49 r
11 32	2 45 cba	3 06 r
12 32	3 28 cba	3 49 r
1 32	3 45 cba	4 06 r
2 02	4 28 cba	4 49 r
2 32	4 45 edcba	5 06 r
3 32	5 15 dba	5 36 r
4 02	5 28 cba	5 49 r
4 32	5 45 edcba	6 06 r
5 32	5 58 cba	6 19 r
efghi 5 57	6 15 da	6 36 r
6 32	6 28 cba	6 49 r
7 02	6 58 cba	7 19 r
7 32	7 28 cba	7 49 r
eighi 8 07	8 28 fedcba	8 53 r
ief 8 32	9 28 cba	9 49 r
9 32	10 28 fedcba	10 53 r
efghi 10 02	10 50 ihgfedeba	11 19 r
ief 10 32	11 28 cba	11 49 r
11 32

SUNDAYS.

8 02	6 28 cba	6 49 r
9 02	8 58 cba	9 19 r
9 32	10 16 ihgfedcba	10 46 r
9 51	12 28 cba	12 49 r
efghi 11 44	2 16 ihgfedcba	2 46 r
1 32	3 16 ihgfedcba	3 46 r
efghi 4 44	4 28 cba	4 49 r
5 32	5 28 cba	5 49 r
efghi 6 30	6 58 cba	7 19 r
7 32	8 28 fedcba	8 53 r
iet 8 32	8 43 (ex.)	9 00
iet 10 42	10 28 fedcba	10 53 r

ters in the same line as the figure ifferent stations and indicate that s follows:

on,	f, Harrison Square.
Downs,	g, Savin Hill.
,	h, Crescent Avenue.
et,	i, South Boston.
Hill.	r, Quincy Adams.

ITY
REE
OS
S ou--

SS.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 126. QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 29, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

$5.00 REWARD.

A $5.00 reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person detected breaking any street lamp belonging to THE CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Per order of the Directors,
C. W. MORSE, Pres
April 9-2m 11-2m

DR. FENIMORE S. ANDREWS,
DENTIST.
67 Franklin Street, Pixel Block.
Doble's Corner, Quincy Adams.
Office Hours: 9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M
Also Tuesday and Friday Evenings, 7 to 9
Telephone 175-2.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1y

QUINCY DENTAL PARLORS.
FIRST CLASS DENISTRY.
At Lowest Prices. Gas and Ether Administered. Reasonable—Reliable—Responsible.
Office Hours, 9 to 5. Open Monday and Friday Evenings. City Square, opposite Fountain, Quincy. Tel. 45-9.
FREE EXAMINATIONS.
Feb, 2. 1 1y- p-6mos.

DR. G. R. ENGLAND,
DENTIST.
21 Chestnut Street.
Telephone 126-5.
Quincy, Oct. 1. 1p-tf

DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN
DENTIST,
Opposite Post Office,
1355 Hancock St., Quincy.
Office Hours: 8.30 to 12.30 and 1.30 to 5 Evening 7 to 8, except Wednesday and Friday
Jan. 31. tf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner.
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1429 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass.
Telephone 35-5 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

C. H. PRESCOTT,
EXPERIENCED
Piano Tuner and Repairer.
Prompt attention and thorough work. Connected by Telephone. Address 373 Silver street, South Boston. Dec. 11-6m

FRANK F. CRANE
REAL ESTATE,
AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER
Office, 4 Chestnut Street, Quincy, Mass
Aug. 17. t

JAMES F. BURKE.
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE,
MORTGAGES.
Justice of the Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building,
June 5.

ERIC G. BERGFORS
Carpenter and Builder.
Plans and Estimates furnished at short notice
Jobbing promptly attended to.
HOUSES FOR SALE.
0 Nightingale Avenue, Quincy, Mass.
May 7. 1m

SMOKE THE
COVERNESS.
UNION MADE.
Best 5 Cent Cigar in the Market, Long Filler and Sumatra Wrapper for sale by all dealers
Manufactured by
P. A. NELSON,
59 Granite Street.
Quincy, Nov. 11. 1y

Glenwood Ranges
Make Cooking Easy.
H. L. KINCAIDE & CO., QUINCY, MASS.

GRAND FAIR
IN AID OF THE
QUINCY HOSPITAL,
At the Residence of MISS BEALE Adams Street,
ON THURSDAY, JUNE 11th,
Afternoon and Eveuing, beginning at 2 o'clock
PROCEEDS TO BE DEVOTED TO THE NURSES' HOME.
Admission 50 cents. Children under 12 years, 25 cents.
An invitation is extended to all who are interested in the welfare of the hospital and in providing a nurses' home.
May 22. 1-tf--p-2w

FRESH FROM THE MINES.
CARGOES OF
White Ash Stove.
White Ash Egg.
Shamokin Stove.
Shamokin Egg.
Lehigh Egg.
Webster Nut.
C. PATCH & SON.
Quincy, April 23. tf

Step Into
Whale Hose in the morning, and you've "stepped into a good thing" for all day long. Perfect comfort, stylish appearance, and great durability, are the qualities always found in every pair of
Whale Hose
Made in black, russet, and all the popular colors. Do not fade or stain. By mail, 1 pair 20c.; 2 pairs 35c. Five cents brings patent hose supports and catalogue.
CORNELL STOCKING CORPORATION
New Bedford, Mass.
Look for the whale.

Feeling tired out?
Appetite Poor?
Get up in the morning feeling that your night's rest has done you no good?
What you need is a Spri
Try a bottle of
ELIXIR BARK AND IRON.
60 cts per bottle.
CHARLES C. HEARN.
PHARMACIST,
1295 Hancock Street, Quincy.

EARLY SUMMER GOODS.
White Shirt Waists, from 69c. to $1.75
Shirt Waist Suits, $1.25
Ladies' and Children's Summer Underwear,
In a variety of Styles and Prices.
Fancy Stocks, Choux, White Mull Ties, Wrist Bags, Fancy Ribbons for sashes and neckwear.
These goods are New, Fresh and at prices that will please you
C. S. HUBBARD.
City Square, Quincy.

ANOTHER JOSIAH.

Son Born in France to Ex-Mayor and Mrs. Quincy.

News reached Quincy today of the birth of a son to Hon. and Mrs. Josiah Quincy in Biarritz, France, on Friday, May 15. Both mother and babe are doing nicely.

Mr. Quincy was recently Mayor of Boston and was born in this city. Mrs. Quincy was the widow of W. R. Tyler of this city.

There is probably rejoicing that the new arrival is a boy, not only to perpetuate the name of "Quincy," but also "Josiah:" for there have been five in succession in the family of the name of Josiah Quincy:

1—Josiah, the famous patriot.
2—Josiah, the statesman.
3—Josiah, Mayor of Boston.
4—Josiah Phillips, the author.
5—Josiah, the happy father and also a Mayor of Boston.

Of course it will be Josiah, the baby, but the Ledger has received no official information as to the name.

In an interesting series of illustrated sketches of "Noted sons and noted fathers" in the Boston Journal of September, 1893, appeared the following:

"For almost as many generations as are contained in two centuries, the name of Quincy has ranked high in public estimation. With an exception or two, every generation to which the name has passed has produced a man who has at least preserved the prominence first attached to it. The name of Massachusetts has been inseparably connected with that of the family, each reflecting honor on the other.

"But the living generation has seen a change. With the last male representative of the family the name may pass away and become embalmed in historical immortality. Although the Josiah Quincy of today is fast approaching his prime (born in 1859), his life in recent years has been exclusively spent in attaining political positions. It is quite possible this extinction may be averted. The smileless bachelor, the last of his name, may tire of his loneliness."

Mr. and Mrs. Quincy were married in 1900.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by all Druggists.

Lecture at Weymouth.

On Wednesday evening Miss Ellen M. Stone gave an entertainment and thrilling account of her experience in the hands of the brigands in Bulgaria. The lecture was announced to be held in the Unitarian church and the proceeds were for the benefit of the Congregational society who recently lost their meeting house by fire. So many tickets were sold that the audience adjourned to the more commodious Odd Fellows hall which was well filled by an intelligent company from the Weymouths and neighboring villages. Miss Stone is an easy speaker and her experience was an absolutely unique one which makes a dramatic story. All present must have felt well repaid and a handsome sum was realized for the fund of the new Congregational church.

Edwin F. Porter.

A message was received from Burlington, Vt., Thursday evening announcing the death at the Burlington hotel of Edwin F. Porter of South Braintree. Death came without warning at 3.45 P. M. Mr. Porter was 42 years old last September. He is survived by a devoted wife, formerly Miss Eva Bishop, and their daughter Emily. Mr. Porter was a good salesman in the employ of the Rossely Brewing Co. of Roxbury.

THE SOCIAL REALM.

Dead in the battle—dead on the field;
More than his life can a soldier yield?
Dead for his country. Muffle the drums;
Slowly the said procession comes.
The heart may ache, but the heart must swell
With pride for the soldier who fought so well.
His blood has burnished his sabre bright;
To his memory, honor: to him, good night.
—Elizabeth Harmon.

• • •

It is said that Mr. Ernest Gourd, whose engagement to Miss Edith Belle Forsaith of Antrim, N. H., was recently announced, has purchased the house on Goffe street, opposite the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann. The wedding of the young people will not take place until late summer or early fall.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Burleigh E. Pratt, nee Bishop, of Franklin street, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, born on Sunday, the twenty-fourth. Mr. L. M. Pratt is also receiving congratulations, although he hardly looks old enough to be a grandfather.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Horace H. Bemis of Atlantic announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen E. Bemis, to Mr. H. Preston Titton of North Easton.

• • •

Judging from the long list of acceptances, the flag raising and the reception to Gov. Bates at the John Adams birthplace on Saturday afternoon, June thirteenth, will be one of the nicest of the many pleasant affairs given by the Daughters of the Revolution since their organization a few years ago.

• • •

Miss Mary Flint and sister, Miss Emma Flint of the Granite house, East Milton, sail next week for England to spend the summer in travel on the continent.

• • •

The friends of Miss Ethel Frances Babcock, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Babcock, of Presidents hill, are congratulating her on her success at the Boston Art School, she having been awarded a scholarship and a prize of thirty dollars for excellence of work. Miss Babcock has a good record, winning a prize last year. Next year she will finish her course, and her friends anticipate a successfull career for this skillful young artist.

• • •

Mrs. H. E. Burns has charge of the Mothers' meeting at Bethany chapel on Wednesday afternoon, when the subject for discussion will be "How to be happy—six receipts."

• • •

Rev. and Mrs. Randall T. Capen, nee Barbour, who were married early this month, at the home of the bride, Woilaston Park, are at home to friends after June first at 10 West Gilman street, Madison, Wisconsin.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Tisdale (Addie Newcomb) formerly of East Milton, have returned from Maine where they have been spending the month of May and have gone to Providence, R. I., where they are to make their home as Mr. Tisdale's business interests call him there.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Howland of Adams street expect to sail for England in June to visit their daughter Mrs. Lister.

• • •

The June meeting of Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution is to be held on Monday afternoon at half-past two at the John Adams birthplace, which will be the last regular meeting until fall.

• • •

Mrs. John Chisholm of Washington street, leaves on Monday for Nova Scotia, where she will remain for several weeks.

(Continued on page 3.)

Spring Wheat,

from which Pillsbury's Best Flour is made—grown in the Red River Valley of the North, Minnesota, North and South Dakota—is best in the world for flour.

You certainly do not know how generally disagreeable you make yourself, or you would stop coughing. No one can read or rest in the same house with you. Can't stop it? Then we must tell you about

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

No medicine like it for stopping coughs, healing sore lungs, quieting inflammation in the bronchial tubes, and preventing serious lung troubles. Ask your doctor if he could give better advice.
J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

"Last fall I contracted a severe cold on my lungs which continued spite of all I could do. I then tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and was quickly relieved. I am now perfectly well."
Miss Emma Miller, Fort Snelling, Minn.

Electric Call Bell
Wired Complete $2.50 Guaranteed One Year.
Repairing Guaranteed.
A. RUSSELL JONES,
1362 Hancock Street, Quincy.
May 27. 1po-tt

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!
OF ALL KINDS.
DRY AND GREEN
At Lowest Possible Prices.
THOS. O'BRIEN & SONS.
3rd and Miller and Vine Streets, West Quincy
Jan. 7. tf

WATCH US GROW.
WE ARE HERE TO STAY.
$3.50
For Twenty-One Meal Ticket . . At Co-operative Dining Rooms
3 Granite Street, Quincy,
"Right in the Heart of the City."
Call in and talk it over.
mar.16-21--2m

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.
BUY YOUR
Hot Weather Goods
—OF—
D. E. Wadsworth & Co.
And get your COLD SODA
FREE.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE.

Best Hard Wood
CHARCOAL,
10 cts. Bag.
Boston Branch Grocery,
L. M. PRATT & SON.

JOHN STREIFERD & SON,
FLORISTS.
Telephone 13-7 Braintree.
Cut flowers, Bedding and foliage plant, Funeral orders. Weymouth Landing cars pass greenhouse, cor. Quincy avenue and Hayward street, East Braintree.
Orders taken by Charles C. Hearn, Pharmacist, Quincy Square. jan26-1y

TO LET
IN QUINCY, MASS.,
By H. H. FAXON.
HOUSES, STORES, HALL, ROOMS, OFFICES, STABLES,
Land, Wharves, etc.
Buildings are in Complete Repair

Large hall, city water, No. 1355 Hancock street, on the public square.
House, 10 rooms, city water, in fine condition, No. 56 Coddington street. Rent, $20 per month.
Half House, 6 rooms, city water, No. 11 Revere Road, $15 per month.
Tenement, 4 rooms, city water, stable, etc., No. 92 School street, $12 per month.
Three tenements, 3 to 5 rooms each, Nos. 15, 17 and 19 Kidder street, $6 to $9 per month.
Stable, junction School and Franklin streets, $4 per month.
Basement, head of Granite street, city water, $5 per month.
Wharf, blacksmith shop, stone shed, etc., Quincy Neck.
Windows, blinds, grout and gravel for sale.
For particulars apply to
HENRY H. FAXON,
Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, May 13, 1903. 1m

WALL PAPER—Latest Designs, 3c. up. Room papered $1.75, everything found. Call, V. Kesselman, 76 Portland Street, Boston. Tel. 2181—8 Haymarket. Sept.16-1y

Reupholstering
OF ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE
HAIR MATTRESSES RENOVATED
And Made Over.
Carpets taken up, cleaned by hand and relaid.
Call and get Prices.
C. H. TOWER, 182 Howard St Tel. 64-4.
Quincy, May 2. 1m

Ins and Outs of Overcoats.

OUT OF THE WINTER COAT INTO THE SPRING WEIGHT
is already the tendency these sunny days. We have a great variety of goods suitable for Spring Overcoats in mixtures, coverts, etc., which we can make to your satisfaction.....
PRICES FROM $20.00 UPWARDS
M. L. MORTON, Tailor,
3 High Street, Cor. Summer,
BOSTON, MASS
Three minutes from South Station.

Quincy Daily Ledger

ESTABLISHED IN 1889.

THE ONLY DAILY in Norfolk County Massachusetts.

Published Every Evening, Sundays and Holidays Excepted, At No. 1424 HANCOCK ST., City of Quincy, Mass., by

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Successors to Green & Prescott.

Subscription Price, $6.00 per year

☞ A discount at $1 when paid in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF

The Quincy Patriot.

A Weekly Established in 1837, which has the Largest Circulation in Norfolk County, and the

Braintree Observer and Reporter

A Weekly Established in 1878.

Copy for changes of advertisements in the Ledger should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

TELEPHONE, 78-3 QUINCY.

Quincy Temperature at Noon.

	This Week.	Last Week.	In 1902.	In 1901.	In 1900.
Sunday,	58	79	83	72	67
Monday,	64	86	77	49	62
Tuesday,	69	90	80	59	68
Wednesday,	80	78	76	53	55
Thursday,	83	86	70	62	57
Friday,	83	85	65	58	76
Saturday,	—	70	60	49	82

New Advertisements Today.

Hancock Market—Holiday Notice.
F. D. Fellows Co.—Summer Clothing.
Harbor and Land Commissions' Notice.

HOLIDAY NOTICE.

The office of the Daily Ledger will be closed on Saturday, Memorial Day, no paper being issued.

The usual Saturday features will appear in the Friday Ledger, and news should be forwarded early.

HOLIDAY EVENTS.

PATRIOTIC.

9 A. M.—Camp Boyd service at West Quincy.
10 A. M.—G. A. R. service at West Quincy.
12 M.—Dinner to Veterans at Hancock hall.
2 P. M.—Service in City Square.
2.30 P. M.—Service at Mt. Wollaston Cemetery.

SPORTS, Etc.

9.30 A. M.—West Quincys vs. Cambridge Reds at West Quincy.
10 A. M.—Quincys vs. Hartford A. A. at Quincy Point.
10 A. M.—Tournament Quincy Tennis Club.
10 A. M.—Open Tournament, Wollaston Tennis Club.
Land sale at Bigelow Park; free distribution of presents.
1 P. M.—Chase Cup race Wollaston Yacht Club.
Bathhouse opened; high tide at 2 P. M.
3 P. M.—Adams Academy vs. Thayer Academy at Braintree.
Dancing at Fensmere.
Clambake at Norteman's at Houghs Neck.
May breakfast at Wollaston Baptist church.

Good Afternoon

Statistics show that the electric railways kill an average of 100 persons a month. But let us not be misled. Millions travel on them, and more are killed per mile by wagons, or by falling down stairs.

As a result of wise pure food legislation, European manufacturers are to be deprived of the privilege of dumping on the American market the impure and adulterated goods which they cannot dispose of at home.

The G. A. R. instituted Memorial day on May 30, 1868. It is now a public holiday in all the states and territories except Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Texas, and Virginia.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ "I thank God I'm not rich," says John D. Long, who appears to have recovered not only his health, but his fine faculty for saying things that count.—Herald.

☞ If we had a King in Massachusetts, Josiah Quincy would be that King. He has family, and he was born to rule. Blue blood flows in his veins, no longer, we trust, chilled to ice water temperature. The birth of an heir to the house of Quincy, although that birth is not proclaimed from the housetops, is matter of very general interest to our citizens. We congratulate the happy father. We hope that the fond mother is doing well, We are assured by authorities on international law that the fact that the youngest Quincy was born in a foreign land will not in the least affect his eligibility to the presidency of the United States. Hail to Josiah Quincy, the Eighth or the Ninth or the Tenth! (We are wofully weak on genealogies, and we haven't time to write the Transcript.) May he live long, the pride of his daddy and the idol of his mama!—Boston Journal.

—The Massachusetts House will in- on cheap train fares for Boston rbs, refusing to concur with the n Thursday.

Q. Y. C. SMOKER.

Keith's Artists Assist at Opening of Clubhouse.

The event which marked the formal opening of the Quincy Yacht club this season, was what is termed a "smoker." This took place Thursday evening and was attended by about one hundred and twenty-five of the club members and their friends, including Commodore Wiley and Vice Commodore Nichols of the Wollaston Yacht club. The entertainment provided was of the vaudeville kind, and that it was thoroughly enjoyed was evident by the hearty and frequent applause.

Commodore Sheppard opened the special meeting which preceded the entertainment. The special was called to hear and act upon the report of the special committee appointed to consider enlarging the club house. Their report was that an addition of twelve feet would cost $1430, and an addition of 24 feet $1900 and they recommended that nothing be done this year. The report was accepted and the matter laid on the table.

Commodore Sheppard then briefly addressed the members. He said that last year 52 new members had been enrolled and about 13 thus far this year. He urged the members to endeavor to get new members, as the more members, the more money and more fun. He also announced that owing to building operations at Quincy Point, the station used in past years had to be given up, and that the station this year would be located on the Weymouth side of the river near the pier. He also called attention to the need of dredging at the end of the float, and that subscription papers for this purpose would be circulated.

Commodore Sheppard closed his part by asking the boys to help burn up the cigars in a box that was passed and then turned the meeting over to the entertaining artists.

The entertainment opened with a piano selection by Mr. Charles White. Mr. Daniel McNiven followed with a song, "Poor Old Brown," and for an encore gave a monologue and closed with a dance.

Mr. White then announced that the next number would be a song by Miss Sadie Ethel Barton of the Keith circuit. The door of the dressing room opened and a pretty brunette tripped lightly onto the stage and sang a solo. An encore was demanded, which she graciously responded to by singing "Under the Bamboo Tree." In singing this Miss Burton touched a sympathetic chord, and when the chorus was reached a hundred musical voices joined in making the walls ring with their harmony. As the words in chorus, "If I love er you, and you love er me," were sung she glanced mischievously into the eyes of one of the active, if somewhat advanced in years, members, who occupied the end seat of the front row. The boys caught on, and as he blushed like a maiden a ripple of laughter ran through the chorus. Miss Burton was obliged to repeat her song several times.

Mr. White followed with piano impersonations and Miss Mae Russell also of the Keith circuit was next introduced.

Miss Russell gave a monologue in which several well known club members came in for good natured raps, and then sang, "In the Good Old Summer Time." In the chorus the boys again caught on and again were their musical voices heard.

The last number on the program was Thomas H. Bibber, the monologuest, and for half an hour he kept the audience in a roar of laughter with his stories and songs, and when at last he became tired and no more applause could bring him out again, the murmer went around that Bibber was all right.

The boys were then invited to partake of coffee, crackers and cheese which closed the smoker, and the evening, had been one of the most successful.

A NOVEL INTRODUCTION.

Dr. Howard Co. Make a Special Price.

The Dr. Howard company have entered into an arrangement with Chas. C. Hearn's drug store, by which a special introductory offer will be made of 25 cents on the 50 cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

So remarkably successful has Dr. Howard's specific been in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all forms of liver trouble, that Chas. C. Hearn will return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

The old-fashioned idea of dosing with mineral waters, cathartic pills or harsh purgatives will soon be a thing of the past. The best physicians are prescribing Dr. Howard's specific, both because it is so remarkable a medicine and on account of the small dose that is needed.

Headaches, coated tongue, dizziness, gas on the stomach, specks before the eyes, constipation and all forms of malaria and liver trouble are soon cured by this scientific medicine.

Chas. C. Hearn has been able to secure only a limited supply, so everyone who wishes to be cured of dyspepsia or constipation should call upon him at once or send him 25 cents by mail, and get 60 doses of the best medicine ever made, on this special half price introductory offer, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if the specific does not cure.

22-26-29 2

IN THE SCHOOLS.

Comrades Assist in Observance of Memorial Day.

The Memorial Day exercises at the High school were held this morning at 6 o'clock. At that hour the pupils and teachers including those at the old building gathered in the study hall where the exercises were held. The program was a pleasing one and was appreciated by the pupils:

An extract from "Commemoration Services," Herbert Percival. Holmes
Decoration Day, H. H. Jackson
Kathryn Deady.
Heroes, E. D. Proctor
Robert Hardwick.
Introductory remarks,
Col. Charles H. Porter.
Address,—Battle of High Bridge.
Major E. T. Bouve, Hingham, Mass.
Address,—Duty and Service.
Comrade James F. Merrill.
Address,—Battle of Fredericksburg.
Comrade R. A. Seaver.
Song,—America.
School.

Comrade James W. Pierce was also present as a representative of Paul Revere Post.

AT THE CODDINGTON.

As usual the Memorial Day exercises at the Coddington school were held in the yard, and the City Band was an attraction. A large number of parents and friends assembled and enjoyed the program:

March, School, music by City Band.
Raising flag, Veterans.
Pledge to flag, School.
Recitations, Grades III, IV, V.
Singing, Star Spangled Banner.
Recitations, Grades VI, VII, VIII.
In Memoriam, School.
Addresses for G. A. R. by Col. C. H. Porter, Dr. H. C. Hallowell.
Singing, Memorial Hymn, Boys Grade VIII.
Remarks, Supt. F. E. Parlin and C. H. Johnson, Esq.
America, All.
Taps! Cheers!!! Band Concert.

AT THE LINCOLN.

The pupils of the Lincoln school observed Memorial Day on Thursday by exercises and an exhibition of their work through the different grades. The program consisted of declamations, readings, music and exercises of a patriotic character. Members of the Paul Revere Post were present and remarks were made by Past Commander W. H. Warner and Edward Lennon. The display in the rooms was unusually large. Mention should be made of the sewing done by the pupils of the sixth and seventh grades; dresses, skirts, aprons and buttonholes were on exhibit showing the interest taken in this work. All of the rooms were decorated for the occasion.

The program included salute to the flag, songs, recitations and dialogues by different grades; readings by Lizzie Fay, Fred Bergfors and Lulu Hadden; remarks by Past Commander W. H. Warner and Comrade Edward Lennon, and concluded with "America" by all.

AT THE WASHINGTON.

Capt. T. H. Newcomb represented the G. A. R. at the Memorial day exercises at the Washington school, speaking interestingly. The program also included songs and exercises by grades and recitations by Florence Bryant, Wendell Clare, Daniel McQueen, Sadie Pike, Marion Johnson, Charles French, Ralph O'Brien, Annie O'Neill, Etta Thurber, Harry Oliver, Edward Lawton, Howard Lyman, Bessie Powers and Eleanor Moriarty. The flag was saluted and "America" sung.

Quincy B. B. C.

A base ball team to be known as the Quincys has been organized by William H. Flynn and will play its opening game on the Ward Two playground Memorial day.

Charles Pitts, formerly of the Marions of Brighton, will be the captain and will catch. Mullane, formerly of the Fall River nine in the New England league, will pitch, and first base will be covered by Faircloth, who was formerly on the Jog-a-Longs.

Dorley will also be given a try at first, and Duffy, formerly of the South Quincy and the Boston Dry Goods company's nines, will play second. Dunn, who pitched for South Quincy last year, will cover short, and third base will be guarded by Henry Mullane, also an old South Quincy player.

In the outfield will be "Jack" Eldridge, once a noted player on the Adams academy team; Dunican, formerly of the Fore River nine, and Flynn of last year's South Quincys.

The Magazines.

The June number of Everybody's Magazine begins with a full-page portrait of Thomas W. Russell, the leader of the struggle for Ireland's freedom, and it closes with "some additional remarks by Simeon Ford, the humorist who has suddenly shot forward into public view. Many entertaining stories and instructive special articles fill the intervening space.

Country Life in America for June keeps abreast of the season. Articles upon Poultry-raising, cherry-growing, bee-keeping and other practical subjects afford the reader an opportunity to try his hand at labors of out-door life, while of equal value are papers upon "Discovering a Country Home," "The Pacific Salmons," "A Plant-Hunting Vacation," "Personal Experiences in Gardening" and "A House Boat for Two Thousand Dollars."

CHORAL SOCIETY.

Give a Reception to Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Stevens.

About fifty members of the choral society gathered at the residence of Miss Bertha Gannett on Warren avenue Thursday evening at an informal reception given by the executive committee of the choral society to meet Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Stevens of Boston. It was a delightful ending to a most enjoyable season of hard work.

After some minutes of social intercourse the company assembled in the spacious parlors and were entertained by a few of the members. Mrs. Cornish read with much expression a clever poem which had been written for the Choral society by Mr. Willard Keyes, and which was immensely enjoyed. Mrs. Terry then followed with a vocal solo, which displayed her sweet contralty voice. Mrs. Saxe and Mr. Stevens gave the duet, "The Night," which had given so much pleasure at the last concert.

An intermission followed after which Mrs. Terry and Mr. Stevens contributed each another solo. Mr. Stevens possesses a very melodious voice of great purity of tone. The audience then sang two of the numbers from the last concert," "Tell her I love her so," and "The Shoagg-Shoo" (See Saw). Dr. Olney as an accompaniest always gives pleasure. Mrs. Leavitt accompanied Mrs. Saxe and Mr. Stevens, Mr. Cornish.

The guests were then invited by President Cornish to repair to the dining room where refreshments of ices and cake were served. Before taking their leave the company assembled once more in the parlor and listened to some words from President Cornish, in which he commended the society upon its success, and the excellent work it had given, and he paid tribute to Mr. Stevans, Dr. Olney, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Leavitt and others who had assisted in the concerts.

The party then closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

Class Orator.

Boston University has awarded two honors to "Co-eds," the favored ones being Miss Ethelwyn Humphreys of of Holliston, class poet, and Miss Eva Phillips of Quincy. Miss Ethelwyn Humphreys is a Holliston girl. She graduated from the local high school in '99 with honors. Miss Eva Phillips, who was awarded the honor of class orator, comes from Quincy and prepared for college in the Quincy schools.

Dancing.

May 30th afternoon and evening, in the Pavilion, at Fensmere Beach, Houghs Neck, beginning at 2 o'clock, dancing will be under the management of Prof. and Mrs. Gibson as usual. The reputation of Prof. Gibson, as an instructor, and manager is so well established, that extended comment is unnecessary. 4t-23-25-27-29

The Young Women's Christian Association of Lowell has received a gift of $40,000 from Frederick F. Ayer of New York, to be used for the construction of a new building.

—Work on the French National Pavilion, a reproduction of the Grand Trianon at Versailles, France, will be begun soon at the World's Fair, St. Louis.

—It is reported that the Bath Iron Works may be moved to New London, Conn.

All Humors

Are impure matters which the skin, liver, kidneys and other organs can not take care of without help, there is such an accumulation of them.

They litter the whole system.

Pimples, boils, eczema and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove all humors, overcome all their effects, strengthen, tone and invigorate the whole system.

"I had salt rheum on my hands so that I could not work. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it drove out the humor. I continued its use till the sores disappeared." MRS. IRA O. BROWN, Rumford Falls, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

NORTEMAN'S PAVILION,

Opposite Steamboat Wharf,

HOUGHS NECK.

The first clambake of the season will be served

MAY 30th.

Bake Opens at one o'clock

Every Sunday.

May 28. 2t

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Fair and cooler.

May 31, Whit Sunday.

A holiday tomorrow.

Five Sundays this month.

Not enough rain to do any good.

Hon. William A. Hodges has been confined to the bed for a few days.

At the Park this afternoon Adams Academy is playing the Waltham High school.

It looks now as though the Grand Army would have a pleasant day Saturday for Memorial day.

Charles H. Brooks announces that the Hancock Market will be open until noon on Memorial day.

Rev. Frank Pratt and family have moved from Prospect avenue to No 12 Berlin street, Wollaston.

The City Council Committee on Ordinances met last night and the Committee on Streets will meet tonight.

An unusually large contribution of flowers was made by the public school children today for the Grand Army on Memorial day.

Mrs. Florence F. Hewins of Roxbury is to make her home in this city, having purchased the business of Miss Martha J. Brooks.

Rev. Dr. Todd's farewell is in two instalments, and he will say good-bye at the Sunday evening service at the First Presbyterian church.

At the May breakfast at the Wollaston Baptist church Saturday morning, fruit, cereals, eggs, lamb, baked beans, strawberries, etc., will be served.

Many transfers have been made of the Metropolitan police who have been on duty at the Blue Hills, Nantasket, Revere Beach, the Fells, and the Speedway.

The front of the new brick block in City Square near the fountain has been boarded up so as to keep out intruders. Perhaps its time to move in the goats of Rural lodge.

Brief Memorial Day exercises were held at the Woodward Institute this morning directly after the opening services, consisting of brief remarks by Superintendent Frank E. Parlin and the singing of patriotic airs by the school.

Who says sentiment and business don't mix? A lady school teacher came all the way from Atlantic to buy a bicycle of John H. Gillis the other evening and said she patronized him because he carries a quotation from her favorite poet in his Ledger "ad."

The members of the Wollaston Tennis club will hold an open tournament in doubles at their courts on Safford street Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The entrance fee is fifty cents and entries close at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and should be made to Mr. Amos T. Leavitt.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. This signature E. W. Grove on every box, 25c.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF HARBOR AND LAND COMMISSIONERS.

State House, Boston, May 26, 1903.

NOTICE is hereby given that Charles C. Hanley of Quincy, Mass., has made application to this Board for license to fill solid and to dredge, in Town River, in the city of Quincy, as per plans filed with said application; and WEDNESDAY, the 3d day of June, 1903, at 11 o'clock, A. M., and this office, have been assigned as the time and place for hearing all parties interested therein.

For the Board,
WOODWARD EMERY, Chairman.

Boston, May 26, 1903.

It is ordered by the Board that the petitioner named in the above notice cause a copy of the same to be published May 29 in the "Quincy Ledger," and that a copy of the newspaper containing said notice be filed in this office on or before the day of hearing, such publication to be at the expense of said petitioner.

For the Board,
FREDERICK N. WALES, Clerk.
May 29. 1t

By C. H. JOHNSON - - Auctioneer.
Office, Room 3, Adams Building, Quincy.

NEW FURNITURE

At Public Auction of AUGUST JOHNSON, will be sold from residence No. 257 Whitwell St., corner of Deldorf St, (third flight) on Tuesday, June 2, 1903,

At 1.30 P. M.

The goods consist in part as follows:

New Cherry Parlor Set, nicely upholstered, of 5 pieces—Sofa, Rocker and 3 Chairs; Brussels Carpet, Parlor Lamp, Pictures, Cherry Table, Rugs, 15 Window Shades, 30 yards Brussells Carpet, Art Square, Oak Dining Room Table, 6 Oak Dining Room Chairs, Table, Morris Chair, Plush Lounge, Glenwood Range, E., nearly new, Table, 3 Chairs, Hanging Lamp, Dishes, Kitchen Furniture, Parlor Stove, White Iron Bed, Oak Bureau, Rug, Straw Matting, Commode, 2 Chairs, Pillows, Comforters, Commode Set, Single White Iron Bed, Willow Baby Carriage, Singer Sewing Machine, Phonograph. The above is a partial list of the goods. The goods are all new and purchased only a short time ago from a local dealer.

Sale Positive. Terms Cash.

Block, corner of Whitwell and Deldorf Streets.

Quincy, May 28. 3t

Have you Indigestion? Have you Sick Headaches?

Take

Beecham's Pills

To avoid Indigestion

That distressed feeling is simply a poorly-working stomach—it needs a little help—no matter how bad it may be, a dose of Beecham's Pills will speedily give relief. Take Beecham's Pills for a few days and the trouble will disappear.

To cure Sick Headaches

Sick headaches mean an overtaxed stomach and a derangement of the digestive organs. Beecham's Pills have proved themselves a boon for removing that distressed feeling and discomfort. A dose will remove the immediate cause and if repeated for a few days will enable your system to work normally.

Sold Everywhere in Boxes, 10c. and 25c.

W. A. BRADFORD.

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting,

Jobbing Promptly Attended To.

ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

New Shop and Office NO. 6 Chestnut Street. F. F. Crane's Store Old Telephone Number, 122-2.

April 21. u

STRAW HATS.

WE HAVE A FINE LINE OF THE LATEST STYLES.

OUR $1.00 to $3.00 HATS

ARE ALL OF THE POPULAR

LAMSON & HUBBARD MAKE

OUTING CAPS

In all Shapes and Colors,

25c., 50c., 75c., $1.00, $1 50

HEADQUARTERS FOR THE

QUINCY YACHT CLUB CAP.

GEORGE W. JONES,

Adams Building, - QUINCY.

If You Have a House to Let, Advertise It in the Ledger

It's Fun To Cook on a Blue Flame Oil Stove.

And the fun grows more intense after you have used one of these famous stoves for over a month, and figure that it has cost you almost nothing to run. No over heated, kitchen, no coal, no wood, no dust, no ashes, a fire piping hot in a twinkling, ready to roast or to bake.

You are losing much of the pleasure of living today without one of our Blue Flame Stoves. We guarantee them to give perfect satisfaction or refund the money. Our Prices, $3.98 to $10.00. (Gasolene Stoves also for folks who wish.)

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. Quincy, April 11, 1903.

TAKEN on execution and will be sold at public auction on SATURDAY, the thirtieth day of May 1903, at 9 o'clock, A. M., at my residence No 163 Franklin street, in Quincy said County of Norfolk, all the right, title and interest which Walter W. Bates of Milton had (not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution) on the thirteenth day of January 1903 at nine o'clock and three minutes A. M., (being the time the same was attached on mesne process) in and to the following described real estate, to wit:

A certain parcel of land on Adams street in the City of Quincy being lot numbered 27 according to a plan by Whitman and Breck.

Commencing at a point on the west side of Adams street 62.66 feet from the proposed street to be called Bates street and running in a southwest direction 141 feet; thence turning at right angles and running in a northeasterly direction 61.5 feet; thence turning at right angles and running along the proposed Bates street 129 feet; thence turning and running along the line of Adams street 62.66 feet to beginning. Containing 8302.5 square feet.

GEORGE H. FIELD,
Deputy Sheriff.
May 15-3t. 15-22-29

L. M. PRATT & SON,

Charcoal, 10c bag.

L. M. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

Wall Paper

Direct from the Manufacture.

Save the jobbers and retailers profit. Send for samples at once giving the number of rooms you have to paper. Samples Free.

Address,

H. BIDWELL,

Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.

April 1. 1p-2mos.

Headaches?

s Pills

h—It needs a little help—no matter will speedily give relief. Take disappear.

rangement of the digestive organs. removing that distressed feeling and repeated for a few days will enable 10c. and 25c.

FORD.

Gas Fitting,

ttended To.

GIVEN.

est nut Street. F. F.

Number, 122-2.

tf

ATS.

OF

O HATS

LAR

D MAKE

PS

O, $1 50

HE

UB CAP.

ONES,

UINCY.

Let,

in the Ledger

Stove.

And the fun grows more intense after you have used one of these famous stoves for over a month, and figure that it has cost you almost nothing to run. No over heated, kitchen, no coal, ng hot in a twinkling, of living to-day with- e guarantee them to money. Our Prices, r folks who wish.)

DE & CO.,

niture Store,

Quincy.

day Evenings.

. PRATT & SON,

oal, 10c bag.

. PRATT & SON,

QUINCY.

l Paper

om the Manufacture.

bers and retailers profit. Send nce giving the number of rooms er. Samples Free.

ss,

. BIDWELL,

Dept. S, Buffalo, N. Y.

1p-2mos.

Boston Branch Grocery.

BEST HARD WOOD

Charcoal,

10 cts. bag.

L. M. Pratt & Son,

CARD.

Miss Martha J. Brooks wishes to thank her patrons for the kind support accorded her the past five years, and to announce that she has sold her business to Mrs. Florence F. Hewins, of Roxbury, who is in every way competent to continue the business. She bespeaks for her the same hearty support.

Quincy, May 30. olp-1t

We extend an invitation to visit our store and inspect our stock of

CLOTHING.

We will not urge you to make a purchase and will not feel hurt if you don't. But you should come prepared to buy. You will see here much that you want and more that you desire, and the quality of the things and the moderate prices will tempt you very much.

Negligee Shirts, Straw Hats, Thin Coats, White and Fancy Vests, Duck and Crash Pants, Belts,

AND ALL SORTS OF

HOT WEATHER GOODS

are here in pleasing variety.

You'll be well pleased with anything you do buy.

F. D. FELLOWS CO.,

Reliable One Price Clothiers, Hatters and Furnishers

Adams Building, City Square, Quincy, Mass.

WE GIVE TRADING STAMPS.

Store open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

May 30. 1-th., Fri., Sat.,-po-tf

HOUGHS NECK.

John Brenton and family of Cohasset are in a cottage on Great Hill.

Water pipes are being laid in some of the side streets.

Thomas Doherty and family of Brockton are in the Irene cottage.

B. F. Ferry and family of Brockton are in the Sky Farm cottage on Great Hill.

John Crosby and family of Hyde Park are in the Helena cottage.

Daniel Cotter and family of Roxbury are in the Mary Ester cottage.

John B. Walker and family of Boston are at the Opydoor cottage.

Ira M. Whittemore of Ashmont is at the Crest Haven cottage.

The Houghs Neck steamer is hauled up at her wharf ready to commence her trips.

Charles F. Atwood and family of Revere are in the Air Castle cottage.

John E. Murphy and family of Roxbury are in the Shamrock cottage on Bell street.

John B. Evans and family of Brockton are at the Delmonte cottage.

J. Lesner and family of Cambridge are in the Katahdin cottage.

Half hour cars on the street railway are appreciated.

Edgar B. Farmer and family of Cambridge are in the Leighton cottage on Bird street.

TODAY'S COURT.

Walter S. Hollis was fined $100 upon two complaints for violation of the liquor law at Braintree.

BORN.

QUINCY—In Biarritz France, May 15 a son to Hon. and Mrs. Josiah Quincy of Boston, Mass.

PARRY—In Barre Vermont, May 23, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Parry formerly of Quincy.

MARRIED.

McCLURE—SHORT—In Quincy, May 23, by Rev. John P. Cuffe, Mr. Samuel McClure to Miss Margaret E. Short, both of Quincy.

DIED.

WHITNRY—In Quincy, May 29, Mrs. Susanna C., wife of Adams Whitney, aged 77 years and 5 months.
Funeral from late residence No. 31 Gay street, Monday, June 1, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited.

LORENDO—In Quincy, May 29, Mr. Phelix Lorendo of Furnace avenue, aged 35 years, 11 months and 14 days.

CRANE—In Braintree, May 28, Mrs. Eliza Binney Crane, aged 83 years.

ROBERTS—In Milton, May 28, Mrs. Annie Mabel, wife of William F. Roberts of Roxbury, aged 41 years.

PORTER—In Burlington, Vt., May 28, Mr. Edward F. Porter of Braintree, aged 42 years.

HANCOCK MARKET

WILL CLOSE AT NOON, May 30.

Send in your order early.

C. H. BROOKS,

Corner Saville and Hancock Streets,

QUINCY, MASS.

May 29. tf

KING'S PARK HOUSE.

Board and Rooms.

345 Washington Street.

Quincy, May 19. 1m

SOCIAL REALM.

(Continued from Page 1.)

The pleasant meetings of the Junior Friday club have been discontinued until fall, the annual business meeting being held last Monday with Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield, of Wollaston. The 1903-4 officers are: president Mrs. Harry Elliot Russell; secretary Miss Alice Keith Prescott and the executive committee, the president, secretary, and Miss Edith Randall, Miss Sara Whicher and Mrs. Walter E. Burke.

* * *

Mr. James D. Leatherbee and family of Braintree, will leave town the middle of next week for Humarock beach where they will spend the summer.

* * *

Mrs. H. A. Penniman of Braintree will spend the month of June at Brewster, Cape Cod.

* * *

Mrs. A. W. Hobart of Braintree returned Monday from a visit in North Attleboro. While there she attended the wedding of her niece, Miss Sylvia Hall.

* * *

Mrs. Charles B. Cummings of Braintree entertained a party at whist Wednesday evening. Souvenirs were awarded Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Thayer.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Leonard Moore, (Alice Mabel Leavitt) who were married the last of April at the home of the bride's sister in Braintree, are at home at 1021 Montello street, Brockton, after June first.

* * *

Mr. Moreton Swallow was one of the ushers at the Patten—Lane wedding at the First Church, Braintree, on Wednesday evening. There were several well known Quincy people among the guests.

* * *

About thirty of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tupper gathered at Braintree, Wednesday evening, May 27, in anticipation of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage, which occurred Thursday, May 28. It was a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Tupper.

* * *

Rev. and Mrs. Victor Bigelow of Lowell, were in town this week.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis Adams and Miss Adams have returned to their home in Lincoln, after an absence of several months in Europe.

* * *

John O'Hara of Newcomb place, who is a student at the Georgetown law school, Washington, D. C., is home for the summer months. He has as his guest John J. Wolff, a son of Judge Wolff, of Clinton, Iowa.

* * *

Mrs. Chandler M. Hayford, of Portsmouth, N. H., who has been the guest of her son, Dr. Herbert Hayford, returned to her home on Monday.

* * *

Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Butler attended the Emerson Centenary services at Symphony hall, Boston, last Sunday evening.

* * *

Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Hill Crathern were tendered a reception Monday evening in the South Congregational church the occasion being the tenth anniversary of their marriage. The reception was in charge of Miss Elizabeth Thompson assisted by Mrs. F. Eugene Dyer, Mrs. R. F. Burleigh, Mrs. G. W. Stevens, Mrs. W. A. Torrey, Mrs. G. B. Moody, Miss Nellie Potter, Mrs. O. A. Bridgham, Mrs. G. R. M. Bestick, Mrs. Otis B. Oakman, Miss Alice Holbrook and Mrs. W. A. Sampson. In the beautifully decorated vestry Mr. and Mrs. Crathern, Mrs. Tarbell, Miss Nellie Potter and Mrs. W. A. Torrey received the guests. Cuff's orchestra gave their choicest music.

* * *

Cleveland's BAKING POWDER

MAKES HOME BAKING EASY, AND HOME BAKED FOOD SUPERIOR TO THE BAKER'S.

"Cakes, muffins, etc., in which Cleveland's Baking Powder is used will keep better." MARION HARLAND.

KEITH'S THEATRE.

Coming to Keith's popular Boston theatre for the week of June 1 is an aggregation of entertainers that easily surpasses any bill of the summer season so far, and for that matter is stronger than many of the shows given in the regular winter season. The most important of acts will be that to be given by the noted comedian, Charles Dickinson (who played the name part in "Quincy Adams Sawyer") and Marian Chapman, late of the Castle Square company. It is a one-act comedy entitled "Heart-to-Heart Talks," and is woven round the story of a sporting editor who was assigned to edit the woman's department of a well known journal and answer the questions of fair correspondents. Some of advice offered is just screamingly funny. The principal "sight act" is that of the Kaufmann troupe of bicyclists, seven in number, who have just returned from Europe with a specialty that is said to surpass that of past seasons.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

Another evidence of the enterprise of the Castle Square Theatre management is shown in the announcement of Clyde's Fitch's great play of modern life, "The Way of the World," as the attraction at this popular playhouse next week. In this play the author has depicted the manners, styles and customs of the "smrt set" of New York society in the most vividly realistic fashion, and brought upon the stage a picture of life in the metropolis of fascinating interest. It is, withall, a very dainty bit of realism and its scenes teem with new and cleverly planned situations. When this play had its original production in New York, less than two years ago, it called out the most fashionable audiences of the season and the success of the author in catching the spirit of the social life of the day was universally recognized. Only a week will be given to "The Way of the World," and all who attend the Monday matinee will be presented with a souvenir box of choice chocolate bonbons.

BOSTON THEATRE.

"Greater and grander than ever; the best comic musical play that Boston has ever seen." That was the verdict of last Monday night's audience at the Boston Theatre on witnessing "The New Defender," and it was an audience so large as to pack the monster playhouse from orchestra rail to gallery wall, and so enthusiastic as to leave not the slightest doubt in the mind of the sceptic as to the extraordinary success and permanent popularity of the price. For weeks past the amusement-loving public of New England has been kept well informed on the subject of the new production, its all star cast and splendid chorus. So many and so varied are the changes and interpolations that the title of "The New Defender" seems certainly most appropriate. There is newness in every feature of the production, newness in the score, the songs, stage business and situations. The scenery itself is massive, elaborate, picturesque and artistic to a degree, the costumes beautiful, rich and dazzling.

Against Combinations.

The Massachusetts Senate concurred with the House of Representatives yesterday afternoon by passing the bill reported by the coal investigation committee to prevent combinations to enhance the prices of commodities in its amended form. The upper branch recorded itself 16 to 13 in favor of amending the bill so that its provision should apply only to "necessaries of life" and 15 to 14 to exempt "agricultural products and live stock."

—A five masted schooner, the Dorothy Palmer, was launched at Waldoboro, Me., on Thursday; length 273 feet.

BRAINTREE.

Miss Sarah L. Arnold, Miss Nellie F. Monk and Mrs. H. A. Penniman will attend the reunion of the Teachers School of Science at Cohasset, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene T. Nolte of Monatiquot avenue are rejoicing in the birth of a daughter who came to them last week.

The Girls' Glee club of the Monatiquot High school had a very appreciative audience at their recital on Tuesday evening. Every selection called for an encore; the trio by Misses Carson, Ferris and Drinkwater with violin obligato by Miss Strieferd was good, and the chorus "The Reapers" was particularly fine.

Dr. William Gallagher will speak at the First Congregational church Sunday afternoon at four o'clock on "Emerson in Civic Life."

Chaplain, Irving N. Holbrook and Mr. I. L. Jones of Antietam camp, S. of V., made an official visit to the George G. Meade camp at Abington, Tuesday evening. They were royally entertained. Mr. Holbrook is a staff officer of division eight under Commander Stone.

Children's Sunday will be observed on June 14th this year.

Miss Mabel Plummer of Steadman avenue has been visiting her sister in Cambridge. The house was struck by lightning in last week's thunder shower, and both Miss Plummer and her sister were stunned by the shock.

The new freight railroad from East Braintree to Quincy Neck was formally opened Thursday at 1.43 P. M., when nine freight cars loaded for the Fore River Ship and Engine Co., made the trip. Conductor F. O. Wellington and Brakeman C. O. Miller in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. John Powers welcomed a little daughter early this week.

Miss V. P. Wilde resumed her duties at the J. P. school Tuesday afternoon after a week's illness.

Mrs. Sarah A., wife of Leander Pratt formerly of Weymouth, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. O. Crocker, early Monday morning at the age of 74 years and 3 months.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Call, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Call, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tirrell, Mr. and Mrs. Vining, Mrs. William Tirrell, Mrs. Louis Tirrell, Mr. C. A. Fenderson, Misses Clara Call, Josie and Bernice Wright and Mr. Arthur Vining attended the annual dinner of the G. I. A. of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in Lawrence hall, Boston, last Sunday. The Misses Wright and Call and Mr. Arthur Vining assisted in the musical entertainment.

☞Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

7TH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER.

Church services are inserted in this paper without charge, but none will be accepted for all until further order. A notice should be sent each week even though it is but a renewal. Give subject and special services when possible. Let all churches be represented.—Eds.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, Junction Hancock and Chestnut streets—Rev. E. N Hardy, pastor. Morning service at 10.30 Preaching by the pastor. Sunday School at 12 M. Young People's meeting at 6.15. Patriotic service with songs and readings illustrated by fine stereopticon views at 7.30. Free seats and every one invited to these services.

FIRST UNITARIAN CHURCH—Rev. E. C. Butler, pastor. Morning service at 10.30. The pastor will exchange with Rev. R. Stebbins of Milton. Sunday School 12 M.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH, Washington street—Rev. Merrill C. Ward pastor. Residence, 18 Ashmont street, Dorchester. Service of divine worship at 2.30 P. M. Subject: "The Patriot's Pentecost." Sunday School at 3.45 P. M.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, of Braintree, Christian Science Hall on Washington street, south of Hollis avenue.—Morning service 10.45. Subject: "God the only Cause and Creator." Golden text: "Come let us declare in Zion the work of the Lord our God. He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom and hath stretched out the heaven by his understanding." Jeremiah, 51:10-15. Sunday School at 10.45 A. M. Wednesday 7.45 P. M., a testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 3 to 5 and Tuesday evenings. All are welcome.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH—Rev. Edmund D. Webber, pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Preaching by Rev. W. T. Heath, pastor of the Wollaston Methodist church. Sunday School at 12.10. Junior C. E. society at 4 P. M. Young People's missionary service at 7 o'clock.

CHRIST CHURCH, Quincy, corner Elm street and Quincy avenue—Rev. W. E. Gardner, rector. Holy communion at 8.30 A. M. Morning prayer and sermon 10.30. Subject: "The Parish at Church." Sunday School at 12.05. Evening prayer and address at 7 o'clock. Subject: "Church Unity." Anthem for the day: "Lovely Appear," Gounod.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Water and Quincy streets.—Rev. J. Todd, D. D., pastor. Service at 10.30 A. M. Preaching by the Rev. Dr. Herbert Manchester of East Boston, who will declare the pulpit vacant by the appointment of the Boston Presbytery. The Rev. Dr. Todd will preach his farewell sermon to the congregation at the evening service. Sunday School at 12 M. Junior C. E. at 3 P. M. Senior C. E. at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7 o'clock. Midweek service Thursday evening. Seats free. All are cordially invited.

☞A song just out is "Down where the Congo flows," by Charles Shackford, with music by S. Gilson Cooke, and dedicated to Lizzie B. Raymond. It is published by the well known firm of G. W. Setchell 633 Washington street, Boston, and is on sale at all music stores. The latest march out is "Our Leader" by Bigelow, also author of the famous "Our Director" march, by the same publishers.

TO LET.

The recently vacated Aluminum Building on Granite street, in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf. Here are three good floors and an attic. It will be let as a whole or in part.

Gymnasium or Hall in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Just painted. Small gallery. One or two anterooms as desired. Particularly fine opportunity for gymnasium with baths and lockers. Splendid location.

Two Desirable Offices in Hancock Chambers, City Square. Good light.

Storage. A separate building in the rear of Hotel Greenleaf 20 x 24 feet.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,

Music Hall Block, Quincy.

TO LET.

FURNISHED HOUSE of 14 rooms, and stable, in first class residential section. Apply to FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street.

Quincy, April 9. 1p-tf

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS.

Advertisements in this column inserted at the following rates:

Four lines, or less, one day,	40 cents
" " three days,	60 cents
" " one week,	70 cents

Additional lines will be charged for pro rata. Seven words equal a line. Long term rates furnished on application.

LOST.

LOST—Angora Cat, female, white and malitese, with small black mark under the chin. Any information will be thankfully received. H. H. HILL, the Weeks-Hill Pharmacy.

Quincy, May 25. tf

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—On easy terms, a desirable House of twelve (12) rooms, with all modern conveniences. One of the pleasantest locations in the city, on the corner of Bigelow street and Miller Stile Road. Apply on premises. May 26-1m

FOR SALE—Two acres of land and house, within 5 minutes' walk of central railroad station. Taxed for $2,200. Will sell for $1,800 if taken within 10 days. Address FRANK F. CRANE, 4 Chestnut street, Quincy, Mass. May 21. tf

FOR SALE—Red and White Cedar Posts, all sizes and lengths, at low prices. THOMAS O'BRIEN & SONS, Miller and West streets. Quincy, April 1-2mos.

WANTED.

WANTED—Two Farm Hands at National Sailors' Home, Wollaston. Must know how to milk and to handle horses and farm tools. Apply at the Home. May 23. 3t-23-25-27-29

WANTED—Money on first mortgages. Address Box 185 Quincy Post Office. April 16. eod tf

WANTED—Young man as assistant bookkeeper and stenographer. A portion of time to be devoted to collecting. A permanent position, with advancement in view for a trustworthy young man. Address, stating age and salary willing to start on, K, Ledger office. Quincy, May 25. tf

WANTED—A few persons desiring good board and room. Apply at 4 Johnson avenue, opposite Adams Academy; five minutes from Quincy depot, one minute from electrics. Quincy, May 25. 6t

MEN, not under 25 years, to call on old and new customers. No delivering. Position permanent to the right party. Pay weekly. GLEN BROTHERS, Rochester, N. Y. April 23. 6w--thurs. sat. tues.

WANTED—Lady acquainted in Quincy to introduce our London and Oolong Tea. Salary paid. L. M. PRATT & SON. Quincy, April 8. tf

WANTED—A Good Stone Cutter who can do plain carving and has used pneumatic tools. The Fox-Becker Granite Company, Middletown, Conn. May 5-tf

TO LET.

HOUSE TO LET—No. 10 Mill street, off Washington, 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace. All modern improvements. Apply, C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street. May 28. tf

TO LET—On Edwards Hill, 9 room House with all modern conveniences; large stable, fruit and shade trees with about 10,000 feet of land; seven minutes to depot, two minutes to electrics. GEORGE H. BROWN, 2 Adams Building, Quincy. April 8. w. th. s. m.--tf

TO LET—A House of eight rooms and bath, opposite Adams Academy, Johnson avenue; 16 Faxon avenue, House of 9 rooms and bath. All improvements. Two minutes from R. R. Station. Also plastered Shore Cottage of 10 rooms and bath, hot and cold water, Great Hill, Quincy. FANNIE M. TAYLOR, 176 Federal street, Boston, Mass. May 25. 6t

FOR RENT--By a young married couple without children, furnished house this summer. Best of references. Parties going to the beach will find this a good opportunity to leave their home in responsible care. Address, H. H., Ledger office. Quincy, May 19-tf

STABLE TO LET--25x32 feet. 3 stalls, wash-stand and loft. At No. 204 Washington street. Apply C. W. GAREY, M. D., 1247 Hancock street. Quincy, April 21. tf

NEW STORES TO LET.

A BUILDING will be erected at once by N.G. Nickerson for Dr. J. F. Welch on the middle lot of the Briesler estate, City Square. These stores will be divided to suit tenants. Fine loam for sale. For information enquire of N. G. NICKERSON. Quincy, May 12-tf Greatest Values of the Year---Two Chances to Make Money.

FIRST.
Dollars Invested by you Now
IN THE FINEST HOUSE LOTS
IN
The FORE RIVER DISTRICT
MEANS HUNDREDS
IN THE NEAR FUTURE.

AT THE

Mammoth Sale of Choice House Lots AT

BIGELOW PARK

EVERY AFTERNOON THIS WEEK.

SECOND.
YOU HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY
To Obtain ABSOLUTELY FREE
ONE OF THE HUNDREDS OF ELEGANT PRESENTS
TO BE GIVEN AWAY.

What the President of the Fore River Ship Works says:
"500 New Houses will be needed in the vicinity of Quincy Point during the next year."

What the Real Estate Men of Quincy will tell you:
Impossible to supply the demand for Houses in the Fore River District now.

WHAT THE TENANTS SAY:
Rents are jumping away up in the air and it is impossible to find houses to rent at almost any price.

WHAT WE ASK: Can you afford to miss this opportunity to obtain a home on our terms?

Small Amount Down on a Lot and $1 per Week.

Just Think This Over--Come and Inspect The Property--It Can't Cost You Anything to do This--It Means Dollars to You--
This Applies to the Single as well as the Married Man---Start Now.

SALE EVERY AFTERNOON THIS WEEK---May 25 to May 30, 1903.

SWITHIN BROS., Quincy, Mass.

Physicians say the origin of many skin diseases, and the continuance of others, is found in the use of soaps made from impure fats. The remedy lies in the use of

PACKER'S Tar Soap

Made from vegetable oil, pine tar and glycerine—Pure as the Pines.

At all druggists. 25 cents.

THE PACKER MFG. CO., 81 Fulton St., N. Y.

ORDER NOW FOR

DECORATION DAY

--YOUR--

Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

MONATIQUOT GREENHOUSES.

63 Howard Ave., Opposite Fore River Works,

P. GREEN, Proprietor.

Telephone 64-5 Quincy

"IN THE SPRINGTIME

A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love." Yes, and to thoughts of Wheeling, and I therefore beg to call attention to my stock of

BICYCLES.

I am not pledged or committed to any particular make or makes. I carry the following:

YALE, SNELL, COULMBIA, CLEVELAND, DAY AND FAY;

And if none of them suit you, just tell me what you DO want and I will get it for you at short notice. There are many bicycle concerns in Quincy, but my place continues to be the

"OLD RELIABLE."

REPAIRING AND SUNDRIES.

JOHN H. GILLIS,

Telephone 176-7. Music Hall Block, Quincy, Mass.

April 30. 1m

No Dust, No Smoke, No Heat.

Why not do your cooking by GAS? Cheapest way in the world. No dust, no smoke, no heat. Call and see the wonderful

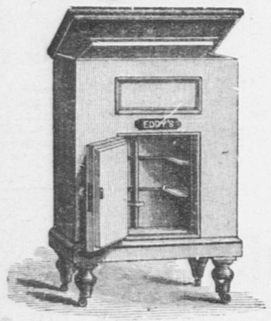

NEW PROCESS GAS RANGE

at the office of the Gas Company, No. 9 Depot Avenue.

Stoves sold and installed at cost. We sell everything pertaining to the use of gas.

Quincy, May 9. 1m

Eddy Refrigerators.

It is doubtful if any one ever heard of an Eddy Refrigerator during the 54 years they have been manufactured, that didn't give better service than ever was expected of it. Back of that name stands a guarantee of excellence and honest construction, unequalled by any other maker in the world. An Eddy Refrigerator will pay for itself in ice saved. Factory Prices, $6.50 to $25,00. A catalogue and price list for the asking.

HENRY L KINCAIDE & CO.,

New England's Lowest Priced Furniture Store,

Hancock Street, Quincy.

We keep open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings.

REAL ESTATE.

Secure a home now, don't wait until the best part of life is gone. Get in to some place now, and pay for it gradually, this would not be a hardship. An early beginning means an early ending. Consult me. I have d some fine Modern Houses to be sold. Also House Lots for sale in all to parts of the city.

JULIUS JOHNSON, Builder,

ce 5 Temple Street, Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Good Rich Loam and Sods for sale.

April 29. 1l 25 tf

LOST HER TOPMAST

Constitution Was Behind Reliance When the Accident Occurred

New York, May 29.—The Constitution's hoodoo almost spoiled the race of the trio of cup defense candidates in Long Island sound. After sailing nine miles of the first leg of the race the Constitution's topmast was carried away in a little puff of wind and with her top hamper hanging in a mess she was out of it for the day. When the accident occurred the Constitution was half a mile behind the Reliance and was leading the Columbia by an equal distance.

Reliance and Columbia finished the race, but it had become a procession, for Columbia was never formidable after the first five miles had been sailed. Reliance crossed the finish line a winner by 8 minutes and 27 seconds over the former favorite. Constitution had sailed a game race until the accident and had been handled skillfully, but had been unable to hold the slick Reliance.

Wu on Chinese Foreign Board

Pekin, May 29.—An imperial edict appoints Wu Ting Fang, former Chinese minister at Washington, to be a member of the foreign office. His rank will be below that of the five officials designated in the protocol. The appointment practically creates a new office. While Wu's appointment violates the protocol he is the only English-speaking member of the foreign office and he alone has had experience with foreign affairs. The legations, therefore, welcome the selection.

Great Coast Defense Scheme

Washington, May 29.—Division of the coast line of the United States into 13 naval defense districts has been ordered on the recommendation of Admiral Dewey, president of the general board. The line extends the entire length of the Atlantic, gulf, Pacific and Great lakes coasts and is the first step in an elaborate scheme of defense for the United States in time of war which the general board has been at work on for some time.

Minister Repudiates Corruption

Paris, May 29.—In the chamber of deputies, M. Pelletan, the marine minister, answering a question of M. Gouzy, indignantly repudiated the charges of corruption based on the alleged letter from Mme. Humbert's secretary. The minister said he had never received a cent from anyone during the whole course of his political career. The minister was warmly applauded and the incident was closed.

Baronet and Wife Divorced

London, May 29.—Lady Margaret Cowell-Stepney has been granted a judicial separation from her husband, Sir Arthur Cowell-Stepney, baronet, a former M. P. who is now in Idaho, where he recently became an American citizen and renounced his baronetcy. Sir Arthur left home in 1876 and never returned. Last March he obtained a divorce in the courts of Idaho, on the ground of desertion.

Made Bold Break For Freedom

New York, May 29.—James J. Dunn, a noted crook, who was arrested while looting a flat, while in the West Side court prison set fire to the cot in his cell and when a keeper opened the door to prevent him from being burned alive he made a dash for liberty. The keeper caught Dunn, put him in another cell and then extinguished the flames. Magistrate Flammer held Dunn in $2000 bail for trial.

Automobilists' Bad Luck

Paris, May 29.—More or less serious automobile accidents are reported daily. M. Serpollet, returning from Bordeaux, ran over a woman. It is feared she will die. Another automobilist, also returning from Bordeaux, ran into a horse. The automobilist and his chaffeur were thrown out and the latter was badly hurt. Two of the horse's legs were broken.

Grandmother's Dream Proved True

Gloucester, Mass., May 29.—The body of little Frankie Perry, who has been missing since last Monday, was found last night in a vault in the yard behind his home. The place had been searched twice before without result, but the little fellow's grandmother dreamed that the body was there and insisted that another search be made last night.

Five Years For Bribery

St. Louis, May 29.—Guilty and five years in the penitentiary were the verdict and punishment returned by the jury in the bribery case of J. J. Hannigan, a former member of the house of delegates. Hannigan was found guilty of accepting a bribe in connection with the passage of the suburban railway bill.

Roosevelt Endorsed

Cleveland, May 29.—The Republican county convention adopted resolutions endorsing the administration of President Roosevelt and recommending his renomination and election in 1904. Delegates to the state convention were instructed to cast a solid vote for Myron T. Herrick for governor.

Railway Tunnel Under River

New York, May 29.—Application has been made to the rapid transit commission by the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad company for permission to build a tunnel under the North river. It is to be a single track, two tube, loop tunnel and will connect with the rapid transit subway system.

Treaty Does Not Suit Columbia

Colon, May 29.—From a most authentic and semi-official source from Bogota, it has been learned that the Colombian congress is almost certain to reject the Panama canal treaty in the present form. It is added that open opposition to the measure is encountered everywhere.

THE THAYER MYSTERY

Heavily Insured Man's Body Exhumed and Intestines Removed

Newton, Mass., May 29.—The grave of Edward M. Thayer of this city, who died suddenly early this month, while carrying $500,000 of life insurance, was opened late yesterday afternoon and for two hours the body lay in the cemetery chapel. During that time the intestines were removed by Medical Examiner Draper of Boston, assisted by a local undertaker, and then the body was again lowered to its resting place in the grave.

The whole affair was conducted with the same attempt at secrecy that has characterized the matter from the time of Thayer's sudden and unexpected death at a Boston hotel. Every avenue to the grave was closely guarded and only the members of the party of five, including, besides the physician and undertaker, Officer Shaughnessy, who was on guard at the grave, Chief of Police Tarbox and Superintendent Ross of the cemetery, were present when the body was taken from the grave.

The same secrecy was maintained while the body rested in the chapel and during its second interment. Last night the sentries who have guarded the cemetery for weeks paced up and down as if nothing had happened, and even the location of the grave is yet unknown to the many curious persons who have been attracted to the cemetery by the mystery surrounding the case.

What disposition is to be made of the parts removed from the body is not known, but it is believed they will be subjected to a chemical examination in an effort to determine whether or not poison is present.

Of the large number of insurance companies in which Thayer carried policies, some of them settled in full; several others are ready to pay over the face of the policies immediately.

Lipton's Fleet Sets Sail

Gourock, May 29.—Sir Thomas Lipton's flotilla, consisting of Shamrock III, Shamrock I, the steam yacht Erin and the ocean tug Cruiser, whose combined crews number 170 men, sailed from here for Sandy Hook yesterday afternoon. Before leaving the challenger, Sir Thomas Lipton addressed Captain Wringe and the crew as follows: "You are starting on an errand the result of which will be watched by Britishers the world over. I know you will all do your best to bring back that long lost mug, and I think we are justified in our hopes of success. You are starting under favorable auspices. You have got a very good boat and it remains for you to do the rest. Goodbye. Good luck." Sir Thomas will sail for New York on June 17.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus oftenbefore medicine could be procured or physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

Irish Lad Lowers Record

New York, May 29.—Irish Lad won the Brooklyn handicap at Gravesend in 2:05 2-5, breaking the record for the race. He bore the colors of the Westbury stable, a partnership of Harry P. Whitney and H. B. Duryea. W. C Whitney's Gunfire, betting favorite for the race, was second, beaten by not more than three inches.

Plans of Gotham's Unemployed

New York, May 29.—The skilled mechanics now idle through the building tie-up purpose a series of open air meetings and finally a parade of 100,000 idle men, as a protest against their late employers.

—I have learned to notice that is both natural and inevitable that those who have no settled occupation themselves, should be most prone to find fault with the work of others.—Jean Ingelow.

TWO KINDS OF CHILDREN

Children that grow too fast and those that seem hardly to grow at all, both need Scott's Emulsion.

It gives that rich vital nourishment which is the secret of all healthy growth. It rounds out the long limbs, and helps children to grow without using up all their strength in growing.

Mothers ought to know more about the wonderful help which Scott's Emulsion would give their children.

There is no secret about Scott's Emulsion. Nothing is covered up by obscure references to "active principles" or "alkaloids."

Scott's Emulsion is simply an emulsion of the best Norwegian cod liver oil combined with the hypophosphites and glycerin.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

Good News

It is now possible to get a good cigar without doubt or question, no matter where you are.

Cremo

5c. Cigar

The Largest Selling Brand of Cigars in the World.

The Band is the Smoker's Protection.

MASON WORK

OF ALL KINDS

Bone in the Best Manner

At Reasonable Prices by

C. B. HUSTON & CO.,

4 High School Avenue.

Having had many years' experience we can give perfect satisfaction.

All orders promptly attended to.

C. B. HUSTON,
D. H. CLEARY,
F. A. SOUTHER.

Quincy, May 23. 1m

FREDERICK H. LORD,

TEACHER OF BANJO,

Mandolin, Guitar and Violin.

TUNER OF HARPS AND ZITHERS.

118 Washington Street.

Quincy, May 7. tf

Hunger

when it comes and goes capriciously in children, is a sign of worms. The child is not nourished—it eats much and grows thin. Give

TRUE'S PIN WORM ELIXIR

A few doses removes the worms, acts as a tonic and the child is built up into health by the food it then digests. 35c. a bottle at druggist's. Write for booklet on Children's Diseases, free.

DR. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A bill enabling the British government to carry out the provisions of the Brussels sugar convention has passed its first reading in the house of commons.

Governor Bates and Lieutenant Governor Guild have accepted invitations to be present at the unveiling of the statue of the late President McKinley at Adams, Mass.

A sailing match between boat crews from the United States cruiser Chicago and the United States gunboat Machias for a cup presented by James Gordon Bennett was won at Ville Franche by the Chicago's crew.

A 60-foot naphtha launch owned by Dr. J. M. Masury was burned to the water's edge in Beverly, Mass., harbor. The loss on the launch amounts to about $10,000. The fire was a most spectacular one and lighted up the harbor for miles.

Colonel Johnston L. DePeyster is dead at his country seat at Tivoli, N. Y. Three weeks ago a delegation of fellow-citizens presented him with a medal for raising the first flag over the fallen capitol of Richmond in 1865.

Captain C. W. Wilson, a retired naval officer, recently on duty at the Boston navy yard, died at Baltimore. During the Civil war Captain Wilson commanded a vessel in Admiral Farragut's fleet in Mobile bay.

The Dallas Electric company of Boston has filed papers with the New Jersey secretary of state increasing its capital from $5000 to $4,500,000.

MRS. C. J. GOODHUE

HAS OPENED AN

Employment Office

At 1653 Hancock Street, corner School and Elm Would like ladies to call as a number of young girls would like employment.

Quincy, Oct. 31. Aug. 18-1y

If you are thinking of

BUYING A HOUSE

OR A

LOT OF LAND,

Call at 1361 Hancock street, where you can have your choice of over 100 Houses and Lots, in all parts of the city.

WALTER E. BURKE.

Quincy, Feb. 14. tf

J. W. PRATT,

BUILDER OF FIRST-CLASS HOUSES

AT LOWEST PRICES.

HOUSES and Lots for sale Terms to suit.

MORTGAGES placed for customers at lowest rates.

I can save you 50 per cent. on your architect's plans, or will furnish plans free with any lo bought of me.

Estimates given on new work

8 Bennington St., Quincy Adams.

Tel. 83-2. March 9-tf

SPILLER'S GOLDEN COUGH BALSAM

THE KIND THAT CURES

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Inflammation of the Lungs, Lagrippe and Whooping Cough. It soothes the Cough of Consumption, and is excellent for all Lung Trobles. Try it. For sale by Weeks & Hill, Quincy, Mass. Price 25 cents.

If goods fail to give satisfaction, money refunded.

W. G. CHUBBUCK

Furniture and Piano Mover

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

Furniture Packed and Stored.

Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned and Relaid.

JOBBING.

Orders left at Page's Pool Room, or Nickerson's Candy Kitchen, Music Hall Block; or at W. T. Arnold's Revere Road.

lp-tf Address, QUINCY MASS

HESTER'S ENG.

PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine.

SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Square, PHILA., PA.

Mention this paper

PAINTING

and Glazing.

WARD L. HAYWARD,

28 Me hanic Street.

Quincy, Sept. 3. ly

LEWIS N. CURTIS,

PAINTER, GLAZIER.

LEADED STAINED GLASS.

Decorator and Paper Hanger.

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.

15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

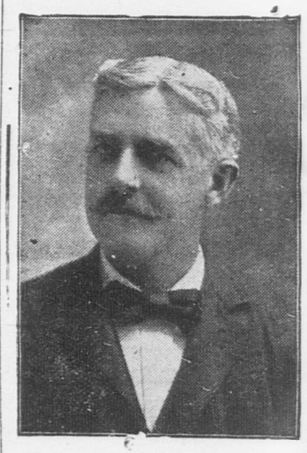

BAILLIE & TAYLOR,

Painters, Decoraters and Paperhangers.

GILDERS, GLAZIERS and POLISHERS.

Satisfaction guaranteed. All orders promptly attended to. No. 50 Gay street.

Quincy, April 7 tf

30 YEARS

In the Plumbing and Heating trade. If we don't know our BUSINESS we never will.

15 YEARS IN QUINCY.

The largest and oldest Plumbing and Heating concerns in Quincy.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

We attribute our success to three causes.

1st. The best efforts of our skilled workmen.

2d. Our strict and personal attention to Business.

3d. Our Low Prices and Square Dealing resulting in the liberal patronage of the Public.

G B BATES.

Plumbing and Heating Co,

25 31 Saville Street, opposite Quincy Depot Telephone Connection.

April 24 tf- p-1w

Dr. Emmons'

Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science that will so quickly and safely do the work. Longest and most obstinate irregularities from any cause relieved immediately. Success guaranteed at any stage. No pain, danger, or interference with work. Have relieved hundreds of cases where others have failed. The most difficult cases successfully treated by mail, and beneficial results guaranteed in every instance. No risk whatsoever. We treat hundreds of ladies whom we never see. Write for further particulars and free confidential advice. Do not put off too long. All letters truthfully answered. Remember, this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and positively leaves no after ill effect upon the health. Sent by mail, securely sealed, $2.00. Money letters should be registered. DR. J. W. EMMONS CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.